I VIEWPOINT: Theology on South Quad Sunday as good weather

A Notre Dame band performs to a group of students. The concert was sponsored by ACCENT.

It's still rock and roll to me

A Notre Dame band performs to a group of students. The concert was sponsored by Farley, Fisher, Pangborn and Howard Halls.

Students clean city, raise $2000 for relief

By AMY HOWARD

Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students took three hours from their schedules on Saturday to take part in the Fourth Annual Great Hunger Clean Up. The Clean-Up is a national event that works toward community improvement and hunger relief. Volunteers donate their time to clean up local sites and raise money for hunger relief through sponsors, said Liz Durkin, chairman of the event. This year, 100 cities throughout the nation participated in the event.

Locally, 150 volunteers worked at 17 sites in South Bend, performing services that varied from painting, to chopping wood, to cleaning debris out of abandoned lots, said Durkin, adding, "we even had a group of students who walked down Notre Dame Avenue picking up trash."

Volunteers raised at least $30 each, totaling over $2000, to be donated to domestic and international hunger relief, Durkin said. Half of the money raised was to go to local hunger relief organizations in South Bend.

It was a cloudy and windy day, according to Durkin.

654 sign security petition

By SANDY CERIMELE

Saint Mary's Editor

Concerned Saint Mary's students petitioned 12 Notre Dame and Saint Mary's officials last week in hopes of improving security on the road that connects the campuses.

Carolee Carzoli, a Saint Mary's sophomore, said she circulated a petition to let officials of both schools know students are concerned about a lack of security on the road.

"I got the idea to do something because it struck me as odd that people are still being attacked even though a long period of time has passed since the first rape years ago," Carzoli said.

Carzoli, along with junior Caroline Piatak and sopho-

Rustlers kill 192 at camp in Kenya

Associated Press

NAIROBI, Kenya—Rustlers armed with machetes and rifles raided nomadic camps at dawn and killed 192 people and injured 50 in a remote part of northwestern Kenya, the govern-

security petition

Mary's dean of student affairs set a date to meet with the three groups of students. She has also called for support from the Saint Mary's Security Commission, the Board of Regents and the Board of Trustees at Notre Dame. According to Carzoli, "We realize that the road is not under Saint Mary's jurisdiction, so we are petitioning the Saint Mary's officials mainly for support, because it is Notre Dame that will have to actually do something in terms of action to improve safety," she said.

654 sign security petition

Mary's dean of student affairs set a date to meet with the three groups of students. She has also called for support from the Saint Mary's Security Commission, the Board of Regents and the Board of Trustees at Notre Dame. According to Carzoli, "We realize that the road is not under Saint Mary's jurisdiction, so we are petitioning the Saint Mary's officials mainly for support, because it is Notre Dame that will have to actually do something in terms of action to improve safety," she said. Sister Karol Jackowski, Saint

see CLEAN, page 4

see PLO, page 6

Kenya, page 7

see ROAD, page 5
Of Interest

Brown bag lunch, sponsored by the Institute for International Peace Studies, with Professor Alan Dowty of the government and international studies department will be held in Room 105 of the Law School. The topic will be "Israel and Democracy." - The Observer

Big Brothers-Big Sisters are having the Niland Award Presentation today at 4 p.m. in the Center for Social Concerns. Awards will also be presented to all paid volunteering seniors and attendance is mandatory. A regular meeting will be held afterwards. - The Observer

Senior trip registration takes place today and Tuesday in the West Point Room of LaFortune Student Center from 7 to 9 p.m. For details call Kathleen at 238-4229 or Theresa at 238-4071. - The Observer

John Palmer, former assistant secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, will give a lecture on "Health Policy: The Future Region of Public Concerns." - The Observer

At the Center for Social Concerns or call 239-7867.

A Biological Sciences Seminar titled "Spinal Cord Regeneration in Lower Vertebrates" will be given by Sidney Simpson of the University of Illinois-Chicago Tuesday at noon in Room 122 Hayes-Healy. - The Observer

Those graduating in May that have obtained Student Loans must attend one of the two exit interviews: April 19 from 7 to 9 p.m. or April 21 from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Monetary Theater in LaFortune Student Center. - The Observer

The John F. Donnelly Program in Participatory Management within the College of Business Administration will be inaugurated Tuesday. Activities include a lecture by an Irish management consultant, Edmond Molloy, a specialist in organizational development from the University of Alabama's department of commerce.

"A Republic Madam, If You Can Keep It," is the title of a lecture to be presented by Professor Forrest McDonald of the University of Alabama's department of history. The lecture, cosponsored by the department of history and the program of liberal studies, will be given on Wednesday at noon in Room 220 of the Law School. - The Observer

Room picks for Siegfried and Knott Halls will be held on April 30 at 6:30 p.m. in the Office of Student Residences. A $20 hall tax is required to pick a room. - The Observer

Peace Corps Overseas Undergraduate Internship applications are available at the Center for Social Concerns, the Peace Institute and 101 O'Shaughnessy. Freshmen, sophomores and juniors who are American citizens are eligible; candidates should have demonstrated interest in community service and potential to live and work overseas. Fall, spring or summer placements are possible. For more information call 239-5142. - The Observer

Summer Service Projects are still available. A $1200 scholarship will be awarded in return for eight weeks of service to the poor and needy in cities across the U.S. A few choice positions remain. For more information stop at the Center for Social Concerns or call 239-7867. - The Observer

\"Part time\" students need learning feeling

You've seen them around. They might even know a few of them. They eat here, they sleep here, and according to the registrar, they go to school here. If not for this last fact, however, you might think they were "off-the-trail" tourists.

Who are they? THEY are Notre Dame's "part-time" students. Not the official part-time students. Oh no. These students have full class schedules, pay tuition and occasionally, when they run out of shampoo, visit the bookstore.

You might have assumed they were an ex-

\"...erimental fraction of second semester seniors.\" While the majority may be seniors, it is hardly limited to just seniors. In fact, I have come to believe these unique individuals have spent most of their school years perfecting this "part-time" charade. It is evident to me from my experience with them that there are, in fact, two classes among them: the masters and their pupils.

The masters are referred to as "the operators." They manipulate everyone and everything to keep up with their game. Paper extentions and make-up tests are secured easily and generally placed low on the list of priorities when making vacation plans.

The proteges, otherwise known as "the wanna-be," are less skilled in the techniques required to maintain the part-time role. They don't quite get away with it.

You may wonder how I have become so well acquainted with this species of students. Well, the fact is, I live with two of them.

They get up in the morning just in time to beat the crowd to the dining hall. In the afternoon they nap (they seem to have narcoleptic tendencies) or watch television, making sure someone keeps track of the soaps. They are closely related to the group known as couch potatoes.

Their evenings are spent in a variety of places: local gin mills, couches or beds. They can also be seen frequenting malls, airports, big cities... anywhere but a classroom or a library. They seem to have an aversion for, if not an actual phobia of these two places.

Being in such close contact with them, you may wonder if I am not myself suspect of such behavior. Well, there have been times when I thought I was falling into their ways. I have taken a few "mental holidays" as they call them, bloated classes for a day or work for a weekend. For the most part, however, I have only been mildly affected. I have never taken a ten day "Easter Vigil" vacation in California or even thought about a six day "culture appreciation/Mardi Gras" vacation.

Such are the ways of these people. They schedule all their classes on two days so they can have four-day weekends. For them there is no holiday, event or occasion not worth celebrating.

So, what's my point? Let's just say I wanted to remind some pretty "remarkable" people that they've lost that "learning" feeling. And as the song says, "it's gone, gone, gone...

woohoo, whooa, whoa.

The Observer

The Observer (805-391-2400) is published Monday through Friday except during exam and vacation periods. The Observer is published by the students of the University of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College. Subscription may be purchased for $40 per year ($2 per semester) by writing The Observer, P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

The Observer is a member of The Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.
Hijack standoff continues

Associated Press

ALGIERS, Algeria—A passenger aboard a hijacked Kuwait Airways jumbo jet said Sunday about 35 hostages on the plane faced certain death if Kuwait refused to release 17 convicted terrorists.

"All the passengers are in good health. I hope the Kuwait government will act quickly to liberate the 17 young prisoners. Otherwise we all face a black end," said the man. He identified himself as Suleiman Farhan Doukhi.

Doukhi, who spoke Arabic in a firm voice, also sent "greetings to the Kuwait people, to my mother and father and to all those who miss me."

The message appeared to be a recording.

On Friday, the hijackers brought two other passengers to the aircraft's radio to make similar statements to the control tower and one on Thursday.

Shortly before midnight Sunday, several Algerian police cars traveled to and from the plane. It could not be determined who was in the cars. The Kuwaiti delegation remained in an airport lounge well after midnight.

It was the latest that the delegation had stayed at the airport since negotiations began, leading to speculation the hijackers might make a gesture connected with the Mideast's observance of Ramadan, the month-long period of fasting. Ramadan begins Monday.

Since the Bangkok-to-Kuwait flight was hijacked April 5, the hijackers have demanded the release of the 17 extremists, jailed for bombing the U.S. and French embassies in Kuwait in December 1983.

Kuwait has rejected the demand.

The plane, carrying 112 passengers, first landed in Iran, where 57 hostages were released and additional hijackers reportedly boarded the plane. The jet then went to Laracca, Cyprus, where the gunmen killed two passengers and released 13.

On Tuesday night, it arrived in Algiers and on Friday the hijackers released an ailing hostage.

Algerian officials said Sunday that Palestine Liberation Organization leader Yasser Arafat was expected in Algiers but declined to say when he would arrive or whether he would play a role in the negotiations.

On the morning of the 13th day of the crisis, Algerian authorities abruptly expelled hundreds of print and television reporters from the section of the VIP lounge where they had been staying for nearly a week.

Reporters moved into tents, erected by Algerian security men, on the lawn near the lounge.

Contra talks balk over truce time

Associated Press

MANAGUA, Nicaragua—Negotiators for the leftist Sandinista government and Contra rebels were deadlocked Sunday night over when a permanent truce in the six-year civil war should begin.

But spokesmen for both sides said they were not ready to quit the high-level closed-door talks, which began Friday night and are the first held in the capital since the war began in November 1981.

The U.S.-backed Contras are insisting the Sandinistas must rewrite the constitution and institute electoral reforms before they sign any truce. The Sandinistas are demanding that a permanent truce be signed first.

Rebel spokesman Bosco Matamoros called the discussions "frank" and said he was optimistic. Deputy Foreign Minister Victor Hugo Tinoco called Saturday's meeting "productive" and added, "we advanced quite a bit."

Despite the lack of agreement on a truce, a 60-day cease-fire that started April 1 appeared to be holding Sunday, and neither side complained of any major incidents.

The cease-fire, agreed upon March 21, calls for the rebels to gather in seven cease-fire zones.

But details of when they will rally, how they will be resupplied, whether they will be allowed to keep their weapons, and how this is going to be verified have not been fully worked out.

About 1,000 Sandinista supporters rallied Saturday outside the U.S. Embassy in Managua to protest American support for the Contras and to demand that leaders of the Contra umbrella organization, the Nicaraguan Resistance, sign a permanent truce immediately.

The demonstration was peaceful and no arrests were reported.

In an editorial, the opposition newspaper La Prensa said, "A permanent truce means the Sandinistas should be willing to bury totalitarianism and give up their ideal of ruling Nicaragua with a single party."

"If they insist on a truce just to dismember the Nicaraguan Resistance, leaving intact the Sandinista's political-military regime, then there will be no peace or development not only in Nicaragua but throughout Central America.

You Want A Readable Portable?

The Zenith Data Systems Z-181 Laptop PC

suggested retail price: $2499

Special Student Price: $1399

The Observer / AP Photo

Three reporters listen to a statement being made Saturday by a hijacker from inside the Kuwait jetliner which was siezed 12 days ago while on a flight from Bangkok to Kuwait.

You can read it there or anywhere else. And it's not the actual size of the numbers on the screen. More power. Less weight. And an IBM PC®-compatible operating system. Here's the Zenith Data Systems Z-181 PC—... a laptop with all the features of a desktop!

And we can even put a spin on it...

Now, the Z-181 Laptop PC can be yours at a great student price just visit your nearest Zenith Data Systems Campus Contact. We'll give you a full demonstration, and match you up with the right software and peripherals. To give you a computer that can take you from college to career!

So stop by today. And while you're at it, ask about the Z-183 PC... our most powerful laptop yet. See you soon!

NOTRE DAME COMPUTER CENTER
COMPUTERMATH BUILDING
DEMO LAB 239-5600

© 1987, Zenith Data Systems
By JANET HEROLD
News Staff

After two weeks in office, Student Body President Tom Doyle and Vice President Mike Paese are getting down to business.

Doyle and Paese have wasted no time in working to fulfill their campaign promises. "We talked with (Director of Student Activities) Joe Cassidy and we've decided that we need 5 to 6,000 dollars to get a security guard so that possibly we can use some part of Lafortune as a 24-hour lounge," said Paese.

"We are in the process of budgeting for that right now, because it is something we promised and are going to do," Doyle said.

Doyle said he and Paese are pleased with the constitutional revision and to REAL Services.

"Our major shift in the cabinet is that we have a political concerns commissioner who is going to be working with the SUB on bringing in more speakers, and getting a debate series going, as well as various workings with the hall foci program for national and international issues," said Paese.

"Given that we are the premier Catholic university in the country, we really should be out front on some of those (political) issues," Doyle said.

Doyle and Paese said they have structured their student commissions to emphasize cultural as well as social concerns. "In August, all these commissions are going to be taking off . . . and there are going to be a lot of people that are needed to work in the commissions," they said.

To meet the needs of off-campus students, Doyle and Paese have established an off-campus commissioner and are "looking into working closer with off-campus (students) for off-campus crime."

"In the past two weeks, Doyle said he and Paese have had meetings with many administrators. "Mostly what we have had to focus on is the response to the task forces," said Doyle. Doyle and Paese said they are pleased overall with the administration's interaction with student government. "(University President) Father Malloy is uniquely interested in student activities," said Paese.

Top theologians meet at ND

By DAN MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Eight international top guns in theology met for a conference on Gospel traditions this weekend at the Center for Continuing Education.

"I am impressed with the extraordinary array of scholars from all over the world that has brought itself to the campus," said theology department chairman Father Richard Malloy at the beginning of the conference. "I am immensely proud of this conference," he said.

Academics from England, the United States, Canada, the Netherlands, Germany and Belgium gathered to give lectures, participate in panel discussions and answer questions.

University President Father Edward Malloy opened the conference by welcoming the panel and defining a theologian. "It seems to me that the function of the theologian historically has been to take the experience of the faith community and make it available to successive generations," he said.

55,000 meals a month to the Mishawaka community, REAL Services provides meals to the elderly of South Bend.

The remaining portion of the money was donated to international hunger relief, said Durkin. This money will be sent to Zimbabwe through the Overseas Development Network, a service club at Notre Dame who sponsored the clean-up.

Communities in Zimbabwe will be taught to plant gardens and will be provided with the supplies to do so, Durkin said. The clean-up also promotes relations between students and the South Bend community.

"The whole idea is that the students are out in the community cleaning up," said Durkin.

Watch the ball

A Notre Dame student engages herself in a relaxing game of paddleball. As finals approach, such outlets of tension often provide a welcomed way to unwind.

Wish your friends a Happy Birthday through Observer advertising. Call 239-5303 for details.

BUY OBSERVER CLASSIFIEDS

Our Queen, Colleen is twenty-
And that's a great Plenty!!

Continue to "let your little light shine!"
SMC will offer new course

By PATTY GREIPP
News Staff

A new course in women's entrepreneurial training will be offered at Saint Mary's next fall, said William Shannon, associate professor of business administration and economics.

The course, open to all Saint Mary's students, was developed for students and alumni seeking entrepreneurial success, Shannon said.

Alumni can enroll for free, Shannon said. The course has no required prerequisites, but Shannon recommends a foundation in marketing, management, and accounting.

The course will introduce students to the knowledge and skills necessary for entrepreneurial success. Shannon said the course is unique because students who enroll will have the opportunity for a "mini" internship with the Small Business Development Center in South Bend.

The course will teach students to prepare effective business plans, develop marketing and sales plans, undertake marketing research and implement sales programs. Financing, understanding cash flow, using income projections and managing human resources in a growing company, will also be taught. The course will also focus on dealing with lawyers, accountants and other professionals.

Shannon said 98 percent of the 17 million U.S. businesses are small businesses. Shannon also said, "women are starting businesses three times as fast as men."

The course is the only entrepreneurial course for women at the college or university level in the country, according to the U.S. Government's Office of Women's Business Ownership of the Small Business Administration.

SMC prof chosen for council

By SUE O'CONNOR
News Staff

Saint Mary's professor William Shannon was named to the National Advisory Council for Small Business Administration, said Indiana Congressman John Hiler.

Shannon, associate professor of business administration and economics was the only Indiana resident named to serve a four-year term on the council, said Hiler.

Chairman and founder of the Hacienda Mexican Restaurant Chain, Shannon said his duties on the Council will be to "work with the Small Business Committees of both the House of Representatives and the Senate to promote and recommend legislation beneficial to small businesses."

Shannon is the first Saint Mary's or Notre Dame professor to be appointed to the Council and the only women's college member on it, Hiler said.

As an educator at a women's college, Shannon said he feels he can add a unique insight to the council. He said he believes women are starting businesses.

"By the year 2000, one in two small businesses will be owned by women," he said. Through his involvement with the Hacienda Restaurant, Shannon said he can provide valuable insights to his marketing students. He said he believes he is able to bring the academic world, his first love, and the business world together.

"Many members on the council are business persons, not educators," Shannon said.

"Professor Shannon will bring to the Council a high degree of knowledge, experience and professionalism," Hiler said. "His appointment will serve the cause of advancing the opportunities for small businesses throughout the country."

MAKE YOUR VOICE HEARD

The students' response to the Task Force Reports: Times and Dates of students' response meetings

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>DATE</th>
<th>DORMS</th>
<th>PLACE</th>
<th>TIME</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>4-18</td>
<td>Stanford / Farley / St. Ed</td>
<td>Stanford</td>
<td>6:30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4-18</td>
<td>Grace</td>
<td>Grace</td>
<td>9:00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4-19</td>
<td>PW / PE</td>
<td>PW</td>
<td>6:30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4-19</td>
<td>Morrissey / Howard / Badin</td>
<td>Morrissey</td>
<td>9:00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4-20</td>
<td>Alumni / Dillon</td>
<td>Dillon</td>
<td>6:30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4-20</td>
<td>Walsh / Sorin / Cavanaugh</td>
<td>Cavanaugh</td>
<td>9:00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4-21</td>
<td>Keenan / BP / Zahm</td>
<td>Keenan</td>
<td>6:30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4-21</td>
<td>Fisher / Pangborn / Lyons</td>
<td>Fisher</td>
<td>9:00</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Student Task Force members will be there to answer questions. The dialogues from the meetings will effect policy decisions.

BE THERE!

...it's your chance to ask questions and express your opinion.

(Feel free to attend any of the meetings.)
Racial tensions rising

Associated Press

Recent protests by blacks at predominantly white universities differed in their immedi- ate causes, but academic observers say the incidents reflect increasing tensions.

"There is such a rawness to race relations on campus now," Troy Duster, a professor of sociology at the University of California at Berkeley, said last week.

"A lot of black students are feeling besieged and beleaguered. They feel that their fellow students and professors wonder why they are there in the first place," he said.

Protests for blacks have run the gamut from an assault at the University of Massachusetts to verbal harassing at Denison College in Ohio to a damaged bicycle in Berkeley.

"In every single one of these instances, there has been some local incident or an accumulation of things...the straw that broke the camel's back," said Mary Frances Berry, a member of the U.S. commission on Civil Rights and Sigal professor of history at the University of Pennsylvania.

"But if one looks generally, one sees that on these campuses, you have the basic sort of reaction to the expansion of opportunity for blacks," she said.

Although black college enrollment has increased by about 25,000 between 1979 and 1986, according to the Department of Education, the proportion of blacks declined from 9.6 percent to 8.8 percent of the national student body. Whites accounted for 90.4 percent of the students in 1986, down from 92 percent in 1976.

Charles Willie, professor of education and urban affairs at Harvard University, said the protests are based on a sense of despair and, then there is a tendency to strike out in all kinds of harm, instead of accommodating, he said.

"Where there is a sense of despair, the level of tolerance is certainly reduced," he continued from page 1

The Observer on April 15 reported several cases in which blacks at Duke lead "disembodied lives." About 100 students marched to City Hall in Lexington, Ky., on April 8 to protest a racial epitome at Duke called "Squaw.""Chandler, the former governor and baseball commissioner who is now a member of the University of Kentucky's Board of Trustees.

Trapeze artist dies in fall

HIALEAH, Fla.--A trapeze artist fell to her death Sunday, hitting the floor of a circus tent before the startled and horrified spectators, police said.

Belinda Amandis, 31, of Sarasota was performing above at a net about 17 feet above the heads of the audience in the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus when she missed a maneuver, said police and circus owner David Mobbs.

While swinging back and forth balancing on her back, she attempted to drop upside down and catch the bar with her knees, Mobbs said. Performing without using her hands, she missed the bar and fell.
NY primary close as accusations fly

Associated Press

NEW YORK—Jesse Jackson on Sunday accused his Demo- cratic presidential opponents of inconsistent policies toward South Africa as the New York primary contest moved into its final hours with a flurry of eth- nic campaigning.

With a new poll saying the race for New York's 235 Demo- cratic convention delegates is tightening, Jackson, Michael Dukakis and Albert Gore Jr. aired differences over policy toward South Africa and the Middle East, as well funding for combating drugs.

The candidates also vowed to work for party unity, regard- less of who wins the Demo- cratic presidential nomination.

"It's Too Close To Call," proclaimed the New York Daily News in a front-page headline Sunday as it released the findings of its latest poll.

The candidates also vowed to work for party unity, regard- less of who wins the Demo- cratic presidential nomination.

Just how many voters go to the polls on Tuesday may be the crucial factor, some obser- vers said.

"The race is getting closer and turnout is the key," New York pollster Lee Miringoff, head of Marist College's In- stitute for Public Opinion, said Sunday.

A low turnout will favor Jack- son, said Miringoff, because of the candidate's near unani- mous and highly committed support among New York's black voters, who generally make up about 25 percent of the vote in New York's Democratic primaries.

In a telephone interview with The Associated Press, New York Gov. Mario Cuomo said he thought there could be a low turnout for the primary. He added that he "wouldn't be surprised" by a Jackson vic- tory.

Meanwhile, Dukakis defeated Jackson by a 3-1 mar- ginal in Arizona's Democratic presidential caucuses Satur- day night.

Security Beat

Friday, April 15

5:35 a.m. A Security Officer on routine patrol discovered a vandalized vehicle, missing its TI tire, in the DJ lot and noti- fied the owner.

10:10 A M. A Notre Dame em- ployee reported the theft of a phone from the DeNaples Student Building sometime around 9 a.m. The loss is estimated at $30.

9:59 a.m. A University employee reported the theft of a faculty hangs tag from his unlocked vehicle that was parked in the B2 lot sometime between 8:15 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. on April 14.

11:10 A M. A Notre Dame em- ployee reported the theft of his gym bag and contents from outside the Golf Building sometime around 1 p.m. on April 13.

2 p.m. a resident of Cavanagh Hall reported that someone had unplugged his CB radio. This occurred in the D2 lot sometime between 4 a.m. on April 12 and 1 p.m. on April 15. Damage is estimated at $40.

2:05 p.m. A Notre Dame resi- dent reported the theft of several checks from her locked vehicle that was parked in the DJ lot sometime between 4:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m. on April 14. Damage is estimated at $40.

Saturday, April 16

9:25 a.m. Security responded to a minor two vehicle accident in the BI lot. Damage was minimal and there were no injuries.

12:45 p.m. Security responded to a telephone bomb threat at Stepan Chemistry Building.

2:26 p.m. A resident of St. Ed- ward's Hall reported the theft of four pairs of shoes from his dorm room.

Judges set for Nazi verdict

Associated Press

JERUSALEM—John Demjan- juk, who has spent the past 11 years fighting his indictment as the notorious Nazi death camp guard Ivan the Terrible, faces a verdict Monday in his 14-month-long court battle in Is- rael.

The three-judge panel's 400- page judgment is based on more than 15,000 pages of emo- tionally charged testimony from Holocaust survivors, doc- uments experts and the suspect himself.

Holocaust mastermind Adolf Eichmann, the only other Nazi war criminal to be tried in Is- rael, was convicted and hanged in 1962. Unlike Eichmann, Demjanjuk has insisted he is an innocent victim of mistaken identity.

The retired autoworker from Cleveland, Ohio, is charged with operating gas chambers that killed 650,000 Jews at the Treblinka death camp in Nazi-occupied Poland in 1942 and 1943.

But few Israelis doubt the judges will hand in a guilty ver- dict. For them, the only ques- tion is whether the Ukrainian- born Demjanjuk, 68, will be spared the death penalty.

Kenya

continued from page 1

on Wednesday. The semi-arid district, whose mountains and rugged valleys make it inac- cessible by car, is near the bor- der of Ethiopia, Sudan and Uganda.

Police recovered 3,000 of about 3,500 animals stolen by the rustlers, Kitele said.

On March 30, rustlers hacked 15 nomads to death in northern Kenya and stole 2,000 goats.

"Rustlers have lost all respect for human life to the extent that they will massacre human beings in cold blood," Kitele said. "I wish to warn anybody within Kenya or out- side still harboring ideas of ris- tling to desist. Government re- sponse to rustling will always be prompt and aggres- sive hot pursuit."

In the latest incident, rustlers attacked at 4 a.m. and killed men, women and children with crude machetes and semi- automatic rifles, Mohamed Yusuf Haji, the Rift Valley provincial commissioner, told the Sunday Nation. The newspa- per had charted a plane to the area.

ATTENTION CLASS OF 1989:

Senior Class Trip Signups

Mon. & Tues., April 18 & 19, 7-9 p.m.

West Point Room, La Fortune Destination: NASSAU!!

The $498 trip includes all air and land accommodations $150 required at registration and there will be no registration next semester.

DON'T MISS OUT ON THE FUN- THERE'S ONLY ONE SENIOR TRIP
Theology’s ‘laws’ can be reversed

Dear Editor:

In his April 7 Viewpoint column “Best theological route is orthodox,” Notre Dame administrator John Regalbuto contends that just as the worlds of science and engineering have unchanged laws, so too has the theological world. Theologians, he suggests, should show the world that theology conducts its inquiries within the boundaries of its “laws,” which Regalbuto equates with the teachings of the Pope (thus excluding theologians who disagree with the pope’s teaching). He writes: “It makes sense that those areas taught consistently over a long period of time can only be clarified and extended, and never reversed.” I suggest that such an attitude will render both science and theology stale and meaningless.

In science, the theory that the earth was the center of the universe was “taught consistently over a long period of time” (considerably longer than the second law of thermodynamics). Fortunately, Copernicus was willing to step outside of the accepted “laws” of his time, reverse them and free us from a lack of faith — faith in the trust God as in us. The parable teaches us that we are trusted by God with our talents — whether those talents are scientific discoveries or theological insights. As Matthew Fox writes in “Original Blessing,” “We are here to expand our gifts, and not, of fear, to bury them.” Burying the quest of truth in the stagnant holes of scientific “laws” or theological “laws” betrays the love of our God, who (again in Fox’s words) “encourages the ever-expanding possibilities of ourselves and the universe.”

Dan Keusal
Off-campus
April 8, 1988

SMC workers cite student rudeness

Dear Editor:

Having been brought up in a Christian atmosphere, we have come to expect those around us who have also been brought up that way to treat us with some respect, even if we are not Christians. This is not always the case, however, and it is equally rude to treat other students with disdain.

Regards,

Doonesbury

Garry Trudeau

Cash incentive is the issue

Dear Editor:

I am writing in response to Molly Jason’s letter in the Apr. 7 edition of The Observer regarding my article on the morality of Crime Stoppers.

The point I made there was that there are serious objections to a program of crime prevention that depends on monetary incentives. Contrary to what Ms. Jason seems to think, I am not against the implementation of a program like Crime Stoppers. In fact I am totally in favor of the implementation of a program to fight crime on campus after the model of Crime Stoppers although without the monetary incentives. I do not think, as Ms. Jason suggests, that Notre Dame students “are only looking for a quick buck.” In fact, it is precisely because I don’t believe that I am actively against that such student centers and student organizations ask for more respect than they are receiving.

Those individuals who work at the dining hall from student worker to top management work hard and deserve more respect than they are receiving. This has been ignored for a long time because of the fear that we may be overreacting. An incident (Tuesday, Mar. 29) pushed us beyond our limits to the realization that the pervasive attitude of superiority has gotten out of hand. Yelling obscenities at a full-time employee because she is following the policies of the dining hall is uncalled for and is something that cannot be overlooked. However we were amazed and humiliated that this employee took the incident in stride because it has become common practice. If we are such Christian-oriented students, why then is such rude and demeaning behavior to be tolerated and even expected? We are not asking for people to withdraw criticisms of the food service. We are asking for, in your words, “to realize that the employees of Marriott Corp. here at Saint Mary’s are people who work hard every day to feed you and deserve a little bit of what they are doing for you. What we are also asking for is for all of you to care about what you are doing to them.”

Carol Hunter
Saint Mary’s College
April 3, 1988

Cash incentive is the issue

Dear Editor:

I am writing in response to Molly Jason’s letter in the Apr. 7 edition of The Observer regarding my article on the morality of Crime Stoppers.

The point I made there was that there are serious objections to a program of crime prevention that depends on monetary incentives. Contrary to what Ms. Jason seems to think, I am not against the implementation of a program like Crime Stoppers. In fact I am totally in favor of the implementation of a program to fight crime on campus after the model of Crime Stoppers although without the monetary incentives. I do not think, as Ms. Jason suggests, that Notre Dame students “are only looking for a quick buck.” In fact, it is precisely because I don’t believe that I am actively against that such student centers and student organizations ask for more respect than they are receiving.

Those individuals who work at the dining hall from student worker to top management work hard and deserve more respect than they are receiving. This has been ignored for a long time because of the fear that we may be overreacting. An incident (Tuesday, Mar. 29) pushed us beyond our limits to the realization that the pervasive attitude of superiority has gotten out of hand. Yelling obscenities at a full-time employee because she is following the policies of the dining hall is uncalled for and is something that cannot be overlooked. However we were amazed and humiliated that this employee took the incident in stride because it has become common practice. If we are such Christian-oriented students, why then is such rude and demeaning behavior to be tolerated and even expected? We are not asking for people to withdraw criticisms of the food service. We are asking for, in your words, “to realize that the employees of Marriott Corp. here at Saint Mary’s are people who work hard every day to feed you and deserve a little bit of what they are doing for you. What we are also asking for is for all of you to care about what you are doing to them.”

Carol Hunter
Saint Mary’s College
April 3, 1988
ND basketball team finds a miracle in Yugoslavia

MARIA JUNIC

accent writer

Who could have guessed that a small agricultural village in the mountains of Staro Selo and Hercegonivina, Yugoslavia would be the site of massive pilgrimages from people the world over? Medugorje, a place made famous when three young villagers told of visions, is the site of daily apparitions of the Virgin Mary by a group of village children. Medugorje, which means “between the mountains”, is the source of the daily apparitions.

Many began appearing to the youth in the summer of 1981. Since then, hundreds of thousands of people have flocked to Medugorje in search of God or themselves. Among these pilgrims are the Notre Dame basketball team, including the basketball team and myself.

Our Lady has been appearing every day to a group of Croatian farm children for seven years. The apparitions occur in a room in the parish rectory. Only the children see the Virgin. But people praying with them in the room see a transformation of sorts in the seers themselves.

Before the apparitions, the children stand and pray. Suddenly, they stop praying and drop to their knees in union. Their eyes are focused unblinkingly, on a fixed spot in the air. The children begin speaking to the Virgin. Their mouths move, but no sound is heard. When the vision is over, they stand up again and proceed to Mass.

Through my own personal experience with Medugorje, the thing that made the most impact on me was the lack of conception of time. I usually have very little time to stay in a country for even an hour. I have tended to go or fail, whichever comes first. In Medugorje, however, I was in the church for three hours, standing! It had felt like twenty minutes. I could not believe that I had not even been conscious of the time.

The Notre Dame basketball team had similar experiences as well. The basketball team visited Medugorje in the summer of 1987. They related their experiences at a presentation about Medugorje last week. Coach Digger Phelps commented on having no conception of time, as did players Joe Fredrick, David Rivers, and Scott Pembod. Fredrick and Rivers noticed that the apparition was occurring in the rectory, everything was dead silent, including the birds. Both players said that they had made a note of the loud cheerful chirping of the birds. Suddenly, as the vision was taking place, there was complete silence.

All three had experienced with the sun. They all commented on how they observed the sun splitting. It was almost as if the sun were trying to wake them up. They experienced this feeling for an extended period of time without any discomfort to their eyes.

For all the skeptics out there, how can this be a hoax? It can not. What kind of incentive could lure a 10-year-old boy to wake up two hours of his day or stay for seven years? How can miraculous healings be explained? Why are people not blinded by staring at the sun for minutes at a time? And why do people continue to sleep or fail, whichever comes first.

As The World Turns: Paul hid his dismay over Barbara and Hal’s engagement. Pam and Reva made love. Sabrina returned to Encino and organized a treasure hunt for her. Barbara decided to start a new business and run “Simply Barbara.” Coming: Beau is torn by his feelings.

Another World: Vicki inherited almost $100,000. Naomi found a love letter from Elizabeth. Scott gave her his inheritance to help with AIDS research. Mary received a drunken pass from Jason. After a fight with Luke about Vicki, Jamie moved in with Jason. Coming: Matthew is put on the spot. Ballpark: J.R. triumphantly prepared to assume control of Weststar. Nicholas revealed his, whoresome to Sue Ellen. Laurel divulged J.R.'s sexual blackmail plot to Clayton. Coming: Clayton will try to leave to avoid a long prison term.

New series

‘Day by Day’ provides laughs on Sunday nights

JOE BUCELLO

accent writer

Several years ago NBC introduced America to the family of love, companionship, and Alex. Ever since then, “Family Ties” has been a success around which people arrange their evening schedules. Now creators of “Family Ties” introduce the characters of “Day by Day,” a family that’s sure to take entertainment and hit one step further.

NBC airs its new hit comedy “Day by Day” on Sundays at 8:30 right after the Reatons. The show centers around Brian (Douglas Yankowski) who recently quit his job to be home, and his wife Kate (Linda Kelsey) who turn their living room into a day care center each and every weekday. By 8:30 their son Alex (Jake Barnes) has swallowed the last sloppy piece of Citrus Surprise (this own best creation consisting of bread soaked in orange juice). The house is full of toddlers (one of which is their own baby girl) who are eager to learn—and even teach—a few lessons. Kristen (Courtney Thorne-Smith) helps the Harpers and is the victim of Ross’ teenage emotions. Another series regular is Eileen Swirl (Julia Louden-Dreyfuss), Brian’s ex-business associate.

The show’s plots are clever and fresh, but not without a socially relevant point. Behind Alex’s occasional misbehavior at Westside School are crayons in a running theme concerning Brian’s attempt to reduce his daughter’s death. Ross, Brian feels guilty for working through school, in the back lot and missing his early stages of growth. Now Brian attempts to make up for lost time, much to Ross’ chagrin; he wants to spend time with his friends.

The performances on the show are nothing to shake a rattle at. Douglas Sheehan, formerly of “Rovers Landing,” makes the switch from drab to comedy brilliantly. Linda Kelsey’s aura of compassion and concern for the family is quite realistic. Courtney Thorne-Smith misses intelligence and good looks to create the lovable psychology major she plays while Alex portrays a carefree, hormone-driven teen. Ex-Saturday Night Live star Julia Louden-Dreyfuss steals the show with her zany, sarcastic portrayal of a woman who loves kids as much as they love cold liver oil.

Most important of all, “Day by Day” is funny. While reading about Little Red Riding Hood walking through the woods alone. Eileen adds, “REAL smart.” Kate asks the children if they’ve ever heard of anyone sleep over at their homes and one child replies, “My Uncle Sam does. He's not really my uncle, but my mother tells me to call him that. He sleeps in Mom’s room.” When Brian distracts all the girls’ attention from the guys at the party of Ross and partners, Ross tells Brian, “Maybe the girls do (the Brian) but my friends are allowed to form a posse.” Kate (like a true wise wench) is a witty, clever situation comedy worth watching. The premise is new and the lead characters are attractive.

The performances by the main stars and of the toddlers are excellent. The scripts are good and the comedy is superb. If only all sitcoms could be like this...

Soap update

J.R. anticipates takeover of Weststar on ‘Dallas’

All My Children: Palmer advised but watched over the comatose role Silver to keep quiet about faking shot dead. A drunken Tom romanced Barbara. Jack disliked Stacey leaving J.J. as an alibi. Susan found Anna found permission to use it as evidence. Justin testified that Roman’s son is his friend. Coming: Sonni decided against abortion. Sonni learned of Will’s plot to kill Josh and make it look like suicide. Larry’s book disappeared after Ross got permission to use it as evidence. Jack’s daughter is taken from him by the state. Coming: Jack disliked Stacey leaving J.J.

Guiding Light: Sonni decided against abortion. Sonni learned of Will’s plot to kill Josh and make it look like suicide. Larry’s book disappeared after Ross got permission to use it as evidence. Jack’s daughter is taken from him by the state. Coming: Jack disliked Stacey leaving J.J.

Loving: Soon after meeting young video producer Jeff Hartman, Oxyg gave into her attraction and made love with him. Jack disliked Stacey leaving J.J. as an alibi. Susan found Anna found permission to use it as evidence. Justin testified that Roman’s son is his friend. Coming: Sonni decided against abortion. Sonni learned of Will’s plot to kill Josh and make it look like suicide. Larry’s book disappeared after Ross got permission to use it as evidence. Jack’s daughter is taken from him by the state. Coming: Jack disliked Stacey leaving J.J.

One Life To Live: Asa fumed upon learning that Cord was back with Tina. Donald got a death threat. Mari-Lynn’s incriminating evidence against Donald wasn’t allowed in court. Blaze escaped left the house. Nina and the baby were driven teen. Coming: Nina and the baby were driven teen.

Another World: Paul hid his dismay over Barbara and Hal’s engagement. Pam and Reva made love. Sabrina returned to Encino and organized a treasure hunt for her. Barbara decided to start a new business and run “Simply Barbara.” Coming: Beau is torn by his feelings.

Another World: Vicki inherited almost $100,000. Naomi found a love letter from Elizabeth. Scott gave her his inheritance to help with AIDS research. Mary received a drunken pass from Jason. After a fight with Luke about Vicki, Jamie moved in with Jason. Coming: Matthew is put on the spot. Ballpark: J.R. triumphantly prepared to assume control of Weststar. Nicholas revealed his, whoresome to Sue Ellen. Laurel divulged J.R.'s sexual blackmail plot to Clayton. Coming: Clayton will try to leave to avoid a long prison term.

Days of Our Lives: Diana sold Roman and Nikolas by stealing the icon. Justin testified that Roman's son is his friend. C.J. shot himself in the head. Vivian learned of II's plot to kill Josh and make it look like suicide. Larry's book disappeared after Ross got permission to use it as evidence. Jack’s daughter is taken from him by the state. Coming: Jack disliked Stacey leaving J.J.

General Hospital: Colton made light of Melissa's interest in him. Jack disliked Stacey leaving J.J. as an alibi. Susan found Anna found permission to use it as evidence. Justin testified that Roman’s son is his friend. Coming: Sonni decided against abortion. Sonni learned of Will’s plot to kill Josh and make it look like suicide. Larry’s book disappeared after Ross got permission to use it as evidence. Jack’s daughter is taken from him by the state. Coming: Jack disliked Stacey leaving J.J.

Hart to Hart: Kim and Ted were reunited. Ryan found the last rebuild his relationship with John. Dayna and Roger figured out why Ben seduced Nancy. Ryan and Mark encountered problems selling their movie idea. Coming: Lizzie starts over again.

The Young & The Restless: Expect the unseemly to get Victor’s office keys. Nina and the baby moved back to Rays. only to learn Nina is pregnant. Jack bought out Marc. Coming: Leanna tries again. “Day by Day” is a silly, clever situation comedy worth watching. The premise is new and the lead characters are attractive.

The performances by the main stars and of the toddlers are excellent. The scripts are good and the comedy is superb. If only all sitcoms could be like this...
Sports Briefs

The Observer
Monday, April 18, 1998

Classifieds

NOTICES

TYING AVAILABLE 287-4637

Professors and graduate students: The office will be open 8-11 a.m. today, 8:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. tomorrow. 8-11 a.m. Thursday, and 8:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. Friday. Call 229-1174 for your workday.

EXPERT TESTING SERVICE

CALL MR. CIVOS, 232-7056

WOMPUTUS

Sundays 8-11 p.m.

285-2077

LOST/FOUND

Helped find a lost wallet with IDs, faculty card, $30, watch, license, and others. Stefan Heredia. If you lost your wallet, please call Stefan at 229-1353.

PERSONALS

DOAK HOUSE COLLEGE BUDGET LAYOUT CUTS 10% HOT WATER IN TOWN FOR A WEEKends Students get your unraveled class book for $2.50 from Finkelsteins. Info to 229-1373.

WANTED

SUNSET 3323 all furniture

SUNSET 3323 all furniture

PARK MOUNTAIN

CALL COLLECT FOR JERRY, MORN-14-342-1024

FOR SALE

287-PONT Model 560 1980 bike, 3900 Raps, 4500 SRand Quadra CGA starter model. $1,999.00

DMC Superbikes and Sportbikes, a 4-speed, 125, $999.99, and other software packages also available. For more information, call Mike Miller, 529-9232 M.W.T.F. 9-6, 2-6.

WATCHMAKER IS HERE TO REPAIR watches - all major brands, no appointment necessary. $4.00.

TYPWRITER PROFESSIONAL

For Sale

If interested, please call Amy 289-5631

MACINTOSH I WANTED: injectors: 16, 25, 32 & 70 32-70

ST. LOUIS Central Business District - I have still tickets for the night game against the Angels on Aug. 31, contact me, I know you'd want $6 for them.

TWILIGHT RETREAT FOR WOMEN in the Catskills sponsored by the Sisters of the Holy Family and St. Joseph's Ass. Call: Sr. Arlene at 289-3026

APRIL 28, FRIDAY 6:00-11:00 P.M.

THE GRIEF OF THE GOLDEN MILE - A FESTIVAL OF ARTS 150 MAIN STREET (供给 398-3271)

HELP: I need an old typewriter for my job. If you have one or know someone who has one, please call 520-1122.

PLAYBOY EXECUTIVE CHAIRS & SIDE TABLES... SOFA...DOCKSIDE TABLES... FLOOR SAMPLES. 358.00

THE GRIEF OF THE GOLDEN MILE - A FESTIVAL OF ARTS 150 MAIN STREET

Marilyn Monroe: "I'm so young, so beautiful, so tall without my shoes on." --The Observer

The Observer Office, located on the third floor of LaFortune Stu- dent Center, accepts classified advertising from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m., Monday through Thursday. The Observer classifieds on the third floor of Haggie College Center, accepts classifieds from 12:30 p.m. until 2 p.m., Monday through Friday. Display Advertising may be prepaid, either in person or by mail. The charge is $10 per character per day. The Observer accepts credit cards.

Caps hope to shed label

The Washington Capitals used to be called chokers. If they win the Stanley Cup this year, they'll be known by another name - the Patrick Division champions.

The Capitals open their best-of-five second round series against the New Jersey Devils Monday night at the Capital Centre in Landover, Md. Washington advanced to the divisional final Saturday with a 3-1 overtime victory over Philadelphia in Game 7 of their opening-round series.

The Capitals, who had been haunted by past playoff failures, became only the fifth team in NHL history to overcome a 3-1 deficit in the playoffs.

"We've taken that choke label and I think put in on the shelf for quite a while," right wing Mike Gartner said. "We pulled together as a team and I think the type character we always felt we had."

The Adams Division final also opens Monday night, with Montreal meeting Detroit in St. Louis. At Detroit in the Norris and Edmonton at Calgary in the Smythe.

The Devils, who closed out their opening-round series against the New York Islanders Thursday, will be better rested than the Capitals in Game 1.

"It's silly that we didn't have another day off," Washington coach Bryan Murray said. "I think it is a disadvantage. It's got to bother them a little bit."

The Devils won the last two games, including their first victory ever at the Capital Centre.

"We need to put pressure on their defense, forecheck them, try to cancel some of their power plays," Gartner said. "The New Jersey defense and Rod Langway. It's just a whole new division is so close, it's going to be another tough series."

Montreal's high-scoring line of Pat Verbeek, Kirk Muller and Aaron Brorton was kept in check by Washington defensemen Scott Stevens said the line was "one of the best lines in hockey."

"We have to be careful, but we have enough talent to win," Stevens said. "They have a great goaltender for a force and they're playing very well right now."

If history is any guide, the Canadians will beat the Bruins in the Adams final. For the last 18 times the teams have met in the playoffs, Montreal has won the series. Of the last four, the Bruins have failed to win a game. But Boston enters the series in better physical shape than the Canadians. In the Adams final Game 1 without left wing Mats Naslund and center Shayne Corson, who are out with strained knee ligaments.

Montreal left wing Bob Gainey is back. He is expected to play Monday night.

Despite the injuries, Naslund the Canadians are relaxed going into the series.

"I don't think there's as much pressure on us now you're playing in the second round," said Robert Osborne. "I mean, if you lose in the first round it's a big hotter touch. Your whole season is gone. If you lose in the second round at least you know you got past the first round."

The Devils have met once before in the NHL playoffs, with the Blues the better team. The final match of the last Detroit won the regular-season series this year 4-3.
Monday, April 18, 1988

Unser Jr. stops Andretti streak
Associated Press

LONG BEACH — Al Unser Jr. extended the Andretti family's hold on the Toyota Grand Prix of Long Beach, running away with Sunday's Indy-car race on the seaside road circuit.

Unser, who will turn 36 on Tuesday, picked up his fifth Indy-car victory— all have come on road courses — and his first since the 1986 finale at Miami.

Two-time defending CART-PPG champion Bobby Rahal finished second Sunday, one lap and 33.482 seconds behind the winner's Chevrolet-powered March.

Kevin Cogan wound up third, followed another lap back by Raul Boesel of Brazil, Derek Daly of Ireland and Rocky Moran.

Unser, who came back this year to the team owned by Rick Galles after a three-year stint with 22 points.

Boesel, who replaced Unser on the Shioner team, now leads the season standings after two races with 22 points.

Boesel lost power as the cars continued from page 16

From page 16.

The Observer

wick's spin in the hairpin. He built a margin of nearly 17 seconds over Andretti by lap 15. At that point, Scott Brayton's spin in the hairpin brought out a full-course caution flag and sent all the leaders onto pit road for their first round of pit stops.

Unser's crew, directed by chief mechanic Owen Snyder, had problems with the lug nut on the rear left tire, apparently stripping it.

They eventually got a new tire jammed on, but the pit stop dropped Unser back to sixth, with Boesel, who stayed on the track during the caution, taking the lead.

Boesel lost power as the cars were about to take the green flag again on lap 24, giving up the top spot to Andretti's LaFerreira Chevrolet. Andretti, in turn, gave up the lead when he tagged out of a concrete barrier lining the temporary circuit and came away with a flat front left tire on lap 27.

Detroit broke a 3-3 tie with an eight-run outburst in the eighth inning, which included home runs by Alan Budnick and Lonnie Draper.

The Titans took an 11-3 lead into the bottom of the ninth inning, that's when things got interesting.

Titan reliever Todd Mahaney, who entered the game with an earned run average of 1.00, walked the first two batters.

Irish rightfielder Dan Peltier hit into a fielder's choice, but when Titan first baseman Lance Sullivan's throw to second was wild, the bases were loaded with nobody out.

Metheny promptly walked Ed Lund to bring in a run. The score was 1-4.

Hutson was up to the plate. His hit went up over the rightfield wall for a grand slam 11-8.

James Sass followed with a single, and Dave Legus hit a ball right through Titan second baseman Rick Tavernia's legs, and still nobody was out.

Dave Yawman was next up and the Titans committed their third error of the inning. Sass scored on the play. 11-9.

At this point, after the Irish had scored six runs with the benefit of just two hits, Dan Kopitzke replaced Mahaney on the mound. Pat O'Brien brought the tying run to second base with a double and then hit a fly ball right through Titan second baseman Lance Sullivan's throw to second was wild, the bases were loaded with nobody out.

Metheny promptly walked Ed Lund to bring in a run. The score was 1-4.

Hutson was up to the plate. His hit went up over the rightfield wall for a grand slam 11-8.

James Sass followed with a single, and Dave Legus hit a ball right through Titan second baseman Rick Tavernia's legs, and still nobody was out.

Dave Yawman was next up and the Titans committed their third error of the inning. Sass scored on the play. 11-9.

At this point, after the Irish had scored six runs with the benefit of just two hits, Dan Kopitzke replaced Mahaney on the mound. Pat O'Brien brought the tying run to second base with a double and then hit a fly ball right through Titan second baseman Lance Sullivan's throw to second was wild, the bases were loaded with nobody out.

Metheny promptly walked Ed Lund to bring in a run. The score was 1-4.

Hutson was up to the plate. His hit went up over the rightfield wall for a grand slam 11-8.

James Sass followed with a single, and Dave Legus hit a ball right through Titan second baseman Rick Tavernia's legs, and still nobody was out.

Dave Yawman was next up and the Titans committed their third error of the inning. Sass scored on the play. 11-9.

At this point, after the Irish had scored six runs with the benefit of just two hits, Dan Kopitzke replaced Mahaney on the mound. Pat O'Brien brought the tying run to second base with a double and then hit a fly ball right through Titan second baseman Lance Sullivan's throw to second was wild, the bases were loaded with nobody out.

Metheny promptly walked Ed Lund to bring in a run. The score was 1-4.

Hutson was up to the plate. His hit went up over the rightfield wall for a grand slam 11-8.

James Sass followed with a single, and Dave Legus hit a ball right through Titan second baseman Rick Tavernia's legs, and still nobody was out.

Dave Yawman was next up and the Titans committed their third error of the inning. Sass scored on the play. 11-9.

At this point, after the Irish had scored six runs with the benefit of just two hits, Dan Kopitzke replaced Mahaney on the mound. Pat O'Brien brought the tying run to second base with a double and then hit a fly ball right through Titan second baseman Lance Sullivan's throw to second was wild, the bases were loaded with nobody out.

Metheny promptly walked Ed Lund to bring in a run. The score was 1-4.

Hutson was up to the plate. His hit went up over the rightfield wall for a grand slam 11-8.

James Sass followed with a single, and Dave Legus hit a ball right through Titan second baseman Rick Tavernia's legs, and still nobody was out.

Dave Yawman was next up and the Titans committed their third error of the inning. Sass scored on the play. 11-9.

At this point, after the Irish had scored six runs with the benefit of just two hits, Dan Kopitzke replaced Mahaney on the mound. Pat O'Brien brought the tying run to second base with a double and then hit a fly ball right through Titan second baseman Lance Sullivan's throw to second was wild, the bases were loaded with nobody out.

Metheny promptly walked Ed Lund to bring in a run. The score was 1-4.
Final 64 take the court

Today's games mark the beginning of the Round of 64. Starting today, the remaining 48 teams in the tournament will have referees.

By FRANK PASTOR
Sports Writer

Notre Dame coach Michelle Gelfman clearly was not pleased with the results after her women's tennis team split its weekend matches. Although the team lost to Southern Illinois-Edwardsville 3-4 on Saturday, it was Sunday’s 6-0 victory over Northwest Missouri State which the third couple found particularly encouraging.

When the Irish (11-14) lost Notre Dame on Thursday, they expected to meet Mankato Slate in Sunday's match. However, upon its arrival at St. Edwardsville, the team found Northwest Missouri State on the other side of the nets.

The ease with which the Irish disposed of their foe was reflected in the game time. While the typical dual match for Notre Dame takes approximately five hours to complete, Sunday's match was consummated in an hour.

"It was a ridiculous match," said Gelfman. "Gaining in, we expected two good matches. Obviously, we didn't get that."

The Irish had little trouble in defeating Northwest Missouri Slate, sweeping all six singles matches in straight sets.

At number-one singles, CeCe Cahill did not lose a game in Sunday's match.

Paul Azinger and David Ogrin, not really in the title chase after the last 18 holes, were another two shots behind Azinger as he closed a 180, Ogrin 69.

$126,000 from the total purse of $700,000 and pushed Norman's earnings on the American tour to 853,106 for the year. He won three Australian titles earlier this year.

Frost, who has recorded six victories on the American tour, said to Hutton, who was on the course after Norman had one-putted the last man on the course, "I almost had bad feeling with all those short (par) putts, but he made them," Norman said after he one-putted for par on the last two holes.

The only one with a chance to catch Norman on the final hole, missed a 2-foot birdie putt that would have forced a playoff.

Hutton grinned broadly and shook hands with Norman, who then tousled the youngster's hair.

"I just want to thank Jamie," Norman said. "He showed me inspiration and courage. He at least made me want to work hard and win 64 and win a shot of 66 and that was enough."

Norman gave Hutton the plaid jacket and trophy awarded the winner.

"I'd like you to have it and put it in your hospital room. This is your trophy," Norman said to Hutton, who was wearing the jacket already.

"I almost had bad feeling with all those short (par) putts, but he made them," Norman said after he one-putted for par on the last two holes.

The Irish had little trouble in defeating Northwest Missouri Slate, sweeping all six singles matches in straight sets.

At number-one singles, CeCe Cahill did not lose a game in Sunday's match.

Paul Azinger and David Ogrin, not really in the title chase after the last 18 holes, were another two shots behind Azinger as he closed a 180, Ogrin 69.

THE HESBURGH PROGRAM IN PUBLIC SERVICE PRESENTS DR. JOHN L. PALMER Senior Economist and Co-Director, Changing Domestic Priorities Project The Urban Institute Dean, Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, Syracuse University "Beyond the Reagan Revolution: Reading National Priorities" Monday, April 18, 1988 7:30 p.m. 122 Hayes Healy

STUDENT HAIRCARE SAVINGS! $1 OFF STUDENT CUT Reg. $5 MasterCuts $1 OFF STUDENT CUT Reg. $8 MasterCuts $5 OFF ANY PERM Reg. $18 MasterCuts

In conjunction with National Volunteer Week, April 17-23, the Legal Services Program of Northern Indiana wishes to recognize and thank all of the Notre Dame and St. Mary students who have so generously volunteered their time to our agency this past year.

John Baker Tom Herr Lisa Marz Juan Ortiz Dan Ripper Julie Darnell Judy Kline Adam Milani Antonia Pancel Jon Theisen Julie Fessel Paula Kostalansky Megan O'Brien Lisa Perez

وان Final 64 take the court

Today's games mark the beginning of the Round of 64. Starting today, the remaining 48 teams in the tournament will have referees.

By FRANK PASTOR
Sports Writer

Notre Dame coach Michelle Gelfman clearly was not pleased with the results after her women's tennis team split its weekend matches. Although the team lost to Southern Illinois-Edwardsville 3-4 on Saturday, it was Sunday’s 6-0 victory over Northwest Missouri State which the third couple found particularly encouraging.

When the Irish (11-14) lost Notre Dame on Thursday, they expected to meet Mankato Slate in Sunday's match. However, upon its arrival at SIU-Edwardsville, the team found Northwest Missouri State on the other side of the nets.

The ease with which the Irish disposed of their foe was reflected in the game time. While the typical dual match for Notre Dame takes approximately five hours to complete, Sunday’s match was consummated in an hour.

"It was a ridiculous match," said Gelfman. "Gaining in, we expected two good matches. Obviously, we didn't get that."

The Irish had little trouble in defeating Northwest Missouri Slate, sweeping all six singles matches in straight sets.

At number-one singles, CeCe Cahill did not lose a game in Sunday's match.

Paul Azinger and David Ogrin, not really in the title chase after the last 18 holes, were another two shots behind Azinger as he closed a 180, Ogrin 69.

$126,000 from the total purse of $700,000 and pushed Norman's earnings on the American tour to 853,106 for the year. He won three Australian titles earlier this year.

Frost, who has recorded six victories on the American tour, said to Hutton, who was on the course after Norman had one-putted the last man on the course, "I almost had bad feeling with all those short (par) putts, but he made them," Norman said after he one-putted for par on the last two holes.

The only one with a chance to catch Norman on the final hole, missed a 2-foot birdie putt that would have forced a playoff.

Hutton grinned broadly and shook hands with Norman, who then tousled the youngster's hair.

"I just want to thank Jamie," Norman said. "He showed me inspiration and courage. He at least made me want to work hard and win 64 and win a shot of 66 and that was enough."

Norman gave Hutton the plaid jacket and trophy awarded the winner.

"I'd like you to have it and put it in your hospital room. This is your trophy," Norman said to Hutton, who was wearing the jacket already.

"I almost had bad feeling with all those short (par) putts, but he made them," Norman said after he one-putted for par on the last two holes.

The Irish had little trouble in defeating Northwest Missouri Slate, sweeping all six singles matches in straight sets.

At number-one singles, CeCe Cahill did not lose a game in Sunday's match.

Paul Azinger and David Ogrin, not really in the title chase after the last 18 holes, were another two shots behind Azinger as he closed a 180, Ogrin 69.

$126,000 from the total purse of $700,000 and pushed Norman's earnings on the American tour to 853,106 for the year. He won three Australian titles earlier this year.

Frost, who has recorded six victories on the American tour, said to Hutton, who was on the course after Norman had one-putted the last man on the course, "I almost had bad feeling with all those short (par) putts, but he made them," Norman said after he one-putted for par on the last two holes.

The only one with a chance to catch Norman on the final hole, missed a 2-foot birdie putt that would have forced a playoff.

Hutton grinned broadly and shook hands with Norman, who then tousled the youngster's hair.

"I just want to thank Jamie," Norman said. "He showed me inspiration and courage. He at least made me want to work hard and win 64 and win a shot of 66 and that was enough."

Norman gave Hutton the plaid jacket and trophy awarded the winner.

"I'd like you to have it and put it in your hospital room. This is your trophy," Norman said to Hutton, who was wearing the jacket already.

"I almost had bad feeling with all those short (par) putts, but he made them," Norman said after he one-putted for par on the last two holes.
O's keeping loss, Indians roll on

Associated Press

BALTIMORE—Mel Hall and Brooks Jacoby had three hits apiece, and John Farrell pitched a one-hitter and the Indians to a 4-1 Sunday victory over the Orioles their 12th straight loss to open the season, one short of the major league record.

The Indians, who won for the 11th time in 13 games, are off to their best start since 1966.

Braves end slide with win

Associated Press

Baltimore Orioles 3, Detroit Tigers 2

The Baltimore Orioles won their first game of the season, 3-2 over the Los Angeles Dodgers. Zane Smith was the winning pitcher for the Braves, who broke a 10-game losing streak.

Pascual Perez, 2-1, pitched seven innings, allowing four hits while striking out eight to help the Expos sweep the three-game series. And Mike Mcgill worked the final two innings to get his first save, allowing no hits.

No gain in fight

Associated Press

LAS VEGAS—Marlon Starling and Mark Breland both thought they were. Neither of them boosted his stock. At the end of a rather dull 12 rounds Saturday night at the Las Vegas Hilton, the light heavyweight title was never in control of the action, as Starling won a unanimous decision over Breland, 115-113, 114-113, 114-113.

"I thought I came on in the late rounds," Breland said. "I thought I won."

Two of the three judges gave Breland three of the last four rounds and the third called the last four 2-1 in favor of Breland. But the 1984 Olympic champion fell just short of regaining the title he lost to Starling on an 11th-round knockout last Aug. 22.

"I would have to discuss that with my manager," said Breland.

In the junior welterweight division, the world-ranked world welterweight champion by virtue of a draw, "Mark may have won three rounds," said Breland.

ANNUALING A NEW CONCENTRATION IN GENDER STUDIES

Introductory and Advanced Courses Including:

Engra 291A: Gender and Society in American Lit.
Eng 386: American Authors: Women in the Nineteenth Century
Soc 342: Marriage and the Family
Phil 232: Women: Alternative Philosophical Perspectives
Phil 230: Philosophical Ideas in Art

For further information contact:

Sonia Gerns (English) 356 O'Shay
Kathleen Biddick (History) 456 Decto
Hames Walton (English) 350 O'Shay
Janet Kourany (Phil) 623 Chicago Public Library
Christina Mercer (Phil) 321 Decio

S P R I N G G R A D S

Medical Research Opportunities

Spring Gradus Medical Research Opportunities

Start your research career with Northwestern University's Medical School as a member of our prestigious and dedicated research staff. Your involvement here and challenge can start with research opportunities available in the areas of:

- Microimmunology
- Endocrinology
- Neurology
- Pathology
- Surgery
- Microbiology

Successful candidates will have Bachelor's or Master's degrees in the biological sciences, with experience in independent lab research. Must possess current knowledge of basic research methodology and biochemistry techniques. Small laboratory animal handling experience helpful. Proven academic achievement is also required.

Northwestern University offers a very competitive starting salary and comprehensive benefits package, including dental insurance and 3-week paid vacation the first year. For immediate consideration, please contact your departmental chairperson or your campus placement office, or send resume which must include a current and two faculty references, to:

Northwestern University
Personnel Department, Chicago Campus
111 E. Chicago Avenue, Room 119
Chicago, IL 60611

An Equal Opportunity Employer M/F

ERIN & LAURA CAREY

A super birthday wish for a very special year!

We miss you and love you!

All our love, Mom & Dad, Tom & Amy

ANNOUNCING A NEW CONCENTRATION IN GENDER STUDIES

Introductory and Advanced Courses Including:

Eng 291A: Gender and Society in American Lit.
Eng 386: American Authors: Women in the Nineteenth Century
Soc 342: Marriage and the Family
Phil 232: Women: Alternative Philosophical Perspectives
Phil 230: Philosophical Ideas in Art

For further information contact:

Sonia Gerns (English) 356 O'Shay
Kathleen Biddick (History) 456 Decto
Hames Walton (English) 350 O'Shay
Janet Kourany (Phil) 623 Chicago Public Library
Christina Mercer (Phil) 321 Decio

S P R I N G G R A D S

Medical Research Opportunities

Spring Gradus Medical Research Opportunities

Start your research career with Northwestern University's Medical School as a member of our prestigious and dedicated research staff. Your involve-
McEnroe breaks 19-month slide

Associated Press

TOKYO—John McEnroe, the year's dominating athlete, scored a four-set victory over Stefan Edberg of Sweden 6-2, 6-2 Sunday in the men's singles finals of the Japan Open Tennis Championship for his first tournament victory in 19 months.

It was McEnroe's first Grand Prix victory since he won in Scottsdale, Ariz., on Oct. 11, 1986. McEnroe was ranked No. 1 in the world from 1981 until 1984 but is currently ranked 24th.

It was McEnroe's seventh career victory in eight matches against Edberg, who is ranked third in the world. He earned $627,500 while Edberg took $61,125.

But his coach and former doubles partner, Peter Fleming, was optimistic about McEnroe, who has had several nagging injuries and has missed several tournaments after being suspended for his conduct on the court.

"John is about 75-80 percent compared to his best days. I think a comeback is possible," Fleming said.

McEnroe got off to a good start before 9,600 spectators on the hard court of the Ariake Tennis Park, taking the first game without losing a point. He consistently passed Edberg, who moved to the net aggressively.

He broke Edberg's service in the fourth game and again in the eighth with a lob from the net to take the first set in 41 minutes.

The second set was even quicker—just 33 minutes as the 29-year-old New Yorker hit two passing shots and a smash to break Edberg in the sixth game and take a 4-2 lead. Trailing 9-30 in the eighth game, Edberg double-faulted, then hit a ground stroke into the net as McEnroe raised his hands into the air to the cheering spectators.

McEnroe won the third set 6-0, 6-1, 6-3, 4-6, 7-5.

Vogel ran the three-mile race in 16:15 to take the win. Kevin McKay was second with a time of 16:21. Ed Gibbons (18:12) was the first graduate student to finish followed by Eric Wagner (19:25) of Pangborn Hall in third in 19:54.

Kevin Scanlon was second in faculty and sixth overall with a time of 20:30. John Riley (20:39) and Dave Flickinger, a Pangborn Hall resident, won the six-mile race with a time of 34:34. James McMurray won the faculty division in a time of 35:19 and finished second overall. Freshman James Coogan of Grace took third in 37:34.

Kevin Scanlon was second in faculty and sixth overall with a time of 34:34. James McMurray won the faculty division in a time of 35:19 and finished second overall. Freshman James Coogan of Grace took third in 37:34.

Kevin Scanlon was second in faculty and sixth overall with a time of 34:34. James McMurray won the faculty division in a time of 35:19 and finished second overall. Freshman James Coogan of Grace took third in 37:34.

Kevin Scanlon was second in faculty and sixth overall with a time of 34:34. James McMurray won the faculty division in a time of 35:19 and finished second overall. Freshman James Coogan of Grace took third in 37:34.
Campus

Monday

An Tostal, April 18 through April 24, 1988.
12 p.m. Institute for International Peace Studies seminar (Brown Bag) "Israel and Democracy," by Professor Alan Dowty, Notre Dame. Room 180 Law School.
7 p.m. Notre Dame Communication and Theatre Spring Film Series "Old Maid." 1939, 95 minutes, directed by Edmund Goulding, USA. Annenberg Auditorium.
8:15 p.m. Notre Dame Communication and Theatre Spring Film Series "In the Mood." 1939, 95 minutes, directed by Lizzie Flam. Campus Cinema. Ticket price.

Dinner Menus

Notre Dame
Sloppy Joe
Southern Fried Chicken
Roast Turkey with Spring Vegetables
Baked Sole with Savory Rice

Saint Mary's
Roast Beef au jus
Spaghetti with Meat Sauce
Vegetarian Chow Mein
Deli Bar

Observer classifieds will be accepted from 9am-3pm M-F at the Observer offices, 314 LaFortein.

Comics

Bloom County

Calvin and Hobbes

Far Side

Gary Larson

The tragic proliferation of noseguns

Enjoy an An Tostal with James Bond

FOR YOUR EYES ONLY
APRIL 20 | 21
8:10 pm

FROM RUSSIA WITH LOVE
APRIL 22 | 23
8:10 pm

Tickets $2.00
Irish clinch playoff spot with late rallies

By STEVE MEGARGEE
Assistant Sports Editor

You could tell something was up when the sprinkler system went off at Jake Kline Field during the fifth inning of the second game of Saturday's Notre Dame-Detroit doubleheader.

But compared to everything else that happened at Jake Kline Field over the weekend, the sprinkler incident was nothing out of the ordinary.

When it was all over, the Irish had won three of their four games from the Midwestern Collegiate Conference rivals to clinch a spot in the conference playoffs and virtually guarantee themselves of hosting the playoffs. The only way Notre Dame could be 9-3 in the MCC will not be the host is in the unlikely circumstances that Dayton sweeps its eight remaining conference games or wins seven of eight and wins a tiebreaker.

"It made for exciting baseball this weekend," said first-year Irish baseball coach Pat Murphy, "to be 9-3 in the MCC, but I'm not going to get complacent. There's still a lot of baseball to play." Notre Dame came into a spot in the playoffs with Saturday's doubleheader sweep of the Titans. But it was anything but a smooth ride over their average sweep.

Detroit held leads of 6-0 and 7-1 in the first game Saturday. But Notre Dame exploded for five runs in the fifth to take the lead for good. Steve Skupien, playing second base in place of an injured Mike Mosher, hit the game-winning single for the Irish as Notre Dame won 9-8. Skupien hit a home run in the victory.

Detroit appeared to be 23-16 and Dame, earned his first collegiate victory in the first game.

"Skupien had a great day, and Pesavento will just find a way to beat you," said Murphy. Skupien did a nice job at second base, and he's starting to hit the ball. We haven't lost a beat with Skupien in there. We miss Mosher, but Skupien's done very well." That's not to say that everything went off at Jake Kline Field your average sweep. But it was anything but.

We felt we could continue to take it to them but they started allowing the Irish to score at the end of the game. We had some problems with our miscues and the lack of protection, he was on target with little problems. With a young offensive line, Holtz said, "They're young and they're inexperienced, but they'll learn, they'll grow, they'll benefit and they'll be better."

As has been the case all spring, the Irish defense dominated, allowing only Green's touchdown and two field goals by sophomore Reggie Ho from 30 and 35 yards. Green also was the receiving star, collecting 77 yards on three catches. Tony Brooks rushed for 45 yards on 13 carries and Antwon Lark averaged 6.9 yards for his 5 rushing attempts.

Tony Rice saw the most playing time at quarterback, completing 6 of 29 passes for 99 yards. "I know everyone likes to look at stats," Holtz said, "but I can't believe Tony could throw the ball any better than he did today. I think with little problems, he was on target with little protection, he was on target with little protection, he was on target with little problems."

Holtz also cited penalties as a problem the Irish will have to solve before the 1988 season starts in September. The offense was penalized five times for 25 yards, with the defense being flagged five times for 50 yards.

"We just haven't developed that feel," Holtz said. "That's something you have to get as you go along. It's the missed assignments and the lack of fundamentals in the offensive line that concerns me most. People have to play next to one another and work on their relationships before they know exactly what they're doing."

The Irish are 23-16 and Dame, who was named to the MIAA player of the week for his pitching in the victory, earned his first collegiate victory in the first game.

"Skupien had a great day, and Pesavento will just find a way to beat you," said Murphy. Skupien did a nice job at second base, and he's starting to hit the ball. We haven't lost a beat with Skupien in there. We miss Mosher, but Skupien's done very well."

"Skupien had a great day, and Pesavento will just find a way to beat you," said Murphy. Skupien did a nice job at second base, and he's starting to hit the ball. We haven't lost a beat with Skupien in there. We miss Mosher, but Skupien's done very well."

"Skupien had a great day, and Pesavento will just find a way to beat you," said Murphy. Skupien did a nice job at second base, and he's starting to hit the ball. We haven't lost a beat with Skupien in there. We miss Mosher, but Skupien's done very well."

"Skupien had a great day, and Pesavento will just find a way to beat you," said Murphy. Skupien did a nice job at second base, and he's starting to hit the ball. We haven't lost a beat with Skupien in there. We miss Mosher, but Skupien's done very well.

Tony Rice takes a hardoff to Anthony Johnson during Friday's football scrimmage. The defense dominated the scrimmage as the offense could score only 13 points.

The Observer / Michael Moran

Irish clinch playoff spot with late rallies

By PETE LaFLEUR
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame lacrosse team paled in comparison to the Denison Big Red at Moose Krause Stadium Saturday as Denison turned a 5-1 deficit into a 14-6 victory that dropped the Irish to 9-3 for the season. The loss snapped the Irish's seven game winning streak and prevented them from setting a school record of eight consecutive wins.

Junior attackman Brian McHugh contributed two goals. Sophomore goalie Jeff Glazier, who set a school record of eight consecutive games with 14 saves in the season-high 14 saves in the Big Red attack.

"I think that's possibly the key player in the game," said junior defenseman Kevin Dimambro. "I can't believe Tony could throw the ball any better than he did today. I think with little problems, he was on target with little protection, he was on target with little problems."

Holtz also cited penalties as a problem the Irish will have to solve before the 1988 season starts in September. The offense was penalized five times for 25 yards, with the defense being flagged five times for 50 yards.

"We just haven't developed that feel," Holtz said. "That's something you have to get as you go along. It's the missed assignments and the lack of fundamentals in the offensive line that concerns me most. People have to play next to one another and work on their relationships before they know exactly what they're doing."

The Irish are 23-16 and Dame, who was named to the MIAA player of the week for his pitching in the victory, earned his first collegiate victory in the first game.

"Skupien had a great day, and Pesavento will just find a way to beat you," said Murphy. Skupien did a nice job at second base, and he's starting to hit the ball. We haven't lost a beat with Skupien in there. We miss Mosher, but Skupien's done very well."

"Skupien had a great day, and Pesavento will just find a way to beat you," said Murphy. Skupien did a nice job at second base, and he's starting to hit the ball. We haven't lost a beat with Skupien in there. We miss Mosher, but Skupien's done very well."

"Skupien had a great day, and Pesavento will just find a way to beat you," said Murphy. Skupien did a nice job at second base, and he's starting to hit the ball. We haven't lost a beat with Skupien in there. We miss Mosher, but Skupien's done very well."

"Skupien had a great day, and Pesavento will just find a way to beat you," said Murphy. Skupien did a nice job at second base, and he's starting to hit the ball. We haven't lost a beat with Skupien in there. We miss Mosher, but Skupien's done very well.

Tony Rice takes a hardoff to Anthony Johnson during Friday's football scrimmage. The defense dominated the scrimmage as the offense could score only 13 points.

The Observer / Michael Moran

Defensive coordinator Dominates Again

By THERESA KELLY and GREG GUFFEE
Sports Writers

No flags.

Junior Mark Green returns the opening kickoff in Friday's football scrimmage.

Kansas City, Mo. (AP) - The Notre Dame defense dominated the scrimmage as the offense could score only 13 points.

The Irish rushed gained 161 yards on 76 carries for only 2.1 yards per carry, while the receivers caught 11 of 33 passes for 123 yards. Notre Dame's inexperienced offensive line was getting a look at life in the trenches, and left Irish head coach Lou Holtz shaking his head.

"It presents an awful lot of problems with a young offensive line," Holtz said. "They're young and they're inexperienced, but they'll learn, they'll grow, they'll benefit and they'll be better."

As has been the case all spring, the Irish defense dominated, allowing only Green's touchdown and two field goals by sophomore Reggie Ho from 30 and 35 yards. Green also was the receiving star, collecting 77 yards on three catches. Tony Brooks rushed for 45 yards on 13 carries and Antwon Lark averaged 6.9 yards for his 5 rushing attempts.

Tony Rice saw the most playing time at quarterback, completing 6 of 29 passes for 99 yards. "I know everyone likes to look at stats," Holtz said, "but I can't believe Tony could throw the ball any better than he did today. I think with little problems, he was on target with little problems."

Holtz also cited penalties as a problem the Irish will have to solve before the 1988 season starts in September. The offense was penalized five times for 25 yards, with the defense being flagged five times for 50 yards.

"We just haven't developed that feel," Holtz said. "That's something you have to get as you go along. It's the missed assignments and the lack of fundamentals in the offensive line that concerns me most. People have to play next to one another and work on their relationships before they know exactly what they're doing."