Candidates’ quest for votes continues

ELECTION ‘88

Democrats voiced confidence they would retain or perhaps widen their majorities in the House and Senate in Tuesday’s balloting, and they got little dissent from Republicans on that score.

One of the tightest Senate races was in Florida, where a late-hour poll showed a virtual dead heat between Democratic Rep. Buddy MacKay and Republican Rep. Connie Mack for the seat being vacated by Democratic Sen. Lawton Chiles.

Bush aide Aline Glen described the vice president’s rapidly changing itinerary as a “Magical Mystery Tour.”

Dukakis tried to defy the clock and physical exhaustion in a final drive to snare undecided voters and, five voters were undecided or leaning. Bush said.

A series of state polls provided a picture of several close races. One poll gave Bush a 17-point lead in Texas, with its 29 electoral votes. But Dukakis was reported gaining on Bush in the latest survey in Colorado, and holding an eight-point lead in Iowa.

Widows said its nationwide survey completed Saturday night showed the vice president with a lead of 46 percent to 43 percent, down from two weeks earlier, and that a very high 21 percent of voters are “undecided or may still change their minds.”

Bush professed little doubt about the outcome Tuesday. “Things are moving in our direction,” he said as he raced Sunday from Colorado to California to Michigan.

Dukakis, in a desperate race, noted that both candidates began the day in Colorado.

“For months George Bush has been following me around on Election Day minus two. But we could just as easily be plus two or better.”

One reason little change is expected is that, unlike some past presidential elections, there has been no overriding national theme dictated by the top of the ticket, the kind of compelling issue that would propel voters to seek massive changes.

Rather, polls have shown a general contentment with the status quo, and that works to the benefit of incumbents.

That advantage extends to the House, where very little movement is expected in the Democrats’ 255-177 majority.

The Observer / Laura Matteas

A real wipe out

One of the entries in the Sorin talent show consisted of these students, lip-syncing the Fat Boys’ hit, “Wipe Out.” The talent show was held on the porch of Sorin Friday night.

The independent newspaper serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1988

Vol. XXII, No. 48

The Observer

Pipe bomb is found in ND stadium

By REGIS COCCIA
Senior Staff Reporter

A small pipe bomb filled with an unidentified substance was found early Saturday morning near Notre Dame Stadium and removed by a bomb disposal unit, said Director of Security Rex Rakow.

A stadium usher found the device, a 4.5-inch plastic pipe with an attached fuse, at 7:20 a.m. Saturday between Gates 16 and 17 on the pavement outside the stadium, less than five hours before the Notre Dame-Rice football game, Rakow said.

After securing the area, Notre Dame Security called the South Bend Police Department’s bomb disposal unit, which arrived about 7:50 a.m. and removed the device, he said.

Rakow said the pipe bomb was then taken to a safe pistol range, where authorities attempted to detonate it from a distance with a shotgun.

The bomb did not explode and did not appear to contain black powder, a substance usually used in pipe bombs, Rakow said.

An unidentified grainy, oil-based substance was found inside the plastic pipe. The bomb and its contents will be taken to a laboratory for analysis, Rakow said.

A fuse was attached to the device but it was not lit, he said. Security received no threats or phone calls about the bomb before or since it was discovered. No other bombs were discovered, he said.

Rakow said the bomb was the first such device he has found in nine years with security. Security is still investigating the incident.

Polling places

Special to The Observer

Students registered to vote in Indiana should know where they can cast their votes on Election Day, Tuesday, Nov. 8. Information on polling places and candidates, as well as all local and national elections, can be obtained at the information desk on the first floor of LaFortune Student Center.

On-campus students: Students may vote in Stepan Center from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 8.

Off-campus students: All off-campus students must vote at the official polling place within their respective voting precinct. Student government advises off-campus students to call 219-5733 from 13 to 9 a.m. today for precinct numbers and polling sites. Off-campus students may also call their local government offices for information.

Frosty melts partly sunny and warmer today with a high in the upper 40s. Mostly cloudy and warmer tonight with a 30 percent chance of light rain.

ACCENT: New film releases

VIEWPOINT: The enigmatic grad student

The Observer / Laura Matteas

A real wipe out

One of the entries in the Sorin talent show consisted of these students, lip-syncing the Fat Boys’ hit, “Wipe Out.” The talent show was held on the porch of Sorin Friday night.
Seniors should keep job search in perspective

Kendra Morrill
Assistant News Editor

He told me how fortunate we are at Notre Dame because we have opportunities to interview with prospective employers on campus, while so many students at other universities don't have these opportunities, and even more people don't have college degrees. Yet we have degrees from Notre Dame, which gives us a jump on others in the job market.

It's right.

Something else I realized is everyone in every industry has different needs. A rejection simply means you may not fit the exact specifications of that company, but there are other prospective employers out there whose specifications you do fit.

The point is that rejection is unavoidable, but it can't make you not want to try for something. It isn't failure. It isn't an indication you are inferior or don't have "what it takes." It is an experience that might cause you to look at things a little differently, but then again, everything looks a little differently after college. Maybe it prepares you for when that time comes.

Impress people

Work for the Observer

Tom Ward is Pro-Life on Abortion, Arms Control, and Domestic Issues.

TOM WARD WILL:

PROTECT THE UNBORN from abortion

To Tom Ward, all human life is sacred, from the moment of conception on. He opposes abortion and will support a constitutional amendment banning abortions except to protect the life of the mother.

PROTECT OUR FUTURE from a nuclear war

Tom Ward supports arms-control measures designed to reduce U.S. and Soviet nuclear stockpiles, negotiations towards a comprehensive test-ban treaty, and efforts to keep the arms race form spreading into space.

PROTECT OUR FAMILIES from the devastation of unemployment and poverty

Tom Ward favors programs that are truly pro-family, that will help people in time of need and enable people to leave welfare for meaningful employment.

In this election, there is only ONE consistent-life-ethic candidate for Indiana's Third District: Tom Ward.

Paid for by Notre Dame Justice Fund.

The Observer

OFF INTEREST

Saint Edward's Hall Forum presents Professor David Link, Dean of the Notre Dame Law School, speaking on "How I Think You Should Prepare for Law School," tonight at 7 in the St. Ed's first-floor lounge. All are invited. The Observer

Off-campus voters: People who registered to vote in Indiana and live off-campus will vote in locations set by their major and majors as shown on their registration card. Off-campus students can check a chart in the student government office on the second floor of LaFortune or between 3:45 and 4:45 from noon to 9 p.m. today to find polling places. The Observer

"Focus On Your Career," a workshop given to explore interests, skills, and values as they relate to choosing a career, will be presented by Jeff Rice and Marilyn Bury, assistant directors of Career and Placement Services. All classes and majors are encouraged to attend. The Observer

An African project will be presented this afternoon from 3:45 to 4:45 at the Center for Social Concerns by Michael Heisler, M.D., ND '72. He is a member of a team of Russian and American physicians planning a peace project in Arusha Tanzania, Africa. All interested students are encouraged to attend. The Observer

Ballroom Dance Club will meet tonight in Stepan Center at 6 for Intermediate and 7 for Beginning dancers. The Observer

Presidential Forum on Economics will be held tonight at 7 upstairs in the Center for Social Concerns by Profs. Bet-sun, Jameson, and Rakowski of the Economics department discussed economic dimension of this economic recession. A student-faculty reception with refreshments will follow. All are cordially invited to attend. The Observer

Father Hesburgh, University President Emeritus, will speak tomorrow at the Center for Social Concerns at noon. Entitled "Prosperity for Peace," his speech is part of the Call To Peacemaking Week. The Observer

Scared about Nuclear War? Bob Johansen will be speaking tonight at the Center for Social Concerns at 7:30 on "Keeping the Peace and Protecting National Security Without Nuclear Weapons." Please join UCAM United Campuses to Prevent Nuclear War at this event. The Observer

Adult Children of Alcoholics will hold a meeting tonight at 7 upstairs in the Center for Social Concerns. All are welcome. The Observer

The Notre Dame Quarter Mile, a fund-raiser sponsored by Hall Presidents Council, raised $100 for the United Way. HPC would like to thank all who participated for their support and contributions. The Observer

A palanca writing session will be held for all past NDE participants tomorrow at 9 p.m. in the Pasquerilla West Chapel. Call Mark Bellafante at 283-3180 for further information. The Observer

The Observer
Second phase of immigration reforms to begin

The Observer

An unidentified student walks amidst snow covered bushes and slushy sidewalks Sunday near the School of Architecture. The first snowfall of the season caused controversy among students as some headed outdoors to enjoy the snow while others cuddled up inside, refusing to admit winter has arrived.

Walk this way

The Observer / Laura Mathias

CALL TO PEACEMAKING

Monday, November 7

"CALL TO PEACEMAKING OPENING MASS"
Fr. Monk Malloy, C.S.C. Holy Heart church, 11:30 A.M.

"KEEPING THE PEACE AND PROTECTING NATIONAL SECURITY WITHOUT NUCLEAR WEAPONS"
Robert Johansen, Senior Fellow, Institute for International Peace Studies. 7:30 P.M. at the CSC. Sponsored by UCAM.

Tuesday, November 8

"PROGNOSIS FOR PEACE"
Fr. Theodore Hesburgh, C.S.C. 12:00 Noon at the CSC, Election Day!

Reminder to all USC trip participants

Mandatory meeting tonight at 7 p.m. or 9 p.m.

Cushing Hall auditorium.

Be sure to bring roommate application forms.

Second phase of immigration reforms to begin

The second phase of the federal government's immigration amnesty program starts today, when thousands of amnesty recipients can begin applying for permanent residency and receiving their so-called green cards. Federal officials expect about 1.5 million of the 1.8 million non-agricultural workers who applied for amnesty under the so-called green cards.

But that figure may be optimistic, authorities said, because some potential applicants could find themselves shut out of overcrowded English and civics classes they must take to qualify for permanent residency.

In Los Angeles, at least one school—the Evans Community Adult School—has been holding classes 24 hours a day to handle the crush.

In Dallas, classes for amnesty recipients are free in public schools, but many attend privately-run programs.

In New York City, classes will be offered by the Board of Education, the City University of New York and many community-based organizations.

New York's applicants represent 177 countries and pose a challenge to educators, according to Garrett Murphy, director of the state Department of Education's Division of Continuing Education.

"We probably have more language groups and more languages than any other state," Murphy said. Arthur Helle, a spokesman for the Lawyer's Committee for Human Rights, predicted New York state would be "overwhelmed" by a late swarm of applicants because the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service has done little to inform immigrants about the education program.

"It's starting with remarkably little fanfare," he said, adding that many immigrants are probably unaware of the educational component. "People may just think they have (legal) status now, and aren't thinking about the next step."

The INS released its guidelines for civic classes only about two weeks ago.

Election continued from page 1

on the issues. He discovered education a few months ago, he even discovered the environment a few months ago," he said.

"This week he started following me around on my message, telling people he's on your side. Now he's following me around the country. I'll tell you one place he's not going to follow me. He's not following Lloyd Bentsen and me to 1600 Pennsylvannia Avenue."

Quayle, who shows up as a drag on the Republican ticket in virtually all the polls, declined invitations to appear on network television and campaigned Sunday in Virginia, one of the safest Republican states, where a new poll showed Bush with a 56-35 percent lead.

What Can An MBA Degree Do For You?

An MBA degree from Ohio State can bring you greater opportunities, income, and career challenges. Our nationally recognized MBA program offers merit-based financial aid and has no prerequisites. We enroll both business and nonbusiness majors. And many of our graduates have gone on to jobs with established leaders like IBM, Goldman Sachs, AT&T, and Procter & Gamble. For a free brochure about our programs, please write or call.

Director, MBA Programs
The Ohio State University
112 Hagerty Hall
1775 College Road
Columbus, OH 43210-1399
614-292-8511

CALL TO PEACEMAKING

Monday, November 7

"CALL TO PEACEMAKING OPENING MASS"
Fr. Monk Malloy, C.S.C. Holy Heart church, 11:30 A.M.

"KEEPING THE PEACE AND PROTECTING NATIONAL SECURITY WITHOUT NUCLEAR WEAPONS"
Robert Johansen, Senior Fellow, Institute for International Peace Studies. 7:30 P.M. at the CSC. Sponsored by UCAM.

Tuesday, November 8

"PROGNOSIS FOR PEACE"
Fr. Theodore Hesburgh, C.S.C. 12:00 Noon at the CSC, Election Day!
Gunmen were behind failed Maldives coup

Associated Press

MALE, Maldives—Military officials tried to break a high seas standoff Saturday night with gunmen who staged a failed coup in Maldives, seized 25 hostages and were holding them aboard an armed patrol boat, officials said.

Two Indian warships tailed the boat in the Indian Ocean, and military officers were negotiating by radio with the gunmen for release of the hostages, Indian and Maldivian officials in Male said.

“We have not yet reached any conclusion. There are many lives involved. There are threats to life,” said Maj. Zahir of the Maldivian security forces. He gave only one name.

“We are trying to solve the problem as soon as possible,” said Zahir nearly 48 hours after the ship left Male, the capital. Officials said an aide to former President Ibrahim Nasir participated in Thursday’s pre-dawn attack and may have instigated it.

The mercenaries fled early Friday after Indian paratroopers landed to help Gayoom and his lightly armed security forces in the Indian Ocean nation, which is also known as the Maldive Islands.

Ex-President's arrest demanded

Associated Press

SEOUL, South Korea—Tens of thousands of screaming protesters clashed with police Saturday throughout South Korea, demanding the arrest of former President Chun Doo-hwan on corruption charges.

Riot police in Seoul fired tear gas to block a 10,000-strong crowd from marching to the former president's house. The protesters threw rocks and firebombs.

At least 11 officers were injured, authorities said, including 19 hurt when a police station in Seoul was pelted with rocks and firebombs. Dozens of protesters were seen injured and carried away, but police gave no figures for the total number of injuries and arrests.

Tear gas filled the streets of seven other South Korea cities—Wongju, Cheorwon, Cheju, Kwangju, Taegu, Taejon and Pusan—as police fought students and anti-Chun rallies, authorities reported.

The scandal over corruption allegedly committed by Chun and his family has been the major political issue in South Korea since the Summer Olympics in Seoul. Opposition groups rejected a governing party offer Saturday for Chun to make a public apology for his alleged misdeeds in office.

In Pusan, an opposition stronghold south of Seoul, police fired tear gas at thousands of protesters trying to burn an effigy of Chun, President Roh Tae-woo and Uncle Sam, and thousands of citizens cheered and shouted “ Arrest Chun Doo-hwan!”

Roh was elected in December to replace Chun, who held office seven years. The election followed months of anti-government demonstrations.

In Pusan, an opposition stronghold south of Seoul, police fired tear gas at thousands of protesters trying to burn an effigy of the former president after a street march, according to Yonhap, the South Korean news agency.

Police also battled groups of slogan-chanting protesters in Kwangju, after students razed two police buses, shattered windows of a department store and damaged eight cars in a firebomb attack on a government prosecutors' building.

One student was injured when he fell out of a third-floor window.

In Seoul, police martial arts squads drove protesters into side streets, beating and kicking them, but the protest swelled with thousands of other citizens demanding Chun's arrest.

Thousands of riot police using armored vehicles fired volleys of tear gas at more than 15,000 protesters at one crowded shopping area.

During the Seoul rally, leaders called for bigger rallies next week and vowed to attack Chun's house.

Radical students have attacked government buildings and party offices since Thursday, when riot police blocked a march to Chun's home by thousands of students.

Chun's younger brother, Chun Kyung-hwan, was recently sentenced to seven years in prison for taking bribes and misusing millions of dollars in government money while he headed a rural development program.

Nasir, who lives in Singapore, denied involvement.

In Male, members of the security forces patrolled the gray sand streets. Businesses and shops were closed because of a national day of mourning for those who died in the violence. India's top diplomat in Male said 27 to 32 people were killed when 159 gunmen believed to be Tamil mercenaries from nearby Sri Lanka attempted to overthrow President Maumoon Abdul Gayoom.

"This figure is probably underestimated, because the mercenaries may have removed their dead," Ambassador A.K. Banerjee said. He provided no breakdown on the deaths, but said 25 people were taken hostage aboard the vessel. Earlier reports had said there were 18 to 20 hostages.

The mercenaries fled early Friday after Indian paratroopers landed to help Gayoom and his lightly armed security forces in the Indian Ocean nation, which is also known as the Maldive Islands.
5 reported injured in south Lebanon raids

Associated Press

Sidon, Lebanon—Israeli helicopter gunships rocketed the shop of a boat dealer suspected of links with PLO guerrillas Sunday, demolishing the business and wounding five people, two of them seriously, police said.

The Israeli army said its warplanes destroyed a Palestinian guerrilla base in South Lebanon. It did not mention casualties.

Lebanese police said four Israeli Cobra helicopter gunships blasted the shop and a nearby citrus grove with eight rockets in two sorties. The shop in the southern port of Sidon was closed at the time.

A police spokesman, who cannot be named under standing regulations, said the shop owner, Mahmoud Hijazi, was suspected of links with Palestinian guerrillas and was used for launching motorboats to PLO guerrillas and selling the guerrillas spare parts.

It was the sixth Israeli air strike against guerrilla targets in South Lebanon in three weeks and the 21st this year. By police count, 106 people were killed and 394 wounded in raids since Jan. 3.

Hijazi’s motorboats, anchored off the beach about 600 yards from his shop, were not hit in the raid, police said.

Earlier police reports said aircraft attacked guerrilla bases in the teeming Ein el-Hilweh refugee camp on Sidon’s southern outskirts.

Police said the guerrillas in the camp opened up with anti-aircraft fire but were not targeted by the Israeli aircraft.

Israel-backed Lebanese militiamen also killed three guerrillas who apparently landed in a boat on the Mediterranean coast just north of Israel, the army command said.

An Israeli army announcement said the base attacked Sunday was used for launching attacks and ammunition storage. It said all planes that took part in the raid returned safely.

The brief announcement gave no further details.

Suspect is found in computer virus case

ITHACA, N.Y.—A Cornell University graduate student whose father is a top government computer-security expert is suspected of creating the “virus” that slowed thousands of computers nationwide, school officials said Saturday.

Robert Morris Jr., 23, a first-year student in a doctorate computer science program, has a reputation as an expert computer hacker and is skilled enough to have written the rogue program, Cornell instructor Dexter Koonz said.

The New York Times quoted sources as saying Morris created the virus, which on Wednesday night began infecting an estimated 6,000 university and college computers connected through the Arpanet computer network established by the Pentagon.

The virus slowed down computers by replicating itself over and over and taking up memory space, but it is not believed to have destroyed any data.

The origin of such programs is hard to investigate, and it may be impossible to trace the virus back to Morris, said M. Stuart Lynn, vice president of information technologies at Cornell.

“At this stage we’re simply not in a position to determine if the allegations are true,” Lynn said at a news conference.

“It’s quite conceivable we may not be able to say with any certainty” if the virus was created in Cornell’s computer system, he said.

He said the university had been contacted by the FBI, but there was no indication any criminal charges would be filed.

Officials said the school could discipline Morris if he was involved.

The FBI said it was launching a preliminary inquiry to determine whether federal law had been violated.

Morris could not be reached for comment Saturday. His roommate, Chansong Da, said Morris did not come home Friday and she did not know where he was. University officials also were unable to contact him, Lynn said.

Reached at his home Saturday in Arnold, Md., Robert Morris Sr., chief scientist at the National Computer Security Center in Bethesda, Md., would not say where his son was or otherwise comment on the case.

The elder Morris has written widely on the security of the Unix operating system, the target of his son’s virus program, the Times reported. He is widely known for writing a paper on declassing passwords, which give users access to computers.

Cornell officials said they began examining Morris’ computer files Friday night after the Times identified him.

Morris had passwords in his files “for some computers at Cornell and Stanford to which he is not entitled,” although those could have been placed there by someone else, Lynn said.
Officials concerned with 'cockpit chatter'
Associated Press

WASHINGTON—Two fatal airliner accidents have prompted questions about idle chatter in the cockpit and raised concerns by some safety officials that pilots may not always be focusing on business when they should be.

Federal investigators at the National Transportation Safety Board are closely examining the tape covering nearly 30 minutes of a cockpit conversation aboard Delta Air Lines Flight 1141 last August before the Boeing 727 crashed over the Puget Sound, killing 14 of the 108 people aboard.

More than half of the tape, covering a lengthy taxi period at the huge Dallas-Forth Worth International Airport, involves impertinent conversation among the pilots and two flight attendants, ranging from the recent purchase of a house to the kinds of birds nesting near airports.

Nearly 11 minutes of the tape were omitted from the transcript because they were considered irrelevant, including a reference, according to sources, of the disclosure in news reports a few days before the crash of idle chatter aboard a Continental Airlines that crashed in Denver 10 months earlier.

If there is an accident, one participant in the Delta cockpit reportedly reminded his colleagues, their words might end up in the newspapers, too.

Later, the plane's captain told investigators he did not care for the lengthy presence of the flight attendants in the cockpit, but that it was not his nature to order them from the cockpit during the long takeoff delay.

Investigators emphasized that so far there has been no clear evidence linking these conversations—some of which was technically legal because the plane was not moving—with the possible cause of the crash.

"It's very difficult to legislate against people interacting in a job situation," says Clay Foushee, an aviation safety researcher at NASA's Ames Research Center in California.

Bus driver leaves wheel, is arrested
Associated Press

SANTA ANA, Calif.—A bus driver whose vehicle was commandeered by a passenger who accepted his challenge to "drive this better than I can" has been fired.

Kim Dale Miller, 36, was dismissed Friday, a day after his case was heard by an Orange County Transit District committee, said spokeswoman Claudia Keith.

The driver was dismissed for berating a passenger and leaving a bus unattended, Ms. Keith said.

He had not driven for the district since Oct. 19 when witnesses said he stepped off his bus after challenging a passenger, James Biddle, to do a better job.

Biddle, a 52-year-old Buena Park engineer, said he complained about the driver's berating a passenger and about sudden starts and stops.

Biddle said Miller told him, "I suppose you think you can drive this better than I can."

When Biddle said he could, Miller got off the bus.

Biddle carried the vehicle's 31 passengers more than mile, stopping at least four people off and on, before police pulled him over. Passengers said Biddle made change, gave them transfers and was courteous.

Biddle was cited for joy riding and operating the vehicle without a bus-driver's license. He is scheduled to appear in Municipal Court Monday and faces a maximum of $400 in fines and three months in jail.

Miller could not immediately be reached for comment. His phone number was not listed in the Anaheim directory.

Luxuries curbed to cut deficit
Associated Press

AMMAN, Jordan—The days of champagne and plastic roses are coming to an end in Jordan, a country running short of imported money to pay for import goods.

"We started developing a champagne budget on a beer pocketbook... This is why (the economy) has to be adjusted," said a senior government official, who spoke on condition of anonymity.

The belt-tightening move appeared to be the first step in what the official said would be a three-to-five-year period during which Jordan hopes to slash its $6 billion to $7 billion foreign debt.

The government banned new letters of credit to finance cars and trucks, video recorders, refrigerators, microwave ovens, television sets, channelers, marble, plastic flowers and fruit, and a dozen other goods.

Finance Minister Hanna Odeh announced on television Sunday night that banning chandeliers alone will save $3 million.

The blacklist targets the posh Western lifestyle many Jordanians adopted in the early 1980s, when their country was flush with money, much of it imported by hundreds of thousands of Palestinians with Jordanian passports who worked in the Persian Gulf.

"I wasn't rubbing it in—I just wanted Eddie to know the score of last night's game."

Alex Sum—University of Washington—Class of 1990

Go ahead and gloat. You can rub it in all the way to Chicago with AT&T Long Distance Service. Besides, your best friend Eddie was the one who said your team could never win three straight.

So give him a call. It costs a lot less than you think to let him know who's headed for the Playoffs.

Besides, your best friend Eddie was the one who said your team could never win three straight.

Go ahead and gloat. You can rub it in all the way to Chicago with AT&T Long Distance Service. Besides, your best friend Eddie was the one who said your team could never win three straight.

So give him a call. It costs a lot less than you think to let him know who's headed for the Playoffs.

Besides, your best friend Eddie was the one who said your team could never win three straight.

Go ahead and gloat. You can rub it in all the way to Chicago with AT&T Long Distance Service. Besides, your best friend Eddie was the one who said your team could never win three straight.

So give him a call. It costs a lot less than you think to let him know who's headed for the Playoffs.

Besides, your best friend Eddie was the one who said your team could never win three straight.

Go ahead and gloat. You can rub it in all the way to Chicago with AT&T Long Distance Service. Besides, your best friend Eddie was the one who said your team could never win three straight.

So give him a call. It costs a lot less than you think to let him know who's headed for the Playoffs.

Besides, your best friend Eddie was the one who said your team could never win three straight.

Go ahead and gloat. You can rub it in all the way to Chicago with AT&T Long Distance Service. Besides, your best friend Eddie was the one who said your team could never win three straight.

So give him a call. It costs a lot less than you think to let him know who's headed for the Playoffs.

Besides, your best friend Eddie was the one who said your team could never win three straight.

Go ahead and gloat. You can rub it in all the way to Chicago with AT&T Long Distance Service. Besides, your best friend Eddie was the one who said your team could never win three straight.

So give him a call. It costs a lot less than you think to let him know who's headed for the Playoffs.

Besides, your best friend Eddie was the one who said your team could never win three straight.

Go ahead and gloat. You can rub it in all the way to Chicago with AT&T Long Distance Service. Besides, your best friend Eddie was the one who said your team could never win three straight.

So give him a call. It costs a lot less than you think to let him know who's headed for the Playoffs.

Besides, your best friend Eddie was the one who said your team could never win three straight.

Go ahead and gloat. You can rub it in all the way to Chicago with AT&T Long Distance Service. Besides, your best friend Eddie was the one who said your team could never win three straight.

So give him a call. It costs a lot less than you think to let him know who's headed for the Playoffs.

Besides, your best friend Eddie was the one who said your team could never win three straight.

Go ahead and gloat. You can rub it in all the way to Chicago with AT&T Long Distance Service. Besides, your best friend Eddie was the one who said your team could never win three straight.

So give him a call. It costs a lot less than you think to let him know who's headed for the Playoffs.

Besides, your best friend Eddie was the one who said your team could never win three straight.

Go ahead and gloat. You can rub it in all the way to Chicago with AT&T Long Distance Service. Besides, your best friend Eddie was the one who said your team could never win three straight.

So give him a call. It costs a lot less than you think to let him know who's headed for the Playoffs.

Besides, your best friend Eddie was the one who said your team could never win three straight.
Grad student: political hypocrite

As usual, I bumped into my friend Gabby the grad student down in the library. He immediately spied my "George Bush '88" button and gave me a sullen look. "How can you support that guy, with his awful record on the environment?" he asked and drew out yet another cigarette. "Our air is hardly fit to breathe as it is. Besides, intellectuals like us shouldn't be so political." He exhaled a cloud of smoke in my face and continued, "We must tackle these commercials almost as much as we vote for George Bush because his slick and white footage doesn't give us numbers just like the economic indicator formula. First, these astrological predictions don't give us numbers, just predictions. Second, they are absurd. Most people don't remember how the Mets finished on banner day. But what conclusions does the economic indicator formula lead to? One above all others, the major economic indicators have a greater impact than any other single factor on the outcome of a presidential election. This is not to say that Mike Dukakis could have simply read the formula and retired to Kennebunkport with his name reaf­ fixed only on the ballot. We must not forget the early lead Mike Dukakis enjoyed following the 1984 Democratic Convention. But what about the deficit, why do people name this issue as most important in this year's campaign? Consider my respect for Notre Dame. I may indeed complain about the alcohol policy and pesky (and thus unsettling) of all the white faculty members here at Notre Dame. Of course, then he immediately goes on to lament the lack of really effective affirmative action quotes, or the lack of students invited only to black authors, or the paucity of black faculty members here at Notre Dame. "People without skin color shouldn't matter," he thundered. "Intolerance is rampant on this campus.

In short, I suppose everyone knows that every time the incumbent Party wins the "establishment" and what the "system" does to people, while rushing off to hand out leaflets for the Dukakis-Bentsen ticket. He was quite all too willing to laugh and laugh again when I showed emotion on an issue, while at the same time hurrying to organize anti-black rallies and use "Cabaoke". He dreams of economic "cooperation," the end of the profit mo­ tive, and a leveling of the "gap" of the rich and poor.

Meanwhile, he also envisions his first full-time teaching job. Then he can finally get that new car he's been wan­ ting. A year's Campaign column. His good friends in the economics department chuckled. I laughed too. But not at Dan Barry's column. Kevin Smant is a graduate student in history and is a regular Viewpoint columnist.

Economic formula predicts accurately

Imagery: Graphic in its presentation and powerful in its persuasion. The American public has been saturated with stories about the impact of such imagery in the presidential and congressional commercials cited as indisputable. Network news programs have covered these commercials almost daily, making the candidate. Further, they have hinted at the haunting power of the phantoms behind the scenes who created them--the infamous "media gurus."

Ed Yevoli

But just how much do these commercials sway the American electorate? Will the public see Mike Dukakis because of a minute of black and white footage or will they vote through a revolving door? Do people vote for George Bush because his grandchildren are cute? Other evidence of why a particular candidate will win seems to imply or even confirm the contrary.

A September edition of The Econo­ nomic formula leads to? One above all others, the major economic indicators have a greater impact than any other single factor on the outcome of a presidential election. This is not to say that Mike Dukakis could have simply read the formula and retired to Kennebunkport with his name reaf­ fixed only on the ballot. We must not forget the early lead Mike Dukakis enjoyed following the 1984 Democratic Convention. But what about the deficit, why do people name this issue as most important in this year's campaign? Consider my respect for Notre Dame. I may indeed complain about the alcohol policy and pesky (and thus unsettling) of all the white faculty members here at Notre Dame. Of course, then he immediately goes on to lament the lack of really effective affirmative action quotes, or the lack of students invited only to black authors, or the paucity of black faculty members here at Notre Dame. "People without skin color shouldn't matter," he thundered. "Intolerance is rampant on this campus.

In short, I suppose everyone knows that every time the incumbent Party wins the "establishment" and what the "system" does to people, while rushing off to hand out leaflets for the Dukakis-Bentsen ticket. He was quite all too willing to laugh and laugh again when I showed emotion on an issue, while at the same time hurrying to organize anti-black rallies and use "Cabaoke". He dreams of economic "cooperation," the end of the profit mo­ tive, and a leveling of the "gap" of the rich and poor.

Meanwhile, he also envisions his first full-time teaching job. Then he can finally get that new car he's been wan­ ting. A year's Campaign column. His good friends in the economics department chuckled. I laughed too. But not at Dan Barry's column. Kevin Smant is a graduate student in history and is a regular Viewpoint columnist.

Economic formula predicts accurately

Imagery: Graphic in its presentation and powerful in its persuasion. The American public has been saturated with stories about the impact of such imagery in the presidential and congressional commercials cited as indisputable. Network news programs have covered these commercials almost daily, making the candidate. Further, they have hinted at the haunting power of the phantoms behind the scenes who created them--the infamous "media gurus."

Ed Yevoli

But just how much do these commercials sway the American electorate? Will the public see Mike Dukakis because of a minute of black and white footage or will they vote through a revolving door? Do people vote for George Bush because his grandchildren are cute? Other evidence of why a particular candidate will win seems to imply or even confirm the contrary.

A September edition of The Econo­ nomic formula leads to? One above all others, the major economic indicators have a greater impact than any other single factor on the outcome of a presidential election. This is not to say that Mike Dukakis could have simply read the formula and retired to Kennebunkport with his name reaf­ fixed only on the ballot. We must not forget the early lead Mike Dukakis enjoyed following the 1984 Democratic Convention. But what about the deficit, why do people name this issue as most important in this year's campaign? Consider my respect for Notre Dame. I may indeed complain about the alcohol policy and pesky (and thus unsettling) of all the white faculty members here at Notre Dame. Of course, then he immediately goes on to lament the lack of really effective affirmative action quotes, or the lack of students invited only to black authors, or the paucity of black faculty members here at Notre Dame. "People without skin color shouldn't matter," he thundered. "Intolerance is rampant on this campus.

In short, I suppose everyone knows that every time the incumbent Party wins the "establishment" and what the "system" does to people, while rushing off to hand out leaflets for the Dukakis-Bentsen ticket. He was quite all too willing to laugh and laugh again when I showed emotion on an issue, while at the same time hurrying to organize anti-black rallies and use "Cabaoke". He dreams of economic "cooperation," the end of the profit mo­ tive, and a leveling of the "gap" of the rich and poor.

Meanwhile, he also envisions his first full-time teaching job. Then he can finally get that new car he's been wan­ting. A year's Campaign column. His good friends in the economics department chuckled. I laughed too. But not at Dan Barry's column. Kevin Smant is a graduate student in history and is a regular Viewpoint columnist.

Economic formula predicts accurately

Imagery: Graphic in its presentation and powerful in its persuasion. The American public has been saturated with stories about the impact of such imagery in the presidential and congressional commercials cited as indisputable. Network news programs have covered these commercials almost daily, making the candidate. Further, they have hinted at the haunting power of the phantoms behind the scenes who created them--the infamous "media gurus."

Ed Yevoli

But just how much do these commercials sway the American electorate? Will the public see Mike Dukakis because of a minute of black and white footage or will they vote through a revolving door? Do people vote for George Bush because his grandchildren are cute? Other evidence of why a particular candidate will win seems to imply or even confirm the contrary.

A September edition of The Econo­
Imagine this scenario: A Notre Dame class is in progress. A shout comes from the hallway that the building is on fire. The flames are spreading, threatening to engulf the whole structure.

What's to be done? I dare say those in the classroom would get their priorities sorted out in a hurry. They would certainly stop the class at once. Not because what they are doing is unimportant, but because they do not have more pressing business. Like saving people's lives. Like trying to put out the fire.

Edward J. Murphy
guest column

I submit that the issues in the current presidential campaign are rather like this. There is one issue of such overpowering importance that it dwarfs all other concerns. I am referring to the fact that over the past 15 years the lives of more than 21 million Americans have been destroyed in abortions of this country. And the grisy business continues unabated.

Every working day in the abortion mills of this country more than 5,000 people are killed. This means that every day the flames of an inferno would be killed by abortion in the United States is nearly equal to the number of students who live on this campus! And since Roe v. Wade was decided in 1973, effectively withdrawing legal protection from unborn children, the number of lives lost exceeds the total combined population—man, woman, and child—of the following cities: Phoenix, Birmingham, Little Rock, San Francisco, Denver, Hartford, Atlanta, Miami, Chicago, Peoria, Lincoln, Indianapolis, South Bend, Cedar Rapids, Louisville, New Orleans, Baltimore, Boston, East Lansing, Ann Arbor, Detroit, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Newark, Allentown, Santa Fe, Buffalo, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Dayton, Tulsa, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Nashville, Dallas, Houston, Austin, Peoria, Indianapolis, Las Vegas, and Milwaukee.

This is an evil of monumental proportions. Without a doubt the question of legal protection for unborn babies is the most immediate concern. Therefore those candidates who on this crucial question of overriding importance.

What if, when the classroom building catches on fire, the students personally opposed to fires in buildings, but I don’t think government should be involved. I don’t believe we should call the fire department.

Or if one said: “Well, I admit that the fire in the building is an important issue, but it is but one of many important things going on around here. So let’s not be one-issue oriented and be preoccupied with putting out the fire.

And, of course, one might say: “Let Michael Dukakis go ahead and Doonesbury. Nobody is going to tell him to have to leave this class and try to put out a fire. Let people burn up if that’s their choice.”

As a boy growing up in a small town in central Illinois, I recall how my father, a Lutheran, proudly affirmed the political affiliation by saying that Democrats were for the “little guy”, the children, the unborn. He would have been heartbroken if it was I, to see this great party become the pro-abortion party, the party of death for the innocent unborn.

Recently, the Catholic Archbishop of Hartford, Archbishop Whealon, resigned from the Democratic party for precisely this reason. Earlier on, Bishop Vaughn of New York did the same thing. These bishops have the priorities right. When the building is on fire, you set aside other tasks and try to put out the fire. When babies are being killed at the rate of over one and a half million per year, you must concentrate upon stopping the slaughter.

Or if you believe, as I do, that the most pressing need right now in this country is to restore legal protection (yes, constitutional protection) to all human beings, then I put this challenge to you: would you call yourselves heartbroken, get out of the Democratic Party?

This is the time for action. There will probably never be a more opportune time in your lifetime. The Democrats have the nomination this year, a man famous for his pro-abortion position. Therefore, it is up to you to determine how candidates stand on this crucial question of overriding importance.

The Observer retains the right to edit all comments submitted to the Viewpoint department. Please note the briefer the piece, the greater its chances of reaching print.

The Observer retains the right to edit all comments submitted to the Viewpoint department. Please note the briefer the piece, the greater its chances of reaching print.
Sensitve rape film inspires thought

Sentimental mob movie will make viewers laugh

JOE BUOCO

accent writer

They always like you when you're someone else." This is Jerry's motto in David Mamet's new motion picture, "Things Change." The beauty of the film is that it is "someone else" in relation to others in the recent swarm of mob-related films. "Things Change" is an innovative dramatic comedy—estranged from the mob family of films—worthy of even the most outrageous of movie ticket prices.

The film deals with a shoe shiner named Gino (Don Ameche) who agrees to take the rap for a murder committed by a big-time mob chief in exchange for ownership of a fishing boat, his lifetime dream. The plan is set; Gino signs a confession and waits for the trial on Monday morning when he will be locked in prison for three years.

To ensure that nothing in the plan goes awry, the mob boss assigns Jerry (Joe Mantegna) to closely watch Gino, who never makes a mistake, and encourages the rapist to violate Sarah are brought to trial and transfer the guilt from the attacker to the victim— at least in the minds of those observing the circumstances of Sarah's case, and even the audience as well.

Another interesting aspect about this film is the bond that forms between Katheryn and Sarah. Katheryn is obviously a weak-willed, well-paid attorney who normally does not have dealings with a blue collar woman with a limited education. During the course of the film, Katheryn and Sarah slowly break down the social and economic barriers between them as they learn to trust each other.

The combination of superior performances and an innovative plot make "The Accused" a very powerful film. It forces us to reconsider some very important aspects of the legal system, while questioning our views on attackers and victims.

Kathyren is very adamant about charging Sarah's attackers with Rape, she gives in to the other attorneys, and the charge is reduced to Reckless Endangerment.

After the charge is reduced, it seems as though the case is closed—except for Sarah. Not only was Sarah denied the chance to testify, but the crime will not even go on the books as rape. Sarah's outrage convinces Kathyren that she made a terrible mistake, and Kathyren decides to take a radical step by putting the

Jerry (Joe Mantegna, left) and Gino (Don Ameche, right) gamble during their Lake Tahoe filming of the film 'Things Change.'

Jerry's tough cover is paper thin and soon his compassion about this film is the bond that forms between Katheryn and Sarah. Katheryn is obviously a weak-willed, well-paid attorney who normally does not have dealings with a blue collar woman with a limited education. During the course of the film, Katheryn and Sarah slowly break down the social and economic barriers between them as they learn to trust each other.

The combination of superior performances and an innovative plot make "The Accused" a very powerful film. It forces us to reconsider some very important aspects of the legal system, while questioning our views on attackers and victims.
SPORTS BRIEFS

The ND wrestling team placed second at Sunday's Michigan State Invitational. 118-pound junior Andy Radenbaugh, 136-pound Marcus Gosen and 177-pound senior co-captain Chris Genese won individual championships. The Invitational was won by Edinboro, which finished second in the nation last year. Further details will appear in Tuesday's issue of The Observer. The Observer

Lewis Hall, led by quarterback Ellen Mauch, upset Nebraska- Lincoln previously unbeaten this season in women's Interhall playoff action Sunday at the Loftus Sports Center. Mauch ran for a Lewis TD and threw for 192 yards in nine completions for a .500 average, and the Wildcats defeated the Huskers 27-7, 5500. The Observer

Interhall football equipment return will take place Tuesday at 10 a.m. in the stadium for the following teams: Off Campus at 6, Ainsi 1, 5:30, Sorin at 4:30, St. Ed's at 7, Pangborn at 7:30, Morissey at 7:40, Keenan at 8 and Holy Cross at 8:30. A 6 o'clock for each player that returns equipment sets after the hall's designated date. The Observer

An SMC intramural racquetball doubles tournament is scheduled for Thursday, 10 a.m. - noon, for students, faculty and staff will have its entry deadline at 5 p.m. Thursday at Angela Athletic Facility. Participants will schedule games following the tournament's established timetable. For more information, call 284-5548. The Observer

Interhall ice hockey teams may sign up for first semester practice ice time at 11:30 a.m. on the ice rink. The cost is $50.00 per hour and time is limited to one hour per week. Telephone reservations will be taken until 2 p.m. on Monday. Questions, call Tom Carroll at 239-5227. The Observer

An SMC coed wallyball tournament will be held Friday and Saturday. Teams consist of two demaies and two females. The entry deadline is Wednesday at 5 p.m. in the Angela Athletic Facility. Call 284-5548 for more information. The Observer

TheObserver Notre Dame Office, located on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center, is classified as a public building. Monday through Friday. The Observer Notre Dame office, located on the third floor of Haggar College Center, accepts classified ads until 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday. All classifieds must be typed, either in person or by mail. The charge is $0.30 per line per day. The Observer

A fencing demonstration will be held at the fencing gym above gate 4 of the Joyce ACC on Wednesday, 7:30 p.m. Demonstrators are three-time All-American Michael Mars, 1986 Notre Dame MVP Derek Holmes and E.P. Greg Meul. The Observer

An NVA scuba meeting will be held Wednesday. The brief informational meeting will be at the Rockne Memorial room 218 at 6:30 p.m. Classes will start the following Sunday. The Observer

The Off-Campus basketball team wants to know who is interested in playing for the team this coming Interhall season. Prospective players should contact Joe at 271-0477. The Observer

Classifieds

NOTICES

TYING AVAILABLE
284-4982
Mail: "School" Galagher to VP
EXPRESS TYING SERVICE CALL
MAJ 239-6608 DUNBAR
Typing: Call at 271-4118, Location 2nd, north of Martin Center

LOST/FOUND

LOST: A VICEROY CAMER in BLUE TITAN LEATHER CASE AT SMC HOLY CROSS GYM 4-15. IF YOU STOLE IT... JUST GIVE ME THE FLICK.
LOST/BUNCH OF KEYS ADN MD POST OFFICE PLEASE CALL JU2 239 6350
LOST: Light blue colored hear-groation of SMG Campus. House: Responds to "cookie" any HELP Somebody picked up my 6,100.00 bill from the Halloween party at Senator for the Cure. Have questions please call. Response was: Please return it I was only the owner.

LOST: A double stranded microfibre HEAT PRESSING MACHINE FROM FABRICS LTD. best contact. have great sentiment for value returned. Please call 239-4299.

LOST: A LEAF PROPS weakness pressed paper on Thursday 9:00 between 3 and 4 in social salon. It was a white face and a man during and between 9:00 and 9:30.

FOR SALE

STUDENT REPRESENTATIVE Apple Computer, Inc. is looking for a Motivated student to help sell Apple IIe's. We are located in the lower level of the Student Center. A couple of machines is reasonable. You should be interested in computers, have good people skills and enjoy selling. The hours as well as the pay are up to you. If interested, please call 310-986-0003 and leave your name and call back time.

SELL YOUR TOPS TO BUY-TO-SELL-RECEIVER TAP-SPEAKERS, FAIR PRICE, CALL JUDY 4157

NEED? TO WISSER OSO? 115TH WEEKEND OF NOV. 11-12 will share expenses & drive to Minneapolis.

FOR SALE

PLEASE TO C &A FOR ANSM CRIMES AT GUY'S 1977 1571 TIDE 17 to 18 in 415.
SMC Freehman Club, House 2 floor. Please call John x4364

STICKY WORMS SHAD /JUNKY 8500 w/3 IN PENN STATE GA. ALL FOR $25. CALL TINA 394-5821

NEED PEIN STATE TIX... PLEASE CALL SHEILA 271-8446.
Matt is coming to NEC for Nat'tls but she would like to replace her student ticket (or student) if you have 1 please call Beth 864-9516 or Michelle 239-4371.
We need 7001 to $20000 of our tickets. We have several tickets. Call me at 351-9800 or Michelle 239-4371.

WE ARE LOOKING FOR THE NEXT STAR ON THE CORNER LINE... PLEASE CALL THE LADY AT 239-4371.
NEED 2 PENS ST GA 89% 15-15	I need pens for St. Ed's. Call Kathleen X3122
NEED 10 UNI TIX PLEASE CALL THE JUNIOR 239-5227
NEED 2 TICKS TO PENS ST GA MY FRIENDS WILL PAY YOU MUCH MORE THAN THIS PLEASE CALL ME AT 239-4371.
NEED 2 TICKS ST GA'S MY FRIEND WILL PAY YOU UP TO 1000.00 PLEASE CALL ME AT 239-4371.
NEED TO PURCHASE TICKS TO PENS ST GA MY FRIEND WILL PAY YOU UP TO 1000.00 PLEASE CALL ME AT 239-4371.
NEED 2 TICKS TO PENS ST GA's MY FRIEND WILL PAY ME UP TO 1000.00 PLEASE CALL ME AT 239-4371.
NEED 2 TICKS TO PENS ST GA MY FRIEND WILL PAY YOU UP TO 1000.00 PLEASE CALL ME AT 239-4371.
NEED 2 TICKS TO PENS ST GA'S MY FRIEND WILL PAY YOU MUCH MORE THAN THIS PLEASE CALL ME AT 239-4371.
NEED 2 TICKS GA'S (1-3 STUD OR GA'S) PLEASE CALL ME AT 239-4371.
NEED 2 TICKS TO PENS ST GA's MY FRIEND WILL PAY YOU MUCH MORE THAN THIS PLEASE CALL ME AT 239-4371.

FOR PERSONS

N.D. CANDY
Northern Notre Dame. Green-Whte Trophy in $20.00 deposit. Check church box.

PERSONALS

I MET A WARRIOR WHO WAS WEARING A GREY SWEAT-PEACH BETWEEN JACC AND NORTH DINE. I THOUGHT SHE WAS TWINNING.

PERSONALS

MATT "SCHMIDT GALLAGHER FOR VP TYPING.

PERSONALS

NEED 1 UNIC TIX PLEASE CALL ME 239-6350.

PERSONALS

NEED TO PURCHASE TICKS TO PENS ST GA's MY FRIEND WILL PAY YOU UP TO 1000.00 PLEASE CALL ME AT 239-4371.

PERSONALS

NEED 1 THE WIN A 3-PERSONS ST. PATTY TSHIRT PLEASE CALL ME AT 239-4371.

PERSONALS

NEED 2 TICKS TO PENS ST GA's MY FRIEND WILL PAY YOU UP TO 1000.00 PLEASE CALL ME AT 239-4371.

PERSONALS

NEED 2 TICKS TO PENS ST GA's MY FRIEND WILL PAY YOU UP TO 1000.00 PLEASE CALL ME AT 239-4371.

PERSONALS

NEED 1 THE WIN A 3-PERSONS ST. PATTY TSHIRT PLEASE CALL ME AT 239-4371.

PERSONALS

NEED 2 TICKS TO PENS ST GA's MY FRIEND WILL PAY YOU UP TO 1000.00 PLEASE CALL ME AT 239-4371.

PERSONALS

NEED 1 THE WIN A 3-PERSONS ST. PATTY TSHIRT PLEASE CALL ME AT 239-4371.

PERSONALS

NEED 2 TICKS TO PENS ST GA's MY FRIEND WILL PAY YOU UP TO 1000.00 PLEASE CALL ME AT 239-4371.

PERSONALS

NEED 2 TICKS TO PENS ST GA's MY FRIEND WILL PAY YOU UP TO 1000.00 PLEASE CALL ME AT 239-4371.

PERSONALS

NEED 1 THE WIN A 3-PERSONS ST. PATTY TSHIRT PLEASE CALL ME AT 239-4371.

PERSONALS

NEED 2 TICKS TO PENS ST GA's MY FRIEND WILL PAY YOU UP TO 1000.00 PLEASE CALL ME AT 239-4371.

PERSONALS

NEED 2 TICKS TO PENS ST GA's MY FRIEND WILL PAY YOU UP TO 1000.00 PLEASE CALL ME AT 239-4371.

PERSONALS

NEED 2 TICKS TO PENS ST GA's MY FRIEND WILL PAY YOU UP TO 1000.00 PLEASE CALL ME AT 239-4371.
Monday, November 7, 1988

Ismail said Rice coach Jerry Berndt, whose winless...
Big mouths cost Oklahoma State; USC wins big

Associated Press

Some loose lips helped sink Oklahoma State. The 12th-ranked Cowboys fell 31-28 Saturday to intrastate rival Oklahoma, ranked eighth, and a few off-the-cuff remarks by Oklahoma State fullback Garrett Limbrick may have made the difference.

With his team trailing 31-28 late in the fourth quarter, quarterback Mike Gundy marched the Cowboys from their nine to the Oklahoma 20 and seemed poised to put Oklahoma State in the lead. But on third-and-2, Limbrick was hit with a personal foul call. The Cowboys were penalized 15 yards, and their hopes ended when wide receiver Brent Parker dropped a perfect pass in the end zone. No one officially confirmed the reason for the penalty, but Limbrick admitted he was heckling Oklahoma linebacker Richard Dillon after side judge Michael Borgard broke up a shoving match between the two players.

Southern Cal 35, California 3

Rodney Peete passed for a career-high 305 yards and three touchdowns and Cleveland Culter returned an interception 89 yards for a touchdown as USC routed California. The Trojans are 8-0-1 and 6-0 in Pac-10 play.

Miami, Fla. 34, Tulsa 3

Steve Walsh passed for three touchdowns to lead third-ranked Miami to a Homecoming Day victory.

Virginia 27, West Virginia 0

Major Harris threw three touchdowns to lead Virginia over West Virginia.

Florida St. 59, S. Carolina 0

Peter Tom Willis, starting for the first time this season, passed for 271 yards and four touchdowns as Florida State took advantage of missed tackles to rout South Carolina.

It was the worst loss ever suffered at home by South Carolina, which had been riding a 14-game home winning streak.

The Seminoles improved to 8-1.

UCLA 16, Oregon 6

Troy Aikman threw for a touchdown and backup tailback Brian Brown ran 68 yards for another score as UCLA struggled to a Pac-10 Conference victory.

UCLA, 5-1 in the Pac 10 and 8-1 overall, used the second-half touchdowns to stay in the Rose Bowl race. The Bruins rebounded from a 34-30 loss at Washington State last week conference and 6-3 for the season.

Michigan 22, Minnesota 7

Mike Gillette kicked five field goals and Todd Boley rushed for 184 yards on 32 carries as Michigan won the Little Brown Jug.

Michigan, leaders of the Big Ten, improved to 6-2-1 overall and 6-1-1 in the conference. A victory over Illinois next week would put the Wolverines in the Rose Bowl.

Illinois 21, Arizona 20

Jeff Geoge threw a 5-yard touchdown pass to Mike Bel-lamy with 26 seconds left to lead Illinois past 20th-ranked Arizona in a Big Ten game. The victory improved Illi- nois' record to 5-3-1, 4-1-1 in the Big Ten. Illinois beat No. 6-1-2 and 4-2.

Linebacker Jlyn Brown recovered a fumble by Indiana quarterback Dave Schnell at the Hoosier 31-yard-line with 1:48 to play to set up the winning drive.

Microsoft's Tony Boles ran for 184 yards to lead the Wolverines to victory over Minnesota Saturday. This and all the major college football action are detailed beginning above.

Irish continued from page 16

blocks and Shea, Shelton, and freshman Jennifer Sisar each registered five kills.

Freshman setter Julie Brem- mer provided her hitters with 22 assists and cleverly set up the Irish attack while helping bring the team up to 14-9 for the season.

"I'm pleased we didn't drop down to their level," said Irish coach Art Lambert. "We started out a little slow, but we didn't panic and came back and forced them to play our game. It was good teamwork and I think Julie Bremmer played a smart match. We beat a team we should have beaten the way we should have beaten them."

Friday night, the Irish had to work to beat the Hurons of Eastern Michigan as they won the four-game match 15-4, 18-16, 15-8 and 15-10.

Eastern Michigan's Roxanne Munch took a bite out of the Notre Dame's defense, tallying 21 kills, but the Irish countered with a weapon of their own as Waller finished with 19 kills for a team-high .371 hitting percentage and eight total blocks.

Bennett helped control the net as well, registering 17 kills and adding a team-high nine total blocks.

Sheleton led the Irish defensively with 10 digs and Brem- mer added eight digs as well as 57 assists to help the Irish make the transition from defense to offense.

"Our heads weren't in the net, we should have beat Eastern Michi- gan," said Lambert. "But we played well enough to get the win and come back strong to control the game against Mic- higan."

COACH'S Accepting applications for cooks, busers, kitchen help.
Benefits include PAID vacations.

PART TIME 8 - 20 hrs.wk.
FULL TIME 40¢ hrs.wk.

2046 South Bend Ave.
277 - 7678

You'll see the savings!

SOFT CONTACT LENSES

•Softmate Daily or Extended Wear
Contact Lenses

•Tinted Contact Lenses
Daily or Extended Wear

You can now purchase.
with any other offers or discounts.

Extended Wear Lenses are 50¢ less.
Rest are half price.

After your first 100 copies of one original at the regular price, the rest are half price.

Kinko's
the copy center
18187 State Road 23
271-9998
Ditka can relax: Bears win

Associated Press

While Mike Ditka sat in a hospital room and watched on television, his Chicago Bears made him feel pretty good.

Ditka suffered a mild heart attack Wednesday, watched with his wife and a doctor at Lake Forest Hospital on Sunday and he had to like what he saw as the Bears beat Tampa Bay 28-10.

"I think it would have been harder on him not to watch the game," said his wife Diana. "That would be more stress."

The game was a good test for Mike Tomczak, who once again replaced an injured Jim McMahon at quarterback. Tomczak, often the subject of Ditka tirades on the sidelines, replaced an injured Jim Everett at quarterback.

The Bears scored on their first three possessions and had little trouble with the Steelers, 28-10, their worst record since 1980, when they went 1-13 in Chuck Noll's first year as head coach.

Eagles 30, Rams 24

Philadelphia's defense victimized Jim Everett for four interceptions--the Rams quarterback had yielded just five, fewest in the NFL.

Randall Cunningham threw three touchdown passes, two to rookie tight end Keith Jackson, who entered the game as the league's leading receiver with 51 catches. Cunningham, who twice left the game with a sore right ankle, completed 22 of 29 passes for 233 yards for Philadelphia, 5-5.

The Rams, 7-3, had won five straight road games. They nearly got No. 6 but Everett, whose six completions carried the Rams to the Eagles' 18, was picked off by William Frizzell with 24 seconds left.

Bengals 42, Steelers 7

At Cincinnati, Eddie Brown set a club record with 216 yards receiving, including an 86-yard scoring play on the hosts' second play from scrimmage.

Boomer Esiason threw three touchdown passes, his first in three games. He was 15 for 22 for 318 yards as Cincinnati rolled up more than 500 yards.

The Bengals scored on their first three possessions and had little trouble with the Steelers, 28-10, their worst record since 1980, when they went 1-13 in Chuck Noll's first year as head coach.

Patriots 21, Dolphins 10

John Stephens continued his strong running with 104 yards, giving him more than 100 yards in three consecutive games. The last Patriot to do that was Don Calhoun in 1976.

Stephens had a 13-yard TD run and Bob Perryman scored from the 1. On the series leading to those touchdowns, the Patriots stayed entirely on the ground. Of the 21 total plays on those two series, Stephens, a first-round draft choice from Northwestern (La.) State, ran 16 times for 75 of the 139 yards.

Giants 29, Cowboys 21

The Giants won their fourth consecutive game against the dregs of the NFL and stayed in control of the NFC east. After mediocre outings in two wins over Detroit and one against Atlanta, New York surged to 26 points in the first half against Dallas, 2-6. The Cowboys have lost six straight, the first time they have dropped that many in one season since their first year.

Bowls continued from page 16

major drawback for the Gator Bowl, Shover said.

"I would assume it would be: We're guaranteed a national team and they're on a pay network."

The Fiesta Bowl also would be willing to increase its payroll to put on a game for the National Championship, Shover said.

"Our payoff is actually higher than the proposed $5 million," he said. "We're looking at $2.8 million, and it could go higher than that."

But attracting top-ranked teams to bowl games involves more than money, and McCandless said the Gator Bowl's fringe benefits make it more appealing. Most importantly, the Gator Bowl is in seating capacity.

"We can seat 32,000 people, and we could provide 20,000 seats for each team--possibly more," McCandless explained. "And we feel we've done a great job on entertainment for the players. You ask the players from LSU last year and they'll all tell you about the great time they had in Jacksonville.

So while Notre Dame and West Virginia battle to stay in the National Championship hunt, the Gator and Fiesta Bowls are waging a battle of their own over the site of a possible Mountaineer-Irish showdown if the teams remain unbeaten.

But neither bowl wants to turn the situation into a bidding war.

"We'll extend our invitation to Notre Dame at the proper time, and I'm confident that everything will be handled properly," McCandless said. "I honestly don't think it will come down to a bidding war."

"We're competitive, but we're also very good friends," Shover added. "All these bowl guys are good friends of mine."

"I don't blame the Gator Bowl for being so aggressive," Shover added. "We're like that, too. I think we (the Fiesta Bowl) were No. 13 when we started and now we're No. 2. So we're kind of aggressive, too. We sweetened the pot a couple years ago."

The Fiesta Bowl increased its payoff and moved to prime time in 1986, when No. 2 Penn State beat then top-ranked Miami to claim the National Championship.

Still in the game: Others scouting the Notre Dame-Rice game Saturday included the Orange, Citrus, Sugar and Cotton Bowls.

"We're still in the running," said Jim Barker of the Orange Bowl, which hosts the Big Eight champion in addition to an at-large team. "We have a great relationship with the Notre Dame people and we think a matchup against Oklahoma or Nebraska would be a big attraction that could decide the National Championship."

None of the bowl representatives at Saturday's game were scouting Rice.

S.O.P.H.O.M.O.R.E.S- Interested in the position of Sophomore Committee chairperson for Junior Parent's Weekend?

Applications available in the Office of Student Activities, 3rd Floor LaPorte.

Due November 7th, 1988 by 5pm
Improved ND hockey wins, ties with Dearborn

By STEVE MEGARGEE
Assistant Sports Editor

Irish hockey coach Ric Schafer might not have been happy about his team’s early-season play, but he was all smiles with Notre Dame’s weekend performance.

The Irish downed Michigan-Dearborn 4-1 Friday night at the Joyce ACC, then tied the Wolves 3-3 Saturday at Dearborn.

“It was a very good weekend for us,” said Schafer. “There were some very encouraging signs.”

Notre Dame, 3-4-1, rallied from a sluggish first period before 1790 fans Friday to cruise past the Wolves in what was expected to be a close contest between two evenly matched teams.

Irish wing Michael Curry’s power play goal opened the scoring 20 seconds left in the first period. Curry took a behind-the-net pass from Rob Hilton and beat Dearborn goalie Dave Church from around the left side of the crease. Bobby Herber also was credited with an assist.

Tim Kuehl extended the lead to 2-0 at 3:59 of the second period when he nailed a slap shot from behind the right circle after receiving a pass from linemate David Bankoske. Kuehl’s goal, giving him the team lead with four on the season, also came on the power play.

Dearborn answered that just 17 seconds later on a goal by Joe Burton. But that was to be the Wolves’ only goal of the evening.

“I didn’t know if we’d see any games like that, only giving up one goal,” said Schafer. “We didn’t give them any real scoring opportunities, and that was the difference. We blocked a lot of shots; thank goodness that’s in our bag of tricks.”

Senior co-captain Brian Montgomery gave the Irish insurance at 13:21 of the second period with his first goal of the season. The goal, from the left side of the crease, came on an extra attacker on the ice, and the Irish responded with a tying goal opened the weekend. Steve Megargee details the action below.

Improved ND hockey wins, ties with Dearborn

The Notre Dame hockey team took advantage of many scoring opportunities such as the one shown above to earn a home win and a road tie with Michigan-Dearborn over the weekend, Steve Megargee details the action below.

OmNTo DELTA EPSILON CORDIALLY INVITES YOU TO A PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION FORUM
ON NOVEMBER 7TH IN THE LIBRARY LOUNGE AT 7:00 P.M.
PROFESSORS FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS
James Rakowski
David Betson
Kenneth Jameson
WILL ACTIVELY DISCUSS THE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE’S
ECONOMIC POLICIES
A RECEPTION WILL FOLLOW
CAMPUS

4:45 p.m. History Dept. Year of Cultural Diversity Lecture "I, Too, Sing America" Afro-Americans, Cultural Identity, and the 1960's by Prof. W. Martin, University of Virginia, 283 Galvin Life Science Auditorium.

DINNER

4:45 p.m. History Dept. Center. "I, Too, Sing America" Afro-Americans, Cultural Identity, and the 1960's by Prof. W. Martin, University of Virginia.

"I, Too, Sing America," by Jeff Riece and Marilyn Bury, Foster Room, Foster Room, LaFortune.

Career Night, for seniors interested in careers with Kidder Peabody and CSC.

"Keeping the Peace and Protecting National Security Without Nuclear Weapons," by Prof. R. Johnasen, CSC.

Career Night, for seniors interested in careers with Kidder Peabody and CSC.

7:00 p.m. ND Communication and Theatre Film, "Imitation of Life," Annexen Auditorium.

8:00 p.m. Career and Placement Services presents a reception for seniors interested in careers with Kidder Peabody and Company, Notre Dame Room, Morris Inn.

5:15 p.m. ND Communication and Theatre Film "Shanghai Express," Annexen Auditorium.

DINNER MENUS

Notre Dame

Lave School Grill
Fried Chicken
Pasto Primavera
Short Ribs

Saint Mary's

Baked Pork Chops
French Dip Sandwich
Cheese Tortellini
Deli Bar

COMICS

Bloom County

Berke Breathed

The Far Side

Gary Larson

NEW YORK TIMES CROSSWORD

ACROSS

1 Unilty person 32 Courage
2 Liver 36 Preposterous
3 Lesser 38 Male parent
4 Beer ingredients 40 Arose
5 1956 song 41 Also
6 Bundle binder 42 Soft drinks
7 Canal or lake 43 Mint or sage, e.g.
8 Relaxed relative 44 Extravagance or abundance
9 Neck part 45 Superman Christopher
10 Flood of boming fame 46 Within Comb. form
11 løatet 47 Bad to the bone
12 Nuns 48 Caddoan Indian
13 C-S. 49 Gambler's paradise
14 Another Miss from Ohio 50 Globe
15 Frontiers for Too much of a good thing 51 Imitation of Life
16 Bridge 52 Too,
17 Was in session 53 Too,
18
e.g.

DOWN

1 Place
2 Italian monetary unit
3 Leave out
4 Redroot vegetables
5 Cut short aircraft flight
6 Nocturnal mammals
7 Low female voice
8 Wee
9 Doo wrong
10 Sticky of baseball fame
11 Elliptical
12 Meatball, 0.0
13 Snow vehicle
14 Bunch of fish
15 Bridge
16 Bridge
17 Bridge
18 Bridge

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

1. "Yeah, Sylvia . . . my set too . . . and in the middle of "Tavern and Sherry."

Middle Eastern Week

Wednesday, Nov. 9: Debate the Issues
Yehuda Kovacs, an Israeli student in the MBA program
Edna Hidetake, Israeli International Peace Studies Scholar
Zough Zough, a Palestinian in Peace Studies
Jamal Abn-Attiyeh, Palestinian International Peace Studies Scholar
Theodore's 7pm

Thursday, Nov. 16: Fireside Chat
Prof. Kh Matta will talk on Lebanon
International Student Lounge, 8:30 pm

Friday, Nov. 11: Middle Eastern Dinner
Club 23, 6:30-8:30 pm, $5

Tuesday, November 15: Movie & Discussion
The Sword of Islam, Montgomery Theater, 8 pm

- Buzz McFlatop
- Michael F. Muldoon

sponsored by:
Irish turn on heat to steam Rice

By STEVE MEGARGEE
Assistant Sports Editor

Notre Dame freshman split end Raghib Ismail is referred to as "the Rocket," partly because of his 4.28 speed in the 40-yard dash and partly because his actual first name is difficult to pronounce.

In Saturday's 54-11 cooking of Rice, Ismail showed off his speed with two touchdown kickoff returns and showed the Owls that no matter how hard it is to say his name (it's pronounced Ra-GIB), it's even tougher to catch him from behind.

"I thought Raghib Ismail's kickoff returns were crisp," said Irish coach Lou Holtz, who saw his team successfully defend its number one ranking and up its record to 9-0. "He has outstanding speed and talent."

Ismail wouldn't take any of the credit for his pair of touchdowns Saturday. "I have to give credit where credit is due, and none of it goes to me," said Ismail, whose brother Qadry is a freshman wide receiver for Syracuse. "The whole key to the returns was getting through the first line of blocking, and nobody got a clean shot at me. That is good blocking. I returned kickoff in high school, but I get all my confidence from the blocking and the kick return team gives me." The first return, which went 83 yards and was keyed by a Steve Belles block, followed a Rice 70-yard opening drive that ended with a Clint Parsons 23-yard field goal. The 3-0 Rice lead lasted all of 13 seconds.

"(Ismail) hit it good," said Ismail, whose brother Qadry is a freshman wide receiver for Syracuse. "I have to give credit where credit is due, and none of it goes to me," said Ismail, whose brother Qadry is a freshman wide receiver for Syracuse. "The whole key to the returns was getting through the first line of blocking, and nobody got a clean shot at me. That is good blocking. I returned kickoff in high school, but I get all my confidence from the blocking and the kick return team gives me."

Ismail wouldn't take any of the credit for his pair of touchdowns Saturday. "I have to give credit where credit is due, and none of it goes to me," said Ismail, whose brother Qadry is a freshman wide receiver for Syracuse. "The whole key to the returns was getting through the first line of blocking, and nobody got a clean shot at me. That is good blocking. I returned kickoff in high school, but I get all my confidence from the blocking and the kick return team gives me."

The second return, which went 20 yards out, was also key to Ismail making a career-breaking 224 yards in kickoff return for touchdown. "Ismail's kickoff return was the biggest play of the game," said Irish coach Lou Holtz. "Ismail's kickoff return was the biggest play of the game."

"We are the only team on at 3:00 p.m. EST so we are going to be ready to go," said Ismail, whose brother Qadry is a freshman wide receiver for Syracuse. "We are the only team on at 3:00 p.m. EST so we are going to be ready to go."