Social psychologist says feminism isn’t only a woman’s issue

By CLIFF STEVENS
News Staff

Social psychologist Sister Joan Chittister told a packed auditorium last night that “women across the world were bought, sold, enslaved, made poor, raped and beaten by rule of thumb while we sat here tonight.”

Citing figures aimed to show the lack of women in the upper ranks of the educational system, business world, government and church, Chittister called for change in these institutions.

She said female orientation is a “cop-out” goal rarely pursued in conjunction with obtaining higher church positions for women.

“Feminism is not a woman’s issue; all of us are less human because this society and this church are sexist,” she said.

The issue of poverty and hunger are connected to feminism because two-thirds of the hungry and the fourths of the poor are women, according to Chittister.

She also said sexism, racism and militarism “...are of a piece with sexism as the cornerstone.”

“Plato said that women were created from the wicked men as punishment for being irrational,” she said.

Chittister said that Thomas Aquinas regarded women as “capable” while he thought “...redemption required reason resisting carnality.”

“The modern marriage ceremony reflects this view, she said. It’s a man and woman as in person instead of property.”

Stations won’t run messages of Gays/Lesbians

By BOB MUSSELMAN
Senior Staff Reporter

An informational public service announcement from the Gays and Lesbians at Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s will not run on WFWI-AM and WSND-FM, according to the new station managers of the student-run radio stations.

WFWI-AM station manager Jesse Pesta said from now on his station will run only “fine arts” public service announcements, instead of accepting announcements from most non-profit organizations.

Sheila McDaniel, station manager at WWSI-AM, said her station will not air the announcement “because we need to speak with the administration more, and we need to develop a policy.”

Pesta and McDaniel succeeded former station managers Ellen Ridley and Regional Daniel Moss, Ridley and Daniel resigned Feb. 28, the day their terms expired, because the administration ordered the stations to stop airing the announcement from the homophbic group.

During the time between the resignations and March 10, Sandy Rosow, at the time WSSD-FM’s program director, was interim station manager of WSNF-AM. John Rogers, program supervisor at WFWI-AM, temporarily headed that station.

Rosow, however, said she was fired Sunday morning by Father Francis Cafarelli, assistant vice president for student services, after she continued playing the counterroversial announcement. Adele LANAN, an assistant director of student activities, ran WSNF-FM Sunday until Pesta’s term began.

“It is a matter of principle,” Rosow said. “They’re not harming anyone, and they have the right to be heard on their student station.”

During the meeting, she said, Cafarelli gave no logical reasons for why the announcement should be discontinued.

Cafarelli said last week that the University administrators banned the group’s announcements because “there has to be some concern for the interests of the institution relative to what goes out as part of our programming.” Cafarelli could not be reached for comment yesterday.

“I think the announcement should stay on the air. It was wrong for the administration to force it to be removed,” Pesta said.

But in order to avoid further confrontation on the matter, Pesta said he suggested the compromise fine arts guidelines. He said the new rules wouldn’t make the announcement’s removal an arbitrary action, and will allow him to remain with the administration.

See RADIO, page 5

NASAs ends dispute over astronomers’ remain

Associated Press

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. - A county medical examiner yesterday said NASA had agreed to let his staff observe autopsies of Challenger’s astronauts, ending the threat of legal action in a dispute over jurisdiction of the bodies.

The agreement came as searchers located a piece of solid rocket booster that a Navy spokeswoman said could be from the segment of the right booster believed responsible for the shuttle explosion.

The 3-foot by 5-foot piece of debris from the rear part of a rocket, weighing 400 to 500 pounds, is believed to contain propellant and part of the external tank attachment ring, said Lieutenant Commander Deborah Burnette.

The wreckage, found 32 miles offshore in 600 feet of water by the manned submarine Sea-Link II, “could well be from the right SRB,” she said.

The salvage ship Preserver, meanwhile, dropped divers over board in another part of the search area in an effort to recover more astronaut remains and debris from the crew cabin. The cabin was located Friday 100 feet beneath the surface, 18 miles northeast of the launch pad.

Sources had said the medical examiner’s office might seek a court order unless the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and Air Force turned over the remains in accordance with state law, which requires the local medical examiner to conduct an autopsy on any person who is slain or dies by accident.

The statute applies even if deaths occur on federal property, or, as in the case of the Challenger accident, they occur away from any jurisdiction but are brought into one.

Some remains of the astronauts killed when Challenger exploded 73 seconds after launch on Jan. 28 were brought aboard secrecy Saturday night and were taken to nearby Patrick Air Force Base for examination by forensic experts, sources said.

Dr. Laude McPhee, chief medical examiner for Brevard County, said Wednesday “since the discovery of the Challenger capsule with its human remains, there has been essentially a blackout of communications between NASA, the Air Force and this office.

Two days ago, a conference between representatives of Patrick Air Force Base Hospital, the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology and the Brevard County medical examiner gave lip service to a coordinated, multiagency investigation, with favorable comments by all present.

“As of 10 a.m. today. (yesterday) March 12. telephone communication from NASA indicates that representatives of the Brevard County medical examiner may be present at the investigations to be performed.”
In Brief

FBI interviews met with protest from students at the University of Notre Dame. The school asked the FBI to discriminate against gays. Law school policy prohibits interviews who discriminate on the basis of race or sexual preference from using the school's facilities. — The Observer

James Falvey has accepted the position of executive vice president of operations for the Notre Dame Credit Union, according to Credit Union President Robert Kelly. Falvey, a 1963 Notre Dame graduate, previously worked at the Inter-City Bank in Benton Harbor, Mich. He began work at the credit union on Feb. 24. — The Observer

Of Interest

The department of English announces its annual writing contest for undergraduates and graduate students. Cash awards and medals will be offered in six categories. All categories are open to undergraduates, and the American Academy of Poets Prize is open to graduate students as well. All entries must be typewritten and identified only by the author's name and address; and submitted in duplicate to room 309 O'Shaughnessy Hall by 4 p.m., April 2. Further information is available from the English department. — The Observer

The Friday Forum at the Center for Social Concerns concludes its series today with a talk by Frank Castellino, dean of the College of Science, speaking on the series' theme, "The College Curriculum and the Special Mission of Notre Dame." The talk is open to faculty and staff from 12:15 - 1 p.m. — The Observer

The American Catholic Studies Seminar will be held today at 4 in the Memorial Library lounge. Professor William Dinges of the Catholic University of America will speak on the topic: "In Defense of Truth and Tradition: Catholic Traditions in American Education." The seminar is sponsored by the Charles and Margaret Hall Cushwa Center for the Study of American Catholicism. — The Observer

The Notre Dame department of music announces Tim Kopf's graduate violin recital to take place today at 4 in the Annenburg Auditorium. Kopf will perform works by Sebastian Bach, Ludwig van Beethoven and Maurice Ravel. The concert is free and open to the public. — The Observer

The Divertimento Ensemble, composed of viola flautist, piano, cello and keyboard, at Notre Dame will give a lecture and demonstration at 4 p.m. in conjunction with Roger Briggs, a member of the Saint Mary's music department who is also a composer. An evening performance, open to the public, will be held at 8 in the Saint Mary's Little Theatre. — The Observer

The Anti-Apartheid Network will be holding elections for next year's officers tomorrow after a 12:15 vigil. If interested in running, please contact Margaretta Rose at 283-2898 before the election. — The Observer

Weather

Go bike riding today as the high will be around 50 to 55. But you may get caught in a rain because there is a 50 percent chance of showers and thunderstorms today, with a 40 percent chance tonight. Friday the lows will be in the low 40s and highs in the mid to upper 40s. — AP

The Observer

The Observer is continuing to experience typesetting difficulties in the daily operation of the newspaper. The staff apologizes for any delays or production errors. The situation will be amended as soon as possible.

The Observer (ISSN 594-2-460) is published Monday through Friday except during exam and vacation periods. The Observer is published by the students of the University of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College. Subscriptions may be purchased for $1.25 per year ($3 per year for West Coast) by sending The Observer, P.O. Box 10, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

The Observer is a member of The Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.

International students at ND bring new customs and diversity

Walking across the quad, it's not uncommon to hear voices speaking in an unfamiliar language. Exotic clothing can at times be seen around campus. "Strange" customs are observed by some students. The people who exhibit these unfamiliar traits are part of a unique and richly varied presence at Notre Dame: the international students. They come from as far away as Malaysia, or as close as Mexico. But they are recognized for many of the same reasons — they desire a quality education at a prominent university, and they took the risk of experiencing a culture sometimes radiating different from their own, in order to learn more about the world they live in.

On a campus that sometimes appears stifling in its homogeneity — white, Catholic and middle-class — the international students bring in a fresh breeze of diversity. Many of them speak English with difficulty, and their struggles to learn give friends and roommates both amusement and a smattering of another language. Many also have different religions, which can be eye-opening for those raised in Catholic schools all their lives. Hindus and Moslems are especially numerous among Notre Dame's foreign students, and there are few better ways to get acquainted with some of the world's major religions.

Foreign students also can give a personal perspective to world events. From knowing several Filipinos on campus, for instance, I have been able to follow the recent events in the Philippines with a closeness and a real interest that I otherwise wouldn't have had. In history and government classes, foreign students often add a dimension of reality by raising their hands and, from their personal experiences, making knowledgeable comments about the situation in some faraway country.

The presence of these students is a rare opportunity for American students. Few other places than universities have such a high concentration of foreigners. And the opportunity is growing. This year, there are 436 foreign students at Notre Dame, almost a 20 percent increase over last year. There are also 44 foreign students at Saint Mary's. And the numbers promise to continue rising.

Most of the international students here are graduate students, but many are undergraduates. They are represented in almost every department and major.

Father Theodore Hesburgh, University president, has announced his commitment to increasing this enrollment even further. If possible, he said he would like to bring in students from the Soviet Union and other communist countries (there are already 55 Chinese students here, as well as others from Eastern Europe).

This would be an unparalleled experience for American students, who could see and hear first-hand about societies and mental outlooks completely unknown to them.

The biggest event of the year for international students, the International Students' Organization Festival, takes place Friday in Washington Hall. In this annual extravaganza, the students from around the world have a chance to publicly display their diverse cultures. Dances, songs, and even a kung fu demonstration will be presented in shows representing 20 different nations.

Of course, being at Notre Dame is not always fun and games for the foreign student. Especially for those from Asia and Africa, culture shock is inevitable from the extremely different customs, social conventions and even climate. As we all know, classes at Notre Dame are hard enough with a perfect understanding of English.

For those who are so intrigued by other nations that they are willing to actually immerse themselves in a foreign society, there is no shortage of places to go. Semester-abroad programs in such varied places as Mexico, England, Austria, France, Egypt, Rome and Israel, plus organized trips to China and the Soviet Union among others, speak for Notre Dame's international interest.

Getting to know a foreign student is an invaluable experience. From knowing Filipinos, I have learned not only some of the nuances of Asian culture, but how to say "How are you?" in Filipino, and even the wacky Filipino sense of humor.

Mary Healy
Accent Editor

13th ANNUAL OPEN HOUSE
MARCH 14, 15, 16
START THE SEASON OFF WITH SAVINGS ON EVERYTHING, AT LEAST 10%
MANY ITEMS UP TO 50% OFF

Factory Representatives From

SPECIAL SHIPMENT OF SADDLES AND ARABIAN SHOW EQUIPMENT
SHOW CHAPS IN SIX COLOR SPECIAL ORDERS TAKEN ULTRA SUEDE
CRATES SADDLRY
MONTANA SILVERSIGHTS ACME-DAN POST CIRCLE T
SADDLES SHIPPED IN FOR THIS EVENT SilVER TO FIT EVERY NEED
MANY NEW STYLES THE BEST IN LADIES FASHION. SEE THE ENTIRE SUMMER LINE.

55545 Fir Road, Mishawaka, IN 46545 (219) 259-1188

Thursday, March 13, 1986 — page 2
Students plan 1986 Charity Ball

By LAURA S. GRONEK
Staff Reporter

"A Family Celebration of Life" is the theme for the second community-wide Charity Ball, scheduled for May 2 at the Athletic and Convention Center.

The ball, part of a large-scale campaign against world hunger by a joint effort of the Notre Dame and Saint Mary's communities, will work toward this year's goal of $10,000, according to Saint Mary's commissioner Meg Hefnerman.

Featured speaker at the event will be Notre Dame football coach Lou Holtz, named honorary chairman for 1986.

Holtz will join University President Theodore Hesburgh and Saint Mary's President William Hickey in attendance at the dance.

According to Hefnerman, the project involves the efforts of more than 30 Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students.

Since last semester, Notre Dame commissioners Pat Collins and Karen Pavoni have been meeting weekly with Saint Mary's commissioners Kathy Hartweg and Hefnerman. Others involved include representatives from each dorm, who help publicize the event, Hefnerman said.

Although the specific use of the proceeds will not be determined until the end of the week, this week Catholic Relief Services has been instrumental in helping the commission determine a worthy recipient of the funds.

Proceeds from a similar event last year were forwarded to agencies supplying grain and other foods to Ethiopia.

"We're looking not to feed for a day but hopefully to invest funds in economic interests," said Hefnerman.

The Charity Ball commission plans for Holtz to kick off the event at halftime of the championship game in this year's Bookstore Basketball tournament. On the night of the dance, scheduled events include a cocktail party for seniors at Saint Mary's and a VIP reception in the Monogram Room of the ACC.

Dorm representatives and commissioners are currently working on other activities to take place the week prior to the dance to promote awareness of world hunger, Hefnerman said.

The event will be semi-formal, featuring a live band and a DJ to provide a variety of music for guests. Hours for the dance are 8 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Tickets are $5 per person or $8 per couple, and also will be made available for faculty members through each department and the alumni office. The ACC and the Saint Mary's alumni office will also be distributing tickets to the community.

Students can purchase tickets through their dorm representatives, Hefnerman said.

"It's the end of the year and we realize that not everyone has money to give," she said. "But we want to make this an event that people want to come to."

Notre Dame ends boycott of Campbell

By MEG EGAN
Junior Staff

Notre Dame's almost three-year boycott of Campbell Soup Company products ended officially on Feb. 21, said William Hickey, director of University Food Services Tuesday.

"We have received notification from the Office of Student Affairs that the Campbell's boycott is officially over, and we are now permitted to visit salesmen from Campbell's," Hickey said.

In 1980, and again in 1983, Notre Dame students voted in a referendum to support a boycott of Campbell. Suspension of the boycott occurred Feb. 21 in response to an agreement signed by Campbell's.

The agreement grants union recognition to the Farm Labor Organizing Committee, and ensures improved working and living conditions for farmworkers.

The boycott will end and will not necessarily mean a new influx of Campbell's products products to the dining halls, however, Hickey said.

"Whatever products that will fit into our program that we were deprived of as a result of the boycott we will resume buying such as V8 Juice," Hickey explained.

"We're not going to drop Heinz just because Campbell's is now authorized," he said.

Hickey said he did not know the significance of the University's participation to the boycott's outcome. "I know that Campbell's people were anxious to be on an authorized list at the University," he said.

According to Hickey, Campbell's wants to continue to promote itself as a reputable company, not a boycotted one.

Thanks to you... it works... for ALL OF US

United Way

---

Saturday, March 13, 1986 — page 3
Rep. Pepper opposes mandatory retirement

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - Rep. Claude Pepper, a vigorous 85-year-old who declares that "aging is as odious as sexism and racism," sought to enlist public support yesterday for his proposal to outlaw mandatory retirement of American workers at any age.

Presenting at a televised House hearing, Pepper said the bill he has introduced with 50 House cosponsors is intended to extend to every American - with a few exceptions - the right enjoyed by federal employees to "be as old as Methuselah and continue to work, if you can do the job."

Pepper, D-Fla., said he probably would be dead today if he had been forced to retire at age 65, three years after he was first elected to the House in 1952 following a school career that began nearly a half-century ago.

Despite two hearing aids, triple-focus glasses, a pacemaker in his chest and two plastic valves in his heart, Pepper said he enjoys the daily challenges he encounters as chairman of the House Rules Committee and subcommittee Chairman of the House Select Committee on Aging.

"I can't run 10 miles in the afternoon, like I did in college, but I have a good car to take me there," he told a joint hearing of his subcommittee on health and long-term care and the House Education and Labor subcommittee on employment opportunities.

Pepper's bill would eliminate the mandatory retirement age of 70 which is allowed for employees in private business. That same requirement was lifted for federal workers under the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1978. Thirteen states forbid mandatory retirement for private employees at any age.

Pepper's measure would retain exemptions under other existing laws. These exemptions from a ban on mandatory retirement would continue to apply to foreign service officers, CIA employees, law enforcement officers and fire fighters, air traffic controllers, certain high-ranking executives in private industry and tenured college faculty members.

He estimated his bill would affect more than 20 million workers who otherwise would be forced to retire simply because of their age. A recent Labor Department study, however, indicates that only about 195,000 workers over 70 would choose to remain on the job if mandatory retirement were abolished.

Pepper said mandatory retirement makes no sense considering the steady increase in Americans' life expectancy, which had reached more than 74 years by 1981. He said his bill "makes good economic sense" because those 195,000 older employees would generate about $3 billion in revenues in the first year alone by contributing to their own support, paying taxes and making contributions to the Social Security trust fund.

Pepper's bill was endorsed at the hearing by Arthur Hemmings, 81, former secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and U.S. Commissioner on Aging; and Franklin Williams, director of the National Institute on Aging.

How to buy a performance.

The Observer

The Independent Student Newspaper Serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary's is accepting applications for the following positions:

Assistant Viewpoint Editor

Questions about this position should be directed to Scott Bearety. Personal statements and resumes are due Friday, March 14 at 5 p.m.

The Observer Department

is accepting applications for the following positions:

• Accounts Receivable Clerk
• Accounts Payable Clerk
• Payroll Clerk

Sophomore Accounting Majors preferred

Questions should be directed to Eric Scheuermann at The Observer office. Personal statements and resumes are due Thursday, March 13 at 5:00 p.m.

Come to Tivoli's

St. Patrick's Day Party for United Way

Drink specials:
50c Green Draft Beers
$1.25 Mixed Drinks
$1 Shots of Schnapps
Irish Buffet

Tickets on sale at Notre Dame Village Mall
located on U.S. 33 N. at North Village Mall
277-1877

REFERENCES

Bears by Blue.

THINK

NIGHTCLUB

Come to Tivoli's

St. Patrick's Day Party for United Way

Drink specials:
50c Green Draft Beers
$1.25 Mixed Drinks
$1 Shots of Schnapps
Irish Buffet

Tickets on sale at Notre Dame Village Mall
located on U.S. 33 N. at North Village Mall
277-1877

Questions about this position should be directed to Eric Scheuermann at The Observer office. Personal statements and resumes are due Thursday, March 13 at 5:00 p.m.

The American Express Card. Don't leave school without it.

The Observer

Thursday, March 13, 1986 — page 4

THE OBSERVER BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

How to buy a performance.

The Observer

The Independent Student Newspaper Serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary's is accepting applications for the following positions:

Assistant Viewpoint Editor

Questions about this position should be directed to Scott Bearety. Personal statements and resumes are due Friday, March 14 at 5 p.m.

The Observer Department

is accepting applications for the following positions:

• Accounts Receivable Clerk
• Accounts Payable Clerk
• Payroll Clerk

Sophomore Accounting Majors preferred

Questions should be directed to Eric Scheuermann at The Observer office. Personal statements and resumes are due Thursday, March 13 at 5:00 p.m.

Come to Tivoli's

St. Patrick's Day Party for United Way

Drink specials:
50c Green Draft Beers
$1.25 Mixed Drinks
$1 Shots of Schnapps
Irish Buffet

Tickets on sale at Notre Dame Village Mall
located on U.S. 33 N. at North Village Mall
277-1877

REFERENCES

Bears by Blue.

THINK

NIGHTCLUB

Come to Tivoli's

St. Patrick's Day Party for United Way

Drink specials:
50c Green Draft Beers
$1.25 Mixed Drinks
$1 Shots of Schnapps
Irish Buffet

Tickets on sale at Notre Dame Village Mall
located on U.S. 33 N. at North Village Mall
277-1877

Questions about this position should be directed to Eric Scheuermann at The Observer office. Personal statements and resumes are due Thursday, March 13 at 5:00 p.m.

The American Express Card. Don't leave school without it.

The Observer

Thursday, March 13, 1986 — page 4

THE OBSERVER BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

How to buy a performance.

The Observer

The Independent Student Newspaper Serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary's is accepting applications for the following positions:

Assistant Viewpoint Editor

Questions about this position should be directed to Scott Bearety. Personal statements and resumes are due Friday, March 14 at 5 p.m.

The Observer Department

is accepting applications for the following positions:

• Accounts Receivable Clerk
• Accounts Payable Clerk
• Payroll Clerk

Sophomore Accounting Majors preferred

Questions should be directed to Eric Scheuermann at The Observer office. Personal statements and resumes are due Thursday, March 13 at 5:00 p.m.

Come to Tivoli's

St. Patrick's Day Party for United Way

Drink specials:
50c Green Draft Beers
$1.25 Mixed Drinks
$1 Shots of Schnapps
Irish Buffet

Tickets on sale at Notre Dame Village Mall
located on U.S. 33 N. at North Village Mall
277-1877

REFERENCES

Bears by Blue.

THINK

NIGHTCLUB

Come to Tivoli's

St. Patrick's Day Party for United Way

Drink specials:
50c Green Draft Beers
$1.25 Mixed Drinks
$1 Shots of Schnapps
Irish Buffet

Tickets on sale at Notre Dame Village Mall
located on U.S. 33 N. at North Village Mall
277-1877

Questions about this position should be directed to Eric Scheuermann at The Observer office. Personal statements and resumes are due Thursday, March 13 at 5:00 p.m.

The American Express Card. Don't leave school without it.
Looking for a way to beat the South Bend Blues?

Watch for South Bend Survival Cups!

Meet Your Major
Thursday, March 13

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time</th>
<th>Concentrations</th>
<th>American Studies</th>
<th>ALPP</th>
<th>ALPA</th>
<th>Sociology</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>4:00-4:30 pm</td>
<td>CSC</td>
<td>210 O'Shag</td>
<td>104 O'Shag</td>
<td>104 O'Shag</td>
<td>210 O'Shag</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4:30-5:30 pm</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>104 O'Shag</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5:00-6:00 pm</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>104 O'Shag</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6:00-7:00 pm</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7:00-8:00 pm</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

All Students invited to attend

The Observer
is now accepting applications for the following positions:

Copy Chief
Circulation Manager

Submit personal statement and resume to Joe Murphy by 5 p.m. Monday, March 17 3rd Floor LaFortune

How to build a better world.

Allow us to suggest three ways: MacDraft "MacDraw" and MacBank

The combination of these programs, along with a Macintosh computer will give architectural students unlimited freedom to create. Whether it be for designing buildings, designing urban landscapes, or drafting engineering and construction plans.

This is just one example of how Macintosh helps students work smarter, quicker and more creatively. And the beauty of Macintosh is, you don't have to know dildy about computers to use one.

So get a Macintosh. The world will be a better place for it.

Radio
continued from page 1

the station and work out a "more proper solution."

Pesta said Rosso's removal has caused problems because she has completely divorced herself from the station. As a senior, he said, the station was counting on her to train new personnel being hired and elected for next year.

McDaniel said, "I think that it is a purely informational announcement. I'm very disappointed in the administration's intervention." Since Rogers chose to disregard the announcement when he took over temporarily, McDaniel said WVFJ-AM has had no problem with the administration since the resignation.

And though her station has agreed to quit running the announcement for now, she said it might be back at a future date after the station cleared up "very, very ambiguous" rules which govern the station's operation.

Hoops
continued from page 1

expected, the four decided they should find a charity where the profits could be donated.

Logan Center was chosen because it has been designated this year's special project by the men's basketball team.

Calling themselves "Students for Logan Center," the four said they decided to set a $1,000 goal toward the purchase of a wheelchair for Logan Center residents.

Sullivan said the group planned to supplement its $1,000 fund-raising with $500 donated by Logan Center. $1,500 would be added by Carey's Medicaid plan to complete the final payment toward the $3,000 wheelchair.

But sales were higher than expected, McGhugh said, and the group was able to pay for Logan Center's $500 portion of the payment.

After the South Bend Tribune featured the "Hoop Hysteria" fundraiser in a mid-February article, Medicaid immediately approved in part of the donation.

Sullivan said the article also prompted a flood of phone calls to Logan Center, most from people wanting to contribute to the cause.

"We hope enough money will be raised to buy at least one, if not two more wheelchairs," he said, referring to how the callers' donations would be used.

Sullivan, McGhugh, O'Grady and Tanczos said they all agree the experience gained from the sale was valuable.

"We really enjoyed being able to do the service for Logan Center," O'Grady said.

"It was a great chance to do something fun, while still helping others," added Tanczos.

Although sales of the T-shirt have slowed with the Notre Dame home schedule coming to a close, "Hoop Hysteria" T-shirts will continue to be sold by the "Students for Logan Center" at the Irish binging the NCAA tournament this weekend.

Correction

Because of an editing error, the writer of yesterday's front-page story about Percy Pierre's lecture in yesterday's Observer was incorrectly identified. Joe Markey wrote the article.
Letter claims Marcos had scheme to donate $57 million to Reagan

Associated Press

MANILA, Philippines - Top generals pledged loyal support yesterday to new President Corazon Aquino, and Aquino's chief of staff asked Washington in an attempt to recover millions of dollars allegedly hidden by ousted President Ferdinand Marcos.

Josetito Salonga, head of the Commission on Good Government, said before leaving for the United States that he would consider investigating a report that Marcos had hidden influence Washington with huge campaign contributions.

Salonga said he had received a letter from a Filipino banker, saying Marcos planned to donate $57 million to President Reagan's 1980 and 1984 election campaigns and $10 million to other U.S. candidates.

The letter provided no documentation to support the claim and there was no independent verification. It also did not say that any money actually was paid or that any U.S. official agreed to accept it.

Salonga said he received the letter Saturday from former banker Antonio Gaitaniza, who said it was written by 14 Filipino bankers whom he refused to identify.

In Washington, White House spokesman Larry Speakes said he was unaware of any such influence-buying scheme by Marcos.

Aquino met for more than an hour with 61 top generals and regional military commanders at Camp Aguinaldo, where the revolution that put her in power Feb. 25 began.

A videotape of the meeting showed Aquino telling the officers, "I'm sure the Filipino people will be evermore grateful to you."

It was apparently a reference to the military's role in installing her. The military officials who led the revolution backed Aquino's claim that she won the Feb. 7 presidential election even though Marcos was declared the victor by the Marcos-dominated National Assembly.

Chief of Staff General Pio Parisan, who was Marcos' deputy military commander before he defected to support Aquino, said all the officers "pledged our support and loyalty to the commander-in-chief."

Earlier yesterday, Aquino met with her full Cabinet. The ministers put off a decision on whether to declare a revolutionary government, assigning the matter to a committee.

S. African controversy, violence continues

Associated Press

JOHANNESBURG - Prominent whites joined anti-apartheid groups yesterday in angry response to a report that police fired into a black crowd without provocation the day before, and to banning orders against two black leaders.

"A culture of (black) resistance is being born before our eyes," said Frederick van Zyl Slabbert, a white politician. "I say there cannot be any peaceful change in South Africa. We are caught up in violence."

Police said the crowd of 2,000 people outside a courtroom in Kabokweni township Tuesday refused to disperse and got out of control. A teen-age boy was killed and eight people were wounded.

Another boy was killed by police gunfire in the township later Tuesday.

Yesterday, a black man was speared to death in the KaNgwane homeland adjacent to the township, and three blacks were injured by stone-throwers outside Kabokweni.

"We, the black officer was killed early yesterday in Alexandra township near Johannesburg, scene of bloody rioting last month," Enos Mabuza, chief minister of the Transvaal homeland. "They killed a black man and wounded three people."

Another boy was killed by police gunfire in the township later Tuesday.

Diedara, a black man, was speared to death in the KaNgwane homeland adjacent to the township, and three blacks were injured by stone-throwers outside Kabokweni.

"We, the black officer was killed early yesterday in Alexandra township near Johannesburg, scene of bloody rioting last month," Enos Mabuza, chief minister of the Transvaal homeland. "They killed a black man and wounded three people."

The Executive Vice President of Coca-Cola USA

TOPIC: Marketing Strategies - Coca-Cola

Friday March 14
4:15pm.

The Graduate School of Business at the University of Notre Dame

Mr. Ira Herbert
The Executive Vice President of Coca-Cola USA

TOPIC: Marketing Strategies - Coca-Cola

Friday March 14
4:15pm.

The Arts and Letters Business Executive
The Advantage of a Liberal Arts Education in Today's Business World

Mr. Robert Quinn
former Managing Director of Solomon Brothers, (N.Y.)

Thursday, March 13, 1986
8:00 p.m.

124 Hayes-Healy

sponsored by Arts & Letters Business Society
U.S. envoy sent to C. America

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — President Reagan, trying to bolster his case for military aid for Nicaraguan rebels, sent special envoy Philip Habib to Central America yesterday and said critics who claim the United States is not interested in a negotiated settlement "are making ridiculous noises."

Habib's three-nation itinerary does not include a stop in Nicaragua. "You don't go where you're not invited," Reagan said.

The Nicaraguan embassy in Washington, however, said Habib was welcome in Managua "if the administration honestly wants to negotiate."

Reagan said Habib has the authority to visit Nicaragua for talks with the Sandinista regime "if anything comes up that would show that there might be any prospect or any profit in doing that."

After conferring with Habib, Reagan met privately with about a half-dozen congressmen to try to win their votes for sending $70 million in military aid and $30 million worth of non-lethal assistance to the Nicaraguan rebels.

At this point, the administration says it faces an uphill fight to win the money. The Democratic-controlled House is scheduled to vote March 19 on the package, while the Republican-led Senate is expected to schedule the vote the next day.

There was renewed talk on Capitol Hill about a compromise on the package. However, presidential spokesman Larry Speakes said, "We're not interested in anything short of getting the president's package approved, without restrictions."

But, Reagan did not rule out the possibility of a 60 or 75-day delay in delivering aid, to give negotiations another chance. "We're continuing to talk about all possibilities like that," Reagan said.

Indiania professor accused by AIA

Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS - A conservative group is accusing a professor at Indiana University-Purdue University at Indianapolis of promoting leftist ideologies in his class.

Accuracy in Academia, established last August as part of the Washington-based Accuracy in Media, reports on perceived leftist bias and inaccurate information in classes and campus lectures based on letters from college students.

The group intends to make professors more careful about what they say and how they document their facts, said Lee Careba, the group's executive director.

Victor Wallis, the first IU professor to be targeted by the group, allegedly promoted socialist views by assigning his class to read the socialist weekly, "In These Times."

Happy St. Patty's Day

Weekend Specials March 14 - 17

Busch ½ barrel kegs $27. Augsburger 24 non returnables $8.

Miller 24 case $7.

Six Pack/Twelve Pack Specials:

Bud, Bud Light, Stroh, Stroh Light, Miller, Lite, Pabst... Your choice: 6 packs $2.38

12 pack $4.

After your last exam, what tough questions will you still be facing?

We don't have your answers. But we'll listen to your questions, share some of our own about who we want to become and where we want to journey. For anyone who has considered the path of priesthood, the Holy Cross Fathers' One-Year Candidate Program provides an opportunity to ask and explore the possibilities in community.
Speaker series appreciated

Confusion about the changing roles of men and women in the 1980s may trouble college graduates today as they attempt to reconcile traditional family lifestyles and values with new roles for both sexes in society.

Students from Notre Dame and Saint Mary's, many with traditional backgrounds, may have particular problems with current role readjustments.

But John Comley, associate professor of the junior class, said he has seen a need for such a series on both campuses, and initiated the series, after consultation with junior class officers.

He and other co-sponsors were able to attract speakers such as Jean Kilbourne, an expert on sex stereotyping in the media; Phyllis Schlafly, well-known conservative and editor of Ms. magazine; and Gloria Steinem, a leader of the feminist movement and editor of Ms. magazine.

The speaker series has enjoyed an enthusiastic response thus far from the students, faculty and attendees. Although the indicators of the worth of the series and the need for open discussion of these topics at both schools.

The junior class, Comley, and the co-sponsors on the two campuses are to be commended for a well-run, well-organized week of interesting, invigorating and thought-provoking programs.

Undoubtedly, the views of some of the speakers were not completely accepted by both the students and faculty.

But the participation indicates that Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students are willing to bring up issues that they will be assuming in society.

Thanks to Notre Dame's junior class, students will be that much better prepared to understand and appreciate the different options available for both men and women after graduation.

--- The Observer

'Wilson Awards' highlighted

It's award season again, with the Emmy's now awarded and the Oscars coming up, we aren't arrested unless they're guilty.

Doonesbury

Celebration" concert last December at the Huntington in Northbrook.

This poor kid is getting a bad deal.

Police Award goes to Sting for the Coca-Cola Company. The old coke is being replaced with a new coke, which I can't have any of.

The Boredom Award goes to Mike English for his six million dollars.

The Last Guy I Want for my Election Policy?

I'm not going to discuss the articles that were returned to either our house or to lost and found. Of course, no questions will be asked.

These are not break in burglaries, but thefts from basically under the noses of people. It's a shame that within the great community of students we have here, a person cannot leave a locker unlocked or put a camera in your friend's house. Please help restore my faith.

Greg D. Rowe
Notre Dame student

Congratulations students on outstanding actions

Dear Editor:

Alumni, parents and friends in the Midwest will be happy to hear that a number of Notre Dame athletic teams routinely visit to compete against Marquette University. We have enjoyed watching the competition and meeting the student-athletes. I found this past weekend, the men's basketball team staged another great victory, similar to others that have made this season so memorable.

Equally impressive, however, was the conduct of the rather large contingent of Notre Dame students who came to Milwaukee for the game. A reporter for the Milwaukee Journal attended the Notre Dame club of Milwaukee Basketball Party and interviewed a number of Notre Dame students as well as others. His observations, published the following day, provided a very positive image of Notre Dame fans. I am sure he would be interested in regard to sportsmanship and public manners.

A number of alumni separately commented how the visiting students were so well-mannered, in spite of game day crowds at the party. Congratulations are in order to all the visiting students for their display which will be representative of Notre Dame student body beginning April 2. By the way, the library.

Pete Hartweg
Chris Murphy
Kearan Hall
St. Edward's Hall

Student crime destroys student's faith in ND

Dear Editor:

In the past two days, two events have caused me to lose faith in what Notre Dame means to me. One of the most honest groups of people I'm acquainted with - the Notre Dame student body. The first was the stealing of my wallet from my locker in the Quick Rock Sunday during the five minutes I showered, when I stupidly and trustingly left the lock off. I just assumed nothing would happen, since I had never even locked the locker I used until Sunday. In addition to my drivers license, social security card, military ID, bank card and pictures was a measly $20.

I'm not sure that this was a theft, which occurred at a party at my house Monday night. Being a Monday night party, it was relatively small and not many people knew each other, although there were some serious presence indicated and I didn't know. A friend of mine was taking pictures with her Olympus OM-10 camera, when she put it down in a corner to protect it. It was from this protective corner that someone stole it. Also stolen from previous parties have been a tap and a California Ave street sign, which I can't replace. It would be greatly appreciated if these articles were returned to either our house or to lost and found. Of course, no questions will be asked.

Thanks to Notre Dame's junior class, students will be that much better prepared to understand and appreciate the different options available for both men and women after graduation.

--- The Observer

or to tear the pages

The Keep Your Chin Up Award goes to Kyan White, Kokomo's fourteen year old AIDS victim. Kyan attended school for over a year, and was finally readmitted out of his first day back a local juvenile jail on an order keeping him out of school again.

This poor kid is getting a bad deal.

The Social Community Award goes to Sting for his song 'Rumors.' At last someone is talking like it.

The Boredom Award goes to South Bend radio stations. One trip to Chicago will explain.

The Turkey of the Year Award goes to Ronald Reagan. He still wants to increase defense spending while cutting social programs - including financial aid for college students. Despite his 1983 Aid to Families with Children act, Reagan is in favor of allowing schools to kick out students for over a year, and was finally readmitted out of his first day back a local juvenile jail on an order keeping him out of school again.

This poor kid is getting a bad deal.

The Last Guy I Want for my Election Policy?

I'm not going to discuss the articles that were returned to either our house or to lost and found. Of course, no questions will be asked.

These are not break in burglaries, but thefts from basically under the noses of people. It's a shame that within the great community of students we have here, a person cannot leave a locker unlocked or put a camera in your friend's house. Please help restore my faith.

Greg D. Rowe
Notre Dame student

Congratulations students on outstanding actions

Dear Editor:

Alumni, parents and friends in the Midwest will be happy to hear that a number of Notre Dame athletic teams routinely visit to compete against Marquette University. We have enjoyed watching the competition and meeting the student-athletes. I found this past weekend, the men's basketball team staged another great victory, similar to others that have made this season so memorable.

Equally impressive, however, was the conduct of the rather large contingent of Notre Dame students who came to Milwaukee for the game. A reporter for the Milwaukee Journal attended the Notre Dame club of Milwaukee Basketball Party and interviewed a number of Notre Dame students as well as others. His observations, published the following day, provided a very positive image of Notre Dame fans. I am sure he would be interested in regard to sportsmanship and public manners.

A number of alumni separately commented how the visiting students were so well-mannered, in spite of game day crowds at the party. Congratulations are in order to all the visiting students for their display which will be representative of Notre Dame student body beginning April 2. By the way, the library.

Pete Hartweg
Chris Murphy
Kearan Hall
St. Edward's Hall

Student crime destroys student's faith in ND

Dear Editor:

In the past two days, two events have caused me to lose faith in what Notre Dame means to me. One of the most honest groups of people I'm acquainted with - the Notre Dame student body. The first was the stealing of my wallet from my locker in the Quick Rock Sunday during the five minutes I showered, when I stupidly and trustingly left the lock off. I just assumed nothing would happen, since I had never even locked the locker I used until Sunday. In addition to my drivers license, social security card, military ID, bank card and pictures was a measly $20.

I'm not sure that this was a theft, which occurred at a party at my house Monday night. Being a Monday night party, it was relatively small and not many people knew each other, although there were some serious presence indicated and I didn't know. A friend of mine was taking pictures with her Olympus OM-10 camera, when she put it down in a corner to protect it. It was from this protective corner that someone stole it. Also stolen from previous parties have been a tap and a California Ave street sign, which I can't replace. It would be greatly appreciated if these articles were returned to either our house or to lost and found. Of course, no questions will be asked.

Thanks to Notre Dame's junior class, students will be that much better prepared to understand and appreciate the different options available for both men and women after graduation.

--- The Observer

or to tear the pages

The Keep Your Chin Up Award goes to Kyan White, Kokomo's fourteen year old AIDS victim. Kyan attended school for over a year, and was finally readmitted out of his first day back a local juvenile jail on an order keeping him out of school again.

This poor kid is getting a bad deal.

The Social Community Award goes to Sting for his song 'Rumors.' At last someone is talking like it.

The Boredom Award goes to South Bend radio stations. One trip to Chicago will explain.

The Turkey of the Year Award goes to Ronald Reagan. He still wants to increase defense spending while cutting social programs - including financial aid for college students. Despite his 1983 Aid to Families with Children act, Reagan is in favor of allowing schools to kick out students for over a year, and was finally readmitted out of his first day back a local juvenile jail on an order keeping him out of school again.

This poor kid is getting a bad deal.
Almost administration yet again that The Observer open its books? students should be especially outraged. Are dent's Most of them are blatant pot-shots at Healy fitting, though, that he would be identified arms about that publication. Women, and a run surely a 3,000-plus copies. This not count the number of times he is referred page ad in The Cross and Notre Dame for my profound ex-

One of the most common student complaints is that Notre Dame administration and Board of Trustees. His right to select his cabinet is not the last referendum (the universal, definitive account is almost the right to life. For without it, what other rights do we have anyway? When I first arrived at Notre Dame last August, I knew very little about life here and practically nothing about the people. From my brothers, who go to highly respected schools, I received the impression that all schools were filled with easy-going, relaxed people who knew each other and were in touch with the world, with problems or inconveniences they faced, with the whole world. It was a happy and secure world of their own. I was puzzled by the fact that I really knew only the senior class. I didn't even consider the happiness the child could be made easier if she chose to abort the child.

What did Healy do, personally, to ad-dissatisfaction with campus social life as parietals, the alcohol policy, and student we see any progress on real student issues? I do not deny that there is a need for understanding of Notre Dame to recognize a recent Unity Rally - an originally he had called for the referendum of abortion. We find it hard to believe, but it is possible to smile, have fun, move - and this without defining what he meant by own single-sex high schools. Indeed, students here are uniform even to the extent that he does not describe the to be openly critical of what should be an im-

John Fitzpatrick is assistant rector of Cavanaugh Hall

It is impossible to have fun and run the government

P.O.Box O

Gertie Winnmer won on the value of life

 gated campaign, Bill Healy spent over three-

me. What did Healy do, personally, to ad-

and run the government

What was Healy's response to the divestment issue which he failed (actually, refused) to grasp was that of divestment. He says there is no interest here. It is so new to Notre Dame that he can not recognize interests yet when he sees only one other issue in the past ten years has drawn enough interest for the student body to conduct an awareness and education campaign. When that referendum did pass in 1986, the parent is now a hurting financially, and the family is ex-

I have a choice to make in my life, and it involves me a hell of a lot more. I have a choice to make in my life "easier," any choice I make is okay, according to Wimmer, because they voted for the losing ticket or because they voted for the winning ticket seems a clear repudiation of Healy's

It is hard for some people around here to

We should be especially outraged. Are dent's

The drill team is the best student body in the world for a ride. Healy may be laughing all the way to law school, but the revolution of 1968 and after altered the world so that many have become wise to Healy's kind of Healy for what really went on this year.

I wonder if such people care to know the and run the government

another great tradition: Notre Dame cut out of life. Winnmer's log. is clearly against Healy's to run the government

P.O.Box O

Thursday, March 13, 1986 – page 9

P.O. Box O, Notre Dame, IN 46556 (219) 239-5303

The Observer is an independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame de la Cross and Notre Dame for my profound ex-

Chair

Gertie Winnmer won on the value of life

It is impossible to have fun and run the government

P.O.Box O

Gertie Winnmer won on the value of life

It is impossible to have fun and run the government

P.O.Box O

Gertie Winnmer won on the value of life

It is impossible to have fun and run the government

P.O.Box O

Gertie Winnmer won on the value of life

It is impossible to have fun and run the government

P.O.Box O

Gertie Winnmer won on the value of life

It is impossible to have fun and run the government

P.O.Box O

Gertie Winnmer won on the value of life

It is impossible to have fun and run the government

P.O.Box O

Gertie Winnmer won on the value of life

It is impossible to have fun and run the government

P.O.Box O

Gertie Winnmer won on the value of life

It is impossible to have fun and run the government

P.O.Box O

Gertie Winnmer won on the value of life

It is impossible to have fun and run the government

P.O.Box O

Gertie Winnmer won on the value of life

It is impossible to have fun and run the government

P.O.Box O

Gertie Winnmer won on the value of life

It is impossible to have fun and run the government

P.O.Box O

Gertie Winnmer won on the value of life

It is impossible to have fun and run the government

P.O.Box O

Gertie Winnmer won on the value of life

It is impossible to have fun and run the government

P.O.Box O

Gertie Winnmer won on the value of life

It is impossible to have fun and run the government

P.O.Box O

Gertie Winnmer won on the value of life

It is impossible to have fun and run the government
Driving under Influence

Class "C" misdemeanor

1. Operating a motor vehicle

Class "D" felony

1. Operating a motor vehicle

2. Second or subsequent offense of D.U.I.

3. D.U.I. violation resulting in serious bodily injury to another person

1. 1 year to 2 years license suspension

2. 2 to 5 years imprisonment

3. Up to $10,000 fine

4. Up to 60 days imprisonment

5. Up to $500 fine

The Facts

- Last year, four out of every 10 fatal accidents in South Bend were alcohol-related. In 1984, it was six out of every 10.
- One out of every 10 drivers on the road will be legally drunk on Friday and Saturday nights between the hours of 9 p.m. and 3 a.m.
- One out of every two Americans will be involved in an alcohol-related auto accident sometime during their lives.
- Drunk driving collisions is the number one cause of death among 15-24-year-olds in America.
- More than 30,000 Americans die every year in alcohol-related traffic accidents.

Indiana's drunk driving law

LEICESTER CHEONG

What is D.U.I.?

Driving under intoxication in Indiana is defined as driving with a blood alcohol concentration of 0.10 percent. That may seem like a small percentage, until you consider that a BAC of only 0.30 percent will cause death, and that most people will pass out after a BAC of 0.17 percent.

DUI is a minor offense in Indiana. It is a misdemeanor, unless the intoxicated driver injures or kills someone. In that event, DUI becomes a felony.

Driving under influence in Indiana

1. Operating a motor vehicle

2. Second or subsequent offense of D.U.I.

3. D.U.I. violation resulting in serious bodily injury to another person

1. 1 year to 2 years license suspension

2. 2 to 5 years imprisonment

3. Up to $10,000 fine

Know your limits

Approximate blood alcohol percentage

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Drinks</th>
<th>Body weight in pounds</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>100</td>
<td>120</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>03</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>08</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>23</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>26</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>38</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Subtract: 20 percent for each additional hour of drinking

One drink is 1 oz. of 100-proof liquor, 12 oz. of beer, or 4 oz. of table wine.

SUREST POLICY IS... DON'T DRIVE AFTER DRINKING

Students speak of their experiences with alcohol

P.A. CIMINO features write

For almost two years now, Notre Dame has possessed a rigid alcohol policy which many students claim has stifled social life, and forced students to have other ways to have fun.

The committee recommending the policy also suggested programs to educate students about what alcohol can do to their lives if the drug is not handled responsibly. This week, active and campus-wide education has begun, with Alcohol Awareness Week. It exemplifies the beginning of efforts to get students interested in finding out about alcohol.

This effort is being made by Notre Dame students, specifically the student government Alcohol Concerns Commission, the Student Activities Board, and the Notre Dame Academy. Part of the novelty of the program is that during discussion sessions, students who have had experience with alcoholism have been able to talk with students on their own level in a relaxed, person-to-person manner.

One such person is a former alcoholic named Kristen.

Kristen was introduced to alcohol at a young age. "My parents owned a bar and I started drinking at around 11 or 12 years old," she said. "It gave me a chance to emulate older people and feel grown up. I thought I was cool and I drank in a secretive way."

Kristen continued to drink and had experiences with drugs until she finally realized that she was no longer well and had lost control of her life. "I was feeling so confused. I did not know what I felt physically and I ultimately scared myself into action when I found myself partying alone for days," she said.

Then she admitted herself into a detoxification hospital, and started kicking alcoholism. Kristen said she has been fine. "I now feel physically great, it's wonderful," she said.

While at the detox center, she was counseled on alcoholism and learned how to fight it and live a normal life. Now she is extremely glad to see that she can be of help to others, she said.

At Saint Mary's, alcohol education is well under way. The College has classes for students to take concerning the drug and also have a very successful awareness week. "Students there have very serious and Notre Dame's alcohol policy was a wonderful accomplishment, to learn how to fight it and live a normal life."
Irish Extra

Perseverance wins out
Kempton overcomes obstacles

By NICK SCHRANTZ
Sports Writer

Centers throughout college basketball are breathing a sigh of relief as Notre Dame center Tim Kempton approaches the end of his career.

Players such as Jack Haley of UCLA, Tom Cops of Marquette, and Ed Young of Dayton have gone head to head with Kempton several times, and each time they have come away bettered and bruised. The Irish center plays a physical brand of basketball which intimidates opposing players but often goes unnoticed by students and fans.

Notre Dame coach Digger Phelps is one person who will miss Kempton's presence next season and knows his true value to the team.

"I thought Tim would have a pretty good year, and he really showed what he can do against Dayton and UCLA. When he plays with concentration and intensity he plays as well as anyone on the team."

It's the little things Kempton has done this year that many fans haven't noticed. Kempton showed his passing ability by placing second on the team with 61 assists. Also, he shot 55 percent from the floor and 74 percent from the line to demonstrate his consistent shooting touch.

While Kempton's point totals aren't overly impressive, his important role on the team was recognized at the team's banquet Monday night when he was named the Role Player of the Year. And though he is expected to play good defense and grab rebounds, Kempton also has had several games in which he was noticed because he scored plenty of points.

Kempton scored eight points and grabbed 11 rebounds in an overtime loss to BYU in January. Several days later he got the Irish back on the winning track by pouring in 20 points and getting 10 rebounds in a big victory over UCLA.

The Bayville, N.Y., native played well after that, especially in games against NCAA Tournament-bound Utah and highly-ranked Syracuse. He saved the best for last by making 14 marks in both the points and rebounds columns in a 69-55 win over Dayton in the home finale.

Kempton agreed with his coach concerning his style of play that shows up only in the standings, not in the statistics.

"People notice the scorers, but I try to be a role player that contributes to the team in other ways," Kempton explained. "Rebounding both offensively and defensively helps the team because we need the ball to start the break, and to keep the other team from scoring easy baskets inside on second shots. I try to play good defense, and I also handle the ball in pressure against a press or half-court traps."

Kempton has enjoyed a senior year in which he has played well and the fans finally have appreciated his efforts. However, this was not always the case, as injuries during his sophomore and junior years hampered his play and caused the fans to turn against him.

"I had a stress fracture in my lower left leg as a sophomore, and then a stress fracture in my lower right leg as a junior," Kempton stated. "Sometimes I could only practice for 20-25 minutes, or not at all, so my timing was off. It was sore, and at times I couldn't play."

"My experience with the fans has really helped me mature, but it was disheartening at times. It made me a better person, and it showed me how to deal with adversity and pressure. I was trying to do my best, but I think some of the fans were as frustrated as the athletes because Notre Dame sports were in a down time."

Phelps knew that Kempton was hurting, but many of the fans seemed to forget his injuries.

"In his sophomore and junior years he was bothered by the stress fractures, and then he did some things that were negatives," Phelps explained. "I felt that some people were unfair to him, but I think he handled it with class and poise."

Though Kempton's scoring averages have dropped since his freshman and sophomore years, when he poured in over 10 points per game, the Irish have improved each year. Kempton explained.

"I think some of the fans were as frustrated as the athletes because Notre Dame sports were in a down time."

Phelps knew that Kempton was hurting, but many of the fans seemed to forget his injuries.

"In his sophomore and junior years he was bothered by the stress fractures, and then he did some things that were negatives," Phelps explained. "I felt that some people were unfair to him, but I think he handled it with class and poise."

"I had a stress fracture in my lower left leg as a sophomore, and then one in my lower right leg as a junior," Kempton stated. "Sometimes I could only practice for 20-25 minutes, or not at all, so my timing was off. It was sore, and at times I couldn't play."

"My experience with the fans has really helped me mature, but it was disheartening at times. It made me a better person, and it showed me how to deal with adversity and pressure. I was trying to do my best, but I think some of the fans were as frustrated as the athletes because Notre Dame sports were in a down time."

Phelps knew that Kempton was hurting, but many of the fans seemed to forget his injuries.

"In his sophomore and junior years he was bothered by the stress fractures, and then he did some things that were negatives," Phelps explained. "I felt that some people were unfair to him, but I think he handled it with class and poise."

Though Kempton's scoring averages have dropped since his freshman and sophomore years, when he poured in over 10 points per game, the Irish have improved each year.

Notre Dame lost in the first round of the NIT during Kempton's freshman year, and then was runner-up in the same tournament see KEMPTON, page 2
Chuck’s guide to the tournament

Chuck Freeby
Irish Items

Hello again, everybody!

March Madness is ready to begin again.

While the chosen few has become the chosen slot of 64 teams, the NCAA tournament still remains one of the most exciting and unpredictable events in sports. Few games, if any, can be considered easy, and there is certainly no clear-cut favorite this season.

One thing is for sure, however, Notre Dame will play Arkansas-Little Rock at 10:37 p.m. Friday in Minneapolis, and that's all that really matters to most Irish fans. Still, there's plenty of details fans should know, so we're devoting this column to being a Notre Dame fan's guide to the NCAA Tournament.

If you're going to Minneapolis... it's likely that you'll want to drive. Air fares are a little expensive to the Twin Cities, and with spring break only two weeks away, everybody is counting their money.

The drive is only about nine hours, although weather is somewhat unpredictable this time of year. Take the Toll Road to I-90-94 in Chicago. Follow I-90 through Rockford, Ill., to Madison, Wis. At that point, get back on I-90-94 into Minneapolis. Signs will tell you how to get to the Metrodome, but the 5th Street exit is your best bet.

The next thing you need are tickets, and they can be purchased ahead of time. Ticket packages are $36 and $45 and can be purchased on your credit card by calling the Metrodome ticket office at (612) 333-5577. Don't be surprised if things don't run too smoothly. The Metrodome has hosted only one other basketball game before, and that was when the 1984 Olympic team played a group of NBA all-stars prior to the Olympics. Therefore, it could be a learning experience for all concerned.

Looking for things to do in Minneapolis? Well, the Chamber of Commerce was happy to tell me that Andy Williams has two shows nightly at the Carlson Celebrity Room through Friday night. However, if you think Andy might be a bit much for you, the popular musical “A Chorus Line” is playing in town.

Of course, many students will be looking for the hot night spots. Suggested hangouts are Saturday Night Jukebox, a local sports bar at (612) 333-5577. Don't be surprised if things don't run too smoothly. The Metrodome has hosted only one other basketball game before, and that was when the 1984 Olympic team played a group of NBA all-stars prior to the Olympics. Therefore, it could be a learning experience for all concerned.

One other word of advice. It's not necessary to remind people in Minnesota that Lou Holtz is the new football coach at Notre Dame. They already are aware of that fact, and they really don't like hearing about it too much.

If you're not going to Minneapolis... you will be able to see the first-round game on TV. WNDU-TV (Channel 16) will televise the contest, even though that means "Miami Vice" will be pre-empted.

Should the Irish get past Arkansas-Little Rock, CBS holds the rights to the second-round games. It's a good bet that the local CBS affiliate, WSBT-TV (Channel 22) will be showing the Irish game as CBS tries to show different games to different areas of the country.

What to watch for in the tournament...

1) Fewer upsets. The presence of a 45-second clock isn't going to allow a lesser team to just blow the clock. Therefore, while there may be some surprises, don't look for any of the top four seeds in the region to lose in the first round.

2) Loosey-goosey games. Officials tend to hesitate to blow the whistle a little bit too often because they don't want to lose the game for a team. This could be an advantage for teams from the Big East and the Big Ten, which are used to the pounding underneath. It also should benefit Notre Dame, which likes to play a physical game, too.

3) At least one team with seven losses or more will reach the Final Four. This really doesn't require much of a stretch. Of the 64 teams in the tournament, 37 have seven losses or more. That is partially a display of the parity that is found in NCAA basketball these days and partially because there are so many dog teams from bad conferences getting automatic berths.

Hopefully, all of this information will help you enjoy the tournament a little more. So sit back, root for the Irish and let's see if Digger does Dallas.

Kempton continued from page 1

the following year. Last year the Irish advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament before losing by a point to North Carolina.

Kempton has improved over his career, but he sees his progress in relation to the progress of the team. "I feel I've matured as a player, but I see improvement in a team respect," Kempton stated. "We've had four great classes, and now we're peaking for the tournament. I recognize basketball in a more goal-oriented, team capacity now."

"As an individual, I understand the game more now. From the statistics I know it's hard to see the progress, but I feel more confident in my whole game because I know more aspects of the game, instead of just one or two."

While the Irish have been good for several years, this is the first time they have had all the pieces in place for a bid at the national championship.

"This team has a specialist and family character that make the difference between good teams and great teams," Kempton explained. "We've recruited some super guys in the last four years, and everybody gets along because there are no ego or selfish players."

"From the coaches to the players to the managers, we all know our roles and what it takes to be a great team so we can accomplish our goals."

Despite the problems with injuries and the fans, Kempton looks back fondly on his years here as graduation approaches.

"I'm definitely happy I came here," he stated. "The decision was between here and Duke, and I have no regrets at all. It's a super situation, and I've met a lot of nice people."

"It hasn't always been perfect, but neither is life," Kempton continued. "This experience has allowed me to mature and learn a lot."

As the Irish prepare for the NCAA Tournament, Phelps knows he needs a Kempton to play well if the team wants to advance far.

"We need Tim Kempton to be 100 percent physically if we want to do well," Phelps stated. "He's worked very, very hard while he has been

Winningest N basketball in the mod

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Record</th>
<th>Years</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>26-3</td>
<td></td>
<td>1973-7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>24-5</td>
<td></td>
<td>1957-5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>24-6</td>
<td></td>
<td>1978-7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>23-5</td>
<td></td>
<td>1985-8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>23-6</td>
<td></td>
<td>1980-8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>23-6</td>
<td></td>
<td>1975-7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>23-8</td>
<td></td>
<td>1977-7</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Not just a tournament

Notre Dame sees impact of making NCAAs in its non-athletic areas

BY MARTY STRASEN
SPORTS WRITER

It's more than traveling across the country to play some of the top college basketball teams. It's more than watching David Rivers save a defender in his tracks as he sinks an off-balance jumper. It's more than this.

This is the NCAA tournament, and its impact on the University of Notre Dame is hard to describe.

Let's start with the money. The University can count on about $150,000 just for taking part in tomorrow night's game against Arkansas-Little Rock. That amount is considered a home court advantage.

Other figures from last year, which should be adjusted slightly, were $300,760 for each second-round participant, $451,139 for the regional semifinals, $601,519 for playing in the regional finals and $751,899 for making the Final Four.

This money will be placed in Notre Dame's general fund, where it could be used for anything from athletic purposes to funding for the chemistry department, according to Notre Dame associate athletic director Roger Valdiserri.

But once again, the basketball team's participation and success in the tournament means much more.

Success means national exposure for the team, exposure which is invaluable as far as recruiting is concerned.

"Making the tournament and doing well definitely maintains the visibility of the men's basketball program on a national level," says Valdiserri. "That helps in recruiting and in numerous other ways.

"The school as a whole benefits tremendously. The players are interviewed on television and often talk about Notre Dame's academic excellence. During each telecast there are ads promoting each school's academic excellence. You just can't underestimate the value of making the tournament and doing well."

In addition, applications for enrollment have been known to increase in the past at schools which have enjoyed success in the tournament. Last year, for example, NCAA-champion Villanova reported about a 15-per cent increase in the number of applications received.

While the Notre Dame admissions department does not expect such an increase because the University already enjoys a great deal of exposure, Valdiserri recalls an effect on admissions at Saint Mary's College a few years ago because of tournament play.

"I remember about five or six years back when we had a very good team in the tournament," he says. "The announcers would occasionally mention Notre Dame/Saint Mary's. We heard from the staff at Saint Mary's that the number of applications increased for the next year. When the team does well, everyone benefits."

Notre Dame women's head basketball coach Mary DiStanislao sees the team's success in the tournament as an opportunity to strengthen the University programs.

"Being in the NCAAs definitely helps," she says. "We can point to other programs and say, 'This is the success that can be had.' Sure it helps women's basketball, but we're talking about something much larger. Every department in the University takes pride when one of our teams succeeds."

One department that has its hands full during tournament time is the Sports Information Department. Putting releases together, scheduling interviews and distributing information is a large job to tackle in the few days between the tournament selection and tomorrow night's opening game for the Irish.

"It's definitely a hectic period for us," says Notre Dame associate sports information director John Heiser. "The biggest problem is that we are restricted in time. We have to try to get to as many people as we can in the time we have. There are a lot of people who want to know about the team, ticket availability, interviews and various other things."

So while the team is busy practicing, reviewing game films and discussing strategies, the behind-the-scenes people are working diligently to try to keep pace with this busy period. Success does not come easily.

One thing is for sure, however. You won't hear anyone complaining.

Irish fail in attempt at another miracle finish

Time Capsule

by Marty Burns

It was the moment Notre Dame head coach Digger Phelps had always dreamed about. In a fantastic sequence of events that had Notre Dame fans pinching themselves to make sure it was real, Notre Dame's Stan Wilcox stole an errant pass and fed it to teammate Duck Williams for one last desperation shot.

With the help of Duke basketball's national audience viewing time from the dreamlike moment in the NCAA Final Four game in the St. Louis Checkerdome. At stake was a trip to the 1978 NCAA championship, and the Irish seemed on the verge of an upset victory and another miracle finish in their 23-6 dream season.

The Wilcox-Williams steal had capped off a frantic and unbelievable comeback for Notre Dame, which had found itself 14 points behind the Blue Devils with only 3:55 to play. But now Williams, with the score at 88-86 in favor of Duke and only 20 seconds left in the game, set up for a shot at history.

The dreams of Duck and Digger were shattered, however, as Williams' shot rimmed out and Duke's John Harrell came away with the loose ball. Harrell then canned two free throws to forge the 90-86 final score. Notre Dame would not get to the final game, but it had gone to its first-ever Final Four. Duke proceeded to fail to Kentucky, 94-85, in the championship game.

Actually, Notre Dame, which had reached the Final Four with victories over Houston, Utah and DePaul, had no right to harbor any dreams. After all, Duke was the team led by Tinkerbell. Gene "Tinkerbell" Banks, a silky-smooth freshman who today displays his talents in the NBA, canned 22 points and used his magic to keep the Blue Devils in control when the Irish rallied in the second half. Also sparking Head Coach Bill Foster's Duke squad was guard Jim Spaniakel (20 points) and center Mike Gminski (29 points).

The Irish were keyed by a balanced scoring attack that included 16 points from Williams, 11 from Tracy Jackson and 10 apiece from big man Brad Flowers and Dave Barton. In addition to their contributions, Phelps got clutch performances from Bill Laimbeer (seven points, 10 rebounds) and from a freshman by the name of Kelly Tripucka, who added 12 points and hauled down nine rebounds. Guards Rich Branning and Bill Hanlik, meanwhile, kicked in eight points each.

Although Notre Dame's dream had ended on the hardwood of the Checkerdome, that team still had helped to write a new chapter in Irish basketball history. And their dream was one that kept a lot of fans wide awake with excitement in 1978.
1986 NCAA tournament

First Rounds
March 13-14
Kentucky 1
Davidson 16
W. Kentucky 8
Nebraska 9
Alabama 5
K Xavier 12
Illinois 4
Fairfield 13
Purdue 6
Louisiana State 11
Memphis 3
Ball State 14
U. Iowa 7
Villanova 10
U. Texas 3
Kansas 15
St. John's 1
Morgan State 16
Auburn 8
Arizona 9
Maryland 5
Pepperdine 12
UNLV 4
N. Texas 13
IUPUI 6
Mississippi 11
St. Carolina 3
Virginia 14
Alabama 5
Bradley 7
UTEP 6
Louisville 11
Drexel 13
Duke 1
Miss. Valley St. 16
Old Dominion 8
W. Virginia 9
Virginia 5
DePaul 12
Oklahoma 4
North Carolina 13
St. Joseph's 6
Richmond 11
Indiana 2
Cleveland State 14
Navy 7
Villanova 10
Syracuse 3
Baylor 15
Kansas 1
N.C. A&T 16
Jacksonville 8
Tennessee 9
Clemson 5
Washington 12
Georgetown 4
Texas Tech 13
N.C. St. 8
Iowa 15
North Dakota 3
Ark. Little Rock 16
Iowa St. 7
Miami (Ohio) 10
Michigan 2
Akron 14

Second Rounds
March 15-16
SOUTHEAST
March 20 & 22—Atlanta, GA
Site: The Omni
Host: Metro Conference

WEST
March 20 & 22—Houston, TX
Site: The Summit
Host: Houston

EAST
March 21 & 23—East Rutherford, N.J.
Site: The Meadowlands
Host: Rutgers

MIDEAST
March 21 & 23—Kansas City, MO
Site: Kemper Arena
Host: Big Eight Conference

Sites
Southeast
1 March 13 & 15—Baton Rouge, LA
Site: Assembly Center
Host: Louisiana State

2 March 14 & 16—Charlotte, NC
Site: Charlotte Coliseum
Host: UNC Charlotte and Davidson

3 March 14 & 15—Ogden, Utah
Site: Dee Center
Host: Weber State

4 March 14 & 16—Long Beach, CA
Site: Long Beach Arena
Host: Long Beach State

West
5 March 13 & 15—Greensboro, NC
Site: Greensboro Coliseum
Host: Atlantic Coast Conference

6 March 14 & 16—Syracuse, NY
Site: Carrier Dome
Host: Syracuse

East
7 March 13 & 15—Dayton, OH
Site: UD Arena
Host: Dayton

Mideast
8 March 14 & 16—Minneapolis, MN
Site: The Metrodome
Host: Minnesota
A glimpse of other cultures

COLLEEN CLYNES
features writer

Interested in foreign travel free of charge? I’ll bet. This weekend there is a unique opportunity to visit 20 foreign lands in one night - right here on campus.

The annual International Students Festival, sponsored by the International Students Organization, will offer glimpses of other cultures through dances, skits and other acts this Saturday in Washington Hall.

Ramzi Bualuan, a Lebanese graduate student at the University, is this year’s festival chairman. Students representing 20 countries will perform a variety of acts as the festival begins.

"The festival consists of a number of sketches and dances that represent certain countries," said Bualuan. "Often an act illustrates more than one culture."

The Lebanese "Gahleh" dance, singer John Kennedy, a Kung Fu demonstration, a Chinese dance and a few humorous sketches are among this year’s acts.

This year’s participants include 60 to 70 foreign students, with a number of freshmen involved, although the majority of the group are juniors.

Attendance has increased in the past two years, and so has student participation, Bualuan said.

"The main reason for the festival is the opportunity it provides for foreign students to share their culture with the Notre Dame community. All the participants learn respect for cultures different than their own."

"It is not just for foreign students," stresses Bualuan. "All are more than welcome to participate."

The festival will enable students to experience a nation beyond its name on the 11 o’clock news. It presents a rare opportunity to look at the culture behind the nation, a different outlook on the lifestyle.

"It’s not every day that you can go see an authentic foreign dance or presentation," said Bualuan, "but on March 15, you just have to go to Washington Hall."

Questions should be directed to Mary Jacoby at the Observer office (239-6313). Resumes and personal statements are due Thursday, March 13.

The Observer 3rd Floor, Lafortune Student Center Notre Dame, IN 46556

Students rehearse their dance for Saturday’s festival.
IF YOUR MOM WILL LET YOU STAY UP LATE TOO, THEN WE NEED YOUR HELP.

APPLICATIONS FOR STUDENT GOVERNMENT CABINET ARE NOW AVAILABLE AT OUR 2ND FLOOR LaFORTUNE OFFICES.

APPLICATION DEADLINE:
Spring Break

POSITIONS AVAILABLE
Executive Coordinators, United Way Chairman, Transfer Orientation, Freshmen Orientation, Cabinet Members and Special Projects Coordinators.

If you are willing to work with us, we are willing to work with you.

IF YOU HAVE THE ENTHUSIASM & THE TIME,
WE HAVE A CRAYON WITH YOUR NAME ON IT.
Kiel continues on page 20

Kiel tosses the pigeon briefly for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. An 11th round draft choice in 1986, Kiel saw some promise for the Bucs, but was cut in 1989 suffering a relapse of Crohn's disease.

Crohn's disease is an ulcerative problem near the base of the intestine that nearly took the life of San Diego Chargers safety Anthony Sorkin. Al.

though serious, Kiel's case was alleviated by medication. Even with the medication, Kiel admits he was preparing to hang up the shoulder pads and take a job as a stockbroker when the Colts called.

And though bad fortune of the type suffered by Kiel can effect many players bitter, Kiel's intestinal problems were a far cry from a disease which has affected a number of NFL players in recent years. The most recent patient is Chicago Bears' Pat O'Shea, a patient who has suffered through Crohn's disease for over 20 years.

"This past year literally had been a pain in the butt," said O'Shea.
Stevenson returns to site of last victory

Associated Press

GLENDALE, Calif. - Jim Stevenson, returning to the site of his most recent LPGA victory, tackles what may be the toughest course on the tour in the $250,000 GNA-Glendale Federal Classic beginning today.

Stephenson won the tournament last year with a 72-hole score of 290, 2-over-par over the venerable Oakmont Country Club course.

That was the highest winning score of any LPGA tournament last year, and the only event won with an over-par total. It also was the first women's tournament at Oakmont.

Stephenson took the victory with cards of 70-73-72-75 over the par-72, 6,328-yard course that opened 60 years ago. There was only one round under 70 over the tree-lined course that severely punished mistakes, a 69 carded by Vicki Ferguson.

Stephenson, predictably, likes Oakmont.

"It's nice to come back to nice thoughts," she said. "The fairways are great, the greens are ideal for putting. I expect scores to be lower this year, and I think an experienced player will win because it's a very competitive course.

Relay

continued from page 20

Noble's relay is led off by McNelis. An 800-meter runner for most of his career, Noble will try to position himself at the front of the pack.

"I'll try to use my excitement to give me more energy running," said McNelis on his strategy for this weekend. "There's always a choice of being too pumped. I'll just try to get out and lead without killing myself.

He will hand the baton to Noble. Previously a 600-yard runner, Noble ran several impressive 800-yard races last year to crack the two-mile relay lineup.

"I try to move us into the lead if we are behind," said Noble. "If McNelis finishes in front, then I try to open up a bigger lead."

This strategy bodes well for Van Wier, the third runner.

"If running out in front," Van Wier said, "Rob just makes things easier for me.

Finally Tyler runs the anchor leg. The former cross country co-captain thrives on the competition and strategy of the last few laps.

"I feel I can run with any of the competitors," he said.

IRISH ITEMS: To understand the irrefutable ability of some of the athletes racing in Oklahoma City this weekend, Pianci said that the qualifying standard for the mile relay was faster than the world record time of 3:39.52.

Stephenson, who was a part of the relay that broke the outdoor record last year, has missed the entire season due to a foot injury.

The Naz Competition is coming...

A chance for student bands and musicians to compete for fame and recognition.

On Friday, April 6th you will compete for:

★ CASH PRIZES!
★ A position in the Saturday showcase performance (April 5th)
★ A chance to play with MAX WEINBERG, BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN'S DRUMMER!

Registration is at the front desk of the Student Government Offices from March 11 to March 16.

QUESTIONS? Call Liz 283-2985

Bruce Springsteen's Drummer MAX WEINBERG will soon be at Notre Dame.

Max will first show a documentary film of the Born in the U.S.A. tour (made by N.F.L. Films). He will then talk about his experiences with Bruce on the road. And finally, Max Weinberg will jam with the finest of Notre Dame's musicians chosen from the students at the Nazz competition.

MAX is coming April 12.

Sponsored by the Student Activities Board

Long Island Bus SPRING BREAK

Round trip $77

One way $50

Bus leaves March 21 & returns April 1

Sign up in LaFortune Lobby 4-6 p.m. Friday, March 14th
Zoeller brings high hopes, injuries to defend title at Bay Hill Classic

Associated Press

ORLANDO, Fla. - Fuzzy Zoeller, who capped his comeback with a victory in this event a year ago, has some high hopes and a tender back as he opens defense of his title in the $500,000 Hertz-Bay Hill Classic.

"I'm still learning about it, still learning to live with it," he said of the back problems that, a year ago, threatened to end his career.

"There's some scar tissue problems and, later on, there'll probably be some arthritis," Zoeller said before a practice round on Arnold Palmer's Bay Hill Club course.

Zoeller, however, was optimistic about his chances in the chase for a $90,000 first prize here, as well as for the rest of the year.

"It really helps, makes the year a lot easier, when you get off to a good, fast start," said Zoeller, a former Masters and U.S. Open champion who won at Pebble Beach early this season.

"You look at your list of (leading) money-winners. Almost all of them got off to a good start out West," Zoeller said.

And, despite some nagging problems with the back, Fuzzy said he was optimistic about his chances in the tournament that begins today.

"After winning here last year, I have a kind of special feeling about this tournament, this course," he said. "I have a pretty good record on this course (four finishes in the top 10 in seven starts)."

"I'm playing pretty well, hitting a lot of good shots. I was playing very well in Hawaii (before he was forced to withdraw)."

"And I played well last week (in the Doral-Eastern Open). I just had one nine-hole stretch that wasn't so good, so everybody is saying, 'Oh, you're playing bad again, huh?'"

"That's not it at all. I just wasn't making any short putts."

Zoeller was not alone with his back problems. The tournament host, Arnold Palmer, also was having some difficulties. He said he was "not 100 percent" but would be among the invitational starting field of 114.
Southeast has eight teams on win streak

Associated Press

BATON ROUGE, La. - It's an exciting prospect for everyone, said Louisiana State University coach Dale Brown. Each of the eight teams here is just a six-game winning streak from the peak of college basketball.

"That's really not a lot of games," said Brown, who knows as well as anyone the difference between regular-season victories and tournament victories. His team snapped a 10-game post-season losing streak this year in the Southeastern Conference tournament - a streak dating back to the Final Four in Philadelphia in 1981.

Brown is one of three coaches in this portion of the NCAA tournament's first round who has taken a team to the Final Four.

Rolfe Massimino led Villanova to the national championship last year, beating Dana Kix's Memphis State in the opening round of the Final Four.

As the seventh straight championship tournament for Villanova, the fourth straight for Memphis State and Purdue, three in a row for LSU, and two in a row for Georgia Tech and Virginia Tech.

At the other end of the experience spectrum is Marist, which made its only NCAA tournament appearance in 1981.

Marist, the smallest school in the opening rounds of the Southeast Regional here, has the most cosmopolitan roster. 7-0 Rudy Bourgari of Abymes, Guadeloupe; 6-11 Milorad Pecarski of Nova Sad, Yugoslavia; 6-7 Peter Krausevof of Budapest, Hungary; and 6-6 Alan Forestier of Paris.

"We just capitalized on our assistant coaches having played and coached professionally in Europe," said Marist coach Matt Furjanic. "We've gotten something from Europe we can't get here - the players above 6-0.""Marist, 19-11, meets Georgia Tech, 21-9, in the opening round of the Southeast Regional.

"We've just capitalized on our assistant coaches having played and coached professionally in Europe," said Marist coach Matt Furjanic. "We've gotten something from Europe we can't get here - the players above 6-0.""Marist, 19-11, meets Georgia Tech, 21-9, in the opening round of the Southeast Regional.

"We've just capitalized on our assistant coaches having played and coached professionally in Europe," said Marist coach Matt Furjanic. "We've gotten something from Europe we can't get here - the players above 6-0.""Marist, 19-11, meets Georgia Tech, 21-9, in the opening round of the Southeast Regional.

"We've just capitalized on our assistant coaches having played and coached professionally in Europe," said Marist coach Matt Furjanic. "We've gotten something from Europe we can't get here - the players above 6-0.""Marist, 19-11, meets Georgia Tech, 21-9, in the opening round of the Southeast Regional.

"We've just capitalized on our assistant coaches having played and coached professionally in Europe," said Marist coach Matt Furjanic. "We've gotten something from Europe we can't get here - the players above 6-0.""Marist, 19-11, meets Georgia Tech, 21-9, in the opening round of the Southeast Regional.

"We've just capitalized on our assistant coaches having played and coached professionally in Europe," said Marist coach Matt Furjanic. "We've gotten something from Europe we can't get here - the players above 6-0.""Marist, 19-11, meets Georgia Tech, 21-9, in the opening round of the Southeast Regional.

"We've just capitalized on our assistant coaches having played and coached professionally in Europe," said Marist coach Matt Furjanic. "We've gotten something from Europe we can't get here - the players above 6-0.""Marist, 19-11, meets Georgia Tech, 21-9, in the opening round of the Southeast Regional.

"We've just capitalized on our assistant coaches having played and coached professionally in Europe," said Marist coach Matt Furjanic. "We've gotten something from Europe we can't get here - the players above 6-0.""Marist, 19-11, meets Georgia Tech, 21-9, in the opening round of the Southeast Regional.

"We've just capitalized on our assistant coaches having played and coached professionally in Europe," said Marist coach Matt Furjanic. "We've gotten something from Europe we can't get here - the players above 6-0.""Marist, 19-11, meets Georgia Tech, 21-9, in the opening round of the Southeast Regional.

"We've just capitalized on our assistant coaches having played and coached professionally in Europe," said Marist coach Matt Furjanic. "We've gotten something from Europe we can't get here - the players above 6-0.""Marist, 19-11, meets Georgia Tech, 21-9, in the opening round of the Southeast Regional.

"We've just capitalized on our assistant coaches having played and coached professionally in Europe," said Marist coach Matt Furjanic. "We've gotten something from Europe we can't get here - the players above 6-0.""Marist, 19-11, meets Georgia Tech, 21-9, in the opening round of the Southeast Regional.

"We've just capitalized on our assistant coaches having played and coached professionally in Europe," said Marist coach Matt Furjanic. "We've gotten something from Europe we can't get here - the players above 6-0.""Marist, 19-11, meets Georgia Tech, 21-9, in the opening round of the Southeast Regional.

"We've just capitalized on our assistant coaches having played and coached professionally in Europe," said Marist coach Matt Furjanic. "We've gotten something from Europe we can't get here - the players above 6-0.""Marist, 19-11, meets Georgia Tech, 21-9, in the opening round of the Southeast Regional.

"We've just capitalized on our assistant coaches having played and coached professionally in Europe," said Marist coach Matt Furjanic. "We've gotten something from Europe we can't get here - the players above 6-0.""Marist, 19-11, meets Georgia Tech, 21-9, in the opening round of the Southeast Regional.

"We've just capitalized on our assistant coaches having played and coached professionally in Europe," said Marist coach Matt Furjanic. "We've gotten something from Europe we can't get here - the players above 6-0.""Marist, 19-11, meets Georgia Tech, 21-9, in the opening round of the Southeast Regional.

"We've just capitalized on our assistant coaches having played and coached professionally in Europe," said Marist coach Matt Furjanic. "We've gotten something from Europe we can't get here - the players above 6-0.""Marist, 19-11, meets Georgia Tech, 21-9, in the opening round of the Southeast Regional.

"We've just capitalized on our assistant coaches having played and coached professionally in Europe," said Marist coach Matt Furjanic. "We've gotten something from Europe we can't get here - the players above 6-0.""Marist, 19-11, meets Georgia Tech, 21-9, in the opening round of the Southeast Regional.

"We've just capitalized on our assistant coaches having played and coached professionally in Europe," said Marist coach Matt Furjanic. "We've gotten something from Europe we can't get here - the players above 6-0.""Marist, 19-11, meets Georgia Tech, 21-9, in the opening round of the Southeast Regional.
No one can ever accuse Larry Gallo of taking the easy way out. As head coach of the Notre Dame baseball team, he schedules some of the top baseball schools in the nation, despite being at a recruiting disadvantage.

Baseball is not considered to be a major sport at Notre Dame. The Irish home games do not draw large crowds, and there is not a great amount of money put aside for baseball scholarships. Combined with the weather patterns in South Bend, these conditions make it difficult for Gallo to draw some of the top prospects.

"We have to work with what we have, not what it could be," said Gallo. "When I recruit, I tell the players don't come here to play baseball, come here to be a student and then you can play baseball."

Gallo takes a much different view of baseball at Notre Dame than most, and he is confident that he can attract the kind of talent that is capable of playing against top competition.

"It might be a minor sport in the eye of the general public, but to us it's a major sport," said Gallo. "The players and I take baseball very seriously and believe we can compete with anybody."

Gallo believes firmly that hard work can make up for some of the talent inadequacies the Irish may have. The sixth year head coach stresses the fundamentals to make the most of the players' potential. Improvisation through what he calls "looking beyond the next step" is his key philosophy.

"You have to look past the next step," said Gallo. "You can't be content with where you are; it's better to strive ahead even if you fail, because you can learn even from failing."

"The greatest reward I get from coaching is seeing the kids improve. I try to encourage them and push them hard because most do not realize how far they can go and what they can attain."

As if the level talent the Irish play is not enough, there is often an extra incentive for opposing teams to defeat them according to Gallo.

"A lot of people do not draw a line between the football and basketball teams and baseball. When they see those Fighting Irish uniforms they don't care whether the ball is white, brown or orange, they are out to beat Notre Dame."

The Depauw Tigers will be out to defeat the Irish this weekend as Notre Dame travels to Greencastle for what they hope will be, weather permitting, a four game series. Gallo sees the series as an opportunity to try different players at different positions and to get a look at some more pitchers in game conditions in preparation for some of the more important games coming later in the season.

"I LOVE AMERICA BECAUSE THERE'S PLENTY OF LITE BEER, AND YOU CAN ALWAYS FIND A PARTY. IN RUSSIA, PARTY ALWAYS FINDS YOU."

"There's only one LITE BEER, MILLER LITE."
Bonny
continued from page 20
400-625 and 413-7. She dove all her qualifying sets in eleven-dive meets. "It's easier to qualify with eleven dives," Bonny said. "You can blow a dive and still get the points. My goal this year was to qualify, but now I'd like to get into the finals of the regionals this weekend."

In the competition, approximately 10 divers will each do five dives, at which point the field will be cut to 32. The remaining divers will then finish their complete 11-dive program. The top eight finishers will re-do all 11 dives for placing purposes.

Of those eight finalists, the top four in the low boards and the top six in the high boards will go on to Arkansas for the Championship.

"There probably will be 2-6 divers there who will absolutely amaze," Bonny said. "They're the ones who try out for the Olympics or have dive under the very best diving coaches in the country. After them, it will be a dogfight. I'll get into the finals. I'll be very happy."

Welch praised Bonny for the season she had this year.

"Her performance this year has been superior," he said. "She's re-set all our university records - low boards, high boards, dual-meets, you name it. She's had a really excellent year."

Television
continued from page 20

like we just went through. Our valence would continue to deteriorate. Our ratings have gone down noticeably.

"All ratings are down, but we are back in the pack now. The Notre Dame-Air Force football game was one of the lowest rated games of the year, that is for all games televised on Saturday last season.

"People can buy spots cheap unless the ratings go up."

So, what must Notre Dame do to keep one step ahead of the falling sports advertising demand?

"Success and winning lead to higher ratings, and higher ratings lead to bigger money."

Today, the average American may tune in to up to 10 basketball games on any given Saturday in the month of February.

Advertisers are looking to other types of programming to market their products, as Miller Brewing Co. spokesman Steve Forsyth was quoted as saying in the Feb. 24 issue of Sports Illustrated:

"Sports programming used to be a bargain compared with prime time," said Forsyth. "Now it's as expensive or more. We are using MTV, late-night shows like David Letterman and some comedy programming to reach our target audience."

For these reasons, professional sports teams are likely not to find any contract raises from the networks. Ultimately, this may lead to lower salaries for players.

Major horse races, auto races, other post-season college football games such as the Peach and Fiesta Bowls and regular-season college football packages may well be by the wayside due to the commercial spots.

Advertisers are simply not willing to pay the big bucks any more. A good example of the trend away from big time sports to other advertising avenues is witnessed by the car manufacturers.

They have found that women are increasingly participating in the car buying decision, so car makers are targeting their ads for places other than televised sporting events.
Thursday, March 13, 1986 — page 19

The Daily Crossword

ACROSS
1 Authority
6 Dopna and —
11 —: a great deal
14 Ger. submarine
15 Stacey Header
16 FDR agry.
17 Site of a ficti-
19 Inclamoral contest
20 Way to pee abbr.
21 Equires
22 Stopper —
23 Highest degree
24 25
25 Severity
26 Vowel
27 Big top him
28 One of a marriage into
29 Beat
31 Use the gray matter
33 Highest peak in Air
37 Flower cluster
38 Urn novel
41 Animated
43 Kind of bread
45 Surf's up
46 Measure
47 Hoarded
48 Poem
50 Mr. Lardner
51 Era for one
52 Knight or Mack
53 Omen
54 Cal. peak
57 Haggard novel
58 Stan's
61 Stroops
63 Georgia
64 Warned
65 As crops
66 Area
61 Apportioned
62 Castle for one
63 Down
64 Bottom line
65 Cut the —
66 "It's later than —"
67 "You can take it —"
68 "That's the reason I bought it, not just to —"

DOWN
1 Sale's partner
2 Basketball Mel
3 Part of a
4 Student's day
5 Sprints
6 Citrus fruits
7 Nine outfolds
8 Lamgray
9 "Blood"
10 "Wood"
11 "Blood"
12 Vibrant motion
13 A rattling
14 Agent
15 Elul
16 Parvulion coin
17 "Bottoms"
18 "Large"
19 "Tooth"
20 "Bread"
21 "Dentures"
22 "Center"
23 "Row"
24 "Bring into"
25 "Tooth"
26 "Smallest"
27 "Lear
28 "Pigeon" to
29 "Medicine"
30 "Ventilating"
31 "Omaha's cousin"
32 "Water barrier"
33 "Weakened"
34 "Winter hazard"
35 "Display"
36 "Fourth estate"
37 "Indecence"
38 "St. Marie"
39 "Reading"
40 "Broadway"
41 "Furter"
42 "Sudden thrills"
43 "Household"
44 "Scream"
45 "Friend."
46 "Fourth estate"
47 "St. Marie"
48 "Comp. pl.

Yesterday's Puzzle Solved:

3/13/86

SPONSORED BY: THE STUDENT ACTIVITIES BOARD

American Dreamer

$1.50

Friday, March 14th,
Saturday, March 15th
7:00, 9:15, 11:30 p.m.
Please, no food or drinks in Auditorium

SPONSORED BY: THE STUDENT ACTIVITIES BOARD

$1.00

Wednesday, March 12th,
Thursday, March 13th
7:00, 9:00, 11:00 p.m.
Please, no food or drinks in Auditorium
Sports

Notre Dame relay at NCAA meet, pursues elusive all-American status

By PETE GEGEN

Sports Writer

They knew they would be here. Ever since the two-mile relay team broke a field outdoor track record in that event last year, they saw their sights on clinching an all-America nod.

Tomorrow Notre Dame's two-mile relay team will run in the NCAA indoor championships, and McNelia, Robert Nobles, Jeff Van Wilgen and Ira Mallett will be among the top ten relay teams in the nation for a shot at the title of all America.

"I told them that back in September," said Plante, "(that) they are very talented, and their best marks showed that they were capable of running.

"Tomorrow the team will run in one of two preliminary races. The top three teams from here plus the next fastest time from either heat, will make it to the final Saturday.

"For the top ten relay teams in the nation to be honored with the title of all America.

"All-America status is what we've worked on for four years," said John McNelis of the importance of this race.

The Irish qualified for Nationals at the Terrier Classic in Boston. Their time of 7:24.84 was presumed to be the best in the nation and would cause of a race in which both Auburn and Kentucky.

"They had a workman-like performance at Boston," he said. "Now run out of their minds, in fact only Tyler set a personal mark in that race.

"They did what they needed to do. They tried a close to their personal bests. They are capable of running better, and hopefully they'll do it this weekend."

The two mile relay ran twice prior to qualifying in Boston. At the Western Michigan relays, the time was 7:29.8 and second place in the qualifying standards.

They recorded the exact same time in the Penn Relays and McNelis fell on the first lap. The spill cost the team four seconds and a second place finish to Northwestern.

Irish diver goes home to be in NCAA meet

Sports Writer

Andrea Bonny is going home this weekend, but she won't be taking an early vacation. Notre Dame's top diver will test the waters in the NCAA Diving Regionals starting tomorrow in her hometown of Columbus, Ohio.

"I'm so excited," said Bonny. "My older sister is flying in for the competition. A lot of people I know are going to be there. I'm really excited and a little nervous.

The butterflies are understandable, notwithstanding the size of the competition. Neither Notre nor Irish head coach Tim Welsh has ever been to this type of meet before. For that reason, Welsh hesitates to assess Bonny's chances.

ND's “other” Tournament team faces big test

By KATHLEEN McKERNAN

Sports Writer

"We don't know what will happen," Welsh said. "This is a new experience for both of us. The competition is very elite, however.

"I'm looking forward to being a part of the NWIT committee. I don't know what will happen, but I'm excited to be a part of the Irish."

Although the Irish must first get past Northwestern, they might very well find itself up against rival Duke.

"There is a chance that the Irish could make the NIT finals," said Assistant Athletic Director Brian Boulac. "The Irish have a chance to compete against the top teams in the country."

Friday: March 22

Notre Dame will meet Jan. 25 at Fordham with scores of 391.27 and 436.57 which, at the time, were school records. Irish since re-set and requalified against Oral Roberts with point totals of see BONNY, page 18

Thursday, March 13, 1986 — page 20