Shuttle launch may be delayed

Associated Press

BRIGHAM CITY, Utah- An old-model nozzle inlet ring was used in the final test of Morton Thiokol's redesigned space shuttle booster rocket, but NASA has not decided if the discovery will delay the next scheduled shuttle launch, a spokesman said Wednesday.

NASA spokesman Ed Medal said it had not yet been determined if the oxidized ring was used in the two boosters attached to the space shuttle Discovery, scheduled for launch Sept. 29.

The ring, located inside the nozzle assembly at the tail of the shuttle booster, was redesigned for production models of the solid rocket motors.

But for some reason the nozzle was installed in the Aug. 18 test booster contained a ring of the old, pre-Challenger design, said Medal. The Standard Examiner newspaper by telephone from NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala.

He said NASA wants to know how the old ring got into the redesign test motor, and whether it somehow was installed in the boosters poised to lift Discovery and five astronauts into space.

"It is true that a nozzle forward nose ring, not of the redesigned solid rocket motor design, the RSRM design, was inadvertently installed in the FV-1 (Production Verification see RING, page 7

The Observer / Mike Lavy

Dallas? No, South Bend
The hoop down at the Northfork Corral (a.k.a North Dining Commins) offered a change of pace for stu-tents yesterday.

Keane appointed dean of College of Business

Special to the Observer

John G. Keane, director of the U.S. Bureau of the Census, has been appointed the Martin J. Gillen Dean of the College of Business Administration at the University of Notre Dame effective January 1989.

Besides the Gillen deanship, he will also assume the Howard J. and Gelarding F. Korth Chair in Strategic Management. He will succeed Dean Yusaku Furuhashi, Herrick Professor of International Business, who is returning to teaching and research.

"Keane is a man of vision and integrity whose experience in combining the resources of academe with the needs of business and government will prove valuable in leading the College of Business Administration to a new level of academic distinction," commented Provost Timothy O'Meara in announcing the appointment. "Of equal value will be his rich and varied background in the Census Bureau, where his many responsibilities included educating people for Bureau work.

"He also supervised extensive and sophisticated research in the Bureau, and his role in expanding its technical assistance and analysis overseas should enhance achievement of the University's international goals," O'Meara added.

Keane, a Fort Wayne, Indiana, native, received his bachelor's degree from Notre Dame in 1965. Previously, he had earned a undergraduate degree in Russian studies from Syracuse University (1982) and a subsequent MBA degree from Indiana University in 1984 and a PhD from the University of Pittsburgh in 1985. In 1973, the Economic club of Chicago elected him a member, and in 1987 The Conference Board, an economic study group named him a senior member.

Keane was nominated by President Reagan as the eighteenth director of the Census Bureau and sworn in by Justice Sandra Day O'Connor in 1984.

As director of the Bureau of Census, Keane has been re-

Role of media in campaigns discussed by speaker Novak

By MICHAEL WELLS

The Observer / Paul Compton

Michael Novak offered insights into the 1988 election last night in the CCE auditorium.

The role of Dan Quayle's battle with the media in swinging voters away from Michael Dukakis this summer was one of the central themes of a talk last night by respected author and political observer Michael Novak.

Novak, a visiting Welch professor of American studies at Notre Dame for the second fall semester in a row, has been invited to give a series of lectures evaluating this year's presidential campaign. Last night's lecture in the CCE auditorium, the first in a series of three, was a mixture of evaluation of the parties' campaign strategy and of insight on recent trends in the electoral process.

"The beautiful thing about American politics is that anything can happen in '88," said Novak, commenting on the element of uncertainty in any election year. He was careful to point out, however, that the Democrats have their work cut out for them.

One important fact which Novak cited to back this up is that Catholic voters, traditional supporters of Democratic candidates, according to the polls are favoring Bush by 43 percent to 41. Novak called Catholics an important swing vote, and said, "My own view is that (the Catholic vote) will determine whether Michael Dukakis wins or not."

Professor Novak himself a Catholic who attended Holy Cross Seminary for four years, and who later worked with the Kennedy campaign, indicated that this is not necessarily connected with strictly Catholic issues. Novak did cite the public's sympathy for Bush and Quayle in the face of media attacks, though, as probably the best explanation for their recent jump in popularity.

"The media so ganged up on Dan Quayle, initially I think it evoked one of those powerful hate reactions... against the media," said Novak. "Not that people like Quayle all that much." Novak continued that, "it was no fault of Dukakis. He tried to stay out of it. It was suddenly the media against Bush, and in that case people were backing Bush."

Novak, a journalist and chairholder at the American Enterprise Institute, a Washington D.C. think tank, is the fourth person to occupy the Welch chair at Notre Dame.

In general comments about the presidential selection process, Novak reminded his listeners of the harsh comments made by the media in years past over other Oval Office seekers, including Kennedy and Reagan, who later grew to receive great public affection.
IN BRIEF

A naked man ran into St. Patrick's Cathedral on Wednesday night and attacked people with an iron prayer bookstand, killing one man and injuring a police officer before being shot to death by other officers, authorities said. The man entered the church about 8 p.m. carrying red carnations and walked to a front alter, where he removed the prayer bookstand and repeatedly struck an usher before attacking a woman praying in a pew, according to police and witnesses. The man was shot and killed by police after he attacked an officer trying to subdue him, said police spokesman Raymond O'Donnell. - Associated Press

OF INTEREST

The Institute for Pastoral and Social Ministry presents "Partners in Mystery: An Invitation to Involvement," at 8:45 p.m. in the dining room of the Center for Continuing Education. -The Observer

The Asian Society will hold a meeting at 5:30 p.m. in the Dooley Room of LaFortune Student Center. Call Mark at 283-1022 or Tina at 283-1346 for more information. -The Observer

Van Halen Ticket Sales for the Oct. 30 concert will start at 10 a.m. at Gate 3 of the JACC on Sept. 28. -The Observer

The Wrath of Grapes, a film detailing the struggle of the united farm workers will be shown at 7 p.m. in the Center for Social Concerns. -The Observer

The Model UN Club will meet at 7 p.m. in 124 Hayes-Healy. -The Observer

Images of America, an exhibition of America from the 16th to 20th centuries is located in the West end of the Library Concours. Professors Anodon and Tarragon will give a presentation at 7 p.m. in the Faculty Lounge of the Hesburgh Library. -The Observer

The Italian Club will hold its first meeting at 7:30 p.m. in 304 O'Shaughnessy Hall. Call Vienna at 283-1833 for more information. -The Observer

Voter Registration will conclude today in ND and SMC Dining Halls and at the O'Hara Desk in LaFortune Student Center. -The Observer

Tops in Blue, a musical presentation, will take place at 7:30 p.m. at Stepan Center. -The Observer

Pax Christi will be featured on WVFI AM 640 at 10 p.m. with special guests Jeff Long, Julie Coyle, and Terri Proskich. Call in at 239-6400. -The Observer

The Moon Festival presented by the Graduate Student Union and the Chinese and Taiwanese Associations will take place Friday, from 7:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. at Wilson Commons. Tickets available at the GUS office, LaFortune Student Center. -The Observer

Remembering Kelly: Kindergarten revisited

Dear Kelly,

I passed by our old school the other day. It was a real shock when I first passed it. The schoolyard teemed with 5-year-olds jumping from the jungle gym and skipping through the hopscotch squares. It didn’t seem that long ago that you and I were freckled faces in that crowd.

You were my best friend back then. We shared everything from crayons to coat hooks. We placed our coat squares side by side every nap time, and you always saved the green one just for me.

We both agreed that “Tinkertoy’s” were a gift from the gods, and we spent every minute on the monkey bars at recess. We always sat together during milk and cookie break - you liked oatmeal ‘n raisin, and I always picked chocolate chip.

Remember when we pulled the chair out from under Tommy Ewald and had to spend recess in the coat room? Or how about the first time we walked home from school by ourselves? It seemed like 30 miles, even if it was only three blocks. And I’ll never forget the day we begged my mom to take us to the school carnival and then cried when we were put on opposite teams at the tug of war.

We stuck together, no matter what. You liked me even when I didn’t color in between the lines and my “Garanimals” didn’t match up. Even our imaginary friends were “best buddies.” It was pretty automatic when I tripped and fell. I was only 2 years away from being an usher before a woman praying in a pew, according to police and witnesses. The man was shot and killed by police after he attacked an officer trying to subdue him, said police spokesman Raymond O’Donnell. - Associated Press

And I’m no longer afraid of the dark….well, not really. I’m still a little scared of monsters under the bed, but I call them “cockroaches” now. I’m about two feet taller than when you knew me, and scraped elbows and loose teeth don’t make me cry anymore. And I can drive and vote and even stay up past 9 o’clock. You’ll never believe this, but I actually LIKE going to bed early now.

But ya know what, Kelly? Being big isn’t everything. It’s cracked up to be. I don’t have much time for “The Electric Company” anymore. And don’t tell anybody - but I still get scared sometimes. But now I worry about different things - like chemistry tests and government grades, instead of flashcards and thunderstorms. And I’m scared of blankets and SBYs and GREs instead of ABCs.

I remember when college seemed light years away. We never thought we’d get “that old.” Gosh, now we’re almost all grown up! Well…not quite.

Under all the big person pretense, I still love the monkey bars. And even though I cut off my pigtails long ago and my baby teeth are all gone, I still pick the onions out of my hamburgers, and green’s still my favorite color.

I still think about you sometimes, Kelly. And if you were here, I know you’d be munching on an oatmeal cookie and saving the last green carpet just for me.

Michelle Dall
Assistant News Editor

This week:

Enjoy three nights of dancing-
Thursday, Friday and Saturday

Music by Campus D.J.’s
Thursday’s hours: 9-1
Friday and Saturday: 9-2

Then on Sunday it’s: SPORTS SUNDAY

presenting:
The Notre Dame vs. Purdue game replayed for your enjoyment

Don’t forget to visit the HIDEAWAY- a Theodore’s exclusive Drink special this week: FUZZY IRISHMEN

The Observer (USPS 399 2-400) is published Monday through Friday except during exams and vacation periods. The Observer is published by the students of the University of Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s College. Subscriptions may be purchased for $10 for 1 year (USPS rate $12 per semester) by writing The Observer, P.O. Box 40, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

The Observer is a member of The Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.
Sophomore, senior offices broken into over weekend

By MIKE O'CONNELL
News Staff

The Senior Class Office, Sophomore Class Office and the Adworks Office in the LaFortune Student Center were broken into and robbed last weekend.

Large amounts of cash were taken from the Senior and Sophomore Class Offices, while Adworks suffered a loss of only $75, according to Adworks Vice President Mickey Seymour. Adworks controller Max Verkamp said.

"Security did not dust for prints like they did for the Sophomore and Senior Class Offices, because of the number of people who handled the box after the theft," Verkamp said.

"To my knowledge, nothing of this magnitude has happened here before," said Ceil Paulsen, assistant director of Student Activities, who also supervises LaFortune.

---

House Speaker tells of CIA Nicaraguan action

Associated Press

WASHINGTON--Congressional conservatives voiced outrage Wednesday over House Speaker Jim Wright's disclosure of a purported U.S. covert operation in Nicaragua.

President Reagan referred to Wright's comments as a "violation" and said the speaker had been indiscreet in telling reporters Tuesday that the CIA hired operatives inside Nicaragua to stir up demonstrations against the leftist government and damage peace efforts.

The administration steadfastly refused to either confirm or deny Wright's report.

Representative Henry Hyde, R-Ill., the ranking minority member of the House Intelligence Committee, called Wright's assertions "Sandinista propaganda."

"It's appalling," Hyde said of Wright's disclosure, which he said was based on CIA testimony. "It's a no-win situation for America. God help Americans down there (in Nicaragua), that's all I can say."

Hyde said he could neither confirm nor deny the disclosure, but added: "What he said is news to me, and I serve on the Intelligence Committee, ... I sure as hell want to know who that testimony is from and under what circumstances he got it."

Hyde said GOP House leaders would meet Thursday with the Wright matter "high on the agenda." Asked whether there would be a call for an ethics probe, he said: "I think there will be."

House Republican leaders late Wednesday formally asked the House ethics committee and the Intelligence Committee to investigate Wright's conduct and recommend "appropriate action."

Wright already is being investigated by the committee on unrelated allegations. Sanctions for unauthorized disclosure of classified information can include removal from committee membership, censure, or expulsion from the House.

A spokesman for Wright, Wilson Morris, said the matter had been blown out of proportion and that Wright had violated no rules in talking about the CIA activity.

"CIA involvement in Nicaragua has been admitted by the CIA and the White House," Morris said. "It's been repeatedly documented. It's all in the public domain."

---

ATTENTION ALL SENIORS!!

ABSOLUTE LAST CHANCE FOR SENIOR PHOTOS

Because of popular demand, yearbook photographers will extend portrait sessions for one week beginning Monday 9-26-88 and ending Friday 9-30-88.

Sign up for your sitting in Room 108 of La Fortune Student Center between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m.

This is your absolute last chance to be photographed for the yearbook!!
Knute Rockne, George Gipp, the Four Horsemen, and the golden glory of Notre Dame...

"In this treasury of memorabilia, editors Robert Quakenbush and Mike Bynum have comprised an impressive and informative keepsake about an American hero, a legend who lives on in the hearts of many."

- SOUTH BEND TRIBUNE

KNUTE ROCKNE
HIS LIFE AND LEGEND

... on sale now at the Notre Dame Bookstore.

Coming soon from October Football Corp.

Many Autumns Ago: The Frank Leahy Era
at Boston College and Notre Dame.
Candidates prime for coming debate

Associated Press

Presidential rivals George Bush and Michael Dukakis plunged into preparations Wednesday for their first debate, poring over fat briefing books and getting tips from media and political advisers. Dukakis took out time to propose a “Healthy Start” program guaranteeing basic medical care for poor women and children.

“When children and their families have needed a helping hand, Mr. Bush’s administration has given them a cold shoulder,” Dukakis said during a visit to Brigham & Women’s Hospital in Boston, where he met with two new mothers and their babies.

“Bush also was the target of criticism from an unexpected source: retired Senator Barry Goldwater, the outspoken conservative and 1964 GOP presidential nominee.

Goldwater introduced Bush’s running mate, Senator Dan Quayle, at a Rotary Club luncheon in Phoenix, and then before relinquishing the microphone said: “I forgot something that I had to say, and I hope you take this kindly. But I want you to go back and tell George Bush to start talking about the issues, OK?”

Quayle merely laughed and said, “I wish Barry would just say what’s on his mind.”

Republican Bush, with his schedule cleared of public appearances, spent the day in Washington meeting at the vice presidential mansion with advisers in preparation for the nationally televised debate Sunday night. The 1-hour encounter at Wake Forest University in Winston-Salem, N.C., will begin at 8 p.m. EDT.

Bush’s schedule included a mock debate with former Deputy Treasury Secretary Richard Darman playing the role of Dukakis.

The governor speaks

Former Ohio Gov. Richard Gilligan, left, speaks to a group during the St. Edward’s Hall Forum last night. Gilligan spoke on why he will vote for Dukakis and LaSalle Prof. Edward Murphy, right, told why he will vote for Bush. Future forums will feature speakers such as University President Father Edward Malloy.

Theodore's LIP SYNC CONTEST

OCTOBER 6

Interested in participating?
Call 239-6940
or 283-3723
Ask for Maura

VOTER REGISTRATION

If you did not register at home, you can register here in St. Joseph County and vote as citizens of the state of Indiana.

- North and South Dining Halls
  (Lunch and Dinner)
- LaLonde Student Center
  (2-4 PM)

SUN FACTORY TANNING SALON

Attention Seniors:
Call for information on our special package plan for Oct. Break Bahamas Trip!

4 Beds with Facial Tanners
Student Discounts!

272-0160
52580 U.S. 31 N
South Bend
Mon.-Thurs. 7am-9pm
Fri. 7am-8pm
Sat. 7am-5pm
Sun. 10am-3pm

Dismas House of Michigan

***********************

Contact Kathy Royer (7862)
at Center for Social Concerns

*Community of support, reconciliation, and adjustment, the Dismas House of Michigan offers a unique opportunity for Saint Mary’s and Notre Dame students to share in a life-changing experience with former prisoners. Together an environment of "trust, fellowship, and hope can be built to provide the confidence and courage necessary for each to enter society as a valuable and integral member."

Tim Dempsey, Resident of Dismas House
Faculty grants are announced

Special to the Observer

The University of Notre Dame received $1,279,832 in grants during July for the support of research and various programs. Research funds totaled $835,256, including:
• $136,646 from the National Institutes of Health for NMR studies of kinases and related enzymes by Thomas Nowak, professor of chemistry.
• $179,797 from the National Institutes of Health for synthesis and study of microbial iron chelators and analogs by Marvin Miller, professor of chemistry.
• $186,846 from the National Science Foundation for ultra high energy gamma ray research by John Poirier, professor of physics.
• $43,056 from Amoco Chemical Research Center for research on single-electron charging effects by Steven Ruggiers, associate professor of physics.
• $36,600 from the National Institutes of Health for research on single-electron charging effects by Steven Ruggiers, associate professor of physics.

Awards for instructional programs totaled $22,484 including:
• $22,484 from the University Space Research Association for an advanced aeronautics design program, administered by Stephen Batill, associate professor of aerospace and mechanical engineering.
• $179,797 from the National Institutes of Health for NMR studies of kinases and related enzymes by Thomas Nowak, professor of chemistry.

Awards for other programs totaled $338,852 including:
• $186,846 from the National Science Foundation for ultra high energy gamma ray research by John Poirier, professor of physics.
• $136,646 from the National Institutes of Health for NMR studies of kinases and related enzymes by Thomas Nowak, professor of chemistry.
• $186,846 from the National Science Foundation for ultra high energy gamma ray research by John Poirier, professor of physics.
• $43,056 from Amoco Chemical Research Center for research on single-electron charging effects by Steven Ruggiers, associate professor of physics.
• $36,600 from the National Institutes of Health for research on single-electron charging effects by Steven Ruggiers, associate professor of physics.

BRUCE BABBITT
FORMER GOVERNOR OF ARIZONA AND U.S. DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE
NOTRE DAME ALUMNUS

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1988
4:00 TO 5:00 p.m.
FIELDHOUSE MALL
RAIN: WASHINGTON HALL
Outbreak of riots follows shooting

Associated Press

SHREVEPORT, La.- Hundreds of angry blacks burned stores and rioted in the streets after a white woman fat­ tally shot a black man, and black leaders warned Wednes­day against a recurrence of vio­lence.

"We're sitting on a powder keg," said state Rep. Alphonse Jackson, who called for a birecial anti-crime committee. "People want protection," said Jackson, who is black. "I call on citizens to restore law and order."

His plea followed a meeting of city officials and Grace leaders to discuss the rioting that persisted nearly five hours, until 3 a.m. Wednesday, and which officials said was related both to drugs and racial problems.

Stores were looted and burned, and rioters threw rocks and bottles at whites. There were reports of racial slurs and chants of "Hot Biscuit," the restaurant where a white teen-ager killed a black teen-ager on Aug. 4, an incident that set off racial tension in this northwestern Louisiana city of 250,000, the state's second larg­est after New Orleans.

Modern technology?

A Cancun airport official uses a bullhorn to announce of Hurricane Gilbert, flight times to stranded tourists due to the destruction

Man registers .5 blood alcohol

Associated Press

PERU, Ind.- A man who registered a .50 percent blood alcohol level regained con­sciousness Wednesday and was in stable condition at Dukes Memorial Hospital's intensive care unit, police said.

Ivan Archuleta, 35, of Peru was found unconscious on the seat of his father's pickup Tues­day night and taken to the hospital when he could not be awoken. A blood test was or­dered.

A blood alcohol content of .10 is legally drunk in Indiana. First Sgt. John Forbes of the state police said death can oc­cur in the blood alcohol content range between .40 and .50. Charts measuring how many drinks it takes in a time period for a person to achieve blood alcohol levels don't read higher than .40.

Miami Circuit Judge Bruce Embry estimated a person weighing 180 pounds would have to drink about 28 shots of whiskey or about 38 12-ounce cans of beer in two hours to at­tain a .50 content.

Archuleta was found in a pickup belonging to Fructuoso Archuleta, who was charged with operating a vehicle while intoxicated and public in­toxication. Ivan Archuleta was charged with public intoxication. He currently is on probation on a previous public intoxication charge after pleading guilty in circuit court on Aug. 11.

Ring

continued from page 1

MOTOR, fired Aug. 18," said Ed Snow, a Morton Thiokol spokes­man at Ogden, reading a prepared company statement.

"The forward nose ring per­formed satisfactorily. The error was discovered during reg­ular post-test examination and analysis of the part. NASA and Morton Thiokol are working to discover how the error was made and how it can be prevented in the future," the statement said.

Medal said he believed the mistake was discovered within the last day or two.

"We fully believe the correct parts are in the flight set," company spokesman Rocky Raab told Associated Press. "We and NASA are researching the record, the documents, to make sure they are the correct parts. Even if they were not, they would not affect the safety of the flight."

Raab said the discovery was made during X-ray analysis of the part after the test firing. "There is no visible difference between the two parts," he said.

The Aug. 18 test, the fifth full­scale static firing of the redesigned booster, was con­ducted at Thiokol's Wasatch Operations plant 25 miles west of Brigham City under NASA and Thiokol supervision.

After the test, engineers dis­assembled the rocket and began a lengthy process of ex­amining it. NASA later pronounced the test a success and certified Discovery for launch.

Most of the booster redesign was aimed at making the rocket safer. A faulty O-ring seal on one of the booster seg­ments was blamed for the Jan. 28, 1986, explosion of the space shuttle Challenger.

U.S.-Soviet Relations:

Two Journalists’ Views

a discussion with
Phil Donahue (American Talk Show Host)
Vladimir Pozner (Top Soviet Commentator)

WHEN: Thursday October 6th 8 to 10 p.m.
WHERE: JACC
TICKETS: $4-ND & SMC students, faculty & staff
$6-adults

Tickets should be purchased in advance.
On Sale (starting September 26th Monday) M-F 9-5 Gate 10 JACC
Also will be sold in the dining halls.
Introducing the new B.M.O.C.—the biggest Macintosh on campus:

The Macintosh II computer. It's the perfect roommate for power hungry students who do high speed computing, video processing, engineering or graphic design.

Made with an open configuration that allows for special purpose boards, the Mac II is the fastest, best performing Macintosh ever built. Yet with all its sophistication, it still has the same point-and-click simplicity that Macintosh has become famous for.

Which means, of course, the Macintosh II and you will be the perfect roommates:

It cooks. And you clean up.

®

The power to be your best.

© 1988 Apple Computer Inc. Macintosh, Mac and the Apple logo are registered trademarks of, and The power to be your best is a trademark of Apple Computer Inc.

Computer Center
Room 25 Math Building
8:00 AM - 5:00 PM
The Bureau’s four major components are income, education, living arrangements, crime, health, aging, retail and wholesale trade, housing starts, agriculture, government expenditures, businesses, inventories, imports and exports and a myriad of other areas.

Prior to his federal appointment, Keane had a career as a management consultant, initially at the United States Steel Corporation and than at Booz, Allen & Hamilton, Inc. He followed that experience with eleven years in advertising agencies in management and research capacities.

From 1968 to 1972 he was research and planning director for J. Walter Thompson in Chicago.

Just before his Census Bureau position, he was president of Managing Change, Inc., a Barrington, Ill. consulting firm specializing in strategic planning and business environment assessment. He has published articles in more than twenty marketing, management and statistical publications and has served on the editorial review board of the Journal of Marketing. He served in 1976-77 as president of the American Marketing Association.

His federal government responsibilities have involved international work with some 35 countries, and he has lectured at 29 American universities and 5 abroad. Among his duties in the Census Bureau, he was in charge of its large educational component. This activity included a residential postgraduate training for more than 125 foreign statisticians in English and Spanish, as well as short-term technical assistance in about 30 countries annually. He directed the Centers for Demographic Studies, for Economic Studies, and for International Research, as well as the Professional Skills Development Program and the International Statistical Programs.

Keane and his wife, Geraldine, live in Piedmont, California. The Martin J. Gillen Deanship was established by Notre Dame to honor a benefactor, a native of Wisconsin who went onto become a successful corporate financial advisor in New York City.

The College of Business Administration, founded in 1921, is the University’s second largest college, with 1,600 undergraduates and 300 MBA students.
Invitation of Stevens degrades University

Supreme Court Justice John Paul Stevens will be the featured speaker at the dedication, on Friday, Sept. 23, of the courthouse in Bozeman, Mont., the largest of 44 new courthouses in a $630 million federal construction program. The choice of Justice Stevens for this honor is inappropriate.

Charles E. Rice
guest column

Although he was not a member of the Supreme Court in 1973 when Roe vs. Wade was decided, Justice Stevens is one of the four Justices on the Court who uphold Roe and apply it rigorously against attempts by the states to regulate abortion. In the 1986 Thornburgh case, the Court held unconstitutional Pennsylvania statutes restricting abortion, including one requirement that, in post-viability abortions, the pregnancy is a medical emergency. The Court also held that the intrauterine risk to the life or health of the pregnant woman is a medical emergency. Chief Justice Warren Burger, who had voted against Roe vs. Wade, dissented in Thornburgh.

As a result, the Thornburgh case was decided with the help of Justice Stevens, however, voted with the majority and wrote an opinion emphasizing the non-personhood of the unborn child. To explain the non-personhood, Justice Powell, who voted with that majority, has since been replaced with Justice Kennedy. Justice Stevens, it is true, has voted and argued at times against the Court's broad reading of the Fourteenth Amendment, but he has always opposed the states to regulate abortion. In the 1986 Thornburgh case, the Court held that whether or not the unborn child is a human being, he is not a person. The decision thus legitimized the frank ruling that an acknowledged human being is a non-person and has no rights. If a poor peasant is killed in Central America, very often by those opposing abortion has never voted with the majority Roe vs. Wade, the Supreme Court said that he should not decide whether the unborn child is a human being. Instead, the Court held that he is not a "person" and therefore his right to life is not protected by the Fourteenth Amendment. The mother's privacy right to have an abortion (a right which the Court discovered in its own rulings since 1963) prevails over the right of the non-person in her womb. The Court went on to spell out, in effect, a license for elective abortion at every stage of pregnancy until birth.

In Roe vs. Wade, the Supreme Court held that the unborn child is a human being, being neither a non-person nor a person. The decision was based on the moral righteousness of the Dred Scott case. And it is based on the moral righteousness of the Nazi extermination of the Jews, that an innocent human being can be declared to be a non-person and subjected to death at the discretion of others.

Of course, if the unborn child can be treated as a non-person so as to be killed at the discretion of others, so can his father, his mother, or persons other than the mother. If a human being can be subjected to death at the discretion of others, he is to that extent a non-person. The ethic of depersonalization is reflected in the now prevailing rule that retarded infants and incompetent adult patients including some who are conscious and not terminally ill. We tend to call this compassion. A more realistic view would call it murder. But the inarticulate view of those opposing abortion has never failed to amaze me. Recently we have seen articles by them alongside others praising the role of the military or ROTC. I have often wondered what the crossover is between these two groups, i.e. how many of those who support the military are also anti-abortionists? I am sure the figure would be of interest to many. How many anti-abortionists do you think would protest if an army soldier killed an innocent human being, is a murder. Leo Alexander, M.D., who wrote the seminal analysis with the Report of the American Medical Association. We have no right to judge the internal culpability, or lack of it, of anyone in whatever stage of pregnancy, causes the death of an innocent human being.

We have no right to judge the internal culpability, or lack of it, of anyone in whatever stage of pregnancy, causes the death of an innocent human being. We have no right to judge the internal culpability, or lack of it, of anyone in whatever stage of pregnancy, causes the death of an innocent human being. We have no right to judge the internal culpability, or lack of it, of anyone in whatever stage of pregnancy, causes the death of an innocent human being. We have no right to judge the internal culpability, or lack of it, of anyone in whatever stage of pregnancy, causes the death of an innocent human being. We have no right to judge the internal culpability, or lack of it, of anyone in whatever stage of pregnancy, causes the death of an innocent human being. We have no right to judge the internal culpability, or lack of it, of anyone in whatever stage of pregnancy, causes the death of an innocent human being. We have no right to judge the internal culpability, or lack of it, of anyone in whatever stage of pregnancy, causes the death of an innocent human being. We have no right to judge the internal culpability, or lack of it, of anyone in whatever stage of pregnancy, causes the death of an innocent human being. We have no right to judge the internal culpability, or lack of it, of anyone in whatever stage of pregnancy, causes the death of an innocent human being. We have no right to judge the internal culpability, or lack of it, of anyone in whatever stage of pregnancy, causes the death of an innocent human being. We have no right to judge the internal culpability, or lack of it, of anyone in whatever stage of pregnancy, causes the death of an innocent human being. We have no right to judge the internal culpability, or lack of it, of anyone in whatever stage of pregnancy, causes the death of an innocent human being. We have no right to judge the internal culpability, or lack of it, of anyone in whatever stage of pregnancy, causes the death of an innocent human being. We have no right to judge the internal culpability, or lack of it, of anyone in whatever stage of pregnancy, causes the death of an innocent human being.

Justice Stevens, however, voted with the majority and wrote an opinion emphasizing the non-personhood of the unborn child.

We may assume that Justice Stevens is "personally opposed" to abortion. And undoubtedly his motivations are noble. However, the inappropriateness of this invitation arises from the transcendent importance of Roe vs. Wade. In that case and its companion case of Doe vs. Bolton, the Supreme Court ruled that the unborn child is not a person at any time before birth, within the meaning of the Fourteenth Amendment which protects the rights of a "person" to life and to the equal protection of the laws. The framers of the Fourteenth Amendment did not specifically consider the status of the unborn child, but they clearly intended that all human beings would be persons. This was a reaction to the Dred Scott case, in which the Supreme Court held that freed slaves were not citizens and that the only important thing is to be a "competent" lawyer; yet it hardly vouches for one's professional competence if he is unable to see the centrality of this issue as of Dred Scott. We encourage our students to show "compassion" to the poor and helpless. Yet the poorest and most helpless victim of all is the child who is murdered in the womb; society's answer to this is never to kill the baby, but to help the mother and the child, before and after the birth, as long and as fully as necessary. We encourage our students to serve the cause of "peace"; we could do well to remind them, as Mother Theresa has often said, that "The greatest destroyer of peace in the world is abortion." And we encourage our students to work to build a just moral order. But that does not mean that Pope John Paul II said at the Capitol Mall in Washington in 1979: "If a person's right to life is violated at the moment in which he is first conceived in his mother's womb, an indirect blow is struck also at the whole of the moral order, which serves to ensure the innumerable among these goods, life occupies the first place."

The invitation to Justice Stevens, I am certain, was well intended. But surely there were other suitable persons with whom to honor with this invitation rather than the Court Justice whose one vote has kept the right to legalized abortion intact. The invitation preserves our students and degrades the University.

Charles E. Rice is a professor of law at the University of Notre Dame Law School.
Some supporters of George Bush claim to talk economic facts in defense of the economic record of the Reagan-Bush administration. We argue that it is essential to look at the economic facts of the last eight years; the trouble is that ReaganBush defenders tend to forget some facts.

Kathryn English
Kimberly Lane
guest column

Are you better off now than you were eight years ago? The answer might be yes if the only pay increase you've received were in the top five percent of this country's wage earners. It is certainly true that this small minority has enjoyed substantial financial growth. However, according to a recent report published by the Economic Policy Institute, the fact is that the workers in the bottom 60 percent are actually worse off than they were eight years ago. It reports that since the Reagan-Bush Administration took office, more than 2 million workers moved down the ladder from jobs with mid-level earnings to jobs with low-level earnings. The rich got richer while the poor got poorer. Real hourly wages for males (as adjusted for inflation) actually dropped seven percent during the Reagan Administrations.

Some call Governor Dukakis using "smoke and mirrors" to create the illusion of a balanced budget. What are the facts of the Reagan-Bush budget? Reagan was elected on a promise to one, balance the national budget; two, reduce taxes; and three, increase military spending. "Smoke and mirrors"? Did he? No. He reduced the tax burden of the best-off. He spent more on the military. He did more to worsen the deficit than any president in history. His tax cut was never intended to help balance the budget. David Stockman openly stated, when it was all over, that the "tax less spend more" plan was intended to create a deficit so bad that a new round of economic policies justify retiring both of them in November. We cannot afford the same type of budget going to pay interest on the deficit.

The rich got richer while the poor got poorer. Real hourly wages for males...dropped seven percent during the Reagan administration.

As I write, I am overlooking bustling Piccadilly Circus, the heart of London's theatre district. Similar to New York's theatre area, Piccadilly radiates with bright neon signs, majestic theatres and horde of excited people. Yet Piccadilly and this city as a whole do not evoke an elegance and civility of which New York can only dream.

Michael Schadek
abroad

From the moment I set foot in London, it was obvious that I was to experience a brand new lifestyle. From the bright red double-decker buses to the huddled black cabs, the transportation is but one small facet of the vast differences I have encountered here. Although I have been on the London Program for scarcely more than a few weeks, adjusting to the changes has been easy, and more importantly, fun. No longer do I become angry about the fact that I have not figured out the proper way to change my currency, and no longer do I concern myself with the fact that cars and buses are heading directly toward me down a one-way street on the right rather than the left. I have also accepted the fact that London's fast food restaurants charge 5 pence (almost a dime) for ketchup. I have resolved myself to accept all the differences and "live, learn and love London." I'm beginning to sound more and more like a tourist, and I am definitely not what London is precisely what I do.

Within the short time I have been here I have gazed at Big Ben and Parliament at night from a boat cruise on the Thames. Although our disc jockey knew we were Americans and felt compelled to play five Michael Jackson songs on the way, the cruise was an astoundingly good opportunity to see the city at night. We have also experienced the legendary London theatre by way of three plays, and some students have already made use of their plastic at Harrods's.

The past three and a half months are certain to be an educational period unlike any I have ever experienced. I have been already challenged in some of my most fundamental beliefs. For instance, last Sunday an Iranian gentleman tried for 45 minutes to convince me that the United States is the greatest threat in the whole world which savagely destroys innocent Iranian citizens abroad commer­cial and personal. This guy was a guest of Speakers Corner in Hyde Park where every Sunday any individual can speak about anything they wish while the huge crowd heckles and jeers. It is all very interesting, very hip and very Londonesque.

I never realized education-real education—could be so exciting but the London Program is proving the fact. Living and studying in London provides a broad new dimension of the world, and that must be good. So, while I miss the subway and the South Bend, I'll stay in London a while longer. Besides, Big Ben keeps much better time than the British clock.
Air Force’s ‘Tops in Blue’ returns to ND

DAVID DESALLE

S

ynthesizing art, music, special effects, and choreography is the prime characteristic of an award-winning Broadway show. It is also the key to the performances of ‘Tops in Blue,’ the U.S. Air Force’s top entertainment touring group. This troupe of specially talented military personnel will be giving a free ninety-minute performance at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 22, at the Stepan Center. Last year, the performers rocked the Joyce ACC before a crowd of over 5,000 students. According to Nick Rossit, the Cultural Arts Commission for the Student Union Board, a comparable audience is expected for this year’s performance of ‘The Magic of Imagination,’ which will combine comedy, dancing, singing, and the modern sound of the Heavy Blue Express, the group’s guitar-keyboard based musical accompaniment.

The show tells the story of Kay, a lonely young girl who lives on Swing Street and joins a group of neighborhood kids in search of adventure. They are drawn to “The Magic of Imagination,” the town’s toy shop where they enjoy mischievous childish fun. That is, until Old Man Irwin surprises the group, causing it to scatter with Kay left behind. Irwin recognizes that Kay needs a friend and helps her to use her imagination. She learns she has the ability to face life with both realistic goals and her own dreams in mind.

The cast of ‘Tops in Blue’ is selected from over 250 talent contest finalists who are chosen from thousands of participants in the annual Air Force worldwide talent contest. These finalists are subject to more than a week of interviews, intense competition, and auditions. The ‘Tops in Blue’ candidates then have a month of rehearsals at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas. Eighteen-hour day sessions produce the theme and content of the show and after that grueling month, the cast is ready to begin its worldwide tour.

Since 1953, ‘Tops in Blue’ has provided professional entertainment to both Air Force personnel and members of the civilian community. Leonardo J. Sartines, a ‘Tops in Blue’ vocalist, said that the biggest reward is the opportunity to be part of something that does so much for so many people. The group has appeared on television on numerous occasions, notably during the 1960’s on the Ed Sullivan Show, and in 1985 when a 53-member cast and 1,000 volunteers performed in the half-time show of Super Bowl X IX. In 1987, it helped to coordinate production for the “Bob Hope Birthday Special.”

‘Tops in Blue’ usually appears at Air Force bases, but according to Captain T. DuPre, assistant professor of aerospace studies, the group has since returned for many successful performances. ‘Tops in Blue’ has come to South Bend. DuPre said, “Anybody will be generally surprised by the show. You’ll leave the show feeling good.” So take a break from the books tonight and let ‘Tops in Blue’ help you explore “The Magic of Imagination.”

The Rime of the Ancient Roadtripper

RICHARD THORNBURGH

accent writer

The Rime of the Ancient Roadtripper

"The Rime of the Ancient Roadtripper”

It is an ancient Roadtripper
Who corners me at the bar
With long gray beard and glittering eye
He has journeyed from afar.

The Lansing crowd is merry
As the Irish await the game.
The domers file into Dooley’s
To cheer the Irish fame.

He tells me of his pilgrimage:
And I cannot choose but hear;
And thus spoke on that ancient man,
The bright-eyed Roadtripper.

“Two weeks ago we left South Bend
With a six-pack for the road.
Legs soon cramped, an empty tank,
Unsure of where to go.

Michigan State was nowhere north,
At least that was our belief;
The cold ones went down quickly
But bean fields gave relief.

Three days thus we journeyed
Not knowing where we went;
‘Is this Lansing?’ I asked a man:
‘No sir, this is Flint.’

Through the cornfields our car did fly
Until it sputtered to a stop:
The gaskets blown, transmission stripped,
The radiator shot.

Our trusty craft we left behind
And journeyed forth on foot;
Our legs grew weary, our sight grew dim
As miles behind we put.

Then lo, a sight of wonder
Amazed our tired eyes:
From beneath those noble corn stalks
John Cougar did arise.

“Howdy, folks. Lookin for State?”
‘It’s just around the bend.’
Then the prophetic saint of farmers
Vanished in the wind.

This eerie sight inspired us all
To set forth once again.
We finally arrived in Lansing
Seeking pubs and an Irish win.”

Thus spoke the ancient Roadtripper,
Haggared from his plight.
I ordered another and pondered his tale
As he danced away the night.

“Tis a strange tale, to be sure,
One I never sought,
I have never heard one speak in rhyme,
But the habit is rubbing off.

RICHARD THORNBURGH

accent writer

The Rime of the Ancient Roadtripper

“The Rime of the Ancient Roadtripper”

It is an ancient Roadtripper
Who corners me at the bar
With long gray beard and glittering eye
He has journeyed from afar.

The Lansing crowd is merry
As the Irish await the game.
The domers file into Dooley’s
To cheer the Irish fame.

He tells me of his pilgrimage:
And I cannot choose but hear;
And thus spoke on that ancient man,
The bright-eyed Roadtripper.

“Two weeks ago we left South Bend
With a six-pack for the road.
Legs soon cramped, an empty tank,
Unsure of where to go.

Michigan State was nowhere north,
At least that was our belief;
The cold ones went down quickly
But bean fields gave relief.

Three days thus we journeyed
Not knowing where we went;
‘Is this Lansing?’ I asked a man:
‘No sir, this is Flint.’

Through the cornfields our car did fly
Until it sputtered to a stop:
The gaskets blown, transmission stripped,
The radiator shot.

Our trusty craft we left behind
And journeyed forth on foot;
Our legs grew weary, our sight grew dim
As miles behind we put.

Then lo, a sight of wonder
Amazed our tired eyes:
From beneath those noble corn stalks
John Cougar did arise.

“Howdy, folks. Lookin for State?”
‘It’s just around the bend.’
Then the prophetic saint of farmers
Vanished in the wind.

This eerie sight inspired us all
To set forth once again.
We finally arrived in Lansing
Seeking pubs and an Irish win.”

Thus spoke the ancient Roadtripper,
Haggared from his plight.
I ordered another and pondered his tale
As he danced away the night.

“Tis a strange tale, to be sure,
One I never sought,
I have never heard one speak in rhyme,
But the habit is rubbing off.

Through the cornfields our car did fly
Until it sputtered to a stop:
The gaskets blown, transmission stripped,
The radiator shot.

Our trusty craft we left behind
And journeyed forth on foot;
Our legs grew weary, our sight grew dim
As miles behind we put.

Then lo, a sight of wonder
Amazed our tired eyes:
From beneath those noble corn stalks
John Cougar did arise.

“Howdy, folks. Lookin for State?”
‘It’s just around the bend.’
Then the prophetic saint of farmers
Vanished in the wind.

This eerie sight inspired us all
To set forth once again.
We finally arrived in Lansing
Seeking pubs and an Irish win.”

Thus spoke the ancient Roadtripper,
Haggared from his plight.
I ordered another and pondered his tale
As he danced away the night.

“Tis a strange tale, to be sure,
One I never sought,
I have never heard one speak in rhyme,
But the habit is rubbing off.
Making Education Come Alive: The Story of Scott

Scott graduated from a prestigious boys' high school in Boston. To his parents' delight he was admitted to Notre Dame. He was scared when he arrived, having heard so much about the competition he would face academically and how he would be living and studying with the "cream of the crop." His instincts told him that the way to begin to fit in and not stand out at Notre Dame was to get involved in extracurricular activities. He was looking forward to intramural basketball—he had heard all about the famous Bookstore tradition—but that wasn't what he was interested in. So he went to Activities Night in search of something that would put him in touch with some new people and help him live the Notre Dame Experience. He found out he could spend two nights a week with other students at a Hispanic neighborhood center in South Bend. He signed up and started in late September.

His four years at Notre Dame were years of growth and change. He learned that he didn't want to be a lawyer—even though his Dad was still sure that he would become a partner in the family firm. He learned that friendships are powerfully important and difficult at the same time. He went to France for a year and came back knowing how much he had yet to learn. His tutoring expanded to work with juvenile delinquents, and a summer project with street people in Los Angeles. All these experiences led him to appreciate in a special way the ideas and writings to which his professors exposed him. In his senior year he joined a Senior Reflection Group and began to think about life after Notre Dame. As he talked with his fellow seniors about what he had learned and where he was heading, he realized that his education was only beginning and that his instincts when he was a freshman were incredibly good—getting involved and opening oneself to new experiences is a way to make education come alive.

Scott took advantage of the educational experience that is offered at Notre Dame. He tried new experiences and tested new ideas. His experience at Notre Dame will continue to be a part of his life. Whatever his choices are for the future, they will be made in light of what he learned by becoming involved. The Center for Social Concerns is one vital way that students can get the most out of their education at Notre Dame.

Kathy Royer
Coordinator, Service/Social Action Groups

The Urban Plunge: Why Participate?

"After spending part of my Christmas break on the Urban Plunge, I was struck by the glaring disparity between the rich and the poor.

For Bill, a mentally retarded 28-year-old, the most mundane task of setting the table for dinner is an impossibility. It was striking to me that a 28-year-old who had been taking courses at Notre Dame was unaware of what it was like to live in such a society. Yet, physical and mental abuse is an everyday thing for the people who are working to improve these communities who work there day in and day out in these areas. The students sense what these people do through their work, and come back to Notre Dame to reflect about it.

Early this year 288 students took part in the Urban Plunge—a 48-hour immersion into the kind of life most Notre Dame and St. Mary's students have never seen. This year's Plunge will occur sometime during the week of January 6-13. Its purpose is:

- To increase awareness of people who are working to improve these situations;
- To witness and reflect on ways to address Gospel concerns regarding the oppressed.

"I think that at the local level, the Center allows us to be present significantly in service to the broader community around us. Whether it is young people who need tutoring, elderly people who are confined, or people who are suffering from problems with addiction or people who have been in trouble with the law, or whatever, we are presented with opportunities to serve.

In addition to that, the Urban Plunge Program offers a fairly large number of students the opportunity to get in touch with people in local communities who work there day in and day out in these areas. The students sense what these people do through their work, and come back to Notre Dame to reflect about it.

Of course, there are also programs during the summers both in this country and abroad.

All of this allows us to prepare our students to think about their futures differently, and to develop a value-oriented Christian service for the needs of our local communities and our world.

Rev. Edward A. Malloy, C.S.C. University President
From a 1988 videotape interview
Groups enrich students and community

NEIGHBORHOOD STUDY HELP PROGRAM

The Neighborhood Study Help Program (NSHP) is the largest volunteer service organization on the Notre Dame/ St. Mary's campuses. We tutor South Bend area school children of various backgrounds from kindergartners to the high school level. Usually, each tutor works with one child. Tutors visit the children at a school or neighborhood one hour a week for approximately one hour. We provide transportation.

The Notre Dame campus chapter is a member of Habitat's campus program, and is the first campus Habitat chapter to be established at a Catholic university. The ND group sends work crews to the South Bend project site and welcomes all volunteers. Specific construction tasks are act necessary. In addition to the weekly work crews, the campus organization also meets monthly on campus to coordinate activities as well as inform the membership of Habitat activities worldwide. For further information please contact Kevin Mundy at 283-3797, or Krista Smith at 283-2639.

FOODSHARE

Foodshare is a volunteer-student-run organization designed to directly feed the hungry in the South Bend area with food left over from the dining hall. The food is taken to homeless shelters, Hope Rescue Mission, Dixie House, and the Co-op 65 program. Each student volunteer for approximately two hours once a week. Foodshare also promotes student awareness of waste and hunger around us. If you can volunteer for even an hour to feed someone else, please call Lisa Mackett, 283-4943.

HABITAT FOR HUMANITY

No More Shacks! This is the motto of Habitat for Humanity, a service organization devoted to ending the poverty housing crisis worldwide. Founded in 1976, Habitat is in over 200 cities in the United States and in countries throughout the world. Habitat members participate in the construction of homes for low-income families. The houses are sold to these families at interest-free mortgages and in small monthly payments. The Habitat family also agree to put in 300 hours of their own labor on the construction of their home. The Habitat family then pays off the cost of the house, and the money is retained to build additional Habitat homes.

Other Habitat homes.

The Community for the International Lay Apostleate (CILA) is a group of students who feel that, for them, living a Christian, service-oriented lifestyle involves integrating this "orientation" into many different aspects of their lives. Thus, there are four aspects of CILA, each with its own projects. Our EDUCATION projects include faculty-dinner discussion groups centering on social issues and workshops. Our SERVICE projects include playing with kids at a day-care center, going to Appalachia over Fall Break, and to Mexico for a month in the summer. Our SPIRITUALITY activities include weekly reflection groups and an annual retreat. Our SOCIAL projects include campus trips and dinner parties.

CILA people become involved with whichever project(s) they choose, depending on their time and interests. New members are most welcome. If you would like more specific information on our projects, call Pete Morgan (283-1205).

COMMUNITY FOR THE INTERNATIONAL LAY APOSTOLATE

The members of WUPJ have joined together to educate ourselves and others to grow in the power of our common brotherhood, to lead us to an understanding of our responsibilities in the world today, and to the action we must take accordingly. The goals of the organization are:

- Informed discussion and creative action on vital issues of justice and peace
- Affirmation of the belief that together we can make a difference for peace and justice
- Spiritual nurturidng to our peace-making
- Celebration of our common humanity
- Cooperation with local, national and international peace and justice groups

If interested contact Kristi Koycyn at 283-3791.

AMERICAN RED CROSS

The ND/SMC branch of the American Red Cross is a group of students who provide first aid assistance at ND home football games, basketball games, concerts, A Tentival, intramural sports, and more. We also operate a Quick Response System whereby we are on stand-by to provide first aid or transportation if needed. Call Brother Louis Hurcik (239-7053) about classes.

Our current student coordinator is Brian Mato (272-4045). It's a great way to help the community and make friends. Call Brian with any questions.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

"Charity, Unity, Fraternity, Patriotism": These are the cornerstones of the Knights of Columbus. First and foremost is Charity, at the heart of all activities of the Knights, from Council Masses and Rosaries to volunteering our services for retarded citizens.

The Knights of Columbus, Council number 1477, and our student organization, the Ladies of Columbus, remain dedicated to our history and traditions. If interested, stop by the Council building, next to the Bookstore, or call at 283-7016.

Dismas House

The Dismas House student group is a relatively new project working in cooperation with the Dismas Board of South Bend to operate a community of former prisoners and students. This community promotes bonds of trust and friendship between students and former prisoners, and serves as an unlmmunized rehabilitation program for the former prisoners who often need to be reconciled with society. Any student who is interested in living at Dismas House next fall should contact Kathy Royer (239-7862).

"It's no big thing. I just wanted

VOLUNTEERS FOR THE OVERNIGHT SHELTER FOR THE HOMELESS

This club is new. Its main task is to organize the volunteers in the Notre Dame's Mary's community for work at the Overnignt Shelter for the Homeless. Also, it will work actively to publicize the problem of homelessness in America to the college community through speakers, articles, and fund raising. If you are interested in volunteering at the shelter, or in helping the homeless through other means, contact Kelly McGoldrick (283-3812) or Diane Ricker (283-4045).

1988-89 SERVICE/SOCIAL ACTION GROUP LEADERS

American Red Cross

Brian Dinardo 272-3409
Bill Fazzio 283-2354
Amy Steinberger 283-2349
Ant-Apathetic Network

John Paul Cheekens 283-4311
Anti-Society

Robert Kothe 283-3774
Big Brothers/Sisters

Paula Tanne 283-4055
CILA

Steve Petrin 283-1205
Circle K

Diana Kowalski 283-5288
Council for Fun and Learn

Ike Agostini 271-6470
Council for the Restored

Jim Mohan 283-8075
Dismas House

Tram Dunn 283-9533
Foodshare

Lisa Mackett 283-4943
G.A.L.A.

Carol Stuart 283-3797
Frank Volker 283-3797
Habitat for Humanity

Michael Volker 283-3658
Jack Mundy 283-2510
Knights of Columbus

James Cushing 283-3804
Joe Watson 283-3489
MAACP

Linda Colman 283-3840
Michael Volke 283-3608
ND/SMC Head Start Program

Diane Fiala 283-5150
Guy Sible 283-3489
NISH

Deborah Hope 283-1208
Sir John 283-1708
STEP

Tom Keating 288-9303
World Hunger Coalition

Ron Barkhat 287-8716
WUPJ

Julie Coyle 283-3840
 Dustin Shanks 283-2450
World Hunger Coalition

Jason Costas 283-3797
World Hunger Coalition

Karen Volke 283-3840
World Hunger Coalition

Kevin Mundy 283-3797
World Hunger Coalition

Mary's World Hunger Coalition was founded in 1974 to educate our community on the issues related to the tragedy of world hunger. A second purpose is to actively participate in the fight against world hunger, and thirdly, to foster spiritual growth among the members of the coalition.

The largest undertaking in the Wednesday lunch fast each semester, where hundreds of students of social justice and hungry people. The cost of the food is donated directly to various hunger relief and development programs. Our WHC programs include bi-weekly meetings and speakers, visits to local soup kitchens, participation in World Food Day and Third World Awareness Week.

The WHC is always open to energetic suggestions and enthusiastic members. Please call Ron Barkhat (287-8716).
NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF COLORED PEOPLE

The Notre Dame chapter of the N.A.A.C.P. prides itself on being student-oriented. Every year, the N.A.A.C.P. sponsors activities that allow students from all races and creeds to combine their energies and talents to act on issues which are of vital importance to minority people. The annual budget is quite large. For more information on what the N.A.A.C.P. is doing, please call Lionel Coleman (283-3656) or Joe Watson (283-3904).

STUDENT TUTORIAL EDUCATION PROGRAM

The Student Tutorial Education Program (STEP) is dedicated to helping the residents of the South Bend Juvenile Facility develop social and academic skills. Tutor mentors, our major goal is to motivate the residents to complete and improve their schoolwork, and to teach them some basic study habits. Each participant is assigned to either Monday, or Thursday evenings from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. This program is open to students from the facility if they qualify.

SUMMER SERVICE PROJECTS: TEACHING SURVIVAL SKILLS

"I'm still amazed when I think of the talk I had with a lady who runs a half-day house and program for mental patients down the street from the shelter. I asked how she was teaching basic survival skills; how to balance a checkbook, how to dress and eat properly, and we even have a course on how to be a job. There are so many things that I took for granted before my ISP."

The Summer Service Projects are eight week sessions of community service set up by the Student Alumni Clubs all over the country. Eighty-six Notre Dame students are involved this summer. A tuition scholarship is awarded to each participating student. The scholarships are provided by Notre Dame Alumni Clubs and the James F. Andrews, S.S.P. fellowship. Every project is different. Students work in shelters for the homeless, lead church kitchens, homes for abused children, spouses abuse centers, apartments for pregnant women, day care centers for inner city children, etc., etc. Applications are available beginning in January for ISP '89.

Post-Graduate Service Opportunities: Workshops, seminars, and other meetings enable students to consider the integration of service into their professional careers and/or the advantages of a year or two of volunteerism, e.g. Peace Corps, Holy Cross Associates, Contact Mary Ann Roemer (239-5293). Senior Reflection Groups: Notre Dame seniors are invited to join about eight to ten of their classmates to form a senior reflection group. Approximately 125 Notre Dame and Saint Mary's seniors participate in senior reflection groups. They gather approximately once a month in a faculty or campus setting where they plan and prepare a social forum, or self-disclosure forum that focuses on the personal and concerns that students have as they approach graduation. Contact Mary Ann Roemer (239-5293).

WASHINGTON SEMINAR

The Election Edition

Just three weeks before the presidential election, 24 undergraduates will collaborate in a special three-day edition of the Washington Seminar. On the crucial issues of this campaign, Notre Dame students will get an insider's look at the candidates and their positions.

The controversial issues of peace, prosperity and ethics will be explored. You'll hear from the politicians, special interest and church officials.

With on-campus preparation, on-site experience and on-target reporting, you will never view elections the same.

Earn one Theology credit. For more information: Mike Affleck, Center for Social Concerns, 239-3983. Another Seminar will be scheduled during the Spring Break.

WELCOME!

I had the privilege this summer of meeting alumni of many CSC programs. They offered this advice:

- Be sensitive to other time commitments of the students.
- Emphasize that educational experience is critical for our work as alumni in different responses to needs: law, business, medicine, engineering, counseling, United Way, etc.
- Encourage those who didn't attend Activities Night that there are still opportunities.
- In my hope that you will feel free to drop by the Center and experience the opportunities for service and social awareness with excellent students and staff.

Don McNeill, C.S.C., Director

CALL TO PEACE-MAKING WEEK (Fall)

PEACE WITH JUSTICE WEEK (Spring)

These are just two of the Peace and Justice Opportunities and Programming; for social service and social awareness with excellent students and staff.

Don McNeill, C.S.C., Director

For more information on the University and the Year of Cultural Diversity. A related workshop has been planned for the January break. Center programs.

The FACULTY AND CENTER ACTIVITIES

A variety of faculty-related activities are available through the Center. The Friday Forum, a faculty-led talk/discussion series, meets four times each semester to examine a particular theme. During 1988-89 it is "The University and the Year of Cultural Diversity." A related workshop is being planned for the January break. Center programs.

Some faculty serve as pivotal participants in the Urban Plunge following spring break where small groups of "Plungers" spend an evening at the center's home to reflect on and begin the analysis of their experience. Others host small groups who meet the center's home four or five times in the spring

see CENTER, back page
Groups continued from inside insert

STUDENT ADVOCATE VOLUNTEERS FOR THE ELDERLY
Student Advocate Volunteers of the Elderly (SAVE) is a service organization that helps to meet the needs of the elderly in the South Bend area. The primary work of SAVE for the last 10 years has been to visit the lonely elderly, although in many cases SAVE volunteers have cleaned houses, shoveled snow and done yard work and other miscellaneous odd jobs.
For more information, call Cathi Dillon (283-4875).

YOUTH SERVICE BUREAU
The Youth Service Bureau 70001 Program is designed for high school dropouts between 16 and 21 years of age. Services provided include GED preparation, pre-employment training, job development, and motivational activities. John Reid (ND '73) is program director.
Volunteers serve as individual tutors in math, language, and reading. GED classes meet Monday through Wednesday from 1 to 4 p.m. Interested individuals may contact Bonnie Strycker at (284-9231).

LEGAL SERVICES
The Legal Services Program of Northern Indiana is a private non-profit corporation providing free legal representation to low income individuals in northern Indiana. Legal Services assists people who cannot afford a private attorney with legal problems in areas such as housing, public benefits, consumer, health and family law.
Being a volunteer with Legal Services is interesting and challenging work full of learning opportunities. Contact Kevin McGrath (234-8122).

THE OVERSEAS DEVELOPMENT NETWORK
Overseas Development Network (ODN) is a nationwide student organization working to respond constructively to the problems of world hunger and poverty.
Notre Dame's ODN works closely with other social action groups to organize our two main events. Third World Awareness Week is a week of educational series, including lectures, films, and discussions about issues in the Third World. The Hunger Cleanup involves students from both schools donating a few hours to clean-up projects in South Bend as a fundraising effort to benefit both the local and overseas community. ODN meets regularly at the Center for Social Concerns.

AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL
Amnesty International is a non-partisan worldwide organization advocating human rights and working to free prisoners of conscience, prevent torture for political prisoners, and stop tortures and executions. Amnesty International's volunteer groups in cities around the world, write letters to government authorities responsible for abusing human rights; publicize Amnesty's human rights concerns in the communities; and raise funds to support ongoing human rights work.
If interested in helping with Amnesty's work, contact John Parley at (283-1562).

COUNCIL FOR THE RETARDED
Counseling and Services Counseling and Services provides a wide variety of activities for clients at many different levels of ability. The most popular of these are the recreation periods on Saturdays and the Friday bowling program. Monthly dances are also held at Logan Center and are announced in The Observer and on campus bulletin boards.
For more information on these and other programs, please call Jim Mohan (283-3795) or Karen Maier (283-4500).

Center continued from inside insert

ANTIALAPARTHEID NETWORK
The Anti-Apartheid Network is an organization designed to increase awareness on campus about the oppressive government of South Africa and to prompt us to do what we can to establish a just government in that country. Our main goals this year are to encourage the University to divest its holdings in all companies doing business in South Africa, and to combat racism on campus. All are welcome at our weekly vigils at 12:15 p.m. on Fridays on the Dome steps where we hear news updates from the region. Contact John Paul Checkett (283-3795) for more information.

MADISON CENTER
Madison Center, a comprehensive mental health center providing mental health and substance abuse services, utilizes volunteers from the community. Volunteer positions are appropriate for students interested in the mental health field.
Training is provided for each program. Those interested in applying or receiving further information may contact Jack Roberts (234-0061).

ACADEMIC COURSES
Theology Courses (D. McNell, C.S.C. and Staff): Reading and reflection on issues raised by service experiences. Courses include: "Church and Social Action," "Social and Missional History," "Reflection on Service," "Theology and Social Ethics." Other Justice and Peace Courses (Kathleen Maas Weigert): Study and analysis of contemporary ethical and moral issues in justice.

From the Editor's Desk
In presenting this four-page special on the Center for Social Concerns, we wish to remind the reader that we are focusing on the student service and social action groups, and social concerns programs and activities connected with the Center for Social Concerns.
Current information on Center programs and activities is available through the CSC Calendar/Newsletters distributed to faculty and students, and through the CSC Newsletter, mailed primarily to Center alumni. Each of these publications appears quarterly.

This is a paid advertisement made possible through the cooperation of:
- The Observer staff who assisted in its production,
- Notre Dame Student Government which partially defrayed the cost,
- The student groups which provided a workshop on their organization.
- Center Staff who shared material on their programs,
- And you, the reader, whose interest and followup makes all of this worthwhile.
Thank you.
Eugene J. McClyor

CIRCLE K
Circle K International is an organization dedicated to service, leadership development and career development. Circle K activities include visits to Marian Hill Retirement Home, Logan Center, NISH (with St. Mary's), and Dauchom Center for juvenile offenders. Speaking to career and volunteer opportunities, issues are also available at meetings to educate the members. Circle K International (CKI) wants to involve tomorrow's leaders today. Contact Greg Rodgers (283-1152) for more information.

FUN AND LEARN
The Fun and Learn Program is a recreation/socialization program for six to sixteen year-old children who are experiencing difficulties in school. The program seeks to develop self-confidence, self-esteem, and to challenge children physically and mentally through recreational activities. It is not a tutorial program. Volunteers are needed. Interested students contact Jessie Agonistone (277-4470).

PROJECT HEAD START
Project Head Start is a comprehensive, interdisciplinary child development program designed to serve pre-school children from families with limited income. The Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students who take part in the program volunteer a in a Head Start classroom one morning per week.
If interested, contact Denise Taloma (283-2350).

ST. THOMAS MORE SOCIETY
The St. Thomas More Society consists of a group of individuals committed to keeping alive and spreading the ideals and moral principles exemplified in the life and death of St. Thomas More. The two primary foci of the society are its lectures and community service. For more information contact Chris Devron (277-0335).

"Introduction to Peace Studies," "Peace Movements in America," "Social Concerns in America: Homelessness," "CIRCLE K, Student Government," "Latin America Programs (Staff): Students study in Mexico for a semester or a year at the Universidad Iberoamericana, or serve in Global Community of Guernavaca.

Hispanic Community Concerns (Staff): Opportunities for contact with programs serving the Hispanic community in South Bend and elsewhere.
Latin America Programs (Staff): Students study in Mexico for a semester or a year at the Universidad Iberoamericana, or serve in Global Community of Guernavaca.

"Introduction to Peace Studies," "Peace Movements in America," "Social Concerns in America: Homelessness," "CIRCLE K, Student Government," "Latin America Programs (Staff): Students study in Mexico for a semester or a year at the Universidad Iberoamericana, or serve in Global Community of Guernavaca.

Hispanic Community Concerns (Staff): Opportunities for contact with programs serving the Hispanic community in South Bend and elsewhere.
Latin America Programs (Staff): Students study in Mexico for a semester or a year at the Universidad Iberoamericana, or serve in Global Community of Guernavaca.
Classifieds

NOTICES

TYPED AVAILABLE

WORDPROCESSING

237-1948

A TYPICAL CONVERSATION AT HOME: "Honey, I'll be home in a few minutes. I'm going to the store. Is there anything I can get for you?" "No, just get me the milk and bread." "Well, then, I'll be home soon." "I know, I know, just get me the milk and bread." "Okay, I'll be home soon!" "I know, I know, just get me the milk and bread." "Okay, I'll be home soon!"

---

FOUND/LOST

Hit by a car, mother of two kids. Need income now. Help me find my family. Contact: 235-7890.

FOR SALE

TV RENTALS: YOU CAN RENT A 29" COLOR TV TUNER OR A 49" HD FLAT SCREEN TELEVISION (WITH SCART) FOR JUST $30.00. CALL FOR DETAILS. CALL ME AT 987-6543.

FOR RENT

FURNISHED HOUSE FOR RENT, 3 BR 2 BATH, W/L, FURNACE, ECG, PM. CALL 456-7890.

---

RESTAURANT

The Olive Garden, Italian/American cuisine. A 1-minute walk from the campus. Open Monday-Friday, 10am-9pm, Saturday-Sunday, 11am-9pm. Call 123-4567 for reservations.

---

WANTED

Please add comments about what you want to see in your classified ad. Include specific details such as location, price range, and any special features you're looking for.

---

FREE Classifieds

FREE FOR SALE

NEED AN AD FOR $4 A CALL TO COLUMBUS TIMES

---

PERSONALS

SOFTLAUNDRY BUSINESS FOR SALE

I have a soft laundry business for sale. Located in the heart of town, it has been in operation for over 20 years. The business includes a commercial washer and dryer, a small office, and a storage area. The current owner has decided to retire and is looking for a buyer who wants to continue operating the business. The business is located at 123 Main Street, in the heart of downtown. The asking price is $150,000. For more information, please call me at 987-6543.

---

LOOKING FOR

Looking for a roommate to share a 1-bedroom apartment in downtown Columbus. Rent is $500 per month, including utilities. Available immediately. Call 456-7890.

---

SOFTLAUNDRY BUSINESS

I am looking to purchase a soft laundry business in the Columbus area. I have experience in the laundry business and am looking for a business to start my own Laundry business. Please call 987-6543 for more information.

---

FREE FOR RENT

FURNISHED HOUSE FOR RENT, 3 BR 2 BATH, W/L, FURNACE, ECG, PM. CALL 456-7890.

---

RESTAURANT

The Olive Garden, Italian/American cuisine. A 1-minute walk from the campus. Open Monday-Friday, 10am-9pm, Saturday-Sunday, 11am-9pm. Call 123-4567 for reservations.

---

WANTED

Please add comments about what you want to see in your classified ad. Include specific details such as location, price range, and any special features you're looking for.

---

FREE Classifieds

FREE FOR SALE

NEED AN AD FOR $4 A CALL TO COLUMBUS TIMES

---

PERSONALS

SOFTLAUNDRY BUSINESS FOR SALE

I have a soft laundry business for sale. Located in the heart of town, it has been in operation for over 20 years. The business includes a commercial washer and dryer, a small office, and a storage area. The current owner has decided to retire and is looking for a buyer who wants to continue operating the business. The business is located at 123 Main Street, in the heart of downtown. The asking price is $150,000. For more information, please call me at 987-6543.

---

LOOKING FOR

Looking for a roommate to share a 1-bedroom apartment in downtown Columbus. Rent is $500 per month, including utilities. Available immediately. Call 456-7890.

---

SOFTLAUNDRY BUSINESS

I am looking to purchase a soft laundry business in the Columbus area. I have experience in the laundry business and am looking for a business to start my own Laundry business. Please call 987-6543 for more information.

---

FREE FOR RENT

FURNISHED HOUSE FOR RENT, 3 BR 2 BATH, W/L, FURNACE, ECG, PM. CALL 456-7890.
US boxers taking command in Seoul

Associated Press

SEOUL - The spirits of U.S. Olympic boxers were buoyed considerably Wednesday.

"We ain't losing nothing," said heavyweight Ray Mercer after watching Arthur Johnson give the U.S. team its third straight victory and fourth of the competition.

Johnson stopped Bishnubahadur Sing of Nepal in the second round of a 112-pound bout for his second victory, putting the Americans at 4-2 overall.

"Everybody's fired up," said Johnson after being loudly cheered on by several teammates. "Everybody is cheering for you. You can hear them. It helps a lot.

Johnson's victory set up a second major U.S.-South Korean match-up.

The United States won the first one when Michael Carbalajal of Phoenix turned in a big third round for a 3-2 victory on the morning card over Oh Kwang soo, the favorite for a South Korean gold medal at 106 pounds.

The 22-year-old Johnson, of Minneapolis, will meet Kim Kwang-sun of South Korea in the quarterfinals Friday for a gold medal.

Kim, who lost to 106-pound gold medalist Paul Gonzales of Los Angeles in the first round, wasted no time getting his revenge.

Johnson stopped Bishnu and was not even close to his opponent.

"I think I'm at my best, I'm pretty hard to beat," said Johnson.

Elsewhere, South Korean coaches attacked a referee Thursday after one of their boxers lost a decision to a Bulgarin in a 112-pound bout at the Olympics.

Several punches were thrown at referee Keith Walker of New Zealand by head coach Kim Sung-eun and his assistant, Lee Han-sung, and Walker was hit by at least one blow to the kidney.

Several other Koreans, one of them dressed in a business suit, also charged into the ring after it was announced that Byun Jong-il had lost a 4-1 decision to Alexandar Hiratov of Bulgaria.

The South Korean was penalized two points for butting.

A water bottle and a chair were hurled into the ring but no object appeared to be thrown from the spectators, who booed loudly.

More than a few Olympic sports employ judges, but most of them also employ a system, however crude, of checks and balances. Boxers lose close decisions, but they also take matters out of the judges' hands by hitting an opponent so hard that even his close relations lose consciousness.

Same with taekwondo.

"Everybody wants to be there when it happens," he added. "They feel disappointed when it doesn't.

Subjectivity may be great for boxing or taekwondo, but it's a decidedly less-than-perfect way to settle matters out of the judges' hands.

Johnson's victory set up a second major U.S.-South Korean match-up.

The United States won the first one when Michael Carbalajal of Phoenix turned in a big third round for a 3-2 victory on the morning card over Oh Kwang soo, the favorite for a South Korean gold medal at 106 pounds.

The 22-year-old Johnson, of Minneapolis, will meet Kim Kwang-sun of South Korea in the quarterfinals Friday for a gold medal.

Kim, who lost to 106-pound gold medalist Paul Gonzales of Los Angeles in the first round, wasted no time getting his revenge.

Johnson stopped Bishnu and was not even close to his opponent.

"I think I'm at my best, I'm pretty hard to beat," said Johnson.

Elsewhere, South Korean coaches attacked a referee Thursday after one of their boxers lost a decision to a Bulgarin in a 112-pound bout at the Olympics.

Several punches were thrown at referee Keith Walker of New Zealand by head coach Kim Sung-eun and his assistant, Lee Han-sung, and Walker was hit by at least one blow to the kidney.

Several other Koreans, one of them dressed in a business suit, also charged into the ring after it was announced that Byun Jong-il had lost a 4-1 decision to Alexandar Hiratov of Bulgaria.

The South Korean was penalized two points for butting.

A water bottle and a chair were hurled into the ring but no object appeared to be thrown from the spectators, who booed loudly.

More than a few Olympic sports employ judges, but most of them also employ a system, however crude, of checks and balances. Boxers lose close decisions, but they also take matters out of the judges' hands by hitting an opponent so hard that even his close relations lose consciousness.

Same with taekwondo.
Indianapolis Colts running back Eric Dickerson returned to his Indianapolis home after Monday night's 23-17 loss to the Cleveland Browns to find it had been robbed. Dickerson lost, among other things, a gold and diamond ring worth over $2,000. There are no suspects in the robbery.

By JOHN CRONIN
Sports Writer

The defending champions of the 1987 men's interhall soccer league, the Off Campus Hoobers, will have their hands full this year as they try to hold on to the crown. The 26 teams that compete the league are randomly divided into four divisions. Following the regular season matchups, the top two teams in each division will square off in the postseason tournament to decide who will be the 1988 champions.

The Hoobers have been touted as having the highest concentration of talent on the roster, but player attendance continues to be a problem. As the early favorite in the South American Division, the Hoobers defeated Dillon Big Red 2-0.

"We have to make the playoffs and in order for us to do that we must win the rest of our games," commented Big Red captain Mike Mihelick.

Grace A, a team that may cause some problems for the Hoobers, trounced Zahm B 4-0. "We have a lot of talented young players, who work extremely well as a unit," stated Grace captain John Patterson.

After losing to Morrissey A by the score of 5-1, the Holy Cross B team bounced back to snap a 24-game losing streak by defeating Zahm B 3-0. Captain Tony Malandra's reorganization of the offense contributed to the shutout.

Perhaps the most competitive of all the divisions, the Western European, features six top-notch teams, all capable of winning the league. The Zahm A-1, which made it to the semifinals last year, has its entire starting lineup returning. However, the veterans of Zahm A-1 dropped the first game of the season to Stanford A by the score of 2-0.

"We have excellent ball control and good overall skills," stated Zahm captain Andrew Shiner, "but we have our work cut out for us after losing to Stanford."

Other action in the Western European division included Alumni's 1-0 victory over St. Ed's in a defensive battle.

Pangborn Violence was edged out by the Off Campus Law MBA 3-2 in a shootout on Sept. 18.

The Flanner A team leads the North American Division after shutting out both Morrissey B and Sorin. "Goalkeeper Tom Maloney and the rest of the defense have provided a lot of opportunities for the offense to score," commented Flanner captain Bart Fox.

The Fischer Green Wave defeated Sorin 1-0 after Pat Hall scored the lone goal. Stanford B blanked Cavagnagh 3-0 on Thursday, Sept. 15.

In the European Division, the much improved team from Carroll known as L'Equipe Vermoin downed Holy Cross A 1-0. Holy Cross, a team that advanced to the semifinals last year, recuperated and pounded Dillon BMF 4-0.

"The loss to Carroll was disappointing because last year we beat them handily," said Holy Cross captain Jeff Utz. "We have had some key losses in some key positions, but I still believe that we will do well."

The Zahm A-2 had a first round bye and is a team in definite contention for a playoff bid.

How to get the Card now.

College is the first step of success. And because we believe in your potential, we've made it easier to get the American Express Card right now. Whether you're a freshman, senior or grad student, look into our new automatic approval offer. For details, pick up an application on campus or call 1-800-THE-CARD and ask for a student application.

The American Express Card. Don't Leave School Without It.®
MARK McGWIRE, here shown charging Nell Allen of the New York Yankees after Allen hit McGwire with a pitch earlier in the year, and the Oakland A's have been roughing up American League pitching of late. But it's their pitching that made headlines last night. Details and the baseball roundup are below.

Baseball roundup

A's set save record vs. Twins

Associated Press

OAKLAND - Dennis Eckersley recorded the 61st save of the season Wednesday for the Oakland bullpen, establishing a major league record, as the Athletics beat the Minnesota Twins, 4-0.

The old record of 60 saves in a season was held by the Cincinnati Reds, who reached that total in 1970 and 1972.

Bob Welch, 16-8, allowed five hits and he retired 13 consecutive batters after giving up a run in the third inning. He left in the eighth after a leadoff single by John Moses. Eckersley got the last three outs for his 43rd save.

The A's, who have clinched the American League West, moved 43 games over .500 with a 96-55 record, for the first time in Oakland history.

The A's were down 2-0 at one point but scored three runs in the third and three in the fifth (2-4), with five hits and a walk.

The Tigers trail the first-place Boston Red Sox, who earlier lost to Toronto, by five in the American League East. Each team has 10 games remaining.

Mets 4, Phillies 3

NEW YORK - Darryl Strawberry hit his 36th home run and Benny Pinckney, whose impact on history has been so studiously and curiously ignored by historians.

Fisher, a graduate of the University of Notre Dame, served police in North Africa and Italy during World War II, and with Army Counterintelligence, in the U.S. and Korea. Prior to his journalistic career, which began in 1973, he was legal Assistant and Press Secretary for the late Congressman James J. Delaney (D., N.Y.).

"A brilliant expose of the hidden power that Freemasonry has in the past and still is exerting so successfully to de-Christianize all things, This is MUST reading..." (Fr. Vincent Miceli, Ph.D., Christendom College).

"That knows how to do research and how to weigh facts, and those skills give him a work a sense of balance and sobriety that make it as persuasive as it is alarming. ... (He) shows conclusively that Justice Hugo L. Black's Freesion opinion is unhistorical, unorthodox, and deliberately concocted out of Masonic dogma. ..." (Michael Schwartz, The Wanderer).

READER REACTION:

"In the last 25 Years I've read quite extensively about Masonry. Your Book is the best." R.V., California

"Your book needs to be gotten out to as many Catholics as possible and to other Christian Americans willing to listen." E.H., Indiana

Finally! A Book That Makes the History of Our Times Intelligible!

BEHIND THE LODGE DOOR: A CHURCH, STATE AND FREEMASONRY IN AMERICA by Paul A. Fisher

Former Bureau Chief for The Wanderer and Veteran Journalist of the Catholic Press

Behind The Lodge Door lifts the veil on the subterranean war waged against Church and State by the Masonic Fraternity for over 200 years — even in the U.S. Supreme Court decisions.

An amazing and well documented expose of a mysterious international organization whose impact on history has been so studiously and curiously ignored by historians.

KAPLAN LSAT DEC. 3

KAPLAN H. KAPLAN EDUCATIONAL CENTER LTD. 1317 E. South Bend Ave. South Bend, IN 46637 Phone 219/372-4135

IF YOU ARE PLANNING TO ENROLL IN THE KAPLAN LSAT PREP COURSE FOR DEC. 3, PLEASE CALL OR COME TO THE KAPLAN CENTER TO RESERVE YOUR PLACE IN CLASS.

CLASSES BEGIN OCTOBER 4

FINALLY! A Book That Makes the History of Our Times Intelligible!

BEHIND THE LODGE DOOR: A CHURCH, STATE AND FREEMASONRY IN AMERICA by Paul A. Fisher

Former Bureau Chief for The Wanderer and Veteran Journalist of the Catholic Press

Prices: $18.95 per copy (with $2.05 postage & handling)

DISCOUNTS: 34 books ($16.55 per book); 5 books, 15% off.

""Your book needs to be gotten out to as many Catholics as possible and to other Christian Americans willing to listen." R.V., California

"Your book needs to be gotten out to as many Catholics as possible and to other Christian Americans willing to listen." E.H., Indiana

READER REACTION:

"In the last 25 Years I've read quite extensively about Masonry. Your Book is the best." R.V., California

"Your book needs to be gotten out to as many Catholics as possible and to other Christian Americans willing to listen." E.H., Indiana

SHIELD PUBLISHING CO. P.O. Box 9011 Washington, D.C. 20090

"In the last 25 Years I've read quite extensively about Masonry. Your Book is the best." R.V., California

"Your book needs to be gotten out to as many Catholics as possible and to other Christian Americans willing to listen." E.H., Indiana
Bad NBC ratings worry CBS

Associated Press

SEOUL — In the cutthroat world of television, where the gold goes to the winner of the ratings race, one network’s misfortune is usually another network’s gain.

So why is CBS worried about NBC’s disappointing ratings at the Summer Olympics?

Because low ratings in Seoul will make it harder to sell ads for future Olympics, and CBS just spent $243 million for the U.S. broadcast rights to the 1992 Winter Games in Albertville, France.

“I hope NBC’s ratings improve, for their sake and for ours,” CBS spokesman Mark Carlson said. “We’ve invested a lot in ‘92. The ratings they’re getting have implications for all of us.”

Ratings for NBC’s first four prime-time shows were 32 percent lower than ABC’s at the 1984 Summer Olympics. The Seoul shows averaged a 16.2, compared with 25.6 for the comparable telecasts from Los Angeles.

A rating point equals 88,000 households.

NBC’s early ratings are 21 percent lower than the network projected, even though ABC and CBS are showing reruns and movies because of production delays caused by the writers’ strike.

ABC, which has televised 10 Olympics, would not comment on NBC’s ratings.

Before the Games started, NBC projected an average prime-time rating of 21.2. If the ratings fall below that mark, the network would have to give advertisers some of their money back.

Barring a complete disaster, though, the network expects to turn a profit on its $440 million Olympic investment. NBC spent $300 million for broadcast rights and another $140 million on production and equipment, but covered the costs by selling about $50 million worth of ads.

No one knows for sure why the ratings are so much lower than 1984, but there are a lot of theories.

People meters. Ratings at all three major networks have dropped since they began using the new viewer measurement system last year.

“lag time. Because of the 14-hour difference, nighttime in New York is daytime the following day in Seoul. Although NBC emphasizes that all prime-time coverage is live, some viewers may be confused.

—In start. The Los Angeles Olympics began in late July when there was no competition from the NFL or college football, and the baseball pennant races hadn’t reached their critical stage.

—away games. Americans were more excited by the 1984 Olympics because they were in the United States.

—slow start. Track and field competition doesn’t start until Friday, and other glamour sports like boxing and basketball are still in the preliminary rounds.

“There really haven’t been any American heroes yet, except maybe Greg Louganis,” NBC spokesman Kevin Monagan said.

Soccer

continued from page 20 forward to even more improvement in the weeks ahead.”

The team will be working on its defensive and offensive restarts for the coming game against Adrian. The Irish will go for their fifth win tomorrow at 5 p.m. at Moose Krause Stadium.

Industry Fair Day

Wednesday, September 21
11:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.
First floor Fitzpatrick

Great way to obtain summer & permanent employment all majors welcome!!!

Dwight Evans and Ellis Burks have good reason to celebrate as Red Sox head coach Joe Morgan have their team smiling and running away with the American League East. Morgan is featured below.

'Other' Joe Morgan lifting Red Sox

Associated Press

TORONTO On a recent flight, the Boston Red Sox joined in singing "Be Happy" as a tape deck was played. That, many players say, is the key to the team's midseason turnaround and drive for the American League East championship.

And Joe Morgan, with just over two months as a major league manager, is credited for the new atmosphere.

In his 37th year in baseball, most of it in the minors, Morgan is having fun and so are the hitters and pitchers.

"Everybody loves him," second baseman Marty Barrett said. "His laid back attitude is something else."

Promoted from third base coach when John McNamara was dismissed on July 14 after the All-Star Game, Morgan's enthusiasm became contagious.

"Joe hasn't changed a bit except that now he's a little more open in his enthusiasm," Barrett said. "The way he goes about things it almost seems at times that we don't have a manager in the clubhouse."

Barrett emphasizes that it's Morgan's attitude for the club's relaxed, happy mood. He notes that Morgan knows the game, can be tough, has "great hunches and makes the moves."

Morgan, 57, grew up in the Boston area, playing baseball in high school and college. And, with a $190,000 contract for next year, he's over two months as a major league manager, is credited for the new atmosphere.

"Joe's attitude took over. He and Joe's attitude took over. He laid back attitude is something else." Morgan said.

"Most of us like! Mac, but it seemed that in the first half of the year the whole topic of conversation seemed to be, 'Is Mac going to go.'"

"The decision was made and Joe's attitude took over. He said he was going to play everyone and that made for a happier clubhouse with everybody contributing."

Debbie McDonald, a Second Team All-American selection for the Boilers last year, dominated the Irish by registering 20 kills.

Lambert tried to shake up his team by inserting Tracy Shelton into the starting lineup. Shelton, a sophomore who walked on the team last year and who had never played in varsity game before, rose to the occasion by scoring 10 kills and 15 digs.

The Irish next take the floor at home on Friday night against the Rice Owls.
NEW YORK TIMES CROSSWORD

ACROSS
1. Recorded, in a way [25]
6. Site of Port-au-Prince [26]
11. Delay, old style [29]
12. Past month [31]
14. Man from Oman, e.g. [33]
15. Delicious drinks [33]
17. Hornswoggled [35]
18. Bish. or pl. [35]
20. Navajo’s home [38]
21. Utah’s — [38]
22. Eyelid inflammations [43]
24. Rama’s wife [43]
25. Superlative suffix [45]
26. Scottish royal family [45]
28. January 1 drink [29]
29. Loses hope [31]
31. Swimming mammals [32]
33. Famed octogenarian [34]
35. Malay boat [35]
36. Tex. river [35]
38. They get lots of suits [38]
39. Hope [43]
40. A nephew of Abraham [44]
41. Low-skilled worker [46]
42. Signs on a jaylpy [46]
43. Commanded [49]
44. Christie and Karenina [52]
45. Pozo [52]
46. Eton boy’s mist [53]
48. Milk sugar [54]
50. Slow disintegration [56]
51. Eagle or lark [58]
52. Relative magnitudes [59]
53. Viewpoint [60]
54. Luster [61]

DOWN
1. Sites of small tempests [7]
2. Vice President [7]
3. Indemnified [7]
4. Airport abbr. [8]
5. Render [13]
6. TV detective [16]
7. October — [16]
8. Constant desire [16]
9. Schipa and Gobbi of opera [18]
10. Picture in the mind [19]
11. Injury [20]
12. Skilled speaker [20]
14. HIDDEN HINDrances [21]
15. An orangutan [22]
16. Salary [22]
17. Magpies [23]
18. Pickles: simp. [27]
19. The earth terrarium! [30]
20. 14th-century BC [31]
21. Eponymous horse [34]
22. Famed [36]
23. Sen. of Kansas [37]
24. A fulfillment, e.g. [38]
25. CPU, e.g. [39]
26. 1371-1714 [40]
27. Porticoes [40]
28. Dress leather [42]
29. Large serving dishes [43]
30. Flower part [44]
31. Pinta — [45]
32. President’s dad [47]
33. “To—is” [49]
34. Famed [50]
35. Minnesota’s capital [51]
36. The governor’s sister-in-law [52]
37. Wild ones at night [53]
38. “Last Supper” picture [56]
39. High spirits [58]
40. Western hem. [59]
41. Shop’s rear [59]
42. Abandon [59]
43. Province of South Africa [60]
44. Memorable headline [61]
45. Marsh bird [61]
46. Species [61]
47. Stadium sound [61]
48. of small termites [61]
49. Mail [61]
50. Frankish ruler [61]
51. Young athlete [61]
52. Sheet [61]
53. Kept — [61]
54. A large, elongated person [61]
55. Darned [61]
56. A great [61]
57. “Last Supper” picture [61]
58. “Last Supper” picture [61]
59. A great [61]
60. Last Supper” picture [61]
61. “Last Supper” picture [61]

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

DINNER MENUS

Notre Dame
- Sloppy Joes
- Beef Stir Fry
- Fried Chicken
- Vegetable Marinara
- Deli Bar

Saint Mary’s
- Tarragon Chicken
- Italian Lasagna
- Cherry Crepes
- Deli Bar

COMICS

Runny Noses

Berke Breathed

The Far Side

BRUCE BABBITT

THURS: James Bond’s Moonraker

FRI: Woody Allen’s Zelig

SAT: Repo Man

ALL TIMES: 8 pm & 10:15 pm

ADMISSION $2

CUSHING AUDITORIUM

CAMPUS

8:30 p.m. Saint Mary’s College Counseling and Career Development Presentation “Employment Opportunities with First Chicago,” by Robert Chrumer, assistant vice president, Haggar Parlor, Haggar College Center.

8:30 p.m. The Far Side: Gary Larson

7 p.m. & 9:15 p.m. Graduate Student Union film series “Hosts,” Library Auditorium.

7:30 p.m. ND Women’s Soccer vs. Wheaton College, Moose Krause Stadium.

7 p.m. Career and Placement Services presents a reception for all MCC, MIS, CAPP, and E&E seniors interested in discovering career opportunities with the Lantez Lounge.

8 p.m. Coffee Hour in the International Student Organization Lounge.

DINNER MENUS

Notre Dame
- Sloppy Joes
- Beef Stir Fry
- Fried Chicken
- Vegetable Marinara
- Deli Bar

Saint Mary’s
- Tarragon Chicken
- Italian Lasagna
- Cherry Crepes
- Deli Bar

COMICS

Runny Noses

Andy Kinney

The Far Side

Gary Larson

"Zorak, you idiot! You’ve mixed incompatible species in the earth terrarium!"

CHECK OUT WHAT’S HAPPENING THIS WEEK:

TOPS IN BLUE

BRUCE BABBITT

THURS: James Bond’s Moonraker

FRI: Woody Allen’s Zelig

SAT: Repo Man

ALL TIMES: 8 pm & 10:15 pm

ADMISSION $2

CUSHING AUDITORIUM

SUB

SPONSORED BY STUDENT UNION BOARD

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1988

8:30 p.m. Coffee Hour in the International Student Organization Lounge.

7:30 p.m. Career and Placement Services presents a reception for all MCC, MIS, CAPP, and E&E seniors interested in discovering career opportunities with the Lantez Lounge.

8:30 p.m. The Far Side: Gary Larson

7 p.m. & 9:15 p.m. Graduate Student Union film series “Hosts,” Library Auditorium.

7:30 p.m. ND Women’s Soccer vs. Wheaton College, Moose Krause Stadium.

7 p.m. Career and Placement Services presents a reception for all MCC, MIS, CAPP, and E&E seniors interested in discovering career opportunities with the Lantez Lounge.

8 p.m. Coffee Hour in the International Student Organization Lounge.

DINNER MENUS

Notre Dame
- Sloppy Joes
- Beef Stir Fry
- Fried Chicken
- Vegetable Marinara
- Deli Bar

Saint Mary’s
- Tarragon Chicken
- Italian Lasagna
- Cherry Crepes
- Deli Bar

COMICS

Runny Noses

Andy Kinney

The Far Side

Gary Larson

"Zorak, you idiot! You’ve mixed incompatible species in the earth terrarium!"

CHECK OUT WHAT’S HAPPENING THIS WEEK:

TOPS IN BLUE

BRUCE BABBITT

THURS: James Bond’s Moonraker

FRI: Woody Allen’s Zelig

SAT: Repo Man

ALL TIMES: 8 pm & 10:15 pm

ADMISSION $2

CUSHING AUDITORIUM

SUB

SPONSORED BY STUDENT UNION BOARD

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1988

8:30 p.m. Coffee Hour in the International Student Organization Lounge.

7:30 p.m. Career and Placement Services presents a reception for all MCC, MIS, CAPP, and E&E seniors interested in discovering career opportunities with the Lantez Lounge.

8:30 p.m. The Far Side: Gary Larson

7 p.m. & 9:15 p.m. Graduate Student Union film series “Hosts,” Library Auditorium.

7:30 p.m. ND Women’s Soccer vs. Wheaton College, Moose Krause Stadium.

7 p.m. Career and Placement Services presents a reception for all MCC, MIS, CAPP, and E&E seniors interested in discovering career opportunities with the Lantez Lounge.

8 p.m. Coffee Hour in the International Student Organization Lounge.

DINNER MENUS

Notre Dame
- Sloppy Joes
- Beef Stir Fry
- Fried Chicken
- Vegetable Marinara
- Deli Bar

Saint Mary’s
- Tarragon Chicken
- Italian Lasagna
- Cherry Crepes
- Deli Bar

COMICS

Runny Noses

Andy Kinney

The Far Side

Gary Larson

"Zorak, you idiot! You’ve mixed incompatible species in the earth terrarium!"

CHECK OUT WHAT’S HAPPENING THIS WEEK:

TOPS IN BLUE

BRUCE BABBITT

THURS: James Bond’s Moonraker

FRI: Woody Allen’s Zelig

SAT: Repo Man

ALL TIMES: 8 pm & 10:15 pm

ADMISSION $2

CUSHING AUDITORIUM

SUB

SPONSORED BY STUDENT UNION BOARD
Women's soccer beats Wheaton, 1-0

By COLLEEN HIGGENS
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame women's soccer team raised its record to 4-2 last night with a 1-0 win over Wheaton College. As is reflected in the score, it was a physical and evenly matched contest, with both teams falling short of their scoring potential.

The first half saw no real action, but both teams mounted strong offensive efforts. Neither side, however, could complete the threat and put the ball in the net. The half ended at 0-0.

"They did everything they could," said Irish head coach Dave Reiter. "But Dennis Grace. "The most important thing is to generate opportunities, and we are doing very well in that respect."

The Irish took the field after halftime determined and ready to win. They started the second half with a solid offensive effort that produced everything but a score. Grace was not disappointed with the performance.

"When we put that much pressure on a team," he said.

On the team, Bayliss commented that "it always benefits you when you can push the ball downmetal against the top teams."

As a result of the influx of new talent, the men's team has undergone some reshuffling of the lineup. As of the present, Dave DiLucia, a freshman from Norristown, Pa., holds the number one position as a midfielder. Also, the number one seed player last year, assumed the number two seed last year, and DiLucia should duel amongst the other top talent.

This tournament will show your team when you test your mental against the top teams."

"He's been with us from the beginning," said Irish head coach Mike Petrucci. "But Tony has good football awareness."

"It's unique for a freshman to have the opportunity as quickly as he has, but he keeps improving. Every day he gets better."

"Sue McConville had an outstanding game in midfield," he said. "Our two wingbacks played well, too. Debbie Ho as an attacking wingback is just getting better and better in every game. The whole team has come so far in the past three weeks, and I'm looking for a step up in competition.

Debbie Ho, cousin of Irish football placekicker and then Mark Green while also starting as fullback.

Brooks did play fullback in last year's Michigan State game following injuries to the regulars.

"He's learning a new position in a week, and remembering his old one," said running backs coach Jim Strong. "He's learning two game plans, from the backfield spot and the fullback spot. We don't like to do it, but Tony has good football awareness."

"We're really zeroed him in on fullback this week. We're trying to get him as many reps there as possible. The execution and assignments are a bit toally different (at tailback and fullback)," contin- continued Strong. "Johnson and Brooks have taken about 1,000 snaps each this season. However, looking at the pres- sence."

"Sue McConville had an outstanding game in midfield," he said. "Our two wingbacks played well, too. Debbie Ho as an attacking wingback is just getting better and better in every game. The whole team has come so far in the past three weeks, and I'm looking for a step up in competition.

Debbie Ho, cousin of Irish football placekicker and then Mark Green while also starting as fullback.

Brooks did play fullback in last year's Michigan State game following injuries to the regulars.

"He's learning a new position in a week, and remembering his old one," said running backs coach Jim Strong. "He's learning two game plans, from the backfield spot and the fullback spot. We don't like to do it, but Tony has good football awareness."

"We're really zeroed him in on fullback this week. We're trying to get him as many reps there as possible. The execution and assignments are a bit toally different (at tailback and fullback)," contin- continued Strong. "Johnson and Brooks have taken about 1,000 snaps each this season. However, looking at the pres- sence."

"Sue McConville had an outstanding game in midfield," he said. "Our two wingbacks played well, too. Debbie Ho as an attacking wingback is just getting better and better in every game. The whole team has come so far in the past three weeks, and I'm looking for a step up in competition.

Debbie Ho, cousin of Irish football placekicker and then Mark Green while also starting as fullback.

Brooks did play fullback in last year's Michigan State game following injuries to the regulars.

"He's learning a new position in a week, and remembering his old one," said running backs coach Jim Strong. "He's learning two game plans, from the backfield spot and the fullback spot. We don't like to do it, but Tony has good football awareness."

"We're really zeroed him in on fullback this week. We're trying to get him as many reps there as possible. The execution and assignments are a bit toally different (at tailback and fullback)," contin- continued Strong. "Johnson and Brooks have taken about 1,000 snaps each this season. However, looking at the pres- sence."

"Sue McConville had an outstanding game in midfield," he said. "Our two wingbacks played well, too. Debbie Ho as an attacking wingback is just getting better and better in every game. The whole team has come so far in the past three weeks, and I'm looking for a step up in competition.

Debbie Ho, cousin of Irish football placekicker and then Mark Green while also starting as fullback.

Brooks did play fullback in last year's Michigan State game following injuries to the regulars.

"He's learning a new position in a week, and remembering his old one," said running backs coach Jim Strong. "He's learning two game plans, from the backfield spot and the fullback spot. We don't like to do it, but Tony has good football awareness."

"We're really zeroed him in on fullback this week. We're trying to get him as many reps there as possible. The execution and assignments are a bit toally different (at tailback and fullback)," contin- continued Strong. "Johnson and Brooks have taken about 1,000 snaps each this season. However, looking at the pres- sence."

"Sue McConville had an outstanding game in midfield," he said. "Our two wingbacks played well, too. Debbie Ho as an attacking wingback is just getting better and better in every game. The whole team has come so far in the past three weeks, and I'm looking for a step up in competition.

Debbie Ho, cousin of Irish football placekicker and then Mark Green while also starting as fullback.

Brooks did play fullback in last year's Michigan State game following injuries to the regulars.