Report says ND should revise its policy towards women

By KELLEY TUTHILL

Assistant News Editor

The Faculty Senate Committee on the Status of Women recently presented a report that pointed out specific problems that women face at the University and recommended possible solutions to a constituent meeting of the Board of Trustees.

"We discovered that the University of Notre Dame was not doing as much as our peer institutions to establish strong empowered administrative channels for coordinating and monitoring the status of women on campus," stated the report presented to the Academic and Faculty Affairs Committee. The report made the following recommendations:

• Notre Dame should establish a standing University Committee on the Status of Women that would represent all women of Notre Dame.

• There should be a Women's Advocate who would be an official representative of Notre Dame and a member of the Provost's Advisory Committee who functions as a high level advocate for women, this person should be ex officio member of the University Committee on the Status of Women; and the Standing Committee on the Status of Women should advise the President or the Provost on the appointment of this person.

• The committee have the power to identify concerns and issues related to the status of women, to coordinate efforts to improve the campus for women, to target specific concerns and issues to be addressed and to monitor their progress, and to report regularly to the President, the Provost and the Board of Trustees.

The committee report to the top level administrators in monthly sessions during the first two years. The faculty committee is an ad-hoc committee that consists of eight senators, F. Ellen Weaver, associate professional specialist and assistant chair of the University, and Kathleen Bill...
INSIDE COLUMN

Give students a break during long classes

Theresa Kelly Sports Editor

The Grace Period panel discussion on
South Africa will be at 8 p.m. in the Grace Hall pit.
Panelists will be Fr. Oliver, auto assembly
Prof. Tavis, Prof. Peter Walshe, Mr. Gary Sugarman, Mr. Jon Paul
Cheeque and Prof. O'Keefe.

Volunteers for a learn-to-ski program are Handicapped are needed. The program is sponsored by Special Outdoor-Leisuro Opportunities. An informational meeting will be at 7 p.m. in the Logan Center
Cafeteria, 1235 N. Eddy Street. For more information, contact Lisa Wilcox at 289-1259 in the evening.

A lecture on French revolutionist Figure
Charles Marice de Talleyrand will be presented by
Bernard Norling, professor emeritus of history at Notre Dame, at 7:30 p.m. in the Carroll Auditorium
of Madevallia House at Saint Mary's.

Legendary communist leader Dolores Ibarru-
ri, nicknamed "La Pasionaria" for her fiery oratory
during the Spanish Civil War, died Sunday in Madrid.
She was 93. A member of the Ramon y Cajal Hospital
medical team, speaking on condition of anonymity, said
her death was due to "pneumonia, aggravated by her advanced age."

New strategic nuclear weapons continue to be developed by the Kremlin, top administration officials in Washington insisted Sunday, although a published report said some deployments had been cut in anticipation of an arms control deal. "The fact of the matter is the Soviets have continued to modernize their strategic forces," Defense Secretary Dick Cheney said
on the NBC-TV program "Meet the Press."

Thousands of Peruvians defied rebel threats
and voted Sunday in municipal elections in Peru. Marxist guerrillas trying to disrupt the balloting killed a candidate and blew up a church, a school and power lines.
Four people were killed Sunday night, police reported.

U.S. economic aid for East Germany
must await clear evidence that the GDR country is willing to reform its economy, not just open its borders, said Secretary of State James Baker Sunday. The technique to help prevent organizing to reform its economy, not just open its borders.

Friday night: Benjamin Franklin: Our
Constitution is now finished. It is to be used the technique to help prevent genetic disease. Doctors at the Illinois Masonic Medical Center's Reproductive Genetics Institute say the procedure could push genetic screening back to the earliest possible point — before
the pregnancy even occurs, said a report published in the Chicago Tribune's Sunday editions.

A resume writing workshop, presented by Marilyn Bury, assistant director of Career and Placement Services, will be at 7 p.m. in the Library Lounge.
The workshop will be repeated on Wednesday, November 15,
at the same time and place.

The Grace Period panel discussion on
South Africa will be at 8 p.m. in the Grace Hall pit.
Panelists will be Fr. Oliver, auto assembly
Prof. Tavis, Prof. Peter Walshe, Mr. Gary Sugarman, Mr. Jon Paul
Cheeque and Prof. O'Keefe.

Volunteers for a learn-to-ski program are Handicapped are needed. The program is sponsored by Special Outdoor-Leisuro Opportunities. An informational meeting will be at 7 p.m. in the Logan Center
Cafeteria, 1235 N. Eddy Street. For more information, contact Lisa Wilcox at 289-1259 in the evening.

A lecture on French revolutionist Figure
Charles Marice de Talleyrand will be presented by
Bernard Norling, professor emeritus of history at Notre Dame, at 7:30 p.m. in the Carroll Auditorium
of Madevallia House at Saint Mary's.

Legendary communist leader Dolores Ibarru-
ri, nicknamed "La Pasionaria" for her fiery oratory
during the Spanish Civil War, died Sunday in Madrid.
She was 93. A member of the Ramon y Cajal Hospital
medical team, speaking on condition of anonymity, said
her death was due to "pneumonia, aggravated by her
advanced age."

New strategic nuclear weapons continue to be developed by the Kremlin, top administration officials in Washington insisted Sunday, although a published report said some deployments had been cut in anticipation of an arms control deal. "The fact of the matter is the Soviets have continued to modernize their
strategic forces," Defense Secretary Dick Cheney said
on the NBC-TV program "Meet the Press."

Thousands of Peruvians defied rebel threats
and voted Sunday in municipal elections in Peru. Marxist guerrillas trying to disrupt the balloting killed a candidate and blew up a church, a school and power lines.
Four people were killed Sunday night, police reported.

U.S. economic aid for East Germany
must await clear evidence that the GDR country is willing to reform its economy, not just open its borders, said Secretary of State James Baker Sunday. The technique to help prevent organizing to reform its economy, not just open its borders.

Friday night: Benjamin Franklin: Our
Constitution is now finished. It is to be used the technique to help prevent genetic disease. Doctors at the Illinois Masonic Medical Center's Reproductive Genetics Institute say the procedure could push genetic
screening back to the earliest possible point — before
the pregnancy even occurs, said a report published in the Chicago Tribune's Sunday editions.
The Becker CPA Review Course will be having a presentation on November 15th at 6:00pm in the Montgomery Theatre at LaFortune.

Come see how we can prepare you for the CPA Exam

Notre Dame Student Government Intellectual Committee presents

WORLD AWARENESS: MIDDLE EAST WEEK

MONDAY NOVEMBER 13 7:00 p.m.
Hesburgh Library Auditorium

"Introduction to the Arab world" and "Israel: The Story of the Jewish People". Two short length films. The first explores the diversity and unity, cultural traditions, and contemporary concerns of the Arab world. The second explains the historical and cultural role of the Jewish people in the Middle East.

ASHOK RODRIGUES News Writer

The Sister Thea Bowman Black Catholic Educational Foundation, a society which attempts to improve Catholic education for blacks, has established a chapter at the University of Notre Dame. The organization hopes to award scholarships to Notre Dame students in upcoming years. It is currently selling gift-wrapping paper to raise money to help subsidize nine students at the start, said Danielle Black, co-president of the Notre Dame chapter. "The scholarships are given to students who would not be able to return to school without it," she said. The organization also hopes to go beyond financial aid, according to Derek Gandy, Notre Dame admissions counselor and faculty advisor to the society. "The purpose of the foundation is to support disadvantaged black students financially, morally, spiritually, and socially," he said.

According to its statement of purpose, the campus chapter wants to "develop programs and activities that promote a deeper understanding of the unique spiritual and cultural gifts which the black community brings to the church and society." The statement said that this goal will be fulfilled by events such as an African-American retreat and a Reconciliation Day emphasizing black spirituality and culture. Other listed objectives include interaction with the South Bend black community and the establishment of a course on black theology. The organization was founded nationally last year at St. Michael's College in Vermont, according to a press bulletin released earlier this year. Organizational meetings are still in progress, with one to take place at Notre Dame in April, said Gandy.

Other schools have also initiated chapters, including Georgetown, Boston College, and Catholic University, he added.

Sister Thea Bowman, the inspiration for the Society, is a faculty member for Black Catholic Studies at Xavier University in New Orleans. The organization noted that she has appeared on "60 Minutes" and will be the subject of an upcoming book and movie starring Whoopi Goldberg.

Bowman appeared on campus in February, delivering a lecture on black spirituality at Catholic universities, said Co-president Black.

Pro-choice activists protest nationwide

(AP) — Abortion-rights activists, fresh from electoral triumphs in New Jersey and Virginia, began a nationwide series of protests Sunday with a candlelight service in Kennebunk, Maine, near Bush's vacation retreat, and a sunset vigil in San Francisco.

Pro-choice activists were energized last week by the success of gubernatorial candidates in Virginia and New Jersey who support the right to an abortion.

In Washington, tens of thousands jammed the Mall, filling the area between the Lincoln Memorial and the Washington Monument.

U.S. Park Police estimated the crowd by early afternoon at 150,000, said Lt. W.T. Lynch, organizers, however, estimated the turnout at 300,000.

"Turn up the heat across the nation," Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., urged the crowd that waved signs and chanted pro-choice slogans for about five hours on a sunny, mild autumn day. "While the other side is out bombing (abortion) clinics, we'll be electing candidates and passing laws."

"Today is historic and it marks for all of us no turning back," said Molly Yard, president of the National Organization for Women. "This will be the issue of 1990."

In Los Angeles' Rancho Park, Rev. Jesse Jackson told a celebrity-laden crowd estimated at 20,000 that women aren't "puppets of the court."

"We are creatures of a creator who endowed us with choice," Jackson said. "In our society, women are burdened with choices and they must have the freedom to choose a response to those burdens.

DART call numbers for closed-out courses

Newly closed-out courses on Friday, November 10.

Sr. Thea Bowman, recipient of the 1989 U.S. Catholic Award, was the inspiration for a black culture organization in her name, a chapter of which was recently initiated at Notre Dame. Story right.

Monday, November 13, 1989
Dinkins faces many problems in N.Y.C.

NEW YORK (AP) — As the name newly elected mayor of New York City begins to ring, problems for the city have become even more acute, with rising crime rates and a potential billion-dollar deficit in the city's fiscal year.

Mayor David Dinkins, who took office Monday, said he will face a four-year budget crunch in 1990, when the city's financial forecast predicts a $1 billion deficit.

"We're going to have to make some tough choices," he said. "We're going to have to do some things we don't want to do, but it will be necessary to maintain the city's services.""
Effort to legalize drugs starts to gain ground

WASHINGTON (AP) — The conversion of former Secretary of State George Shultz has experts predicting others from across the political spectrum will join ranks with those who see decriminalization as a workable solution to the drug problem.

National drug control policy director William Bennett acknowledges that Shultz may draw others with him, but argues that legalization is a "doe idea" and a "moral disaster" that won't wash with anyone who has been "within five miles of a crack house!"

Nevertheless, legalization proponents are trumpeting an October speech by Shultz that appeared in adapted form in The Wall Street Journal as a major step toward moving the once-radical viewpoint into the mainstream.

The political mix of legalization advocates is already broad. On the conservative side are Shultz, who headed President Reagan's State Department and President Nixon's Treasury Department, economist Milton Friedman and political commentator William Buckley. The liberal bloc includes Democratic Mayor Kurt Hamsey of Princeton and former Attorney General of the United States, William Hamsey.

"The liberal-conservative battle was split into libertarian and social control groups."

Some legalization advocates say the issue simply needs to be addressed, while others call for controlled legalization with alcohol-like regulations for drugs such as marijuana, and more restrictive rules for more dangerous drugs.

Most say President Bush's anti-drug strategy, developed by Bennett, is more of the same law enforcement programs that have not worked in the past.

In an open letter to Bennett published in The Wall Street Journal on Sept. 7 — two days after Bush presented the strategy in a prime-time television address — Friedman wrote:

"The path you propose of more police, more jails, use of the military in foreign countries, harsh penalties for drug users, and a whole panoply of repressive measures only can make a bad situation worse. The drug war cannot be won by those tactics without undermining the human liberty and individual freedom that you and I cherish."

The column by Shultz — like Friedman, a denizen of the Hoover Institution at Stanford University's Ethan Nadelmann said in an interview, "Each is split into libertarian and social control groups."

AURORA, Ind. (AP) — A southern Indiana woman's wish to be buried in her convertible was granted Friday when Aurora Schuck was entombed with her red Cadillac.

Mrs. Schuck, a native of Cuba, died Tuesday of cancer at age 62. She and her husband owned Schuck Plumbing & Heating.

The Schucks, who were described as generous and civic-minded, were known for their elaborate Christmas displays at their store, but were not a flamboyant couple, the funeral home spokesman said.

"They are super nice people and they have no children," he said. "Somewhere along the way, this was a wish that he was concerned about fulfilling for her. He asked us and I said, 'You need to check with the cemetery.'"

Terry Adams, superintendent of the cemetery, said the cemetery board had approved the unusual burial.

A local construction company was hired to dig a grave large enough for the car. The Cadillac was lifted with a crane and placed into the vault, which measured 27 feet by 12 feet and was 6 feet deep, Adams said.

A brief ceremony was planned at the funeral home Friday afternoon, with a family friend delivering the eulogy. A brief graveside service also was planned.

"The casket is going to be placed on the back of the car. The top's down, so it will just be placed on that, across the back."

Shove off in style with a Cadillac burial

Helping hands

Volunteers at the monthly dance at Logan Center, a recreational center for the mentally handicapped, take a break from dancing to hand out refreshments on Friday. Pictured from front to back are Janet Kunst, George Nicoloff, Sally Green, and Amanda Zenk.

ARThUR ANDERSEN &CO

---

PERSONAL FINANCIAL PLANNING FOR THE NEW COLLEGE GRADUATE

Tuesday, November 14, 1989
4:15 p.m.
Hayes-Healy Auditorium
Room 122
The Changing Face of Communist Europe

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Country</th>
<th>Capital</th>
<th>Population</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>BULGARIA</td>
<td>Sofia</td>
<td>7,725,000 (89)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CZECHOSLOVAKIA</td>
<td>Prague</td>
<td>13,105,000 (89)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>EAST GERMANY</td>
<td>Berlin</td>
<td>16,076,000 (89)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>POLAND</td>
<td>Warsaw</td>
<td>8,369,000 (89)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ROMANIA</td>
<td>Bucharest</td>
<td>9,037,000 (89)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>YUGOSLAVIA</td>
<td>Belgrade</td>
<td>23,753,000 (est.)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Sarajevo</td>
<td>1,000,000 (est.)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Pristina</td>
<td>1,000,000 (est.)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Titograd</td>
<td>1,200,000 (est.)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Vojvodina</td>
<td>1,000,000 (est.)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Hordes of people strip W. Berlin shelves bare

BERLIN (AP) — Haagen-Dazs ran out of ice cream bars Sunday, a rare occurrence in November. Burger King was out of beer by early afternoon. Even cash machines were empty as more than a million visitors swarmed through West Berlin. East Germans crossed the now-portorous Berlin Wall, and West Berliners drawn to the impromptu international street festival, bought all the fruit and coffee available and flooded businesses from pretzel stands to peep shows.

Hamburg, West Germany (AP) — East Germans swarmed into Hamburg's infamous red-light district but found out in a hurry there were some things communist currency couldn't buy.

> "They all want to pay with aluminum money," one St. Pauli district prostitute complained Saturday night, referring to the East German coins. Making use of their new travel freedom, East Germans poured into Hamburg sex shops as well, leafing through magazines, examining merchandise and getting a close look at what they've long been told is Western moral decadence.

> "It was a madhouse the whole day," said one shopowner. "But they don't buy anything." Apparently many of the East Germans were holding onto their 100 West German marks — about $5.50 — as "welcome money" for other things — like buying wine and electronic goods at shops in the same area.

Berlin continued from page 1

Happy 18th Birthday FILEEN

Love,

Mom, Dad,

and

Michele

Sophomores

Don't get stuck without anything to do during Junior Parent's Weekend

JOIN THE JPW SOPHOMORE COMMITTEE

Applications Now Available in the Office of Students Activities

(3rd Floor Lafayette)

Due Thursday, Nov. 16 by 5 P.M.

Hey Whiskey Walker — Hope you get to ride bareback on your birthday! Happy 18th

Love,

Jen, Jules, Shacky, Christie, Agnes,

and Brian

Turning his attention to other nations, von Weizsäcker, the former West Berlin mayor, said: "The West should be ready to help East Germany recover its open hearts and open doors."

He cautioned that the West should not touch the East German internally but urged the East Berlin leadership to stick to its promise of free elections.

Von Weizsäcker later went through the new Berlin Wall crossing at Potsdamer Platz. He took several steps into East Berlin and exchanged a few words with some border guards as he was mobbed by hundreds of people.

West Berlin Mayor Walter Momper and his East Berlin counterpart, Erich Honecker, met at the Potsdamer Platz, once a vibrant city center but now a bleak no-man's land bisected by the Berlin Wall and flattened by concrete barriers.

Their highly symbolic handshake represented a start of a new era of optimism on close-ness for the German people, although Krenz and other officials have finally ruled out reunification of the country.

Earlier, thousands of people cheered as East German tank gunners used jackhammers to bore a hole in the wall at Potsdamer Platz. It was the first opening created in the wall since Friday. The others are at Bernauer Strasse, Puschkinalle, Malow and the Gliederer Bridge foot-crossing.

"It's a great day in our history and the history of the world," said Torsten Fischer.
Censored Georgetown paper stops official advertisement prompted swift abortion rights rally.

The American Association of University Professors, which was meeting on Georgetown's campus Friday, issued a statement supporting the students' decision not to publish. The resolution was also endorsed by the United States National Student Association, the Association of American Colleges, and several other education groups.

"We are a Catholic, Jesuit institution, and we don't allow advertisements of condoms, abortions or things like that," Georgetown spokesman Gary Krull. "Basically it was an interpretive question between the dean of the students — the paper's publisher — and the student editorial board."

The rally, which will be held Sunday at the Lincoln Memorial, is designed to build support for family planning and a woman's right to an abortion.

"The Organizational Committee of Women president Molly Yard, whose organization is sponsoring the event, chastised Georgetown.

"I'm kind of horrified that any university would deny free speech," Yard said. "We're afraid to open a discussion. It's not a very good teaching example to a group that there is to get an education.

Hente said that the newspaper would accept — and try to publish — any other advertisement related to the issue. Hente said for rallies or forums sponsored by groups like NOW.

"We're not out for publicity," Hente said. "We just want to publish, but this is something we take very seriously."

The faculty Senate decided to reconstitute the committee for the 1989-90 school year, said Weaver.

"The Committee on the Status of Women was first formed in the 1988-89 school year," Weaver said. "I said that normally an ad hoc committee ceases to exist at the end of the year if it is not required strongly unless we kept going, we would lose momentum.

The faculty Senate decided to reconstitute the committee for the 1989-90 school year, said Weaver.

"The Committee on the Status of Women was first formed in the 1988-89 school year," Weaver said. "I said that normally an ad hoc committee ceases to exist at the end of the year if it is not required strongly unless we kept going, we would lose momentum."

The committee was first formed in 1988-89 to gather data. At the Faculty Senate meeting of May, 1989, the committee presented its report and the following resolution was passed by a vote of 33 in favor, one opposed, one abstention.

1. Whereas the ad hoc committee on the Status of Women has concluded that there are significant problems in the recruitment and retention of women on this campus (including students, graduate students, staff and faculty);

2. Whereas a survey of departmental chairs across the campus has concluded that there are significant problems concerning the status of women that need to be addressed;

3. Whereas women constitute a small proportion of the membership of major University committees; and

4. Whereas President John Miriam Jones, as the status of women on this campus has recently resigned;

Be it resolved that the Faculty Senate urges the University to hire a person (preferably in a position at the highest level) to oversee the University's specific duties include overseeing the recruitment and especially the retention of women, states the report.

The executive committee of the Faculty Senate met with University President Father Edward A. Biddick the response of the University spokesman, "We will study the report presented to the Board of Trustees on October 26, 1989. The report made several recommendations and also suggested agenda items for the Academic and Faculty Affairs Committee of the Board of Trustees. John Caron, chair of the Academic and Faculty Affairs Committee of the Board of Trustees, said, "It was a very well prepared and well presented report."

"We have been advised that the report was well received by the committee. "I think the Administration is concerned and aware of the problems."

The Academic and Faculty Affairs Committee discussed the specific recommendations made by the Committee on the Status of Women. He said his committee will be discussing possible solutions to the problems as the recommendations in the report may not be the best solutions.

Women continued from page 1

director of the Committee on the Status of Women, is co-chairs of the committee.

The committee was first formed in the 1988-89 school year. Weaver said that normally an ad hoc committee ceases to exist at the end of the year if it is not required strongly unless we kept going, we would lose momentum.

1. Whereas the ad hoc committee on the Status of Women has concluded that there are significant problems in the recruitment and retention of women on this campus (including students, graduate students, staff and faculty);

2. Whereas a survey of departmental chairs across the campus has concluded that there are significant problems concerning the status of women that need to be addressed;

3. Whereas women constitute a small proportion of the membership of major University committees; and

4. Whereas President John Miriam Jones, as the status of women on this campus has recently resigned;

Be it resolved that the Faculty Senate urges the University to hire a person (preferably in a position at the highest level) to oversee the University's specific duties include overseeing the recruitment and especially the retention of women, states the report.

The executive committee of the Faculty Senate met with University President Father Edward A. Biddick the response of the University spokesman, "We will study the report presented to the Board of Trustees on October 26, 1989. The report made several recommendations and also suggested agenda items for the Academic and Faculty Affairs Committee of the Board of Trustees. John Caron, chair of the Academic and Faculty Affairs Committee of the Board of Trustees, said, "It was a very well prepared and well presented report."

"We have been advised that the report was well received by the committee. "I think the Administration is concerned and aware of the problems."

The Academic and Faculty Affairs Committee discussed the specific recommendations made by the Committee on the Status of Women. He said his committee will be discussing possible solutions to the problems as the recommendations in the report may not be the best solutions.

Women continued from page 1
director of the Committee on the Status of Women, is co-chairs of the committee.

The committee was first formed in the 1988-89 school year. Weaver said that normally an ad hoc committee ceases to exist at the end of the year if it is not required strongly unless we kept going, we would lose momentum.

1. Whereas the ad hoc committee on the Status of Women has concluded that there are significant problems in the recruitment and retention of women on this campus (including students, graduate students, staff and faculty);

2. Whereas a survey of departmental chairs across the campus has concluded that there are significant problems concerning the status of women that need to be addressed;

3. Whereas women constitute a small proportion of the membership of major University committees; and

4. Whereas President John Miriam Jones, as the status of women on this campus has recently resigned;

Be it resolved that the Faculty Senate urges the University to hire a person (preferably in a position at the highest level) to oversee the University's specific duties include overseeing the recruitment and especially the retention of women, states the report.

The executive committee of the Faculty Senate met with University President Father Edward A. Biddick the response of the University spokesman, "We will study the report presented to the Board of Trustees on October 26, 1989. The report made several recommendations and also suggested agenda items for the Academic and Faculty Affairs Committee of the Board of Trustees. John Caron, chair of the Academic and Faculty Affairs Committee of the Board of Trustees, said, "It was a very well prepared and well presented report."

"We have been advised that the report was well received by the committee. "I think the Administration is concerned and aware of the problems."

The Academic and Faculty Affairs Committee discussed the specific recommendations made by the Committee on the Status of Women. He said his committee will be discussing possible solutions to the problems as the recommendations in the report may not be the best solutions.

Women continued from page 1
director of the Committee on the Status of Women, is co-chairs of the committee.

The committee was first formed in the 1988-89 school year. Weaver said that normally an ad hoc committee ceases to exist at the end of the year if it is not required strongly unless we kept going, we would lose momentum.

1. Whereas the ad hoc committee on the Status of Women has concluded that there are significant problems in the recruitment and retention of women on this campus (including students, graduate students, staff and faculty);

2. Whereas a survey of departmental chairs across the campus has concluded that there are significant problems concerning the status of women that need to be addressed;

3. Whereas women constitute a small proportion of the membership of major University committees; and

4. Whereas President John Miriam Jones, as the status of women on this campus has recently resigned;

Be it resolved that the Faculty Senate urges the University to hire a person (preferably in a position at the highest level) to oversee the University's specific duties include overseeing the recruitment and especially the retention of women, states the report.

The executive committee of the Faculty Senate met with University President Father Edward A. Biddick the response of the University spokesman, "We will study the report presented to the Board of Trustees on October 26, 1989. The report made several recommendations and also suggested agenda items for the Academic and Faculty Affairs Committee of the Board of Trustees. John Caron, chair of the Academic and Faculty Affairs Committee of the Board of Trustees, said, "It was a very well prepared and well presented report."

"We have been advised that the report was well received by the committee. "I think the Administration is concerned and aware of the problems."

The Academic and Faculty Affairs Committee discussed the specific recommendations made by the Committee on the Status of Women. He said his committee will be discussing possible solutions to the problems as the recommendations in the report may not be the best solutions.
T-shirt sales continue, but within regulations

By VICTOR CUCINIELLO
Business Writer

Last year the Notre Dame administration cracked down on the illegal t-shirt making business in response to the exceedingly large number of t-shirts being sold on campus. The t-shirt sales were not only illegal, but started to cut into the profits of t-shirts sold in the Hennes Bookstore and at the Pro shop.

Individuals were making money on the Notre Dame name without following certain procedures set down by the administration to sell t-shirts on campus. At the same time Notre Dame was involved in a legal suit against Umbrella Graphics for trademark infringements. These events led the administration to ban the sale of illegal t-shirts on campus and required all students to go through an approval process and abide by certain rules and regulations.

According to Brennan Harvath, a junior, who is currently selling University approved t-shirts on campus, the first step involved in selling a successful t-shirt is to generate an original idea. After the idea has been developed it should be brought to the Student Activities director. A student must have the approval of Student Activities for his approval before any production is started. The t-shirt can not be produced for personal profit, but must be affiliated with some organization on campus for the purpose of raising money for dorm activities or a particular class. The shirt must be in good taste in order for it to be approved.

After the t-shirt is approved by the Student Activities Board, it must be taken to the bookstore to get final approval. Harvath said, the bookstore has exclusive rights to the Notre Dame name which encompasses the use of the following names, phrases, and symbols: ND, Leprechaun, Shamrock, Fighting Irish, the Dome, and the Notre Dame Crest. A student may use any one of these logos on their t-shirts, but must acquire permission beforehand said Harvath.

When the design of the t-shirt has been approved, the t-shirt can be produced and marketed for sale. According to Harvath the plans for the t-shirt are brought to a printing company to be produced. Harvath said, about 288 t-shirts must be produced in order to keep the cost of the t-shirt under six dollars each. This cost includes any artwork needed, t-shirts, and the screens used to create the prints. The production process usually lasts about a week and is returned to the student ready for sale, said Harvath.

According to the University policy the t-shirts can be sold at concession stands, in dining halls, and at the Alumni Senior Club. However, there is one written rule that must be adhered to: that is the t-shirt must sell itself. No one is allowed to hold or wave a t-shirt in order to entice people to buy it, said Harvath.

There are several marketing techniques that student entrepreneurs use to promote the sale of t-shirts, Harvath said. One common method is to run advertisements in the various student publications distributed around campus. Another way to increase the availability of the t-shirts is to offer a delivery service for those who want to order by phone or don’t have money upfront to purchase the t-shirt. Also, in order to attract people to help sell and distribute the t-shirts Harvath offered them a discount on the sale price. Harvath also sold his sweatshirts to the Notre Dame cheerleaders with “cheerleader” running down the sleeves. He gave them a discount as well provided they were at all their practices. In order to combat the student demand for illegal t-shirts, Harvath and other sellers have resorted to selling their t-shirts through the Alumni Association. Harvath said, “Sellers are up against students buying illegal t-shirts. They buy them just for the sheer thrill of buying something illegal and wearing ‘colorful’ t-shirts for conversational purposes.”

PHYLIS SCHLAFLY
NAMED BY THE WORLD ALMANAC AS ONE OF THE 25 MOST INFLUENTIAL WOMEN IN THE WORLD

LED THE BATTLE TO DEFEND THE EQUAL RIGHTS AMENDMENT

ELLIE SMEAL
FOUNDER AND PRESIDENT OF THE FUND FOR THE FEMINIST MAJORITY

LED A NATIONALWIDE CAMPAIGN FOR THE RATIFICATION OF THE EQUAL RIGHTS AMENDMENT

Speaking Monday Nov. 13
Washington Hall 8pm
“How the Family is Changing: a Conservative Viewpoint”

Speaking Wednesday Nov. 15
Library auditorium 8pm

co-sponsored by The Year of the Family Committee and The Dept. of Gender Studies

The Observer/ Gerard Watson

Junior Jennifer Linting sells University approved t-shirts on South Quad before the SMU last Saturday. The profits on the sale of the shirts are for the Junior Class.
Gender issues concern our day to day lives

Julie Scharfenberg

Ideas and Issues

less-qualified a woman a job over a more-qualified man is an un-sound idea.

Many of us are not really aware of gender issues right here on campus. I know I had no idea until I began working on the Student, Family and Gender Issues Week, which this week is sponsoring Family and Gender Issues Week. So many of men and women at Notre Dame, Notre Dame/Saint Mary's relations, eating disorders, and inclusive language (especially in academic forums) are just some of the issues that regularly impact the lives of students.

One of the most important problems is campus security. Because women are inherently more vulnerable to men than rape and physical attack, campus security should be especially alert to their needs. For instance, many women are now afraid to walk back to their dorms from the library or the Rock at night. A few more lights along the sidewalks could contribute to their security.

The conservative Phyllis Schlafly, who opposed the Equal Rights Amendment, will speak on Monday, Nov. 13.

Grace Period targets problems faced by South Africa

Dear Editor:

We all know about the problems of South Africa. But most of us feel we don't know enough and still remain uninvolved about one of the most important social issues in our world today. Some of the foremost experts on South Africa at Notre Dame have agreed to join us as panelists in the second Grace Period: Father Oliver Williams, C.S.C., Associate Provost and University spokesperson on South Africa; Mr. Jon Paul Ochett, head of the N.D. Anti-Apartheid Network; Professor Leon Davis, C.R. Smith Professor of Business Administration; Mr. Gary Sugarman, South African graduate student; Professor Anand Pillay, Department of Mathematics; and Professor Peter Walsh, Director of African Studies in the Department of Government and International Studies.

Don't miss this opportunity to get informed about the problems of South Africa and what they may mean to you. Hope to see you at the Grace Hall Pit, tonight at 8:00 p.m.

Craig Gundersen, Grace Hall
Intelligence Life Committee Co-chairman

PO Box Q, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556 (219) 239-5030

1989-90 General Board

Managing Editor Reta Cozza

Editor-in-Chief Chris Doherty

Business Manager Rich Nielson

Advertising Manager Molly Kien

Art Design Manager Shannon Rosin

Production Manager Allen Cockey

Copy Editor Bernadine Sherry

OTS Director Angela Belfanca

Controller Anne Lichat

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The Observer is printed and distributed on a weekly basis. The Observer is printed on recycled paper.

The Ideas and Issues Week is not an attempt to indoctrinate the student body with my particular set of ideas; it is a practical discussion of issues that will become more important to all of us as we progress through school and go out into the real world. It may be hard for many of us to see the importance of gender issues right now, but when we begin new careers and families such issues will become critical. For instance, is a dual career marriage compatible with raising happy and fulfilled children? Can a well-educated, intelligent woman find respect and satisfaction as a home-maker? Why does it seem that women rarely advance to CEO positions in US? Is it right for a better-qualified male law school applicant to be rejected in favor of a less-qualified female?

Whatever your answers to these questions, your opinions are welcome at the Family and Gender Issues Week events.

Julie Scharfenberg is a junior government and economics major and a member of the Sub Ideas and Issues Committee, sponsors of the Ideas and Issues Columns.

LETTERS

Dear Editor:

The Ideas and Issues commission of the Student Union Board will be sponsoring Family/Gender Issues Week from Nov. 13 to 16. The week will be an attempt to discuss the issues facing all of us, and in changing gender roles and the effects those changes will have on the family.

The conservative Phyllis Schlafly, who opposed the Equal Rights Amendment, will speak on Monday, Nov. 13.

Grace Period targets problems faced by South Africa

Dear Editor:

We all know about the problems of South Africa. But most of us feel we don't know enough and that remain uninvolved about one of the most important societal issues in our world today. Some of the foremost experts on South Africa at Notre Dame have agreed to join us as panelists in the second Grace Period: Father Oliver Williams, C.S.C., Associate Provost and University spokesperson on South Africa; Mr. Jon Paul Ochett, head of the South Africa Anti-Apartheid Network; Professor Leon Davis, C.R. Smith Professor of Business Administration; Mr. Gary Sugarman, South African graduate student; Professor Anand Pillay, Department of Mathematics, and Professor Peter Walsh, Director of African Studies in the Department of Government and International Studies.

Don't miss this opportunity to get informed about the problems of South Africa and what they may mean to you. Hope to see you at the Grace Hall Pit, tonight at 8:00 p.m.

Craig Gundersen, Grace Hall
Intelligence Life Committee Co-chairman

QUOTE OF THE DAY

"...the most beautiful thing in the world is the conjunction of learning and inspiration."

Wanda Landowski

(1879 - 1959)
Dear Editor:

I would like to comment on the article "We must act affirmatively" by Paul Peralez published in The Observer on Nov. 6, 1989. Although it encouraged me to read the first paragraph of Mr. Peralez's commentary, but the further I read, the more disappointed and disheartened I felt with the lack of substance of Mr. Peralez's arguments.

I did not understand his thesis in the first paragraph: "...the time has come, however, when affirmative action must be read as a moral responsibility..." Unfortunately, the rest of his article shed no light on this topic. A convincing factor is that unlike Title VII, the executive order regarding affirmative action laid down in the 1969's Executive Order 11000, does contain explicit prohibitions against preferential or "quota hiring" and required that contractors take "affirmative action" to ensure equal employment opportunities.

Thus, employers walk a fine line, not only because they risk being sued—not wrongly—by minorities if they do not fully comply with the affirmative action guidelines, but also because the "quota hiring" and "reverse discrimination" may also risk being sued by whites for "reverse discrimination" if their extensive action was not fully supported by affirmative action.

Mr. Peralez states that affirmative action is absolutely essential and justifies this action by implying that affirmative action is an act of morality similar to the Civil Rights Act of 1964. He states that affirmative action is an act of morality similar to the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

However, the question is, does Mr. Peralez's argument hold water? Mr. Peralez's argument is not based on moral grounds but rather on the legal requirements of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The Civil Rights Act of 1964 was passed to ensure equal rights to all individuals in the United States, regardless of race, color, and national origin. The Act prohibits discrimination in employment, housing, public accommodations, and public facilities. Mr. Peralez's argument is not based on moral grounds but rather on the legal requirements of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

However, the question is, does Mr. Peralez's argument hold water? Mr. Peralez's argument is not based on moral grounds but rather on the legal requirements of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The Civil Rights Act of 1964 was passed to ensure equal rights to all individuals in the United States, regardless of race, color, and national origin. The Act prohibits discrimination in employment, housing, public accommodations, and public facilities.

Mr. Peralez's argument is not based on moral grounds but rather on the legal requirements of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The Civil Rights Act of 1964 was passed to ensure equal rights to all individuals in the United States, regardless of race, color, and national origin. The Act prohibits discrimination in employment, housing, public accommodations, and public facilities.

Mr. Peralez's argument is not based on moral grounds but rather on the legal requirements of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The Civil Rights Act of 1964 was passed to ensure equal rights to all individuals in the United States, regardless of race, color, and national origin. The Act prohibits discrimination in employment, housing, public accommodations, and public facilities.

Mr. Peralez's argument is not based on moral grounds but rather on the legal requirements of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The Civil Rights Act of 1964 was passed to ensure equal rights to all individuals in the United States, regardless of race, color, and national origin. The Act prohibits discrimination in employment, housing, public accommodations, and public facilities.
Accent

‘Living Dolls’ is a living nightmare

I used to be that network executive who saw such potential in a certain character on a program that they spun that person off into their own show. They somehow lost all sense of quality in their creation and it seems that the networks are in such a scramble to keep viewers, they have lost all sense of quality in their programming. "Living Dolls" is living proof of this trend. Affair at 8:30 p.m. on Saturdays, ABC's "Living Dolls" is a spinoff of the smash hit, "Who's the Boss?" What? Don't recognize any of the characters? That's okay; no one else does either. "Living Dolls" is as closely related to "Who's the Boss?" as Hans and Franz are to Schwarzenegger. During one episode of "Who's the Boss?" Samantha (Alyssa Milano) interviewed four models for a newspaper article and these four are the stars of the new show.

The four models are family. (Halle Berry, the smart one, Caroline (Deborah Turken), the arrogant one, Charlie (Jenifer Breiner), the snit and Martha (Alison Elliott), the innocent one. They live together in an apartment owned by Trish Carlin (Michael Learned) who runs a modelling agency. Also on the scene is Trish's son Rick (David "Big" Moscow) and a street wise kid, "The Facts of Life".

Each episode deals with the ups and downs in the lives of the four beautiful models. There are boy problems and family problems and boy problems and more boy problems. Of course, whatever the problem, it's resolved in half an hour. If the premise seems trite, the characters are worse. These are girls whom audiences have time and time again. Their lives are even more predictable. Caroline says, "If God wanted me to be free on weekends, He would've made me ugly." Charlie plays along by suggesting, "Hulk Hogan couldn't carry your makeup case." Trish even tells Michael Learned can't carry this show.

In one episode, Charlie, saddened by the fact that her mother forgot her birthday, throws a party at Tony Miceli's (Tony Danza) house when he's away. "Does Jello jiggle?" Caroline asks. Charlie replies, "Not as good as you, that's why you're in charge of the guys." "I'm having a hard time with this whole chip thing," says Martha (the innocent one, remember) after Charlie puts her in charge of the party's food. If viewers close their eyes, they would have a difficult time telling if they were watching "Living Dolls," "Just the Ten of Us," or "The Facts of Life." Rick adds a touch of genuine humor to the show. When he hears the models using large words, he says, "You models have been reading again, haven't you?" Later, while planning a party with Trish who thinks Charlie has plans for the weekend, Rick says, "Really? There's nothing about that in her diary." This sarcastic humor is quite refreshing in the midst of the otherwise dull dialogue.

Another problem is that the show is trying desperately to make up for "Living Dolls". In other words, writers, who recognize the non-existent ties between "Living Dolls" and "Who's the Boss?" try to remedy the situation with frequent guest appearances by "Who's the Boss" cast members. This mistake is a double edged sword. It not only makes evident the fact that the writers don't think the show can make it without these guests, but also greatly stunts the development of the "Who's the Boss" characters since so much time is given to "Who's the Boss" regulars.

The show's only saving grace is Michael Learned's excellence to the role of the trite premise on which the show is based. These dolls need to be re-dressed, re-defined, and re-developed. If "Living Dolls" is ever to be anything but a living nightmare, will they be making it into a series for national television? (Answer: Not if there is a just and loving God.)

9) What happened to question number six? (Answer: Hey buddy, aren't you tagging this just a tad too seriously?)

10) Short answer question. You're in the dining hall, and you'd like to meet an attractive member of the opposite sex. Know that sometimes the amazing coincidence that two people in the dining hall are both eating food is the only basis for starting a conversation, formulate an opening line and the probable response. (Answer: You: "Say, isn't this food terrible, ha, ha?" Her: (Obviously thrown into near violent fits of passion by such overwhelming wit.) "Enough of this small talk, you sexual machine; I want you like I've never wanted anything before. Take me now. Let me be your love slave and cater to your every desire, master." But, then again, remember to expect the worst, even a brilliant ice-breaker question might result in disaster. The following answer is equally acceptable: You: "Say, isn't this food terrible, ha, ha?" Her: "Get away from me, you drooling sex fiend! I have mace in my purse and my impossibly jealous boyfriend, Bubba 'Boncrusher' Smith, who, incidentally, could sting your neck like a toothpick is right behind you." Mr. Smith: "Bubba kill funny man NOW!"

Ian Mitchell
Lion Taming

---

Pop Quiz: Questions you'd like to ask

1) You are a member of student government, and there are a string of serial killings on campus. What is your response to stop the deaths? (Answer: A good non-adversarial student government approach would be to put banners on all the dorms reading: MURDER. Is a good idea.)

2) You're in the dining hall, and the food server asks, "What would you like?" (Answer: Well, I'd like something fit for human consumption, please.)

3) It's a football weekend, and a scholarship alum asks up to you and asks, "Can you tell me how to get to the bookstore?" (Answer: Yes, but wouldn't you rather find it in your own and love the thrill of discovery?)

4) What's the surest way of getting an "A" on your paper? (Answer: Before handing it in, staple a twenty dollar bill to the end of it and cite President Jackson in the bibliography.)

5) Your roommate has no friends, and a plaid-clad alum walks up to you and asks, "Can you tell me how to get to the bookstore?" (Answer: Yes, but wouldn't you rather find it in your own and love the thrill of discovery?)

6) "A"

7) Why is there no "g" on the end of the word "fightin'?" (Answer: It's so simple, you might not have seen it. Your roommate must die. Kill him with a large blunt object.

8) I loved the DART video;
Pistons glad to be back after losing on the road

MIAMI (AP) — The Detroit Pistons flew back home after a road trip that Chuck Daly described as "our worst seven years as coach."

"By far," Daly said. "We're struggling, and we're struggling until we get back the killer instinct."

The defending NBA champions, 2-3 on the trip, knew an 11-point fourth-quarter lead Saturday night against Miami and lost 98-94. The Pistons also lost at Indiana, where they scored only 74 points, and at Chicago. Their third defeat came 18 days earlier than last season.

"We've got great talent," guard Isiah Thomas said. "But right now, we're not a good basketball team."

On Saturday, the Pistons played as an expanded team, while the second-year Heat played like champions. They rallied from a 76-65 deficit with nine minutes left, then missed consecutive free throws in the final 62 seconds to pull away from an 82-82 tie.

"This was the best win in basketball," coach Bob Rotstein, a former Detroit assistant. "We have played this year better than I thought we were capable of playing. Second-year players Roy Seikaly and Kevin Edwards led Miami with 21 points apiece. Seikaly said the game was one the Heat (2-4) would not have won last season.

"No way, we're a much better team than we were a year ago. We're more mature, we're learning how to play with each other," he said.

"We cherish every win as we go along, but this one is sweeter than any other, because the Pistons are the best team in the NBA."

Not right now. The league's best team wouldn't lose their final 21 games as Detroit did Saturday. Thomas and Joe Dumars were the only Pistons to score in the final nine minutes.

Center James Edwards missed two free throws in the final nine minutes left when Detroit trailed 86-84. He missed all seven of his field-goal attempts and has hit only five of 24 in the past four games.

The Pistons are off until they rematch with the Heat on Wednesday in Detroit.

Joe Dumars (4) and the Detroit Piston are glad to be back home at the Palace in Auburn Hills, Mich., following a disappointing road trip. Among the losses the defending NBA champions endured on the road was an embarrassing setback to the Miami Heat.
Flanner defeats IH soccer crown

Penalty kicks the difference in title game win over Zahm

By CHRIS FILLIO

Sports Writer

In what seemingly was a carbon copy of last year's men's Interhall soccer championship game, Flanner once again came out on top to claim its second consecutive title. With the score knotted at 1-1 after regulation play, Zahm and Flanner played three scoreless five-minute overtimes before the Flanner squad won on penalty kicks by a 3-2 margin.

"Zahm's certainly got the best goalkeeper we've seen this year," said Flanner head coach and sweeper Shawn Fieber, in regards to Zahm's Chris Scherzinger. "Their team is really as good as anyone else we've played. But I still think we've got the best team in the league."

Flanner opened the scoring early in the first half on a deflection goal by Ralph Falbo. The defense took control over the rest of the game as both teams could only manage shots from well outside the 18-yard line.

Zahm came back strong in the second half and tied the score when standout midfielder Warrick Maddow put in a shot off a long throw-in by forward Shawn Curry with seven minutes left in the contest. Following the three overtime periods, the squads went to penalty kicks.

"It's unfortunate that someone has to win," said Zahm head coach Gary Leonard, "but that's the whole idea behind penalty kicks: deciding an eventual winner. I thought the team really came out well and dominated the second half."

Both goalies made the outcome more interesting as Scherzinger stopped Flanner's Tom Ryan's first shot and Flanner freshman goalie Kyle Cadman denied Zahm's Joe Rusco's attempt.

"I really have to commend our goalkeeper, Kyle," said Fieber. "He's never played goal before and really gave us some great performances."

The teams were even in penalty kicks after Flanner's Ralph Falbo, Garth Behrze, Shawn Fieber and Pat Cornelius converted their shots. Zahm countered with the combination of Kevin Kealy, Rod Foley, Scott Feuler and Dino Colacito.

Flanner's Matt Mectchenberg put in the eventual game-winner when his kick beat Scherzinger. Cadman guessed correctly on John Peery's attempt when he dove to his right and thus finished out the 1989 Interhall soccer season.

Hockey continued from page 20

Dearborn scored a goal at 13:27 of the third period to take a 4-3 lead. But Notre Dame exploded for three goals in 90 seconds to defeat the Wolves for the second night in a row.

The Rice University Publishing Program

The Rice University Publishing Program, June 18-July 13, is designed to develop talent, skills and career opportunities for persons interested in book and magazine publishing. The program is designed for students who will be entering their senior year in 1990 and for college graduates. Although participants come from all disciplines, the program has been of particular value to students in English and other Humanities, Journalism, Art, Social Sciences and Business.

The roster of guest lecturers includes more than 35 top professionals in editing, graphics, marketing and production from throughout the country.

For more information, contact the Office of Continuing Studies, Rice University, P.O. Box 1892, Houston, Texas 77251-1892. Telephone (713) 520-6022 or 527-4803.

Happy Birthday GC!

N.D. / MIAMI GAME

We Love You.
Traci, Mai, Kathy.
Katie, Carolyn.
Lisa, Erika.
& Kirstin

$599
Per Person

N/A/MDIA
GAME
NOV. 24-26, 1989
1-800-993-8418 (NYC)
1-800-643-4804 (U.S.A.)

The Observer
Bears whip Steelers, Chargers edge Raiders in NFL

(AP) - Chicago won in Pittsburg for the first time since World War II, and that was great. The Bears scored all 20 of their points in the first half, and that wasn't surprising, said Bears coach Mike Ditka. "Any time you shut out a team in the first half, you're going to win the game," Ditka said.

"I don't think we played any better than they did, but the turnover ratio was the key," Ditka said. "We won it 2-1 in the second half, and that's not encouraging.

Jim Harbaugh threw one touchdown pass and set up another, and Chicago turned two of Pittsburgh's six turnovers into 13 points, the final 2:07 of the second quarter for a 20-0 victory Sunday. The Bears had two interceptions, the first thrown by Benny Britzer in eight games, and William "The Refrigerator" Perry had two sacks and a fumble recovery for Chicago (6-4).

"We kept alive Chicago's first scoring drive with three 9-yard scrambles before the Bears scored from the 2. Harbaugh threw a swerving 24-yard touchdown pass for an 18-yard touchdown with 1:13 left in the first half for Chicago's final points.

The Bears, 0-4-1 since they last won in Pittsburgh on Dec. 31, 1994, had lost four of their last five and three in a row on the road. The Raiders (4-6) have been outscored 54-7 in their last two games.

"When you keep making mistakes and turning it over, there's not much of an explanation to anything," Steelers coach Chuck Noll said.

In other games, it was Los Angeles Rams 31, New York Giants 10; San Francisco 45, Atlanta 24; Dallas 14, Cincinnati 12; Indianapolis 7, Cleveland 4; Miami 22, New Orleans 21; New England 24, Tennessee 17; Chicago 20, San Francisco 17; Philadelphia 27, Detroit 10; Buffalo 16, New England 7; Indianapolis 21, Chicago 16; Jacksonville 27, San Diego 17; Buffalo 27, New England 17; San Diego 31, New England 10; Minnesota 7, Chicago 6; Green Bay 27, Seattle 9; New York Jets 32, Miami 21; Denver 21, Arizona 13; Detroit 28, New York Giants 20; Cleveland 14, New England 12; Philadelphia 24, St. Louis 3.

Chargers 14, Raiders 12

Anthony Miller threw a 3-yard touchdown pass to rookie wide receiver Vidal Hazelton on the first play of the final minute of the first half, as he and the Los Angeles Rams returned to their early season form.

Everett completed a clutch record 18 consecutive passes at one stretch, as the Rams (6-4-1) ended a four-game losing streak. That slide began after they won their first five, the best start by an NFL team this season.

The loss by the Giants (8-2) halted their four-game winning streak.

49ers 45, Falcons 3

Joe Montana passed for three touchdowns and ran for another as the San Francisco 49ers piled up 100 yards rushing for the first time in nine weeks as they moved into sixth in the NFC West.

Since the Giants' loss to the Browns 21 yards downfield in just 10 plays, setting up the field goal.

Lions 31, Packers 22

Rudyard Peete threw two touchdown passes to Richard Johnson, and defense set up all of Detroit's points as the Lions won for the second time this season.

Detroit scored 21 points in the second quarter. The scores came after a fumble by Green Bay quarterback Don Majkowski, an interception of Majkowski, a 74-yard punt return by Don Bracken to the Packers 12, and Jerry Holmes 23-yard TD return of another Majkowski interception. Green Bay fell to 5-1-1.

Bills 30, Colts 7

Andre Reed caught two of Jim Kelly's three touchdown passes, and the Bills (7-3) got 13 points from three first-quarter Indianapolis fumbles.

Indianapolis (4-6) started the game when Jim Kelly's three touchdown passes, and the Bills (7-3) got 13 points from three first-quarter Indianapolis fumbles.

Happy Birthday

Heather!

You're the BEST!
Today, computer technology is an important and necessary element of higher education, for the faculty member as much as for the student. Curriculum innovation plays a significant role in the development and effectiveness of higher education. The key words to curriculum innovation today are "computer technology," more specifically, "Macintosh Computers." As faculty search for ways to use computers in their classrooms to encourage and improve learning, Macintosh is there with solutions; offering the most progressive educational tools for today's college environment. For more information about Macintosh products, contact the Notre Dame Computer Store, Monday-Friday, 9 to 5, at 239-7477.

On November 15, any student or faculty member will be eligible to win a Macintosh SE. You just have to visit Theodore's between 7 and 9 p.m. on the 15th and enter the Macintosh raffle. In addition to food and drink, representatives from Macintosh software companies will be demonstrating some of the many possibilities available to Macintosh users.
Raghib Ismail's 65-yard punt return for a touchdown was called back in the first quarter because of a clipping penalty. Ismail received credit for a 7-yard return on the play, but the Irish were vindicated when Ricky Watters ran a second quarter punt back 97 yards. Watters' return was the longest in Notre Dame history.

Thompson gets record 377 yards

Madison, Wis. (AP) — Anthony Thompson has added another NCAA record to his Heisman Trophy resume, but says he could care less. Records and awards don't make him go.

The Indiana tailback isn't counting touchdowns, even though he's scored an NCAA-record 64 in his regular-season career for the Hoosiers.

And Saturday he wasn't keeping track of his mileage, when he ran around and through Wisconsin's defense for an NCAA-record 377 yards on a bone-rattling 32 carries.

"I'm not really concerned about the Heisman. I'm more concerned with next week's game against Illinois. It's a big game for us," Thompson said.

So was Saturday's 45-17 rout of Wisconsin as the Hoosiers bounced back from back-to-back lopsided losses to Michigan and Michigan State, when the elusive Thompson was held under 100 yards in both games.

But from the outset Saturday, it was obvious the Badgers would have trouble containing Thompson.

He went left and right and didn't move like a basketball player. He stutter step in one direction and go the other. He ducked and pointed and went to the outside and cut it back to the inside.

"He boxes and weaves. I know that sounds like a boxer but it's true," Wisconsin linebacker Tim Kneen said.

And Thompson wasn't even tired, despite his school-record 52 carries. That's because the Hoosiers were winning.

"I was more tired in the Michigan game than this one," Thompson said. "Just getting pounded is really frustrating and takes a lot of energy out of you.

"When your momentum's going, you really don't seem to get too tired."

But the Badgers were tired of trying to pin Thompson down Saturday. He broke the previous NCAA record of 377 yards shared by Mike Pringle of Fullerton State—set just last week—and Ruben Mayes of Washington State in 1984.

"He stopped me right in my tracks more than a few times," Wisconsin linebacker Brendan Lynch said.

"I never hit him straight on. It always seemed he was scratching, clawing and trying to hang on to him.

The Badgers trailed 24-0 early and rallied to within 24-17 when Craig Hudson broke off an 80-yard run on a reverse in the third quarter.

But back came the Hoosiers on an 80-yard drive with Thompson carrying 12 times and completing it with a 1-yard run, the third of his four touchdowns on the day.

Anthony Thompson's NCAA record 377-yard rushing game Saturday against Wisconsin may have vaulted the Indiana running back into front-runner status in the Heisman Trophy race.
Maryland ties Penn State 13-13

Baltimore (AP) - Maryland ended a 24-game losing streak against Penn State when Dan DeArmas kicked his second field goal of the game, a 26-yarder with 25 seconds to play that lifted the Terrapins into a 13-13 tie with the 13th-ranked Nittany Lions.

Maryland, which has not beaten Penn State since 1963, drove 57 yards in 11 plays to move the Terrapins' record to 3-6-1.

On their final possession, the Nittany Lions, whose record is 6-2-1, moved the ball to the Maryland 49-yard line, with the game ending when Tom Bill's pass into the end zone fell in.

Penn State leads the overall series 31-1-1.

After Maryland tied the score at 10 on a 28-yard field goal by DeArmas in the first quarter, the two teams exchanged punts, Penn State driving 58 yards in three plays to the Maryland 6-yard line.

However, the drive stalled as running plays lost yard, and the Nittany Lions settled for a 24-yard field goal by Ray Tarasi with 5:08 to play and a 13-10 lead, setting the stage for Maryland's game-tying drive.

The Nittany Lions took their first lead at 10-7 when Leroy Thompson scored on a 7-yard run with 13:00 left in the third quarter. The touchdown capped a drive in which Penn State moved 88 yards in 8 plays for the score after Terrapines defensive lineman Mike Zatkos blocked a punt.

The Nittany Lions drove to the Maryland 20-yard line three times in the first half, scoring only on a 24-yard field goal by Tarasi with two seconds left in the half.

On defense, the Cowboys used third-string safety Cornell Cannon as a rover and had him shadow quarterback Darian Hagan. As a result, Hagan wasn't able to get outside on option plays.

"If we're to win the Big Eight, you've got to be able to win ballgames like this," Oklahoma coach Bill McCartney said.

The adjustment was simple - start running inside instead of outside - and the results were immediate.

After the first two drives netted only 2 yards, the Buffaloes drove 50 yards in 7 plays, taking 3:00 off the clock, before Matt Hagan hit Jeff Waller on a 20-yard touchdown pass.

"We felt we could be successful on our run game," Jones said of his defensive game plan. "We forced them out of their option stuff on the perimeter. We made it a fullback-tailback game."

"We wanted to make them go to their power stuff, and they pretty well maulled around on us."

The result was 41 straight points, including 24 in the second quarter when the Buffaloes seized control of the game.

"Heisman Trophy, but for those players in the Big Eight, it was special that I got to play in the Big Eight."

"Heisman Trophy, but for those players in the Big Eight, it was special that I got to play in the Big Eight."

"Heisman Trophy, but for those players in the Big Eight, it was special that I got to play in the Big Eight."

"Heisman Trophy, but for those players in the Big Eight, it was special that I got to play in the Big Eight."

"Heisman Trophy, but for those players in the Big Eight, it was special that I got to play in the Big Eight."

"Heisman Trophy, but for those players in the Big Eight, it was special that I got to play in the Big Eight."

"Heisman Trophy, but for those players in the Big Eight, it was special that I got to play in the Big Eight."

"Heisman Trophy, but for those players in the Big Eight, it was special that I got to play in the Big Eight."

"Heisman Trophy, but for those players in the Big Eight, it was special that I got to play in the Big Eight."

"Heisman Trophy, but for those players in the Big Eight, it was special that I got to play in the Big Eight."

Reserve fullback Walter Boyd drives toward the end zone on a 14-yard touchdown run. Boyd, like the rest of the Irish subs, was able to showcase his skills quite extensively as Notre Dame pounded Pittsburgh Monday, November 13, 1989 The Observer

PS/2 it!

You don't have to be the subscriber to know college is no joke. But the IBM Personal System/2 can be a big help. Thanks to the special IBM PC/AT, you can get more done in less time. You can organize your notes, write and revise papers, and create smart-looking letters, all in a day's work. And right now, as a student you have an advantage. You can pay less than half the price of a full-sized computer. So save money and make a smart career decision at the same time.

Coming soon: IMMEDIATE DELIVERY!

PS/2 at a terrific low price. So save money and make a smart career decision at the same time.

You don't have to be the subscriber to know college is no joke. But the IBM Personal System/2 can be a big help. Thanks to the special IBM PC/AT, you can get more done in less time. You can organize your notes, write and revise papers, and create smart-looking letters, all in a day's work. And right now, as a student you have an advantage. You can pay less than half the price of a full-sized computer. So save money and make a smart career decision at the same time.

Coming soon: IMMEDIATE DELIVERY!

NOTRE DAME COMPUTER STORE
Office of the University Computing Center and Math Building
I.B.M. 727-4777

IBM Personal System/2 and IBM are trademarks of International Business Machines Corporation. © IBM Corp. 1989.
The Notre Dame volleyball team split its two matches this weekend at the Joyce ACC, looking sloppy in a win over easy opponent Illinois-Chicago and looking good in a loss to nationally-ranked Texas-Arlington.

The Irish, 12-16, have played at the level of their opposition for much of the season, as shown by their performance against a poorly Illinois-Chicago squad. Although Notre Dame cruised to a 15-6, 7-15, 15-7 victory, Irish coach Art Lambert was not exactly pleased.

"We came out very sluggish," stated Lambert. "They should never have beaten us in the third game. Our performance wasn't very good."

Substituting at will, Notre Dame used all of its players. Freshman Jessica Fiebelkorn led the way for the Irish, posting a match-high 18 kills from the middle hitter position. Sophomore Jennifer Slosar contributed 9 kills along with a team-high 13 digs, most coming in the first game.

Once again, setter Taryn Collins provided stable play with 52 assists. The Flames were nearly a one woman team with Bee Dee Erick's leading in most of the offensive categories. She recorded 15 kills, 13 digs, and five total blocks in a losing cause.

On Saturday night, the game changed tremendously with the arrival of the 14th-ranked Texas-Arlington. The Mavericks came into the ACC on a roll, riding a 15-match winning streak. The first two games went to Texas-Arlington 15-13, 15-11 as the Irish gave up an incredible 531 hitting percentage to the visitors.

Along with the understandable mental errors, Notre Dame had many problems with the fundamentals of volleyball.

"Our service game is very poor (15 service errors)," said a disappointed Lambert. "Right now, our blocking is really hurting us and we need to improve."

In the third game, Notre Dame, behind a boisterous crowd, knocked off the Mavericks 15-11. Slosar led the charge with numerous kills from the back row and one of her two service aces. Junior Colleen Wagner also provided some spark for the Irish tallying six kills and nine digs.

"I'm really pleased with Wagner right now," said Lambert. "All in all, she is improving everyday."

The fourth game was another tight battle, with Texas-Arlington winning 15-10. The game was highlighted by the emergence of a middle attack for the Irish. Freshman Judy Fong and Fiebelkorn combined for 11 kills and 13 kills, respectively.

Junior Tracy Shelton had a team high 13 digs, most coming in the fourth and final game. The Mavericks were led by the strong arm of Sara Madariaga, who recorded 20 kills by Irish blockers. Edrina Pogue contributed 11 kills and a service ace.

"We played well in spots," stated an optimistic Lambert. "But it is not a good performance if you don't win."

This type of performance has cheered the Irish throughout the season, as they try to come back and eliminate our mistakes before our next match with Arling–ton.

Notre Dame will travel to the Western Michigan Invitational next weekend. Senior Kathy Cunningham and Fiebelkorn led up 13 and 16 kills, respectively.

Sophomore Jennifer Bruening and the Notre Dame volleyball team split two home matches this weekend. The Irish defeated UIC on Friday night, but lost to tenth-ranked Texas-Arlington in four sets Saturday.

Sophomore Jennifer Bruening and the Notre Dame volleyball team split two home matches this weekend. The Irish defeated UIC on Friday night, but lost to tenth-ranked Texas-Arlington in four sets Saturday.

The Observer/Steve Mockap

Sophomore Jennifer Bruening and the Notre Dame volleyball team split two home matches this weekend. The Irish defeated UIC on Friday night, but lost to tenth-ranked Texas-Arlington in four sets Saturday.

Sophomore Jennifer Bruening and the Notre Dame volleyball team split two home matches this weekend. The Irish defeated UIC on Friday night, but lost to tenth-ranked Texas-Arlington in four sets Saturday.

Sophomore Jennifer Bruening and the Notre Dame volleyball team split two home matches this weekend. The Irish defeated UIC on Friday night, but lost to tenth-ranked Texas-Arlington in four sets Saturday.
LECTURE CIRCUIT
Monday, November 13

4 p.m.: Siegfried Lecture Series in Entrepreneurial Studies, "Influences Upon Entrepreneurship," Arnold Cooper, Lewis Well, Jr., professor of management, Purdue. Room 122 Hayes-Healy. Sponsored by Department of Management.

4:30 p.m.: Lecture, "The Role of the Drosophila EGF Receptor Homolog in Oogenesis," Dr. James Norling, ND Department of History.

7 p.m.: In the Hesburgh Library Lounge. Workshop by Marilyn Bury, assistant director of Career and Placement Services. "Resume Writing Workshop". Sponsored by the Career and Placement Services.

7:30 p.m.: Lecture, "Talley Rand," Professor Arnold Cooper, grad. Room 283 Galvin Auditorium, Purdue.

CROSSWORD
Across
1. Seaweed
2. Nativey
3. Center or hub
4. Spectacle plant
5. Lacking sense
6. Bring to run
7. "The Wind in the Willows" hero
8. Cavern-dwelling miner of song
9. Arranpoid grad
10. Dune's headgear
11. Forgetful person
12. Supplant
13. -- day service
14. Seventh Greek letter
15. Insect trap
16. Paint by numbers
17. Responses in television
18. Canada's northernmost design
19. Greek letter
20. Annapolis grad
21. Dunce's cap
22. One in pursuit of a career
23. Comprehension
24. Y. el.
25. Kind of trumpet
26. A coloring book
27. Flattened at the poles
28. Monk's habit
29. Beethoven's "Fidelio"
30. Job for a one-legged person
31. Classic Chaplin film
32. Beethoven's "Fidelio"
33. Second of Ban Cartwright's sons
34. Glossy
35. Beethoven's "Symphony No. 9"
36. Second of Ban Cartwright's sons
37. Gypsy gentleman
38. Coaster
39. Freer Gallery display
40. Participants in 31 Across
44. Unleamed
45. According to
46. Section of Westminster Abbey
48. Items for a coloring book
52. Dunce's headgear
55. "Death in Venice" author
57. Affably shy
58. Large-footed daughter of 18 Across
59. Endless time period
60. Adjust carefully
61. Units of comedy
62. Total all to the poles
63. Evangelist Roberts
64. Live
65. Housemaid's headgear

Down
1. In pursuit of a career
2. Comprehension
3. V. et.
4. Kind of spectacle
5. Golfer's headgear
6. Descriptive of Ben Jonson
7. An explosive
8. Periods of highest vigor
9. Hero of a preceding period
10. "The Hired Man"
11. "Six of One"
12. Common language
13. Common language
14. Common language
15. Common language
16. Common language
17. Common language
18. Common language
19. Common language
20. Common language
21. Common language
22. Common language
23. Common language
24. Common language
25. Common language
26. Common language
27. Common language
28. Common language
29. Common language
30. Common language
31. Common language
32. Common language
33. Common language
34. Common language
35. Common language
36. Common language
37. Common language
38. Common language
39. Common language
40. Common language
41. Common language
42. Common language
43. Common language
44. Common language
45. Common language
46. Common language
47. Common language
48. Common language
49. Common language
50. Common language
51. Common language
52. Common language
53. Common language
54. Common language
55. Common language
56. Common language
57. Common language
58. Common language
59. Common language
60. Common language
61. Common language
62. Common language
63. Common language
64. Common language
65. Common language

ANSAW TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE
Across
1. "Six of One"
2. "The Hired Man"
3. "Six of One"
4. "The Hired Man"
5. "Six of One"
6. "The Hired Man"
7. "Six of One"
8. "The Hired Man"
9. "Six of One"
10. "Six of One"
11. "Six of One"
12. "Six of One"
13. "Six of One"
14. "Six of One"
15. "Six of One"
16. "Six of One"
17. "Six of One"
18. "Six of One"
19. "Six of One"
20. "Six of One"
21. "Six of One"
22. "Six of One"
23. "Six of One"
24. "Six of One"
25. "Six of One"
26. "Six of One"
27. "Six of One"
28. "Six of One"
29. "Six of One"
30. "Six of One"
31. "Six of One"
32. "Six of One"
33. "Six of One"
34. "Six of One"
35. "Six of One"
36. "Six of One"
37. "Six of One"
38. "Six of One"
39. "Six of One"
40. "Six of One"
41. "Six of One"
42. "Six of One"
43. "Six of One"
44. "Six of One"
45. "Six of One"
46. "Six of One"
47. "Six of One"
48. "Six of One"
49. "Six of One"
50. "Six of One"
51. "Six of One"
52. "Six of One"
53. "Six of One"
54. "Six of One"
55. "Six of One"
56. "Six of One"
57. "Six of One"
58. "Six of One"
59. "Six of One"
60. "Six of One"
61. "Six of One"
62. "Six of One"
63. "Six of One"
64. "Six of One"
65. "Six of One"

Down
1. "Six of One"
2. "The Hired Man"
3. "Six of One"
4. "Six of One"
5. "Six of One"
6. "Six of One"
7. "Six of One"
8. "Six of One"
9. "Six of One"
10. "Six of One"
11. "Six of One"
12. "Six of One"
13. "Six of One"
14. "Six of One"
15. "Six of One"
16. "Six of One"
17. "Six of One"
18. "Six of One"
19. "Six of One"
20. "Six of One"
21. "Six of One"
22. "Six of One"
23. "Six of One"
24. "Six of One"
25. "Six of One"
26. "Six of One"
27. "Six of One"
28. "Six of One"
29. "Six of One"
30. "Six of One"
31. "Six of One"
32. "Six of One"
33. "Six of One"
34. "Six of One"
35. "Six of One"
36. "Six of One"
37. "Six of One"
38. "Six of One"
39. "Six of One"
40. "Six of One"
41. "Six of One"
42. "Six of One"
43. "Six of One"
44. "Six of One"
45. "Six of One"
46. "Six of One"
47. "Six of One"
48. "Six of One"
49. "Six of One"
50. "Six of One"
51. "Six of One"
52. "Six of One"
53. "Six of One"
54. "Six of One"
55. "Six of One"
56. "Six of One"
57. "Six of One"
58. "Six of One"
59. "Six of One"
60. "Six of One"
61. "Six of One"
62. "Six of One"
63. "Six of One"
64. "Six of One"
65. "Six of One"

WILBUR AND WENDEL

CALVIN AND HOBBES

Bill Waterson

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

Gary Larson

Monday:

PHYLLIS SCHLAFLY

Lecture on "How the Family is Changing: A Conservative Viewpoint"

Washington Hall 8:00 PM
No surprises here - Irish bury Mustangs 59-6

ND makes concerted effort to avoid running up score

By THERESA KELLY
Sports Editor

The Good. The Bad. And the Ugly.

Notre Dame defeated Southern Methodist 59-6 Saturday at Notre Dame Stadium, as the Irish found a passing game and the Mustangs found they weren't quite ready to face the No. 1 team in the nation.

The Good on Saturday was Notre Dame. The Bad was SMU. The Ugly was Pre-game.

There were quite a few things to do. Said grizzled SMU head coach Forrest Gregg, who watched his freshman-laden team fall to 2-7. "They did everything to keep the score down once the game was settled, but you can't ask these kids not to play hard. I respect them for it. It's a credit to the team and the coach."

Also ugly for the Irish were seven fumbles, three of which they lost. There were penalties by the return teams.

"We tried to run before we caught the ball," said Holts, whose team improved to 10-0. "You could make mistakes and get away with it. I don't want our team to labor under the impression that we can get away with it."

One game not bochked was by Ricky Watters in the second quarter. Watters fielded a 54-yard punt by SMU's Casey Cluse at the Notre Dame three-yard line and took off down the right sideline, breaking three tackles and avoiding Cluse as he scored Notre Dame's sixth return touchdown of the season.

Watters' 97-yard effort was the longest punt return in Irish history, breaking the mark of 95 yards, set way back in 1909 by Red Miller. He has three career returns over 90 yards.

"I wanted to score and I came out quite ready," Setzer said. "Coach (Lou) Holtz told us that we could run up and down the field, but he didn't want us to score. He told me he was proud of me for doing what I did. I will be here two more years and I will have many more opportunities to score."

"It was the honorable thing to do," said grizzled SMU head coach Forrest Gregg, who watched his freshman-laden team fall to 2-7. "They did everything to keep the score down once the game was settled, but you can't ask these kids not to play hard. I respect them for it. It's a credit to the team and the coach."

Also ugly for the Irish were seven fumbles, three of which they lost. There were penalties by the return teams.

"We tried to run before we caught the ball," said Holts, whose team improved to 10-0. "You could make mistakes and get away with it. I don't want our team to labor under the impression that we can get away with it."

The Observer/E.G. Bakerly

Ike McCraken/Observer

Defensive end Scott Kowalcowski admires teammate D'Juan Francisco's handstand at the showcase of SMU's Michael Bowen.

ND hockey team sweeps Michigan-Dearborn

By KEN TYSIAC
Sports Writer

ND men's cross country team fails to qualify for NCAAs

By MARY GARINO
Sports Writer

The Observer/E.G. Bakerly

ND hockey team sweeps Michigan-Dearborn

By KEN TYSIAC
Sports Writer

After recording only one win in six games against Michigan-Dearborn last year, the Notre Dame hockey team had something to prove in this weekend's home-and-away series versus the Wolverines.

The Irish made their point quite convincingly at the Joyce Center as the 4-1 trouncing on Friday night. They added an exclamation point when they came from behind Saturday in Dearborn to score a thrilling 6-4 victory and improve their record to 5-1 on the season.

Captain Tim Kuehl provided most of the firepower for the Irish on Friday night, as he scored three goals in the second period and four in the game. Freshman Dan Marvin added two goals and one assist for coach Bic Schaffer's squad.

"I think I shot the puck a total of ten feet on my four goals," Kuehl said. "I was just in the right place at the right time."

Dearborn drew first blood on Joe Mocnik's power play goal just 53 seconds into the game, but the Irish quickly tied it up and then took the lead at 16:43 of the first period. Center Sterling Black stole the puck at the Dearborn blue line, skated down the left side and slid a nifty pass across to senior Bruce Guay, who banged the puck into the right side of the net.

Kuehl added another late first-period goal, and the Irish went to the locker room with a 3-1 lead.

After the teams traded goals, a scuffle occurred which changed the complexion of the game. Dearborn goalie Dave Church took exception to the way Guay crashed the net for a rebound, and a wild shoving match ensued. When it was all over, Guay was flat on his back behind the net with three Dearborn players on top of him.

The referees apparently felt that the Wolves were responsible for the five-minute major penalty against Dearborn. It was a creditable effort for the team to labor under the circumstances and still work hard to create opportunities for themselves.

They complained that the game was boring and that the Irish shouldn't be included such as an inferior opponent. For many members of the Notre Dame football team, however, the victory over SMU was a rare opportunity to showcase their talents. They are the walk-ons and the young future stars who must practice every day but are not quite ready to walk into the prime-time spotlight with Tony Rice, Chris Zorich and the rest of the big names.

Rod West, a senior who has had a swellng's moments in the past but never made earth-shattering headlines, is such one player. West lined up at fullback, a position he has occasionally been switched to in games, and barreled over with a yard for his first career touchdown in the fourth quarter.

The Observer/E.G. Bakerly

Ike McCraken/Observer

Defensive end Scott Kowalcowski admires teammate D'Juan Francisco's handstand at the showcase of SMU's Michael Bowen.