Possible sex offense reported to ND Security

By MEGAN JUNIUS
News Writer

A possible sex offense was reported Sunday morning to Notre Dame Security, according to Chuck Hurley, assistant director of Security.

The witness reported that he thought he heard a girl scream near the southwest corner of St. Joseph Lake at 6:30 a.m. Sunday, Hurley said.

According to the witness, there was one female and two males involved in the incident. All three involved were of college age. Apparently, one of the males managed to grab the female, brought her to the ground, and tied forcibly on top of her, Hurley said.

As it stands, a possible sex offense may have occurred, however, the witness was too far away to clearly see what was actually taking place, Hurley said.

The witness described all of the persons involved in the incident as white, and one of the males was approximately six feet and two inches tall, Hurley said.

The witness did not report the incident until 8:10 a.m. Sunday.

Security responded to the incident by searching the area, however, "nothing of evidentiary value was found," Hurley said.

"Security did not have much to go on, only one person's description of suspicious behavior," he said. "We checked South Bend hospitals, the local police department and the student health center, but no reports had been made by a possible victim."

"In the future, we are looking for anyone who may have seen or heard anything suspicious at the time and place the incident occurred. Any help would be appreciated," Hurley said.

Committee starts selection of new dean for Arts and Letters

By DAVID KINNEY
Assistant News Editor

The selection process to appoint a new dean to the College of Arts and Letters has been initiated by University Provost Timothy O'Meara.

Michael Loux, dean of the college since 1983, informed The University that he will leave the deanship at the end of this year and return to the philosophy department.

"One has to look very hard," said O'Meara, "to find the ideal person that would have the general concern of the college and The University at heart — and who can do something about it."

The dean's job is a very important one, according to O'Meara. Not only must the dean be concerned with the academic program, and, indirectly, the hiring of good professors, promotions, and salaries, but "in this day and age, he must show particular concern for questions of affirmative action for women and minorities," he said.

The dean is responsible for "the general academic well-being of the college."

He pointed out that the new dean will have to answer a lot of pressing questions, including curriculum changes and class-size changes in the college.

"The dean is responsible," continued O'Meara, "for maintaining the character of the University and the character of the college and, in particular, the Catholic identity."

"So what you're really looking for is vision," he said, "the ability to work with people and to organize. You must have a lot of savoir about the people and about the academy."

The procedure for the selection of a new dean, as laid out in the Academic Code, begins with the election of a search committee by the College of Arts and Letters. Last week, O'Meara announced the members of the committee.

• George Howard, professor of psychology
• Father Richard McElrath, chair and Crowley-O'Brien-Walter professor of theology
• Naomi Meara, chair and professor of psychology
• Charles Rosenberg, chair and associate professor of art, art history, and design
• John Van Engen, professor of history and director of the Medieval Institute, and
• Mark Robbins, a junior under­graduate in Arts and Letters.

The committee will chair the committee.

The committee will soon hold a meeting to discuss the general characteristics that the new dean must have in its present state of development. O'Meara said.

The search for candidates commences, through the committee, a letter to the faculty, the President, and a variety of other sources. "We're trying to get suggestions from all quarters," he said. Then the committee discuses the names of candidates and interview some of them until it is ready to recommend one or possibly two to The University President, O'Meara said. An appointment is then made, he said.

O'Meara hopes to have the new dean in place by the start of the fall semester.

Peralez Student Senate campaign posters pulled down from dorm walls

By PAUL PEARSON
Associate News Editor

Paul Peralez, a candidate for Student Senate in District 1, said his campaign posters have been torn down from the walls of Pangborn, Morrissey and Alumni Halls.

Peralez, a sophomore living in Dillon Hall, said that on Friday morning, he found that all of his campaign posters in Pangborn, Morrissey and Alumni were either removed or disfavorably altered. He said he also received in the mail an envelope containing a shredded version of his poster and a note containing racial slurs.

The posters, which were approved by the Office of Student Activities before distribution, called the campus organization Students United for Respect (SURF) "a special interest group which has denounced Notre Dame in the local and national media." They also accused SURF of sending "subversive and racist propaganda" to minority students.

Peralez said he had gone through Pangborn, Morrissey and Alumni Thursday night to check if the posters were still up. He said that the 20 posters he had placed in each of those halls were still up at that time. However, he was told Friday morning that the posters were torn down.

He said that he was "shocked and dumbfounded" to find that the posters had been removed. None of his posters were placed in public places, such as O'Shaughnessy Hall or Cushing Hall, because Peralez believed it would not convey the right message. "The best way to convey your message is to be as close to the people as possible," he said.

Matthew Caiio, chairman of the University's Government Election Committee, said he had looked at the posters before publication and said that the posters were fit for publication. "If anything, he followed the rules as well as, or better than, any of the other

STUDENT SENATE CANDIDATES

ON-CAMPUS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>One representative</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1 David Caro</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2 Kristie Shafer</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3 Bong Miquiabas</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4 Joe Wilson</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

OFF-CAMPUS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>One co-representative pair</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1 Shalesy Gaulba-Terry Coyne</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2 Kristen Harknkt-Ellen Lansen</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3 Dan Shary-Grant Murphy</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4 Jim Gordon-Brian Murphy</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5 Michael Folaga-Toni Allen</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Off-campus students will vote at their dorms. Off-campus students can vote at Lafortune Information Desk.

NAACP seeks diversity

Geofrilyn Walker stands at the steps of the administration building Friday as the NAACP organization on campus rallied for cultural diversity at Notre Dame.
Drinking laws need to be evaluated

American society has set itself apart from most of the rest of the world in its attitude towards alcohol consumption and drinking laws. The United States is one of the few countries in the world that has a drinking age and takes serious steps to enforce it, as can be shown by the recent actions of the S.U.D.S. task force.

I believe that the time has come for the American culture to reevaluate its attitudes toward drinking. We live in a society that is facing serious problems with alcohol and drug abuse, as well as the reality of such occurrences as "drinking and driving" and violent personal crimes involving the use of chemical substances.

College and high school students alike are going to find a way to drink and drink to excess no matter what the laws, so why do we still have them? They only seem to be adding to the problem by daring students, in a sense, to break the law.

In addition to the fact that the laws are broken more often than they are upheld in this country, they are also fostering an unhealthy attitude towards responsible alcohol consumption.

In European pubs, alcohol is consumed in a social setting where conversation, companionship and just plain fun are the focus. European countries do not seem to have the same types of problems involving alcohol that Americans do.

Drinking in any issue for them; if they feel like drinking a little, they will, but they do not have to. As can be seen by the European example, it would seem that societies that do not restrict the consumption of alcohol tend to have cultures that have a much healthier attitude towards drinking.

It is almost taboo to abuse alcohol in many European countries. Far too often in American society, the focus of socializing is to see who can drink the most, get drunk the fastest or do the craziest thing. Drinking accidents, violent crimes and date rape are far too often linked to the irresponsible overconsumption of alcohol.

I cannot count the number of times I have heard someone say, "I can't do this or that unless I'm drunk," or "I never have fun at the 'Tuesday Night Pub Rumble.'" These kinds of statements are signs that students are drinking for the wrong reasons. Alcohol should never be a social occasion, not be the social occasion.

It is my opinion that American society should give serious consideration to revoking its underaged drinking laws. I realize that chaos would initially break out as a bevy of 15 to 20-year-olds are instantly turned loose, but I feel that, in the long run, this would be a step in the right direction towards healthier and more responsible attitudes about drinking in American society. The views contained in the Inside Column are those of the author.

Today's Staff:

News
Loren Ashton
Ann Marie Harmston
Paul Pearson

Accent
Johanne-Harigan
Mae Whitman

Production
Jacqueline Coughlin

Viewpoints
Mike Keps
Mike Lorenzo

Sports
Kenne Pollock
Scoreboard
friendsofaug.com

Marketing
Phil Farrell
Friendsofaug.com
Matt House

The Observer (USPS 589-2-600) is published Monday through Friday except during exam and vacation periods. The Observer reserves the right to reproduce any advertising material in any form.
Callahan talks on the ethics of euthanasia and assisted suicide

By MARK CAWLEY
News Writer

The debate on euthanasia and assisted suicide is undergoing fundamental changes said Daniel Callahan, a medical ethicist who spoke at the University Friday.

The lecture titled, "Euthanasia: Where is the Debate Going?", focused on the history and direction of the euthanasia debate.

"Efforts to ease dying have been much too slow and ineffective," said Callahan. Citing the high-technology revolution in health care, Callahan added, "It is becoming harder and harder to know where the line between living and dying is." Because of these factors, "there has been an increasing fear of manageable deaths," he said.

Callahan believes that the attractions of euthanasia and assisted suicide are popular because they are deeply rooted in history and direction of the debate. "Euthanasia is a corruption of the role of the physician. Physicians have a tradition of healing and comfort, not of killing," he said.

Legalized euthanasia also poses societal problems. Callahan said that "we already allow three forms of killing: capital punishment, self-defense, and just wars." He claimed that society must learn instead to accept the inevitability of aging and death and "prepare ourselves to deal with reality instead of absolute control over death (over death)."

Callahan said that reforms in health care are also needed. He stated that physicians must "move way back from pushing life to the technological edge." Doctors must also know when technology will no longer enhance a patient's life.

The lecture was sponsored by the Center for Continuing Education as one of the J. Philip Clarke Family lecture series which was a feature of the Alumni Association's sixth annual conference on medical ethics.

Conroy wins Master's thesis award

Special to The Observer

Richard Conroy, a Notre Dame doctoral student in government and international studies, has received the 1991 Distinguished Master's Thesis Award from the Midwest Association of Graduate Schools (MAGS). Conroy, a native of Lincoln, Neb., wrote his thesis, "Toward Nonproliferation: Linkages between Global Denuclearization and an Effective Nonproliferation Regime," for his M.A. in Peace Studies, which he received in May 1990, from Notre Dame's Institute for International Peace Studies.

The award, which recognizes distinguished scholarship and research at the master's level, will be presented April 3 in Chicago at the association's annual meeting.

MAGS includes about 160 graduate degree-granting colleges and universities in the Midwest. Each institution was allowed to name one representative to be considered for the award received by Conroy.

In his thesis Conroy argues that halting nuclear prolifera- tion will require the denuclearization and demilitarization of global politics, which in turn will require a complete change in our thinking about national and international security.

"A central goal of scholarly research in the public policy domain is in discern the truth about power," said his thesis director, Robert Johnson, professor of government and international studies and senior fellow in the Peace Institute. "This thesis ranks high on that indicator, boldly following logic even into the realm of the uncomfortable insight."

The thesis is a remarkable piece of scholarship, according to Nathan Hatch, vice president for graduate studies and research, "It is skillfully researched, imaginative, and very well-written," he said.
The Administration Speaks:
The Role and Status of Graduate Student Teaching & Research at Notre Dame

Monday, March 25th
Center for Continuing Education
7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

REFRESHMENTS WILL BE SERVED AFTER PRESENTATIONS
Massacre anniversary

Members of the Pan African Congress salute at a rally in Sharpeville, South Africa Thursday which marked the 31st anniversary of the Sharpeville massacre, where police killed 69 blacks protesting apartheid laws.

Some employers promise you the world

We offer you a chance to make the world better.

Have you considered

THE HOLY CROSS CANDIDATE YEAR?

A one-year program at Moreau Seminary at the University of Notre Dame for college graduates interested in exploring the possibility of a lifetime of service as a Holy Cross priest or brother.

Scholarship assistance is available.

Call or write for information:
Fr. John Conley, C.S.C
Congregation of Holy Cross
Box 541
Notre Dame, Indiana 46556
(219) 239-6385

Upcoming Events

Notice to Undergraduates in the concentration of Peace Studies. When Fall 1991 Pre-registration begins, please pick up authorization numbers for all 200, 300, and 400 level courses in room 100 of the new Hesburgh Center during the days designated for your class year. (Use SE door facing the stadium.)

Rhombberg makes All-USA team

By LAUREN AQUINO
Assistant News Editor

USA Today named Maria Rhomberg, a Notre Dame senior, to the 1991 All-USA College Academic Team. This team of all-stars was chosen from 854 students nominated by professors, deans and college presidents, and serves to recognize academic achievement.

Rhomberg, who applied in the fall, was "surprised" to receive the honor, but nonetheless is very proud. She was selected by a panel of nine educators "for their outstanding blend of scholarship, initiative, creativity and leadership, and their desire to use their talent to help others," said USA Today. The students were grouped in first, second, and third teams of 20 students each, with an additional 62 students given honorable mention. Rhomberg was a second team selection. Rhomberg is a PLS major with a GPA of 3.946, and a class rank of 4 out of 964 students in the College of Arts and Letters. Rhomberg also currently serves as president of ND/SMC Right to Life Club.

The Dubuque, Iowa, native is a member of Notre Dame's Arts and Letters/Science Honors Program. This program selects one of 40 entering freshmen based on their University scholarship. Rhomberg also received a National Endowment for the Humanities Younger Scholar Award in 1990, undertaking research on the relationship of law and virtue in the thought of St. Thomas Aquinas.

In addition to academics, Rhomberg has been active in two varsity sports (track and volleyball), won two 10k runs, and qualified for the 1990 Boston Marathon. When asked what has been significant in her development here, Rhomberg replied that it was largely due to the faith community from the people both in and outside of her classes. "PLS has been a big influence on my thinking and personal development," she said. She said she has also been graced with a very supportive family who knew enough to avoid pressuring her.

Rhomberg also gave a few tips on self-motivation. "Don't do something you do not enjoy," Rhomberg said. "Happiness is important." And most importantly, "don't forget what is really important to you."
Collins discusses feminism and filmmaking in lecture

BY SEAN WHITE
News Writer

Collins is not only a female issue, said James Collins, associate professor of communication and theatre. At the Center for Social Concerns on Friday, Collins opened his lecture on "Feminist Theory and the Media" by saying "the last thing feminism needs to be, especially here at Notre Dame, is genderized." Claiming it is "not only for women, by women," he spoke on how feminism has affected and been affected by the media. Collins began with a background on film study, which he said did not develop into a "true discipline" until 1960.

During the early 1960s, a "revolution," called auteurism, took place in the area of film study. Critics moved from a mere critique-style to a format where the director, whom Collins called "genius with the overpowering vision," was the real film star.

However, as the sixties ended, Collins said, the emphasis shifted away from the great directors, like Hitchcock, with the realization that "the final author of any film is the society that produced the director." Instead, according to Collins, the structures of film that reflect everyday life became the central focus, and it is at this point that feminism entered the picture.

This shift, he said, brought up questions of what the issues and values were. According to Collins, these "ideological agendas," shaped both the identity of individuals in society and the film industry, as well. The first feminist to address this was Laura Mulvey, who, Collins said, studied how film encourage "ways of seeing." Mulvey discovered that the basis for these "ways of seeing" was a pattern of "recognition and misrecognition," in which women were encouraged to mirror and recognize themselves based on the "Hollywood" image of women. However, this was a false image, a "misrecognition" because, said Collins, "women were being duped into viewing themselves as men would like them to be."

Mulvey realized that through such structures as voyeurism and feminism in films, women had become "the object of the look, but never the processor of the look." Collins said, Mulvey envisioned a "radical avant-garde" that would sweep through the entire film industry in order to deal with these "ways of seeing." According to Collins, the next development in the theoretical development of feminism in the media changed the object of the analysis altogether, to an attempt at discovering what the "feministic culture" really was.

Linda Williams, another prominent feminist, studied the "degraded forms of culture" such as soap operas and romance novels. The popular conception of these, Collins said, was that they "inhabituated" women and were "merely fantasies by men for women."

However, Williams claimed that although there were no "blatant feminist themes" in shows like soap operas, they do "address the problems, concerns, tensions, and contradictions of the feminist experience in American culture," said Collins.

In such examples, according to Collins, there were found the "great untold stories" of women and their relationships, not found anywhere else in traditional historical literature. Here, a shift had occurred, moving away from the glamour image to an image of filmic interaction.

The results of all this, according to Collins, in that the film industry is beginning to realize that male standards have been used to evaluate media presentations in the past. Society must become "feminine-competent," and in order to do that, people must become "culturally literate" in order to truly recognize its structures, he said.

An attempt at a feminine-competent society, according to Collins, also means teachers and schools must look at how and what they are teaching and reevaluate their effectiveness in reaching this goal.

There is a group of Gay, Lesbian, and Bisexual students, faculty, and staff who meet regularly with a mission of support, education, and fellowship. You already know who we are, but the administration of the university won't let us use our name in our ads. We offered to put a small disclaimer (like the one to the left) in our ads so that everyone would know that Notre Dame would prefer we didn't exist. The Vice President for Student Affairs said that wasn't good enough.

No name. No logo. No "semblance of organization."

That's alright. You already know who we are. You already know that we have monthly General Meetings and Discussion Groups. And you already know that our address and phone numbers are below. Call or write us for more information.

For more information, you can still call:
Mike 237-0798
Carol 237-3300
Michael 237-1854
Or write to us at:
insert our name here
201 Main Building
Notre Dame, IN 46556

This Group Is NOT RECOGNIZED By The University Of Notre Dame

To apply, please submit a one-page personal statement by 5 p.m. Wednesday, March 27, to Monica Yant. For further information, call (239-5303).
Schwarzkopf: U.S. close to permanent base on Arab soil

RIYADH, Saudi Arabia (AP) — The United States is closer than ever to establishing a permanent military headquarters on Arab soil, the American commander of Operation Desert Storm said Sunday.

The headquarters would meet a longstanding U.S. aim to have a land base in the Persian Gulf — a goal Arab governments have blocked for many years.

The U.S. commander, Gen. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, also told reporters that as soon as a permanent cease-fire is signed the remaining American troops in the gulf will go home. And he said the United States does not intend to have permanent ground forces in the region.

A member of Schwarzkopf's staff said the general's statements were significant because they were the furthest he has ever gone in spelling out the U.S. position on those three issues.

The staff officer spoke on condition of anonymity.

The U.S. says it will not sign a permanent cease-fire accord until Iraq destroys its chemical, biological and nuclear weapons, among other conditions.

In another development, Tuesday, banks in Kuwait opened for the first time since Iraqi troops shut them down in December. Thousands of cash-poor Kuwaitis lined up to get money and then went on shopping sprees at newly reopened stores. Bestsellers included chocolates and luxuries such as bubble bath.

Since Kuwait was liberated on Feb. 27, some U.S. forces have begun helping the Kuwaitis rebuild their nation, which was looted and destroyed during the seven-month Iraqi occupation.

Other American soldiers are occupying part of southern Iraq, where they are keeping an eye on Saddam Hussein's troops.

Schwarzkopf said the soldiers are not expected to remain in Iraq, a statement that appeared to contradict an earlier assessment by Gen. Colin Powell, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Powell reportedly said last week in Washington that U.S. forces will stay on to keep the pressure on Saddam "for some months to come."

Saddam is fighting rebellions in the north and the south that began after Iraq's ruinous defeat in the war.

Iranian radio on Sunday reported fighting in many areas in Iraq and claimed rebel units were poised for an assault on Baghdad. The radio reports, monitored in Nicosia, Cyprus, said there were demonstrations in the holy cities of Najaf and Karbul, and in Kufa, Mosul and Tikrit, Saddam's hometown.

Peralez continued from page 1

The only thing that would cause a poster to be rejected is mentioning anyone's name and carrying the endorsement of any member of the ND faculty or administration. "Our only goal is to insure fairness in the campaigning," he said.

Peralez said he spent $30 on those campaign posters. Of the $45 he is allowed by student government to spend on campaign materials, Peralez said he has spent the remaining $15 on posters specifically made to be placed in his own hall, Dillon.

Caito said that there was "no hope" for compensating Peralez for the loss of his posters. The only possible thing he could do is, if the damage was linked to another ticket, his committee could impose a penalty on or disqualify the other ticket, he said.
Man arrested for theft of made-for-TV movie film

AP Photo

President Bush talks with Attorney General Dick Thornburgh about the Los Angeles police beating of a motorist in the Cabinet Room of the White House Thursday. Although Bush said that the beating "made me ck," he refused to say whether Los Angeles Police Chief Daryl Gates should resign.

Thousands rally in L.A. to support Gates

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gov. Pete Wilson defended Police Chief Daryl Gates, describing calls for his ouster as "an attempted lynching" over the videotaped police beating of a black motorist.

The March 3 beating of Rodney King was videotaped by an amateur cameraman and has been telecast nationwide. King suffered multiple injuries, including 11 skull fractures.

Since then, numerous critics have called for Gates to resign. Gates, who called the beating "an aberration," has vowed to remain as police chief.

"I think that we're watching the attempted lynching" of Gates, Wilson said Saturday on CNN's weekly "Capitol Gang.

"But I don't think it will be successful and I don't think it should be successful unless there can be a showing from an honest and an objective investig­ation that this is not an aber­ration, that instead it is a con­sistent pattern," Wilson said.

"I don't think it's going to show that because Daryl Gates, however glib or flip he may have been on occasion, is a dedicated law enforcement pro­fessional who has taken enor­mous pride in a department that I think is one of the best," he said.

About 2,000 people attended a Police Academy rally Sunday in support of Gates. The chief urged television stations to stop showing the videotape.

"The video will be forever etched in my mind," Gates said, adding that the four officers charged in the beating "cannot have a fair trial if the tape continues to be played."

Civil rights attorney Gloria Allred, who with actor Chad Everett was one of the speakers at the pro-Gates rally, said Gates should not step down without due cause.

"He deserves more than a lynч-mob mentality that says Chief Gates is guilty," she said.

The FBI will question all 200 officers at the police station where the four officers charged in King's vicious beating are based. Gates has ordered personnel at the station, the Foothill Division, to cooperate with the investigation, aimed at determining if a pattern of civil rights abuses exists, Lt. Fred Nixon said.

"I have the film. I want a brown bag of money," Royer said. At first the caller wanted $20,000 but was bargained down to $2,500 and NBC put up the money as bail, officials said.

The film crew worked with police to set up a sting in a bar in Snowmass, Royer said.

The bag of money was left in a pre-arranged spot, "A guy came in and looked at the bag. The police talked to him and caught him," she said.

The film crews have been in the Aspen area for a month, using locals as extras in the $3 million production set in a fic­tional Colorado ski town named "Zenith."

Director John Byrum and most of the production crew had left Aspen when the ran­som demand was phoned in, Royer said. She said the re­main­ing crew thought the pur­loined film caper was silly.

You've come this far... Don't sell yourself short!

Get the Amerlink Advantage:
100 Resume Packages Complete for $195

Package Includes:
- A List of 10 Career-Testing Compan­ies Extracted from a Comprehensive Database of Every Company - Large or Small - in the Nation
- One Hundred Personalized and Addressed Cover Letters
- One Hundred Addressed Envelopes
- One Hundred Resumes
- All Done in High-Quality Laser Print on the Stationery of Your Choice

For less than $2 a resume, isn't your career search worth it?

Amerlink... your link to resume distribution.
(800) 666-9991

CAMPUS BIBLE STUDY* (*CBS)

SPONSORED BY CAMPUS MINISTRY

ALL STUDENTS AND MEMBERS OF THE NOTRE DAME COMMUNITY INVITED TO ATTEND

Ecumenical Bible Study

EVERY TUESDAY - 7:00 p.m.
Campus Ministry Conference Room
Benedict Hall
One Hour Sessions
Bring Your Own Bible

Directed by: Rev. Al D'Aolzoe, CSc
For Additional Information Call:
239-5955
239-5242

The DEPARTMENT OF THEOLOGY IS PLEASED TO ANNOUNCE
A NEW COURSE FOR SUMMER SESSION 1991

TAUGHT BY PROF. JOHN Cavadini

(The course replaces THEO 227 and fulfills the second theology requirement)

THEO 250 - ROADS TO GOD. Call #0537. 10:20-11:20 MTWHF

This course is from, the point of view of chronology, a sequel to the First Course in Theology. It covers representatives of theological traditions from the sixth to the seventeenth centuries. Our focal point for the consideration of these theologies will be the question of human awareness of God. What is the character of it? How is it acquired? Is it properly called "knowledge" of God? If so, how is it related to faith? We will consult a variety of texts to assist in our reflection on these questions, including readings from Gregory the Great, Benedict, Bernard of Clairvaux, Anselm, Hildegard, Francis and Clare of Assisi, Bonaventure, Aquinas, Dante, The Cloud of Unknowing, Julian of Norwich, Luther, Teresa of Avila, Pascal, and others.

You've come this far... Don't sell yourself short!

Get the Amerlink Advantage:
100 Resume Packages Complete for $195

Package Includes:
- A List of 10 Career-Testing Compan­ies Extracted from a Comprehensive Database of Every Company - Large or Small - in the Nation
- One Hundred Personalized and Addressed Cover Letters
- One Hundred Addressed Envelopes
- One Hundred Resumes
- All Done in High-Quality Laser Print on the Stationery of Your Choice

For less than $2 a resume, isn't your career search worth it?

Amerlink... your link to resume distribution.
(800) 666-9991

CAMPUS BIBLE STUDY* (*CBS)

SPONSORED BY CAMPUS MINISTRY

ALL STUDENTS AND MEMBERS OF THE NOTRE DAME COMMUNITY INVITED TO ATTEND

Ecumenical Bible Study

EVERY TUESDAY - 7:00 p.m.
Campus Ministry Conference Room
Benedict Hall
One Hour Sessions
Bring Your Own Bible

Directed by: Rev. Al D'Aolzoe, CSc
For Additional Information Call:
239-5955
239-5242

The DEPARTMENT OF THEOLOGY IS PLEASED TO ANNOUNCE
A NEW COURSE FOR SUMMER SESSION 1991

TAUGHT BY PROF. JOHN Cavadini

(The course replaces THEO 227 and fulfills the second theology requirement)

THEO 250 - ROADS TO GOD. Call #0537. 10:20-11:20 MTWHF

This course is from, the point of view of chronology, a sequel to the First Course in Theology. It covers representatives of theological traditions from the sixth to the seventeenth centuries. Our focal point for the consideration of these theologies will be the question of human awareness of God. What is the character of it? How is it acquired? Is it properly called "knowledge" of God? If so, how is it related to faith? We will consult a variety of texts to assist in our reflection on these questions, including readings from Gregory the Great, Benedict, Bernard of Clairvaux, Anselm, Hildegard, Francis and Clare of Assisi, Bonaventure, Aquinas, Dante, The Cloud of Unknowing, Julian of Norwich, Luther, Teresa of Avila, Pascal, and others.

You've come this far... Don't sell yourself short!

Get the Amerlink Advantage:
100 Resume Packages Complete for $195

Package Includes:
- A List of 10 Career-Testing Compan­ies Extracted from a Comprehensive Database of Every Company - Large or Small - in the Nation
- One Hundred Personalized and Addressed Cover Letters
- One Hundred Addressed Envelopes
- One Hundred Resumes
- All Done in High-Quality Laser Print on the Stationery of Your Choice

For less than $2 a resume, isn't your career search worth it?

Amerlink... your link to resume distribution.
(800) 666-9991

CAMPUS BIBLE STUDY* (*CBS)

SPONSORED BY CAMPUS MINISTRY

ALL STUDENTS AND MEMBERS OF THE NOTRE DAME COMMUNITY INVITED TO ATTEND

Ecumenical Bible Study

EVERY TUESDAY - 7:00 p.m.
Campus Ministry Conference Room
Benedict Hall
One Hour Sessions
Bring Your Own Bible

Directed by: Rev. Al D'Aolzoe, CSc
For Additional Information Call:
239-5955
239-5242
The most successful development campaign in the history of Catholic higher education was a larger success than even the University of Notre Dame first realized. Following the close of its "Strategic Moment" campaign December 31, The University announced a final campaign total of $456.410,000. In the weeks that followed, however, the tally of eleven-hour contributions increased the total by more than $6.5 million to $463,046,196—154 percent of the campaign's original $300-million goal.

More than 61,000 individuals—80 percent of them ND alumni—contributed to the campaign. The final total makes this Notre Dame's fifth oversubscribed campaign in the last three decades, during which the University's endowment has been raised more than $600 million and its faculty salaries have increased the total by more than $6 million goal.

The creation of endowed chairs has had an important "multiplier effect" among our faculty, said University Provost Timothy O'Meara. "Chairholders serve as a magnet, attracting stronger junior faculty members and stimulating their colleagues."

Funding for construction and renovation of campus facilities reached $105 million, underwriting the most prolific physical growth in The University's history—an entire new quad, 13 new buildings, seven additions to existing buildings, two major renovations, and a campus memorial.

Among the record $60 million in current and recent projects are the construction of the $10.3-million Hesburgh Center for International Studies, whose principal donor is Joan Keough Sullivan, retired vice chairman of Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company of Newark, N.J.

Highlights of the campaign include the following:

- Forty-five chaired professorships, each endowed with $1 million, were established, raising to 105 the number of endowed chairs created at ND since the first in 1967.
- The creation of endowed chairs has had an important "multiplier effect" among our faculty.
- "Chairholders serve as a magnet, attracting stronger junior faculty members and stimulating their colleagues."
- Funding for construction and renovation of campus facilities reached $105 million, underwriting the most prolific physical growth in The University's history—an entire new quad, 13 new buildings, seven additions to existing buildings, two major renovations, and a campus memorial.
- Among the record $60 million in current and recent projects are the construction of the $10.3-million Hesburgh Center for International Studies, whose principal donor is Joan Keough Sullivan, retired vice chairman of Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company of Newark, N.J.

ND fundraising campaign exceeds all expectations

ND fundraising campaign exceeds all expectations

The Observer is currently accepting applications for the following position:
Advertising Clerk
For more information contact Julie at 239-6900 or 283-1291

The Observer is currently accepting applications for the following position:
Advertising Clerk
For more information contact Julie at 239-6900 or 283-1291

How to start your law career before you start law school.

Start with the Kaplan LSAT prep course. After taking Kaplan, thousands of LSAT students score over 40. That's the top 10% nationally! And candidates who score over 40 on the new LSAT enjoy the best chance of being accepted to the law school of their choice and going on to practice with top law firms or corporations.

6/10/91 LSAT Prep Class starts 3/25/91.
The Gulf War has served as a great equalizer among OPEC nations: Saudi Arabia and Kuwait, once flush with cash, are entering a period of hardship. The United Arab Emirates have rung up their original plant or others, if they were able to recover, said Eugene Fanning, guest lecturer at the College of Business Administration.

Fanning discussed the ailments of the auto and banking industries at the Notre Dame Council on International Business Development on Thursday.

"The banking industry is operating under 1932 laws," he said.

Such laws were meant to protect small banks in rural areas, and now the industry has too many banks competing for too few quality loan opportunities, according to Fanning.

The regulations not only work against the banks, but cause the banking bureaucracy to grow too large and inefficient, Fanning commented.

These two factors prevent American banks from making a sufficient profit to compete against larger foreign banks, he said.

"There is going to have to be a consolidation of the large American banks," said Fanning. Out of Chase Manhattan, Gilcorp, Manufacturers Hanover and Bankers Trust, a maximum of two can survive, according to Fanning.

He added that he expects mergers between those banks, allowing the surviving companies to profit from the remaining banking business.

Fanning also suggested that the banking regulations allow the survival of smaller banks, at the expense of profits for the larger ones. "We cannot allow the small banker to dictate what is going to happen to Chase Manhattan," he said.

The solution is a shrinkage of the number of total American banks from the present 13,000 to 5,000, with the larger banks taking over the small town banks, Fanning said.

A bill waiting for passage on Capitol Hill would redress the old banking laws and allow for increased profitability, he noted.

Fanning said he sees the automobile industry facing many of the same problems as the banking industry. The bureaucratic structure of the Big Three companies is too large, adding unnecessary costs and undercutting profits, he said.

On a positive note, the quality of today's American automobile and many other auto problems have begun to improve, he added.

Fanning commented on Roger Smith, former chairman of General Motors. "Smith will go down as the disaster of the twentieth century in American industry," he said.

Smith's management led to a decline in profits for G.M.'s American operations during the decade of the largest growth ever in automobile sales, Fanning said.

In order for the automobile manufacturers to survive, they must produce their cars more efficiently and that was further reductions in the Big Three work forces, he said.

Fanning sees greater consolidation in the auto industry, particularly with Chrysler who will have to merge with a larger, perhaps foreign firm.

The Notre Dame Council on International Business Development is a student run group that tries to promote an international outlook towards economics and business.

This summer the Council is sending students abroad to work as interns in such countries as Spain, France, Australia, Switzerland and England. Anyone interested in the Council can contact Dustin Klinger.

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) - The Gulf War has served as a great equalizer among OPEC nations: Saudi Arabia and Kuwait, once flush with cash, are entering a period of hardship. The United Arab Emirates have rung up their original plant or others, if they were able to recover, said Eugene Fanning, guest lecturer at the College of Business Administration.

Fanning discussed the ailments of the auto and banking industries at the Notre Dame Council on International Business Development on Thursday.

"The banking industry is operating under 1932 laws," he said. Such laws were meant to protect small banks in rural areas, and now the industry has too many banks competing for too few quality loan opportunities, according to Fanning.

The regulations not only work against the banks, but cause the banking bureaucracy to grow too large and inefficient, Fanning commented.

These two factors prevent American banks from making a sufficient profit to compete against larger foreign banks, he said.

"There is going to have to be a consolidation of the large American banks," said Fanning. Out of Chase Manhattan, Gilcorp, Manufacturers Hanover and Bankers Trust, a maximum of two can survive, according to Fanning.

He added that he expects mergers between those banks, allowing the surviving companies to profit from the remaining banking business.

Fanning also suggested that the banking regulations allow the survival of smaller banks, at the expense of profits for the larger ones. "We cannot allow the small banker to dictate what is going to happen to Chase Manhattan," he said.

The solution is a shrinkage of the number of total American banks from the present 13,000 to 5,000, with the larger banks taking over the small town banks, Fanning said.

A bill waiting for passage on Capitol Hill would redress the old banking laws and allow for increased profitability, he noted.

Fanning said he sees the automobile industry facing many of the same problems as the banking industry. The bureaucratic structure of the Big Three companies is too large, adding unnecessary costs and undercutting profits, he said.

On a positive note, the quality of today's American automobile and many other auto problems have begun to improve, he added.

Fanning commented on Roger Smith, former chairman of General Motors. "Smith will go down as the disaster of the twentieth century in American industry," he said.

Smith's management led to a decline in profits for G.M.'s American operations during the decade of the largest growth ever in automobile sales, Fanning said.

In order for the automobile manufacturers to survive, they must produce their cars more efficiently and that was further reductions in the Big Three work forces, he said.

Fanning sees greater consolidation in the auto industry, particularly with Chrysler who will have to merge with a larger, perhaps foreign firm.

The Notre Dame Council on International Business Development is a student run group that tries to promote an international outlook towards economics and business.

This summer the Council is sending students abroad to work as interns in such countries as Spain, France, Australia, Switzerland and England. Anyone interested in the Council can contact Dustin Klinger.
Dear Editor:

Grace Chen ("Notre Dame Must Eliminate Its Religious Barriers," March 20, 1991) is pushing for the solution to the problem of religious diversity at Notre Dame in the wrong direction. Notre Dame is not Harvard or Yale, nor should it give up its essential character, Catholicism, to become Protestant. I mean that the essence of Notre Dame is its religious and spiritual character, not in aggressive research or explicit diversity. True, Notre Dame is striving to promote the unity of the community and the free expression of varying opinions on campus. However, I do think that those groups could benefit from the diversity that Catholicism could offer them.

Yet, I see cultural diversity in Catholicism. True, it is the largest religion in the U.S. and the world, but in the secular, materialistic, hate-filled United States, the Catholic University of Notre Dame du Lac serves its purpose well. Sometimes confused and tight-ass, but well, Notre Dame is not the United Nations. Notre Dame is a Catholic University founded originally to help young immigrant men become working and contributing members of American society. Now Notre Dame should hold out as something unique also. It is an American Catholic University and a place where a person's relationship with God can be explored every day, in every aspect of life.

I would like to end my strange letter by saying two things: First, I know that this letter will make some "conservative" (maybe reactionary) people excited and some more liberal squirm. But I would like to warn more liberal persons not to try to impose cultural diversity on this campus that I would soon leave this campus myself if I agree with you. And likewise I would warn more liberal persons not to try to impose cultural diversity on this campus that I would soon leave this campus myself if I disagree with you. And likewise I would warn more liberal persons not to try to impose cultural diversity on this campus that I would soon leave this campus myself if I disagree with you.

Secondly, I am leaving this campus myself in just 60 days from now. It will be a very sad day for me because I am indebted to the dedication of teachers to the love of my friends and family and to the chance to study the many cultures that I have learned about. I wonder about my future, laugh about your past, get your midterms back, cry about losing your friends, and you'll rejoice that you are here.

Sean B. Scallon
Off-campus
March 20, 1991

Survey on sexual harassment deserves response

Dear Editor:
The Faculty/Student Committee on Women recently distributed among many members of the Notre Dame community a survey concerning sexual harassment in order to assess the climate for students and faculty members at the university. This survey is extremely important to the committee, which will use the results as a guide in many of its future endeavors. We realize that students have been asked within the past year to complete similar surveys, specifically those choses by student government of and the Women's Resource Committee of the Catholic Students Union. This new questionnaire, however, is being used to go beyond these studies in order to determine both the prevalence of various behaviors at Notre Dame and the types of relationships that exist not only between men and women but also among students, among faculty members, and between faculty members and students.

There has been much discussion this year about sexual harassment across college campuses nationwide. The Faculty/Student Committee on Women decided that it was time to gather some evidence to determine the gravity of the concern at Notre Dame. The only way to make such a determination is to hear from you about your experiences and perceptions of Notre Dame life. The results of the survey will be published for the university community, which will then have further grounds for both discussion and attempts to make any needed improvements. Please take the time to complete and return the survey.

Jennifer L. Johnson
Student Body President
Kathleen Stainos
Faculty/Student Committee on Women
March 18, 1991

Notre Dame Daily Bulletin
Thief of American flag provoked appropriate emotional response

Dear Editor:

I am writing in response to Mr. Stan Curtis's letter deprecating my letter concerning the theft of my American flag. While I agree that stealing a flag is wrong, I do not think my letter was as extreme as his. I think it is important to remember that the American flag is not just a piece of cloth, but represents the values of the country that it represents.

I also believe that the thief should be held accountable for their actions. It is not acceptable to steal from someone, especially the American flag, which represents our country.

Jo De Lorenzio
Pasquerilla West March 7, 1991

ND should concentrate on improving quality of undergraduate education

Dear Editor:

In a recent issue of The Observer, there was an article by Christine Walsh regarding Notre Dame attempting to improve their research program at the expense of undergraduate education. While I agree that Notre Dame needs to improve their research program, I believe that this should not come at the expense of undergraduate education.

I believe that Notre Dame should focus on providing a quality education for all of their students, regardless of their major. This includes providing a strong liberal arts education, as well as opportunities for research and internships.

Katherine Mapother
Breen-Phillips Hall March 22, 1991
Judges (female students of juniors John Donohoe and this night, so a reporter I could draw a conclusion from the chance of Sisk and Ebert, I shall say right away—thumbs up.

The night was definitely too long, but I was impressed. I saw musicians, comedians, even some classy guys. All were wearing male bonding, but they claimed to be nothing else. They raised money for charity and enjoyed themselves immensely. As a voluntary viewer, I could ask for no more.

Despite Stanford Hall vice president Chris Infante’s claim that this show was not, by any means, about giving enough evidence that did not evolve from a competition it was the firm claim “Mr. Stanford,” now in its ninth competition to the question and answer session that proceeds from this presence of pictures representing intoxicated men in briefs, but I am able to draw conclusions: namely, that these guys are with a grain of salt, I shall say right away.

I was wondering whether I should be keener at the heart of this show was not, by any means, about giving evidence that did not evolve from a competition. The question and answer session is the firm claim, “Mr. Stanford,” now in its ninth competition to the question and answer session, I could not help wondering whether I should be giving evidence that did not evolve from a competition to the question and answer session, I could not help wondering whether I should be giving evidence that did not evolve from a competition.

The miscellaneous skits that broke up the four competitions ranged from crude to profound, but bordered on tactless with references to race and its history. All of the musicians who performed had skill. There was a blues band, an Irish flute player, and a piano player whose distortion of the words to Billy Joel’s “And So It Goes” was modified by pure expertise and voice.

Finally, “Broadband and Dennis the Menace Show” was one long display of Stanford men at their best. (In their underwear?) The rules of objective reporting render me unable to comment on the over-powering presence of pictures representing intoxicated men in briefs, but I am able to draw conclusions: namely, that these guys are incredibly comfortable being seen wearing next to nothing. Despite constant cracks on residents of Zahm, Keenan, and Dillon, and on females in general, the show did redeem themselves with class and their talent. Sean Gilby, a B.A. and one of the masters of ceremonies, thanked his friends and hallmates, stepping into his own shoes.

The Mirage’s claim that the pageant’s primary goal was to raise money for the Stanford University’s charity and enjoyed themselves immensely. As a voluntary viewer, I could ask for no more.

The pageant dragged at times, full of inside jokes directed clearly at the men at Stanford; it’s been said. Despite constant cracks on residents of Zahm, Keenan, and Dillon, and on females in general, the show did redeem themselves with class and their talent. Sean Gilby, a B.A. and one of the masters of ceremonies, thanked his friends and hallmates, stepping into his own shoes.

The miscellaneous skits that broke up the four competitions ranged from crude to profound, but bordered on tactless with references to race and its history. All of the musicians who performed had skill. There was a blues band, an Irish flute player, and a piano player whose distortion of the words to Billy Joel’s “And So It Goes” was modified by pure expertise and voice.

Finally, “Broadband and Dennis the Menace Show” was one long display of Stanford men at their best. (In their underwear?) The rules of objective reporting render me unable to comment on the over-powering presence of pictures representing intoxicated men in briefs, but I am able to draw conclusions: namely, that these guys are incredibly comfortable being seen wearing next to nothing. Despite constant cracks on residents of Zahm, Keenan, and Dillon, and on females in general, the show did redeem themselves with class and their talent. Sean Gilby, a B.A. and one of the masters of ceremonies, thanked his friends and hallmates, stepping into his own shoes.

The Mirage’s claim that the pageant’s primary goal was to raise money for the Stanford University’s charity and enjoyed themselves immensely. As a voluntary viewer, I could ask for no more.
Student exchange with Xavier promotes diversity

By MONICA YANT
News Editor

Since Notre Dame is lacking an extension in New Orleans, a partnership with Xavier University may give the university and faculty a permanent taste of what it means to be urban.

And at the same time, it would afford both schools numerous educational and cultural benefits.

"It has been a partner­ship, a collaborative," according to Roland Smith, executive assistant to the president. "We're in the process of trying to define it."

What Smith, and counter­part at the New Orleans, L.A. school are trying to define is a special relationship between Notre Dame and Xavier, the only historically Black, Catholic university in the nation.

Smith said the idea for the partnership came about two years ago, after Xavier's President, Norman Francis, received an honorary degree from Notre Dame. Conversations with Father William H.(Dusty) McDonald, Notre Dame University President, led to an agreement of four representatives from both schools, according to Smith, "We're not going to try to be the intellectual equal of either school."

She expressed her confidence that the partnership will be beneficial for all involved. Xavier University: Just the facts

"Xavier is a lot like Notre Dame, on a smaller scale," Smith said, citing a prevalent feeling of communalism that may be attributed to a combination of size and religious sentiment.

Xavier boasts an enrollment of approximately 2,900 students from 31 states and 23 foreign countries. The school has seen a gradual enrollment increase within the last ten years. Smith said, jumping from a student body of 1,900 in 1985 to close to 3,000 today.

Nearly eighty percent of the student body is African-American, and Xavier is the nation's second largest producer of African-American students for medical and dental schools.

Xavier's science programs have virtually no racial breakdown on the map, as the following facts indicate:

- In College of Pharmacy has the highest African-American enrollment among all pharmacy schools in the nation.
- Eighty percent of its student body apply to medical or dental school are accepted, giving the national average of 50 percent.
- Xavier places more African-American students in medical schools than all other Louisiana colleges and universities combined.

Life at Xavier is, unlike Notre Dame, according to Lovett, "not really conducive to living on campus. Located in the heart of the city, with an expressway and a canal as borders, Xavier faces housing problems like many big-city schools.

The school has three dormitories which house a total of about 800 students. Lovett said, "So we're always thinking and visiting with members of the opposite sex is limited to lobby areas only.

Approximately 60 percent of the Xavier student body lives off-campus, allowing them to take full advantage of the city's culture and entertainment, as well as the freedom of more open violations, he said.

Student government at Xavier tends to focus more on human relations issues, according to Lovett. She explained that open forums are often held to discuss key issues related with administration.

The curriculum at Xavier is another common topic of student government discussion, Lovett said. The notion of an Afrocentric curriculum versus just an African-American program makes Xavier different than many schools with respect to class content. She explained that at Xavier, classes are taught "from the humanist view... a human perspective of history the way history should be taught.

Financial concerns are yet another facet of student government, as Lovett explained. She mentioned a change for periods of a semester will hopefully, "learn everyone has to give."

For now, the problem at hand for Lovett was catching a plane back to New Orleans in time to participate in a weekend full of social and service activities with Xavier's student government. She said, "We're not just talking about taking money from Coke. The problem is bigger than that.

And at the same time, it seems to me that we (Notre Dame) can learn, as a university, from their success," he said.

But he said he hopes it will be a relationship in which, "everyone has to give, to that from which more can be gained."

Photos courtesy of ND Public Relations and Information

ND's 'new Gloria Estefan' strives for success

By ANNA MARIE TABOR
St. Mary's Accent Editor

Don't expect to hear strains of "Coming Out of the Dark" reverberating from Loretta Murray's room. Although Murray, a senior at Notre Dame may be compared with Gloria Estefan for writing English/Spanish songs and taking money from companies that refuse to divest from South Africa come into conflict with feelings about funding for the university.

"We're saying it's a partnership with Xavier that may lead to some indirect or direct ties with South Africa," she said. "We're not just talking about

Loretta Murray, Notre Dame senior, hard at work in the recording studio. just to get her songs played on the radio, she has found that the farther she gets, the higher her aspirations follow. She described the feeling of being played on SuperVideos, Colombia's equivalent of MTV, as very exciting. "It was shown between Natalie Cole and Soul II Soul on the air," she remembered.

Murray's lyrics are half Spanish and half English. She said that was quite a challenge, and particularly challenging. Not only do the words have to correlate, but rhyme in both languages. Even though Murray is mother in Colombia, she wasn't fluent in Spanish before she took classes at Notre Dame.

Currently, Murray is collabo­rating with some musicians in Miami and is "very happy with those guys." They record a second song, "No Quiero Bailer Sin Ti," which is has a dance/salsa flavor. A record company wants to hear more from Murray and plans to be prepared when she goes to Colombia in December. "I'm determined to get a contract," she smiled.

The Miami Sound Machine was popular in South America before conquering the States, and Murray hopes to eventually do the same. "I don't know when I'll be satisfied. I want to be able to make a living as a singer and wouldn't mind staying in Colombia, but I'd like to come back to my home (the States)."

Murray's manager has already changed her name to Loretta de Los Rios, which has become familiar to Murray because that is how she is known in Colombia. She is a self-de­scribed "walking cliché," and is full of positive thoughts. "Follow your bliss and you can't help but be successful. I'm just consumed with this!"
Bonilla’s agent wants Pirates to get serious about talks

BRAIDENTON, Fla. (AP) — The agent for Pittsburgh Pirates outfielder Bobby Bonilla said the club is not serious about signing the National League’s most valuable player.

But the Pirates gave them a proposal to discuss a possible long-term contract with the right fielder’s representatives, perhaps as early as today.

“If he’s got an offer to make, he’s my home number,” he said Sunday. “Let him call and make it and I’ll respond accordingly.”

Pirates president Carl Barger said Sunday the Pirates would soon contact Bonilla.

“We’re going to try to get the flavor of their current thinking,” Barger said. “We’re not going to have a telephone conversation from Beverly Hills, Calif., he says not to excited about it. And he’s going to call and offer this and offer that, he said. "As far as I’m concerned, I don’t believe any of it. It’s just grandstanding, a self-serving move to try and make it look like they’re serious about signing Bobby. They’re not serious about signing Bobby. They showed that during the talks before arbitration.”

Bonilla, who has played for the National League in each of the past three All-Star games, is eligible to become a free agent at the end of the season.

The Pirates attempted to sign Bonilla to a four-year deal for $16 million last month but were turned down as Gilbert countered by asking for five years over four million over four years with a no-trade clause.

Gilbert also turned down a one-year offer of $3.1 million prior to Bonilla’s salary arbitration case with Pittsburgh, counterering at $3.2 million.

Bonilla went on to lose in his arbitration case for four years, and is making $2.4 million this season.

Gilbert said the offer is still sticking to the request of $17.9 million with a no-trade clause and is making $2.4 million this season.

Gilbert also turned down a one-year offer of $3.1 million prior to Bonilla’s salary arbitration case with Pittsburgh, counterering at $3.2 million.

Bonilla went on to lose in his arbitration case for four years, and is making $2.4 million this season.

Gilbert said the offer is still sticking to the request of $17.9 million with a no-trade clause and is making $2.4 million this season.

However, he did say the Pirates would consider allowing him to sign a limited no-problem option.

To the loyal subjects of P.W., I wish to announce on this note that I am resigning for the Hall of Fame. Don’t be a kook! careless. Cal Malloy, CSC.

---

to Parsi. I need a line. A. L. 414.

---

to pars, I need a line. A. L. 414.

---

to Parsi. I need a line. A. L. 414.

---

to Parsi. I need a line. A. L. 414.

---

to Parsi. I need a line. A. L. 414.

---

to Parsi. I need a line. A. L. 414.
Hernandez, catcher; John Weneifand, pitcher; and Hatcher, Infielder, for the purpose of giving him his reassignment.

This has more than nine other high school basketball tourney championship (22 others have won one title)

Monday's Games

Hartford at Nashville, 7:50 p.m.

New Haven at Yale (19-16), 7:00 p.m.

Wednesday's Games

Hartford at New Haven, 7:50 p.m.

New Haven at Yale (19-16), 7:00 p.m.

Wednesday's Games

Hartford at New Haven, 7:50 p.m.

New Haven at Yale (19-16), 7:00 p.m.

Wednesday's Games

Hartford at New Haven, 7:50 p.m.

New Haven at Yale (19-16), 7:00 p.m.

Wednesday's Games

Hartford at New Haven, 7:50 p.m.

New Haven at Yale (19-16), 7:00 p.m.

Wednesday's Games

Hartford at New Haven, 7:50 p.m.

New Haven at Yale (19-16), 7:00 p.m.

Wednesday's Games

Hartford at New Haven, 7:50 p.m.

New Haven at Yale (19-16), 7:00 p.m.
WLAF receives wet greeting in Barcelona

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — The National League expansion committee visited Buffalo, N.Y., Washington and Denver this week, the last step before it begins its final stage of deliberations.

The committee already has visited the three Florida finalists — Miami, Orlando and St. Petersburg, and after this week's visits it will attempt to rank the cities.

"The way I see it, Washington is one of the sites, and the other five cities are scrambling for the other one," said Washington developer John Akridge, who heads the capital's group. "Give me a fact you want to compare, and I can't find one where Washington doesn't come out on top."

The four-man expansion committee visits Washington on Monday morning and Buffalo on Monday afternoon before looking at Denver's facilities on Tuesday.

Washington believes it has an edge because its population of 3.7 million is much larger than the other finalists, and its television market is the seventh-largest in the nation. The Washington area's average household income of $48,038 is the highest in the nation.

"The support has been just overwhelming," said Akridge, who hopes to have season ticket deposits from 30,000 fans by May 1. "We're running a good race, and things just seem to be picking up."

But Washington is close to Baltimore and its previous history works against it. The original Senators — whose typical dismal performances sparked the phrase "First in War, First in Peace, and Last in the American League" — left Washington in 1961 and became the Minnesota Twins. The expansion Senators left in 1977 and became the Texas Rangers.

If Washington gets an NL team, don't expect it to be called the Senators.

"The Senators have their place in baseball history, but we would prefer to leave it un-

continued from page 24

The leaders of Buffalo's bid say they plan to ask the committee about how the league's plan to cope with baseball's soaring salaries.

"We're not necessarily going to tell them what we think they should do," said Mindy Rich, executive vice president of the minor-league Buffalo Bisons.

Loyola

is currently looking for Sports Writers. If you want to deliver sports news to the Notre Dame/Saint Mary's community each day, then you should attend a meeting on Tuesday, March 26 outside the Observer office on the third floor of LaFortune at 7:30 p.m. If you are unable to attend, Notre Dame students please call Dave Dieteman at 283-1407; Saint Mary's students call Christine Penote at 284-5088.

Expansion committee goes to Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National League expansion committee visits Buffalo, N.Y., Washington and Denver this week, the last step before it begins its final stage of deliberations.

The committee already has visited the three Florida finalists — Miami, Orlando and St. Petersburg, and after this week's visits it will attempt to rank the cities.

"The way I see it, Washington is one of the sites, and the other five cities are scrambling for the other one," said Washington developer John Akridge, who heads the capital's group. "Give me a fact you want to compare, and I can't find one where Washington doesn't come out on top."

The four-man expansion committee visits Washington on Monday morning and Buffalo on Monday afternoon before looking at Denver's facilities on Tuesday.

Washington believes it has an edge because its population of 3.7 million is much larger than the other finalists, and its television market is the seventh-largest in the nation. The Washington area's average household income of $48,038 is the highest in the nation.

"The support has been just overwhelming," said Akridge, who hopes to have season ticket deposits from 30,000 fans by May 1. "We're running a good race, and things just seem to be picking up."

But Washington is close to Baltimore and its previous history works against it. The original Senators — whose typical dismal performances sparked the phrase "First in War, First in Peace, and Last in the American League" — left Washington in 1961 and became the Minnesota Twins. The expansion Senators left in 1977 and became the Texas Rangers.

If Washington gets an NL team, don't expect it to be called the Senators.

"The Senators have their place in baseball history, but we would prefer to leave it un-

continued from page 24

The leaders of Buffalo's bid say they plan to ask the committee about how the league's plan to cope with baseball's soaring salaries.

"We're not necessarily going to tell them what we think they should do," said Mindy Rich, executive vice president of the minor-league Buffalo Bisons.

Loyola

is currently looking for Sports Writers. If you want to deliver sports news to the Notre Dame/Saint Mary's community each day, then you should attend a meeting on Tuesday, March 26 outside the Observer office on the third floor of LaFortune at 7:30 p.m. If you are unable to attend, Notre Dame students please call Dave Dieteman at 283-1407; Saint Mary's students call Christine Penote at 284-5088.

Expansion committee goes to Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National League expansion committee visits Buffalo, N.Y., Washington and Denver this week, the last step before it begins its final stage of deliberations.

The committee already has visited the three Florida finalists — Miami, Orlando and St. Petersburg, and after this week's visits it will attempt to rank the cities.

"The way I see it, Washington is one of the sites, and the other five cities are scrambling for the other one," said Washington developer John Akridge, who heads the capital's group. "Give me a fact you want to compare, and I can't find one where Washington doesn't come out on top."

The four-man expansion committee visits Washington on Monday morning and Buffalo on Monday afternoon before looking at Denver's facilities on Tuesday.

Washington believes it has an edge because its population of 3.7 million is much larger than the other finalists, and its television market is the seventh-largest in the nation. The Washington area's average household income of $48,038 is the highest in the nation.

"The support has been just overwhelming," said Akridge, who hopes to have season ticket deposits from 30,000 fans by May 1. "We're running a good race, and things just seem to be picking up."

But Washington is close to Baltimore and its previous history works against it. The original Senators — whose typical dismal performances sparked the phrase "First in War, First in Peace, and Last in the American League" — left Washington in 1961 and became the Minnesota Twins. The expansion Senators left in 1977 and became the Texas Rangers.

If Washington gets an NL team, don't expect it to be called the Senators.

"The Senators have their place in baseball history, but we would prefer to leave it un-

continued from page 24

The leaders of Buffalo's bid say they plan to ask the committee about how the league's plan to cope with baseball's soaring salaries.

"We're not necessarily going to tell them what we think they should do," said Mindy Rich, executive vice president of the minor-league Buffalo Bisons.

Loyola

is currently looking for Sports Writers. If you want to deliver sports news to the Notre Dame/Saint Mary's community each day, then you should attend a meeting on Tuesday, March 26 outside the Observer office on the third floor of LaFortune at 7:30 p.m. If you are unable to attend, Notre Dame students please call Dave Dieteman at 283-1407; Saint Mary's students call Christine Penote at 284-5088.

Expansion committee goes to Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National League expansion committee visits Buffalo, N.Y., Washington and Denver this week, the last step before it begins its final stage of deliberations.

The committee already has visited the three Florida finalists — Miami, Orlando and St. Petersburg, and after this week's visits it will attempt to rank the cities.

"The way I see it, Washington is one of the sites, and the other five cities are scrambling for the other one," said Washington developer John Akridge, who heads the capital's group. "Give me a fact you want to compare, and I can't find one where Washington doesn't come out on top."

The four-man expansion committee visits Washington on Monday morning and Buffalo on Monday afternoon before looking at Denver's facilities on Tuesday.

Washington believes it has an edge because its population of 3.7 million is much larger than the other finalists, and its television market is the seventh-largest in the nation. The Washington area's average household income of $48,038 is the highest in the nation.

"The support has been just overwhelming," said Akridge, who hopes to have season ticket deposits from 30,000 fans by May 1. "We're running a good race, and things just seem to be picking up."

But Washington is close to Baltimore and its previous history works against it. The original Senators — whose typical dismal performances sparked the phrase "First in War, First in Peace, and Last in the American League" — left Washington in 1961 and became the Minnesota Twins. The expansion Senators left in 1977 and became the Texas Rangers.

If Washington gets an NL team, don't expect it to be called the Senators.

"The Senators have their place in baseball history, but we would prefer to leave it un-
Spurs beat Detroit at own game; Blazers rout Hornets

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — David Robinson scored 20 points and the San Antonio Spurs held Detroit without a field goal for more than seven minutes in the fourth quarter in beating the Pistons 85-78 Sunday.

Terry Cummings and Rod Strickland had 16 points apiece for the Spurs, who won for the seventh consecutive time at home. Detroit was led by Joe Dumars with 22 points and James Edwards with 19.

With the Spurs leading 68-66 with 9:30 to play, Robinson triggered an 8-2 run with three points, putting San Antonio ahead 76-68 with 5:43 left. Detroit came no closer than five the rest of the way, failing to make a shot from the field from the 7:19 mark until Edwards’ jumper with four-tenths of a second left.

Trail Blazers 117, Hornets 102
PORTLAND, Ore.—Clyde Drexler scored 20 of his 27 points in the first half, leading Portland past Charlotte.

Also, many of these teams wanted a chance to show the NCAA selection committee that it made a mistake by leaving them out. Or, in the case of Santa Clara and Alabama-Birmingham, it was the first time the team had been invited anywhere for the postseason.

The NWIT, for all its problems, is a good concept. Just like the football bowl system and basketball’s NIT, women’s hoops’ elite party, the NCAA tournament.

The NWIT could be improved if it modeled itself on the men’s NIT. Increase the size to 16 teams, play the first two rounds at campus sites, and then conduct the “Final Four” at a neutral site—preferably not Amarillo.

This may not guarantee any more media and fan support than the NWIT receives now, but it certainly gives it a better chance. It also might gain the NWIT a little respect.

Until then, however, all this tournament is going to receive are some half-hearted efforts and a few laughs.

With both Portland and Los Angeles winning last night, the Blazers remain one game ahead of the Lakers in the Pacific Division.

STUDENT SENATE ELECTIONS

OFF - CAMPUS

CO - PRESIDENTS’ ELECTION

Today!

11:00 am - 1:00 pm
5:00 pm - 7:00 pm

Off-Campus students must vote at the information desk at LaFortune.

Students currently living in dorms but who are planning on living Off-Campus next year may vote in their dormitories.

Please Vote!

Run-off Elections will be held on Wednesday.
Indianapolis (AP) — If it's late March, the Indiana Pacers must be battling for one of the remaining NBA playoff berths.

Having made the playoffs just three times since joining the league in 1976, their play in recent years often necessitates a last-minute victory surge to land a spot.

With a victory last week over first-place Boston, the playoff push has begun.

It heats up this week, when Indiana hosts Central Division rivals Atlanta on Tuesday and visits Detroit on Wednesday. The club then returns home for three games against Golden State, Chicago and Atlanta before traveling to Atlanta on April 6.

"We've still got a long way to go. We've got some tough games coming up and we can't relax now," forward Detlef Schrempf said. "If we play the last games the way we played the last 20, we'll have a good chance of surprising a few people.

Boston is a possible first-round opponent in the playoffs, where the Pacers were trounced in three straight games by Detroit last year. They lost in the first round to Philadelphia in 1981 and Atlanta in 1987.

"The way we got beat last year, we should have gone home at the end of the (regular) season," forward LaSalle Thompson said. "Detroit just kicked us. We don't want that to happen this year.

Thompson's resurgence as a rebounder helped hand the Celtics their fifth straight defeat in Market Square Arena last Friday. He grabbed 21 rebounds, including 11 offensive boards, for his most as a Pacer. The Celtics have not won in Market Square Arena since March 16, 1989, and they split their four-game series with Indiana this season.

"It's tough for us to win here, but the playoffs would be a different story," Larry Bird said after his worst performance this season against the Pacers.

Indiana has shown more confidence in a new offense and upsets of Boston and Chicago at home have infused confidence in a team that has been bothered by shrinking attendance.

"We feel confident we can win. We're going to go out and play hard each and every night and continue to play the best basketball we can," Chuck Person said. "It's going to be no problem."

Indiana hosts Philadelphia and Washington before traveling to Atlanta on Wednesday. The club then returns home for three games against Golden State, Chicago and Atlanta before traveling to Atlanta on April 6.

"We've still got a long way to go. We've got some tough games coming up and we can't relax now," forward Detlef Schrempf said. "If we play the last games the way we played the last 20, we'll have a good chance of surprising a few people.

Boston is a possible first-round opponent in the playoffs, where the Pacers were trounced in three straight games by Detroit last year. They lost in the first round to Philadelphia in 1981 and Atlanta in 1987.

"The way we got beat last year, we should have gone home at the end of the (regular) season," forward LaSalle Thompson said. "Detroit just kicked us. We don't want that to happen this year.

Thompson's resurgence as a rebounder helped hand the Celtics their fifth straight defeat in Market Square Arena last Friday. He grabbed 21 rebounds, including 11 offensive boards, for his most as a Pacer. The Celtics have not won in Market Square Arena since March 16, 1989, and they split their four-game series with Indiana this season.

"It's tough for us to win here, but the playoffs would be a different story," Larry Bird said after his worst performance this season against the Pacers.

Indiana has shown more confidence in a new offense and upsets of Boston and Chicago at home have infused confidence in a team that has been bothered by shrinking attendance.

"We feel confident we can win. We're going to go out and play hard each and every night and continue to play the best basketball we can," Chuck Person said. "It's going to be no problem."

Indiana hosts Philadelphia and Washington before traveling to Atlanta on Wednesday. The club then returns home for three games against Golden State, Chicago and Atlanta before traveling to Atlanta on April 6.
Chicago reaches 100-point mark; Sabres beat Flyers

CHICAGO (AP)—Mike Hudson scored two of five second-period goals Sunday as the Blackhawks beat the Minnesota North Stars to reach the 100-point mark for the first time since the 1982-83 season.

The victory gave Chicago 101 points and a four-point lead over the idle St. Louis Blues in the Norris Division race for first place. Both teams have four games left.

Brian Bellow gave the North Stars a 1-0 lead at 3:49 of the second when he deflected in a slap shot from Neil Wilkinson. The Blackhawks responded with four goals in a 1:48 span beginning with Hudson's first score at 9:59.

Sabres 6, Flyers 2
BUFFALO, N.Y.—Alexander Mogilny scored two unassisted goals, his 26th and 27th of the season, as Buffalo defeated Philadelphia.

The Flyers, 2-8-2 in their last 12 games, dropped two points behind Washington, which tied Boston 3-3, and remained one point behind idle New Jersey in the fight for the fourth and final Patrick Division playoff spot.

Mogilny took advantage of two giveaways by the Philadelphia defense—one of which he forced with good forechecking—to give the Sabres their third victory in four games and a three-point lead over idle Hartford in the battle for third place in the Adams Division.

Bruins 3, Capitals 3, OT
LANDOVER, Md.—Michal Pivonka scored twice as Washington rallied to tie Boston. The tie moved Washington, which is 7-2-2 in its last 17 games, one point ahead of the New Jersey Devils into sole possession of third place in the Patrick Division.

Boston broke a 1-1 tie early in the third period on goals by Ray Bourque and Ron Hoover within 56 seconds. But Washing­ton, seeking its ninth straight playoff appearance, got within 3-2 when Pivonska scored over fallen goalie Andy Moog with 12 1/2 minutes re­maining.

The Caps kept the pressure on, and tied the score with 9:46 remaining on Kelly Miller's lean­ing 24th goal.

Rangers 3, Islanders 1
NEW YORK—Brian Mullen and Corey Miller scored within a 17-second span of the third period as the Rangers broke an eight-game losing streak with their victory over the Islanders, clinching a playoff spot.

The victory also moved the Rangers one point behind Pittsburgh in the battle for first place in the Patrick Division. The Rangers have three games left in the regular season, in­cluding a meeting with Pittsburgh on the final day of the season next Sunday. The Penguins have four games left.

NWIT continued from page 24
Margaret Newlin also had a fine tourn­ament, averaging 16.7 points and 7.7 rebounds.

"Margaret had a great tourn­ament," Irish coach Muffet McGraw said. "Coming down here was worth it just for her to get that experience. She res­ponded really well when Krisi went down. It's especially good looking to next year, how she came on late this season."

Notre Dame's problems, however, began before the NWIT even started. Neither Sue LaRue (knee) nor Niki Robinson (stom­ach flu) prac­ticed the week before the tour­nament.

This threw off Notre Dame's timing on the offensive end, especially in Thursday's first­round matchup. Santa Clara took advantage of 18 Irish first­half turnovers to open up a close game. A 25-5 Broncos run in the last 12:03 of the half broke a 14-14 tie to grab a 39­19 halftime lead.

The Broncos led by as much as 26 points with 17:28 left in the game before the Irish made a run. Robinson and Newlin combined for 15 points in a 19­5 Notre Dame spurt to cut the lead to 54-40 with 11:20 re­maining, but could get no closer the rest of the game.

Friday's game was much closer throughout, but in the end, the Cardinals' effort on the offensive boards—22 total—was too much for the out­matched Irish.

"They just outmatched us inside," McGraw said.

Instrumental to Louisville's attack was freshman Gwen Doyle. The Metro League's Freshman of the Year scored 34 points and grabbed 10 re­bounds, seven on the offensive end.

"We didn't have anyone who could guard her or block her out," McGraw said.

Neither team led by more than five in the first half, with Louisville holding on to a slim 43-42 lead at the break. The Irish roared out of the locker room, scoring the first seven points to take a 49-43 lead.

But the Cardinals fought back, regaining the lead with 9:42 left on Renee Huntsinger's layup. For the next eight minutes, there were three lead changes and four ties until Louisville took the lead for good with 1:37 left.

Huntsinger made the front end of a one-and-one for a 74­73 lead, but missed the second. Newlin grabbed the rebound, but Doyle stole the ball back and laid it in for a three-point lead.

The Irish proceeded to turn the ball over on their next two possessions, allowing the Car­dinals to build an 80-73 lead.

"Turnovers haunted us. We turned it over twice in the last minute when we had a chance to win it," McGraw said.

By Saturday afternoon's game

Student Government Presents... A Public Forum On Contemporary Issues with Stan Curtis Founder of U.S.A. Harvest

“How You Can Help Feed the Poor”

Monday, March 25, 1991 7:30 pm CSC Main Auditorium

This lecture is co-sponsored by the Center for Social Concerns
SPORTS SHORTS

Woosnam defeats Hallett in sudden death playoff

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—For a moment, Ian Woosnam said, he had visions of a replay from last year.

"I thought the same thing was going to happen to me that happened to Greg Norman," he said.

But the 5-foot, 4½-inch Welshman dunked Jim Hallett and went on to gain his first American PGA title in a two-hole sudden death playoff Sunday.

Hallett, not yet a winner in a four-season American career, blew a three-strike lead, then came from five strikes back. He capped the revival with a 4-foot birdie putt on the final hole to gain a share of the lead and force the playoff.

After both he and Woosnam parred the first extra hole, Hallet dunked his tee shot into the left bunker on the par-3 17th hole, the second of the playoff.

Hallet scored the par on his sand shot, the ball skipping over the cup and just missing the flagstick, skipping about 6 feet beyond the hole. When Hallet missed the par-saving putt, Woosnam's 2-putt par became the winner.

Woosnam, who played the final round in 5-under-par 67, posted the 24th victory of his world-wide career and his second of the season.

Woosnam moves into ATP top 10 with victory

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla.—Even though David Wheaton had more ace, Jim Courier won the jackpot.

Courier trumped Wheaton's 10 aces with steady play from the baseline for a 4-6, 6-3, 6-4 victory Sunday in his final at the International Players Championships. The first-place prize of $179,000 was the biggest payday of Courier's five-year career.

"I don't think it's hit me yet that the tournament is over," Courier said after beating his former high school classmate. "I feel like I've still got to play one more match."

The title was Courier's second this month and the third of his career. He beat Guy Forget in the final at Indian Wells, Calif., on March 10.

The Dude City, Fla., native has won 12 consecutive matches and will move into the top 10 this week for the first time. He'll be ninth in the computer rankings effective Monday.

DOGERS win in exhibition baseball

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—Bob Ujeda, almost a lock for the starting rotation, pitched six strong innings and Juan Samuel drove in four runs, leading the Los Angeles Dodgers past the Atlanta Braves 8-1 Sunday.

Dodger right fielder Darryl Strawberry, who had been out since March 11 with a strained right hamstring muscle, returned to the lineup. Strawberry batted 1-for-3 with a third-inning single off Atlanta left-hander Tony Castillo.

(AP)—North Carolina and Duke, whose campuses are just a long jog apart, will be sharing a new neighborhood next season.

The Atlantic Coast Conference rivals advanced to the Final Four on Sunday, giving the league half of the NCAA semifinal field for the second straight year.

North Carolina held off tenacious Temple 75-72 for the East Regional championship, ending Dean Smith's longest absence from the Final Four and making him the first coach to get there in four different decades.

Duke defeated St. John's 78-61 for the Midwest title, joining UCLA and Cincinnati as the only schools to make four consecutive Final Four appearances.

The victories set up intriguing semifinal matchups next Saturday at the Hoosier Dome.

The Blue Devils (30-7) will play top-ranked UNLV (34-0) in a rematch of last year's championship game, a 103-73 rout by the Runnin' Rebels. North Carolina (29-5) meets Kansas (26-7) in a pupil-teacher show-down between Dean Smith and former assistant Roy Williams.

The Final Four also had two ACC teams last year. Duke and Georgia Tech.

King Rice hit four free throws in the last 22 seconds and Temple's Mark Macon missed a potential, game-tying 3-pointer with four seconds left, putting North Carolina in the Final Four for the first time since winning the national title in 1982.

"Maybe now I won't get any letters asking why I hadn't been to the Final Four," said Smith, who lost four consecutive semis and finals after winning his first seven. "I can hardly remember the last time we made it. I'm pleased for the seniors who haven't been there before."

Although his team lost, Macon wasn't anybody by his intimidating 6-foor-29 performance in the 1988 East Regional final, which took place on the same court in East Rutherford, N.J.

The senior guard scored 31 points on 12-fof-23 shooting and earned regional MVP honors. His fourth 3-pointer, with nine seconds left, cut North Carolina's lead to 73-72. But Rice then hit two free throws and Macon missed on his final 3-point attempt.

"I've never guarded anyone other than Rodney Monroe that has so much confidence in his shot," said Rick Fox, who shadowed Macon throughout the final drive. "He's definitely one of the best shooting guards in the country."

Smith moved into a tie with UCLA's John Wooden for most career victories in the NCAA tournament. Smith's tourney record is 47-21; Wooden was 47-18.

"We've been close before, getting to the final eight and final 16 every year," Rice said.

"You have to be a little lucky to get here."

Fox and Hubert Davis led North Carolina with 19 points each. Mick Gilgere had 18 for Temple (24-10).

A 12-3 run by Temple pulled the Owls within two points with 11:47 remaining, but the Tar Heels countered with a 9-3 spurt to extend the lead to 61-53.

Temple, trying to join 11th-seeded LSU in 1986 as the only double-digit seeds to reach the Final Four, played close down the stretch but couldn't overtake North Carolina.

At Pontiac, Mich., Bobby Hurley scored 20 points and ran the Duke offense brilliantly as the Blue Devils advanced to the Final Four for the fifth time in six years.

"I see a killer," St. John's coach Lou Carnesecca said. "He makes the other guys look better. He hits the threes; he's smart."

The Blue Devils will be making their ninth overall trip to the national semis, but they've never gone all the way. That's a record for Final Four futility.

UCLA made 10 straight Final Four appearances from 1967-76, winning eight times, and Cincinnati was there five straight years from 1959-63, winning twice.

Duke raced to a 40-27 halftime lead Sunday and was never threatened. The Blue Devils are 28-0 this season when leading at halftime.

SPIKE LEE, INDIGO GIRLS, MAYA ANGELOU, BERTICE BERRY, CASINO NIGHT, PANAMA CITY BEACH, AND MORE!! WANT TO BE A PART OF ALL THIS? JOIN S.U.B.!!

APPLICATIONS ARE AVAILABLE FOR THE FOLLOWING POSITIONS AT THE SECRETARY'S DESK ON THE SECOND FLOOR OF FORTUNE, DUE FRIDAY APRIL 5, 1991:
Softball sweeps weekend twinbills

Observer Staff Report

The Notre Dame softball team upped its record to 9-12 this weekend, as it swept four games from MCC competition in its first home stand of the season. The Irish defeated Loyola 2-1 in Notre Dame's first home game of the season. The Irish then went on to take the second half of the twinbill, blasting the Ramblers 12-1. Loyola saw their record slide to 3-11.

The victory gave DiLucia his first home stand of the season. The Irish coach Bob Bayliss. "This was a great win for us," Bayliss said. "We played well and we showed some heart." DiLucia's current win streak is four games in a row, and he is still looking for his first loss of the season.

DiLucia named MVP of Blue-Gray tourney

Observer Staff Report

Notre Dame junior David DiLucia defeated Brian Kerko of Arizona State at the Blue-Gray Invitational in Montgomery, Alabama on Sunday. The victory gave DiLucia his first home stand of the season. The Irish coach Bob Bayliss said, "This was a great win for us." DiLucia's current win streak is four games in a row, and he is still looking for his first loss of the season.

SPORTS BRIEF

The Irish Heartlites fun runs are coming up April 11th. There will be a 5K and 6 mile run. Students and staff should start training now.

Scorekeepers are needed for the Bookstore Basketball Tournament. Anyone who is interested should contact Shelley Guilbaut at 283-2549.

Spring Yoga class is being offered on six consecutive Wednesday evenings beginning on March 27th. Classes are held in room 114 in Lufkin Center from 6:30-8:30 pm. Sign ups are in the NVA office. Cost is $15 for the six sessions.

Antostal mud volleyball sign-ups will be held Thursday and Friday April 4th and 5th from 4 to 6 pm in the S.U.B. office. For more information call Lou at 283-2071. Minimum two women per team. Entry charge is $5 per team.

Walania twirls five-hit shutout against Cavaliers

Observer Staff Report

The 14th-ranked Notre Dame baseball team (13-7) lost two-of-three games to the Virginia Cavaliers (11-9-2) this weekend at the University of Virginia.

The Cavaliers were up 10-5 in the first game of the series, which was called after five innings on Friday because of rain and darkness. The game, in addition to a double-header, was concluded on Sunday. Chris Michalak (2-1) took the first-game loss for the Irish, as he surrendered eight runs on five hits in 2 2/3 innings. Second baseman Greg Layson paced the Notre Dame offense with a three-for-five performance, while first baseman Frank Jacobs and Eric Danapillis homered.

The Fighting Irish evened the weekend series at one game apiece in the first half of the doubleheader. Notre Dame scored in five of six innings with a one-run lead in the first inning. Pat Leahy hit a round-tripper, his first of the season, to break a 2-2 tie in the fourth inning. Virginia added a pair of insurance runs in the fifth when Kevin Stuck hit in a two-run single. Todd Boyak pitched two scoreless innings to preserve the 5-2 win.

Meharry Medical College

Graduate Studies in Biochemistry and Molecular Biology

At Meharry Medical College, graduate programs are available in Biochemistry and Molecular Biology leading to the Ph.D. degree. Opportunities exist for research in:

- molecular biology - molecular genetics
- membrane biophysics
- transmembrane signalling, extracellular matrix and growth factor research
- enzymology and structure-function relationships in macromolecules
- cellular and metabolic regulation
- cell biology of cell-cell and cell-substratum interactions
- molecular virology
- molecular neuroscience
- regulation of gene expression

Tuition support is provided for all qualified students, in addition to an annual stipend of up to $11,000.

Meharry Medical College is a historically black institution.

For further information complete and mail form to:
Ifanayi J. Arizne, Ph.D. Chairman Dept. of Biochemistry Meharry Medical College Nashville, TN 37208 Tel: (615) 327-6345

Meharry Medical College Fellowships For Graduate Studies In Biochemistry And Molecular Biology

Please Print

Name __________________________ Telephone __________________________

Address __________________________

City, State, Zip __________________________

I am interested in graduate study beginning Fall/Spring

I wish to pursue Ph.D. M.S.

I receive (expect to receive) the _______ degree in _______

Please send me application materials.
CROSSWORD

ACROSS
1 Little Bo (34)
2 Moist (32)
3 Until (36)
4 Address Mhas (32)
5 Small cut (36)
6 Evergreen shrub (32)
7 Flap of Q.E.D.
8 Bo --- former Michigan coach (33)
9 Panay native (32)
10 Multi-sports pro Bo (52)
11 Days --- "Days"

DOWN
1 Plays on words "I'llad," e.g. (34)
2 Engrave (34)
3 "The" (Fry) '93 song (35)
4 Horse-explorer (41)
5 M.I.T. specialty (34)
6 Ward off (32)
7 For each (32)
8 NOW aim (32)
9 Stool jockey (34)
10 He owes money (31)
11 Al of baseball's Hall of Fame (50)
12 Microwave device (30)
13 Complete (34)
14 Tooth coating (30)
15 Turn (33)
16 Plays hot jazz (34)
17 The Male (35)
18 Put in film (34)
19 Gambling room (34)
20 Nautical unit of speed (30)
21 Priestly vestment (52)
22 Pl. 1844-1880 (52)
23 Commandment (50)
24 Lin. Perfect (40)
25 Down (30)
26 Fodder pits (30)
27 Confined (36)

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

SOUTHERN STAR

1. Augustine
2. A.D.
3. Saint
4. Decline
5. Discovery
6. Century
7. Horse-explorer
8. M.I.T. specialty
9. Water
10. Graduation

THE FAR SIDE

Amoebas at war

PHOTO CREDIT: BILL WATTERSON, "CALVIN AND HOBBES" © 1991 by Bill Watterson. Reprinted with permission of Universal Press Syndicate. All rights reserved.

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

PUZZLE

0. Spanish explorer who first explored this country in 1526.
1. Title of this nation's head of state.
2. Plant widely known for its oil-rich seeds.
3. A sweet, crystallizable material.

For further information about Peace Corps, write Box 896, Washington DC 20526

INSTRUCTIONS. The U.S. Peace Corps has volunteers serving in more than 70 nations around the world. By solving this puzzle, you will learn about one of these countries. Solve the four numbered puzzle words and then unscramble the letters in the squares to produce the name of the country darkened on the map below.

This South American nation, about the size of California, is surrounded by Brazil, Bolivia and Argentina.

Answers to any three clues in the puzzle are available by touch-tone phone: 1-900-420-5656 (75¢ each minute).

CAMPUS

LECTURES

4 p.m. Lecture, "Gender Bias in Domestic Violence Courts." Judge Sheila Murphy, Cook County Circuit Court, Law School, Room 121. Sponsored by Women's Legal Forum.

7 p.m. Lecture, "New Challenges for Morality: Medical Ethics in the '90s." Professor Jean Porter, Department of Theology, Hesburgh Library Auditorium. Sponsored by the Saint Mary's Alumni Association and the Faculty Senate Committee on Cultural Affairs.

8 p.m. Lecture, "Post War Middle East." Father Gaffney, department of Anthropology, Nieuwland Science Hall, Room 105. Sponsored by the Saint Mary's College Peace Support Group.

CROSSWORD

ACROSS
1 Little Bo ---
2 Moist
3 Until
4 Address Miles from Okla.
5 Small cut
6 Evergreen shrub
7 Flap of Q.E.D.
8 Bo --- former Michigan coach
9 Panay native
10 Multi-sports pro Bo
11 Days --- "Days" (15)

DOWN
1 Plays on words "I'llad," e.g.
2 Engrave
3 "The" (Fry) '93 song
4 Horse-explorer
5 M.I.T. specialty
6 Ward off
7 For each
8 NOW aim
9 Stool jockey
10 He owes money
11 Al of baseball's Hall of Fame
12 Microwave device
13 Complete
14 Tooth coating
15 Turn
16 Plays hot jazz
17 The Male
18 Put in film
19 Gambling room
20 Nautical unit of speed
21 Priestly vestment
22 Pl. 1844-1880
23 Commandment
24 Lin. Perfect
25 Down
26 Fodder pits
27 Confined

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

SOUTHERN STAR

1. Augustine
2. A.D.
3. Saint
4. Decline
5. Discovery
6. Century
7. Horse-explorer
8. M.I.T. specialty
9. Water
10. Graduation

THE FAR SIDE

Amoebas at war

PHOTO CREDIT: BILL WATTERSON, "CALVIN AND HOBBES" © 1991 by Bill Watterson. Reprinted with permission of Universal Press Syndicate. All rights reserved.

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

PUZZLE

0. Spanish explorer who first explored this country in 1526.
1. Title of this nation's head of state.
2. Plant widely known for its oil-rich seeds.
3. A sweet, crystallizable material.

For further information about Peace Corps, write Box 896, Washington DC 20526

INSTRUCTIONS. The U.S. Peace Corps has volunteers serving in more than 70 nations around the world. By solving this puzzle, you will learn about one of these countries. Solve the four numbered puzzle words and then unscramble the letters in the squares to produce the name of the country darkened on the map below.

This South American nation, about the size of California, is surrounded by Brazil, Bolivia and Argentina.
By RENEE FERRAN
Associate Sports Editor

AMARILLO—How valuable is senior Krisi Davis to the Notre Dame women's basketball team?

With her, the Irish finished 23-6 and were picked the top seed in the National Women's Invitational Tournament. When she went down late in the first half of their first game against Santa Clara Thursday, any hopes of a Notre Dame championship went with her.

Davis' grave injury forced her to miss the second half of Notre Dame's 81-65 first-round loss to the Broncos and Friday's 80-75 loss to Louisville in the consolation semifinals. And despite her return and senior guard Karen Robinson's career-high 30 points, the Irish fell to Northern Illinois 84-82 in the seventh-place game Saturday afternoon.

Robinson's 30 points allowed her to become Notre Dame's all-time scoring leader with 1,590 points overall, one more than Trena Keys managed from 1983-1986.

Still, there were few bright spots for the Irish (23-9) this weekend. Rather than prove their case that they were deserving of an NCAA bid, their eight-place finish in the eight-team NWIT appeared to bolster the NAAC's position.

Robinson earned All-Tournament honors, shooting over 60 percent from the field and averaging 20.7 points in the three games. Junior Albion's top player by emerging Mayer grabbed the win from season play on the right foot the Division III of the victory over Mayers' averaging they were deserving of an place finish in the eight-team NWIT appeared to 9) this weekend. Rather than prove their case that overall, one more than Trena Keys managed from 1983-1986.

Still, there were few bright spots for the Irish (23-9) this weekend. Rather than prove their case that they were deserving of an NCAA bid, their eight-place finish in the eight-team NWIT appeared to bolster the NAAC's position.

Robinson earned All-Tournament honors, shooting over 60 percent from the field and averaging 20.7 points in the three games. Junior

Senior Karen Robinson became Notre Dame’s all-time leading scorer at see NWIT / page 20 this weekend's NWIT.

Women's hoops finishes disappointing 8th at NWIT

Turnovers, injuries plague Irish throughout weekend

Fencers finish 3rd at NCAAs

Mayers' singles victories lead Belles to 5-4 victory over Albion in season opener

By LYNNIE BRAGG
Sports Writer

The Saint Mary's College tennis team started off regular season play on the right foot Thursday night with a decisive 5-4 win over Albion College.

"We played an excellent team. Albion is ranked third in the Division III of the NCAAs," Belles coach Dr. JoAnne Nester said. "It was a super win for us."

In first singles, senior Sarah Mayer grabbed the win from Albion's top player by emerging from a second-set tiebreaker to win 6-2, 7-6.

Junior Ellen Mayer came back from being down 5-1 in the first set to win in straight sets 6-4, 6-4 in another singles' match.

Junior Mary Kascielski and freshman Mary Cosgrove also brought home wins for Saint Mary's. Nester especially praised the play of Cosgrove.

"It was nice to see a freshman come out in the first match of the season and win," Nester said. "We would not have won the match if Cosgrove had not won in the fourth singles."

In doubles action, the powerful team of Mayer and Mayer cruised to a 6-0, 6-1 victory.

"Our Mayer doubles team is extremely strong," Nester said. "I can't see anyone beating them this spring."

Nester felt that the third singles teams of both Saint Mary's and Albion were very strong, making the Belles' victory even more impressive. Their continued success will be important as Saint Mary's faces a difficult schedule.

"Although we are members of Division III, we will be competing against numerous teams in Division I," she said. "It should be a challenging season for us."

The Saint Mary's tennis team will be home against Hope College Tuesday at 3 p.m.

The Notre Dame fencing team finished third at the NCAA championships held at Penn State.

The host Nittany Lions won the team title, with Columbia finishing second. After the Irish, Yale and Brandeis rounded out the top five.

"We've got to put together 60 minutes and we still haven't done that," Corrigan said.

While Notre Dame had many ground balls, Loyola used their speed to control the game, go...

The Observer/Sean Faron

By DAVE McMAHON
Associate Sports Editor

The Notre Dame lacrosse team found out Saturday where it stands among the lacrosse powerhouse.

After their 20-4 loss at Moore Kraus Stadium to the presea...nur-no one team in the country, the Loyola (Md.) Greyhounds, the Irish (2-3) re...t that a total team effort is needed in order to compete...with the scholarship-laden Eastern schools.

"When you play a team of that caliber, you can't get be...hhind early," said Irish coach Kevin Corrigan. "We had to...in the opening stanza, Irish junior attackman Mike Sullivan sneaked a shot past goalie Tim Dunngan to put Notre Dame on the board. Sullivan finished with two goals and two assists, increasing his season totals to 11 goals and 10 assists.

Down 6-1 in the first quarter, freshman Willie Sullivan rifled an over-the-shoulder shot past Dunngan after an assist from Sullivan to cut the lead to 6-2. Sophomore Brian Marley gliding score...the final Irish goal of the first half, which ended with the Greyhounds ahead 12-3.

In one of the few highlights for the Irish, sophomore Pat Finn got his first action in goal, playing admirably in the assist game despite a potent Loyola offense. Finn replaced starter Chris Parent at the beginning of the second half.

"It's good for us to know that he can come in and play when we need him," said Corrigan. "I can't see anyone beating him."

"We haven't come together as a team yet," said senior at-tackman Mike Sennett. "We're not...the image...to a team."

Corrigan echoed Sennett's feelings.

"We've got to put together 60 minutes and we still haven't done that," Corrigan said.

While Notre Dame had many ground balls, Loyola used their speed to control the game, go...

The Observer/Sean Faron

The Notre Dame fencing team finished third at the NCAA championships held at Penn State.

The host Nittany Lions won the team title, with Columbia finishing second. After the Irish, Yale and Brandeis rounded out the top five.

"We've got to put together 60 minutes and we still haven't done that," Corrigan said.

While Notre Dame had many ground balls, Loyola used their speed to control the game, go...

The Observer/Sean Faron

By DAVE McMAHON
 Associate Sports Editor

The Notre Dame lacrosse team found out Saturday where it stands among the lacrosse powerhouse.

After their 20-4 loss at Moore Kraus Stadium to the presea-...number-one team in the country, the Loyola (Md.) Greyhounds, the Irish (2-3) re...t that a total team effort is needed in order to compete...with the scholarship-laden Eastern schools.

"When you play a team of that caliber, you can't get be...hind early," said Irish coach Kevin Corrigan. "We had to...in the opening stanza, Irish junior attackman Mike Sullivan sneaked a shot past goalie Tim Dunngan to put Notre Dame on the board. Sullivan finished with two goals and two assists, increasing his season totals to 11 goals and 10 assists.

Down 6-1 in the first quarter, freshman Willie Sullivan rifled an over-the-shoulder shot past Dunngan after an assist from Sullivan to cut the lead to 6-2. Sophomore Brian Marley gliding score...the final Irish goal of the first half, which ended with the Greyhounds ahead 12-3.

In one of the few highlights for the Irish, sophomore Pat Finn got his first action in goal, playing admirably in the assist game despite a potent Loyola offense. Finn replaced starter Chris Parent at the beginning of the second half.

"It's good for us to know that he can come in and play when we need him," said Corrigan. "I can't see anyone beating him."

"We haven't come together as a team yet," said senior at-tackman Mike Sennett. "We're not...the image...to a team."

Corrigan echoed Sennett's feelings.

"We've got to put together 60 minutes and we still haven't done that," Corrigan said.

While Notre Dame had many ground balls, Loyola used their speed to control the game, go...

The Observer/Sean Faron

By DAVE McMAHON
Associate Sports Editor

The Notre Dame lacrosse team found out Saturday where it stands among the lacrosse powerhouse.

After their 20-4 loss at Moore Kraus Stadium to the presea-...number-one team in the country, the Loyola (Md.) Greyhounds, the Irish (2-3) re...t that a total team effort is needed in order to compete...with the scholarship-laden Eastern schools.

"When you play a team of that caliber, you can't get be...hind early," said Irish coach Kevin Corrigan. "We had to...in the opening stanza, Irish junior attackman Mike Sullivan sneaked a shot past goalie Tim Dunngan to put Notre Dame on the board. Sullivan finished with two goals and two assists, increasing his season totals to 11 goals and 10 assists.

Down 6-1 in the first quarter, freshman Willie Sullivan rifled an over-the-shoulder shot past Dunngan after an assist from Sullivan to cut the lead to 6-2. Sophomore Brian Marley gliding score...the final Irish goal of the first half, which ended with the Greyhounds ahead 12-3.

In one of the few highlights for the Irish, sophomore Pat Finn got his first action in goal, playing admirably in the assist game despite a potent Loyola offense. Finn replaced starter Chris Parent at the beginning of the second half.

"It's good for us to know that he can come in and play when we need him," said Corrigan. "I can't see anyone beating him."

"We haven't come together as a team yet," said senior at-tackman Mike Sennett. "We're not...the image...to a team."

Corrigan echoed Sennett's feelings.

"We've got to put together 60 minutes and we still haven't done that," Corrigan said.

While Notre Dame had many ground balls, Loyola used their speed to control the game, go...

The Observer/Sean Faron

By DAVE McMAHON
Associate Sports Editor

The Notre Dame lacrosse team found out Saturday where it stands among the lacrosse powerhouse.

After their 20-4 loss at Moore Kraus Stadium to the presea-...number-one team in the country, the Loyola (Md.) Greyhounds, the Irish (2-3) re...t that a total team effort is needed in order to compete...with the scholarship-laden Eastern schools.

"When you play a team of that caliber, you can't get be...hind early," said Irish coach Kevin Corrigan. "We had to...in the opening stanza, Irish junior attackman Mike Sullivan sneaked a shot past goalie Tim Dunngan to put Notre Dame on the board. Sullivan finished with two goals and two assists, increasing his season totals to 11 goals and 10 assists.

Down 6-1 in the first quarter, freshman Willie Sullivan rifled an over-the-shoulder shot past Dunngan after an assist from Sullivan to cut the lead to 6-2. Sophomore Brian Marley gliding score...the final Irish goal of the first half, which ended with the Greyhounds ahead 12-3.

In one of the few highlights for the Irish, sophomore Pat Finn got his first action in goal, playing admirably in the assist game despite a potent Loyola offense. Finn replaced star...