Dancin' Irish disbandment to be discussed by committee

By MIRIAM HILL
Senior Staff Reporter

The fate of the Dancin' Irish hangs in the balance today, as a committee of eight faculty, students and administrators meet to discuss a recent decision to disband the group.

“I guess there might be a number of issues... we want to look at once again and see if there are things we can do to help the Dancin' Irish or to see if the particular reasons given by the faculty board are so substantial that it would warrant disbanding the Dancin' Irish,” said Assistant Vice President Father Peter Rocca, chairman of the board.

Dancin' Irish Co-Captain Sue Novak said her group had collected more than 1,000 signatures on petitions urging reconsideration of the decision to disband the group.

The committee will make a recommendation to University Vice President Father Edmund Joyce and Vice President for Student Affairs Father David Tynan, who will make the final decision on the Dancin' Irish.

The group was disbanded Jan. 20 after the faculty board, in control of athletics, chaired by Joyce, voted to allow only the cheerleaders and the marching band to represent the University, according to Director of Athletics Gene Corrigan.

The board agreed to allow the Dancin' Irish to perform until the end of this semester, Novak said.

The faculty board had received letters complaining that the Dancin' Irish “were more bothersome than helpful,” said Corrigan, a member of the board. In addition, he said, the board was concerned about people who appeared on the field during football games, but did not officially represent the University.

“There were people who began to show up at football games with leprechaun costumes and everything else, and so the board just decided to have the cheerleaders and the band represent the University,” Corrigan said.

The Dancin' Irish is a group of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's women who provide halftime entertainment at football and basketball games.

FBI director selected to head CIA

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - President Reagan on Tuesday chose FBI director William Webster as director of the CIA, the White House announced.

White House spokesman Martin Fitzwater said the president called Webster at 10:20 a.m. EST Tuesday and offered him the job. Webster "said he wanted some time to consider this and would let us know as soon as possible," Fitzwater added. Webster called back at 6:04 p.m. EST, after news of the selection was made public, and accepted the job.

If confirmed by the Senate, Webster would replace William Casey, who resigned after undergoing surgery for brain cancer.

Reagan had nominated the CIA's acting director, Robert Gates, to take over the top spot.

But the president withdrew that nomination Monday after it became clear Gates would face stiff Senate opposition because of the Iran-Contra affair and the CIA's involvement in it.

The nomination of Webster, on the other hand, received quick praise from Senate Democratic Leader Robert Byrd of West Virginia, who called him "a highly regarded professional who bring much-needed credibility to the CIA."

Reagan, in a statement released at the White House, said, "Bill Webster will bring remarkable depth and breadth of experience, as well as an outstanding record of achievement, to this position."

Fitzwater said there were "no candidates yet" to replace Webster at the FBI.

Justice Department sources said a debate was still under way over who would be nominated to take over the FBI, but that the leading candidate was U.S. district Court Judge Lowell Jensen, who had served as deputy attorney general in the Reagan administration before being appointed to a judgeship in San Francisco.

Returning to Washington, Jensen served for many years as a county prosecutor in South Bend and Muncie, Indiana.

Take it in stride

Mike Manning, sporting spring fashions and a smile, enjoys an easy walk on north quad Tuesday.

Curran to teach at ND this summer

By MARK DICKINSON
Senior Staff Reporter

Catholic theologian Father Charles Curran, who was suspended from teaching at Catholic University of America for his views on sexual ethics, will teach a class this summer at Notre Dame.

Notre Dame theology department chairman, Father Richard McBrien, however, stressed that Curran's invitation to come here was extended more than a year before his suspension.

McBrien said Curran plans to teach a one week graduate course in Catholic Social Ethics beginning June 1987.

Curran gained national attention in August 1986 when the Vatican revoked his authorization to teach theology at Catholic U. on the basis of his differing views on Catholic sexual ethics.

Curran disagrees with the Church's unconditional condemnation of such issues as abortion, which he says could be justified in some cases to save the life of the mother. Curran also disagrees with the Church's teaching regarding homosexuality. Curran was quoted as saying that irreversible homosexuality, "in the context of a loving relationship striving for permanency, can in a certain sense be objectively morally acceptable."

Curran appealed the Vatican's decision, claiming he had the right to dissent on the Church's view of sexual ethics because, he feels, the Church's teachings are not infallible.

A Catholic U. suspended him with pay for the spring semester, pending the outcome of his appeal.

Curran, unlike Notre Dame, is a Vatican-chartered university whose theologians must be licensed by Rome. McBrien said Curran's invitation to Notre Dame was not given in response to his suspension. He says Curran was invited in May 1985 and accepted within a month. The Vatican made its announcement in August 1986, and Curran was suspended from teaching at Catholic U. in January 1987.

McBrien added, "we honor our contract."

The Vatican mentioned nothing about Curran teaching at another Catholic school, McBrien said.

McBrien also said he was "not worried" that any controversy would arise from Curran's visit this summer.

Curran could not be reached for comment.
Sacrifice for Lent helps one become a better Christian

Mark Wehmolt
Graphic Arts Manager

 Tonight the Sophomore Literary Festival Presents: Carolyn Forché Winner of the Lamont Poetry Selection Award in 1981 and human rights investigator

Wednesday, March 4, 1987 - page 2

The Observer

Of Interest

“Office Visits/Plant Trips—Learn What To Expect on Second Interviews” is the title of a workshop to be presented by Kitty Arnold of the Career and Placement Services Conference Room today from 4-5 p.m. All interested students are invited to attend. -The Observer

“Feminist & Catholic: Is It Possible?” will be the topic of a lecture by Betsy Cull of the Notre Dame Department of Theology, sponsored by the Thomas More Society, tonight at 7 in the Little Theatre of LaFortune Student Center. -The Observer

“A Women’s Non-Traditional Career Fair will be presented Thursday from noon to 6 p.m. at the Century Center, downtown South Bend. The fair will offer presentations by more than 25 local organizations. For more information contact Susan Seabright in the Saint Mary’s Counseling and Career Development Office, 284-4565. -The Observer

John Reid, Director of Channel, a Seattle based mini-broadcast program that provides support and training services, will be at the Center For Social Concerns today and Thursday. Reid is a Notre Dame graduate and former Director of Channel. Student Activities. Potential offerings include teaching, parish ministry and social justice work. All seniors are invited to stop by and meet John Reid, or call ahead to make an appointment. -The Observer

Weather

The Winter machine malfunctioned this week and remains insipid. Area climate officers blamed the shut-down on “serious design flaws.” As an after-effect, warm temps will continue to leak off the production line with a high of 44 today and sunny with a high of 46 for tomorrow. -Associated Press

The Observer

The Sacrifice for Lent helps one become a better Christian.

Chris Prentice

Lent always seems to creep up when I least expect it, and often when I need it most. In the pre-spring hush, when everything is grey and everyone seems “preoccupied,” I find the empty feeling of the monotonous happenings of academia, out of nowhere comes Ash Wednesday. Catholics go to mass, get a cross smudged on their foreheads and are forced to think about Lent for the simple reason that they are marked as Catholic.

The first thought that crosses my mind each year is what to give up for forty days. This act of penance is an attempt. The endless debate ensues. Does this lack of choice make the fast from meat meaningless? My first response is that we’re missing the point. The housing hall recognizes that the majority of the campus will not eat meat on fast days during Lent for obvious religious reasons. Half of those people are usually grateful for this. They are the ones that really strengthen my own conviction. I

Christ at Christmas. Lent comes without last-minute shopping or finals, during the slow part of winter, when there is time for reflection.

We owe it to ourselves to take time out for prayer. If you don’t know how to pray, try the time to find out how. We should be careful in choosing what to give up for Lent. The real motive behind giving up alcohol might be a slowly developing beer gut. Cutting out sweets will reduce the dentist bill, but will it bring you closer to God?

I have a dozen things I could give up to make me a better person. Which of these will strengthen my spirituality? Perhaps we should give up doing certain things. I could give up not volunteering my time to service organizations, or giving up not praying. I need to choose a commitment that will provide more than a personal gain.

Christ is easiest found in others. By sacrificing some of my time, I might find Christ through volunteer work or joining a scripture group. It will bring me to a better understanding of my faith during a season that encourages reflection. Besides, I can always give up procrastination next year.

The Sacrifice for Lent helps one become a better Christian.

Lent always seems to creep up when I least expect it, and often when I need it most. In the pre-spring hush, when everything is grey and everyone seems “preoccupied,” I find the empty feeling of the monotonous happenings of academia, out of nowhere comes Ash Wednesday. Catholics go to mass, get a cross smudged on their foreheads and are forced to think about Lent for the simple reason that they are marked as Catholic.

The first thought that crosses my mind each year is what to give up for forty days. This act of penance is an attempt. The endless debate ensues. Does this lack of choice make the fast from meat meaningless? My first response is that we’re missing the point. The housing hall recognizes that the majority of the campus will not eat meat on fast days during Lent for obvious religious reasons. Half of those people are usually grateful for this. They are the ones that really strengthen my own conviction. I

Christ at Christmas. Lent comes without last-minute shopping or finals, during the slow part of winter, when there is time for reflection.

We owe it to ourselves to take time out for prayer. If you don’t know how to pray, try the time to find out how. We should be careful in choosing what to give up for Lent. The real motive behind giving up alcohol might be a slowly developing beer gut. Cutting out sweets will reduce the dentist bill, but will it bring you closer to God?

I have a dozen things I could give up to make me a better person. Which of these will strengthen my spirituality? Perhaps we should give up doing certain things. I could give up not volunteering my time to service organizations, or giving up not praying. I need to choose a commitment that will provide more than a personal gain.

Christ is easiest found in others. By sacrificing some of my time, I might find Christ through volunteer work or joining a scripture group. It will bring me to a better understanding of my faith during a season that encourages reflection. Besides, I can always give up procrastination next year.

Tonight the Sophomore Literary Festival Presents: Carolyn Forché

Winner of the Lamont Poetry Selection Award in 1981 and human rights investigator

8:00 pm

Library Auditorium

The Observer

The Sacrifice for Lent helps one become a better Christian.

Lent always seems to creep up when I least expect it, and often when I need it most. In the pre-spring hush, when everything is grey and everyone seems “preoccupied,” I find the empty feeling of the monotonous happenings of academia, out of nowhere comes Ash Wednesday. Catholics go to mass, get a cross smudged on their foreheads and are forced to think about Lent for the simple reason that they are marked as Catholic.

The first thought that crosses my mind each year is what to give up for forty days. This act of penance is an attempt. The endless debate ensues. Does this lack of choice make the fast from meat meaningless? My first response is that we’re missing the point. The housing hall recognizes that the majority of the campus will not eat meat on fast days during Lent for obvious religious reasons. Half of those people are usually grateful for this. They are the ones that really strengthen my own conviction. I

Christ at Christmas. Lent comes without last-minute shopping or finals, during the slow part of winter, when there is time for reflection.

We owe it to ourselves to take time out for prayer. If you don’t know how to pray, try the time to find out how. We should be careful in choosing what to give up for Lent. The real motive behind giving up alcohol might be a slowly developing beer gut. Cutting out sweets will reduce the dentist bill, but will it bring you closer to God?

I have a dozen things I could give up to make me a better person. Which of these will strengthen my spirituality? Perhaps we should give up doing certain things. I could give up not volunteering my time to service organizations, or giving up not praying. I need to choose a commitment that will provide more than a personal gain.

Christ is easiest found in others. By sacrificing some of my time, I might find Christ through volunteer work or joining a scripture group. It will bring me to a better understanding of my faith during a season that encourages reflection. Besides, I can always give up procrastination next year.

Tonight the Sophomore Literary Festival Presents: Carolyn Forché

Winner of the Lamont Poetry Selection Award in 1981 and human rights investigator

8:00 pm

Library Auditorium

The Observer

The Sacrifice for Lent helps one become a better Christian.

Lent always seems to creep up when I least expect it, and often when I need it most. In the pre-spring hush, when everything is grey and everyone seems “preoccupied,” I find the empty feeling of the monotonous happenings of academia, out of nowhere comes Ash Wednesday. Catholics go to mass, get a cross smudged on their foreheads and are forced to think about Lent for the simple reason that they are marked as Catholic.

The first thought that crosses my mind each year is what to give up for forty days. This act of penance is an attempt. The endless debate ensues. Does this lack of choice make the fast from meat meaningless? My first response is that we’re missing the point. The housing hall recognizes that the majority of the campus will not eat meat on fast days during Lent for obvious religious reasons. Half of those people are usually grateful for this. They are the ones that really strengthen my own conviction. I

Christ at Christmas. Lent comes without last-minute shopping or finals, during the slow part of winter, when there is time for reflection.

We owe it to ourselves to take time out for prayer. If you don’t know how to pray, try the time to find out how. We should be careful in choosing what to give up for Lent. The real motive behind giving up alcohol might be a slowly developing beer gut. Cutting out sweets will reduce the dentist bill, but will it bring you closer to God?

I have a dozen things I could give up to make me a better person. Which of these will strengthen my spirituality? Perhaps we should give up doing certain things. I could give up not volunteering my time to service organizations, or giving up not praying. I need to choose a commitment that will provide more than a personal gain.

Christ is easiest found in others. By sacrificing some of my time, I might find Christ through volunteer work or joining a scripture group. It will bring me to a better understanding of my faith during a season that encourages reflection. Besides, I can always give up procrastination next year.

Tonight the Sophomore Literary Festival Presents: Carolyn Forché

Winner of the Lamont Poetry Selection Award in 1981 and human rights investigator

8:00 pm

Library Auditorium

The Observer

The Sacrifice for Lent helps one become a better Christian.

Lent always seems to creep up when I least expect it, and often when I need it most. In the pre-spring hush, when everything is grey and everyone seems “preoccupied,” I find the empty feeling of the monotonous happenings of academia, out of nowhere comes Ash Wednesday. Catholics go to mass, get a cross smudged on their foreheads and are forced to think about Lent for the simple reason that they are marked as Catholic.

The first thought that crosses my mind each year is what to give up for forty days. This act of penance is an attempt. The endless debate ensues. Does this lack of choice make the fast from meat meaningless? My first response is that we’re missing the point. The housing hall recognizes that the majority of the campus will not eat meat on fast days during Lent for obvious religious reasons. Half of those people are usually grateful for this. They are the ones that really strengthen my own conviction. I

Christ at Christmas. Lent comes without last-minute shopping or finals, during the slow part of winter, when there is time for reflection.

We owe it to ourselves to take time out for prayer. If you don’t know how to pray, try the time to find out how. We should be careful in choosing what to give up for Lent. The real motive behind giving up alcohol might be a slowly developing beer gut. Cutting out sweets will reduce the dentist bill, but will it bring you closer to God?

I have a dozen things I could give up to make me a better person. Which of these will strengthen my spirituality? Perhaps we should give up doing certain things. I could give up not volunteering my time to service organizations, or giving up not praying. I need to choose a commitment that will provide more than a personal gain.

Christ is easiest found in others. By sacrificing some of my time, I might find Christ through volunteer work or joining a scripture group. It will bring me to a better understanding of my faith during a season that encourages reflection. Besides, I can always give up procrastination next year.
Security Beat

Sunday 12:10 p.m. - Three male white subjects were ejected from Grace Hall as they attempted to distribute advertising pamphlets throughout the dormitory.

Monday 2 p.m. - A female student reported that a man in desexed himself outside the Memorial Library. The victim was seen wearing the first floor of the library. Upon hearing a knock on the window, she observed the man with his pants open. This report is similar to numerous others occurring over the past two years. It appears that the suspect may have a vehicle in the immediate area, as he has been seen fleeing east from the library toward the Juniper Road parking lots. The victim's vehicle received approximately $200 in damage.

Tuesday 12:32 a.m. - Security investigated the break-in of a vehicle parked on Green Field. Although the door was locked, a vent window was broken to gain entry. An AM/FM stereo cassette radio was removed, forcing damage to the dash area. A screwdriver was found in the vehicle and is believed to have been used by the suspect or suspects. The damage and loss were estimated at $150.

Wednesday 9:25 a.m. - A Keenan Hall resident reported the loss of his wallet from his jacket pocket while he was attending the Notre Dame-Brooklyn basketball game the night before.

Negotiators continue missile talks

Associated Press

GENEVA - U.S. and Soviet teams continued talks on medium-range nuclear missiles Wednesday, when this round of talks originally had been scheduled to end.

Maynard Glitman and Lem Masters led the U.S. and Soviet negotiators in Tuesday's meeting. Soviet spokesman Alexander Monakhov said they talked for about 90 minutes at the Soviet Mission, but he gave no details.

Max Kampelman and Yuli Vorontsov, chiefs of the two delegations, had a luncheon meeting Tuesday to discuss procedure.

During an appearance in the White House briefing room in Washington, Reagan said: "I welcome the statement by Soviet Secretary-General Gorbachev on Saturday that the Soviet Union will no longer insist on linking agreement on medium-range missiles no longer in Europe in five years."

Reagan said he would bring U.S. negotiators home for consultations at the end of this week and, "following these meetings in Washington, I will send a team back to Geneva to take up once again the detailed negotiations for an INF reduction agreement."

He said he had told the American team to begin presenting the U.S. proposals Wednesday and added: "I hope that the Soviet Union will then proceed with us to serious discussion of details which are essential to translate areas of agreement in principle to a concrete agreement."

Among issues to be resolved, he said, "none is more important than verification. We will continue to insist that any agreement will be effectively verifiable."

U.S.-Soviet nuclear arms negotiations in Geneva are in three areas: medium-range rockets; long-range or strategic weapons; and the fields of defense and space.

Gorbachev's offer reversed the Soviet position, taken after his Nov. 9, 1983, summit with Reagan last October, that agreement on medium-range nuclear missiles is linked to agreements in the U.S. strategic Defense Initiative.

The space-based defense project, commonly called "Star Wars," has been a major sticking point since the Geneva talks began two years ago. Moscow has insisted the United States curtail research, but Washington refuses to accept limits.

In the latest Soviet attack on Star Wars, a speech delivered Tuesday by the chief Soviet deleg­ate to the 40-nation Geneva Conference on Disarmament, Yuri Nazarkin, said: "whatever its 'defensive' labels, (it) is designed to alter the balance of forces to the advantage of the United States."

He reaffirmed the new Soviet position that a deal on medium-range missiles no longer is conditional on agreement about Star Wars.

Prawda, the Soviet Communist Party newspaper, quoted Gorbachev on Tuesday as calling a medium-range weapons agreement a "tremendous" step toward others on arms reduction and regional conflicts.

His proposal would affect the 318 U.S. Pershing 2 and cruise missiles deployed in Western Europe and Soviet SS-20s. Western officials estimate 441 SS-20s are deployed in the Soviet Union.

Gen. Sergei Akhromeyev, the Soviet army chief of staff, said Monday that 243 were aimed at Europe. The list presumably is in Asia.

Under the Gorbachev proposal, each nation could retain 100 warheads on its own territory. The Soviet missiles would be deployed in Asia.
The American Express surprised them. the faculty board's decision shocked," decision to disband the group. Ann Firth, to reconsider the point the eight-member committee, chaired by Rocca co-captain Patricia Perez. "That's silly," Mrs. Reagan's press secretary, Elaine Crispen, said Tuesday. "Sure, she's interested in arts control, she's interested in peace. But she's interested in arts control only to the point that it affects his (Reagan's) planning and his policy and what he's doing with it."

Mrs. Reagan's former press secretary, Sheila Tate, agreed. "She gets involved with people, yes. Policy, no," said Mrs. Tate, a long-time aide now working in public relations.

Few people question that Mrs. Reagan has great influence over her husband or that she acts out of an intense concern about his health and his image. She has often commented that "all my little antennas go up" when she believes someone is attempting to take advantage of her husband and that she tries to stop it "by telling him or telling someone else."

And she has not been reticent in recent weeks while the president, out of sight recovering from prostate surgery, had been battered by the Iran-Contra controversy. Many who know the couple might argue over how pervasive Mrs. Reagan's influence is. But rare is the White House official or adviser who is willing to have any comments about her attached to his or her name.

Commenting only on condition they not be named, sources had said for weeks she was leading a movement to dump Reagan. "She's making it happen," said one Republican source prior to the chief of staff's departure last week. "It looks pretty obvious, she's going to get rid of him, one way or another," said a senior White House official.

Former Sen. Howard Baker, Reagan's new chief of staff, showed during his first meeting with the White House press corps on Monday how delicate the subject is, though he treated it with humor.

Queried about a comment she had made previously of Mrs. Reagan that "when she gets her hackles up, she can be a dragon," the Tennessee politician replied by praising her as "a distinguished citizen" and "a great lady."

Dancin' continued from page 1

They specialize in dance routines to popular tunes. After being informed of the board's decision, the Dancin' Irish immediately appealed to Joyce. In response to the appeal, University President Father Theodore Hesburgh appointed the eight-member committee, chaired by Rocca and Director of Residence Life Ann Firth, to reconsider the decision to disband the group. Dancin' Irish members said the faculty board's decision surprised them. "I'm quite shocked," said Dancin' Irish co-captain Patricia Perez. "I don't think the decision was extremely thought out. I think it was something that came up and was discussed . . . without looking at who we are or what we do as a squad," Perez said.

Novak said the Dancin' Irish should be allowed to continue to perform because of a high level of student support. More than 100 students signed up to try out for the group at last fall's activities night, she said.

The Dancin' Irish are advised by Roger Valdiserri, associate director of athletics and sports information, and operate as a club under the direction of the Office of Student Activities.

Webster continued from page 1

Oakland, Calif. He worked in that office with Edwin Meese, now Reagan's attorney general.

Other sources said some consideration was being given for the FBI post to John Simpson, head of the U.S. Secret Service.

At that time, associates of Webster said he would be very interested in taking on the challenge presented by running the CIA during the current investigations of its role in the Iran-Contra affair, but that he did not want to push Casey out of the job. This was before Casey resigned.

First lady is pictured as a 'dragon'

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - Nancy Reagan, victorious in her campaign to drive Donald Regan from the White House, suddenly is being pictured as everything from "a dragon" to a "power-hungry first lady" who has made her husband appear wimpish and helpless.

But Mrs. Reagan's supporters say it's all nonsense to assert as one published report did this week that the first lady has become so powerful she plans to use the remainder of President Reagan's term to press for an arms control agreement with the Soviet Union.

"That's silly," Mrs. Reagan's press secretary, Elaine Crispen, said Tuesday. "Sure, she's interested in arms control, she's interested in peace. But she's interested in arms control only to the point that it affects his (Reagan's) planning and his policy and what he's doing with it."

"I don't think the decision was extremely thought out. I think it was something that came up and was discussed . . . without looking at who we are or what we do as a squad," Perez said.

Novak said the Dancin' Irish should be allowed to continue to perform because of a high level of student support. More than 100 students signed up to try out for the group at last fall's activities night, she said.

The Dancin' Irish are advised by Roger Valdiserri, associate director of athletics and sports information, and operate as a club under the direction of the Office of Student Activities.

Webster continued from page 1

Oakland, Calif. He worked in that office with Edwin Meese, now Reagan's attorney general.

Other sources said some consideration was being given for the FBI post to John Simpson, head of the U.S. Secret Service.

At that time, associates of Webster said he would be very interested in taking on the challenge presented by running the CIA during the current investigations of its role in the Iran-Contra affair, but that he did not want to push Casey out of the job. This was before Casey resigned.
ATTENTION STUDENTS

Shakey's Special Delivery
Introductory Offer
Medium Homestyle Pan Pizza
1 Topping
$7.75

or

Large Homestyle Pan Pizza
1 Topping
$9.75

Shakey's
Pizza PARLOR

DATE DEPARTMENT LOCATION TIME

MEET YOUR MAJOR

Wednesday
March 4

4:15-5:15 English Lib. Lounge
4:30-5:30 Anthropology 210 O'Shag
6:00-7:00 CAPP 210 O'Shag
6:00-7:00 ALPP 104 O'Shag
7:00-8:00 ALPA 104 O'Shag

Everyone is welcome to attend!

THE ALUMNI SENIOR

CLUB

Celebrate the last days of Mardi Gras!

Wed: Bourbon & Coke

Thurs: Miller "MDA"
Night

Bring your suitcase packed for Spring Break. Prizes for Most Creative.

HPC continued from page 1

meeting March 12 at 6:30 p.m. in the Center for Social Concerns. In other business, a member of the Notre Dame Martial Arts Society spoke to the hall presidents about self-defense concerns. The member said the classes deal with "basic self-defense techniques against attacks by a stronger opponent." The member announced the classes, to be held Saturday in one and a half hour sessions from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., are open to all interested male and female students.

In other business, Anne Dur- ning spoke to the HPC about a Print and Sound Collectors Contest sponsored by the Friends of the Library at Notre Dame. "No other school seems to have a music contest," Durn- ning said. She said prizes of 50, 25 and 10 dollars will be awarded to the best essays on the origin and development of individual collections of books, magazines, newspapers, records, tapes or compact dis- cts.

The HPC also heard from Paul Giorgianni, who asked the hall presidents to consider advertising in the program of the Collegiate Jazz Festival.

St. Edward's Hall's President Andy Barlow announced the St. Edward's Hall's production "Love, Sex and the I.R.S." will be held next Tuesday at 8 p.m. "We're pushing it as a study break," Barlow said. "It's a good way to spend two hours in the company of good friends watching a very funny play," he said.

The Observer

The news department is now accepting applications for the following positions:

Assistant News Editor
Copy Editor
Senior Staff Reporter

Questions should be directed to Chris Bednarski or Jim Riley at the Observer office (239-5303). Resumes and one-page personal

OPPORTUNITY

The Arts & Letters Student Advisory Council presents

MEET YOUR MAJOR

LOCATION TIME

Wednesday
March 4

4:15-5:15 English Lib. Lounge
4:30-5:30 Anthropology 210 O'Shag
6:00-7:00 CAPP 210 O'Shag
6:00-7:00 ALPP 104 O'Shag
7:00-8:00 ALPA 104 O'Shag

Everyone is welcome to attend!

50,000 police fight riots in S. Korea

Associated Press

SEOUL, South Korea - Demonstrators fought for hours against nearly 60,000 riot police in hit-and-run clashes Tuesday on the streets of Seoul during a day of remembrance for a student who died during police torture.

Violent confrontations also were reported in six other cities. Police said 20 people were hurt in all, two seriously, and 395 were detained.

At least four opposition lawmakers were injured, one seriously, in leading protesters against police, who fired tear gas and used shields and truncheons to fend off demonstrators.

Tuesday's "Grand Peace Marches for Anti-Torture and Democratization" were called by the main opposition New Korea Democratic Party and 67 dissident and church groups to mark the 40th day after the death of Park Chong-chul, 21, Park, a dissident student from Seoul National University, died Jan. 14 while being questioned by police using water torture.

A 49th-day rite is a Buddhist practice to mark the entry of the deceased person's soul into another world.

National Police Director Lee Yong-chang said 26 people were put under house arrest. But Dong-A Ilbo, the nation's biggest independent national daily newspaper, and Yonhap News Agency said at least 72 people, including top dissident leaders Kim Jong-sam and Kim Dae-jung, were confined to their homes.

Lee said 132 students were among those detained. He said 171 people were held in Seoul and 25 in Pusan, the nation's second largest city, 305 miles southeast of the capital. Other arrests were made in Taegu, Kwangju and Taean.

Demonstrations also were reported in Chonju, 130 miles south of Seoul, and Chongju, 70 miles south-southeast of the capital.

Despite the violence, police were largely in control of Tues- day's street actions, although which critics of the govern- ment sought to point up their demands involving greater democracy and human rights in South Korea.

The number of marchers ob- viously fell short of organizers' expec- tations. Many students chose to hold their own rallies on campus.

The Korean Constitution limits a president to seven years in office. Chun, a former general, has said several times he will step down in 1988 when his time is up.

Lee Min-woo, president of the major opposition New Korea Democratic Party (right), and Choi Hyon-woo, vice president of the party, wear crossed masks in mourning for a dissident student who died under police torture. The procession was stopped by riot police. Story below.

THIS IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY TO GET INVOLVED!

Ideas and Issues Commissioner:

plans events:
Dr. Jerry Falwell
Russia Ambassador Shevchenko

Cultural Arts Commissioner:

plans:
Theatre trips: Pippin
Soph. Literary Festival
Collegiate Jazz Festival
and more!

Pick up application at 2nd fl. LaFortune
New Orleans parties with Mardi Gras gala

Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS - Mardi Gras revelers filled the French Quarter on Monday and police braced for the all-night party that climaxes Fat Tuesday, the day before the beginning of Lent.

Meanwhile, business people perplexed at the influx of tourist dollars in a city still reeling from hard times in the oil industry. "As far as the tourist dollars, we sure need them," said Maureen Detwiler, head of Mayor Sidney Barthelemy's Mardi Gras Task Force.

I know that the hotels are almost 100 percent filled. And that hasn't happened in years," she said.

The tourists started showing up Friday, flooding the streets to watch elaborate parades Saturday and Sunday. More than 1 million people were expected to cram the French Quarter on Tuesday.

A coast Guard cutter, the biggest excursion riverboat President and a flotilla of smaller tugboats escorted carnival king Rex on the Mississippi to the riverfront for a welcoming ceremony. That was followed by a fireworks show, a parade and a concert by the Neville Brothers.

This year's Lundi Gras, a tradition abandoned without explanation in 1977 and revived this year to lure tourists, fell on the 300th anniversary of the explorer Iberville's arrival in 1699 to claim New Orleans for France.

The School of Design on Monday disclosed the closely guarded identity of Rex, a Mardi Gras eve tradition. This year's monarch of merriment is William Young, a 71-year-old lawyer and civic leader whose father was Rex in 1922 and whose daughter was queen of Carnival in 1970.

Young's queen this year is Adair Draughn Freeman, a teen-age debutante who attends college in Switzerland. "We were prepared for an onslaught of revelers by block­ing French Quarter streets to all but residential traffic and reinforcing their ranks with state troopers.

Lt. Max Gagnard of the French Quarter police district said crowds had been un­nibited, but generally well-behaved. "We kind of overlook the minor type of infractions as far as dress goes," he said, adding that police have had to cover up a few partygoers "in a couple of important areas - upper and lower.

The Observer is always looking for talent.

If you have any, come to our offices and start working on your newspaper.

The Observer

The independent newspaper serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary's is now accepting applications for the following positions:

Business Page Editor
Head Driver

Questions should be directed to Brian Murray at the Observer office (239-5303). Applications are due by Monday, March 9.

SEÑOR KELLY'S
119 NORTH MICHIGAN
S.B.'s 1 IRISH-MEXICAN RESTAURANT

Wednesdays - MUG of BEER 75 cents
free munchies
10% off of all dinner with NDSMC ID

Tix on sale TODAY at the Cellar: $2
Event: Sunday, March 8, 8pm Washington Hall

SAB presents...

TOM DELUCA
* Hypnotist
* Comedian
* Magician

* 986 Campus Entertainer of the Year
* Most requested act on college campuses

TOM DELUCA

THURSDAY
FRIDAY

Comedian
STEVEMARMEL
with opening act comedian MICHAEL TODD
beginning at 8:30 and 11 PM
Co-sponsored by SAB

THURSDAY
FRIDAY

Then, after the show, dance to DJ's Rick Rusty & Dan Seymour until 2 AM

The Observer
As the academic year draws ever nearer, I begin to realize that the accolades for retiring Father Hesburgh begin in earnest. He has without question taken a university known for its prowess on the football field and has established it as one of the leading academic institutions in the country. Though I have disagreed with many of his political positions and found his repeated absences from campus somewhat disconcerting, the results of Father Hesburgh's work over the years speak for themselves. I look forward to the continued advancement of the University, based on the new administration of Fathers Malloy and Beauchamp.

Michael Beaudine

guest column

A key element of such success would undoubtedly be an improvement in the social life of the student body, something which I personally saw deteriorate from 1981-1985. A huge step backward in this regard was the enactment of new alcohol-consumption guidelines in 1984. Of course, the new rules were not meant to harm social life—yet they were still principally to ameliorate concerns over potential University liability for alcohol-related accidents but only the safely of individuals on campus. Nothing so long as simple dumb luck back then that the effects on the social environment would be anything other than seriously detrimental.

And it appears the new policy did in fact spur such a decline in social life. Starting from the realistic, and thus necessarily true, premise that most students social life an alcohol is inextricably intertwined (particularly at an alcohol-oriented university) we can expect that a major shift in alcohol will necessarily bring about changes in student behavior. At Notre Dame, the dramatic cutback in on-campus drinking just naturally led to increased drinking in bars and at parties off-campus. With the committee of the hateful local authorities alone with general inconvenience—both necessarily endured when choosing the off-campus option—have ultimately resulted in lessened interaction between the sexes, something which is central to one's overall development as a total person during his or her college years. Thus, while the University effectively accomplished its objective of largely preempting future legal troubles, the student body has in turn suffered in the form of stunted social growth.

The Lu'Pulence Student Center renovations are certainly to be applauded, but undue focus on them will only draw attention away from the real, major problem facing Notre Dame and its administrations today: how is social life on campus to be enhanced, if not completely revised, within the present dorm structure?

No easy answers to this question present themselves. However, the difficulty of the task should not pose a deterrent to thoughtful action. The new administration, once in place, should form a committee comprised of University officials, faculty members, and student leaders. This committee should investigate means of working within the system (principally the alcohol policy) to achieve better social conditions, both by reviewing the different approaches to this general problem at other colleges and universities and by truly listening to student proposals (unlike past committees bent on securing one end). Should the committee determine the system itself needs fine-tuning, such modifications must be recommended and carried out.

Of course, there are ways to accomplish needed change other than by a committee, but ultimately something must be done soon to improve Notre Dame's social environment before complacency and yes, ever-growing apathy, extinguish the once-high flames of interest.

Effect change soon, or the observation that Notre Dame students are socially related to become a more common refrain across this country.

Michael Beaudine is a 1985 graduate of Notre Dame.

More minorities would enhance Saint Mary's

Dear Editor:

I am writing in response to the article that appeared in the Notre Dame Observer and St. Mary's Observer under the title "A Saint Mary's student sends a valentine." Though I have disagreed with many of his political positions and found his repeated absences from campus somewhat disconcerting, the results of Father Hesburgh's work over the years are to be applauded.

As I walked home from his lecture, I tried to understand what his words made me feel. I felt great sadness. But I am one of the five or so members on the committee that has been formed to address this issue. We need more support from both Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students and parents to get this type of change across the campus. I urge all students who are interested to come to our meeting on Thursday at 6 p.m. in the Regina lounge.

Remember, strength lies in the numbers. The more students that are involved, the stronger we will become. Do your part to make Saint Mary's and Notre Dame a more colorful community—a community we can all be proud of.

Susan Harsh
McCandless Hall

Junior parents extend thanks for weekend

Dear Editor:

A great big "Thank You" to Laurine Bink, Catherine Nonnenkamp and the legions of Notre Dame students, as well as administrative, faculty and staff workers for the delightful "belated Valentine" delivered to juniors' parents this weekend.

We junior parents were "petted and praised" in such lavish fashion, while wearing our "heart" button from one beautifully planned and executed event to another, that we returned from a weekend of nothing but fond thoughts of Notre Dame and the wonderful, exceptionally brilliant child we had the foresight to send to that "good place."

The care, planning and expressed love evidenced by the tremendous efforts of hundreds of persons involved in organizing the emotionally moving mass, the beautifully creative reception, the elegant dinner, convivial dorm receptions and festive brunches speaks volumes about the values held at Notre Dame.

From the first "Welcome to Notre Dame" spoken by our son, as we arrived Friday evening, to the wonderful Flanner Hall reception, to Sunday's fond farewell to new friends—students, parents, and faculty—the weekend took on the luminescence of a gemlike memory.

What mother will forget the image of a dance floor filled entirely with mother-son couples? Fathers, as well as mothers, basked in the warmth of Father Hesburgh's "shrine on Notre Dame as "...Shrine of Our Lady...Her special place...of peace and growth where children learn to cherish parents..."

We parents can appreciate trustee Andy McKenna's after-dinner remarks emphasizing "pride and privilege" in being part of the Notre Dame family.

To know we have sent our sons and daughters to continue their education in a place which supports and encourages Christian family values is, as a parent, to experience some measure of peace, and with it a sense of pride and privilege.

Our "Thanks" to all those who worked so very hard to make Junior Parents Weekend a heartwarming Valentine which will be treasured always.

Dan & Angela DeCarlo
Downers Grove, Illinois

P.O. Box Q

I am one of the five or so members on the committee that has been formed to address this issue. We need more support from both Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students and parents to get this type of change across the campus. I urge all students who are interested to come to our meeting on Thursday at 6 p.m. in the Regina lounge.

Remember, strength lies in the numbers. The more students that are involved, the stronger we will become. Do your part to make Saint Mary's and Notre Dame a more colorful community—a community we can all be proud of.

Susan Harsh
McCandless Hall

Junior parents extend thanks for weekend

Dear Editor:

A great big "Thank You" to Laurine Bink, Catherine Nonnenkamp and the legions of Notre Dame students, as well as administrative, faculty and staff workers for the delightful "belated Valentine" delivered to juniors' parents this weekend.

We junior parents were "petted and praised" in such lavish fashion, while wearing our "heart" button from one beautifully planned and executed event to another, that we returned from a weekend of nothing but fond thoughts of Notre Dame and the wonderful, exceptionally brilliant child we had the foresight to send to that "good place."

The care, planning and expressed love evidenced by the tremendous efforts of hundreds of persons involved in organizing the emotionally moving mass, the beautifully creative reception, the elegant dinner, convivial dorm receptions and festive brunches speaks volumes about the values held at Notre Dame.

From the first "Welcome to Notre Dame" spoken by our son, as we arrived Friday evening, to the wonderful Flanner Hall reception, to Sunday's fond farewell to new friends—students, parents, and faculty—the weekend took on the luminescence of a gemlike memory.

What mother will forget the image of a dance floor filled entirely with mother-son couples? Fathers, as well as mothers, basked in the warmth of Father Hesburgh's "shrine on Notre Dame as "...Shrine of Our Lady...Her special place...of peace and growth where children learn to cherish parents..."

We parents can appreciate trustee Andy McKenna's after-dinner remarks emphasizing "pride and privilege" in being part of the Notre Dame family.

To know we have sent our sons and daughters to continue their education in a place which supports and encourages Christian family values is, as a parent, to experience some measure of peace, and with it a sense of pride and privilege.

Our "Thanks" to all those who worked so very hard to make Junior Parents Weekend a heartwarming Valentine which will be treasured always.

Dan & Angela DeCarlo
Downers Grove, Illinois

P.O. Box Q
Conscience must be formed using moral precepts

Editor’s Note: The following is the first part in a two-part series.

In recent days since the Second Vatican Council, the Catholic Church in crisis has become ever more prevalent. Much confusion and disturbance in the Church itself has resulted in the denial of certain Christian dogmas and from dissident with regard to the divine institution and teaching authority of the Church. What has evolved (and stands in perfect conformity with the modern process theory) which rejects the traditional transcendency of God and salvation history, is the ascent of a subjective situation ethics in place of an objective sense of morality without the presence of an absolute foundation of the relationship between secular and religious values.

Steve Hipp

guest column

Recently, I had the unpleasant experience of sitting through a presentation at the Catholic University of America, where the Catholic Church, proceeded among other things to significantly contradict the teaching of the Catholic Church. They proceeded by stating that a man is free to consent to this teaching if he or she so desires; or to believe, if he or she so desires. The mind attempts to adequately describe the Church without any reference at all to the Church’s teaching authority, a creation of the Church. The mind attempts to adequately describe the Church without any reference at all to the Church’s teaching authority, a creation of the Church, and the Church is what it is precisely because such a man or woman is free to consent to what he or she regards as credible; or to believe, if he or she so desires.

The suggestion that there is no real freedom in the Catholic Church because Catholics are forced to submit to rules externally imposed is absurd. No one is forced to believe what the Church teaches. Rather, the Church teaches because it is true, and through its divine institution the Church is first of all the mystical body of Christ; and all of the truths, like the propositions of mathematics, are discovered by us. The mind attempts to adequately describe the Church without any reference at all to the Church’s teaching authority, a creation of the Church, and the Church is what it is precisely because such a man or woman is free to consent to what he or she regards as credible; or to believe, if he or she so desires.

The suggestion that there is no real freedom in the Catholic Church because Catholics are forced to submit to rules externally imposed is absurd. No one is forced to believe what the Church teaches. Rather, the Church teaches because it is true, and through its divine institution the Church is first of all the mystical body of Christ; and all of the truths, like the propositions of mathematics, are discovered by us. The mind attempts to adequately describe the Church without any reference at all to the Church’s teaching authority, a creation of the Church, and the Church is what it is precisely because such a man or woman is free to consent to what he or she regards as credible; or to believe, if he or she so desires.

The suggestion that there is no real freedom in the Catholic Church because Catholics are forced to submit to rules externally imposed is absurd. No one is forced to believe what the Church teaches. Rather, the Church teaches because it is true, and through its divine institution the Church is first of all the mystical body of Christ; and all of the truths, like the propositions of mathematics, are discovered by us. The mind attempts to adequately describe the Church without any reference at all to the Church’s teaching authority, a creation of the Church, and the Church is what it is precisely because such a man or woman is free to consent to what he or she regards as credible; or to believe, if he or she so desires.

The suggestion that there is no real freedom in the Catholic Church because Catholics are forced to submit to rules externally imposed is absurd. No one is forced to believe what the Church teaches. Rather, the Church teaches because it is true, and through its divine institution the Church is first of all the mystical body of Christ; and all of the truths, like the propositions of mathematics, are discovered by us. The mind attempts to adequately describe the Church without any reference at all to the Church’s teaching authority, a creation of the Church, and the Church is what it is precisely because such a man or woman is free to consent to what he or she regards as credible; or to believe, if he or she so desires.

The suggestion that there is no real freedom in the Catholic Church because Catholics are forced to submit to rules externally imposed is absurd. No one is forced to believe what the Church teaches. Rather, the Church teaches because it is true, and through its divine institution the Church is first of all the mystical body of Christ; and all of the truths, like the propositions of mathematics, are discovered by us. The mind attempts to adequately describe the Church without any reference at all to the Church’s teaching authority, a creation of the Church, and the Church is what it is precisely because such a man or woman is free to consent to what he or she regards as credible; or to believe, if he or she so desires.

The suggestion that there is no real freedom in the Catholic Church because Catholics are forced to submit to rules externally imposed is absurd. No one is forced to believe what the Church teaches. Rather, the Church teaches because it is true, and through its divine institution the Church is first of all the mystical body of Christ; and all of the truths, like the propositions of mathematics, are discovered by us. The mind attempts to adequately describe the Church without any reference at all to the Church’s teaching authority, a creation of the Church, and the Church is what it is precisely because such a man or woman is free to consent to what he or she regards as credible; or to believe, if he or she so desires.

The suggestion that there is no real freedom in the Catholic Church because Catholics are forced to submit to rules externally imposed is absurd. No one is forced to believe what the Church teaches. Rather, the Church teaches because it is true, and through its divine institution the Church is first of all the mystical body of Christ; and all of the truths, like the propositions of mathematics, are discovered by us. The mind attempts to adequately describe the Church without any reference at all to the Church’s teaching authority, a creation of the Church, and the Church is what it is precisely because such a man or woman is free to consent to what he or she regards as credible; or to believe, if he or she so desires.

The suggestion that there is no real freedom in the Catholic Church because Catholics are forced to submit to rules externally imposed is absurd. No one is forced to believe what the Church teaches. Rather, the Church teaches because it is true, and through its divine institution the Church is first of all the mystical body of Christ; and all of the truths, like the propositions of mathematics, are discovered by us. The mind attempts to adequately describe the Church without any reference at all to the Church’s teaching authority, a creation of the Church, and the Church is what it is precisely because such a man or woman is free to consent to what he or she regards as credible; or to believe, if he or she so desires.

The suggestion that there is no real freedom in the Catholic Church because Catholics are forced to submit to rules externally imposed is absurd. No one is forced to believe what the Church teaches. Rather, the Church teaches because it is true, and through its divine institution the Church is first of all the mystical body of Christ; and all of the truths, like the propositions of mathematics, are discovered by us. The mind attempts to adequately describe the Church without any reference at all to the Church’s teaching authority, a creation of the Church, and the Church is what it is precisely because such a man or woman is free to consent to what he or she regards as credible; or to believe, if he or she so desires.

The suggestion that there is no real freedom in the Catholic Church because Catholics are forced to submit to rules externally imposed is absurd. No one is forced to believe what the Church teaches. Rather, the Church teaches because it is true, and through its divine institution the Church is first of all the mystical body of Christ; and all of the truths, like the propositions of mathematics, are discovered by us. The mind attempts to adequately describe the Church without any reference at all to the Church’s teaching authority, a creation of the Church, and the Church is what it is precisely because such a man or woman is free to consent to what he or she regards as credible; or to believe, if he or she so desires.

The suggestion that there is no real freedom in the Catholic Church because Catholics are forced to submit to rules externally imposed is absurd. No one is forced to believe what the Church teaches. Rather, the Church teaches because it is true, and through its divine institution the Church is first of all the mystical body of Christ; and all of the truths, like the propositions of mathematics, are discovered by us. The mind attempts to adequately describe the Church without any reference at all to the Church’s teaching authority, a creation of the Church, and the Church is what it is precisely because such a man or woman is free to consent to what he or she regards as credible; or to believe, if he or she so desires.

The suggestion that there is no real freedom in the Catholic Church because Catholics are forced to submit to rules externally imposed is absurd. No one is forced to believe what the Church teaches. Rather, the Church teaches because it is true, and through its divine institution the Church is first of all the mystical body of Christ; and all of the truths, like the propositions of mathematics, are discovered by us. The mind attempts to adequately describe the Church without any reference at all to the Church’s teaching authority, a creation of the Church, and the Church is what it is precisely because such a man or woman is free to consent to what he or she regards as credible; or to believe, if he or she so desires.

The suggestion that there is no real freedom in the Catholic Church because Catholics are forced to submit to rules externally imposed is absurd. No one is forced to believe what the Church teaches. Rather, the Church teaches because it is true, and through its divine institution the Church is first of all the mystical body of Christ; and all of the truths, like the propositions of mathematics, are discovered by us. The mind attempts to adequately describe the Church without any reference at all to the Church’s teaching authority, a creation of the Church, and the Church is what it is precisely because such a man or woman is free to consent to what he or she regards as credible; or to believe, if he or she so desires.

The suggestion that there is no real freedom in the Catholic Church because Catholics are forced to submit to rules externally imposed is absurd. No one is forced to believe what the Church teaches. Rather, the Church teaches because it is true, and through its divine institution the Church is first of all the mystical body of Christ; and all of the truths, like the propositions of mathematics, are discovered by us. The mind attempts to adequately describe the Church without any reference at all to the Church’s teaching authority, a creation of the Church, and the Church is what it is precisely because such a man or woman is free to consent to what he or she regards as credible; or to believe, if he or she so desires.

The suggestion that there is no real freedom in the Catholic Church because Catholics are forced to submit to rules externally imposed is absurd. No one is forced to believe what the Church teaches. Rather, the Church teaches because it is true, and through its divine institution the Church is first of all the mystical body of Christ; and all of the truths, like the propositions of mathematics, are discovered by us. The mind attempts to adequately describe the Church without any reference at all to the Church’s teaching authority, a creation of the Church, and the Church is what it is precisely because such a man or woman is free to consent to what he or she regards as credible; or to believe, if he or she so desires.
On with the Dance!

Ginia Camarena

Dedication and hard work—that is what I felt being emitted from the dancers on that one slippage into the auditorium during dance rehearsal on a late Friday evening. About five to six hours sweating and laboring over dance movements and movements, other students are out having fun; it’s simple for the dancers. “It’s something we believe in,” explained Saint Mary’s junior Clare VanHecke.

They are rehearsing for one of the major dance productions that comprises “To Dance” which is being presented by the Notre Dame/Saint Mary’s Theater. The production is “A portfolio of works with the culmination of hard work,” said Saint Mary’s dance professor Indi Dieckgrafe. Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s dancers will present a dazzling array of original works featuring dance from the mid-20th century to the present.

“To Dance” will run Wed­nesday through Saturday, March 4-7 at 8 p.m. and Sunday, March 8 at 2 p.m. at O’Laughlin Auditorium at Saint Mary’s College.

Since last September the dancers have been preparing for what is described as an “eclectic evening” to demonstrate that dance is not simply a recreational activity, but instead a form of art. A dance program focusing on an eclectic portfolio of works (with the) dancers dedicate themselves to making available a dance from the

The Notre Dame/Saint Mary’s junior Kelsi Lasher who has just been doing my work for the past two years, stated that when she first came, it was a three-selection portfolio of works and other treasures of the 19th century.

As for me, however, my true love of people-watching is Paris. I feel being surrounded by people is like being on a three-dimensional view and that I can handle but which I don’t think my neck is strong enough to support three inches wide and reaching her full length. Another fashion note on the very thin woman in my hand, which I can handle but which I don’t think my neck is strong enough to support three inches wide and reaching her full length.

Another fashion note on the very thin woman in hand, which I can handle but which I don’t think my neck is strong enough to support three inches wide and reaching her full length.

As for me, however, my true love of people-watching is Paris. I feel being surrounded by people is like being on a three-dimensional view and that I can handle but which I don’t think my neck is strong enough to support three inches wide and reaching her full length. Another fashion note on the very thin woman in hand, which I can handle but which I don’t think my neck is strong enough to support three inches wide and reaching her full length.

As for me, however, my true love of people-watching is Paris. I feel being surrounded by people is like being on a three-dimensional view and that I can handle but which I don’t think my neck is strong enough to support three inches wide and reaching her full length. Another fashion note on the very thin woman in hand, which I can handle but which I don’t think my neck is strong enough to support three inches wide and reaching her full length.
The Bengali Boys semifinal matches get underway tonight at 7:30 at Stepan Center. Featured on tonight’s card is Eastern Michigan’s lightweight champion Perrelli “Big Train” Taylor and Anthony Johnson. A complete list of the semifinal matches is given in Sports Wednesday on page 11. The Observer

In women’s III basketball preliminary action last week, Green-Phillips A defeated Lewiss A, 41-35, to gain the third seed in the semifinals. Green-Phillips A will face Farley A at 7:30, while Lewis A will play Pasquale A at 9:00. Both games will be held in the ACC Pit. - The Observer

The ACHA playoffs will be held at the ACC this weekend. Friday night Kent State faces Michigan-Deepriver at 6:30 on Notre Dame’s home ice. The finals will be played Saturday. Because this is a league tournament, there will be a $1 admission charge for all students. - The Observer

The junior class warm-up for Bookstore Basketball XXVII continues this Sunday with the second round of matches. Make sure to check the tip chart outside the Junior Class Office for dates and times. - The Observer

---

NCAA nabs Texas Tech
Associated Press

LUBBOCK, Tex. -- Texas Tech University’s basketball program was put on probation for one year and pledged $50,000 a year to charities for the 1988-89 season for failing to meet NCAA rules. The suspension was announced by NCAA officials, effective today. The probation will begin immediately because university officials said they would not appeal.

---

SPORTS BRIEFS

The NFL Allows for Request for Return of Draft Picks

The NFL has allowed its teams to make a request to the league to have their 1986 draft picks returned. The league has given no indication as to what criteria they will use to make such a request, although they have made it clear that they will grant them if the team is in need of players.

---

CLASSIFIEDS

HELP WANTED

DAY CARE NURSE

We are offering a part-time job in a small, warm family-oriented Christian Day Care Center for our one child. If you are a Christian, interested in looking for a good job, we need you. Please call (302) 638-0300.

---

FREE PICKUP AND DELIVERY

TURTLE CREEK ARTS RESERVATIONS NOW ACCEPTING CALLS FOR WINTER CONCERTS, STUDY CLUBS, 8-8 2 W WEDNESDAYS. 270-8122. EXPERT TYPEWRITING SERVICE CALL: WINE, 230-6659.

---

LOST/FOUND

LOST: Last 2 rings, Black, Oaks and Purple ring and one gold watch, lady’s black band. Leave in the ACC. We will call you. Please return to (305) 345-0926.

FOUND: 20 oz. beer bottle. Please call (302) 789-4321.

LOST: Gray T-shirt with blue jeans, one size. Leave in the ACC. We will call you. Please return to (302) 638-0300.

---

PERSONALS

DAH HOUSE: COLD BEER, LIQUOR, A WAY TO HELP THE SIZE OF LITTLE BROTHERS. NEEDED BY MARCH 1ST. CALL (513) 567-8901.

---

WANTED

OVERSEAS JOBS: Summer, Spring, Fall, Job in Africa, India, Australia, Europe. Ask Ben for details. Leave at 8 PM Dear. (302) 555-6666.

FREE PICKUP AND DELIVERY

TURTLE CREEK ARTS RESERVATIONS NOW ACCEPTING CALLS FOR WINTER CONCERTS, STUDY CLUBS, 8-8 2 W WEDNESDAYS. 270-8122. EXPERT TYPEWRITING SERVICE CALL: WINE, 230-6659.

---

FOR RENT

FURNISHED HOUSES CLOSE TO NO FOR NEXT SCHOOL YEAR 285-5327.

---

NOTICE

TYPING AVAILABLE 285-4692.

ADDITION: Have a newly married couple looking for a small apartment with two bedrooms and two bathrooms. They will be out of town this weekend so they can't be reached. Icons Inc. (302) 638-0300.

---

The Observer Notre Dame office, located on the third floor of LaFortune Stu- denci Center. It is open to the public Monday through Friday. The Observer's Sports Mary's office, located on the third floor of Haggard Gymnasium, is open Monday through Friday. Deadline for next-day classifieds is 3 p.m. All classifieds must be prepaid either by cash, check or by mail. The charge is 10 cents per line character per day.
Irish Swimming

Women's swimming results: Midwest Independent Championships

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Event</th>
<th>PO! SWIMMERS</th>
<th>TIME</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>500-yard Freestyle</td>
<td>3 Am Darling</td>
<td>5:06.72</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>200-yard Individual Medley</td>
<td>5 Suzanne Devine</td>
<td>2:14.75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>200-yard Freestyle Relay</td>
<td>2 Quirk, Blyng, Darling, Devine</td>
<td>1:54.83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>100-yard Butterfly</td>
<td>2 Am Darling</td>
<td>55.90</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>100-yard Backstroke</td>
<td>6 Barbara Byrne</td>
<td>1:03.04</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>100-yard Medley Relay</td>
<td>6 Quirk, Blyng, Darling, Devine</td>
<td>1:41.04</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>200-yard Backstroke</td>
<td>3 Barbara Byrne</td>
<td>2:17.51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>200-yard Butterfly</td>
<td>3 Am Darling</td>
<td>2:12.47</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>400-yard Freestyle Relay</td>
<td>7 Suzanne Devine</td>
<td>3:23.13</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

EVENT | PO! DIVER | PTS
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th></th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1 Meter Diving</td>
<td>8 George Bossler</td>
<td>361.05</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Bengal Bouts

Semifinal Matches

Featherweight

Bill Goodwin vs. Emre Ozalp
Laurn Dodd vs. Michael McCann
Kevin Duggan vs. B. Besson
Jim Belz vs. Bob Flaherty

Lightweight

Mike Vorse vs. John Albertini
Mark Anderson vs. Joe Cox

Junior Lightweight

Tim Harigan vs. Tom Hyrain
Bob Staggs vs. David Carr

Welterweight

Tom Newell vs. Steve Hillman
Dan Schneider vs. John Drew

Super Welterweight

Raymond Powals vs. Michael Watson
John Watson vs. Jack Gleeson

Irish Wrestling

Cruisierweight

Fred Amlung vs. Greg Rowle
Bill Anger vs. Brian Furlong

Heavyweight

John Uhl vs. Pat Burke
Neil MacDonald vs. Rob Merkle
Anthony Johnson vs. Pat Taylor

Irish Sports Weekly

ND AVE APTS.

Early Bird Special

Now renting for Fall

2 Bedrooms completely furnished

Sign up before break and receive a 10% discount

Call 234-6647

Protected by Pinkerton Security Agency

Announce the Observer's special column for the next week:

Channel provides a unique combination of service, support and training
will be at the Center for Social Concerns
Wednesday, March 4
and
Thursday, March 5
Stop by to see John Reid, the Director of Channel, or call ahead for an appont.

Sports Lists

BASKETBALL TEAMS MOST
OFTEN IN THE AP TOP TEN
IN THE LAST TEN YEARS

Nortl Carolina 8 times
DePaul 6 times
Kentucky 6 times
UCLA 5 times
Syracuse 4 times
Arkansas 4 times
Louisville 4 times

BASKETBALL TEAMS MOST
OFTEN IN THE AP TOP TEN
IN THE LAST TEN YEARS

North Carolina 8 times
DePaul 6 times
Kentucky 6 times
UCLA 5 times
Syracuse 4 times
Arkansas 4 times
Louisville 4 times

Source: Sports Features Syndicate Research

Observer Graphic: Geoffrey Sevans and Mark Wehbul

Sports Calendar

Home games in CAPS

Today

Bengal Bouts seminars

Men's Intramural basketball championships
Women's Intramural basketball championships

Thursday

Men's basketball vs. Miami (FLA.)
Men's basketball at Western Regionals

Friday

Men's basketball vs. Purdue

Saturday

Men's basketball at Dayton

Sunday

Indoor track at IACCA Championships

Baseball at Indiana (I)

Monday

No sports scheduled

Tuesday

No sports scheduled

Irish Swimming

Women's swimming results: Midwest Independent Championships

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Event</th>
<th>Swimmer</th>
<th>Time</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>500-yard Freestyle</td>
<td>Am Darling</td>
<td>5:06.72</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>200-yard Individual Medley</td>
<td>Suzanne Devine</td>
<td>2:14.75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>200-yard Medley Relay</td>
<td>Quirk, Blyng, Darling, Devine</td>
<td>1:54.83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>100-yard Butterfly</td>
<td>Am Darling</td>
<td>55.90</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>100-yard Backstroke</td>
<td>Barbara Byrne</td>
<td>1:03.04</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>200-yard Butterfly</td>
<td>Am Darling</td>
<td>2:12.47</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>400-yard Freestyle Relay</td>
<td>Suzanne Devine</td>
<td>3:23.13</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

EVENT | DIVER | PTS
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th></th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1 Meter Diving</td>
<td>George Bossler</td>
<td>361.05</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Bengal Bouts

Semifinal Matches

Featherweight

Bill Goodwin vs. Emre Ozalp
Laurn Dodd vs. Michael McCann
Kevin Duggan vs. B. Besson
Jim Belz vs. Bob Flaherty

Lightweight

Mike Vorse vs. John Albertini
Mark Anderson vs. Joe Cox

Junior Lightweight

Tim Harigan vs. Tom Hyrain
Bob Staggs vs. David Carr

Welterweight

Tom Newell vs. Steve Hillman
Dan Schneider vs. John Drew

Super Welterweight

Raymond Powals vs. Michael Watson
John Watson vs. Jack Gleeson

Irish Wrestling

Cruisierweight

Fred Amlung vs. Greg Rowle
Bill Anger vs. Brian Furlong

Heavyweight

John Uhl vs. Pat Burke
Neil MacDonald vs. Rob Merkle
Anthony Johnson vs. Pat Taylor

Irish Sports Weekly

ND AVE APTS.

Early Bird Special

Now renting for Fall

2 Bedrooms completely furnished

Sign up before break and receive a 10% discount

Call 234-6647

Protected by Pinkerton Security Agency

Announce the Observer's special column for the next week:

Channel provides a unique combination of service, support and training
will be at the Center for Social Concerns
Wednesday, March 4
and
Thursday, March 5
Stop by to see John Reid, the Director of Channel, or call ahead for an appont.

The Observer

The Sports Department is now accepting applications for the following positions:

St. Mary's Sports Editor

Questions should be directed to Dennis Corigan of the Sports Department (239- 5303).

The Observer
The Heart Lights 5K run is set for tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. Prizes will be awarded in men's, women's and dorm divisions, and t-shirts will be given to all finishers. Advance entries are available at NVA. -The Observer

The ND water polo club will hold practice today and tomorrow at the Rockne pool from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. All members are encouraged to attend. For more information contact Dave Patchin at 283-6002. -The Observer

The ND crew's men's novice team will practice today at 3:30. Meet at the main circle prepared to row. -The Observer

Intramural floor hockey deadline has been extended to March 11. Rosters and entry forms are due then. A captains' meeting will be held March 12. -The Observer

Observer sports writers will have a mandatory meeting tonight at 7:30 at The Observer offices concerning spring sports assignments. If there are any problems contact Dennis Corrigan at 259-5360. -The Observer

The OC lacrosse team will definitely hold practice today at 4:30 at Stepan field. -The Observer

Bookstore Basketball XVI late registration will be held tomorrow at the SAB office (second floor LaFortune) from 3 to 5 p.m. Any team that has not registered should do so then. There is a $15 fee per team. For more information contact Steve Wenc at 4704. -The Observer

Speakers from Proctor & Gamble and Career and Placement Services will present advice on career choice and hunting for jobs in management-related fields.

Sponsored by ND Management Club
NCAA nails So. Carolina program

Associated Press

COLUMBIA, S.C. - South Carolina's basketball program was placed on two-year's probation Tuesday for NCAA rules violations, the most serious being a "well-organized and well-executed scheme" in which players sold complimentary tickets to boosters.

South Carolina also was banned from postseason action by the NCAA because of rule violations under former Coach Bill Foster from 1982 to 1985. Foster, who resigned after the 1985-86 season and was replaced by George Felton, is now coach at Northwestern.

Foster didn't return telephone calls made to his office, but during the weekly Big Ten teleconference call, he said: "I've not heard anything. I can not comment. I am on the road recruiting."

University President James B. Holderman said the school wouldn't appeal the NCAA's decision.

At the end of the first year of probation, the school can ask the NCAA to rescind the second year's penalty, something Holderman said the university plans to do.

"None of us like to get a report card which gives us some ... suggestion of things we've done wrong," Holderman said at a news conference at which the report was released.

"But I think in all fairness, the report deals with us with equity and deals with a problem with a great deal of fairness. That's why I've indicated we have no ... desire to appeal the matter. We'd like to put it behind us."

Other violations outlined in the 8-page report from the NCAA Committee on Infractions included:

- the loan and lease of automobiles to several possible recruits and players.
- transportation, meals and lodging being provided for possible recruits and players.

But the committee said the "most distressing and serious" violation was the scheme set up and run by members of the coaching staff in which players sold their complimentary ticket at face value to boosters. A basketball ticket costs seven dollars.

The players didn't "have contact with the ticket purchasers and received remuneration for their tickets directly from a member of the men's basketball coaching staff," the report said.

"Ticket purchasers neither negotiated nor passed money directly to the student-athletes, but rather arrangements for the tickets were handled by members of the coaching staff," the report said.

The report didn't identify the coaches, players or boosters who took part in the scheme, and the university declined to release the names during the news conference.

Irish join 'Big Four' schedule

Associated Press

LEXINGTON, Ky. - The "Big-Four" basketball doubleheader involving Kentucky, Louisville, Indiana and Notre Dame is set for early December next season, UK Athletic Director Cliff Hagan said.

Kentucky will "most likely" play Indiana in one game of the inaugural doubleheader, Hagan said, with Louisville playing Notre Dame in the other. The participants will alternate opponents in the following seasons.

The Hoosier Dome in Indianapolis will be a permanent home to the doubleheader, Hagan said.

In the years Kentucky plays either Louisville or Indiana in the "Big Four" event, the Wildcats would not play those teams in a regular-season game, Hagan said. But Kentucky would play Indiana and Louisville in other seasons.

A specific date in December 1987 for the first doubleheader has not been set.

Marquette to investigate fan incidents

Associated Press

MILWAUKEE - Marquette University officials say they will investigate a beer-throwing incident at last Saturday's game with Notre Dame that led to a heated verbal exchange between Irish coach Digger Phelps and Warrior coach Bob Dukiet.

Marquette University is against having beer at home games, according to Raymonds. He said the decision to allow beer in the arena was made by officials at the MECCA. Beer is not sold at Notre Dame's ACC or any arena in the Big Ten.

Marquette Athletic Director Hank Raymonds said Phelps' reaction was triggered by emotion.

Note: The text above is a combination of the raw extracted content and the natural representation generated by the model. The image content has been ignored as per the instruction to focus solely on the textual content.
Items continued from page 15

Lavetta Willis, informed Dis­tan­siana that she was quitting the team for personal reasons. Strike two.

Later, junior forward Kathy Brommelund decided it was in her best interest to quit the team as well. Strike two.

Finally, Julie Carroll, a freshman who had been averaging 6.2 points per game, decided to transfer to her home state and play for Wisconsin and former Irish assistant coach, Mary Murphy. Strike three.

But surprisingly, Notre Dame is not out. Even though the schedule overwhelmed the rapidly-smaller team as the season, and Beth Mor­ris­on's injury added to their woes, the Irish refused to end the season as a doormat.

There are plenty of reasons why.

A major force has been the outstanding play of Heidi Bunek. The sophomore from Milwaukee, plagued by injuries during her freshman cam­paign, has been a force in the lane all season.

Point guard Mary Gavin has performed the playmaking duties expertly this season as well. Against Marquette, she set an Irish record with 17 assists.

Sandi Botham has returned to her consistent scoring and rebounding numbers of a year ago, and Dondria Toney has hit for double figures in the last five contests.

But perhaps the biggest rea­son for Notre Dame's rise from the win-loss percentage graveyard has been the emergence of Annie Schwartz as an outside scoring threat. The freshman from Ann Arbor, Mich., has stepped into the starting lineup and opened up the inside for Bunek and Bot­ham to maneuver.

These ingredients have been mixed together to produce five straight wins and have made the future -there are no seniors on the squad -look much brighter.

Their current record is still only 11-15, they have no NCAA bid awaiting them next Sun­day, and DisTan­si­a­so­s most likely will not receive consider­ation for any post-season honors. But this team has come a long way, and DisTan­sian­so­s has probably done as much, if not more, coaching than in either of her previous award-winning seasons.

In the evening's first game, Off-Campus grabbed a 3-0 lead in the first half and was never seri­ously threatened after­wards. Morris­son captain, Ted Gradel, acknowledged that his club was beaten by the superior team.

"They kept us off balance primarily due to their good puck movement, and their defense was able to keep our guys out of their area," said Gradel.

The second half was much like the first, as Morris­son was under constant pressure. Its lone bright spot came from Chuck Curley, who fired a blis­tering shot from outside the blue line that caught O-C's Phil Coghlan napping. Off Campus captain Mike Breslin, however, was pleased with goalie's per­formance.

"Phil played well in the nets tonight, and he made tough saves when needed," replied Bre­slin.

After Curley's goal, the O-C's put the nail in the Manor coffin. Lance Williams got O-C's fourth goal after re­ceving the puck in front of goal, where he faked the goalie right and easily scored to the left side. Rich Kennedy got number five after beating two defenders to a loose puck at the blue line and backhanded the puck past the goalie. Hugh Hart made the score 6-1 by taking a rebound shot from in front of goal and putting it in.

In the late game, Grace jumped to a 3-0 early lead in the first half, but Pangborn came back with two quick goals to make the score 3-2 at the half.

Grace advances to the finals with a 6-1 record, while Pan­horn finishes their season at 4-1-2.

NOTICE TO ALL POTENTIAL MAY 1987 GRADUATES

Information and materials for the May 1987 Commencement Exercises will be available in the Registrar's Office (215 Admin. Bldg.) from 8:30 am to 4:00 pm, March 4 through March 13. At that time you will be asked to proofread the way your name and hometown will appear in the commencement program and the way your name will appear on your diploma.

If you intend to participate in the Commencement Ceremony, complete the Com­mencement Ticket Request Form (see example below) and bring it with you when you come to the Registrar's Office to pick up your commencement materials. The form will be completed in no later than March 13, 1987 or you will not be guaranteed tickets and you will not be included in the ticket lottery should there be one.

Ten (10) commencement announcements will be available for you to pick up begin­ning March 4. Extra announcements will be available after March 13 at a cost of 10 cents each.

EXAMPLE:

Ticket Selection:
Blacken ONE oval here.

IF YOU TIRE OF...
Curtis Mathes of 512 West Edison donated a video-cassette recorder to The Observer.

Beer Nuts

Critchlow, ND, 131 Decio

Campus

The Daily Crossword

Promotion: "Acme"

SAB presents:

STEVE MARMEL
Friday, 8:30 Theodore’s FREE!
Opening Act: Michael Todd from Minneapolis

SAB presents:

The Dead Zone	Stand By Me
Tonight and	Friday, Saturday
Tomorrow Night 7, 9, 11	7, 9, 11
$1.50	$1.50

*Absolutely NO ALCOHOL allowed in EG Auditorium!
Sports

Wednesday, March 4, 1987 - page 16

Despite season of defeats, Irish did whip adversity

The Irish basketball team is on a pretty good roll these days. And so is that team Digger Phelps coaches.

The men's team has been knocking down highly-rated teams as fast as the schedule can bring them up, and considering the rocky start with which this season began, Notre Dame's performance can only be described as a pleasant surprise.

Rick Rietbrock

Irish Items

But that's not what I'm talking about here. The Notre Dame women's team had a rough start this season, to put it rather mildly. Head coach Mary DiStanislao's team began with four straight defeats and the season continued in miserable fashion. Two-and-a-half weeks ago, the women found themselves saddled with a 6-15 record.

The sluggish start was something new for the Irish. Last season, they finished third in the women's NIT Tournament and took the North Star Conference title with a 23-8 overall record. The season before that, they put together a 30-8 record and also took the conference championship. Both seasons, DiStanislao was named North Star Conference Coach of the Year.

This season, a combination of factors left the team at the foot of a huge hill that loomed larger with each passing day. One of the expected obstacles was filling the scoring duties handled by graduated forward Trena Keys. Keys holds the Notre Dame career scoring average record of 14.2 points, and holds numerous other career marks. DiStanislao had sophomore Lisa Kuhns ready to try her hand at filling the outside shooting need.

Another expected hurdle was the schedule. It figured to be quite a task, and it was just that. Seven of the 15 teams that have defeated the Irish thus far have been nationally-ranked teams, including top-ranked Texas, No. 2 Rutgers and No. 7 Tennessee.

That's when the problems DiStanislao didn't expect began their assault. Kuhns may have been ready to fill the vacant forward spot, but one of those hard-to-see-in-the-dark wires on campus prevented her from showing it. She was lost for the season with damage to knee ligaments.

Next came a group of surprises, none of which were pleasant. Getting ready to leave for the second game of the season at Texas, the team's loss senior, captain

[see ITEMS, page 14]

---

Sorin keeps IH title hopes alive

50-45 victory over Stanford

By CHRIS PAULISON

Sorin Hall defeated Stanford Hall last night in the Men's A League Interhall basketball championship, 50-45, forcing a second and final game tonight. Defending champion Sorin overcame a 16-point halftime deficit and hot outside shooting by Stanford point guard Dan Niedermeyer in gaining the victory. Swingman Steve Beuerlein led an impressive third quarter surge in which Sorin cut the deficit to just 13-6 margin. Beuerlein, who led Stanford with 10 points in last night's tie-breaking rematch tonight at 9 p.m. in the ACC Pit for the 1987 men's interhall basketball championship. Details appear below.

Alvarez, Strong join Holtz' football staff

Special to The Observer

Barry Alvarez, former Iowa linebacker coach, and Jim Strong, former running back coach at Minnesota, have been named to positions recently vacated on the Irish football staff.

Alvarez replaces former outside linebacker coach Kurt Schottenheimer who left to become the special teams coach of the Cleveland Browns, where his brother Marty is the head coach. Alvarez joined the Hawkeye staff in 1979 under the tutelage of Hayden Fry. While at Iowa, Alvarez coached such standout as Larry Station, the Hawkeyes' all-time leading tackle.

The 60-year-old Alvarez grew up from Nebraska in 1969, where he was an all-Big Eight linebacker in his senior year.

Strong will replace Mike Stock as the Irish running back coach. Stock left to join the staff of the Cincinnati Bengals where he will coach the special teams. Stock had been on the Notre Dame coaching staff for four years.

Alvarez joined the Gophers' staff in 1984 with Lou Holtz after being named to Holtz' Arkansas staff in 1983. Strong played wide receiver at Tulsa for three years.

"As a head coach, you never have trouble justifying who you hire as assistants," said Holtz of the new additions. "But you do have trouble justifying who you don't hire. In that regard, I think that both Barry and Jim are outstanding people. Barry has an outstanding reputation in the Big Ten, and I've coached with Jim personally both at Arkansas and Minnesota. They'll both add a lot to our program because they belong at a place like Notre Dame."

Holtz talked to George Kelly, a former Irish assistant for 16 years, and current special assistant to Notre Dame Athletic Director Gene Corrigan, about resuming on-field duties. But after consulting with Corrigan, Kelly decided to continue on in his present position.

Sorin's Mark Trautmann connects on two of his 10 points in last night's 50-45 win over Stanford in the ACC Pit. The Sorin victory forces a tie-breaking rematch tonight at 9 p.m. in the ACC Pit for the 1987 men's interhall basketball championship. Details appear below.

Alvarez replaces former Irish assistants

"As a head coach, you never have trouble justifying who you hire as assistants," said Holtz of the new additions. "But you do have trouble justifying who you don't hire. In that regard, I think that both Barry and Jim are outstanding people. Barry has an outstanding reputation in the Big Ten, and I've coached with Jim personally both at Arkansas and Minnesota. They'll both add a lot to our program because they belong at a place like Notre Dame."

Holtz talked to George Kelly, a former Irish assistant for 16 years, and current special assistant to Notre Dame Athletic Director Gene Corrigan, about resuming on-field duties. But after consulting with Corrigan, Kelly decided to continue on in his present position.

Head coach Mary DiStanislao discusses game strategy with her team during a timeout. DiStanislao and the Irish have rebounded well of...