Book thieves nabbed in stakeout

Security rapidly coordinates tips from diverse sources

By KELLEY TUTHILL
Assistant News Editor

Note Dame Security arrested two individuals Wednesday and charged them with class D felony for bookbag theft.

According to Phil Johnson, assistant director of Security, the investigation began after someone from a local book- store called Security saying that they believed that someone had sold the store potentially stolen books. The store gave a description of the people and their car.

Investigators from Security had a stakeout on Douglas Road near the Notre Dame Federal Credit Union where they thought the car might pass, said Johnson.

Security sighted a car meeting the description and eventually stopped the car off of South Bend Avenue at the 1100 Block of E. Dury Street, said Chuck Hurley, assistant director of security.

At the same time Father David Burrell, professor of philosophy and theology, told Security he saw a bookbag thrown from a car traveling east on Douglas Road away from Highway 31, said Hurley. Burrell described the car to Security and turned in the bookbag.

Security was able to make an arrest based on Burrell's description of the car, said Johnson.

Joseph Anthony Husband, 21 and Lisa Husband, 28, both residents of South Bend, were charged with class D felony, he said.

The bookbag belonged to a

Aftershocks shake N. California

Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO—Three strong aftershocks rattled a jittery Northern California on Thursday, and rescuers who found fewer cars that feared under a collapsed freeway said the World Series may have endured the rush-hour traffic.

"Maybe we got lucky because of the game," Oakland police Sgt. Bob Crawford said. "Normally at 5 o'clock in the afternoon this area would be bumper-to-bumper. Maybe the World Series saved our lives." Power and commuters returned to much of downtown San Francisco as a tentative city tried to recover and re-group following Tuesday's earthquake, which claimed an estimated 270 lives and $2 billion in damage.

At the 1 1/4-mile stretch of the collapsed double-deck Interstate 880, the Nimtz Freeway in Oakland, workers cut holes in concrete and used cranes to pull out pancake-flat cars. Rescuers reported finding the cars as far apart as 60 feet, rather than bumper-to-bumper as had been feared, Assistant Fire Chief Al Sigwart said.

That could lower the death toll in the highway rubble — estimated earlier at 250, Crawford said.

Many people left work early to watch the third game of the World Series, scheduled to start at 5:30 p.m., and 60,000 people already were across the bay in San Francisco Candlestick Park when the quake struck at 5:04 p.m.

The World Series will resume Tuesday at Candlestick Park in San Francisco.

Oakland Mayor Lionel Wilson said Thursday that only 85 people were officially reported missing.

Student Gov't hosts first Catholic universities meeting

By FLORENTINE HOELKER
Assistant News Editor

Student government hosted the first regional meeting of the newly-formed National Association of Students at Catholic Colleges and Universities (N.A.S.C.C.U.) this past weekend.

The meeting dealt with the establishing of some groundwork for the newly-formed group, including the size of the association, member schools, and the purpose of the association.

N.A.S.C.C.U. is the only association of its kind, according to Student Body Vice President Dave Kinkopf, who had a primary role in the founding of the group.

"The National Association of Students at Catholic Colleges and universities unites students in an open and responsive forum on issues of concern to those enrolled in Catholic institutions," said Kinkopf. "The group's mission is to give voice to students at Catholic colleges.

"The new group should give a unified voice to students across the country who attend Catholic colleges," said Kinkopf. "Education is important, said Kinkopf, and another major goal of the N.A.S.C.C.U. is to inform students of issues which directly influence them and their education.

"We hope to educate students on a topic, help add to the debate, and come to an understanding of the topic," said Kinkopf.

The first issue to be handled by the N.A.S.C.C.U. will be academic freedom, Kinkopf said. It is timely, since the Vatican is currently working on a similar issue.

San Francisco donations will be collected at game

By SANDRA WIEGAND
News Copy Editor

Donations for the San Francisco earthquake victims will be collected by Red Cross volunteers at the ND/USC game Saturday.

Volunteers with collection cans will be stationed at the entrance gates and in the parking lot, and will have Red Cross symbols on their clothing to identify them.

In general, organizations are not permitted to collect money at Notre Dame football games.

"It's an exception to the rule," said D.R. Bell, a Red Cross employee. "This is a unique situation, that's why allowing us to collect. Because we're playing Southern Cal, and because of the earthquake, it's appropriate.

He said that if organizations were allowed to ask for donations on a regular basis, it would become harassment.

Becky Baumann, also a Red Cross employee, said that there are a number of Notre Dame students who are Red Cross volunteers.

She encouraged students with plans for helping the earthquake victims to contact the Red Cross, who would give them support.

"We would welcome any-one's help," said Warren Desouza, president of the San Francisco Bay Club, said the club would not be able to provide any aid to victims now, as the club is not yet recognized or funded by the University, and is still in the WORLD BRIEFS

Pope John Paul II and President Mikhail Gorbachev will meet during the Soviet leader's Nov. 29-30 visit to Vatican City. The historic meeting will be the first between the head of the Soviet Communist Party and the leader of the Roman Catholic Church, a Vatican report said Thursday.

A marine musician injured in last month's bombing at the Royal Marines Music School barracks has died, bringing the death toll from the blast to 11, the Ministry of Defense said Thursday in London. The Irish Republican Army claimed responsibility for the bombing, which has left three people hospitalized, one in very serious condition.

NATIONAL BRIEFS

Six-and-one-half years in prison for a murder and robbery he did not commit earned a New York man $1.5 million in damage Wednesday. Robert McLaughlin, 30, was also awarded $225,000 in medical expenses due to a dependency on drugs and alcohol that was intensified by his prison experience.

A storm blighted the Midwest with up to 6 inches of snow Thursday, causing power outages to more than 175,000 customers in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan. It was the earliest snowfall on record for many cities, including Cincinnati, Dayton, Ohio, Indianapolis and St. Louis. In many places, the snow followed unusually balmy weekday weather in the upper 70s and low 80s.

INDIANA BRIEFS

The sale of alcoholic beverages will be prohibited in Gary for the 12-hour period while polls are open in the city's Nov. 29-Dec. 1 visit to Vatican City. The referendum is being held as a test of the church's influence in infilling activities opened hearings in Washington into alleged communist influence and infiltration in the movie industry.

CAMPUS BRIEFS

A University of Illinois student was arrested for stealing a wallet at the Alumni/Senior Club on Friday, Oct. 13 at 12:30 a.m., said Chuck Hurley, assistant director of Security. He was charged with class D felony and the wallet was recovered as well as $150 in cash.

A campus-wide snowball fight Thursday left a Cavanaugh resident with facial cuts and three stitches in his ear. Chuck Cavanaugh said he wasn't surprised when a snowball hurled from below split open his head. The incident, which occurred around 10 p.m., sent Brown to the infirmary and to St. Joseph's Medical Center for stitches. Notre Dame Security was unable to confirm the injury.

OF INTEREST

The Grace Hall 24-hour benefit relay for the Northeast Neighborhood will be run from 1 p.m. today to 1 p.m. Saturday. Donations will be accepted at the main tent.

Glee Club open rehearsal is today from 4:45 to 6 p.m. in Crowley Hall of Music.

Wish your friends a happy birthday with Observer advertising. Call 239-6900

WEATHER

Warmer

Cold today with an 80 percent chance of light snow. Highs around 40. Cloudy and cold Friday night with a 50 percent chance of light snow mainly in the evening. Lows in the lower to mid­dle 30s. Clearing and warmer Saturday. Highs in the lower 50s.

ALMANAC

MARKET UPDATE

CLOSINGS FOR OCTOBER 18, 1989

VOLUME IN SHAREs

198.12 Million

NYSE Index

192.17

S&P Composite

347.13

Dow Jones Industrials

2,683.20

Precious Metals

Gold

$1,80 to $370.60 /oz.

Silver

$2.5 to $5.133 /oz.

Source AP

Temple

Designer

Joe Zemzemi

Copy Editor

Wendy Cunningham

Type Setter

Pat Vellanoweth

News Editor

Monica Yarin

Sports Copy Editor

Greg Guffey

Viewpoint Editor

Christine Walsh

Copy Editor

James D'Alleva

Layout Editor

Christine Walsh

Account Editor

Dave Dooling

Copy Editor

Liz Hauke

Copy Editor

Val Pellello

Designer

Fritz Valsaint

Photographer

Opho Kazia

Art Director

Kathleen O'Connor

Art Editor

Tom Holley

Extra

Jeanne Rico

Inkform componed from Observer wire and Observer staff reports
Speaker urges resolving racial differences in business

By BRADLEY GALKO
Staff Reporter

Resolving racial differences in the United States will be the means of keeping America economically competitive in the world market, said Ronald Homer, president and chief executive officer of Boston Bank of Commerce.

Homer, a 1968 graduate of Notre Dame, spoke to a small crowd in the Montgomery Theater Thursday in the Alumni Association's annual Distinguished Alumni Lecture.

"How we reconcile the issue of race in our country and how we begin to integrate all of the people into our society," said Homer, "is really going to be the test of whether we can survive as a country."

"I don't think we'll be able to compete, going forward with other countries," he added, "if we do not have all of the people in this country highly productive, all well motivated, and all pulling on the same oar."

To illustrate this, Homer compared the United States to Japan where the work force is highly homogeneous.

While comparing the upper and lower halves of the Japanese work force, he cited the similar backgrounds, few barriers, small wage gap, and high motivation of the lower half of the Japanese work force, in contrast to America's minority dominated lower half, as an integral factor as to why Japan is more competitive than the U.S. in world markets.

On racial inequalities he said, "We (blacks) will not break through the ceiling of a lot of major corporations, until the broader community accepts our whole community."

He encouraged blacks "to use those (present) networks you have to get to other networks" as a way of integrating and gaining acceptance by the broader community.

"First we have to make a commitment that we want to solve it (inequality)," he said. "The key is education ... (and) people will not get education unless they are motivated also."

"We're going to have to use all the media and the tools that we use to sell people soap (goods)," he added, "to turn that and say we're going to sell this population black, Hispanic, Asian, poor, on the fact that they can get into America ... that there's a way to get in."

"It's a matter of attitude, then putting the resources in place," he said. "We're not on the same team. It seems we're trying to knock each other out."

In addition to being a 1968 graduate of the University, Homer is treasurer of the Black Alumni of Notre Dame and a member of the advisory council for the University's College of Business Administration.

Chief Executive of Boston Bank of Commerce since 1983, his leadership has helped the bank grow at an average rate of 35 percent per year. Its deposits have increased from $11 million to $51 million, and its assets have grown from $11 million to more than $58 million, a press release said.

Homer, who earned an MBA from the University of Rochester in 1971, says Boston Banks' assets are now around $70 million accumulated "primarily in lending money in urban environments."

He says he entered banking over his "concern over black economic development."
57 killed in Soviet military plane crash on Thursday

Associated Press

MOSCOW — A military transport plane carrying paratroopers to keep order in the ethnically torn southern republic of Azerbaijan lost an engine and crashed in the Caspian Sea, killing all 57 people aboard, officials said Tuesday.

The left engine of the Ilyushin-76 plane carried four minutes after it took off from an unidentified airport in the Azerbaijani city of Guba, the Caucasus Military District, Izvestia said.

"The fire spread so fast that within three minutes, the engine fell off, but the fire did not stop," the newspaper reported, quoting Col. Gen. Pankin. He said Cmdr. Kalmikov, 48, had tried to fly the crippled plane back to the airport.

A few miles from his goal, "the Ilyushin careened sharply to the left and fell" into shallow water less than a mile from shore, the newspaper said.

Tass did not say more precisely where or when the crash occurred. It said the huge transport plane carried a crew of seven as well as 50 passengers.

Interior Minister Vasil Bakatin told a news conference that rescuers initially believed some of those on board might have survived.

"This was during the night so rescue work was very difficult," he said.

Workers recovered parts of the engines and fuselage from the water, he said. Specialists were searching for the plane's "black box," Izvestia said, urging the Western term for an aircraft voice and data recorder that might shed light on the reason for the crash.

The IL-76 has four turboprop engines. Its wings are mounted atop the fuselage and are 150 feet long, according to Jane's All the World's Aircraft.

"The U.S.S.R. Military Ministry expressed its deep condolences to the families of the dead," Tass said.

Troops have been patrolling Azerbaijan and neighboring Armenia this last year to prevent more violence between residents fending off over the district of Nagorno-Karabakh.

More than 100 people have died in violence related to the dispute.

The epicenter was near Daqing, famous for its Yungang Caves that hold thousands of Buddhist paintings and statues dating to the 5th century. Whether any caves were damaged was not reported. Efforts to reach Daqing by telephone failed.

The Seismological Bureau said an initial quake hit at 10:57 p.m. Wednesday (10:57 a.m. EDT) and measured 5.7 on the Richter scale. At least four others registering 5 or above hit in the next six hours, including a quake of 6 on the scale at about 1 a.m. Thursday (1 p.m. EDT Wednesday).

An aftershock measuring 5.1 hit at 6:29 a.m. (16:29 EDT Thursday), Tass said. More than 300 lesser aftershocks were recorded.

Nearly 24 hours after the first of a series of quakes almost no details were available from the government or official media about extent of damage.

China's prime time national news program gave extensive time on Thursday to Premier Li Peng inspecting a stadium and a continuing campaign against pornography, but failed to mention the killer earthquake that was felt in Beijing.

It takes days for the details of many major disasters to be reported, and particularly industrial accidents, are often suppressed by the official press.

The region affected by the Wednesday-Thursday quakes is a dry, windswept farming area, where wheat and other grains are grown and where buildings are made out of high-fired clay bricks, vulnerable to collapse in an strong quake.

Shanxi also is China's main coal-producing province and mines punch the stark land.

Xinhua earlier quoted Seismological Bureau sources as reporting another earthquake early Thursday in China's far west region of Xinjiang and Gansu. However, bureau officials later said they had not confirmed any tremors in the sparsely populated desert area.

Earthquakes are frequent in China. Last month one hit southwest Sichuan province, injuring 24 people and destroying 4,000 homes. Five earthquakes with magnitudes registering up to 6.7 on the Richter scale hit western Sichuan in June and July, killing 11 people.

China's worst earthquake in recent history jolted Tangshan on the northeast in 1976, with a magnitude estimated at 7.8. The official count listed 240,000 dead, but unofficial estimates put the toll at three times that.
College student dies in frat hazing incident

Associated Press

ATLANTA— A Morehouse College sophomore died in what school officials said appears to have been a hazing incident in the nation's oldest black fraternity, and school officials said they may expel the members involved.

School officials said the college had suspended the Alpha Phi Alpha chapter's charter.

Medical examiners have not determined the cause of death of Joel Harris, 18, of New York, but they said he appeared to suffer from a heart condition.

The fraternity's president, Gregory Burrell, said the death occurred Wednesday at a gathering in an apartment for 19 young men interested in joining the fraternity's house.

He said the students told him they met with approximately seven fraternity brothers and "seven fraternity brothers and were pushed and shoved around" when they failed to correctly answer questions about the fraternity.

Next thing they knew, they looked around and the fellow was lying on the floor," Willis said. At first they thought he was faking it, but then when they realized he wasn't faking, they called 911.

Willis said that according to the potential pledges, the fraternity brothers knew of Harris' history of heart trouble.

"He wasn't really picked on," Willis said. "They (pledges) said they didn't see Joel get hit.

The fraternity's president, Gregory Burrell, could not immediately be reached for comment Thursday. The fraternity chapter does not have a house, there was no telephone listing for him at the Morehouse dean of students office was not immediately returned.

The program is offered in conjunction with the nation's leading accounting firms, is highly competitive, and restricted to students sponsored by the participating accounting firms.

The 15-month program entails:

• immediate (June 1990) employment in the Chicago office of a sponsoring accounting firm.
• an accelerated course of study in business and accounting -- a growth industry -- at Chicago's DePaul University.

Successful completion of the DePaul Professional MSA program results in:

• A Master of Science in Accountancy degree from DePaul University
• Full-time business and accounting experience with a major accounting firm
• Eligibility to sit for the CPA Examination in Illinois
• Broad career opportunities, and advancement, in professional accounting with your sponsoring firm.

Participation is restricted to candidates sponsored by participating accounting firms.

The DePaul University
Professional Master of Science in Accountancy Program

1990 LA&S GRADUATES: A Special Announcement concerning Careers in Business Specifically for Liberal Arts and Sciences Students.

The School of Accountancy of DePaul University, Chicago, Illinois, a 75-year leader in innovative accounting education, offers to selected graduates of prestigious Liberal Arts and Sciences programs the Professional Master of Science in Accountancy.

The program is offered in conjunction with the nation's leading accounting firms, is highly competitive, and restricted to students sponsored by the participating accounting firms.

The 15-month program entails:

• immediate (June 1990) employment in the Chicago office of a sponsoring accounting firm.
• an accelerated course of study in business and accounting -- a growth industry -- at Chicago's DePaul University.

Successful completion of the DePaul Professional MSA program results in:

• A Master of Science in Accountancy degree from DePaul University
• Full-time business and accounting experience with a major accounting firm
• Eligibility to sit for the CPA Examination in Illinois
• Broad career opportunities, and advancement, in professional accounting with your sponsoring firm.

Participation is restricted to candidates sponsored by participating accounting firms.

The Professional MSA Program begins mid-June, 1990.

For more information on the Professional MSA Program, contact the placement office on this campus, which is cooperating with this program, or Dr. John T. Ahern, Jr., Director, School of Accountancy, DePaul University, 25 E. Jackson, Chicago, Illinois 60604, (312) 341-8770.
Inflation rises modestly in Sept.

Associated Press

WASHINGTON—Consumer prices rose an unexpectedly modest 0.2 percent in September, the government said Thursday, soothing frayed financial markets, which took the report as an indication the Federal Reserve Board has room to lower interest rates.

Inflation, which had been raging at a 6.7 percent annual rate from January through May, has now abated to a 4.4 percent rate for the first nine months of the year, the same as in both 1988 and 1987 and well under the Bush administration's 1989 inflation projection of 5 percent.

Michael Boskin, chief economic adviser at the White House, called the report "good economic news."

"We're delighted to be able to say that, while we're always on guard to make sure that inflation remains under control, the concern earlier in the year that inflation was getting out of control appears to have been unfounded," he said.

The seasonally adjusted increase in the Labor Department's Consumer Price Index followed no gain at all in August and similarly modest 0.2 percent rises in July and June. Although private economists said inflation was likely to pick up in the fourth quarter, jittery stock and bond markets rallied on Thursday's news, interpreting it as a sign the Federal Reserve likely will nudge interest rates lower.

By midafternoon, the Dow Jones industrial average had risen more than 40 points.

Because of the stock market turmoil set off by the Friday the 13th news, the Fed had eased a key interest rate from about 9 percent to 8.75 percent. Analysts predicted another quarter-point decline soon in the rate charged between banks for overnight loans.

"Under these circumstances, there is no question that interest rates will fall," said economist William MacReynolds of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

In an effort to contain inflation, the Fed has been using high interest rates to slow the economy. Although wholesale-price inflation shrank to 0.9 percent in September, other statistics for the month portray a sluggish economy with manufacturing, industrial production and housing construction.

In other reports:

* The Labor Department said new state unemployment claims for the week ending Oct. 7 grew 6,000 to 296,000. That report amounted to a further indication of the economy's softness.

* The department said Americans' average real weekly earnings of $318.67 in September were up 3.5 percent from a year earlier — not enough to keep up with inflation. Adjusted for inflation, earnings rose 0.3 percent last month following a 0.7 percent decline in August.

The nation's 38.9 million Social Security recipients watched Thursday's consumer-price report with particular interest because it affected the benefit increase they're due to receive in January.

Benefits will climb 4.7 percent, the biggest boost in 17½ years, to offset the offsets of inflation over the last year. The average monthly payment will climb $25 to $566.

At the same time, the cap on Social Security payroll taxes will rise. Workers will have to pay the tax on their first $30,400 in wages, up from $45,000.

Analysts were surprised by the rise in the September inflation data. They had been expecting higher crude oil costs to ripple through in gasoline pumps, pushing up prices overall by about 0.4 percent.

FUEL oil prices dropped 0.2 percent last month after declining 0.9 percent in August.
Soviets make airlift as Kabul is heavily shelled

Associated Press

KABUL, Afghanistan—Rockets slammed into the capital’s airport and civilian flights were halted Thursday as the Soviet Union was reported to be undertaking the largest airlift since its military withdrawal eight months ago.

The government said shelling in Kabul killed 12 people and wounded 35, though two doctors at a hospital that monitors casualties said they did not know of any victims.

The U.S.-backed guerrillas also shelled a strategic town near the Pakistan border, killing nine people, the government said.

Diplomatic sources in Kabul and Islamabad, Pakistan, said it was the largest Soviet airlift since February, when Soviet troops ended their nine-year intervention in Afghanistan.

Diplomats in Kabul said Soviet-built Antonov-12 transport planes were flying continuously into the airport, dropping off weapons and food for soldiers.

They said the planes were also flying night missions.

Two soldiers said all commercial traffic was shut down for most of the afternoon but Soviet transport planes were operating despite the shelling.

Witnesses said at least five rockets hit the airport grounds, but there were no immediate casualty or damage reports.

U.S. Rep. Don Ritter, R-Pa., estimated Moscow has increased its aid to $400 million this month. The previous figure had been $250 million to $300 million a month. U.S. aid to the guerrillas has been estimated at $500 to $600 million a year.

An Asian diplomat said the airlift, expected to continue into next week, demonstrated the Kremlin’s commitment to the government of President Najib.

Many people underestimated their resolve after they picked up and left,” he said. “But they cannot afford to lose Afghanistan, especially with all their problems in Eastern Eu-trope.”

Guerrillas have been firing rockets and artillery from the mountains surrounding Khost, said government spokesman Muhammed Nabi Amani.

“Areas of Khost were heavily shelled resulting in the deaths of six servicemen and three civilians,” Amani said.

The spokesman said the Afghan air force attacked the positions and killed or wounded hundreds of guerrillas. He did not specify when the fighting occurred.

Khost is 100 miles southeast of the capital and about 22 miles west of the border with Pakistan, where most of the guerrillas are based.

Cross

continued from page 1

process of acquiring members.

Dessouza said he had spoken to his family since the earthquake.

“It’s kind of a scary scene,” he said. “My dad works about five minutes away from that bridge that collapsed.”

He said that although he knows many people from the San Francisco Bay area, he has not heard of any of them having been injured in the earthquake.

Today’s assignment is quite simple. And quite rewarding. Just study the remarkable features of the

Smith Corona XD 5600 and compare them with other typewriters.

After all, how many comparably priced typewriters give you word processing capabilities like

Display and Memory, so you can edit, revise and make your work letter perfect. And try and find the

Spell-Right® 50,000 word Electronic Dictionary or the exclusive fumble-free Correcting Cassette on anything but a Smith Corona typewriter.

Though we’ve packed all these features into a portable that weighs under 14 pounds, we’ve been able to keep the cost equally lightweight.

The versatile Smith Corona XD 5600. It makes buying a typewriter the easiest assignment you’ll ever have.

The Observer

Workers on I-880 cut through the rubble with 'bravery'

Associated Press

OAKLAND, Calif.—The reek of gasoline dripping from flattened cars and trucks mingled Thursday with the aroma from eucalyptus trees splintered by tons of concrete crashing to the streets below.

On the railing of the flattened upper deck of Interstate 880, markers of fluorescent green, pink and orange spray paint point the way to crushed cars and shattered bodies.

The code is crisp and clear: The letters I80A signified a body, 2MT a pair of empty cars, a circle and arrow with the number 43 showed a car away.

Here and there, blood sputters the highway's underside.

Two days ago, 3-foot-thick concrete supports turned to dust, 2-inch steel reinforcing bars bent like pipe cleaners, and chunks of freeway cascaded like runway builders when an earthquake collapsed a mile-long section of I-80, the Nimitz Freeway.

Early estimates put the number of dead at 250 people, but by Thursday, officials said they expected the total would be lower.

Across from the rubble, just outside the Pacific Pipe Co., a salesman who would identify himself only as Dennis stood on the sidewalk Thursday, still shaken by what he had seen.

"It just was one single PLOW!" Dennis said. "The concrete made so much noise you couldn't see anything.

"After you got out here it was so quiet, all you could hear was people screaming. Anybody who could move was getting out. We got some ropes. The thought everyone had was that this was the way it was everywhere. We didn't know how long it would be before help came."

One who came to help was David Horn, a firefighter from neighboring Berkeley.

The group's structure is not completely determined, said Kinkopf, and it is in the process of working out the final details. He said it likely will be comprised of national officers for public relations and finances, and regional officers with similar duties.

An executive committee of the group will have a meeting in November to work out its finalized structure, and will work out an official first draft of its stand on academic freedom. N.A.S.C.C.U. will then send out the draft to Catholic colleges across the country, said Kinkopf.

The first national meeting of the N.A.S.C.C.U. will be in February, and will be held on the Notre Dame campus.

Kinkopf said the final draft of their stand on academic freedom will also be completed, he said.

Member schools of the N.A.S.C.C.U. are still not fully determined, said Kinkopf. It is reserved for all of the over 200 Catholic colleges and universitites across the country, said Kinkopf.

The potential for real influence is great," said Kinkopf. "We can react in a united way because we (the members of N.A.S.C.C.U.) all have something in common," he said.

"It has had somewhat of a snowball effect, as more schools hear about the group, the more want to join and be a part of it to give their students a voice nationwide," Kinkopf said.

Currently, there are 30-35 schools who are members of N.A.S.C.C.U. They include John Carroll University, University of Dayton, DePaul University, Saint Mary's, and the University of San Francisco.

The group represents a wide variety of areas and school sizes, said Kinkopf.

The idea to form a national group of students from Catholic schools came to Kinkopf last year, and he began to work on the idea immediately after being re-elected. Over the summer, and Student Body President Matt Breslin called Catholic schools to see if they had an interest in forming such a group.

"The reaction was overwhelmingly positive," said Kinkopf. "We contacted student leaders across the country and they all wanted to be a part of it. Many were amazed that there was currently no group with a similar function." Reactions from the University administration has also been very positive, said Kinkopf.

"We took on a large role in the formation of this group," said Kinkopf. "We thought it was of great importance to try to establish a group which does what the N.A.S.C.C.U. will be doing."

"Friends of Ski"

Thanks for an awesome birthday
You guys are great!!

Love,
Ski

GO TO MEDICAL SCHOOL
TUITION PAID

Find out how you can have your medical school tuition, required books and fees paid for—plus earn more than $700 a month while you attend school. Clip and mail the coupon below, and we'll send you full details on the Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship Program. We'll tell you how you could qualify for a Physician's Scholarship from the Army, Navy or Air Force.

Mail this coupon to: Armed Forces Scholarships, PO Box 360, Huntington, WV 25724-0360

Check-up three times: Army — May (20-22 years of age) Navy — May (20-22 years of age) Air Force — May (21-23 years of age)

9015

Please print or fill in information clearly and completely.

Name:________
Mail Address:________
Phone:________
Field of Study:________
Graduation Date:________

Tips: With your Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship, you can apply while in high school. Faster track to success. Get the full story. Write to Armed Forces Scholarships, PO Box 360, Huntington, WV 25724.
Evolution.

Everything is in a constant state of evolution. Life evolves. The Earth evolves. Business evolves.

Today's business world has evolved past the Lotus 1-2-3 spreadsheet and into the Microsoft Excel® spreadsheet run on a Macintosh computer.

Like the Macintosh, Excel uses the best of both the evolutionary and the revolutionary.

Like pull-down menus, sorting capabilities and font selections. Excel lets you make it the way you want it. Excel is what you make it.
Honor Code violators breach inherent trust

Dear Editor,

I have just finished reading with interest Jason Carroll’s column entitled, “Honor Code serves University in ‘Notre Only’,” in the Oct. 17 Observer. Please let me emphasize that I am not present for some of the events being described, or for all of the events being described. The views expressed are my own, and present no commitment on behalf of the University of Virginia, its administration, its faculty, or its students.

I think that a common view is held by many of the students present at the University of Virginia, including myself, that if Mr. Carroll’s characterization of the events described is correct, then it is ruinous for the University. As a teacher, I do not know how I would handle such cases, but I hope that if I faced such a case I would handle it with a sense of justice, and with a sense of compassion. The events described are certainly not in the best interests of the students involved, nor in the best interests of the University as a whole.

Some of the student comments to the column have suggested that Mr. Carroll is not being fair, or that his views are not held by all of the students present. I think that Mr. Carroll’s views are likely to be held by a majority of the students present, but I think that there is a minority of the students present who are likely to disagree with him.

Some of the events described in the column have been publicized, and some have not. I think that the events described are likely to have been publicized in some manner, but I think that some of the events described have not been publicized.

Some of the events described in the column have been publicized, and some have not. I think that the events described are likely to have been publicized in some manner, but I think that some of the events described have not been publicized.

Some of the events described in the column have been publicized, and some have not. I think that the events described are likely to have been publicized in some manner, but I think that some of the events described have not been publicized.

Some of the events described in the column have been publicized, and some have not. I think that the events described are likely to have been publicized in some manner, but I think that some of the events described have not been publicized.

Some of the events described in the column have been publicized, and some have not. I think that the events described are likely to have been publicized in some manner, but I think that some of the events described have not been publicized.

Some of the events described in the column have been publicized, and some have not. I think that the events described are likely to have been publicized in some manner, but I think that some of the events described have not been publicized.

Some of the events described in the column have been publicized, and some have not. I think that the events described are likely to have been publicized in some manner, but I think that some of the events described have not been publicized.

Some of the events described in the column have been publicized, and some have not. I think that the events described are likely to have been publicized in some manner, but I think that some of the events described have not been publicized.

Some of the events described in the column have been publicized, and some have not. I think that the events described are likely to have been publicized in some manner, but I think that some of the events described have not been publicized.

Some of the events described in the column have been publicized, and some have not. I think that the events described are likely to have been publicized in some manner, but I think that some of the events described have not been publicized.

Some of the events described in the column have been publicized, and some have not. I think that the events described are likely to have been publicized in some manner, but I think that some of the events described have not been publicized.

Some of the events described in the column have been publicized, and some have not. I think that the events described are likely to have been publicized in some manner, but I think that some of the events described have not been publicized.

Some of the events described in the column have been publicized, and some have not. I think that the events described are likely to have been publicized in some manner, but I think that some of the events described have not been publicized.

Some of the events described in the column have been publicized, and some have not. I think that the events described are likely to have been publicized in some manner, but I think that some of the events described have not been publicized.

Some of the events described in the column have been publicized, and some have not. I think that the events described are likely to have been publicized in some manner, but I think that some of the events described have not been publicized.

Some of the events described in the column have been publicized, and some have not. I think that the events described are likely to have been publicized in some manner, but I think that some of the events described have not been publicized.

Some of the events described in the column have been publicized, and some have not. I think that the events described are likely to have been publicized in some manner, but I think that some of the events described have not been publicized.

Some of the events described in the column have been publicized, and some have not. I think that the events described are likely to have been publicized in some manner, but I think that some of the events described have not been publicized.
In light of the recent uproar on Notre Dame's campus, the issue of racist intent here, right in our own community, has a serious problem that needs to be acknowledged. It is not unexpected that he may have betrayed himself in his suggestion that he would treat it as an issue of more "academic" concern, rather than as 'Nigger Jim' as Father George was simply stating that he would treat it that way. On this issue, as on several others, he has a struggle with racial tension for centuries. Americans, as well as a host of other ethnic groups, have experienced the prejudicial stereotypes, economic inclusions, and injustices.

Echelon Jackson
On Human Rights

Justice and political obstacles continuously. It is naïve to think that in this present day and age, people just aren't racist anymore. We must realize that racism did not disappear with the end of the Civil Rights Movement of the 1960's. Racism and justice and inequality cannot be written off as a thing of the past. It is an issue as it was an issue 20 or even 100 years ago. The importance of cultural awareness cannot be neglected. It is time to listen.

Yes, it is sad to admit that our world is filled with malice, Moral wrongs, economic wrongs and the like are illusory. One might rightfully refer to everyone, black Americans included. Oh, everyone knows about the civil rights movements and everyone knows about the injustices that go on in society. But does everyone know that there doesn't exist a right, right in our own community, a serious problem that needs to be acknowledged. Black students on this campus are fighting a battle of their own with an invisible enemy. In fact, it has been a long road for most students to pass the test of time. It is one that has survived integration and the battle for equal footing of black athletes, professionals and performers. It is one that has, in fact, endured the test of time for people of African origin.

We seem to want to close our eyes on this time, it's easier that way. On the other hand, one cannot help but see that certain things just aren't right. And when we come to these realizations, we must stand for what is right and do what we can to combat these injustices on human rights.

Black students, if they didn't already know, found out recently that they cannot escape racism. Not even on the campuses of prestigious institutions such as Notre Dame. Black students encounter incidents with certain faculty members. If we are to truly enjoy the "Year of the Family," we must realize that the whole community is affected when any group is unjustly wronged. When racially derogatory statements are made, it is in a classroom, on the quads, or even in a seemingly "innocent" ethnic joke, we all suffer a great injustice.

As students, faculty or administrators, alumni, parents, or ourselves, it is our duty to free one another from the chains of ignorance. We are all entitled to the same freedoms and background does not mean that they are below you or above you. We are all God's children. Although we may have differences, we are all entitled to the same freedoms. And our rights as individuals must always be respected.

We must realize that you don't have to belong to a minority group for racial injustice to touch your life. It affects all of us. We should not seek to share a God and we should not only Notre Dame "family." Echelon Jackson is a junior management information systems major and a member of the board of advisors for the Coalition on Human Rights, sponsor of the On Human Rights column.

---

Dear Editor,

I must say, however, that he is not qualified to judge Father George. He may not have witnessed all the things that Professor Oberlin, in recruiting Notre Dame's football. In fact, the only thing that is against Wise's "class miracle" is that he used: rough and unschooled press people. The oppression of blacks in the years of free black labor! The importance of cultural awareness cannot be ignored. It is time to listen.

Yes, it is sad to admit that our world is filled with malice, Moral wrongs, economic wrongs and the like are illusory. One might rightfully refer to everyone, black Americans included. Oh, everyone knows about the civil rights movements and everyone knows about the injustices that go on in society. But does everyone know that there doesn't exist a right, right in our own community, a serious problem that needs to be acknowledged. Black students on this campus are fighting a battle of their own with an invisible enemy. In fact, it has been a long road for most students to pass the test of time. It is one that has survived integration and the battle for equal footing of black athletes, professionals and performers. It is one that has, in fact, endured the test of time for people of African origin.

We seem to want to close our eyes on this time, it's easier that way. On the other hand, one cannot help but see that certain things just aren't right. And when we come to these realizations, we must stand for what is right and do what we can to combat these injustices on human rights.

Black students, if they didn't already know, found out recently that they cannot escape racism. Not even on the campuses of prestigious institutions such as Notre Dame. Black students encounter incidents with certain faculty members. If we are to truly enjoy the "Year of the Family," we must realize that the whole community is affected when any group is unjustly wronged. When racially derogatory statements are made, it is in a classroom, on the quads, or even in a seemingly "innocent" ethnic joke, we all suffer a great injustice.

As students, faculty or administrators, alumni, parents, or ourselves, it is our duty to free one another from the chains of ignorance. We are all entitled to the same freedoms and background does not mean that they are below you or above you. We are all God's children. Although we may have differences, we are all entitled to the same freedoms. And our rights as individuals must always be respected.

We must realize that you don't have to belong to a minority group for racial injustice to touch your life. It affects all of us. We should not seek to share a God and we should not only Notre Dame "family." Echelon Jackson is a junior management information systems major and a member of the board of advisors for the Coalition on Human Rights, sponsor of the On Human Rights column.

---

Dear Editor,

In effect, who do this. In missing this years of free black labor! The importance of cultural awareness cannot be ignored. It is time to listen.

Yes, it is sad to admit that our world is filled with malice, Moral wrongs, economic wrongs and the like are illusory. One might rightfully refer to everyone, black Americans included. Oh, everyone knows about the civil rights movements and everyone knows about the injustices that go on in society. But does everyone know that there doesn't exist a right, right in our own community, a serious problem that needs to be acknowledged. Black students on this campus are fighting a battle of their own with an invisible enemy. In fact, it has been a long road for most students to pass the test of time. It is one that has survived integration and the battle for equal footing of black athletes, professionals and performers. It is one that has, in fact, endured the test of time for people of African origin.

We seem to want to close our eyes on this time, it's easier that way. On the other hand, one cannot help but see that certain things just aren't right. And when we come to these realizations, we must stand for what is right and do what we can to combat these injustices on human rights.

Black students, if they didn't already know, found out recently that they cannot escape racism. Not even on the campuses of prestigious institutions such as Notre Dame. Black students encounter incidents with certain faculty members. If we are to truly enjoy the "Year of the Family," we must realize that the whole community is affected when any group is unjustly wronged. When racially derogatory statements are made, it is in a classroom, on the quads, or even in a seemingly "innocent" ethnic joke, we all suffer a great injustice.

As students, faculty or administrators, alumni, parents, or ourselves, it is our duty to free one another from the chains of ignorance. We are all entitled to the same freedoms and background does not mean that they are below you or above you. We are all God's children. Although we may have differences, we are all entitled to the same freedoms. And our rights as individuals must always be respected.

We must realize that you don't have to belong to a minority group for racial injustice to touch your life. It affects all of us. We should not seek to share a God and we should not only Notre Dame "family." Echelon Jackson is a junior management information systems major and a member of the board of advisors for the Coalition on Human Rights, sponsor of the On Human Rights column.

---

Dear Editor,

I must say, however, that he is not qualified to judge Father George. He may not have witnessed all the things that Professor Oberlin, in recruiting Notre Dame's football. In fact, the only thing that is against Wise's "class miracle" is that he used: rough and unschooled press people. The oppression of blacks in the years of free black labor! The importance of cultural awareness cannot be ignored. It is time to listen.

Yes, it is sad to admit that our world is filled with malice, Moral wrongs, economic wrongs and the like are illusory. One might rightfully refer to everyone, black Americans included. Oh, everyone knows about the civil rights movements and everyone knows about the injustices that go on in society. But does everyone know that there doesn't exist a right, right in our own community, a serious problem that needs to be acknowledged. Black students on this campus are fighting a battle of their own with an invisible enemy. In fact, it has been a long road for most students to pass the test of time. It is one that has survived integration and the battle for equal footing of black athletes, professionals and performers. It is one that has, in fact, endured the test of time for people of African origin.

We seem to want to close our eyes on this time, it's easier that way. On the other hand, one cannot help but see that certain things just aren't right. And when we come to these realizations, we must stand for what is right and do what we can to combat these injustices on human rights.

Black students, if they didn't already know, found out recently that they cannot escape racism. Not even on the campuses of prestigious institutions such as Notre Dame. Black students encounter incidents with certain faculty members. If we are to truly enjoy the "Year of the Family," we must realize that the whole community is affected when any group is unjustly wronged. When racially derogatory statements are made, it is in a classroom, on the quads, or even in a seemingly "innocent" ethnic joke, we all suffer a great injustice.

As students, faculty or administrators, alumni, parents, or ourselves, it is our duty to free one another from the chains of ignorance. We are all entitled to the same freedoms and background does not mean that they are below you or above you. We are all God's children. Although we may have differences, we are all entitled to the same freedoms. And our rights as individuals must always be respected.

We must realize that you don't have to belong to a minority group for racial injustice to touch your life. It affects all of us. We should not seek to share a God and we should not only Notre Dame "family." Echelon Jackson is a junior management information systems major and a member of the board of advisors for the Coalition on Human Rights, sponsor of the On Human Rights column.
The first set of questions deals mostly with literature. Please choose your answers for the first section of questions from the following list of authors.

1. Charles Dickens
2. Emily Dickinson
3. Samuel Taylor Coleridge
4. Joseph Conrad
5. Dante
6. Charles Dickens
7. Emily Dickinson
8. John Donne
9. Frederick Dostoevsky
10. John Dryden
11. T.S. Eliot
12. Ralph Ellison
13. Ralph Waldo Emerson
14. Robert Frost
15. Nathaniel Hawthorne
16. Homer
17. James Joyce
18. John Keats
19. Martin Luther King, Jr.
20. Herman Melville
21. John Milton
22. Plato
23. William Shakespeare
24. Harriet Beecher Stowe
25. Jonathan Swift
26. Edgar Allan Poe
27. Mark Twain
28. Virgil
29. Alice Walker
30. Henry David Thoreau
31. H.G. Wells
32. Mark Twain
33. Ralph Waldo Emerson
34. Edgar Allan Poe
35. Harriet Beecher Stowe
36. William Shakespeare
37. Jonathan Swift
38. Mark Twain
39. Henry David Thoreau
40. Harriet Beecher Stowe
41. Nathaniel Hawthorne
42. Robert Louis Stevenson
43. Susan B. Anthony
44. Henry David Thoreau
45. Mark Twain

Identify the author of these literary works by entering the appropriate number in the space provided.

1. "The Art of Poetry"
2. "The Canterbury Tales"
3. "Crime and Punishment"
4. "David Copperfield"
5. "The Divine Comedy"
6. "Gulliver's Travels"
7. "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn"
8. "The Iliad"
9. "The Invisible Man"
10. "Letter from Birmingham Jail"
11. "Moby Dick"
12. "Paradise Lost" and "Samson Agonistes"
13. "Pride and Prejudice"
14. "The Republic"
15. "The Tempest"
16. "The Essays," and "Portrait of the Artist as a Young Man"
17. "Uncle Tom's Cabin"
18. "War and Peace"

The rest of the literature questions are multiple choice. Circle the number in front of your answer.

20. Which American poet wrote the volume of poetry "Leaves of Grass," which includes the line "I celebrate myself, and sing myself?"
1. Walt Whitman
2. John Keats
3. Emily Dickinson
4. Edgar Allan Poe

21. Who wrote about the settling of the West in "My Antonia," "O Pioneers!," and "Death Comes to the Archbishop?"
1. Laura Ingalls Wilder
2. Ole Bullvag
3. Louis May Alocott
4. Willa Cather

22. In addition to writing plays, Shakespeare also wrote more than 100 poems in the form of the...
1. ballad
2. sonnet
3. ode
4. elegy

23. Who wrote "Native Son," a novel of black life in Chicago, and "Black Boy," which is highly autobiographical?
1. Richard Wright
2. Elridge Cleaver
3. LeRoi Jones
4. Malcolm X

24. A Greek play about a woman who defies a king in defiance of religious laws... who was...
1. Medea
2. Antigone
3. Electra
4. Agamemnon

25. A central episode in the Anglo-Saxon epic "Beowulf" involves a...
1. hero's battle with the monster Grendel
2. group of people trying to escape a giant
3. monster that dwells in Loch Ness
4. young boy's battle against a giant

1. Jack London
2. Ernest Hemingway
3. James T. Farrell
4. William Faulkner

27. In Greek mythology, Prometheus was chained in a rock as punishment for...
1. stealing fire from the gods and giving it to mortals
2. killing a sacred animal in defiance of religious laws
3. marrying a mortal woman and boasting about her great beauty
4. receiving humanity and bringing about widespread destruction

28. "The Return of the Native," "Tess of the d'Urbervilles" and "The Mayor of Casterbridge" were written by...
1. Sir Walter Scott
2. Thomas Hardy
3. Oscar Wilde
4. Robert Louis Stevenson

29. Two authors who are known for their well-crafted stories set in the American South are...
1. Eudora Welty and Flannery O'Connor
2. Louise May Alocott and Katherine Anne Porter
3. William Saroyan and Truman Capote
4. Sherwood Anderson and Sinclair Lewis

30. What is the novel "1984" about?
1. The destruction of the human race by nuclear war
2. A dictatorship in which every citizen was watched in order to stamp out all individuality
3. The invasion and ultimate takeover of the Earth by creatures from outer space
4. The text of...

31. The Koran is the sacred text of...
1. Buddhism
2. Islam
3. Hinduism
4. Judaism

32. "Walden" by Henry David Thoreau is a book about...
1. simplifying one's life
2. patience during suffering
3. proving in battle
4. prophetic ability
33. Who was the European who traveled in the United States and wrote down perceptive comments about what he saw in "Democracy in America?"
1. Napoleon
2. Lafayette
3. Tocqueville
4. Crevceur

34. What is Magna Carta?
1. The Great Seal of the monarchs of England
2. A foundation of the British parliamentary system
3. The French Declaration of the Rights of Man
4. The charter signed by the pilgrims on the Mayflower

40. The region of Asia known as "the cradle of civilization" is...
1. Egypt
2. Babylonia
3. Persia
4. China

43. Who wrote the Bible, who were the first descendants of Adam and Eve?
1. Saul and David
2. Shutharash, Meshach and Abednego
3. Abraham and Isaac
4. Cain and Abel

44. "The love letter" in the Scarlet Letter is...
1. the correspondence between a woman and her fiancé during the Civil War
2. the correspondence between a Revolutionary War spy and George Washington
3. a woman who was unfair and had to observe the effects of her sin on others
4. a woman in a New England town who was executed for being a witch

5. Which of the following is a play about the experiences of a black family as they made plans to move into an all-white neighborhood?
1. "The River Niger"
2. "A Raisin in the Sun"
3. "Songs of Blood and Bones"
4. "Blues for Mister Charlie"

36. What is the Golden Rule?
1. The standard U.S. measurement for gold bars
2. The law of sociology that says in any given society, people with the most wealth dominate
3. The idea that moderation in all things is best
4. The idea that we should treat others as we would be treated

37. In the Bible, Job is known for his...
1. skill as a builder
2. patience during suffering
3. proving in battle
4. prophetic ability

38. Who was the European who traveled in the United States and wrote down perceptive comments about what he saw in "Democracy in America?"
1. Napoleon
2. Lafayette
3. Tocqueville
4. Crevceur

39. What is the idea that we should treat others as we would be treated?
1. The idea that we should treat others as we would be treated
2. The law of sociology that says in any given society, people with the most wealth dominate
3. The idea that moderation in all things is best
4. The idea that we should treat others as we would be treated

41. Which of the following amendments to the U.S. Constitution is not included in all states of the United States?
1. the Bill of Rights
2. the Eighteenth Amendment
3. the Nineteenth Amendment
4. the Twenty-sixth Amendment

42. Which of the following amendments to the U.S. Constitution is not included in all states of the United States?
1. the Bill of Rights
2. the Eighteenth Amendment
3. the Nineteenth Amendment
4. the Twenty-sixth Amendment

43. Which Amendment to the U.S. Constitution states that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness?
1. the First Amendment
2. the Second Amendment
3. the Third Amendment
4. the Fourth Amendment

44. The region of Asia known as "the cradle of civilization" is...
1. Egypt
2. Babylonia
3. Persia
4. China

46. Voltaire, Montesquieu and Benjamin Franklin are all associated with...
1. the Victorian period
2. the Renaissance
3. the Enlightenment
4. the Romantic period

47. What are the first 10 amendments to the U.S. Constitution called?
1. the Bill of Rights
2. the Mayflower Compact
3. the Articles of Confederation
4. the Declaration of Independence

48. The Bolshevik Revolution of 1917 was led by...
1. Lenin
2. Stalin
3. Trotsky
4. Joseph Stalin

49. The Scopes trial was concerned with...
1. freedom of the press
2. prayer in schools
3. teaching evolution in schools
4. education in private schools

50. Who was the primary author of the Declaration of Independence?
1. John Adams
2. Thomas Jefferson
3. George Washington
4. Benjamin Franklin

ROBIN SIMMONS
assistant acccount editor
The Observer

IRISH EXTRA

Notre Dame vs. Southern Cal

Friday, October 20, 1989

THE GAME

The Game Notre Dame (6-0) at Southern Cal (5-1)
Time Saturday, Oct. 21, 2:30 p.m. in South Bend
TV & Radio CBS Sports: Jim Nantz, Pat Haden, John Dockery
Tickets The game is sold out.
AP Rankings Notre Dame 1st, USC 9th
Series Notre Dame leads 33-23
Last Game Notre Dame 27, Air Force 10

ND SCHEDULE

Aug. 31 ND 36, Virginia 13
Sept. 4 ND 24, Michigan 19
Sept. 16 ND 21, Michigan St. 19
Sept. 23 ND 40, Purdue 7
Oct. 7 Notre Dame 27, Stanford 17
Oct. 14 at Air Force
Oct. 21 USC
Oct. 28 PITTsburgh
Nov. 4 NAVY
Nov. 11 SMU
Nov. 18 at Penn State
Nov. 25 at Miami

USC SCHEDULE

Sept. 4 Illinois 14, USC 13
Sept. 16 USC 66, Utah St. 10
Sept. 23 USC 66, Utah St. 10
Sept. 30 USC 42, Ohio St. 3
Oct. 7 USC 18, Washington St. 17
Oct. 14 USC 31, California 15
Oct. 21 at Notre Dame
Oct. 28 STANFORD
Nov. 4 OREGON ST.
Nov. 11 at Arizona
Nov. 18 UCLA

LAST WEEK

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. - The question finally was answered here Saturday night at Falcon Stadium.
Air Force is good, but not good enough.
A bigger and more talented Notre Dame team delivered that message via a 41-27 victory over the Falcons before a record crowd of 53,733.
In a game of big plays, the Irish turned in the biggest ones to move to 6-0. It was the 18th consecutive win for Notre Dame and ended Air Force's dream of an unbeaten season and a possible national title.
"Our team is very hurt and disappointed," Air Force coach Fisher DeBerry said. "We felt the stage was set for us to win, but we didn't play well enough to beat the national champions. I'm disappointed with the outcome, but proud of the effort."

Responsibility:
Johnson faces more than defenses

By KEN TYSIAC
Sports Writer

For Irish tri-captain Anthony Johnson, Notre Dame is not an institution where football is his first and only priority. He has to concern himself with conquering the rigorous academic load as well, but then again, so do the rest of his teammates.
Anthony is unique, however, because he has tremendous family responsibilities as well. He was married last winter, and this past August 15 he became the proud father of Taylor Scott Johnson. Life is anything but simple for Anthony Johnson.
"I realize that certain things absolutely must get done in each of the three areas of family, academics, and football. I always have to make sure I separate these three areas, put them all in perspective, and take care of my priorities first. I learn something new every day about getting things done."
"I want to do the best I can in all of these areas," Johnson continues, "and if I try to improve myself so I can have a successful life in the future. I especially want to take advantage of the academics while I have the chance."
Because he grew up in South Bend, Johnson also has to assume the role of hometown hero.
"That's more of a pressure to just be a good person, though," says Johnson, "because so many people in this town know who I am. On the field, that doesn't really bother me too much."

Nothing seems to bother Johnson too much on the field. The powerful fullback has punished would-be tacklers throughout his career at Notre Dame, gaining 1330 yards and scoring 29 touchdowns to date. His bone-crushing style is crucial to the Notre Dame offensive attack, because he forces teams to respect the Irish rushing game between the tackles, making it easy for his speedier teammates to bounce to the outside when they carry the ball.
Johnson also plays a pivotal role as a leader on the Irish offense. "Ever since I started playing for Notre Dame, he's been the kind of guy who is right there for you when you get frustrated," says Watters. "You listen to him because he's been through it all before. We're like a family in the backfield. "We're like a machine that just keeps moving."
Johnson's leadership is going to be crucial this Saturday for the Irish as they face a USC squad which ranks first in the country against the run. The Trojans return all eleven of the defensive starters who held the Irish to only 253 total yards last year.
"Most importantly, we have to be physical," says Johnson. "When USC knocks us down, we're going to have to get right back up and hit them harder than they hit us. There's now way around being physical if we are going to win this weekend."

Watters agrees. "We'll have to make it a physical ballgame, play hard, and not make any turnovers," he says.
The physical aspect of the Irish football team has taken its toll on Johnson this year. Injuries have depleted the backfield to the point where Johnson is forced to play the majority of the game without getting a breather.
"This new role of playing the whole game is tough on me," admits Johnson. "It puts a lot of pressure on me, but Ryan Mihalko has provided some help recently and we've been working Rodney Culver in to give us some speed, so the younger guys are helping out more now."
Otherwise, Johnson logging so much playing time, there is concern for his health. He has had trouble with ankle injuries in the past, and those who follow the Irish see A/J-page 4
The Game...

By THERESA KELLY
Sports Editor

They won't be wearing green. That you can count on.

"We might wear white," Irish head coach Lou Holtz said. "Because we've been on the road so much. If we do, please excuse us. It's not intentional."

After playing seven of its last eight games away from home, the Irish are returning to Notre Dame Stadium, but the schedule doesn't get any easier.

The Irish are protecting their 18-game winning streak, aiming for another national championship. Southern Cal is looking to average last season's 27-10 loss, when the teams ranked one and two, battled in Los Angeles. The Trojans also are trying to break another streak they've lost six in a row to Notre Dame.

But those streaks mean nothing when the teams step on the field, because this year, the Trojans are better than last, according to Holtz, and have improved considerably since a season-opening loss to Illinois.

That you can count on.

USA Today

USC defense vs Notre Dame offense

USC's strength is its defense. The Trojans return 10 starters from last year's defense, which shut down the Irish offense for most of the game.

"They're just outstanding on defense," Holtz said. "The same defense that stopped us last year is back, and they're better this year. I knew they would be good this year because they have four players who were all-Americans. I have never had a football team dominate an offense the way theirs did ours.

The returning Trojan head coach Larry Smith either.

"The defense will be the strength of our team, Smith predicted before the season. I'll be experienced, talented and deep."

The Trojan numbers back him up on that, especially against the run. In six games, the defense has not allowed a rushing touchdown, and has given up 1.4 yards per carry.

How will the Irish, who rely on the run and average 252 ground yards per game, deal with a squad that gives up an average of 37 per game on the ground?

"I don't think anyone can run the football against USC," Holtz said. "We do have some problems on our team, such as our ability to throw the football on a consistent basis. In fairness to our team, we don't throw the ball a great deal, but we're going to have to throw the ball against Southern Cal."

The Irish do try to run, they'll look primarily to tailback Ricky Watters, who has 319 yards on 60 carries this season. Watters has been improving steadily and has his best game of the season at Air Force, with 96 yards on 11 carries.

Watters is joined by fullback Anthony Johnson, who leads the team with 436 yards. Quarterback Tony Rice has been a dual-threat for the Irish, with 436 yards on 82 carries.

The Irish running game benefited last weekend by the presence of flanker Haghib Ismail at the tailback spot, but Holtz won't make that a permanent move.

"We can't afford to keep him there," Holtz said. "I'll see him there some, maybe he'll have eight or 10 carries in a game. But he won't be there consistently."

Two Irish midfielders and punt returners have been a significant part of Notre Dame's scoring. He has four touchdowns, two in kickoff returns and one on a punt return. His other score was on a run from the tailback spot.

Rice will be on the spot as the Irish look to pass more. His 9-13 passing last week raised his numbers to 44-of-73 (.603) for 738 yards, two touchdowns and three interceptions.

The Trojan defense is led by three All-Americans: tackle Tim Ryan and safeties Mark Carrier and Cleveland Colter. Ryan will go head-to-head with Notre Dame's Tim Ryan, an offensive guard.

"A couple of kids were kidding our Timmy Ryan," Holtz said. "Why'd we get you and they got him?"

Both Ryan's have been impressive in their own fields, but the Trojan's Ryan will keep the other's hands full, having accumulated six sacks among his 44 tackles on the season.

Carrier has 46 tackles and five interceptions on the season, and Colter has added 29 tackles and four interceptions. That doesn't let many runners get to the secondary.

Linebacker Delmar Cheyese leads USC with 60 total tackles.

USC quarterback Todd Marinovich Notre Dame offense vs USC defense

On offense, the visiting Trojans bring a balanced attack, averaging 237 yards per game rushing and 218 per game passing.

"Offensively, they have an awful lot of explosive weapons," Holtz said. "Todd Marinovich has come along very well, which is not surprising. He's very intelligent, has the right touch, and really gets the ball to the right people. They have five fine receivers, particularly (John) Jackson. He's one of the finest receivers in the country."

Marinovich, the freshman quarterback, is in a completely different mold from Rice. The left-handed Marinovich is strictly a passer, hitting 104-of-169 (.615) with three interceptions and nine touchdowns. He has negative rushing yardage on the season.

His top target is Jackson, the split end. Jackson has 414 yards on 27 receptions this season, good for three touchdowns.

"There is one exception to all that. I don't think I've ever seen a corner back play as well in the first six football games as Todd Lyght."

Lyght leads the Irish with five interceptions, and he also has 27 tackles to his credit. Mark Bolcar and Donn Grimm lead the team in tackles, with 55 and 53, respectively.

On the ground, the Trojans have an Irish backfield that has allowed only 106 yards per game. Ervins leads the way for the Trojans with 217 yards on 126 carries, good for 112 yards per game and four touchdowns.

The 6-2, 260-pound senior is a key factor in the dominant USC rush defense, which allows only 1.4 yards per carry. He has 44 tackles this season and has forced three fumbles this season.

PLAYERS TO WATCH

Larry Smith Coach

In two years as the USC coach, Smith has won two Pac 10 titles and posted a 23-6 record. He is looking to break a six-game Trojan losing streak against ND.

Todd Marinovich QB

With some game experience under his belt, the 6-4, 210-pound Marinovich has improved, hitting 104-of-169 passes (62 percent), for 1216 yards and nine touchdowns.

Ricky Ervins RB

Ervins leads the Trojan ground game with 671 yards on 126 carries, good for a 5.3 yards per carry average. He has scored four touchdowns and has a 111.8 yards per game average.

Leroy Holt DB

Second on the team in rushing with 358 yards, Holt averages 6.6 yards per carry. He is also a key receiver, pulling down 14 passes for 156 yards.

Tim Ryan DT

The 6-2, 260-pound senior is a key factor in the dominant USC rush defense, which allows only 1.4 yards per carry. He has 44 tackles this season and has forced three fumbles this season.
Irish blow big lead: Davis leads Trojans

By VIC LOMBARDI

Sports Writer

Anthony Davis. See the man who made you picture a small, explosive runner from that tailback factory called USC.

Time Capsule

Behind Charles White and Marcus Allen, on the all-time Trojan rushing list. A. D. was a multi-talented American sensation in 1989.

But to Notre Dame fans, the name is forever etched in the mind as arguably the biggest insertion in Irish football history. No opposing football player dominated Notre Dame quite like Anthony Davis did from 1972 to 1974.

A record six times in 1972 and four times in 1974. He also tallied 68 allow him to return those kickoffs for touchdowns. Davis is well-remembered for sparking the 1974 USC squad in what was regarded as one of the game's most incredible comebacks in the history of college football. "The Comeback" saw the Trojans erase a 24-point deficit to beat the number-five ranked Irish 55-24 in the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

At first, it seemed as though the Irish had found the right formula to keep Davis in check. A swarming Notre Dame defense limited him to only 40 yards on 11 carries in the first half, as the spurning Trojan offense posting a 24-0 lead.

After stopping the Trojans on the next drive, students put together a 17-play, 72-yard scoring drive. Dave Reeves kicked a 27-yard field goal after the Trojans were stopped on fourth down, giving the Irish a 17-0 advantage.

Two possessions later, Notre Dame moved the ball 70 yards in nine plays, mainly on the passing of Clements to freshman tight end Ken MacAfee. Mark McGwire barreled nine yards into the endzone on a draw play to make it 24-0.

With 36 seconds remaining until halftime, the Irish seemed to have total command: it was now their game to lose.

And that they did.

Haden, who recorded four touchdown passes on the day, masterfully directed the Trojans 59 yards in 40 seconds to put USC on the board. An 87-yard touchdown swing pass to Davis followed by a blocked extra point.

IRISH OFFENSE

- TIGHT END TROYAN OFFENSE
  - FLANKER A. D.
  - FULLBACK Anthony Davis
  - WIDE RECEIVER Mike Brennan
  - CENTER Mike White
  - GUARD Tim Ryan
  - TAILBACK Ricky Watters
  - GUARD Gary Wellman
  - CENTER Chris Tuilua
  - GUARD Dave Zolnikov
  - RIGHT TACKLE Anthony Johnson
  - LEFT TACKLE Derek Brown
  - GUARD Pat Smith
  - TACKLE Toddy Lyght
  - GUARD Dan Owens
  - TACKLE John Jr.
  - TACKLE LeRoi Seastrunk
  - CENTER John Jr.
  - LEFT TACKLE Anthony Jones
  - RIGHT TACKLE Mike Brennan
  - GUARD Mike White
  - TACKLE Pat Smith
  - TACKLE Tim Ryan
  - GUARD Gary Wellman
  - CENTER Chris Tuilua
  - GUARD Dan Owens
  - TACKLE John Jr.
  - TACKLE Anthony Johnson
  - LEFT TACKLE Derek Brown
  - RIGHT TACKLE Anthony Davis

USC's multi-talented J.J. Jackson

USC's multi-talented J.J. Jackson is mentioned, but the text does not provide enough context to fully understand his role or significance.

"On the other side of the towel, it has 'Phil 4:13' printed on it. That's a Bible verse that says 'I can do all things through him who strengthens me.' I know it's the Lord who is giving me the strength to do all the things I do."

No wonder J.J. knows so much.
follow the Irish realize that if he went down with an injury this year he would be out for the season and was continuing to see Braxton Banks out for the season. But Banks does worry about Johnson's health and they're wasting their time. At this point in the season almost nothing could keep Johnson out of the Notre Dame lineup.

Anthony is the kind of guy that can play with adversity and play with pain, says Watters, 'He's a very, very physical person. He's really tough and he knows what it takes to win. He has injured his ankle in the past and still played for us. I don't think the wear and tear will slow him down at all as the season progresses.'

A.J. continued from page 1

and two long TD passes from Haden to so did the Trojans. In a little less than 10 SE the endzone and raced through the USC defense. Haden's TD pass was an 83-yarder that he caught in the air and ran 40 yards for the score. The Trojans continued from page 1

A.D. continued from page 3

Still, the Irish had some breathing room. But as fast as you can say, "Oh no, not him again," Anthony Davis took the opening kickoff two yards deep in the endzone and raced 102 yards for the touchdown that put the Trojans right back in the game. As the Coliseum crowd grew rowdy, so did the Trojans. In a little less than 10 minutes, USC had compiled 28 more points to outrace the Irish 32-0 in the third quarter. Those scores came on a pair of short gains burst by Davis and two long TD passes from Haden to so did the Trojans. In a little less than 10 SE the endzone and raced through the USC defense. Haden's TD pass was an 83-yarder that he caught in the air and ran 40 yards for the score. The Trojans continued from page 1

The older McKay really must have inspired his team at halftime. The halftime score was USC 49, Notre Dame 0.

Watters said, "We needed a catalyst, and we got it in A.J.'s big return," said McKay of his big endzone barrage.

USC compiled most of his reserves in the fourth quarter, and they even had enough bench to run the nation's top-ranked defense. A.J.'s 16-yard scoring pass made it 48- 24. Haden finished with 254 yards in the air while Davis led the Trojans with 61 rushing yards on 18 carries.

Phillips intercepted Clements early in the fourth quarter and dashed 58 yards to put the finishing touches on a 55-24 shellacking.

THE FIGHTING IRISH

NOTRE DAME OFFENSE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Player</th>
<th>Yards</th>
<th>TDs</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>implicit</td>
<td>implicit</td>
<td>implicit</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

THE TROJANS

USC OFFENSE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Player</th>
<th>Yards</th>
<th>TDs</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>implicit</td>
<td>implicit</td>
<td>implicit</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

PEERLESS PROGNOSTICATIONS

Each week, The Observer sports staff, a random student picked by the sports department and some well- known figures in the Notre Dame community, predict the game of the week’s major college football games. Records are compiled as to how each person predicted the game and won. In other words, it isn’t enough to pick the winner of a given game. The person must pick the winner and give the underdog points.

Estrada, 9,990

Clemson 85 over North Carolina St.

Michigan 35 over Iowa State

Alabama 45 over Tennessee

Arkansas 14 over Texas A&M

Houston 58 over Missouri

Notre Dame 7 over California

Molly Mahoney

Assistant Sports Editor

Steve Margarido

Assistant Sports Editor

Greg Guffey

Sports Editor

Heather Atkinson

Sports Editor

Theresa Kelly

Senior Staff Writer

Kathy Cook

Ramsay Student Writer

Mark Green

Guest Columnist

PREVIEW PROGNOSTICATORS

Each week, The Observer sports staff, a random student picked by the sports department and some well-known figures in the Notre Dame community, predict the game of the week’s major college football games. Records are compiled as to how each person predicted the game and won. In other words, it isn’t enough to pick the winner of a given game. The person must pick the winner and give the underdog points.

Estrada, 9,990

Clemson 85 over North Carolina St.

Michigan 35 over Iowa State

Alabama 45 over Tennessee

Arkansas 14 over Texas A&M

Houston 58 over Missouri

Notre Dame 7 over California
3. Thomas Paine
4. George Washington

51. Which of the following nations has never been occupied by forces of the Soviet Union?
1. Italy and Japan
2. Soviet Union and Italy
3. France and England
4. Japan and Soviet Union

52. When the U.S. entered World War II, which of the following were allied with Germany?
1. Italy and Japan
2. Soviet Union and Italy
3. France and England
4. Japan and Soviet Union

53. Mayans lived in...
1. Babylonia
2. Mexico
3. Peru
4. Indonesia

54. Who wrote “Common Sense,” a 1776 pamphlet that argued for the independence of the American colonies?
1. Patrick Henry
2. Thomas Paine
3. Thomas Jefferson
4. James Madison

55. The founder of the People's Republic of China was...
1. Sun Yat-sen
2. Ho Chi Minh
3. Mao Tse-tung
4. Chiang Kai-shek

56. In which time period was the Revolutionary War?
1. Before 1750
2. 1750-1800
3. 1800-1850
4. 1850-1900
5. 1900-1950
6. After 1950

57. The “shot heard around the world” was fired at...
1. Grecisburg
2. Yorktown
3. Concord
4. Bunker Hill

58. The Egyptian leader who opened up talks with Israel and was subsequently assassinated by members of his army was...
1. Gamal Abdel Nasser
2. Carnel
3. Menachem Begin
4. Anwar Sadat

59. The purpose of the authors of the “Federalist” papers was...
1. win foreign approval for the Revolutionary War
2. establish a strong, free press in the colonies
3. gain ratification of the United States Constitution
4. confirm George Washington's election as the first President
50. The Monroe Doctrine was a state policy that...
1. no country once democratic should be allowed to become communist
2. trade with Japan should be open to all nations
3. European powers should not extend their influence into the Western hemisphere
4. no foreign power had the right to search U.S. vessels at sea

61. American foreign policy toward Europe after the First World War is usually described as...
1. isolationist
2. imperialistic
3. interventionist
4. internationalist

62. The constitutional amendments that guaranteed women the right to vote was adopted in...
1. 1783
2. 1827
3. 1920
4. 1933

63. “Reconstruction” is a term used to describe...
1. efforts by historians to establish the exact causes of past events
2. a plan to repair homes, factories and highways damaged in the civil war
3. a period during which the federal government administered southern states prior to their readmission to the Union
4. a plan of U.S. economic assistance to help Europe recover after World War II

64. In which time period was the Civil War?
1. Before 1750
2. 1750-1800
3. 1800-1850
4. 1850-1900
5. 1900-1950
6. After 1950

65. Who was elected president during the Depression and remained so during most of World War II?
1. Herbert Hoover
2. Harry Truman
3. Dwight Eisenhower
4. Franklin Delano Roosevelt

66. The Shawnee chief Tecumseh...
1. tried to organize Indian tribes from Canada to Florida into a confederacy
2. supported the English during their first difficult years at Plymouth
3. defeated General Guster at the Battle of the Little Big Horn
4. relocated to Oklahoma along the “Trail of Tears”

67. Who was the leader of the Soviet Union when the United States entered World War II?
1. Yuri Gagarin
2. Marshall Tito
3. Joseph Stalin
4. Nikita Khrushchev

68. The Korean War began during the presidency of...
1. John F. Kennedy
2. Franklin D. Roosevelt
3. Dwight D. Eisenhower
4. Harry S. Truman

69. Three important cultural figures of the Renaissance were...
1. Byron, Keats, and Shelley
2. Aeschylus, Sophocles, and Euripides
3. Machiavelli, Michelangelo, and Leonardo
4. Hobbes, Locke, and Rousseau

70. In which time period was Jamestown founded?
1. Before 1750
2. 1750-1800
3. 1800-1850
4. 1850-1900
5. 1900-1950
6. After 1950

71. The Missouri Compromise was the act that...
1. granted statehood to Missouri but denied the admission of any other new states
2. settled the boundary dispute between Missouri and Kansas
3. admitted Maine into the union as a free state and Missouri as a slave state
4. funded the Lewis and Clark expedition on the upper Missouri River

72. Which of the following were leaders in the women's rights movement in the 1970s?
1. Betty Friedan and Gloria Steinem
2. Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Susan B. Anthony
3. Sandra Day O'Connor and Margaret Bourke-White
4. Margaret Chase Smith and Frances Perkins

73. In “Brown v. Board of Education,” 1954, the Supreme Court decided to...
1. require the hiring of minority teachers
2. declare racial segregation in public schools unconstitutional
3. forbid the practice of discrimination in housing and models
4. mandate busing of students to achieve racial balance in public schools

74. In the Constitutional Convention of 1787, which of the following concerned the status of slaves?
1. The Bill of Rights
2. The Emancipation Proclamation
3. The Missouri Compromise
4. The three-fifths compromise

75. The controversy surrounding the leadership of the movement...
1. John F. Kennedy
2. Franklin D. Roosevelt
3. Dwight D. Eisenhower
4. Harry S. Truman

76. The final series of questions concerns the U.S. Constitution. Are the following phrases part of the Constitution? Indicate True or False.
80. “Ask not what your country can do for you, ask what you can do for your country.”
1. True
2. False
81. “We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union...”
1. True
2. False
82. “All men are created equal...”
1. True
2. False
83. “In God we trust...”
1. True
2. False
84. “The President...”
1. True
2. False
85. “The President...”
1. True
2. False
86. “The President...”
1. True
2. False
87. “The President...”
1. True
2. False
Earthquake raises questions about evil

When I woke up the morning after the earthquake, I noticed how useless my religious faith was in fixing, or even giving me any kind of handle in so great a tragedy. To my thinking, God couldn't have been more out of the picture. However, the implications of this seemed to me that if I wanted to say that human suffering has a father or can be attributed to one of the principal points or powers, in God's army, or in the devil's mind, then you have to conclude that the alleged father remains anonymous. Even if you believe the father of suffering is God if asked, "Who caused the earthquake?" you answer, "Nobody." There's nobody in plain sight whom you can pin the blame on, even if you're religious and believe in God I say this, not to whitewash the Creator, or to shield him from blame, but because you'd have to be in the mood for myth-making, or fantasizing; if you are to imagine God sending an earthquake, or allowing it to come, to punish San Francisco for its sin or for its virtue, or he can bring good out of evil; or because it's a way of fitting about the way he governs the universe; or because he's indifferent to suffering, and can't waste his time tempering the wind storm, but he promised, or because he created the world as a machine able to run in its own power and inevitably, sooner or later the parts were sure to break down. So, to be hard-nosed and realistic, evolution, which has no visible connection with a catastrophe in which hundreds of lives were lost, and thousands injured and made homeless. Last time I saw a bearded soul demand in- "Where was he? Where was God?" I'd give the same1 answer that was given so passionately, "He's where you can always find him, in the heart of suffering, bearing a lion's share of the pain. He's there in the tears of the bereaved, promising, 'I will make the promise to the promise that would activate the hills by the bay shake, rattle, and roll, and thus devastate San Francisco."

Father Robert Griffin
Letters to a Lonely God

The trouble with blaming Satan for anything is that it is so anthropomorphic. I'm sure not if he exists as a fallen archangel, God's ancient enemy. The division of the world between the powers of good and evil seems oversimplified and mythological. Still, the Catholic Church has never doubted the existence of a personal Satan. A few years ago, the President of the United States, suddenly assimilated, affirmed a personal Satan, in the presence, because they said, "There is a spirit of evil operating in the world, which shows how a man is to be intelligent and cunning." You can't prove that God exists—and you really can't. I know you, except perhaps to your own satisfaction—how difficult it would be to prove that the devil exists as a person! Yet, as the Presbyterians argued, even those who were counted in all the ways you can for all the evil that you see there is still a large body of maladies whose origins or source we cannot account for. There's a mischievous presence which goes around like a roaring lion, as the scripture says of Satan, seeking whom he may devour. Tom Dooley said that he never took much stock in the devil, found the Christian children in Southeast Asia with grandmothers haunted into their young ears. This is the way the communist soldiers of today are haunted out of their heads and literate in the Bible in their Catechism class. But what is a good deception in America, they say it is to persuade religious people to believe that he does not exist. If you don't believe in the devil, he can do twice as much harm. If I am wrong, the post-earthquake in San Francisco, I was in no mood to put God in the picture, it would have been even more untenable to blame an earthquake on Satan. Anonymous evil is accepted as something that just happens. If you try non-believing God as the source, even your fellow Christian will think you're going overboard. If you nominated Satan, according to Darby's school, was a laughing stock. You could get your name in the headlines of the National Enquirer, "Catholic priest says Satan left his heart in San Francisco... and tore the town apart getting it." When you think of it, what a perfect cover Satan has if he wants to tear down any town in America. American novelist, warns: 'Hey, folks! That's the Old Scratch out there, knocking down the gate. The skeptics don't have to kill the messenger. He's just the devil, here to self-destruct as a nut-case. If anyone gets blamed for trashing the Earthquake, the best that Satan can do is to pretend that he is doing it. And Gomorrah, it will be Satan's record existing beyond the stars. As earthquakes become part of the God-problem, for those who are interested in religion. The world is chaotic and there is a God, or there isn't. If he exists, how come he is not a better ruler on earth than we? If he keeps on keeping control, can he be there for us at all? How could he like him if he wants to treat us like evil humans? In the meantime, freebee-buzz could be standing in the wings his giant sleeves and drenching his butt off, because he's the Devil again, this time a seasoned malefactor, invisible and anonymous, and so he goes unanswered. But it isn't necessary so. We must keep our zeal out of his evil reach. We must wait, and eye peeled for him, during break. If he is around, just re我说 where he is and he's in the shadows, yours and mine. They say he has a shape an' a light of light. But God help us and God bless us! Remember that Darby O'Gill and I never said we didn't love you.

Three REMINDER

NOTRE DAME CPA REVIEW PROGRAM
FOR SENIORS PREPARING FOR THE MAY 1990 CPA EXAMINATION
LAST DAY FOR STUDENT DISCOUNT
$75.00 SAVINGS
OCTOBER 20, 1989

For information stop by
373 Hayes-Healey Center, or call 239-5285

Michigan National Bank Equal Opportunity Employer

At Michigan National Corporation, our goal is to be a world-class banking institution that provides the finest financial services to our community. To realize our goal, we need people who are willing to accept the challenge of becoming the best in the business. We seek aggressive, intelligent, driven people who believe in our philosophy, and who are willing to accept the challenge necessary to achieve success. You'll work in an exciting, entrepreneurial environment that gives you the freedom to be your best.

If you are up to our challenge, we will be conducting campus interviews November 9th. Please contact your Placement Offices for further details.

Friday, October 20, 1989
Heisman race has no frontrunner

By STEVE MEGARGEE Assistant Sports Editor

Midway through the college football season, two Notre Dame players and no frontrunners are included in the unofficial list of Heisman Trophy candidates.

A random sampling of Heisman voters, asked who their favorite candidate was at this point, indicated that Irish quarterback Tony Rice still has a great chance of winning the award, given annually to the top player in the country.

But Rice is by no means the only name being mentioned. Other candidates include quarterback Doo Dowis of Air Force, Major Harris of West Virginia and Andre Ware of Houston, along with Irish flanker/kick returner Raghul Ismail.

Ismail has earned national attention with his three touchdown returns and a Sports Illustrated cover appearance. "I'd probably vote for Ismail," said George Mandell of the Tallahassee (Fla.) Democrat. "He has a better chance because of his exposure and because no one else has stepped out in big games so far."

This Heisman race, which appears to be the most wide open since Auburn's Bo Jackson edged Chuck Long of Iowa in 1985, seems to have a different flavor this year.

Rice had the advantage after his Kickoff Classic performance, then fell back with two interceptions against Miami, his biggest mistake. That's when Dowis and Harris stepped atop the list.

Once Harris' West Virginia team tied Pitt and lost to Virginia Tech, Ware stepped to the forefront with his impressive statistics. The momentum of Ware, and perhaps Dowis, ended when their respective teams lost last weekend.

Now these four quarterbacks appear locked at the top of the list, while voters wait for some player to break out of the pack.

"I think they should give it to Barry Sanders again," joked the Dallas Morning News' Ivan Maisel, who likes Ware the most right now. "I don't think there's a favorite right now." In fact, the only voters who seemed fairly certain of their selections were Midwestern reporters who liked their favorite every week.

"He deserves it based on what he's accomplished in four years," said Charly Hallman of the St. Paul Pioneer Dispatch. "I think he could be a Heisman winner because of his talent; Tony Rice succeeds with a better supporting cast," said Bob Wojnowski of the Detroit News, referring to Minnesota star running back Darrell Thompson. It sounds funny, but outside the Big Ten, maybe they got confused and think that they're both equal and (Anthony) doesn't stand out.

Florida's Emmitt Smith is another quality running back who has not received much Heisman attention despite his steady season. That might be due to the off-the-field troubles that have hit the Gators in the last two weeks, including the forced resignation of Coach Galen Hall.

The only other darkhorse candidates mentioned were Colorado quarterback Darrian Hagan and Florida State sign- nalcailer Peter Tom Willis. Many of the voters appeared to be leaning between Dowis and Rice or Harris and Rice. Ware's chances are damaged by Houston's probation and recent defeat.

Air Force's loss to Notre Dame last weekend might not have hurt Dowis' Heisman chances too much.

"I think what he's done has been based on his potential talent, Tony Rice succeeds with a better supporting cast," said Bob Young of the Arizona Republic.

"I think what he's done has been based on his potential talent, Tony Rice succeeds with a better supporting cast," said Bob Young of the Arizona Republic.

"I think what he's done has been based on his potential talent, Tony Rice succeeds with a better supporting cast," said Bob Young of the Arizona Republic.

We've Moved!
and closer to campus

Linda's Flower Market
2 doors east of Coach's
2128 SOUTH BEND AVE.
(State Road 23)
South Bend, IN 46637
Larger store to accommodate all your floral & plant needs.
"Same Great Service"
Phone 272-0902
Saturday is Sweetest Day
Roses $15.95 a dozen boxed
Delivery Available

Destinations Unlimited
"Where Service Is Unlimited"
Notre Dame vs.
Miami
November 22-26
Package Includes:
• Round Trip Airfare
• Game Tickets
• Hotel Accommodations
• Many Extras
For details call:
234-9099
1(800) 373-2918
728 East Colfax Avenue, South Bend, Indiana 46617 Getting Comfortable With a Zenith Portable
Now

Can Make for a Comfortable
Future in the Real World

For More Details Contact
Notre Dame Computer Store
Office of University Computing
Math/Computer Building
239-7477
Mon. Fri. 9 - 5
Women's soccer team makes big strides in short time

By RICHARD MATHURIN
Sports Writer

Three years ago, Notre Dame had no women's varsity soccer team. Now, the young program is on the brink of national prominence.

The Irish, 12-6 and riding a 16-game winning streak, head to Charlottesville, Va., to compete in the Virginia Classic against national powers Virginia, Duke and Stanford.

After that, they go on to the Virginia Collegiate Conference tournament in Cincinnati. Although it is highly doubtful they will win, a contest against another team would give an indication of how far the program has progressed.

Notre Dame started the season 2-6, but a contest against Indiana turned the season around for the Irish. In that game, the Irish defeated the Hoosiers for the first time ever by a 4-1 count.

"The girls put a great game together and we not only beat them, we pretty well dominated them," said coach Dennis Grace.

It was not an undermanned Indiana team, either. In fact, many Hoosier players were above college age. The strength of the team lies in its freshman, who have really improved as the season has progressed. Leading the way is midfielder Margaret Jarc, who Grace describes as having "a lot of dribbling ability and ability to see the field well to make passes."

Wingback Shannon Jenkins and stopper Marta Roema have also contributed greatly to the success of the Irish. "Shannon is very fast and tenacious," Grace said, "while Marta is tough physically with a high work ethic."

Goalkeeper Michelle Lodggra has been solid in the net, drawing high praise from Grace. "She doesn't look like a goalkeeper physically, but she's fearless and aggressive when going after the ball," said Grace.

Not only will ND have these freshman coming back, but Grace is busy recruiting next year's team. Grace indicated there is an abundance of good women players as a result of the youth soccer programs across the country. "Having some scholarships is really going to help this year," Grace said, "while hoping to attract many of South Bend's top high school players to stay home."

Although the freshman are the future, senior co-captains K.T. Sullivan and Joy Simsolak have been the backbone of the team all year.

Simsolak, who transferred from Canisus University after her sophomore year, is described by Grace as, "a hard worker with soccer savvy who has provided guidance to the younger girls." Simsolak leads more by example than words. "When the game is on the line, we usually look to Joy," said Grace.

The two will be hard to replace, but they have provided Notre Dame with a strong soccer foundation for the future.

The Notre Dame women's soccer program is rising at a time when soccer is also becoming prominent on the national level. "Women's soccer is the fastest growing sport in America," Grace said. "The 1994 World Cup is here in the United States and we as a soccer community see it catching fire at that point."

Toledo coach receives reprimand

Associated Press

TOLEDO, Ohio — The Mid-American Conference has issued a public reprimand to University of Toledo head football coach Dan Simrell.

The reprimand resulted from Simrell's comments on a televised sports show in Toledo after Toledo's Oct. 14 loss to Bowling Green.

A conference rule forbids public criticism of game officials after a game. The MAC also enforces a sportsmanship code.

MAC Commissioner Jim Lessig acknowledged that Simrell might have had reason for some of his comments. "I can understand Coach Simrell's frustrations," said Lessig in a statement. "Supervisor of officials Jack McLain and I have reviewed the game film with him, and there are some inconsistencies on calls which may have affected both teams, but that will always be a part of any game officilaied by human beings."

Toledo lost to Bowling Green on an 11-yard touchdown pass from Rich Dackin to Ron Heard with 20 seconds left in the game.
Players agree Series should continue despite quake

Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO — They were shaken by the earthquake. They were angered by the death and destruction. Yet almost as one, the Oakland Athletics and the San Francisco Giants agreed that the World Series should go on.

Twenty-one of Oakland’s 24 players were surveyed by The Associated Press Thursday, and all agreed with Commissioner Fay Vincent’s decision to reume the World Series. Twenty-one of San Francisco’s 27 players were surveyed by the AP, and Pat Sheridan was the only one who would have rather called it off.

"What would do if I went my decision?" Sheridan said. "I probably would have gotten on the plane last night with my wife."

His wife, Melanie, left Wednesday and returned to their home at Farmington, Mich. All of the Giants would rather play in the Bay Area than to lose in the series.

"If you listen to the news accounts, they make it sound like the Bay cracked open and everything slid in," Giants pitcher Mike LaCoss said. "Yeah, there’ve been some deaths and some losers. But you have to pick up the pieces and start over again.

That’s easier said than done. Mark McGwire, for one, said it was difficult for him to go on.

"To be truthful, it’s not going to be exciting," the A’s first baseman said. "We’ll play the game, but it won’t be the same. Nobody wants to play it now. I wouldn’t play if they asked me today. We’re not in the mood to play baseball.

McGwire and others also agreed with decision to keep the World Series in the Bay area.

"I don’t know if it’s in good taste, but if not here — nowhere," said Dave Stewart of the A’s, the winning pitcher in Game 1.

"I don’t think that was a real alternative," the Giants’ Brett Butler said of suggestions that the Series would be shifted to San Diego or the Los Angeles area.

"I think we should continue, but I don’t want to be disrespectful," said Greg Litton, a Giants reserve infielder. "At first, some of us said, ‘Shoot, let’s go to San Diego and finish it there.’ At the same time, though, this has been a big event for the Bay area."

Tennis

continued from page 24

playing at USC this year," says Trojan skipper Dick Leach who has piloted the NCAA Championships in every year of his career and a No. 10 team ranking in the 1989 season final poll. "There is a trend in tennis now with most of the top American high school players — like Michael Chang and Pete Sampras — going professional instead of going to college. I would rather recruit a top international player than try to pick up an unproven and inexperienced American player, one that wouldn’t be able to compete at this level."

For Notre Dame, competing at this level is a realistic goal but one that still must prove on a long term basis. And the best time to start their quest is today.

How will Bob Bayliss’s squad compete at this high level of collegiate tennis?

They will compete with Walter Dobhare, who will assume the No. 1 position in DiLucia’s absence and at least four freshmen.

"It is pretty unheard of playing that many freshmen," said Bayliss. "But they have played well and have already been exposed to top collegiate players in the Volvo and Navy Tournaments. They shouldn’t be afraid of anyone. They should be able to handle this challenge. I don’t think they’re smart enough to know they are supposed to lose."

Who are these wonder kids who have the potential to take the Irish tennis program to another level?

There are eight freshman on the Irish roster of which seven were ranked nationally in the junior ranks. The cream of the crop is Chuck Coleman of Lake Wylie, S.C., who should play in the top half of the singlet line-up this season. Coleman was one of the 1989 Top 15 collegiate tennis recruits. He also captured two national doubles championships in 1989, including the Olympic Festival title.

Chuck is a very strong player," said Bayliss. "His style of play is very adaptable and has good leadership quality." And can Bayliss & Co. pull off what would undoubtedly shake the foundations of the collegiate tennis world?

"I am not presumptuous but I think we can make it competitive," says Bayliss. "All in all we will be ready for the match."

Notre Dame’s No. 1 player, Dave DiLucia, lost in the first round of the Volvo All-American Championships to the No. 10 player in collegiate tennis, John Simon of Alabama, 6-6, 3-6, 4.

DiLucia who is ranked No. 26 college tennis, now moves to the consolation bracket where he will compete against Jeff Gross of Kansas, a 1989 All-American, this morning.

Associated Press
ND runners face weekend tests

Irish men look to avoid another upset at hands of USC

By MARY GARINO
Sports Writer

The 12th-ranked Notre Dame men’s cross country team will get its shot at a USC team also as the Irish host the Trojan runners at the Burke Memorial Golf Course on Saturday morning.

The Irish have had two weeks since their last meet to prepare for USC, who upset the Irish last year in California. Notre Dame went into the meet ranked 12th in the nation but came away with a disappointing defeat by a score of 21-34. Irish head coach Joe Plano says that last year’s loss is reason enough to be wary of the Trojans tomorrow.

“We ended up ninth in the country last year, but USC beat us, so that speaks for itself,” Plano said. “They are unranked at the moment but they are a good team.”

Irish captain Mike O’Connor says that the Irish are looking to repay the Trojans for last year.

“We just want to be ready for USC,” O’Connor stated. “They beat us last year out there and we’d like to return the favor.”

Another reason for Notre Dame to be prepared for the Trojans is Fredose Mayeke, the top runner on the USC team and the winner of last year’s dual meet with Notre Dame. Mayeke, a native of Kenya, eventually went on to qualify for the NCAA Championships after placing third in the qualifying meet for his district.

Challenging Mayeke for the lead will be Irish runners O’Connor, Tom O’Rourke and Ryan Cahill. Piane is happy to report that his three top runners are healthy again after battling illnesses at the beginning of the year.

Junior runner Pat Kearns is also expected to make a contribution to the Irish effort. Kearns, an Arts and Letters major, sat out all of last season after a hernia operation. This year, Kearns has been battling illnesses at the beginning of the year but has become one of the Irish regulars.

According to Kearns, “I don’t want to be prepared for the rest of the year,” Piane stated. “Our whole year has been built toward November.”

The meet will begin at 11 a.m., even if there is snow on the ground. Piane says that the course will be marked with flags if necessary, but the race will be run.

“Of course the loss could affect our overall performance, but we’ve been training as a group lately and I think we still have a very good chance of winning,” said teammate junior Renee Kaptur.

Kaptur said that the team has been training very well in the last few weeks.

The Irish have been led in every meet this season by sophomore Amanda Cahill, while junior Teresa Lenamiski and sophomore Amy Blasing have emerged as consistently strong performers for the Irish.

This is the last regular meet for the Irish before the McC meet on October 28 in Milwaukee.

“This is a very big meet for us in terms of preparing for the McC meet,” said Connelly. “Last year, we placed 2nd overall, but we’re hoping to do at least as well. It’s been our goal all year.”

Depleted women’s squad to face MCC foe Marquette

By TRICIA GROHMAN
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame women’s cross country team has high hopes for victory in its dual meet against Midwestern Collegiate Conference rival Marquette on Saturday.

The Irish, who competed against Marquette Sept. 29 at the National Catholics, hope to repeat their successful past performance. At the National Catholics, the Irish placed fifth with a score of 132 while the Trojans beat them pretty soundly at the moment.

We hope to do at least as well. For the Irish before the NCAA Championships, “said coach Tim Murray is currently recovering from pneumonia and junior Jenny Ledrick is injured.

The loss of two top seven runners however could play a role in Saturday’s match-up. Senior and team captain Wendy Kearns is back and has become one of the top runners for Notre Dame, including a 17th place finish at the Notre Dame Invitational two weeks ago.

“The Notre Dame Invitational helped to build my confidence,” Kearns said. “I didn’t lose out last year, and I was injured again over the summer, so I’ve had a tough time getting going. The race made me feel more confident, and I’ve been coming along fairly well.”

The USC meet will be the last home meet for the Kearns and the rest of the Irish and the last regular season meet before the championship races that start at the end of this month and continue through the middle of November. Notre Dame hopes to use the USC meet to prepare them for the rest of these important races.

“A really good performance will give us impetus for the rest of the year,” Piane stated. “Our whole year has been built toward November.”

The meet will begin at 11 a.m., even if there is snow on the ground. Piane says that the course will be marked with flags if necessary, but the race will be run.
Browns have talent to expand Chicago streak to three

Associated Press

LAKE FOREST, Ill. — They've lost two straight and are in very real danger of making it three. They are next-to-last in defense in the NFL, ahead of only the 1-5 New York Jets. Can this really be the Chicago Bears?

The same Bears who have not lost three straight since Mike Ditka became coach in 1982?

The same Bears who have prided themselves on "tough, Bears defense" and have dominated the league in defense while winning five straight NFC Central championships?

It's the Bears, all right, though hardly the same ones, and that's a big part of the problem.

As unfamiliar as the predicament are many of the players on the field, thanks to a combination of injuries and a transition to rookies like end Trace Armstrong and corner-back Donnell Woolford.

The big loss has been veteran tackle Dan Hampton, who had career-threatening knee surgery. Armstrong, still learning his position and the league, went down with a sprained ankle.

Defensive end Richard Dent was coming back from a broken leg last season, then suffered a deep thigh bruise that has limited his availability.

Trace Armstrong and corner-back Donnell Woolford.

Suddenly, the Bears found themselves with only Steve McMichael healthy in their once-dominating front four and virtually no pass rush.

Quarterbacks Vinny Testaverde of Tampa Bay and Warren Moon of Houston took advantage and beat the Bears by scores of 42-35 and 33-28 the past two weeks. Next up in Cleveland on Monday night is Bernie Kosar, who's hungry to break out of a slump that has him ranked 10th among AFC quarterbacks.

The Bears scored 63 points in the two losses — a total that not long ago would have led to four straight victories for Chicago.

Because of injuries, William "The Refrigerator" Perry had to be pressed into full-time service, with rookie Tony Woods filling in at the other defensive end. Perry's role was to have been spelling Hampton and McMichael to keep the veterans fresh.

Hockey

continued from page 24

over 2,200 minutes on the ice. Madison will get some help from veteran defensemen Markovitz and Leheb — both seniors who have been familiar faces in the Irish lineup for three years.

They will be called upon to take a profusion of sophomore and freshman defensemen under their wings this season.

Sophomore Robert Copeland, Kevin Patrick, Bill Hooten and Scott Viegen all saw action last year and freshmen Eric Gregoire and Dan Sawyer will be coming up in the ranks behind them.

The Irish are counting on forwards Kuehl and Guay to carry much of the load in the scoring department.

Kuehl, the team's senior captain from Edina, Minn., led the team in power-play goals last year by tallying eight and he finished second in goals scored with 19 and third in assists with 16.

Guay, like Kuehl, recorded two game-winning goals last season and will be expected to shoulder more offensive responsibilities while helping a corps of forwards teeming with youth come into its own.

Sophomores Trace Armstrong and corner-back Donnell Woolford.

Juniors John Gia, Bill Lerman, Craig Kleis and Chris Olson will be expected to pick up the pace otherwise while sophomores David Bankoske, Mike Curry and Pat Arendt will also help contribute to the boost of the team's scoring.

Notre Dame is hoping freshmen Sterling Black, Dan Marvin and Curtis Janicke prove to have a nose for the net as well.

Schafer has had his players on an arduous weightlifting program in the off season in hopes of preparing his squad for its hard-hitting opponents.

"I definitely think the weight training is going to allow us to do more corner to corner on the ice," Schafer said.

"We've been preparing for this season for so long and we're a little stronger and a little faster now, so I think we've decided what kind of team we want to be.

"So far positive attitude has been the key and that will have to be a constant win or lose. I want to see the same attitude on Feb. 18 that I saw at Sept. 18 and if I do I think we'll have been successful."

The Irish will get their first chance to prove how far their attitude will take them during October Break as they clash a powerful squad from the Rochester Institute of Technology on Oct. 26 and 27 in the confines of the Joyce AOC.

Hockey continued from page 24

over 2,200 minutes on the ice. Madison will get some help from veteran defensemen Markovitz and Leheb — both seniors who have been familiar faces in the Irish lineup for three years.

They will be called upon to take a profusion of sophomore and freshman defensemen under their wings this season.

Sophomore Robert Copeland, Kevin Patrick, Bill Hooten and Scott Viegen all saw action last year and freshmen Eric Gregoire and Dan Sawyer will be coming up in the ranks behind them.

The Irish are counting on forwards Kuehl and Guay to carry much of the load in the scoring department.

Kuehl, the team's senior captain from Edina, Minn., led the team in power-play goals last year by tallying eight and he finished second in goals scored with 19 and third in assists with 16.

Guay, like Kuehl, recorded two game-winning goals last season and will be expected to shoulder more offensive responsibilities while helping a corps of forwards teeming with youth come into its own.

Juniors John Gia, Bill Lerman, Craig Kleis and Chris Olson will be expected to pick up the pace otherwise while sophomores David Bankoske, Mike Curry and Pat Arendt will also help contribute to the boost of the team's scoring.

Notre Dame is hoping freshmen Sterling Black, Dan Marvin and Curtis Janicke prove to have a nose for the net as well.

Schafer has had his players on an arduous weightlifting program in the off season in hopes of preparing his squad for its hard-hitting opponents.

"I definitely think the weight training is going to allow us to do more corner to corner on the ice," Schafer said.

"We've been preparing for this season for so long and we're a little stronger and a little faster now, so I think we've decided what kind of team we want to be.

"So far positive attitude has been the key and that will have to be a constant win or lose. I want to see the same attitude on Feb. 18 that I saw at Sept. 18 and if I do I think we'll have been successful."

The Irish will get their first chance to prove how far their attitude will take them during October Break as they clash a powerful squad from the Rochester Institute of Technology on Oct. 26 and 27 in the confines of the Joyce AOC.

The Bears scored 63 points in the two losses — a total that not long ago would have led to four straight victories for Chicago.
Agassi upset in Japan Open

Associated Press

TOKYO — Ronald Agnon of Haiti continued his mastery over American Andre Agassi Thursday, knocking the No. 2 seed out of the Seiko Super Tennis Tournament with a 6-4, 6-2 victory in 52 minutes.

"I don't know why I couldn't get a point," Agassi, ranked No. 5 in the world, said of his third loss in three meetings with Agnon, ranked No. 39.

Third-seeded Jakob Hlasek of Switzerland was another upset victim, losing 4-6, 7-6 (9-7), 6-4 to American qualifier Rick Leach.

Top-seeded Stefan Edberg of Sweden trounced Australian John Fitzgerald 6-2, 6-3, avenging his loss to Fitzgerald in this tournament's semifinals last year. Agnon kept Agassi on the run with accurate placements on the artificial court in the Yoyogi National Stadium. Agassi committed 39 unforced errors to Agnon's 27.

He played his best game against me. I have met him three times but was only 10 games," Agassi said.

Leach, who teamed with American Jim Pugh for the Australian doubles championship in 1988 and 1989 but is ranked 340th in singles, needed two hours, 13 minutes to beat Hlasek, ranked No. 12.

In Friday's quarterfinals, Edberg meets Henry Leconte of France, who beat Eric Jolin of West Germany 4-6, 7-6 (7-3), 6-4 Thursday.

Canadian Grant Connell, blessing 13 aces, beat sixth-seeded Andres Gomez of Ecuador 6-2, 6-1, 6-4.

BEFORE DURING

Agassi said of his third loss in three Tournament with a Fitzgerald in this tourna-

6-2, 6-3, avenging his loss to

image of Switzerland was another

upset victim, losing 4-6, 7-6

(9-7), 6-4 to American

Leach over American Andre

ranked No. 5 in the world,

of Haiti continued his massion in singles, needed two hours,

6-2

6-0,

three times but won only

three times but lost only 10 games," Agassi said.

Leach, who teamed with American Jim Pugh for the Australian doubles championship in 1988 and 1989 but is ranked 340th in singles, needed two hours, 13 minutes to beat Hlasek, ranked No. 12.

In Friday's quarterfinals, Edberg meets Henry Leconte of France, who beat Eric Jolin of West Germany 4-6, 7-6 (7-3), 6-4 Thursday.

Canadian Grant Connell, blessing 13 aces, beat sixth-seeded Andres Gomez of Ecuador 6-2, 6-1, 6-4.

BEFORE DURING

Agassi said of his third loss in three Tournament with a Fitzgerald in this tourna-

6-2, 6-3, avenging his loss to

image of Switzerland was another

upset victim, losing 4-6, 7-6

(9-7), 6-4 to American

Leach over American Andre

ranked No. 5 in the world,

of Haiti continued his mas-

sion in singles, needed two hours,

6-2

6-0,

three times but won only

three times but lost only 10 games," Agassi said.

Leach, who teamed with American Jim Pugh for the Australian doubles championship in 1988 and 1989 but is ranked 340th in singles, needed two hours, 13 minutes to beat Hlasek, ranked No. 12.

In Friday's quarterfinals, Edberg meets Henry Leconte of France, who beat Eric Jolin of West Germany 4-6, 7-6 (7-3), 6-4 Thursday.

Canadian Grant Connell, blessing 13 aces, beat sixth-seeded Andres Gomez of Ecuador 6-2, 6-1, 6-4.

BEFORE DURING

Agassi said of his third loss in three Tournament with a Fitzgerald in this tourna-

6-2, 6-3, avenging his loss to

image of Switzerland was another

upset victim, losing 4-6, 7-6

(9-7), 6-4 to American

Leach over American Andre

ranked No. 5 in the world,

of Haiti continued his mas-

sion in singles, needed two hours,

6-2

6-0,

three times but won only

three times but lost only 10 games," Agassi said.

Leach, who teamed with American Jim Pugh for the Australian doubles championship in 1988 and 1989 but is ranked 340th in singles, needed two hours, 13 minutes to beat Hlasek, ranked No. 12.

In Friday's quarterfinals, Edberg meets Henry Leconte of France, who beat Eric Jolin of West Germany 4-6, 7-6 (7-3), 6-4 Thursday.

Canadian Grant Connell, blessing 13 aces, beat sixth-seeded Andres Gomez of Ecuador 6-2, 6-1, 6-4.
Three fencers will compete in Cuba

By CHRIS FILLIO
Sports Writer

Three members of the Notre Dame fencing team are preparing to compete in Cuba for the first time in the university's history.

Two of the fencers are members of the school's alumni, Rachel and Kelly Haugh, and they will be traveling to Cuba next week for the first time ever.

The third member of the team, Dame, is a current student at Notre Dame and will be competing in the same tournament.

The team consists of Ruth, who is a senior at Notre Dame, and her sister, Rachel, who is a graduate student.

Dame has won the NCAA championships in 1988 and is expected to do well in the competition.

The team is coached by Tom Lally, who has won every major award in the sport.

The fencers are scheduled to travel to Cuba on April 15 and will return on May 1.

The competition will be held on April 17 and 18.

Dame said she is looking forward to the experience and is excited about the opportunity to compete in a different country.

The team will be traveling to Cuba on a private plane and will be staying at the Havana Hilton.

The hotel is located in the heart of Havana and offers a unique atmosphere for the fencers to enjoy.

The team will be accompanied by a group of coaches and officials, who will help to prepare the fencers for the competition.

The team will be competing in the individual and team events, and the goal is to bring home a medal for Notre Dame.

The team is confident in its ability to perform well and is looking forward to the challenge.

The team will be cheered on by the fans and the Notre Dame community, who will be supporting them from afar.

The team is grateful for the support and wishes everyone success in the competition.
LECTURE CIRCUIT

Friday, 3:30 p.m. Philosophy Department presents, "Eliminative Materialism and Self-Referential Incoherence," by Victor Reppert, Library Lounge.

CAMPUS EVENTS

Friday, 3:30 p.m. SMC Soccer vs. IUSB.
6 p.m. Tennis vs. USC, Eck Pavilion.
7:30 p.m. Soccer vs. Loyola University.

Saturday, 9 a.m. Closed meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous, Center for Social Concerns.

Sunday, 9:45 a.m. Women's cross country vs. Marquette, Burke Memorial Golf Course.

MENUS

Notre Dame
Baked Cod
Beef Pot Pie
Cheese Stuffed Pepper
Tangy Grilled Chicken

Saint Mary's
Baked Ham
Beef and Bean Burrito
Monterey Bake
Deli Bar

COMICS

CALVIN AND HOBBIES

HELLO! MARVIN WAAHOOE? YES, I'M CALLING TO SEE IF YOU STILLを使ったオマジオダン, DETONATIONS, TIMEBOMB,ドノーMRE.

BILL WATTERSON

LOOKS LIKE ANOTHER BURNING SAND, HOBBIES.

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON
ND tennis faces challenge in No. 11 USC

BY BOB MITCHELL
Sports Writer

The biggest challenge in the history of Notre Dame tennis takes place today under the friendly shelter of Eck Tennis Pavilion at 6 p.m.

This year’s No. 11 collegiate team and a traditional tennis power, the Trojans of USC, march into their first Midwestern dual match ever and are waiting to tangle with Notre Dame’s unranked and aspiring squad.

“It is a honor, a challenge and a responsibility,” said Irish head coach Bob Bayliss. “It means a lot to us. USC is in a position to which we aspire. In twenty years, we would like to have people speak of Notre Dame tennis in the same terms as the speak of USC tennis today.”

The match will be the first dual match of the 1989-1990 season for both squads. Although there is a sharp contrast in the history of the two programs, both of the current squads do have some similarities. Both are young and inexperienced at the collegiate level, yet both are talented. The Trojan roster boasts two juniors, two sophomores and five freshmen. Although they are a young team, the Trojans are not without experience in important matches. The USC squad is full of top internationals that have somehow found a home in Los Angeles.

One other large difference between the two squads is that USC will have their No. 1 player and the Irish will not. Notre Dame’s No. 1 player, Dave DiLucia, is currently playing in the Volvo All-American Championships in Athens, Ga. DiLucia is not expected to return in time for the match. USC’s No. 1 player Byron Black was scheduled to play at the Volvo but cited academic responsibilities and declined the invitation.

The USC features players from different nationalities as well as three former Wimbledon champions. Moreover, these are the USC’s No. 1 player and a native of Zimbabwe, was half of the tandem that captured the 1989 NCAA Doubles Championship for the Trojan 13th in the pre-season ITCA poll and earned All-American honors in both singles and doubles. Black’s resume includes the honor of the 1987 Zimbabwe Sportsman of the Year as a member of Zimbabwe Davis Cup.

“Byrnes in a terrific baseline player,” explains Bayliss. “He has a strong serve and he can hurt you off both sides and you can hurt him off both sides.”

Continuing the international flavor of the USC squad is Pierre-Antoine Genonl, a native of Geneva Switzerland and winner of the 1986 Swiss Junior Championships. Genonl holds the No. 2 spot.

And why is the Trojan roster inundated with foreigners? “We are fortunate to have some very talented foreign players,” says BOB MITCHELL/Observer Staff Report.

Snow postpones baseball games

Basketball scrimmage will feature many giveaways

Observer Staff Report

Snow has forced the postponement of both Thursday and Friday night’s South Bend Tribune Irish Fall Classic game between the Notre Dame and Southern California baseball teams.

The games have been rescheduled for 8:30 p.m. Saturday and 12 noon Sunday at Notre Dame’s Eck Stadium in South Bend. Tickets are $2 for student, faculty and staff, $3 for general admission, $5 for box seats.

The Notre Dame men’s basketball team will hold an intrasquad scrimmage at 10 p.m. Friday, an hour later than originally scheduled. Admission to the scrimmage is free.

Heisman Hopefuls

There is no real frontrunner in this year’s Heisman Trophy race, but the leading candidates along with Notre Dame’s Tony Rice include (clockwise from top left) Indiana’s Anthony Thompson, West Virginia’s Major Harris, Notre Dame’s Raghib Ismail and Air Force’s Dee Dowis.

Time healing wounds of Irish hockey squad

BY MOLLY MAHONEY
Assistant Sports Editor

Time has a remarkable healing quality.

And after the Notre Dame hockey team’s disappointing 10-26-2 record last season, Irish head coach Rie Schafer is hoping that a year’s time has been a panacea for his squad.

“I think we learned a lot from last year,” Schafer said. “Our team was wounded at times last season, but those wounds have healed.

“I’m pleased with the attitude of the returning players. They’ve experienced the highs and lows and I know they prefer the highs. I’m pleased with the new players we’ve got as well, so I’m optimistic.”

The Irish faced a slew of talented teams last year and this season will be no different.

Notre Dame will face the toughest stretch of games on its schedule in December as it takes on Ferris State and then Wisconsin, Benton College and Minnesota-Duluth in the Milwaukee Tournament.

Schafer readily admits that his squad won’t add up to the league on several occasions last year, and with the loss of 1988’s top scorers, Matt Harner and Bobby Herbert to graduation, one might think things would again look dismal.

But Schafer has faith in the mixture of youth and experience suiting up for the Irish this year.

“Last year we were beaten by some very powerful teams, and this year I think our schedule will still be very challenging, but we shouldn’t be quite as overwhelming.”

“We have a very good goal-tender in Lamar McKinney and the play of seniors Bruce Guay, Tim Kehl, Mike Lehman and Kevin Markowski will make a difference this year."

Maddox, a senior from Minnesota, Minn., is once again expected to be a stalwart performer. This year, he picked up extra experience in the off-season playing in the World University Games in Bulgaria.

He tallied a 4.96 against average as well as the team’s only shutout last year and spent

Hype in short supply for ND-USC contest

The smug-filled voice on the other end of the phone belonged to a student journalist from the College of Southern California, the college with no identity, the college that will someday fall into the Pacific Ocean.

Greg Guffey
Assistant Sports Editor

He asked my editor if someone on our staff could pen a column about yesterday’s Notre Dame-USC contest. The Glamour Game. The Rivalry. He didn’t want a feature about Lou Holtz or the Irish in general, just the happenings and thoughts of the students heading into Notre Dame’s 11th Game of the Century.

I didn’t know just how to approach the column, so I called Lloyd Benson in Texas and asked him how he would address the issue.

He said, “Tell the College of Southern California that you have been living in Los Angeles with the USC fans. Tell them that you started hating the Hurricanes in 1985 when they sent Jerry Faust packing with a 58-7 loss, that you were there for 10 years and that you were there also 60 minutes later to celebrate the 31-30 win.”