Chamorro may triumph over Ortega in election

JOSE Napoleon Duarte, former president of El Salvador, died Friday of cancer. Duarte, a 1948 graduate of Notre Dame, is shown here shaking hands with Father Theodore Hesburgh, president of the university. Also shown are President Bush (right) and Vice President Dan Quayle, who, along with Hesburgh, informed Duarte on November 2, 1989, of the establishment of a scholarship in his name at Notre Dame.

Duarte dies; hubbush mourns loss

By MONICA YANT
News Writer

Jose Napoleon Duarte, former president of El Salvador, died Friday of cancer. Duarte, a 1948 graduate of Notre Dame, was remembered as a courageous man, totally given to seeking justice, said Father Theodore Hesburgh, president emeritus of the university. Also shown are President Bush (right) and Vice President Dan Quayle, who, along with Hesburgh, informed Duarte on November 2, 1989, of the establishment of a scholarship in his name at Notre Dame.

Duarte was an extraordinarily courageous man, totally given to seeking justice," said Father Theodore Hesburgh, president emeritus at a press conference Friday. "He was a man of unwavering faith, an advocate of justice, and a斗er of peace." Duarte was a student in the first class Hubbush taught at ND, Christian Valerio. When Duarte spoke little English, and he spoke little Spanish, so special instruction was carried out in Italian, said Dick Conklin, director of public relations and information.

Hesburgh last met with Duarte in November of 1989 at Walter Reed Army Medical Center in Washington, where the ailing leader was undergoing chemotherapy. Hesburgh was joined by President George Bush, Vice President Dan Quayle, and other high ranking government officials to announce the establishment of a special scholarship in Duarte's name at Notre Dame. The scholarship has been established by friends so "there will always be a poor student from San Salvador at Notre Dame," said Hesburgh.

Duarte died leaving the "best legacy a politician could leave his citizen," Hesburgh said. "I think he will be remembered with some love, and some hate. All a politician can do is follow his conscience, and he did that with courage," Hesburgh said.

It is remarkable that Duarte lived to hand over power to a new Salvadoran president, Hesburgh said. The 1989 transition marked the first time in 70 years that a dually-elected president handed power over to his successor. Duarte was born in 1925 to a baker and a seamstress. When his father won the lottery, the elder Duarte saw an opportunity to shelter his sons from the violence of the Salvadorean war against Guatemala, and sent Jose Napoleon and his family to Notre Dame, said Hesburgh.

The Associated Press reported that Duarte's father also ran a successful candy-making business which may have helped the family financially.

Forbes dies of heart attack

NEW YORK (AP) - Malcolm Forbes, the multimillionaire magazine owner, motorcyclist and balloonist, was mourned Sunday as one who revealed in life and free enterprise. The self-proclaimed "capitalist tool" died of a heart attack Saturday at age 70.

"Death happens to everyone but we never believed it would happen to him; he always defied the odds," said Forbes son, Malcolm Jr., who will succeed his father as chairman and chief executive of Forbes magazine and its parent, Forbes Inc., and as editor in chief of the magazine.

"What he wanted inscribed on his tombstone says it all: 'While alive, he lived,' " Malcolm Jr. said at a Sunday news conference with his sister and three brothers. Forbes died in his sleep Saturday afternoon at his 40-acre estate in Montauk, N.Y.

Actress Elizabeth Taylor, a frequent companion of Forbes, said Sunday, "I feel like a great light has been turned off. He was one of the best friends I ever had."

Among the 1,000 guests at Forbes' $2 million, 70th birthday bash last fall in Tangier, Morocco, were billionaire developer Donald Trump, Chrysler Chairman Lee iacocca, former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

Various estimates pegged the worth of Forbes, chairman and chief shareholder of Forbes Inc., at anywhere from $400 million to $1 billion.

Whatever the amount, Forbes gleefully ripped his riches. He made the first free flight over Beijing in a hot-air balloon and set world ballooning records. He owned 68 motorcycles and made the first motorcycle television commercial. He played with movie stars and heads of state aboard his gold-trimmed, helicopter-equipped yacht, the Highlander.

But he also was gracious to everyday folks. He helped start a cancer center in China. He was a world's health consultant from Vienna, Va., who marked her 44th birthday aboard the Highlander in St. Thomas. Forbes was a regular letter writer to Forbes on a dare from co-workers.

"It's not how much money you have but what you do with it," Forbes wrote in a letter. "Forbes is a nickname. The living is incredible. We work hard at the things we have to do, so why not take time to enjoy the things we want to do?"
INSIDE COLUMN

Think ‘du Lac’ is tough? ND was struck in 1885

Day in, day out, the same complaints can be heard on campus: “Details are stupid.”

“The alcohol policy is ridiculous." "The Administration is unresponsive."

Every student at some time has said one or more of these things. This may seem strange, but actually we should be thankful for the rules we have.

I recently secured a copy of Notre Dame’s University Regulations from 1885. Father Corby was president and student life was much different than it is now. It will make you see how lenient our rules are, and maybe even appreciate them.

The general feeling among students lately is that the Administration does not trust us. In 1885, though, trust was the furthest concept from Corby’s mind. Rule No. 7 stated that “students are not permitted to visit private rooms.” No. 11 went a step further and determined that “unless with parents and guardians, students are not allowed to remain with visitors.” Students could not take private walks either, without parental accompaniment. SafeWalk probably would not have set very well with Corby.

The general classes are generally a social event for students now, but back in 1885 it was less fun and more classes. Regulation No. 17 explains that “as soon as the bell announces the beginning or end of a College exercise, every one shall repair to the discharge of that duty to which he is called.” Students in the classrooms were also stated “shall be so arranged as to make the classroom as two All students were allowed to enter the “playgrounds” of other department students. Students were told when to talk and where to walk. Imagine trying to keep from going to class before that 10 a.m. class.

Just as today, the problem of having no money plague many students today, though their reason was not quite the same.

Rule 16 states that “no one shall keep in his possession any money except what he receives weekly from the Treasurer on Wednesdays.” The ATMs had not yet surfaced, and it could put up a county list. If it had a minimum of $400,000.

A couple of other rules to keep in mind that might make ND life a little easier to bear: “Every month the students must write to their parents or guardians. All letters sent or received may be opened by the President.”

“No book, periodical or newspaper shall be introduced into the College without being approved by the following: the Director of the Publication.”

None of the rules and restrictions we have now sometimes make us wish that we had gone to one of those state schools. But at least we can’t just skin the lakes and not have the obligation to write home about it.

Weather

Forecast for noon, Monday, February 26. Lines show high temperatures.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>FRONT:</th>
<th>COLD</th>
<th>WARM</th>
<th>STATIONARY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>HOCK</td>
<td>LOW</td>
<td>SHOAKERS</td>
<td>RAIN</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Sponsored by Ernst & Young.

©1990 Accu-Weather, Inc.

WEATHER

A representative of the FMN/PAN will speak on the prospects for peace in El Salvador tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the C.S.C.

Professional sports and business - CFO of White Box, Controller of Cubs, and a Representative from the Bears will be at 122 Haynes Hall, at 4:15, Monday, February 26. The lockout, salary arbitration, etc. will be discussed. Sponsored by Ernst & Young. Recitation to follow.

HISPANIC-AMERICAN ORGANIZATION will meet today at 7:30 p.m. in the basement of Farley Hall. Sara Hober from Projecto Madre will address the group on teaching English to Hispanic single parents.

The ruling Socialist Party in Hungary and leading opposition groups have gained enough popular support under election laws to field national slates of candidates in the first general multiparty elections in more than 40 years, a Budapest newspaper reported Sunday. They are among 12 parties that will run candidates in the election, set for March 25, to the newspaper Mal Nap. There are more than 50 political parties. In most cases, if a party succeeds in fields a candidate in 25 percent of the electoral districts of a given county or the capital city, then it could set up a county list. If it had a minimum of seven county lists, then it could put up a national list.

World

Light bulb fragments may have been packed into frozen park pizza topping manufactured by a Hutchinson, Kan., company, the Agriculture Department in Washington, said Friday. A nationwide recall of approximately 106,000 pounds of the topping has been issued. The product was made by Donkroll Sausage Co. and was sold exclusively to food service facilities, including restaurants and carryouts, the department said. It is not available in packages sold directly to consumers. The company received four complaints over the past two months about broken glass in pizza toppings.

Eucharistic Missionaries, a New Orleans, LA based post-graduate volunteer program will be at the Center for Social Concerns today, Tuesday and Wednesday. Stop by the CSC for more information.

Sophomore Business Majors and the Student Body Treasurer Office is taking applications for the 1990-91 Assistant Treasurer. Assistant Treasurer is responsible for supporting the annual account and disperse over $400,000 in Activity Funds. Pick up application in Student Body Treasurer Office - Second Floor, 1st floor or call 237-7417.

National

Rocky Balboa has lost his bout with the Philadelphia Museum of Art. The 8-foot, 6-inch statue of the fictional South Philadelphia pahola is scheduled to leave its spot atop the Philadelphia Museum of Art steps today for its former home at the Spectrum arena. musem spokesman Sandra Horrocks said Sunday, despite superstar Stallone’s efforts to keep it there. The statue of Rocky in boxing trunks and gloves, his arms raised in triumph, was moved from the Spectrum for the filming of the latest chapter in Stallone’s “Rocky” saga. Producers of “Rocky V” had agreed to remove the statue, a prop made for “Rocky III,” by Monday.

INDIANA

Almanac

On February 26:

- 1846: William “Buffalo Bill” Cody was born.
- 1852: John Henry Kellogg, the physician who inspired flaked cereal, was born.
- 1866: Herbert Henry Dow, the founder of the U.S. chemical production, was born.
- 1963: President Lincoln signed the National Currency Act.

Map Market Update

Closing Change on February 23/1990

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Security</th>
<th>Open</th>
<th>Close</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Dow Jones Industrials</td>
<td>25674</td>
<td>25673</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NYSE Composite</td>
<td>179.35</td>
<td>180.24</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S&amp;P Composite</td>
<td>292.94</td>
<td>292.94</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NASDAQ Composite</td>
<td>556.19</td>
<td>556.19</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Precious Metals

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Precious Metals</th>
<th>Open</th>
<th>Close</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Gold ($20.75</td>
<td>$20.45</td>
<td>$20.45</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Silver</td>
<td>3.36</td>
<td>3.24</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Source: AP
A team of Notre Dame Law School students, arguing a case involving the dumping of hazardous waste in the waters of Antarctica, won the Midwest Regional round of a moot court competition last week.

Graduate student Gary Sugarmann served as research associate. Tang Thi Thanh Trai Le, law professor, was the team’s faculty advisor, and Barbara Fick, associate law professor, served as a faculty assistant.

The competition involved a “plaintiff” adversary and a “respondent” adversary, each consisting of two students, from each school. Each school’s applicant team competed against another school’s respondent team, Le said.

The scenario was not that of a trial with witnesses, but was much like the procedure followed by the United Nations International Court of Justice, Le said, in which two countries present legal arguments for opposing sides.

In addition to the team award, Notre Dame picked up awards for first, second and fifth place in individual oral performances. Over 50 orators participated in the regional court competition, Le said.

Criteria for oratory awards is based on a number of skills utilized during the legal arguments including knowledge of the law, presentation, ingenuity, clarity, poise and ability to distinguish between the opposing positions, said Le.

The topic for the competition was chosen by three or four international lawyers at the competition headquarters in Washington, D.C., Le said. The team was notified of this year’s topic in early October, she said.

Intramural rounds took place in the Notre Dame Law School, prior to knowledge of this year’s topic, to determine who should represent Notre Dame at the regional competition, Le said.

The University has sent teams to the competition for a number of years, she said, and also won the regional competition four or five years ago.

The team will advance to the final round in Washington, D.C., on March 24-28, where nine regional winners will present to argue the same topic.

“We are very confident,” said Le. “The team is gearing up to working even harder” at the national competition.

In addition to the approximately 120 United States’ law schools which participated in the regional rounds this year, 24 teams from foreign countries competed amongst themselves. The winner of the international competition will take on the winner of the U.S. competition, Le said.

The competition took place at the Detroit College of Law and was named after Philip Jessup, a former American member of the United Nations International Court of Justice.

due to the team award, Notre Dame picked up awards for first, second and fifth place in individual oral performances. Over 50 orators participated in the regional court competition, Le said.

Conditions for oratory awards is based on a number of skills utilized during the legal arguments including knowledge of the law, presentation, ingenuity, clarity, poise and ability to distinguish between the opposing positions, said Le.

The topic for the competition was chosen by three or four international lawyers at the competition headquarters in Washington, D.C., Le said. The team was notified of this year’s topic in early October, she said.

Intramural rounds took place in the Notre Dame Law School, prior to knowledge of this year’s topic, to determine who should represent Notre Dame at the regional competition, Le said.

The University has sent teams to the competition for a number of years, she said, and also won the regional competition four or five years ago.

The team will advance to the final round in Washington, D.C., on March 24-28, where nine regional winners will present to argue the same topic.

“We are very confident,” said Le. “The team is geared up to working even harder” at the national competition.

In addition to the approximately 120 United States’ law schools which participated in the regional rounds this year, 24 teams from foreign countries competed amongst themselves. The winner of the international competition will take on the winner of the U.S. competition, Le said.

The competition took place at the Detroit College of Law and was named after Philip Jessup, a former American member of the United Nations International Court of Justice.

 SENIOR FORMAL TUXEDO RENTALS FROM LOUIE’S TUX SHOP

PRICES:
- Black Classic .................................. $36.50
- Designer Tuxedos ................................. $46.50
- Shoes ........................................... $8.50

*Does not include damage waiver fee and applicable tax.

PAYMENT:
Personal checks will only be accepted at the time of fitting where a partial or full payment may be made. (A $15.00 minimum deposit is required at the time of fitting). We also accept cash, Visa, MasterCard, American Express, and Discover.

WHEN:
February 27th, 28th, and March 1, 1990.
(6:00 P.M.- 9:00 P.M.)

WHERE:
- LaFortune Center, 2nd Floor in the Notre Dame Room on February 27th and 28th.
- LaFortune Hall Lobby at Saint Mary’s on March 1st.

---

News Writer

By SANDRA WIEGAND

Two ND Law students win court competition

The Observer

Join the more than 12,000 readers who have found the Observer an indispensable link to the two campuses. The Observer in your home for $25 a semester or $40 for a full year.

The Observer
P.O.Box Q
Notre Dame, IN 46556

---

Special to The Observer

Two Notre Dame students were appointed to the positions of managing editor and business manager of The Observer for the 1990-91 publishing year, announced Editor-in-Chief-elect Alison Cock.

O’Brien, a sophomore American Studies major from Oak Lawn, Ill., has been named managing editor and will succeed senior Regis Coccia.

O’Brien joined The Observer in September, 1988, as a news writer and was promoted to a senior staff reporter in March, 1989.

He served as a copy editor in the news department from March, 1988, to January, 1989, when he was promoted to his current position of Assistant News Editor.

O’Brien was enthusiastic about the upcoming year. "I’m honored to be selected as Managing Editor and I am looking forward to working with Alison and the rest of the Editorial Board to make The Observer a premier student publication," said O’Brien.

Kathleen O’Connor, a junior marketing major with a concentration in psychology, from Glenview, Ill., will serve as business manager.

"I am excited about working with the business aspect of The Observer. I feel that I will have a smooth transition into this position, thanks to the organization of prior business managers, and I am prepared to offer my input and changes throughout the year," said O’Connor, who will succeed senior Rich Iannelli.

O’Connor has worked as an Ad Designer at The Observer since April, 1989.

Both O’Brien and O’Connor will assume their new positions in mid-March, immediately after spring break.

---

Senior Formal 1990 Bid Sales

Feb. 27 - ND LaFortune 6-9pm
28 - ND LaFortune 6-9pm
March 1 - SMC LeMans 6-9pm

*Bid price $75 per couple
*Tux fittings
*Flower orders
*Room arrangements
*Dinner seating - 5 couples per table

Wonderful Tonight...
Observers proclaim fair election

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Nicaraguans voted Sunday in a peaceful, orderly manner, key international observers said.

"It was very orderly," former President Jimmy Carter told The Associated Press after the polls closed.

The head of the U.N. 230-member observer mission agreed.

"I think things have been going very smoothly," said former U.S. Attorney General Elliot Richardson. He said none of the U.N. observers deployed nationwide had reported irregularities in the voting.

Carter, Richardson and Organization of American States Secretary-General Joao F. de Barros Soures also were monitoring the counting of the votes.

Observers from smaller missions said they were more than satisfied with what they'd seen.

"We have been out touring polling places since 5:45 a.m. and we haven't seen a single irregularity," said Guatemalan commissioner Edmund Mullet.

Mullet was one of 20 observers from the Washington-based Center for Democracy, which monitored the 1986 elections in the Philippines and the 1989 elections in Panama for the U.S. Senate. Erin Saber of the Southwest Voter's Registration Project said she was impressed with the seriousness with which people exercised their franchise.

Political agreements between the ruling Sandinista government, the domestic opposition and Central American countries laid the groundwork for what has been not only Nicaragua's freest election but also one of the world's most closely observed.

There were so many observers monitoring the voting that one group decided to observe other observers.

The Supreme Electoral Council said it had issued credentials for more than 3,000 international observers, or one for every 550 or so registered voters.

"It's great for Nicaragua to have all these people spending all these dollars," said Humberto S. Dona as he stood in line to vote.

"There are some people who say we should have an election every year," Carter, perhaps the single most crucial observer, was at a polling place at 6 a.m., a hour before opening time, to watch preparations for the vote.

"The quality is very high," said Carter in heavily accented Spanish. "We need an election like this in the United States."

At the Instituto Loyola, the biggest precinct in Nicaragua, voters waiting in line mistook the horde of reporters accompanying Carter for international observers.

"Observers, observers," people shouted. "Let them in, let them in."

They broke into cheers, whistles and applause when guards relented and opened the doors.

Members of the biggest observer teams, 230 people from the U.N. and 430 from the OAS, seemed to be everywhere.

The OAS and U.N. missions have been in Nicaragua for months as part of a monitoring effort that spanned voter registration and campaigning to ballot counting and the vote.

But since neither the OAS nor the United Nations planned to issue a quick assessment, Carter's verdict took on even more weight.

A victory without his endorsement, he said Saturday, "would be 'hollow.'" waiting for latecomers.

Elections continued from page 1

"We only have 5 percent to go," said Carla Rodriguez, president of voting station No. 324, where 465 citizens of a lower-class Managua neighborhood cast their ballots.

The lines appeared clearly drawn for voters: a weak economy was the Sandinistas' Achilles' heel, and resentment of U.S.-supported Contra guerrillas was hurting UNO.

"I voted for the Front (Sandinistas), I'd be voting for things to be more expensive every day, I'd be voting to send my kids to military service," said Ramon Mendoza, a truck driver from Managua.

He credited the Sandinistas for holding a clean election.

"If UNO wins I'll be glad. If the Front wins I'll go to Costa Rica," said Ian Allen, a resident of the Atlantic Coast town of Bluefields.

In a poor barrio of western Managua, Sacario Noira Padilla said she was definitely for the Sandinistas. Her daughter had been wounded in the Contra war.

Singing is his cup of tea

Edward Wolf sings and plays guitar at the Grace Hall Coffeehouse, which held its grand opening Friday. Wolf was one of several entertainers who performed in front of the packed coffeehouse, located in Grace's basement.

AS LENT APPROACHES, TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THIS OPPORTUNITY FOR A FAST FEAST WHILE HELPING THOSE UNABLE TO FEAST AT ALL

DROP INTO EITHER THE CENTER FOR SOCIAL CONCERNS OR THE LIBRARY OFFICE OF CAMPUS MINISTRY FOR SOME PRE-LENTEN REFRESHMENTS, AND MAKE A CONTRIBUTION TO THE FOLLOWING:

THE HOMLESS: Gifts will assist in the work of the South Bend Center for the Homeless.

THE HUNGRY: Gifts will assist local agencies serving the hungry of our community.

THE MISSIONS: Gifts will assist persons in third world countries, especially those in El Salvador who are being assisted by Church-related agencies.

SEE YOU THERE!!!
University admissions ad wins top award

By PAUL PEARSON
News-Winter

A Notre Dame advertisement has won the top award in a national advertisement competition sponsored by Admissions Marketing Report.

According to Bruce Harlan, director of photography, University relations, the ad won the gold award in the fifth annual advertising awards. Notre Dame was competing in the contest for the first time.

The ad, which is displayed at Michigan Regional Airport, features a football helmet with the headline, "If this is all you know about Notre Dame, you have to learn," followed by writing done by a New York advertising agency.

Harlan, who designed the ad, said that he was surprised to have won the award. "You're always surprised and hopeful when you enter something like this."

The ad, along with 1,200 others, was entered in the competition as an admissions advertisement. It won the top award in the 5,000-10,000 student enrollment category.

According to Harlan, the ad had originally appeared in a 1967 issue of Time magazine as an advertisement for the ND football team. It had originally featured a photograph of a football helmet on a white background. "I changed the photo to a helmet because the football helmet looked flat," Harlan said.

The Admissions Marketing Report has not published a list of the winners yet. "We don't know what we were really up against," Harlan said.

Harlan plans to enter the same ad in another competition this spring.

Bush hosts West Germany's Kohl at Camp David for weekend talks

CAMP DAVID, Md. (AP) — President Bush said yesterday he and Chancellor Helmut Kohl of West Germany agreed in weekend talks that a unified Germany would continue as "a full member of NATO," including military participation in the Western alliance.

Kohl said "neutralism would be a very false solution."

After two days of discussions regarding delicate issues of a unified Germany, Kohl said he recognizes "the legitimate security interests of all states" in Europe, particularly Poland.

"Nobody needs to be afraid," the West German leader said. Bush chimed in that if he were alarmed about the prospect of a single Germany, he would not be endorsing reunification — as he had several times previously.

There have been fears in Poland — dominated by the Nazis in World War II — that a new Germany would seek to reclaim territory that was formerly under German rule.

Nonetheless, Bush and Kohl both said they saw no need to add Poland to the group of four nations that will discuss reunification with the two German states. Poland, like East Germany, has abandoned its Communist monopoly government.

Bush pointedly said that the United States regards the current European borders, including Germany's long border with Poland, as inviolable. And Kohl said the border question "will be settled definitely by a free elected all-German government." He said "nobody has any intention of linking the question of national unity with changes in existing borders."

East Germany is a member of the Soviet-dominated Warsaw Pact, and many in Europe have supported the concept of a neutral Germany rather than one allied with the United States and its NATO allies. East Germany is abandoning its Communist government and the Germans are pursuing a common currency based on the West German system.

"Neutralism would be a very false solution for us," said Kohl, adding that he did not expect that the German people would support a move away from NATO. He said the West Germans had proven their reliability by accepting missiles during the 1980s.

"The security link between North American and Europe is ... for a united Germany, of vital importance," said Kohl. He reiterated his support for the continuing presence of U.S. military forces in Germany.

Kohl said he understands the delicacy of the German reunification issue in several European countries, but said, "nobody needs to be afraid" of that.

Kohl was asked whether Soviet troops — long based in East Germany — might be welcomed to stay in a new Germany.

"College of Science Information Programs"

Each of the departments in the college will sponsor an "open house" during which groups of students can visit with faculty, tour the laboratory facilities, etc. In addition, each department will schedule times for individuals to have special questions answered. The times for the "open houses" and individual questions are as follows for each department.

OPEN HOUSE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Biology and Chemistry</th>
<th>Earth Sciences</th>
<th>Mathematics</th>
<th>Physics</th>
<th>Preprofessional Studies</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>2/26- 6:00- 7:00pm</td>
<td>2/26- 6:30- 7:30pm</td>
<td>2/27- 7:00- 8:00pm</td>
<td>2/26- 7:00- 8:00pm</td>
<td>2/27- 6:30- 7:30pm</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>283 Galvin Science Building</td>
<td>262 Stepan Chemistry Hall</td>
<td>101 Earth Sciences Bldg.</td>
<td>284 Newland Science Hall</td>
<td>127 Newland Science Hall</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

INDIVIDUAL QUESTIONS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Biological Sciences</th>
<th>Chemistry and Biochemistry</th>
<th>Earth Sciences</th>
<th>Mathematics</th>
<th>Physics</th>
<th>Preprofessional Studies</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>10:00-12:00 noon</td>
<td>2:00-4:00pm</td>
<td>2:00-4:00pm</td>
<td>2:00-4:00pm</td>
<td>2:00-4:00pm</td>
<td>3:00-5:00pm</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>229 Nieuwland Science Hall</td>
<td>384 Newland Science Hall</td>
<td>229 Newland Science Hall</td>
<td>229 Newland Science Hall</td>
<td>229 Newland Science Hall</td>
<td>229 Newland Science Hall</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Mandela asks officers to fight peacefully for equality

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) — Nelson Mandela, seeking to end four years of fighting among black factions in Natal Province, appealed to the warring groups Sunday to put down their weapons and fight together for racial equality.

Mandela, released Feb. 11 after 27 years in prison, still supports the low-level armed struggle waged by his African National Congress guerrilla movement.

But he said the black-on-black fighting in the southeastern province hindered the battle against apartheid, South Africa's policy of racial segregation.

"Even now as we stand together on the threshold of a new South Africa, Natal is in flames," Mandela told an estimated 100,000 people who took three adjacent soccer fields.

"My message to those of you involved in this battle of brother against brother is this: take your guns, your knives and your panga and throw them into the sea," Mandela said.

Pangs are similar to machetes.

Mandela and his wife, Winnie, arrived by helicopter to rousing cheers. He spoke from a 4-story-tall platform draped with huge flags of the ANC and its ally, the South African Communist Party.

Many in the mostly black crowd waved the green, black and gold banner of the African National Congress and chanted "ANC! ANC!"

About 3,000 blacks, mostly Zulus, have died since 1986 in the power struggle in Natal. The main combatants are the ANC-aligned United Democratic Front and Inkatha, a relatively conservative Zulu political group headed by Mangosuthu Buthelezi.

Buthelezi is a staunch opponent of apartheid, but he differs with the ANC over the best way to fight it.

The ANC favors sanctions, boycotts, strikes and guerrilla attacks to put pressure on the government. Buthelezi does not endorse any of these actions and is a proponent of capitalist-in contrast to the socialist-oriented ANC.

While the most intense battles have been in the townships around Durban and Pietermaritzburg, 50 miles inland, the fighting has spread throughout Natal.

Several of Mandela's ANC colleagues, including Walter Sisulu, have been in Natal since Thursday meeting with leaders of the Front, Inkatha and local clergy.

Mandela made several conciliatory remarks concerning Inkatha and Buthelezi, whom he praised for demanding the ANC be legalized and political prisoners be released. President F.W. de Klerk on Feb. 2 legalized the ANC, which had been banned since 1960.

Mandela also praised the Zulu leader for refusing to negotiate with the white-led government while other black groups were outlawed and their leaders imprisoned.
Numerous obstacles cause delay in space shuttle liftoff

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Five astronauts boarded Atlantis Sunday night, but high winds threatened to force cancellation of the fifth attempt to launch the space shuttle on a secret military mission.

"It will be rip and tack," said Air Force Capt. Tom Strange, the shuttle weather officer. Strange said wind gusts at the launch pad reached 30 mph, about 2 mph above allowable limits. Winds that high, he said, could blow the shuttle into the launch tower at liftoff and destroy the spacecraft.

"We have to hope for a letup, but at this point we don't see it," Strange said.

As planned launch time of 12:55 a.m. EST approached, launch director Bob Nick called for an extended hold, hoping that the winds would subside before the available launch period of about 90 minutes expired.

The all-military astronaut crew arrived at the launch pad shortly after 10 p.m., just as they did Saturday night only to have their flight scrubbed early Monday, 31 seconds before liftoff. That was the fourth postponement in as many days.

Forecasters said there was only a 40 percent chance the shuttle could be launched early Monday.

Despite the gloomy forecast, top military managers in midafternoon gave the go-ahead for the launch team to pump 528,000 gallons of liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen into Atlantis' massive fuel tank for another try.

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — Thousands of people chanting "Duarte! Duarte!" lined the streets Sunday for former President Jose Napoleon Duarte, who was buried with honors and eulogized as "the father of Central American democracy."

Vice President Dan Quayle, Costa Rican President Oscar Arias, Guatemalan President Vinicio Cerezo and former Honduran President Jose Azcona Hoyos attended a Roman Catholic funeral Mass for Duarte, who died Friday. He was 64.

Arias and Cerezo were among the pallbearers for the founder of the Christian Democratic Party. Party leaders criticized the rightist government of President Alfredo Cristiani as "niggardly" for not declaring a national day of mourning.

At least 100,000 people paid their last respects to the departed former president, party leaders said.

Duarte's followers, many carrying photographs of the former president and cheering "Duarte! Duarte!" tossed flowers at his flag-draped coffin as it was carried from the church to a 21-gun military salute.

Arias, speaking at the Mass, called Duarte "the father of Central American democracy."

"Napoleon was a visionary pioneer and an untiring fighter for democracy," Arias said.

Cerezo referred to criticisms of Duarte's 1984-1989 term as president but said, "I think the magnitude and value of his work still has not been fully appreciated."

He "gave his life for the cause of all democrats of Latin America," Cerezo said.

Duarte, who tried but failed to end a civil war and ease El Salvador's searing class division, died at his San Salvador home after struggling against stomach and liver cancer for almost two years.

Fidel Chavez Meno, successor of Duarte's 1984-1989 term as president but said, "I think the magnitude and value of his work still has not been fully appreciated."

Armando Calderon Sol, mayor of San Salvador and Arena president, said: "Duarte was an expression of democratic will. He made great contributions toward the democratization of the country."
Soviets demand further reforms

MONCTON (AP) — From Siberia to the southern republic of Georgia, hundreds of thousands of Soviets rallied for democracy in more than 30 cities Sunday, despite official warnings that the Soviet Union’s first nationwide protest could explode in violence.

More than 100,000 people turned out in Moscow, and smaller protests occurred elsewhere. The official warnings, which were repeated frequently last week in the state-run media, kept the turnout low in some cities and prevented some protests altogether.

And police dragged away people who tried to hold an unsanctioned demonstration in Leningrad, but there were no reports of major unrest.

In Moscow, the crowd grew through the afternoon as initial tension gave way to a relaxed and good-natured atmosphere. One column of marchers was led by a man with a bullhorn who told police and bystanders, “We represent no danger.”

Vladimir Popov, a member of the Congress of People’s Deputies and one of the organizers of the demonstration, told masses gathered under cloudy skies that the Communist Party and state apparatus had engineered a campaign of fear not seen since Stalin in an attempt to thwart the outpouring of popular sentiment.

The protests were planned after a successful Feb. 4 pro-democracy rally in Moscow in which about 200,000 people demanded the Communist Party give up its monopoly on power. The party did so shortly afterward.

Thousands of uniformed police and internal security troops guarded the authorized March route along the broad Garden Ring Road that circles the city center. Sand-filled dump trucks, water trucks and snowplows sealed off all roads leading from the Garden Ring Road into the downtown area where the Kreml and Red Square were guarded by more police posted about every 30 feet.

Estimates of the number of protesters varied widely, from 200,000 reported by the official press agency Novosti, which had a view of the rally site in Moscow, to a half-million claimed by Popov.

An independent newsletter issued by Radio Moscow quoted an unnamed Interior Ministry officials as putting the crowd at 300,000.

Maj. Gen. Georgy Postysiy of the Interior Ministry, who said he was in charge of security at Gorky Park, estimated 100,000 people gathered at the park. They then marched across a bridge over the Moskva River and met up with a considerably smaller group that had gathered at the Foreign Ministry.

Together, they headed to the rally site.

Experts analyze U.S. invasion of Panama

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The U.S. invasion of Panama was not only not because the enemy was outnumbered and outgunned but because the attack was carried out primarily by one branch of the service, the air force. General Richard B. Myers, chief of staff, said three former combat commanders.

The single-service philosophy was summed up in the failed Iran rescue mission and the attack on Grenada.

The military “didn’t make Grenada mistakes in Panama” because Colin Powell, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, “made it an Army show,” said retired Gen. David Hackworth.

“Weren’t getting their share of the glory train afterward.”

The 1983 invasion of the Caribbean island of Grenada and the hostage rescue mission in 1980 that left the Iranian people leaders dead and the U.S. aircraft were joint operations of all the services that expert say suffered from blurred command lines and poor coordination.

The Grenada invasion, although successful in ousting a leftist regime, required more than 7,000 soldiers to subdue about 780 Cuban construction workers and soldiers.

Grenada, which was planned in two days, “was a military comic opera” characterized by bad intelligence, critical equipment breakdowns and official blunders, Hackworth said in a teleconference call from his home in Maleny, Australia.

A report by the congressional Military Reform Caucus said an early plan for the Grenada strike calling for the use of only Navy and Marine forces was overruled by the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who demanded that all four services be involved — just as is in the Iraq operation.

Do you want to do something interesting and out of the ordinary next year? GET INVOLVED IN RADIO!

WSND-FM offers the following positions for application for the 1990-91 year:

-Station Manager
-Program Director
-Chief Announcer
-Chief Engineer
-News Director
-Music Director
-Business Manager
-Traffic and Continuity

Submit a resume and cover letter stating your qualifications to Adele Lanen in the Student Activities Office by Friday, March 2nd.

Please direct all questions to Lisa McMahon x4510 or Christina Reinhart x2907.
Winter storm wreaks havoc with heavy winds and snow

(AP) - At least eight people were killed as a result of accidents on Indiana roads Saturday as a powerful winter storm, packing winds of more than 50 mph, roared through the state.

Strong winds gusting to over 50 miles an hour prompted blowing and drifting of the snow in north and central Indiana. Observers in Peru reported a wind gust of 61 mph.

About six inches of snow had accumulated around South Bend by early evening. Fort Wayne and Indianapolis had two inches each, the weather service said. Total snow amounts near Lake Michigan could be near a foot.

The combination of slick roadways and wind-whipped snow created near-blizzard conditions and led to numerous traffic accidents, mostly involving fender bender or blinded motorists driving off of the pavements, state police said.

"We're recommending no travel at all today in the state of Indiana. It's just extremely bad," said Sgt. Tom Goble of the Indianapolis post. "We've had a lot of people just drive off the road because they can't see where they're going."

"The Observer/John Studebaker

A fallen tree behind the Center for Social Concerns is among the many traces of a severe winter storm which swept across Indiana Saturday, making driving conditions hazardous and killing at least eight people.

Join The Observer,
it's more than a job, it's an adventure!

CHEER CHEER FOR OLD NOTRE DAME

Cheerleading Tryouts
March 23rd and 24th
7:00pm in the Basketball Arena
SHOW YOUR SPIRIT!

Thanks to you...
it works...
for ALL OF US

United Way

Are you interested in helping to manage and account for $400,000?

If you are a SOPHOMORE BUSINESS MAJOR who enjoys working with money and people, STUDENT GOVERNMENT needs you as the Student Body Assistant Treasurer.

- Student Body Assistant Treasurer aids the Student Body Treasurer in disbursing funds for:
  - Student Government
  - Student Union Board
  - Halls
  - Clubs and Organizations

This is in preparation for your becoming THE STUDENT BODY TREASURER the following year.

- Applications are available in the Treasurer's office
  2nd floor LaFortune between 1-5 pm.
  Due on Friday March 9 by 4:00 pm.

- Any questions, contact Jim Hanley at 239-7417

Student Government

SWEATER SPECIAL

2 OFF

Bring in any 3 sweaters or more and get them cleaned for HALF OFF the regular price.

Limited time only.

The Observer/John Studebaker

Call Beth Minus
at x2875
and wish her a Happy
21st Birthday

Ziker cleaners

The Observer/John Studebaker

Are you interested in helping to manage and account for $400,000?

If you are a SOPHOMORE BUSINESS MAJOR who enjoys working with money and people, STUDENT GOVERNMENT needs you as the Student Body Assistant Treasurer.

- Student Body Assistant Treasurer aids the Student Body Treasurer in disbursing funds for:
  - Student Government
  - Student Union Board
  - Halls
  - Clubs and Organizations

This is in preparation for your becoming THE STUDENT BODY TREASURER the following year.

- Applications are available in the Treasurer's office
  2nd floor LaFortune between 1-5 pm.
  Due on Friday March 9 by 4:00 pm.

- Any questions, contact Jim Hanley at 239-7417

Student Government

SWEATER SPECIAL

2 OFF

Bring in any 3 sweaters or more and get them cleaned for HALF OFF the regular price.

Limited time only.

Call Beth Minus
at x2875
and wish her a Happy
21st Birthday

Ziker cleaners
Morgan/Foretich custody battle continues in New Zealand

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — A U.S. doctor arrived in New Zealand Monday to try to reclaim his 7-year-old daughter, who is at the center of a bitter custody battle and reportedly has not seen either of her parents for two years.

The girl's mother, Dr. Jean Elizabeth Morgan, was jailed for 25 months in August 1987, when she refused to say where her daughter was after a U.S. court gave her former husband unsupervised access to the child.

Morgan, a 42-year-old plastic surgeon in Washington, had claimed her daughter was "like an animal." Foretich flew from Washington, D.C., into Mangere International Airport on the North Island and was to fly to Christchurch in the south for a family court hearing, according to the New Zealand Press Association.

"Certainly, we're going to do what we need to do to rescue my daughter," the Press Association quoted him as saying. Morgan is unable to travel to New Zealand because her passport was taken from her when she went to jail. She was released in September.

Hillary was allowed to speak to her mother by telephone Sunday for the first time in two years, her family said.

"When she talked to her mother, she broke down in tears," said her maternal grandmother, Antonia Morgan. "We've got letters to us through various channels, but this was the first time she had spoken on the phone to her."

Before he boarded the flight, Foretich, of Falls Church, Va., reportedly accused his former wife of waging a media campaign against him.

"I think Elizabeth Morgan and the people who follow her are very misguided people by the way they're going to make it difficult for my daughter, and it's really a shame," said Foretich, a 45-year-old dental surgeon.

"My daughter deserves to come back and have a normal life," Radio New Zealand quoted Foretich as saying. "The mother flung back her own charges, claiming her former husband sought publicity and comfort in his pursuit against him.""Eric is the one who has had a publicity agent for me think six months to a year, not me."

"He has hunted her down like an animal. She does not want to see him, and he knows that," the agency said, quoting her from the United States.

William Morgan, the child's maternal grandfather, told Television New Zealand he would call the police if Foretich tried to approach Hilary.

"He can't do it. I would have to call the police because the court order says he can't," he said.

The Family Court in Christchurch granted an interim order on Friday giving the maternal grandparents custody of Hilary.

---

18 roundtrip airfares on Northwest Airlines. It's not just a great price. It's a great experience.

Only for student American Express Cardmembers.

Apply for the American Express Card. Then get ready to take off. In search of adventure, action—or simply to escape. American Express and Northwest Airlines have arranged these extraordinary travel privileges on Northwest—exclusively for student Cardmembers.

- 10% OFF ANY NORTHWEST FLIGHT—with your own personalized discount card, valid through January 1991 on all Northwest and Northwest Airlink flights. (This discount is not applicable to the $18 student certificates and other certificates, promotional or special status fares.)

- 2,500 BONUS MILES TOWARDS FREE TRAVEL—when you enroll in Northwest's WorldPerks Free Travel Program.

AND NOW BECOMING A CARDMEMBER IS AS EASY AS A TELEPHONE CALL. Just pick up the phone, call 1-800-942-AMEX, and talk to us. We'll take your application and begin to process it immediately. (If you have your banking information handy, like your account number and bank address, it will help speed the process.)

Keep in mind that our Automatic Acceptance Program makes it easier for you to become a Cardmember now, as a student, than it will ever be again. And remember that as a Cardmember you'll enjoy all the exceptional benefits and personal service you would expect from American Express.

So don't miss out on a world of great experiences. Pick up the phone. Apply for the Card. And start packing!

APPLY TODAY

1-800-942-AMEX

---

*if you are already a student American Express Cardmember and have a question about this program, please send your written question, a copy of your student ID and class schedule to American Express, PO Box 35029, Attn: Student Marketing, Greensboro, NC 27413. The offer is for boarding travel on Northwest Airlines. Tickets must be purchased within 24 hours after making reservations. Fares are nonrefundable and no itinerary changes may be made after purchase. Seats on this offer are limited and may be unavailable at any time. Fares are subject to change without notice. Fares may be different for travel originating in Canada or Mexico. Travel may not be available between cities to which Northwest does not have published routings. City tax charges not included in fare from Boston ($2.50), Chicago ($1.00), Denver ($2.00) and Florida cities ($2.00). Certain blackout dates and other restrictions may apply for complete offer details. call 1-800-942-AMEX, ©1990 American Express Travel Related Services Company, Inc.

---

NORTHWEST AIRLINES

---

THE AMERICAN EXPRESS CARD. FOR STUDENTS MORE THAN EVER.
WASHINGTON (AP) — The emerging democracies of Eastern Europe may be granted greater degrees of membership in the European Economic Community, if European leaders, through encouraging their economic reforms, a community official said Friday.

Irans Andriessen, vice president of the European Community and trade policy of the European Community, said the white paper was intended to do everything possible to encourage the dramatic pace of reforms under way in the former Communist bloc.

The Community has expanded its economic help beyond the original targets of Poland and Hungary to include: East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Romania and Yugoslavia. And most observers were in our efforts to assist them, then an economic revolution would be taking place in these nations," Andriessen said.

In addition to direct economic grants, Andriessen said the Community was studying the possibility of another group of eastern democracies to the Free World and the future form of association with the Community and if they would want to join.

Andriessen's comments came during a business conference. Afterwards, he told reporters that the procedural stage and would be reviewed further before being taken up by the community's policy-making body in late June or July.

In a fact sheet, the Community said that associate membership could be granted to countries to recognize their "geographic proximity, shared political, economic and cultural values and increased interdependence."

It suggested that one model for such association would be the existing European Free Trade Association -- Austria, Finland, Iceland, Norway, Sweden and Switzerland -- and not members of the European Economic Community. However, some believe the common economic ties with its 19 countries may add weight to the Community's claim that associate membership would not occur until those countries became full members in the market and trade, the Community organization that regulates world trade.

To join GATT, the Community said, these countries would have to clear the major hurdle of making their convertible into other currencies and base their development needs on lending rather than pricing by government decree.

Infrastructure Comparisons

- Automobiles in use per 1,000 people
  - Poland
  - Czechoslovakia
  - Hungary
  - West Germany

Telephone lines per 1,000 people
  - Poland
  - Czechoslovakia
  - Hungary
  - West Germany

---

Tax simplifications fail; system remains difficult

WASHINGTON (AP) -- February has been a cruel month for people like the Steinbergs of Wall Street.

It was during this month that most people began giving consideration to their tax returns; they opened their tax correcting booklets and found the system generally is just as complex as a year ago.

So complicated, in fact, that Florida state Rep. Emmett Moore, a Commissioner Fred Goldberg Jr. complained to the House Ways and Means Committee that the laws and regulations you can't understand the unacceptable burden on taxpayers and our system of tax administration.

If people can't understand the tax laws, Moore said, "will engage in shortcuts and not fully comply. It's that simple: One in three in compliance costs the tax system more than $5 billion."

In the same Capitol Hill hearing room two weeks later, there was another message from Special Interests, ranging from large-time charities to low-income-sellers to uedoo rental shops -- phalanxes from some of the special tax breaks that add complexity to the law.

And finally, the payoff. Money magazine announced that 50 tax professionals who had been commissioned to prepare the return of a hypothetical family came up with a $30,000 tax liability that ranged from $9,906 to $21,115.

The magazine's $130,000-a-year, 50-year-old family obviously had some tax problems that the typical family would have had no problem with.

The experts made mistakes on some basic issues.

---

Honest competition is ‘in’ for smart businesses of the ‘90s

Stop dreaming and get down to work. The supply of goodies has run out -- in Washington and on Wall Street.

That's the bluntly tough message of the latest batch of annual reports sent to shareholders of companies from a leading national authority on corporate communications.

Once a year, Dunk gives us his exclusive annual report on annual reports, and it is a must read instead of such major corporate changes as the traders are always getting into cash. Last year, he presciently pinpointed a dangerous tendency to hype profits and downplay future mending of the glooms of the past.

This year's approach is making a belated comeback in boardrooms of America. The nation's stock market average of financial gimmicks were losing their enthusiasm in 1988. In the case of Drexel Burnham Lambert's and its "junk bond" empire. An anxious economy, however, has made shareholders uncompetitive companies no longer can rely on non-market growth to bail them out.

"In his 1989 report, to be out soon, Bill McGowan of MCI has it right," Dunk said. "If you read the front-cover
Fair-weather fans mar hoops games

Dear Editor:

There is a personality at this campus which upsets me. It's called the fair-weather fan. During the first semester of school it rarely sees its ugly head, yet during the spring semester it has become more and more evident. It is characterized by loss of voice and emotion during basketball games, yet during the war in Nicaragua it is a tendency to bring more than 100 people to the stadium to yell and scream at players who don't make baskets or play defense. Of course, those of you who feel that it is necessary to bad-mouth Digger Phelps have no idea what it means to have your abilities in question because of the game you probably realize that most of the players are playing any live hard. They go out to win each game they hit the court, to win both for themselves and Notre Dame. And that is why they deserve to have the sixth man playing just as hard as the team plays against a team that makes the Irish head into this last part of the season, and make Notre Dame a place where visitors fear to play.

Kevin Hoffman
Fanner Hall
Feb. 20, 1990

Students lack appreciation for Notre Dame coach

Dear Editor:

I am taking this opportunity to remind the students of Notre Dame that basketball is merely a game. I feel compelled to do this because I am sick and tired of hearing people bad-mouth Digger Phelps. The Notre Dame community should be embarrassed by the behavior of "fans" who feel that it is necessary to hoot and yell at Digger when he enters the basketball arena. To most outsiders it must appear as though the students of Notre Dame are a bunch of spoiled brats who don't know how to handle defeat. Yes, Notre Dame has an outstanding athletics program, but nothing can guarantee a victory every time. The students of Notre Dame are very lucky to have a coach such as Digger Phelps; there are plenty of universities that would love to have him. I really don't understand why he puts up with such immature behavior. I guess he probably realizes that most of the people yelling and screaming at him probably can't even dribble a basketball, let alone know what's best for the team. Digger Phelps has a winning record that is quite an accomplishment. He's just the coach; he doesn't make baskets or play defense. So those of you who feel that it is necessary to bad-mouth Digger should stop crying and realize that losing is a part of the game.

Raf Velazquez
First Year Law Student
Feb. 21, 1990

SMC elections prove interest

Dear Editor:

On behalf of Saint Mary's student government, I would like to express my congratulations to all of the new student body and class officers. We are thoroughly pleased with their energy and enthusiasm.

The fact that the races for student body and junior class were unopposed does not discourage us in the least. In fact, it makes us even more optimistic that those people are well-qualified for the positions. According to many potential candidates, their abilities are a central reason for the lack of opponents.

However, the editorial in The Observer of Tuesday, Feb. 20, failed to mention the ideas that the Schmidt ticket proposed for more participatory elections; these ideas were a major part of the discussion "Students the Candidates" night. We feel the student body ticket of Kathy Schmidt, Maureen Lowrey, and Maggie Flem was penalized unfairly for running unopposed, when they are the students with the interest and commitment to participate next year.

Unopposed tickets are inevitable in any election. We feel the Schmidt administration has the ability to decrease their frequency.

Lisa M. Cattaneo
Student Body President
Saint Mary's College
Feb. 21, 1990

Support Nicaraguan effort

Dear Editor:

We are from Nicaragua and we are in的状态 where we have deprives thousands of innocent people of some of their basic human needs. Women United for Justice and Peace calls the Notre Dame community to participate in the campaign "Quest for Peace." We ask that you be generous in giving to the people of Nicaragua, keeping in mind that Quest for Peace will deliver your donations directly to those in need. The materials will be on display in the dorms on Feb. 27, packed, and sent to Nicaragua.

Luigi Schmidt, a representative of Quest for Peace and Call to Action, will be here to present a slide show and discuss her work in Nicaragua on March 1 at 8 p.m. at the Center for Social Concerns. We thank you for your help and invite you to join us.

Messy Holland
Women United for Justice and Peace
Feb. 19, 1990

The Observer retains the right to edit all commentary submitted to the Viewpoint department. Please note that the more concise the piece, the less we will have to edit it to fill our space.

DOONESBURY

GARRY TRUDEAU

QUOTE OF THE DAY

"If we resist our passions, it is more through their weakness than from our strength."
— Francois de La Rochefoucauld
By Kristin Komyatte

Many feel that women are free from attack or rape just because they are at Notre Dame. This is not true; it is because this is a Catholic University or because of Notre Dame. There are some from "good families." Statistics report that one in four college students is raped or will be raped at some point in her life.

We have all heard the claims that there has not been a viocent incident of rape or sexual violence at Notre Dame in three years. So, where are the women? Don't women exist except to the rest of the world? Women must be safe but it doesn't mean they are safe. In fact, the isolation at Notre Dame seems to breed the very attitudes that perpetuate rape in society.

In "Rape," researcher Peggy Reeves Sanday reports that two-thirds of all rape victims are unreported nationally. That is, one out of six rapes is unreported. This number will be raped at some point in her life. As a freshman at Notre Dame as well, unless the few thousand or so rape statistics are going to be changed somehow in our community somehow are ex¬ posed. Women who are afraid to report their attacks as rape?

National statistics once again are revealing. Many women may be afraid to admit being forced into sex. Many do not want to admit that they were raped, so they only a small proportion of those women label this rape. Yet it is rape, if the woman did not want to have sex. The so-called gang rape as a rape by a woman by a man she knows with vio¬ lence in the form of physical beatings. Most rapes are of this form. The rape is not only called date or acquaintance rape. Simple rape is real rape, but our society does not openly recog¬ nize it as such.

In a case of simple rape, a woman receives mixed mes¬ sages. Her emotions tell her she has been violated as a woman in the worst, most personal way. Yet, in very few cases does the law validate her feelings by prosecuting this vio¬ lent act as a real rape. So, so¬ cietv sends the message that it is the woman's fault. If she went jogging at night, she is not to blame. If she should have known better than to go out alone in the dark. If she was wearing a mini skirt, she is told that she is partly responsible for what style of dress was inviting it. In other words, the proof is on the victim instead of the rapist. The woman who was raped is interrogated as the "guilty" one and she must prove her innocence. The rapist is innocent until proven guilty. This is a major area in which the law code runs asunder: it punishes the victim by making her live this violent crime all over again. The bur¬ den of proof should be on the accused rapist to establish in¬ nocence. Instead, women blame themselves.

Rape is essentially a violent act committed by men against women, but it runs even deeper than this. In "Female Power and Male Dominance," Peggy Reeves Sanday offers an anthropological perspective which shows that rape is a cultural expression. There are some egalitarian societies which display equality and inter¬ dependence between the sexes, such as the Mbuti from theIturi Forest in Africa. Among the Mbuti, sexual intercourse is encouraged in the economic and political system, and rape is nonexistent.

There are also societies much more oppressive of women. The Desana, from the Columbian Northwest Amazon, sharply segregate themselves by sex and exhibit severe ag¬ gression towards women. Rape and gang rapes are prevalent among the Desana. Since rape still exists in our own society, perhaps we need to reevaluate our deepest beliefs about the equality of women.

According to Sanday, rape can be interwoven in the very fabric of a society. Rape exists in so¬ cieties which tolerate aggress¬ ion against women, for rape is the ultimate display of mascu¬ line power and authority. This is manifest in our own society as part of a belief system which conditions women and girls that sexual aggression is socially desirable masculine be¬ havior, even to the point of rap¬

ing one's own child.

As rape at Notre Dame is presently experiencing a turn at a dramatic increase in overt racism, and tensions are begin¬ ning. We have all heard about these rapes through the grapevine: in class, from a friend, or through university sources. But, the fact that very few rapes are of this form of simple rape. If the act occurs, and goes unreported, men must be made to be responsible for their actions. Silence about rape only perpetuates its exis¬ tence.

Women need to know that simple rape is real rape, and it must not be left unreported. Men must be held responsible for their actions. Silence about rape only perpetuates its exis¬ tence.

Rape and Notre Dame: In¬ compatible...right? So, not in the past. But, we hope that through united effort, we can believe this in the future.

Kristin Komyatte is a senior majoring in Social Studies and is a member of Women United for Justice and Peace.

Institutionalized racism restrains minorities

By Eric Silk

On the night of Jan. 31, the Young Democratic Socialists, the Hispanic American Organization, and the Black Cultural Arts Council sponsored a film screening of the situation in the United States. The film was "Do the Right Thing." To foster dialogue and un¬ derstanding, an open forum en¬ sued after the screening. The film highlighted the situation in the Center for Social Concerns. To my delight, the discussion was very heated and fruitful. I was pleased to find myself in the presence of so many highly intelligent and well-thinking people. However, the audience had its bad ele¬ ment. The discussion was sup¬ posed to be about the movie and its content, but it jumped very briskly to the issue of the treatment of African Americans. Some of the personalities of those individuals discussing the film focused on Malcolm X, the differ¬ ence between me and Malcolm X, and the bizarre idea that film maker Spike Lee is a racist.

As many of you may remember, Spike Lee is subject to a great deal of controversy and was the talk of our entire past summer. He is facing charges in a court case for the events of an untypical murder case. The man was shot, and the pizzeria located in a predomi¬ nantly African American neigh¬ borhood, in which the man was killed, the summer, a certain customer witnessed the murder on why he has only displayed only Italian Americans on the wall of his pizzeria. This is a sensitive issue when all of his customers are African Americans. Then, to the customer's dismay, the store owner tells him that he will put up a sign to all welcomes. He pleases. His customer re¬ turns at a later date with a friend to perform a very despondent boycott. This is to an altercation in which the police are called to break up. In the process of set¬ ting the future, the police unneccessarily kill an African American youth. After the po¬ lice fire the weapon, over this youth's death is projected a television screen with a pizza shop form the a massive race riot.

Many people saw the riot as dramatic on the part of Spike Lee, but it was the appropriate cli¬ max for the movie relative to its themes. It displayed the possi¬ bilities of what can occur if ethnic issues are not addressed immedi¬ ately.

America owes Spike Lee a very big "thank you" for making this movie. Throughout his movie Spike Lee has given us the chance to see the positive benefits of such an occurrence without the negative factors, such as destruction of property, animosities surfacing nation¬ wide, and mass hysteria. Movie of this type almost neces¬ sarily sparks controversy, but can also produce beneficial discus¬ sion. Through discussion and action we can hopefully bring about the prevention of a race riot. In all reality, America is presently experiencing a drastic increase in overt racism, and tensions are begin¬ ning.

On the whole, the audience seemed to agree that America has a very big problem, but I noticed that many of my white counterparts were disturbed by the quote from Malcolm X at the end of the movie, and his justification of violence. To them or anyone disturbed about Malcolm X, I would like to say that Malcolm X is probably one of the few misunderstood figures of the twentieth century. Lee's use of quotations from both Martin Luther King Jr. and Malcolm X, he attempted to establish a happy medium between the two extremes of love and hate. Malcolm's statement, like King's, is a statement for peace, freedom, and equality, but Malcolm is emphasizing that the years of physical, psychologi¬ cal, and economic abuse are over and will not be toler¬ ated.

Mixed emotions about various characters in the movie were also expressed in the discus¬ sion. Lee's movie encompassed a large spectrum of society, and to his credit, he showed us real¬ ity. He gave us Exposi, an African American man so prej¬ udiced that he will not shake hands with the harmless white man who has done absolutely nothing to him. On the other end of the spec¬ trum he showed us a racist po¬ lice department who unjustly takes the life of an African American youth at the first chance they get. Then he showed us African Americans and white people like Mookie and Sal who participate in a down-to-earth, everyday peo¬ ple. We were then given the confused African American youth Radio Raheem, who goes on about achieving justice through the wrong means. In essence, the movie was well-balanced.

There was a rather absurd remark made by one of the women who commented that Spike Lee was racist. Perplexed, I watched Lee's movie journal as proof. He stat¬ ed that Lee was biased against cops and that Lee portrayed the New York City police department as being anti-black racist. Even if Spike Lee is a racist, which I seriously doubt, the fact that he portrayed the movie was well-balanced on all levels.

The message of the movie is simple: America has problems, and through this movie Spike Lee calls on America as a whole to do the right thing. We must address the problems and fix them. African Americans have come a long way, but have far to go.

One person in the audience likened the situation of African Americans to that of two men in a foot race. At the outset one man was ahead by a mile, while the other had a weight chain to his leg. He referred to the racial inequity today as being about two miles. I disagree; the differ¬ ence is much larger than that. We live in an institu¬

tionized racist society which holds our society has all minorities into hell and condemnation since relationships with women for a change.

Yet, trying to explain to friends out there, wherever they may be, of whatever creed, I have one thing to say. If Spike Lee was a racist, he would have said to the white man come after me, let him do the right thing. We must cease with our biases and through unity, we can believe this in the future.

Kristin Komyatte is a senior majoring in Social Studies and is a member of Women United for Justice and Peace.

Eric Silk is enrolled in the Freshmen Year of Studies.
The Notre Dame Department of Communication and Theatre presents Oscar Wilde’s satire of English society. "The Importance of Being Earnest" will be presented by the University of Notre Dame Department of Communication and Theatre Wednesday Feb. 28 through Sunday Mar. 4.

None of the sacred Victorian-era values are safe from ridicule in this popular and hilarious comedy of manners. The theme is exposed by both young leading ladies that is, "In matters of grave importance—such as marriage—it is style and sincerity that is vital."

Even the title is a pun poking fun at the hypocrisy of the time. Wilde satirizes everything dear to civilized English society—money, class, and name. Algernon Moncrieff and Jack Worthing, two dandies who place no value on work or sincerity, are the "heroes." Their antics produce a comic farce in their pursuit of Cecily and Gwendolen, two empty-headed society women.

Besides having a play that is fun to direct, director Frederic Syburg will have the added support of a professional actress in the cast. Kate Burke will play Lady Bracknell and will assist with the play's vocal style. Burke is a Saint Mary's alumna, and is now professor at the University of Iowa, where she teaches voice and serves as a vocal coach for many student actors. She specializes in dialects, such as French, Italian, British, Brooklyn-ese and even Muppethink. It is her British dialect that will be on call for the upcoming production.

Costumes for the play are designed by Richard Donnelly of Purdue University. Set and lighting are designed by Kevin Breyer, visiting assistant professional specialist at Notre Dame.

"None of the sacred Victorian-era values are safe from ridicule in this popular and hilarious comedy of manners."

Tickets are $6 for main floor, $5 for balcony and are available at the LaFayette Student Center box office. There is a student and senior citizen discount on Wednesday, Thursday and Sunday. Curtain is at 8:10 p.m., except for the Sunday performance, which begins at 3:10 p.m.
Dumas scores 31 in Pistons 98-87 defeat of NY Knicks

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Dumas scored 31 of his 31 points in the first half and the Detroit Pistons won their 14th in 15 games, 98-87 over the New York Knicks on Sunday.

The loss was only the third in 25 home games for New York, but also their sixth in a row. The Knicks lost at home to Philadelphia on 14 points on Jan. 21, and to the Los Angeles Lakers on Jan. 21. At 23-13, the Knicks were seven games behind the Chicago Bulls in the Atlantic Division.

Dumas made five of seven three-point shots in the third period, and his last five points came off the Knicks' bench. All but three of his 14 field goals in the game were from three feet or more.

Dumas led by 15 points four times in the third period, the last at 77-62 with 1:54 left, before Patrick Ewing scored eight of his 37 points during a 12-2 run in the final 5:24.

The Knicks got no closer, and none of Ewing's teammates scored more than 13 points.

Cavaliers 102, Hornets 86

CLEVELAND — Terry Porter finished with 20 points and 12-2 Cleveland run with a one- on-one free throw in the second quarter, and John Williams' two-point play that sealed a fourth-quarter threat by Charlotte.

The Hornets lost their fourth straight game and their third in a row at home. They dropped to 12-25 and 1-7 in games played at the New York Garden.

Pacers 117, Blazers 112

PORTLAND — Reggie Miller scored 35 points and Chuck Person shook off a slow start to lead a late surge for Indiana against Portland.

Miller had 20 points in the first half and again for more than five minutes in the fourth quarter. Larry Nance led Cleveland with 24 points, including six 3-pointers and 12-0 quarter that gave the Cavs ahead 53-40 with 45 seconds left in the first half.

Charlotte, which got 20 points and 14 rebounds from Daniel Johnson, closed to 50-76 on Dell Curry's 3-pointer with 3.6 seconds left in the game, but Williams then converted two three-point plays in less than a minute for a 15-0 run.

Celtics 115, Nuggets 107

BOSTON — Michael Smith, with four of his 15 points in the second half, ignited another 10-2 run by the Pacers to put the game out of reach.

Cellos 115, Nuggets 107

Michael Smith, with four of his 15 points in the second half, ignited another 10-2 run by the Pacers to put the game out of reach.

Winston-Salem Journal Queensboro Plaza       Queensborne

Martins MADMACS MADMACS

WIN A HIMALAYAN LOCAITON OF BI" VACATION PLUS RIDS UP TO 2000 IN FREE DISCOUNT CORDS

Call X1090

*****

DWTN

New York City, N.Y.

Wang $400

"Sure, I will be more specific, who am I?"

If you think you know, call X1128

To the really smart one from Walsh, thanks for dinner last night. If you have time this week, I buy you a call 1416

ADDITION

Physician and wife, happily married for ten years, would die love to have a family. We are both young, attractive, and intelligent, and have some time to share and most importantly lots of love. We live in 20 30 miles across a large town, have a car and enjoy the opportunity to share our child with the best educational opportunities. We will pay medical and legal expenses. Please call for a call to a call to the following phone number.

P.S. Thanks to Play money and Joe Hipper for a great season.

PHILIP MAKAR

WILL BE THE NBA or the business man who has the time to share and enjoy your child's growth and education, please call me to discuss the following possibilities.

All of children's Single PERSONS, please keep in touch with us and we will be happy to be there for you as much as possible. Ask me questions? Call us at x345.45

To the really smart one from Walsh, thanks for dinner last night. If you have time this week, I buy you a call 1416

irsching a GREAT BIRTHDAY SAVIN' I' M NOT THERE WOULD YOU LIKE TO WORK EASTERN??

WOMEN, WISH YOUR LIFE'S SISTER

MADMACS If

NEED A TYPING

SPRING BREAK IN THE SUN

Guadalupe League at Paseo

Benson - $45

"Sure, I will be more specific, who am I?"

If you think you know, call X1128

To the really smart one from Walsh, thanks for dinner last night. If you have time this week, I buy you a call 1416

ADDITION

Physician and wife, happily married for ten years, would die love to have a family. We are both young, attractive, and intelligent, and have some time to share and most importantly lots of love. We live in 20 30 miles across a large town, have a car and enjoy the opportunity to share our child with the best educational opportunities. We will pay medical and legal expenses. Please call for a call to a call to the following phone number.

P.S. Thanks to Play money and Joe Hipper for a great season.

PHILIP MAKAR

WILL BE THE NBA or the business man who has the time to share and enjoy your child's growth and education, please call me to discuss the following possibilities.

All of children's Single PERSONS, please keep in touch with us and we will be happy to be there for you as much as possible. Ask me questions? Call us at x345.45

To the really smart one from Walsh, thanks for dinner last night. If you have time this week, I buy you a call 1416

irsching a GREAT BIRTHDAY SAVIN' I' M NOT THERE WOULD YOU LIKE TO WORK EASTERN??

WOMEN, WISH YOUR LIFE'S SISTER

MADMACS If

NEED A TYPING
Proposition 48 subjects find that the regulation has merit

[AAP—It has become as much a part of the vernacular of college basketball as 3-pointer, small forward and "call a foul.""

The only problem is Prop 48 has become a convenient cover-up for the ingestion of a high school athlete who has failed to meet the academic minimums for immediate eligibility. The current junior class is the first to have entered college with Prop 48 in effect. Three of its most prominent members—Michigan's Rumeled Finch and Todd Lavton, and St. John's Jayson Williams—were declared ineligible because of it.

It has changed things for everyone and has changed the game for the better.

"Every student is different as every person is different," said Robin said before a recent practice. "Certain student-athletes can adjust to playing big-time sports at a big-time college. Certain players can adjust. I can only speak for myself. I like what I did that freshman year didn't work out, but what I value happened to me. I liked that I didn't play and that I had a chance to socialize with the students.

"I think the kind of players that players often don't get a chance to do that because what is large except a place to come and meet different people and those that you might be your friends or the people you socialize with the rest of your life."

Robinson has found that as far as you can from the situation which faced him as an incoming freshman. First the national championship he won with two seasons in overtime. Robinson has overcome a learning disability to graduate on time, with a senior rank with a grade point index right at the B-level. Still, his name is usually preceded by Prop 48, even though he no longer signed.

"I didn't let it bother me but it did become a label," Robinson said. "When you sat down and watched TV, the announcer said 'Prop 48 student' or whatever. You should identify the student-athlete by what he's doing now out what he's done in the past. It's kind of sad it does happen but it does and you just have to move on.

"It's something that players often don't get a chance to do that because what is large except a place to come and meet different people and those that you might be your friends or the people you socialize with the rest of your life."

Robinson has found that as far as you can from the situation which faced him as an incoming freshman. First the national championship he won with two seasons in overtime. Robinson has overcome a learning disability to graduate on time, with a senior rank with a grade point index right at the B-level. Still, his name is usually preceded by Prop 48, even though he no longer signed.

"I didn't let it bother me but it did become a label," Robinson said. "When you sat down and watched TV, the announcer said 'Prop 48 student' or whatever. You should identify the student-athlete by what he's doing now out what he's done in the past. It's kind of sad it does happen but it does and you just have to move on.

"It's something that players often don't get a chance to do that because what is large except a place to come and meet different people and those that you might be your friends or the people you socialize with the rest of your life."

Iowa

"Iowa has been working hard all year. We can wrestle with the best if we just get what we can, but right now our kids don't believe that.

"Pat Floyd, the third-ranked 142-pounder in the nation, defeated seventh-ranked Troy Newberry of Notre Dame in the only victory. Curt Engler tied Iowa's 197-pounder, Michigan's Steve Weingart, 5-2 in the 177-pound match.

"It was good to get the victory but a little hard to lose the last match at home," said Floyd, a sophomore. "I thought we did well as a team. It was a little closer than I wanted it.

"I was surprised even the victories failed to please McCann. "He didn't impress me," McCann said. "He's beaten a lot of guys better than that by a lot bigger margins."

Iowa's win ended up being even more important. Nebraska's 30-8 triumph over the Irish earlier this season. In that match, Notre Dame failed even to record a takedown.

"Nebraska and Iowa are our two biggest matches of the year, and we went in the tank during both of them," lamented McCann.

Iowa's Terry Brands and John Oostendorp each came away with pins, though they occurred in very different fashion. Brands, ranked third in the 126-pound division, pinned Marcus Govenas just 36 seconds before the match would have ended Oostendorp, the nation's fourth-ranked heavyweight, pinned Chuck Weaver 24 seconds after the match had begun.

Tom Brands, Terry's twin brother and the top-ranked 134-pounder in the nation, defeated James Posey of Purdue in a technical fall that came 5:15 into the match. Doug Steibling, ranked fifth among 150-pounders, beat Notre Dame's Todd Layton 10-2 in the decision. Brooks Simpson, the third-ranked 190-pounder, also got a major decision when he defeated Notre Dame's Steve King 21-9.

The victory improved Iowa's record for the year. Loses have come to Oklahoma State and Arizona State, the two top-ranked schools in the country, and the tie also was with Oklahoma State.

"We've been consistently improving all season long, and I think this match showed that we're ready for the Big Ten and NCAA tournaments," Iowa coach Dan Gable said.

Notre Dame closes out its regular season with a match Wednesday at Illinois. The game will be televised on the ESPN network.
After beating one No. 1 team, Oklahoma is anxious to do it again.

The 10th-ranked Sooners stopped No. 1 Missouri 107-90 on Sunday for its 44th straight non-conference game victory.

On Tuesday night, Oklahoma will play host to Kansas. The Jayhawks are No. 2, but are expected to move up.

"This gives us an opportunity to show we can play and that we’re one of the top teams in the country," said Oklahoma's Terry Evans, who had 15 points and 12 assists.

Oklahoma (21-4, 9-3) prevented Missouri (25-3, 11-2) from clinching a share of the Big Eight championship. Doug Smith had 27 points and 11 rebounds for the Tigers.

"That’s life in the Big Eight," Missouri coach Norm Stewart said.

A record crowd of 12,157 at the Noble Arena saw Oklahoma pull away from a 49-45 half-time lead. Jackie Jones, who had 28 points and 10 rebounds, led a 15-2 spurt that made it 66-51.

William Davis added 20 points and 15 rebounds for the Sooners. Oklahoma is 9-2 this season under Coach Billy Tubbs when scoring at least 100 points.

"We made the right run at the right time," Tubbs said. "In the first half, we would almost get points before we had some fouls or a turnover or not a good solid play. We felt like we could get something going."

Oklahoma defeated Missouri, the No. 1 team in the nation, by a score of 107-90. The Sooners play the No. 1 team in the nation, a score of 107-90. The Sooners play the No. 1 team in the nation.
Tech

continued from page 24

"Oliver made a great play on the baseline," said Tech coach Bobby Cremins, whose team improved to 17-7 on the year. "I really thought he'd make the second shot. It was a big play."

Dennis Scott scored 21 points for Tech, Oliver added 10, and Alford, Mackey and McNevel each had 10. Elmer Anderson also played with a foul, drawing 21 points. Keish Robinson had 10 points and 10 rebounds.

The way Tech shot in the first half, it looked as though the Irish had no need to worry about another game going down to the wire. The Jackets hit just 12 of 41 shots (29 percent) from the field, including a miserable 1-of-10 from three point range, before the intermission.

With the Irish holding a 45-34 half-time lead, Tech's potent trio of Oliver, Anderson and Scott had combined for just 20 points and 13 rebounds, an average of a total 70 points per game.

"They're always going to start hitting them," said Fredrick. "It doesn't matter how cold they are. Every game, they got it, they did in the second half.

Before Tech's shooters got on trak, the Jackets scored 16 points in the second half. Irish point guard Elmer Bennett built a 10-2 first half run to take a 31-29 lead into half-time.

"It's a tough loss for Greene-Dulles," said Fredrick. "They played extremely well. I really feel that they're an NCAA team.

Fredrick wasn't so sure of his Jackets' first half-season losses. "I have no clue," the Irish co-captain said. "I know just we'll be going by our game plan (four games and try to play to our potential. If we do that play to potential), we're as good as we can be. But we have to do it for 40 minutes."

Elmer Bennett (left) and Kenny Anderson (right) provided a virtual "sluggish" during the contest between the All-American Notre Dame and Georgia Tech. Bennett finished with 21 points and the freshman Anderson finished with 32.

Battle

continued from page 24

sophomore Daimon Sweet which put the Irish ahead 24- 21..."I think he just let the game come to him," said Bennett. "And he really paid off for us." Notre Dame was able to maintain the lead and went into the locker room ahead 41-34. When Bennett hit two of the first three field goals of the second half in a 2:0 Irish run, it appeared that he and the Irish were about to knock Anderson and the Yellow Jackets out of the ring.

"I'm always looking for my shot. If the guys are going to sag off me into the post and I'm open, I'll take the shot," Bennett said.

Enter Georgia Tech's Karl Brown, who came off the bench with orders to shut down Bennett, or at least slow him a little. Brown held Bennett to three field goals in the last 17:43 of regulation as the Yellow Jackets made a comeback.

"(Bennett) was frustrated a little bit," Brown said. "My role is to be the slumper because we have Brian (Oliver), Dennis (Scott) and Kenny (Anderson) and they all average over 20 points. I pick up the intensity and do what needs to be done.

While Brown was frustrating Bennett, Anderson did what needed to be done in the scoring column. After Tech closed to 52-45, the skinny ballhandler started shooting and scored 15 points in less than four minutes to give Tech a 62-56 lead.

"Kenny is really something today," Yellow Jacket coach Bobby Cremins said. "Kenny is just learning the game. If he grows, he'll get better and better.

"I just started playing and opening things up," Anderson said. "I started shooting because I wasn't doing anything, but I hadn't been shooting with that much accuracy, but on and off. I've been doing that (shooting well in stretches) all year." The Irish managed to force Tech to work hard and send the game into overtime, but that only gave Anderson more time to deliver the knockout blow. He scored the first points in the extra period on a three-pointer, and then stole the ball from Sweet on the ensuing Notre Dame possession and drove the distance to complete the three­ point play.

"We were concentrating on Kenny Scott," said a subdued Bennett after the game. "While we were concentrating on Scott, Anderson crept into the picture. "We did a couple of play­ ground moves," Sweet added. But he didn't go goofy like we expected. He gets everybody into their offense.

Although they are two of the best young point guards in college basketball, with Bennett or Ornson wanted to say how they stacked up against one another.

"Let him be the judge of that," Bennett said. "I don't compare myself with any other player," claimed Anderson. "I just go out and play.

If Anderson and Bennett continue to go out and play as well as they did on Saturday, the Yellow Jackets and the Irish will be one of the stories of games over the next couple of years.

Soviet Union beats U.S. soccer team 3-1

Located in the center of Paris, The American University of Paris offers American undergraduate programs to over 1,000 students from 65 countries. AUP combines a solid American liberal arts curriculum with the unlimited cultural resources of Paris and Europe. Students receive unique insight into current foreign language skills and solid preparation for international careers.

Undergraduate B.A. and B.S. degree programs:

• Art History
• French Studies

French Language and Culture: International Affairs
• Computer Science
• International Business
• European Cultural Studies
• Administration
• International Economics

Special Programs:

Institute for French Studies in Paris (Fall 1990)
Summer Session (June 18 - July 27, 1990)
All classes taught in English.

Enrollment, and semester options.

For more information, call or write:

The American University of Paris, U.S. Office, Box 6009
80 East 11th Street, Suite 534, New York, NY 10003
Tel. (212) 677-4870 Fax. (212) 475-5225

Art History at the Louvre? Economics at the OECD? French at the Comedie Francaise?

The Observer / Bill Moeller
Connecticut new 'beast of the East', 'Huskymania' ensues

STORRS, Conn. (AP)—The first place team in the Big East isn't Syracuse, where they run the Lakers and dunk like Jordan. And it isn't Georgetown, where the twin towers could block out the sun and intimidate anyone who dares to enter.

No, the new beast of the East is once-lowly Connecticut, where coach Jim Calhoun's program is on the rise, and the Huskies are playing like they've got something to prove.

The Huskies are ranked sixth in the nation and are 23-4 overall, having won 13 of their last 14 games. They're ahead of Georgetown and are ranked sixth in the Big East seasons without a single loss.

Suddenly the Huskies were ahead of the game, and they didn't let their team fold. He continued to play hard despite the score. The game ended with a twenty-point margin, 65-45, but it wasn't over because the indoor and outdoor fans continued to cheer for Morrissey.

WHAT CAN I DO WITH A DEGREE IN MATHEMATICS?

A lot! The training and analytical skills acquired in studying mathematics are particularly in demand by companies and professional schools look for.

DO ANY NOTRE DAME MATH MAJORS GO ON FOR HIGHER DEGREES IN THE MATHEMATICAL SCIENCES?

Certainly. Some of our best students continue in pure or applied mathematics, computer science, and other mathematical sciences.

WHAT ABOUT THE PROGRAMS OFFERED BY OUR MATH DEPARTMENT?

The Department offers, in all the College of Science, a major in Mathematics with possible concentrations in Life Science, Education, Engineering Sciences, Computer Science, and Business Administration. A student can also double major in Mathematics and any of the sciences.

The department also offers an honors program in the Department of Mathematics for university, college, and university mathematics majors.

WHAT CAN I DO WITH A DEGREE IN MATHEMATICS?

A lot! The training and analytical skills acquired in studying mathematics are particularly in demand by companies and professional schools look for.

DO ANY NOTRE DAME MATH MAJORS GO ON FOR HIGHER DEGREES IN THE MATHEMATICAL SCIENCES?

Certainly. Some of our best students continue in pure or applied mathematics, computer science, and other mathematical sciences.

WHAT ABOUT THE PROGRAMS OFFERED BY OUR MATH DEPARTMENT?

The Department offers, in all the College of Science, a major in Mathematics with possible concentrations in Life Science, Education, Engineering Sciences, Computer Science, and Business Administration. A student can also double major in Mathematics and any of the sciences.

The department also offers an honors program in the Department of Mathematics for university, college, and university mathematics majors.
By CHRIS COONEY
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame women’s basketball team is hot.

The Irish carry a seven-game winning streak and an undefeated conference record into tonight’s match up with Xavier at the Joyce Center. The 11-11 Lady Musketeers face a tough task. Notre Dame has already sacrificed them 92-59 earlier this season, continuing to dominate a school that has never beaten the Irish squad.

In addition to being 18-6 overall and 13-0 in the Midwest Collegiate Conference, the Irish have earned the top seed at the league tournament slated for March 9. Notre Dame has won 25 of 27 MCC games, including 18 straight, since joining the conference last year.

Leading the Irish in scoring, junior guard Karen Robinson is averaging 14.4 points per game. Margaret Nowlin and Krisi Davis follow, battling each other in scoring and rebounding stats. Nowlin has 11.2 ppg and 6.9 rpg, neck and neck with Davis’s 11.1 ppg and 6.8 rpg.

Nowlin was named MCC Player-of-the-Week as well. After leading Notre Dame to back-to-back wins over Butler and DePauw, the 6-1 Minnesota native did not miss a shot in attaining her 15 points versus Butler and then scored 21, her second highest total of the year, against DePauw.

Adding to recent Irish honors, the squad finished seventh in the NCAA Division I women’s basketball statistics in field goal shooting at 49.7% and sixth in three-point goals with 43.4%. Notre Dame also received six votes in last week’s national poll.

Attempting to halt the Irish winning streak will be Xavier’s Kim Blanton, who leads the team with 13.5 ppg. The Musketeers average 69.6 points a game, compared to Notre Dame’s 75.4 ppg. Xavier is currently in fifth place in the conference with a 6-6 league record.

Women’s tennis team takes four victories over weekend at Eck Pavilion, up to 5-3

By BARBARA MORAN
Sports Writer

The women’s tennis team slumped four opponents at Eck Pavilion last weekend, raising their record from a mediocre 1-3 to a respectable 5-3 in the space of three days.

Notre Dame’s first conquest took place on Friday, when the Irish routing Illinois 7-2. Kansas State came next, falling to the Irish Saturday morning by a score of 6-3.

The afternoon progressed with a 9-0 afternoon rout of Drake University, and the Irish closed out the weekend on Sunday with a strong 8-1 victory over Miami of Ohio.

Notre Dame baseball drops to Hawaii 12-7

HONOLULU (AP) — Randy Vollmer scored on a bases-loaded walk to Todd Takayoshi to break a 7-7 tie in the sixth inning and Hawaii went on to beat Notre Dame, 12-7, in a non-conference baseball game Saturday night.

The Fighting Irish outhit the Rainbow, 10-7, but five Notre Dame pitchers issued 12 walks, hit two batters and threw two wild pitches.

The Irish had combined seven hits and four Hawaii errors to take a 7-0 lead in the top of the third inning. Eric Danapalli had two RBIs in the inning while Edwin Hartwell started the fireworks with a single and contributed an RBI double later.

Hawaii scored twice in the fourth on Todd Takayoshi’s double, a triple by Mark Wasikowski and a passed ball. Vollmer’s two-run triple and an RBI single by Dwayne Daugtry pulled UH to within two, 7-5, in the fifth inning.

An RBI single by Jon Viera and a bases-loaded walk had allowed UH to tie the score in the sixth inning before Vollmer run put the Bows ahead for good.

Danapalli had three hits for Notre Dame, 1-2. David Simon, 0-1, took the loss.

The third Hawaii pitcher Jeff Bell, won his first game of the year against no losses. Brian Davis saved the save.

The Rainbows improved to 4-7 for the year.

LEARN RUSSIAN ON THE BLACK SEAL!

The programs are organized by Dafna Roff-Veley of Virtus, Limited in cooperation with Sigma, a privately owned Russian cooperative in Sotchi, Russia. There will be 2 sessions: June 8-July 11 and July 6-August 8. each session includes 80 hours of class work taught by qualified teachers at the university level plus 20 hours of class discussion, and also excursions in the area. COST: 1st session $2500. Price includes all of the above plus 4 days in Moscow. FOR INFORMATION CALL 1-800-274-9121 (24 hours a day) and leave your name and address.

You are invited to an OPEN HOUSE MEETING ON Friday, March 2 between 11:00 am - 3:00 pm
La Fortune Student Center Notre Dame University South Bend, Indiana

TOWNHOUSES

For Rent

3,4,5 BEDROOM APTS. AVAILABLE

Less than 1 mile from NOTRE DAME

FEATURES INCLUDE:
- Security Systems
- Basements
- Rear Yards
- Washer & Dryer
- New Construction
- Good Neighborhood

Dishwashers

call

232-8256
Sports Illustrated from included $20 million television contract with NBC. The editors were considering potential cover story," The Notre Dame Alumni Association will be accepting nominations for the Student Award. The observer, page 21

The Observer

Distinguished Student Award

The Notre Dame Alumni Association will be accepting nominations until February 28 for the 9th Annual Distinguished Student Award. The Distinguished Student Award was created to honor an outstanding senior student at the University based on the following criteria:

1) Service to Notre Dame,
2) Service to Community, and
3) Academic Good Standing.

Applications can be obtained at the Alumni Association Office on the second floor of the Main Building, The Center for Social Concerns, and at the Campus Ministry Office in the Hesburgh Memorial Library.

Nominations must be submitted to the Association by February 28, 1990.

By SCOTT BRUCACO
Sports Writer

Notre Dame may owe Mike Tyson more than it realizes. When his portrait was unveiled at the University on Monday, February 26, 1990, it was not only an unflattering idol of boxing but also the first glimpse of an athlete's potential...
ND hockey beats UMD, unable to close home season

By CHRIS COONEY
Sports Writer

After downing Michigan-Dearborn 6-3 the previous evening, the Notre Dame hockey team failed to win its rematch with the Wolves Saturday night.

Of course, you can't win if you don't play.

The inclement weather prevented Michigan-Dearborn from making the trip to South Bend on Saturday. While the Wolves may have preferred to remain up north, Irish head coach Rick Schafer was a little disappointed at cancelling his team's last home game of the year.

"I regret we missed our last home game," commented Schafer, whose squad upped its record to 18-13 with Friday's victory.

"It would have been nice to recognize the seniors who've put in four years of service," continued Schafer, "guys like Lance Madison, Tim Kuehl, Bruce Guay, Mike Leberr and Kevin Patrick. Thirty-one of kids we've had."

The Notre Dame hockey team defeated Michigan-Dearborn 6-3 Friday night. Due to inclement weather conditions, the Wolves were unable to get to the JACC on Saturday night to conclude the ND home season.

Kevin Markovitz. These guys -hockey right now, evidenced in The Wolves struck first, scoring three times in the first period. By that time, goals by Zadra and Zadra are playing their best hockey."

"It's a very slow start for us," said Schafer. "I think we didn't even have a shot on goal. We were definitely on the ropes."

"I think we didn't even have a shot on goal. We were definitely on the ropes."

Bengals continued from page 24

of a second title, earned a unanimous decision over defending champion Mike O'Neill in the 174-pound division. Balint lost a split decision over defending champion Mike Markovitz. These guys -hockey right now, evidenced in The Wolves struck first, scoring three times in the first period. By that time, goals by Zadra and Zadra are playing their best hockey."

"It's a very slow start for us," said Schafer. "I think we didn't even have a shot on goal. We were definitely on the ropes."

"I think we didn't even have a shot on goal. We were definitely on the ropes."

Bengals continued from page 24

of a second title, earned a unanimous decision over defending champion Mike O'Neill in the 174-pound division. Balint lost a split decision over defending champion Mike Markovitz. These guys -hockey right now, evidenced in The Wolves struck first, scoring three times in the first period. By that time, goals by Zadra and Zadra are playing their best hockey."

"It's a very slow start for us," said Schafer. "I think we didn't even have a shot on goal. We were definitely on the ropes."

The Wolves did score once more, in the second period. By that time, goals by Stirling Black and Lou Zadra had put Notre Dame up 5-2. Zadra has the only goal in the third period, giving him two for the game and sixteen on the year.

"Zadra is showing his scoring talent," lauded Schafer. "He is a scoring threat every time he takes the ice."

"Many of these kids, with the right experience and year-round training, could be awfully good fighters on any amateur level."

Bengals continued from page 24

of a second title, earned a unanimous decision over defending champion Mike O'Neill in the 174-pound division. Balint lost a split decision over defending champion Mike Markovitz. These guys -hockey right now, evidenced in The Wolves struck first, scoring three times in the first period. By that time, goals by Zadra and Zadra are playing their best hockey."

"It's a very slow start for us," said Schafer. "I think we didn't even have a shot on goal. We were definitely on the ropes."

"I think we didn't even have a shot on goal. We were definitely on the ropes."

Bengals continued from page 24

of a second title, earned a unanimous decision over defending champion Mike O'Neill in the 174-pound division. Balint lost a split decision over defending champion Mike Markovitz. These guys -hockey right now, evidenced in The Wolves struck first, scoring three times in the first period. By that time, goals by Zadra and Zadra are playing their best hockey."

"It's a very slow start for us," said Schafer. "I think we didn't even have a shot on goal. We were definitely on the ropes."

"I think we didn't even have a shot on goal. We were definitely on the ropes."

Bengals continued from page 24

of a second title, earned a unanimous decision over defending champion Mike O'Neill in the 174-pound division. Balint lost a split decision over defending champion Mike Markovitz. These guys -hockey right now, evidenced in The Wolves struck first, scoring three times in the first period. By that time, goals by Zadra and Zadra are playing their best hockey."

"It's a very slow start for us," said Schafer. "I think we didn't even have a shot on goal. We were definitely on the ropes."

"I think we didn't even have a shot on goal. We were definitely on the ropes."

Bengals continued from page 24

of a second title, earned a unanimous decision over defending champion Mike O'Neill in the 174-pound division. Balint lost a split decision over defending champion Mike Markovitz. These guys -hockey right now, evidenced in The Wolves struck first, scoring three times in the first period. By that time, goals by Zadra and Zadra are playing their best hockey."

"It's a very slow start for us," said Schafer. "I think we didn't even have a shot on goal. We were definitely on the ropes."

"I think we didn't even have a shot on goal. We were definitely on the ropes."

Bengals continued from page 24

of a second title, earned a unanimous decision over defending champion Mike O'Neill in the 174-pound division. Balint lost a split decision over defending champion Mike Markovitz. These guys -hockey right now, evidenced in The Wolves struck first, scoring three times in the first period. By that time, goals by Zadra and Zadra are playing their best hockey."

"It's a very slow start for us," said Schafer. "I think we didn't even have a shot on goal. We were definitely on the ropes."

"I think we didn't even have a shot on goal. We were definitely on the ropes."

Bengals continued from page 24

of a second title, earned a unanimous decision over defending champion Mike O'Neill in the 174-pound division. Balint lost a split decision over defending champion Mike Markovitz. These guys -hockey right now, evidenced in The Wolves struck first, scoring three times in the first period. By that time, goals by Zadra and Zadra are playing their best hockey."

"It's a very slow start for us," said Schafer. "I think we didn't even have a shot on goal. We were definitely on the ropes."

"I think we didn't even have a shot on goal. We were definitely on the ropes."

Bengals continued from page 24

of a second title, earned a unanimous decision over defending champion Mike O'Neill in the 174-pound division. Balint lost a split decision over defending champion Mike Markovitz. These guys -hockey right now, evidenced in The Wolves struck first, scoring three times in the first period. By that time, goals by Zadra and Zadra are playing their best hockey."

"It's a very slow start for us," said Schafer. "I think we didn't even have a shot on goal. We were definitely on the ropes."

"I think we didn't even have a shot on goal. We were definitely on the ropes."

Bengals continued from page 24

of a second title, earned a unanimous decision over defending champion Mike O'Neill in the 174-pound division. Balint lost a split decision over defending champion Mike Markovitz. These guys -hockey right now, evidenced in The Wolves struck first, scoring three times in the first period. By that time, goals by Zadra and Zadra are playing their best hockey."

"It's a very slow start for us," said Schafer. "I think we didn't even have a shot on goal. We were definitely on the ropes."

"I think we didn't even have a shot on goal. We were definitely on the ropes."

ICEBERG DEBATES

This Tuesday, February 27

* Reception to follow
9:00pm

* Breen Phillips vs Pasquerella East
* Grace I vs Pangborn

Debates on the NBC Football television contract will be held in Montgomery Theatre and Hayes-Healy Auditorium.
LECTURE CIRCUIT

7 p.m. "The Black Catholic Experience, the Life's Journey, So Far" is the subject of a lecture tonight by May Lee Johnson. The lecture is at 7 p.m. in Stapleton Lounge at Saint Mary's. The lecture is sponsored by Saint Mary's Student Government and Wellness SMC.

CAMPUS

Monday

6:30 p.m. Workshop Session II, "Career/Major Decision Making," Room 300 University Counseling Center. Sponsored by the University Counseling Center.

7 p.m. Film, "Citizen Kane." Annenberg Auditorium. Sponsored by ND Communication and Theatre.

7 p.m. Shakespeare Films, "The Winter's Tale." Engineering Auditorium. Sponsored by the Department of English.

CROSSWORD

ACROSS
1 Comedian Bob
5 Comedian Byron
10 "But thou art ready to pardon... Nah. 9:17
14 Actor Richard
15 Coronet
16 Custody
17 Master of slapstick and pathos
19 He, to Hadrian
20 Type of TV show
21 Confirmation reply
22 Harmonica player Lany
23 Ancient Chinese
25 Eye part
42 Tennis units
43 Thrumord of N.B.A. fame
44 Infepide
46 Cheer
49 Jack-in-the-box, e.g.
51 "Tran" and "Oreo"
54 Trap
57 Ring-shaped coral island
59 Caviar
61 Elba or Sicilia
62 "Oh, My..." Fisher fit
64 Master of insult humor
66 Hot times in Paris
67 Last Greek letter
68 Shade trees
69 Skin: Comb form
70 Comedian Jackie
71 "Let George..."

DOWN
1 Miter, in Germany
2 S-shaped moldings
3 Chaplain, to a G.I.
4 Guarantee
5 Quality of being sour
6 Calla
7 Subsequently & Irregular
8 Subsequently
9 Fabray, to friends
10 Heraldry border
11 Venison source
12 Comedian King
13 Venison source
14 Genuflected
15 Swordsman
16 Quoits players
17 Movie Barker
18 Quality of being sour
19 Movie Barker
20 Comedian featuring inventive props
21 Comedian JAY
22 Comedian Brooks
23 Abnormal tissue growth
24 Mystical
25 Disguised
26 Comedian Deluise
27 Comedian of pitching fame
28 Movie Barker
29 Mountain chain in Greece
30 Comedian Brooks
31 Old car or poet
32 Comedian Jay
33 Comedian King
34 Master of Italian mimicry
35 Comedian Dreesen
36 Comedian Deluise
37 Rixey of pitching fame
38 Mets territory
39 Ardor
40 Abnormal tissue growth
41 Halts
42 Tennis units
43 Thrumord of N.B.A. fame
44 Infepide
45 Mystical
46 Cheer
47 Beginning, to
48 Comedian Deluise
49 Jack-in-the-box, e.g.
51 "Tran" and "Oreo"
52 Fragrance
53 Loudness units
54 Trap
55 Viking chieftain
56 Oleoresin used in incense
57 Imitated
58 London art gallery
59 Therefore
60 Vice prin., e.g.
61 Comedian Brooks
62 Vice prin., e.g.
63 Author Fleming
64 Author Fleming
65 Author Fleming
66 Hot times in Paris
67 Last Greek letter
68 Shade trees
69 Skin: Comb form
70 Comedian Jackie
71 "Let George..."

CALS IN AND HOBBES

CALVIN AND HOBBES

WATTEISON

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

Sophomore Literary Festival presents

One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest

Tonight

SMC O'Laughlin Auditorium

8:30 P.M.
The comeback continued Saturday afternoon at the Joyce ACC, and now it might take an even greater rally for the home team to receive an NCAA Tournament invitation.

Notre Dame (14-10), which had blown an 18-point lead before losing at the buzzer Tuesday to independent rival DePaul, watched a 14-point advantage disappear on Saturday in an 88-80 overtime defeat to eighth-ranked Georgia Tech. What had most of the Irish players and coaches disheartened, however, was the way they let a one-point lead slip away in the final minute of regulation. Joe Fredrick and Daimon Sweet each missed the front ends of one-and-one situations with Notre Dame leading 74-73 and 29 seconds left, allowing the Yellow Jackets to force, and then dominate, an overtime period.

"Coach had put emphasis on that all weekend, telling us the game would come down to free throws," said Sweet, who scored 12 points off the bench. "We just missed them. It was definitely one of the turning points."

"When you're up one and at the line you've got to make your free throws," said Irish coach Digger Phelps. "That's the time to ice it—when you're at the line in the last minute. If we make those, then we force them to shoot a three."

Instead, Tech's Brian Shannon drove down the baseline and drew a two-shot foul from LaPhonso Ellis with two seconds left. Oliver made the first and missed the second to force the five-minute overtime.

By FRANK PASTOR
Sports Writer

Irish miss free throws, lose to Georgia Tech in overtime

Loss makes NCAA hopes questionable

By STEVE MEGARGEE
Associate Sports Editor

The comeback continued Saturday afternoon at the Joyce ACC, and now it might take an even greater rally for the home team to receive an NCAA Tournament invitation.

Notre Dame (14-10), which had blown an 18-point lead before losing at the buzzer Tuesday to independent rival DePaul, watched a 14-point advantage disappear on Saturday in an 88-80 overtime defeat to eighth-ranked Georgia Tech. What had most of the Irish players and coaches disheartened, however, was the way they let a one-point lead slip away in the final minute of regulation. Joe Fredrick and Daimon Sweet each missed the front ends of one-and-one situations with Notre Dame leading 74-73 and 29 seconds left, allowing the Yellow Jackets to force, and then dominate, an overtime period.

"Coach had put emphasis on that all weekend, telling us the game would come down to free throws," said Sweet, who scored 12 points off the bench. "We just missed them. It was definitely one of the turning points."

"When you're up one and at the line you've got to make your free throws," said Irish coach Digger Phelps. "That's the time to ice it—when you're at the line in the last minute. If we make those, then we force them to shoot a three."

Instead, Tech's Brian Shannon drove down the baseline and drew a two-shot foul from LaPhonso Ellis with two seconds left. Oliver made the first and missed the second to force the five-minute overtime.

By FRANK PASTOR
Sports Writer

Irish miss free throws, lose to Georgia Tech in overtime

Loss makes NCAA hopes questionable

By STEVE MEGARGEE
Associate Sports Editor

The comeback continued Saturday afternoon at the Joyce ACC, and now it might take an even greater rally for the home team to receive an NCAA Tournament invitation.

Notre Dame (14-10), which had blown an 18-point lead before losing at the buzzer Tuesday to independent rival DePaul, watched a 14-point advantage disappear on Saturday in an 88-80 overtime defeat to eighth-ranked Georgia Tech. What had most of the Irish players and coaches disheartened, however, was the way they let a one-point lead slip away in the final minute of regulation. Joe Fredrick and Daimon Sweet each missed the front ends of one-and-one situations with Notre Dame leading 74-73 and 29 seconds left, allowing the Yellow Jackets to force, and then dominate, an overtime period.

"Coach had put emphasis on that all weekend, telling us the game would come down to free throws," said Sweet, who scored 12 points off the bench. "We just missed them. It was definitely one of the turning points."

"When you're up one and at the line you've got to make your free throws," said Irish coach Digger Phelps. "That's the time to ice it—when you're at the line in the last minute. If we make those, then we force them to shoot a three."

Instead, Tech's Brian Shannon drove down the baseline and drew a two-shot foul from LaPhonso Ellis with two seconds left. Oliver made the first and missed the second to force the five-minute overtime.

By FRANK PASTOR
Sports Writer

Irish miss free throws, lose to Georgia Tech in overtime

Loss makes NCAA hopes questionable

By STEVE MEGARGEE
Associate Sports Editor

The comeback continued Saturday afternoon at the Joyce ACC, and now it might take an even greater rally for the home team to receive an NCAA Tournament invitation.

Notre Dame (14-10), which had blown an 18-point lead before losing at the buzzer Tuesday to independent rival DePaul, watched a 14-point advantage disappear on Saturday in an 88-80 overtime defeat to eighth-ranked Georgia Tech. What had most of the Irish players and coaches disheartened, however, was the way they let a one-point lead slip away in the final minute of regulation. Joe Fredrick and Daimon Sweet each missed the front ends of one-and-one situations with Notre Dame leading 74-73 and 29 seconds left, allowing the Yellow Jackets to force, and then dominate, an overtime period.

"Coach had put emphasis on that all weekend, telling us the game would come down to free throws," said Sweet, who scored 12 points off the bench. "We just missed them. It was definitely one of the turning points."

"When you're up one and at the line you've got to make your free throws," said Irish coach Digger Phelps. "That's the time to ice it—when you're at the line in the last minute. If we make those, then we force them to shoot a three."

Instead, Tech's Brian Shannon drove down the baseline and drew a two-shot foul from LaPhonso Ellis with two seconds left. Oliver made the first and missed the second to force the five-minute overtime.

By FRANK PASTOR
Sports Writer

Irish miss free throws, lose to Georgia Tech in overtime

Loss makes NCAA hopes questionable

By STEVE MEGARGEE
Associate Sports Editor

The comeback continued Saturday afternoon at the Joyce ACC, and now it might take an even greater rally for the home team to receive an NCAA Tournament invitation.

Notre Dame (14-10), which had blown an 18-point lead before losing at the buzzer Tuesday to independent rival DePaul, watched a 14-point advantage disappear on Saturday in an 88-80 overtime defeat to eighth-ranked Georgia Tech. What had most of the Irish players and coaches disheartened, however, was the way they let a one-point lead slip away in the final minute of regulation. Joe Fredrick and Daimon Sweet each missed the front ends of one-and-one situations with Notre Dame leading 74-73 and 29 seconds left, allowing the Yellow Jackets to force, and then dominate, an overtime period.

"Coach had put emphasis on that all weekend, telling us the game would come down to free throws," said Sweet, who scored 12 points off the bench. "We just missed them. It was definitely one of the turning points."

"When you're up one and at the line you've got to make your free throws," said Irish coach Digger Phelps. "That's the time to ice it—when you're at the line in the last minute. If we make those, then we force them to shoot a three."

Instead, Tech's Brian Shannon drove down the baseline and drew a two-shot foul from LaPhonso Ellis with two seconds left. Oliver made the first and missed the second to force the five-minute overtime.