Gorbachev will visit U.S., Cuba

Associated Press

MOSCOW—A year after concluding an arms treaty with the United States, Mikhail Gorbachev is heading for a meeting with President Reagan and President-elect George Bush Wednesday to help set the pace for future arms talks.

During the Soviet president's trip, which begins Tuesday, he will address the United Nations and visit Cuba and Britain, trying to polish his image as a statesman and dispel the image of the Soviet Union as an enemy.

This time Wednesday's luncheon meeting in New York with Reagan and Gorbachev, "an extraordinary event" because superpower relations are a determining factor in "the very essence of the world process."

"It is perfectly natural that the new administration will need some time to get its bearings in the complexity of domestic and international problems. But it is very important not to drag out this period," Tass said.

"Marking time in internation al politics and lifting the domain of arms limitation and reduction, is tantamount not only to talk time, but to backsliding," it said.

On Dec. 8, 1987, Gorbachev and Reagan signed an agreement to eliminate their medium- and shorter-range nuclear missiles.

But progress in talks to cut the two sides' arsenals of strategic weapons slowed to a crawl because of the U.S. election campaign and problems including continued differences over Reagan's "Star Wars" program for a space-based defense against nuclear attack.

The government newspaper Izvestia, in a front-page article from New York on Monday, said the U.S. administration was preparing intensively for the meeting with Gorbachev.

"There is a basis to suppose that the administration will not only listen, but propose something in return," the paper said.

Gorbachev has said he is seeking improved relations with the West in order to free up resources to improve the standard of living of Soviet citizens.

One Western analyst who spoke on condition of anonymity said the Soviet Union "doesn't have the resources to sustain the investment it's been making in foreign policy at defense's expense."

Campus View once again plagued by Hare Krishnas

By DAN MURPHY

Senior Staff Reporter

Individuals soliciting money at Campus View Apartments Friday may be members of the International Society for Krishna Consciousness, or ISKCON, according to the manager of a Hare Krishna sect based on the Notre Dame campus. They often began by distributing stickers or Notre Dame hats and saying "I'm going to have to give you a citation for not having enough fun." The members, dressed in street clothes, asked for donations for "The Appalachia Projects," according to an article appearing in The Observer yesterday. Many students mistakenly thought they were contributing money to Notre Dame programs sponsored by the Council for the International Lay Apostolate (CILA) or the Center for Social Concerns, which benefit impoverished areas of the Appalachian Mountains.

The assistant manager of ISKCON's Appalachia Projects, Helmut Goth, said he was unaware of any ISKCON members soliciting in the South Bend area at the present time. However, he said members travel across the country and may have stopped for a short time in South Bend.

Money raised by ISKCON members helps fund various programs created by ISKCON, according to Goth. He said the money may go toward a food program which delivers free vegetarian meals to impoverished people in the Appalachian region. Other programs receiving solicited money include the job training programs, health education classes, outreach centers which distribute food in several cities and the promotion of a "drug-free environment" in a rural area near Moundsville, W. Va.

Students have not filed any complaints with Notre Dame Security concerning solicitors, according to William Logue, assistant director of Notre Dame Security. "Nobody has permission to solicit door-to-door in the dorms," Logue said. "People told them not to hesitate to call if they see someone suspicious. We won't come in there like gangbusters. We won't embarrass them. We try to be discreet."

The Moundsville ISKCON organization has been involved in legal cases ranging from murder and arson to fraud, and has been implicated in copyright infringements, according to the Wheeling (WVA) Register.

Senate resolves on lecture policy

By FLORENTINE HOELKER

Staff Reporter

The Senate Student Executive Council on Monday passed a resolution Monday regarding the University's policy on political lectures, sparked by the controversy surrounding George Bush's lecture last month.

Submitted by senator Mark Chapman, the resolution stated that since the University "has a responsibility to remain politically unbiased and non- partisan... to raise the standards of political debate... to insure fair ticket distribution," it should take steps to avoid what some students call "the manipulation of the University by political candidates." The resolution, written in reference to a similar resolution passed by the faculty senate, recommends that the University "shall oversee the ground rules for the administration and the administration for visits by political candidates." It also recommends that "the University administration make every effort to prevent the appearance of a Notre Dame endorsement for any candidate.

Atlantis places satellite, to return to Earth today

JOHNSON SPACE CENTER, Houston—Three astronauts aboard the space shuttle Atlantis planned to end their secret mission Tuesday, having deployed a powerful spy satellite over the Soviet Union, sources said Monday.

NASA and Air Force officials have remained silent about the mission, saying they would only comment to give 24-hour notice on the shuttle's landing time or if a major problem developed.

Although no official word was heard from either agency by early Monday afternoon, a source demanding anonymity said the crew planned to land Tuesday afternoon at Edwards Air Force Base in California.

The flight, under Air Force command, has been shrouded in secrecy since Atlantis blasted off Friday morning from Cape Canaveral, Fla. As the five military officers began their fourth day in orbit Monday morning, knowledgeable sources said the crew had successfully deployed a $50 million Lacrosse satellite over the weekend.

The sources, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said the satellite was operating well in an orbit that carries it over 30 percent of the Soviet Union. Deployment of the surveillance satellite was believed to be the mission's chief goal.

The satellite is said to be designed to gather extremely sharp all-weather, radar images of Eastern Bloc military targets and would help American intelligence agencies monitor Soviet compliance with arms control treaties.

Eventually, it also would serve as the "radar eye" for the new B-2 stealth bomber.

That would mean every air crew's need to use the aircraft's own radar, which might disclose its location.

Before Monday, no information had been leaked to newsgathering was during two earlier Defense Department shuttle missions.

"It seems the Air Force and NASA have learned how to plug

Toward Tempe temps mostly sunny today. High in the middle 50s. Increasing cloudiness tonight. Low in the middle 30s.
IN BRIEF

Catholic churches nationwide will be taking up a special collection this weekend to help ease the financial strain of caring for an elderly member of a religious order because the number of young clergy men and women who provide financial support is dwindling, they said. Without the special collection, some religious orders may have to break up and sell their property. Associated Press

Studebaker employees are still fighting to win pension benefits for workers who lost their jobs when the Studebaker Corp. shut down 25 years ago. "As long as I have breath in my body, I will continue," says Odell Newburn, the former president of United Auto Workers Local 5. Almost 6,000 workers lost their pensions when Studebaker locked the gates to its South Bend plant on June 12, 1966. Mary had a job but lost her pension because she paid her own salary. Associated Press

The Rockefeller Center Tree, with the push of a button and a chorus of "Oooohs" — was lighted Monday evening as it officially became Christmas time in New York City. A crowd estimated at more than 70,000 jammed the streets from skyscrapers around the famous plaza and skating rink where a towering Tannenbaum has enchanted visitors for 56 years. When the jukebox played its 20,000 colored lights on the 75-foot Norway spruce, a piped-in rendition of the Hallelujah chorus from Handel's "Messiah" drowned out the admiring gasp. Associated Press

OD Of INTEREST

Senior Dinner at Barnaby's tonight on Grape Road. $4 all you can eat from 5 to 7 p.m. - The Observer

A Mexican Posada, a reenactment of Mary and Joseph's search for shelter, will be presented by the Notre Dame Hispanic Organization. It begins on the steps of LaFortune at 7 p.m. today and ends with a reception in the Hurin Hall. - The Observer

Operation Crossroads Africa can be your chance to volunteer or be a leader for two months in Africa. There will be a slide presentation and information on how to participate today at 8 p.m. at the Center for Social Concerns. For more information contact David Baltierra at 283-1021. - The Observer

Students interested in summer jobs and internships should come to the Career and Placement Services office before the end of the semester for information about on-campus and other summer job opportunities. - The Observer

The Observer

AFROTAC Cadets Dine-In tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the Monogram Room. The guest speaker will be Lt. Col. Turner from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. - The Observer

The Observer Of Interests and other public service announcements may be submitted at The Observer main office on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center until 1 p.m. prior to the date of publication. Of Interest announcements free, campus-wide events of general interest. Lecture Circuit announces on-campus and local lecturers. Campus announces other events of general interest, free or paid. The Observer reserves the right to edit all submitted materials and determine if and where announcements will be published. - The Observer

Wish your friends a Happy Birthday through Observer advertising. Call 239-5303 for details.

The Observer

Director ............ Scott Verheyen
Editor ................. Sara Marley
Design.............. Dan Barrett
Sports Copy Editor ...... Greg Valley

BAZAAR: LeMans Lobby Mon-Fri 9-5. Area residents and student groups will be selling handmade items as well as T-shirts, candy, and glassware at reasonable prices. ALL SMC/ND STUDENTS AND FACULTY ARE WELCOME. Come do your Christmas shopping!!!
Kilobyte crunch
Waiting for computers at the LaFortune Computing Center yesterday afternoon are (seated left to right) seniors Bridget O’Brien, Mike Flynn, and junior Bob Groth. With finals roughly 504,000 seconds away, the state of mind of students is not likely to be as calm as these three.

Win A Christmas Stocking
Filled with Christmas Goodies ($30 Value) register at
The Country Harvester
LaFortune St. Center Basement
Hours: Mon-Fri 12:00-6:30 pm
Drawing to be held Dec. 15th 4:30 pm, need not be present to win.

Limited Delivery Area
IT’S BACK
MATEO’S SUBS
Eastern Style subs
2 Buck Tuesday
Any 7” sub for $2.00
Free Delivery
271-0SUB
(minimum of 3 for delivery)
Mateo’s Thanks you for your support
1636 N. Ironwood Dr.

Limited Delivery Area

Judge rejects plea change by father

Associated Press
NEW YORK—Joel Steinberg apparently reeling from damaging testimony by his former lover about the violence that marked their lives, sought Monday to switch his plea to innocent by reason of insanity in the death of the 6-year-old girl they raised.

The surprise request was tentatively denied, but the judge said Steinberg’s attorneys could refile it. The request followed Hedda Nussbaum’s emotional testimony last week.

Nussbaum, who lived with Steinberg for seventeen years, said Steinberg admitted to her that he had “knocked Lisa down” because the child was staring at him. She said Steinberg believed Lisa had the power to hypnotize people by staring.

Continuing her testimony Monday, Nussbaum testified for the first time that she had seen Steinberg physically abuse Lisa, his illegally adopted daughter.

Initially, state Supreme Court Justice Harold Rothwax ordered that stricken from the court record, saying a 1985 incident she cited was too long ago to be relevant. But Ms. Nussbaum was allowed to testify about another incident that she said took place several weeks before Lisa’s death.

“Joel grabbed Lisa by the arms and shoulders, shook her and threw her down on the floor,” she recalled.

Asked if she had ever seen bruises on Lisa, she said, “I saw bruises on her arms and shoulders that looked like finger marks after Joel had grabbed her and shook her.”

She also said she had never hit Lisa or physically abused her in any way.

The child was taken unconscious from Steinberg’s apartment the morning of Nov. 2, 1987, to St. Vincent’s Hospital, where she died of head injuries three days later.

Ms. Nussbaum, 46, also testified that she had used cocaine, “probably for eight or nine years,” and smoked “freebase” cocaine for the last seven of those years.

In seeking to enter a new plea in the case, Steinberg’s lawyer, Ira London, said Nussbaum’s testimony last week convinced psychiatrists that Steinberg was not criminally responsible for the little girl’s death. The psychiatrists previously believed Steinberg, a lawyer who was debarred after the killing, was mentally competent at the time of the girl’s death, London said.

Barry Scheck, a lawyer for Nussbaum, said psychiatrists who interviewed her during the past year believed there were “indications that Joel was not playing with a full deck.”

Rothwax noted that insanity defenses ordinarily must be filed before a trial begins and within 30 days after a defendant enters a plea.

But, the judge said, “for good cause shown and in the interests of justice,” the court has discretion to permit an insanity defense to be presented at any time.

Rothwax denied the request but said he would give the defense the opportunity to resubmit it with “proper papers.” Rothwax said the lawyers should have affidavits from psychiatrists and from themselves describing their evaluation of Steinberg’s sanity.

The prosecution vigorously opposed the plea change.

“If you grant this motion, I prefer not to proceed,” Assistant District Attorney Peter Casolaro said. He said the prosecution had completed 89 percent of its case and called some witnesses—including Ms. Nussbaum—who would not have been called had Steinberg originally entered an insanity plea.
Our Holiday Promotion Is a Real Catch

Up to $100 Off and a Free Mouse

For more information about Zenith's full range of computers from the 8088, 286, & 386 desktops and portables contact:

Computer Center
Room 25 Math Building
8:00 AM - 5:00 PM

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Model 1</th>
<th>Model 20</th>
<th>Model 40</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>W/3.5&quot; floppy</td>
<td>W/20MB hard drive</td>
<td>w/40MB hard drive</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reg. $1599</td>
<td>$1899</td>
<td>$2299</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Now $1499</td>
<td>$1799</td>
<td>$2199</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>w/ZMM-149</td>
<td>w/ZCM-1490</td>
<td>w/ZCM-1490</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Amber or White Phosphor monitor</td>
<td>RGB analog color monitor</td>
<td>FTM color monitor</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reg. $1799</td>
<td>$2099</td>
<td>$2499</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Now $1699</td>
<td>$1999</td>
<td>$2399</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>w/ZCM-1390</td>
<td>w/ZCM-1490</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>RGB Analog color monitor</td>
<td>FTM color monitor</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reg. $1899</td>
<td>$2199</td>
<td>$2599</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Now $1849</td>
<td>$2149</td>
<td>$2549</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Offer good thru Dec. 31, 1988
Economists predict slowdown, recession for Bush within two years

Associated Press

WASHINGTON—President-elect George Bush will be forced to deal with a dramatic slowdown in economic activity next year that will make his job of deficit reduction even tougher, the nation’s top business economists predicted Monday. The National Association of Business Economists said a survey of 200 of its members found them pessimistic about growth prospects because of a belief that inflationary pressures will mean higher interest rates and thus lower consumer demand for cars, houses and other big-ticket items.

An overwhelming majority of the economists, 88 percent, predicted that Bush would have to deal with a recession in his first two years in office; 40 percent forecast that the country would be in a downturn by this time next year.

The outlook is far more pessimistic than the official forecast upon which the Reagan administration is basing its final budget request for Congress. That assessment is calling for much faster growth, lower interest rates and falling inflation next year. If the business economists prove to be more accurate, it will mean Bush will have to cope with even sharper spending cuts if he is to keep to his pledge of reducing the budget deficit without higher taxes.

Jay Woodworth, senior economist at Bankers Trust Co. of New York and president of the association, said the business economists believed Bush should make reducing the deficit his No. 1 priority.

Michel to lead GOP, Wright re-elected

Associated Press

WASHINGTON—Rep. Robert Michel, re-elected House Republican leader Monday, decried the low ethical quality of the House and called for Democrats to join in an effort to reform ethics standards and election campaign practices and limit outside speaking fees.

"The record of ethics enforcement in this House is a national disgrace," the Illinois Republican said as House members met in separate party caucuses to choose leaders for the 101st Congress.

Speaker Jim Wright, D-Texas, unanimously selected by the 290-member Democratic bloc for his second two-year term as the top House officer, disagreed with Michel's assessment, but offered to discuss the issues with him.

"For the most part, members of the House ... are decent, responsible and ethical people," said Wright, whose personal finances and possible involvement in lobbying have come under investigation by the House ethics committee. He has denied any wrongdoing.

The exchanges between Wright and Michel came as both parties elected their leaders for the new Congress, which begins Jan. 3. Two female House members lost bids to crack the all-male top leadership ranks on both sides of the aisle, but Rep. William Gray, D-Pa., was named to the Democrats' No. 4 post, the highest level ever achieved by a black party member.

Michel, who was chosen unanimously by the 175-member GOP contingent for a fifth term as minority leader, did not refer to any specific ethics cases in his remarks, but said "we must more clearly define the role we have to enforce them ... the time for reform is here."

He specifically called upon Wright and other Democratic leaders "to join with us in forming a bipartisan task force ... to establish uniform poll closing times nationwide."

Wright also said the new House in the 101st Congress would pass "clean elections legislation" but the only specific proposal he mentioned was to establish uniform poll closing times nationwide.

He cited the disappearance of banks, corporations and farms in economic restructurings and leveraged buyouts that "intensify the needs for regulation." He said the Senate would pass a new Clean Air Act and would work to "clean up those areas of our business practices where management needs regulation."

Senate

continued from page 1

In other business, the Senate announced that additional library phones should be available by finals week. Efforts are also being made to extend LaFortune hours to 3 a.m. during finals week.

Finally, a mini-postal center is expected to be installed in North Dining Hall by the end of the semester. The postal center will sell stamps, post cards, and envelopes.

Atlantis

continued from page 1

the leaks," one official said Sunday, on condition he be not identified.

Several experiments aimed at defining man's role as an observer in space also were believed to have been conducted during the flight, including testing of a hand-held optical device that resembles binoculars.

The mission is the 27th in the shuttle program, the third dedicated solely to the military and the second since the 1986 Challenger explosion that killed seven astronauts and grounded flights for 32 months.

---

Another Notre Dame line?

No, but Parisians had a long wait for the metro as they crowded on the quay of a subway station in Paris Monday. The strike of Paris metro transit workers has paralysed some lines inside the city. Maintenance workers of the regional express train lines have also been on strike for several days.

For a Good Time Call Malini

(Member of the Senior Class)

(For a better time call her roommates)

Oh, by the way, Happy 20th Birthday!

For a Good Time Call Malini

(Member of the Senior Class)

(For a better time call her roommates)

Oh, by the way, Happy 20th Birthday!

 SENIOR CLASS SKI TRIP

WHERE: SCHUSS MOUNTAIN
WHEN: JANUARY 27-29
COST: $160

INCLUDES:
TRANSPORTATION, HOTEL ACCOMODATIONS, LIFT TICKETS FOR TWO DAYS AND TWO NIGHTS OF SKIING, THREE MEALS, AND A SUPER BOWL GET-TOGETHER!

SIGN-UPS:
WEDS. DEC., 7TH AND THURS., DEC. 8TH, FROM 4 TO 7 PM. IN THE SENIOR CLASS OFFICE- 2nd FLOOR LAFORTUNE. A DEPOSIT OF $60 IS REQUIRED (THE BALANCE TO BE PAID AFTER BREAK). PLEASE SIGN UP IN GROUPS OF 4, 6, OR 8.

HAPPY HANUKKAH!!

Love You Forever
Juanqui
Can You Offer a Creative Contribution to Your Field?

Enter the Zenith Data Systems

MASTERS of INNOVATION COMPETITION

Win a $5,000* Zenith Computer System.

We’re searching for tomorrow’s innovators.
If you’ve developed or used software or hardware—that is compatible with Zenith Data Systems products—to creatively address a problem or task in your field of study, we want to hear from you.
You could win a $5,000* Zenith Data Systems computer system for yourself, $5,000* worth of computer equipment for your college campus given in your name, and national recognition from your peers.

For More Information And Official Rules, Call 1-800-553-0301.
Industrial nations agree to limit imports, but free-trade unresolved

Associated Press

MONTREAL—A group of industrialized nations agreed Monday to lower barriers to imports of tropical products such as coffee, cocoa and bananas, but wide gaps remained over the most contentious issues in free-trade talks among more than 100 nations.

Negotiators expressed pessimism about the outlook for accords on such controversial issues as farm subsidies, trade in services and international protection of patents and copyrights. Cabinet ministers are meeting here to give a political push to negotiations at the midpoint of the four-year Uruguay Round of free-trade talks, the biggest and most ambitious of the eight rounds that have been held since formation of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade after World War II.

The agreement covering $25 billion to $30 billion in annual exports of tropical products was reached at about 4 a.m. on Monday. It included an important qualifier by the United States, which said its concessions would only be effective if there is progress this week on an overall reduction in agricultural protectionism.

The industrialized nations, including Canada, Japan, Australia, Nordic countries and members of the European Economic Community, agreed to lower tariffs and improve market access to tropical products from Brazil, Colombia, Mexico, the Philippines, Thailand, Nicaragua and Malaysia, GATT spokesman David Woods said.

Woods said the specific steps that will be taken vary from country to country, and he said the new tariff schedules would not be released by the end of the week.

The approval of the package reduced the leverage of the United States, which had been seeking to link progress in tropical products to an agreement on the broader issue of farm trade.

The United States is alone in pressing for a commitment to the eventual total elimination of farm subsidies that distort world trade. Such an elimination would save money for tax payers and consumers while helping developing nations that export food, the United States says.

The United Nations said the breakthrough in the talks was "very welcome." The organization said the 11 nations that have signed up for the new round of talks are "giving the GATT a real chance to achieve its purposes and become the guiding institution in the world's trading system that it is capable of being."
The many benefits of laziness

Lying on my couch, I casually reached over to my TV and turned on my stereo. I noticed that I can easily reach my fridge to grab a drink (i.e. efficient floor planning due to laziness). However, to turn on my television, I must get up and take a couple of steps to reach it since my stereo controls only the sound. Apparently I was not quite lazy enough (but fear not, I am constantly figuring out ways to overcome this obstacle as well).

If it were not for laziness, we would not have such great things as escalators, golf carts, and those buttons that open trunks from inside the car.

Laziness is also efficient. For example, as I lie here on my couch writing this, I can easily reach my fridge to grab a drink (i.e. efficient floor planning due to laziness). However, to turn on my television, I must get up and take a couple of steps to reach it since my stereo controls only the sound. Apparently I was not quite lazy enough (but fear not, I am constantly figuring out ways to overcome this obstacle as well).

Laziness usually ends up working harder than others too. Now, of course, this sounds silly, but think about it. Generally lazy people will work much harder at getting out of work than if they had acutely done the work itself. When I lived at home, I never realized it would have been infinitely easier mowing the lawn than to go through all the trouble avoiding mowing the lawn. However, as I was constantly challenging my creative and innovative abilities in order to avoid the work, I think I am a much better person today because of it.

Lazy people usually end up working harder than others too.

Laziness is also efficient. For example, as I lie here on my couch writing this, I can easily reach my fridge to grab a drink (i.e. efficient floor planning due to laziness). However, to turn on my television, I must get up and take a couple of steps to reach it since my stereo controls only the sound. Apparently I was not quite lazy enough (but fear not, I am constantly figuring out ways to overcome this obstacle as well).

If it were not for laziness, we would not have such great things as escalators, golf carts, and those buttons that open trunks from inside the car.

Laziness is also efficient. For example, as I lie here on my couch writing this, I can easily reach my fridge to grab a drink (i.e. efficient floor planning due to laziness). However, to turn on my television, I must get up and take a couple of steps to reach it since my stereo controls only the sound. Apparently I was not quite lazy enough (but fear not, I am constantly figuring out ways to overcome this obstacle as well).

Laziness usually ends up working harder than others too.

Lastly I would like to point out that someday, when you are an employer out there in the "real world," never again will you have just stuck his head out the door and said, "Yo, Watson!"

It is said that necessity is the mother of invention. But I would like to propose that we change the phrase to laziness is the mother of invention. If we were not for laziness, we would not have such great things as escalators, golf carts, and those buttons that open trunks from inside the car.

Laziness is also efficient. For example, as I lie here on my couch writing this, I can easily reach my fridge to grab a drink (i.e. efficient floor planning due to laziness). However, to turn on my television, I must get up and take a couple of steps to reach it since my stereo controls only the sound. Apparently I was not quite lazy enough (but fear not, I am constantly figuring out ways to overcome this obstacle as well).

Laziness usually ends up working harder than others too.

Lastly I would like to point out that someday, when you are an employer out there in the "real world," never again will you have just stuck his head out the door and said, "Yo, Watson!"

It is said that necessity is the mother of invention. But I would like to propose that we change the phrase to laziness is the mother of invention. If we were not for laziness, we would not have such great things as escalators, golf carts, and those buttons that open trunks from inside the car.

Laziness is also efficient. For example, as I lie here on my couch writing this, I can easily reach my fridge to grab a drink (i.e. efficient floor planning due to laziness). However, to turn on my television, I must get up and take a couple of steps to reach it since my stereo controls only the sound. Apparently I was not quite lazy enough (but fear not, I am constantly figuring out ways to overcome this obstacle as well).

Laziness usually ends up working harder than others too.

Lastly I would like to point out that someday, when you are an employer out there in the "real world," never again will you have just stuck his head out the door and said, "Yo, Watson!"

It is said that necessity is the mother of invention. But I would like to propose that we change the phrase to laziness is the mother of invention. If we were not for laziness, we would not have such great things as escalators, golf carts, and those buttons that open trunks from inside the car.

Laziness is also efficient. For example, as I lie here on my couch writing this, I can easily reach my fridge to grab a drink (i.e. efficient floor planning due to laziness). However, to turn on my television, I must get up and take a couple of steps to reach it since my stereo controls only the sound. Apparently I was not quite lazy enough (but fear not, I am constantly figuring out ways to overcome this obstacle as well).

Laziness usually ends up working harder than others too.

Lastly I would like to point out that someday, when you are an employer out there in the "real world," never again will you have just stuck his head out the door and said, "Yo, Watson!"

It is said that necessity is the mother of invention. But I would like to propose that we change the phrase to laziness is the mother of invention. If we were not for laziness, we would not have such great things as escalators, golf carts, and those buttons that open trunks from inside the car.

Laziness is also efficient. For example, as I lie here on my couch writing this, I can easily reach my fridge to grab a drink (i.e. efficient floor planning due to laziness). However, to turn on my television, I must get up and take a couple of steps to reach it since my stereo controls only the sound. Apparently I was not quite lazy enough (but fear not, I am constantly figuring out ways to overcome this obstacle as well).

Laziness usually ends up working harder than others too.
Bradys Return for Christmas

T hey're back! No, not the "Polergeist" cast, the Brady Bunch. The bunch that entertained all America with their wholesome family fare is back with some special Christmas cheer in a two-hour CBS movie of the week entitled "A Very Brady Christmas."

On Sunday, December 18 (yes, that's after finals so there's no excuse for missing it), CBS will present this holiday special, which, if ratings are as high as Santa in jolly, will become a holiday classic.

A lot of things have changed since the last episode of "The Brady Bunch" (and even since the short-lived series "The Brady Brides"). Carol (Florence Henderson) is a real estate agent who has saved her commission checks to buy Mike (Robert Reed) a dream vacation for Christmas. Ironically (and as any true "Brady Bunch" fan might have guessed), Mike has saved his money from his architectural projects to buy Carol a dream vacation for Christmas. The two gifts "cancel" each other out, and the loving Brady parents decide to use the money to help their "bunch" return home for Christmas.

Alice (Ann B. Davis) is happy to return, because she's been tossed out by her husband who has his eyes on a younger woman. Each of the Brady children has a special reason for not wanting to return. These crises range from broken marriages to unemployment, all problems the Bradys don't want to share with their parents or siblings. Finally, Carol and Mike face their own crisis which threatens to destroy their marriage. It's a very "un-Brady-like" affair.

In addition to the main Brady family, this movie introduces the viewing audience to their new husbands and wives as well as Mike and Carol's three grandchildren. All the original cast members are back except for Susan Olsen, who played Cindy. She has been replaced by Jennifer Runyan.

"The Brady Bunch" was a mainstay of Friday night television viewing for five years on ABC beginning in 1969, when the children ranged in ages from seven to fourteen years old. The show has been highly visible in reruns ever since. After "The Brady Bunch," Florence Henderson made guest appearances on "The Love Boat" and in "Little Women." Currently, she hosts a celebrity cooking show on cable's Country Televison Network. Robert Reed earned Emmy-nominations for his performances in "Roots," "Rich Man, Poor Man," and "Medical Center." He also starred in "The Defenders" and "The Runaways."

Ann B. Davis, who earned an Emmy award prior to "The Brady Bunch," continues to do dinner theatre, usually starring in a play written especially for her by "Brady Bunch" producer Lloyd Schwartz. She is also quite active in charity work in Denver, where she lives.

Stay Tuned: The long running ABC soap opera "Ryan's Hope" has been cancelled. Its final episode will air in January and there are no plans to replace it with a new soap opera. The final twelve hours of ABC's "War and Remembrance" will air in May.

Due to a severe foot injury, Ken Wahl of CBS' "Wiseguy" will not be able to film upcoming episodes of the show. His character will enter the hospital, and another Federal agent will be sent undercover to replace him.

Valerie Harper, around whose character NBC's "The Hogan Family" (then called "Valerie") was originally based, will start a new situation comedy on CBS in the near future.

With the exception of Cindy, all the original Bradys are back, reunited this Christmas season in 2-hour television movie, "A Very Brady Christmas."

Of Professors and Beer

MATT CLEARY
accent writer

I usually don't know what it is that I'm eating for lunch. The cafeteria workers do not speak English. I can speak some Japanese, but not enough to understand the workers. The Japanese students with whom I dine often speak a good bit of English, but they are taught things like "How are you today?" and "Oh, you are a lost foreigner?" They usually don't learn words like "squid" and "seaweed." So, I just pretend everything is chicken and I don't ask questions.

So I was sitting in the dorm cafeteria one day, and who came and sat down next to me but Father Currie, the dean of Sophia University's Comparative Culture program, in which I am enrolled.

"The Japanese have a custom which is strange to Americans, perhaps though it should be. Teachers and other faculty members eat with the students. They also talk, shower, do laundry, and live with the students. Faculty members are not scary or unapproachable -- they are friends.

And this is good, of course, because friends drink with friends. So, one night a few days in the dorm decided that it was about time they drank again with Fr. Currie, and they asked me to come along. I didn't know how to say "What, you mean with a priest?" in Japanese, so I just went.

Unlike myself, who has a lifetime of reasons for being scared of priests, the Japanese students felt perfectly at home with him. The Japanese attitude towards religion is rare if not unique in the world. Here, different religions are not mutually exclusive. Most Japanese practice different aspects of Shinto, the native religion, and Buddhism, which they import from India.

So, although about one percent of Japan is Christian, none of the people see a conflict in attending a Catholic university and interacting with the priests. Hence, I found myself in this priest's room, on the fifth floor of my dorm. It turns out that this is a common occurrence, because Fr. Currie was fully prepared with a refrigerator full of beer, and he was generous in keeping our glasses full.

Now, I'm not suggesting that anyone approach your professor and invite him to a keg party. Nobody here is foolish enough to get drunk with a priest; we just drink with them. And, throughout the course of the evening, I discovered that priests are not perfect -- actually human. Fr. Currie, for example, hates Republicans. But other than that, he is a very wise man, and very interesting to talk to. You can learn a lot from a priest if you can drink with him.
ANAHEIM — The Los Angeles Rams made a promise to their fans last Sunday and hopes alive and jeopardized Chicago’s chance of a fifth straight division title with a 23-3 victory Monday night behind the receiving of Henry Ellard and a puck by Greg Bell.

The Rams defense limited the Bears to just 213 yards, 63 of that coming in the final two minutes. The Rams ended a four-game losing streak as well as a five-game winning streak by Chicago, which was forced by injuries to Jim McMahon and Mike Tomczak to go with third-string quarterback Jim Harbaugh. He completed only 7 of 30 passes for 108 yards with two interceptions in his first NFL start.

The Rams are 8-6, a game behind Chicago, which was forced by losing streak as well as a five-game losing streak by Chicago, which was forced by injuries to Jim McMahon and Mike Tomczak to go with third-string quarterback Jim Harbaugh. He completed only 7 of 30 passes for 108 yards with two interceptions in his first NFL start.

SPORTS BRIEFS

WVFU-640 AM will carry the Notre Dame (3-12) basketball game with Indiana (3-12) tonight. James Rappin and Bob Spulock provide the play-by-play and analysis starting at 7 p.m.

The Synchronized Swim Club will host its final meet this season tonight at 7:30 p.m.

The ND Rowing Club will host a meeting Monday at 7 p.m.

The ND-SMC Ski Team will host its final meet this season at 8:30 p.m. in room 127 of the Newell Science Hall.

The Rams led 6-3 at the half in a game that was an exciting two with 137 of Nieuwland.

EVENINGS

LOST: Rhinestone necklace, burgundy, 684-6231.

TOPS PAID: $925 or best offer.

STUDENT ROOM AVAILABLE IN NORTHEAST. CLOSE TO CAMPUS. COMPETITIVE RATES.

OPEN HOUSE: 316-9 or Pete at Campuses, 666-3500.

HOGS BREAK! Leaves Dec. 8, 9, 10 at 5 p.m. from St. Paul.

Walter White, my best friend, is coming in from St. Louis. He wants a ride to Chicago. Would you be interested in giving him a ride?

October 18, 1988

The Observer Notre Dame office, located on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center, assists classifieds and on a 10 a.m. - 3 p.m. Monday through Friday. The Observer staff is available on the second floor of Haggar Center, across from the Student Union, from 10 a.m. - 3 p.m. Monday through Friday. Deadline for next-classifieds is 3 p.m. All classifieds must be prepaid, either in person or by mail. The charge is $10 for each classified or part thereof.

The Chicago Cubs made a nine-player trade with Texas Rangers. The deal sends all star outfielder Ramirez to Texas with pitchers Drew Hall and Jamie Reed. The Cubs are hoping to pick up two minor leaguers with the Rangers.

Lake Elwayson was fined $500 by the police department Tuesday morning for exceeding the limit of a 55 mph speed limit. Elwayson was stopped by police officer John O’Donnell at 9:24 a.m. Tuesday morning. Elwayson was fined for speeding in the area of 23rd Street and Lincolnway West.

LA ROUTS CHICAGO IN BIG NFC BATTLE

Associated Press

Chicago's chance of a fifth straight division title with a 23-3 victory Monday night behind the receiving of Henry Ellard and a puck by Greg Bell.

The Rams defense limited the Bears to just 213 yards, 63 of that coming in the final two minutes. The Rams ended a four-game losing streak as well as a five-game winning streak by Chicago, which was forced by injuries to Jim McMahon and Mike Tomczak to go with third-string quarterback Jim Harbaugh. He completed only 7 of 30 passes for 108 yards with two interceptions in his first NFL start.

The Rams are 8-6, a game behind Chicago, which was forced by losing streak as well as a five-game winning streak by Chicago, which was forced by injuries to Jim McMahon and Mike Tomczak to go with third-string quarterback Jim Harbaugh. He completed only 7 of 30 passes for 108 yards with two interceptions in his first NFL start.

PLANNED EVENTS

The Observer Classifieds, 233-8932, office. Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. - 3 p.m. Monday through Friday. Deadline for next-classifieds is 3 p.m. All classifieds must be prepaid, either in person or by mail. The charge is $10 for each classified or part thereof.

The Chicago Bears would finish behind Minnesota in two weeks because of the possibility of losing the title it drives that resulted in a five-play, 66-yard drive with downs within five minutes.

The Bears would finish behind the Vikings if they lose at Minne-

The Rams led 6-3 at the half in a game with one of the women's varsity team that can not attend the meeting should contact Suzanne at 4220 or Kelly at 4220.

The Rams led 6-3 at the half in a game with one of the women's varsity team that can not attend the meeting should contact Suzanne at 4220 or Kelly at 4220.

The Rams led 6-3 at the half in a game with one of the women's varsity team that can not attend the meeting should contact Suzanne at 4220 or Kelly at 4220.

The Rams led 6-3 at the half in a game with one of the women's varsity team that can not attend the meeting should contact Suzanne at 4220 or Kelly at 4220.

The Rams led 6-3 at the half in a game with one of the women's varsity team that can not attend the meeting should contact Suzanne at 4220 or Kelly at 4220.

The Rams led 6-3 at the half in a game with one of the women's varsity team that can not attend the meeting should contact Suzanne at 4220 or Kelly at 4220.

The Rams led 6-3 at the half in a game with one of the women's varsity team that can not attend the meeting should contact Suzanne at 4220 or Kelly at 4220.

The Rams led 6-3 at the half in a game with one of the women's varsity team that can not attend the meeting should contact Suzanne at 4220 or Kelly at 4220.
It's never been difficult for students to convince their parents of the need for a Macintosh® computer at school. Persuading them to write the check, however, is another thing altogether.

Which is why Apple created the Student Loan-to-Own Program. An ingenious loan program that makes buying a Macintosh as easy as using one.

Simply pick up an application at the location listed below, or call 800-831-LOAN. All your parents need to do is fill it out, sign it, and send it. If they qualify, they'll receive a check for you in just a few weeks. There's no collateral. No need to prove financial hardship. No application fee.

Best of all, the loan payments can be spread over as many as 10 years.

Which gives you and your parents plenty of time to decide just who pays for it all.

Introducing Apple's Student Loan-to-Own Program

Notre Dame Computer Store
Computer Center/Math Building
Belles fall short in tri meet

By ELIZABETH VANDERSARL
Sports Writer

The Saint Mary's swimming team travelled to Valparaiso last Saturday and fell just short of victory in a tri meet. Members from Butler and Valparaiso also participated.

"It all came down to the last relay," said coach Dennis Cooper.

The tight battle for places became obvious in the first event of the meet. The Belles' relay team of Lori Swedison, Heather Phelps, Terra Sweeney, and Mary Golinowski clocked in at 4:28.39, a time less than a second from Butler's first place: 4:26.94.

The 100 backstroke carried echoes of the medley relay with Saint Mary's again fighting a close battle. Sweden's 1:08.35 earned her a second place miss-sing first by .30 of a second.

The Belles looked to be a well-rounded team, claiming at least first, second or third in each event.

An especially strong event for the Belles was the 100 free in which Peggy Halloran and Jenny Glaeser placed second and third respectively.

The 1000 meter diving assisted the Belles in accumulating points as Kristen Cavanaugh received 152.8 points, earning her a first place. Ann Blake easily claimed third place with a 2:22 point lead over her nearest competitor.

Although it was only the second meet of the season, two freshmen gave strong performances. Kathleen Golski took third in both the 100 and 200 free, with times of 1:08.31 and 2:59.18. Yvette Dittenyer also showed promise in the 50 and 100 free placing in the top five in both events.

Colburn's 2:28.79 in the 200 IM received a second place. Two other team members of the medley relay team, McLeod and Rush, earned second and third places in their specialty areas of the 100 breast and 100 fly.

It was anyone's meet as the gun sounded for the start of the 400 free relay. The Belles swam hard and recorded 4:11.73—good enough for third place. Butler and Valparaiso tied with 61 points, while Saint Mary's tallied 52.

Despite a disappointing loss, the Belles proved that although they are a small team they have the ability to stick with the competition.

Indiana

continued from page 16

job of getting teams ready for a defensive battle. He's very capable offensively of exploiting people's weaknesses.

Like Notre Dame, Indiana has several new faces. Joe Hill, who played in the Oakland A's instructional program and did not start practice until November, is the only significant contributor left from the 1987 national championship team.

Gone are junior college transfers Dean Garrett and Keith Smart, while Ricky Calloway opted to transfer to Kansas.

Sophomore guard Jay Edwards, who was in a substance abuse program earlier this year, is the leading Indiana scorer at 21 points per game, followed by Todd Jadlow at 16.5.

The Hoosiers had trouble handling the Louisville press Saturday and the Irish will try to force an uptempo game. The new uptempo style of the Irish has worked thus far this season, as they have scored 92 points in two games.

"I think it's obvious we want an uptempo style," Phelps said. "That's going to be our style this year. We want to keep pressure on the ball full court."

Freshman LaPhonso Ellis has been consistent for the Irish, scoring at a 19.5 clip and averaging 13 boards in the first two games. Junior co-captain Jamere Jackson averages 14.0 points per game and sophomore Kevin Ellery has hit 6-of-9 three pointers while scoring 10.5 points per game.

The Notre Dame offense has been potent, averaging 86.3 points in the two wins. Even more impressive is the rebounding margin. The Irish average 48 boards a game, while opponents pull down only 31.5.

Even with two big wins under his belt, Phelps remains guardedly optimistic about the season.

"I think you just have to put things in perspective," Phelps said. "I don't think you can celebrate."

Learn CPR, Please.

Air Travel

Immediate Reservations

Tickets Delivered

Call Us Now For Best Prices

255-7272

TOUCH ROSS
MANAGEMENT CONSULTING

Invites you to a reception to discuss our Research Associate position

University Club

5:30-7:00

December 6, 1988

This two to three year analyst position offers a challenging environment in which Research Associates are integral members of consulting project teams.

We will be recruiting at Notre Dame on January 30.

Duke remains No. 1 in college hoop poll

Associated Press

STORRS, Conn. - After years of playing like a punch-drunk fighter in a league of heavyweightweights, Connecticut's basketball team awoke Monday to find it had gained new respect.

The Huskies, with victories in their first two games, were ranked No. 1 in The Associated Press poll.

"I'm happy to be in the polls," Connecticut coach Jim Calhoun said before his team played Marist Monday night.

Meanwhile, Duke and Michigan continued to top the poll.

Duke, 4-0, received the same number of first-place votes as last week, 47, and

1,396 points from a nationwide panel of sportswriters and broadcasters.

Michigan, 5-0, held second place, with nine first-place votes and 1,214 points.

Syracuse, 7-0, and Georgetown, 2-0, swapped places from a week ago. Each received one first-place vote and 1,131 and 1,075 points, respectively.

Seton Hall, also in the Big East, was No. 20.

The Atlantic Coast Conference had four members in the Top Twenty: Duke, No. 8 North Carolina, No. 12 Georgia Tech and No. 19 North Carolina State - as did the Big Ten, with Michigan, No. 5 Iowa, No. 7 Illinois and No. 14 Ohio State.
The Observer / Michael Murphy

The men's and women's swimming teams both finished fourth in the National Catholic Championships last weekend in Philadelphia.

Women

continued from page 16

the areas where the team needs to improve.

"We know now what needs to be done," he said. "A championship meet in midseason is like a reality check. You take a hard look, find out how you're doing and see what you have to do next."

There were five university records broken at the National Catholics. Becky Wood, a soprano from New York State, set a time of 2:25.32 as she finished first in the 200 breast stroke and later she placed second in the 160 breast stroke with a record time of 1:07.81. Freshman Heather Winiecki also holds two records, one for the 160 freestyle and also for the 1000 yard free. Katie Pamentor, also a freshman, set a record for the 50 yard back stroke during the 200 race. On Sunday, the Irish women competed in a tri-meet with Villanova and Fordham and the results were split. The team lost to Villanova, 66-47, but soundly defeated Fordham, 175-66. Jenny Ripo, Christy Moston and Becky Wood captured first place finishes for the Irish, and the 200 medley relay team also placed first.

"The results were the same as the last time we faced these two schools," noted Welsh, "but the margin was in our favor. When we faced Villanova two years ago, they crushed us, but this year it was much closer. Also, last year we just squeaked by Fordham. This year there was no doubt of the winner."

Welsh said that a lot was learned by taking an overall look at both of the meets. "Not a single person had a bad swim but it was harder to achieve," he said. "The level of base conditioning is not as strong as we want it to be, and this is certainly influenced by the fact that Rolf's pool didn't open until October."

The peak performances were less visible," he continued. "We didn't set any university records until the last night of the competition (the National Catholics)."

The primary emphasis for the team over the next couple of weeks will be on academics. The Irish swimmers have always had a 3.5 average or better, and Welsh would like to maintain this. The team will also return to the strength workouts as they prepare for the dual meet at Villanova and Fordham, and the results were promising.

"We improved each day of the meet," swimming faster on the fourth day than any previous day," said Welsh. "It shows us three things.

"First it shows us that the team stayed disciplined, focused, optimistic and continuously prepared to do its best. Second, it is very rare for a team's performance to improve over a three-day meet. I think that's a tribute to the swimmers, and the strength and conditioning program we've had this fall.

"Third, we saw how we can improve from now through the spring championships," continued Welsh. "We see what's left to be done and we have a clear sense of how to go about it. That's a positive outcome of the meet."

The dual meet at Villanova was the best indicator of Irish potential. After three grueling days at the National Catholics, the swimmers made their way to compete with two of the teams that finished ahead of them in the standings at the previous meet, and the results were promising.

Men

continued from page 16

The purpose of the championships was mostly a litmus-test for the Irish to assess its position in the middle of the season. Welsh was optimistic about the outcome of the two meets.

"We improved each day of the meet," swimming faster on the fourth day than any previous day," said Welsh. "It shows us three things.

"First it shows us that the team stayed disciplined, focused, optimistic and continuously prepared to do its best. Second, it is very rare for a team's performance to improve over a three-day meet. I think that's a tribute to the swimmers, and the strength and conditioning program we've had this fall.

"Third, we saw how we can improve from now through the spring championships," continued Welsh. "We see what's left to be done and we have a clear sense of how to go about it. That's a positive outcome of the meet."

The dual meet at Villanova was the best indicator of Irish potential. After three grueling days at the National Catholics, the swimmers made their way to compete with two of the teams that finished ahead of them in the standings at the previous meet, and the results were promising.

Though Villanova won the meet, the Irish managed to beat Fordham by a score of 134-107, after Fordham accumulated 478 points at the National Catholics compared to Notre Dame's 438. Highlighting the Irish weekend was junior diver Ed Veone, who won the high point award for divers at the National Catholics. The La Grange Park, Ill., native's top finish in the one-meter diving competition and third place in the three-meter dive was enough to earn him top honors among the host of divers.

Also at the National Catholics, sophomore Jim Byrne finished second in the 200-Backstroke and fourth in the 400-Individual Medley to help the Irish cause.

Now that the swimmers are aware of their status, they will take to the waters in California to train over Christmas break. The performances last weekend will not serve to discourage the Irish, but to make them work that much harder.

"Last year when we swam well at the National Catholics, it was an incentive that encouraged us to swim well for the rest of the season," said sophomore Brian Rini. "At this meet, even though we didn't swim the same quality meet, I think the team is even more enthusiastic to swim harder, because we know we can do better."

# #

EPC is located in the Notre Dame Computer Store Room 25, Computing Center (219) 239-7477

IBM.

IBM's got the package that'll help wrap up your studies.

IBM® PERSONAL SYSTEM/2® MODEL 25 PACKAGE SAVINGS

PACKAGES

LIST YOUR PRICE* YOU SAVE

MONO

$2460 $1362 $1098

PACKAGES

$2969 $1595 $1374

$3591 $1943 $1648

EPC is located in the Notre Dame Computer Store Room 25, Computing Center (219) 239-7477

IBM.
Vegas lucky to ND wrestlers

BY GREG SHECKENBACH
Sports Writer

Jackpot! Miami, Pittsburgh, and Notre Dame wrestling team grabbed an impressive seventh place finish in the Las Vegas Invitational Tournament last weekend. They placed fifth in the top seven in their respective weight divisions. The seventh-place finish was their highest ever for the Irish in the Las Vegas tournament. Defending NCAA champion Oklahoma State won the team championship while Arizona came in second.

The 19th-ranked Irish were paced by senior Pat Boyd, who placed fourth in the 142-pound division. He lost to the defending NCAA champion in the semi-finals. Unfortunately, he was slowed by a knee injury which might have kept him from placing higher.

"Pat wrestled real well this weekend despite being hurt in the semi-finals," said coach Fran McCann. "I just hope the God that this didn't turn out to be serious."

Other individual finishers in the top seven include senior co-captains and roommates in Flannery Hall, Jerry Duro and Tom Geneser. Duro won fifth place in the 134-pound division while Geneser took seventh in the 178-pound division. Both are contenders for the NCAA tournament.

Junior Andy Redenbaugh wrestled very well taking a fifth place in the 195-pound weight class. He has been one of the more consistent wrestlers this year. Freshman Marcus Greenewald completed the incredible by winning seventh in the 125-pound weight division.

This is an accomplishment that few freshmen have obtained.

"Marcus did a super job for a freshman," said McCann. "He responded under extreme pressure and came out with a place in his division."

Greenewald's first loss was to a Senior 13-11 and his second loss was only by one point. The future is looking bright for this young freshman.

Although a seventh-place finish is excellent, McCann still felt little disappointed in the mental preparedness of his wrestlers.

"We have the ability to compete with anyone at anytime, but our mental mistakes are very critical," said McCann.

Curt Engler, who filled in for injured Tom Salvino, wrestled well, posting a 2-2 record in the 190-pound division. Mark Gerardi, who is still recovering from a knee injury did not place, but wrestled well longer in those sports.

"Miami went on a 12-game winning streak and finish fifth or sixth in the division. But there is an improvement for the Irish," McCann said.

In contrast, when Pittsburgh and Dallas? Just the opposite of what's happened to Miami, Pittsburgh, and Arizona. What happened to the teams of Notre Dame and Oklahoma State?

Time: Tuesday, December 6, 1988

The 19th-ranked Irish were good people, but not good enough to win the championship. The team of Notre Dame won the team championship while Arizona came in second.

The passive football fan can't keep up with who's good and who's bad in pro football this year (Buffalo has already clinched theirs, the Packers have yet to clinch their)."Wait 'til next year" is a frequently used phrase when you're a football fan. Remember the箐 bag-wearing fans, the team. It's the teams that have the most over the long haul.

"Further football is what's happened to Miami, Pittsburgh, and Arizona," McCann said.

"I don't think many people are going to be happy with anyone at anytime, but our mental mistakes are very critical," said McCann.

Curt Engler, who filled in for injured Tom Salvino, wrestled well, posting a 2-2 record in the 190-pound division. Mark Gerardi, who is still recovering from a knee injury did not place, but wrestled well longer in those sports.

"Miami went on a 12-game winning streak and finish fifth or sixth in the division. But there is an improvement for the Irish," McCann said.

In contrast, when Pittsburgh and Dallas? Just the opposite of what's happened to Miami, Pittsburgh, and Arizona. What happened to the teams of Notre Dame and Oklahoma State?

Time: Tuesday, December 6, 1988

The 19th-ranked Irish were good people, but not good enough to win the championship. The team of Notre Dame won the team championship while Arizona came in second.

The passive football fan can't keep up with who's good and who's bad in pro football this year (Buffalo has already clinched theirs, the Packers have yet to clinch their)."Wait 'til next year" is a frequently used phrase when you're a football fan. Remember the箐 bag-wearing fans, the team. It's the teams that have the most over the long haul.

"Further football is what's happened to Miami, Pittsburgh, and Arizona," McCann said.

"I don't think many people are going to be happy with anyone at anytime, but our mental mistakes are very critical," said McCann.

Curt Engler, who filled in for injured Tom Salvino, wrestled well, posting a 2-2 record in the 190-pound division. Mark Gerardi, who is still recovering from a knee injury did not place, but wrestled well longer in those sports.

"Miami went on a 12-game winning streak and finish fifth or sixth in the division. But there is an improvement for the Irish," McCann said.

In contrast, when Pittsburgh and Dallas? Just the opposite of what's happened to Miami, Pittsburgh, and Arizona. What happened to the teams of Notre Dame and Oklahoma State?

Time: Tuesday, December 6, 1988

The 19th-ranked Irish were good people, but not good enough to win the championship. The team of Notre Dame won the team championship while Arizona came in second.

The passive football fan can't keep up with who's good and who's bad in pro football this year (Buffalo has already clinched theirs, the Packers have yet to clinch their)."Wait 'til next year" is a frequently used phrase when you're a football fan. Remember the箐 bag-wearing fans, the team. It's the teams that have the most over the long haul.
NEW YORK TIMES CROSSWORD

ACROSS
1 Funny fellows 25 November
5 Quahog 27 Depth charge, to a gob
9 Phoenixian deity 28 P. O. leader
12 Biblical land 29 Triple Crown
14 Name of 30 Kn of three card theatrical fame 31 Monte
16 Nacho topping 32 Overcome by emnui
18 Easy gait 33 Acquired metabolism
24 Collector's portal 35 Shakespearean catalogue
28 Nautical measures 36 Opera by Salieri
30 Reel
31 Woodwind
32 Florida city 19 Foxy
33 Postmaster 20 Building sites
34 Culture medium 21 Last letter
36 Film genre 22 Cardinal point
37 Epithet for some 23 Last name from Hollywood blondes Greece
38 Medieval plant 24 Algonquian
39 The Charleses' 25 Swiss city
pooch 26 Polynesian
40 Rival of Amneris 27 Last name from
41 Bonnie young girl 28 Greek
42 Thailand, formerly 29 Spanish
43 Marathon segments 30 Rival of Amneris
44 Revised eyes 31 Stingy
45 Mib 32 Thailand,
46 Chill 33 "G.W.T.W." survivor
47 Aleutian island 34 Culture medium
49 Cream — 35 Epithet for some
50 Mib 36 Opera by Salieri
51 P. L. leader 37 Nuisance
52 Variegated quartz 38 Pa. county
53 Deadly 39 Shakespearean
54 Bring together 40 Weightlifter's
55 Concise 41 Pollux's
56 John Jacob — 42 Ancient
57 Chess action
58 - scout
59 Kind of plate
60 Joie de vivre

DOWN
1 Renegade on a wager 20 Building sites
2 Hip hit 24 Cardinal point
3 One yawning 25 Swiss city
4 Olfactory clue 26 Polynesian
5 Foxie 27 Last name from
6 Cat city 28 Greek
7 W. W. II foe 29 Spanish
8 Bullock's specialty 30 Rival of Amneris
9 Concert site 31 Stingy
10 Medicinal plant 32 Thailand,
11 The Charleses' 33 "G.W.T.W." survivor
pooch 34 Culture medium
12 Bonnie young girl 35 Epithet for some
13 Reel 36 Opera by Salieri
14 Costume 37 Nuisance
15 Revue segments 38 Pa. county
16 French horse: 1935 39 Shakespearean
17 Collier's portal 40 Weightlifter's
18 Collier's portal 41 Pollux's
20 Building sites 42 Ancient
21 Notions 43 Marathon
22 Anna Christie, e.g. 44 Revised eyes
23 Theatrical 45 Mib
24 Cardinal point 46 Chill
25 Swiss city 47 Aleutian island
26 Polynesian 48 - scout
27 Last name from 49 Cream —
28 Greek 50 Mib
29 Spanish 51 P. L. leader
30 Rival of Amneris 52 Variegated quartz
31 Stingy 53 Deadly
32 Thailand,
33 "G.W.T.W." survivor 54 Bring together
34 Culture medium 55 Concise
35 Epithet for some 56 John Jacob —
Hollywood blondes 57 Chess action
41 Pollux's 58 - scout
42 Ancient
43 Marathon
44 Revised eyes
45 Mib
46 Chill
47 Aleutian island
48 - scout
50 Mib
51 P. L. leader
52 Variegated quartz
53 Deadly
54 Bring together
55 Concise
57 Chess action
58 - scout
60 Joie de vivre

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE
1 Renege on a wager 20 Building sites
2 Hip hit 24 Cardinal point
3 One yawning 25 Swiss city
4 Olfactory clue 26 Polynesian
5 Foxie 27 Last name from
6 Cat city 28 Greek
7 W. W. II foe 29 Spanish
8 Bullock's specialty 30 Rival of Amneris
9 Concert site 31 Stingy
10 Medicinal plant 32 Thailand,
11 The Charleses' 33 "G.W.T.W." survivor
pooch 34 Culture medium
12 Bonnie young girl 35 Epithet for some
13 Reel 36 Opera by Salieri
14 Costume 37 Nuisance
15 Revue segments 38 Pa. county
16 French horse: 1935 39 Shakespearean
17 Collier's portal 40 Weightlifter's
20 Building sites 41 Pollux's
21 Notions 42 Ancient
22 Anna Christie, e.g. 43 Marathon
23 Theatrical 44 Revised eyes
24 Cardinal point 45 Mib
25 Swiss city 46 Chill
26 Polynesian 47 Aleutian island
27 Last name from 48 - scout
28 Greek 50 Mib
29 Spanish 51 P. L. leader
30 Rival of Amneris 52 Variegated quartz
31 Stingy 53 Deadly
32 Thailand,
33 "G.W.T.W." survivor 54 Bring together
34 Culture medium 55 Concise
35 Epithet for some 56 John Jacob —
Hollywood blondes 57 Chess action
41 Pollux's 58 - scout
42 Ancient
43 Marathon
44 Revised eyes
45 Mib
46 Chill
47 Aleutian island
48 - scout
50 Mib
51 P. L. leader
52 Variegated quartz
53 Deadly
54 Bring together
55 Concise
57 Chess action
58 - scout
60 Joie de vivre

CAMPUS
8 a.m. Open meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous, Holy Cross House.
Noon Kellogg Institute Brown Bag Seminar "Urbanization and Development in the Virgin Islands," by Dr. L. R. Whisenton, Millersville University, 283 Galvin Life Sciences Auditorium.
4:30 p.m. Career and Placement Services present a reception for all Arts and Letters and Business students interested in careers with Touche Ross, Upper Lounge, University Club.
7:30 p.m. Basketball vs. Indiana, JACC.
8 p.m. SMC Music Department Recital presents Guy Wuel-...
Hoosiers looking for identity as they face unbeaten Irish

By GREG GUFFEY Sports Writer

Some people might view tonight’s battle between Notre Dame and Indiana as a game between two teams headed in opposite directions. The Hoosiers are struggling at 3-3 and have surrendered more than 100 points three of the past four games. The Irish, meanwhile, are a perfect 2-0, fresh off an 81-65 rout of Kentucky in the Big Four Classic.

But in the rolling hills of southern Indiana, basketball is king and Damon Bailey holds court. The Hoosiers aren’t ready to throw in the towel just yet. This is just boot camp for the general’s war in March.

“I think you’ll see a different Indiana basketball team,” Irish assistant coach Tom luaL said. “I know Bob Knight, what he will do and how he will get those kids ready to play. I think they’re searching for an identity. They’re very capable of beating anybody on a given night.”

Indiana has proven to be a difficult challenge for the Irish in recent years. The Hoosiers have won the last three meetings and six of the past seven. An Indiana victory could give it some credibility heading into the top Big Ten schedule, while a Notre Dame win could prove this young team is for real.

In the first meeting against the Flames, the Irish lacked physical play, which led to a quick UCIC lead.

“We were shell-shocked when they first came out at us,” commented Hanzel. “We finally adjusted to their physical play in the third period, but those goals wasn’t enough against a team with their talent and quickness.”

It was during this game that freshman Pat Arendt made his presence known on the team. Arendt, one of six Minnesota all-stars in his senior year at Lourdes High School in Rochester, started the UCIC game at center and has been steadily improving.

“I had to prove myself at the beginning of the season and increase my confidence level, which has improved my game a lot,” said Arendt.

Although now seeing much action and having the chance to come to Notre Dame to succeed both on and off the ice, “I picked Notre Dame over hockey powerhouse like North Dakota, St. Cloud State, and Colorado College because here I can get a great education and a great hockey atmosphere,” he said. “Most of the coaches I talked to agreed coming to Notre Dame would be best for me in the long run.”

Arendt’s high school credits are nothing short of phenomenal. In 22 games during his senior year, he cranked out 46 goals and 34 assists, which translates into 126 points, or over five-and-a-half points per game. Many years of playing with the neighborhood “cool guys” helped to catapult Arendt into one of Rochester’s finest, along with Irish teammates Craig Kleis and Mike Curry.

“I started playing when I was five,” he said. “I was the cool thing to do so I decided to give it a shot.”

And according to Arendt, the shots and physical play on the Division I level are incomparable to those on the high school level.

No team’s dominate in NFL these days

By DAVE MECHANON Sports Writer

After suffering an 8-3 setback to the University of Illinois-Chicago on Saturday night, the Notre Dame hockey team will have to even up the series tonight at the Joyce Athletic and Convocation Center. The Irish, 3-2-2 after Saturday night’s 5-4 overtime loss to Michigan Dearborn, hope to return to the winning track against the eighth-ranked Fighting Irish.

“There’s no question that they’re a great team,” said co-captain Matt Hame. “We’ll need to play our best game of the year and have a little more luck than we’ve been getting.”

The seemingly lackluster performance of the Irish (sixth out of 10 teams) at the National Catholics, held in Philadelphia. Notre Dame totaled 422 points, good enough for fourth behind Boston University, National Catholics, and a second team behind La Salle. The Irish turned in several good individual performances in the meet.

“There were several positive results of the meet,” said Welsh. “The team stayed disciplined, focused and optimistic, and they were continually prepared to do their best.”

Welsh said that the two meets gave a good indication of what’s ahead.

No teams dominate in NFL these days

By SCOTT BRUTOCOA Sports Writer

The men’s swimming team returned from a week-long trip to Philadelphia where they competed in the National Catholic Championships at LaSalle University and a dual meet at the University of Villanova.

Though they took 5th did not blow anybody out of the water (so to speak), they did manage to account for several important goals en route to a fourth-place finish at the National Catholics and a second place effort in the dual meet.

Notre Dame was at the National Catholics from Thursday to Saturday and then concluded its trip with dual meets against Villanova and Fordham on Sunday.

The seemingly lackluster performance of the Irish (sixth out of 10 teams) at the National Catholics is a little misleading. Though the team finished second in the same meet last year when it was hosted by Notre Dame, this “slip” is not attributable to a decreased effort by the swimmers.

“Our slide is a tribute to the strength of the field this year,” said Irish head coach Tim Welsh. “It is probably less of a slip in our program as a sign of the meet has grown to include more competitive teams.”

“Women also fourth in tough meet

By MARY GARINO Sports Writer

It was a good weekend for the women’s swimming team. Despite a fourth place finish at the National Catholics, which is down two places from last year, and despite a loss to Villanova on Sunday, coach Tim Welsh had nothing but positive things to say about the team’s performance.

The focal point of the trip had been the second annual National Catholics, held in Philadelphia. Notre Dame totaled 422 points, good enough for fourth behind Boston College, which placed first with 615 points, Villanova and the hosts La Salle. The Irish turned in several good individual performances in the meet.

“Women also fourth in tough meet

By MARY GARINO Sports Writer

It was a good weekend for the women’s swimming team. Despite a fourth place finish at the National Catholics, which is down two places from last year, and despite a loss to Villanova on Sunday, coach Tim Welsh had nothing but positive things to say about the team’s performance.

The focal point of the trip had been the second annual National Catholics, held in Philadelphia. Notre Dame totaled 422 points, good enough for fourth behind Boston College, which placed first with 615 points, Villanova and the hosts La Salle. The Irish turned in several good individual performances in the meet.

“Women also fourth in tough meet

By MARY GARINO Sports Writer

It was a good weekend for the women’s swimming team. Despite a fourth place finish at the National Catholics, which is down two places from last year, and despite a loss to Villanova on Sunday, coach Tim Welsh had nothing but positive things to say about the team’s performance.

The focal point of the trip had been the second annual National Catholics, held in Philadelphia. Notre Dame totaled 422 points, good enough for fourth behind Boston College, which placed first with 615 points, Villanova and the hosts La Salle. The Irish turned in several good individual performances in the meet.

“Women also fourth in tough meet

By MARY GARINO Sports Writer

It was a good weekend for the women’s swimming team. Despite a fourth place finish at the National Catholics, which is down two places from last year, and despite a loss to Villanova on Sunday, coach Tim Welsh had nothing but positive things to say about the team’s performance.

The focal point of the trip had been the second annual National Catholics, held in Philadelphia. Notre Dame totaled 422 points, good enough for fourth behind Boston College, which placed first with 615 points, Villanova and the hosts La Salle. The Irish turned in several good individual performances in the meet.