Breslin and Kinkopf assess past year as overall success

Inmates riot in English prison; deaths alleged

MANCHESTER, England (AP) — About 700 inmates rioted at a crowded 19th century prison Sunday, occupying rooftops, smashing windows and setting fires. At least 50 guards and inmates were injured, police said. Television newscasts carried unconfirmed reports that witnesses had seen up to 12 bodies. A police spokesman said inmates brought out of Strangeways Prison also reported deaths, but that police would not be able to confirm this until they reached the center of the complex.

The Home Office said no hostages were being held, and police said talks with prisoners were under way. There was no clear indication of the cause of the rioting at the medium-security prison, built in the Victorian era and now one of the most crowded in Europe.

Home Office spokesman Charles Kereru said prison officers regained control of one wing of the jail Sunday evening and found no seriously injured inmates. The office said 12 injured staff members and 25 inmates were taken to area hospitals.

Hundreds of riot police surrounded the prison and a police helicopter hovered overhead as flame leaped 20 feet into the air from the prison gymnasium, where a fire burned out of control. Twenty-five firefighters under police protection battled the blaze as dense black smoke billowed above the building.

Fires also were reported to have been set in three cells and a classroom as large groups of inmates rampaged inside.

Like mother, like daughter

Two Saint Mary’s juniors enjoy dinner with their mothers at the South Bend Marriott Hotel Saturday. The dinner was one of the events held as part of the SMC Junior Mother/Daughter Weekend.

Breslin and Kinkopf assess past year as overall success

By BETSY PUNSALAN

"It’s been a smooth year and thank God for that," Matt Breslin, Student Body President for the 1989-90 school year, said, reflecting on Student Government’s past year.

Breslin and Vice President Dave Kinkopf agreed that the past year has been an overall success for Student Government.

One outstanding accomplishment was the matching funds reinstatement, according to Kinkopf. The office of Student Affairs threatened to withhold matching funds to dorms after a snowball fight broke out this past October. "There is an exam-ple where we representatives worked with the admin-istration to correct what we felt was an injustice against the student body," Kinkopf said.

"We took the proper channels and we did our homework," Breslin said, crediting part of their reinstatement success to the "strong working relationship" Student Government has had with Student Affairs Director, Father David Tyson. Students are often skeptical about the effectiveness of Student Government, according to Breslin. The fact that Student Government was able to get the matching funds reinstated shows that "it does work," Breslin added.

The founding of the National Association of Students at Catholic Colleges and Universities (NASCCU) was another outstanding accomplishment, according to Breslin.

"We never anticipated this success," Breslin admitted, referring to the first annual NASCCU conference held at Notre Dame this past February. "It went off without a hitch.

The Founding of NASCCU put Notre Dame students on a level of national awareness, according to Kinkopf. "That was certainly one of our biggest accomplishments," Breslin also pointed to Safe-Walk Escort Service as another major achievement, even though it was not on his original platform. "It was one of those things that became an issue and we had to address it." In other security matters, Breslin said that extra cameraphones would be placed in parking lots by next August. Similarly, Student Government has received approval for installing phones in academic buildings, although this has not yet been carried out.

Student Government has continued to enhance campus intellectual life with the Iceberg Debates, World Awareness Week series, and Hall Fellows program, according to Kinkopf.

The vice president also noted that Student Government’s idea for a South Dining Hall buffet on parents’ football weekend drew a crowd of over 1,000 people. "We hope that becomes a tradition." "Lots of little things" have been accomplished, Kinkopf said, pointing to lighting improvement around campus, dining hall improvements, and renovations of the library pit and the Rockne Memorial.

"We didn’t have complete success," Breslin admitted, noting the failures of the 24-hour lounge and the Faculty/Course Evaluation (FCE) booklet.

"There were so many things to accomplish—we had to set our priorities," Breslin said. "At the time, the 24-hour lounge was important, but when the security issues came up, [the 24-hour lounge] didn’t become a priority.

"We really tried with the Faculty/Course Evaluations," Breslin added. "Unfortunately, the response wasn’t there and we weren’t able to get the booklets of FCE results out." Kinkopf also expressed dis-satisfaction with the booklets of FCE results out.

"We really tried with the Faculty/Course Evaluations," Breslin added. "Unfortunately, the response wasn’t there and we weren’t able to get the booklets of FCE results out." Kinkopf also expressed dis-satisfaction with the booklets of FCE results out.

Police arrested at least 30 people in connection with the riot. Five were charged with murder and 15 others were charged with attempted murder.

The Observer/Susie Minahan

Sister, winner of Laetare Medal, dies at 51 of cancer

Observer Staff Report

Sister Thea Bowman, the Gospel singer and evangelist who was announced March 24 as Notre Dame’s first African American recipient of the Laetare Medal, died Friday. She was 51 years old.

She died at her Canton, Miss., home after lapsing into a coma Thursday, a church spokesman said. She had been ill with cancer since 1985.

The only black member of the Franciscan Sisters of Perpetual Adoration, Bowman served as director of intercultural awareness of the Jackson Diocese and was on the faculty of the Institute of Black Catholic Studies at Xavier University in New Orleans.

She held a doctoral degree in rhetoric and literature from Catholic University of America. Despite her illness, she maintained a grueling schedule of lectures and singing performances designed to raise awareness and appreciation of black Catholic culture. The granddaughter of a slave, Bowman was a lecturer, evangelist, poet and singer.

"She was an outstanding
INSIDE COLUMN

Weekend with moms builds friendships

Saint Mary's Junior Moms' Weekend took place over this past weekend. It was a most enlightening experience for both mothers and daughters. At the Mother/Daughter luncheon, Mother and daughter explained the ladies in their voice with conviction that loud music, large crowds, an "all-nighter" at the computer lab, although you were nowhere remotely in the present, was a part of our mothers with our own consciousness of life in South Bend. However, as much as we tried, there was no conceivable way to camouflage the eight-hour workday. Where we go from here, only time will tell.

Upon the request of some of the mothers, we were forced to take them to the local foot bar. We simply prayed that they would not notice. We knew our covers had been blown. The next task was censorship. Hours were spent discussing which stories could and could not be told in front of our mothers. Choosing which pictures could be shown about tarnishing our images took even longer.

As far as bars and parties go, you've convinced us that loud music, large crowds, and the smell of beer makes you nauseous. One of my roommates went so far as to convince her parents that our apartment at Campus View was actually a part of Saint Mary's campus. In order to maintain our angelic images, we began by making our apartment as presentable as possible. It was no easy task: after hours of hard work the carpeting was back, the drinking glasses were arranged, cocktail couches no longer roamed the kitchen at will, and most of the black slime had been removed from the bathrooms. However, as much as we tried, there was no way to camouflage the eight-hour workday. Where we go from here, only time will tell.

Reebok Super Shot Signups

For the Reebok Super Shot Contest will be held tonight from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. in the SUB office. Only the first 256 people will be accepted.

Off-Campus Seniors

Can pick up their Senior Formal Dinner tickets in the class office Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Attention: Seniors with Chemistry/Science degree -- teaching opportunity in the Chemistry/Science Channel Program, based in Seattle, WA. To find out more stop by the CSC. No certification necessary.

Gas explosions

Ripped through an underground gas pipeline last night in a suburb of Sydney, Australia, sending flames and a huge fire and forcing officials to evacuate thousands of people from nearby homes and close the international airport. The fire burned for eight hours before firefighters extinguished it just before dawn and allowed people to return to their homes. No one was killed or injured by the blasts, and the cause of the fire was under investigation.

Efforts to notify the sex partners

...of syphilis patients is unlikely to control the spread of the disease because of those infected have multiple anonymous partners, according to a study released Sunday. The results, reported in Monday's issue of the Annals of Internal Medicine, suggest that efforts to fight AIDS by notifying patients' partners is likely to fail, too, said an accompanying editorial in the journal.

A Fort Wayne woman

...is trying for the third year to start a Ms. Wheelchair Indiana pageant. A program designed to find a spokesperson for wheelchair-bound Hoosiers. The competition is described in brochures and programs as a pageant of achievement. Contestants wear formal gowns and parade down a runway, but how they adapt to their disability is one of the judging criteria.

OF INTEREST

Sophomore Class Cabinet and sophomore Advisor: Full applications are now being accepted to the Class of 1993 through the hall recruiters. Any questions should be directed to Patrick Miano or Dave Callihan.

Sophomores who are interested in becoming involved in junior class government may pick up applications for Junior Advisory Council and class commissioner this week in the Sophomore class office.

University Bands will have a no-cut meeting on Monday, April 2 at 9 p.m. at the Koons Band Building.

National Weather

Thousands of civilians fled their embattled Christian enclave in Beirut, Lebanon, taking advantage of a lull in two days of ferocious intra-Christian fighting. At least 53 people have been killed and 133 others have been wounded in the power struggle between the army and Michel Aoun and Christian warfare Samir Geagea. The new-round of full-scale warfare broke out at dawn Friday between Aoun's 19,000 army troops and the 6,000 militiamen of Geagea's Lebanese Forces, shattering a March 3 cease-fire that had been threatened by sporadic clashes for weeks. The casualties in the two days brought the overall toll to 829 killed and 2,289 wounded since Jan.

Indiana

Grissom Air Force Base, as part of an evaluation exercise called the Operational Readiness Inspection, was asked to respond to a scenario in which the base has declared war and a terrorist action has complicated the base's ability to respond. The 305th Air Refueling Wing was evaluated by the Strategic Air Command's Inspector General to monitor the base's operations under wartime conditions.

Marcato Update

Volume in shares 139.34 Million

NYSE Index 196.88 0.32
S&P Composite 359.29 0.85
Dow Jones Industrials 2,707.21 0.20

Precious Metals

Gold $370.20/oz Silver 0.16 to $4.945/oz

The Observer

P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556
(219) 239-7471

Today's Staff:

Production

Viscose Anderson
Melissa McGinn
Sarah McVicker

Business

Sara Weigand
Maureen Gallagher

Ad Design

Gloria Sussman
Amelia Costello
Tony Hane

Sports

Teresa Kelly
Dan Towers

News

Pete Lutha
Ellen Perlick

Features

Cristina Ortiz
Liz Holter

Viewpoint

John Crowe

Class of 1995

Attention: Seniors with Chemistry/Science degree -- teaching opportunity in the Chemistry/Science Channel Program, based in Seattle, WA. To find out more stop by the CSC. No certification necessary.

Production

Viscose Anderson
Melissa McGinn
Sarah McVicker

Business

Sara Weigand
Maureen Gallagher

Ad Design

Gloria Sussman
Amelia Costello
Tony Hane

Sports

Teresa Kelly
Dan Towers

News

Pete Lutha
Ellen Perlick

Features

Cristina Ortiz
Liz Holter

Viewpoint

John Crowe

Class of 1995

Attention: Seniors with Chemistry/Science degree -- teaching opportunity in the Chemistry/Science Channel Program, based in Seattle, WA. To find out more stop by the CSC. No certification necessary.

Production

Viscose Anderson
Melissa McGinn
Sarah McVicker

Business

Sara Weigand
Maureen Gallagher

Ad Design

Gloria Sussman
Amelia Costello
Tony Hane

Sports

Teresa Kelly
Dan Towers

News

Pete Lutha
Ellen Perlick

Features

Cristina Ortiz
Liz Holter

Viewpoint

John Crowe

Class of 1995

Attention: Seniors with Chemistry/Science degree -- teaching opportunity in the Chemistry/Science Channel Program, based in Seattle, WA. To find out more stop by the CSC. No certification necessary.
Thatcher blames extremist groups for protest violence

LONDN (AP) — Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher and opposition politicians on Sunday blamed extremist groups for turning a carnival-like tax protest in Trafalgar Square into one of London's worst riots in this century.

On Sunday, about 100 protesters chanting "No poll tax!" and "Can't pay, won't pay!" clashed with police for a second day when Home Secretary David Waddington toured the scene of Saturday's riot. Four people were arrested.

A protest by 40,000 people against a new local tax turned violent Saturday when thousands of militants smashed windows, set cars ablaze and battled police for several hours. Hundreds of people were injured and hundreds were arrested.

The so-called community charge, which took effect Monday in England and Wales, replaces a property tax with a "community charge," which took effect Monday in England and Wales, replaces a property tax with a "property," according to Dutch television.

"People have a right to demonstrate peacefully. This was not; there were extreme groups who used violence with conviction for others, or for their property," said she near her country residence in Chequers.

Labor Party chief Neil Kinnock, who is 65, points to blame ahead of Mrs. Thatcher's Conservatives, said those who caused the violence must be "treated as criminals" and punished.

Scotland Yard launched a "violent police attack" on Saturday which drew 37,000 on the side of a seven-story building to be arrested on charges.

The Duke of Westminster, pays "sustained a property tax with a... into the worst.

The heart of London looked like a war zone after a battle Saturday's violence.

Cleanup crews cleared rubble and debris out of cars from the streets and strollers wandered past, pubs and shops whose windows had been smashed. Many victims were among Britain's most exclusive names: Liberty's, Tiffany's, Walgreen and Woolworths.

In Trafalgar Square, a pall of black smoke was still rising from construction cabins on the side of seven-story buildings, as crews cleared rubble and burned-out cars from the street.

Chief Supt. Peter Meynell of the Metropolitan Police, which was told to be arrested for offenses including arson, robbery, serious assault, criminal damage and looting.

The heart of London looked like a war zone after a battle Saturday's violence.

Cleanup crews cleared rubble and debris out of cars from the streets and strollers wandered past, pubs and shops whose windows had been smashed. Many victims were among Britain's most exclusive names: Liberty's, Tiffany's, Walgreen and Woolworths.

In Trafalgar Square, a pall of black smoke was still rising from construction cabins on the side of seven-story buildings, as crews cleared rubble and burned-out cars from the street.

Chief Supt. Peter Meynell of the Metropolitan Police, which was told to be arrested for offenses including arson, robbery, serious assault, criminal damage and looting.

The heart of London looked like a war zone after a battle Saturday's violence.

Cleanup crews cleared rubble and debris out of cars from the streets and strollers wandered past, pubs and shops whose windows had been smashed. Many victims were among Britain's most exclusive names: Liberty's, Tiffany's, Walgreen and Woolworths.

In Trafalgar Square, a pall of black smoke was still rising from construction cabins on the side of seven-story buildings, as crews cleared rubble and burned-out cars from the street.

Chief Supt. Peter Meynell of the Metropolitan Police, which was told to be arrested for offenses including arson, robbery, serious assault, criminal damage and looting.

The heart of London looked like a war zone after a battle Saturday's violence.

Cleanup crews cleared rubble and debris out of cars from the streets and strollers wandered past, pubs and shops whose windows had been smashed. Many victims were among Britain's most exclusive names: Liberty's, Tiffany's, Walgreen and Woolworths.

In Trafalgar Square, a pall of black smoke was still rising from construction cabins on the side of seven-story buildings, as crews cleared rubble and burned-out cars from the street.

Chief Supt. Peter Meynell of the Metropolitan Police, which was told to be arrested for offenses including arson, robbery, serious assault, criminal damage and looting.

The heart of London looked like a war zone after a battle Saturday's violence.

Cleanup crews cleared rubble and debris out of cars from the streets and strollers wandered past, pubs and shops whose windows had been smashed. Many victims were among Britain's most exclusive names: Liberty's, Tiffany's, Walgreen and Woolworths.

In Trafalgar Square, a pall of black smoke was still rising from construction cabins on the side of seven-story buildings, as crews cleared rubble and burned-out cars from the street.

Chief Supt. Peter Meynell of the Metropolitan Police, which was told to be arrested for offenses including arson, robbery, serious assault, criminal damage and looting.

The heart of London looked like a war zone after a battle Saturday's violence.

Cleanup crews cleared rubble and debris out of cars from the streets and strollers wandered past, pubs and shops whose windows had been smashed. Many victims were among Britain's most exclusive names: Liberty's, Tiffany's, Walgreen and Woolworths.

In Trafalgar Square, a pall of black smoke was still rising from construction cabins on the side of seven-story buildings, as crews cleared rubble and burned-out cars from the street.

Chief Supt. Peter Meynell of the Metropolitan Police, which was told to be arrested for offenses including arson, robbery, serious assault, criminal damage and looting.

The heart of London looked like a war zone after a battle Saturday's violence.

Cleanup crews cleared rubble and debris out of cars from the streets and strollers wandered past, pubs and shops whose windows had been smashed. Many victims were among Britain's most exclusive names: Liberty's, Tiffany's, Walgreen and Woolworths.

In Trafalgar Square, a pall of black smoke was still rising from construction cabins on the side of seven-story buildings, as crews cleared rubble and burned-out cars from the street.

Chief Supt. Peter Meynell of the Metropolitan Police, which was told to be arrested for offenses including arson, robbery, serious assault, criminal damage and looting.

The heart of London looked like a war zone after a battle Saturday's violence.

Cleanup crews cleared rubble and debris out of cars from the streets and strollers wandered past, pubs and shops whose windows had been smashed. Many victims were among Britain's most exclusive names: Liberty's, Tiffany's, Walgreen and Woolworths.

In Trafalgar Square, a pall of black smoke was still rising from construction cabins on the side of seven-story buildings, as crews cleared rubble and burned-out cars from the street.

Chief Supt. Peter Meynell of the Metropolitan Police, which was told to be arrested for offenses including arson, robbery, serious assault, criminal damage and looting.

The heart of London looked like a war zone after a battle Saturday's violence.

Cleanup crews cleared rubble and debris out of cars from the streets and strollers wandered past, pubs and shops whose windows had been smashed. Many victims were among Britain's most exclusive names: Liberty's, Tiffany's, Walgreen and Woolworths.

In Trafalgar Square, a pall of black smoke was still rising from construction cabins on the side of seven-story buildings, as crews cleared rubble and burned-out cars from the street.

Chief Supt. Peter Meynell of the Metropolitan Police, which was told to be arrested for offenses including arson, robbery, serious assault, criminal damage and looting.

The heart of London looked like a war zone after a battle Saturday's violence.

Cleanup crews cleared rubble and debris out of cars from the streets and strollers wandered past, pubs and shops whose windows had been smashed. Many victims were among Britain's most exclusive names: Liberty's, Tiffany's, Walgreen and Woolworths.

In Trafalgar Square, a pall of black smoke was still rising from construction cabins on the side of seven-story buildings, as crews cleared rubble and burned-out cars from the street.
Soviet armored trucks unloaded in Lithuania

VILNIUS, U.S.S.R. (AP) — Dozens of Soviet armored personnel carriers, troops and support vehicles were unloaded Sunday from railroad cars near the capital of Lithuania and driven through the city's streets.

Western reporters counted almost 30 armored vehicles being unloaded near the Vilnius airport. Others rumbled through the city, their treads slicing into the asphalt, apparently on their way to a nearby base. Young, bare-headed soldiers were peering out of the lookouts.

The reinforcement of the Vilnius garrison came in broad daylight when many residents were out for Sunday strolls to savor the spring sunshine.

The move was the latest attempt by Moscow to persuade the Baltic republic to rescind its March 11 declaration of independence.

Moscow has repeatedly said it will not use force to bring Lithuania back in line, but Sunday's move increased Lithuanian fears that the Soviet Union plans to force Lithuania to renounce its independence.

Since March 11, Moscow has sent personnel carriers and trucks already stationed in Lithuania to reinforce the Vilnius garrison through the capital's several army bases, including one in Vilnius.

On Saturday, President Mikhail Gorbachev issued two hastily worded statements addressed to Lithuania's Supreme Council legislature and the Lithuanian people. Gorbachev urged the rebellious republic to cancel its declaration of independence and to enter into negotiations with the Kremlin on the basis of the Soviet Constitution.

He warned that a refusal may result in "grave consequences." Lithuanian President Vytautas Landsbergis rejected Gorbachev's appeal Saturday night, saying the Soviet leader was demanding "impossible things."

But Landsbergis told reporters he would send negotiators to Moscow on Monday to try to set up a meeting with Soviet officials and that the Supreme Soviet would also meet Monday to consider its answer.

In Vilnius, Lithuanian officials reported that a column of some 15 armored personnel carriers moved through the city in the early morning hours. A duty officer at the republic's interior ministry said the vehicles rolled into a military base in central Vilnius just three miles from the Parliament building.

Eduardas Potashinskis, an army and Lithuanian TV editor, said many concerned residents had called the television and Lithuanian radio to report troop movements overnight.

Western journalists reported that they saw some 30 to 40 armored personnel carriers, full support vehicles and soldiers being unloaded from a train near the airport north of Vilnius at about noon Sunday.

"There was a big transport that came by train. There were a lot of APCs, over 20 of them at least, and also trucks. It looked like they were beginning to unload," a local photographer said on condition of anonymity.

An office statement said the prison chapel at 11 a.m., when 300 inmates attacked staff members.

"Those prisoners then gained access to the chapel roof and then broke into the living accommodation in the main prison. Other prisoners, including those on remand, joined in the disturbance and staff had to be withdrawn," the statement said.

As many as 80 prisoners reportedly made their way on to the rooftops of the jail's J wing, the prison chapel and adjoining buildings. The windows of a central turret linking several cellblocks were smashed as prisoners made their way to the roof.

Once there, the prisoners tore roof tiles up and hurled them into the prison courtyard where there were believed to be groups of riot police and prison officers.

The prison, built in 1868, has been criticized as cramped and inadequate because of the crowding. In response, Home Secretary David Widgery has announced plans to expand the building.
Joint Engineering Council will sponsor ‘Engineers Week’ today through Friday

By JESSICA ZIEMBROSKI
News Writer

April 2-6 is Engineers Week at Notre Dame, sponsored by the Joint Engineering Council (JEC). Numerous social events are presented by different engineering organizations for all engineering students. Co-Chairperson Christina Mueller said about the annual event that it “basically just a chance for engineering students to have some fun.”

Week long events include a trivia contest sponsored by the JEC, with a $25 prize given to the student that answers the most questions and a treasure hunt with clues given in the classifieds of The Observer with a $25 prize also. Trivia questions and further information about the treasure hunt are both available in the Engineering Student Center.

The week begins with “Magical Monday.” Donuts and hot chocolate will be offered from 9-11 a.m. in the Engineering Student Center, a crossword puzzle racetrack will be held at 3 p.m., sponsored by the Chemical Engineering Society. From 7-9 p.m. there will be popcorn and movies in the Engineering Student Center.

During “Turbulent Tuesday” there will be an egg drop competition at 3 p.m. in which students drop eggs from the second floor of Cushing onto anything constructed by the students to prevent it from breaking with $10 and $15 prizes, sponsored by the Aerospace Engineering Society. From 1-11 p.m. there will be a billiards doubles competition held in LaFortune Student Center with a $30 prize given in the winning team.

The dining hall will pay tribute to engineers on “Wired Wednesday” and at 4 p.m. there will be a pie eating contest at the Engineering Center in which prizes will be given for the sign and speed of the cars made by students. At 8 p.m. the Society of Women Engineers will present the Dating Game with $25 gift certificats for Mazic’s Dell given to the winning couple. Wednesday evening will also be Senior Bar Night for engineering students.

“Thermal Thursday” will include an 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. picnic and volleyball tournament and a 5 p.m. calculator toss on the quad in front of Cushing Hall. Of Engineering sponsored by the Mechanical Engineering Society. Immediately following there will be a pie eating contest sponsored by the Civil Engineering Society. That evening will also be Engineering Night at Beacon Bowl.

Ending the week will be “Frictionless Friday” with a 12-2 p.m. Ice Cream Social on the quad in front of the Cushing Hall of Engineering. College of Engineering T-shirts will be sold throughout the day with information in the Engineering Student Center.

Win the computer you need to succeed in the real world and a chance to use it there.

It’s easy. Just try our Real World Demo on a Macintosh computer to enter Apple’s Real World Sweepstakes.

If you are one of 9 Grand Prize winners, you’ll get to spend a week this summer at the organization of your choice listed below, where you’ll see Macintosh computers hard at work. And when you get home, you can use your own new Mac SE/30 to write your resume and blow up letters.

There will also be 20 First Prize winners who will receive Macintosh SE computers and 960 Second Prize winners who will get Apple”, Cafes.

Enter Apple’s Real World Sweepstakes and you could win a week at one of these leading organizations and a Macintosh computer.

Crown Point, Ind. (AP) — Prospective jurors summoned Monday for the murder trial of Alan Matheney face a doubly daunting task: not only must they judge a man who faces death if convicted, the jurors must live sequestered out-of-town and separated from friends and family during Christian and Jewish holy days.

Once a jury is selected, its members will be transported to South Bend, where the trial will be conducted in a St. Joseph County courtroom before a Lake County judge.

The unusual arrangements are part of a change of venue granted Matheney, who is charged in the beating death of his former wife while he was on prison furlough.

Matheney is charged in the March 4, 1989, beating death of Lisa Bianco, 29, outside her Mishawaka home. The slaying occurred while Matheney was free on an eight-hour prison furlough during an eight-year term imposed for a 1987 assault on Ms. Bianco. Matheney and Ms. Bianco were divorced in 1985.

At least 100 residents of Lake County were ordered to appear for jury duty before Judge James Leisten, who will preside over the trial.

The opening witnesses have been submitted to appearing Wednesday in the South Bend courtroom. If jury selection takes longer than two days, though, the lawyers’ opening statements and the time the purse would be delayed.

In any case, the trial will probably last at least two weeks, court observers say.

Last week, at least three jurors had to travel from jurors’ observance of Passover, the long Jewish commemoration that begins April 10, or Easter weekend on the Christian religious calendar, which begins April 13 with Good Friday.

During jury selection, the questions posed by trial attorneys may be shaped by the death penalty and a likely defense of insanity.

Prospective jurors in death penalty cases are routinely questioned about their beliefs in capital punishment. In past Indiana cases, those who oppose it under any circumstances are excused from serving.

Defense attorneys who conduct their clients’ insane when the crime occurred often ask prospective jurors their opinions of an insanity defense. A prospect who believes the defense to be simply a dodge to avoid conviction could be excused.

The prosecution and defense in a death penalty murder case may eliminate 20 jury prospects apiece. The judge may excuse an unlimited number of people who have good reasons not to serve.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Apple’s Real World Sweepstakes</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Grand Prize winners</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>will get to spend a week this</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>summer at the organization of</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>your choice listed below, where</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>you’ll see Macintosh computers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>hard at work. And when you get</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>home, you can use your own new</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mac SE/30 to write your resume</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and blow up letters.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>First Prize winners</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>will receive Macintosh SE</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>computers and 960 Second Prize</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>winners who will get Apple Cafes</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Enter April 2nd-April 20th

See your Campus Computer Store for Sweepstakes Rules and Regulations.

98 Apple Campus, Mon. thru. Fri. 8 am - 5 pm and Microsoft and Apple's largest authorized Mac store Apple Computer, Inc.

Make the computer you need to succeed in the real world and a chance to use it there.

You really can’t lose if you come in and get your hands on a Macintosh today. Because once you do, you’ll see how easy it is to use and how much one could do for you now.

You’ll appreciate the value of a Macintosh computer after you leave campus and head out into the real world, too. But don’t take our word for it. Come in and try a Macintosh and see for yourself. And if you win the Grand Prize, you’ll be seeing the real world sooner than you think that day.

Apple Computer, Inc. 253 Alum Rock Rd. Mountain View, CA 94043

1-800-MACINTOSH

United Way

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>BENJAMIN'S BAKERY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>2112 South Bend Avenue</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>South Bend, Ind. 46617</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>219-273-6722</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

HAPLANE BAMBESIAN

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>HAPLANE BAMBESIAN</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>2112 South Bend Avenue</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>South Bend, Ind. 46617</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>219-273-6722</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

WE HAVE STUDENT AIR FARES!

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>London</th>
<th>Buenos Aires</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>$199</td>
<td>$235</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Paris</td>
<td>$225</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rome</td>
<td>$259</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Frankfurt</td>
<td>$215</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Additional current book anytime!

Fares 10% RF from Chicago. Some restrictions apply. One-Way rates. 10% Student I.D. cards; youth/ teacher/union and military programs. Call for FREE Trip Catalog.
Former D.E.A. agent says politics are detriments to the war on drugs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mike Levine is angry.

The longtime Drug Enforcement Administration undercover agent contends the war on drugs is a sham run by "suits" in Washington who care more about their jobs than about winning the war or preserving the lives of agents on the street.

Levine says they killed the better part of his last major case while needlessly putting his life and the lives of other agents in jeopardy.

If the plan had been carried out, he says, agents could have arrested leaders of the Bolivian drug trade, but it was not to be.

"The agent in charge of DEA's Panama office, Alfredo "Fred" Duncan, suggested that the undercover agents stay at a Marriott hotel, even though the drug traffickers called it the "DEA hotel" and refused to do business there. On a later trip, DEA headquarters insisted that the agents again conduct business at the Marriott.

"Fred" Duncan was scheduled to write a book about his experiences called "Deep Cover." The whole drug war has been called a political grab bag," Levine said in a recent interview. "All of these people (leading the war on drugs) have their arms in this grab bag for every reason you can imagine."

The book focuses on a case — Operation Trifecta — that ended in 1988. It resulted in convictions and long sentences for several Mexican and Bolivian drug traffickers.

But Levine says it could have done much more if bureaucrats had not stood in the way of his plan to buy 15,000 kilos (more than 30,000 pounds) of cocaine with $5 million, allowing him to penetrate the upper reaches of the Bolivian cocaine trade.

Among the book's contentions:

—The agent in charge of DEA's Panama office, Alfredo "Fred" Duncan, suggested that the undercover agents stay at a Marriott hotel, even though the drug traffickers called it the "DEA hotel" and refused to do business there. On a later trip, DEA headquarters insisted that the agents again conduct business at the Marriott.

—Duncan was asked several times to keep the Corporation's alleged money launderer in Panama, Remberto Rodriguez, under surveillance. But when Levine and another agent flew to Panama in early 1988 to arrest Rodriguez, Duncan professed ignorance about who he was, where he could be found and even that he'd been asked to keep track of him.

So a frustrated Levine, who retired from the DEA last year, wrote a book about his experiences called "Deep Cover."

"The whole drug war has now become a political grab bag," Levine said in a recent interview. "All of these people (leading the war on drugs) have their arms in this grab bag for every reason you can imagine."

The book focuses on a case — Operation Trifecta — that ended in 1988. It resulted in convictions and long sentences for several Mexican and Bolivian drug traffickers.

But Levine says it could have done much more if bureaucrats had not stood in the way of his plan to buy 15,000 kilos (more than 30,000 pounds) of cocaine with $5 million, allowing him to penetrate the upper reaches of the Bolivian cocaine trade.

Among the book's contentions:

—The agent in charge of DEA's Panama office, Alfredo "Fred" Duncan, suggested that the undercover agents stay at a Marriott hotel, even though the drug traffickers called it the "DEA hotel" and refused to do business there. On a later trip, DEA headquarters insisted that the agents again conduct business at the Marriott.

—Duncan was asked several times to keep the Corporation's alleged money launderer in Panama, Remberto Rodriguez, under surveillance. But when Levine and another agent flew to Panama in early 1988 to arrest Rodriguez, Duncan professed ignorance about who he was, where he could be found and even that he'd been asked to keep track of him.
Iran’s officials want to crack down on economic crimes

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Frustrated by widespread shortages and crippling inflation, radical politicians in Iran want to make “economic crimes” such as hoarding and trading on the black market capital offenses.

But some observers believe the real goal of the campaign is to scuttle the economic and political policies of President Hashemi Rafsanjani.

Rafsanjani, the leader of Iran’s so-called pragmatists, wants improved relations with the West to secure badly needed investment and advanced technology to revitalize Iran’s battered economy.

Mehdi Karrubi, Iran’s radical parliament speaker, added his voice to the debate with a speech in Tehran on Sunday. “Those who are sucking the nation’s blood should be decisively dealt with,” Karrubi told tens of thousands of Iranians in the city’s Imam Hussein Square, according to the Islamic Republic News Agency.

“Unfortunately there has been no determined confrontation by the government against economic terrorists,” Tehran Radio quoted him as saying.

The reports, monitored in Nicosia, said Karrubi’s address on one of Tehran’s main squares marked the 11th anniversary of a referendum in which the nation voted overwhelmingly for an Islamic government.

Bomb victim faces more treatment

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Mau­ roon Bower, 6, has been fitted with an artificial left hand and is attending school. Next month she will undergo a corneal transplant for her left eye, which was also damaged in the April 17, 1989, blast at a K mart department store.

The person who put the bomb on the K mart shelf has not been caught.

“I don’t get down as frequently as I used to, but when we had to make the decision on the cornea transplant, it re­hashed all the garbage again — that we were going to have to put her back in the hospital again, and we were going to have to limit her in her activi­ties,” said Mrs. Bower. “That bothers me. I wish we didn’t have to do that anymore.

“That’s when I started fre­quently wishing that this person would see what he has done. I get real upset with that person, and I usually don’t think about that person at all. But when you have to relive all this again, it’s tough,” she said.

Erin was shopping with her family at the K mart in Carle­ton when she picked up a tube of toothpaste.

The person who put the bomb in the K mart shelf has not been cracked.

Federal agents remain optim­istic they will crack the case eventually.

The Mississippi Teacher Corps is designed to provide a structured entry into the teaching profession for outstanding liberal arts graduates. Candidates with strong backgrounds in mathematics, natural science, or foreign language are especially encouraged to apply.

The program works like this: Starting this summer, 15 to 25 recruits will receive scholarships to an intensive summer institute that will prepare them for certification in Mississippi secondary schools. In return, they must agree to teach for at least one year in the district to which they are assigned in the fall. While all prospective recruits must expect to hold a bachelor’s degree by the time they enroll in the summer program, no previous education coursework is required or expected. The program is not limited to recent graduates.

School districts will be selected on the basis of need, and most will probably be located in impoverished rural counties. The summer institute, which will be housed at the University of Mississippi at Oxford, will place particular emphasis on strategies for working with at-risk students. Several weekend workshops and in­school guidance from a mentor-teacher will provide at-risk students. Several weekend workshops and in­school guidance from a mentor-teacher will provide at-risk students.
By PATRICK NINNEMAN
Business writer

The Student Business Board met last Thursday to discuss the release of official trade reports for Irish Gardens, the College. The Board oversees the operations of these three students. A financial report for continuing the store, which makes $270 million dollars a year larger, then the store could do better.

Lawrence stressed the service that The College provides for students. "We offer a variety of goods from other stores, plus our prices are good," he noted. "We question whether any music store the size of The College could operate profitably, but that is a fact of life we must accept for continuing the store, even that means taking a loss every year." He said "Many students appreciate that their sales are spent on our business and our businesses are run in the students' best interest."

Some ideas were given on how to improve the operation. One idea, Director of Student Activities, suggested replacing the video cassette machine and adding that to The College's inventory. They would entail expanding the size of the store, and thereby increasing the student manager's ability to fill it. For expansion space is now rented by the City of Harvester. The College's next door. Country Harvester is a non-student run business and has a lease that continues for at least three more years.

Adworks, an advertising, novelty and gift business in LaFortune, operated at a profit for the period March 28, 1990 through March 28, 1990, according to the Board's statement was not yet available.

Christina Fallton, student president of Adworks, noted only one contribution to Adworks operations. She said "We are making a deal with a local gas station supplier to drastically reduce the prices of our novelty items." She said that the details were not yet set, but that the students should notice a price difference by next year.

Irls Gardens, the student run business, is looking for another strong year in sales. Griffin said that total revenue for the second quarter was $44.95, giving the business a profit of $357.9 for the period July 1, 1989 through March 28, 1990. The Gardens are planned in Irish Gardens' operation.

Four myths about the American economy: (1) Japan is threatening America. (2) The average income in the United States is $44,959 a year, (3) American computers are out of date, and (4) the United States no longer leads the world in defense technology. By Louis Rukeyser
Tribune Media Services

Four myths about the American economy: (1) Japanese investment is virtually eking out American jobs. (2) Japanese cars in America have grown at the expense of American businesses. As a result, American jobs are being created abroad while millions of American workers are being given new skills in other countries. For example, 13 "foreign" firms already are making television sets in Mexico, Peru, and Brazil. Honda plans to build a $1.4 billion plant in Ohio that will produce 500,000 cars a year in 1992. (3) The only reason that Japanese cars are selling at a discount is that they are imported. (4) Japan is making a deal with the United States. The Japanese are making a deal with the United States in order to get into the market more easily. This is what the United States needs right now. (5) The United States is no longer the economic leader of the world. (6) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (7) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (8) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (9) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (10) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (11) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (12) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (13) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (14) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (15) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (16) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (17) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (18) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (19) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (20) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (21) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (22) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (23) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (24) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (25) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (26) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (27) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (28) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (29) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (30) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (31) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (32) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (33) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (34) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (35) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (36) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (37) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (38) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (39) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (40) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (41) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (42) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (43) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (44) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (45) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (46) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (47) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (48) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (49) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (50) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (51) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (52) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (53) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (54) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (55) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (56) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (57) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (58) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (59) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (60) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (61) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (62) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (63) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (64) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (65) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (66) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (67) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (68) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (69) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (70) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (71) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (72) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (73) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (74) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (75) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (76) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (77) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (78) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (79) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (80) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (81) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (82) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (83) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (84) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (85) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (86) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (87) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (88) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (89) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (90) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (91) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (92) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (93) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (94) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (95) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (96) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (97) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (98) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (99) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan. (100) The United States is losing its economic lead to Japan.
CLC meeting does not acknowledge outside input

Dear Editor:

I write this letter out of frustration. On Wednesday, March 28, the Campus Life Council held its first open meeting to continue discussion on the proposed Student Bill of Rights. I was only one of the countless students who filled the airy, raised stands and back wall of the Montgomery Theater. As a member of the student body, I felt that it was important that my views be heard, especially on the issue which directly related to me. However, as the meeting progressed, I realized that this was not going to happen.

First of all, I was disappointed to see the Council fail to recognize student input during the meeting. Throughout the meeting, numerous students raised their hands in concern on the issues being discussed. However, we were continuously ignored. While I understand that it was a C.L.C. meeting, and, as such, members of the C.L.C. should have the primary opportunity to speak, I believe that a grave mistake was being done by failing to hear what the student body had to say.

What is the point of having an "open" meeting if we are not allowed to be heard? I came to the meeting as a participant, not an observer. The fact that so many students showed up at the meeting suggests that the student body does have opinions about the issue. These opinions were never given an opportunity to be expressed.

Secondly, I felt frustrated with the pettiness of many of the arguments. It is hard that too many exceptions to the rules were debated rather than the actual rules themselves. It is too bad that the Council got caught up in the procedural technicalities of the issue rather than the actual substance of the bill.

Lastly, I was disappointed with the lack of input from the Office of Student Affairs. Although Jeff Shoup, a newcomer to the Office, was present at Wednesday's meeting, he failed to actively participate in the discussion of the bill. It should also be noted that this is the first meeting on the bill that has had a representative from Student Affairs.

Shoup's input, on behalf of Student Affairs, would have been invaluable to the discussion, considering the fact that, even if the bill does pass the C.L.C., Father Tyson has the ultimate power of veto. It seems fruitless to seriously debate this issue unless the Office of Student Affairs is willing to provide the representation and input that will give the bill a chance of passing.

After all was said and done, I have to question the purpose of the Campus Life Council. Is it an elite group that simply takes every article that they discuss, only to assign committees and task forces to further discuss these issues? Or is it truly a voice of campus life here at Notre Dame? If it is the latter, perhaps we should question why student input is ignored, and furthermore, why Tyson has the power to overrule anything that the Council decides.

Perhaps Bill Kirk, the rector of Holy Cross Hall, expressed our need for this bill best when he said that Notre Dame Administration was "fairly sympathetic to the students."

The most disappointing aspect of this statement is that Kirk, as an employee of Student Affairs, said this in a complimentary fashion. However, as a graduating senior, a "fair" amount of sympathy, at best, falls short of my expectations of Notre Dame's administrative relationship towards the students.

Karen Lynch
Knott Hall
March 28, 1990
Rotary scholarships offer chance to study abroad

By Mary Berger

Bulletin boards overflowing with vacation ads, club announcements, and magazine rates, and other flyers are a familiar sight on campus. I always scanned these bulletin boards while at Notre Dame, looking for diversions as well as an answer to the "What am I going to do after graduation?" question. This habit paid off better than I could have ever dreamt when, in the spring of my Junior year, I saw a letter from the South Bend Rotary Club. This inquiry about applications for the 1989-90 Rotary International Graduate Scholarships was available. These scholarships, the letter explained, would provide young men and women with bachelor's degrees the chance to study abroad for one year, all essential expenses paid. Upon further investigation, I learned that one could study wherever one wished during the year abroad. The eligible student would give five choices of where he or she would like to study but that the final placement would be made by Rotary based on where they had last club space available.

Rotary International is a service organization working for Environment Week

Lectures are planned for Environment Week

Dear Editor:

The Student Union will be presenting an Environment Week from April 2-5. On Monday, April 2 at 8 p.m. in the Library Auditorium, Karl Grossman will present a lecture entitled "Conspiracy against America: Toxic Waste." Grossman is an investigative journalist and author who specializes in environmental issues. He will be discussing government documents uncovered throughout the Freedom of Information Act which concede that state regulations are inadequate and which link the current epidemic of cancer to pollution produced by industry.

On Wednesday, April 4 at 8 p.m. in Cushing Auditorium, Dave Foreman will be presenting a lecture entitled "In Defense of the Wild." Foreman is the controversial co-founder of Earth First, the militant environmentalist group which combines eco-tage and lobbying to influence government and public opinion about the dangers to the environment. He is currently on trial for his activities in defense of the wild. Finally, on Thursday, April 5 at 7:30 p.m. in room 122 Newstead Science Hall, Professor Philip Meehin will be giving a lecture about the destruction of the Aral Sea in the Soviet Union. The destruction of the Aral Sea is one of the largest man-made natural disasters in the world, and due to mismanagement, the Aral Sea has gradually been disappearing.

We at the Student Union hope to use this week to prepare the University community for the upcoming Earth Day activities in late April. The month of April has been dedicated to an exploration of issues which concern the environment and how they will affect the Notre Dame community. We hope to see you there!

Tony Long

Ideas and Issues Commission
Student Union Board
March 23, 1990

---

Monday, April 2, 1990

Viewpoint

SMC room selection process defended;
Policy aims to mix the classes in dorms

Dear Editor:

I am responding to a recent article and editorial which appeared in The Observer March 21, entitled "Student Body should select singles and section in Regina facility." I appreciate the opportunity not only to clarify some misconceptions about the process, but to correct some of the inaccuracies in reporting.

The process for room selection was developed in 1984, with the input of a 17-member student advisory committee. In response to student demands for a more fair, transparent, and equal selection system, the main objectives of the policy were to enhance the security of living arrangements on campus by mixing the classes in each hall and to get the freshmen out of the isolation of Regina single rooms and into living situations which would foster the support and contact of upperclassmen.

Interestingly, an editorial appeared in the December 6, 1983 issue of The Observer which stated that "the present system of selecting rooms is largely of Saint Mary's Freshmen in Regina is the worst thing that can happen to Saint Mary's freshmen in Regina. It is the only thing that can happen to Saint Mary's freshmen in Regina which is of more importance than the selection process in Regina." The Observer was correct to the extent that the Freshmen classmen were allowed within the halls. The Freshmen classmen were not allowed to choose rooms in Augusta.

4. You're right! Hall leaders were allowed to designate rooms for freshmen as well. In fact, they are, and have always been designated as "freshman" or "junior" in the student body class and elections take place after room selection.

5. Students are almost always able to live in the same residence hall or section as their friends, provided that living with their friends takes priority over living in a particular hall.

6. Though the Student Mary's room selection process may not be perfect, its intent has always been to be as fair to one student as it is to the next. The nature of a lottery is that everyone has an equal chance of winning. Those who receive a low number probably see little fault in the system. However, I take this to be unfair to those who are not allowed to choose a room.

7. I take great exception to the implication that the residence department is lacking in organization. On the contrary, it has done a wonderful job of accommodating the students. On my campus, I have never had any problem with my roommate. I suggest there is more about the community-oriented Saint Mary's roam selection process than "catching rooms" as the Observeresi might go abroad with you eyes and arms and mind open, ready to embrace all you see and learn. They hope you will bring back enriching experiences and a deep understanding of the world with you.

I would gladly speak to any student or group that is interested in participating in the program. For more information, one can stop in at the Students' International Organization in the Student Center and request the support and contact of international exchange and student body members. I am indeed grateful to be a part of this Rotary program five stars.

Mary Berger is a 1989 Notre Dame graduate currently studying in Belgium with the help of a Rotary International Scholarship.
Accent

Monday, April 2, 1990

A serious shopping spree

The art of bargaining in the Mexican markets, where 'pesos' don't equal dollars

ROBYN SIMMONS

accent writer

Probably one of the most valuable skills you can acquire in Mexico is not the ability to eat spicy food (although it comes in handy) but the art of regateando, a.k.a. "bargaining."

Mexico is famous for its arts and crafts markets, called mercados. In Spanish, these marketplaces are known for their handicrafts: Taxco for silver, Leon for leather, and Oaxaca for blankets just to pretend that you are going to look somewhere where the prices are cheaper. Sometimes it helps to hesitate and play the role of the customer, so it is up to the customer to get the price down. The key to getting the price down is to speak as much Spanish as possible. In many of the more popular mercados, the vendors are bilingual. If a vendor starts talking to me in English, I tell them that I wish to speak in Spanish, and all of the sudden the vendor is ready to bring down the price.

It also helps to hesitate and pretend that you are going to look somewhere where the prices are cheaper. Sometimes the best way to get the price down is to offer to pay that is well below the original price and hope to reach a happy medium between the his price and yours.

Based on personal experience, the best advice that I could give to anyone who is planning on shopping in Mexico is to wait before buying anything. On more than one occasion I have waited more of a disappointment is that the prices are easier to tackle to national debt or get the Trumps to reconcile. Still, people try. The latest attempt to add a new twist to the sit-com is "Grand." NBC makes its "Grand" entry on Thursdays at 9:30. The show looks at life in America from three different socioeconomic viewpoints in the town of Grand, Pennsylvania. John Randolph stars as Harris Weldon, the wealthy owner of Piano Works, a company that manufactures pianos. Joe Bukoio

To be continued...

Finding a new premise for a situation comedy is tough. It would be easier to tackle to national debt or get the Trumps to reconcile. Still, people try. The latest attempt to add a new twist to the sit-com is "Grand." NBC makes its "Grand" entry on Thursdays at 9:30. The show looks at life in America from three different socioeconomic viewpoints in the town of Grand, Pennsylvania. John Randolph stars as Harris Weldon, the wealthy owner of Piano Works, a company that manufactures pianos.

If only remotely, all the other characters are related to Weldon. Desmond (John Neville) is Weldon's butler. Carol Anne (Bonnie Hunt) is Weldon's daughter whose husband (Michael McKean) used to work at Piano Works. Norville (Joel Murray), Weldon's son who is looking for a calling in life, Wayne (Andrew Lauer), a young police officer, and Janice (Pamela Reed). Wayne's girlfriend. Viewers may need to look somewhere where the more touristy a city is the more sensible to check out different mercados (if you have the time) before buying anything. One storyline centers on the death of Wayne's father, who died after a gun goes off while he's hunting. His widow (Jane Hoffman) is rated over her husband's death. She has never felt so free and youthful. When Wayne questions his mother about the hunting trip during which her father died, she tells Wayne, "He was shot by a deer." Wayne's brother-in-law, Tom (Michael McKean) is a great example of what really occurred. The perfection of the task beautifully, what the viewer's story is true, and Wayne deals with his father's death.

To say the show has grand problems would be an understatement. First and foremost, it's about as funny as mold growing may prove to be a much more enjoyable experience than watching "Soap." The characters' "comic" lines simply aren't funny.

In addition, there are too many characters to keep track of during such a short time period. It takes extremely careful writing to make the transition from one character to another seem smooth. "Soap" performed this task beautifully, "Grand" does not. Viewers don't really know the characters or how they are related.

The scenery detracts from the show as well. It is cheap and fake. This may seem like an insignificant point, but however, the sets are very distracting. Weldon's mansion seems to be made of plastic. The plants around Janice's trailer make the park scenes on times soaps seem authentic.

Finally, the acting seems forced and rigid. No one appears to be saying lines naturally. All the actors physical gestures are overdone and exaggerated. Furthermore, it is difficult to believe Wayne is only twenty one and that Janice would be interested in him. She seems old enough to be his mother.

What makes the show even more of a disappointment is that Bill Cosby helps produce it. Audiences expect high quality from Cosby so they will be extremely upset with "Grand."

What makes the show even more of a disappointment is that Bill Cosby helps produce it. Audiences expect high quality from Cosby so they will be extremely upset with "Grand."

"Grand" is a great example of a good idea gone awry. The idea of having different families on a single sit-com is an excellent and creative one; however, "Grand" is unable to provide coverage of all the characters without making its audience seasick from the choppy cuts from one scene to another. "Grand" tries to be "Soap" but never gets any sadness.

Heralded as one of the season's best sit-coms, "Grand" is a disappointment. It's neither funny nor well-written. The best thing one can say about it is that it has a nice opening. The show helps viewers appreciate commercials.
Stanford hits the threes defeats Auburn for women's title

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Because it can shoot for three, Stanford is No. 1. Stanford used the record 3-point shooting of Kayte Seding and hometown favorite Jenny Azzi to neutralize Auburn's pesky full-court press and beat the No. 12 Sooners on Sunday to win its first NCAA championship.

The Stanford victory completed a five-year curb under coach Tara VanDerveer. Stanford has sent Auburn home as the national champion for the third year in a row.

Auburn had given teams fits with its court pressure, but the match-up zone throughout the 272-1837 record to 13-5. Made Easy!

STUDENTS! send your resume together? This is the third on a fielder's choice, and 4 73-7

Wayne, Reading books at home. ANY WEEKEND.EXT 1938

ON NORTH
838-8885 Ext. W-6262

dress watch on the second

FACILITIES

Library. Please

FOR TEXTBOOKS!
PANDORA'S BOOKS

PENINA'S BOOKS

of the library. Please

HELP!

Pinto, Runs

Fence,

Library. Please details.

Details.

WANTED:

4/17.

WANTED: IS.

TO CAMPUS. COMPETITIVE
RENT. 277-0959.

CALL 234-6688

5411 for more information.

TO THE SUMMER? Jett there from

WANTED: 4/17.

WANTED: I

FURNISHED, W/0. CLOSE

1990. If

NEW: 3 1 2 BDRM.

BIG$ See What You

WANTED: I

FURNISHED, W/0. CLOSE

1990. If

NEW: 3 1 2 BDRM.

BIG$ See What You

WANTED: I

FURNISHED, W/0. CLOSE

1990. If

NEW: 3 1 2 BDRM.

BIG$ See What You

WANTED: I

FURNISHED, W/0. CLOSE

1990. If

NEW: 3 1 2 BDRM.

BIG$ See What You

WANTED: I

FURNISHED, W/0. CLOSE

1990. If

NEW: 3 1 2 BDRM.

BIG$ See What You

WANTED: I

FURNISHED, W/0. CLOSE

1990. If

NEW: 3 1 2 BDRM.

BIG$ See What You

WANTED: I

FURNISHED, W/0. CLOSE

1990. If

NEW: 3 1 2 BDRM.

BIG$ See What You

WANTED: I

FURNISHED, W/0. CLOSE

1990. If

NEW: 3 1 2 BDRM.

BIG$ See What You
DENVER (AP) — Brent Musburger, the primary voice of CBS Sports during the 1980s, was let go by the network Sunday in a move that shocked officials at CBS and other networks.

Because the move was announced on April Fool’s Day and a day before the NCAA basketball championship game — which Musburger still is scheduled to broadcast — many television officials at first dismissed it as a joke.

A worker at CBS Sports’ studios in New York called The Associated Press insisting the announcement was not true, even though CBS Sports president Neil Pinson was discussing the move at the Final Four in Denver.

“It is not a joke,” Pinson said.

“It’s a difficult decision. It’s never easy to deal with individuals with whom you have personal or business relationships,” Ted Shaker, executive producer of CBS Sports, said. “CBS Sports believed Musburger’s work load was “too much” and wanted to give its other sportscasters more assignments.

“We have a great group of young sportscasters. They’re become October. The way the Dodgers will be playing ball this season, you can bet that the most exciting things to happen this year won’t involve Pete Rose (pardon the pun) or natural disasters.

So let’s forget about those silly predictions (mine excluded) and let the ball players play ball. And if you happen to be a Mets fan, stay out of my way. The spit in my dorm room is waiting for you.

Happy Belated B-Day

Doug Reilley

Lupus Lahooey,
Enos Pennville,
L-L-O-A-F-F-E-R and GREG

“Couldn’t have been me, I wasn’t even there.”

The Observer

is currently accepting applications for Business Copy Editor.

For info call Sandy Wiegand
Business Editor at 239-5303.

The Observer

is looking for Business Writers.

Call Sandy Wiegand.

Want to stay for Commencement and make some money?

University Food Services needs employees for Senior Week and Commencement Weekend, May 13 thru 20.

Many types of work available. Room and board provided with a minimum of 24 hrs of work. Sign up in Room 1 of South Dining Hall from 10am until 2:30pm beginning today.
Wisconsin edges ND netters 5-4

By BOB MITCHELL
Sports Writer

Notre Dame men's tennis has been nothing short of fairy-tale. That is up until yesterday. Head Coach Bob Bayliss witnessed his team fall to the No. 1 ranked Midwestern team, the Wisconsin Badgers, 5-4, at the Eck Tennis Pavilion.

In a match that would have put Notre Dame in the driver's seat for a regional bid to the NCAA Tournament, the Irish dropped four of the five matches that were decided in the third set. "Wisconsin just played a little better than us, with the exception of Chuck Coleman," said Bayliss. "We just didn't have it in the third set today. If you add all the games we probably won more than they did but unfortunately that is not how you add up score in tennis. We didn't play a bad match but we certainly did not play our best match. We stumbled today but we will be back. It doesn't help us with regard to the tournament but there are two ways to get in—a regional bid or in the top 16 in the national polls.

As a whole, the Irish truly we not at 100%, but freshman Chuck Coleman, who currently holds the No. 3 singles position, certainly did not miss a beat. Coleman captured the sole three-set victory for the 17th-ranked Irish against top regional competitor Joe Deor, 6-7, 6-4, 7-6.

"In the last two days, Chuck has earned a lot of respect," said Bayliss. "His play was definitely a highlight for our team. Against Deor, Chuck passed and returned serve extremely well. He hit at least 50 passing shots against Deor who is a very aggressive player."

After singles play the match was knotted at 3-3, and it came down to three doubles contests where the Irish have prospered throughout the entire season. Yet the strength of the Irish season faltered against the Badgers who took two of the three matches.

Notre Dame's No. 1 team, Dave Bayliss and And Zunker earned the fourth point of the match by downing Brian Nelson-Joe Deor in two sets, 7-5, 6-0. However, the No 2 and No 3 duo's found themselves on the short end of the raquet as they fell to the Badger counterparts.

At No. 3, Ryan Wenger and Andy Zunker were shocked by the brother combination of Dave and Jim Mirzberhger in three sets, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3. With that loss the fate of the Irish was in the hands of Chuck Coleman and Walter Dolhare. And after taking the first set, the No. 2 team slipped in the second and third sets to Jack Wait-Carlos Nabikedick, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5 and subsequently the Badgers became the victors.

"The No. 2 doubles match was hostile controversial," said Bayliss noting a number of close calls during the match. "We didn't play well at the end of the first set and we just couldn't pick it up enough in the final sets. The loss was a blow, but this team has too much character to let this loss affect us. It was probably the worst time to play, considering we had a match at Miami (Ohio) on Saturday, but you have to make the best of the situation."

Notes: On Saturday, Notre Dame earned their first victory under Coach Bayliss against the Redskins, 5-1. The match was decided before doubles competition, so the teams did not play doubles matches.

NCAA

continued from page 20

ence is so tough this year that we were in an amazing number of close games."

Szniewski, the matchups are close.

UNLV starts 6-foo-10 David Butler at center. Duke's starting center is 6-10 Alaa Abdelsady.

UNLV's forwards are 6-7 Larry Johnson and 6-8 defensive specialist Naceri Gagnon. Duke's are 6-11 Christian Laetier and 6-5 Robert Brickley.

"Duke can match UNLV inside, and it should be a great championship game," said Georgia Tech coach Bobby Cremins, whose team lost to Duke twice in the regular season, then beat the Blue Devils in the semi-finals of the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament.

At guard, UNLV starts 6-1 Anderson Hunt and 6-2 Greg Anthony, while Duke starts 6-4 Phil Henderson and 6-0 Bobby Hurley.

The UNLV guards spread the scoring more evenly than Duke's since Hurley, a freshman point guard, seldom shoots.

An Evening With

KAREN HASTIE WILLIAMS

*Law Clerk to Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall

*Chief Counsel to the U.S. Senate Committee on the Budget

*Partner, Crowell & Moring Washington D.C.

Tuesday, April 3, 1990
Law School Lounge
7:30 p.m.

Sponsored by the Women's Legal Forum
Hurling battling illness;
teams gear up for final

DENVER (AP) — Ailing point guard Bobby Hurley was given the usual remedies and was ordered to bed Sunday in hopes he will be recovered for Monday night's NCAA championship game against UNLV.

Hurley, weak from diarrhea, played 36 minutes but scored only three points in Duke's 97-83 semifinal victory over Arkansas on Saturday. "Bobby played sick," Duke coach Mike Krzyzewski said Sunday. "We gave him some chicken noodle soup, orange juice, got him a humidifier and some medication and told him to go to sleep. We hope he'll be fine by tomorrow."

"I think it's a combination of the change in climate — it's so much drier here than in North Carolina — and a bit of the bug. I'm sure he's a little nervous, too."

The freshman guard makes Duke's offense go and is averaging 9.0 points per game, but he took only two shots against Arkansas.

"I think he would have shot more, but when you have diarrhea you worry about jumping up and down and instead meet in the team hotel. "I feel we need the legs fresh, but it's also important to do something. We'll shoot free throws for sure."

Rebel guard Greg Anthony, called "The Senator" by his teammates because of his interest in politics, is vice chairman of the Nevada Young Republicans. But his teammates don't share his political views. "I haven't converted any of them," Anthony said. "I've given up. They're lost causes."

The parents of only two UNLV players are in Denver for the Final Four, a situation coach Jerry Tarkanian calls "unfortunate." In most cases, UNLV's Jerry Tarkanian said.

"Our '86 team had incredible pressure on it from the first day to the last day. This team wasn't expected to do very much," Duke coach Mike Krzyzewski said in comparing his last championship-game team to the current one.

"Our '86 team was tired throughout March, except for (Johnny) Dawkins and (Tommy) Amaker. It was because the parents couldn't afford to make the trip.

"We got calls from Xerox and Tony Roma's asking if they could help fly parents in, but we can't do that," Tarkanian said. "That would be a violation."

Duke's preppie image contrasts with UNLV's gritty reputation. Not surprisingly, the coaching staffs rarely find themselves recruiting the same type of player.

"We're in different (recruiting) pools, I think," Duke's Mike Krzyzewski said. "Although there are a number of their kids I'd like to have recruited. I can't remember me walking out of a recruit's door and Jerry walking in on a visit. Some kids may have had both schools on their list, however."

"Schools with great academies like a Duke or a Stanford have an advantage over us," UNLV's Jerry Tarkanian said.

"Our '86 team had incredible pressure on it from the first day to the last day. This team wasn't expected to do very much," Duke coach Mike Krzyzewski said in comparing his last championship-game team to the current one.

"Our '86 team was tired throughout March, except for (Johnny) Dawkins and (Tommy) Amaker. It was because the parents couldn't afford to make the trip.

"We got calls from Xerox and Tony Roma's asking if they could help fly parents in, but we can't do that," Tarkanian said. "That would be a violation."

Duke's preppie image contrasts with UNLV's gritty reputation. Not surprisingly, the coaching staffs rarely find themselves recruiting the same type of player.

"We're in different (recruiting) pools, I think," Duke's Mike Krzyzewski said. "Although there are a number of their kids I'd like to have recruited. I can't remember me walking out of a recruit's door and Jerry walking in on a visit. Some kids may have had both schools on their list, however."

"Schools with great academies like a Duke or a Stanford have an advantage over us," UNLV's Jerry Tarkanian said.

"Our '86 team had incredible pressure on it from the first day to the last day. This team wasn't expected to do very much," Duke coach Mike Krzyzewski said in comparing his last championship-game team to the current one.

"Our '86 team was tired throughout March, except for (Johnny) Dawkins and (Tommy) Amaker. It was because the parents couldn't afford to make the trip.

"We got calls from Xerox and Tony Roma's asking if they could help fly parents in, but we can't do that," Tarkanian said. "That would be a violation."

Duke's preppie image contrasts with UNLV's gritty reputation. Not surprisingly, the coaching staffs rarely find themselves recruiting the same type of player.

"We're in different (recruiting) pools, I think," Duke's Mike Krzyzewski said. "Although there are a number of their kids I'd like to have recruited. I can't remember me walking out of a recruit's door and Jerry walking in on a visit. Some kids may have had both schools on their list, however."

"Schools with great academies like a Duke or a Stanford have an advantage over us," UNLV's Jerry Tarkanian said.

"Our '86 team had incredible pressure on it from the first day to the last day. This team wasn't expected to do very much," Duke coach Mike Krzyzewski said in comparing his last championship-game team to the current one.

"Our '86 team was tired throughout March, except for (Johnny) Dawkins and (Tommy) Amaker. It was because the parents couldn't afford to make the trip.

"We got calls from Xerox and Tony Roma's asking if they could help fly parents in, but we can't do that," Tarkanian said. "That would be a violation."

Duke's preppie image contrasts with UNLV's gritty reputation. Not surprisingly, the coaching staffs rarely find themselves recruiting the same type of player.

"We're in different (recruiting) pools, I think," Duke's Mike Krzyzewski said. "Although there are a number of their kids I'd like to have recruited. I can't remember me walking out of a recruit's door and Jerry walking in on a visit. Some kids may have had both schools on their list, however."

"Schools with great academies like a Duke or a Stanford have an advantage over us," UNLV's Jerry Tarkanian said.
DENVER (AP) — Duke survived Arkansas' "Forty Minutes of Hell." Now, the Blue Devils are only one step away from ending their own hell in the Final Four.

Phil Henderson scored 28 points for the Blue Devils, who beat Arkansas 97-83 Saturday in a battle of conditioning and wills.

Not only did the altitude of this Mile High City take its toll on the players, but so did Arkansas' all-out running game, thus the Razorbacks' rallying cry: "Forty Minutes of Hell.

This time, though, those 40 minutes took a toll on Arkansas. Both Razorback centers played the entire second half in foul trouble. Starter Mario Credit fouled out with 6:22 to play and substitute Oliver Miller went out shortly thereafter, giving Duke a huge size advantage.

Wren Credit picked up his fifth foul against Christian Laettner, the score was tied at 77. Laettner, who had four fouls himself, hit the foul shot, and Duke led 78-77. The Blue Devils (29-8) outscored Arkansas 14-6 from that point for an 89-81 lead.

Now, they move into Monday night's NCAA title game with a chance to end a long string of failures. Duke has been to the Final Four eight times, including the last three seasons and four of the past five. Never, though, have the Blue Devils won a national title.

"But I think we're doing things the right way," Duke coach Mike Krzyzewski had said. This time, they did.

With Credit and Miller on the bench, the Blue Devils went to their own strong front line of Laettner and Alaa Abdelnaby. Laettner had 19 points and Abdelnaby 20.

Todd Day had 27 points for Arkansas (20-10), but was scoreless in the last 8:44, and Lenzie Howell had 18. The only other player in double figures was Lee Mayberry with 12. Miller finished with three and Abdelnaby had just five.

Twice, Arkansas trailed by 11 points and came back, the final time with 16:40 left in the game after Duke scored the first eight points of the second half. Arkansas ran off nine straight points to pull within two, and finally tied the score at 60 on Day's 3-pointer with 12:46 to play.

Howell's 3-pointer for Arkansas with 6:59 to play tied the score at 77, but the Blue Devils then outscored the Razorbacks 20-6 to end the game.

Abdelnaby scored six of Duke's points in a row as the Blue Devils took an 84-81 lead, then Henderson hit seven in a row for Duke, giving the Blue Devils a 93-83 lead.

DENVER (AP) — After playing 20 of its best minutes of the season against UNLV Saturday night, Georgia Tech played out of its worst.

The Yellow Jackets, leading 53-46 at halftime, missed eight of their first nine shots in the second half. They couldn't get back in it.

Arkansas (20-6) won 90-81 and advanced to Monday night's championship game against Duke.

It took Georgia Tech nearly six minutes to score its first basket of the second half, a driving layup by Brian Oliver that gave the Yellow Jackets their last lead of the game at 57-56. UNLV then scored seven straight points — on a 3-pointer by Frankie Apgar and layups by David Butler and Larry Johnson to take a 63-57 lead that Tech could not overcome.

"We kind of lost our composure at the start of the second half," Georgia Tech Bobby Cremins said. "UNLV completely took us out of our rhythm. They got in our jocks and we got rattled.

Tech's sharpshooting trio of Oliver, Dennis Scott and Kenny Anderson — known as "Ike, Butch, and Larry, Weapon 3" — were held to a total of 26 points after combining for 43 in the first half.

They played great defense in the second half," Scott said. "They denied me the ball.

Henderson leads Duke into final

REBELS TOP GEORGIA TECH 90-81

Pre-advance registration programs will be conducted for freshman in all college program areas on Tuesday, April 3, 1990. At each program complete information will be given on the advance registration procedures and on the sophomore year and its relationship to the degree program. The meeting places for the programs, according to college program area, are as follows:

ARTS AND LETTERS COLLEGE PROGRAMS (ALL, INCLUDING PREPROFESSIONAL)

Engineering (Cushing) Auditorium
A through K at 6:30 P.M.
L through Z at 8:00 P.M.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION COLLEGE PROGRAM

Hayes-Healy Auditorium
A through F at 6:30 to 7:20 P.M.
G through M at 7:30 to 8:20 P.M.
N through Z at 8:30 to 9:20 P.M.

ENGINEERING COLLEGE PROGRAMS (ALL PROGRAMS TO START AT 6:30 P.M.)

Aerospace
12 Aerospace Building (#75)
Architecture
206 Architecture Building
Chemical Engineering
120 Cushing Hall of Engineering
Civil Engineering
205 Cushing Hall of Engineering
Electrical and Computer Engineering
356 Fitzpatrick Hall of Engineering
Mechanical Engineering
224 Cushing Hall of Engineering

SCIENCE COLLEGE PROGRAMS (ALL PROGRAMS EXCEPT PHYSICS TO START AT 6:30 P.M.)

Biological Sciences
283 Galvin Life Science Center
Chemistry and Biochemistry
343 Nieuwland Science Hall
Earth Sciences
101 Earth Science Building
Mathematics
300 Computing Center and Math Building
Physics
284 Nieuwland Science (7:00 P.M.)
Preprofessional (all majors, this includes all Collegiate Sequence Majors.) SCIENCE ONLY
127 Nieuwland Science Hall

FINANCIAL AID INFORMATION — 5:30 P.M.

Engineering (Cushing) Auditorium

ALL FRESHMAN ARE REQUIRED TO ATTEND THE PROGRAM OF THE COLLEGE OR DEPARTMENT THEY INTEND TO ENTER IN THE SOPHOMORE YEAR.
Quartersbacks tested in scrimmage

Mirer, Kelchner, Poorman all get the chance to air it out

BY FRANK PASTOR
Associate Sports Editor

Lou Holtz expressed great concern over Notre Dame's quarterback situation following Sunday's scrimmage in Notre Dame Stadium, its first of the spring season.

And concerned he should be. For after announcing that he will start whoever can consistently put the ball in the end zone, Holtz watched George Poorman lead the Irish offense down the field on its first score of the day on Sunday.

Although Rick Mirer and Jake Kelchner have plenty of action in the scrimmage, it was Poorman, called the signal caller, who swept Dorsey Levens around out there. This was not, however, an effective defensive secondary for a 62-yard touchdown.

"We don't have a starting quarterback right now," Holtz said. "I look at how many times we put the ball in the end zone, and we've got to make better progress in that area."

Poorman, who is expected to replace departing Pat Terrell at free safety, began working at quarterback during Saturday's practice to give the Irish a third arm at the position. Walk-on Lamar Guillory, who had been practicing with the Irish quarterbacks during the first six spring dates, lined up at tailback in Sunday's scrimmage.

Raghib "Rocket" Ismail scored the only other touchdown of the day on an eight-yard run up the middle in a fourth-and-one situation. The score was set up by Mirer completions to tight end Derek Brown for 13 yards and Ismail for nine.

Mier, working primarily against the second-team defense, completed 13-of-22 passes for 102 yards. Kelchner connected on 8-of-9 attempts for 72 yards but struggled with the option game and was involved in a couple of backfield mixups.

"Our quarterbacks are young," Holtz said. "They're doing some things in practice, but it's what's done on the field that counts.

"Jake threw the ball better today than in practice. He's a tough kid, but he's got to keep improving."

Counting Poorman's three attempts (he completed two for 17 yards), the Irish quarterbacks put the ball in the air 23 times on Sunday, 21 more than the 12 passes per game Tony Rice averaged the past two seasons.

Notre Dame's passing game did not go unchecked, however. As most of the completions were inside the 10-15 yard range, Split end William Pollard led all receivers with three catches for 32 yards. Tight end Derek Brown caught three passes for 29 yards. Ricky Walters also pulled down three passes for 25 yards and Levens had three catches for 22 yards.

One area that excited Holtz was the hitting displayed by the Irish defense. Rush end Scott Kowalski and nose tackle Chris Zorich each recorded sacks, and defensive end Shawn Smith stopped Kelchner short on a fourth-and-one run.

"The hitting was good," Holtz said. "Our guys really fly around out there. This was not a place for people to test their courage."

"Let just say Alice in Wonderland didn't come by here to pick up people for her trip."

Linebackers Demetrius Du-Bose and Randy Scannas paraded the Irish defense with nine tackles apiece. Michael Stonebreaker and drop end Andre Jones each had seven tackles, while Kowalski compiled six, including one for a three-yard loss and a sack for minus-10 yards.

Running backs Levens, Kenny Spears and Randy Setzer were able to withstand the pounding and take advantage of California's absence to tighten the competition at tailback. Levens amassed 108 yards on nine carries, Spears gained 68 yards on 15 attempts and Setzer carried the ball 13 times for 34 yards.

"Levens made some fine plays," Holtz said. "Where we are at quarterback concerns me, but to see Spears, Levens and Setzer run so well is good."

NOTES: Junior fullbacks Rod Culver (sprained knee) and Walter Boyd (sprained knee and ankle), both injured last week, walked the stadium steps during practice...They were later pressed into service as yardage movers for the scrimmage.

SEVEN TASTY WAYS TO IMPROVE A COLLEGE EDUCATION.

Mon.

BEAT THE CLOCK
Order 1 large original pizza with 2 toppings and 1/2 price on the clock is the time the order must be in the kitchen. Offer valid Monday's only.
OFFER EXPIRES: 6/30/90

Tues.

TRIPLE TUESDAY
Present this coupon and receive 1 large cheese pizza for $2.99. Additional toppings available at additional charge. Offer valid Tuesday's only.
OFFER EXPIRES: 6/30/90

Wed.

DOUBLE FEATURE
Present this coupon and receive 1 small original pepperoni pizza for $2.99. Additional toppings available at additional charge.
OFFER EXPIRES: 6/30/90

Thurs.

THICK THURSDAY
Present this coupon and receive 1 large pepperoni pizza in cheese free, or a small cheese pizza at half price. Offer valid Thursday's only.
OFFER EXPIRES: 6/30/90

Fri.

DOUBLE DINNER DEAL
Present this coupon and receive 3-1/2" original pizzas and 2 COKES for $11.49.
Offer valid Friday's only.
OFFER EXPIRES: 6/30/90

Sat.

ON THE ROOFTOP PATIO OR IN THE LANTERN ROOM...

CALL US!
271-0300
1835 South Bend Ave.

It's a pizza lover's dream come true. Every day this week, you can get a special offer from Domino's Pizza! Whether it's extra crust or a free small cheese pizza, there's more reasons to make this the week for a special treat from Domino's Pizza. So why not give us a call? It's 30 minutes or less, you'll see why this is the week you've been waiting for.

CALL US!
271-0300
1835 South Bend Ave.

The Observer Monday, April 2, 1990

George Poorman (27), shown here on defense, quarterbacked a scoring drive in this weekend's scrimmage. Poorman, Rick Mirer and Jake Kelchner saw time at the quarterback spot.

SEVEN TASTY WAYS TO IMPROVE A COLLEGE EDUCATION.
Monday, April 2, 1990

Lecture Circuit

4:30 p.m. Lecture: "Recent Results on Classical and Chevalley Groups over Rings.," Nikolai Vavilov, Leningrad State University. Room 226 Math Building, Coffee 4:00 Room 201. Sponsored by Department of Mathematics.

7:30 p.m. Lecture: "Re-reading History: Sophie Drinker's History of Music," Ruth Solie, Smith College. Room 122 Crowley Hall. Sponsored by Department of Music.

Campus

7:00 p.m. Film, "Potemkin." Annenberg Auditorium. Sponsored by ND Communication and Theatre. Admission.

Tuesday

Menus

Notre Dame

Roast Pork loin w/Apples
Tarkney Noodle Casserole
Meatless Baked Ziti
Gyro

---

Calvin and Hobbes

Bill Wattersson

---

The Far Side

Gary Larson

---

SPELUNKER

Jay Hosler

---

SUB Positions for:

Relations

Marketing and Publicity

Assistant Controllers

Job descriptions and applications available on 2nd floor LaFortune

Due April 6

---

Environment Week

"Conspiracy against America: Toxic Waste"

Lecture by investigative journalist Karl Grossman

Monday, April 2

8 p.m.

Library Auditorium
Bookstore kicks off with Parts Unknown vs. Celebrity All-Stars

By KEN TYSIAC
Associate Sports Editor

Bookstore Basketball XIX got underway Friday afternoon with the Hall of Fame game and continued throughout the weekend as preliminary round action began on Saturday afternoon. The Celebrity All-Stars won the Hall of Fame contest by a score of 21-2 in possibly the strangest basketball game ever seen on this campus. While All-Stars Derrick Johnson and Tony Rice were feeding each other alley-oops, their opponents, Mr. X1, Mr. X2, Mr. X3, Mr. X4 and Mr. X5 of Parts Unknown, Weight Unknown fought back with unconventional methods. Parts Unknown, which wore ski masks and warmed up for the game by dunking oranges through a Nerf hoop, tried to rattle the All-Stars by bringing in the strangest basketball game ever with a school-record 30 points in a 21-2 victory.

"Our tallest guy was 5-10, and their guys must have averaged 6-7," said the Boyz' Bob Mitchell. "All we could do was pass it around the perimeter and shoot from 30 feet. With four engineers and a business geek as our opponents, we thought we were in good shape, but when we saw them, we thought otherwise."

Other overtime contests included a 22-20 victory by The OddKnfe The Injured over Total age 190, Gonna’s 22-20 triumph over Scarlet Pumpernickels and a 24-22 win for More Gonna’s. In the game against Illinois, in which the Irish defeated the Billikens 5-0, "We didn’t get into any vio­lence," explained John Stoj of the losing squad. "They were bigger than we were."

"It was pretty a pretty brutal game, but we really didn’t even deserve to win," said John Brezny of War Pigs, who with his tongue planted firmly in cheek insisted that his club is a Sweet 16 caliber team.

The disappointment at the torrents was the Saturday afternoon contest versus St. Louis, in which the Irish de­feated the Billikens 5-4.

In the game against Illinois, rain started falling almost with the first pitch. The two teams did manage to make it through the top of the second inning before the game was called. "Getting rained out is very frustrating, but it happens to everybody," said Head Coach Pat Murphy. "We just need to stay focused, just roll with it. It just means we have more games to make up now.""The disappointment at the rainouts was even more acute because the Irish were playing a nationally ranked team on ESPN. They had jumped to a 2-0 lead in the bottom of the first against Illinois, ranked 14th in the nation, but the game was lost to be Rain fell and the Irish lost a great opportunity."The games against St. Louis scheduled for Sunday were can­celled because the field condi­tions, due to excessive mois­ture, were unsuitable for play. Both Coveleski and Notre Dame’s own Jake Kline Field saw RAIN / page 12

UNLV takes on Duke for tournament crown

DENVER (AP) — It’s Nevada­Las Vegas against Duke. Not only will it produce a national basketball champion, but it also could produce one of the highest-scoring games in Final Four history.

Between them, UNLV and Duke scored 187 points Saturday. The NCAA Final Four record for points by two teams in one game is 197 by UCLA (104) and Wichita State (93) in the 1965 semifinals.

Nevada-Las Vegas averaged 93.2 points per game this sea­son, while Duke averaged 89.3 with a school-record 10 games of 100 or more points.

Both teams feature big strong front lines with fine shooting guards that pose 3-point threats. Although UNLV probably tends to run a little more than Duke, both teams are capable of pushing the ball up the floor.

Perhaps the greatest differ­ence between the two teams is Final Four experience. UNLV has been to the Final Four twice, the last time in 1987. Duke has been to eight Final Fours, including an intense matchup between the two. Perhaps the greatest difference between the two teams is Final Four experience. UNLV has been to the Final Four twice, the last time in 1987. Duke has been to eight Final Fours, including the last three and four of the past five.

"I don’t know if we have any advantage because of being in the Final Four, but where our experience comes in is that we’ve been in tough games all season," Duke coach Mike Krzyzewski said. "Our confer­encing advantage to secure a 23-21 victory.

The disappointment at the rainouts was even more acute because the Irish were playing a nationally ranked team on ESPN. They had jumped to a 2-0 lead in the bottom of the first against Illinois, ranked 14th in the nation, but the game was lost to be Rain fell and the Irish lost a great opportunity."

"The games against St. Louis scheduled for Sunday were can­celled because the field condi­tions, due to excessive mois­ture, were unsuitable for play. Both Coveleski and Notre Dame’s own Jake Kline Field

The Observer / Andrew McCloskey of Fame game, kicking off Bookstore Basketball XIX.

"Our tallest guy was 5-10, and their guys must have averaged 6-7," said the Boyz’ Bob Mitchell. "All we could do was pass it around the perimeter and shoot from 30 feet. With four engineers and a business geek as our opponents, we thought we were in good shape, but when we saw them, we thought otherwise."

Other overtime contests included a 22-20 victory by The OddKnfe The Injured over Total age 190, Gonna’s 22-20 triumph over Scarlet Pumpernickels and a 24-22 win for More Gonna’s. In the game against Illinois, in which the Irish defeated the Billikens 5-0, "We didn’t get into any vio­lence," explained John Stoj of the losing squad. "They were bigger than we were."

"It was pretty a pretty brutal game, but we really didn’t even deserve to win," said John Brezny of War Pigs, who with his tongue planted firmly in cheek insisted that his club is a Sweet 16 caliber team.

The disappointment at the torrents was the Saturday afternoon contest versus St. Louis, in which the Irish de­feated the Billikens 5-4.

In the game against Illinois, rain started falling almost with the first pitch. The two teams did manage to make it through the top of the second inning before the game was called. "Getting rained out is very frustrating, but it happens to everybody," said Head Coach Pat Murphy. "We just need to stay focused, just roll with it. It just means we have more games to make up now.""The disappointment at the rainouts was even more acute because the Irish were playing a nationally ranked team on ESPN. They had jumped to a 2-0 lead in the bottom of the first against Illinois, ranked 14th in the nation, but the game was lost to be Rain fell and the Irish lost a great opportunity."The games against St. Louis scheduled for Sunday were can­celled because the field condi­tions, due to excessive mois­ture, were unsuitable for play. Both Coveleski and Notre Dame’s own Jake Kline Field
CONDOM-SHAPED SPACECRAFT ZAPS BAND BUILDING!

WEEKLY NOTRE DAME NEWS

April 1, 1990

ASTOUNDING CONFESSION!

'I’m the love child of Elvis and Liz'
- Monk

EXCLUSIVE!
PREDICTIONS FOR 2093

AMAZING MEDICAL DISCOVERY!!!

Fr. Griff and Ann Pettifer Siamese Twins Separated at Birth

SEX CHANGE
Zorich + Sweden = Woman

Holtz, team ponder eligibility

TOUCHDOWN TRUMP –

After Vision, Don Gives ND More Than Ivana!!!

NOTRE DAME
infested with spy ring
Dialogue Exposes Squirrel Spy Ring

Dialogue magazine, well known for its investigative journalism, has uncovered a secret police organization comprised of none other than the squirrels! Dialogue confronts the University of Notre Dame with this startling, new, exclusive photo of 60 foot trees outside of Grace and Planter halls to "beautify that section of the campus."

EXCLUSIVE PHOTO!!!

Loch Ness-type monster topples boats in Lake

For weeks scientists from around the world have suspected that a prehistoric monster lives in St. Joseph's lake. Now with this startling, new, exclusive photo obtained by the staff of the WNDN there is positive proof that such a monster exists.

LIZ AND ELVIS GIVE BIRTH TO 'MONK' IN VEGAS

Notre Dame was rocked yesterday when Monk Malloy, university president, made his astonishing confession: "I am the love child of Elvis and Liz Taylor!"

Monk called a news conference to announce his amazing origins after the world learned that Monk's amazing acumen as Investigative Reporter for Dialogue magazine, well known for exposing everything you have said to the Office of Student Affairs. Dialogue claims that the squirrels reported back to Tyson's office later issued a statement saying "beautify that section of the campus."

Dialogue magazine, well known for its investigative journalism, has uncovered a secret police organization comprised of none other than the squirrels! Dialogue confronts the University of Notre Dame with this startling, new, exclusive photo of 60 foot trees outside of Grace and Planter halls to "beautify that section of the campus."

TWINS?!

Ann Firth
John Gaski
Sydney Biddle Barrows
Tom Cruise
Father Miceli
Vishwanath Pratap Singh
Dick Cheney
James Watt
John Ehrmann
Charles Manson

Vision forces Trump to donate $40 mil to Notre Dame

It was announced today that Donald Trump donated $40 million to build a Trump Tower luxury hotel and casino on the new DeBartolo "Mob" quad.

"We are happy, in the Year of the Family, to accept such a generous donation from a man who represents traditional family values, honor and honesty in short, everything ND stands for," said University President Father Edward Malloy.

The new building, sporting a mural to be called "Touchdown Trump," will house a luxury casino and hotel.

Other donations have allowed the University to create several new endowed chairs. Malloy announced the following new chairs: The P.W. de Klerk Chair in the Black Studies Program, the Ivan Boesky Chair in Business Ethics, the Leona Helmsley Chair in Accounting, the Hanks Shamir Chair in Arab-Israeli Studies, the Tisch Chair in the Mexico Program, and the Rob Pasin/Richard M. "Tricky Dick" Nixon Chair in Governmental Ethics.

Lighten UP!!

This is a joke, this is only a joke. It is a test of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's sense of humor. Well we're kind of sorry if you were offended, but in the future please learn to laugh. If you feel you were picked on too much maybe you should clue in - you probably deserved it. Happy April Fool's Day!
ZAP!!!
ZAP!!!
ZAP!!!

The last smoldering bricks of what used to be the band building give testimony to the power of the alien death ray which razed the building and sucked up scores of horrified onlookers.

SPACESHIP BLASTS BAND BUILDING

Band members returned dazed from wild ride

By Ramzes X. Tra

Hundreds of Notre Dame students frozen in fear stood in awe as they witnessed the abduction of old band building by aliens from outer space.

Scientists rushed to the scene by a top-secret division of the newly formed international intelligence group, E.R.E.C.T., were startled by the events at Notre Dame.

E.R.E.C.T. refused to comment at this time but said it would be holding a press conference later. They did, however, reveal that the spaceship was being reclassified from a UFO to a Spermicidal Condom (USC).

The recent rash of condom-shaped spaceship sightings prompted to formation of the USC category. Researchers said they would have sent the special super-duper, top secret USC investigation team but no one on Earth could identify exactly what the spaceship looked like.

The shape was, at first, only loosely described as long, round, and “sort-of” pointed. Students were unable to correctly identify it until investigators showed them pictures of previous sightings of the condom-shaped craft. Researchers stressed the importance of distinguishing it from other types of long and round UFO’s such as the popular vibrator variety.

Researchers were stunned by the astonishing number of students that had never seen a prophylactic before. “It was turning into a sex ed class,” doctors said.

In addition to the spectators several band members were questioned concerning their wild ride around the universe. The aliens inexplicably beamed only the tuba section aboard their ship, an action that still has scientists baffled.

But the players told of conversing with the aliens by playing music on their tubas. “It was right out of Close Encounters,” they said. Several noticed Elvis, Mozart, and Beethoven playing tubas with the aliens.

Musical experts later identified the tune as that of the USC fight song. “Beethoven must have composed that crap, the only guy who could like that song would have to be deaf,” band members exclaimed.

In an even stranger twist of events, ERECT was later forced to relinquish control of the investigation to ND Security. “Now the Berlin Wall has fallen, their borders are the most secure in the world. Have you ever tried to get on campus with a key? They’re even more secretive than we are.” ERECT sources remarked about the transfer of power.

Notre Dame Security denied the catastrophe and said that the entire investigation had been turned over to the Office of Student Affairs. “We wouldn’t want the truth to get out ‘cause that would give Notre Dame a bad name,” confided Phil Johnson of ND Security.

Under pressure from the NEWS, Fr. Tyson held a press conference to explain the situation. “I don’t give a sh%# about the band building, all I know is they missed my office by only 200 yards!” Tyson cursed.

Confidential sources revealed that Tyson has been receiving threats from the aliens for many years and may have been their target. In an effort to provide a getaway in the future, administration sources said that the extra $10 million from NBC would be used as a down payment on a Stealth Fighter.

Letters from an amazed God!

SIAMESE TWINS SEPARATED

Unamed-sources have revealed a shocking secret about Notre Dame’s hottest couple.

While they’ve been busy oozing sexuality on the dance floor they’ve also been covering up their past together: Griffin and Pettifer are really Siamese twins, joined at the hip at birth and separated after five grueling days in the operating theater.

Griffin and Pettifer were reunited last fall when they were teamed up as partners of the hot and spicy Lambada dance. Their set won great acclaim from the students—both on and off the dance floor.

“I can’t think of telepathy between them, an intimacy that transcended the spoken word. A kind of intimacy that exists between people of one heart, one mind and one soul,” said Notre Dame student and diehard Lambada fan Melissa Smith. “And one body, too. I guess there was more to the chemistry between them than met the eye.”

The scandal rocked Notre Dame campus and shattered the cult of followers the two had gathered.

“T.C.C. was a kind of telepathy between them, an intimacy that transcended the spoken word. A kind of intimacy that exists between people of one heart, one mind and one soul,” said Notre Dame student and diehard Lambada fan Melissa Smith. “And one body, too. I guess there was more to the chemistry between them than met the eye.”

The scandal rocked Notre Dame campus and shattered the cult of followers the two had gathered.

“I’m just glad to have it out into the open. These past few weeks have been hell, worrying about whether members of the community, and especially our dear fans, would find out,” said Griffin.

Despite cries of incest, the two were adamant about staying together and facing the music. “We lost so many years together because of our cruel separation that we cannot bear to be apart for another moment,” said Pettifer. “Of course we are sorry for the devastation we have wreaked on the number of people who looked up to us as role models and placed their trust in us, but we hope they can understand that love transcends all barriers and cannot be denied.”

“Dancing in the face of such adversity will add new depth and unexplored passion to our performance,” added Griffin.

“I don’t know what got into them,” said University President Monck Malloy. “It’s bad enough that I have to deal with these faires in dresses on my administration who scream and run at the sight of a snowball. Now I have to cope with incest! I thought that was the one goddamn thing no one on this campus had tried yet.”

10% of Notre Dame students are Gay

10% of Notre Dame students are in ROTC

Who’s Abnormal?

If you’re in ROTC, you’re bound to hear a good number of people say that you’re “abnor­mal.”

Being in ROTC isn’t some aberration that occurs from childhood as a military brat or a lack of ability to get another job. It’s just one of nature’s varia­tions on a theme, like liberalism.

Notre Dame’s ROTC students don’t ask for much. Just for people to realize that if their guns accidentally go off on the quad and kill your friend, we still deserve respect. And we’re not abnormal.
Zorich to undergo sex change!

'I've always wanted to be a cheerleader'

by D. O. NYKilimemplease

The Office of Sports Information confirmed today what reporters have been gossiping about for weeks: Chris Zorich is undergoing a sex change operation by Swedish doctors at the infirmary.

Zorich, the 6'1" 266 noseguard for the Irish football team became bored with his present identity during some of the less exciting games this year.

Zorich's extraordinary playing ability has made him a necessary member of the starting lineup for most of the year, but during some of the less strenuous games this year Zorich got a taste of spectating. Zorich was reportedly never happier than when he enthusiastically cheered on his fellow players during ND's blowout of SMU.

"It was during that [SMU] game that I first got a taste of cheerleading. I knew then I wanted to be a ND cheerleader, after all the Miami player are the best cheerleaders in college football," Zorich said.

Several members of the starting lineup for most of the year, but during some of the less exciting games this year.

"I really am excited about Chris joining the squad. I'm just kind of worried about finding someone to lift and catch him," said Keileen Phelan the other captain for the 1990-91 cheerleading squad.

"I've always wanted to be a cheerleader," said Zorich "I just think we'd better get married right now." She said she would wear a cheerleader's uniform and the winner, "for Runaway Teens in the first year, although they would obviously like to see more of him in the field than off of it. "Chris has been an outstanding contributor to the team this year, and they call him the human groundhog, so I guess he can do a "somersault," said Head Coach Lou Holtz.

Zorich expressed a desire to change the uniforms of the female cheerleaders to a tropical print that would expose a cheerleader's stomach "for a better tan line."

The current cheerleading captain Don Gomez was both excited and mystified by Zorich's desire to join the squad, but claimed there would definitely be room for the popular campus figure.

"I really am excited about Chris joining the squad. I'm just kind of worried about finding someone to lift and catch him," said Keileen Phelan the other captain for the 1990-91 cheerleading squad.

Zorich said Friday that he would be happy to "play the guy cheerleader if no one on the squad was strong enough."

"The Hey, we're going to beat the Heck out of you! cheer might be a little more menacing now with Zorich on the squad," said fellow cheerleader Don Stager.

Notre Dame signs million-dollar ESPN deal

Digger brings in the bucks to keep the basketball team off the air

ESPN, in what is believed to be the biggest deal of its kind in history, today agreed to pay the Notre Dame basketball program an estimated $35 million over the next five years to guarantee that none of Notre Dame's home games will ever be broadcast on television.

"We feel it was our civic duty to make sure that the nation won't have to watch Notre Dame lose game after game," said ESPN President John Phelps.

Controversy has already arisen over the proposed deal. Other members of the NCAA have protested the decision. In an announcement in Laurence, Kansas, the athletic director of Kansas University threatened to resume the Notre Dame-Kansas basketball contract if the ESPN deal wasn't called off.

Several members of the NCAA, including DePaul University and Marquette University, said they felt the deal wasn't fair. DePaul head basketball coach Joe Meyer whitened, "After all, we're every bit as bad as Notre Dame. Don't we deserve the money?"

Notre Dame head coach Digger Phelps responded to the new contract, saying "Oh, goodie. People don't watch us anyway. At least we'll be able to continue recruiting high-quality players.

BLUE JOGGER IDENTIFIED!

In what was termed its biggest investigation in history, Notre Dame Security today announced the arrest of the so-called "Blue Jogger," who had been terrifying female Notre Dame students by touching them inappropriately.

"I can't believe it was Tuthill" -Rex Rakow

"I can't believe it was Tuthill all along," said Rex Rakow, director of security. Rakow did, however, point out that Tuthill carries a concentration in philosophy.

"Maybe it was some sort of class project. Or maybe that's just what they're all into over there," Rakow continued.

Security believes Tuthill may have used the jogging suit play in order to attract athletic football players who are reputed to make the sophomore's liver quiver.

Zorzo's New Look: A sleek, feminine figure

Some People Think Gays are Crazy and Like to Wear Dresses

Underneath their fool­ish renouns are sheer closedmindedness. Dangerous closedmind­enedness. The Administration is wag­ing a campaign of total control over the Notre Dame students. And now they want you on their side.

Gay people may wear dresses, but we're far less dangerous than the men pictured at left.

Will you continue to wage a useless war against us? Or will you join us in saying the administration should "live and let live?"

After all, we aren't the only ones in dresses.