Administration changes alcohol policy

Revisions result from task force recommendations

By REGIS COCCIA
News Editor

After more than a year of reviewing the recommendations of students and task force members, the University has issued a new alcohol policy barring alcohol at hall formal. ‘'Of all the things that have been decided in Notre Dame’s history, there’s probably been more student involvement and input in this policy,’’ said University President Father Edward Malloy. ‘‘One of the alter­natives was going dry.’’

The new policy was finalized during a five­day meeting of 12 University officials in July at a University­owned research center in Land O’Lakes, Wis. - Malloy said.

The Task Force on Whole Health and the Use and Abuse of Alcohol completed its report on March 15, after a year­long study. Reaction to the report was solicited by various campus groups and given serious consideration during the Land O’Lakes meetings, Malloy said.

The recent nationalization of the 21 drinking age indicates the need to confront the problem of alcohol abuse, he said. ‘‘Alcohol use and abuse is a national reality. Surely every university in the country has to face that reality,’’ Malloy said.

‘‘Obviously the result of that change in the law is going to be unpopular with people under 21. I'm hoping we're going to get cooperation and that we're going to struggle to deal with alcohol abuse.’’

One of the policy's most noticeable revisions concerns SYR (Screw Your Roommate) dances, Malloy said. Based on the task force recommenda­tions, dorms are permitted only one all hall formal each semester.

In a letter to student government, student leaders and hall staffs, Malloy highlighted the policy's revisions:

- At least 70 percent of the hall's student residents must purchase tickets or bids for the formal to take place.
- No University or hall funds, or funds raised from the sale of bids may be used to purchase alcohol. Further, the hall shall not distribute or supply alcohol in any public or private area.
- The hall must provide funds for food and non­alcoholic beverages.
- The all hall formal will be reviewed by the Office of Residence Life at the end of the 1989­1990 academic year with the goal of recommending further policy changes not to exclude the termination of the event, Malloy wrote.

The revised policy also bars publications such as The Observer from printing advertise­ments promoting alcohol or alcohol­centered events.

‘‘I think this is a moderate policy that requires some degree of compromise. It's awfully hard to make everybody happy. I'm sure this will be reviewed and changed,’’ Malloy said.

‘‘We're trying to avoid ex­cuses and find a middle­route,’’ he said. ‘‘I feel confi­dent we can maintain a high­quality social life at the time we come to grips with the problem of the abuse of alcohol.’’

Implementation of the policy, which is effective immedi­ately, rests with the Of­fices of Student Affairs and the Provost, Malloy said. Father see TRADE, page 8

Reagan endorses landmark trade bill

Associated Press

IRVINE, Calif. - President Reagan endorsed the collar and conservative votes for Vice President George Bush on Tuesday, signing a landmark trade bill and deriding the Democratic presidential ticket as "third­stringers" playing a "curvedball campaign.

In two Southern California appearances, a bill signing cer­emony on a pier in Long Beach and a "fundraiser" in con­servation Orange County, the president touted the economic advances of his term and proclaimed Bush the man to carry his legacy forward. He did not mention the record $170 billion trade deficit in 1987, a key reason he helped propel this version of the measure through Congress, nor his primary spon­sor, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas, who is paired with Demo­cratic presidential candidate Michael Dukakis against Bush and Quayle. see POLICY, page 8

SMC gets new residence director

By KRISTINE KRUCZEK

A new face in Saint Mary's Department of Residence Life and Housing is bringing a fresh perspective to residence life, said Sister Karol Jackowski, dean of student affairs.

On July 21, Jackowski an­nounced the appointment of Lisa VanBebber as the direc­tor of Residence Life and Housing.

VanBebber was the coordin­ator of Instruction and Train­ing in the Department of Resi­dence Life at the University of Maryland-College Park.

"Because of her vast ex­plore at the University of Maryland, Lisa brings a different perspective to the small community of Saint Mary’s,” said Jackowski.

"In our smaller community, we have a more proactive than reactive situation merely because there is greater commu­nication among all involved,” she said.

VanBebber, 28, said she was attracted by Saint Mary’s smaller community. "Because Saint Mary’s is a smaller col­lege, there is much more inter­action among all the people who make up the community,” she said.

"At a large university such as Maryland, I was dealing strictly with one aspect of resi­dence life. As director of resi­dence life at Saint Mary’s, I have the opportunity to work with department like Student Af­fairs and make solid deci­sions,” VanBebber said.

"I also have a lot to say to women of Saint Mary’s,” she added. "Hopefully my experi­ences on the professional and personal levels can help to diversify both our programs and staff members.”

The upcoming year is one of "newness” for the department, VanBebber said. "We have three new hall directors. In ad­dition, we have 31 first year resident assistants. I'm looking forward to the day when I feel like I have a routine,” Jackowski said.

"Greenville, Ohio, is a 1984 graduate of Ohio State University with a Master of Science degree in Student Per­sonnel Work. She is the director of instruction and training at Maryland, Van­Bebber was responsible for in­service training for full­time staff members.

VanBebber’s experience in­cludes teaching courses in group dynamics and leader­ship, resident assistant train­ing and communication skills.

While at Maryland, VanBeb­ber designed instructional pro­grams for moral development. She has conducted work­shops on sexual miscommunication and date rape.

Her many hats at Maryland included team training police offi­cers in communication skills and tutoring the men’s varsity basketball team.

"Lissa's new ideas and en­ergy add a whole different per­spective to residence life," Jackowski said. "She's just an absolute delight.”
GOV. MARIO CUOMO said Tuesday that the film "The Last Temptation of Christ" is offensive and he wouldn’t see it. But Cuomo, a Roman Catholic, said production of the film had a right to make the film. "I don’t see the point of my seeing it," Cuomo said in an interview with Albany public radio station WAMC. "The idea of profaning the Christ figure by showing him to be as human as the rest of us and using him as a womanizer and a sexual pervert is something that I find offensive to good taste." The film, which opened in theaters earlier this month, includes a scene in which a crucified Jesus Christ hallucinates that he has married Mary Magdalene. "Luckily, it is one that is not bad," the plant produces several thousand pounds of the powder every day.

Freshman enters ND after full recovery

By REGIS COCCA

It's the start of a new school year and all's well for Notre Dame freshman Melissa Sauceda, who was injured this spring during the An Tostal Keg Toss.

Sauceda spent a long summer recovering in her native Texas. But now she's ready for her first year here.

When she arrived last Thursday, Sauceda said she couldn't wait for school to begin. "I feel great. I can't wait for football games to start."

The 18-year-old Weslaco, Texas youth was visiting Friends and well-wishers during his recovery in her native Texas. But now she's ready for her first year here.

After a two-week hospital stay at St. Joseph's Medical Center, Sauceda went home with her parents, where she received a heroine's welcome.

"We didn't want her to feel she had to go to Notre Dame after the accident. But she said she wanted to," said Viola Sauceda, Melissa's mother. "It's a very friendly place. I feel confident she'll be fine here."

Adjusting to family and friends at home again wasn't easy for Sauceda. She had missed six weeks of high school.

"People thought I was hit by a crane," said Sauceda, laughing as she added many kids tugged at her hair to see if she were a wig.

The University community supported Sauceda throughout her hospital stay, said Father Andre Leveille, director of Campus Ministry.

"I was walking around every day and people were asking me, 'How is she?'' he said. Sauceda received dozens of gifts and flowers from residence halls. Both students and administrators visited her.

"I'm just so proud of Notre Dame. Like I am whenever something like this happens," Leveille said. "People pulling together in time of need is what the spirit of this place is all about."

Miners lock selves up in protest

Associated Press

WARSAW, Poland—Some workers ended their strikes Tuesday, but 125 miners har­ricided themselves in an un­derground shaft and vowed to stay until they won higher pay and recognition of the banned Solidarity trade union.

The government said it wouldn't negotiate "under the 'pistol' of a strike," and took measures to end Poland's worst wave of labor unrest since the 1981 imposition of martial law.

Government spokesman Jerzy Urban said at least 49 people have been detained by police nationwide in con­nection with the strikes, which began Aug. 16 and at their height affected about 100,000 workers at 30 sites.

On Monday night, Interior Minister Czeslaw Kiszczak said troops would be sent to secure major industrial plants to prevent anarchy, although none were in evidence at the plants Tues­day. An 11 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew was imposed in Jastrzebie in Katowice Pro­vince, the site of many of the mine strikes.

Four columns of army and police vehicles left Krakow for Katowice, witnesses said. Two of the convoys con­sisted of more than 70 vehicles.

Saint Mary's Security cracks down on illegal parking

By MIMI TUOHY
Assistant Saint Mary’s Editor

Parking illegally at Saint Mary’s may result in more than just a ticket, said Director of Security Richard Chlebek.

The College recently purchased four vehicle restraining devices, also known as “Denver boots,” which can be used by security to punish parking offenders. When clamped to a rear tire and locked in place, the boots make moving the vehicle impossible.

“Hopefully we won’t be forced to use them that often, but if the need arises, we will boot cars that are parked incorrectly,” Chlebek said.

Saint Mary’s Security will also strongly enforce the no parking regulation in the service lane on Madeleva Hall’s east side, Chlebek said.

“Last year, this lane turned into a parking lot. It’s not for the use of faculty, staff or students,” he said. “Emergency vehicles are the only exception, all others will be towed at the owner’s expense.”

Security has also devised new rules concerning parking in front of each residence hall. It is now unlawful to park in front of any dorm except Augusta. Students previously were permitted to park up to 30 minutes.

Students must now obtain a loading/unloading pass from security when necessary.

“Over the past few years, the total abuse governing the safe space for students, faculty, staff, and alumni—the Notre Dame community as a whole. There is not the time to look at what we do not have,” said Doyle. “It is a time to look at what we have and make the best of what we do have.”

Cracked up
Vince the crash-test dummy visits yesterday’s “Taste of Notre Dame” picnic Tuesday to promote Notre Dame Security’s “Saved by the Bell” campaign and amusing curious onlookers.

The modified alcohol policy toward tailgaters has not been addressed or changed at all, said Doyle and Paese. However, Doyle said he felt “greater attention will be placed on alcohol throughout the campus, tailgaters included.”

The modified alcohol policy deals not only with students, said Doyle, but also with faculty, staff, and alumni.

“The modified alcohol policy is not ideally what students wanted,” said Doyle, “but I want to emphasize that student response was considered... It’s clear that the reason SYRs even remained was the student response to the reports.”

Limiting all-hall semi-formal dances, or SYRs, to one per semester per hall is one of the major changes to the policy. In addition, no alcohol may be provided by the hall or permitted outside of private rooms at these gatherings—also a new provision.

“We all enjoyed SYRs in their past form, but we have to realize we haven’t lost the SYR completely,” said Doyle. “The complexion will change, but the idea of an all-hall gathering is still a reality.”

Bush, Duke continue attacks

Associated Press

Democrat Michael Dukakis ridiculed Republican George Bush's call for a flexible budget freeze on Tuesday, likening the proposal to "a melting ice cube." Embattled GOP vice presidential nominee Dan Quayle labeled reports about him "just one bun rap after another."

Campaigned in Seattle, Bush sounded impatient with continued questioning about Quayle. "I'm appalled you could ask that," the vice president snapped when asked about a report that Quayle had once propositioned lobbyist Paula Parkinson.

The 41-year-old Indiana senator called the report "an absolute, flat-out falsehood." Bush campaign manager Lee Atwater said Quayle was "here to stay" and denied there ever was serious discussion of dropping him from the ticket.

A new Gallup poll said Bush was leading Dukakis by a margin of 48 percent to 44 percent among registered voters. However, the survey had a 3 percent margin of error, meaning that either figure could be off by that much. Gallup contacted 1,000 likely voters last weekend immediately following the Republican National Convention.

Dukakis continued to brush aside poll results as having little meaning at this point in the race. "I got a bounce (from the Democratic convention)," he said. "They got a bounce. I think you'll see lots of bounces."

President Reagan described the Republican ticket as "our winning team" and called the Democrats "third-stringers with a weak defense, a foreign policy of errors, curveball campaign promises, a set of policies to be named later and billions of dollars in higher taxes."

At a fund-raising luncheon in Irvine, Calif., for Republican Sen. Pete Wilson, Reagan said Dukakis was following a campaign of "covert liberalism" trying to conceal his true beliefs.

Dukakis responded: "I think it will be the American people who decide who belongs in the major leagues and who belongs in the bush leagues."

Earlier, Reagan signed trade legislation at a ceremony in Long Beach, Calif. As he was leaving he was asked if he thought Bush should drop Quayle from the ticket and he replied, "No. He's a fine man and well-qualified."

However, a Republican member of Congress, Howard Nielson of Utah, said he thought Quayle was hurting the ticket and should quit.
Buildings demolished in Nepal quake zone

Associated Press

DHARAN, Nepal—Police bulldozed teetering houses Tuesday to keep people from returning to homes left unsafe by an earthquake that killed at least 721 people in India and Nepal.

Officials in both countries expected the death toll to rise as relief workers reached remote towns that have been inaccessible since Sunday's devasting quake.

Some roads were flooded by heavy rains that continued Tuesday, while others had 3-foot-deep cracks or were blocked by boulders the size of houses in the Himalayan mountains and valleys.

At least 331 people were killed in Nepal, said Tek Bahadur Thapa, additional secretary in the Home Affairs Ministry.

Prime Minister Marich Man Singh Shrestha visited Dharan, one of the hardest-hit towns, and surveyed heaps of bricks that were once three-story and five-story houses.

"This is the biggest calamity to strike Nepal," Shrestha said as he toured the town.

India reported an official death toll of 200, but the figure was disputed by news media and opposition politicians who put the Indian death count at anywhere from 400 to 1,500.

"We're here to sign a piece of legislation that will help our economy continue to grow and compete," Reagan told hundreds of dock workers and politicians as he spoke before a huge container ship in Long Beach, one of the world's 10 busiest computerized cargo ports.

The bill he signed is seen as a landmark bipartisan attempt to deal with the nation's trade woes. The signing ended months of negotiations between the administration and Congress over the bill, which Reagan vetoed when it was first sent to him because it contained a provision requiring 60-day notice to employees of plant closings and layoffs.

The abortion foes remain in jail

Associated Press

ATLANTA. More than a month of demonstrations by an anti-abortion group trying to close local clinics have worn out the city's welcome mat, and Southern hospitality is being withdrawn.

"We're giving them the opportunity to walk the 10 feet to the bun," said police Sgt. Melvin Denison.

"We are no longer extending certain courtesies," says Sgt. Carl Pydrum. The jails are getting crowded, although corrections officials say they can manage, even if some demonstrators have to bunk on cell floors. And the cost of protecting the clinics and of arresting and holding the protesters has shot past $250,000.

Operation Rescue, a New York-based anti-abortion group, kicked off the protests July 19, the second day of the convention, when scores of activists who were not carrying identification tried to block access to a clinic where abortions and other procedures are performed.

Those arrested refused to give their names, identifying themselves as Baby Jane Doe or Baby John Doe to show solidarity with the fetuses. Some remain jailed; others have been identified or have won their release by giving their names. Comrades keep coming.

Authorities won't release those who refuse to give their names, saying they could not be sure the protesters would return for court dates.

The city's tactics in dealing with the activists have changed as the protests have dragged on.

"We're giving them the opportunity to walk the 10 feet to the bun," said police Sgt. Melvin Denison.

"We are no longer extending certain courtesies," says Sgt. Carl Pydrum. The jails are getting crowded, although corrections officials say they can manage, even if some demonstrators have to bunk on cell floors. And the cost of protecting the clinics and of arresting and holding the protesters has shot past $250,000.

Captain charged in refugee case

Associated Press

WASHINGTON. The Navy has accused the captain of the USS Dubuque of dereliction of duty for failing to rescue a boatload of Vietnamese refugees who claim they later resorted to cannibalism to survive.

Pentagon sources said Tuesday there were sufficient indications of hardship aboard the refugee boat when it crossed paths with the Dubuque that the Navy warship should have taken aboard the refugees found on the South China Sea on June 9, 1988, in danger of being lost.

The second count accuses him of violating standing operational orders for the Pacific Fleet "which require a commanding officer to aid and rescue refugees encountered at sea in life-endangering circumstances." Balian was temporarily relieved of his command of the Dubuque on Aug. 13 while on patrol in the Persian Gulf. Davis is scheduled to retire on June 9, 1988, in danger of being lost.

Parents of rape victim lead police to offender

Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Ohio. The parents of a rape victim stalked out the location of the attack for more than a year, and their persistence paid off with an arrest.

The wife acted as decoy and her armed husband waited in the dark.

"Obviously, they had really carefully thought out what they were going to do," Debra Seltzer, rape prevention coordinator of the local chapter of Women Against Rape, said Tuesday. "It really shows the frustration that a lot of people feel."

Police on Monday announced the arrest of Robert Biddings, 34, of Columbus, who authorities say is a suspect in a four-year string of attacks attributed to the so-called "handcuff rapist." The nickname resulted from the use of handcuffs in early attacks later attributed to the same man.

Authorities believe the man is responsible for as many as 60 rapes.

Welcome back to Notre Dame. We hope that all of you had an enjoyable summer and are excited, as we are, about the 1988-1989 academic year. We believe that our efforts during the stay here this summer have been fruitful, for we began to lay the groundwork for what looks to be a fantastic year. Six months ago we made commitments in two areas to Notre Dame students: first, to improve student services and second, to provide diverse fora to enhance the political, social and cultural awareness on campus. We shall take this opportunity to discuss both what has been accomplished and what you can expect to be achieved through the next year.

Clearly, the service that we most hoped to provide for the student body was the establishment of a 24-hour student lounge. After much work and frustration, such a facility has been approved with the invaluable cooperation of Mr. William Hickey and the University Food Services staff. It will be located in the Oak Room of the South Dining Hall, will serve a limited menu, and will remain open 24 hours, seven days a week. However, this service will be provided on a trial basis contingent on the number of students using the lounge. If you find this facility to be an important service, its survival depends on your use of it.

In addition, two booklets published under the last Student Government administration will soon be distributed. The first booklet deals with various aspects of off-campus housing ranging from crime prevention to community resources. The other manual is a guide to on- and off-campus life at Notre Dame. As the year progresses we will attempt to address a whole spectrum of service issues, dealing with issues from more phones in the library and the academic buildings to more toilet for tailgaters.

As we reflect on the summer, the area where most progress has been made concerns the political, cultural and social awareness agenda. First, we have appointed a chairman who has begun to organize a campus-wide debate series that will most probably take place in the spring. Second, Student Union Board should be commended for their efforts in attractingsupplier speakers for this year. Third, Student Government will be organizing a campus-wide voter registration campaign that will begin in September. Moreover, our office will be arranging information booths that will provide information on all the presidential candidates. Space does not allow for a description of our complete agenda, but these are only a few of the many programs that we will provide this year.

In an effort to better inform the student body and hold us more accountable to students, The Observer has kindly granted us space for a weekly column to discuss Student Government issues and events. We invite your input and thoughts on any issue concerning our work.

Finally and most importantly, to be successful this year we need your involvement and support. Please do not hesitate to stop by or call the Student Government Office, located on the second floor of LaFayette.

Summer Movies feature Hits and Misses

Faster than the dripping of a melting ice cream cone, summer movies come and go; however, the memories of its events linger. In addition to part-time jobbing, singing, and tanning, movie viewing is a hot summer activity and this summer offers some of the year’s best— and worst— films.

"Switcheroo syndrome" continues with the latest addition to the list of "boy come's films" in "Big." Tom Hanks portrays a boy who makes a wish, which comes true and Hanks becomes a child in a woman’s adult’s body. Surprisingly, the sequels that follow are refreshing and hilarious. Hank finds his way into some familiar tune on a large piano in the center of Wrigley Field’s new-look "Bull Durham." Kevin Costner portrays a minor league catcher with a stiff competition in Costner’s fight to win the affections of a lovely lady.

The contest was close. "I ate my first three pizzas in the first 20 minutes and the other two in the rest of the remaining time," Sessions said. Ms. Staten, a 30-year-old former Lafayette resident who now lives in Guntersville, Ala., used a different technique. "I didn’t drink that much something I noticed a lot of other people around me did," she said. "I wouldn’t have made it if I’ve drunk a lot of water." Ms. Staten collected $460 for the winner’s work. "I was determined to get that money, and I almost got the big money," she said Monday. "I would have if I’d had one more big bite. It was easy; I love pizza." Sessions said he didn’t know how he would spend his prize money, but one thing was certain. "I’m having a liquid dinner tonight," he said.

Young Daniel Harris, who plays Sammy Garetson in "One Life to Live," has the leading role in the new movie "Aces IV," the next installment in the horror movie series that started with the original movie "A lunch box from an uneasy Scott hopes he’s wrong about Zack.

Will Jessica’s presence affect Traci’s pregnancy on "The Young and the Restless?" Leanna wonders if she’ll be able to handle Victor when he learns the truth, while Nina, under Rex’s expert tutelage, surprises Philip.

The impostor holds Didi hostage on "One Life to Live." After Iris is lured to a hotel room, the impostor takes her to a nearby car- nal where Cord rescues her. Steve asks Gabielle for a divorce. Meanwhile, with Didi handcuffed to an electrical panel at the carnival’s fun house, Bo and the Imposter confront each other. Tina goes to meet Ursula, a friend of Patrick’s London.

On "Ryan’s Hope," Sylvia, Ryan, and Jack convince George Anthony to end the violence and he gives up with- out a fight. Jill Novak is worried that Siobhan is obsessed with Max Dubujak.

At a florist shop, we see a stranger’s back as he orders a rose which he plans to deliver to Siobhan. Later, as Siobhan is taking a shower, a figure enters the bathroom.

Jill Novak (Suzanne Cryer) and Tom Cruise (Frank Hervey) at the center and to purchase recreation equipment. For Sessions, a 27-year-old police officer from Craw- for Town, the third time was a charm. Sessions said he changed his strategy from the previous tries. "I ate my first three pizzas in the first 20 minutes and the other two in the rest of the remaining time," Sessions said.

Tom Hanks in "Big" is one of the summer’s best: enduring while trying to pass drivers education. "Learning to Drive" attempts to capture these memorable moments, but this film runs on empty. The Writers Strike certainly did not affect the quality of this summer’s best movies.

movie being released. With each film, "The Young and the Restless," "BETRAYED," and "Clean and Sober" just beginning to emerge, there’s sure to be standing room only at most theatres nationwide.

Tyson breaks bone in hand during a late-night scuffle

Associated Press

NEW YORK - Heavyweight champion Mike Tyson broke a bone in his right hand during a street fight early Tuesday with former boxing opponent Mitch Green, the champion confirmed Tuesday night.

Tyson appeared at a news conference wearing a cast on his right hand, and said the injury was a hairline fracture of the third metacarpal. His manager, Bill Cayton, said he didn't know whether Tyson's Oct. 8 fight against Frank Bruno at London, England, would have to be rescheduled.

Tyson said the fight occurred around 4:30 a.m. outside a 24-hour clothing store, where he had gone to pick up a jacket.

Green's version, according to police, was different.

The break was described as minor and the boxer said he felt no pain.

Tyson claimed that Mitch Green, a one-time Tyson opponent, ripped his shirt and started the fight as Tyson was getting into his car early Tues- day morning. The pair exchanged punches, Tyson said.

Twins continue their Tiger hex

Associated Press

MINNEAPOLIS - Kent Hrbek's second homer of the game, a two-run shot in the 10th inning Tuesday night, lifted the Minnesota Twins over Detroit 7-5 for their 10th straight victory against the Tigers.

The Twins, who beat Detroit in five games in last year's American League playoffs, are 10-1 versus the East Division leaders this season.

Kirby Puckett opened the 10th with a single off Mike Her- neman, 6-3. Hrbek followed with his 24th home run, all against AL east opponents. Hrbek went 3-for-5 and drove in four runs.

Jeff Reardon, 1-4, pitched one inning for his first victory since last Sept. 13. The Twins won their first extra-inning game in six tries this year.

Mike Boddicker, 10-14, scat­ red six hits and struck out six in five innings for his fifth straight decision. He gave up nine hits in 6 1-3 innings and finished with two-hit relief. The Indians got 11 hits and ended a three-game losing streak.

Indians pitcher Bob Feller, 4-2, got the victory.

ND awarded North Star title ... again

Special to The Observer

Notre Dame went out of the North Star Conference with a bang, winning the conference's All-Sports Trophy for the third time in four seasons.

The university is leaving the North Star Conference this year to move on to the Midwest Collegiate Conference.

The Irish took league titles in volleyball and women's tennis this past season to propel them to this year's award. Notre Dame also took second in the conference in women's basketball and cross country.

The Irish went out of the conference's six teams with a bang, winning the conference's first-ever passing offense award.

In the five-year history of the North Star Conference, Notre Dame has won the award three times. The Irish also took the trophy in the 1984-85 and 1985-86 seasons.

Notre Dame's men's non-revenue sports competed in the MCC during the 1980-81 seasons, and will be joined by the Irish women's athletic teams for the 1989-90 campaign.

Dayton, DePaul, Marquette, Northern Illinois and Valparaiso were also members of the North Star Conference last year. The MCC now consists of Butler, Dayton, Detroit, Evansville, Marquette, Notre Dame, St. Louis and Xavier.

Brandy Wells, who combined for 82 solo tackles and 190 assists. Also out of the secondary is Pat Eilers, who saw playing time atstrong safety but has since been moved to flanker.

Returning starters are junior Smagala at right cornerback and Streeter.

Smagala started nine games as a sophomore, getting in on 35 tackles, intercepting one pass and recovering two fumbles.

Streeter returns for his senior season after starting every game as a junior, getting one interception and breaking up a team-high six passes.

"The secondary will be more aggressive," Streeter said. "We'll cause more turnovers. We'll have more interceptions than what we had last year."

"We've really got a long way to go. We want to be the best defense in the country; we sure aren't there yet, but we're looking pretty good."

Todd Lyght, playing time in all 12 games while backing up Smagala last season, had one interception and was in on 29 tackles. Francisco returns to try to add to his limited playing time behind Smagala, and senior Satterfield's hard-hitting may earn him a back-up spot.

Heater said that the freshmen in the defensive backfield need a little work before breaking into the top eight.

"We've got some good young kids," he said, "but none are in the immediate picture. But we still have to see how they develop."

"Because the defense is less assignment-oriented, we tend to have things together faster," Heater said. "Defense has always been easy to play. We're moving people around, looking at different people, alternating positions. We have good kids here. The always give a great effort and they respond well to coaching."

"We can make things happen," Southall said. "We've got great team unity."

New ND alums impress NFL

Observer Staff Report

Dead in the middle of those baseball-crazed days of summer, Notre Dame football managed to grab the headlines of papers all over the nation.

It now appears that the hype behind the Notre Dame name helped to spread these stories. Nonetheless, it was a busy summer both for former Irish players and for current Irish coaches.

Tim Brown signed a four-year contract worth more than $2 million with the Los Angeles Raiders. As an unexpected bonus, Brown is catcher passes thrown by former Irish teammate Steve Beuerlein after the Raiders released quarterbacks Jim Plunkett and Marc Wilson. Beuerlein, who sat out last season with an elbow injury, is batting Vince Evans for the starting job.

Another former Irish receiver, Reggie Ward, is opening eyes in Minnesota. Ward, who now goes by Reginald, caught a touchdown pass in each of the first three preseason games for the Vikings.

Two former Notre Dame offensive linemen, center Chuck Lanza and tackle Tom Ribhder, have signed contracts with Pittsburgh and New England, respectively.

Irish coach Lou Holtz also made the headlines this summer, though the words were not always favorable. Early in July, LeRoy Gardner, the University of Minnesota’s chief counselor, drug out the past when he accused Holtz of giving $500 to a Gopher football player. Then The Star and Tribune of Minneapolis quoted former Gopher running back Pudgy Abercrombie as saying he received money from assistant coach Jim Strong, who is now a member of Holtz’s staff at Notre Dame.

The controversy died a week later when Abercrombie denied ever receiving cash from Strong, and Holtz and Strong both strongly denied ever doing anything of the sort. Holtz also denied Gardner’s charges, but Gardner stands by his story.

More controversy brew in South Bend when a local television sportscaster reported that Irish quarterback Tony Rice would be academically ineligible for the 1988 season. But the registrar’s office noted that Rice actually had done very well in his summer classes, and WSBT’s Mitch Hinck resigned in embarrassment.

The Notre Dame near-comeback story of the summer involved former Irish split end Alvin Miller. Injuries plagued the 1984 Parade High School Player of the Year throughout his college football career, which ended amid an agent payoff controversy.

But Miller did not give up. He graduated last spring from Notre Dame and the Buffalo Bills invited him to training camp. A few weeks later, however, the Bills released Miller, but he still has not given up his dream. Miller signed with the St. Louis Gamblers, a semi-pro team.

Irish rebound from the summertime blues

By MARTY STRASEN
Sports Editor

Plenty of negative things happened to the Notre Dame defense away from the field before practices started a couple weeks ago. But now that some better things are happening on the field, the losses of this past summer are being erased by visions of what the fall may hold.

First the summer news: Jeff Pearson, who would have been the only returning starter on the offensive line at guard, withdrew from the University for personal reasons.

Pierre Martin and Bobby Carpenter, the top two candidates for the open split end job, also left Notre Dame after becoming academically ineligible.

But the Irish offense, after scoring only two touchdowns in Saturday's opening scrimmage (one was against the third-string defense), is beginning to put some of the pieces back into place.

"He's throwing the ball well," Irish head coach Lou Holtz said. "He's improved over last year, and he's getting better every time out."

Although the offense ached in the scrimmage, Rice was 8-of-11 passing. Holtz said the key now is for Rice to remain consistent.

The split end problem might be solved with sheer speed. Freshman Raghib "Rocket" Ismail from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., was moved from running back to split end his first day of practice. He never played receiver in high school.

But Ismail, who was clocked at 4.48 seconds when he ran the 40-yard dash in fall drills, already has shown that not many defenders can stay with him. He broke loose for two long touchdowns passes from Rice in 7-on-7 drills Monday and has been catching the ball better and better each time out.

"I don't think we're as far ahead of being a secret around here, but I think we can change that," Holtz said. "I think we can make up that difference and make it to the NCAAs.

I think we can generate interest in the sport in this area and there's no doubt that we'll be able to attract the better players because of the education the University has to offer. I don't think there's another school that offers its students the opportunity to develop intellectually, spiritually and physically as well as Notre Dame."
