I VIEWPOINT: 'Wheel' comes to ND

VIEWPOINT: Debates bring issues to ND

Associated Press

ALONG THE SALANG HIGHWAY, Afghanistan - Afghan troops and Mujahedeen guerillas fought for control of this highway Sunday as the Viet army moved out what may have been the last convoy to leave Afghanistan by truck.

A convoy of Soviet soldiers driving armored personnel carriers and trucks loaded with missile launchers and other equipment cruised through a Soviet bunker checkpoint as helicopter gunships hovered nearby, offering cover.

Two ground-attack jets streaked overhead and then disappeared behind the snow-covered mountains just beyond the hills surrounding the capital of Kabul.

"This could be the last convoy," said a Soviet diplomat, who spoke on condition of anonymity. He refused to elaborate.

In Pakistan, Western diplomats speaking on condition of anonymity said that in the past week an average of 18 Soviet transport planes a day had landed and taken off from Kabul - more than twice the number reported the previous week.

The aircraft deliver arms and food to the beleaguered city, then depart with hundreds of Soviet soldiers, the diplomats said.

The Soviets sent about 115,000 troops into Afghanistan in December 1979 to prop up a Marxist government that seized power in a coup the previous year.

The Red Army began pulling out eight months ago under an agreement sponsored by the United Nations to end the nine-year intervention.

Soviet diplomats in Kabul said the remaining 15,000 to 20,000 troops could be gone by the end of the week, about 10 days before the U.N. deadline. The remaining soldiers apparently were to leave on transport planes.

The guerillas, known as Mujahedeen, are not a party to the U.N. agreement and have vowed to overthrow the Soviet-backed government of President Najib once the Soviets are gone.

As part of the Soviet military pull-out in Afghanistan, a large group of Soviet civilians will wait with their baggage on the tarmac before a military IL-76 transport plane Saturday at Kabul international airport.

JPW dinner seating arrangements changed due to inconsistent forms

By JOHN O'BRIEN

Staff Reporter

Due to inconsistencies in seating requests, all previously held seating arrangements for the Junior Parents' Weekend dinner on February 18 are void.

Junior Parents' Weekend dinner chairperson, Jennifer Amestoy, said that students with whom they wish to sit.

"There were many inconsistencies on the seating requests, and this was the only way to resolve them," said Jennifer Amestoy, JPW dinner chairperson.

JPW dinner chairperson.

According to Amestoy, problems arose when names of students were submitted on several different request forms that did not have identical seating arrangements.

"We thought that we could resolve the problems over the phone, but apparently even then the students didn't know who they wanted to sit with," Amestoy said.

"Many students said they didn't care," she said, "but we didn't feel that it was up to us to decide who they should sit with.

Amestoy said that requests for up to three adjoining tables would still be honored if all the necessary IDs are presented upon request.

"Seating priority is still according to the date of payment, not the order in which students come on Tuesday and Wednesday," said Amestoy. She added that three students will sit at each table and their requests will be ordered by the date of the latest student's payment.

"We decided to go with this method (students bringing IDs in person) because it's the method that we used last year for Junior Parents' Weekend," Amestoy said.

"We switched to the system because the previous year the seating arrangements were not identical to the requests," Amestoy said.

By JEFF SWANSON

News Staff

In what organizers hope will bring bigger issues to the attention of the campus.

"The content of Catholic social teaching is in conflict with the current Republican Party platform," said Student Body President Tom Doyle and Vice President Mike Fisher.

"We decided to promote the Iceberg Debates after seeing the success of the Grace Hall debates," said McKenna.

Doyle said that student government has pushed for the debates to promote an awareness of social justice and to bring bigger issues to the attention of the campus. "We have committed ourselves to improving the intellectual life upon campus and the debates are a way to do this," Doyle said.

"We want people to know we're serious about the debates," Doyle said. He said that the Iceberg Debate program has been well thoughtout and well programmed. "It would still be honored if all the necessary IDs are presented upon request.

"Seating priority is still according to the date of payment, not the order in which students come on Tuesday and Wednesday," said Amestoy. She added that three students will sit at each table and their requests will be ordered by the date of the latest student's payment.

"We decided to go with this method (students bringing IDs in person) because it's the method that we used last year for Junior Parents' Weekend," Amestoy said.

"We switched to the system because the previous year the seating arrangements were not identical to the requests," Amestoy said.

"The focus is to raise awareness, not the competition itself," said Sorin Hall rector Joe McKenna, chief organizer of the debates.

Iceberg Debates commence; goal is to ‘focus awareness on different issues’

By KATHY RYAN

News Staff

Noted Dame's Department of Risk Management and Safety announced the results of radon tests performed on Nieuwendam Science Hall and Hesburgh Memorial Library.

According to Bob Zerr, director of Risk Management and Safety, the results indicated the levels of radon in the library is 1 pCi and in Nieuwendam to be 7 pCi.

"We would not expect to find AFGHAN, page 7

A charcoal detector, used in the basement of the library, costs around ten dollars, but is less accurate.

"We mainly stick with the year long detector so we get a better average and indication of radon levels," Zerr said.

"The detectors have been placed randomly," said Zerr. Alpha Track Monitors were placed in the basements of the Student Health Center, Hagggar Hall, Galvin Life Science Center and University Village in October of 1988. In addition, one month monitors will be placed in Fisher and Keenan Halls next week.

If levels of radon are found in campus buildings, Zerr added; "We could take measures to increase the ventilation or any way to prevent gas from getting into the building."
A logo contest is being held by An Tostal to design a logo for An Tostal. Entries are due in the An Tostal box in the Student Union Board by 5 p.m. today. Up to $60 in cash prizes. Call Chris Murphy at 285-2904 for more information. -The Observer

JPW seating arrangements previously made are now void due to inconsistencies in numerous responses. New seating arrangements will be made on Tuesday and Wednesday at the CCE between 2:00 and 10:00 p.m. Please bring ID's for everyone with whom you wish to be seated, maximum of 9 ID's per person. Call 230-6028 between 7:00 and 9:00 p.m. for more information. -The Observer

Information night for the spring break Appalachia Seminar will be held Tuesday from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Center for Social Concerns. Places are still available. -The Observer

JPW seating arrangements previously made are now void due to inconsistencies in numerous responses. New seating arrangements will be made on Tuesday and Wednesday at the CCE between 2:00 and 10:00 p.m. Please bring ID's for everyone with whom you wish to be seated, maximum of 9 ID's per person. Call 230-6028 between 7:00 and 9:00 p.m. for more information. -The Observer

JPW seating arrangements previously made are now void due to inconsistencies in numerous responses. New seating arrangements will be made on Tuesday and Wednesday at the CCE between 2:00 and 10:00 p.m. Please bring ID's for everyone with whom you wish to be seated, maximum of 9 ID's per person. Call 230-6028 between 7:00 and 9:00 p.m. for more information. -The Observer

In appreciation of his service to the Center for Social Concerns, new members are encouraged to attend. -The Observer

Volunteer opportunity in Latin America this summer as a public health volunteer in developing Latin American communities. Adventure, growth, possible college credit, and a chance to help. Learn about Los Amigos de Las Americas at an informational meeting at 8:00 p.m. on Thursday at the Center for Social Concerns. -The Observer

All juniors interested in working on the welcoming reception committee are invited to attend a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the JPW office on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center. -The Observer

Father Theodore Hesburgh, former University president, will speak at Theodore's as part of the Hesburgh Program in Public Service tonight beginning at 8:00 p.m. -The Observer

Summer service project applications are available at the Center for Social Concerns for eight-week summer service projects. A tuition scholarship of $2,000 is available to each participant. Interesting service opportunities all over the country are sponsored by Notre Dame alumni clubs. Room and board are provided. Application deadline is Feb. 1. -The Observer

The Observer classifieds will be accepted from 9am-3pm M-F at the Observer offices, 314 LaFortune.
Soviets: nuclear weapons in Cuba during Missile Crisis

Associated Press

MOSCOW - A Cuban official has disclosed that 270,000 Soviet and Cuban troops were ready to go to war with the United States during the 1962 Cuban missile crisis and that 100,000 casualties were expected, former U.S. Defense Secretary Robert McNamara said Sunday.

A Soviet general confirmed for the first time that one-third of his country's nuclear warheads designed to strike the United States were in Cuba at the time. However, he said the warheads had not been mounted on missile launchers and were not ready for firing.

The revelations came during a review of the Cuban missile crisis at a conference over the weekend at a trade union center in southwest Moscow.

Soviets and Americans have met before to discuss the Soviet deployment of nuclear missiles in Cuba and the U.S. response: a blockade of the island and a demand for the rockets' removal.

But this was the first joint meeting with Cuban officials who guided their country through the crisis. Premier Nikita Khrushchev eventually withdrew the missiles in exchange for President Kennedy's pledge not to invade Cuba.

At a news conference wrapping up the conference Sunday, McNamara said the figures on Cuba's war readiness and casualty estimate were provided by Jorge Risquet, a member of Cuba's ruling Politburo.

"They said they had armed 270,000 men. They were determined to fight to the death of every man, and they believed there would be 100,000 Cuban and Soviet casualties," McNamara told reporters.

Other American officials said privately the Cubans had said the casualty count could have reached 800,000. Cuba's population at the time was 8 million.

McNamara said that of the troops, 40,000 were Soviet, four times higher than U.S. intelligence estimates at the time.

Risquet cited the figures to show his country seriously believed that a U.S. invasion of his island was imminent. McNamara said no such invasion was ever contemplated, but speaking of the Cubans, he added: "If I had been in their shoes, I would have believed the same thing."

American officials have said they were never sure whether any Soviet nuclear warheads actually reached Cuba but that they assumed they had.

Col. Gen. Dmitri Volkogonov, director of the Defense Ministry's Institute of Military History, said that at the height of the crisis in October 1962 Soviet nuclear warheads were in Cuba. Another 20 warheads were headed to the island aboard a Soviet ship that was caught in the U.S. naval blockade, he said.

He made the remarks in a closed-session of the conference Saturday, and they were reported to The Associated Press by Ray Garthoff, a State Department official at the time of the crisis.

Yugoslav Central Committee meets today

Associated Press

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia - Communist leaders are bitterly divided over how to end the nation's worst postwar crisis as they prepare for a historic meeting of the policymaking Central Committee, state-run media said Sunday.

The meeting on Monday is expected to generate a showdown between rival factions and may result in sweeping personnel changes that will indicate whether the country will institute economic and democratic reform.

Sources close to the nine-member federal presidency, which also heads the armed forces, told The Associated Press that the presidency has warned emergency measures would be imposed nationwide if a compromise within the ruling elite is not reached.

The state Tanjug news agency said that at the "historic" meeting the leaders "should concretely state their views about a series of delicate and open political problems, which have brought the Communist Party to the brink of its total split and the country to the most dramatic postwar period."

Liberal factions in the ruling League of Communists face a hard-line coalition led by the president of Serbia's communists, Slobodan Milosevic.

The session of the party's Central Committee, which has about 100 members, is to discuss calls for replacement of the country's Communist Party President Stipe Suvar, who Serbian leaders blame for the wide split within the party.

The state-run media indicated that the confrontation is fact the clash between two political and economic concepts of Yugoslavia's future development.
"That the current Republican Party Platform is inherently in conflict with the content of Catholic Social Teaching"
Iran and Iraq to establish joint military committee; may help talks

Associated Press

BAGHDAD, Iraq-President Saddam Hussein agreed Sunday to a U.N. proposal to set up a joint military committee with Persian Gulf rival Iran, a U.N. envoy said.

After a four-hour meeting with Saddam, U.N. envoy Jan Eliasson said the Iraqi president also agreed to lift a ban on flights from flying over Iraq. Diplomats said the developments could work with U.N. military observers monitoring the cease-fire, they said.

Still, he said he was hopeful of new high-level talks. Diplomats in the Iraqi capital, who requested anonymity, said a joint military group signaled hopes of a troop withdrawal by both sides. The group could work with U.N. military observers monitoring the Aug. 20 cease-fire, they said.

Diplomats said the development, also reported by official Baghdad Radio, is a significant breakthrough in U.N. efforts to revive stalled peace talks to end the eight-year gulf war.

Eliasson told The Associated Press after his negotiations in Tehran and Baghdad that the agreements were "the two most concrete measures that could improve the atmosphere," but added, "I don't want to speak about breakthroughs."

The title of senior judge, created by Congress in 1919, allows federal jurists to sharply reduce their caseload while still qualifying for active-duty salary increases. Federal judges are appointed for life, though they may choose to resign at any time.

Most senior judges hear cases, but Burger says he doesn't have the time. By contrast, since he followed Burger off the bench in 1987, former Supreme Court Justice Lewis Powell has served a lawyer and law teacher, said Appeals Court Judge Frank Coffin.

"I'm too busy to sit." Most senior judges do substantial work and as a group they handle between 10 and 15 percent of all federal cases. "Across the nation, the federal judiciary would be a mess without the help of senior judges," said Appeals Court Judge Frank R. Rehnquist.

Receiving active-duty pay raises while accepting no cases, the senior judges, current statutes require nothing in return for the active-duty salary increases.

"It doesn't seem fair," said Rep. Carlos Moorhead, a member of a House subcommittee overseeing the federal judiciary. The California Republican said Congress may want to study "establishing some minimum work to qualify for the raises."

Dozens of senior judges apparently accept no cases, the AP has learned. A report compiled by the Administrative Office of the U.S. courts provides rare caseload data on senior judges. For the year ending June 30, 1987, the study showed that 26 of 271 senior judges, or 21 percent, handled no cases. Of the 56, 49 were over 75 years old.

"If you did the survey today I don't think things would be much different," said David Cook, a statistician who put together the report for the administrative office.

Stephen Gillers, professor of legal ethics at New York University, said a lawyer and law teacher I would be troubled if judges were being paid for doing nothing and getting increments for doing nothing unless Congress made a conscious decision that even judges in total retirement should get pay raises.

Congress did no such thing. Judges who retire by resigning receive pensions that equal their last year's salary, but not subsequent increases. If Burger had taken full retirement in September 1986, his annual pension would be $108,400. Instead, he received a 1987 increase to $115,000 and next month he stands to receive a 52 percent boost to $175,000, the salary earmarked for the sitting chief justice, William Rehnquist.
Introducing the new B.M.O.C.—the biggest Macintosh on campus:
The Macintosh II computer. It’s the perfect roommate for power hungry students who do high speed computing, video processing, engineering or graphic design.
Made with an open configuration that allows for special purpose boards, the Mac II is the fastest, best performing Macintosh ever built. Yet with all its sophistication, it still has the same point-and-click simplicity that Macintosh has become famous for.
Which means, of course, the Macintosh II and you will be the perfect roommates:
It cooks. And you clean up.

© 1988 Apple Computer, Inc. Macintosh, Mac and the Apple logo are registered trademarks of and The power to be your best is a trademark of Apple Computer, Inc.

Computer Center
Room 25 Math Building
8:00 AM - 5:00 PM
Associated Press

WASHINGTON - Intense interest in revamping and expanding college humanities requirements has translated into little success in the past five years, according to a study released Sunday.

The study sponsored by the National Endowment for the Humanities found that students are only slightly more likely to have to take such courses in order to graduate, and it is possible to bypass many significant fields of knowledge en route to a degree.

General requirements in the humanities area rose an average of 1.5 hours from 1983-84 to 1988-89 - a 6.2 percent increase, according to the study of course requirements at 496 colleges and universities.

Afghanistan

On Sunday, rebels based in Pakistan reported Soviet bombing and missile attacks along the Salang Highway, which claimed the lives of 600 civilians who want to keep the highway open.

The South Bend Mini Mites entertain the crowd at the Joyce ACC between the first and second periods.

The fastest game in town

The Observer / Scott McCann

of Notre Dame's hockey game on Friday night.

Dr. Tavel's Premium Optical says

SAVE ON EYECARE & EYEWEAR

Nobody beats our price and our quality can't be better.

The Masculine Look New Generation

$998 $998

$1998 $1998

$2998 $2998

$3998 $3998

Exotic Fashions

25% Off Prescription Lenses with Frame Purchase.

Dr. Tavel's Premium Optical

Prices for Frame Only. Many frames available in each price category. Other frames available at various prices. All sales are final. No refunds or exchanges. We reserve the right to restrict quantities purchased. No wholesale discount please. No other discounts, previous orders or sale items apply.

SEATING CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Scott McCann
Debates incite a questioning of values

The Notre Dame student population is 92 percent Catholic. Many Notre Dame students voted for Bush in the presidential election last November. But although the overwhelming majority of ND students consider themselves both Republican and Catholic, very few actually know what the Republican Party stands for, or what values the Catholic Church upholds.

Cindy Petries

"is the content of Catholic social teaching currently in conflict with the way the Church and the Republican Party disagree, or what values they represent. Anyone could say, for example, that both the Republican and the Catholic Church oppose abortion, but that does not necessarily mean that the two institutions uphold identical values systems. After all, one could just as easily cite issues on which the Church and the Republican Party disagree, or which Catholic values the Catholic Church upholds. That's being lazy.

But although the overwhelming majority of ND students choose for them, or join the biggest crowd. That's not being Republican. That's not being Catholic. That's being lazy.

Those who profess to be Catholic have the responsibility to do their homework on what the Church stands for, and if they disagree with it, to question it. But the overwhelming majority of ND students do not just walk out of their homes and vote, but actually choose for themselves. How many people decide among the philosophies guiding these two institutions, and what they represent. Anyone could say, for example, that both the Republican and Democratic Party should not only know what the party stands on gun control or abortion, but the philosophy determining that party stance. Issues are important in themselves to be sure, but even more so for the way they illustrate the underlying values they represent. Anyone could say, for example, that both the Republican and the Catholic Church oppose abortion, but that does not necessarily mean that the two institutions uphold identical values systems. After all, one could just as easily cite issues on which the Church and the Republican Party disagree, or which Catholic values the Catholic Church upholds. That's being lazy.

Tonight's Iceberg Debate, though it involves a hot, controversial issue, is not aimed at pointing any fingers, branding a particular political philosophy as anti-Catholic, or creating conflict simply for conflict's sake. It is a means to stimulate thought.

On a campus such as ours it is frighteningly easy for students to close themselves off from the outside world and restrict themselves both physically and mentally to this green little microcosm under the Golden Dome's shadow. Apathy is an easy way out, but the world does not just end where one sets foot off the campus. There are things worse than failing one's physics exam, for example, problems like apartheid and world hunger, and the breakdown of the environment. Although these problems may not affect us directly, they merit our consideration and thought, especially if, by labeling ourselves as Catholic, Republican, or Democrat, we are going to take a stand as to how to solve these problems, or decide not to face them at all.

These labels-Catholic, Republican, Democrat—are comfortable to many. They put us into socially acceptable categories and give us the security of a ready-made point of view. But blind support of any party is no substitute for making up one's own mind. Moreover, labels are meaningless if you don't know what they represent.
W hat goes around comes around. Now it is Notre Dame's turn to spin the big wheel. Students will have a chance to buy vowels, guess puzzles and even cheer as Vanna presents the showroom full of valuable prizes for real.

JOE BUCOLO

To Be Continued . . .

On Friday, February 3, "Wheel of Fortune," the highest-rated game show in television history, will conduct a contestant search right here on campus. The search is open to all students, faculty, and members of the administration.

The purpose of the search is to gather a team of four students to compete in an upcoming "College Week." Also competing in the special week of "Wheel" will be students from the Universities of Oklahoma, Miami, and Hawaii.

Those who try out and do not make the team may be chosen to compete on a regular episode of "Wheel": so there is even more reason for everyone to try. Interviews will take place on Friday, February 3 at Theodore's. Doors will open at 1:00 p.m., and the first one hundred people in line will be admitted.

Those competitors will participate in a 15-puzzle competition similar to that seen on the show. Puzzles will fall into the categories of "person," "place," and "thing." Those conducting the search will present a puzzle with a few consonants revealed. They will continue to place letters until someone solves the puzzle. The competition will continue until only four players remain. Those four will constitute the official Notre Dame "Wheel of Fortune" team. The whole selection process is expected to take anywhere from two and a half to three hours.

"Wheel" representatives are looking for contestants with a genuine spirit of entertainment, a sense of humor, and a knowledge of how to play "Wheel of Fortune" effectively. Those chosen to be contestants with a high level of game-playing skills. Thus, this search will seek students with a high level of "Wheel-playing know how."

The taping of all five of the "College Week" games will take place on Saturday, April 8 in Burbank, California.

"Wheel of Fortune" will not provide travel arrangements or places to stay; however, the show is currently contacting California-based alumni groups from all four universities to help defray the costs. No air date has been set for this "College Week."

The "College Week" competition will take place on the nighttime "Wheel" starring Pat Sajak and Vanna White. The four teams will compete in the first four games. Students will keep any cash and prizes they win during these first four games. The top three teams after the fourth game will progress on to the fifth game. Any prizes received during this round will become the property of the universities. "Wheel" has given away over $600,000 in cash and prizes during the past nine "College Weeks."

Those chosen to be contestants individually on regular episodes of the show will be notified by mail. They will receive a one year eligibility to appear on the show--either the daytime or nighttime version. Of course, all travel expenses will be the responsibility of the contestants.

The best practice for the competition is daily viewing of "Wheel of Fortune." Smart playing and a perky personality will transform some lucky Domers from "Wheel Watchers" to "Wheel Players."

The lighter side of Wall Street

BETH HEALY

accent editor

Perhaps the recent stock market crash scared filmmakers, but whatever the reason, Twentieth Century Fox's new film "Working Girl" avoids the pessimism of the 1986 hit "Wall Street" and treats business with a touch of humor. "Working Girl" takes a different look at the business world: instead of focusing on the men who move up the corporate ladder and are in charge, this film looks at the women who are really the heart of the operation.

The film's main character, Tess McGill (Melanie Griffith), is a secretary who is working in New York's brokerage industry. She is striving to break from the stagnant secretarial pool and escape from the low pay and endless commutes on the Staten Island Ferry. Job after job, Tess is plagued by bosses who fail to take her seriously and respect her dream to move up in the company--respectfully. To top it off, she discovers her boyfriend with one of her friends and she must find a new place to live.

Tess' best friend, Cyn (Joan Cusack from "Broadcast News"), is so outrageous that you can't help but smile whenever she comes on-screen. Her magenta eyes, shadowed, spiked heels, constant New Jersey accent are enough to make any conscientious boss cringe. But Tess, her sense of humor and underlying competence can only shine if allowed.

The subject of this film is the secretarial world, the everyday people doing ordinary jobs, like clerical skills. But the film also demonstrates something that many bosses don't realize: that many secretaries do--the secretaries most likely know how to do what the bosses are doing. Just, from watching and taking care of details day after day. Like many other people in her position, Tess realizes that she can do better and, if given the chance, she could be vital in the business world.

When her fourth boss, Kathe rine Parker (Sigourney Weaver), tells Tess that their relationship is not just boss and secretary, but a team, Tess is hopeful. But when Katherine breaks her leg and Tess must manage the office, Tess learns that Katherine has not really regarded their relationship on a teamwork level. Tess, like Michael J. Fox in "Secret of My Suc­cess," takes the opportunity of an absent boss to test her abilities as an executive.

Tess is successful, but she learns that she must shed her secretarial image and find a bit of class in her act. In the meantime, she befriends Jack Trainer (Harrison Ford), who is unaware of her masquerade, but who treats her as an experienced and respected businesswoman. An interesting love triangle develops, which can only prove to complicate further her situation with Katherine if her plot is discovered.

Predictably, she is found out and she realizes that she must face up to her mistakes. But what she has done has not gone unnoticed. In this film, unlike "Wall Street," good intentions pay off for a comical and interesting twist.

The enjoyable part of this movie is watching Melanie Griffith unfold Tess' character into a gotchy, intelligent woman in the business world. Although Ford and Weaver play supporting roles, all three characters balance well with Tess' subtle personality.

"Working Girl" takes a look at Wall Street business at an understandable and down-to-earth level. Unlike "Wall Street" the characters are everyday people who find humor in themselves and also admit to making mistakes. Without all of the broker jargon and drugs, "Working Girl" approaches this American scene (hopefully) a more patriotic way: the business people enjoy their work and notice more than just money. And unlike many films of the eighties, this one centers around down-to-earth people with everyday problems.

Calvin and Hobbes

Bill Watterson

MONDAY, January 30, 1989
Ohio State upsets Louisville

Associated Press

Louisville lost its chance for No. 1 and its top player, too. The third-ranked Cardinals, unable to hold a lead after Pervis Ellison was injured, fell to 17-8 Ohio State 58-79 Sunday.

Earlier this week, No. 1 Illini and No. 2 Georgetown lost. Louisville's defeat left No. 4 at the top.

No. 3 played at No. 4, and that's where Louisville was going to stay. Not anymore.

Ellison, the team's leading scorer, strained a ligament in his left knee while scrambling for a loose ball just before halftime. Dr. Rudy Ellis, Louisville's physician, said he would determine the extent of Ellison's injury Monday.

"He's good motion and there is no fluid on the knee. I'm optimistic about his condition," Ellis said.

Duke, 92, Clemson 62

Danny Ferry and Quin Snyder led a 25-3 spurt as Duke broke a 25-game losing streak by beating a team with out six players suspended for one game for what was called "violations of basketball team policy regarding academic study hall rules." But they gave the Blue Devils a big scare. It was the Blue Devils' fourth winning streak, just 30-28 despite missing two starters, center Elden Campbell and guard Mark charming, and top reserves Dale Davis and Tim Kincade.

Michigan 99, Purdue 88

Glen Rice scored 13 first-half points and 15 second-half shots, sparking No. 1 Michigan past Purdue in their nation televised Big Ten game Sunday.

O'Meara wins tourney with putt on final hole

Associated Press

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. - Mark O'Meara made a 6-foot birdie putt on the final hole of Sunday's Pebble Beach National Pro-Am. No, the Tigers weren't looking for a last-minute tip. The crowd wanted to see Clemson assistant trainer Dennis Hof, who on Sunday became a Tiger reserve player following the suspension of six players because of violation of academic study hall rules.

The suspension players, including starters Elden Campbell and Mark charming, and reserves Dale Davis and Tim Kincade, sat on the bench during the game, and were not available for comment afterwards. But Hof, one of the seven who remained, has a lot to say.

"I'm very excited," Hof said, "I'm getting ready to go to practice and coach (Don) Hogan called me up and asked me how would I like to play against Duke? I couldn't believe it," Hof told reporters in the Clemson lockerroom.

"I just said, yeah. I was at the gym before he could hang up the phone," he said.

With two minutes left to play, Hof stopped from the decimalsed Clemson bench, took off his warm-up, and into the, bringing up a crew from what was left of the crowd at the 92-62 victory. Hof had specific instructions to practice because Coach Cliff Ellis had told the other four players to make sure Hof got the ball.

"I couldn't believe it," he said, "It was just the greatest thing that could have happened," Hof said to get a shot like that. He really made somebody's fantasy come true.

O'Meara, who has won the last two titles, and finished off a round of 108,000 from the total purse of $1 million.

Louisiana's defeat left No. 4 at the top. No. 3 played at No. 4, and that's where Louisville was going to stay. Not anymore.

Ellison, the team's leading scorer, strained a ligament in his left knee while scrambling for a loose ball just before halftime. Dr. Rudy Ellis, Louisville's physician, said he would determine the extent of Ellison's injury Monday.

"He's good motion and there is no fluid on the knee. I'm optimistic about his condition," Ellis said.

Duke, 92, Clemson 62

Danny Ferry and Quin Snyder led a 25-3 spurt as Duke broke a 25-game losing streak by beating a team with out six players suspended for one game for what was called "violations of basketball team policy regarding academic study hall rules." But they gave the Blue Devils a big scare. It was the Blue Devils' fourth winning streak, just 30-28 despite missing two starters, center Elden Campbell and guard Mark charming, and top reserves Dale Davis and Tim Kincade.

Michigan 99, Purdue 88

Glen Rice scored 13 first-half points and 15 second-half shots, sparking No. 1 Michigan past Purdue in their nation televised Big Ten game Sunday.

O'Meara, who has won the last two titles, and finished off a round of 108,000 from the total purse of $1 million.

Kite, who lost a playoff in the rich National Basketball Championships at Pebble Beach in November, had a share of the lead and was standing by the 18th green when O'Meara's winner found the cup.

There was little consolation in the $100,000 check for second place, which lifted Kite into third place and returned all time-money-will-winning list. He now trails only Jack Nick- laus and Tom Watson.

"Finishing second for the second straight year. It really hurts," Kite said.
Ivan Lendl won the Australian Open with a straight-set victory over Miloslav Mecir. The win vaulted Lendl back atop the tennis rankings with the French Open the next Grand Slam event on the tour.

Associated Press

MELBOURNE, Australia -- Ivan Lendl had two New Year's resolutions: win the Australian Open and win Wimbledon. Now he has one.

Lendl beat ninth-seeded Miloslav Mecir of Czechoslovakia 6-2, 6-2, 6-2 Sunday for his first Australian Open title, regaining the No. 1 ranking in the world.

"I wanted to win this tournament very badly," he said. "It's such a tremendous feeling. I can't describe it.

The championship was more important to Lendl than the No. 1 ranking in men's tennis.

"I didn't come here to be No. 1, I came here to win the tournament."

Mecir, who lost his only previous Grand Slam final to Lendl at the 1986 U.S. Open, said this loss was more disappointing.

"At the U.S. Open, I did what I could, and he was just stronger," said Mecir, who had 14 aces, was double-faulted 10 times, often on critical points. "But today I think I might have had a chance if I had served better."

Lendl, who had 14 aces, was surprised by Mecir's shaky serve.

"I haven't seen him serve that badly for a long, long time," he said. "When he started to serve those double-faults, I couldn't believe my luck.

Mecir tried to negate Lendl's baseline power by hitting a lot of short shots, but Lendl waited patiently for his chances to catch the Olympic champion out of position.

"It wasn't pretty, but it worked," McCarron said. "I didn't come here to play him."
ND hockey earns sweep of Canisius

By STEVE MEGARGEE
Assistant Sports Editor

Notre Dame hockey coach Ric Schafer hasn't had many reasons to smile this season. But the second-year Irish coach was about as happy as his team has been all season after watching Notre Dame (9-21-2) sweep two games from Canisius (11-19-3), this weekend at the Joyce ACC. "It really looked like we were having fun playing the game," Schafer said after Saturday's 5-2 victory. "We seem to be playing with a lot more enthusiasm." Notre Dame has won three of its last six since suffering a school-record 14-game losing streak earlier this season.

The weekend was a showcase for Irish goalie Lance Madison. The junior from Minnetonka, Minn., made 29 saves in record-breaking fashion to lead the Irish to a 5-2 win over Canisius Saturday. Madison stopped 29 of 31 shots for his second career shutout Saturday, and he was unflappable in the victory. "Lance Madison is so good," said Schafer. "If we had a little better hockey team, we'd be on the pro scouts' itineraries. He's already caught the eye of some pro scouts. He's a good goaltender, unflappable.

Notre Dame scored three goals in the first period of Friday's game. Co-captain Brian Montgomery scored Notre Dame a 1-0 lead 10 minutes into the game, then Bruce Guay and Mark Szymusiak scored three times in the final 9:00 of the period. Montgomery scored his goal on a penalty shot.

"Our defense did good things when it counted," said Irish head coach Digger Phelps. "Those (Temple) really know how to score. They've got guys who were on a top-ranked team last year, and they're always ready to play. We showed a lot of poise and composure down the stretch." They have a lot of weapons," Chaney said. "They hit the big shot at the right time. We had to do a super job for a long time to keep up." Chaney is one of the more outspoken coaches in opposition of the NCAA's Proposition 42, which places more requirements for college athletic scholarship eligibility. He said the demands on his time regarding the issue have become a problem. "It's definitely been a drain and a strain," Chaney said. "I never thought I'd be doing this, asking educators to give youngsters an opportunity.

Irish forward Kevin Ellery has been declared academically ineligible for the remainder of the season. Ellery, a sophomore, did not return in the fall of this year. He was a .400 hitter for the Wisconsin-Green Bay team before transferring to Notre Dame. "Those guys have been playing together for four years," Schafer said of the Herber-Hanzel connection that struck for two goals Saturday. "They're coming down the stretch now, and it's nice to see them make some give-and-go plays." The last Irish goal came in a shorthand situation. Just nine seconds into the Canisius power play, David Bankoske scored a breakaway goal that sealed the end for the Ice Griffs. Two Canisius defenders were on Bankoske's heels the whole way, but neither could stop Notre Dame's leading scorer from getting the unassisted goal.

That proved to be the last goal of the weekend for both teams. With 5:20 left to play in the Parent's Night contest, Schafer inserted second-string goalie Mark O'Sullivan into the game. The senior from Dorchester, Mass., recorded five saves while protecting the 5-2 Irish lead.

Notre Dame next faces Michigan-Dearborn in a home-and-away series this weekend. The two teams will meet at the Joyce ACC Friday night.

The Observer / Matt Minuss

The Notre Dame hockey squad swept Canisius over the weekend. The Irish improved to 9-21-2 and have a home-and-away series with Michigan-Dearborn slated for this weekend.

Irish

continued from page 16

shots with two minutes to go. Then the Irish experience paid off. Predrick hit a clutch 16-foot jump shot, followed by a Singleton free throw to put the Irish lead at three with 27 seconds to go. The Owls were forced to foul, and the Irish hit two of three to make the final 64-60.

The Notre Dame defense held Macou, who was averaging 20.3 points per game, to 14 points, four from the foul line. He was 0-for-five from three-point range.

Irish forward Kevin Ellery has been declared academically ineligible for the remainder of the season. Ellery, a sophomore, did not achieve the 2.0 grade point average in the fall semester. Ellery averaged 5.9 points and 2.8 rebounds in eight games for the Irish, including 15 points in the 81-65 win over Kentucky at the Big Four Classic in Indianapolis. He will remain in school and could return in the fall of this year.

Vocation Discernment Retreat

For those who are considering a vocation to priesthood and religious life in Holy Cross as a possibility.

Founders of the University of Notre Dame, Holy Cross Priests & Brothers serve in a variety of worldwide ministries: schools, religious missions, parishes and auxiliary services.

PURPOSE: To meet and pray with others who are also searching in a supportive atmosphere

DISCERNMENT: Is the art of finding God's will; it is the process of discovering what we are called to be.

PLACE: Fatima Retreat Center — Notre Dame campus

DATE: Begins Friday, February 10th at 7:30 PM

Ends Saturday, February 11th at 9:00 PM

Cost: No cost

REGISTRATION: Call Vocation Office at 239-6385

Sunday, January 31, 1989

ALL MAJORS & CLASSES WELCOME!
Depleted Irish come up short

By MOLLY MAHONEY
Sports Writer

Statistically, the final standings in the Notre Dame men's track meet in Madison, Wis., were not pretty. But sheet sheets neglect to mention that the Irish squad were out with the flu--and faced the Big Ten in Wisconsin and two of the strongest teams in the country, as Wisconsin, defending cross country champion, and Iowa State, who finished behind Wisconsin's 81.5 and Iowa, dominated the remainder of the game, sinking nearly all of their shots. "It was a real nail-bitter," said Belles' coach Marvin Wood. "We were even all the way, but slipped back during the last 50 minutes. Tri-State was the winner of our District last year and has all of their players back, so they were tough competition." Junior Julie Radke displayed her talent again as she led in all aspects of the game. She was the leading scorer with 14 points, pulled down 14 rebounds, had 4 assists and 4 steals.

The next game for the Belles will be Friday at Anderson College.

SMC swimming team coasts past Chicago

By LIZ VANDERSAR
Sports Writer

The Saint Mary's swim team Saturday downed the University of Chicago, 143-76.

"We may not have won the meet," said Bush, "but we're confident about future meets. Everyone has been working really hard and I think we're going to have a great year."
Women swimmers stop skid

By MARY GARINO
Sports Writer

The women's swim team broke out of their three-meet losing streak in impressive fashion by collecting two wins over the weekend. The Irish defeated Cleveland State last Thursday, and followed up by pounding St. Bonaventure on Saturday by a score of 209-88.

Notre Dame won 13 events in the meet against St. Bonaventure, including two wins each for Tracy Johnson, Christy Meston and Becky Wood. The trio has consequently been the top finishers for the Irish women.

Wood's performance was especially exciting because she is from Olean, N.Y., and she swam well in front of her home town. But Coach Tim Welsh was quick to point out that the win against St. Bonaventure was a total team effort. "This was our best overall team meet," he said. "It was a total team breakthrough, it wasn't just because two or three people swam well. We are a team of depth.

Welsh added that the women's team raced faster and more cohesively than ever before, a result of extensive training earlier this year. The swimmers' times have steadily improved over the last four meets, as they have improved their record at 5-5.

The men's swim team defeated Cleveland State 198-85, but they were unable to beat a strong and competitive St. Bonaventure team, losing by a score of 101-142.

"St. Bonaventure won the key races, so they won the meet," said Welsh. "As in any swimming contest, the team that is most prepared at the transition moments will win.

St. Bonaventure won last year's Eastern Intercollegiate Championships, and has always been a tough team to beat. There is a strong rivalry between the Notre Dame and St. Bonaventure. The home team has won the meet for the last two years.

"This is a picture of collegiate swimming at its best," Welsh stated. "It was highly intense and emotional, yet it was clean and honorable competition.

Spark
continued from page 16
Singleton said, "They (Indiana) were sagging on defense and respecting the inside game." Singleton now has a team-high 71 assists and is asserting himself as an offensive leader, but he knows there is still room for improvement—especially in the area of free throws.

He was only 1-5 from the foul line, with two of those misses coming in the last minute of the game. That was relatively uncharacteristic, as Singleton came into the game shooting 74.2 percent.

"That's something I really need to work on," Singleton said. "I did not do a good job of making free throws in the second half.

Sophomore Jim Byrne was the highlight of the meet for the Irish, recording victories in both the 50 breaststroke and the 200 individual medley. Byrne and Joe Rentz were second in the 200 butterfly.

"Overall the team performance was strong, aggressive and consistent," Welsh said. "We didn't fade. The meet was a lot closer than the score indicated." "Both the men and women handled themselves well athletically and as representatives of the University," Welsh noted.

Personal highlights from the weekend were Brian Rini's record breaking performance in the 100 freestyle. Rini, a sophomore from Ohio, recorded a time of 9:40.55, a new University record by three seconds, during the Cleveland State meet. Also, Allison Baker, a freshman, qualified for the Regional Diving Championships, from which the participants in the NCAA Championships are chosen.

The Observer Monday, January 30, 1989

Women continued from page 16

and the steady play of sophomore guard Sarah Liebesch, who finished with 13 points and six assists.

Kris Davis pulled down eight rebounds for the Irish to go with her nine points. Lisa Kohs hit back-to-back three-pointers just 30 seconds apart late in the first half while freshman forward Deb Fitzgerald added eight points in 12 minutes of play.

"I was very happy with Deb Fitzgerald today, said McRae. "Daytona was playing a triangle-and-two and that left one of our wings open most of the time. Lisa and Deb were able to capitalize on that."

The Irish next see action on Thursday when they travel to Detroit.

Women swimmers stop skid

By MARY GARINO
Sports Writer

The women's swim team broke out of their three-meet losing streak in impressive fashion by collecting two wins over the weekend. The Irish defeated Cleveland State last Thursday, and followed up by pounding St. Bonaventure on Saturday by a score of 209-88.

Notre Dame won 13 events in the meet against St. Bonaventure, including two wins each for Tracy Johnson, Christy Meston and Becky Wood. The trio has consequently been the top finishers for the Irish women.

Wood's performance was especially exciting because she is from Olean, N.Y., and she swam well in front of her home town. But Coach Tim Welsh was quick to point out that the win against St. Bonaventure was a total team effort. "This was our best overall team meet," he said. "It was a total team breakthrough, it wasn't just because two or three people swam well. We are a team of depth.

Welsh added that the women's team raced faster and more cohesively than ever before, a result of extensive training earlier this year. The swimmers' times have steadily improved over the last four meets, as they have improved their record at 5-5.

The men's swim team defeated Cleveland State 198-85, but they were unable to beat a strong and competitive St. Bonaventure team, losing by a score of 101-142.

"St. Bonaventure won the key races, so they won the meet," said Welsh. "As in any swimming contest, the team that is most prepared at the transition moments will win.

St. Bonaventure won last year's Eastern Intercollegiate Championships, and has always been a tough team to beat. There is a strong rivalry between the Notre Dame and St. Bonaventure. The home team has won the meet for the last two years.

"This is a picture of collegiate swimming at its best," Welsh stated. "It was highly intense and emotional, yet it was clean and honorable competition.

Spark
continued from page 16
Singleton said, "They (Indiana) were sagging on defense and respecting the inside game." Singleton now has a team-high 71 assists and is asserting himself as an offensive leader, but he knows there is still room for improvement—especially in the area of free throws.

He was only 1-5 from the foul line, with two of those misses coming in the last minute of the game. That was relatively uncharacteristic, as Singleton came into the game shooting 74.2 percent.

"That's something I really need to work on," Singleton said. "I did not do a good job of making free throws in the second half.

Sophomore Jim Byrne was the highlight of the meet for the Irish, recording victories in both the 50 breaststroke and the 200 individual medley. Byrne and Joe Rentz were second in the 200 butterfly.

"Overall the team performance was strong, aggressive and consistent," Welsh said. "We didn't fade. The meet was a lot closer than the score indicated." "Both the men and women handled themselves well athletically and as representatives of the University," Welsh noted.

Personal highlights from the weekend were Brian Rini's record breaking performance in the 100 freestyle. Rini, a sophomore from Ohio, recorded a time of 9:40.55, a new University record by three seconds, during the Cleveland State meet. Also, Allison Baker, a freshman, qualified for the Regional Diving Championships, from which the participants in the NCAA Championships are chosen.

The Observer Monday, January 30, 1989

Women continued from page 16

and the steady play of sophomore guard Sarah Liebesch, who finished with 13 points and six assists.

Kris Davis pulled down eight rebounds for the Irish to go with her nine points. Lisa Kohs hit back-to-back three-pointers just 30 seconds apart late in the first half while freshman forward Deb Fitzgerald added eight points in 12 minutes of play.

"I was very happy with Deb Fitzgerald today, said McRae. "Daytona was playing a triangle-and-two and that left one of our wings open most of the time. Lisa and Deb were able to capitalize on that."

The Irish next see action on Thursday when they travel to Detroit.

Women swimmers stop skid

By MARY GARINO
Sports Writer

The women's swim team broke out of their three-meet losing streak in impressive fashion by collecting two wins over the weekend. The Irish defeated Cleveland State last Thursday, and followed up by pounding St. Bonaventure on Saturday by a score of 209-88.

Notre Dame won 13 events in the meet against St. Bonaventure, including two wins each for Tracy Johnson, Christy Meston and Becky Wood. The trio has consequently been the top finishers for the Irish women.

Wood's performance was especially exciting because she is from Olean, N.Y., and she swam well in front of her home town. But Coach Tim Welsh was quick to point out that the win against St. Bonaventure was a total team effort. "This was our best overall team meet," he said. "It was a total team breakthrough, it wasn't just because two or three people swam well. We are a team of depth.

Welsh added that the women's team raced faster and more cohesively than ever before, a result of extensive training earlier this year. The swimmers' times have steadily improved over the last four meets, as they have improved their record at 5-5.

The men's swim team defeated Cleveland State 198-85, but they were unable to beat a strong and competitive St. Bonaventure team, losing by a score of 101-142.

"St. Bonaventure won the key races, so they won the meet," said Welsh. "As in any swimming contest, the team that is most prepared at the transition moments will win.

St. Bonaventure won last year's Eastern Intercollegiate Championships, and has always been a tough team to beat. There is a strong rivalry between the Notre Dame and St. Bonaventure. The home team has won the meet for the last two years.

"This is a picture of collegiate swimming at its best," Welsh stated. "It was highly intense and emotional, yet it was clean and honorable competition.

Spark
continued from page 16
Singleton said, "They (Indiana) were sagging on defense and respecting the inside game." Singleton now has a team-high 71 assists and is asserting himself as an offensive leader, but he knows there is still room for improvement—especially in the area of free throws.

He was only 1-5 from the foul line, with two of those misses coming in the last minute of the game. That was relatively uncharacteristic, as Singleton came into the game shooting 74.2 percent.

"That's something I really need to work on," Singleton said. "I did not do a good job of making free throws in the second half.

Sophomore Jim Byrne was the highlight of the meet for the Irish, recording victories in both the 50 breaststroke and the 200 individual medley. Byrne and Joe Rentz were second in the 200 butterfly.

"Overall the team performance was strong, aggressive and consistent," Welsh said. "We didn't fade. The meet was a lot closer than the score indicated." "Both the men and women handled themselves well athletically and as representatives of the University," Welsh noted.

Personal highlights from the weekend were Brian Rini's record breaking performance in the 100 freestyle. Rini, a sophomore from Ohio, recorded a time of 9:40.55, a new University record by three seconds, during the Cleveland State meet. Also, Allison Baker, a freshman, qualified for the Regional Diving Championships, from which the participants in the NCAA Championships are chosen.

The Observer Monday, January 30, 1989

Women continued from page 16

and the steady play of sophomore guard Sarah Liebesch, who finished with 13 points and six assists.

Kris Davis pulled down eight rebounds for the Irish to go with her nine points. Lisa Kohs hit back-to-back three-pointers just 30 seconds apart late in the first half while freshman forward Deb Fitzgerald added eight points in 12 minutes of play.

"I was very happy with Deb Fitzgerald today, said McRae. "Daytona was playing a triangle-and-two and that left one of our wings open most of the time. Lisa and Deb were able to capitalize on that."

The Irish next see action on Thursday when they travel to Detroit.
NEW YORK TIMES CROSSWORD

ACROSS
1. Look neatly
2. High mountains
3. Part of Q.E.D.
4. Brother of Moses
5. Scarcly
6. Jay ——, Carson's substitute host
7. Fast light
8. Leave out
9. Landed
10. Faint
11. Part of a shoe
12. Ore
13. Symbol
14. Brother of Moses
15. Scarce
16. Transportation price
17. Nourished
18. Organic compound
19. Not
20. Complex
21. Malentreated
22. Allen or Nahum of poetic fame
23. Prairie flower
24. Greek
25. Greenish blue
26. Glass plate
27. Capital
28. California
29. Bond
30. Birthplace
31. Fortuneteller's compound
32. Transportation 64 Units
33. President
34. Pope
35. Hot time in Paris
36. Hot time in Paris
37. Bird --- new wort
38. Lamprey
39. Pintail duck
40. Capital of Norway
41. Neoprene
42. Exertion
43. Prefix
44. Fencing sword
45. Viewpoint
46. Fencing sword
47. Half: Prefix
48. Reduction
49. Perfection
50. Symbol of Judaism
51. Oregon or Santa Fe
52. Passageway
53. Gift recipient
54. Sports place
55. Waistcoats
56. Part
57. Half
58. Nourished
59. Narrow opening
60. Pollution
61. Kane
62. Repose
63. Final
64. Units
65. Animated
66. Tosses
67. Budget item
68. Covers the inner surface
69. "Rosebud"
70. Socials
71. Begin
72. Leader
73. Leader
74. Leader
75. Leader
76. Leader
77. Leader
78. Leader
79. Leader
80. Leader
81. Leader
82. Leader
83. Leader
84. Leader
85. Leader
86. Leader
87. Leader
88. Leader
89. Leader
90. Leader
91. Leader
92. Leader
93. Leader
94. Leader
95. Leader
96. Leader
97. Leader
98. Leader
99. Leader
100. Leader
101. Leader

DOWN
1. Droops
2. Mineral powder
3. Scope
4. Shout
5. Catch in a net
6. Fragrance
7. Debussy opus
8. Heavyweight champ
9. Place aside
10. Jubilation
11. Reduce tension
12. Author Loses
13. Amperes
14. Piano
15. Player
16. Sprinkle
17. Numbers in a column
18. Ape
19. God
20. Bills
21. Ape
22. God
23. Gods
24. Guise
25. Greenish blue
26. Circular plate
27. Returnee noble
28. Cordella's father
29. Pierced
30. "Honest"
31. President
32. Opposite ofDam
33. Hot time in Paris
34. Hot time in Paris
35. Hot time in Paris
36. Hot time in Paris
37. Bird --- new wort
38. Lamprey
39. Pintail duck
40. Capital of Norway
41. Half: Prefix
42. Exertion
43. Perfection
44. Prefix
45. Prefix
46. Prefix
47. Prefix
48. Prefix
49. Prefix
50. Prefix
51. Oregon or Santa Fe
52. Passageway
53. Gift recipient
54. Sports place
55. Waistcoats
56. Narrow opening
57. Turner or Louise
58. Always
59. Repose

There's an epidemic with 27 million victims. And no visible symptoms.

It's an epidemic of people who can't read. Join the fight against illiteracy by calling toll-free 1-800-228-8803.

Volunteer Against Illiteracy. The only degree you need is a degree of caring.

Ad Coalition for Literacy
ND wins National Catholics

Duro becomes Notre Dame's winnigest wrestler

By DAVE McMAHON
Sports Writer

Jerry Durso won his fourth consecutive National Catholic Tournament championship and set a new record for most wins in a career in leading the Irish wrestling squad to the team title Sunday night at the Joyce ACC.

Notre Dame, with a total of 127 points, placed 10 wrestlers in the finals and came away with six victories in dominating the tournament.

"I was pleased with our effort," said head coach Frank McVeigh. "We're ready to go and wrestled with intensity."

In the opening match of the championship bracket, Andy Rendrenough broke open an 8-5 lead to win the 174-pound title over John Carroll's Nick Salantine at 118 pounds.

At the 138-pound division, top-seeded freshman Marcus Goods dropped a 3-1 opening period lead before falling to Mike Paolin of Marquette in overtime. Goods, who drops to 18-9, needed an advantage-time point at the end of the third period to send the match into overtime. Paolino, 19-1-1, led 3-0 after the second overtime, but a feisty Goods put a strong effort before falling 3-2.

"Marcus just had a mental letdown," said McCann. "He had it won but just let it get away in the third."

With 40 left and Goods ahead 3-2, Paold scored two points to take the lead.

Senior Jerry Durso noted career victories 119 and 120 as he controlled his final match and won by a 10-1 tally. The wins, which improve Durso to 25-2 and set a new Notre Dame mark for most in a career, propelled him to his fourth straight National Catholic Tournament championship. The previous record of 118 wins was held by Bill Baty, who completed his career at 118-40.

Pat Boyd, after working out only two days before the tournament because of an injury that kept him sidelined for five weeks, took the 142-pound title with a 10-1 win over third-seeded Mike Collica. The match was never close as Boyd led 6-1 heading into the fifth period.

"He's one of our leaders and it's great to have him back," said McCann. "Tod Layton, Doug Paolino, Mike McVeigh and I got a little lethargic and lack of defense, but we put it together at the end."

The Irish held a 32-27 advantage at the half and Dayton quickly closed the gap to five when Nobett Dobson hit a layup off yet another offensive rebound.

Pleasant would finish the game with 20 points and 12 rebounds.

"Pleasant is a good player," said McVeigh. "We tried to front him and get some help behind her but she still got it back. We were in position. She just beat us to the ball."

At three-point plays,由 Karen Robinson and Diondra Toney, along with a 3-pointer by Bob Marquett in the 3-7 lead at 13-44. Dayton hung tough, they worked the irises in the closer than six. Notre Dame found four rebounds to Dayton's five.

"We let them back into the game for awhile in the middle," said Irish head coach Jerry Durso. "We got a little lethargic and lack of defense, but we put it together at the end."

The Irish held a 32-27 advantage at the half and Dayton quickly closed the gap to five when Nobett Dobson hit a layup off yet another offensive rebound.

Pleasant would finish the game with 20 points and 12 rebounds.

"Pleasant is a good player," said McVeigh. "We tried to front her and get some help behind her but she still got it back. We were in position. She just beat us to the ball."

At three-point plays,由 Karen Robinson and Diondra Toney, along with a 3-pointer by Bob Marquett in the 3-7 lead at 13-44. Dayton hung tough, they worked the irises in the closer than six. Notre Dame found four rebounds to Dayton's five.

"We let them back into the game for awhile in the middle," said Irish head coach Jerry Durso. "We got a little lethargic and lack of defense, but we put it together at the end."

The Irish held a 32-27 advantage at the half and Dayton quickly closed the gap to five when Nobett Dobson hit a layup off yet another offensive rebound.

Pleasant would finish the game with 20 points and 12 rebounds.

"Pleasant is a good player," said McVeigh. "We tried to front her and get some help behind her but she still got it back. We were in position. She just beat us to the ball."

At three-point plays,由 Karen Robinson and Diondra Toney, along with a 3-pointer by Bob Marquett in the 3-7 lead at 13-44. Dayton hung tough, they worked the irises in the closer than six. Notre Dame found four rebounds to Dayton's five.

"We let them back into the game for awhile in the middle," said Irish head coach Jerry Durso. "We got a little lethargic and lack of defense, but we put it together at the end."

The Irish held a 32-27 advantage at the half and Dayton quickly closed the gap to five when Nobett Dobson hit a layup off yet another offensive rebound.

Pleasant would finish the game with 20 points and 12 rebounds.

"Pleasant is a good player," said McVeigh. "We tried to front her and get some help behind her but she still got it back. We were in position. She just beat us to the ball."

At three-point plays,由 Karen Robinson and Diondra Toney, along with a 3-pointer by Bob Marquett in the 3-7 lead at 13-44. Dayton hung tough, they worked the irises in the closer than six. Notre Dame found four rebounds to Dayton's five.

"We let them back into the game for awhile in the middle," said Irish head coach Jerry Durso. "We got a little lethargic and lack of defense, but we put it together at the end."

The Irish held a 32-27 advantage at the half and Dayton quickly closed the gap to five when Nobett Dobson hit a layup off yet another offensive rebound.

Pleasant would finish the game with 20 points and 12 rebounds.

"Pleasant is a good player," said McVeigh. "We tried to front her and get some help behind her but she still got it back. We were in position. She just beat us to the ball."

At three-point plays,由 Karen Robinson and Diondra Toney, along with a 3-pointer by Bob Marquett in the 3-7 lead at 13-44. Dayton hung tough, they worked the irises in the closer than six. Notre Dame found four rebounds to Dayton's five.

"We let them back into the game for awhile in the middle," said Irish head coach Jerry Durso. "We got a little lethargic and lack of defense, but we put it together at the end."

The Irish held a 32-27 advantage at the half and Dayton quickly closed the gap to five when Nobett Dobson hit a layup off yet another offensive rebound.

Pleasant would finish the game with 20 points and 12 rebounds.

"Pleasant is a good player," said McVeigh. "We tried to front her and get some help behind her but she still got it back. We were in position. She just beat us to the ball."

At three-point plays,由 Karen Robinson and Diondra Toney, along with a 3-pointer by Bob Marquett in the 3-7 lead at 13-44. Dayton hung tough, they worked the irises in the closer than six. Notre Dame found four rebounds to Dayton's five.

"We let them back into the game for awhile in the middle," said Irish head coach Jerry Durso. "We got a little lethargic and lack of defense, but we put it together at the end."

The Irish held a 32-27 advantage at the half and Dayton quickly closed the gap to five when Nobett Dobson hit a layup off yet another offensive rebound.

Pleasant would finish the game with 20 points and 12 rebounds.

"Pleasant is a good player," said McVeigh. "We tried to front her and get some help behind her but she still got it back. We were in position. She just beat us to the ball."

At three-point plays,由 Karen Robinson and Diondra Toney, along with a 3-pointer by Bob Marquett in the 3-7 lead at 13-44. Dayton hung tough, they worked the irises in thecloser than six. Notre Dame found four rebounds to Dayton's five.

"We let them back into the game for awhile in the middle," said Irish head coach Jerry Durso. "We got a little lethargic and lack of defense, but we put it together at the end."

The Irish held a 32-27 advantage at the half and Dayton quickly closed the gap to five when Nobett Dobson hit a layup off yet another offensive rebound.

Pleasant would finish the game with 20 points and 12 rebounds.

"Pleasant is a good player," said McVeigh. "We tried to front her and get some help behind her but she still got it back. We were in position. She just beat us to the ball."

At three-point plays,由 Karen Robinson and Diondra Toney, along with a 3-pointer by Bob Marquett in the 3-7 lead at 13-44. Dayton hung tough, they worked the irises in thecloser than six. Notre Dame found four rebounds to Dayton's five.

"We let them back into the game for awhile in the middle," said Irish head coach Jerry Durso. "We got a little lethargic and lack of defense, but we put it together at the end."

The Irish held a 32-27 advantage at the half and Dayton quickly closed the gap to five when Nobett Dobson hit a layup off yet another offensive rebound.

Pleasant would finish the game with 20 points and 12 rebounds.

"Pleasant is a good player," said McVeigh. "We tried to front her and get some help behind her but she still got it back. We were in position. She just beat us to the ball."

At three-point plays,由 Karen Robinson and Diondra Toney, along with a 3-pointer by Bob Marquett in the 3-7 lead at 13-44. Dayton hung tough, they worked the irises in thecloser than six. Notre Dame found four rebounds to Dayton's five.

"We let them back into the game for awhile in the middle," said Irish head coach Jerry Durso. "We got a little lethargic and lack of defense, but we put it together at the end."

The Irish held a 32-27 advantage at the half and Dayton quickly closed the gap to five when Nobett Dobson hit a layup off yet another offensive rebound.

Pleasant would finish the game with 20 points and 12 rebounds.

"Pleasant is a good player," said McVeigh. "We tried to front her and get some help behind her but she still got it back. We were in position. She just beat us to the ball."

At three-point plays,由 Karen Robinson and Diondra Toney, along with a 3-pointer by Bob Marquett in the 3-7 lead at 13-44. Dayton hung tough, they worked the irises in thecloser than six. Notre Dame found four rebounds to Dayton's five.