Forbes magazine plans to reintroduce a magazine devoted to the world of finance and business, according to a recent report. The new publication, Forbes Finance World, will focus on Wall Street, corporate finance, and investment strategies for individuals and institutions.

The launch of Forbes Finance World is part of a larger effort by the magazine to expand its coverage and appeal. Forbes has long been a leader in the world of business journalism, with a focus on providing insights and analysis on key trends and developments in the global economy.

Forbes Finance World will build on the magazine's existing coverage of finance and business, with a particular emphasis on providing valuable information for investors and business leaders. The new publication will feature articles on a wide range of topics, including investment strategies, financial news, and market analysis.

Forbes Finance World is scheduled to launch in the fall of this year, with an initial print run of 100,000 copies. The magazine will be distributed through newsstands and on subscription.

The move to launch a new publication is part of a broader strategy by Forbes to grow its audience and increase its reach. The magazine has seen a significant increase in circulation and digital engagement in recent years, and is looking to continue its growth through new initiatives and partnerships.
Posters, papers are a real waste

Over the weekend, I had a most profound thought. Like most of my profound thoughts, this one came to me while I was in the bathroom. As I stood in the bathroom, I noticed the inordinate amount of posters and reading material that graces the wall space above the urinals.

Colorful, informative and interesting flyers for the seemingly millions of candidates for class office help distract the patrons of the lavatory from the business at hand. However, these flyers also serve another purpose: THEY KILL LOTS OF TREES.

These flyers, in addition to being eyesores, are also an incredible waste of paper. I understand that for a candidate to win, he or she must publicize his or her candidacy. But the reams of wasted paper that will result from all of this month's elections shows one thing. This campaigning has gotten out of hand.

I would encourage Joseph Blanco and David Florenzo to work with the Office of Student Activities to establish new rules regarding the number and placement of campaign posters as well as all posted announcements.

First, a rule limiting placement of announcements to specific designated bulletin boards should be enacted. This would limit the space for posters and thus, limit the number of posters.

Second, Student Government should limit the number of posters a candidate would use. This would also cut down on the amount of wasted paper and might even result in some original uses for campaign funds.

These recommendations might not solve the problems of wasted paper, but they would certainly cut down on the volume of paper that we waste. The only way to totally eliminate our problems is obvious: recycle. Of course, that is easy if everyone agrees on the problem itself.

First, recycling of office paper is very different from recycling of newspaper, so Recylin' Irish would require increased support, resources and funds.

Second, the Recylin' Irish program is far from perfect as it is. For instance, I spoke to the director of the program before Christmas about placing a recycling bin in The Observer office. The Observer disposes of large amounts of newspapers every day, and to not recycle it is tantamount to sin.

Despite dozens of notes and phone messages since mid-January, I haven't heard word one from anyone from Recylin' Irish about placing a bin in our office. What's wrong here?

I know that a column is not the best forum for contacting Recylin' Irish, but I've exhausted every other avenue. So I ask anyone from Recylin' Irish to call me at 239-5303 and tell me what I need to do to get a bin in our office.

Everyday that we wait, we waste more paper. We need to stop this waste and we need to do it soon. If you can help, call me. Time is running out.

Today's Staff:
News
Paul Pearson
Ann Marie Hartman
Accent
Michael Whitman
Shana Whiteman
Meredith McClellan
Sports
Pete Keenan
Scoreboard
Mark McGrath

The Observer (USPS 599 2400) is published Monday through Friday using news and feature periods. The Observer is a member of the Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.
Christmas in April program expects 3,000 volunteers

By DAVID KINNEY
News Writer

Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s students will be among thousands of community volunteers donating time and effort to repair the homes of a South Bend neighborhood through the Christmas in April program.

The program, coordinated by Bob Johnson, assistant director of ND Security, and Notre Dame students Lora Mangan, Isabel Navarrete, and Bob Scheibel, will take place on April 13.

The goal of the program is “to improve the quality of life for a neighborhood,” said Johnson. The volunteers will work an entire day to make substantive repairs to the houses and to the neighborhood, including re-roofing, plumbing, sheet-rocking, electrical wiring, and outdoor cleanup, he said.

“It is expected that about 2,000 students from ND and Saint Mary’s will help, in addition to approximately 1,000 community volunteers, including skilled laborers, said Mangan.

The program, originally conceived in Midland, Texas, was developed in South Bend three years ago, primarily through the efforts of the Notre Dame community, said Johnson. "We’ve been very successful," he continued. This success over a relatively short period of time is evidenced by an award given by the state of Indiana to South Bend for the Christmas is April program.

The program expects 3,000 volunteers, but also on the work of volunteers skilled workers from trade unions, and private and business financial contributions. Paintbrushes, paint, rakes, and a variety of other necessities will be donated by South Bend businesses.

"This is a project that depends equally on all the people who give freely of their time," said Johnson.

Last year's program provided $750,000 worth of repairs to 59 houses, as well as two churches and a community center, according to Johnson.

"When you bring in 3,000 volunteers," he said, "it really makes an impact on the whole neighborhood.”

CLUB COLUMN
FEBRUARY 4, 1991

The Hawaiian Club will have elections on Thursday, Feb. 28, at 7 p.m. at the dance practice site.

The Knights of Columbus will hold a general meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 26, at 7 p.m. The Ladies will hold a meeting upstairs. For more information call Joe at 239-7018 or Anthony at 283-3271.

LUCHACIO will be having elections for next year and a short general meeting Tuesday, Feb. 26, at 8 p.m. in the Montgomery Theater.

The Management Club will hold officer elections tonight at 7 p.m. in 124 Hayes-Haley. All members are expected to attend.

AIAA, American Institute of Aeronautics will have a meeting at Rehakleier, Thursday, Feb. 28. Meet at the Main Circle at 6:45 p.m. for free transportation. Next year’s president will be elected. Bring money for pizza.

The Korean Club is having a Korean language class every Thursday at 7 p.m. in the Montgomery Theater. LaFortune. Anyone who is interested is welcome to attend.

Students for Environmental Action will meet Sunday, March 3, at 7 p.m. in the Center for Social Concerns. Contact Amy Jenista, 283-1343, for more information.

Club column entries are to be turned in by 5 p.m. every Thursday at the Club Room for publication the following Monday.

The Club Room, 207 LaFortune, is available to club members as a meeting place on a first-come, first-serve basis. For more information, call 283-2086 or stop by during the Club Coordination Council’s office hours, Mondays 9:30-11 a.m. and 1:30-7 p.m., and Thursdays 1:30-8 p.m.

ATTENTION STUDENTS--LAST WEEK OF SIGNUPS

Off Campus Sign-ups:
February 25 - March 1 in North and South Dining Halls during lunch.
February 25 - March 1 at LaFortune information desk.

On Campus Sign-ups:
Now - March 1. Look for posters in respective dorms.

"Christmas in April 1991" will take place in the St. Casimir - Ford Street neighborhood.

This project needs your support!

QUESTIONS?? Please call:

Isabel Navarrete x1314  Lora Mangan x1314  Bob Scheibel x1739
Three firefighters die in Philadelphia skyscraper fire

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A high-rise inferno that burned for almost 19 hours was brought under control after killing three firefighters and gutting nine floors of a 38-story skyscraper across from City Hall.

The 12-alarm blaze raged from 8:30 p.m. Saturday until 3 a.m., when it reached a floor with automatic sprinklers and firefighters were able to direct a stream of water into windows, Fire Commissioner Roger Ulshafer said.

Hours earlier, fire crews stopped fighting the blaze from inside the building after engineers warned that the charred and soot-covered high rise couldn't be used, so firefighters couldn't be used, so firefighters were able to direct a stream of water into windows, Fire Commissioner Roger Ulshafer said.

At least 12 firefighters were injured. Two were hospitalized in stable condition.

The fire at One Meridian Plaza started on the 22nd floor and spread to the 30th floor, where sprinklers kicked in. The building was only partially equipped with sprinklers, with none on the 22nd through the 29th floors, Ulshafer said.

"By the time we got them up there and got enough water, the fire was three floors above our heads," Ulshafer said.

Three new ways to survive college.

The Macintosh Classic

The best of Macintosh affordability, yet it comes with everything you need. It's a computer that lets you do more.

The Macintosh LC

With Apple's introduction of three new Macintosh computers, meeting the challenges of college life just got a whole lot easier. Because now, everybody can afford a Macintosh.

Macintosh Classic: the most affordable model, yet it comes with everything you need. It's a computer that lets you do more.

Macintosh LC: combines color capabilities with affordability. It's perfect for students who need a computer with extra power and expandability.

No matter which Macintosh you choose, you'll have a computer that lightens your workload.

Three new ways to survive college.

Web-based instruction, Macintosh technology, and more. Every Macintosh is easy to set up and easy to master. And when you've learned one program, you're well on your way to learning the next.

The power to be your best.

© 1990 Apple Computer, Inc. Apple, the Apple logo, and Macintosh are registered trademarks of Apple Computer, Inc. SuperDrive is the property of SuperDrive and is trademarked by Apple Computer, Inc. Other registered trademarks are the property of their respective owners. All rights reserved. Made in the USA.
said Russo. He said that indirect costs of attendance includes books and supplies, travel costs and incidentals, said Russo. He said that approximately $550 to $600 is figured in as enough for student’s incidental costs.

Students expressed concern that this figure was too low and suggested that this amount be doubled when figuring costs. One student suggested that close to $100 is spent on football tickets early in the academic year. Russo agreed to look into this figure.

The following recommendations concerning financial aid were made in "The Challenge of Diversity: A Report on Racial Relations at Notre Dame":

• That the University set specific goals for each year in the next decade as the school gets closer to the realization of the goal to meet financial aid needs for every undergraduate.

• That the Office of Financial Aid make it a policy to present four-year financial aid plans to students, especially minorities. The school currently makes year-to-year commitments for accepted students.

• That the Alumni Association encourage every alumni club to develop a scholarship fund.

• That the Office of Financial Aid and the Career and Placement Office continue to support the Graduates Interviewing for Tomorrow (GIFT) program which has a long-term goal of establishing a scholarship fund for students who must leave the University for financial reasons.

While the first two recommendations were addressed by the students, the latter two were not raised in the discussion.

Beauchamp talked to the group about the 10-year plan for financial aid that was presented to the Board of Trustees in May, 1990. The goal is to meet the financial needs of every undergraduate by the year 2000.

He reported that starting with this year’s freshman class, every minority student’s financial need is met. In addition, the number of Notre Dame Scholares has doubled.

Students asked Russo if his office could design four-year financial aid plans for students entering the University. He responded that packages have to be planned on a year-to-year basis due to changing financial situations of students.

Throughout the meeting, students brought up specific concerns based on personal experience. Russo assured the students that his office deals with financial need on an individual basis. Both he and Mason told the students that they were available to talk to any student who has concerns about financial aid.

The Observer is currently accepting applications for the paid position of Accent Copy Editor.

If interested, please submit a one-page personal statement to John O’Brien at The Observer by 5 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 28 or call John at 239-5303.

Investiture
Crown Prince Naruhito is followed by court chamberlains carrying a ceremonial sword during Saturday’s court rituals in Tokyo.
Pro-Saddam Arabs blame allies for ground offensive

Nicosia, Cyprus (AP) — Arabs sympathetic to Saddam Hussein denounced the allied ground offensive Sunday as a premeditated effort to destroy Iraq, but backers of the coalition said the Iraqi leader alone was to blame.

"It's the saddest day in the world, with all those young soldiers who are now going to die because of one man," said Ali Mohammed, a Chamber of Commerce employee in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia.

In Jordan, where pro-Saddam sentiment is widespread, Parliament Speaker Abdul Latif Ararabah called on all Arab and Muslim nations to unite behind Iraq.

"All believers in Iraq and everywhere will stand united and will challenge the aggression of the allied evil powers," Ararabah said.

His comments were delivered after Iraqi Foreign Minister Tariq Aziz secretly visited Kuwait from Moscow, according to parliament deputies.

In Yemen, thousands of people took to the streets of the capital, San'a, to demonstrate against the United States and its allies. Some pelted the Egyptian and British embassies with stones. Security cordons kept them from attacking the U.S. and Saudi Arabia embassies.

President Ali Abdullah Saleh spoke to the demonstrators, telling them the "attack on Iraq is not designed to liberate Kuwait but an attempt to destroy Iraq's human and military potential."

Yemen does not condone the Iraqi occupation of Kuwait, but it wants a quick end to the ground battle against Saddam Hussein.

'This is proof that the United States had no other goal except to destroy Iraq," said Hocine Ait Ahmed, leader of the Socialists Party Front in Algeria.

In contrast, Kuwait's ambassador to Egypt, Abdul-Ra'ad El-Kandari, said the allies "had to start a ground offensive because cause of the Iraqi regime's lack of response to the peace calls." "We're very happy," said Adnan al-Shawaishan of the Kuwaiti Information Office in Dhahran, Saudi Arabia. "But we're also concerned about our relatives and what the Iraqis will do as they leave."

U.S. military officials said Saturday that the Iraqis, perhaps anticipating their forced departure from Kuwait, had stepped up random executions of civilians there.

The Saudi government, but not the allied force, issued a brief announcement Sunday saying the allies had "commenced their ground war to liberate sister Kuwait in line with the Operation Desert Storm plan."

"From God we derive support and success," the New York Times reported Saturday.

In Syria, another Arab member of the allied coalition, the government reported the start of the offensive — in which U.S. commanders said Syria was involved to some extent. But Tishrin, a state-run Damascus newspaper, said Saddam's regime bore the blame.

Woman near front no different than men

Mon The Saudi border — There are no women closer to the front line than Sgt. Theresa Lynn Treloar. "She's just like any other soldier, she's just a woman near front no different than men," said Maj. Michael Mendell, who had her radio tuned in desert in ancient Rome geese were used to warn of approaching enemies.

In Yemen, thousands of people took to the streets of the capital, San'a, to demonstrate against the United States and its allies. Some pelted the Egyptian and British embassies with stones. Security cordons kept them from attacking the U.S. and Saudi Arabia embassies.

President Ali Abdullah Saleh spoke to the demonstrators, telling them the "attack on Iraq is not designed to liberate Kuwait but an attempt to destroy Iraq's human and military potential."

Yemen does not condone the Iraqi occupation of Kuwait, but it wants a quick end to the ground battle against Saddam Hussein.

'This is proof that the United States had no other goal except to destroy Iraq," said Hocine Ait Ahmed, leader of the Socialists Party Front in Algeria.

In contrast, Kuwait's ambassador to Egypt, Abdul-Ra'ad El-Kandari, said the allies "had to start a ground offensive because cause of the Iraqi regime's lack of response to the peace calls." "We're very happy," said Adnan al-Shawaishan of the Kuwaiti Information Office in Dhahran, Saudi Arabia. "But we're also concerned about our relatives and what the Iraqis will do as they leave."

U.S. military officials said Saturday that the Iraqis, perhaps anticipating their forced departure from Kuwait, had stepped up random executions of civilians there.

The Saudi government, but not the allied force, issued a brief announcement Sunday saying the allies had "commenced their ground war to liberate sister Kuwait in line with the Operation Desert Storm plan."

"From God we derive support and success," the New York Times reported Saturday.

In Syria, another Arab member of the allied coalition, the government reported the start of the offensive — in which U.S. commanders said Syria was involved to some extent. But Tishrin, a state-run Damascus newspaper, said Saddam's regime bore the blame.
Kremlin says it's still not too late to end war in Persian Gulf

MOSCOW (AP) — The Kremlin insisted on Sunday that the U.N. Security Council could still stop the Persian Gulf War and called on the United States for starting the ground war while Soviet peace efforts were underway.

"The instinct to rely on a military solution prevailed, de­spite ... Iraq’s agreement to withdraw its forces from Kuwait," said a statement read by Foreign Ministry spokesman Vitaly Churkin at a news con­ference. "We in the Soviet Union express regret that a very real chance for a peaceful solution of the conflict has been missed," Churkin said.

On Saturday, Foreign Minister Tariq Aziz of Iraq announced that his government had accepted a peace plan proposed by President Mikhail Gorbachev and would withdraw its troops from Kuwait within 21 days. The White House dismissed both the proposal and Iraq’s acceptance of it as "without ef­fect." But Churkin said, "The diver­gence between formulas which Iraq had agreed to and the proposals of a number of other states were not great. They could be agreed in a Security Council meeting within 24 to 48 hours." Churkin said, "It is still not too late to do so."

But President Bush’s national security adviser, Brent Scowcroft, said Sunday the United States could not delay the ground assault to allow more time for the Soviet peace efforts because "Kuwait is going up in flames. ... We want to get him out of there before he can do any other terrible damage." Scowcroft added that the Soviets remain "stubborn mem­bers" of the allied coalition but he acknowledged that their objec­tives "may not be entirely parallel to those of the United States."

"While they did make a seri­ous effort and are obviously disappointed it didn’t work, they are solidly still behind the coalition," Scowcroft said in an interview on NBC’s "Meet the Press." Churkin said the Soviet Union made every effort to implement the peace plan before the ground offensive was launched.

The governments of Arab countries were advised of steps being undertaken by us,'" the statement said. "The Soviet ambassador to the United Nations took steps toward con­vening an emergency Security Council meeting to examine the possibility of using a day of the operation of the war forces withdrawal." Gorbachev also asked Bush to delay the start of a ground assault for one or two days, presidential spokesman Vitaly Ignatenko said. He did not say what the White House response was, but Bush ordered the off­ensive Sunday.

Free Iraq Radio calls for revolt

Nicosia, Cyprus (AP) — The clandestine Voice of Free Iraq radio appealed to Iraqis on Sunday to revolt against Saddam Hussein and save their country from dictatorship and war.

"Lift the headquarters of the tyrant and save the homeland from destruction," said the Iraqi opposition station, which is thought to transmit from Saudi Arabia.

The appeal was made by Salah Umar Al-Ali, former member of Iraq’s ruling Revolutionary Command Council and the regional command of the Arab Baath Socialist Party.

"Rise to save the homeland from the clutches of dictatorship so that you can devote yourself to avoiding the dangers of the continuation of the war and destruction," said Al-Ali, who was purged by Saddam in 1972 and is now a leading opponent of the Iraqi president.

Honorable sons of the Tigris and Euphrates, at these decisive moments of your life and while facing the danger of death at the hands of foreign forces, you have no option in order to survive and defend the homeland but to put an end to the dictator and his criminal go­ing," Al-Ali said.

Saddam had not considered the innocent blood that would be shed because of his refusal to leave Kuwait. He said the Iraqi leader had smuggled his family and funds out of the country and would leave Iraq empty and in ruins.

"He will fleethe battlefield when he becomes certain that the catastrophe has engulfed every street, every house and every family in Iraq," Al-Ali said.

Al-Ali described Saddam as the "criminal tyrant of Iraq" who refused all peace endeavors.

Free Iraq Radio calls for revolt
Medical study: tobacco smoking tied to strokes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Cigarette smoking speeds deterioration of arteries that supply the brain and quadruples the risk of one kind of stroke, studies show.

A 50-year-old who smokes two packs of cigarettes a day has artery damage comparable to a light smoker 10 years older, said Dr. Robert Dempsey, a neurosurgeon at the University of Kentucky in Lexington.

"The effect in that 50-year-old would be to take 10 years off his life," Dempsey said Saturday at the American Heart Association's annual meeting on strokes.

In a separate study, researchers found those who smoked a pack a day or less were four times as likely as non-smokers to suffer from the form of stroke called subarachnoid hemorrhage, which occurs primarily in people younger than 65 and more commonly in women. It has a high death rate.

Those who smoked more than a pack a day had up to 11 times the risk of subarachnoid hemorrhages, which make up 7 percent of the 500,000 strokes suffered by Americans each year.

Dr. Will Longstreth, the study's author, said that the risk is especially high within three hours of smoking a cigarette, and then it falls off gradually. But smokers continue to have a higher risk of this kind of stroke even years after they give up cigarettes.

"If you stop smoking now you're looking at a 10-year period of time until your risk is what it is in someone who never smoked," said Longstreth, a neurologist at the University of Washington in Seattle.

His findings were based on study of 149 stroke victims and 149 people of similar background who had not had strokes. He concluded that smoking is responsible for about 8 percent of all subarachnoid hemorrhages.

He said that more than 8,000 stroke strokes could be prevented each year in the United States with the elimination of smoking.

In the other study, Dempsey made use of a special ultrasound scanner to determine the thickness of waxy deposits building up inside the carotid artery, one of the principal suppliers of blood to the brain.

These deposits can ultimately diminish or block blood flow to parts of the brain, causing strokes.

Dempsey found in an examination of 790 patients that the thickness of the deposits, called plaques, was directly related to the amount that smokers had smoked over their lifetimes.

"Heavy smokers have much more plaque in their carotid arteries than non-smokers," he said.

Diabetes and high blood pressure were also linked to the formation of plaques, but smoking was a greater risk factor than either of those, Dempsey said.

Several studies have identified smoking as a possible risk factor for strokes, but the link has not yet been shown as clearly as the link between smoking and heart disease, researchers said.

Statistics collected by the Framingham Heart Study in Massachusetts suggest that smoking raises the risk of stroke by 40 percent in men and 60 percent in women.

Longstreth's study shows the effect is more striking with regard to subarachnoid hemorrhage, which occurs when a blood vessel near the surface of the brain ruptures and bleeds into the space between the brain and the skull.

DHAKA, Bangladesh (AP) — Supporters of two rival political parties contesting next week's national elections fought with guns and knives Sunday, killing at least two people and injuring 25, police said.

The violence between supporters of the Awami League and the National Democratic Party occurred in the southeastern port city of Chittagong, said city police, speaking on condition of anonymity.

Police said two people died of bullet wounds in the clash. Police did not specify which party the victims represented.

The deaths raised to 13 the number of people killed in poll-related violence since the beginning of campaigning for election to the 300-seat Parliament. Police and media report more than 1,000 people have been injured.

More than 60 million people are eligible to vote in the country's fifth elections since it gained independence from Pakistan in 1971.

The elections would be Bangladesh's first democratic transfer of power without coups or assassinations.

Bangladesh's caretaker government announced elections last December after President Hussain Mohammad Ershad stepped down following a popular uprising against what his opponents said was a corrupt and authoritarian rule.

The Awami League, headed by Sheikh Hasina, is the country's first and biggest political party.

Although the National Democratic Party is small, Salahuddin Kader Chowdhury, a minister in Ershad's government, is considered a powerful candidate.
ND Credit Union offers students spring break loans

By L. PETER YOB

Notre Dame Credit Union is offering special loans in amounts up to $500 to help cover spring break expenses.

Rob Marshall, a 1988 graduate of the credit union, designed the program.

"We always have a spring break loan especially based on tax season," he said. This year the Credit Union special is directed at students who want to take a vacation.

The application requires the student's name, address, basic credit information and student identification number.

"In most cases the applicant should be able to walk out with a check," said Denise Lynch, director of member services and branch operations at the Credit Union.

Dennis Emmons, director of credit services at the Credit Union, said that "they are try­ing to get students to become members so that those students can take advantage of other services the Credit Union has to offer."

IN gambling bill proposed

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - Advocates of casino gambling in Gary say attempts to broaden their legislation's appeal may have backfired, leaving them in a difficult position as a major gambling bill comes to the floor of the Indiana House this week.

"My gut feeling is we've got some work to do," said Sen. Earline Rogers, a Gary Democrat and original sponsor of the casino legislation. "We appear to be no better off, and maybe less well off, than we were in 1989," the first year a casino bill was introduced.

Unsuccessful in 1989 and once again last year, Gary casino supporters attempted to win new support this year by adding provisions to permit casinos in the old resort towns of French Lick and West Baden Springs and to allow gambling on Ohio River excursion boats.

Then last week, without the blessing of Gary legislators, House Ways and Means Chairperson B. Patrick Bauer, D­

South Bend, added to the casino bill his proposal to allow off-track pari-mutuel betting on horse races. Bauer claimed the addition would make the bill stronger.

However, Rogers and others now believe the forced mar­
rriage of the two major gambling proposals did not make either any good. Many say that instead of broadening the base of support, the move broadened the base of opposition.

"The addition of pari-mutuel gave one more umbrella for those people who want to hide from casting a vote on casinos," Rogers said.

House Minority Leader Paul Manweiler, R-Indianapolis, said gambling advocates "did the wrong thing by putting the bills together."

"I think they hurt it, instead of helping it. I still don't think they have enough votes to pass it," he said. Manweiler added that he's aware of only one or two of the House's 48 Republicans who are likely to support the newly enlarged gambling measure.

Boom in computer war games

Oil closes at record low since war's start

NEW YORK (AP) - Before the war with Iraq began, everyone was wondering how high oil prices could fly. Now, the oil market is more like a limbo dance, with traders wondering whether crude will be able to tumble below that threshold.

On Friday the benchmark grade, light sweet crude for delivery in April, settled at $17.91 per barrel, down 59 cents, on the New York Mercantile Exchange. That was a record low close for the crisis that began with the invasion of Kuwait on Aug. 2.

Others say oil has shown a reluctance to go much below $16 during the past two years. They see no reason for it to get much lower now, noting that even though world production is now too high, it will take time for Iraq and particularly Kuwaiti crude to be brought back into the supply stream.

Senior oil analyst Ann-Louise Hittle at Shearson Lehman Brothers Inc. said predictions of a big crash could turn out to be overstated as the predic­tions of huge price increases at the outbreak of war. She sees a potential for oil to fall to $16 per barrel in the near future.

"The market has already discounted to a large extent the end of the crisis, and what could happen is when you actually get to it, it doesn't sell that much," Hittle said. "I'm really in that camp. I just don't see it crashing as badly. The market has already fallen a great deal."

The same analysts who now seem unanimous in predicting lower prices have been equally unanimous in predicting higher prices once the shooting war with Iraq began. Just the opposite happened.

After a momentary spike when the bombs began falling on Jan. 17, crude plunged a record $10.56 per barrel in one day on the New York Mercantile Exchange.

Then last week, without the blessing of Gary legislators, House Ways and Means Chairperson B. Patrick Bauer, D­

South Bend, added to the casino bill his proposal to allow off-track pari-mutuel betting on horse races. Bauer claimed the addition would make the bill stronger.

However, Rogers and others now believe the forced mar­
rriage of the two major gambling proposals did not make either any good. Many say that instead of broadening the base of support, the move broadened the base of opposition.

"The addition of pari-mutuel gave one more umbrella for those people who want to hide from casting a vote on casinos," Rogers said.

House Minority Leader Paul Manweiler, R-Indianapolis, said gambling advocates "did the wrong thing by putting the bills together."

"I think they hurt it, instead of helping it. I still don't think they have enough votes to pass it," he said. Manweiler added that he's aware of only one or two of the House's 48 Republicans who are likely to support the newly enlarged gambling measure.

The Credit Union is located just north of Douglas road near Juniper.

Oil closes at record low since war's start

NEW YORK (AP) - Before the war with Iraq began, everyone was wondering how high oil prices could fly. Now, the oil market is more like a limbo dance, with traders wondering whether crude will be able to tumble below that threshold.

On Friday the benchmark grade, light sweet crude for delivery in April, settled at $17.91 per barrel, down 59 cents, on the New York Mercantile Exchange. That was a record low close for the crisis that began with the invasion of Kuwait on Aug. 2.

Others say oil has shown a reluctance to go much below $16 during the past two years. They see no reason for it to get much lower now, noting that even though world production is now too high, it will take time for Iraq and particularly Kuwaiti crude to be brought back into the supply stream.

Senior oil analyst Ann-Louise Hittle at Shearson Lehman Brothers Inc. said predictions of a big crash could turn out to be overstated as the predic­tions of huge price increases at the outbreak of war. She sees a potential for oil to fall to $16 per barrel in the near future.

"The market has already discounted to a large extent the end of the crisis, and what could happen is when you actually get to it, it doesn't sell that much," Hittle said. "I'm really in that camp. I just don't see it crashing as badly. The market has already fallen a great deal."

The same analysts who now seem unanimous in predicting lower prices have been equally unanimous in predicting higher prices once the shooting war with Iraq began. Just the opposite happened.

After a momentary spike when the bombs began falling on Jan. 17, crude plunged a record $10.56 per barrel in one day on the New York Mercantile Exchange.

Then last week, without the blessing of Gary legislators, House Ways and Means Chairperson B. Patrick Bauer, D­

South Bend, added to the casino bill his proposal to allow off-track pari-mutuel betting on horse races. Bauer claimed the addition would make the bill stronger.

However, Rogers and others now believe the forced mar­
rriage of the two major gambling proposals did not make either any good. Many say that instead of broadening the base of support, the move broadened the base of opposition.

"The addition of pari-mutuel gave one more umbrella for those people who want to hide from casting a vote on casinos," Rogers said.

House Minority Leader Paul Manweiler, R-Indianapolis, said gambling advocates "did the wrong thing by putting the bills together."

"I think they hurt it, instead of helping it. I still don't think they have enough votes to pass it," he said. Manweiler added that he's aware of only one or two of the House's 48 Republicans who are likely to support the newly enlarged gambling measure.
Critics of Sacred Heart restoration must consider excessive war expenditures also

Dear Editor:

It has become fashionable on this campus to bash Notre Dame, particularly for the enormous amount of money spent on the recent restoration of Sacred Heart Church. Beyond the financial consideration, these critics contend, look at the results: every inch of the church covered with garish murals or pretentious gilt. Who, they ask, could possibly worship here? (At least the distractions for one worship in this reflection, let me say that I am the latest in a line of Saints who have visited the church for all the right reasons.)

Before getting to the heart of this reflection, let me say that I find the recent restoration of Sacred Heart rather regularly and happily. Am I distressed? Certainly. But I can be distracted in a hale stucco carrel in the library's reference section whenever I want to. And every time I go to Sacred Heart I remember that I am the latest in a line of wonderful men and women that stretches back nearly 2000 years. Gazing at those "garish" paintings, I understand that the Communion of Saints is more than a theological whimsy. I draw hope from the realization that, in every age, ordinary people have struggeled to achieve extraordinary holiness. Although I am now a litigant, I was for a good part of my adult life a classical, a lover and teacher of Latin and the culture and civilization of the Greco-Roman world. I have often asked, can I possibly find any redeeming 'value to Sacred Heart? Where is the elegant simplicity of the gleaming whit marble temples of ancient Greece and Rome? The answer is as simple as the temples themselves: there is no point of comparison. While the temples of antiquity were, strictly, shrines of the gods, off limits to humans save, of course, the high priest on special occasions, Christian churches are people places. And what were those places like in the ancient world? They were marble temples of ancient beauty, covered with brightly painted murals and exquisite mosaics. It seems the ancients understood better than we sophisticated moderms how important sensory stimulation is for us mortals.

Arguing about the suitability or the artistic merits of the interior of Sacred Heart is not, however, the point of this reflection. The point is money, the amount of money spent on the restoration of a church and the manner of money spent on death.

The restoration of Sacred Heart was completed 102 years after the present church was dedicated. Projecting that it will be another 100 or so years before the next restoration is necessary, it seems that, to be fair, we should divide the amount spent on the recent undertaking by at least 100 to arrive at a yearly cost.

When I first began thinking about an article on this topic, I meant to compare that amount to the 1.5 million dollars poured into the United Nations each year by El Salvador. Sadly, there is a more urgent and infinitely more immoral expenditure available for comparison now: our government is currently spending millions of dollars A DAY for the "liberation" of Kuwait and, according to a recent article in "The San Francisco Chronicle," that figure will soon reach 1 billion dollars. A DAY. A billion dollars spent solely on death, destruction and ecological disaster.

So, my dear critics of Sacred Heart, how many letter have you written to protest this obscenity? How many phone calls have you made? How many shelters have you visited, or AIDS clinics, or unemployment offices, or soup kitchens? What have you done to plead for an end to death and destruction and a beginning of people expenditures?

You may be inspired or repulsed by leaving aside the obvious observation that the church is the place and not the building, you may find it possible or repugnant to worship there. But you may not, it seems to me, protest the one expenditure without giving serious consideration to the other. For the wealthy in our country it is, in many ways, the best of times. For thousands of people in the Middle East, Iraqs, Israel, the soldiers and all the rest, and for the millions of poor and marginalized in our own country, it is the worst of times. Perhaps we can work together to find a far, far better way to peace.

Student views prayer as way to end violence in Gulf

Dear Editor:

As a member of Pax Christi, I was rather stung by Tom Esh's criticism (The Observer, Feb. 7) of those of us who have responded to the Persian Gulf War with prayer. Certainly I agree with him that prayer by itself is meaningless. However, I am utterly convinced of the value of prayer in discerning the way to ending this violence. I am a pacifist. I believe that nonviolent solutions are possible for all our human conflicts. And I believe that violence is sinful. I have the highest admiration for the Gulf Crisis Action Group. These people have demonstrated very clearly their opposition to the Persian Gulf War. However, to me, their activism has seemed rather quixotic with no real hope of changing anything. So, I have spent my time in prayer, trying to discern how to change the hearts of those who support the war and how I needed to change my heart.

It is often easier for us to see the speck in our opponent's eye than the log in our own. Recently, I realized that many of us in the peace movement are making exactly the same mistake which we criticize in others. We see so clearly that the President and the people and many who support the war are portraying Saddam Hussein as completely evil and themselves as completely pure. Yet, at the same time, we have done exactly the same thing—we portray George Bush as the evil one and ourselves as righteous.

Through my prayers, I have come to accept that George Bush is a man of integrity, a man who follows his conscience. Similarly, I believe that Saddam Hussein has a good side. He is courageous and has done some good things for his country in the past. I think that this is demonstrated by the support he has among his own people and among the poorer peoples throughout the Middle East. However, I must, at the same time, condemn the evil actions which both Bush and Hussein have taken—the bombing of Iraq into oblivion; the SCUB attacks on Israel; the invasion of Kuwait; the use of chemical weapons and the pumping of huge amounts of oil into the Persian Gulf. I would strongly urge everyone, both those in the peace movement and those who support the war, to pray and reflect on how to end this war and how we can prevent similar wars in the future.

QUOTE OF THE DAY

"The trouble with experience is that it usually teaches you something you didn't want to know." — Liam Geoghegan
Correction

Due to a copy editing error, several words from Jay Landry's column were omitted. The second sentence in the sixth paragraph of the article should have read: "For we, as a country, are a violent nation: we kill 1.6 million unborn human beings each year, we force many into a Pyrrhic victory over Iraq."
Explosion of Color

Left:
Model Olivia Porter displays the beauty, comfort, and function of African styles.

Right:
Wrapped in a passionate embrace, models Joe Wilson and Tish Powell reveal a combination of the seductive and conservative.
By LEHIA D. FRANKLIN
Accent Writer

A s the lights went up in the darkened Monogram Room of the Joyce Athletic and Convocation Center, the models of this year's Black Cultural Arts Festival Fashion Show took the stage in traditional African dress, giving credence to the theme, "Explosion of Color." In their tribute to the styles of the Motherland, the models presented hues, textures, and fabrics from various African countries, many of which have played a large part in contemporary European and American designs.

In keeping with this African theme, one of the two guest designers from the South Bend area, Jay Ganger, presented pieces from his line that had a definite African flare. The designer quipped that "Hammer pants" (as in M.C. Hammer) had their origin in Africa, and he featured similar pieces. Ganger also presented "seamless, sewless" wraps that serve as skirts, and can be used as head and shoulder wraps.

The overall message of Ganger's designs was one of beauty, comfort, and function, principles central to African art, clothing, and design.

Even though mid-February in South Bend doesn't often lead one to think of spring, it was definitely in the air as the spring lines of several area stores were presented. One scene, "So U Like What U Sea," was devoted entirely to the nautical navy and white, while "Soft Hues" featured fashions in soft pastels and warm earth tones. On the business front, the attitude matched the clothes: bold and in control.

More exciting than the clothes (or absence of) was the creative presentation of the scene. Between the fabrics, the audience was looking for their tongues to pick them up off of the models, the audience was entertained with the traditional swimsuit scene, the models decided to "expose" the audience to a taste of naughty after their final scene, "Let's Spend the Night." Instead of the traditional swimsuit scene, the models decided to "expose" the audience to a taste of naughty after hours fashions. Something for every taste (except for you leather teddy fans) was shown, from the innocence of a white cover-up and baby doll gown to the seductive black garter belt, stockings, and leather boa. The men sported more conservative wear, featuring robes and boxer shorts of various prints and fabrics.

More exciting than the clothes (or absence of) was the creative presentation of the scene. Between the undulations and gyrations and pulsations of the models, the audience was left gasping for breath or looking for their tongues to pick them up off of the floor. As Madonnas "Justify My Love" provided background for the scene, the models provided the best of suggestions for use of this type of clothing.

Participating in this year's production were models: Eric Bailey, Corey Collins, Yvette Davison, Karl Demange, Danielle Duchastel, Eric Giggis, Malik Harrison, Jonathan Jordan, Lisa McGiff, Keith McCoy, Olivia Porter, Tish Powell, Asha Price, Keisha Shelton, James Suttle, Marvi Thomas, Joe Wilson, and little Miss Paris Outlaw of South Bend.

Executive Co-Coordinators were Shelese Douglas and Camille Home, and Assistant Co-Coordinators were Chelsea Latimer and Monique White. The Emcees for the evening were Jocelyn Allen and Chelsea Latimer.

Stores which participated included: The Enchanted Cottage, Hudson's, Jeans West, J. Riggins, Louis's Tux, Maurice's, S-9 West, Richman Brothers, She's Got the Look, Stoller's and Susan's. Sponsors of the show were Irish Gardens, Jay Ganger, Robert Lee Salon, Wristlets Barbier Shop, Great Wall, Palace, Patricia, and Christina Party Company.

---

Left: The clothes shown by Jay Ganger, a designer from South Bend, brings the look of traditional African dress to contemporary American designs.

Right: Models James Suttle and Marvi Thomas prepare to say, "I do."
Brett Hull of the St. Louis Blues is in the NFL for this season in scoring. Along with Adams, the duo has led the Blues to the Norris Division lead.

---

Classifieds

NOTICES

TYING AVAILABLE

NY TIMES, used and new books
Pandora's Books 233-2342
corner of NO ave. & Howard

RESTRICTIONS

QUALITY.

Philippines

WESTSIDE

Hitler

Put out for sale drawing cards.

Philippines

Phone: (615) 799-7111 Ext. T-695.

Hull has scored in his last 13 games for the New York Islanders for the second straight night, this time 4-3, to extend their winning streak to four.

Philadelphia beat the Islanders 5-3 Saturday night at the Nassau Coliseum. The victory lifted Philadelphia on top of the Pittsburgh to second place in the Eastern Division and also gave the Flyers 31 wins, one more than they had the entire 1989-90 season.

Philadelphia knocks off Islanders at home

Philadelpia

Call IHS his last 13 games

Brett Hull is zeroing in on his second straight 10-point season despite missing 19 games with a sprained ankle.

It’s like asking a fish which son he likes better

Phil橹h

Coach Brian said after the Hull and Oates show combined for nine points in a 7-2 victory over the New York Islanders on Thursday night.

For an encore, Hull got his third straight trick of the week and Oates had a goal and three assists as the Islanders lost for the first time in franchise history. A vote for either Hull or Oates was the Hart Trophy winner and no one could complain.

But which one’s pick? Hull, who leads the league with 68 goals? Or Oates, who leads the league with an average of more than two points per game and is earning first his second straight 100-point season despite missing 19 games with a sprained ankle.

“It’s like asking a father which son he likes better

Hull

in the second period, lifted Buffalo into a tie with Hartford.

The tie extended Buffalo’s winless streak on home ice to 12 games. In that stretch, the Sabres have four ties. The last time Buffalo won on home ice was on Jan. 22, when they defeated the Boston Bruins 4-3.

Besides getting two goals, Andyrekch had one assist heading into the weekend, surpassing his total from the last season.

Andrewych’s second goal of the game, at 17:07 of the third period, lifted Buffalo into a tie with Hartford.

The tied extended Buffalo’s winless streak on home ice to 12 games. In that stretch, the Sabres have four ties. The last time Buffalo won on home ice was on Jan. 22, when they defeated the Boston Bruins 4-3.

Besides getting two goals, Andyrekch had one assist heading into the weekend, surpassing his total from the last season.

Philadelphia beat the Islanders 5-3 Saturday night at the Nassau Coliseum. The victory lifted Philadelphia on top of the Pittsburgh to second place in the Eastern Division and also gave the Flyers 31 wins, one more than they had the entire 1989-90 season.

Whalers 5, Sabres 5, tie 3-3 Saturday night at the Nassau Coliseum. The victory lifted Philadelphia on top of the Pittsburgh to second place in the Eastern Division and also gave the Flyers 31 wins, one more than they had the entire 1989-90 season.

Weekly for the Norris Division lead.

Brett Hull is zeroing in on his second straight 10-point season despite missing 19 games with a sprained ankle.

It’s like asking a father which son he likes better

Phil橹h

Coach Brian said after the Hull and Oates show combined for nine points in a 7-2 victory over the New York Islanders on Thursday night.

For an encore, Hull got his third straight trick of the week and Oates had a goal and three assists as the Islanders lost for the first time in franchise history. A vote for either Hull or Oates was the Hart Trophy winner and no one could complain.

But which one’s pick? Hull, who leads the league with 68 goals? Or Oates, who leads the league with an average of more than two points per game and is earning first his second straight 100-point season despite missing 19 games with a sprained ankle.

“It’s like asking a father which son he likes better

Hull

in the second period, lifted Buffalo into a tie with Hartford.

The tie extended Buffalo’s winless streak on home ice to 12 games. In that stretch, the Sabres have four ties. The last time Buffalo won on home ice was on Jan. 22, when they defeated the Boston Bruins 4-3.

Besides getting two goals, Andyrekch had one assist heading into the weekend, surpassing his total from the last season.

Andrewych’s second goal of the game, at 17:07 of the third period, lifted Buffalo into a tie with Hartford.

The tied extended Buffalo’s winless streak on home ice to 12 games. In that stretch, the Sabres have four ties. The last time Buffalo won on home ice was on Jan. 22, when they defeated the Boston Bruins 4-3.

Besides getting two goals, Andyrekch had one assist heading into the weekend, surpassing his total from the last season.

Philadelphia beat the Islanders 5-3 Saturday night at the Nassau Coliseum. The victory lifted Philadelphia on top of the Pittsburgh to second place in the Eastern Division and also gave the Flyers 31 wins, one more than they had the entire 1989-90 season.

Whalers 5, Sabres 5, tie 3-3 Saturday night at the Nassau Coliseum. The victory lifted Philadelphia on top of the Pittsburgh to second place in the Eastern Division and also gave the Flyers 31 wins, one more than they had the entire 1989-90 season.

Weekly for the Norris Division lead.

Brett Hull is zeroing in on his second straight 10-point season despite missing 19 games with a sprained ankle.

It’s like asking a father which son he likes better

Phil橹h

Coach Brian said after the Hull and Oates show combined for nine points in a 7-2 victory over the New York Islanders on Thursday night.

For an encore, Hull got his third straight trick of the week and Oates had a goal and three assists as the Islanders lost for the first time in franchise history. A vote for either Hull or Oates was the Hart Trophy winner and no one could complain.

But which one’s pick? Hull, who leads the league with 68 goals? Or Oates, who leads the league with an average of more than two points per game and is earning first his second straight 100-point season despite missing 19 games with a sprained ankle.

“It’s like asking a father which son he likes better

Hull

in the second period, lifted Buffalo into a tie with Hartford.

The tie extended Buffalo’s winless streak on home ice to 12 games. In that stretch, the Sabres have four ties. The last time Buffalo won on home ice was on Jan. 22, when they defeated the Boston Bruins 4-3.

Besides getting two goals, Andyrekch had one assist heading into the weekend, surpassing his total from the last season.

Andrewych’s second goal of the game, at 17:07 of the third period, lifted Buffalo into a tie with Hartford.

The tied extended Buffalo’s winless streak on home ice to 12 games. In that stretch, the Sabres have four ties. The last time Buffalo won on home ice was on Jan. 22, when they defeated the Boston Bruins 4-3.

Besides getting two goals, Andyrekch had one assist heading into the weekend, surpassing his total from the last season.

Philadelphia beat the Islanders 5-3 Saturday night at the Nassau Coliseum. The victory lifted Philadelphia on top of the Pittsburgh to second place in the Eastern Division and also gave the Flyers 31 wins, one more than they had the entire 1989-90 season.

Whalers 5, Sabres 5, tie 3-3 Saturday night at the Nassau Coliseum. The victory lifted Philadelphia on top of the Pittsburgh to second place in the Eastern Division and also gave the Flyers 31 wins, one more than they had the entire 1989-90 season.

Weekly for the Norris Division lead.
Irish finish 11th at Volvo National Indoor tourney

By DAVE McMAHON
Sports Writer

The 13th-ranked Notre Dame men’s tennis team, playing three top 10 teams in three consecutive matches last weekend, finished in 11th place at the National Indoor Tennis Championships held at the Louisville Tennis Club.

After Wednesday’s opening-round bashing of 20th-ranked Kansas, the Irish faced three-time defending national champion Stanford, a team that had beaten the Irish 8-1 in a fall exhibition match. This time around the Cardinal faced a much more competitive Notre Dame squad, but Stanford, playing without the services of third-ranked Jonathan Stark, held on for a 5-2 win, sending the Irish into the consolation bracket against Texas Christian.

“I thought we showed some improvement,” said Notre Dame coach Bob Bayliss. “Mark Schmidt took his opponent to a third set, and if he wins that, we come out of the singles tied at 3-3.”

Junior Jude DiLucia, ranked sixth in the nation, was in the midst of his torrid tear of tournament tennis, beating 21st-ranked Alex O’Brien 6-4, 7-6, 6-3, avenging a fall season loss. Andy Zurcher, who missed action in the fall, defeated the Irish 6-3, 6-2, 6-4, giving DiLucia a 6-1, 7-6, 7-5, 7-5, 7-5, 7-5 win, in the only other Notre Dame win.

Eighth-ranked Texas Christian, a loser Miami, was the next Irish opponent and the second of the three top 10 teams that the Irish would play over the weekend. After a 3-3 tie in singles composition, two Irish doubles teams posted wins and wrapped up the 5-3 Notre Dame victory.

The Irish got off to a quick start in doubles competition, as Paul Anthony and Ryan Wenger combined for a 6-4, 7-5 win. Then the third-ranked team of DiLucia-Chuck Coleman, playing at number-one doubles, defeated TCU’s fourth-ranked duo, 6-4, 6-7, 6-2 to upset the Frogs for the second straight year. Last March the Irish downed TCU in Texas, a win that helped to propel them into the national polls.

In singles play, DiLucia stormed to an easy win over seventh-ranked Luis Ruizte, 6-3, 6-2, but the doubles teams of DiLucia-Coleman and Paul Anthony-Ryan Wenger put the finishing touches on the Irish win, with DiLucia-Coleman ousting TCU’s fourth-ranked team of Tony Rujan-Luis Rosette, 6-4, 6-7, 6-2.

With the win over TCU, the Irish had to face the seventh-ranked California Golden Bears at 8 p.m. Saturday night. With a little bit of luck, the outcome would have been different than the final 5-3 California win.

Notre Dame (8-5) had match point opportunities in two different singles matches, but the Bears held on to take the five-hour battle for Irish pride at the tournament.

At number-one singles, DiLucia outlasted Norway’s Best Pederson in a thriller, 7-6 (2), 7-6 (7-3, 7-6 (7-3). “They had an incredibly high level of match intensity for such a prolonged time period,” said Bayliss. Pederson, who beat DiLucia at the Rolex Indoor Championships two weeks ago, found that nothing could phase DiLucia’s singles game on this occasion, though.

“Dave went undefeated against three of the best players in the world,” said Bayliss. In doubles action, however, California’s number-one team, ranked 11th nationally, upset the third-ranked combination of DiLucia-Coleman, 6-1, 6-3.

At number-three singles, California’s Carl Chang battled off four match points in a second set tie-breaker against Notre Dame’s Will Forsyth to gain a 2-6, 7-6, 6-2 win. Ron Rosas also had two match-point situations at number-six singles before falling to Tommy Phanco 6-3, 7-6, 7-6.

While the Irish fell short in a close match with the Bears, the tournament as a whole can be looked at in a few ways.

“I’m very pleased. I hit the ball very clean. I didn’t give him any free points and I made a lot of big shots when I needed them,” said Lendl, the tournament’s top seed and the No. 3 player in the ATP rankings. Lendl, who defeated Stich in the BNP Paribas and Rosario also had two match-point situations at number-six singles before falling to Tommy Phanco 6-3, 7-6, 7-6.

The defending champion earned $53,000 for his second-round place finish. Although unable to move to the net, Stich was able to stay with Lendl through the first 11 games. Stich, who saved two break points in the fourth game, suffered his first break of service in Game 12.

Lendl reached set point on a backhand passing shot from the baseline and then broke and took the first set when Stich mis-hit a baseline backhand as he attempted to return Lendl’s strong forehand.

“I missed two easy balls,” Stich said. “I just lost my concentration.”

Lendl broke through again in the second game of the second set.

Stich fell behind 0-40 and saved three break points, but opened the door for Lendl again when he guided a forehand chip shot long.

Lendl then broke service and went up 2-0 in the set when Stich sent an easy baseline forehand long.

Lendl saved three break points in the set’s seventh game and finally held serve with a service winner.

Lendl wins for second straight week

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — With two tournament victories in the past two weeks, Ivan Lendl said he could not find anything to complain about Sunday after downsing Michael Stich 6-3, 6-3 to win the $750,000 Volvo Indoor.

“I’m very pleased. I hit the ball very clean. I didn’t give him any free points and I made a lot of big shots when I needed them,” said Lendl, the tournament’s top seed and the No. 3 player in the ATP rankings.

Lendl, who defeated Stich in the quarterfinals last week in Philadelphia and is 4-0 lifetime against the German, said he was better this week than at the Memphis Racquet Club than in Philadelphia.

“I played better this week, but if you win — that’s what counts,” Lendl said after taking his 90th career tournament title.

Lendl controlled Stich with precision groundstrokes and a powerful serve when needed as he dispatched him in 90 minutes to pick up the $99,000 winner’s check.

Stich, seeded seventh and ranked 25th, had not lost his serve in four previous matches. The defending champion earned $53,000 for his second-round place finish.

Although unable to move to the net, Stich was able to stay with Lendl through the first 11 games. Stich, who saved two break points in the fourth game, suffered his first break of service in Game 12.

Lendl reached set point on a backhand passing shot from the baseline and then broke and took the first set when Stich mis-hit a baseline backhand as he attempted to return Lendl’s strong forehand.

“I missed two easy balls,” Stich said. “I just lost my concentration.”

Lendl broke through again in the second game of the second set.

Stich fell behind 0-40 and saved three break points, but opened the door for Lendl again when he guided a forehand chip shot long.

Lendl then broke service and went up 2-0 in the set when Stich sent an easy baseline forehand long.

Lendl saved three break points in the set’s seventh game and finally held serve with a service winner.

$$ Money $$ for SPRING BREAK

We’d like to give you a break with our Special Spring Break Loan!

• Only 11.99% APR, Fixed
• $500 Maximum
• Deferred Payments: You’ll have all summer to repay (until Aug. 1, 1991)
• Students with good credit or no credit at all qualify. No cosigner needed!

NOTRE DAME FEDERAL CREDIT UNION
239-6611
Separate from the University

DISMAS HOUSE:

A community of support, reconciliation and adjustment, dismas house offers a unique opportunity for Saint Mary’s and Notre Dame students to share in a life-training experience with former prisoners. Together an environment of trust, friendship and hope can be built to provide the confidence and courage necessary for each to enter society as a valuable and integral member.

Are you interested in living in the Dismas community next semester?

Applications available at the Center for Social Concerns.

Contact: Kathy Royce—239-7862

Application deadline: Friday, March 8, 1991

The Observer
Monday, February 25, 1991

AP Photo

Stefan Edberg solidified his hold on the number-one spot in the ATP rankings with a four-set victory over fellow Swede Jonas Svensson in the finals of the Eurocard Classics tourney in Stuttgart, Germany.
Top seeds advance in Bengal Bouts

By ROLANDO DE AGUIAR
Sports Writer

When the final bell sounded in the first round of Bengal Bouts, all seven defending champions remained standing, and several powerful challengers had emerged from this year's K2-man field.

One of these challengers was Scott Mulcahy, who reached last year's regional round in the NCAA tournament while at West Point. The 175-pounder defeated Chip Malin in a unanimous decision, Mulcahy had fought Malin before, and knew what to expect from the junior. "We have two totally different styles of fighting," Mulcahy said. "Chip's more of a brawler, who comes out and throws a lot of punches, while I'm more of a #k.onto" h1ch \e h:t,·e cakcn rhc and Digital Webster.'"

In the fifth-year architecture student's unanimous decision over Pfeiffer, and will fight Joseph Carrigan in Wednesday's semi-final. The 165-pound class featured three of Sunday's most impressive performances. Tim Trainor, left out of last year's tournament while at Cincinnati, moved down to 162 pounds for this year's Bengals. Trainor will face Ed Butler in the first-round contests at 165, as Sluman went to 130 pounds last year, now fights in the 165-pound class. Hawkins earned a difficult split decision over John Nolen, and his path to the finals will only get tougher as he hopes the explosive Kerry Wake in the semifinal.

On the other side of the 150-pound bracket, Lou Hall and Michael Butler saw their path forced a playoff. Both earned a unanimous decision, and will face Jeff Pfeiffer in the semi-final.

Semifinal bouts will be fought at 7:30 Wednesday night at the Joyce A.C.C.

The Observer/David Lee

TWO BREAKTHROUGHS

In the NEXT MAGAZINE, consumers were managed to squeeze the most possible consumer response from possible space. NEXT also separated the more genuine consumer comments from the noise. One line: "You can't actuallyaubt the fact that you're using a free magazine, but it's not a matter of time and money." Ned Nance, "Media/Targeting" and Digital Webster. "As all you have to do is lay it to work and sometimes to go work. Many readers have a very strong subscription to NEXT WORLD maga zine to keep up with the ads."

And to make the ring come more compelling, we had to find a way to make the ad look as if you just \b 25.

Right Now, You Can Get Two Breakthroughs For The Price Of One.

In the NEWS Magazines, consumers were managed to squeeze the most possible consumer response from possible space. NEXT also separated the more genuine consumer comments from the noise. One line: "You can't actually HBt the fact that you're using a free magazine, but it's not a matter of time and money." Ned Nance, "Media/Targeting" and Digital Webster. "As all you have to do is lay it to work and sometimes to go work. Many readers have a very strong subscription to NEXT WORLD magazine to keep up with the ads."

And to make the ring come more compelling, we had to find a way to make the ad look as if you just Nevada Las Vegas.—Jerry Tarkanian took some time to reflect on the final home game for his seniors.

"We'll never have one like this age. I know that," Tarkanian said, referring to senior stars such as Larry Johnson, Stacey Augmon and Greg Anthony.

Tarkanian's top-ranked Runnin' Rebels (25-0) closed out their home season Saturday night with a resounding 114-86 win over UC Irvine for their 36th consecutive victory. A crowd of nearly 20,000 cheered for the Rebels as they coasted to another easy victory.

But Tarkanian won't dwell on the past, not with a game Monday night at No. 15 New Mexico State, UNLV lost five games in last year's national championship season and one of the defeats was against the Aggies at Las Cruces.

The Aggies (21-3 overall, 13-2 in the Big West) and Cal State Fullerton are the only teams UNLV faces its last serious hurdle to an undefeated regular season tonight as it travels to Las Cruces to take on No. 15 New Mexico State.

Although Kevin Pritchard, who started all but three games, was pulled from the lineup.

A decision made by coach Jerry Tarkanian, who was careful not to get into the details of the situation.

Looking down the road, Tarkanian was happy to have some time to reflect on the six seniors on the floor for the senior night.

"This was a tough night for all of us," Tarkanian said. "I'm just fortunate. You get a group like that once in a lifetime."

Coach Bill Mulligan, retiring at the end of the season after 11 years with the Anteaters, has seen once-in-a-lifetime teams before. He was an assistant at Southern Cal at the start of the UCLA dynasty.

"Some of those players at UCLA couldn't play with these guys," Mulligan said.

He said he doesn't know of a college team that can beat UNLV if the Rebels play up to their potential.

"None of these seniors on the floor for the senior night could have ever imagined," Mulligan said. "But they've been there every year, every day, and that's the thing that makes it worthwhile for all of us."
SPORTS BRIEFS

Lakers win at Detroit, sweep season series

LAKES, Mich. (AP) - A.C. Green scored four of his 14 points in overtime and the Los Angeles Lakers defeated the Detroit Pistons 102-96 Sunday to sweep their two-game season series with the defending NBA champions.

The Lakers have won 10 of their last 12 games on the road. It was the Pistons' first loss in five overtime games this season, but they fell to 8-4 in nationally televised games on NBC.

Detroit has lost four of its last seven at The Palace to drop to 24-5 at home. Since Isiah Thomas' wrist injury, which sidelined him the remainder of the regular season, the Pistons are 9-6.

Magic Johnson had 31 points and James Worthy added 29 points for the Lakers. James Edwards had 22 points for Detroit and Mark Aguirre finished with 20.

Green made a layup on the left side with 1:11 left to give the Lakers a 94-92 lead and then sank a pair of free throws with 44 seconds remaining.

There were only two baskets in the first 3:05 of the overtime. Aguirre hit a jumper at the 4:03 mark and Worthy scored with 1:35 remaining to tie it 92-92.

Pacers 115, Celtics 109

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - Reggie Miller led Indiana on a 29-14 run that erased a 15-point lead Boston held at the start of the fourth quarter, and the Pacers went on for their sixth straight victory.

Chuck Person scored 28 points, and Miller had 26 points and 7 assists for the Pacers. Reggie Lewis had 27 points and 8 rebounds for the Celtics, and Brian Shaw scored 21 points, had 12 assists, and grabbed 8 rebounds.

Boston led 66-71 at the start of the fourth period, but Indiana's run, highlighted by a pair of 3-pointers from Miller, tied the score at 100 with 4:15 left.

The Pacers took a 104-102 lead with a slam dunk from Dreiling with 3:10 to play, sparking an 8-4 run for a 110-105 lead with 1:04 left. The Celtics never got closer.

Rockets 100, Timberwolves 91

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - Larry Smith had 23 rebounds, his fourth 20-board game in the last five, and Sleepy Floyd came off the bench to score 21 points in the Houston Rockets' 108-91 win.

Vernon Maxwell and Kenny Smith added 18 points apiece for the Rockets, who have won 11 of their last 14 games, their best 14-game streak since 1988. Posh Richardson scored 21 points for Minnesota, which is 1-8 since Feb. 7.

Cal's 108, Heat 92

MIAMI (AP) - Gerald Wilkins scored 21 points, Kiki Vandeweghe had 20 and Patrick Ewing added 18 as the New York Knicks beat the Miami Heat 108-92.

Wilkins scored 12 points in the third quarter as the Knicks extended a 63-58 lead. He had six points and an assist as New York used a 10-2 burst to take a 77-62 edge. Glen Rice scored 21 points for Miami and Sherman Douglas had 19.

Minnesota's victory over the Denver Nuggets 112-99 was its victory short of last season's 124-91.

On the bench in the third quarter, the Nuggets took a 90-88 lead into the final five minutes of the quarter, but the Lakers came back with 18 points and 13 rebounds and the outcome was no surprise.

There were only two baskets in the first 3:05 of the overtime. Aguirre hit a jumper at the 4:03 mark and Worthy scored with 1:35 remaining to tie it 92-92.

Pacers 115, Celtics 109

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - Reggie Miller led Indiana on a 29-14 run that erased a 15-point lead Boston held at the start of the fourth quarter, and the Pacers went on for their sixth straight victory.

Chuck Person scored 28 points, and Miller had 26 points and 7 assists for the Pacers. Reggie Lewis had 27 points and 8 rebounds for the Celtics, and Brian Shaw scored 21 points, had 12 assists, and grabbed 8 rebounds.

Boston led 66-71 at the start of the fourth period, but Indiana's run, highlighted by a pair of 3-pointers from Miller, tied the score at 100 with 4:15 left.

The Pacers took a 104-102 lead with a slam dunk from Dreiling with 3:10 to play, sparking an 8-4 run for a 110-105 lead with 1:04 left. The Celtics never got closer.

Rockets 100, Timberwolves 91

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - Larry Smith had 23 rebounds, his fourth 20-board game in the last five, and Sleepy Floyd came off the bench to score 21 points in the Houston Rockets' 108-91 win.

Vernon Maxwell and Kenny Smith added 18 points apiece for the Rockets, who have won 11 of their last 14 games, their best 14-game streak since 1988. Posh Richardson scored 21 points for Minnesota, which is 1-8 since Feb. 7.

Cal's 108, Heat 92

MIAMI (AP) - Gerald Wilkins scored 21 points, Kiki Vandeweghe had 20 and Patrick Ewing added 18 as the New York Knicks beat the Miami Heat 108-92.

Wilkins scored 12 points in the third quarter as the Knicks extended a 63-58 lead. He had six points and an assist as New York used a 10-2 burst to take a 77-62 edge. Glen Rice scored 21 points for Miami and Sherman Douglas had 19.

Minnesota's victory over the Denver Nuggets 112-99 was its victory short of last season's 124-91.

On the bench in the third quarter, the Nuggets took a 90-88 lead into the final five minutes of the quarter, but the Lakers came back with 18 points and 13 rebounds and the outcome was no surprise.

There were only two baskets in the first 3:05 of the overtime. Aguirre hit a jumper at the 4:03 mark and Worthy scored with 1:35 remaining to tie it 92-92.
The Observer

Monday, February 25, 1991

Irish lose tough one to Buckeyes

Special to the Observer

The Notre Dame men's basketball team lost a heartbreaking 11-12 decision to the 16th-ranked Ohio State Buckeyes in the finals of the Phoenix Thunderbirds Tournament Sunday night.

The Irish broke a 9-9 tie in the top of the 10th. Mike Cross singled to lead off the inning. With one out, Edwin Hartwell hit a triple to score Cross. Craig Counsell then scored Hartwell on a single, but the Irish up 11-9 with one out in the tenth.

Eric Danapilis moved in from right field to pitch the bottom of the tenth for the Irish, and after coaxing two fly Outs, hit Mike Duran and gave up a two-strike double to Dean Mueller to score Duran. Danapilis balked Mueller to third, and Matt Hara's infield single scored Mueller.

Ohio State led off the bottom of the 11th with a Doug Wallenberg double. Tony La Vorgie entered the game to pitch for Notre Dame and gave up two walks—one intentional—to load the bases.

Chad Hartvigson climbed the pitcher's mound for the Irish, and after a 1-2-3 inning gave up the game-ending single to Keith Godnick, scoring Wallenberg.

In other spring training news on Sunday:

At Sarasota, Fla., Hall of Famer Jim Palmer felt his workout for the Baltimore Orioles went a little better even though he developed a blister.

Darwin, the NL earned-run average champ last season with Washington, had been given an OK one day later in order to fulfill a commitment made before signing with the Reds.

Prominent University of Notre Dame for college graduates

A one-year program at Moreau Seminary at the University of Notre Dame for college graduates interested in exploring the possibility of a lifetime of service as a Holy Cross priest or brother. Scholarship assistance is available.

Call or write for information:

Fr. John Connell, C.S.C.
Congregation of Holy Cross
Box 541
Notre Dame, Indiana 46556
(219) 239-6385

Thinking of doing a year of service? How about doing it for a lifetime?

Have you considered

THE HOLY CROSS CANDIDATE YEAR?

A one-year program at Moreau Seminary at the University of Notre Dame for college graduates interested in exploring the possibility of a lifetime of service as a Holy Cross priest or brother. Scholarship assistance is available.

AFRICAN FILM FESTIVAL

Monday, February 25: YAABA

A humanistic tale of rural African life...entering the fourth week, at the 19-7 last season. "I really wasn't comfortable the way things sat."

Hershiser continues on comeback trail; Gooden softens stance

(AP)-While Orel Hershiser was throwing fastballs and change-ups on Sunday, Dwight Gooden was thinking it over. Hershiser, making a careful comeback from shoulder surgery, threw batting practice for the Los Angeles Dodgers at Vero Beach, Fla., and reported no pain or stiffness. He's looking like the miss the 4-6 run to bring them within one, 26-25. Griggs led this run with a four-point play.

The moment seesawed back and forth the rest of the game until Cavanaugh tied the score at 44 with 24 seconds remaining.

After a Grace time-out, DuBose got the ball in the lane and hit a turn-around jump shot which would be the game winner for Grace.

The game plan for Grace was to keep DuBose off the boards.

DuBose led with four, while Rich McGillicudy who had four, was supported by six points, followed by DuBose with 24, while Cavanaugh was led by Ray Griggs with eight points. He was supported by Rich McEllycide who had four, and Tim Quinnan who added three points.

The second half provided much more excitement for the fans. It was characterized by a series of runs for each team.

Cavanaugh opened the half with an 8-2 run to put them up by six, 31-25, late in the third quarter.

The moment seesawed back and forth the rest of the game until Cavanaugh tied the score at 44 with 24 seconds remaining.

After a Grace time-out, DuBose got the ball in the lane and hit a turn-around jump shot which would be the game winner for Grace.

The game plan for Grace was to keep DuBose off the boards.

It was a great win," said Grace coach Mark Stahl. "Two weeks ago, we lost our final game. We didn't know if we would make the playoffs, but now we have won the championships."

"It was awesome," said DuBose. "It was a great win for Grace and it was really fun to get involved in a dorm athletic event."

Hershiser said that was a great win for Grace and it was really fun to get involved in a dorm athletic event.

When I came to the ballpark Saturday, everyone was around my locker, wanting to talk and rehash the contract. I didn't want to have to go through that anymore.

"I read some of the papers and it didn't seem like me. I decided to take the pressure off and away with the dead-line."

Gooden said he'd be here to day, so we'll see what happens," manager Joe Morgan said after the 2 1/2-hour prac tice at Chalm O' Lacken Park.

Danny Darwin already has his money, but the Boston Red Sox were waiting to see him act-ive against a South African family caught in the early struggle against apartheid.

Darwin, the NL earned-run average champ last season with Houston, had been given an OK one day later in order to fulfill a commitment made before signing with the Reds.

AFRICAN FILM FESTIVAL

Monday, February 25: YAABA

A humanistic tale of rural African life...entering the fourth week, at the 19-7 last season. "I really wasn't comfortable the way things sat."

Hershiser has set a goal of being ready by opening day, but admits he still has some work to do. He's looking like the miss the 4-6 run to bring them within one, 26-25. Griggs led this run with a four-point play.

The moment seesawed back and forth the rest of the game until Cavanaugh tied the score at 44 with 24 seconds remaining.

After a Grace time-out, DuBose got the ball in the lane and hit a turn-around jump shot which would be the game winner for Grace.

The game plan for Grace was to keep DuBose off the boards.

DuBose led with four, while Rich McGillicudy who had four, was supported by six points, followed by DuBose with 24, while Cavanaugh was led by Ray Griggs with eight points. He was supported by Rich McEllycide who had four, and Tim Quinnan who added three points.

The second half provided much more excitement for the fans. It was characterized by a series of runs for each team.

Cavanaugh opened the half with an 8-2 run to put them up by six, 31-25, late in the third quarter.

The moment seesawed back and forth the rest of the game until Cavanaugh tied the score at 44 with 24 seconds remaining.

After a Grace time-out, DuBose got the ball in the lane and hit a turn-around jump shot which would be the game winner for Grace.

The game plan for Grace was to keep DuBose off the boards.

It was a great win," said Grace coach Mark Stahl. "Two weeks ago, we lost our final game. We didn't know if we would make the playoffs, but now we have won the championships."

"It was awesome," said DuBose. "It was a great win for Grace and it was really fun to get involved in a dorm athletic event."

When I came to the ballpark Saturday, everyone was around my locker, wanting to talk and rehash the contract. I didn't want to have to go through that anymore.

"I read some of the papers and it didn't seem like me. I decided to take the pressure off and away with the dead-line."

Gooden said he'd be here today, so we'll see what happens," manager Joe Morgan said after the 2 1/2-hour practice at Chalm O' Lacken Park.

Danny Darwin already has his money, but the Boston Red Sox were waiting to see him active against a South African family caught in the early struggle against apartheid.

Darwin, the NL earned-run average champ last season with Houston, had been given an OK one day later in order to fulfill a commitment made before signing with the Reds.

In other spring training news on Sunday:

At Sarasota, Fla., Hall of Famer Jim Palmer felt his workout for the Baltimore Orioles went a little better even though he developed a blister.
Tiger the field early to win
Ned standing effort as he captured
ing
teammate Pat

ing the NCAA 3,000
marked the second time this the board, I think we'll do well
the IC4A Championships.

Notre Dame captain Ryan
Cahill feels the team is ready for next week's ing
made in the Notre Dame men's track Invitational.

By HUGH MUNDY
Sports Writer

Monday, February 25, 1991 The Observer page 21

Clark qualifies

For the Irish, the meet was effort.

Kearns, who will captain the 1991 Notre Dame cross-country squad, felt good about his pre-IC4A tune-up.

"With the exception of one or two laps, I was satisfied," Kearns said.

The sprints produced familiar results as the duo of Raghib "Rocket" Ismail and Willie Clark raced to another one-two finish in the 55-meter dash.

Ismail, who has already clocked the nation's best 55-time, appeared unbeatable in cruising to a win with a time of 6.22 seconds.

Clark, who garnered top honors in the 200-meter dash, looked equally impressive as the freshman matched the NCAA 55-meter qualifying mark.

Middle distance runners
Mark Lavery and Greg Sorensen provided the Irish with another two one-two punch as the pair grabbed first and second place in the 1,000-meter run.

The race was not without disappointment, however, as both runners fell short of the IC4A standard by less than a second.

Senior Scott Vandenberg also turned in a near-miss effort, failing just short of the IC4A
500-meter dash mark.

Nevertheless, the Irish sprinter recorded a personal best 1:05.8
effort.

Women continued from page 24

locker room (after halftime) and take charge," Robinson said. "We had a great run, and we need to take it from there in the second half, but we were a little complacent then because we know we were up."

Old Dominion hung close despite making only six of 35 shots in the second half (17 percent) by converting 14 of 21 foul shots and grabbing 15 second-half offensive boards.

A sequence of events at the 13:39 mark, however, turned the tide back in Notre Dame's favor. Davis made one of two free throws, but Kevin Knapp grabbed the offensive board.

After swinging the ball around the perimeter, Davis sliced between two defenders for a basket to boost the lead to 46-39.

The Monarchs closed to within four, 48-44, three minutes later, but Robinson hit an unbeatable 18-footer from the left side to spark an 11-2 run that gave the Irish a 59-46 lead with only 4:30 remaining.

All that was left was the celebrating McCaw replaced the seniors one by one, and at each came to the bench, received a standing ovation from the 3,291 fans. Each lingered on the court as if not quite wantning the game to end.

"I don't think it'll really hit me until (Sunday) morning when I wake up," Davis said.

STUDENT MANAGER APPLICATIONS AND
JOB DESCRIPTIONS FOR 1991-1992
ARE NOW AVAILABLE AT THE INFORMATION DESK IN LAFORTUNE

APPLICATION DEADLINES
March 1, 1991
Hockey team's playoff hopes dimmed

By RICH KURZ
Sports Writer

Think of it as the weekend of missed opportunities. When the Air Force Falcons came to take on the Notre Dame hockey team at the Joyce Center this past Friday and Saturday, the Irish were looking to keep themselves in the hunt for a possible bid to the NCAA Tournament.

But Notre Dame lost 7-4 Friday night and tied 2-2 Saturday night, missing chances both nights that could have given them two wins instead of a loss and a tie.

Part of that had to do with the play of the Falcons' pair of stand-out goaltenders. Friday night Mark Liebich faced 46 shots, many of them just outside the crease and stopped 42. On Saturday his teammate Mike Blank was subjected to 44 shots, many of them just outside the crease and stopped 42.

"That's all the more reason to maintain composure," said Ric Schafer. "(This weekend) dashed our hopes. It doesn't look good." although he added, "If we win the Independent Tournament, who knows?"

That's not to say Notre Dame didn't have its opportunities, however. Friday night the Irish had 17 shots from very close range in the second period alone, and could score on only two of them.

"We couldn't crack the shell. . .we were controlling play. We did a lot of good things. But our goaltenders always seem to come up big against us." Schafer added.

"We had a lot of chances. (But) goaltenders always seem to come up big against us." Schafer added.

Notre Dame goalie Greg Louder, and Black was able to flick in the rebound of Bankoske's shot.

Neither team was able to generate much offense in the overtime period, although Louder made a nice save with 48 seconds that ensured the tie. The Falcons got on the board first in a physical opening period, picking off a poor pass by an Irish defender and shooting it past Louder after 6:32 had expired in the game.

Six minutes later, Bankoske moved into a tie for 10th place on the Notre Dame career assists list, feeding Lou Zadra for the tying goal—Bankoske took sole possession of 10th place with an assist on Black's final score.

After the Falcons went ahead on a goal by Bp. .m. on a Bob Ingraham goal just two minutes into the second period, the game was scoreless until Black's goal as time wound down. Notre Dame had two excellent opportunities to tie it up earlier, but Curtis Janickie put his shot off the post after juking the goalie, and Mike Curry couldn't find the range with Black out of the net.

"It was a typical Notre Dame-Air Force game," said Schafer. "It's almost appropriate it was a tie."

"(This weekend) dashed our hopes. It doesn't look good," although he added, "If we win the Independent Tournament, who knows?"

"We had the play of the Falcons' pair of stand-out goaltenders. Friday night Mark Liebich faced 46 shots, many of them just outside the crease and stopped 42. On Saturday his teammate Mike Blank was subjected to 44 shots, many of them just outside the crease and stopped 42."

"The Irish needed to come up big in their last few games to earn the independent bid to the NCAA Tournament, but this past weekend may have ended those chances.

"We had the play of the Falcons' pair of stand-out goaltenders. Friday night Mark Liebich faced 46 shots, many of them just outside the crease and stopped 42. On Saturday his teammate Mike Blank was subjected to 44 shots, many of them just outside the crease and stopped 42.

"We had the play of the Falcons' pair of stand-out goaltenders. Friday night Mark Liebich faced 46 shots, many of them just outside the crease and stopped 42. On Saturday his teammate Mike Blank was subjected to 44 shots, many of them just outside the crease and stopped 42.

"We had the play of the Falcons' pair of stand-out goaltenders. Friday night Mark Liebich faced 46 shots, many of them just outside the crease and stopped 42. On Saturday his teammate Mike Blank was subjected to 44 shots, many of them just outside the crease and stopped 42.
CAMPUS

4:35-6:30 p.m. Mexican dinner. Center for Social Concerns Donations welcome.

6:30 p.m. Workshop, "Assertive Confrontation: Being Tactfully Tough," Dr. Clinton Gabbard, University Counseling Center. Hesburgh Library Lounge. Sponsored by University Counseling Center.

7 p.m. Women Gathering, O'Hara-Grace Townhouses. Sponsored by Year of the Woman.

LECTURES

Monday

Tuesday

MENU

Notre Dame

Roast Top Round Turkey Turnover Vegetables Marinara

THE FAR SIDE

Gary Larson

"Wait, wait, wait... I'm confused. Bob, you're the one who's claiming your Siamese twin, Frank, changes into a werewolf every full moon?"

CALVIN AND Hobbes

Bill Watterson

I GET THE FEELING THERE, WIS NO RIGHT ANSWER, TO THAT QUESTION.
Weekend brings mixed results for Irish hoops seniors
Seniors cap memorable careers with come-from-behind 70-58 win over Old Dominion

By RENE FERRAN
Sports Writer

The seniors on the Notre Dame women's basketball team went out in style.

A season-high crowd of 3,291—the second highest in team history—sent a fond farewell to Karen Robinson, Krisi Davis and Sara Liebcher, and they responded by combining for 43 points to lead the Irish to a 70-58 victory over Old Dominion.

"It really means a lot to the team to come out of the tunnel and see all these people here," Notre Dame coach Muffet McGraw said. "It inspired us to play well and to come back in the end."

The victory upped Notre Dame's record to 26-9—the fourth straight 20-win season for McGraw and her seniors—while Old Dominion fell to 3-19. Robinson led all scorers with 20 points, Markie Robinson added 14 points and 14 rebounds. Davis chipped in 13 points, and Liebcher 10. Jackie Kenney and Celesti Heil paced the Monarchs with 15 points apiece.

"The seniors have carried this team and taken us to a new level," McGraw said. "The Irish fell behind early against the Monarchs. T.J. Jones’ three-pointer from the top of the key with 6:11 left in the half capped an 11-2 run that gave Old Dominion a 29-18 lead.

Both Hill and Kenney rallied the Irish from the bench. The duo combined for 19 of the Monarchs’ first 29 points before foul trouble forced them to the bench within a minute of each other late in the half with three personals apiece.

Notre Dame quickly took advantage. Liebcher buried a three from the right wing to end the run, and after a Hill put-back, held Old Dominion scoreless the final 5:18 of the half while scoring 17 straight points to take a 38-31 halftime lead.

"Any time you have key people in foul trouble, you have to compensate," Irish coach Wendy Larry said. "We have to come out of the tunnel."