

ACCENT: New Year's doldrums

VIEWPOINT: The excesses of athletics

Read the independent newspaper serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary's

The Observer

FRIDAY, JANUARY 15, 1988

Japan pledges to work for 'dialogue and cooperation'

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - Japanese Prime Minister Noboru Takeshita pledged on Thursday to work for an era of "dialogue and cooperation" with the United States to improve the world economy, but U.S. calls continued for more specific steps by Japan to reduce its trade surplus.

Sen. John Danforth, R-Mo., said Japanese leaders have made promises before, yet the trade gap grows.

On one of the current major sore points, U.S. inability to penetrate Japan's construction market, U.S. Trade Representative Clayton Yeutter said a proposal brought by Takeshita falls short of expectations and that the Reagan administration would consider retaliatory action.

Takeshita, on his first visit to the United States since taking office in November, vowed after a three-hour meeting with President Reagan on Wednesday to work to improve relations between the two nations, stabilize financial markets and play a larger role in helping the world's debtor countries.

He expanded on those themes Thursday in a speech and question-answer session at the National Press Club, the only speaking engagement on his three-day trip to Washington.

"The Japanese-American alliance is now entering a new age in which it must not only serve the interests of our two countries, but must also contribute to a better future for the entire world," he said.

"The world must be transmuted to the 60's --a place of confrontation and conflict into a world of dialogue and cooperation," he said. "Let us create a global partnership of Japan and the United States dedicated to peace and prosperity on our planet earth by combining our efforts to get things done."

Arafat calls U.S. to accept PLO

Associated Press

BAGHDAD, IRAQ - Yasser Arafat said yesterday he will support Israel's right to exist, but if it and the United States accept PLO participation in an international Middle East peace conference.

He said such a conference must be based on all U.N. resolutions, not just No. 242.

That resolution was passed after the 1967 Middle East war by the Security Council and calls for recognition of Israel, right to exist within secure borders, return for refugees and withdrawal from occupied territories.

"We would accept 242," in the context of a conference, Arafat said in an interview at his military headquarters in Jadiriya, a southern suburb of Baghdad.

"As this conference would be under U.N. auspices, that means the full legality of all U.N. resolutions, including 242 and 338 would be recognized, the Palestine Liberation Organization leader said.

He said resolutions passed by the U.N. General Assembly binding on member nations but those passed by the General Assembly are not.

"To reassure Israel about its security beside any Palestinian state, Arafat said, he would allow low U.N. troops to patrol the border on Palestinian territory.

"Israel considers the PLO a terrorist organization and refuses to deal with it. The United States has rejected direct negotiations with the PLO in Middle East peace efforts.

In Israel, Foreign Ministry spokeswoman confirmed this conference would be only under U.N. auspices.

He said President Reagan's new security adviser, Lt. Gen. Brent Scowcroft, said, "never threatened reprisals" during a recent tour of Central America.

Arafat said he wrote a strongly worded letter to Ortega on Wednesday about Nicaragua's failure to live up to the accord only because he had not had a chance to communicate with the Sandinista leader in recent days.

Arias shares blame for peace plan failure

Associated Press

SAN JOSE, COSTA RICA - President Oscar Arias on Thursday blamed himself and the other Central American presidents for their failure to achieve the major goals of his peace plan.

"There hasn't been the political will to comply," Arias told a news conference on the eve of a summit meeting of the region's five chief executives.

"There has always been an excuse not to comply."

But Arias rejected the suggestion that the Central Americans are powerless to shape their own destiny in the face of interference by the superpowers of East and West.

"All I can tell you is that if we had complied already, there would be no more war in the region and the superpowers would not be thinking in terms of offering more military support to the rebel forces in Central America," he said.

Arias, who won the 1987 Nobel Peace Prize for devising and promoting the peace plan, declined to say whether he would seek an extension of the initiative beyond Friday's summit.

The meeting was to have marked the final deadline for compliance with the accord signed in Guatemala on Aug. 7 by Arias and the presidents of Nicaragua, El Salvador, Guatemala and Honduras.

The Costa Rican president vehemently denied that the United States had pressured him to lean on President Daniel Ortega of Nicaragua for his failure to obtain a cease-fire or achieve other major goals of the Arias plan.

He paid President Reagan's new security adviser, Lt. Gen. Brent Scowcroft, a visit in Washington last week and said, "never threatened reprisals" during a recent tour of Central America.

"He said I wrote a strongly worded letter to Ortega on Wednesday about Nicaragua's failure to live up to the accord only because he had not had a chance to communicate with the Sandinista leader in recent days.

Army sergeant charged with espionage for the Soviets

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - An Army sergeant stationed at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds in Maryland was arrested Thursday on charges of attempting to deliver defense information to the Soviet Union, the FBI said.

Sgt. Daniel Walter Richardson, 41, an instructor in the tank turret division at Aberdeen, was arrested shortly after noon at the Chesapeake House Holiday Inn in Aberdeen, the FBI said.

"Richardson is accused of attempting to deliver information relating to national defense to a representative of the Soviet Union," spokesman William Carter said, reading from a statement issued by FBI Director William Sessions and Maj. Gen. Harry Syostern, commander of U.S. Army Intelligence and Security Command, INSCOM.

Federal law enforcement sources speaking on condition of anonymity said the information involved was not classified and had to do with the tank turret division.

The sources also said that there was no Soviet at the arrest site. They said that Richardson evidently initiated the contact with the Soviets and that federal authorities monitored those contacts. As a result, a federal undercover agent set up a meeting with Richardson that resulted in his arrest.

It appeared that no information actually changed hands. One law enforcement source, speaking on condition of anonymity, said that if Richardson had actually delivered the information, that would have been in the charge.

Richardson, of Oakland, Calif., joined the Army in 1968.

His specialty is tank turret repairman and he is qualified to work for an era of "dialogue and cooperation" with the United States to improve the world economy, but U.S. calls continued for more specific steps by Japan to reduce its trade surplus.
Censorship ruling too restrictive for the press

Judge Bork resigned as a federal appeals court judge, saying he wants to conduct "a public campaign of miseducation" that thwarted his nomination to the Supreme Court, the White House announced yesterday. President Reagan reluctantly accepted Judge Robert Bork's request to step down from the court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, effective Feb. 5. He called the conservative judge's defeat in the Senate a "tragedy for our country." "All Americans are the poorer today for not having your extraordinary legal and legal skills on the high court," Reagan told Bork in a letter. - Associated Press

Sarah's pregnant according to a London newspaper. Prince Andrew's wife was announced as expecting the couple's first child yesterday, but Buckingham Palace would neither confirm nor deny the report. The Sun, Britain's biggest-selling newspaper with a circulation of 4 million, said the 28-year-old Duchess of York is expecting a baby at the end of July. The couple married on July 29, 1986. - Associated Press

Peter "the Whip" Ahowd, asenior electrical engineering major, will be performing an original music concert tonight at 8 p.m. in the Little Theatre of the LaFortune Student Center. The bus fee will be collected at this time. - Observer

A luau will be held in the Stepan Center Saturday night, beginning at 9 p.m. The luau, sponsored by the Student Union Board, features a dunk tank, slip and slide, volleyball, food and drinks. - Observer

Interview Sign-Up Orientation Session will be held in the Career & Placement Services Conference Room on Monday, Jan. 18 at 2:30 p.m. and Jan. 19 at 4 p.m. Those who are new to the interviewing sign-up process should attend one of these presentations. - Observer

Ice skating tonight at the J.A.C.C. from 10:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. Free skate rentals, hot chocolate, and donuts will be provided. - Observer

Teams can still be formed for the 1988 campus-wide college bowl tournament, to be held starting Jan. 29. Rules and entry applications are available at the Center for Continuing Education information desk. The deadline for applications is Jan. 26. For more information, contact Dr. Lombardo, at 239-7005. - Observer

Summer service project applications may be picked up during the month of January at the Center for Social Concerns. The deadline for returning applications is Feb. 1. For more information call 239-5235. - Observer

Sophomore class mass will be held this Sunday, Jan. 17, at Sacred Heart Church. Father Leveille will celebrate mass at 3 p.m. All are invited to attend. - Observer

Question: How do you reach over 12,000 people daily?
Answer: Buy Observer ad space. Call 239-6900.
Journal commends ND food

By ANGELA MCDONALD
News Staff

A recent article in the Wall Street Journal commended Notre Dame on the improvement of its modernized food service.

Notre Dame as well as approximately eight hundred universities around the country are saying good-bye to the monotonous cafeteria style food service and welcoming a modern and personal atmosphere, the article said.

"No longer can we work with traditional food services because students are requesting foods that can be found in any restaurant," said William Hickey, director of Notre Dame's food service.

"The effort is to restaurantize the campus," said William Hickey in the Wall Street Journal. "It's the attitude. That's what makes us different and that's what makes us the leaders," he said.

Verdict: ND food is good

By GREG LUCAS
Senior Staff Reporter

As you take another bite of your pizza, do you want to stop and consider your diet? How healthy is it? If you are like most Notre Dame students, you have probably drifted away from the balanced meals that characterized your high school years.

It can readily be inferred from listening to students' conversations in the dining hall that University Food Services is to blame. However, this assumption may be unjustified.

"I don't think there is anything lacking in the dining hall," said James Moriarty, physician at University Health Services. Moriarty said off-campus students have the worst dietary habits.

According to Timothy Mertz, manager of purchasing and nutrition for University Food Services, the key to maintaining healthy diets is moderation and variety. We offer a variety of foods so everyone can fulfill the four food groups at each meal, Mertz said.

"Without a doubt, you can eat very well from our menu," said Mertz, who added that "Most diabetics have no problem eating off our menu without any specific modifications".

From my experience and that of others, I think that Notre Dame does a very good job and maintains high standards," said Mertz, adding that William Hickey, director of food services, has earned several prestigious awards and is nationally recognized.

Mertz said that the ideal diet should consist of 50% carbohydrates (simple sugars and starch); 30% fats (both saturated and unsaturated); and 20% protein. A popular misconception is that a person should entirely avoid fats while concentrating on protein rich food, Mertz said. "Too much protein does not break down properly and may eventually cause damage to the kidneys," said Mertz.

The best way to meet USRDA standards and maintain a balanced diet is to eat a variety of foods without keying in on one food group, said Mertz. The dining hall offers a variety of healthy, fiber rich foods such as fruits and vegetables along with the popular hamburgers and hotdogs, Mertz said.

Join The Observer

GO TUBING AT BENDIX WOODS

Monday, 7 pm - 10:30 pm
$2 per person
Sign-up in SUB office

includes: transportation, hot chocolate, donuts, and intertubing

Meet buses at Library Circle!
Woman says she bombed plane to stop Olympics

Associated Press

SEOUL, SOUTH KOREA - A woman linked to the destruction of a South Korean airliner with 115 people aboard confessed on television Friday that she was a Communist agent and said she planted a bomb on the plane.

She identified herself as Kim Hyong-hee and said she and a male companion blew up the aircraft in a liquor bottle and a detonator hidden in a radio and left it on the plane.

"It is natural that I should be punished and killed a hundred times for my sin," the 25-year-old woman told a nationally televised press conference.

Her male companion killed himself last month. He was identified as Kim Sung II, 69, a North Korean intelligence agent and a member of the ruling North Korean Communist Party.

South Korean intelligence agents said Ms. Kim was acting on the personal orders of Kim Jong II, son and political heir of top North Korean leader Kim Il Sung.

Ms. Kim, who said she was from the North Korean capital of Pyongyang, said she initially refused to answer questions about the plane to shield Kim Jong II. She used his formal title of "dear leader."

"I had decided being involved in the incident to keep secret the authority of the dear leader to the end," she said.

Peace continued from page 1

demonstration of the double talk of Mr. Arafat."

"We never took these statements seriously in the past, and we don't take them seriously now," he said.

Added Avi Pazner, an aide to Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir: "There is nothing new in what Arafat proposes. He knows perfectly well that Israel is not ready to negotiate with him."

In Washington, White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said of Arafat's remarks: "Our position on the international peace conference is that there has to be direct negotiations between Israel and its neighbors, but we also feel that an international peace conference perhaps could be a helpful vehicle."

We have pressed, as all spokesman Ehud Gol said the PLO proposal "is yet another tions have, for recognition of Israel. I don't have a direct response to his proposal."
Success and failure are closely related ideas. Each depends on the other for its meaning. Each as well as all of us are deeply concerned with our own as well as society's, particularly in business and sports.

Donald Gutierrez
guest column

College and professional sports are of course not just for the purpose of having fun; they comprise a massive commercial enterprise. Consequently, enjoyment still exists in sports, both amateur and professional. Generally, the attitude conveyed by many people involved in sports is that big money is involved today in sports, the values: the success that some hold it instills in the society.

Available also result in the successful advertising of sports and commercial personalities that lead to defense of, so that they can reduce the corruption of values in our society already induced by our national obsession with making a lot of money as the path to success. It is disturbing to watch sportscasters build up some athletes and it is disturbing to see that the implied greatness and obvious glamour derives in part from the industry's frequent use of terms like "superstar" which such money allows. Yet what people are questioning today is whether any athlete is worth over $2,000,000 a year (a question one should also ask about Pop Rock artists, movie stars, and corporation heads). Does Magic Johnson, marvellous basketball player that he is, deserve a year contract? Is this really a wise thing to make as much money as possible, to make far more than we need even to live comfortably (as an athlete) and the "ideal" of greed usually does more harm than good to both an individual and society, because it stifles self-denial, kindness, magnanimity, and altruism. Athletes have to make what money than can during their relatively short playing career.

"We dangerously corrupt our sense of proportion in making demigods of our celebrities." As at least as regards the salaries of stars, this argument is not persuasive. Some of these athletes are making millions of dollars in just a few years, and they handle their money shrewdly, end up domes with impressive capital, investing in stock, buying restaurants and real estate and sportsgear businesses, not to mention making very lucrative advertisements. In the process, some athletes are becoming well off indeed, compared to the average clerical worker or teacher, average artist or janitor, who usually struggles to make a living. Athletes are our culture heroes. If they make the professional ranks and do well, we reward them generously, largely generosily, in view of the fact that they are not genuinely significant heroes. The endless inflation of sports fees and athletes by the media is a fraud that the public and particularly athletes should be very critical of, so that they can reduce the corruption of values in our society already induced by our national obsession with making a lot of money as the path to success. It is disturbing to watch sportscasters build up some athletes' strategy or comeback or modesty in sportscasting build up some athletic success.

Donald Gutierrez teaches the Department of Spanish and Mexican University and was a Notre Dame Research Fellow in the Fall of 1987.

Doonesbury

"Human beings who receive far more money or fame or power than anyone deserves and yet feel no more human or decent, can easily be made to believe that they are like human beings."

Richard Bach Illusions

Editors Board

Editor in Chief ........................................ Kevin Becker

Managing Editor ................................. Michael Naughton

News Editor ........................................ Chris Bernardi

Associate News Editor ......................... Dennis Conover

Viewpoint Editor ................................. Chris Murphy

Assistant Editor ................................. Michael Naughton

Saint Mary's Editor .................... Sandy Carmean

Photo Editor ........................................ Jim Carnell

Operations Board

Business Manager ................................ John O'Connor

Advertising Manager ......................... Mark McCarthy

Marketing Manager ......................... Steve Clark

Promotions Manager ......................... Dennis Conover

Projects Manager ............................. Mark McCaughan

Webmaster .............................................. Scott Shepherd

Compositor .............................................. Tracy Schendel

Graphic Arts Manager .......................... Laura Topham

The Observer

P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556 (219) 239-5303

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame. It does not necessarily reflect the opinions of the administration of either institution. The News is reported as accurately and objectively as possible. Unattributed opinions represent the opinions of the majority of the Editorial Board. Comments, letters, and the Inside Column present the views of their authors. Column space is limited: Letters to the editor should be no longer than three hundred words and should include name, address, and telephone number. Comments should be no longer than five hundred words. Opinions expressed in student essays do not necessarily reflect the views of the administration of either institution.

To: The Observer, 425 Main Building, Notre Dame

From: John O'Connor

Subject: Newsstand Policy

Dear Observer Reader,

I am writing in response to the recent controversy that has arisen regarding our newsstand policy. As you are aware, the current policy has been designed to ensure the profitability of the Observer while also providing a convenient and accessible location for students to purchase the newspaper.

In light of recent feedback, we have decided to make some adjustments to the policy. Specifically, we will be implementing a new system that will allow students to purchase newspapers at a discounted rate through a subscription service. This will enable us to continue to offer a competitive price to our customers while also maintaining a healthy profit margin.

We understand that this change may require some adjustment on the part of our readers, but we believe it is in the best interest of both the Observer and our readership. We are committed to providing high-quality content and ensuring that the Observer remains accessible to all students.

Thank you for your continued support of the Observer.

Sincerely,
John O'Connor

Business Manager
Standing in queue is part of the lifestyle every Londoner must face. I was surprised that the quietness we are not used to in the States, the lack of noise, the cleanliness everywhere, the quietness we are not used to in the States, the lack of noise, the cleanliness everywhere, is a welcome change. Part of the weariness must come from the excitement of being in a new place, the new sights, the new sounds, the new smells. Part of the weariness must come from the excitement of being in a new place, the new sights, the new sounds, the new smells.

I can tell you what I say to myself in London: this is a good place, and I'm glad I came. What a waste of Camden! Life stays sweet, even on days when you see crabbag in the street, when you feel the cold wind, when you keep your head up and stay out of jail, able to look forward to the fast-approaching greener pastures.

In December, I spent a weekend in the hospital while you were getting ready for finals. I brought the sickness on myself, and fate. If you give it a chance, will eventually nail you. An old service expression goes: "If conditions can turn to s—, they probably will." You should be in a hurry to rush into "Lts." (for "turn to s—") situations. As an optimist, John D. Rockefeller Jr. said, "You have to stay on your guard to keep your quality of life from deteriorating. Stupid habits could bring an early death. It is time you stop thinking of the situations you have for yourself. That is why, in a Christian community, you have elders caring and acting like moral bulldogs, advising you about the danger of a "Lts." situations. Clerics bulldogs are apt to be disregarded, as Cassandra was disregarded by the Greeks. A prophetess, Cassandra was fated to predict every act of truth, but her life was not believed. Do the young wish to be allowed to make their own mistakes? Naturally they do: "The cleverest blessed, with the gift of hope, can offer hope to the casualties. In the Christian life, you can always start over, since grace is everywhere, even in your last mistake. Until your final breath is drawn, you don't face the "situations you can't be redeemed, at least partially, though redemptions come to the forgotten, and the day stretches toward evening; and you can never get back again to the lost childhood, once they have thrown it away on a fool's paradise.

Last Saturday, in a London parish, two 13-year old lasses came to talk to the priest. One of them told the priest that the other was thinking of having sex with her 15-year old boyfriend; the first girl brought the tempted one to the priest.

I can only tell you what I say to myself in London: this is a good place, and I'm glad I came; so why sweat the small stuff?

I'm just off the plane from two weeks in London, rolling around London in line with the rest of the crowd, waiting around airports. As for me, I'm not as I was in England. I don't feel faced with a re-entry problem, getting used to Notre Dame again. Dr. Johnson said: "When a man is tired of London, he is tired of life." It seems to me that if a man were tired of life, London could drive him or her crazy, since it is an over-crowded city, and from being bored, I might as well as I am, because I am bored.

Father Robert Griffin

Letters to a Lonely God

Standing in queue is part of the lifestyle every Londoner must face. I was surprised that the quietness we are not used to in the States, the lack of noise, the cleanliness everywhere, the quietness we are not used to in the States, the lack of noise, the cleanliness everywhere, is a welcome change. Part of the weariness must come from the excitement of being in a new place, the new sights, the new sounds, the new smells. Part of the weariness must come from the excitement of being in a new place, the new sights, the new sounds, the new smells.

I can tell you what I say to myself in London: this is a good place, and I'm glad I came. What a waste of Camden! Life stays sweet, even on days when you see crabbag in the street, when you feel the cold wind, when you keep your head up and stay out of jail, able to look forward to the fast-approaching greener pastures.

In December, I spent a weekend in the hospital while you were getting ready for finals. I brought the sickness on myself, and fate. If you give it a chance, will eventually nail you. An old service expression goes: "If conditions can turn to s—, they probably will." You should be in a hurry to rush into "Lts." (for "turn to s—") situations. As an optimist, John D. Rockefeller Jr. said, "You have to stay on your guard to keep your quality of life from deteriorating. Stupid habits could bring an early death. It is time you stop thinking of the situations you have for yourself. That is why, in a Christian community, you have elders caring and acting like moral bulldogs, advising you about the danger of a "Lts." situations. Clerics bulldogs are apt to be disregarded, as Cassandra was disregarded by the Greeks. A prophetess, Cassandra was fated to predict every act of truth, but her life was not believed. Do the young wish to be allowed to make their own mistakes? Naturally they do: "The cleverest blessed, with the gift of hope, can offer hope to the casualties. In the Christian life, you can always start over, since grace is everywhere, even in your last mistake. Until your final breath is drawn, you don't face the "situations you can't be redeemed, at least partially, though redemptions come to the forgotten, and the day stretches toward evening; and you can never get back again to the lost childhood, once they have thrown it away on a fool's paradise.

Last Saturday, in a London parish, two 13-year old lasses came to talk to the priest. One of them told the priest that the other was thinking of having sex with her 15-year old boyfriend; the first girl brought the tempted one to the priest.

I can only tell you what I say to myself in London: this is a good place, and I'm glad I came; so why sweat the small stuff?
Associated Press
DENVER - The Cleveland Browns and Denver Broncos, the AFC's biggest winners the last two years, meet in a game that special losses as their motivation for Sunday's conference championship game.

The Browns remember last year's AFC championship, before nearly 80,000 screaming, dog biscuit-throwing fans in Cleveland Stadium. They remember taking a 20-13 lead in the fourth quarter, then pinning Denver on its two-yard line. They remember The Drive, engineered masterfully by John Elway, to the tying touchdown. And Rich Karlis overcalled the goal field to win.

The Broncos recall their first Super Bowl appearance in nine years. They recall leading 10-9 at halftime but having blown at least another 10 points. They recall how the Giants blew the lead to the Browns in overtime, altering the course of their season.

Neither team can forget. Neither team wants to forget.

"We got to this point last year and we didn't get the chance to take that extra step," Cleveland's Ozzie Newsome said. "But this time, we want the chance to be happy. We're not satisfied just being in the championship game."

The game is happy to be there. They are not intimidated by having to play at Mile High Stadium, where the Broncos have lost only one non-strike game in two years.

"It's a great stadium," Broncos Coach Marty Schottenheimer said. "I played there once and there were about 80,000 people, and they wore those vertically striped socks. I don't think the noise is anything unusual, not like playing in a dome.

"I would say that on the basis of the best record in the AFC, the two best teams are in this year and were last year. It was a great football game last year, if you didn't care who won, and I expect it'll be another great game this year again."

Irish
continued from page 12
bring it back out. We want to be both. We want to be a two-team, a two-big-break-team.

The Huskies attempted to press full-court as the Irish when McGraw rested point guard Mary Gavron. Tanya Kava, a senior, Kirby Robinson proved she could handle the basketball and the pressure.

"Karen played a great game," said McGraw. "She's really real. I thought she did a nice job with the ball.

The game was less physical in the second half, with one exception. With 2:08 left and the Irish leading 51-50, NIU's Genia Stasikov and Notre Dame's Laura Liebscher, and soon after the foul a fight broke out involving Diana Wings of NIU and Notre Dame's Cathy Emigholz. Both players were assessed technical fouls. The bench was called for another because several players left the bench to join in the altercation.

The victory may have been a good tune-up for the Irish, who take on Big East powerhouse DePaul.

"They're very, very good," said McGraw. "They are picked to win the Big East, but we're 2-6 now. It should be a great game. We're really hoping that a lot of people get to stay after the men's game to watch us."

Syracuse has lost to Villanova and Virginia, two teams which also have beaten the Irish this season, and at FIU State. The game will be played in the Joyce ACC following the men's game against DePaul.

An aggressive Minnesota defense has made the Vikings one of the four teams vying for a spot in the Super Bowl. The conference championship games get under way this weekend in Denver and Washington.

Vikings looking for a better toss

Associated Press
WASHINGTON - Never mind the Redskins offense; it was the coin toss on the Minnesota Vikings the last two times they played Washington.

Each time they took the Redskins to overtime, each time they lost the coin toss and Washington won with a score on its first possession.

"Maybe this time, we'll win a coin toss and win the game," Minnesota Coach Jerry Burns says of Sunday's meeting with the Redskins for the NFC championship.

The last coin the Vikings fell wrong for the Vikings was just three weeks ago in Minneapolis, when it looked like the vagaries of "heads" or "tails" would eliminate Minnesota from the playoffs.

After dominating for most of the game, they allowed the Redskins to tie the game on a 51-yard pass from Doug Williams to Ricky Sanders with 1:46 left, then lost the toss and the game 27-24 on Art Monk's 26-yard field goal. That kept the Vikings from clinching a playoff berth and they snuck in the back door only because Dallas was beaten by Dallas on the final Sunday.

A similar thing happened on Nov. 2, 2008, when the Redskins rallied from a 12-point deficit in the final five minutes to tie the game, then won 44-30 on Jay Schroeder's 38-yard touchdown pass to Gary Clark on their first possession in overtime.

Both were odd games. Minnesota dominated from the outset, ending up with a three-point victory over the Redskins. But because of a fumble lost by Washington in overtime, the Vikings had a first down on the Redskins 2.

But D.J. Dozier was thrown for a three-yard loss, Wade Wilson was sacked for two yards, then Barry Wilburn picked off a Wilson pass and returned it 99 yards for a touchdown. So the teams went off at halftime tied 7-7 although Minnesota had outgained Washington 227-94 yards and held the ball for more than 22 of the 30 minutes.

The second half was more even, as Williams relieved Schroeder and threw for 217 yards after intermission, a performance that earned him the starting assignment for the playoffs.

Still, the Vikings had a 10-point lead midway through the fourth quarter before Williams led a 65-yard, 12-play drive.
Swimmers hot in Ariz.

Welsh pleased with break

By GREG GUFFEY

Sports Writer

The switch from the cold and snow of South Bend to sunny Arizona was a pleasant one for the Irish swim teams during break.

The workouts, however, were anything but easy.

Both the mens' and womens' teams trained for two weeks in the Arizona sun over break. They also competed in a non-scoring relay meet at Arizona State with the Sun Devils and SMU.

The swimmers worked out twice daily for a total of four hours, and the results of those sessions left coach Tim Welsh optimistic about the near future.

"One of the keys of the season is intense training in a sustained period of time," Welsh said. "The results have been excellent, and they have also been encouraging in the perspective of how hard we have been working."

While they did not capture any first places in the non-scoring meet against the tough competition, the Irish did turn in several good performances.

The mens' squad picked up four second-place finishes. The team of Christine Moston, Mary Acampora, Kathleen Quirk and Barbara Byrne was the runner-up in the 4x100 backstroke, while Acampora, Moston, Callie Bolattino and Tracy Johnson were second in the 4x100 medley relay.

Quirk, Annette Quill, Amy Vogel, Jeanmarie Browne and Johnson were second in the 5x50 relay, as was the team of Johnson, Kelly Quinn, Quill, Vogel and Amy Darlington in the 5x100 relay.

"This trip has increased our confidence," Welsh said. "We were able to swim fast even though we were sore and tired. We know that when we are less sore and less tired and take the time to prepare ourselves, we can be faster."

"This kind of meet was perfect for our stage of development. It was good for us to be in the water with the nation's elite swimmers and to compare them to ourselves. We were able to trust ourselves and our training."

The Irish travel to Northern Illinois today and then return to host Western Ontario Saturday at Rolf's Aquatic Center.

SMU names Gregg head coach

Associated Press

DALLAS - Forrest Gregg left his head coaching job with the Green Bay Packers and returned to his alma mater Thursday to start anew the SMU program tainted in a scandal-rocked football program.

"It's a distinct honor for us at SMU today to announce the selection and appointment of our new head football coach - Forrest Gregg," SMU athletic Director Doug Single said at news conference.

Gregg, who was the SMU football team's captain in 1956, now has the job of restoring SMU's program tainted in a play-for-pay scandal that blotted out the school's 1987 and 1988 seasons.

"I am really pleased to be home," said Gregg, who has never coached college football, but took the Cincinnati Bengals to the Super Bowl. "I've been doing a lot of things - the National Football League for a long time, and I always thought that somewhere along the line ... that I'd like to be here."

Gregg was expected to get a four-year contract with a one-year option at SMU's choice, and was expected to take a two-thirds pay cut from the $300,000 salary he was going to earn with the Packers this year.

SMU originally offered the job to Colorado Coach Bill McCartney, who at first accepted then declined. Former Ohio State Coach Earle Bruce and high school coach Tim Edmonds of L.D. Bell were other top candidates.
The St. Louis Cardinals hope to return to the World Series behind the power of Bob Horner, who signed with the National League team Thursday after a stint in Japan. Shown above are two of Horner's new teammates, Tony Pena and Todd Worrell.

definition

The TI-95 PROCALC™ is our most powerful, top of the line advanced scientific with a full range of scientific, mathematic and statistical functions. It uses redefinable function keys to provide easy access to functions with menu-like windows and has a flexible file management system to conveniently store programs and data. The TI-95 offers optional accessories such as Solid State Software™ cartridges, an 8K constant memory cartridge, a portable proster and cassette interface.

The TI-90 Advanced Scientific features such as large built-in functions as hexadecimal/octal conversions, integration using Simpson's rule, statistics (including linear regression), trend line analysis and metric to English conversions. There are also 84 programming steps for repetitive calculations.

The TI-74 BASICAL™ is a calculator that you can program in BASIC. It has a dual-keystroke access to 41 commonly used BASIC commands. The TI-74 also functions as an advanced scientific calculator, offering 70 preprogrammed scientific functions.

The TI Business Analyst Soler™ provides all the power of the TI-74 in a solar-powered calculator, and adds the ability to perform time-value-of-money, cash flow and bond calculations.

The TI-80 Advanced Scientific features such as large built-in functions as hexadecimal/octal conversions, integration using Simpson's rule, statistics (including linear regression), trend line analysis and metric to English conversions. There are also 84 programming steps for repetitive calculations.

The TI-84 Technical Analyst™ offers all of the built-in functions of the TI-80, plus a stopwatch/timer for labwork, eight physical constants for use in thermodynamics and physics as well as Decision Programming (if...then) capabilities. There are also 100 preprogrammed steps for repetitive calculations.

For further information contact Molly Killen at The Observer (239-5303)
DePaul

continued from page 12

Though they all will play Saturday, the three will most likely not be at full strength.

"I'm not worried about getting this team ready for the game," said Phelps. "All I have to do is have them look at the last minute-and-a-half of last month's game when we were up by six." In that game, played at the Rosemont Horizon on Dec. 12, Notre Dame blew a six-point lead with 1:22 remaining in the game and eventually lost in overtime, 73-69.

Similarly last January, the Irish held a 53-52 advantage with 56 seconds to go before losing the lead and the game, 59-56. "The most revenge followed a month later when Notre Dame upset the fourth-ranked Blue Demons at the ACC, 73-62. The Irish would like nothing more than to repeat that scenario and split its annual series with DePaul with a win on Saturday.

"When you talk about the best independents in the country," said Phelps, "Notre Dame and DePaul are usually at the top of the list. So this game is played for pride - for the right to say you are the best of the independents. They come in here knowing they beat us last month at the Horizon. We come in knowing we did a lot of good things for 36 or 37 minutes in a game, but we still didn't win the game."

On Saturday, as in the DePaul win last month, two of the nation's premier guards go head-to-head. David Rivers poured in 26 points in last month's contest, while Strickland scored 22 for the Blue Demons.

Strickland has had more trouble off the court than on it, however. After sitting out DePaul's first three games because of academic troubles, the 6-3 junior slipped into more hot water after a New Year's Eve dormitory scuffle and an unexcused absence from Monday's practice. Strickland will appear in court next week on battery charges. He will play Saturday against the Irish.

Edward's' mother, Rosemary Edwards of Marion, said she had been confident her son would regain his eligibility.

"He's been practicing a lot by himself and I think everything will be OK," she said.

Edwards, who took an art class offered to all IU students during the holiday break, had to earn a B in the course to improve his grade average to an acceptable 1.8. Mrs. Edwards said her son submitted eight projects for the class.

"Talking to Jay, I know he felt certain everything went fine in the class," Mrs. Edwards said Wednesday night.

Monday is the first day of the second semester at IU. The addition of Edwards boosted the Indiana roster back up to 12 players, and the Hoosiers probably can use the help. They began their Big Ten season 0-2 after dropping road losses to Iowa and Northwestern.

Edward's averaging 5.7 points and 14 minutes per game after playing in six of Indiana's outings, including a start against Vanderbilt and a high of 12 points against Notre Dame.

The freshman came off the bench to score 12 points against Notre Dame in the Hoosiers' 76-59 victory over the Irish in early December. Ten of those 12 points came in the last five minutes of the contest, and Edward's also came up with some fine defense to stop David Rivers and the Irish from getting back into the contest.
Campus

Saturday
12 p.m. Basketball vs. DePaul in the JACC
2 p.m. Swimming vs. Western Ontario at Rolfs Aquatic Center
7 p.m. Wrestling vs. Illinois State in the Auxiliary Gym

Sunday
2 p.m. Mass with members of Emmaus, a community with the mentally handicapped in Moreau Seminary
7:30 p.m. Right to Life group meets to finalize Washington D.C. plans in LaFortune Little Theater

Dinner Menus

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Notre Dame</th>
<th>Saint Mary's</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Grilled Pastrami</td>
<td>Batter Fried Fish</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fried Fish Flatter</td>
<td>Tacos</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Turkey Pot Pie</td>
<td>Bacon &amp; Cheese Omlette</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Linguine &amp; Vegetables</td>
<td>Deli Bar</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

We need someone with a good back, strong stomach, level head and a big heart.

We need a Peace Corps volunteer. Call us at 1-800-424-8580, Ext. 93.

Color Menus

Notre Dame
- Grilled Pastrami
- Tacos
- Bacon & Cheese Omlette
- Deli Bar

Saint Mary's
- Batter Fried Fish
- Tacos
- Bacon & Cheese
- Omlette

We need someone with a good back, strong stomach, level head and a big heart.

We need a Peace Corps volunteer. Call us at 1-800-424-8580, Ext. 93.

Peace Corps. The toughest job you'll ever love.

The Daily Crossword

ACROSS
1 "Madam, I'm..." (9)
5 Bar or dollar (3,3)
9 Washes (9)
14 Pedestal part (8)
15 Neatman (5)
16 Occurrence (6)
17 Norse deity (5)
18 Cossack (5)
20 Immediately (6)
21 Fontaner's partner (7)
24 Meadow (5)
25 Way up (5)
26 "Shane" star (8)
33 Removes the gray (8)
34 Author Hunter (7)
35 Actress Arthur (7)
46 Silence (7)
47 Egyptian goddess (7)
51 Saints — (4,4)
52 Want A.W.D.L. (4,4)
56 Kapl out (7)
57 Make face (8)
60 Antifouc. pref. (7)
61 Immediately (6)
62 Out of the wood (5)
63 Mission leader (8)
65 Tropical vibe (5)
66 Mariners (5)
67 Concern (6)
68 Ruhr valley city (8)
69 Let stand (7)
70 Obstacle (8)
71 S. used as a verb (6)
72 Seat (6)
73 Down (7)
74 In the crown's next (7)
75 Long (7)
76 Wears (7)
77 Valley (7)
78 Wears (7)
79 Removes the gray (7)
80 Immediately (6)
81 Serpent (7)
82 Declaration (8)
83 Turn thumbs down (6)
84 Internatal pref. (6)
85 Cease (6)
86 Grassly plain (7)
87 Polar stakes (8)
88 Shut (7)
89 Passes on the track (8)
90 Track (7)
91 Fuss (5)
92 Art style (6)
93 Mine entrance (7)
94 Obelisk e. g. (5)
95 Alluring (6)
96 In the crow's nest (5)
97 Long river (6)
98 Valley (6)
99 Wane (6)
100 Track (6)
101 Fall (6)
102 -to (as one) (6)
103 Ancient lr. capital of yore (8)
104 Medical (6)
105 Musical 1075 (6)
106 Bedfords (6)
107 Sociological (7)
108 Muscles (7)
109 Yacht (7)
110 Various (7)
111 Command (6)
112 Cubic meter (7)
113 Cuban (7)
114 To — (as one) (7)
115 Ancient lr. capital of yore (8)
116 "Little Women" name (8)

DOWN
1 Fuss (5)
2 Art style (6)
3 Mine entrance (7)
4 Obelisk e.g. (5)
5 Alluring (6)
6 In the crow's nest (5)
7 Long (6)
8 Valley (6)
9 Wane (6)
10 Wears (7)
11 Serpent (7)
12 Declaration (8)
13 Turn thumbs down (6)
14 Internatal pref. (6)
15 Cease (6)
16 Grassly plain (7)
17 Polar stakes (8)
18 Shut (7)
19 Passes on the track (8)
20 Track (7)
21 Fall (6)
22 —to (as one) (6)
23 Ancient lr. capital of yore (8)
24 Medical (6)
25 Musical (7)
26 Bedfords (6)
27 Sociological (7)
28 Yacht (7)
29 Various (7)
30 Command (6)
31 Cuban (7)
32 To — (as one) (7)
33 Ancient lr. capital of yore (8)
34 Medical (6)
35 Musical (7)
36 Bedfords (6)
37 Sociological (7)
38 Yacht (7)
39 Various (7)
40 Track (7)
41 Fall (6)
42 Cuban (7)
43 To — (as one) (7)
44 Ancient lr. capital of yore (8)
45 Medical (6)
46 Musical (7)
47 Bedfords (6)
48 Sociological (7)
49 Yacht (7)
50 Various (7)
51 Track (7)
52 Fall (6)
53 Cuban (7)
54 To — (as one) (7)
55 Ancient lr. capital of yore (8)
56 Medical (6)
57 Musical (7)
58 Bedfords (6)
59 Sociological (7)
60 Yacht (7)
61 Various (7)
62 Track (7)
63 Fall (6)
64 Cuban (7)
65 To — (as one) (7)
66 Ancient lr. capital of yore (8)
67 Medical (6)
68 Musical (7)
69 Bedfords (6)
70 Sociological (7)
71 Yacht (7)
72 Various (7)
73 Track (7)
74 Fall (6)
75 Cuban (7)
76 To — (as one) (7)
77 Ancient lr. capital of yore (8)
78 Medical (6)
79 Musical (7)
80 Bedfords (6)
81 Sociological (7)
82 Yacht (7)
83 Various (7)
84 Track (7)
85 Fall (6)
86 Cuban (7)
87 To — (as one) (7)
88 Ancient lr. capital of yore (8)
89 Medical (6)
90 Musical (7)
91 Bedfords (6)
92 Sociological (7)
93 Yacht (7)
94 Various (7)
95 Track (7)
96 Fall (6)
97 Cuban (7)
98 To — (as one) (7)
99 Ancient lr. capital of yore (8)
100 Medical (6)
101 Musical (7)
102 Bedfords (6)
103 Sociological (7)
104 Yacht (7)
105 Various (7)
106 Track (7)
107 Fall (6)
108 Cuban (7)
109 To — (as one) (7)
110 Ancient lr. capital of yore (8)
111 Medical (6)
112 Musical (7)
113 Bedfords (6)
114 Sociological (7)
115 Yacht (7)
116 Various (7)
117 Track (7)
118 Fall (6)
119 Cuban (7)
120 To — (as one) (7)
121 Ancient lr. capital of yore (8)

1000

Friday, January 15, 1988

The Observer page 11

WINTERFEST '88

Friday, January 15
Skating at the J.A.C.C.
10:30 pm - 1:00 am
-free rentals
-free hot chocolate & donuts

sponsored by SUB

Saturday, January 16
LAUU - Stepan Center
9 pm
-slip-n-slide
-music
-volleyball
-food
-dunk tank

D.J.
By BRIAN Yale, and his starting center Assistant Sports Editor being sidelined by injuries. practice the next day after conference as he discussed his team's easy 85-59 win over the seemed stronger, and his pos­ ward to the rematch with DePaul," said McCann. "I think the conference games are going to be like that. It was a real dog­ fight."

Phelps gears Irish for DePaul rematch

By Digger Phelps appeared relaxed, even satisfied. His team had just appeared sharp in a tuneup win over Yale, and his starting center and backup guard would be in practice the next day after being sidelined by injuries. His post-game meeting with the press was friendly, more like a fireside chat than a press conference as he discussed his team's easy 85-59 win over the Elia. Then suddenly his voice seemed stronger, and his pos­ ture straightened. While Notre Dame's win over Yale was the immediate topic, its matchup with DePaul on Saturday was in the back of everyone's mind in the room. Phelps knew it. It was on his mind too. But he would try not to let it show.

We're really looking forward to the rematch with DePaul," said Phelps. "That's all I have to say about Saturday's game." But it wasn't. A Chicago writer brought up the play where Keith Robinson need­ lessly bounced the ball in heavy guards to steal it. "And DePaul will do that," warned Phelps. "That's one of the things they do very well. (Rod) Strickland will come in and take it away." Moments later Phelps returned to the forbidden topic of DePaul. Gary Voce and Joe Fredrick, recovering from a sprained ankle and tendinitis, respectively, only returned to practice Thursday and forward Mark Stevenson sustained a 14- stitch cut in the Yale game. see DEPAUL, page 10

ND wrestlers on roll as home schedule begins

By CHRIS KILEY Sports Writer

Remember the Alamosa. That is what the Notre Dame wres­ tling team will be thinking as it enters its first home dual meet of the season against Illinois State on Saturday. What is the Alamosa? It is the sight of Adam State University and the team's stunning 19-16 loss on its swing out west over Christmas break. The In­ dians took advantage of the high Colorado altitude and a large crowd to totally surprise the Irish. "We ran into a hornets' nest," said Irish head coach Fran McCann. "They had 2,000 fans show up and they were the loudest, most rabid fans I've ever seen in my life. It was discouraging because we had better talent than them." Winners for the Irish were Jerry Duraso at 154 pounds, Mark Gerard at 158 pounds, Todd Tomarci at 167 pounds and Chris Geneser at 177 pounds. "They really got the crowd behind them," McCann said. "They were on their feet, stomping and screaming. It was incredible." Having received the wake-up call from Adams State, Notre Dame promptly avenged last season's loss to the Air Force Academy by crushing the Falcons, 31-9. "I was really pleased how we came back after the loss to Adams State," McCann noted. Notre Dame clung to the emotional wave and came out of the Wyoming In­ vitational with an impressive third­ place finish, behind Oklahoma State and North Dakota State. Geneser won Outstanding Wrestler honors by cruis­ ing through the 177-pound class. But perhaps the most impressive per­ formance of the tournament was turned in by Gerard at 158 pounds. Only a freshman, Gerard placed second, fal­ ling to Oklahoma State's Vinnie Silva 5-3 in the finals. Silva is currently ranked second in his division national­ ly. "Mark showed a tremendous amount of composure for a freshman," said McCann. Duraso also placed second at 134 pounds, behind Oklahoma State's John Smith. Duraso lost to the defending NCAA, Pan American, and World Champion by an 8-4 score. "John is probably the premier wrestler in the country right now and Jerry is the only one who has come close to beating him," McCann said. "He just needs one little break. That would be a tremendous win." The Irish enter Saturday's contest against Illinois State with an impres­ sive string of victories, yet they are lever of another Alamosa. "Illinois State always has some good individual wrestlers and this year won't be any different," said McCann. "They're good at the upper weights, but they can really get things off to a good start with John Chapman wrestling at 118 pounds. This is an important match because it's in our region and will have an impact on seeding." As with all home matches, McCann would like to see a strong show of sup­ port for the Irish. "We'd like to have a good turnout because it is an important match for us," McCann said. "And I tell you right now, the way the crowd was at Adams State had an impact. If sure affected us." The match is Saturday night at 7 in the Auxiliary Gym of the Joyce ACC.