2 students charged after trying to take police car

By TRIPP BALTZ
News Editor

Two Notre Dame students who allegedly took possession of a police car have been charged with misdemeanors, according to Chief Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Jane Becker of the County Prosecutor's Office.

Sean Murphy and Frederick Lupone were charged with criminal trespassing, a Class A misdemeanor. Both are 21 and live at a Rex St. address in South Bend.

Each charge carries a maximum penalty of up to a year in prison and a $5,000 fine. Becker said the sentences may be probationary.

Murphy and Lupone were released Friday from the St. Joseph County Prison on their own recognizance.

A South Bend Police officer responded early Friday morning to a theft at The Commons, 826 N. Eddy, according to Lt. Richard Kilgore. The officer left the scene running in the car after arriving at the scene. Kilgore said Murphy tried to drive the car out of The Commons parking lot but was blocked by other police cars.

Lupone, who was sitting in the passenger's seat, then tried to escape, Kilgore said. He was apprehended by police two blocks from the scene.

In addition to the recent police action, South Bend law officers broke up a party at a house on N. St. Louis Saturday and delivered a citation to Paul Browne, 22. Browne, a Notre Dame student who lives at the address, was cited for violation of the city noise ordinance.

According to Kilgore, other citations were issued to minors in possession of alcohol. Breathalyzers and a K-9 were used to conduct the raid.

Sacred reflection

A passing photographer takes time out from a campus tour to snap a shot of Sacred Heart Church's side door. The door and its 'God, Country, Notre Dame' inscription are Notre Dame's tribute to its World War I war dead.

Israelis charge 'Ivan the Terrible'

Associated Press

JERUSALEM - Prosecutors formally charged retired U.S. auto worker John Demjanjuk yesterday with torturing prisoners at a Nazi death camp and operating gas chambers in which hundreds of thousands were killed. The 26-page indictment accuses him of crimes of incomp­ mance, including stabbing prisoners and tearing off pieces of their flesh, while serving as an officer at the Treblinka camp in German-occupied Poland during World War II. Conviction could bring the death penalty.

Demjanjuk, 66, was born in the Soviet Ukraine and worked at a plant in Cleveland. He was ex­ tradited from the United States in February, accused of being the sadistic guard Jewish prisoners called Ivan the Terrible.

U.S. authorities stripped him of citizenship in 1981 after he was found guilty of lying about his Nazi past when he came to America in February 1953. He will be the first person tried in Israel on charges of Nazi war crimes since Adolf Eichmann was convicted and hanged in 1962. Eichmann directed the Nazi extermination of Jews.

Demjanjuk's trial is not expected to begin before December.

Among details of Demjanjuk's alleged crimes included in the indictment are cutting off the ears of a prisoner named David Auslander, whipping an elderly Jewish man to death, and stabbing vic­ tims while forcing them into gas chambers.

The accused stabbed his vic­ tims in various parts of their bodies, tore pieces of flesh from their limbs, the charge sheet said. "The victims, bleeding profusely, were driven into the gas chambers."

In addition, it said, "the ac­ cused by his own acts caused the deaths of hundreds of thousands of human beings" by running the motor which sent poisonous fumes into the chambers.

Demjanjuk's American attor­ ney, Mark O'Connor, and old reporters his client was not the criminal named in the indict­ ment. O'Connor has said the guard called Ivan the Terrible was killed during a 1943 prisoner uprising at the concentration camp 45 miles east of Warsaw.

see NAZI, page 3

Danilloff released

in secret agreement

Associated Press

FRANKFURT, West Germany - American Journalist Nicholas Danilloff flew to the West and freedom yesterday, released in a sting-­ secretive U.S. Soviet agree­ ment that could help shake off a deepening chill in superpower relations.

In a New York, a Soviet bloc­ source at the United Nations said finally Zakharov, charged with being a Soviet spy, would be exchanged for Danilloff, but there was no immediate official announcement on the outcome of a deal.

President Reagan, visiting Kansas City, Mo., said, "We didn't give in," and said details of the arrangement would be disclosed today.

Danilloff, U.S. News & World Report correspondent in Moscow for five years, told reporters in Frankfurt: "I'm grateful to the president of the United States. I'm free. I'm in the West. I cannot tell you about any other arrangements. ... All I know is that I am free.

The 51-year-old journalist, appeared to be in good health but tired.

"It's obvious to everyone what has happened," he said. "I was arrested without an arrest war­ rant. The case against me was fabricated." He said he was taken into cus­ tody to give the Soviet Union leverage in its efforts to obtain the release of Zakharov, who was arrested in New York a week before "Ivan" was picked up. The KGB did not punish me. The KGB punished itself," he added.

His wife Ruth held up a T-shirt reading "Free Nick Danilloff."

In Moscow Danilloff had said: "I leave more in sorrow than anger."

In an emotional departure, he read a verse by 10th-century Rus­ sian poet Mikhail Lermontov that bids farewell to "unwashed Rus­ sia, land of slaves," and to its "all-seeing eyes ... all-hearing ears."

He and his wife then boarded a Lufthansa flight that landed in Frankfurt three hours, 40 min­ utes later, at 8:55 p.m. (13:55 p.m. EDT), causing a stir. A overwhelming crowd during which his arrest had threatened to derail rela­ tions between the world's two most powerful nations.

On hand to welcome Danilloff was Richard Burt, U.S. ambassa­ dor to West Germany. The KGB secret service jailed Danilloff as an accused Spy Aug. 20. In what U.S. officials de­ scribed as retaliation for the arrest in New York a week earlier of the 39-year-old pathologist and Soviet U.S. em­ ployee.

Although the U.S. administra­ tion has insisted there would be no swap of Danilloff for Secretary of State George Shultz and Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze negotiated for long hours in Washington and New York in an effort to avoid the fate of Danilloff and Zakharov.

Some analysts in the United States had said a broader deal might also include the recent release of some Soviet dissidents. The Soviets, at the same time, were seeking to backslide in recent days on their commitment to cut back on arms sales. See DANILLOFF, page 3

Coca-Cola's divestment

will not affect ND policy

By CINDY RAUCKHORST
Senior Staff Reporter

The Coca Cola Co.'s recent decision to sell its holdings in South Africa will have no im­ mediate effect on the Univer­ sity's policies of divestment, according to Notre Dame Board of Trustees Vice­ chairman Andrew Keough. McKenna said Saturday that the University's policies toward South Africa are different than those of Coca-Cola, and not significantly related.

Coca-Cola announced Sept. 17 that the company planned to withdraw its holdings in South Africa protesting that country's lack of progress toward abolishing apartheid.

The overall plan of divestment by Coca-Cola will take at least six to nine months, a company spokesman said.

John White, executive aide to Board of Trustees Chairman Donald Keough, said it was inappropriate to com­ ment on the matter until the Board itself addressed the issue at its Nov. 14 meeting. "As far as I know, however, Coca-Cola Co.'s decision will not have much influence on the University's as such," he said.

Keough, who has served as chairman since last May, also serves as president of the Board of Trustees of the Coca-Cola Co.

At a meeting last May, trustees modified the board's policy on South African invest­ ment. The policy is character­ ized by its support of selective divestment.

The Board authorized divestment from those compa­ nies whose business in South Africa did not support abolishing apartheid, or caused further deterioration of South African conditions.
The Observer -- page 2

Ozone layer destruction continues as companies remain unconcerned

Scott Beary
Viewpoint Editor

Imagine my surprise when leafing through a newspaper, passing the news of the day and spotting a headline: Scientists predict castastrophes in 20 years if we do not act now.

The word "predict" indicated that yet another group was foretelling the end of the world, one of many articles which fill the pages of our nation's tabloids with headlines such as "Giant meteor to crash the world during the seventh game of the World Series."

However, this prediction came from some of the nation's leading scientists in front of a Senate sub-committee and based on their findings "there is a very real possibility that man - through ignorance or indifference or both - is irreversibly altering the ability of our atmosphere to [support] life," according to Senator John Chafee.

The particular environmental issue at stake here is the rising world temperatures and disappearing ozone layer which is believed to be occurring because of the manufacturing of certain chemicals.

Back in 1974 the theory that chlorofluorocarbons destroy ozone in the atmosphere was suggested. However, the industries argued for further research before production would be curtailed.

The "greenhouse effect," warmer temperatures coupled with deteriorating ozone layers, left the public eye until the scientists' report was given in June. Meanwhile the temperatures kept rising and the ozone disappearing.

The wait-and-see attitude of 12 years ago continues by the companies involved. One corporate officials advocates this approach since "continued release of CFC's is not a significant threat to the environment in the time required to gain a better understanding of the science."

In looking at research done recently, however, the estimates of ozone deterioration are closer to those done in the 1960's. In other words, they are more pessimistic. This wait-and-see attitude will not improve the situation. With the Ozone Layer, it has come to stop meeting about the problem but to make demands upon the companies.

In one of Louisiana's industrial areas, now known as the cancer cluster, an executive of one industry would express why levels of PCB's were 10 times higher by the drainage pipe of the company than anywhere else on the body of water. Of course, we could firmly state that the cancer causing substance was not from his company. When asked where it was coming from, he "didn't know."

Human nature is to look short-range at the problems facing us and not consider the serious problems which this type of thinking may cause. After generations of thinking this way, some of the actions are coming back to haunt us.

Not only does this concern the environment, but also other areas, including the United States deficit. "But what will a few extra degrees do to the world? Castastrophes won't occur until after we're around."

If the current trend continues, however, in as little as 50 years significant flooding would take place, there would be a dramatic increase in skin cancer cases, and current agriculture areas would be threatened.

Progress and profits are wonderful but a little caution now could keep the world healthier in the long run. With uncertainties and consequences as high as they are, there should not be the right to assume that there are no problems. It is necessary to be optimistic, but a realistic outlook has to exist or our world will continue to be in serious trouble.

Industry has helped our nation and the world tremendously and continued technology is necessary to a better existence, but an emphasis must be placed on the future and not solely on tomorrow. 200 years ago our founding fathers had a concern for the strength of our nation, short term and long term. It seems we should give future inhabitants the same opportunity.

If the current trends presented to the Senate sub-committee on the environment continue, our future generations 200 years from now will be burdened about where Miami and New Orleans are since they will more than likely be under water.

The damage is already substantial, but steps can be made to improve the situation if awareness and concern continue. We all must be careful of our short-term goals and must look long-term more.

Hopefully, the scientists' prediction of catastrophe will be as unlikely as the giant meteor crashing at the World Series. It is so unlikely to us.

---

Design Editor: Rob Lassen
Copy Editor: Ginnie Winer
Headline Designer: Mike Moran
Sports Copy Editor: Mike Moran

The Observer is published by the students of the University of Notre Dame and Notre Dame High School.

The Observer is the university's only public relations organ through which the University is able to extend information about the University's importance and accomplishments. The Observer is the student newspaper of Notre Dame and Notre Dame High School.
Board of Governance debates parietal plans

By SHARON MEGG

News Staff

The Saint Mary's Board of Governance debated the proposed change of the parietal issue presented last week by Judicial Commissioner Mary Fisher during Monday's meeting.

Fisher suggested that men visiting the dorms continue to be escorted at all times but not be required to leave their IDs at the front desk. She said that adults, Saint Mary's students should be allowed to make adult decisions. "It works at Notre Dame, why can't it also work at Saint Mary's?" Fisher said.

Although many at the meeting agreed with the proposal in principle, they questioned the need for change. Negative response was received from the LeMans and Regina Hall Boards.

The most frequent rebuttals to the proposal were that added pressure would be put on resident assistants and the front desk workers. Also, many expressed concern that the penalty for breaking parietals would be more severe than in the past.

A vote over the proposed policy change will occur at next week's joint meeting of the Board of Governance and the Programming Board.

In other news, Student Body President Jeannie Heller met with Richard Chlebek, director of security and safety at Saint Mary's, to discuss the suggested safety improvements. Chlebek said that flashing yellow lights will be installed at the intersection of "rape road" and route 31 within the next two weeks to warn motorists of the student crossing. Also, a stop light will be installed at the intersection of Douglas Road and route 31 by the end of the year.

74-year-old man held for shooting paperboy

Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS - A 74-year-old man was formally charged with murder yesterday in the shooting death of his newspaper carrier.

Authorities identified Nokomis Toombs, who is being held without bond in the Marion County Jail, as the shooter after firing the shotgun blast early Thursday morning that killed Scott Lawson, 16.

Lawson was shot once in the chest about 4:45 a.m. as he was placing a copy of The Indianapolis Star inside a breezeway door at Toombs' home.

Toombs is scheduled to appear in Marion Superior Court today.

Toombs told police he had problems with vandalism at his home, and that neighborhood youths had fired shots into his home Aug. 26. He said he had spent Wednesday night sleeping with a vigil in his darkened living room.

Toombs was arrested later in the day Thursday, but formal charges were delayed after authorites received a 72-hour continuance on the case.

According to the probable cause affidavit accompanying the charge, Indianapolis Police Detective Norman Matthews said that when officers arrived at the scene Toombs allegedly said, "Is he dead? Is he dead? I hope I killed him."

When Toombs was advised he had shot his paperboy, Matthews said, he showed "remorse and regret for having shot an innocent young man."

Dialysis diligence

Mark Yates, an 18-year-old Penn State Uni­versity freshman from North Plainfield, N.J., studies while undergoing his thrice-weekly dialysis treatments. Yates is one of the new student-patients in a one-year-old program to provide a "dialysis dormitory" near the campus. Until the dorm can install such a unit, the students must go to a hospital to receive treatment.

Reagan offers to invoke limited sanctions to prevent South African policy reversal

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - President Reagan, seeking to avert a major congressional reversal of his South Africa policy, offered Mon­day to invoke new but limited sanctions against the white­ minority government in Pretoria.

Reagan's decision came shortly before the House was to vote on whether to override his veto of legislation containing tough new sanctions against the South African government.

Reagan's veto of legislation passed by the House and Senate to impose new sanctions against South Africa was sustained on a 297-134 vote, 11 votes short of the two-thirds majority needed to override. The veto of legislation containing tough new sanctions against the South African government was sustained on a 225-199 vote.

The original Senate vote for the sanctions legislation was 64-14.

In addition to banning U.S. investment and bank loans, the new legislation would terminate landing rights in this country for South African aircraft and impose 5% imports of South African uranium, coal, steel, textiles, military vehicles, agricultural products and food.

The charge sheet, in Hebrew and English, accused Demjanjuk of murder, committing acts with the intent of destroying the Jewish people, and other "crimes against humanity" in 1942 and 1943.

Daniloff continued from page 1

At the United Nations, the usually left­of­center Soviet bloc source said Shultz and Shevardnadze had been "on a collision course" during a meeting Sunday night that Daniloff and Zakharov would be exchanged. But the source provided no further details.

The official Soviet media had not reported Daniloff's release by late yester­day.
HERE'S WHY.

There's a new career option for today's quantitative graduates. It's not in academia. It's not in Corporate America. It's not in the Silicon Valley.

It's on Wall Street.

Today, Wall Street "quants" are literally shaping the future of high finance. They're developing a new generation of investment products, pioneering new ways to improve profitability and creating new opportunities for investors and issuers. And for their quantitative creativity, they're being recognized with qualitative rewards. With challenge, responsibility and recognition.

Yet you might be surprised to learn that many of Wall Street's most successful "quants" have no prior experience in finance or economics. They come from backgrounds in math, physics, engineering, operations research, computer science, and other quantitative disciplines.

If forging the way into new frontiers sounds exciting to you, Salomon Brothers Inc. has the opportunity you seek. A major investment banking and market-making firm, we're Wall Street's leading employer of "quant" graduates. And since our research and technology management departments are the most respected in the industry, you'll be working with some of the top talent in your field.

Want to learn more about the challenge of working with a Wall Street leader in one of today's most rewarding quantitative careers? Join us at the Salomon Brothers presentation scheduled for your campus. And see how far your future can go.

Salomon Brothers Inc
Market Makers and Investment Bankers
HLPING HANDS

Adopt-a-Transfer

KERRIE WAGNER
(features writer)

Adjustment to life at Notre Dame is being made easier for transfers. Recently, the student government re-implemented a program called the "Adopt-a-Transfer." Implemented two years ago, the program's aim is to integrate transfers who are initially housed off campus into campus life. The most popular and sought after opportunity for the transfers is to become involved in hall life, with the increased knowledge of on-campus happenings that that entails.

Most on-campus students take hall life for granted. After class they can simply walk back to their dorms and relax in a matter of 15 minutes. In the case of an off-campus student however, getting back home in between or after classes is more time consuming and, thus to some, disheartening. To most off-campus transfers who are experiencing their very first year at Notre Dame, this depressing experience can create a bleak outlook on college life in general. Thus the aim of "Adopt-a-Transfer" is to prevent transfers from feeling isolated and to give a negative outlook from the start.

John Byrne, a former transfer and now a senior residing in Cavanaugh Hall, is in charge of the program along with Noreen O'Connor, also a former transfer and now a senior residing in Turtle Creek Apartments. Byrne detailed the basic purposes and aims of the program. He said that since it is easy to miss out on a great deal of hall activities such as SRH's, hall sports, inter-hall gatherings and hall masses, there is a definite need for a boost or connection.

"The program gives transfers the opportunity to get involved in activities that otherwise would not be available to them. Being at a new school and being off campus at the same time can be hard. Only extremely assertive people will pursue certain activities. How more people will have opportunities presented directly to them."

Activities include a transfer tailgater with both "adopters" and their transfers, casual trips to the dining halls in order for transfers to meet people and joint movie nights that various dorms hold periodically as social boosts and study breaks.

There is a minor problem, though, that certainly does not lie in the organization or intent of the program. There is an over-abundance of enthusiastic on-campus "adopters" and a shortage of off-campus transfers interested in being adopted. Ironically, this is the opposite of last year's problem. Out of approximately 165 transfers only 70 to 80 (about 40%) have expressed interest this year.

According to Byrne, this is a reasonable turnout. Although social contact between the adopters and transfers has not yet been made, the optimism and anticipation is nevertheless present.

Katie Henning, an eager transfer presently residing off campus, joined the program to meet people on campus. She has no close friends and has no outlet to her, and just needs "to get a general awareness of campus life." In far, she has felt welcome. "When people hear that you're a transfer they act like you have an interest in you," she said.

Matt Sitzer, a junior transfer also residing off campus for the first time, joined the program because "dorm life seems to be important here (Notre Dame.)"

Sitzer regards the program as a "nice idea to add transfers in involvement with dorm athletics. SYR's and other hall events. In general being off campus makes him feel 'apart but not alienated.'" In the case of Andy Saul, now a senior but formerly a sophomore transfer presently residing off campus, he listed himself as "totally alienated by "the way the system was set up." "By not knowing anyone and living off campus it was lonely and there was no one to turn to. Without some type of extra-curricular connection you got cut out and the fun. However, if you could grin and bear it you could make it." And he did.

Unfortunately, "Adopt-a-Transfer is not as developed as it was last year," said Andy Saul. "It's hard to get people to adopt transfers because you don't have the right people to work with. Students have to request a transfer and not knowing anyone and not having a transfer in mind is a problem." Saul also said that he would encourage other students to adopt and to actually have the two sides meet each other.

According to the adopters and transfers who were interviewed, the program is a step in the right direction. The only steps left are to find more transfers willing to be adopted and to actually have the two sides meet each other.

When asked about this small program, "Adopt-a-Transfer" program Byrne said, "Of course I'm always hoping for a better turnout because I'm very optimistic about the program. I have been involved with Notre Dame's transfers at heart, though, and in that respect the program has a nice turnout." Byrne also wanted any transfers who have not expressed interest in the program yet to know that they are still welcome to join.

According to the adopters and transfers who were interviewed, the program is a step in the right direction. The only steps left are to find more transfers willing to be adopted and to actually have the two sides meet each other.

When asked about this small program, "Adopt-a-Transfer" program Byrne said, "Of course I'm always hoping for a better turnout because I'm very optimistic about the program. I have been involved with Notre Dame's transfers at heart, though, and in that respect the program has a nice turnout." Byrne also wanted any transfers who have not expressed interest in the program yet to know that they are still welcome to join.

KRIEN DAVEY
(features writer)

Here is the golden opportu-

ny, hard work and ambition are nted to be the only requirements

atives. Today's competitive timer is often needed.

Each year the Upward Bound program provides the extra edge for 80 teenagers in the South Bend Elkhart area and thousands more like them nationwide. Upward Bound is a federally funded program designed to assist promising students in their high school work and prepare them for college.

Karilee Watson, Assistant Pro- fessor at Saint Mary's and Aca demic Coordinator for the Upward Bound program at Notre Dame, says that recruits are "students from the high school popula tion who have the academic po tential to attend college and complete four years. In order to be eligible for the program, students must be in the ninth or tenth grade, meet a socio-economic guidelines, and be the first gener ation in their family to attend college.

During each of the three years a student spends in the program, he or she participates in a six week session on campus every summer. Students live in a dorm hall and take a variety of courses taught by both college professors and high school teachers. For example, Malcolm Huns, a junior at Lafayette High School, took Algebra/Trigonometry, Chemistry, Algebra/Trigonometry, and Computers while on campus this past summer.

The purpose of the summer session is to give the students, "a jump on their high school courses in a university setting," says Karilee Watson. The session also prepares the students for entrance into college with SAT math and verbal preparation courses, two career courses, and 3 study skills course required. As a head start on college, a bridge program of six hours of college credit courses (three hours of composition and literature and three hours of finite math) is also offered to Upward Bound students.

The summer session is only the beginning of the Upward Bound program. During the school year students meet here on campus several times a week for tutoring from Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students. From September to November tutoring sessions are held only on a weekly basis. The program offers tutoring sessions are held twice a week. Sessions consist of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students working either as a team with a group of high school students or individually. The tutoring is available to whatever area the high school students need help.

Kerry Nach, a senior at Saint Mary's, worked in the program last spring as a requirements for an education course taught by Karilee Watson. She was also in volved in the summer session. Watson says that although a few of the students would arrive un prepared, "the majority were really enthusiastic." According to Watson, a tutor spent working on current homework and reviewing recent tests.

Malcolm Coates feels that the tutoring is particularly beneficial for it "helps me get my homework done" and adds that the college students seem to be quite adept at explaining the Algebra/Trigonometry problems with which he most often seeks help.

Both the high school students themselves and the college students volunteer to do the benefit from the tutoring sessions. It seems fitting that those who have already been given the chance for a college education should help those who were not so fortunate. The Upward Bound program provides a unique opportunity for some very deserving students to be afforded better chances for success.
Liberals are wrong in opposing drug testing

As one would hear it from them, liberals -by this I mean, of course, modern liberals of the Democratic Party - are the leading advocates of government activity participating in the lives of its citizens to make the society safer for them and the liberals who support desegregation measures such as busing, which made it illegal not to hire a fixed quota of people belonging to certain government defined minority groups? Isn't it the liberals who have imposed strict regulations on industries so to protect the environment, who advocate large grants in student aid, and who favor the intervention of the government in people's households to rescue children from abusive parents?

It would seem from all this that liberals are the champions of values, and believe that they should take the leads in setting the tone of the behavior of the society as a whole. The liberals who support desegregation measures such as busing, which made it illegal not to hire a fixed quota of people belonging to certain government defined minority groups? Isn't it the liberals who have imposed strict regulations on industries so to protect the environment, who advocate large grants in student aid, and who favor the intervention of the government in people's households to rescue children from abusive parents?

It would seem from all this that liberals are the champions of values, and believe that they should take the leads in setting the tone of the behavior of the society as a whole. The liberals who support desegregation measures such as busing, which made it illegal not to hire a fixed quota of people belonging to certain government defined minority groups? Isn't it the liberals who have imposed strict regulations on industries so to protect the environment, who advocate large grants in student aid, and who favor the intervention of the government in people's households to rescue children from abusive parents?

It would seem from all this that liberals are the champions of values, and believe that they should take the leads in setting the tone of the behavior of the society as a whole. The liberals who support desegregation measures such as busing, which made it illegal not to hire a fixed quota of people belonging to certain government defined minority groups? Isn't it the liberals who have imposed strict regulations on industries so to protect the environment, who advocate large grants in student aid, and who favor the intervention of the government in people's households to rescue children from abusive parents?

It would seem from all this that liberals are the champions of values, and believe that they should take the leads in setting the tone of the behavior of the society as a whole. The liberals who support desegregation measures such as busing, which made it illegal not to hire a fixed quota of people belonging to certain government defined minority groups? Isn't it the liberals who have imposed strict regulations on industries so to protect the environment, who advocate large grants in student aid, and who favor the intervention of the government in people's households to rescue children from abusive parents?

It would seem from all this that liberals are the champions of values, and believe that they should take the leads in setting the tone of the behavior of the society as a whole. The liberals who support desegregation measures such as busing, which made it illegal not to hire a fixed quota of people belonging to certain government defined minority groups? Isn't it the liberals who have imposed strict regulations on industries so to protect the environment, who advocate large grants in student aid, and who favor the intervention of the government in people's households to rescue children from abusive parents?

It would seem from all this that liberals are the champions of values, and believe that they should take the leads in setting the tone of the behavior of the society as a whole. The liberals who support desegregation measures such as busing, which made it illegal not to hire a fixed quota of people belonging to certain government defined minority groups? Isn't it the liberals who have imposed strict regulations on industries so to protect the environment, who advocate large grants in student aid, and who favor the intervention of the government in people's households to rescue children from abusive parents?

It would seem from all this that liberals are the champions of values, and believe that they should take the leads in setting the tone of the behavior of the society as a whole. The liberals who support desegregation measures such as busing, which made it illegal not to hire a fixed quota of people belonging to certain government defined minority groups? Isn't it the liberals who have imposed strict regulations on industries so to protect the environment, who advocate large grants in student aid, and who favor the intervention of the government in people's households to rescue children from abusive parents?

It would seem from all this that liberals are the champions of values, and believe that they should take the leads in setting the tone of the behavior of the society as a whole. The liberals who support desegregation measures such as busing, which made it illegal not to hire a fixed quota of people belonging to certain government defined minority groups? Isn't it the liberals who have imposed strict regulations on industries so to protect the environment, who advocate large grants in student aid, and who favor the intervention of the government in people's households to rescue children from abusive parents?

It would seem from all this that liberals are the champions of values, and believe that they should take the leads in setting the tone of the behavior of the society as a whole. The liberals who support desegregation measures such as busing, which made it illegal not to hire a fixed quota of people belonging to certain government defined minority groups? Isn't it the liberals who have imposed strict regulations on industries so to protect the environment, who advocate large grants in student aid, and who favor the intervention of the government in people's households to rescue children from abusive parents?

It would seem from all this that liberals are the champions of values, and believe that they should take the leads in setting the tone of the behavior of the society as a whole. The liberals who support desegregation measures such as busing, which made it illegal not to hire a fixed quota of people belonging to certain government defined minority groups? Isn't it the liberals who have imposed strict regulations on industries so to protect the environment, who advocate large grants in student aid, and who favor the intervention of the government in people's households to rescue children from abusive parents?

It would seem from all this that liberals are the champions of values, and believe that they should take the leads in setting the tone of the behavior of the society as a whole. The liberals who support desegregation measures such as busing, which made it illegal not to hire a fixed quota of people belonging to certain government defined minority groups? Isn't it the liberals who have imposed strict regulations on industries so to protect the environment, who advocate large grants in student aid, and who favor the intervention of the government in people's households to rescue children from abusive parents?
Tom O'Brien

guest column

One afternoon, however, I noticed that the Peace Corps was coming to Notre Dame. Even better was that they were interested in someone with a background in languages. A couple of days later I was offered a slot. I applied and was accepted. Another thing I had been interested in, and objectively as possible. Unsigned editorials represent the opinion of the majority of students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and their authors. Column space is available to American and others. In all honesty, I had been interested in the Peace Corps as a group of people living in a village in an impoverished country (I'm going to call it Morocco). I signed up and got a slot. I didn't realize how much I would gain from this experience. I have been comfortable with my decision, while there is a lot of discussion about the Peace Corps. I am confident that with training, the Peace Corps will be able to do something good here. It was a high and a low at the same time. Peace Corps is not right for everyone, but neither is an office on Wall Street. My advice to anyone who cares is to do what is right for you, not for J. If something like Peace Corps is right for you, then please don't hesitate to go out and find out more. I would love to hear stories from any of these people. The answer is teaching, learning, and gaining experience for the future. That is all a part of my Peace Corps experience so far as well.

It's difficult to explain everything I see and feel here. The genuine sadness I felt going goodbye to my summer school students was matched by the excitement that I am doing something good here. It was a high and a low at the same time. Peace Corps is not right for everyone, but neither is an office on Wall Street. My advice to anyone who cares is to do what is right for you, not for J. If something like Peace Corps is right for you, then please don't hesitate to go out and find out more. I would love to hear stories from any of these people. The answer is teaching, learning, and gaining experience for the future. That is all a part of my Peace Corps experience so far as well.

What have we been up to? Good question. We have been up to too many things to mention here, but there is one other thing we feel pretty psyched about: Kevin Cullen, one of our Food Ad- visory Commissioners, has been working to rectify the sluggish crisis behind North Dining Hall. You'll thank us later. After all, if you happen to be one of the board of freshmen that signed up at our booth on Activities night, remember that we'll be in touch soon. Your futures are bright, you'll better wear shades.

Mike Switek is the student body president of Notre Dame and Don Montanaro is vice president.

General Board

Editor-in-Chief: Joe Murphy
Managing Editor: Kevin Beckler
Sports Editor: Mark Pankowski
Assistant Editor: Mary Jacoby
Copy Editor: Tripp Bollinger
News Editor: Mark Pankowski

Business Manager: Eric Schweermann
Controller: Ales VonderHaar
Production Manager: Chris Steven
Photography Manager: James Carroll
Advising Manager: Anne M. Culligan
Systems Manager: Shawn Sexton
Graphic Arts Manager: Mark Weihmuller

General Board

P.O.Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556 (219) 239-530-039

Course of the Observer

Regular Guys report on this year’s progress

Citizens, return to your homes. There is no cause for alarm - the Regular Guys are in control. Student Government has officially kicked into gear, and we are proceeding in our usual "take no prisoners" fashion. Although the announcement that LaFortune is not slated for completion until the Fall of 1997, our new offices are open and we have phones now. Sooooon stop by and see us (2nd floor, LaFortune Student Center or at least lean forward on the old couch and give us a call. We have something like three different phone numbers, but the only one we can ever remember is 259-SNOT.

What have we been up to? Good question. We have been up to too many things to mention here, but there is one other thing we feel pretty psyched about: Kevin Cullen, one of our Food Ad- visory Commissioners, has been working to rectify the sluggish crisis behind North Dining Hall. You'll thank us later. After all, if you happen to be one of the board of freshmen that signed up at our booth on Activities night, remember that we'll be in touch soon. Your futures are bright, you'll better wear shades.

Mike Switek is the student body president of Notre Dame and Don Montanaro is vice president.

Citizens, return to your homes. There is no cause for alarm - the Regular Guys are in control. Student Government has officially kicked into gear, and we are proceeding in our usual "take no prisoners" fashion. Although the announcement that LaFortune is not slated for completion until the Fall of 1997, our new offices are open and we have phones now. Sooooon stop by and see us (2nd floor, LaFortune Student Center or at least lean forward on the old couch and give us a call. We have something like three different phone numbers, but the only one we can ever remember is 259-SNOT.

What have we been up to? Good question. We have been up to too many things to mention here, but there is one other thing we feel pretty psyched about: Kevin Cullen, one of our Food Ad- visory Commissioners, has been working to rectify the sluggish crisis behind North Dining Hall. You'll thank us later. After all, if you happen to be one of the board of freshmen that signed up at our booth on Activities night, remember that we'll be in touch soon. Your futures are bright, you'll better wear shades.

Mike Switek is the student body president of Notre Dame and Don Montanaro is vice president.
Sports Briefs

The M'd Field Hockey team will take on Albion College today at 3:30 p.m. on Carter Field. - The Observer

The Notre Dame Judo Club participated in the annual Michigan Judo Tournament on Sunday. In the Men's white-glove (150 pounds-and-under) division, John Fox finished first and Rob Detter finished third. Paul Jackson took third in the Men's white-green (150 pounds-and-under) division, and Kathy Bienzak placed third in the Women's 123-ponds-and-under division. - The Observer

The Squash Club will hold its first organizational meeting tomorrow at 7 p.m. in LaFortune's little theatre. Anyone interested is encouraged to attend. For more details call William Napoleon at 283-5669. - The Observer

Dallas Quarterback Danny White threw for 223 yards and three touchdowns in the Cow-Boys' 31-7 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals last night. Details appear on page 9.

The Observer Notre Dame office, located on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center, accepts classified advertising from 10 a.m., until 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. The boxes in Mary's office, located on the third floor of Heggie Center, accepts classifieds from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m., Monday through Thursday. To place any ad in the Notre Dame class, call 289-1324. All classified ads must be paid for in full either in person or by mail. The charge is $10 cents per character per line.

ATTENTION FORMER EDITORS-IN-CHIEF: Your time on the Observer staff was both enjoyable and winning. Now you can enjoy it doing OFF-CAMPUS SENIORITY OFF-CAMPUS SENIORITY by an unknown Senior Columnist. The Senior Columnist is a class of 1984 Senior Columnist. For more information, call 283-5683.

The Squash Club will hold its first organizational meeting tomorrow at 7 p.m. in LaFortune's little theatre. Anyone interested is encouraged to attend. For more details call William Napoleon at 283-5669. - The Observer

Dallas Quarterback Danny White threw for 223 yards and three touchdowns in the Cow-Boys' 31-7 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals last night. Details appear on page 9.

The Observer Notre Dame office, located on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center, accepts classified advertising from 10 a.m., until 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. The boxes in Mary's office, located on the third floor of Heggie Center, accepts classifieds from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m., Monday through Thursday. To place any ad in the Notre Dame class, call 289-1324. All classified ads must be paid for in full either in person or by mail. The charge is $10 cents per character per line.

ATTENTION FORMER EDITORS-IN-CHIEF: Your time on the Observer staff was both enjoyable and winning. Now you can enjoy it doing OFF-CAMPUS SENIORITY OFF-CAMPUS SENIORITY by an unknown Senior Columnist. The Senior Columnist is a class of 1984 Senior Columnist. For more information, call 283-5683.

The Squash Club will hold its first organizational meeting tomorrow at 7 p.m. in LaFortune's little theatre. Anyone interested is encouraged to attend. For more details call William Napoleon at 283-5669. - The Observer

Dallas Quarterback Danny White threw for 223 yards and three touchdowns in the Cow-Boys' 31-7 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals last night. Details appear on page 9.

The Observer Notre Dame office, located on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center, accepts classified advertising from 10 a.m., until 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. The boxes in Mary's office, located on the third floor of Heggie Center, accepts classifieds from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m., Monday through Thursday. To place any ad in the Notre Dame class, call 289-1324. All classified ads must be paid for in full either in person or by mail. The charge is $10 cents per character per line.

ATTENTION FORMER EDITORS-IN-CHIEF: Your time on the Observer staff was both enjoyable and winning. Now you can enjoy it doing OFF-CAMPUS SENIORITY OFF-CAMPUS SENIORITY by an unknown Senior Columnist. The Senior Columnist is a class of 1984 Senior Columnist. For more information, call 283-5683.

The Squash Club will hold its first organizational meeting tomorrow at 7 p.m. in LaFortune's little theatre. Anyone interested is encouraged to attend. For more details call William Napoleon at 283-5669. - The Observer

Dallas Quarterback Danny White threw for 223 yards and three touchdowns in the Cow-Boys' 31-7 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals last night. Details appear on page 9.

The Observer Notre Dame office, located on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center, accepts classified advertising from 10 a.m., until 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. The boxes in Mary's office, located on the third floor of Heggie Center, accepts classifieds from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m., Monday through Thursday. To place any ad in the Notre Dame class, call 289-1324. All classified ads must be paid for in full either in person or by mail. The charge is $10 cents per character per line.

ATTENTION FORMER EDITORS-IN-CHIEF: Your time on the Observer staff was both enjoyable and winning. Now you can enjoy it doing OFF-CAMPUS SENIORITY OFF-CAMPUS SENIORITY by an unknown Senior Columnist. The Senior Columnist is a class of 1984 Senior Columnist. For more information, call 283-5683.

The Squash Club will hold its first organizational meeting tomorrow at 7 p.m. in LaFortune's little theatre. Anyone interested is encouraged to attend. For more details call William Napoleon at 283-5669. - The Observer

Dallas Quarterback Danny White threw for 223 yards and three touchdowns in the Cow-Boys' 31-7 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals last night. Details appear on page 9.

The Observer Notre Dame office, located on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center, accepts classified advertising from 10 a.m., until 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. The boxes in Mary's office, located on the third floor of Heggie Center, accepts classifieds from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m., Monday through Thursday. To place any ad in the Notre Dame class, call 289-1324. All classified ads must be paid for in full either in person or by mail. The charge is $10 cents per character per line.

ATTENTION FORMER EDITORS-IN-CHIEF: Your time on the Observer staff was both enjoyable and winning. Now you can enjoy it doing OFF-CAMPUS SENIORITY OFF-CAMPUS SENIORITY by an unknown Senior Columnist. The Senior Columnist is a class of 1984 Senior Columnist. For more information, call 283-5683.

The Squash Club will hold its first organizational meeting tomorrow at 7 p.m. in LaFortune's little theatre. Anyone interested is encouraged to attend. For more details call William Napoleon at 283-5669. - The Observer

Dallas Quarterback Danny White threw for 223 yards and three touchdowns in the Cow-Boys' 31-7 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals last night. Details appear on page 9.

The Observer Notre Dame office, located on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center, accepts classified advertising from 10 a.m., until 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. The boxes in Mary's office, located on the third floor of Heggie Center, accepts classifieds from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m., Monday through Thursday. To place any ad in the Notre Dame class, call 289-1324. All classified ads must be paid for in full either in person or by mail. The charge is $10 cents per character per line.

ATTENTION FORMER EDITORS-IN-CHIEF: Your time on the Observer staff was both enjoyable and winning. Now you can enjoy it doing OFF-CAMPUS SENIORITY OFF-CAMPUS SENIORITY by an unknown Senior Columnist. The Senior Columnist is a class of 1984 Senior Columnist. For more information, call 283-5683.

The Squash Club will hold its first organizational meeting tomorrow at 7 p.m. in LaFortune's little theatre. Anyone interested is encouraged to attend. For more details call William Napoleon at 283-5669. - The Observer

Dallas Quarterback Danny White threw for 223 yards and three touchdowns in the Cow-Boys' 31-7 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals last night. Details appear on page 9.

The Observer Notre Dame office, located on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center, accepts classified advertising from 10 a.m., until 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. The boxes in Mary's office, located on the third floor of Heggie Center, accepts classifieds from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m., Monday through Thursday. To place any ad in the Notre Dame class, call 289-1324. All classified ads must be paid for in full either in person or by mail. The charge is $10 cents per character per line.

ATTENTION FORMER EDITORS-IN-CHIEF: Your time on the Observer staff was both enjoyable and winning. Now you can enjoy it doing OFF-CAMPUS SENIORITY OFF-CAMPUS SENIORITY by an unknown Senior Columnist. The Senior Columnist is a class of 1984 Senior Columnist. For more information, call 283-5683.

The Squash Club will hold its first organizational meeting tomorrow at 7 p.m. in LaFortune's little theatre. Anyone interested is encouraged to attend. For more details call William Napoleon at 283-5669. - The Observer

Dallas Quarterback Danny White threw for 223 yards and three touchdowns in the Cow-Boys' 31-7 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals last night. Details appear on page 9.

The Observer Notre Dame office, located on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center, accepts classified advertising from 10 a.m., until 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. The boxes in Mary's office, located on the third floor of Heggie Center, accepts classifieds from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m., Monday through Thursday. To place any ad in the Notre Dame class, call 289-1324. All classified ads must be paid for in full either in person or by mail. The charge is $10 cents per character per line.

ATTENTION FORMER EDITORS-IN-CHIEF: Your time on the Observer staff was both enjoyable and winning. Now you can enjoy it doing OFF-CAMPUS SENIORITY OFF-CAMPUS SENIORITY by an unknown Senior Columnist. The Senior Columnist is a class of 1984 Senior Columnist. For more information, call 283-5683.

The Squash Club will hold its first organizational meeting tomorrow at 7 p.m. in LaFortune's little theatre. Anyone interested is encouraged to attend. For more details call William Napoleon at 283-5669. - The Observer

Dallas Quarterback Danny White threw for 223 yards and three touchdowns in the Cow-Boys' 31-7 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals last night. Details appear on page 9.

The Observer Notre Dame office, located on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center, accepts classified advertising from 10 a.m., until 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. The boxes in Mary's office, located on the third floor of Heggie Center, accepts classifieds from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m., Monday through Thursday. To place any ad in the Notre Dame class, call 289-1324. All classified ads must be paid for in full either in person or by mail. The charge is $10 cents per character per line.

ATTENTION FORMER EDITORS-IN-CHIEF: Your time on the Observer staff was both enjoyable and winning. Now you can enjoy it doing OFF-CAMPUS SENIORITY OFF-CAMPUS SENIORITY by an unknown Senior Columnist. The Senior Columnist is a class of 1984 Senior Columnist. For more information, call 283-5683.
Fisher, Off Campus notch 1st wins; Gibbons leads Green Wave attack

By CHRIS DALLAVO
Sports Writer

The second week of men's Interhall football was one of firsts for many teams. Fisher Hall, led by the passing of quarterback Greg Gibbons, won its first game as an independent hall in over four years, and the Off-Campus squad notched a win for the first time since the 1984 season. Fisher, playing in its first game since splitting with Pangborn, featured a strong passing attack and a stingy defense as the Green Wave shut-out Carroll, 12-0. The game was scoreless until the fourth quarter, when Gibbons hooked up with Jake Sanford on a 53-yard scoring strike. The score remained 0-0 until Gibbons scrambled for fifteen yards and the final tally as time expired. Tom Prevoznik, the Fisher Hall coach, had nothing but praise for his team. "Our defense was just awesome, and the passing game was really clicking," said Prevoznik. "The offense was a little ner-vous, but once we got it together, our fan support was tremendous, and it helped us get going."

In other games involving Kickoff Division teams, Howard defeated St. Ed's, 14-8, while DePaul was held to a 21-17 record instant by remaining idle. The Parseghian Division featured Off Campus pushing its record to 3-0 with a 5-0 victory over Morrissey. The only scoring in this game was a 2-yard field goal by Dan Thompson in the second quarter. Defense dominated the day, with Dave Gallivan intercepting a pass to preserve the victory.

Other intra-sectional games saw Grace capitalize on four N-D. turnovers to surprise the Big Red, 12-0, and Planning shut out Keenan by the same 13-0 score.

Stanford and Zahm provided the highlights in the Leaky Division, as both teams ran their records to 2-0. Stanford defeated Villisca-Cavanagh, 13-0, while Zahm remained unscorched upon by defeating St. Xavier, 6-0. Holy Cross picked up its first victory of the year, handling Alumni 7-6, defeating virtually ending Alumni's chances of repeating as Interhall champion.

The hard-hitting action continued through the second quarter on Stephon Field, so treaure yourself away from the exciting Indianapolis Colts game on television and watch some real, quality football.

Cowboys ride past Cardinals, 31-7; Landry notches 256th career win

Associated Press

ST. LOUIS - Quarterback Danny White passed for 223 yards and three touchdowns to lead the Dallas Cowboys to a 31-7 victory over the winless St. Louis Cardinals in a National Football League game last night.

White, who completed 16 of 29 passes while suffering two interceptions, now has 10 touchdown passes for the season.

The Cowboys improved to 3-1 with the victory in the nationally televised game. The 31 points enabled Dallas to tie the NFL record for consecutive 30-point games at the start of the season.

The 1968 New York Giants and 1975 Buffalo Bills share the record.

St. Louis fell to 0-4 under new head coach Tom Landry, a former Cowboys assistant coach.

The victory was the 256th of Dallas Coach Tom Landry's career, tying him with Mike Ditka's 256th career win for second place on the all-time NFL list. George Halas is No. 1 with 325.

White, operating a Dallas offense with running back Herschel Walker, completed 10 of 16 passes for 109 yards and two touchdowns against a Cardinal defense that was ranked second in the NFL last year.

White threw a 44-yard touchdown pass to Walker with 11:15 left in the fourth quarter.

The Cowboys mounted a 10-0 lead at halftime before Ditka's 10-year scoring run put St. Louis on the board early in the third quarter.

Rookie Mike Sherrard gathered in White's arching, 39-yard pass late in the fourth quarter to provide Dallas' first touchdown and Raleif Seplin boosted a 32-yard field goal 8 1/2 minutes later.

After Anderson's scoring run following the second-half kickoff, Ditka said his team was able to work with Gordon Banks returning the ensuing kickoff 56 yards to St. Louis' 42.

Veteran Tony Hill was on the receiving end of White's 13-yard scoring pass in the second quarter. Dallas then capitalized on two sacks of Cards quarterback Neil Lomax to drive the winning pass to Walker with 11:15 remaining.

Ron Fellows picked off a pass by Lomax with 2:13 remaining and ran 34 yards for the final Dallas touchdown.

It was the Cowboys' 13th victory over their NFC rival in their last 16 meetings, averging a 21-10 defeat they suffered on the road in the 1984 season.

During the incident Sunday, Ditka responded to the heckler by saying, "Get your mouth shut, Jerk." Ditka said Monday he was trying to be funny at the time.

"If I had gotten a hold of him, it wouldn't have been so funny," the coach added.

Murphy continued from page 12

seconds later to make the score 3-1. With time running out, Notre Dame appeared to have the victory.

Rimbey struck again with a goal with only 1:16 left in the game, cutting the lead to 3-2. But time ran out, and the Irish had their first tournament title.

In past years we would have lost those type of games," noted Grace. "But this year we battled back to beat Michigan (3-2) and beat St. Louis State."
Rowing Club dominates at Head of Des Moines

During the day, Chris Fyfe works as an architect in South Bend. During nights and weekends, he and Celeste Doreen coach one of the most successful collegiate rowing programs in the Midwest.

"We're nowhere near Wisconsin, but we can give any other school a run for their money," said Rowing Club President Joe Brunelli. "We do really well against other schools from the Midwest.

The rowers proved that in the Head of Des Moines regatta last weekend in Des Moines, Iowa. Competing with schools like Nebraska, Creighton, Iowa, Kansas, and the University of Chicago, the Irish fared most successfully of all.

Notre Dame's men's team, coached by Fyde, had its A lightweight boat place first with a time of 10:51 over three miles. This time was good enough to win the Wellness Cup, an award presented to the boat with the fastest time on course. The Irish have won the Cup each of the last three years.

The men's B lightweight boat placed third in the race.

Notre Dame's women's team, coached by Graham, placed second with its B and C boats in the lightweight competition, and the open fours placed second and third.

The Rowing Club also entered three coxed boats of four men and four women. The three boats placed first, second, and third in the race.

In all, the Irish won the Wellness Cup, three gold medals, and two silver medals during the regatta. It was the team's best accomplishment for most schools. But for Notre Dame, which has grown accustomed to dominating Des Moines about two decades ago, success was a surprise.

"We started going there in 1984, and every year we're doing the fastest time," said Fyde.

"It was a really good meet; everyone had a good time and rowed really well. We definitely won the most events out of every team there."

B.P. downs P.E., 20-0

By KATHY BERRY
Sports Writer

The women's Interhall football league is on a roll, with B.P. winning its fourth straight game and P.E. losing its third in a row.

The B.P. offense got off to a fast start, with B.P.'s quarterback Eddie Murphy scoring two touchdowns on the first two plays of the game.

The Irish face off against the B.P. defense for the first time in a game since 1965.

Irish continue from page 12

After losing the next two games following the dispute,抠ner knocked out the score and won the tiebreaker, 7-6. Lithia, a very close-knit Irish team, was unable to come back in the last game.

The Irish co-captain Michelle Dasso lost to East Michigan's Mary Smith, 6-2, 6-1, after an opening round bye. In consolation action, Dasso was defeated by Deb Dunkle of Tennessee, 6-3, 6-1. Dasso was ill throughout the tournament and was later pulled out of play.

Sophomore Natalia Illig easily beat Catherine Johnson of Tennessee, 6-4, 6-1. Illig's shots were just missing, but her serve was strong, and she was able to end at end of the Irish's season.

Notre Dame Avenue Apartments

NOW RENTING FOR FALL

Completely furnished, balconies, laundry, and off-street parking.

On site management & maintenance, all deluxe features

Move in before 10/18/86 and get ONE MONTH FREE RENT

Office: Ruby Hall Ave 224-6467 Cell Anytime

TODAY AT 8:00 IN WASHINGTON HALL

"The Liberation of One: A Journey to Freedom"

A lecture by the highest ranking Communist official ever to defect to the West.

Tickets available at the Ticket Stub for $1

B.P. downs P.E., 20-0

The women's Interhall football league is on a roll, with B.P. winning its fourth straight game and P.E. losing its third in a row.

The B.P. offense got off to a fast start, with B.P.'s quarterback Eddie Murphy scoring two touchdowns on the first two plays of the game.

The Irish face off against the B.P. defense for the first time in a game since 1965.

Irish continue from page 12

After losing the next two games following the dispute,抠ner knocked out the score and won the tiebreaker, 7-6. Lithia, a very close-knit Irish team, was unable to come back in the last game.

The Irish co-captain Michelle Dasso lost to East Michigan's Mary Smith, 6-2, 6-1, after an opening round bye. In consolation action, Dasso was defeated by Deb Dunkle of Tennessee, 6-3, 6-1. Dasso was ill throughout the tournament and was later pulled out of play.

Sophomore Natalia Illig easily beat Catherine Johnson of Tennessee, 6-4, 6-1. Illig's shots were just missing, but her serve was strong, and she was able to end at end of the Irish's season.

Notre Dame Avenue Apartments

NOW RENTING FOR FALL

Completely furnished, balconies, laundry, and off-street parking.

On site management & maintenance, all deluxe features

Move in before 10/18/86 and get ONE MONTH FREE RENT

Office: Ruby Hall Ave 224-6467 Cell Anytime

TODAY AT 8:00 IN WASHINGTON HALL

"The Liberation of One: A Journey to Freedom"

A lecture by the highest ranking Communist official ever to defect to the West.

Tickets available at the Ticket Stub for $1

HAIRCUT SPECIAL!!

Ken's Den

Guys and Gals $10
Monday - Thursday
with Beth and Leslee

ND/SMC students only

703 Lincolnway West, Mishawaka
(across from Hacienda)
255-6500

STUDENT ACTIVITIES BOARD

Eddie Murphy IN TRADING PLACES

Tuesday, Sept. 30, 7:00-9:15, 11:30
Engineering Auditorium
51-50
no food or drink permitted
Beernuts
Why, Marce! We've got a Live One Here!

Bloom County

SOHf SIMPlE
You

Campus

12:00 p.m.: Kellogg Institute Seminar (Brown Bag) "The Labor Movement and Democratization of Uruguay," by Dr. Juan Rial, Kellogg Faculty Fellow. 131 Decio
3:30 - 5:00 p.m.: Computer Mini course Display Write 3, Part 1, I. J. Computing Center, limit 7. To register, call Betty at 239-5604. Free and open to the public.
3:30 p.m.: Chemical Engineering Graduate Seminar, "One Aspect in the Theory of Mixing of Fluids: Chaotic Mixing In Mode Flows," by Prof. J.M. Ottino, University of Massachusetts, Amherst. 350 Fitzpatrick Hall
3:30 & 5:00 p.m.: Field Hockey, ND vs. Albion, and ND vs. Albion Junior Varsity. Cartier Field
6:00 p.m.: Varsity Volleyball, SMC vs. Tri-state University
6:00 - 6:30 p.m.: Signs-ups for those traveling to Pond du Lac. Osh Kosh and Ap- plenton. Bus leaves October 18, after the Air Force game and returns Sunday, Oct. 20. Bottom of LaFortune Center.
7:00 - 9:15 & 11:30 p.m.: Movie, "Trading Places," Engineering Auditorium
7:00 p.m.: Meeting, Spanish Club, Center for Social Concerns
7:00 p.m.: Presentation/Reception for ALPA and Business seniors interested in career opportunities with Montgomery Elevator Company, Upper Lounge, University Club.
7:00 p.m.: Meeting, AESIC, new members welcome, 220 Hayes-Healy.
7:10 p.m.: Varsity Volleyball, St. Joseph College, Rensselaer, vs. Tri-State University, Angela Athletic Facility.
8:00 p.m.: Lecture, Ambassador Romuald Grojean, "Liberation of One: A Journey to Freedom," Washington Hall.
8:30 p.m.: Varsity Volleyball, St. Joseph College vs. SMC, Angela Athletic Facility.

The Daily Crossword

ACROSS

DOWN

APPROXIMATE SOLUTION:

All are invited to stop in.

announces the opening of their new offices located on the 2nd floor of LaFortune

Don't spoil nature... leave only footprints.

Secondly, Mrs. Norton was covered with ink.
ND soccer captures Wright St. title; dominant play pushes record to 9-2

By SHAWN BUSHWAY and PETE GEGEN

Sports Writers

The Notre Dame soccer team pushed its record to 9-2 by capturing their four-team Wright State Invitational Tournament. The team crushed the University of Miami (Ohio), 4-0, on Saturday and held off a late rally by Division II power Wright State to win, 3-1. The tournament victory was the first under Head Coach Dennis Grace and promises to move the Irish up from last week's number-nine ranking in the Great Lakes Region.

In the first game on Saturday, the team out-shot Miami, 15-6, in the process of scoring four goals on an easy victory.

Sophomore Randy Morris scored the first goal at 4:30 on an assist from sophomore John Quiggin. Quiggin struck again with an unassisted goal at 20:58, and then assisted on sophomore midfielder John Sternberg's goal nine minutes later. Forward Bruce "Tiger" McCourt scored on a breakaway goal at 65:20 for the only goal of the second half.

Senior goalkeeper Hugh Breslin made four saves to record the shutout. In the other game on Saturday, Wright State beat Dayton, 2-0, to set up the title clincher on Sunday between Wright State and Notre Dame.

At first it appeared the Irish would blow out the Raiders. McCourt scored at 8:43 on an assist from freshman Mark Bethge to put Notre Dame out front. That goal gave McCourt a team-leading total of 29 points on the season.

Senior wingback Marvin Levt scored again on a pass from senior forward Bill Gross at 23:13 to give Notre Dame a 2-0 lead. Grace was pleased with the team's effort on Letts' first goal of the season.

It was just a great play," explained Grace. "We stole the ball at midfield, took it down the line and centered it. Marvin pivoted around and hit a volley with his right foot from 25 yards out."

The Irish, however, failed to add another goal in the first half despite numerous chances. That spelled trouble for Notre Dame in the second half.

"Wright State came out thinking they could win," said Grace. "They really fought hard." With the Irish laying back on defense, the Raiders finally hit the scoreboard on a goal by Jim Kinney at 86:16. But Irish forward Pat Murphy scored an insurance goal 29 minutes into the second half to secure the 3-1 victory.

The Notre Dame women's tennis team faced some stiff competition hosted by Northwestern, the sixth-ranked team in the nation. Sheila Horox details the Irish's 4-2 victory.

Sophomore Randy Morris scored the first goal at 4:30 on an assist from sophomore John Quiggin. Quiggin struck again with an unassisted goal at 20:58, and then assisted on sophomore midfielder John Sternberg's goal nine minutes later. Forward Bruce "Tiger" McCourt scored on a breakaway goal at 65:20 for the only goal of the second half.

Senior goalkeeper Hugh Breslin made four saves to record the shutout. In the other game on Saturday, Wright State beat Dayton, 2-0, to set up the title clincher on Sunday between Wright State and Notre Dame.

At first it appeared the Irish would blow out the Raiders. McCourt scored at 8:43 on an assist from freshman Mark Bethge to put Notre Dame out front. That goal gave McCourt a team-leading total of 29 points on the season.

Senior wingback Marvin Levt scored again on a pass from senior forward Bill Gross at 23:13 to give Notre Dame a 2-0 lead. Grace was pleased with the team's effort on Letts' first goal of the season.

It was just a great play," explained Grace. "We stole the ball at midfield, took it down the line and centered it. Marvin pivoted around and hit a volley with his right foot from 25 yards out."

The Irish, however, failed to add another goal in the first half despite numerous chances. That spelled trouble for Notre Dame in the second half.

"Wright State came out thinking they could win," said Grace. "They really fought hard." With the Irish laying back on defense, the Raiders finally hit the scoreboard on a goal by Jim Kinney at 86:16. But Irish forward Pat Murphy scored an insurance goal 29 minutes into the second half to secure the 3-1 victory.

The Notre Dame women's tennis team faced some stiff competition hosted by Northwestern, the sixth-ranked team in the nation. Sheila Horox details the Irish's 4-2 victory.

Young talent is perhaps the Saint Mary's tennis team's finest asset this season, according to Head Coach Deb Laverie.

"Much of the Belles' success can be attributed to freshmen and sophomores, according to Head Coach Deb Laverie.

"Two such players for the team are freshman singles and doubles player Jennifer Block and freshman singles player Charleen Szajko," said Laverie.

Block, who hails from Kalamazoo, Mich., is the number-one seed for the Belles, posting a 6-0 record so far this season. Block's only losses were players from St. Francis, a NAIAA team, and DePauw, an NCAA team.

Szajko, a native of Mishawaka, is the team's number-six seed, also with a 6-0 season record. Un­defeated in NAIA play, Szajko's only losses have been to players from St. Joseph (Indiana, Ind.) and Wisconsin-Milwaukee, both NCAA teams.

Block and Szajko are successes because of their drive to achieve, according to Laverie, who believes both players are very competent.

Laverie says that Block, for example, handles herself quite well at the number-one seed.

"Jennifer is just an outstanding player," she says. "You just can't win when she's on her game. She hits the ball well, and she moves quickly. Jennifer has the heart, too. She really strives to do well.

"I think it's tough for a freshman to play at number-one. She has a lot of weight to carry, and a lot is expected of her. She's just been superb."

Block, who was named to both Michigan's All-State tennis team and the Greater Kalamazoo All-Star Tennis team for her high school tennis accomplishments, finds college tennis quite a different game from that of high school.

"College tennis is a lot more competitive," Block says. "Our practices are a lot tougher, too. I find that conditioning and playing for two and a half hours each day pay off in a match, though.

"Block, who was named the most valuable player of the Hackett Catholic Central High girls' tennis team, notes a marked improvement in her play since last season. "I have a lot more confidence in my strokes," she says. "It's must be because of all the reinforcement we get each day. I think I've improved since the day the team started practicing."

Block agrees that she and McDevitt are a strong doubles team, despite their record.

"She and I play well together," she said. "Our goals are pretty similar. We communicate on the court, and that's the key to being a successful doubles team."

Sophomore Andrea Laverie says that Block, for example, handles herself quite well at the number-one seed.

"Jennifer is just an outstanding player," she says. "You just can't win when she's on her game. She hits the ball well, and she moves quickly. Jennifer has the heart, too. She really strives to do well.

"I think it's tough for a freshman to play at number-one. She has a lot of weight to carry, and a lot is expected of her. She's just been superb."

Block, who was named to both Michigan's All-State tennis team and the Greater Kalamazoo All-Star Tennis team for her high school tennis accomplishments, finds college tennis quite a different game from that of high school.

"College tennis is a lot more competitive," Block says. "Our practices are a lot tougher, too. I find that conditioning and playing for two and a half hours each day pay off in a match, though.

"Block, who was named the most valuable player of the Hackett Catholic Central High girls' tennis team, notes a marked improvement in her play since last season. "I have a lot more confidence in my strokes," she says. "It's must be because of all the reinforcement we get each day. I think I've improved since the day the team started practicing."

Block agrees that she and McDevitt are a strong doubles team, despite their record.

"She and I play well together," she said. "Our goals are pretty similar. We communicate on the court, and that's the key to being a successful doubles team."

Senior wingback Marvin Levt scored again on a pass from senior forward Bill Gross at 23:13 to give Notre Dame a 2-0 lead. Grace was pleased with the team's effort on Letts' first goal of the season.

"It was just a great play," explained Grace. "We stole the ball at midfield, took it down the line and centered it. Marvin pivoted around and hit a volley with his right foot from 25 yards out."

The Irish, however, failed to add another goal in the first half despite numerous chances. That spelled trouble for Notre Dame in the second half.

"Wright State came out thinking they could win," said Grace. "They really fought hard." With the Irish laying back on defense, the Raiders finally hit the scoreboard on a goal by Jim Kinney at 86:16. But Irish forward Pat Murphy scored an insurance goal 29 minutes into the second half to secure the 3-1 victory.

The Irish tennis team improved against host Wildcats

By SHEILA HOROX

Sports Writer

Northwestern, currently ranked sixth in the nation, hosted the women's Midwest Intercol­legiate Tennis tournament last weekend, which included Notre Dame, Eastern Michigan, Ten­nessee and Kansas.

Irish Coach Sharon Gelfman was particularly pleased with individual performances against the nationally-ranked Wildcats of Northwestern. "In previous years we weren't even able to give Northwestern any competition," said Gelfman. "But we had some good matches against them and even the losing scores weren't indicative of how well we played."

Co-captain Tammy Schmidt lost a three-set decision to Chris­tina Schuschel of Northwestern, 6-1, 6-4, 6-2. In the con­clusion finals, Schuschel used a variety of top spin lobs in trying to keep Schmidt deep in the backcourt, but Schmidt countered with mid-court volleys.

"It was one of the best matches she's ever played," noted Gelfman.

Freshman Alice Lohrer also faced a tough Northwestern opp­onent in Kelly Boyse. Lohrer lost 6-4, 7-5, in that opening singles match but bounced back in a consolation win over Iowa's Patti Desimone, 5-6, 7-6 (7-5-tie­breaker), 6-0.

Lohrer was up 5-4 in the second set, when a disagree­ment on the score interrupted the play. "I was a little unnerved over the dispute," said Lohrer. "But coach kept telling me to relax and not worry about who was across the net. Just to play my game."