ND freshmen class: 'most talented ever'

By MONICA YANT
Assistant News Editor

Although the applicant pool for the class of 1994 was about 800 students fewer than last year, the Director of Undergraduate Admissions Kevin Rooney called this year's freshmen "the most academically-talented class ever.

The University received 9125 applications for the approximately 1810 positions in the freshman class, Rooney said. The admission of such an academically-talented freshman class makes the present student body "the strongest four classes we've ever had at the University," Rooney said.

The average applicant ranked 1220 on the SAT. Male-to-female ratio marks a four year increase in female enrollment to the 37 percent mark, Rooney said. The average freshman ranked 1160 on the SAT.

The class of 1994 also maintained similar geographical representation as previous years. The two largest feeder areas were the Midwest and Northeast, with 41 and 40 percent respectively. The geographic breakdown includes:

- 11 percent from the South
- Nine percent from the West
- Seven percent from the Southwest
- Two percent from abroad

Children of alumni number 25 percent of the freshman class. Rooney explained that alumni applicants compete with each other for a certain number of spots each year. "It's easier to make it (the acceptance) as an alumni child," he said.

The foundation and footings for the Edward DeBartolo Classroom Facility, the most expensive building to be constructed by the University, have begun. A new carillon is being added. Murals were also insulated and air-conditioning were added. The repairs took a total of six years and some of the stained glass windows are not quite finished, said Dedrick.

Three buildings will house the Institute for International Studies and the Kellogg Center for International Studies, at a cost of $10.3 million, Conklin said.

Two other buildings are in the planning stage, according to Dedrick. They include the College of Business Administration and the Marie DeBartolo Performing Arts center.

The Theodore Hesburgh Library is scheduled to be finished in the summer of 1992, and the Hesburgh Center is scheduled for completion by January 1, 1991, said Conklin.

Construction on ND totals $60 million

460 new students at Saint Mary's

By CATHERINE KANE
News Writer

Saint Mary's begins the 1990-1991 academic year with 460 new students, 40 of those being transfer students.

The College received 1030 applicants last spring, a slightly smaller number than that of the previous year. According to Admissions Director Mary Ann Rowan.

The smaller class size guaranteed housing to all of the incoming students. Last year nine freshmen began the year in temporary housing.

The new freshmen come from 37 states and 3 foreign countries.

Rowan said that the class is "academically strong and contains a significant number of leaders," many of whom are presidents and co-presidents in high school.

Twenty-five percent of the incoming freshmen were in the top 10 percent of their high school classes, and one-half were in the top 20 percent.

The class of 1994 also maintained 63 to 37 percent, which is the third year for this figure.

Minority enrollment constitutes 15 percent of the freshmen. This figure represents the second largest group of minorities in the University's history, trailing last year by only one percent.

The University had previously set a goal of reaching 15 percent minority enrollment in each class by 1991, according to Rooney. He noted that the Admissions Office met this goal in both 1989 and 1990, a full year ahead of schedule.

The geographic breakdown includes:

- 11 percent from the South
- Nine percent from the West
- Seven percent from the Southwest
- Two percent from abroad

Children of alumni number 25 percent of the freshman class.

Rooney explained that alumni applicants compete with each other for a certain number of spots each year.

"It's easier to make it as an alumni child," he said.

The Stained Glass windows are not quite finished, said Dedrick.

The Theodore Hesburgh Library is scheduled to be finished in the summer of 1992, and the Hesburgh Center is scheduled for completion by January 1, 1991, said Conklin.

Extensive restoration on Sacred Heart church has been completed. The repairs took a total of six years and some of the stained glass windows are not quite finished, said Dedrick.

New pews, a new slate roof, insulation and air-conditioning were added. Murals were also restored and humidity and temperature controls were installed to prevent them from deteriorating.

A new carillon is a further addition, he said.

You've received enough mail from the University to keep the home fires burning for months while your parents eagerly await your return: lots of friendly, personal "Welcome to the Class of 1994" letters welcoming you, the newest members of the Notre Dame family, to God's campus (you didn't know he funded the new quad?) and the home of the Fighting Irish. Contrary to expectations, you've passed Phase I, the admissions process, which entitles you to receive these generous welcomes.

Now you've graduated to Phase II. Translation: Over the next year you will learn to read between the lines. I'd now like to offer you a push in the right direction by sharing my own somewhat cynical, definitely tongue-in-cheek observations about life under the Dome.

"Welcome to the Class of 1994" loosely translates to "We have selected you to pay astronomical sums of money for a diploma you will receive in four years' time. In the meantime, feel free to hang out on our campus and enjoy yourself."

"It is essential to think long and hard before selecting a major in order to choose the one that best suits your talents and interests." Remember, you can only drop out of two classes before you fall behind and are forced to fork out for an extra semester.

"Alcohol is permissible behind closed doors." We know, of course, that as upstanding Catholic citizens you will not touch doors. "We know, of course, that as upstanding Catholic citizens you will not touch doors."

"Class participation is strongly encouraged." Learn to fall asleep with your eyes open. Your final grade depends on it.

"If you encounter difficulties with your roommate, don't worry, it is possible to make a switch." If your father is a trustee, that is.

"Late work is unacceptable." Kill your dog and produce the corpse if you can't do the homework already there.

"Students are expected to report violations of the Honor Code." That really won't be necessary since all exams are still proctored. Tell your roommate to watch your desk and whisper "HONOR!" if you want to throw off the honor cop next to you.

"You should expect to study about 50 hours a week." (take two aspirin and read on): Divided by 5.

"We are ND.": We're in this together. A healthy dose of cynicism never hurt anyone, but don't forget to have fun here also.

Student Government starts new orientation program

By KELLEY TUTHILL
News Editor

Student government is sponsoring a new program called Guidance and Orientation for Long-term Development (GOLD) that helps make the transition to Notre Dame a little easier for freshmen.

One hundred freshmen have been selected to take part in this year's pilot program, said Scott Boehnen, one of the organizers of the program. Lynn Ramsay, another program organizer, chose the students and worked to ensure that there would be a heterogeneous group.

Ramsay said Freshman Year of Studies sent her a list of freshmen that included the students' race, gender and geographical background. From that list Ramsay said she was able to select a group of "typical Notre Dame students."

The students have been broken down into groups of ten. Eleven upperclassmen "facilitators" will serve as group coordinators. Two of the upperclassmen will work as a team, said Melissa Smith, another program leader.

During the summer the students were notified that they had been selected to participate in the program, Ramsay said. Eileen Kolman, dean of the Freshman Year of Studies, called the program the result of "fine initiative on the part of upperclass students." She said she hopes the program is successful and continues to expand in the future.

The goals of the program are "to promote social interaction, to provide informal peer guidance, and to stimulate intellectual growth among freshmen," according to a GOLD purpose statement. "We are not trying to take See GOLD / page 5
SMC leaders seek to bridge ND/SMC gap

Saint Mary's student government is committed to improving relations between Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students during the 1990-91 academic year.

Maggie Belin, vice president of academic affairs and college relations, said that the leaders of the student government also hope to sponsor "more major events on campus, such as bringing bands to campus.

Student government is sponsoring a picnic for Saint Mary's and Notre Dame freshmen women at Saint Mary's on Monday at 4 p.m. in front of Haggar College Center.

"We are trying to promote friendship between the two groups of women before negative stereotypes are created," said Belin.

In addition, Belin said that student government is trying to build a feeling of community on the campus. "We are promoting Saint Mary's as a woman's college.

All are welcome to attend the first Board of Governance meeting is Wednesday, Sept. 5 at 6 p.m. in Room 306 of Haggar College Center.

To learn more about student government and other campus clubs and organizations, freshmen are encouraged to attend Activities Night on Sept. 6. Belin said there will be more information about location and time available in the near future.

Students are also welcome to stop by student government offices located on the third floor of Haggar College Center. Office hours are Monday and Tuesday, 2 to 4 p.m. and Thursday, 4 to 6 p.m.

The Coming of the Quad

The Theodore Hesburgh Center for International Studies emerges on the new quad as construction gets underway this fall. The center is scheduled to open January 1, 1991.
transfers, according to Susan Joyce, assistant director of Undergraduate Admissions.

Only six females remain on the waiting list, according to Reinebold. She explained that transfer students are placed in various dorms, as openings occur.

She said that in the coming days her office may receive word of students who have opted to live off-campus, which would allow transfers to be placed in those open dorm rooms.

"As soon as we find empty beds, we'll call them (transfers on the waiting list) right away," she said.

Transfer students are usually equally divided between sophomore and juniors, according to Rooney. However, there is no quota system for male-female ratios, as in freshmen admissions, he said.

The ratio of males to females in the transfer applicant pool generally numbers 3-to-2. Those admitted are "roughly the same 60-40 ratio," Rooney said.

Although the grade requirement for transfer applicants is a minimum of 3.0, "most typically have about a 3.5," according to Rooney.

Transfer orientation is following the same format as last year, according to Craig Tiller, transfer orientation committee chairman.

"We're putting more of an emphasis on the social picture," he said. The orientation has evolved from a luncheon and academic advising to four days of activities designed to help transfers interact with each other socially.

Transfers enter Notre Dame

By MONICA YANT

Assistant News Editor

Almost 200 transfer and re-admitted students will join the Notre Dame family this year, according to Kevin Rooney, director of Undergraduate Admissions.

Out of about 700 applicants, 144 were admitted as transfers. An additional 46 will return to ND as re-admitted students, he said.

Re-admitted students are those who have left the University for reasons such as work experiences or studying abroad on programs not sponsored by Notre Dame.

Transfer students apply directly to the college of their choice. Rooney said the largest group, 85 students, was admitted into the College of Business Administration.

The College of Arts and Letters received 62 transfers, while the College of Engineering gained 23 students. The College of Science added 20 students, he said.

Providing on-campus housing for transfers students has been typically difficult in the past, Rooney said. "Some gained housing," he said, "but in most years they do not."

Forty female transfer students were a not as lucky. Forty-nine males who were placed on a waiting list last year were granted on-campus housing this year. This leaves 109 male transfers from both this year and last year on a combined waiting list, Reinebold said.

Part of the male housing problem can be attributed to the closing of Holy Cross Hall, which formerly housed many transfers, according to Susan Joyce, assistant director of Undergraduate Admissions.

ND wins university relations programming award

Special to the Observer

For the third year in a row, the University of Notre Dame has received a top award for University Relations programming in national college and university competition.

The University received a bronze medal for general program excellence in public and alumni relations, financial support, and communications, including electronic media, publishing and design.

The medal is the sixth for general program excellence won by Notre Dame's University Relations Division in ten years. The division received gold medals in 1988 and 1989, bronze awards in 1980 and 1983, and a silver medal in 1982. The only school with a better record is Brown University.

Circus to perform at University

By KEVALEEN RYAN
News Writer

The Royal Lichtenstein Quarter Ring Circus, scheduled to perform Tuesday, August 28, from noon to 1 p.m. at the Fieldhouse Mall, is more than just a side show. It's a circus with a twist of faith.

This "world's smallest complete circus" features only six members who are responsible for the usual ensemble juggling, acrobats, magic and minstrels; who perform with exotic animals; but who also deliver a message.

Surprisingly, the menagerie is headed up by ringmaster and founder Father Nick Weber, a Jesuit priest who, along with his comic performances, incorporates comments on contemporary issues and messages of faith.

According to her, "He (Weber) was always interested in drama ... in this way he has accomplished an integration of his love of art and his ministry."

In one of his previous visits Weber told The Observer that, "To be a priest, you don't have to be a clown. To be a clown, you don't have to be a priest. But to be me, you have to be both priest and clown."

Because surprise is essential to the program, a detailed list of the animals used is never released. However, in recent years, the act has included everything from a miniature stallion to bears to spider monkeys.

Participants in the upcoming production incorporate Joe Reichlin, veteran wire dancer; Darren Peterson, juggler and unicyclist; Bill Tomber, comic equilibrist; Eric Mason, daredevil of the aerial bar, and foot juggler James Myers.

The circus is sponsored by the CSC, Campus Ministry and Student Government.

Wetherbee to be awarded for exemplary service

Special to the Observer

Commander James Wetherbee, U.S.N., American astronaut and Notre Dame's first graduate to make a space flight, will receive the Rev. William Corby, C.S.C. Award from the Notre Dame Alumni Association.

Wetherbee, a 1974 Notre Dame graduate who majored in aerospace engineering, was pilot of the space shuttle Columbia during its mission January 9-20 of this year. Among Wetherbee's personal effects during the mission was the University's Laetare Medal of 1925. The University's highest honor and the most prestigious award given to Catholic Americans, the Laetare Medal was presented that year to Albert F. Zahm, a professor of mathematics and a pioneer of aeronautical study.

The Corby Award is given annually by the Alumni Association to a graduate who has done exemplary service in the nation's armed forces. It memorializes a Holy Cross priest who served as Notre Dame's third and sixth president. Father Corby was among the seven priests from Notre Dame to serve the Union Army as chaplains during the Civil War. He is particularly remembered for his ministry among Catholic Union soldiers during the battle of Gettysburg, where he imparted a general absolution to members of New York's Irish Brigade.

Wetherbee will receive the Corby Award during halftime ceremonies of the Notre Dame vs. Air Force football game October 13.

Holy Cross appoints acting president

The Board of Trustees of Holy Cross College and the Provincial Superiors of the Midwest and South-West Provinces of the Brothers of Holy Cross have appointed Brother Raphael Wilson as acting president.

Wilson is a biomedical research scientist whose career in higher education includes a variety of positions as researcher, teacher, and administrator. He holds a doctorate in biomedical science from the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston and a master's degree in psychology from the University of Texas in Austin.

He is known for his pioneering work in the applications of germ-free science and technology. Wilson played a significant role as scientific director of the case of "David, the Boy in the Bubble."

Notre Dame is one of the many universities at which Wilson has held positions. The others include St. Edward's University, University of Ulm in Germany, Baylor College of Medicine, University of Portland (where he served as president), University of San Francisco, and King's College.

Wilson succeeds Brother David Naples as president of the college. During Naples' tenure at Holy Cross College there has been an increase in enrollment and the college has been recommended for continued accreditation with the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools.

The Board of Trustees of Holy Cross College have also elected Ruth Kelly, President Emeritus of the Notre Dame Federal Credit Union, as chair of the Board of Trustees.

Kelly has served on the Board of Trustees since its establishment in 1987 as vice-chair. Previously, she served on the Board of Advisors for the College.

...COMPARE THE BOTTOM LINE
Dear Notre Dame Students:

I am happy to welcome you to Notre Dame on behalf of the faculty, staff and administration of the University. You are part of the rich heritage and tradition of Notre Dame. I am sure that each of you will find a way to make a distinctive contribution to the life of our campus as we approach the celebration of our sesquicentennial class.

You have already displayed during the course of your high school career many outstanding attributes. All of you were scholars, but in addition many of you were leaders of your student bodies in many student-oriented activities. I hope that you continue this involvement at Notre Dame. I also encourage you to consider participating in many of the social service projects available on the campus.

There are many people who will be happy to be of assistance to you along the way. Take advantage of their presence and allow them to become part of your extended community. May the coming year and all those that follow be a time of real growth in the life of the mind and in the ways of God.

Sincerely,

EVERYTHING YOU NEEDED TO KNOW ABOUT

SOUTH BEND

...BUT WE'RE AFRAID TO ASK
A newcomer’s guide to the hottest spots that ‘The Bend’ has to offer

COLLEEN CRONIN

Why would you want a guide to South Bend? By now you are probably searching for a mall (to buy all the things you forgot) and craving a pizza (the dining hall food does not get much better). If you can scam a car from an upperclassman you are in business because South Bend actually does have these things. Granted, it isn’t a big city or a college town, but it is a ghost town, either. This is not an all-encompassing list but it will give you a good start.

MALLS

University Park Mall (1) is the biggest and the best in the area. It is located on Grape Road, near SR 23. It is home to L.S. Ayres, Hudson’s, Sears, and J.C. Penney, plus the typical array of little mall stores. There are a few fairly decent strip malls in the area, too: Indian Ridge Shopping Center (2) on Grape Road east of UP Mall: there is a Phar-Mor, a T.J. Maxx and a Venture. Town and Country Shopping Centre (3) on McKinley Road.

OTHER STORES

If you are looking for that margarita blender, the screws to finish the loft, or some chocolate chip cookie fixings, have no fear.

K-Mart (4) on McKinley (east of Town and Country)
Target (5) on McKinley (west of Town and Country)
Do-It Center (6) on SR 23
Goodwill (7) on Eddy Street at the corner of SR 23
Martin’s Supermarket (8) on SR 23 and Ironwood
Kroeger’s (9) on SR 23 in the University Commons, across from UP Mall.

DRIY CLEANERS

Once the first SYR rolls around many of you will be screaming for a dry cleaners. ROTC folks will need it for those all-important inspections, too.

Ziker’s (10) at the corner of SR 23 and Ironwood
Touch of Class (11) on SR 23 in the University Commons.

RESTAURANTS

If mom and dad come out for a football game and offer to take you and your roommate out to dinner there are some nice places at which to spend their money.

The Emporium (12) on Niles Avenue. Located on the St. Joseph River, the Emporium offers patrons beautiful views and an extensive menu. Reservations are recommended.

• The Spaghetti Works (13) on Niles Avenue can satisfy pasta cravings with its wide selection of pastas and sauces.
• Steak & Ale (14) on US 31. Fans of meat and potatoes will be happy here, and will also enjoy the English pub atmosphere.
• The Olive Garden (15) on Grape Avenue from US 31 is particularly famous for its complimentary breadsticks plus the typical array of little mall stores.
• Jeremiah Sweeney’s (16) right next to the Olive Garden serves a superb Sunday brunch, buffet style, featuring made-to-order omelettes, waffles, a salad bar and a variety of breakfast and lunch dishes.

MIXED HINTS

If you arefooting the bill, though you may want something a little less expensive.

Mac’s Deli (17) on Grape Road, behind The Olive Garden and Jeremiah Sweeney’s is popular among the students for its casual atmosphere. The menu consists of delicatessen-style sandwiches served in baskets.

Wendy’s, McDonald’s, Burger King and Arby’s all on US 31.

Barnaby’s Pizza on SR 23 (18) at the intersection of Grape.

MOCKING THEATRES

Most of the time you will need to know only UP East and UP West. East is off of Grape Road, behind the little strip mall. West is in UP Mall. The Forum Theatre is north on US 31.

BEACHES

There may be a few warm weekends left and what better way to spend them than catching some rays. Many beaches are easily accessible off of Rt. 12, including the Indiana Dunes and some nice ones just across the Michigan border and they are only about an hour away. Take US 31 into South Bend and take a right on US 20 (Lincoln Way West) and keep on driving. Eventually you will get to Rt. 12. Head south for the Indiana Dunes has seriously cracked down on beachgoers with alcohol.

Don’t fret about not knowing your way around, you are not alone. Some seniors still have no clue how to find the mall.

We’re here to help.

YOUR FIRST MIXER

You’re on the way to the Graffiti Party, and you’re ready for some action. Be sure to travel in twos (of the same gender, of course). Randomly approach another pair and begin earnestly, “Hi! I’m blah-mah-blah and this is my roomie blank.” If you’re feeling confident, don’t hesitate to substitute your own names in place of blah-mah-blah and blank. If not, anonymity could be a comfort to you — and a mystery to your peers.

You’ll probably want to start the conversation with an off-handed comment about how many Ivy League schools you turned down, and follow it up with your SAT scores and any high school accomplishments. Try to look interested when they offer similar information.

Smile at your new friends warmly, even though you’ll probably never see them again.

YOUR FIRST FOOTBALL GAME

Even if you’re dying to wear that one-of-a-kind, hand-knit teddy bear’s sweater, hold back. Odds are that you’ll end up in the stands next to the guy who painted his entire body green and shaved his head to look like the Dome. (He sweats, too.)

Some advice to the women: put on those freshman fifteen pounds fast. There is a bizarre ritual that takes place at football games, wherein overzealous fans spontaneously lift a female of the lighter variety over their heads and pass her up the bleachers. It’s like when people bounce beach balls around at concerts — but different.

YOUR FIRST SYR

You’ll always remember your first SYR (unless you’re a real mess), so picking your first SYR date is crucial. Avoid asking anyone you actually know (they might think you like them) instead, reach for the handsomely Freshman Year Bible — no, NOT “Deuteronomy” — the Dog Book. Pick the person most physically, superficially attractive to you, and start dating (like everyone else).

If you consider yourself to be a bit more sensitive than that, you should also check out the “interests” each freshman lists. Girls, be sure to choose a man with a macho pastime like spearfishing or lumberjacking. Boys, go for anyone into jello or inukshuk sculpture.

SYR attire is very simple: requisite navy blazers for the men, and pretty much anything for the women (no one will notice anyway). Flowers are such a thoughtful touch, but those lines at Irish Gardens can get lengthy on the weekends. An alternative would be to stop at Kroeger’s and pick up something special; or, take advantage of our pictureque campus plantings. You’ll be doing yourself a favor, and your date will admire you for your frugality.

HINT: Forgetting your date’s name is a major SYR faux pas. Try writing it in indelible ink on the flip side of your tie or slip and earn big points.

You’re on your own.

Gault propels Raiders to win

CHICAGO (AP) — Willie Gault got another chance. This time he made good.

On the last play from scrimmage, quarterback Jay Schroeder threw what would have been a 55-yard touchdown pass. But Gault, having outrun everybody, dropped the pass.

But the two later connected on a 26-yard touchdown pass, and coach Art Shell gave me another chance," he said.

Gault said his second chance, which resulted in the touchdown was "a cross pattern," You "You're always looking for something that's going to be there."

Jeff Jaeger kicked field goals of 31 and 46 yards in the second quarter. With 1:33 left in the half, Schroeder connected on his 26-yard touchdown pass to Gault, who on the first play from scrimmage had dropped what would have been a 55-yard touchdown pass from Schroeder.

Quarterback Vince Evans, who at age 35 is trying to win the backup job to the Raiders, directed a 71-yard touchdown drive in the second quarter. With 13:33 left in the half, Schroeder connected on his 26-yard touchdown pass to Gault, who on the first play from scrimmage had dropped what would have been a 55-yard touchdown pass from Schroeder.

Early in the fourth quarter, Jim Harbaugh hit James Coley with a 21-yard pass, but Coley was tackled and Darin Jordan recovered on the Chicago 37. A 14-yard pass from Evans to Sam Graddy helped set up Miami's 5-yard touchdown run off right tackle.

Fisk's double is trouble for Angels; Sox win 5-2

CHICAGO (AP) — Carlton Fisk isn't one to pass up a good thing.

Fisk hit his second three-run double in three days as the Chicago White Sox kept pace with Oakland by defeating the California Angels 5-2 Friday night. The victory kept White Sox first baseman Bill Buckner and the Athletics in the race for the American League West, one game behind Oakland. The White Sox beat the Detroit Tigers 6-4.

Oakland is still running, they haven't slowed down quite a bit yet," Fisk said. "We're hoping to stay in the hunt,

The Angels jumped to a 2-0 lead in the third on an RBI single by Chili Davis and a run scoring double by Dave Winfield.

Chicago rallied in the bottom of the inning against Angels starter Jim Abbott, who had given up bases on singles by Phil Bradley and Ivan Calderon and a walk to Frank Thomas.

Fisk, who also had a three-run double in Tuesday night's 4-1 victory over Oakland, then doubled to left field, and he threw me a slider that was down and I went and put a pretty good swing on the ball," Fisk said. "I wouldn't call the pitch a mistake. Just being in a good position to hit it."

White Sox starter Wayne Edwards (3-2) gave up five hits and two runs in six innings, striking out seven. Bobby Thigpen pitched the ninth for his 31st save, three shy of Dave Righetti's major-league record.

Chicago made it 4-2 in the seventh when a single by Calhoun brought home Sammy Sosa, who walked and advanced to third on a groundout and a stolen base. Ozzie Guillen added an RBI single in the eighth.

Angel pitcher Scott Abbott pitched 6 1/3 innings for the Angels as his record fell to 4-3.'

Manager Tony La Russa urged his team to pitch well, "We scratched for everything we needed tonight," he said.

"When we were down by two to three runs, it's a different battle. We've been in trouble. He's an excellent pitcher.

Angel manager Doug Rader says the way the Angels lost a two-run lead — is an indication of the club's struggles.

"Unfortunately, when a club is struggling, it comes down to pitching," Rader said. "It's frustrating and disappointing, but not something to hang your head over.

Braves 3, Cubs 0

ATLANTA (AP) — Steve Avery became the youngest Atlanta pitcher ever to pitch a shutout as the Braves beat the Chicago Cubs 3-0 on Friday night. But imp. Monday night right-hander wasn't impressed by his performance.

"It was a good game," he said, "but it's just good to finally do something.

Avery did a lot. He held the Cubs to six hits, struck out a career-high eight batters, walked only two and also had two hits. He believed the Chicago's Greg Maddux (11-11), who also went the distance.

"The difference between this game and my other games is the runs," Avery said. "I've been pitching to move them in and out.

Manager Bobby Cox had nothing but praise for his 20-year-old rookie.

"When you have a 20-year-old who changes pitches like he does, and also has size," Cox said. "He's going to be a lot of fun to watch."

"I'm disappointed," Maddux said he was pleased with his own performance, in the eighth. "In baseball, you have the most.

"No no," Zimler said. "It was his changeup. Avery knows how to pitch and he pitched extremely well tonight.

Steve Huffman is neither a liar nor a quitter, said Dave Huffman, his older brother. Dave Huffman, a Minnesota Vikings offensive lineman who, like Steve, played at Notre Dame, also said Thursday that he didn't have a very high opinion of Lou Holtz as a coach.

In his book, "The Fighting Spirit," Holtz wrote that he delivered a speech to his squad during which he said ofSteve:

"'I've known Steve for his whole life," said Dave Huffman, who played under Dan Devine at Notre Dame. "He's not a liar. He's not a druggie. He's not a bum off the street."

"Here was a guy who got boled by a pretty powerful man and by a pretty powerful institution, as a quitter and is gonna have to fight that label for a long time. That's the kind of thing you don't want to have to go through life with. He's not a quitter."

He said he knew of no steroid use when he was at Notre Dame from 1975-78.

"We also had Notre Dame people there who watched out for their kids. Maybe that situation has changed," Dave Huffman said.

Asked if he meant the well-traveled Holtz is not a "Notre Dame person," Huffman said:

"You can take that for whatever you want."

"And we're going to have every jarhead in the world come out and talk about Lou," he said.

"And we should start the beautification process now and defy him at this point. Steve's gonna hang. He's gonna hang and dance for a long time. That's life."

There have been rumors that Holtz — who was at Minnesota between stints at Arkansas and Notre Dame — might end up coaching the Vikings.

"I'd pick up his first year's salary ... for him to come here," Dave Huffman said.

Curry overwhelmed by Kentucky fan response

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Bill Curry knows the honeymoon isn’t going to last forever at the University of Kentucky.

The new coach told 700 supporters attending the annual Kentucky Kickoff Luncheon Friday that he has been overwhelmed with the reception he has received since taking the position Jan. 8.

The crowd even cheered minutes before he took the podium when his face flashed on the screen in a video about the past accomplishments of the Kentucky program.

“I keep reminding my staff we’re going to have to play soon,” Curry said, referring to the Sept. 1 home opener against Central Michigan. “We haven’t just lost sight of that.”

The current Kentucky program, however, took a backseat to 11 other players and a coach who had jerseys retired.

Two-time All-Americans Vito “Babe” Parilli, Bob Gain and Lou Michaels were joined by John “Shipwreck” Kelly, Ralph Kercheval, Bob Davis, George Blanda, Steve Meilinger, Sam Ball, Warren Bryant and Art Still along with former coach Paul “Bear” Bryant.

“We felt it was way past the time for it to be done,” said athletics director C.M. Newton. “We’ve got more than 12 who should be honored.”

Gain, the Outland Trophy winner in 1958, said, “I think this is a wonderful thing to bring back the old timers. It lets everybody know we have football and not just basketball at Kentucky.”

Parilli, the keynote speaker, recalled riding in a boxcar of a train, sitting on a casket, during his first visit to Kentucky in 1948. He was able to fly back the next time several weeks later, and after a workout with about 20 varsity players, Bryant offered him a scholarship.

One of the toughest defeats for Parilli came in the final regular-season game of the 1950, falling 7-0 to Tennessee. Several weeks later, he led the Wildcats to a 13-7 victory over No. 1 Oklahoma in the Sugar Bowl.

“That was probably the reward we got for that loss to Tennessee,” he said.

Gain recalled that the final football polls of the season back then didn’t include bowl games.

“We were probably No. 3 or No. 4 in the nation,” he said of Kentucky’s ranking before the Sugar Bowl. “Deep down, we thought we were No. 1.”

Parilli praised Bryant for bringing out the best in the players.

“We had a bunch of overachievers,” said Parilli, who went on to a 16-year professional career. “I can’t tell you how hard we practiced and how hard we played.”

Blanda, 62, guided Kentucky to the Great Lakes Bowl in 1947, the school’s first bowl appearance. He later spent 26 years in pro football, becoming the first player to score over 2,000 points.

“The biggest memory I have is meeting my wife (Betty) of 41 years other than being exposed to Bear Bryant,” he said. “I was very difficult playing for him, but he prepared us for the outside world. He wanted us to become good football players, but he also wanted us to develop good character.

The recognition was somewhat bittersweet for Michaels, who had his No. 79 retired in 1957 by Coach Blanton Collier.

He was upset that Coach Jerry Claiborne had allowed others to use it.

“I was really mad and disgusted about it,” he told reporters afterward.

Claiborne, however, was unaware about the number being retired from use.

“I don’t know anything about it,” he said after the banquet.

After receiving his plaque, Ball looked over to Curry and said, “I told you I was big in Kentucky.”

Curry, Ball’s teammate for four seasons with the Baltimore Colts in the late 1960s, got the final jab.

“Sam, now I know you’re big at Kentucky,” he told the All-American offensive tackle.

“You can quit telling me.”

Illinois QB tries to fill George's shoes

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Illinois quarterback Jason Verduzco clearly is no carbon copy of Jeff George, but Coach John Mackovic can live with that.

After all, Mackovic still has a versatile running attack and one of the best defenses.

But, George's early departure to the NFL and a $15 million contract with the Indianapolis Colts left backup Verduzco as the likely starter this season.

"He doesn't need to be Jeff George ... just the best Jason Verduzco," said Mackovic. "We definitely need him for us to be a high-percentage passer."

Eighteen starters return from a team that finished last season 10-2 with a victory over Virginia in the Citrus Bowl.

The key question will be the quarterback situation.

"I don't feel a lot of pressure because it's not a one-man team - it takes all of us to win," said Verduzco, who completed 16 of 26 passes for 172 yards in 1989. "You'll see the same basic Illinois offense with maybe a few new wrinkles."

At 5-foot-9, 185-pounds, Verduzco is seven inches shorter and 25 pounds lighter than George. But, Mackovic said his sophomore quarterback is "more of a scrambler" and has potential.

"I think you'll see a little more of a scrambler with Jason," said Mackovic. "But, if he can go straight back, find the man and get the ball to him, fine."

Fullback Howard Griffith, who rushed for 747 yards and caught 45 passes last season, will lead the running game. Mackovic calls him "the best all-around back in the country."

Top receiver Mike Bellamy is gone but 6-4 senior Shawn Wax, who caught 26 passes last season, gives the Illini a polished pass catcher.

"He is one of the best clutch receivers ... tough but not a speed demon," said Mackovic.

The defense will be led by All-America noseguard Moe Gardner, who was double- and triple-teamed last season, opening holes for other linemen.

"When we play at the top of our game, nobody can move the ball on us," said Gardner, a 6-2, 254-pound senior.

Other defensive standouts include linebackers Derrick Brownlow and Mel Agee and defensive backs Henry Jones, Marlon Primous and Quintin Parker. The other scheduled starter in the secondary, Chris Green, broke his leg in a pre-season scrimmage and will miss at least half the season.

"We'll miss Jeff George but I don't think it will put any more pressure on us," said Agee, a 6-4, 284-pound senior. "We'll have to play the run a little better ... stop those big backs."

The Citrus Bowl victory - Illinois' first postseason win since the 1964 Rose Bowl - gives the team confidence heading into this season, said placekicker Doug Higgins.

Colts break camp, place 7 players on waivers

ANDERSON, Ind. (AP) — When the Indianapolis Colts broke camp at Anderson University on Friday, the club did some house cleaning on another front by waiving seven players.

The cuts announced by Coach Ron Meyer reducing the club's roster to 64 players plus four unsigned veterans and injured running back Eric Dickerson.

The team must be down to a maximum of 60 players on the roster by Tuesday.

Tight end Dwanye O'Connor, a two-year starter at Purdue who played at Concord High School in northern Indiana, was one of the players released.

Also waived on Friday were defensive backs Orsorio Jackson and David Rider, linebacker Tony Massey, running back Alfred Rawls, offensive lineman Caesar Rendi and wide receiver Dale Agnew.

In other news, Meyer said Friday that strong safety Michael Ball and defensive end Sam Clancy are both doubtful for Monday night's game with Philadelphia because of injuries.

Ball suffered a strained hamstring and Clancy pulled his groin, both in the Thursday afternoon practice. Clancy's injury is particularly significant because Donnell Thompson, the other starting defensive end, pulled his groin against Seattle and will miss the Philadelphia game.

Meyer said he will use Gary Balduing and Sean McNamie at defensive end against the Eagles.

Meanwhile, Ray Donaldson, the senior member of the Indianapolis Colts, welcomed the end of his 11th training camp.
Immediate — Toledo.

Thompson run several practices during a 70-minute morning practice. "What he needs now is repetitions in full pads. He needs to get knocked around a little bit." Thompson, a second-round draft pick from Indiana and the 1989 Heisman Trophy runner-up, should get his first contact in Saturday night's pre-season game against the Los Angeles Rams in Anaheim, Calif. Despite missing the first 31 days of training camp, Bugel said Thompson will get "four or five snaps ... maybe more" in the Rams game. That sounds fine to Thompson. "I don't like to pace the sidelines. I'm too much of a competitor," he said. "I'd like to get in there. I know most of the running plays and some of the passing plays. I'm five pounds heavier, 215 right now, but I feel real quick and real fast. I'm just a little rusty."

The 5-foot-11 Thompson, who had an NCAA-record 68 career touchdowns and rushed for a school-record 5,299 yards as a Hoeuser, agreed to contract terms Wednesday morning in Las Vegas. He and his two representatives — agent Marvin Demoff and family advisor Dr. Dan Grossman — met there with Cardinals general manager Larry Wilson and the team's chief negotiator Bob Wallace.

Wilson said Las Vegas was an agreed-upon neutral site for both sides. Terms of Thompson's contract were not publicly disclosed, in keeping with team policy, but sources said he got a three-year deal worth $1.275 million. The contract reportedly includes a $340,000 signing bonus, half of which is deferred until Jan. 1, and roster bonuses of $25,000 each season.

you play you want to win, but the results that will be most important for us will be how well we execute."

The Notre Dame women's soccer team begins its season Sept. 1 at Krause Stadium against Northeast Missouri State. The match will be new head coach Chris Petrucelli's first test since coming over from Old Dominion with Iberticelli. After the Northeast Missouri State match the Irish will travel downtown tobacco road for matches at Duke and UNC-Greensboro in what could be the most difficult part of their schedule. Under Petrucelli Notre Dame will try to improve on last year's 12-10 record. The Irish played their only exhibition match of the season when they took a tough Wisconsin squad into overtime but losing 4-1 on August 21 in Madison, Wis.

The Notre Dame men's and women's cross country teams will return to action against Georgetown Sept. 15 at Burke Memorial Golf Course under the direction of Coach Joe Piane. The men's squad has defeated the Hoyas in each of the past three years, including last year's 22-33 triumph. All-American Mike O'Connor is back to lead the men's team, which finished ninth in last year's national rankings and won its second consecutive Midwestern Collegiate Conference championship. Senior captain Terese Lemanski will lead the Irish women, who finished second to Dayton in the MCC last season.

Ex-Irish defensive coordinator Alvarez earns respect as head coach

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Barry Alvarez, the Badgers' new coach, earned his players' respect and their attention early.

"He's got a big bark. Things are lot different," said quarterback Tony Lowery.

"Like in the first meeting, no hats, no earrings, sit up straight and no sir, yes sir. We never did that in the past. It's just totally different. What he wants, he gets, no matter if it's from us, the alums or whatever. He's treating it as a first-class program."

Winning that respect from his players was easy but can Alvarez make the rest of the Big Ten respect Wisconsin? In short, can he win?

First, the former Notre Dame defensive coordinator must make his players understand what winning is all about.

"The first thing we'll try to do is teach them how to win, what they have to do to accomplish that," said Alvarez.

"In the last five years this university has won 12 out of 141 games. There isn't a guy on that football team who has been through winning seasons."

The Badgers finished 2-9 last season and Dan Morrison was fired at the conclusion of his third year with only six victories.

There are 39 lettermen back for the Badgers, including 16 Ex-Irish DB Francisco placed on waivers by Washington.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins placed former Notre Dame defensive back D'Juan Francisco on the waivers-injured reserve list Thursday.

Francisco was placed on waivers after starting last season's finale. Linebackers Brendan Lynch and Malvins Hunter are back and so are defensive tackles Don Bush and Davey.

Davey, a three-time Academic All-American, already has earned his bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering and will be working in a master's program this fall. At 6-4, 270 pounds, Davey is rated by Alvarez as one of the Big Ten's best linemen.

"We've just real hungry to win," said Davey.

"Coach Alvarez comes out as a big disciplinarian. He's real strict. Certain things are going to be done his way. He's in charge."

"We want this kind of leadership and this kind of discipline. We've had guys who've been getting up at 6 a.m. all summer long to work out. The guys want to be pushed like that."

Alvarez is not expecting a perfect season, but he wants his team to play to its potential and not settle for mediocrity, a level Wisconsin hasn't reached for several years.

"Our kids natural response is "We want to be 1-0." But let's be realistic," said Alvarez. "The national programs last year lost one game. We're not the best team in the country, obviously," he added.

"We have to teach them. There is going to come a point in the game, probably the first game, where they are going to have the opportunity to win, be it catching a ball or knocking down a pass."

Those of us here at the Student Union Board would like to extend a sincere WELCOME to the Class of 1994.
Notre Dame/Saint Mary's College is indeed a special place!

We would also like to welcome back everyone returning from a very short summer! We've got an intense year awaiting us since SUB has been busy making arrangements for this year's line-up of big name entertainment.

However, in order to start this year off right, An Tostal, ND/SMC's annual spring festival, is sponsoring THE SHIRT, an event whereby the entire student body will show their Fighting Irish unity/support by wearing a Kelly Green T-shirt to the Notre Dame vs. Michigan Football game on September 15th. See the full page ad in this issue of The Observer for details on how you can become an integral part of another fanatical year of Notre Dame Football!
Holtz, a former Notre Dame football head coach, was barraged with questions about steroid use by Lou Holtz when he appeared on the cover of Sports Illustrated.

Holtz denied any involvement with steroids, save for discouraging their use. "I've done everything I can to deter the use of drugs, both street drugs as well as steroids," Holtz said.

In a telephone interview with the South Bend Tribune, Holtz responded to all details by using a line from his brother Tim, who played football at Notre Dame under Dan Devine.

"He (Tim) said, 'It was like turning on a light switch and seeing the cockroaches scrumble,'" said Huffman. "Two days after Huffman's accusations were made public, the story broke Thursday in The National that Holtz broke NCAA rules while coaching at Tennessee and posted a 13-16 record with administrators at Notre Dame was strained and that he..."
