Resolved government censorship of artistic expression is an undesirable infringement on the freedom of speech.

This is the topic which Notre Dame's debate team must both advocate and criticize throughout the semester. With such a controversial proposal ahead, the Irish debaters are preparing for an intense season.

The thirty-member team, under the leadership of varsity debaters John Albers, Matt Salzman, Chris Kozoll, and Valerie Renegar, has already participated in two debates.

Some of the novice debaters attended a novice tournament at Wheaton College in Illinois last weekend. They had an outstanding tournament and captured a number of awards.

Coyley and Richard Tolley were named the sixth place negative team.

The team of Tim Calmeen and Mike Sayer placed second on the negative side. The varsity debaters journeyed to Atlanta, Georgia to participate in the Peachtree Debates at Emory University. While no awards were won, varsity member John Albers seemed pleased, anyway, because, "the program here is just getting off the ground," he said.

The team will be traveling to Northern Illinois University during the weekend of November 10th. "The number of debates we attend during the first semester is limited because of the football season," said Albers. "Our activities really pick up during the second semester," he added.

The Irish debaters practice with their coach, Nancy Wallace, who is a law student at Notre Dame. The practices center around developing new theories to support and defend the resolution on censorship.

During an actual debate the debaters must spend four rounds supporting the resolution and four rounds criticizing it. "You have to treat it as a fun activity," said Albers. "You can't go into it with a closed mind. You have to be loose," he said.

While team members are happy with their success thus far, they see areas that need improvement. The team must operate on a University funded budget that varsity debater Matt Salzman calls, "incredibly small." Salzman added that, "I wish we could have to drive fourteen hours to a debate," and "I would love to go to places like Harvard and MIT, but it's not possible."

The University is not looking for a permanent debate coach.

The magazine estimates that Forbes 400

---

Activities are planned for Parents' Weekend

By ANN MARIE HARTMAN

The days are numbered. Thousands of proud "Irish" parents make their way to Notre Dame's campus for an annual Parents' Football Weekend.

Each year one weekend is designated as Parents' Weekend. This time, however, is different for Karen Leonard, assistant director of Student Activities Programming.

Leonard, who is this weekend's coordinator of events, said, "This is the first year where Notre Dame parents are being pulled together to experience the Irish hype in a sea of activities outside the football stadium."

Parents' Weekend will take place Friday through Sunday, October 12th-14th. A pep rally will be held Friday at 7 p.m. in the Joyce Athletic Convocation Center. Casino Night at Stepan Center will immediately follow the pep rally. This event will feature dancing to the music of The Saxophone Performers, refreshments, and casino games. A raffle will be held which will give away Notre Dame memorabilia and free passes to各项ford games.

Each day, the day of the Air Force football game, concession stands will be located throughout campus. The Glee Club and Shenani-gans will be performing at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. at the JACC Hospitality Center. At 2 p.m., the Marching Band Concert will be held at the steps under the Golden Dome. They will "step off" at 11:30 a.m. and return to the stadium for the 12:10 p.m. kick-off.

After the game, Student Programming will then sponsor the second annual Concert By Parents from the South Dining Hall from 8:00-11:30 p.m. Rob Basin, student body president, will emcee for the evening. The Dessert Reception was held for the first time last year and was an overwhelming success. We now hope to make it a tradition for all Parents' Football Weekends. The featured entertainment will again be the Irish Dance and Irish Band.

Lastly, the Parents' Mass will be held on Saturday at the Church at 11:45 a.m. Sun-day, October 14. For those parents who have not been fortunate enough to view the newly renovated and enlarged interior of the Sacred Heart, this is an opportune time.

For those parents who have a few free moments between events and are not taking one of the many guided tours of campus, we suggest this weekend, the Notre Dame Parents Players will present the Broadway Musical, "Do Black Patent Leather Slippers Really Look Up?" Performances will be held Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. and Saturday at 8:10 p.m. in Washington Hall. Tickets can be purchased at the information desk in the LaFortune Center for $5.

In addition, Notre Dame paraphernalia will be on sale all weekend at the Book- store, the JACC Pro-shop, and the Techno Pro-shops. Featured items include the famous green fake leather Go Irish Notre Dame game and the navy blue flag. Also available on Saturday will be the final Notre Dame-Miami game. All proceeds from the sale of this shirt for "THE CAUSE" will be donated to the family of a Notre Dame graduate who was severely injured exactly one year ago.

---

Forbes 400

Wealthiest Americans in millions

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Net Worth</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>John J. Kline</td>
<td>5.06</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Warren Buffett</td>
<td>3.54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Donald O. Parson</td>
<td>2.87</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Larry L. Hillman</td>
<td>2.65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Barbara C. Anthony</td>
<td>2.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Anne A. Chambers</td>
<td>2.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Samuel L. Newhouse</td>
<td>2.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Donald F. Newhouse</td>
<td>2.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ray A. Pritzker</td>
<td>2.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Robert A. Pritzker</td>
<td>2.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Walter H. Annenberg</td>
<td>1.85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Edward J. DeBartolo</td>
<td>1.40</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Edward DeBartolo

Bishop Palacios Rodriguez, the auxiliary bishop of the diocese of Chicago, was the guest speaker at the Spanish mass held in Cavanaugh Hall last night. The mass was one of many awareness-increasing events organized by the ND Hispanic-American Organization.

DeBartolo ranks number 41 on the Forbes rich 400

Observer Staff Report

Forbes magazine released its list of the 400 richest people in America Monday and two Notre Dame benefactors were included among the top 30.

Walter Annenberg, of Wynnewood, Pa., was listed as number 31 on the list with an estimated fortune of $1.65 billion. Annenberg, 82, amassed his fortune in the publishing Industry.

His support of Notre Dame spans more than two decades since his first gifts to the University in the late 1960s. Most recently, one of his gifts is the Annenberg Auditorium of the University’s Snite Museum of Art.

In July, the Annenberg Foundation donated $5 million for the maintenance of the Hesburgh Library and the Joyce Arts Center.

Annenberg has been a major benefactor of individual colleges and universities as well as of the United Negro College Fund. A patron of the commun-
A 'definitive' look at college vocabulary

Corinne Pavlis
Saint Mary's Editor

Recently a publisher sent me a copy of a new book: The Unofficial College Dictionary, by Larry Cohen and Steve Zweig. I found it so entertaining that I thought I would take this opportunity to share some of the definitions with you.

Absent—Used to describe a relationship that does not exist, such as students in class and course in students.

Art History Majors—People most likely to win the brown wedge in Trivial Pursuit.

Bookstore—Where you get $4.95 at the end of a term for unopened book you bought at the beginning of the term for $49.95.

B.S. Degree—A frighteningly accurate assessment of a student's college accomplishments.

Campus Police—Usually the last people to arrive at a really great party.

Chips Notes—Tangible proof that God exists.

Commencement Speech—A $25,000 pep talk.

Drinking Games—College contests. Unlike the Olympic Games, which occur once in four years, these contests occur every day for four years.

Fake ID—A driver's license that proves you are 32 years old and used to be four inches taller.

4.0—A number that will get you a league, college, whether it's you: ... school GPA or your 40-yard dash time.

Homecoming—A scam to lure generous alumni back to campus.

Junior College—High School with ashtrays.

My School—Where you go when you realize that a degree in Political Science and a valid driver's license qualifies you to drive a cab.

Letter Jacket—An inconspicuous way to let your friends know that you go to school and what sport they play.

PAC Ten—An athletic conference that was known as the PAC Eight until the addition of PAC-MAN and Ms. PAC-MAN.

Parking Lots—An oxymoron: There is never lots of parking when you need it.

Philosophy Major—A future welfare recipient.

Professor—The only guy who could fix the radio on "Gilligan's Island.

School newspaper—A paper written and edited by the students.

Security guards—Cops who make Don Knotts look like Schwarzenegger.

Senior—Spanish for mister.

Study—An obscure fact that was briefly popular in 1960's at Ivy League schools, but never really caught on anywhere else.

Theory of Relativity—A well-tested principle of postgraduate economics: If you need a job, call a relative.

Visiting Professor—An instructor who can hand out C's and D's and then they leave the campus before being lynched.

Weather

The Observer Tuesday, October 9, 1990

INSIDE COLUMN

Shirts for "The Cause" are available off-campus and graduate students in the Club Coordination Council can sell the shirts to the Saint Mary's Office through Thursday.

Irish poet Peter Fallen will present some of his works here this afternoon in the South Lounge (2nd Floor) M of Crawsha-Leighton Library on Saint Mary's campus. Admission free.

In Jerusalem's worst bloodshed since 1967, police fired Monday on stone-throwing Palestinians at the Temple Mount sacred to both Jews and Moslems, and at least 19 Arabs died. The Arabs were apparently infuriated by rumors that Jewish extremists planned to march onto the Temple Mount, which is under Moslem control. The shooting began after Palestinians hurled a barrage of stones from the mount onto thousands of Jews gathered just below at the Western Wall, or Wailing Wall, where the Jews were celebrating the festival of Sukkot. The wall is Judaism's holiest site. The bloodbath touched off riots which Police Minister Roni Milo said killed a total of 9 Arabs and wounded about 140.

The Sophomore Spaghetti Social will be held Wednesday at Saint Mary's. The social, open to Saint Mary's sophomores, will be held in the Residence Halls. For more information, please see the Sophomore Newsletter.

Urban Plunge—Information meeting tonight at 6:30 p.m. Center for Social Concerns. Registrations will be available.

Two American workers who volunteered for duty with the multinational force facing Iraq died in a jet crash Monday in Saudi Arabia. The United States is leading a multinational force of ships in the region and troops in Saudi Arabia, and the United Nations has imposed a land, sea and air embargo to isolate Iraq and try to force it to withdraw from Kuwait. U.S. warships had been playing a dominant role in enforcing the U.N. ordered naval blockade to pressure Iraqi President Saddam Hussein into ending the 2-month-old occupation of Kuwait. But in recent weeks, British, Canadian, Australian and Spanish warships have joined in the interceptions.

World

In Jerusalem's worst bloodshed since 1967, police fired Monday on stone-throwing Palestinians at the Temple Mount sacred to both Jews and Moslems, and at least 19 Arabs died. The Arabs were apparently infuriated by rumors that Jewish extremists planned to march onto the Temple Mount, which is under Moslem control. The shooting began after Palestinians hurled a barrage of stones from the mount onto thousands of Jews gathered just below at the Western Wall, or Wailing Wall, where the Jews were celebrating the festival of Sukkot. The wall is Judaism's holiest site. The bloodbath touched off riots which Police Minister Roni Milo said killed a total of 9 Arabs and wounded about 140.

David Duke, Louisiana State Representative, recently cancelled his trip to Iraq. The trip was to meet with high-ranking Iraqi officials. Duke's decision was officially announced Monday morning. Initially, Duke refused to comment on the trip. But a week ago, President Bush ordered a review of programs that interweave programming and entertainment for young viewers. The bill would establish a $6 million endowment for children's programming and require the Federal Communications Commission to begin a review of programs that interweave programming and commercial material, usually toys.

An elementary school principal in Rolling Prairie, Indiana agreed Monday to burn a telephone booth-sized detention box after his school with ashtrays. The detention box was originally designed for children who volunteered for community service. The school is one of postgraduate economics: "If you need a job, call a relative."
Lecture will discuss search for 'living' God

By CORINNE PAVLIS
Saint Mary's Editor

Two Saint Mary's students will address the community on their search for a "living" God. The lecture, "The Never Ending Road: Our Search for a Living God," is the forth installment of a five part lecture series sponsored by the Saint Mary's Center for Spirituality.

The series, "Women Looking for God," gives members of the community, as well as two students, the opportunity to share their thoughts and experiences concerning women searching for a God that means something," said Keith Egan, Chair of Religious Studies and Co-Director for the Center of Spirituality.

Egan emphasized the critical importance of involving students in the lecture series. "It is important for faculty and administrators to hear what students have to say rather than having them only listen to us," said Egan.

Egan said that students have been chosen for the last three annual Fall lecture series "because of students having something to say about Religious Studies is an important one: they must feel they have a voice."

The two students, Angela Appleby and Rachel Tomas, are both seniors at Saint Mary's with double majors in Religious Studies and Psychology.

Egan praised the students and said they are both very active in the Saint Mary's and Notre Dame Community. Both women are involved with the "Encounter with Christ" program at Notre Dame.

The address will take place on Wednesday, October 10, at 12:15 p.m. at Stapleton lounge.

By CRISTINA ORTIZ
News Writer

Notre Dame students should search for their true vocations, all the while keeping it in perspective as they continue their academic studies, said Bishop Paldric Rodriguez, the auxiliary bishop of the Diocese of Chicago.

Rodriguez was the guest celebrant at a Spanish Mass held in Cavanaugh Hall last night, organized through the efforts of the ND Hispanic-American Organization. Immediately following the Mass was a reception in the study lounge of Cavanaugh.

Bishop Rodriguez holds Mass in Spanish

Saturday October 13, marks the 147th anniversary for the College which was founded in 1843 when four Sisters of the Holy Cross came from Le Mans, France and founded the school.

The day will begin with a reception, "A Return to Tradition," in Stapleton Lounge from 12 p.m. to 1 p.m. The reception is intended to express appreciation towards students, faculty and administrators. Internationally Coffee and cookies will be served.

From 12 p.m.-1:30 p.m. a director give-away will take place outside in front of Haggar College Center.

The new directories are organized by students' hometowns in order to make riding easier to plan for breaks and visits home. These directories are free to students. Complimentary Founder's day cups will also be distributed.

A open house in the Riedinger Alumnae Association is sponsoring a Founder's day celebration on Thursday, October 11, on Saint Mary's campus.

The address will take place on Wednesday, October 10, at 12:15 p.m. at Stapleton Lounge.

The two students, Angela Appleby and Rachel Tomas, are both seniors at Saint Mary's with double majors in Religious Studies and Psychology.

Egan praised the students and said they are both very active in the Saint Mary's and Notre Dame Community. Both women are involved with the "Encounter with Christ" program at Notre Dame.

The address will take place on Wednesday, October 10, at 12:15 p.m. at Stapleton lounge.

The two students, Angela Appleby and Rachel Tomas, are both seniors at Saint Mary's with double majors in Religious Studies and Psychology.

Egan praised the students and said they are both very active in the Saint Mary's and Notre Dame Community. Both women are involved with the "Encounter with Christ" program at Notre Dame.

The address will take place on Wednesday, October 10, at 12:15 p.m. at Stapleton lounge.

The two students, Angela Appleby and Rachel Tomas, are both seniors at Saint Mary's with double majors in Religious Studies and Psychology.

Egan praised the students and said they are both very active in the Saint Mary's and Notre Dame Community. Both women are involved with the "Encounter with Christ" program at Notre Dame.

The address will take place on Wednesday, October 10, at 12:15 p.m. at Stapleton lounge.

The two students, Angela Appleby and Rachel Tomas, are both seniors at Saint Mary's with double majors in Religious Studies and Psychology.

Egan praised the students and said they are both very active in the Saint Mary's and Notre Dame Community. Both women are involved with the "Encounter with Christ" program at Notre Dame.

The address will take place on Wednesday, October 10, at 12:15 p.m. at Stapleton lounge.

The two students, Angela Appleby and Rachel Tomas, are both seniors at Saint Mary's with double majors in Religious Studies and Psychology.

Egan praised the students and said they are both very active in the Saint Mary's and Notre Dame Community. Both women are involved with the "Encounter with Christ" program at Notre Dame.

The address will take place on Wednesday, October 10, at 12:15 p.m. at Stapleton lounge.

The two students, Angela Appleby and Rachel Tomas, are both seniors at Saint Mary's with double majors in Religious Studies and Psychology.

Egan praised the students and said they are both very active in the Saint Mary's and Notre Dame Community. Both women are involved with the "Encounter with Christ" program at Notre Dame.

The address will take place on Wednesday, October 10, at 12:15 p.m. at Stapleton lounge.

The two students, Angela Appleby and Rachel Tomas, are both seniors at Saint Mary's with double majors in Religious Studies and Psychology.

Egan praised the students and said they are both very active in the Saint Mary's and Notre Dame Community. Both women are involved with the "Encounter with Christ" program at Notre Dame.

The address will take place on Wednesday, October 10, at 12:15 p.m. at Stapleton lounge.

The two students, Angela Appleby and Rachel Tomas, are both seniors at Saint Mary's with double majors in Religious Studies and Psychology.

Egan praised the students and said they are both very active in the Saint Mary's and Notre Dame Community. Both women are involved with the "Encounter with Christ" program at Notre Dame.
White supremacists to begin defense in lawsuits

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A white supremacist and his son began defending themselves Monday against a $10 million lawsuit that accuses them of inciting the fatal beating of a black man.

Police in riot gear stood by as Tom Metzger, 52, and his son, John, 22, jumped from a van and into a sidewalk elevator that took them to the courtroom of another black man, Multnomah County Circuit Judge Ancr Haggerty.

Dozens of helmeted police, some on horseback, stood guard and a patrol helicopter circled overhead as the Metzgers arrived.

The violent demonstration police prepared for failed to materialize, although a few "skinheads" — young, white racists who affect shaved heads and military garb — waited outside the courthouse. Three young men were arrested outside the courthouse, two for carrying concealed weapons and one in an earlier assault case after the victim pointed him out to police as his alleged attacker.

Metzger, of Fallbrook, Calif., founded White Aryan Resistance and is a former Ku Klux Klan grand dragon. He and his son — also active in the white supremacy movement — are acting as their own attorneys.

The wrongful-death lawsuit, filed by the victim's uncle, accuses the Metzgers of sending agents to Portland to incite violence against blacks shortly before Mult-upeta Seraw, 27, was beaten to death with a baseball bat in November 1988. Two of the Ethiopian's friends were severely beaten.

Three skinheads, all members of the neo-Nazi group Eastside White Pride, were convicted in Seraw's death.

Campus Ministry and You

WE'VE GOT A GIFT FOR YOU!
Notre Dame has received a new GIFT - one that helps graduating students continue some of the sensitivities developed during their years at the University.

As you've heard many times, about seventy-five percent of Notre Dame students are involved during their time here in some sort of activity designed to help those not as fortunate or lucky as themselves. It is presumed that this concern for others continues beyond the years here, and that graduates leave Notre Dame with caring values well in place.

Many, of course, arrived with such values already established, but their Notre Dame years — it is hoped — do nothing to erode them. Others arrive ready to learn such values from the University's gospel-centered milieu.

Now, the GIFT. GIFT is a program designed by a graduating senior to establish educational opportunities for those who would not otherwise have them. GIFT stands for Graduates Interviewing For Tomorrow. It's a program designed to direct savings from corporate interviews to educational grants. The savings are made based on the information of the interviewing student.

For example: You are scheduled to interview with the Boise office of big nine ledger firm Arthur Anderson. They want to put you up in the Grand Idahoan, Idaho's only Mobil Five Star rated luxury spa. You tell them about GIFT and say that you prefer to stay in the Vacation Manager, not a bad place at all, and have the $100 a night savings given to GIFT. Or you stay with your friend Orin Hatch and Andrew Arthurson donates the entire expense to GIFT.

It costs Andrew Arthurson no more to interview you, and they get a tax benefit. In addition, they're realizing what a great caring person you are, and thus you are hired over those party animals who had a great time at the Idahoan.

What does GIFT do with the money? This first year, the benefit of your kindness will be deeded to the Center for Basic Learning Skills, a program teaching inner-city South Bend adults to read. It's run by a couple of Catholic nuns who are well beyond the retirement age but actually go door to door asking if anyone wants to learn to read. Then, they teach them. They've been doing this for years, and pay for their supplies mostly out of pocket.

As GIFT grows, the desire of the founder is to establish a scholarship fund for persons who attend the University under difficult financial straits. Examples would include those strongly desiring an alternative to ROTC, students whose financial circumstances change after enrollment and those losing loans or other scholarships.

In Summary: GIFT is an opportunity to serve the educational needs of others and to let potential employers know your own values include concern for others. It encourages those interviewing for jobs - whether with law firms, accounting firms, labs or financial institutions - to let the potential employer know about GIFT and ask them to participate. The results of this effort help others have an opportunity for the same education you had yourself.

Interested in learning more? Call Kevin Cavanaugh at 283-4307 and leave a message. He'll get back to you. It's his GIFT.

Week-end presiders at Sacred Heart Church

Saturday, October 13
5 PM Rev. Richard Warner, C.S.C.
Sunday, October 14
8 AM Rev. Thomas Blantz, C.S.C.
10 AM Rev. William Dohar, C.S.C.
11:45 AM Rev. Thomas Gaughan, C.S.C.

Please be prayerfully mindful of LaVern Yazzie and Alicia McKearn and their families. Their fathers died recently, and Campus Ministry offers them our prayer and support.

All dorms are encouraged to take up collections at their week-end liturgies for Congregation of Holy Cross projects in third world countries. Campus Ministry will channel these monies to appropriate resources. Thank you.
Recycling program begins at SMC

By RENEE YOUNG
News Writer

Saint Mary's College kicked off the official beginning of a new aluminum can recycling program yesterday.

The student run program, entitled "Saint Mary's Recycles," is on October 18 at 7 p.m., in room 303 of the Haggar Center.

According to president of "Saint Mary's Recycles," Christina Varallo, the money raised from the can collecting will go directly back into the program for supplies, creating a self-supportive system.

The students are welcome to take unaluminum cans from the central locations for the program. They will then be transported to the recycling center.

The support for the program will be entirely up to the Saint Mary's Community.

The program's goals are to educate students, faculty and others about the resource crisis our country is facing today.

The program plans to educate the students by conducting environmental awareness workshops and inviting environmental activists to speak on campus.

Student Senate met this week and officially named Dave Cathcart the new President of the Sophomore Class. The Student Senate also discussed other pertinent issues, including possible ways to prevent the recurrence of a destructive snowball fight this year.

In Student Senate this week, Dave Cathcart, former vice president of the Sophomore Class, was officially named the new president of the class due to the resignation of Patrick Mixon.

Mixon passes office of President to Cathcart

By PETER AMEND
News Writer

In Student Senate this week, Dave Cathcart, former vice president of the Sophomore Class, was officially named the new president of the class due to the resignation of Patrick Mixon.

According to the Student Government Constitution, "In the event of a vacancy in the office of Class President, the Class Vice-President shall become Class President."

The support for the program will be entirely up to the Saint Mary's Community.

The majority of the response to the program has been positive, according to Saint Mary's student Kim Martin. "It was about time we started all recycling. I hope this program encourages everyone at Saint Mary's to do so."

The next meeting of "Saint Mary's Recycles" is on October 18 at 7 p.m., in room 303 of the Haggar Center.

Notre Dame Room of the Morris Inn

Featuring Tom Helfrich, ND'72
Senior Vice President, Corporate Human Resources

Recent Notre Dame Alumni and Interns will also be available to talk about their experiences at The Travelers.

All majors encouraged to attend.

Refreshments will be served.

INTERVIEW DATES:

ACCENT (Information Systems Management) November 15-16, 1990

TIMP (Telecommunications) November 16, 1990

FMDP (Financial Management) November 15, 1990

MCERO ASSOCIATES (Managed Care and Employee Benefits) November 16, 1990

Internship information will also be available.

Gas mask distribution

A young Israeli boy is fitted with a child-size gas mask by an Israeli soldier in the town of Kfar Yona, north of Tel Aviv, Sunday.

The army distributed the gas masks to the populace Sunday in preparation for a potential Iraqi chemical attack.

THE TRAVELERS COMPANIES

Invite
The UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME students to attend a presentation on career opportunities

Wednesday, October 10, 1990
8:00 p.m.

The Notre Dame Room of the Morris Inn

Featuring Tom Helfrich, ND'72
Senior Vice President, Corporate Human Resources

Recent Notre Dame Alumni and Interns will also be available to talk about their experiences at The Travelers.

All majors encouraged to attend.

Refreshments will be served.

INTERVIEW DATES:

ACCENT (Information Systems Management) November 15-16, 1990

TIMP (Telecommunications) November 16, 1990

FMDP (Financial Management) November 15, 1990

MCERO ASSOCIATES (Managed Care and Employee Benefits) November 16, 1990

Internship information will also be available.

NOTRE DAME VS MIAMI T-SHIRTS

OCTOBER 20, 1990

Shirt

On the evening of October 20 last year, Zhengde Wang, a Notre Dame graduate student from Tianjin, China, was struck down by a car while walking on Notre Dame Avenue. Zhengde had already received his master's degree in sociology, was pursuing a doctoral degree and was hoping to obtain a law degree from Notre Dame for what would eventually become a distinguished career in international law.

Uninjured at the time of the accident, Zhengde was severely injured and remained in a coma for several months. Now confined to a wheelchair and undergoing therapy, Zhengde is able to recognize old friends and to move his fingers for rudimentary communication, but his recovery is far from complete and far from certain.

Profits derived from the sales of this T-Shirt will be donated to Zhengde's family for the enormous expenses this tragedy has inflicted on them.

AVAILABLE FROM HALL REPS, LA FORTUNE INFO. DESK, BOOKSTORE, PRO SHOPS, & G.S.U. OFFICE (D97 LA FORTUNE)
2 Live Crew challenges court

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — An attorney defending the rap group 2 Live Crew against obscenity charges on Monday challenged the county's voter-based jury pool, calling it unconstitutional in cases that depend on community standards.

"Because it relies only on voter registration lists it leaves you always with a pretty middle-class, semi-middle-aged disproportionately white jury pool because those are the people who register to vote in the greatest numbers," said attorney Bruce Rogow.

He also represented Charles Freeman, a black record store owner convicted last week by an all-white jury on a similar charge for selling the group's album, "As Nasty As They Wanna Be."

The defense attorney didn't suggest an alternative way to choose potential jurors.

The album, which U.S. District Judge Jose Gonzalez earlier ruled obscene, has sold about 2 million copies.

Crew leader Luther Campbell and band members Chris Wongwong and Mark Ross face misdemeanor obscenity charges stemming from a June 10 adults-only performance at a nightclub in Hollywood, Fla.

Campbell angrily walked out of the courtroom Monday while the judge read aloud his allegedly obscene lyrics. If convicted, the three could be sentenced to a year in jail and fined $1000.

Only three of 25 potential jurors questioned Monday were black. However, Broward Circuit Judge June Johnson said she wanted to see the whole 70-person pool before ruling on the defense motion. No jurors were chosen Monday.

Most obscenity cases are argued on the U.S. Supreme Court's Miller v. California test. Essentially, it holds that material is obscene if the average person, applying contemporary local community standards, would find that it is designed to cause sexual arousal, if it depicts sex in a patently offensive way, and if, taken as a whole, it lacks serious literary, artistic, political or scientific value.

Freeman complained after his conviction that the jury "doesn't represent my community."

An elections official said about 8.5 percent of registered voters in Broward County are black.

Johnson rejected a prosecution request Monday that she disqualify herself from the case because she had been a law student of defense attorney Rogow.

Prosecutors are appealing the decision.

The judge approved a defense motion that neither Freeman's conviction nor Gonzalez's ruling should be allowed as evidence at the group's trial.

Anti-draft Army protest

A jubilant Soviet anti-war youth throws a clenched fist after he climbed up to the flag post and hoisted a black protest flag before the Soviet Defense Ministry Sunday. Hundreds of youths joined a rally to demand a new voluntary army and to stop the drafting.

Two American doctors win Nobel prizes in medicine

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Two American doctors won the Nobel Prize in medicine Monday for their work in transplanting human organs and bone marrow, revolutionary procedures that have saved thousands of lives over three decades.

Joseph Murray, 71, who performed the first successful organ transplant — a kidney — and Donnall Thomas, 70, who pioneered bone marrow transplants to cure leukemia, will share the $704,000 (4 million kronor) prize.

Most Nobel Prizes in medicine have been awarded for basic research, not for clinical treatment. "I really thought this work was too clinical to ever win the prize," Thomas said from his home in Bellevue, Wash. He is affiliated with the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center in Seattle, one of the world's major bone marrow transplant institutions.

But in the case of transplants, the clinical treatment was a radical advance.

"This was astonishing, to take one organ and move it to another person. It was science fiction 30 years ago," said Dr. Carl-Gustav Grotz, a member of the Nobel Assembly at the Karolinska Institute, which awarded the prize.

A Focus on Human Sexuality

To promote a better understanding of the psycho-social, religious, cultural, philosophical, and historical aspects of homosexuality and lesbian and gay people.

This Lecture Series is sponsored by the Departments of American Studies, Anthropology, Art, Art History, and Design, Communication and Theatre, English, Government, History, Philosophy, Psychology, Sociology, Theology, and Gender Studies. Institute for Scholarship in the Liberal Arts.

A Lecture Series on Homosexuality

Tuesday, 9 October 1990
Paul Gehard, PhD
Professor Emeritus of Anthropology
Past Director, Kinsey Institute
"Historical and Cross-Cultural Perspectives on Homosexuality"
7:30pm, Library Auditorium
EDITORIAL
Cancellation of 'U' a disappointing decision

Student Government's decision to cancel the subscription for the student college newspaper, 'U', is a regrettable one.

President Bob Pasin cited two reasons for the decision. First, according to Pasin, "No one reads it." Secondly, "some people complained" about the appearance of certain types of material in the paper.

Pasin and Student Body Vice President Fred Tombar said they saw copies of the paper's September issue scattered around the dining halls. While the mess is not exactly a show of respect for University Food Services employees, it does not necessarily indicate a lack of readers. In fact, their presence implies the students actually took the trouble to take them out of The Observer and look at them.

The second reason is equally disturbing. By cancelling the subscription for this reason, the University avoids the embarrassment of canceling a feature that might revolutionize extracurricular activities. As fellow students of Notre Dame, we all share one common goal: to achieve excellence in academics. If we are doing well within the academic part of life, some of us choose to participate in an extracurricular activity.

Some of us, however, have an extracurricular activity that requires so much time that our academic priorities in the order of academicness first and extracurricular activities second, I am resigning my position of President of the Sophomore Class.

My decision did not come easily for me. Foreseeing that my time would be limited, I took the initiative to attend summer school and take organic chemistry. I thought that this would alleviate some pressure for time, but it did not. My professors respect my decision to resign, and I hope that you, too, will respect the difficult decision I made.

The new officers of the sophomore class will be as follows: Dave Cathcart, president; Robin Stumpf, vice-president; Molly O'Neil, treasurer; Jennifer Swiss, secretary. Having worked with these four people, I am highly confident that they will do an excellent job in serving the Class of 1993. I wish the four of them the best of luck.

In conclusion, I would like to thank the Class of 1993 for the opportunity they gave me to serve as their president.

Patrick McAn Flanner Hall Oct. 4, 1990

Sophomore class president resigns for academic reasons; Cathcart takes over

Edward, Cathcart, president; Robin Stumpf, vice-president; Molly O'Neil, treasurer; Jennifer Swiss, secretary. Having worked with these four people, I am highly confident that they will do an excellent job in serving the Class of 1993. I wish the four of them the best of luck.

In conclusion, I would like to thank the Class of 1993 for the opportunity they gave me to serve as their president.

Patrick McAn Flanner Hall Oct. 4, 1990

Editorial

Military needs Christian influence when making important decisions

Today I read yet another article in The Observer criticizing the ROTC programs at Notre Dame. As one who was informed that ROTC students were not to wear their uniforms to the Mass for the Pasquerilla Center dedication because of anticipated protests. As a senior enrolled in naval ROTC, and as a Catholic, I would like to respond to the controversy created about ROTC at a Catholic university. I did not join ROTC for purely financial reasons, contrary to what Mr. Long asserted in his letter on Oct. 4. I have always wanted to be an officer in the armed forces. I have chosen a career and a lifestyle, not a free ride through college.

As to the nature of my chosen career, it is important to consider the actual mission of the U.S. military. The mission of our armed forces is not to wage war but to maintain peace. The current situation in the Persian Gulf demonstrates this mission. If the United States was not interested in keeping peace at all costs, thousands of Navy, Marine Corps, Army and Air Force personnel would not be deployed in Saudi Arabia. It is also important to notice that while the United States is not permitting Iraq to have its way in Kuwait, neither has the United States invaded Iraq. The United States has not sought unnecessary bloodshed in the past, nor does it now.

It is disturbing to me that individuals like Mr. Long seek to cut off the military from Christianity. In a time of national emergency, does Mr. Long really hope that there are no Catholics at the front? It only seems logical to hope that when military decisions are being made, individuals with a moral, ethical, Christian background are making them. Considering the difficult moral decisions that military personnel may be called upon to make, it certainly seems cruel to want to cast these people out of Christianity. My Catholic upbringing helped me to make the decision to join the military. I would hate to be alienated from my church when I have more crucial choices to make.

Merritt Hamilton Pasquerilla West Oct. 4, 1990

LETTERS

I would like to add that I do not want to stifle people like Mr. Long. It is vital to our country that individuals continue to question and criticize, and it is the right to such skepticism that I am prepared to defend.
Dr. Tara Verdonk and Ellen Feeney

"War in the Middle East is inevitable.

"Saddam Hussein must ever exploit his own power, and that will inevitably require U.S. military action.

So much of the world is reverberating across the U.S. and some regions in the world, as is there seems to be no end in sight to the crisis in the Middle East. Is this is the way we really want this crisis to end?

The world is one, and the world finds itself with unprecedented opportunities to effectively build serious aggression without resorting to war. All has a very few nations of the world have come together to condemn the invasion of the Kuwait. Our message is that aggressive action with a plan that is not tolerated as a means to resolve disputes.

However, if this message is to be made effective and credible, they will not only be able to tell and justify the ends sought. Those who convey the message must be able to make clear their support for violent measures can reengage aggression to stop any attempt to act that is not tolerated as a means to resolve disputes.

The more we focus on plans for war, the more we are not opportunities for peaceful settlement, and as true, cause war to be inevitable. Such a war could involve the unleashing of some of the deadliest weapons known to man and would undoubtedly result in large numbers of Americans coming home in wheel chairs and not in power, and that will certainly require U.S. military action.

So much of the world is reverberating across the U.S. and some regions in the world, as is there seems to be no end in sight to the crisis in the Middle East. Is this is the way we really want this crisis to end?

The world is one, and the world finds itself with unprecedented opportunities to effectively build serious aggression without resorting to war. All has a very few nations of the world have come together to condemn the invasion of the Kuwait. Our message is that aggressive action with a plan that is not tolerated as a means to resolve disputes.

However, if this message is to be made effective and credible, they will not only be able to tell and justify the ends sought. Those who convey the message must be able to make clear their support for violent measures can reengage aggression to stop any attempt to act that is not tolerated as a means to resolve disputes.
Influential ND volunteers contribute much to Peace Corps program

BY JOHN FISCHER

Accent Writer

Some people, when they go away from home, go to live in Uganda for a couple years. These people, including fifteen Notre Dame graduates, are members of the Peace Corps. While not everyone goes to Uganda, this is one way to see the results of the Peace Corps and the influence of its volunteers.

Last week, in the Heuser Library today, Peace Corps recruiters attempted to encourage Notre Dame students to join the program upon graduation. Father Fetherbusch helped by stressing the commitment twenty nine years ago, recruiters have been coming to Notre Dame looking for people to serve a two-year stint in a variety of nations.

The Peace Corps seeks graduates with a variety of different skills and areas of expertise, with a focus on such scarce skills as agriculture, nursing, and adult education. A college degree is usually necessary for most jobs, which is a requirement set forth by the nations that request Peace Corps assistance.

The application and acceptance process takes approximately nine months, according to recruiter Norreen Carrillo, who just recently returned from her assignment in Costa Rica. The process includes the initial application, medical screening, and interviews. There are currently 6,244 volunteers working abroad in developing countries.

Each volunteer is provided an allowance for food and transportation. Most often, he or she has no income while there, according to Carrillo. They live in, work in, and see a part of their community. Once their two-year commitment has ended, each volunteer is granted a $5,400 "readjustment allowance" to help ease their transition back into life in the United States.

Some workers get a one-year extension in their nation, depending on the program they are assigned to.

Popular current programs include health services, technical education and advice, and literacy. Environmental concerns are gaining ground in such regions as Eastern Europe, where a sizable number of nations have recently been added to the Peace Corps' agenda.

Carrillo says, "The beauty of the Peace Corps is its hands-on, grass roots feel." She states that Peace Corps will be able to make more of an influence on individuals in other regions than the United States' official representation there. She says they are not a political organization. Politics, however, can be a source of trouble and difficulty for the Peace Corps. Volunteers have had to leave Liberia, the Philippines, and Yemen recently due to political instability in those nations. In the Philippines, a volunteer was actually threatened, as a warning that the Peace Corps was not welcome in that nation at that time.

For the most part, however, the Peace Corps is already appreciated by the host nation and its citizens. Carrillo says, "The only other major problem the Corps may have to face is a possible budget cutback. Because the Peace Corps is 100 percent funded by the United States government, this is a possibility, although there is no current knowledge of a reduction of funds."

Carrillo's personal experience in Costa Rica was as an adult education coordinator, and a teacher of literacy in high school. Another of her tasks was to refurbish school facilities in rural areas of Costa Rica. She also had time to participate in activities with and for the community, such as teaching dance and English to children, and taking them to the movies, which is something they had never done before. The children decorated her porch with wild flowers in appreciation of such efforts.

Carrillo says future goals include getting more minorities involved in order to show the people of other nations that the United States has various and diverse cultures to offer.

She says each volunteer makes his or her own mark on the program. "The goal is to try and bring something from our country that will bring home to America an understanding of what foreign cultures are about. We are in our 30th year and are still going strong," she adds.
NEED 4 GAS FOR MIA GAME CALL MIKE AS PART-TIME STAFF AT 287-4082

Oct. 15th. For your free Services (TRS).

CALL NOW!!!

Books, corner of ND ave. & LIBRARY.

PROGRAMS LONDON (MAY 22-JUNE SMC-ND)

NOW

NEED MAJA - CALL 273-1009.

JAMACIA AS PART-TIME HOME GAMES.

I NEED 4 ONE OF 2 MIA STUDENTS TO DO HOME GAMES.

I need one Airforce GA.

Call Frank at X1808.

REASONABLE. 516-437-9784

I need 4 Air Force GA's.

AFGAs 2 MIA STUB OR TRADE FOR MIAMI TIX 284-5489

... 284-5489

A PENN STATE PLEASE CALL JUSTIN @ 1-800-395-4896 FOR MORE INFO.

AF, Miami, Penn

REALLY need 1 Airforce GA!

MIAMI TICKETS!!! GA'S TO

AF, Miami, Penn

I need 4 Air Force Ga's.

TIX.

backpack, but you need ONE AIR FORCE

GAMES;

AFGAs TO

FOR SALE:

1 AF and 1

I need 1 Air Force GA.

Call Tracy at 273-9003

I need 4 AF GAS.

BUILD FOR 287-4082

THE IS A CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY

HELP THE NEEDY.

NEED 4 A F GAS Call Tracy 273-

SOMETHING IS HAPPENING

I have the price.

I'm going to sell it.

I got you.

YOU CAN ALSO TRADE FOR IT.

THE CHARGE IS 2 CENTS PER

CHARACTER PER DAY.

The Observer Tuesday, October 9, 1990

The Observer accepts classifieds every business day from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the

Note: All ads must refer to you as you

 descriptors. Drop in a 2x4 before

for $60.00.

Kelly Walsh

NEED 2 MIAMI STATE GAS

CALL X3155.

REASONABLE. 516-437-9784

YOU CAN ALSO TRADE FOR IT.

THE CHARGE IS 2 CENTS PER

CHARACTER PER DAY.

The Observer Tuesday, October 9, 1990

The Observer accepts classifieds every business day from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the

Note: All ads must refer to you as you

 descriptors. Drop in a 2x4 before

for $60.00.
NFL STANDINGS

SUNDAY'S GAMES

W L T

San Francisco 24, Houston 21
Detroit 34, Minnesota 27
Seattle 30, Miami 20,
Cincinnati 6, Pittsburgh 3
Pittsburgh 4, Cincinnati 3

---

NFL STANDINGS

W L T

Buffalo 10-3-0
Miami 10-2-1
New England 10-2-0
Cincinnati 9-3-0
Cleveland 8-4-1
Denver 7-5-2
Kansas City 7-5-0
St. Louis 7-5-1
Philadelphia 7-5-0
Dallas 7-6-0
San Francisco 7-5-0
Baltimore 7-5-1
Pittsburgh 6-6-0
Green Bay 6-6-0
Cleveland 6-6-0
San Diego 6-6-0
Minnesota 6-7-0
Kansas City 6-7-0

---

COLLEGE STANDINGS

W L T

Arkansas 6-2-0
Virginia 6-2-0
Michigan State 6-2-0
Michigan 6-2-0
Penn State 6-2-0
Ohio State 5-3-0
Iowa 5-3-0
Wisconsin 5-3-0
Ohio 5-3-0
Pennsylvania State 5-3-0
Northwestern 5-3-0

---

LEAGUES

The leading money winners on the 1990 The Women's Tennis Association money tour through Oct. 7:

1. Steffi Graf...$1,044,070
2. Martina Navratilova...$872,264
3. Jana Novotna...$672,464
4. Gigi Fernandez...$571,212
5. Arantxa Sanchez-Vicario...$503,800
6. Conchita Martinez...$477,193
7. Mary Pierce...$462,184
8. Gabriela Sabatini...$454,734
9. Steffi Graf...$408,000
10. Mary Pierce...$396,000

---

TRANSACTIONS

A.P. FOOTBALL TOP 25

1. Michigan (14)
2. Virginia (14)
3. Miami (Fla.) (9)
4. Oklahoma (7)
5. Tennessee (7)
6. Auburn (5)
7. Nebraska (5)
8. Notre Dame (5)
9. Florida State (4)
10. Washington (4)
11. Arizona (4)
12. Michigan State (4)
13. Texas A&M (4)
14. Colorado (3)
15. Clemson (3)
16. West Virginia (3)
17. Washington (3)
18. Nebraska (3)
19. Oregon State (3)
20. Minnesota (3)
The Sailing Club will meet today at 6:30 p.m. The meetings are no longer held in the boathouse. Starting this Tuesday they will be held in Room 205A O'Shag. All members should attend.

NVA CO-Rec Basketball. Entry deadline Oct. 15. Five team leagues consisting of five women and five men on a team. A fee of $20 is due with roster. Call NVA for rules.

NVA Interhall Volleyball. Men's and women's divisions. Rosters of at least seven members in same hall will be in five team round-robin divisions.

All varsity and novice rowers meet in 104 O'Shag at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 10. Bring your checkbooks. Uniforms will be sold, payment for fall break will be collected and Elkhart info will be finalized.

Sports Briefs

Boxers: Veteran and novice, any and all, there is a mandatory meeting on Thursday, Oct. 11th at 9 p.m. in 127 Hensall. All NVA Dams boxers must attend. Any questions, call Norm at 233-8133.

Women's Off-campus football - meet for practice at 6 p.m. today in the north dome of the ACC.

The top finishers in the NVA Golf Scramble Monday were: Kolar and Grace, 1st (72); Morley and Benzing, 2nd place (67); and Flemming and Miller, 3rd place (69).

The Notre Dame men's basketball team will be holding walk-on tryouts on Monday, Oct. 15th at 7 p.m. They were not held Monday the 8th as reported in the Observer.

Illinois is ranked 11th, followed by Loyola, Brigham Young, Colorado, Southern Cal, Washington, Georgia Tech, Oregon, Texas A&M and Arizona.

Wolverines become quickest team with loss to reach No. 1

An early defeat didn't stop Michigan from an early rise to No. 1.

In less than a year's time, the Wolverines have climbed to the top of the polls.

"It's nice, but we've got a long way to go," coach Gary Moeller said. "If we're No. 1 at the end of the year, then we'll get excited."

Michigan, which has won three straight since losing its opener to Notre Dame, replaced the Fighting Irish as the nation's No. 1 team. The Wolverines moved up from No. 3 after defeating No. 2 Florida State by a combined score of 36-31 and then No. 2 Florida State was beaten by Miami 31-22 Saturday.

Michigan received 34 first-place votes and 1,453 points from a nationwide panel of sportswriters and broadcasters. Undefeated Virginia, which didn't play last week, was second with 14 first-place votes and 1,384 points.

Coach Moeller emphasized his team's six spots to No. 3 with six first-place votes and 1,324 points. Rounding out the Top 10 are Oklahoma, Tennessee, Auburn, Nebraska, Notre Dame, Florida and Florida State.

The No. 8 ranking is the lowest for Notre Dame in two years.

Eight teams received first-place votes, the most since 1985. Nebraska received two, while Oklahoma, Tennessee, Florida and No. 12 Houston each got one. All of those teams are unbeaten, although Tennessee has two ties and Auburn one.

Michigan's ranking could also be good news for Michigan State, which plays the Wolverines on Saturday at Ann Arbor. The last two times the Wolverines were ranked first, they lost their next game.

Michigan was No. 1 in the 1989 preseason poll, but lost its first game to Notre Dame. After taking over the top spot in 1977, the Wolverines were beaten the following week by Minnesota.

Michigan fullback Jarrod Bunch says the No. 1 ranking will be a factor against Michigan State.

"It's more than a job, it's an adventure!" said Moeller.
Barry Larkin and the Cincinnati Reds overcame a batting slump and beat Pittsburgh 6-3 in Game 3 of the National League Championship Series.

American League? A’s having fun at Sox expense

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The day before the American League playoffs started, some Red Sox pitchers went to a batting cage buried beneath the Fenway Park bleachers to take a few swings.

They wanted to brush up on their hitting - or, in some cases, try it for the first time - so they’d be ready to battle or whatever in the World Series. On their way, they walked past a group of Oakland pitchers. The Athletics didn’t say much, but their stares did:

Don’t bother, boys.

In actions and words, these Athletics seldom fail to get their message across.

Fast forward to Game 1.

Oakland trailed 1-0 in the seventh inning, but had a runner on first base, pinch hitter Jamie Quirk at the plate and Rickey Henderson on deck.

Henderson hears everything the crowd yells at him, and often talks back. It’s how he relaxes, the way he gets ready to make things happen.

So when a couple of guys in the third-base box seats began razzing him, Henderson stopped adjusting his neon-green batting gloves and turned around.

“It’s just a matter of time,” he said, smiling.

Quirk singled. Henderson hit a tying sacrifice fly and Oakland was on its way. By the ninth, it was 7-1 when Quirk went to the plate with bases loaded and two outs.

Wait, one last piece of business before leaving the artificial turf square that serves as the on-deck area at Fenway. He looked back at the same seats, some of them now empty.

“It’s time,” he said, and then hit a two-run single.

On to the aftermath of Game 2, a 4-3 victory Sunday night that put the World Series champions in a familiar position - on track for another sweep. Both teams are talking about fun, in different ways.

“This is a winning team.”

Billy McLean said in the bustling Oakland clubhouse.

“This is a fun team.”

Larry Andersen presents another perspective.

“The way they’re playing against the Red Sox, it’s got to be fun.”

Not hard to tell which team is having more fun, is it?

The Red Sox have some thing better Tuesday when they send 17-game winner Mike Boddicker against struggling Mike Moore (13-15) in Game 3. But it’s hard to blame Boston for feeling things might not improve.

Earn while you learn.

Manpower is looking for students interested in earning great pay - plus commissions. We offer flexible hours. And valuable training and experience. Plus free use of a personal computer.

If you’re a full-time student, Sophomore or above, with at least a 2.0 average and are computer familiar, Manpower needs you as a COURT CLERK to handle the sales of the 1M Automated System/2 on campus.

For experience that pays, call today.

Manpower, Inc. 132 W. LaSalle Ave. 312-254-0157 Contact: Kim Hall

---

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds broke their hitting slump and Zone Smith’s magic on Monday to take a 2-1 lead over the Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League playoffs.

Neither team did much hitting in the first two games, combining for only 10 runs and 23 hits. But the surprise was how easily the Reds got to Smith for a 6-3 victory.

In 10 starts for the Pirates after being acquired from Montreal on Aug. 8, Smith gave up nine runs and 13 hits in 17 innings.

In Game 3, the Reds got five runs off Smith in five innings.

The power came from unlikely sources, too.

Former Pirate Billy Hatcher hit a two-run homer in the second inning and Mariano Duncan snapped a 2-2 tie with a three-run homer in the fifth and drove in another run in the ninth with his third hit of the playoffs.

Henderson walked to the plate and Rickey Henderson on deck.

Henderson hears everything the crowd yells at him, and often talks back. It’s how he relaxes, the way he gets ready to make things happen.

So when a couple of guys in the third-base box seats began razzing him, Henderson stopped adjusting his neon-green batting gloves and turned around.

“It’s just a matter of time,” he said, smiling.

Quirk singled. Henderson hit a tying sacrifice fly and Oakland was on its way. By the ninth, it was 7-1 when Quirk went to the plate with bases loaded and two outs.

Wait, one last piece of business before leaving the artificial turf square that serves as the on-deck area at Fenway. He looked back at the same seats, some of them now empty.

“It’s time,” he said, and then hit a two-run single.

On to the aftermath of Game 2, a 4-3 victory Sunday night that put the World Series champions in a familiar position - on track for another sweep. Both teams are talking about fun, in different ways.

“This is a winning team.”

Billy McLean said in the bustling Oakland clubhouse.

“This is a fun team.”

Larry Andersen presents another perspective.

“The way they’re playing against the Red Sox, it’s got to be fun.”

Not hard to tell which team is having more fun, is it?

The Red Sox have something better Tuesday when they send 17-game winner Mike Boddicker against struggling Mike Moore (13-15) in Game 3. But it’s hard to blame Boston for feeling things might not improve.

Earn while you learn.

Manpower is looking for students interested in earning great pay - plus commissions. We offer flexible hours. And valuable training and experience. Plus free use of a personal computer.

If you’re a full-time student, Sophomore or above, with at least a 2.0 average and are computer familiar, Manpower needs you as a COURT CLERK to handle the sales of the 1M Automated System/2 on campus.

For experience that pays, call today.

Manpower, Inc. 132 W. LaSalle Ave. 312-254-0157 Contact: Kim Hall
Stanford overpowers women, 9-0

By ROLANDO DE AGUIAR
Sports Writer

Stanford University brought its women’s tennis team to Eck Tennis Pavilion ranked first in the nation. Not having lost a match in nearly three years, Friday’s meeting with the 25th-ranked Irish looked easy for the Cardinal, as they swept Dame 9-0.

Despite the absence of Sandra Birch, ranked second in the nation, Stanford still had three of the top 11 NCAA players in the nation. Debbie Graham, the 1990 NCAA singles champion, took on Irish number one Tracy Barton, ranked 34th, in the top-seed match. Barton played well against the nation’s top-ranked player, losing 6-4, 6-4.

“I think Graham was surprised that Barton hit the ball as hard as she did,” said Irish coach Jay Louderback. “Tracy always hits the ball hard, but sometimes doesn’t come to the net to back it up. She did a lot more of that against Graham.”

At number two, Notre Dame freshman Christy Faustmann faced Cardinal senior Teri Whitlinger. The seventh-ranked Whitlinger downed Faustmann 6-4, 6-0. Despite the loss, Faustmann gained experience.

“It was a really good opportunity for me to be able to play so high and against such a good player,” she said. “We weren’t expected to do anything outstanding, but we all went out and did our best. Two freshmen clashed at the number-three slot, Stanford’s 11th-ranked Laxani Poruri and Notre Dame’s Terri Vitalle. Poruri, too, won in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3. The last of the Irish freshmen, Lisa Tholen, confronted Stanford’s Heather Willens. Tholen, who had an undeafeated showing at LSU in late September, was defeated 6-2, 6-0 by the sophomore.

Louderback thought that the freshmen each learned from their matches against Stanford.

“All three of them saw that college tennis is a more aggressive game, with more coming to the net, than they faced in high school,” he said. The remainder of the singles matches pitted Irish players Kim Pacella and Kristy Doran against Mario Carruth and Emma Woodhouse, respectively. Each Stanford player contributed to the Cardinal win by taking her Irish opponent in straight sets. Louderback, however, was pleased with his senior captain Pacella’s performance.

“Pacella has played well all fall, but had a tough match at LSU, and some problems with the heat,” said Louderback. “In losing (7-5, 6-4), she made a comeback.”

The Cardinal doubles tandem of Whitlinger and Poruri downed Barton and Faustmann, the number one Irish team, 6-1, 6-2. The other two doubles matches, however, were closer. Willens and Carruth defeated Vitalle and Tholen 7-5, 6-3. The number three team of Doran and junior Katie Clark won the only set for the Irish, and nearly won a match before going down 2-6, 6-3, 7-6 (7-4) to Carla Boloy and Woodhouse.

“(Clark and Doran) had a few match points, and played as well as I have ever seen them play,” said Louderback.

“When we went in, I don’t think our players expected to win. But if we play well and get some breaks, we can beat those teams.”

Ice

continued from page 16

past few years.

Dance team Wynne and Druar, who turned professional in August after placing fourth in the world this year, began the figure skating portion of the show with a jazzy routine that featured synchronized tapping and some saucy flips and twirls.

In perhaps the most daring of the exhibitions, Carz and Williams, who will vie this year for the national and world pairs titles, shocked the audience with some death-defying "bounce spin," which is banned for NutraSweet.

"I think this was the most successful (of these exhibitions)," said Carz. "The college atmosphere really made it fun. "We’re trying to interest skaters of all levels," said Sarah Balwin, the manager of special events and promotions for NutraSweet.

Monday’s exhibition marked the first time NutraSweet included hockey on its schedule. David Bankoske skated in two goals to lead the White team to a 3-1 win over the Blue squad. Robert Copeland, Tom Arkell and Matt Crotlin also scored for the White while Dan Martin tallied the Blue’s only goal.

Locker

continued from page 16

the players to shower, dress, and walk into the media room, they will lose valuable time and have trouble meeting their deadlines.

This is a valid complaint. But realistically, allowing an extra 15-20 minutes for the players to "get decent" will not increase deadline pressure much more. The reporters will still manage to get their story; they always do.

In my opinion, the women’s right to equal access and the players’ right to privacy should outweigh any considerations of deadline pressure. It is in the best interests of everybody involved to have players brought to a separate media room after the game.

I would’ve bought a Macintosh even without the student discount.

Greg Gallant
Consumer Economics and Housing Cornell University

"The first time I saw a Macintosh, I was immediately hooked. It’s a work of art. I saw the student pricing and my next move was obvious: get one.

"Some other computers are cheaper, but they’re a pain to learn, and working on them can be a grueling experience. Last year, a friend bought another kind of computer against my advice and has used it for maybe 15 hours.

What a waste. "Macintosh, on the other hand, is a logical extension of the kind it lets you create on what’s in your paper, not on how to get it on paper. You can create professional-looking documents in minutes, and you lose the fear of learning new programs because they all work in the same way. "Once you’ve worked with a Macintosh, there’s no turning back."

For more information, please contact:

The Observer / David Short
Terri Vitalle and the women’s soccer team lost to Stanford 9-0 over the weekend.
Tuesday

LECTURE CIRCUIT

12:10-12:50 p.m. "Basic Car Care I," Marty Ogren, Chief Mechanic, University of Notre Dame Transportation Center (Maintenance Building).

4:30 p.m. "Will Animal Research Survive Animal Rights?" Dr. Richard Doyle, St. Louis University School of Medicine. Auditorium (Room 283), Galvin Life Science Center.

12 p.m. "Cuba and the New World Economy: The Challenge of Cuba’s Integration to Latin America and the Caribbean," Pedro Montale, Faculty Fellow, Kellogg Institute. 131 Beverly Faculty Hall.

3:30 p.m. Ernest W. Thiele lecture: Chemical Engineering. Prof. Gerald G. Fuller, Stanford University. Room 335, Fitzpatrick Hall. Admission Free.

4 p.m. "Fads Diets vs. Good Diets," Chef Dennis Ellis, University Food Services, Becky Cook, Eating Disorders Therapist/Dietician, Memorial Hospital. Notre Dame Room, LaFortune Student Center. Admission Free. Sponsored by the Year of the Women.

Tuesday

4 p.m. Soccer game: Saint Mary’s vs. The University of Chicago. SMU soccer field.

MEALS

Notre Dame

Pasta Bar
Irish Fried Flounder
Eggs Foo Yung

MENUS

CALVIN AND HOBBIES

BILL WATTERSON

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

SPLEUNKERN

JAY HOSLER

Each time the click beetle righted itself, Kyle would flip it over again — until something went dreadfully wrong.

VERONICA I THINK PLUMES WE’RE GETTING ARIPE

Women's Issues & Today's Catholic Universities

A lecture by Dr. Ronda Chervin
8 PM Hayes Healy Auditorium (Rm 122)
Tuesday October 9 (FREE)
SUB & Year of Women
Kenyan Meyer (14) looks on as the ball gets away from the Valparaiso goalie earlier this season. The Irish take to the road for Butler tonight.

Holtz, Hamill, Bowman skate to benefit Irish hockey team

By CHRIS COONEY
Assistant Sports Editor

Lou Holtz finally got his miracle, but it wasn’t until Monday night and it wasn’t on the football field.

Instead, former Olympic and World Champion Dorothy Hamill, using what she called “a little magic of my own,” transformed Holtz from a wobbly novice on skates to a twirling, jumping performer at the “Irish on Ice” figure skating and hockey exhibition at the Joyce ACC.

“I practiced all Saturday afternoon,” joked Holtz. After Hamill locked the Notre Dame football coach inside a closet in the middle of the rink and chanted her magic words, a beeper, more confident skater emerged and wowed the crowds.

The capacity crowd soon realized that the transformed skater was really 1989 U.S. men’s champion Christopher Bowman, but Holtz and Hamill’s other pupils, Athletic Director Richard Rosenthal, Associate Athletic Director Joe O’Brien and Irish hockey coach Rio Shaffer enjoyed their free lessons from the star.

In addition to the instructional period, the show featured performances by Bowman, 1990 World Champion Jill Trenary, 1990 U.S. pairs bronze medalists Sharon Carz and Doug Williams and two national dance champions San Wynne and Joseph Druar, as well as a single-period intrasquad game by the Notre Dame Hockey team.

The crowd cheered enthusiastically throughout the event, which also included the United States Figure Skating Association sponsored to celebrate the 1990 Ice Skating Month and to benefit the Notre Dame varsity hockey program. Bowman, the 1990 world bronze medalist, returned to the ice for a dramatic performance that ended the show.

Imagery of beauty and grace as he executed double and triple jumps, before finally rippling the crowd with a free skate that exemplified why she has dominated the sport.

“Bowman the Showman” elicited screams and cheers from the audience as she floated across the ice, demonstrating for the crowd of 2,500 why she dominated women’s figure skating for the national champion Trenary was a picture of beauty and grace as she executed double and triple jumps, before finally rippling the crowd with a free skate that exemplified why she has dominated the sport.

The Irish have had some problems, however, putting the puck in the goal lately. They have scored just two goals in its past six games, both of those coming in a 2-0 victory over Ohio State last Irish night.

Sophomore forward Kevin Pendergast (six goals, four assists) continues to lead the team in scoring even though he hasn’t scored since a 6-0 victory over Valparaiso on Sept. 17.

Although they haven’t scored many goals lately, the Irish seem encouraged that their defense is coming around, seeming to suggest that if they can continue to improve as the seasons progresses, they will be ready to challenge MCC leaders Saint Louis and Evansville for the conference tournament title and earn a bid to the NCAA tourney.

“Not the ultimate goal,” Stebbins says. “We want to win the MCC. We have a good chance of making it.”

The Irish have their work cut out for them tonight as they face the MCC at this point in the season, and they still haven’t played powerhouse Ohio State.

NOTES—The Irish are 0-4 when trailing after 20 minutes and 3-0 when they score the first goal.

Locker room issue: Need equal access

Over the past few weeks there has been a lot of debate about whether female reporters should be allowed in locker rooms to talk with athletes after games.

•Coach Sam Wyche of the Cincinnati Bengals was fined $30,000 for sending his Anatolian Football League policy by barring a woman reporter from the locker room after last Monday night’s game against Seattle.

•Boston Herald reporter Lisa Olson reportedly was harassed by several male members of the New England Patriots’ locker room Sept. 17. Olson has since reported receiving death threats and has left the country for fear of her safety.

•An unidentified player challenged Orange County Register reporter Karen Crouse in the Rose Bowl locker room after the Wildcats’ 28-21 win over UCLA Saturday. The player, reporting to Olson incident, confronted Crouse, saying, “What are we, in New England?” Arizona officials later apologized for the incident.

Obviously this is a very touchy subject. Whenever you set issues as important as “freedom of the press” and “the right to privacy” at odds with each other, sparks are going to fly.

At Notre Dame Stadium, male reporters are allowed into the locker rooms after games. Female reporters are not.

I agree with the University’s stand that female reporters should not be allowed in the locker room after the game when players are showering and dressing. I think all of us, males and females alike, would feel a little bit uncomfortable having fully dressed members of the opposite sex ask us questions while we were stark naked.

But I also think that indiscriminate locker room policies provide an unfair advantage to male reporters. Let’s face it, if a man can go into the Notre Dame locker room to get quotes after a game, but a woman can’t, the sports editor of whichever paper happens to be doing the story is going to give the assignment to the man.

And in fact, if the truth must be known, the locker room experience is not exactly apalling for a reporter, or even for the average fan, either. It is a very uncomfortable feeling to have to interview a player who clearly wants to dress in privacy.

The only solution to this problem is to create a separate room where the players can be brought after they shower and dress. There they can be interviewed by members of the media, male and female, and nobody will have unfair access to the players after the game.

Of course there is a drawback to this proposal. Most reporters have strict deadlines and often they are in a hurry to get their quotes after the game. If they have to wait for

Men’s soccer faces MCC test

Irish appear to have found defense, to play Butler today

The Notre Dame soccer team, which has lost only one of its past three games, travels to Butler today to meet the Bulldogs in a Midwestern Collegiate Conference match.

Butler (2-1-1) is fourth in the MCC with a 2-2 conference record and has outscored opponents by a margin of 46-14. Scott Lawler, who leads the MCC in goals and assists, and Jeff Kurtz (six goals, four assists) will lead the Bulldog attack.

Goalkeeper John Cone has recorded six shutouts this season.

“We had three of the top teams in the MCC,” Irish co-captain Danny Stebbins says. “They’re really scoring a lot of goals. Today’s game may be a matchup between an unstoppable force and an immovable object.”

Three (3-6-3) have not given up many goals lately, recording six shutouts to date. Junior wingback Kenyon Meyer (seven goals, two assists) also scored recently.

MCC record and has outscored every team in the league.

Although they haven’t scored many goals lately, the Irish seem encouraged that their defense is coming around, seeming to suggest that if they can continue to improve the season progresses, they will be ready to challenge MCC leaders Saint Louis and Evansville for the conference tournament title and earn a bid to the NCAA tourney.

“Not the ultimate goal,” Stebbins says. “We want to win the MCC. We have a good chance of making it.”

The Irish have their work cut out for them tonight as they face the MCC at this point in the season, and they still haven’t played powerhouse Ohio State.

NOTES—The Irish are 0-4 when trailing after 20 minutes and 3-0 when they score the first goal.

Locker room issue: Need equal access

Over the past few weeks there has been a lot of debate about whether female reporters should be allowed in locker rooms to talk with athletes after games.

•Coach Sam Wyche of the Cincinnati Bengals was fined $30,000 for sending his Anatolian Football League policy by barring a woman reporter from the locker room after last Monday night’s game against Seattle.

•Boston Herald reporter Lisa Olson reportedly was harassed by several male members of the New England Patriots’ locker room Sept. 17. Olson has since reported receiving death threats and has left the country for fear of her safety.

•An unidentified player challenged Orange County Register reporter Karen Crouse in the Rose Bowl locker room after the Wildcats’ 28-21 win over UCLA Saturday. The player, reporting to Olson incident, confronted Crouse, saying, “What are we, in New England?” Arizona officials later apologized for the incident.

Obviously this is a very touchy subject. Whenever you set issues as important as “freedom of the press” and “the right to privacy” at odds with each other, sparks are going to fly.

At Notre Dame Stadium, male reporters are allowed into the locker rooms after games. Female reporters are not.

I agree with the University’s stand that female reporters should not be allowed in the locker room after the game when players are showering and dressing. I think all of us, males and females alike, would feel a little bit uncomfortable having fully dressed members of the opposite sex ask us questions while we were stark naked.

But I also think that indiscriminate locker room policies provide an unfair advantage to male reporters. Let’s face it, if a man can go into the Notre Dame locker room to get quotes after a game, but a woman can’t, the sports editor of whichever paper happens to be doing the story is going to give the assignment to the man.

And in fact, if the truth must be known, the locker room experience is not exactly apalling for a reporter, or even for the average fan, either. It is a very uncomfortable feeling to have to interview a player who clearly wants to dress in privacy.

The only solution to this problem is to create a separate room where the players can be brought after they shower and dress. There they can be interviewed by members of the media, male and female, and nobody will have unfair access to the players after the game.

Of course there is a drawback to this proposal. Most reporters have strict deadlines and often they are in a hurry to get their quotes after the game. If they have to wait for