100 free; rebel pact begins

Associated Press

MANAGUA, Nicaragua - The Sandinista government freed 100 political prisoners Sunday under an amnesty program, fulfilling the first part of a cease-fire pact with Nicaraguan rebels.

Interior Minister Tomas Borge called the gesture "possibly the beginning of the end." Tearful family members embraced their loved ones who were released from the Zona Franca jail on the outskirts of Managua. But amid the joy was an air of doubt. "They say I don't have anything to fear," said Felix Pedro Chavaria Gomes, 32, holding a plastic sack containing his belongings. "I'm happy, but I hope it doesn't fail.

...as US troops leave Honduras

Associated Press

PALERMOA AIR BASE, Honduras--Helicopters carried U.S. military units Tuesday prepared to return troops to the Honduran-Nicaraguan border. "We accomplished what we came here to do--put the Nicaraguans back in their place," Sgt. Matthew West said as he climbed out of a helicopter at the end of a flight from Juticalpa, about 40 miles from the Honduran-Nicaraguan border.

"Now we just want to get clean," said West, 21, from Dallas.

Soldiers from the 1st Airborne Division based at Fort Bragg, N.C., are expected to begin returning to the United States at about 5 p.m. EST Monday. They will be the first to arrive home after an 11-day training exercise meant as a show of U.S. military strength in the Central America region.

Units of the 7th Light Infantry Division headquartered at Fort Ord, Calif., also were flown here in the show of force. President Reagan sent the 3,200 soldiers to Honduras on March 11 after Honduran President Jose Azcona Hoyo asked for help. Azcona said an estimated 5,000 Nicaraguan troops had entered Honduras.

Chavaria said he was arrested in 1980 and charged with being a counter-revolutionary. Cesar Augusto Flores Mireando, 25, was arrested more than two years ago in Managua. "The majority of the peasants here are innocent," he said.

The release of the prisoners was the first step in an amnesty plan the Sandinistas agreed to Wednesday when they signed a cease-fire accord with leaders of the U.S.-backed rebels known as Contras. The sides declared a truce March 21 and a 60-day cease-fire is to begin April 1.

In another development, President Daniel Ortega suggested the United Nations send a multi-national peacekeeping force to arrive home after an 11-day training exercise meant as a show of U.S. military strength in the Central America region.

"What..." said Brody, director of the laboratory. "We're doing something very right, and we don't know how to handle the implications," said Brody. "Are we really doing badly? Not in comparison to the rest of the world.

Although the United States lags behind several industrial countries in total life expectancy, we may shed light on why, says Dr. Morris Pollard, director of the laboratory.

For each extra year of healthy life, Americans are encouraged to live another 50 years of bad health, said Brody, professor of epidemiology and dean of the School of Public Health at the University of Michigan in Chicago. "We've got to work on that," he said. "That's the weight, the sense of fear of growing old, and the burden society has in taking care of (the aged)."

Brody delivered the keynote address to a three-day meeting of researchers gathered to report findings on the effect of reduced calorie intake on rats. While a link between reduced diet and longer life was established 50 years ago, research conducted through Notre Dame's Lobund Laboratory may shed light on why, says Dr. Morris Pollard, director of the laboratory.
Want Respect? Don't work in a restaurant

If you want to retain any respect for your fellow human beings, never, never work in a restaurant.

I was fed for about a year-and-a-half at a place called Friendly's—sort of a cross between a Denny's and a Dairy Queen. I went in young and innocent, eager to do my best to serve the customer. I left a distorted, bitter misanthrope, thirsting for vengeance, wanting to hurt and maim those who had wronged me.

I am firmly convinced that people undergo a complete attitude change when they enter a restaurant. Somebody may normally be an upright, decent citizen. It doesn't make any difference. As soon as they enter a restaurant, they become a cruel, domineering tyrant, treating the staff as if they were chattel.

When we were waiting to close, for example, there would inevitably be two people holding up fixing over a single cup of coffee each for a half-hour.

We had ways to subtly give them the hint, "You're outta here NOW!!"

The gate at the front of the store would be lowered halfway. We would shut off all of the lights in the place except in the section they were sitting in. The rest of the tables would be cleaned off and set up for the next day.

If this didn't work, the entire staff would stand and pithetically stare at the offenders, trying to look as pitiable as possible. They would go up to them and say, "Excuse me, ma'am, but are you done with that fork and plate? I have nothing else to do now, so I'd like to wash them."

Even this usually didn't work. They would just keep on sitting over their coffee, saying things like, "Gee, Matilda, remember that time when you threw off that purple flower print at Bloomindale's?"

Almost as bad as this was having to serve the take-out line. The price of ice cream cones was raised from 96 cents to $1.01, but people weren't used to it yet, and so they would give me a fifty dollar bill, so I'd have to make $48.99 change.

"Oh, okay," they'd reply, and proceed to give me a fifty dollar bill, so I'd have to make $48.99 in change.

People have been trained since childhood to treat restaurant employees like pond scum. Once, when I was serving take-out, a seven-year-old girl was having a birthday party. She could have gotten something to go at the table, but that was too easy. Instead, she went to the take-out line. Thriving for vengeance, I was in front of her, but she pushed her way to the counter, shoved her grubby little face forward, and announced, in an obvious, nasal voice, "I want ice cream!"

"I'm sorry," I said (even though I wasn't), "but you'll have to wait until I serve the people in front of you."

The entire time, her mother was standing behind her, a small, approving smile upon her face. "I must be bringing my daughter up right. She's learning how to be a demanding, rude, thoughtless customer. I'm so proud!"

Kids weren't the worst customers, though. What we all dreaded at Friendly's was the invasion from the Old Folks' Home.

A typical order would go something like this: "Give me a grilled cheese sandwich, with one slice of wheat and one slice of white. Don't use too much butter cooking it—about half a pat. And use Swiss and Provolone cheese—no American."

Or they would get a hamburger, eat all of it except one bite, and then complain, "This is undercooked. I want a refund."

Even leaving the restaurant they would get in their licks.

They would whine at the cashier, "The bill says the coffee costs 50 cents, but I only drank half a cup. I should only have to pay 25 cents!"

And the people who sat at the counter! I could tell you some stories....
GSU elects new officers

By ROBYN SIMMONS
News Staff

Victor Krebs' uncontested ticket was elected March 8 to lead the Graduate Student Union.

Krebs will serve as president with vice-president Jeffrey Smart, secretary Linda Taylor, and information officer Brian Rosmaita.

Mark Borden, originally slated as social officer, backed out and will be replaced soon, Krebs said.

Krebs said one of his main objectives is to increase the involvement of the rest of the Notre Dame community.

Several projects will soon begin to accomplish this, he said. Committees working with the undergraduate student government will plan and organize campus-wide cultural and social activities, he added.

Krebs also said he hopes to continue the Travel Grant program, which helps graduate students pay their travel expenses to academic conferences.

"That's where most of our money goes," said outgoing vice-president Adria Colletti. "An important part of our education is going to these conferences and presenting your research and meeting other people in your field."

Sixty-seven percent of the graduate students' $30 activity fee goes to the travel grant program, she said.

The Union, however, has problems motivating students to get involved because they have so much work to do, Krebs said. "One of the reasons is that grad students don't live on campus," he said, "Obviously the needs of grad students are different."

About 33 percent of Notre Dame's graduate students are married while Brownson Hall and Saint Joseph's Hall are the only dorms which house graduate students.

"Obviously, more housing has to be available that is closer so that (graduate students) are not so far from campus," said Krebs.

In the long run, Krebs said he plans to start graduate student committees for campus ministry, social concerns, women and minority issues, housing, fund raising, and international national graduate students.

Krebs also added that he would like to revitalize and expand the programs created in the Graduate Student Union's early years, after its conception in 1969. "Grad students were a minority and they needed a way to fit into the rest of the community," said Krebs.

Krebs also added that the student government has to be available that the union has to be more housing to the Nicaraguan-Honduran border to stabilize the area.

Reluctant students were apprehended by County Sheriff's Office, who investigated vandalism of property at Joyce restaurants on US 31. Four ND students were apprehended by County Sheriff's Office and were later released back to campus by ND Security.

MARCH 25

11:55 a.m. A Sorn Hall resident reported that her car was vandalized while attending a party at the Campus View apartments during the last week of September. His loss estimate is $300.

2:54 a.m. A Grace Hall resident reported that his car was vandalized while parked in the JSU Lot sometime between 3 p.m. on 3/23 and 2 p.m. on 3/24. His loss is $30.

6:11 p.m. A resident of Howard Hall reported that the license plate was stolen from her car while it was parked in the JSU Lot. The license plate occurred between 6 p.m. on 3/24 and 6 p.m. on 3/25. Her loss is $240.

7:15 p.m. A South Bend resident reported that he lost his partner working on his car to an outside with the license plate sometime between 5:45 and 7:00 p.m. His loss is estimated at $150.

MARCH 26

3:26 a.m. While on routine patrol, a former security officer discovered that Steapy Center had been broken into.

6 a.m. Notre Dame Security was called to assist St. Joseph County Police in investigating vandalism of property at Joyce restaurants on US 31. Four ND students were apprehended by County Sheriff's Office and were later released back to campus by ND Security.

MARCH 27

2:30 a.m. During the Jazz Band concert the night before, a resident reported that members of one of the competing bands and a Student Union official had a fight after the concert ended. There was no damage when the license plate was stolen from the car while it was parked in the JSU Lot. The license plate occurred sometime between 5:30 and 7:00 p.m. His loss is estimated at $1600.

According to the legislation, another undisclosed number of Central American countries during the six-year civil war will be released at an unspecified later date. The government also plans a general review of the case of about 1,800 members of Somoza's now-disbanded National Guard, Ortega said.

Speaking to reporters Saturday night, Ortega noted the former guardsmen have been accused of human rights violations or crimes against humanity — such as the indiscriminate shooting of civilians — during the one-year revolution that brought the Sandinistas to power.

Many of them have been sentenced to the maximum penalty of 30 years imprisonment in the six-year civil war.

And despite a few tense days during which the Reagan administration had threatened military action, the Reagan administration had threatened military action, that brought the Sandinistas to power.

Ortega" said the "Our presence here definitely made a difference," said Sgt. Dale Taylor, 22, of Red Springs, N.C. "It proves how serious we are about what we are doing and that we can get here in 18 hours if the need arises."

The Reagan administration called the military action a training exercise, but it also was meant as a warning to the Sandinistas against further action inside the presidential guard. The Reagan administration ended 42 years of iron-fisted rule by his family, usually enforced by the National Guard.

Troops continued from page 1

The downfall of Somoza, a rightist pro-American madman, ended 42 years of iron-fisted rule by his family, usually enforced by the National Guard.

"Our presence here definitely made a difference," said Sgt. Dale Taylor, 22, of Red Springs, N.C. "It proves how serious we are about what we are doing and that we can get here in 18 hours if the need arises."

The Reagan administration called the military action a training exercise, but it also was meant as a warning to the Sandinistas against further action inside the presidential guard. The Reagan administration ended 42 years of iron-fisted rule by his family, usually enforced by the National Guard.

"Our presence here definitely made a difference," said Sgt. Dale Taylor, 22, of Red Springs, N.C. "It proves how serious we are about what we are doing and that we can get here in 18 hours if the need arises."

The Reagan administration called the military action a training exercise, but it also was meant as a warning to the Sandinistas against further action inside the presidential guard. The Reagan administration ended 42 years of iron-fisted rule by his family, usually enforced by the National Guard.

"Our presence here definitely made a difference," said Sgt. Dale Taylor, 22, of Red Springs, N.C. "It proves how serious we are about what we are doing and that we can get here in 18 hours if the need arises."

The Reagan administration called the military action a training exercise, but it also was meant as a warning to the Sandinistas against further action inside the presidential guard. The Reagan administration ended 42 years of iron-fisted rule by his family, usually enforced by the National Guard.

"Our presence here definitely made a difference," said Sgt. Dale Taylor, 22, of Red Springs, N.C. "It proves how serious we are about what we are doing and that we can get here in 18 hours if the need arises."

The Reagan administration called the military action a training exercise, but it also was meant as a warning to the Sandinistas against further action inside the presidential guard. The Reagan administration ended 42 years of iron-fisted rule by his family, usually enforced by the National Guard.

"Our presence here definitely made a difference," said Sgt. Dale Taylor, 22, of Red Springs, N.C. "It proves how serious we are about what we are doing and that we can get here in 18 hours if the need arises."

The Reagan administration called the military action a training exercise, but it also was meant as a warning to the Sandinistas against further action inside the presidential guard. The Reagan administration ended 42 years of iron-fisted rule by his family, usually enforced by the National Guard.

"Our presence here definitely made a difference," said Sgt. Dale Taylor, 22, of Red Springs, N.C. "It proves how serious we are about what we are doing and that we can get here in 18 hours if the need arises."

The Reagan administration called the military action a training exercise, but it also was meant as a warning to the Sandinistas against further action inside the presidential guard. The Reagan administration ended 42 years of iron-fisted rule by his family, usually enforced by the National Guard.

"Our presence here definitely made a difference," said Sgt. Dale Taylor, 22, of Red Springs, N.C. "It proves how serious we are about what we are doing and that we can get here in 18 hours if the need arises."

The Reagan administration called the military action a training exercise, but it also was meant as a warning to the Sandinistas against further action inside the presidential guard. The Reagan administration ended 42 years of iron-fisted rule by his family, usually enforced by the National Guard.
The H.G. Christman Company

and it’s subcontractors would like to extend a sincere

– THANK YOU

to all diners at North Dining Hall for their cooperation during the construction and addition of this facility. We are all committed to creating a state of the art facility for dining and social affairs. Construction is moving at a rapid pace because of your cooperation, understanding and tolerance.

– Thanks to All–
The H.G. Christman Company
Crime Stoppers and morality

On Monday, March 21, the Student Senate voted for the adoption of the Crime Stoppers program on campus. In practical terms nothing seems more unobjectionable. However, there are serious reasons to resist the implementation of any such plan at Notre Dame.

Victor Krebs

The intention behind the proposal to implement Crime Stoppers on campus is to motivate people to help fight against crime, which is a serious problem for our community, and it is a sign of mature responsibility to try to solve it. Moreover, the basic idea behind the program itself is a sound one. One of the reasons why crime is allowed to proliferate in any community, and probably the main reason it is allowed at Notre Dame, is the general apathy towards the welfare of others. It is a reasonable solution then to attempt to solve the problem by providing motivation for members of the community to become involved in the protection of themselves and others. In fact, the great success of Crime Stoppers in the community at large (we are all aware that “it works,” as the TV ads tell us) seems good enough evidence to suggest that there is a significant reduction of crime and, if the program continues to come with a bonus, for some people can enjoy a small supplement to their personal income on the basis of their service to the community.

But even at the intuitive level there is something incongruous in the suggestion that we motivate people to help prevent crime in their community by means of monetary reward. The fundamental assumption here is that people are motivated primarily by self-interest instead of from their moral sense is not a healthy way to protect the interest of others.

Furthermore, I would like to respond to Colleen Burke’s comment that I went too far in its act in The Keenan Rebuttal. I totally agree with her. As I explained to Dr. Hofman in a letter of apology, I did not intend to be vicious. Also, upon reflection, I agree that some of my jokes were not only in poor taste, but also down right vile. I should not have included them in my act under any circumstances. I only wish someone else has pointed out my tastelessness at dress rehearsal, at which I told exactly the same jokes.

I would like to take this opportunity to again apologize to Dr. Hofman, this time publicly. I am ashamed for what I did, and I will have to live the rest of my life knowing that I publicly humiliated a great man.

I would also like to thank Colleen Burke for her constructive criticism, a thing I always welcome and invite. I am confident that she and others have likewise offended will not be deterred from seeing other routines of mine in the future, as we were, clear insinuations and outright lies.

Once again, my sincerest apologies to Dr. Emil T. Hofman.

Jane Diane Ricciardi

The motivation required for active communal involvement in the fight against crime at Notre Dame is promoted by means of a community educational campaign to raise moral awareness and solidarity. There are many such programs (one need only to think of the “Don’t be a litter bug” or the more recent “Say no to drugs” campaigns) that already provide appropriates models after which we could fashion our own alternative to monetary incentives. In this way we would design a program that not only adopts all of the virtues of Crime Stoppers but is also fully in accord with the ideals that inspire our community. What makes Notre Dame the special place it is is precisely the spirit of solidarity that pervades it and its unyielding commitment to higher principles. This is the source from which our efforts against crime should draw.

Victor J. Krebs is a graduate student in philosophy and president of the Graduate Student Union.

P.O. Box Q

Quote of the Day

"When you meet a man, you judge him by his clothes; when you love, you judge him by his heart."

Russian Proverb
Sleepy students to wreak havoc on morning people

I only makes logical sense. The only real reason anybody ever does anything is because eventually they'll get some sleep, right? I personally daydream about sleep. I draw pictures of commercials or something showing some sleep, right? Instead of writing sentences of personal note down in my notebook, I yawn all day long. I hate it when, in the middle of the day, I see mattress commercials or something showing anyone sleeping peacefully. It makes me want to sleep. As a matter of fact, seeing just about anything makes me want to sleep.

Kevin Walsh

Behind the Screen Door

What a great concept sleep is. When you think about it, what does sleep accomplish? Absolutely nothing! NA! That's right! Nothing at all! You totally forget about the real world for a few hours every night and you get to return to the womb. All that psychobabble about people wanting to return to the womb is just the repression of the basic fact that all scientists need sleep. What exactly went on in the much-touted womb for that was so great? You slept, that's what you did.

So, extrapolating from this point... and doing other things that cause you to use large words... one realizes that not only does one have to use when one writes sentences of personal observation using "one" as the subject, but also that the time when one is forced to stop sleeping has got to be the latest time of day. Obviously, morning.

One thing I really hate about the morning is these people who call themselves Morning People. That kills me. I guess they think that just because they like getting up in the morning that they can call themselves Morning People. Where I come from we have a different name for Morning People, but it probably wouldn't be appropriate for print. The fact that these people actually LIKE getting up in the morning makes me wonder what else these people LIKE. Maybe they savor jamming hot sewing needles up both their nostrils at lunch. Perhaps they enjoy shaving their chest with cheese graters. Probably they relish smashing their fingers in car doors.

One of the coolest and wisest things about the morning besides the way your face always looks are the conversations that take place. Here is a sample I overheard the other day and it might be a good idea just to get the full morning ambience to maybe go ahead and act this one out with two of your friends. A lot of our finest drama is going unnoticed over lunch these days and damn it, I think it's time we did something about it. It is in this spirit that I present the script for what I like to call "Mornings..."

DROWNY GUY #1: (in a totally sleepless, groggy mumbled) Dang...I...I want to go to bed...It's just too early to do it.

DROWNY GUY #2: (deliriously) Ugh...Shushy wollyshub, Mcfrubby? (Transliterated from the original ZOOM language as "Shushy wollyshub, Mcfrubby?"

#1: Zzzap! bllulfup wthmnor. ("Oooh, with your hair like that you look like Albert Einstein.")

#2: Ember wibblywobbly shu-matter rethpn...mubby... (So does your mother.)

(Enter The Morning Person.)

THE MORNING PERSON: Good morning. fellows! What a simply marvelous morning to be alive on this planet! I love the morning time! Breathe it in! (Unfortunately, at this point, our inside little drama takes on darker overtones as Drowny Guys One and Two jump on The Morning Person, rip his esophagus out, and jump up and down on it.)

So at long length, I think I've cleared the air about this whole Morning debacle. I suggest that all non-sleepy people out there follow my lead and go now and take a little nap. As for any "Morning Prodder" I may have offended, don't get mad, JUST GET BACK IN BED!

Accent

Soap update

Reva weds Alan on ‘Guiding Light’

Another World: Trying to escape from Reg, Donna fell down the stairs and lost the baby. Michael struggled with Reg, who fell to his death from the Love Tower. Casa told Michael that Reg killed her mother. Lisa had a premonition of Janie and Vicky kissing. Jason told John that he had been blackmailing Reg. Sam and Amanda came home to find Matthew at the loft. Coming: An awkward situation for John.

As The World Turns: Barbara was freed after Hal revealed that James killed Nick. Monica said she saw James in Edin­burgh. Margo couldn’t tell Hal about the baby, and abruptly left town. Laura thought someone had been in her apartment. Tom got U.S. citizenship. Laura hid her feelings for Tom. Sean’s growing closeness to Pam made him uneasy. Coming: Tom’s horrid news discovery.

The Bold and The Beautiful: Ridge blew up at Kristen when she gave Clark a sneak preview of his designs. Donna considered Tommy’s offer that she pose nude. Convy began following a man she thought was Steven Logan. The Forscher children learned of their parent’s upcoming divorce. A hurt Grandma Logan left to visit her sister. Caroline agreed not to tell Ridge about the letter, if he gives Nana Logan a second chance. Brooke faces a dilemma. Days Of Our Lives: Adrienne lost the baby, and started working at the Cheatin’ Heart. Kayla served Jack with divorce papers. Kirala told Torres to sabotage Diana’s new newspaper. Diana was bitten by thugs. Noel ran away from Grace, to be with Jo. Valerie pleaded. Information that forced Frankie to tell Jennifer he had been intimate with Paula. Coming: Eve’s continuing scheme.

Dynasty: Colorado elected a new governor. Sammy Joe’s fateful decision created complications. Sean entered a final threat for Alexis. Adam learned the fate of his son. Blake discovered he may have lost the one thing that power money could never buy. Note: This is the season finale! General Hospital: Duke refused to listen to Jocelyn. What will he create a legitimate organization. Coul­ton found himself failing for Felicia. Bobbie went to bed with Scott after he sabotaged her reunion with Jake. Scott proposed a marriage to Ar­nold lauded Simone. Simone was knocked down as Tom flew. Jean and Kelly suffered a miscarriage. Coming: Duke faces his obligations.

Guiding Light: Alan married a comatose Reva, who im­plied she was avoiding Joshua. Distracted, Alan aligned for the emerald mines. Sonni had a near miscarriage. John agreed to give custody of Marah to Alan. Johnny ap­parently had a child’s fever. Mave and Fletcher made love. Coming: Distracting conclu­sions about Johnny.

Leavings: Rick found proof that Jack was actually a child’s father. Nelly was pregnant. Donkey was not pleased with Alex Crown’s murder. Cord brought Sarah back and ac­cepted Dru. Deacon rekindled his love with Lani. Cord and Dee were proud of John’s appointment, but Dakota planned to trash Jaba. Coming: Alan makes Lee uneasy.

Ryan’s Hope: Roger bailed Ben out again. John used per­suasion to convince Debra not to forgive Lilo. Chaz used Laurel to get Nancy Don to drop her charges. Chaz used Laurel to get Nancy Don to drop her charges. Coming: Ryan and Derry checks.

Santa Barbara: Keith and Tina’s attitude puzzles John. Coming: John answers to the scheme.

The Young & The Restless: Joanne defiled Lauren and of­fered money to Marc. Nina’s baby fell out of her condition deteriorated. Traci and (first French) confide in each other. Victor was stunned when Ashley urged Traci to leave Jaba. Carol felt hurt when Skip said he wanted to be friends for life and的爱情. Coming: Cricket’s promise to raise Nina’s child. Coming: Jes­ica watches over past John. 1988, McNaught Synd.
Big third quarters key Irish to sweep

By PETE LaFLEUR
Sports Writer

If the Notre Dame lacrosse scores to propel them to a big win, it would be the game of their second game of last weekend's games.

The Irish scored eight goals in the third quarter on their way to a 14-3 romp over Wooster College Saturday and then tallied five third period goals in the final quarter to prop wash down the Irish

The Irish scored eight goals in the third quarter on their way to a 14-3 romp over Wooster College Saturday and then tallied five third period goals in the final quarter to prop wash down the Irish

With the weekend victories the team now stands at 1-1 for the season. And the third quar­

With the weekend victories the team now stands at 1-1 for the season. And the third quarter, which in the past has been flimsy for them, is now the team's strong point.

In the third quarter of Satur­

In the third quarter of Saturday's game with Wooster, the Fighting Scots pulled to within one Irish goal at 9:20. The Irish then scored eight unanswered third period goals to put the game away.

The Irish were feeling the pressure from feelings of deja vu. Training 4-3 halfway through the third quarter, the Irish tried hard to pull away from Wooster City.

"I think that's a good sign if you can sense when the other team's in trouble and put them in their place," Irish coach Rich O'Leary said.

O'Leary said that he was pleased with the Irish defense for giving the Travels of 10 goals in 11 man-down situa­

O'Leary said that he was pleased with the Irish defense for giving the Travels of 10 goals in 11 man-down situa­tions. All of the other goals by the Travels were in a situation that is a pretty good sign that our defense is doing a good job." O'Leary said.

O'Leary said that freshman defender Dave Barnard and sophomore goalie Jeff Geaizien were in particular strong for the victories. Barnard, who saw more time against Windy City because of the injury to starter Kevin O'Connor, has had to adjust to defensive time he's never played before.

"Dave played very well, and it will be tough to not con­

"Dave played very well, and it will be tough to not continue playing him if he keeps playing so well," O'Leary said.

"Also, Jeff made some good saves. He gives us the security of having two excellent goalies (along with starter Matt McQuillian)." O'Connor missed Sunday's game because of defensive heroes of his own in Saturday's game. McQuillian was derailed out of the goal to chase a deflection, O'Connor was left tending his own goal. O'Connor recovered the ball and moved in for a point-blank shot, but O'Connor dropped down and saved the ball off his right knee.

"When Matt ran off after the player, he hit the post," O'Connor said. "Then I saw the guy moving in with the shot and I was just hoping he wouldn't shoot it hard but that's exactly what happened and then it kind of bounced around and Matty pounced on it.
You Want A Great Display Of Portable Power?

The Zenith Data Systems Z-183 Laptop PC

suggested retail price: $3599.00

our price only: $2050.00

Field set for K.C.
Associated Press

Tom Tolbert scored 18 of his 21 points in the second half and converted two critical three-point plays as No. 2 Arizona defeated No. 7 North Carolina 79-72 Sunday for a berth in the NCAA Final Four.

NCAA Championship

All-American forward Sean Elliott led Arizona with 34 points and teamed with frontcourt mates Tolbert and Anthony Cook in a collapsing 23-zone defense to shackle North Carolina All-American forward J.R. Williams, who was held to 10 points.

The victory in the West Regional championship game, Arizona's 10th straight, put the Wildcats, 35-2, in the national semifinals against No. 4 Oklahoma at Kansas City next Saturday.

The Sooners downed Villanova 78-59 in the Southeast Regional final behind the 28 points of Stacey King.

Duke will meet Kansas in the other national semifinal with the two winners meeting next Monday night for the title.

All-American Danny Manning scored 30 points and Scooter Barry added a career-high 15 as Kansas advanced to the Final Four for the second time in three years with a 71-58 victory Sunday over No. 20 DePaul in the Midwest Regional championship game.

You Want A Great Display Of Portable Power?

DONE

The Zenith Data Systems Z-183 Laptop PC

suggested retail price: $3599.00

our price only: $2050.00

You Want A Great Display Of Portable Power?

The Zenith Data Systems Z-183 Laptop PC gives you all the features of a desktop in a lightweight, laptop PC. Plus it features a dazzling blue backlit LCD screen for great readability. Along with 20 megabyte hard-disk with single floppy drive for expanded storage. And you'll get longer battery life than most competitive, hard-disk laptops. Added to this, are some important extras...

Like service and support you can count on. As an authorized Zenith Data Systems dealer, we'll help you configure your new system. Give you a full demonstration. And match you up with the right software. We're also ready to follow-up to make certain your needs have been met.

So come talk to us. Here's our calling card!

You Want A Great Display Of Portable Power?

The Zenith Data Systems Z-183 Laptop PC

suggested retail price: $3599.00

our price only: $2050.00

You Want A Great Display Of Portable Power?

The Zenith Data Systems Z-183 Laptop PC gives you all the features of a desktop in a lightweight, laptop PC. Plus it features a dazzling blue backlit LCD screen for great readability. Along with 20 megabyte hard-disk with single floppy drive for expanded storage. And you'll get longer battery life than most competitive, hard-disk laptops. Added to this, are some important extras...

Like service and support you can count on. As an authorized Zenith Data Systems dealer, we'll help you configure your new system. Give you a full demonstration. And match you up with the right software. We're also ready to follow-up to make certain your needs have been met.

So come talk to us. Here's our calling card!
Fame continued from page 12
the Fan Club, and now you see it — now you don't passes from Rivers.

"It's fun to get out and have a good time," said Rivers, who played along with the Fan Club's jokes and showed the crowd plenty of razzle-dazzle in his only Bookstore appearance in four years at Notre Dame.

"That's stuff I grew up doing, and I have a pretty good time doing things like it makes the game fun."

One of the Fan Clubs defensive sets included the 'Heisman defense,' as the players rushed their opponents and struck the familiar pose of the bronzed player which sits atop the coveted Heisman Trophy.

In another defensive maneuver, the Fan Club called for the 'Rivers defense' surrounding Rivers and as soon as he took one step, falling to the ground as a referee raced on to the court and called a charge.

The action went to the other end of the court, where the Fan Club pulled Steve Niogrosi out of the crowd to shoot and connect on his patent free throw offering.

One of the best moments of the day was when the Fan Club lined up in punt formation and booted the ball down court. And in a way it was September again as Brown folded the kick cleanly, juked to the sideline and headed home for a... gliding dunk.

The Fan Club pulled several other stunts to keep the crowd laughing, including a hostage defense where a masked captor held a Fan Club team member at gunpoint until everyone backed away and the hostage scored on a layup. Another sneaky maneuver created an easy layup when the Fan Club called time out and then called it back in when Lou's 2 QB's casually walked to the sideline for a breather.

Rice, who led all scorers with 9 of 11 shooting and dunking, will continue in the tournament on Lou's 2 QBs with Baldes, Kent Graham, Jeff Peters and Lou Holtz.

In other action on Friday, We Drink Alone took Heavy Drugs, 21-6; Vo Ban and the Untouchables, 21-0; and the Toobers, 21-7; and a Pilot and 4 Guys Who Can Fly derailed Slow Train Comin', 21-18.

On Saturday, dedicated players and fans alike braved the cold winds and occasional flurries as the preliminary rounds continued. En route to securing a spot in the round of 512, Wet Armadillos mopped up The Slobbering Labradors, 23-12; Dunken Hines and The Turnover Kings burned 5 Guys back and shorter than ever (4 guys under 5'5"), will face 5 Guys Who Think They're Bad silenced 3 Screams From A Loft, 21-6; We Like Bug Juice defused Spacey Sprockets, 21-10; and in doing so, ensured captain Mike Eggroll's Caponigro of scoring at least one point every year he has played in the tournament. He had one last year as well.

“I don't know how we managed to win with a complete liability such as myself on the team," said Eggroll. "Just lucky I guess.""

Billy Jennings led Bug Juice with seven points and ten rebounds.

Forty more games will be played today on the courts at Stepan, Lyons and the Bookstore. Though one team will definitely come up short, the Revenge of the Screaming Midgets From Hell, who are back and shorter than ever (4 guys under 5'5"), will face 5 Women Under 5'3" at Stepan 5 at 6:15 p.m.

Spring continued from page 12
fensive line, I mean, I could look good if no one touched me on the way in," Holtz was pleased to get an extended (two-and-a-half hours) look at everyone on his squad, and, with few exceptions, was reluctant to name preseason favorites to start.

"The way they played today, I'd have to say that Stony (Mike Stonebreaker) and (Wes) Pritchett look pretty good at linebacker," said Holtz. "We'll go back and look at everything, and certainly the way some people played will affect where they stand on the team, but nothing is set as far as a first line is concerned."

The Medieval Institute in conjunction with the Ukrainian Catholic Parishes of Michiana invite you to celebrate the MILLENNIUM OF CHRISTIANITY IN UKRAINE

Free Public Lecture by JAROSLAV PELIKAN
Sterling Professor of History, Yale University

A CHURCH BETWEEN EAST & WEST:
"THE MILLENNIUM OF THE UKRAINIAN EXPERIMENT"

Tuesday, March 29, 8:00 p.m. Hesburgh Library Auditorium
Irish open outdoor season

By MIKE SULLIVAN

Sports Writer

On an afternoon that resembled a wintry, January Stadium, hosting the Notre Dame's outdoor season at Krause track team opened their 1988 Madsen Dame Invitational.

The afternoon featured gusting winds of up to 25 miles per hour which made the sub-50 degree temperatures seem much colder. Even with the adverse weather conditions, the Irish turned in several impressive performances.

The highlight of the meet occurred in the hammer throw which was the first event of the meet. Tom Mick placed first with a throw of 170 feet 5 inches which qualified him for the IC4A Outdoor Championships. Mick's victory set the tone of things to come in the javelin and the shot put. Freshman Ryan Mihalko placed first in the javelin with a throw of 199 feet 10 inches while sophomore Rob Fitzgerald placed second in the shot put with a toss of 47 feet 9 1/2 inches. Junior David Warth finished second in the 1000-meter run for the Irish, posting a time of 2:39.7. Freshman Richard Calp ran an impressive 49.86 to place fourth in the 400 meter dash. Mark Lavery and Todd Whalen took second and third respectively in the 800 meter run.

The tandem of freshman John Cane and John Cole turned in another excellent day. Smith took third in the first triple jump of the year with a distance of 44 feet 7 1/2 inches, and Cole captured second in the high jump, leaping 6 feet 8 inches.

The sprinting events were marked by two second-place finishes for the Irish. Senior Tony Ragan ran 11.18 in the 100 meter dash while freshman Robert Harris ran 23.06 in the 200 meter dash.

The Irish are on the run again "day they face Navy..."
Dinner Menus

Notre Dame
- Top Round of Beef
- Sweet & Sour Pork
- Seafood Newburg
- Monterey Muffin Melt

Saint Mary's
- Roast Turkey w/Dressing & Gravy
- Sweet & Sour Pork over Rice
- Noodles Alfredo
- Deli Bar

LAST YEAR 7,514 HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS STOPPED DRINKING AND DRIVING.

Comics

The Far Side by Gary Larson

"Johnson, back off! It's an Armandia! Lidderdaili, all right—but it's rabid!"

Bloom County

"Okay everyone if the "ntrel Dallas emotional-response test" comes down

Calvin and Hobbes

"Lightning strikes! Thunder rumbles across the sky!"

"Nobly, Calvin has been run over from the mortar's a poww surge forces blood to his brain!"

"He's... he's ALIVE!"

Bill Watterson

"Hello, sleepthed."

"Hey, look... who's up and about?"

The Far Side by Gary Larson

"So then, when Old McDonald turned his back, I took that ax and with a whack whack here and a whack whack there, I finished him off."

The Daily Crossword

ACROSS
1. Bridge
2. 5
3. Champs
4. Love to Luigi
5. Mine entrance
6. Ring stone
7. 9 Chumps
8. Chana mater
9. Love to Luigi
10. Mine entrance
11. 16
12. Mine entrance
13. 17
14. Mine entrance
15. Ring stone
16. Ring stone
17. 18
18. Ring stone
19. Ring stone
20. Ring stone
21. Ring stone
22. Ring stone
23. Ring stone
24. Ring stone
25. Ring stone
26. Ring stone
27. Ring stone
28. Ring stone
29. Ring stone
30. Ring stone
31. Ring stone
32. Ring stone
33. Ring stone
34. Ring stone
35. Ring stone
36. Ring stone
37. Ring stone
38. Ring stone
39. Ring stone
40. Ring stone
41. Ring stone
42. Ring stone
43. Ring stone
44. Ring stone
45. Ring stone
46. Ring stone
47. Ring stone
48. Ring stone
49. Ring stone
50. Ring stone
51. Ring stone
52. Ring stone
53. Ring stone
54. Ring stone
55. Ring stone
56. Ring stone
57. Ring stone
58. Ring stone
59. Ring stone
60. Ring stone
61. Ring stone
62. Ring stone

DOWN
1. Poet Teasdale
2. Unexpected legacy
3. Legate
4. Negative vote
5. OT judge
6. Gather
7. Vellum deposit
8. Streetcar
9. Woodland delites
10. Genesis man
11. Pocket bread
12. Br. gun
13. Commerce prohibition
14. To shelter
15. Commerce delites
16. Claim
17. Fate
18. Longstanding squabbles
19. Monet medium
20. Medium
21. To shelter
22. Claim
23. Fate
24. Longstanding squabbles
25. Monet medium
26. Medium
27. Longstanding squabbles
28. Monet medium
29. Medium
30. Longstanding squabbles
31. Knowledge handed down
32. Descended
33. Borge for one
34. Preserves
35. Mr. Lombardi game
36. Preserves
37. Sheds
38. Gambling game
39. Monet medium
40. Football Starr
41. Roman poet
42. Seldom
43. Outdid
44. Declared
45. Mr. Lombardi game
46. Movie dog
47. Dolls
48. Completely cooked
49. DNA site
50. DNA site
51. Armand/a
52. Aroma
53. Completely cooked
54. Completely cooked
55. Completely cooked
56. Completely cooked
57. Completely cooked
58. Completely cooked
59. Completely cooked
60. Completely cooked

The Daily Crossword

"Don't drink and drive" A public service message from The Observer
Men's fencing squad takes second in nation

By BRIAN O'GARA and PETE SKIKO
Sports Writers

Any visitors walking behind the Bookstore on Friday afternoon around 3:30 probably thought there was something strange going on at Notre Dame. A crowd which would grow to nearly 500 began to locate itself around the barely visible white lines which bordered the east Bookstore basketball court. But the rectangular space in the middle was empty. It could only mean one thing: Bookstore Basketball was back in business.

Bigger than ever, the 666-team tournament kicked off its 17th year on Friday with the annual Hall of Fame Game and five other games on Friday and Saturday.

The laziness of a Friday afternoon, the reappearance of their gay white delusion, and chance to see the talents of David Rivers and Tim Brown, the current crop, was enough to attract an eager crowd for the traditional Bookstore opener on Friday.

Lou's 3 QB's and Two Other Blind Guys, featuring Rivers and Brown in guest appearances along with Pat Walsh, Tony Rice and George Radula won the game 21-11, over the Digger Phelps Fan Club and Five Other Guys, but the show was what will be remembered. The first sign of action came from the north as Digger Phelps Fan Club and Five Other Guys, perched in the back of a pickup truck, were escorted by Notre Dame security car to courtside. Donning tuxedos and coached by a well-coiffed GQ type impersonating you-know-who, the Fan Club quickly began their antics.

There was little doubt that Rivers and Brown would bear the brunt of the Fan Club's pranks, which began in the team introductions. All five members of the Fan Club were introduced as 5-4 guards from Jersey City, New Jersey, and one of them carried out a hand towel with "TA" written on it, drawing laughs from the crowd and an amused smirk from the Heisman Trophy winner. When the game actually began, it was showtime-as in vaudeville for see FAME, page 9

Irish win four games in improving to 12-11

By STEVE MEGARGEE
Assistant Sports Editor

It was less than a month ago when the Notre Dame baseball team opened its season by allowing seven runs in its first four games. But the Irish made those outcomes seem like ancient history last weekend on their way to winning four of five games and finishing the season with a record above .500.

Notre Dame fell to Wis­consin 9-2 on Friday, swept a doubleheader from Butler on Saturday by scores of 3-1 and 3-2, then swept a pair from Chicago State Sunday by scores of 2-1 and 3-0. "Pitching and defense won games, and they were very consistent, which pleased me," said first-year coach Pat Murphy. "We've got to keep our con­sistency, and we can't get complacent now. We've got to keep up the tempo at an even keel."

The Irish, who have won six of their last seven games, now hold a record of 12-11. It marks the first time Notre Dame has been over .500 since an Opening Day victory over Duke on Feb. 25.

Sunday's doubleheader with Chicago State perhaps best illustrated the hidden rejuvenation of the Irish pitching staff. In the first game at Stanley Coveliski Stadium, sophomore Brian Piotrowski, who had struggled with an earned run average in double fig­ures for the first part of the season, recorded his second consecutive complete game victory in a four-hit win.

In the second game, Erik Madsen followed suit with a see MADSEN, page 10

Holzt looks toward fall

By PETE SKIKO
Sports Writer

Football season may not ex­actly be right around the cor­ner, but it's not too early for Head Coach Lou Holtz to start thinking about this year's campaign.

One of his first indicators of the year's potential took place Sunday afternoon at Carter Field, during a full-contact spring scrimmage.

With the squad -- and some not-so-familiar faces trying to make their best impressions, Holtz saw an opportunity to test a depth chart very early. In the second game, Erik Madsen followed suit with a see MADSEN, page 10

After starting with a 6-7 record in the seeding polls, Griffee defeated Air Force's Scott Stinburn, Illinois' Tim Hensley and Columbia's Mark Oshima to earn a spot in the semifinals.

"Griffee fenced his best bout of the year against Oshima," said Irish assistant Matt Harris. "He got a good seed and used it well. He really had a fabulous day." Holtz

He lost to John Normile of Colum­bia in the semifinal, but he rebounded from that loss by beating defending champion Jim O'Neill of Harvard 10-3. The win over O'Neill gave him another chance at Normile, but it could only mean one thing."I'm thrilled to place ahead of Normile that match 10-2 to win the championship."

Ted Flay placed 18th in the epee competition for Notre Dame.

Senior Yehuda Kovacs placed fourth, behind three Co­lumbia fencers, in Friday's foil competition. Freshman Bill Leary placed 16th in the foil division.

"Yehuda did very well," said Auriol. "It was a very strong field in foil. Phil had a very dif­ficult seed." Kovacs' fourth-place finish made him the fifth three-time men's All-American ever at Notre Dame.

Further details of the men's and women's NCAA fencing championships will appear in Tuesday's edition of The Observer.

The Digger Phelps Fan Club and Five Other Guys draw a charge from David Rivers in the Hall of Fame Game Friday. A referee emerged from the crowd to call the foul after the team employed the David Rivers defense.

"Sure, Green dropped a couple," said Holtz. "That's the kind of thing that happens early in the season, especially at a new position. It's early and we're a very young football team. (Yesterday), we made a lot of mistakes that a young team will make. Our tackling was very poor, we're not hitting well, we turned the ball over, and, even though we asked the refs to call a tight scrimmage, we had way, way too many penalties, especially holding. We've got to fundamentally sound football team."

"That's not to say that some things weren't encouraging. I thought the offensive line surged very well off the ball. Tony Rice had a strong scrimmage, although we didn't protect him very well. The de­fensive line was decent, in par­ticular, (freshmen) George Williams and George Marshall. Then again, they were up against some pretty young of­ see SPRING, page 9