Students call for reform in China
Protest has violent episodes

Associated Press
BEIJING - Students on Sunday paraded on campuses, made speeches on street corners and began organizing nationwide boycott of classes to press their demands for democratic reform.

The protests in Beijing were organized and generally peaceful, but marches turned violent Saturday in Xian and Changsha. Ransacking mobs looted stores, burned cars and seized a government building. Scores were reported hurt. The unrest was perhaps the most violent since demonstrations began April 15, when the death of reformist leader Hu Yaobang stirred anti-government sentiments and an organized protest campaign by university students.

Protest leaders said students at Beijing universities planned to join a class boycott beginning Monday and to contact schools nationwide to persuade them to join. They said the boycott was a peaceful, legal attempt to force communist authorities to meet with them and discuss demands for a free press, end to official corruption and other reforms.

Many students also called for Premier Li Peng's resignation and hung posters on campus mocking him. The official Xinhua News Agency said Monday's People’s Daily newspaper contained a commentary that warned: "Social turmoil can only do good to an extremely small number of people with ulterior motives."

About 150,000 people joined Saturday in one of the biggest protests in Communist China's 40-year history, holding a 15-hour rally at Beijing's Tiananmen Square. Authorities allowed the protest to unfold, but students alleged Sunday that police beat several and injured one seriously.

Worse violence was reported Saturday in Xian and Changsha. The state-run Xinhua News Agency said rioters in Xian, a popular tourist city and capital of northwestern China's Shaanxi province, forced their way into the provincial government compound and burned buildings and vehicles.

It said 130 security officers were injured and 18 people were arrested. Xinhua said the melee began after students who had been mourning his father led thousands to protest on campus.

Hayes speaks at SMC dinner

CATHY FLYNN

Actor Helen Hayes was the guest presenter at the 10th anniversary Madaleva Society dinner Saturday night. The dinner recognized the most generous donors to Saint Mary's.

"I really do feel as if I've come home," said Hayes. The 88-year-old actress visited Saint Mary's several times between 1934 and 1961, when her friend Sister Madaleva Wolff was president.

Hayes was invited by coordinator Becky Drury as the most likely choice as a speaker for Hickey, president of Saint Mary's. "It is perhaps the most violent since demonstrations began April 15, when the death of reformist leader Hu Yaobang stirred anti-government sentiments and an organized protest campaign by university students."

Give me pancakes or give me death

Finals week is fast approaching; so we only have more weeks until the descent into hell begins. Despite the grueling tortures of finals, we can at least give the Pancake Glimpse of hope, sort of a calm before the storm: the midnight pancake breakfast.

As of you already know, the pancake breakfast is served on the Sunday night before finals. Alumni and other friends of the University serve the food, and the students get to blow off a little steam before they get back to the books. It’s that time—probably the only time in the entire year that I enjoy going to the Dining Hall.

Last semester, a lot of us were looking forward to what we thought was a Dining Hall tradition. We told all of the freshmen in our section that this semester the pancake breakfast was going to be until we realized that there wasn’t going to be one this semester. The pancake breakfast was taken off of the Dining Hall’s menu.

I don’t know why the University Food Services decided against having the pancake breakfast last semester, and I don’t know whether or not there will be a pancake breakfast this semester, but I do know one thing: we want it back. The pancake breakfast will be sorely missed if it’s cancelled again.

So with two more weeks until the end of finals week, I’ve decided to make a pitch to your friend and mine. Mr. Bill Hickey, the Director of Food Services, to let him know just how much we want the pancake breakfast to return. Dear Mr. Hickey,

I am writing you this letter as a formal request to bring back the midnight breakfast on the Sunday before finals. If you’ve already decided to have the breakfast, ignore the rest of this letter. If you have decided against the breakfast or are currently undecided, please read on.

I don’t know why the breakfast was cancelled and I’m sure you had a very good reason to cancel it, so let’s start with a clean slate and let me present my arguments for bringing back the breakfast this semester. I figure that you’re a busy guy and you’ll take my request into consideration. First, just think about all of those poor deprived freshmen who never got to experience the excitement of the midnight pancake supper. And just think what a pleasant memory it would be for our graduating seniors. A midnight pancake breakfast is a real morale booster. After we eat our pancakes, we’ll want to study some more, the more we study, the better our grades, the better our grades, the happier we are, the happier our parents are, the happier our parents are, the happier their co-workers, neighbors and relatives are. That’s a lot of joy you’re spreading with just one pancake breakfast.

One more thing, if you let us have this pancake breakfast we promise to behave. We won’t throw food after football games. We won’t make fun of the meatless cheeseburgers. Instead of saying “Oh no, not again!” we will say, “Mmmmm, Yummy. I love shells and sauce.” Instead of saying, “What’s That?” we will say, “The cheese, broccoli and rice casserole looks particularly appetizing today.”

I hope you bring back the pancake breakfast. I think that everyone will have a good time and we will be eternally grateful. The midnight pancake breakfast is truly a Notre Dame moment.

Sincerely,

Robyn Simmons

1987 plane crash is reinvestigated

DETROIT: The pilots involved in a deadly 1987 airliner crash blamed in part on a warning system failure, may have intentionally disconnected a similar alarm on another jet two days earlier, the plane's owner says, warning a new study said.

In a petition filed with the National Transportation Safety Board, Douglas Aircraft Co., a division of McDonnell Douglas Corp., said the pilots pulled a warning circuit breaker on the first plane, interrupting power to the system and silencing an unwanted warning. The Detroit News reported Sunday.

The same pilots, John Maus and David Dodds, were in control of Northwest Flight 255, a McDonnell Douglas MD-80, when it crashed on takeoff at Detroit Metropolitan Airport Aug. 16, 1987.

Pursuit continues in pipe bombing

Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS - Some­one who built it.

DETROIT - Someone matching the description of one of those men had been in the store three days before, buying BB's like those packed into the pipe bomb.

Rewards totaling more than $10,000 have been offered in the in­formation leading to the arrest and conviction of a suspect.

Six out-of-town bureau agents will join the investiga­tion this week. It is costing more than 20 the detectives working full time to solve the bombing case. But the search is on in the work of the three agents assigned to the case in the Rockville lab.

The key, Tontarsi said, probably will be identifying the brands of the various compo­nents in the bomb - the gunpow­der, the electronic detonator, the pipe.

Lab work once helped to im­plicate a suspect in the bom­bings of several abortion clinics in Florida and Washing­ton, D.C., by identifying the relatively rare explosive he used.

Investigators believe the 8-1/2, 3/8-inch pipe bomb - like those used in the Rockville lab - had been used in at least a half-dozen pipe bombs.

USSR space program challenged

Associated Press

MOSCOW - Soviets once devoted in the 1970s to celebrate their country's space successes, hailed by the party as proof of the superiority of socialism.

But with chronic shortages of everything from toothpaste to housing, the cheers are now drowned out by calls to spend available rubles on Earth.

The Soviet space program has become the latest target of Gorbachev's policy of long-suppressed public complaints.

Yuri Tsiolkovsky, who said in writing that "mountains of broad and enormous power" to those who mastered it.

Soviets began soul searching about space expenses after a series of problems with their country's space program. The problems coincided with official pressure to cut a $102 billion budget deficit and growing impatience with shortages of food, consumer goods and housing.

In part for economy reasons, the Mir space lab will be without a crew for three months starting Thursday when three cosmonauts return to Earth.

The debate on Soviet space spending is reminiscent of the American public's questioning of the billions of dollars spent on the Apollo project in the 1960s and 1970s to put men on the moon while some Americans lived in poverty.

Controversy over space spending spilled into the open early this year in the campaign for a new Parliament. Candidates, including maverick Communist Boris Yeltzin, received some popular support when they suggested the space program be put on hold for a few years.

The Kremlin already has reduced outlays for another institution once outside public criticism, the military. Last year, Soviet leaders announced some defense plants will be converted to produce consumer goods, food and building supplies to parry chronic shortages.

Adding fuel to the space-spending controversy were the November launch of the $6 bil­lion shuttle Buran; the loss in September and March of two unmanned Mars probes, Phobos I and II, at a cost of a half-billion dollars; and em­erging delays caused by technical problems and human error in the landings of the last two crews from Mir last year.

Opposition grew when space officials hungry for foreign curren­cy last month chose a Jap­anese for the first commercial trip to Mir. The price tag was $11 million.

Defenders of space explora­tion emphasized because the benefits of technology and information transfers to the Earth-bound economy. The Tass news agency recently reported that more than $2 billion was spent on space research in the Soviet Union last year and that eco­nomic benefits total $1.2 bil­lion.

Satellites have gathered weather information, extended television and telephone service, aided navigation of ships and located mineral and oil deposits, according to articles in state-run media.

Pravda and other newspapers say public support has declined because space of­ficials tout successes and hide shortages.

Ethics committee continues with investigation of Wright

Associated Press

WASHINGTON—The House ethics committee investigation of Speaker Jim Wright moves to San Antonio this week, where panel members will interview the Texas businessman involved in an oil well deal. The two committee members and panel investigators reportedly will spend three days in Texas, beginning Monday, to interview San Antonio financier Morris Jaffe, his business associate and son, Desa Jaffe, and two others involved in the oil well deal.

At the same time, Wright’s lawyer in Washington, William Oldaker, is expected to continue negotiations with the ethics committee’s special outside counsel, Richard Phelan, over a timetable for the speaker’s personal appearance before the panel.

It appears likely that the ethics panel, officially the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct, charged Wright with 69 instances of violating House rules in his dealings with Fort Worth developer George Mallick, and evading limits on outside income through bulk sales of a book authored by the speaker. Wright denies any wrongdoing and says he will fight the allegations.

The first phase of its investigation finished, the panel now turns to considering whether there is clear and convincing proof of violations and, if so, deciding whether to recommend disciplinary action to the House. A spokesman for Wright, Mark Johnson, said no resolution of the Washington negotiations is expected until later in the week.

The Wright case continues to dominate interest on Capitol Hill, particularly on a week with little else on the agenda. The Senate remains out of session all week on an extended Passover break and the House does not return until Wednesday when action is scheduled on a supplemental appropriation bill for the current fiscal year and the House banking panel continues work on its version of a measure to shore up the S&L industry.

Reagan's chief of staff, pointed out the first days of his presidency, Reagan was on his way to full recovery after the attempt on his life and turning it even more clear that his energies were devoted not to the question of whether there would be a budget and tax cuts, but to how deeply he could slash.

Kenneth Duberstein, who handled relations with the House during Reagan’s first 100 days in office, says the administration’s special attention to the themes of his campaign—shaking up the ways government was run and steering the economy out of its doldrums and transforming the nation’s defenses—determined the tenor of that first 100 days.

Of Reagan’s priorities, Duberstein, who later became Reagan’s chief of staff, points to the significance of the decision “that it is much better to communicate two or three major priorities rather than setting up 40 or 50 priorities.”

Bush, on the other hand, has divided his energies among many initiatives—cutting taxes, reducing the federal deficit, steering the economy out of its doldrums, and streamlining the defense programs.

Gov. of Alaska asks 5 minutes of silence

Associated Press

VALDEZ, Alaska: People all over Alaska, so heavily dependent on oil and fishing, agreed to silence their anger for five minutes Sunday to remember the way things were before a tanker spilled 10.1 million gallons of oil in an area rich in wildlife.

The period of silence was requested by Gov. Steve Cowper to mark the 30-day anniversary of the spill.

"This disaster has almost turned us into people who aren't human. We've been running on adrenaline just to get things accomplished," said Rolle Mickelson, who teaches commercial fishing at Cordova High School. "We need a quiet time to reflect on why we're here doing this and to get set for the long haul. A Band-Aid isn't going to fix this," she said.

Meanwhile, a storm threatening wind up to 30 mph and 9-foot seas pushed oil to uncleaned shores over the weekend and forced a cleanup crew to take shelter.

"We expect to have some pretty severe weather for a few days," said Bill Lamoreaux, an Alaska Department of Environmental Conservation supervisor. "It will definitely have an impact on skimming operations."

The crude oil from Alaska's North Slope poured from the Exxon Valdez on March 24 after the tanker hit a reef in Prince William Sound, an important fishing area at the southern end of the Alaskan pipeline.

Inadequate equipment and a slow response complicated recovery of the oil, which has been driven by currents to Kodiak Island, the nation's No. 1 fishing port. Thousands of birds and marine mammals have been killed by the oil, and biologists fear many more will die.

The addition of a Freshman to the Freshman student body gives me a unique opportunity to more accurately judge the Huddle, that they are, indeed, a misjudged group. I really thought that much about the Huddle.

Restucturing of Student Government

Dear Editor:

I am writing to clarify the restructuring of Freshman Class government, of which the Student Senate has played a small part. Your reporting, and especially your sensationalist headline, negated a number of important elements in the changes which are in the process of occurring.

Mrs. Irving seems to imply that the Freshman Advisory Council is not being "fixed" or "replaced." In fact, the Freshman Advisory Council FAC, remaining under the guidance of the Freshman Year of Studies, will be undergoing a restructuring to better advise the Freshman Year on academic matters.

We felt it important to clarify that student government's work, in conjunction with the Freshman Year of Studies, was not one of destruction, but rather of construction, separation, and specialization. It was seen as the best way to allow freshmen an increased opportunity to serve for the betterment of their class and for the Freshman Year of Studies to receive the kind of advice it needs from its student advisory council.

Students praised

Dear Editor:

I really enjoy reading the Observer, and I must say—next to the quite amazing personal ads—the viewpoint column is my favorite section.

Being a aspiring writer myself, I thoroughly enjoy reading the opinions and feedback from Notre Dame students and have been longing to voice my own opinion, now that I am, back as a "regular" full-time employee of the school. I work at the Scribner Scholar's House.

Before I came to work at Notre Dame, I would hear lots of side remarks about how rich, lazy, and stuck-up Notre Dame students are. I never really thought that much about it, as I didn't know too many students personally. Often I would read comments from students who were given unjust punishment for some petty "crime," just because they were Notre Dame students who didn't "seem like Jews" could afford the outrageous fines.

So, I devised a plan that would be wonderful if I could get a vast number of the students to propose it. And this is where The Observer could really help. What if I could get all the students to send in a postcard from wherever they go for the summer to Operation Integrity, in Brownson Hall, on the campus of University of Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

I would put them all in an album and title it, "The ND Summer of '89," and those who wished to see it in the fall could request to do so. I think it would be "awesome," as some of the student workers remarked. So how about everyone? What do you say we give it a try and see what we can come up with? A card from every state and as many countries as possible! WOW...

Whatever the outcome—God be with all of you.

Talented cast contributes to ABC's continuation of Wouk's 'War and Remembrance'.

Covering three and a half years of America's involvement in World War II and requiring five years to complete, 'War and Remembrance' features one of the best casts ever assembled.

May's segment will follow Natalie and Aaron as they begin a horrible odyssey through Nazi camps. Byron's submarine undergoes some fierce sea battles, and Pug and Pamela face a decision about their marriage. Viewers will witness such historical milestones as Yalta, the assassination attempt on Hitler, the D-Day invasion of Normandy, the Battle of the Bulge, and the explosion of the first atomic bomb.

Covering three and a half years of America's involvement in World War II and requiring five years to complete, 'War and Remembrance' features one of the best casts ever assembled. Mitchum, Seymour, Bochner, Gleigud, and the Emmy Award nominee for her work in 'Winds of War,' Bergen, make up the cast of the epic's main characters. Their incomparable talent adds realism and prestige to this historic piece of entertainment.

In January, both Gielgud and Barry Bostwick won Golden Globe Awards for their performances in the first half of 'War and Remembrance.' The series won the best mini-series category at both the Golden Globe and People's Choice Award presentations. In addition, the series received nominations for awards by the Directors Guild of America, Writers Guild of America, and American Society of Cinematographers.

"War and Remembrance" is sure to be 11 hours of suspense, intrigue, and adventure. Those who missed November's installment may be interested to know that that portion of the series is available on videotape. With the availability of the cassettes and the excitement surrounding the upcoming segment, ABC hopes that 'War and Remembrance' will be remembered for years to come.
The Saint Mary's tennis team is preparing for the final day of its season, with a record of 8-5. The team has been working hard to overcome a four-stroke deficit, then beat third-round player Adams closed with a 69 and took the lead. Adams, whose only LPGA victory came in 1983, was $23,125. First-round leader Lori Gari­ bazz closed with a 69 and took a close-up until the final points hole to set up the playoff. Adams closed with a 79 to tie King for the third hole to set up the playoff.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Shauquille O’Neal scored 18 points and had 16 rebounds and Bobby Hurley scored 16 to lead the West to an 87-77 victory over the East in the McDonald’s High School All-American game. O’Neal and Hurley, who scored 18 points, were named among the three best players in the game that featured the 25 best high school players in the country. The West team featured two Indiana players. Greg Graham of Warren Central in Indianapolis scored five points and Indo­ go basketball Pat Graham of Floyd Central scored nine.

Hurry led a record of eight assists by both players in the game, which features players selected by a coaching panel from a pool of 1,500. The West took a 16-2 lead at the start of the game and never gave it up. "Coach went with his five best guys and told us to go out and play hard," said O’Neal, a 6-foot-11 center from Elkins Park, Pa., who is headed to Louisiana State. "Just come out to have fun in a game like this. Usually I’m playing against guys who don’t know it’s good to come out and play against people my own size. That’s the way we wanted to play and played my game.”

O’Neal, who scored 18 points, was sal­ ted and blocked 26 shots in one game—also blocked six shots in this game in despite sitting out most of the first half with foul trouble.

"He’s a real big base,” said Conrad McGhee, who was a teammate of O’Neal at East. “Guys that are tall are usually a lot skinner than him. They came out and got that big lead on us and that was the game. I could tell by looking in the eyes of the players that they weren’t ready to rebound. It took them too long to realize they had to get in the game and start rebounding and get back to a normal speed.

The West built an 88-73 lead by halftime and extended the lead to 107-93 after 30 minutes. O’Neal led the way with 15 points in the second half.

ND tennis cruises against Spartans

By BOB MITCHELL
Sports Writer

At St. Edward's Carnival on Saturday afternoon, superfresh Dave DiLucia was the recipient of one whip cream pie after another in his face, many thrown by his fellow teammates. But on the tennis court, Notre Dame men's tennis team came together to down the Spartans 7-2.

The victory over the Spartans improved the Irish record to a respectable 2-3 against Big Ten opponents this season. The 17-9 Irish squad overcame a variety of illnesses to take a 4-2 lead after the singles competition, and solidified the win by sweeping the doubles competition.

"I have a very young ball cub," said Spartan head coach Stan Droubac who is in his 32nd and final campaign. "This year's Notre Dame squad has great depth. Their number one through number six players, they are very impressed with their doubles. They are a well conditioned, good ball club." While the Michigan State coaches were quick to give the Irish their accolades, Notre Dame skipper Bob Aybiss dismissed the match, "It was uncomfortable and there were a few questionable calls in the outcome of his match. The Argentinian was not able to play his usual No. 2 doubles spot, 'but a young guy played there today," said Bayliss. "It was uncomfortable and there was nothing to block the wind. It definitely hurt Ryan Wenger. For Walter to lose that match was not 100 percent physically."

Next up for the Irish is a second year head coach. "Coming into the match we certainly had a better record, but you can take all those things and throw them away. You have to play a match. Last year in East Lansing, was No. 1 Dave DiLucia and No. 2 Damon Valentino in a battle of the No. 1 players, 6-2, 6-2.

The Michigan State match marked the first home outdoor match of the year. And in the eyes of two Notre Dame players, they might have wished that the milestone had come later in the year. No. 2 Walter Dalahre suffered a two set loss to freshman Grant Ask- er, 6-1, 6-4. Dalahre was hampered by a flu throughout the week that undoubtedly affected the outcome of his match. The Michigan was not able to play his usual No. 2 doubles spot, but a young guy played there today," said Bayliss. "It was uncomfortable and there was nothing to block the wind. It definitely hurt Ryan Wenger. For Walter to lose that match was not 100 percent physically."

On Saturday's split, Erik Madson (6-3), tossed a five-hitter in the first game's loss, allowing five hits and one run in seven innings. The Irish were shut out by senior pitcher Stewart Hillman, who pitched on the 1988 Olympic Canadian baseball team. It was the fourth time this season that the Irish have been shut out.

Detroit scored its only run in the fourth inning when Mike Cloutier singled and Mike Stefanick singled him home. In the second game, the Irish beat the Titans 7-2 by pounding out 16 hits and shutting down the Detroit offense. Brian Pietrowski walked his sixth win of the season when he allowed only one run in seven innings.

Tony Livorsi pitched the final two innings, striking out the last four batters.

In that game, Murphy was ejected after the second pitch when Lonnie Draper hit a fly ball into right field and it was ruled that James Sass dropped the ball. Murphy had argued several questionable calls in the first game.

"It was one of those weekends with four well played ballgames, and the credit goes to Detroit," said Murphy. "Bob Miller is a master. I hope someday I know half as much as he does today.

EXTRA BASES: Despite the fact that junior centerfielder Dan Petters broke his 16-game hitting streak in the first game on Saturday, he is continuing his hot hitting. Petters was 6-for-13 over the weekend, raising his average to .453 after 453 after 40 games... James Sass has raised his average to .406, up from .359 on April 10... The Irish are hitting .317 as a team... When the Irish score four runs or more, they have record of 28-1, the only loss coming in the 3-4 defeat against Detroit on Sunday... Sunday's doubleheader sweep was the first MCC doubleheader sweep of the season for Detroit.

The Notre Dame lacrosse squad dropped an 18-5 decision to visiting Ohio Wesleyan Saturday afternoon. The loss dropped Notre Dame's record to 7-4, while Ohio Wesleyan improved to 10-3.

Pete LaFluer will detail the weekend action in Tuesday's paper.

Ryan loses no-hitter in ninth against Blue Jays

Associated Press

TORONTO -- Nolan Ryan came within two outs of his 20th career no-hitter, losing it when Nelson Liriano tripled in the ninth inning Sunday as the Texas Rangers beat the Blue Jays 4-1. Ryan finished with his 19th lifetime one-hitter. He had been untouchable until Liriano tripled.

Ryan was attempting to become the oldest pitcher to throw a no-hitter. Ryan, 42, would have surpassed Cy Young, who did it at 41 in 1908. Ryan, 3-1, struck out 12 and walked three in his 275th career victory.

Orioles 3, Twins 0

Baltimore -- Rookie Bob Milacki pitched a three-hitter and the Baltimore Orioles beat the Minnesota Twins 3-0 Sunday.

The Orioles moved into first place on Saturday night, the first time they had been on top since May 11, 1985.

Milacki, 1-1, faced the minimum 27 batters and threw 100 pitches. He struck out three, walked two and was helped by four double plays.

Royals 10, Red Sox 0

Boston -- Bo Jackson's two-run home run highlighted a 17-hit attack and the Kansas City Royals routed the Boston Red Sox 10-0 Sunday.

The Royals hit seven doubles, including three by Bob Boone, and stole two bases.

Leibrandt, 1-2, allowed five singles in his 13th career shutout. He struck out four and walked none.

Athletics 2, Angels 0

Oakland, Calif. -- Mike Moore scattered three singles in 7-2-3 innings and the Oakland Athletics got past the California Angels 2-0.

Moore, 2-1, struck out five, walked two and allowed only three singles by Claudell Washington.

Mariners 10, White Sox 6

Chicago -- Scott Bradley hit a three-run double, keying a five-run ninth inning Sunday that sent the Seattle Mariners over the Chicago White Sox 10-6.

Bradley later added a run-scoring double as Seattle got 10 hits off six pitchers.

Steve Trout, 1-1, gave up one earned run in five innings.

Shawn Higginson, 0-2, retired only two of eight batters in the first inning.

Harold Reynolds led off the game with a single and scored on a triple by Henry Cotto.

Yankees 5, Indians 0

Cleveland -- Andy Hawkins pitched a two-hit ball for 7-2-3 innings and Mel Hall snatched a scoreless tie with a two-double run in the sixth inning Sunday as the New York Yankees beat the Cleveland Indians 5-0.

--There wasn't much to it, he added, a run-scoring groundout.

Hall hit a bases-loaded double off John Farrell, 0-1.

Dodgers 7, Giants 6

Los Angeles -- Will Clark went 5-for-5 but Allee Hammaker walked in the winning run in the 10th inning Sunday as the Los Angeles Dodgers came from behind to beat the San Francisco Giants 7-6.

Eddie Murray gave the Dodgers a 5-4 lead with a ninth-inning home run off Craig Lefferts. The Giants took a 6-5 lead in the eighth only to see the Dodgers tie in the bottom of the inning.

Astros 5, Reds 2

CINCINNATI -- Glenn Davis hit a two-run homer Sunday as the Houston Astros defeated the Cincinnati Reds 5-2.

Danny Jackson, 1-4, allowed nine hits and four runs in seven innings. Bob Knepper, 1-3, gave up four hits over 6-3 innings.

Knepper walked Bo Diaz with one out in the sixth and pinch-hitter Joel Youngblood singled, bringing on Larry Anderson. Barry Larkin's grounder scored Diaz, and shortstop Rafael Ramirez throwing error on the play scored Youngblood, pulling the Reds to 4-2.

Expos 9, Cardinals 3

ST. LOUIS -- Spike Owen had three hits and drove in three runs and Hubie Brooks homered Sunday as the Montreal Expos beat the St. Louis Cardinals 9-3.

Montreal had 15 hits off five Cardinals pitchers, including four doubles and two triples. Tim Raines had three hits and scored two runs.

Brynn Smith, 2-0, gave up five hits and struck out two in seven innings. Joe Hesketh finished the combined seven-hitter.

Braves 9, Padres 4

ATLANTA -- Dale Murphy drove Murphy in six runs with four hits Sunday, leading the Atlanta Braves past the San Diego Padres 9-4.

Murphy hit a two-run homer in the third, a two-run single in the sixth and a two-run double in the eighth.

Tom Glavine, 3-0, allowed eight hits in 6-3 innings, struck out four and walked two.

Atlanta scored three runs in the first off Dennis Rasmussen, 1-3. Gerald Perry hit a two-run homer and Jeff Treadway hit a run-scoring single.

Mets 4, Cubs 2

NEW YORK -- Kevin McReynolds hit a two-run homer, go-ahead homer in the eighth inning Sunday, leading the New York Mets past the Chicago Cubs 4-2.

Calvin Schiraldi, 1-1, walked Tim Teufel leading off the eighth and McReynolds followed with a home run, giving the Mets a 3-2 lead. Mitch Williams relieved and Gary Carter hit a homer with two outs in the inning.

Rick Aguilera, 1-0, pitched two innings of hitless relief for the victory.

Andre Dawson gave the Cubs a 2-0 lead with his 300th career home run in the seventh inning, off Ron Darling. Darling pitched seven innings and allowed seven hits.

Pirates 6, Phillies 4

PITTSBURGH -- Bobby Bonilla's two-run home run in the eighth inning capped Pittsburgh's come from behind rally as the Pirates beat the Philadelphia Phillies 6-4 Sunday.

Philadelphia led 4-0 before Pittsburgh scored three runs in the sixth and three in the eighth. Singles by pinch-hitter John Cannon, Jose Lind and R.J. Reynolds in the sixth scored a run and chased starter Larry McWilliams.

Rick Sutcliffe, who had stranded Bonilla's grounder to first, allowed a second run to score and Barry Bonds followed with a run-scoring groundout.

Draft

people," said Seattle coach Chuck Knox.

Moore coached Pro Bowlers Covert, May, Grimm and Pralle as an assistant at Pitt. Seattle originally wanted to choose a defensive end. That plan changed after San Diego took Pitt's Hurt Crump with the eighth pick and Chicago picked Trace Armstrong of Florida with the 12th selection.

"We tried to get help at the defensive line and possibly make deals to move up in the draft, but we weren't able to do it," said Knox.

Stans, another All-American last season, also was surprised about his selection.

"I was thinking third round," said the 6-4, 257-pound defensive end. "It was a surprise to go in the second." Heike Heck, Stans went to a team that had not spoken with him and was before the draft.

"They tested me in the 40, but I hadn't seen the head coach or owner at all," said Stans. "I know they're a class organization, and I talked to the head coach and owner and they're excited about having me."

Green was in for a different kind of surprise. The three-year Notre Dame starter had not received a phone call by 8 p.m., when the draft was supposed to adjourn for the day.

"I was sitting here with my head down, and at 8:15 the telephone rang," said Green. "I didn't think it would be any team because I thought it was over for the day. It was the director of player personnel for the Bears, and he told me, 'We're in the fifth round and we're considering drafting you,' and at that point I hit the ceiling."

"They put (Bears coach) Mike Ditka on the phone," continued Green. "He was telling me they usually carry five running backs and they have four running backs back now."

"I told them, 'Well, my goal is to come in and compete for a job,' and I haven't been here 24 hours and they already gave me promises. I've been in for three weeks and they have been great to me. It's unfortunate I can't play on an NFL field."

"It's a great opportunity for me," Green said. "I've never heard of a place that brought me in and gave me a tryout, and then called me the next day to offer a contract."

"I was surprised, but it's a great opportunity for me," said Green. "I'm looking forward to it, and I'm excited about going out there."

"I was thinking third round," said the 6-4, 257-pound defensive end. "It was a surprise to go in the second."
NEW YORK - The first round of Sunday's NFL draft was a simple matter for the league's downtrodden, who grabbed the top eight players and hoped they would work instant miracles.

Starting with Troy Aikman, the UCLA quarterback signed last week by Dallas for $11.2 million over six years, the first eight picks were no surprises — players who can provide instant ompth to the downtrodden. It was so predictable, it took just 30 minutes for the first six players to be chosen, a process that has sometimes taken more than an hour.

One of the early line backers was a huge surprise - 6 feet 5 inches, 240-pound Jeff Legamen of Virginia, considered a second rounder, who instead was the shock of the first.

Green Bay, picking second, took 315-pound offensive tackle Tony Mandarich of Michigan State, rated the top player in the draft regardless of position.

Detroit, the third choice, took Honj Allen of Oklahoma State, the first pure corner ever taken - he was granted eligibility after his school was placed on probation.

Alabama line backer Derrick Thomas went to Kansas City. Florida State corner back Desmon Sanders to Atlanta and Nebraska tackle Broderick Thomas to Tampa Bay.

"I feel comfortable at both tailback and fullback," said Culver. "In high school I played a lot of fullback and tailback, so I'm pretty comfortable at both positions. Whatever they would work instant miracles.

"In the line blocked well on a lot of my big runs," said Culver. "The one going down the middle there was a big hole there and I went untouched."

Culver is listed as a fullback on the Irish depth chart, but he has seen action from both backfield positions. With Braxton and Anthony Johnson, 3-for-11 passing for 34 yards and an interception and rushed for 46 yards on 11 carries. "It was pretty good with the Blue team because that was most of the first team."

Kest Graham's 41-yard touchdown pass to Ijamaal with 2:20 left in the game foiled the Blue team's shutout attempt. Watters ran three yards around right for a two-point conversion that accounted for the final score of 21-8.

Ned Bolcar, who made 12 tackles for the Gold, earned defensive MVP honors. The Blue's Chris Shey and the Gold's Donn Grimm each had 16 tackles.

I think the depth is starting to come.

"I feel much better about tailback now than I did prior to spring," said Holtz. Much of Holtz's enthusiasm can be attributed to the recent play of Culver, who wasted little time in making himself known. In the 26,604 fans gathered for the annual spring classic.

Culver, who scored only three touchdowns all of last season, capped a 16-play, 86-yard drive with a 10-yard touchdown run on the first series of the day for the Blue squad. On third-and-goal from the 10, Culver took a pitch from Belles and gained the distance to give his team an early 6-0 lead.

Culver gained 51 yards on nine carries in the first half, including his longest run of the day, an 11-yard scamper up the middle for a first down.

He also scored on the Blue squad's first possession of the second half, powering through the line of the glue that holds the Irish backfield together. It was really a great feat of hearing to be able to see the sun or no

"I think Rodney Culver can do to help the team, I'll just want him to be able to help the team, I'll do."

Second period helps Bruins avoid sweep in NHL playoffs

Associated Press

BOSTON - Cam Neely and Michael Thelven scored in a second-seven-second span late in the second period as the Boston Bruins avoided a playoff sweep with a 3-2 victory over the Montreal Canadiens Sunday night.

The Bruins, trying to become the third team in NHL history to win seven straight games, still trail the best-of-seven Adams Division final 3-1. The Canadians can advance to the Wales Conference finals with a victory at home Tuesday night.

Brian Hayward started in goal Sunday and Neely beat him to give Boston the lead with his seventh playoff goal at 15:51. Neely tied the faceoff after Neely's goal and the puck went to Keith Crowder at the blue line. Crowder passed it to the right point to Thelven, who had no one between him and Hayward. He fired a 40-footer that hit the inside of the left post and went into the net.

Brian Skrudland's third playoff goal cut the lead to 3-2 at 3:57 of the second period. He took a pass from Claude Lemieux on the left side and beat Andy Moog from 40 feet.

Flyers 4, Penguins 1

PHILADELPHIA - Tim Kerr scored two power play goals in a 2:31 span of the second period and Philadelphia's defense checked Mario Lemieux and the Pittsburgh Penguins to a standstill Sunday night as the Flyers evened the Patrick Division finals at two wins each with a 4-1 victory.

The series returns to Pittsburgh for Game 5, but the Flyers took control after the midway point of the first period. Kerr, who had no one between him and Hayward, finished his seventh playoff goal at 15:51.

Randy Burridge's first-period goal at 4:51 and Chris Chambers' goal at 3:57 of the second period were the Boston's first goals of the game.

John Huston, in his second game for the Bruins, finished second with 29 after a closing par 72. He earned $180,000.

Last year, Green was in position to win, but he missed a three-foot putt and dropped his chances with Sandy Locke, who won a sudden-death playoff.

Green overcame a bogey 5 on the third hole with birdies at the fifth and ninth for the front nine. Huston birdied the par-5 second and was tied with Green at 1-under par.

But Huston, who needed five tries before he could attain his PGA Tour card in 1987, bogeyed the fourth, birdied the fifth and bogeyed the seventh. With Green's aggressive play, Huston couldn't catch up.

Irish tie for sixth in Spartan Invitational

Special to The Observer

The Notre Dame men's golf team tied for sixth place out of 16 teams at last weekend's Spartan Invitational at the Fort Wayne Country Club course. True to his word, he gave little ground and held a five-shot lead with three holes to play.

Culver runs for three touchdowns in Blue victory

Holtz discovers one answer, still searching for the other

By STEVE MEGARGEE

The Notre Dame football team solved one question and left another unanswered as the Blue team won the Blue-Gold Game 21-8 Saturday at Notre Dame Stadium.

Freshman Rodney Rudolph earned offensive most valuable player honors with three touchdowns on 14 carries. The performances of Culver, Kenny Spears (19 carries for 86 yards) and the Gold's Ricky Watters (7-7) left Holtz happy with his tailback situation.

"I feel good about tailback right now," said Holtz. "(Running backs) coach Jim Strong really is doing a great job with the backs. We're much better at tailback now than prior to spring." The same can't be said of the receiving corps. Notre Dame quarterbacks combined to complete just seven of 14 passes and throw four interceptions. Most of the interceptions came on deflected passes.

"Our passing game is behind but not because of (Dan) (Rice)," said Holtz. "If there's one problem we've got, it's this backfield. We've got to get this backfield in a little better air and get this backfield a little more room now." We have a problem at split end," Holtz continued. "I think (Pat) Eilers will be solid. But we've got to find someone behind him. We have people with talent that haven't progressed. How much progress they make over the summer is critical." Starting flanker Raghib "Rocket" Ismail is still a little away from full maturity yet. He can play at 295 and still can move but not because of Tony Brooks, the Irish backfield should be strong in fall

Notre Dame does not have a problem at the tailback position. Said Murphy, "We're not worried about our backfield." At the same time, because there were three back problems because of the tailback position development from one of those backs, freshman Rodney Culver, plus quarterbacks Steve Belles and Tony Rice.

"I think we'll be all right at tailback," said Head Coach Lou Holtz, who in three years has seen the tailback position develop from one of the team's most glaring weaknesses into one of the top units in the nation.

"We have a little bit more depth at tailback now," Holtz continued. "If you recall, we're here our first spring and we didn't even have a tailback. We stuck Mark Green back there and played Anthony Johnson there as well, but

ND baseball drops three to MCC foe

By SCOTT BRUTOCOA

The Notre Dame baseball team suffered a disappointing weekend against MCC East rival Detroit at Covaleski Stadium, losing three out of four to a Detroit team which had won the season opener.

The Irish (30-10) split the Saturday doubleheader, losing the first game 1-0 and winning the second game 7-2. On Sunday, the Irish were swept, losing the first game 6-3 and the second game 5-4.

The two losses on Sunday marked the first time Notre Dame had lost two games in a row.

Head Coach Pat Murphy, however, is not about to make any changes because of the weekend losses.

"I'm not worried about our backfield," said Murphy. "I mean, how can you be worried about a ballclub that's 30-10 that's beaten the teams we've beaten? I'm disappointed obviously because there were three games we could have won."

After this weekend, the Irish now have a 14-4 overall record in the MCC, 8-4 in the Eastern Division. Detroit, also in the East, has a 6-4 record in the East.

Prior to Saturday's 1-0 loss, the Irish were 11-0 in games decided by three runs or less. All three losses over the weekend, however, were

Heck leads trio of Notre Dame picks

By STEVE MEGARGEE

Andy Heck, whose stock among NFL scouts had grown as much as his size over the past several months, went to the Seattle Seahawks in the 15th overall pick at Sunday's NFL draft.

Heck, who earned All-America honors at offensive tackle after moving from tight end last fall, becomes Notre Dame's 38th player to go in the first round of an NFL draft.

"This is a dream come true to me," said the 6-7, 286-pound left tackle. "To go this high is unbelievable. I couldn't be happier to go to an organization like the Seahawks."

Other Notre Dame players to receive calls included defensive end Frank Stamas, who went to the Los Angeles Rams in the second round, and tackle Mark Green, who went to the Chicago Bears in the fifth round.

NFL teams go through the final seven rounds of the draft today. Probable Notre Dame selections include linebacker Wes Pritchett and strong safety George Streeter.

Most scouting reports had projected Heck to go late in the first round or early in the second. His draft position rose to that level because he gained 18 pounds since last month's NFL scouting combine.

"At the combine he weighed 290 and now he's 296, so he's putting in the effort you like to see," said Mike Allman, Seattle's director of player personnel, "and he hasn't reached his full maturity yet. He can play at 295 and still can move with the smaller defensive end packages."

"He's got really good feet and will be able to compete well with the pass rushers on the right side.".

Seattle officials also commented Notre Dame defensive line coach Joe Moore for contributing to Heck's improvement.

"Joe Moore has worked with (Glenn) Green, (May), (Russ) Grimm and (Bill) Fralic, and (Heck) compares very favorably with those
