Security Council formally ends Persian Gulf War

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The Security Council announced a formal end to the Gulf War on Thursday, accepting Iraq's pledge that it would pay for war damages and scrap its weapons of mass destruction.

At 6 p.m. EDT, Iraqi Ambassador Abdul Amir al-Anbari entered the council chambers and received a letter containing the official cease-fire declaration.

A Feb. 28 truce declared by the U.S.-led allied coalition halted hostilities, but only the Security Council, which authorized the use of force to oust Iraq from Kuwait, could end the state of war.

The letter from council president Paul Nitotdaeme, the Belgian ambassador, formally capped a war that began Jan. 17 with a blistering allied air campaign. The fighting concluded in late February, after a furious 100-hour last-ditch offensive that drove Iraqi troops out of Kuwait.

The allied forces lost something more than 200 lives in combat. Iraqis dead are estimated in the tens of thousands. Thousands more Iraqis have perished since in internal uprisings and in Saddam Hussein's atrocity campaigns.

The letter to Iraq noted Iraq's acceptance of the council's terms and concluded, "the conditions ... have now been met and that the formal cease-fire ... is therefore now effective.

The council's cease-fire resolution, passed April 3, included stringent demands for the destruction of Iraq's chemical, biological and nuclear weapons, and payment of war damages to Kuwait.

It set a 120-day timetable for steps to destroy the arms. The ban on using Iraq's weapons of mass destruction and long-range ballistic missiles, and the technology to develop them, will remain in effect indefinitely.

By Aug. 1, a year minus a day after the invasion, Iraq was expected to have met its compliance with this resolution. Baghdad also would have to see UN/page 11.

Lafayette Square complex ends first year of operation

By SIOBHAN McCARTHY

News Writer

After just one year in business, Lafayette Square Town homes still have a few kinks left to iron out, according to manager Christopher Matteo.

"I'm happy with it. After the first year of any business, you're always ironing out the bugs. We think we've got a pretty good handle on it," said Matteo.

Located just one mile south-east of the Notre Dame entrance on East Jefferson Boulevard, Lafayette Square Town homes are available to all students of the Notre Dame/Saint Mary's community.

Currently, 20 of 21 available units are being rented. "For next year, we are adding an additional 9 units. Of those (30), 28 are pre-leased," said Matteo.

Four and five bedroom units are available with a washer and dryer, dishwasher, central air, and patio in each facility. Maintenance service covers all but plumbing costs, he said.

The only (additional) available spaces are on Eddie and Francie," said fourth year law student Kelly Gilchrist. She said she felt that these areas were dangerous and initially, poorly lit.

"It was really worried at first when they didn't have a light in the parking lot. It was pitch dark," said Gilchrist.

Matteo has since installed security glazing in all areas. "For security at Lafayette Square, we had a false alarm once and the police were there within two minutes," she said.

Despite Gilchrist's concerns for her safety, ND senior Beth Bolger said she feels very safe at Lafayette Square. "Security has been great because we have a security system. We had a false alarm once and the police were there within two minutes," she said.

Sorin alumni agreed that insulation is a problem at Lafayette Square. "There are definitely drafts," she said.

"(Utility costs) were higher than what we thought they were going to be," said Buu.de. "All the insulation within the units has been inspected and approved in accordance with state and local building codes," according to Matteo. "I have received no complaints about it all. Our gas-forced air heating system is the problems. Security at Lafayette Square was up to pay, keeping the construction of the facilities for the problem. We are definitely drafts," she said. "(Utility costs) were lower than what we thought they were going to be," said Buu.de. "All the insulation within the units has been inspected and approved in accordance with state and local building codes," according to Matteo. "I have received no complaints about it all. Our gas-forced air heating system is the problems. Security at Lafayette Square was up to pay, keeping the construction of the facilities for the problem. We are definitely drafts," she said. "(Utility costs) were lower than what we thought they were going to be," said Buu.de. "All the insulation within the units has been inspected and approved in accordance with state and local building codes," according to Matteo. "I have received no complaints about it all. Our gas-forced air heating system is the problems. Security at Lafayette Square was up to pay, keeping the construction of the facilities for the problem. We are definitely drafts," she said. "(Utility costs) were lower than what we thought they were going to be," said Buu.de. "All the insulation within the units has been inspected and approved in accordance with state and local building codes," according to Matteo. "I have received no complaints about it all. Our gas-forced air heating system is the problems. Security at Lafayette Square was up to pay, keeping the construction of the facilities for the problem. We are definitely drafts," she said. "(Utility costs) were lower than what we thought they were going to be," said Buu.de. "All the insulation within the units has been inspected and approved in accordance with state and local building codes," according to Matteo. "I have received no complaints about it all. Our gas-forced air heating system is the problems. Security at Lafayette Square was up to pay, keeping the construction of the facilities for the problem. We are definitely drafts," she said. "(Utility costs) were lower than what we thought they were going to be," said Buu.de. "All the insulation within the units has been inspected and approved in accordance with state and local building codes," according to Matteo. "I have received no complaints about it all. Our gas-forced air heating system is the problems. Security at Lafayette Square was up to pay, keeping the construction of the facilities for the problem. We are definitely drafts," she said. "(Utility costs) were lower than what we thought they were going to be," said Buu.de. "All the insulation within the units has been inspected and approved in accordance with state and local building codes," according to Matteo. "I have received no complaints about it all. Our gas-forced air heating system is the problems. Security at Lafayette Square was up to pay, keeping the construction of the facilities for the problem. We are definitely drafts," she said. "(Utility costs) were lower than what we thought they were going to be," said Buu.de. "All the insulation within the units has been inspected and approved in accordance with state and local building codes," according to Matteo. "I have received no complaints about it all. Our gas-forced air heating system is the problems. Security at Lafayette Square was up to pay, keeping the construction of the facilities for the problem. We are definitely drafts," she said. "(Utility costs) were lower than what we thought they were going to be," said Buu.de. "All the insulation within the units has been inspected and approved in accordance with state and local building codes," according to Matteo. "I have received no complaints about it all. Our gas-forced air heating system is the problems. Security at Lafayette Square was up to pay, keeping the construction of the facilities for the problem. We are definitely drafts," she said. "(Utility costs) were lower than what we thought they were going to be," said Buu.de. "All the insulation within the units has been inspected and approved in accordance with state and local building codes," according to Matteo. "I have received no complaints about it all. Our gas-forced air heating system is the problems. Security at Lafayette Square was up to pay, keeping the construction of the facilities for the problem. We are definitely drafts," she said. "(Utility costs) were lower than what we thought they were going to be," said Buu.de. "All the insulation within the units has been inspected and approved in accordance with state and local building codes," according to Matteo. "I have received no complaints about it all. Our gas-forced air heating system is the problems. Security at Lafayette Square was up to pay, keeping the construction of the facilities for the problem. We are definitely drafts," she said. "(Utility costs) were lower than what we thought they were going to be," said Buu.de. "All the insulation within the units has been inspected and approved in accordance with state and local building codes," according to Matteo. "I have received no complaints about it all. Our gas-forced air heating system is the problems. Security at Lafayette Square was up to pay, keeping the construction of the facilities for the problem. We are definitely drafts," she said. "(Utility costs) were lower than what we thought they were going to be," said Buu.de. "All the insulation within the units has been inspected and approved in accordance with state and local building codes," according to Matteo. "I have received no complaints about it all. Our gas-forced air heating system is the problems. Security at Lafayette Square was up to pay, keeping the construction of the facilities for the problem. We are definitely drafts," she said. "(Utility costs) were lower than what we thought they were going to be," said Buu.de. "All the insulation within the units has been inspected and approved in accordance with state and local building codes," according to Matteo. "I have received no complaints about it all. Our gas-forced air heating system is the problems. Security at Lafayette Square was up to pay, keeping the construction of the facilities for the problem. We are definitely drafts," she said. "(Utility costs) were lower than what we thought they were going to be," said Buu.de. "All the insulation within the units has been inspected and approved in accordance with state and local building codes," according to Matteo. "I have received no complaints about it all. Our gas-forced air heating system is the problems. Security at Lafayette Square was up to pay, keeping the construction of the facilities for the problem. We are definitely drafts," she said. "(Utility costs) were lower than what we thought they were going to be," said Buu.de. "All the insulation within the units has been inspected and approved in accordance with state and local building codes," according to Matteo. "I have received no complaints about it all. Our gas-forced air heating system is the problems. Security at Lafayette Square was up to pay, keeping the construction of the facilities for the problem. We are definitely drafts," she said. "(Utility costs) were lower than what we thought they were going to be," said Buu.de. "All the insulation within the units has been inspected and approved in accordance with state and local building codes," according to Matteo. "I have received no complaints about it all. Our gas-forced air heating system is the problems. Security at Lafayette Square was up to pay, keeping the construction of the facilities for the problem. We are definitely drafts," she said. "(Utility costs) were lower than what we thought they were going to be," said Buu.de. "All the insulation within the units has been inspected and approved in accordance with state and local building codes," according to Matteo. "I have received no complaints about it all. Our gas-forced air heating system is the problems. Security at Lafayette Square was up to pay, keeping the construction of the facilities for the problem. We are definitely drafts," she said. "(Utility costs) were lower than what we thought they were going to be," said Buu.de. "All the insulation within the units has been inspected and approved in accordance with state and local building codes," according to Matteo. "I have received no complaints about it all. Our gas-forced air heating system is the problems. Security at Lafayette Square was up to pay, keeping the construction of the facilities for the problem. We are definitely drafts," she said. "(Utility costs) were lower than what we thought they were going to be," said Buu.de. "All the insulation within the units has been inspected and approved in accordance with state and local building codes," according to Matteo. "I have received no complaints about it all. Our gas-forced air heating system is the problems. Security at Lafayette Square was up to pay, keeping the construction of the facilities for the problem. We are definitely drafts," she said. "(Utility costs) were lower than what we thought they were going to be," said Buu.de. "All the insulation within the units has been inspected and approved in accordance with state and local building codes," according to Matteo. "I have received no complaints about it all. Our gas-forced air heating system is the problems. Security at Lafayette Square was up to pay, keeping the construction of the facilities for the problem. We are definitely drafts," she said. "(Utility costs) were lower than what we thought they were going to be," said Buu.de. "All the insulation within the units has been inspected and approved in accordance with state and local building codes," according to Matteo. "I have received no complaints about it all. Our gas-forced air heating system is the problems. Security at Lafayette Square was up to pay, keeping the construction of the facilities for the problem. We are definitely drafts," she said.
Censorship is a sign of larger problems

"Help! Help! I'm being repressed." This infamous quote from Monty Python's Holy Grail sums up the collective frustration of my bookstore team. Box the Compass, with the tyrannical Bookstore Board censorship committee. While I agree that not every three-letter word and overly abusive names should not be allowed, the censorship of the original name we submitted is emblematic of a serious attitude problem.

"We Like Sex A Lot" is not obscene, offensive, or in anyway abusive. It is just a simple expression. The result of this denial is a serious attitude problem.

Furthermore, as long as I'm gripping, the University's ban on sex is nothing short of ludicrous. It is true that Notre Dame is a Catholic University and that students choose chastity. It is also true that students are known to come here knowing the University's rules. This does not mean, however, that they choose chastity. Just because they attend a Catholic University and that students choose to come here knowing the University's rules, does not mean they choose chastity. Just because they attend a Catholic University and that students choose to come here knowing the University's rules, does not mean they choose chastity.

In conclusion, I know that this column will not change anything. I am only writing it to articulate my frustration. The Administration's rate of change is similar that of the continental drift. But I've won a small battle against censorship and I would like to declare that, "WE LIKE SEX A LOT."

The views expressed in the Inside Column are those of the author and not necessarily those of the Observer.

MARKET UPDATE

YESTERDAY'S TRADING: April 11, 1991

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>VOLUME IN SHARES</th>
<th>PRICE</th>
<th>NYSE INDEX</th>
<th>S&amp;P COMPOSITE</th>
<th>DOW JONES INDUSTRIAL</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1.063</td>
<td>154.3</td>
<td>2,15</td>
<td>4.48</td>
<td>2,907.92</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>UNCHANGED</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>33.42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>459</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

PRICE CHANGES:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>STOCK</th>
<th>PRICE</th>
<th>CHANGES</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Gold</td>
<td>$460</td>
<td>+$36.40</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Silver</td>
<td>$7.65</td>
<td>-$0.05</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

WEATHER REPORT

Forecast for Monday, April 12

Cloudy and cold Friday with rain-showers continuing until evening. High of 53 expected.

TEMPERATURES:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>City</th>
<th>High</th>
<th>Low</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Miami</td>
<td>64</td>
<td>52</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New York</td>
<td>55</td>
<td>42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chicago</td>
<td>59</td>
<td>40</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dallas</td>
<td>62</td>
<td>26</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Denver</td>
<td>65</td>
<td>26</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Houston</td>
<td>62</td>
<td>26</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atlanta</td>
<td>68</td>
<td>55</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Indianapolis</td>
<td>64</td>
<td>33</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Los Angeles</td>
<td>70</td>
<td>56</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Seattle</td>
<td>68</td>
<td>51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>San Francisco</td>
<td>69</td>
<td>49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Philadelphia</td>
<td>62</td>
<td>42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Buffalo</td>
<td>68</td>
<td>43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Phoenix</td>
<td>73</td>
<td>45</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Houston</td>
<td>70</td>
<td>44</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vegas</td>
<td>75</td>
<td>43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Long Island</td>
<td>69</td>
<td>43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dallas</td>
<td>66</td>
<td>41</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>San Diego</td>
<td>69</td>
<td>37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Washington D.C.</td>
<td>75</td>
<td>43</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

OCTA AT A GLANCE

NATIONAL

Abul denies backup singer's claims

L.A. -- Pop star Paula Abdul went on the offensive Thursday in the biggest legal tiff since Milli Vanilli proved to be phony baloney, insisting the lead vocals on "Forever Your Girl" are hers alone. The singer-chorusmeister appeared at a Hollywood news conference to counter claims by backup singer Yvette Marine who alleged in a Superior Court lawsuit she had "substantial participation" in some songs on the top-selling album.Miss Abdul explained the use of "guide tracks" in recording, a practice in which artists learn songs by listening to a demo by another person. Miss Marine's lawsuit claims the backup singer's guide tracks were used to strengthen Miss Abdul's voice. Virgin Records claims the vocals were left out.

CAMPUS

NOTRE DAME, Ind. -- Members of the task force to develop a University policy on sex are as follows: John Duman, chair (239-5495); Joel Barstad (239-0913); Ann Bauer (239-6335); Michael Danch (239-5030); James Frain (239-5389); Richard Hilliard (239-5386); Father Ander LeVelle (239-6126); Robert Miller (239-7790); Melissa Mong (239-2280); Patrick Richards (674-5648); Carol Seager (239-7497); Donald Snegiwek (239-6544); Matthew Therri (238-1443); and Sherri Walker (239-6902). These members can be contacted for those having questions about the task force and its plans.

CAMPUS

NOTRE DAME, Ind. -- Notre Dame will spray American elm trees on campus Monday morning and continuing one to two weeks, depending on the weather. The spraying is part of an extensive elm preservation program carried out annually to protect the approximately 150 elms remaining on campus. The elms will be sprayed with the insecticide Methuskyler to control the elm bark beetle, which spreads Dutch elm disease.

Mock MCATs will be given in room 127 of Neuston Science Hall Saturday, April 20 for all students who would like to take the sample MCAT that accompanies the MCAT Student Manual. Manuals are still available in the bookstore. A timekeeper will be present. Exam begins at 9:30 a.m.

Traditional Native American Pow Wow will be held at Stepan Center on Sunday from 12 to 7 p.m.

"Arts and Leisure" day takes place all day today on Chalkboard Quad. Chalk and chalkboards will be provided for outside classes. The Volleyball Tournament is at 3 p.m. on Chalkboard Quad followed by the Picnic/Live Band and Tie-dye at 4 p.m.

An Tostal '91 sign-ups are being held today in the SUB office from 4-6 p.m. Graduate as well as undergraduates students can participate. Today is the final day to sign up for the Imagination Contest, the Slam Dunk Contest, the Golf-Tourney, the Road Rally and the Airband/Flip-in Contest.

Junior Parents' Weekend applications for chairpeople are available in Student Activities, 3rd floor of LaFortune and are due Friday at 5 p.m.

NOTRE DAME Video needs a new manager and new employees for next year. Applications are available at the store and can be picked up by 5 p.m. Call Steve Perkins 283-1605 for information.

Irish Gardens is taking applications for positions for the coming year. Applications can be picked up at the shop in the basement of LaFortune and are due by Saturday, April 13 by 5:30 p.m. Applicants must be on work study. Delivery positions still open.

IN THIS HISTORY

In 1991: Soviet cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin became the first man to fly in space, orbiting the earth once before making a safe landing.

In 1980: The U.S. Olympic Committee endorsed President Carter's call for a boycott of the Moscow Summer Olympics.

In 1982: The space shuttle Columbia was launched for the first time at Cape Kennedy, Florida.

OF INTEREST

The Observer (USPS 599 2-4000) is published Monday through Friday except during exam and vacation periods. The Observer is a member of the Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.

The Observer
Josephson emphasizes ethical decision-making

By CAROLINE CLARKE
Saint Mary's News Writer

Most people dial 911 in an emergency. Troubled busi­nesses simply call Michael Josephson.

Josephson, founder of the non-profit Josephson Institute of Ethics, spoke at Saint Mary's Tuesday evening about the increasing need to improve people's ethical decision making skills. The in­stitute is for public benefit and is an active organization em­phasizing conduct, not theory.

A UCLA law graduate, Josephson spent 20 years as a law professor at Loyola Mary­mount University in Los Ange­les. His ethics seminar is avail­able to executives, government­al officials and interested indi­viduals. A featured speaker for the IRS, NBC and CBS, he has made a great contribution to businesses.

His workshops have inspired a California law passed in 1990, making the attendance of all state legislature to Joseph­son's class mandatory.

Josephson stated that profes­sional responsibility courses abound, yet an ethics course carries a negative connotation. Most people assume that such a course entails dogmatic teach­ing about what is right and wrong.

"Ethics is the courage to say you will play by groundrules," he noted. "Our standards are not our standards unless we do not uphold them. Character is how you act when you think no one is looking.'

Numerous studies by the institute indicate record levels of cheating by all age groups. Josephson admitted that cheaters often do succeed in life. One of the prime motiva­tions for cheaters is that they make things a moral impera­tive.

"They elevate the importance of their tasks," he said. "In many situations, people ask what can I do rather than what should I do. They want to see how much they can get away with."

Josephson defined an ethic as, "a value that the absence or presence of will lead to a moral judgement of a person. A value, on the other hand, is any core belief motivating our behavior."

"It deprives another person of their freedom," he said. " Lies deprive another person of autonomy, robbing them of information to make a deci­sion," he added.

Josephson targeted his speech to the students, recogniz­ing them as the future busi­nesspeople.

"A person must take courage to do the willing to fall," he said. "It requires being a lot stronger than counterparts who may take the easy way out."

ND, Saint Mary’s students to participate in Christmas in April

By KELLEY TUTHILL
Editor-in-Chief

Last Saturday, skilled laborers along with 60 Notre Dame students started the work that would ultimately make a differ­ence in the lives of many South Bend residents.

This Saturday, approximately 2,700 volunteers from Saint Mary's and Notre Dame, along with volunteers from the com­munity, will work hard to im­prove the St. Casimir's/Ford Street neighborhood through South Bend's third annual Christmas in April.

A major improvement from years before is that the Christ­mas in April committee will try to ensure that every volunteer has meaningful work to do, said Phil Johnson, assistant director of Security and committee chairman.

On Saturday morning each house captain has been in­structed to assess the needs of the individual house and deter­mine if there are too many vol­unteers. In this case, a house captain can offer to the volun­teers the option of working elsewhere, including neighborhood improvement projects such as park clean-ups.

"We'd rather have them (the volunteers) reassigned than not have anything to do," Johnson said.

In the event of rain, Johnson said some adjustments may be made. Depending on whether the rain is particularly heavy, some outside work, such as painting may be cancelled. The great number of volun­teers is really heartening."
Gray: Church and state become more intertwined

BY KEVIN GRUBEN
News Writer

Rev. Donald Gray, canon of Westminster Abbey, last night discussed today’s relationship between the Church and politics in Great Britain.

Gray, who is the chaplain to Queen Elizabeth II, received his degree in theology from the University of London. Before moving to Westminster Abbey, Gray did ecumenical work inparishes throughout England’s northern provinces.

Gray began his lecture by stating that the topic of the inter­section between religion and politics is similarly as sensitive in England as it is in the United States. He pointed out that the recent Gulf War has once again brought up the fact that the two are intertwined in one another.

"Intercessions such as those made by political leaders such as George Bush during the war have become more and more common," he stated.

He continued by giving a brief history of the relationship between the state and the Church in England since the time of the establishment of the Anglican Church until the present. Gray said that recently there has been a sharp decline in the number of those who have been attending Anglican services.

In actuality, although there are more members of the Anglican Church, Gray said the Roman Catholic Church has a larger percentage of attendees in England.

Despite this decline in Anglican attendance, he said there have been recent movements within the Church to regain more power. The Worship­ful Company of Bakers, which was passed in the 1970’s gave the Church a great deal of power over its own affairs, something it has not always had in the past.

Gray said, however, that despite this drive towards power independent of the state by the Church, it has not gone unchecked by con­servatives in the British Parliament. As Gray pointed out, "Vigorous backslash was led by Margaret Thatcher herself."

He went on to cite two examples of the tension between Christianity and conservatism in English politics. He first talked about a document enti­tled the "Faith in the City Report", which was issued by the Church in 1985 and which received much opposition from conservatives in government.

The report discussed certain changes that should be made by the Church, including better employment of the clergy, better distribution in funds, improvements in education and an increase in size of its urban programs. Conservatives were wary of the report, which showed an increase in the initiative of the Church.

The second example Gray brought up was that of the Falklands War of 1982. After the end of the war, Robert Runcie, the Archbishop of Canterbury, was asked to make a speech at a Thanksgiving service at Parliament. Runcie, a staunch proponent of the establishment of the Church in the English government, was critical of the conservatism which was present in Parliament in his speech.

The tension between the English government and the Church has increased.

"I hope we can hold it (the establishment) in trust so that we can share it with our other Christian brothers and sisters someday," Gray ended.

The lecture by Gray was sponsored by the theology de­partment.

Holtz: Positive attitude is key

BY PETER LOFTUS
Assistant News Editor

Overcoming both adversity and doubts about self-image as well as having a sense of pur­pose, said Notre Dame head football coach Lou Holtz, who in 1989 employed a remarkable knack for lecturing, holding the audience’s attention with humorous anecdotes about his players, colleagues and family members.

And though it was sponsored by the Management Club and management department, his message was in no way directed only to business students.

To illustrate his point about attitude, Holtz noted that in 1982, he was asked to make a speech at a Thanksgiving service in Parliament. Runcie, a staunch proponent of the establishment of the Church in the English government, was critical of the conservatism which was present in Parliament in his speech.

Adversity is a part of life, said Holtz. "My coaching career at Notre Dame was up and down. I had a 5-year coaching contract with the NFL’s New York Giants. That average was less than desirable."

To be average, to me, is nothing," said Holtz. "I’d rather be first or last."

"What’s Important Now." The lecture by Gray was sponsored by the theology de­partment.

To stress the importance of fundamentals, Holtz instructed his listeners to practice the same thing drill, involving clapping hands, that he uses with his players.

"Vigorous backlash was led by Margaret Thatcher herself." Holtz also told his listeners, many of whom were business students, that they must focus and capitalize on people’s needs, using the success of fast­food chains like McDonald’s and Domino’s as illustrations.

"I like strawberries," Holtz said, but he doesn’t use them as bait when fishing.

"Low self-image: Ninety-five percent of the people in this world do not believe in them­selves," said Holtz. "You can’t be good if you don’t have a good self-image."

He listed three rules for maintaining a positive self-im­age: do right, do the best you can and follow Jesus Christ’s Golden Rule. One can follow these guidelines by answering three corresponding questions: "Can I trust you?" "Are you committed to excellence?" and "Do you care about me?"

Concerning trust, Holtz touched on building a sense of family within the team. "As a football team, we want to educate and graduate our players and win," said Holtz.

Concerning compassion, Holtz also told his listeners, many of whom were business students, that they must focus and capitalize on people’s needs, using the success of fast­food chains like McDonald’s and Domino’s as illustrations.

"I like strawberries," Holtz said, but he doesn’t use them as bait when fishing.

"Low self-image: Ninety-five percent of the people in this world do not believe in them­selves," said Holtz. "You can’t be good if you don’t have a good self-image."

He listed three rules for maintaining a positive self-im­age: do right, do the best you can and follow Jesus Christ’s Golden Rule. One can follow these guidelines by answering three corresponding questions: "Can I trust you?" "Are you committed to excellence?" and "Do you care about me?"

Concerning trust, Holtz touched on building a sense of family within the team. "As a football team, we want to educate and graduate our players and win," said Holtz.

Concerning compassion, Holtz also told his listeners, many of whom were business students, that they must focus and capitalize on people’s needs, using the success of fast­food chains like McDonald’s and Domino’s as illustrations.

"I like strawberries," Holtz said, but he doesn’t use them as bait when fishing.

"Low self-image: Ninety-five percent of the people in this world do not believe in them­selves," said Holtz. "You can’t be good if you don’t have a good self-image."

He listed three rules for maintaining a positive self-im­age: do right, do the best you can and follow Jesus Christ’s Golden Rule. One can follow these guidelines by answering three corresponding questions: "Can I trust you?" "Are you committed to excellence?" and "Do you care about me?"

Concerning trust, Holtz touched on building a sense of family within the team. "As a football team, we want to educate and graduate our players and win," said Holtz.

Concerning compassion, Holtz also told his listeners, many of whom were business students, that they must focus and capitalize on people’s needs, using the success of fast­food chains like McDonald’s and Domino’s as illustrations.

"I like strawberries," Holtz said, but he doesn’t use them as bait when fishing.

"Low self-image: Ninety-five percent of the people in this world do not believe in them­selves," said Holtz. "You can’t be good if you don’t have a good self-image."

He listed three rules for maintaining a positive self-im­age: do right, do the best you can and follow Jesus Christ’s Golden Rule. One can follow these guidelines by answering three corresponding questions: "Can I trust you?" "Are you committed to excellence?" and "Do you care about me?"

Concerning trust, Holtz touched on building a sense of family within the team. "As a football team, we want to educate and graduate our players and win," said Holtz.

Concerning compassion, Holtz also told his listeners, many of whom were business students, that they must focus and capitalize on people’s needs, using the success of fast­food chains like McDonald’s and Domino’s as illustrations.

"I like strawberries," Holtz said, but he doesn’t use them as bait when fishing.

"Low self-image: Ninety-five percent of the people in this world do not believe in them­selves," said Holtz. "You can’t be good if you don’t have a good self-image."

He listed three rules for maintaining a positive self-im­age: do right, do the best you can and follow Jesus Christ’s Golden Rule. One can follow these guidelines by answering three corresponding questions: "Can I trust you?" "Are you committed to excellence?" and "Do you care about me?"

Concerning trust, Holtz touched on building a sense of family within the team. "As a football team, we want to educate and graduate our players and win," said Holtz.

Concerning compassion, Holtz also told his listeners, many of whom were business students, that they must focus and capitalize on people’s needs, using the success of fast­food chains like McDonald’s and Domino’s as illustrations.

"I like strawberries," Holtz said, but he doesn’t use them as bait when fishing.

"Low self-image: Ninety-five percent of the people in this world do not believe in them­selves," said Holtz. "You can’t be good if you don’t have a good self-image."

He listed three rules for maintaining a positive self-im­age: do right, do the best you can and follow Jesus Christ’s Golden Rule. One can follow these guidelines by answering three corresponding questions: "Can I trust you?" "Are you committed to excellence?" and "Do you care about me?"

Concerning trust, Holtz touched on building a sense of family within the team. "As a football team, we want to educate and graduate our players and win," said Holtz.

Concerning compassion, Holtz also told his listeners, many of whom were business students, that they must focus and capitalize on people’s needs, using the success of fast­food chains like McDonald’s and Domino’s as illustrations.

"I like strawberries," Holtz said, but he doesn’t use them as bait when fishing.

"Low self-image: Ninety-five percent of the people in this world do not believe in them­selves," said Holtz. "You can’t be good if you don’t have a good self-image."

He listed three rules for maintaining a positive self-im­age: do right, do the best you can and follow Jesus Christ’s Golden Rule. One can follow these guidelines by answering three corresponding questions: "Can I trust you?" "Are you committed to excellence?" and "Do you care about me?"

Concerning trust, Holtz touched on building a sense of family within the team. "As a football team, we want to educate and graduate our players and win," said Holtz.

Concerning compassion, Holtz also told his listeners, many of whom were business students, that they must focus and capitalize on people’s needs, using the success of fast­food chains like McDonald’s and Domino’s as illustrations.
Dean Winicur leaves ND post without regret

By PAUL PEARSON

Daniel Winicur, dean of administration and registrar at the University of Notre Dame, said he will leave Notre Dame with no regrets.

Winicur announced Thursday he will resign both positions June 30 to join Franklin College in Franklin, Ind., as vice-president for academic affairs and dean of the college.

"I learned how to work with all kinds of different people," at ND, Winicur said. "That's something I will take with me forever.

Winicur said that his job at Franklin will be very similar to that of University Provost Timothy O'Meara, whom he called "a good model." According to Winicur, the main difference between Franklin and ND is their different emphases. "Notre Dame considers itself a premiere national Catholic research facility," Franklin has made a commitment to quality teaching and counseling of undergraduates.

Winicur encourages the introduction of Direct Access Registration by Telephone (DART) his greatest success at ND. While he said he has achieved everything he set out to do at ND, Winicur believes that the University should continue working on making student information available to all departments in the University. "It's getting there, but it's going slow," he said.

Winicur's wife, Sandra, will remain at Indiana University - South Bend as chairwoman of the biology department for the time being. "She still has one year left on her term.

Dean of administration since 1985, Winicur first joined the ND faculty in 1976 as an assistant professor in the chemistry department. Prior to his appointment as registrar in 1983, he served as assistant dean of the College of Science for four years. He also served as a research scientist in ND's Radiation Laboratory.

Winicur plans to remain at ND through Commencement next month, but will take June off to prepare for the move to Franklin, which is approximately 20 miles south of Indianapolis.

Gentile: U.S. finds 'equilibrium' between energy and environmental concerns

By BECKY RITZERT

Never in history has both energy and the environment ranked so high on the United States' agenda of concerns, according to Robert Gentile, Assistant Secretary for Fossil Energy of the U.S. Department of Energy.

"Recent world events have certainly brought energy back to the center stage," said Gentile. "But he added that, "the conflict in the Middle East, was about much more than oil.

"We live today in a world that's found a new sense of environmental conscience," stated Gentile. "Membership in environmental groups far exceeds membership in political parties.

The United States is finally achieving a much needed "equilibrium" between energy concerns and environmental concerns, according to Gentile.

"For too many years, the pendulum has swung from one issue to another," said Gentile. "Every time we turned from one to the other, we lost our sense of balance," he added.

President Bush set up a "National Energy Strategy" about two months ago which, according to Gentile, is a step toward a national energy policy.

"The National Energy Strategy tries to impress upon the American people that we can neither conserve nor produce our way out of this dilemma. We must do both," said Gentile. Gentile pointed out that much has already been done in the way of conservation.

"Today in the U.S. we consume the same amount of energy that we consumed in 1973," said Gentile. "This is in spite an increase in the number of homes as well as in the Gross National Product.

"That is an incredible feat in conservation," said Gentile. He added that no such accomplishment has been achieved anywhere else in the world.

Further conservation and energy efficiency depends upon advanced technologies which are currently being developed, said Gentile. But he said that until these technologies are ready for implementation, we will continue to rely on fossil fuels to meet our energy needs.

"It is a myth that we can't tackle problems such as acid rain and still use fossil fuels," said Gentile.

Gentile offered the example of "fluidized bed combustion" of coal, which is now replacing the pulverized coal technique which has been in use for more than seventy years.

"It's unique in that the cleanup occurs as you burn the coal," said Gentile. "The pollutants are converted back to a more useful resource," he said.

The $5 billion Clean Coal Technology Program is the government's largest single energy and environmental initiative.

There is just as much effort going into the development of energy technology as there is going to the defense technology which the American people witnessed during the recent war coverage, said Gentile.

"It is important for us to transport the new technologies to the third world," added Gentile. "If we fail to do so, according to Gentile, we hurt ourselves as well as the other countries.

"We live a tremendously energy rich nation," concluded Gentile, but our greatest resource is "the innovation."
KORE, Iraq (AP) — Kurdish rebels on Thursday ambushed Iraqi troops trying to push deeper into the mountains of northern Iraq, killing at least 12 soldiers and knocking out two tanks and an armored personnel carrier.

The rebels said two guerrillas were killed.

The attack by Saddam Hussein’s forces came less than 24 hours after Washington announced it had warned the Baghdad government over the weekend not to launch an armed actions against Kurdish areas.

Rebel commanders said their success against the Iraqi troops was made easier because the army had not used its deadly helicopter gunships. The U.S. warning specifically forbade the use of military aircraft.

Meanwhile, Baghdad extended an amnesty offer for some rebels, but the mass exodus of the Kurdish population continued.

Scores of refugees, drenched to the skin, wrapped babies and small children tightly in blankets to protect them from a lashing hail. They plodded up the steep road, drenched to the skin.

In a mountain pass leading to Iran, during one of the frequent violent storms, mothers carried babies and small children tightly in blankets to protect them from exposure, malnutrition and disease.

In a mountain pass leading to Iran, during one of the frequent violent storms, mothers carried babies and small children tightly in blankets to protect them from exposure, malnutrition and disease.

Residents of the Kurdish city of Zakho, about 15 miles northeast of Erbil and within the area north of the 36th parallel where U.S. officials warned Iraqis not to interfere with refugees and efforts to aid the fleeing Kurds.

Many of those fleeing were skeptical that the Bush administration’s warning to Iraq will provide them with any real protection.

“We don’t trust Bush’s words any more,” said one refugee in Dina, a town at the bottom of the Haj Omar pass leading to Iran’s border.

“We cannot trust Saddam after what he has done to our people. We want safety for our children,” said one refugee mother.

Iraqi forces in Northern Iraq said the deadline was extended because of difficulties in communication and “the obstacles created by the aggression in the northern region of the country.”

A solid line of tens of thousands of families on foot continued their trek toward Iran, undeterred by mountain storms.

Refugees complain that no foreign refugee aid dropped in the border region reached the people in the pass.

One man said 18 people died in his small section of the road the previous day.

The amnesty, offered this month and due to expire Friday, was for everyone who took part in the rebellion except “for acts of murder, rape, or theft which took place under the conditions of the incidents of rioting and treachery.”

INA said the deadline was extended because of difficulties in communication and “the obstacles created by the aggression in the northern region of the country.”

During a reporter’s journey along the pass Wednesday and Thursday, it was jammed with hundreds of thousands of refugees. Some estimates put as high as a half-million.

Refugee estimates put as high as a half-million.

Refugee and efforts to aid the

The amnesty, offered this month and due to expire Friday, was for everyone who took part in the rebellion except “for acts of murder, rape, or theft which took place under the conditions of the incidents of rioting and treachery.”

INA said the deadline was extended because of difficulties in communication and “the obstacles created by the aggression in the northern region of the country.”

During a reporter’s journey along the pass Wednesday and Thursday, it was jammed with hundreds of thousands of refugees. Some estimates put as high as a half-million.

Refugee estimates put as high as a half-million.

Refugee and efforts to aid the

The amnesty, offered this month and due to expire Friday, was for everyone who took part in the rebellion except “for acts of murder, rape, or theft which took place under the conditions of the incidents of rioting and treachery.”

INA said the deadline was extended because of difficulties in communication and “the obstacles created by the aggression in the northern region of the country.”

During a reporter’s journey along the pass Wednesday and Thursday, it was jammed with hundreds of thousands of refugees. Some estimates put as high as a half-million.

Refugee estimates put as high as a half-million.

Refugee and efforts to aid the

The amnesty, offered this month and due to expire Friday, was for everyone who took part in the rebellion except “for acts of murder, rape, or theft which took place under the conditions of the incidents of rioting and treachery.”

INA said the deadline was extended because of difficulties in communication and “the obstacles created by the aggression in the northern region of the country.”

During a reporter’s journey along the pass Wednesday and Thursday, it was jammed with hundreds of thousands of refugees. Some estimates put as high as a half-million.

Refugee estimates put as high as a half-million.

Refugee and efforts to aid the

The amnesty, offered this month and due to expire Friday, was for everyone who took part in the rebellion except “for acts of murder, rape, or theft which took place under the conditions of the incidents of rioting and treachery.”

INA said the deadline was extended because of difficulties in communication and “the obstacles created by the aggression in the northern region of the country.”

During a reporter’s journey along the pass Wednesday and Thursday, it was jammed with hundreds of thousands of refugees. Some estimates put as high as a half-million.

Refugee estimates put as high as a half-million.

Refugee and efforts to aid the

The amnesty, offered this month and due to expire Friday, was for everyone who took part in the rebellion except “for acts of murder, rape, or theft which took place under the conditions of the incidents of rioting and treachery.”

INA said the deadline was extended because of difficulties in communication and “the obstacles created by the aggression in the northern region of the country.”

During a reporter’s journey along the pass Wednesday and Thursday, it was jammed with hundreds of thousands of refugees. Some estimates put as high as a half-million.

Refugee estimates put as high as a half-million.
P.E. Women discuss background differences

By DANNIKA SIMPSON
News Writer

Culture and experience met at Pasquerilla East last night as women of different ethnic backgrounds discussed their experiences in America and at Notre Dame. "P.E. Women Around the World" was organized by the Multicultural Committee of Pasquerilla East and Year of Women to help students understand what it is like to be a minority at Notre Dame.

All of the women who spoke agreed that they did not accept the differences that exist among cultures and make an effort to meet people from different backgrounds. Paula T. Lopes and Vanessa Prado, students from El Salvador, feel people should try to meet those from other countries. Lopes said, "This world is becoming more global... You can be friends with anyone and everything. It makes you grow so much."

Adalina Fallas, an African-American student, said that people need to respect the fact that "difference" is everywhere.

Some students felt Notre Dame students do not make an effort to learn about different cultures. M.N. Santos, a Filipino-American and one of the organizers of the event, said, "Many people at Notre Dame do not show an interest in learning about others. I feel that just as when there was more education about diversity in this world, she also said that the only people she can truly identify with are other Asian-Americans.

Chomorroh Uh echoed Santos' thoughts saying, "I do not have a single person who can understand me totally."

She also said some people think "something is wrong" with her because she holds different opinions on things such as dating and drinking. Un also said, "I think they (Notre Dame students) should be more open-minded.

Some students said that coming to Notre Dame has helped them to recognize their heritage. Many of them said they did not feel connected with their particular ethnic group while growing up.

Valdilari fails, an Indian-American student, did not feel different until she was an adolescent. She also said her family started an "adhoc" demonstration to promote peace when Indira Gandhi was killed. She says this is when she felt connected to her Indian culture.

Fails, who attended a predominantly white school, said, "Coming here has given me a different perspective on life."

Santos said she has learned not to take things for granted, but to live life as it is by just living around people of so many different backgrounds.

Other students said they had been accepted for grants awarded in Notre Dame and now they want to share their culture with others.

Loan Tong, a Vietnamese-American said she wants to take advantage of her background when she moves into the workforce.

Anita Verdugo, a Mexican-American student who is a co-organizer of the event, said, "I want to share my Mexican-American heritage with others, but I almost feel that I don't know enough of it."

The videodisc presents the famous case of Dax Cowart, a victim of severe burns, blindness and crippling injuries. Project THERIA, will present an educational program that applies THERIA, will present an educational program that applies.

Preston Coveney and Robert Cowart, developers of Project THERIA, will present an educational program to the study of ethics Thursday.

THERIA stands for Testing Hypotheses in Ethics/Exsthetics: Exploring the rules of observation, Rationality, Imagination and Affect. The project was developed at Carnegie Mellon University at the Center for Design of Educational Computing. It uses technology to immerse the user in controversial case studies.

Two case studies will be featured in the Notre Dame presentation. In "A Right to Die? The Case of Dax Cowart," the video.

Abortion

continued from page 1

a.m. and noon. Through the efforts of the group, it was confirmed that only one abortion actually took place on Friday. Those are results that please members, who put their entire efforts into the abortion Hussein said Johnson.

Keen stated his "confident that we did save a life." The students arrested emphasized their belief that in abortions "women are the victims...they are being exploited."

Keen cited cases of false abortions where the patient was not pregnant and the abortions were still performed. The group also stated that an abortion can be performed through the ninth month of pregnancy.

The student protesters said Operation Rescue, in an attempt to gain cooperation of the police, notified the authorities of Friday's protest. Consequently, the group was met and arrested began about an hour into the protest.

Over 100 anti-abortion protesters were immediately processed by having their pictures and finger prints taken. Said a student refusing to withhold their names and the group was kept together, she added.

"Withholding our names had a two-fold purpose," said Scheidler. "One, it kept us with the nameless victims of abortion and it enabled us to use our anonymity as a shield with the prosecution of our offense."

At first the prosecutor's office charged protestors with criminal trespassing and with resisting arrest and demanded an excessive fine amounting to the group. The client's demands delayed processing until Monday.

Details of the demands presented to the group by the clinic were unavailable at press time, but the clinic does have the right to file a civil suit against the protesters.

The students and other protesters were released Tuesday afternoon after giving the clinic's acceptance that prohibits them from being on clinic property (for four months) and a pasting to pay fines from their five day jail stay plus court costs.

Protestors also had to "agree not to disagree that they had trespassed," said the group. "This does not imply that we are guilty...we aren't," Johnson said.

Scheidler offered an analogy that Operation Rescue uses in defending the group's "not guilty" plea.

"If you see a child in a house burning, you are willing to trespass into that house to save the child and it is not consider ed breaking the law," said Scheidler.

In response to their five-day jail stay in the National Guard Armory, Keen said "...a five day jail sentence is nothing in comparison to the death sentence of an aborted child."

"Morally neutrality doesn't exist...it can't."

Hilton added. "It is our intention to move other students make a choice for life or death."

For Scheidler, Hilton and Keen such a protest was a first-time experience for the three, Johnson, however, has been on fire over the past year and this weekend marked her sixth protest and her sixth arrest, as explained.

If asked if they would protest in such a manner again, each student replied that they would. "People should be allowed to protect the body she will participate."

"If even only one-twentieth of the student body at Notre Dame had participated, the arrests would have been avoided," said Johnson. The number would have been too great for police to handle, she added.

"It was one of the best things I have ever done," Keen said.

Keen reminds students that "Notre Dame and Saint Mary's are dedicated to the memory of Mary, the mother of God. Mary was an unwed teen...imagine if she had had an abortion."

The program is set up as a demonstration story in the context of a real art world scandal that occurred at the end of World War II.

The user must examine and weigh the importance of determining whether a given painting is a fake. For example, as claimed by the art experts, or a forgery, as claimed by Van Meegeren, as explained.

The presentation will be from 2 to 5 p.m. in the University of Notre Dame's FITS Theatre, located in the basement of the Center for Continuing Education.

The event is sponsored by the Office of University Computing Services and The College of Arts and Letters as part of the Technology for Academia series.

The program is set up as a demonstration story in the context of a real art world scandal that occurred at the end of World War II.
Baker presents Israeli Middle East peace proposal to Syria's Assad

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Secretary of State James Baker III brought Israel's proposal for a regional peace conference to Syria today after drawing a positive response from Egypt.

Baker arrived in Cairo an afternoon and headed directly to a meeting with Tunisian Foreign Minister Ali-habib Ben Yahia before a scheduled session with Syrian President Hafez Assad.

Baker briefed the Syrian for­eign minister, Prince Saud al-Faisal, on the proposal in a meeting at an unsmiling hotel that lasted 2 1/2-hour, an hour longer than scheduled.

"Fine," was the only comment an unsmiling Baker would make as he left the early morn­ing meeting for Cairo international Airport to fly to Damas­cus.

"Any instrument that can lead us to a peaceful solution I'm sure Egypt is willing to support," Egyptian Foreign Minister Emad Abdel-Meguid said Wednesday night after Baker outlined his plan.

Even separately, Saudi Arabia and Syria could push the proposal along or stop it dead.

Baker will wind up his pulse-taking among Arab nations Friday in Geneva where he seeks Jordanian Foreign Minister Taher al-Marri.

The Israeli proposal calls for a regional meeting of Arabs, Israelis and Palestinians under U.S. auspices.

Baker immediately called for Soviet co-sponsorship, provided Moscow establishes full diplo­matic relations with Israel after a 24-year break.

Also the talks, in the U.S. view, would be based on Israel's trading territory for peace.

Despite a skeptical reaction from the semificial Egyptian press, Abdel-Meguid said "this is an idea that is very interesting. We will certainly discuss that very seriously, with an open mind."

The statement after Baker had met for 90 minutes with Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak and Abdel-Meguid gave U.S. diplomacy a measure of momentum as the Bush admin­istration tries to set up a regional meeting of Arabs for peace.

The Egyptian leader did not rule out the regional peace con­ference proposed by the Israeli government — provided it was to lead to an international conference.

Israel's plan would have the confer­ence held under U.S. auspices, preferably in Wash­ing­ton. Palestinians would at­tend in a mixed delegation with Jordan, but not members of the Palestine Liberation Organiza­tion.

Cabin boy
lone survivor of ferry fire

LEGHORN, Italy (AP) — A cabin boy was the only known survivor from a ferry that burst into flames after colliding with an oil tanker in thick fog, port authorities said today.

At least 139 people were missing and feared dead.

"There was a little hope of finding survivors at this point," a Civil Defense spokesman told Italian radio Wednesday night after rescue copters were sent up, rescue workers said the sea was covered by huge sheets of flame after the collision. Initial reports said the impact had opened a hole in the side of the tanker, spreading oil into the sea.

Civil Defense and port authorities said 72 passengers and 67 crew members of the 6,187-ton ferry were missing. All were believed to be Italian.

The ferry, Moby Abruzzo, was last Leghorn for Olbia, Sardinia, and the tanker, the AGIP Abruzzo, was at anchor, port authority chief Sergio Al­banese told state-run RAI-TV.

The tanker is owned by the Italian oil company AGIP.

As dawn broke and heli­copters were sent up, rescue workers reported that the fire aboard the tanker was dying out but the ferry was adrift and there was no sign of life in the water.

The cabin boy, who jumped into the water, was picked up by Leghorn hospital. Officials said he was in a state of shock but without serious injuries.

"All the cabin boy could say was they (the other people aboard) all burned, he's convinced there's no hope," said Albanese.

The Moby Prince is a roll-on­roll-off ferry with doors at the bow and stern.
By MEREDITH MCCULLOUGH
News Writer

Campus View caters to students’ specific needs

By MEREDITH MCCULLOUGH
News Writer

Castle Point Apartments not restricted to student patrons

Within walking distance of both Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s, the Campus View apartment complex offers housing that caters specifically to the needs of college students. For the past fifteen years, all of the residents leasing Campus View units during the academic year have attended one of the colleges in South Bend, according to Dorene Muszer, secretary and rental agent at Campus View.

Students are drawn to these apartments for a number of reasons, the most common being the location. “It’s the closest,” said Jeanne Sabin of Saint Mary’s.

While agreeing that the complex’s location is convenient, Tom Bowes, who has lived at Campus View for two years, said he chose the apartments because it “seemed like a really fun place to live.”

Claudia Limmer, a senior at Notre Dame, added that the fact that the apartments are furnished and utilities are included in the rent was an incentive for her to lease a Campus View unit.

“It’s great to look at, but it’s run pretty well,” said Sabin of the complex. “The management is really nice. They’re concerned and know all the tenants.”

The management shares this view. “We’ve tried to get along well with them (the residents) and they get along well with us,” added Muszer.

Although Campus View may be known for its many parties, see Campus page 10.

It’s big, it’s fresh and it’s only a buck sixty-nine! Subway’s 6” Cold Cut Combo is filled with meat, cheese and your choice of fresh fixins’, on bread baked fresh right in the store. Come on in for a fill up today!

Good at all South Bend Locations

Subway My Way!

$1.00 OFF
$1.00 off any regular footlong sandwich. Limit five footlong sandwiches. This offer is not good in combination with any other offer. Good at all South Bend Subway locations. Offer expires 4/30/91.

$3.29 FOOTLONG
Purchase any regular footlong for only $3.29. The purchase of the Coca-Cola soft drink at regular price. This offer is not good in combination with any other offer. Good at all South Bend Subway locations. Offer expires 4/30/91.

Since its opening 15 years ago, Castle Point Apartments has been a hit with Notre Dame/Saint Mary’s students, according to Cynthia Schorah of the complex’s marketing department.

Located on the north-east side of 10311 Cleveland Rd., Castle Point consists of 348 apartments restricted solely to University tenants.

Over 95 percent of the residents are students. Scholars explained that the majority of the occupants include families with children and other South Bend inhabitants.

Although the concentration of students at Castle Point is small, Schorah said that conflicts sometimes occur, when, for example, a group of 50 people need to be “fit 200 people on an 8’10” balcony.”

For the most part students and other residents live in “peaceful co-existence,” said Schorah, because they realize that it’s “all part of apartment living.”

Jack Bentz, a Notre Dame senior, discovered Castle Point during his search for off-campus housing last year. He said he was impressed by the inside and outside attractiveness of the apartments, as well as the overall atmosphere of the place.

“I kind of figured I could have parties if you want, but it is also possible to have quiet. Also, according to Bentz, Castle Point offers more privacy than is available in the dorms.

Residents have access to the complex’s clubhouse, completed of racquetball, tennis, indoor and outdoor basketball courts, a sauna, and a weight-room. “My roommates and I use the basketball court. It’s a really fun place to park,” said Bentz. He said that sometimes at night he has to use the basketball court, but even that is not a walk that.

Leasing at Castle Point works out very well for student living. “Our apartments are leased for six months-then renewed for $10 extra a month basis.”

Residents have a choice of eight different floor plans. The smallest apartments are two rooms and a half bathrooms and a loft. The most popular designs are the two-bedroom, two-bathroom units. There are also two-bedroom, one-bathroom units available for $17 extra a month.

“We feel it is still cheaper than on-campus,” said Budde.

Salaried also praised the social interaction between residents. “There is plenty of room to the townhomes in their first year. The apartments are super cheap. The stairs leading to the basement are just 15 degrees from the basement and the plywood is to the top floor...the washer and dryer were broken,” Gilchrist said.

“The doors are on crooked. Some friends came here and they had to cut the bottom of a door so it would close,” she claimed.

Gilchrist said she does not feel she is getting her money’s worth at Lafayette Square. “We’re paying $850 a month for the bedrooms. It’s not worth it at all.”

Budde also expressed concern that the management did not live on the premises. “You don’t really bother us. We’re just glad to be off-campus.”

Castle Point Apartments not restricted to student patrons

By MEREDITH MCCULLOUGH
News Writer

Since its opening 15 years ago, Castle Point Apartments has been a hit with Notre Dame/Saint Mary’s students, according to Cynthia Schorah of the complex’s marketing department.

Located on the north-east side of 10311 Cleveland Rd., Castle Point consists of 348 apartments restricted solely to University tenants.

Over 95 percent of the residents are students. Scholars explained that the majority of the occupants include families with children and other South Bend inhabitants.

Although the concentration of students at Castle Point is small, Schorah said that conflicts sometimes occur, when, for example, a group of 50 people need to be “fit 200 people on an 8’10” balcony.”

For the most part students and other residents live in “peaceful co-existence,” said Schorah, because they realize that it’s “all part of apartment living.”

Jack Bentz, a Notre Dame senior, discovered Castle Point during his search for off-campus housing last year. He said he was impressed by the inside and outside attractiveness of the apartments, as well as the overall atmosphere of the place.

“I kind of figured I could have parties if you want, but it is also possible to have quiet. Also, according to Bentz, Castle Point offers more privacy than is available in the dorms.

Residents have access to the complex’s clubhouse, completed of racquetball, tennis, indoor and outdoor basketball courts, a sauna, and a weight-room. “My roommates and I use the basketball court. It’s a really fun place to park,” said Bentz. He said that sometimes at night he has to use the basketball court, but even that is not a walk that.

Leasing at Castle Point works out very well for student living. “Our apartments are leased for six months-then renewed for $10 extra a month basis.”

Residents have a choice of eight different floor plans. The smallest apartments are two rooms and a half bathrooms and a loft. The most popular designs are the two-bedroom, two-bathroom units. There are also two-bedroom, one-bathroom units available for $17 extra a month.

“We feel it is still cheaper than on-campus,” said Budde.

Salaried also praised the social interaction between residents. “There is plenty of room to the townhomes in their first year. The apartments are super cheap. The stairs leading to the basement are just 15 degrees from the basement and the plywood is to the top floor...the washer and dryer were broken,” Gilchrist said.

“The doors are on crooked. Some friends came here and they had to cut the bottom of a door so it would close,” she claimed.

Gilchrist said she does not feel she is getting her money’s worth at Lafayette Square. “We’re paying $850 a month for the bedrooms. It’s not worth it at all.”

Budde also expressed concern that the management did not live on the premises. “You don’t really bother us. We’re just glad to be off-campus.”

There’s all kinds of room,” he said.

“We feel it is still cheaper than living on-campus,” he said.

Budde also praised the social interaction between residents. “There is plenty of room to the townhomes in their first year. The apartments are super cheap. The stairs leading to the basement are just 15 degrees from the basement and the plywood is to the top floor...the washer and dryer were broken,” Gilchrist said.

“The doors are on crooked. Some friends came here and they had to cut the bottom of a door so it would close,” she claimed.

Gilchrist said she does not feel she is getting her money’s worth at Lafayette Square. “We’re paying $850 a month for the bedrooms. It’s not worth it at all.”

Budde also expressed concern that the management did not live on the premises. “You don’t really bother us. We’re just glad to be off-campus.”

There’s all kinds of room,” he said.

“We feel it is still cheaper than living on-campus,” he said.

Budde also praised the social interaction between residents. “There is plenty of room to the townhomes in their first year. The apartments are super cheap. The stairs leading to the basement are just 15 degrees from the basement and the plywood is to the top floor...the washer and dryer were broken,” Gilchrist said.

“The doors are on crooked. Some friends came here and they had to cut the bottom of a door so it would close,” she claimed.

Gilchrist said she does not feel she is getting her money’s worth at Lafayette Square. “We’re paying $850 a month for the bedrooms. It’s not worth it at all.”

Budde also expressed concern that the management did not live on the premises. “You don’t really bother us. We’re just glad to be off-campus.”

There’s all kinds of room,” he said.

“We feel it is still cheaper than living on-campus,” he said.

Budde also praised the social interaction between residents. “There is plenty of room to the townhomes in their first year. The apartments are super cheap. The stairs leading to the basement are just 15 degrees from the basement and the plywood is to the top floor...the washer and dryer were broken,” Gilchrist said.

“The doors are on crooked. Some friends came here and they had to cut the bottom of a door so it would close,” she claimed.

Gilchrist said she does not feel she is getting her money’s worth at Lafayette Square. “We’re paying $850 a month for the bedrooms. It’s not worth it at all.”

Budde also expressed concern that the management did not live on the premises. “You don’t really bother us. We’re just glad to be off-campus.”

There’s all kinds of room,” he said.

“We feel it is still cheaper than living on-campus,” he said.

Budde also praised the social interaction between residents. “There is plenty of room to the townhomes in their first year. The apartments are super cheap. The stairs leading to the basement are just 15 degrees from the basement and the plywood is to the top floor...the washer and dryer were broken,” Gilchrist said.

“The doors are on crooked. Some friends came here and they had to cut the bottom of a door so it would close,” she claimed.

Gilchrist said she does not feel she is getting her money’s worth at Lafayette Square. “We’re paying $850 a month for the bedrooms. It’s not worth it at all.”

Budde also expressed concern that the management did not live on the premises. “You don’t really bother us. We’re just glad to be off-campus.”

There’s all kinds of room,” he said.

“We feel it is still cheaper than living on-campus,” he said.

Budde also praised the social interaction between residents. “There is plenty of room to the townhomes in their first year. The apartments are super cheap. The stairs leading to the basement are just 15 degrees from the basement and the plywood is to the top floor...the washer and dryer were broken,” Gilchrist said.

“The doors are on crooked. Some friends came here and they had to cut the bottom of a door so it would close,” she claimed.

Gilchrist said she does not feel she is getting her money’s worth at Lafayette Square. “We’re paying $850 a month for the bedrooms. It’s not worth it at all.”

Budde also expressed concern that the management did not live on the premises. “You don’t really bother us. We’re just glad to be off-campus.”

There’s all kinds of room,” he said.

“We feel it is still cheaper than living on-campus,” he said.
Turtle Creek apartment complex lures faculty and students for over 20 years

By SIOBHAN MCCARTHY
News Writer

Turtle Creek apartments have been a popular off-campus housing choice among Notre Dame/Saint Mary's faculty and student community for more than twenty years. Manager Claire Meyers hopes this tradition won't change.

Located just northeast of both schools at 1710 Turtle Creek Drive, Turtle Creek is a little more than a ten-minute walk for residents, which Meyers says students and faculty find convenient and safe.

Studio, one and two-bedroom, as well as efficiency and townhouse apartment sizes are available within a price range of $375 to $515 per month. Costs are reasonable, according to resident and ND graduate student Jay Hosler.

"Rent went up only seven dollars this year," he said.

Water, sewage and trash removal costs are included in the monthly rent payments. Residents pay for their own electric and phone bills.

Turtle Creek also features a 24-hour maintenance service hot-line.

Hosler said he finds the service quick and dependable. When the door lock was broken, Turtle Creek maintenance responded immediately, he said, and "fixed it in a day."

Corinne Pavlis, a Saint Mary's senior, said she finds the service equally dependable. When she had a plumbing problem, the landlord came on a Sunday night with a repairman.

She added that she has needed fewer repairs living in Turtle Creek than she did when she lived in Campus View last year.

Laundry facilities are located in a clubhouse with a television, lounge and an area to study. The laundry facilities are "very safe," said Pavlis again comparing Turtle Creek with her former residence.

"At Campus View, laundry was just sitting out in the open," she said. "You can't get attacked in our Turtle Creek laundry room. Here it's part of the main office," where intruders can easily be seen.

Hosler said he found the location of the washers and dryers to be "an inconvenience," but said "he could live with it."

Security is often a concern of off-campus students, but Meyers assures residents that Turtle Creek is a safe complex. "We're in a real good part of South Bend," she said.

Resident Benjamin Phillips agreed. "The security hasn't been bad," said the Notre Dame senior.

However, Pavlis said that she feels the community, and not a particular complex, is responsible for the security problem off-campus. "I was attacked on my way back from aerobics at 8 p.m. on a Monday night," Pavlis said.

"I don't think it's safe, but it's not the fault of Turtle Creek," she said. "South Bend isn't the safest community. Not all of it is dangerous, but some parts are and I think that students need to face that."

Parking concerns are also on the minds of off-campus students. Turtle Creek offers students a combination of open and guaranteed parking.

Residents are guaranteed one spot per apartment in a designated carport area, and there are also plenty of other spaces available nearby, according to Meyers. Parking spaces are also roped off during football season, ensuring residents that fans will not take over parking spots, Hosler said.

Hosler, Pavlis and Phillips all found the facilities to be well-built and well-maintained. Pavlis attributed this to the fact that Turtle Creek serves a more adult community, including both faculty and students.

"People around here are a lot more respectful of each other," she said. "They're just considerate."

Parties at Turtle Creek are allowed, Meyers said, but if the office receives a complaint about noise a warning letter is sent out to the resident the next day.

If a resident is cited for a loud party a second time, hoshe will be evicted, she said.

Hosler said he hadn't had any problems with the noise at Turtle Creek. "It doesn't bother me," he said. "It just makes me more jealous than angry when other people have a good time."

Phillips agreed. "We've had no problems at all," he said. The management has been "pretty cool" about parties, he added.

Pavlis added that she felt the community at Turtle Creek was very "homelike...The landlady even sends out a monthly newsletter with recipes in it and everything. We love her."

Limardo said, "They're pretty good about it as long as you keep the noise down and make sure no one gets out of control. Because you live with students no one really complains."

Security is always around, and the guard to watch over the complex provides a heated pool, tennis, volleyball and basketball courts. The facilities are "really well-kept," said Bowes.

"I don't think it's safe. but it's not the fault of Turtle Creek," Pavlis agreed. "The security hasn't been bad," said the ND senior.

Bend," she said.

Pavlis said that he found the facilities to be "pretty cool" about parties, he added.

Pavlis added that she felt the community at Turtle Creek was very "homelike...The landlady even sends out a monthly newsletter with recipes in it and everything. We love her."

Convenient Student Living

We're just minutes from Notre Dame, University Park Mall, the toll road and downtown South Bend. Our quiet community with spacious, well-equipped homes has a lot of appeal to the serious student. We offer 24-hour emergency maintenance service and we have an activities program that includes free aerobics classes, social functions, team sports and much, much more.

If you're looking for the ideal off-campus home stop by today and we'll show you comfortable, affordable apartment living!

Efficiencies from $275
1-Bedroom from $325
2-Bedrooms from $345

272-1880

Office Hours: Mon.-Fri. 9-9, Sat. 10-4 and Sun. 1-5

HICKORY VILLAGE

Conveniently located on Hickory Road, just north of Edison Road

HICKORY VALLEYS

Conveniently located on Hickory Road, just north of Edison Road

American Red Cross

American Red Cross

Central Travel Network

A R P R L 1 3, 1 9 9 1
9 A M - 2 P M
WELCOME HOME DAME!!
WIN AIRLINE TICKETS, FREE GIFTS AND MORE!!
Phone: 271-4860
LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Special issue is offensive

Dear Editor:

For the past three years, the ignorance and apathy that permeates this campus has never ceased to amaze me. That is... until now. Recent events here at Notre Dame have prompted me to write, just because as a person who has mastered the realm of academia does not necessarily mean that he or she possesses any common sense. For those of you who may not be familiar with what common sense is, allow me to explain—or, better yet, let me give you an example of what it is like for the choice made by The Observer Staff.

In its recent April Fool's Day publication, The Observer staff showed a definite lack of sensitivity and judgment in a picture that it chose to print on page four. This photograph illustrated a white police officer exerting a choke-hold on a black male. I find it appalling that, in male. I find it appalling that, in

Professors support dialogue

Dear Editor:

We are deeply concerned about the issues of racism and cultural diversity on the Notre Dame campus. We believe that the student coalition known as SFR (Students United For Respect) has provided the University community with an important opportunity for a discussion of these pressing issues. The existence of any and all forms of racism runs counter to the mission of the University. If we are to maintain a civil society, we must address the issues that exist on our campus. Therefore, we urge the University to work with SFR and the rest of the University community and to take clear, strong, visible steps to address the issues they raise.

Commissioning ceremony at graduation

Dear Editor:

Last year a task force of seniors met with Mary Ann Roe­mer at the Center for Social Concerns to begin a new tradi­tion here at Notre Dame. The group's goal was to organize a "commissioning ceremony" for all graduating seniors who had made the decision to devote a year or more to volunteer work. This goal became a reality and the first ceremony took place last year's graduation weekend. Many of the seniors who participated in last year's ceremony commented that it added a special dimension to graduation weekend. Some also commented that the ceremony allowed parents' anxieties about their decision to volunteer. Overall, the event proved to be a great success. A committee of students has been meeting regularly to plan this year's commissioning cer­emony. As previously men­tioned, this ceremony is open to all graduating seniors who are volunteering after graduation. Please register at the Center for Social Concerns at least as soon as possible so that you and your family can participate in the volunteer send-off ceremony.

Brave act praised by onlookers

Dear Editor:

On Monday night, April 8, we witnessed an act of bravery unparalleled in our lifetimes. A 5'10" male, wearing tan shorts and a blue polo shirt, proceeded to retrieve an ailing basketball from the clutches of the Gruesome Grace Hall Goose, which was unrightfully defending its nest of young. The nerve of such a fouled creature! In an act of rage, this one let out a thundering battle cry (quack) and spread its wings in an act of defiance.

DOONESBURY

"SOMEONE IN THE FAMILY CALLED 'Nancy' TObow TRICK OR TREAT. "I HAVE SOME" OF Biscuits, 'Nancy said. BUT NO WERE IN THE HOUSE." TOLD 'Nancy' NOT TO CALL THE TRICK OR TREAT!" AND "I WOULD LIKE TO TREAT. 'Nancy" TO THE DRUGS! PHONE 'Nancy! "HEARD THAT PHONE "A MURDER FROM WAYNE. 'Nancy ESPECIALLY FROM PETER, TRICK OR TREAT!"" THE NATURE OF AN EVENT RECALLS TRICK OR TREAT TO GIVE HER A MURDER PHONE." I TOLD 'Nancy TO CALL THE PHONE." "I TOLD 'Nancy TO CALL THE PHONE. I TOLD 'Nancy TO CALL THE PHONE!"""

QUOTE OF THE DAY

"It takes two to tango, but only one to put the music on."
Escarpe to the land of pineapple, tropical drinks, colorful floral shirts, leis, and women in long grass skirts gracefully swaying their hips without ever leaving South Bend. Discover the beauty and the culture of Hawaii without travelling any further than South Dining Hall. Now, is that an offer or what?

That is exactly the opportunity that the Notre Dame Hawaiian Club is offering the people of South Bend as they sponsor the 1991 annual luau this Saturday night. A chance to experience the culture of Hawaii, the luau features authentic and homemade Hawaiian food, traditional and modern Hawaiian dance, free lei, and live entertainment.

In celebration of the Year of Women, this year's theme for the luau is "He Inoa No Wahine," meaning "In the Name of Woman." The entertainment for the evening celebrates various women in Hawaiian history. The evening is scheduled to begin with the sharing of a treat, "The Doors, " said co-chairperson, Bernard Nunnies. The 25 active club members help bring a part of their culture to South Bend by making it a little more like the culturally diverse atmosphere that they are accustomed to in Hawaii. Preparing all of the food and performing all of the dances themselves, the members make Hawaiian culture come alive through the luau. "The luau is the culmination of all of the activities in the Hawaiian Club. Everything leads to this event," explained Nunnies. The luau begins at 7:00 p.m. in South Dining Hall on Saturday, April 13. Tickets are on sale at the LaFortune Information Desk for $5. Experience a taste of Hawaii.

By MELISSA COMER
Accent Writer

Experience a taste of Hawaii

Appreciate new sights

The works will be on display at the Snite beginning Sunday.

By AL PISA
Accent Writer
something different...

Soar with dance of the ages

By MONICA TSUELHUAI
Accent Writer

"W hen a gifted people are given a place in the present, they dream of the past, they scheme for the future, and for the moment, dance the dances that have sustained their people for generations. They dance resolutely, persistently, passionately, and for a while the participants rise above the earth and the odds," says Thomas E. Mails.

The dance of this passionate present which rises above the present will be exemplified in a "Pow Wow" sponsored by the Native American Student Organization at Stepan Center on this Sunday from 12:00 to 7:00 p.m.

A Pow Wow is a gathering of people to celebrate Native American dances and social customs. Native Americans dress in the outfits that are traditional for their tribes and participate in tribal dancing.

The dancers are accompanied by one or more "Drums," which are composed of several singers, who rhythmically beat a drum (the actual instrument) as they sing. The dancers dance in a circle with the drums in the center. The circle is representative of the Sacred Hoop, the symbol of life. While many other civilizations think of life as a straight line, Native Americans view life as a circle.

Another integral part of the Pow Wow is the give-and-take. Gifts giving is symbolic of Native American culture. Rather than hoarding one's wealth, it is considered more enjoyable to share it. In such a way the Pow Wow gives Native Americans the chance to reflect on and celebrate their heritage.

The songs and chants of the Pow Wow each have a significant meaning. Originally, songs were sung in the language of the singers; however, as more tribes came together, the use of vocabularies came about. Vocables are words considered only as a combination of certain sounds without regard to meaning.

The vocabularies allowed singers of various languages to sing together. They also allow those tribes who have lost their native language the chance to sing in the old way. Songs are still sung in the native tongue of many tribes, but Pow Wows usually consist of songs sung in vocables due to the many different tribes who come to the celebration.

One of the most important songs is the Flag song. It is sung at the beginning of each Pow Wow by the host Drum. The Flag song is equivalent to the National Anthem, therefore, it is required that everyone stand for it.

Each Pow Wow dance is lead by the "Head Dancers," one female and one male. The Head Dancers start each song and lead the rest of the dancers throughout the Pow Wow. It is a high honor to be selected as a Head Dancer. They must know all of the songs and the appropriate dances that accompany these songs.

There is also a "Head Veteran Dancer" who has been distinguished in combat and has the honor of carrying the Indian Flag at the front of the procession of dancers during Grand Entry.

The dancing is started with the "Grand Entry," a procession of all the dancers present. The Head Dancers lead followed by Native American Royalty and then the rest of the dancers arranged according to age. This procession is designed to show respect for elders and leaders.

The names of each of the variety of dances will be announced prior to their performances by the M.C. One of the most enjoyable dances is the Rabbit Dance, or Two-Step. The Rabbit Dance is a dance in which everyone can participate. The women choose their partners and it used to be that if the man refused he had to pay a penalty to the rejected asker.

During the dance the couples hold hands as they are lead by the Head Dancers through a number of intricate maneuvers. Although these moves may be a bit intimidating, the main purpose is to have fun.

Notre Dame's Pow Wow will also feature performances by the Black Hawk Dance Troop, children dancers from age 12 to 18. They will perform some South West dances. They are an added feature to this year's Pow Wow and offer an opportunity to partake in a unique experience.

This year will also be Native American arts and crafts traders presenting their goods. Everything from turquoise and silver jewelry to beaded barrettes and necklaces are sold for sale. Whether buying or browsing, everyone can admire the intricate handiwork of the artists.

For singing and dancing to arts and crafts, the Pow Wow offers an excellent opportunity to experience Native American culture firsthand.

The collection continues to grow, filling in gaps or expanding into new areas, under the direction of both Spiro and Mary Frisk, the assistant curators. As an example of this expansion, Spiro points to a piece done by William Blake which was recently acquired from an English art dealer.

Spiro is quick to point out that this continually growing collection would not be possible without the support of Reilly. "The museum itself could not afford to put together such a collection on its own; we simply do not have the budget to do it. We are fortunate to have someone like Mr. Reilly who shows such an interest in these fine works."
Look for a patch of blue above the snowline

Father Robert Griffith

Letters to a Lonely God

On rainy mornings, I look for a patch of blue sky in which I can see my reflection. If the sky is cloudy, I can't see my reflection, but I can still see the sky.

On rainy mornings, I look for a patch of blue sky in which I can see my reflection. If the sky is cloudy, I can't see my reflection, but I can still see the sky.

On rainy mornings, I look for a patch of blue sky in which I can see my reflection. If the sky is cloudy, I can't see my reflection, but I can still see the sky.

On rainy mornings, I look for a patch of blue sky in which I can see my reflection. If the sky is cloudy, I can't see my reflection, but I can still see the sky.

On rainy mornings, I look for a patch of blue sky in which I can see my reflection. If the sky is cloudy, I can't see my reflection, but I can still see the sky.

On rainy mornings, I look for a patch of blue sky in which I can see my reflection. If the sky is cloudy, I can't see my reflection, but I can still see the sky.

On rainy mornings, I look for a patch of blue sky in which I can see my reflection. If the sky is cloudy, I can't see my reflection, but I can still see the sky.

On rainy mornings, I look for a patch of blue sky in which I can see my reflection. If the sky is cloudy, I can't see my reflection, but I can still see the sky.

On rainy mornings, I look for a patch of blue sky in which I can see my reflection. If the sky is cloudy, I can't see my reflection, but I can still see the sky.

On rainy mornings, I look for a patch of blue sky in which I can see my reflection. If the sky is cloudy, I can't see my reflection, but I can still see the sky.

On rainy mornings, I look for a patch of blue sky in which I can see my reflection. If the sky is cloudy, I can't see my reflection, but I can still see the sky.

On rainy mornings, I look for a patch of blue sky in which I can see my reflection. If the sky is cloudy, I can't see my reflection, but I can still see the sky.
NOTICES

TYING AVAILABLE
8 a.m. to 4 1/2 a.m. Sat.-Fri., 10 a.m.-5:30 p.m. at the Careers Center, 456 N. Michigan Ave., Ste. 1100.

STAYING FOR THE SUMMER? Find a roommate to share a Campus View apartment for the summer. Look no further. Call (956) 385-2479.

LOOKING FOR CONDO/LOFT TO SUBLEASE FOR SUMMER, CALL JANNELL 775-3642.

FOR SALE

1. Two part Simon tickets. Floor seats, great location. 315-0343.

2. For Sale:
- A wonderful studio at 2232-47 E. Chicago Ave.
- Reach me at (312) 963-3789.

WANTED

1. A three hour tour? Do you know any? Call 232-3977 if you do.

2. A rare, collector's item. Call JANNELL 775-3642 for pricing and location.

LOST/FOUND

1. A gold, heart-shaped bracelet. If you find it, please call the lost and found at 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., weekdays.

2. A watch. If you find it, please call 232-3977.

3. A gold, heart-shaped bracelet. If you find it, please call the lost and found at 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., weekdays.

PERSONAL

1. I HOPE YOU ARE HAPPY WITH YOUR PARTNERSHIP TOGETHER, and that you are enjoying your time together. I am sending this to let you know that I LOVE YOU! I can only hope that you will end up with a girl who is just as kind and loving as I am. Please call me if you need anything.

CLASSIFIEDS

FOR SALE

1. One room at 400-60 1/2, for $800/month. Call my roommate at (312) 963-3789.

2. A small, one-bedroom apartment in the heart of the French Quarter, New Orleans. It is available for $350 per month, all utilities included. Call (504) 555-1234 for more information.

FOR RENT

1. A spacious, two-bedroom apartment in the heart of the French Quarter, New Orleans. It is available for $600 per month, all utilities included. Call (504) 555-1234 for more information.

2. A large, three-bedroom apartment in the heart of the French Quarter, New Orleans. It is available for $800 per month, all utilities included. Call (504) 555-1234 for more information.

Tickets

NEED 2 GRAD TICKETS CALL JOHN XSSP

1. Three-bedroom house available for rent in the heart of the French Quarter, New Orleans. It is available for $500 per month, all utilities included. Call (504) 555-1234 for more information.

For Sale

1. A beautiful, two-bedroom apartment in the heart of the French Quarter, New Orleans. It is available for $700 per month, all utilities included. Call (504) 555-1234 for more information.

Resumes

1. Resume available. Call (504) 555-1234 for more information.

Work

1. A beautiful, two-bedroom apartment in the heart of the French Quarter, New Orleans. It is available for $600 per month, all utilities included. Call (504) 555-1234 for more information.

WANTED

1. I am looking for a roommate to share the rent on a one-bedroom apartment in the heart of the French Quarter, New Orleans. Please call me at (504) 555-1234 for more information.
BASEBALL LINEUP

ALL-AMERICAN LEAGUE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>P</th>
<th>H</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>HR</th>
<th>RBI</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>West Division</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New York</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chicago</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Los Angeles</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Detroit</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Philadelphia</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cleveland</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Boston</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>St. Louis</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Philadelphia</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Western League

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>P</th>
<th>H</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>HR</th>
<th>RBI</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Los Angeles</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chicago</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New York</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Detroit</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Philadelphia</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cleveland</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Boston</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>St. Louis</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Philadelphia</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

THURSDAY’S GAMES

- Los Angeles at Detroit (2-3), 9:05 p.m.
- Cleveland at New York (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Chicago at St. Louis (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Philadelphia at San Francisco (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Boston at San Diego (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Kansas City at Los Angeles (2-1), 9:05 p.m.

FRIEY’S GAMES

- Chicago (2-1) at Detroit (2-3), 2:30 p.m.
- New York (2-1) at Philadelphia (2-1), 2:30 p.m.
- Boston (2-1) at San Diego (2-1), 2:30 p.m.
- San Francisco (2-1) at St. Louis (2-1), 2:30 p.m.
- Kansas City (2-1) at Los Angeles (2-1), 2:30 p.m.
- New York (2-1) at Chicago (2-1), 2:30 p.m.

SATURDAY’S GAMES

- Los Angeles at Detroit (2-3), 9:05 p.m.
- Cleveland at New York (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Chicago at St. Louis (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Philadelphia at San Francisco (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Boston at San Diego (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Kansas City at Los Angeles (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- New York (2-1) at Chicago (2-1), 9:05 p.m.

SUNDAY’S GAMES

- Los Angeles at Detroit (2-3), 9:05 p.m.
- Cleveland at New York (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Chicago at St. Louis (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Philadelphia at San Francisco (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Boston at San Diego (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Kansas City at Los Angeles (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- New York (2-1) at Chicago (2-1), 9:05 p.m.

BASKETBALL LINEUP

ALL-AMERICAN LEAGUE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>P</th>
<th>H</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>HR</th>
<th>RBI</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>West Division</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New York</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chicago</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Los Angeles</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Detroit</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Philadelphia</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cleveland</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Boston</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>St. Louis</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Philadelphia</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Western League

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>P</th>
<th>H</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>HR</th>
<th>RBI</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Los Angeles</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chicago</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New York</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Detroit</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Philadelphia</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cleveland</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Boston</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>St. Louis</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Philadelphia</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

THURSDAY’S GAMES

- Los Angeles at Detroit (2-3), 9:05 p.m.
- Cleveland at New York (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Chicago at St. Louis (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Philadelphia at San Francisco (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Boston at San Diego (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Kansas City at Los Angeles (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- New York (2-1) at Chicago (2-1), 9:05 p.m.

FRIEY’S GAMES

- Chicago (2-1) at Detroit (2-3), 2:30 p.m.
- New York (2-1) at Philadelphia (2-1), 2:30 p.m.
- Boston (2-1) at San Diego (2-1), 2:30 p.m.
- San Francisco (2-1) at St. Louis (2-1), 2:30 p.m.
- Kansas City (2-1) at Los Angeles (2-1), 2:30 p.m.
- New York (2-1) at Chicago (2-1), 2:30 p.m.

SATURDAY’S GAMES

- Los Angeles at Detroit (2-3), 9:05 p.m.
- Cleveland at New York (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Chicago at St. Louis (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Philadelphia at San Francisco (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Boston at San Diego (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Kansas City at Los Angeles (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- New York (2-1) at Chicago (2-1), 9:05 p.m.

SUNDAY’S GAMES

- Los Angeles at Detroit (2-3), 9:05 p.m.
- Cleveland at New York (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Chicago at St. Louis (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Philadelphia at San Francisco (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Boston at San Diego (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- Kansas City at Los Angeles (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
- New York (2-1) at Chicago (2-1), 9:05 p.m.
NOTRE DAME'S
ANNUAL CAMPUS BAND FESTIVAL

SATURDAY APRIL 13
7pm - 12am
STEPAN CENTER
COME OUT AND JAM WITH SOME OF ND'S FINEST BANDS

Stage A                  Stage B
7:00  SYR                7:15  Good Question
7:30  Thee Bitch Hogs   7:45  5 O'Clock Shadows
8:00  Jester            8:15  Smear
8:30  Chronic Desire     8:45  Sister Spleen
9:00  Castaways          9:15  Metlatones
9:30  Bone Forest        9:45  Heaven's Trail
10:00 Ice Nine           10:15 Headless Torso
10:30 Tarrar Gun         10:45 Bedspins
11:00 NAZUS              11:15 Footloops
11:30 Door Knob Lore     11:45 Doghaus
12:00 JAM
Campbell, Mitchell lead Wolves to victory over Hawks

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Tony Campbell scored 27 points and Sam Mitchell added 25 as Minneapolis' Big Red beat Atlanta 112-98 Thursday night for its first back-to-back victories since January.

Spud Webb scored 23 points and Dominique Wilkins poured in 30 for Atlanta, while Dominique Wilkins scored 14 points, 12 below his average — on 4-for-17 shooting. Campbell, Tyrone Corbin and Pooh Ming combined for 13-24 run with four points each that put the Wolves up 71-61 with 4:54 remaining in the third.

They put the game out of reach with a 9-2 run, but the Hawks got no closer than 104-97 with 2:42 left on a 3-pointer by Rivers.

Irish will see Big Red as lacrosse team hosts Cornell

By DAVE McMAHON
Associate Sports Editor

The Notre Dame lacrosse team hopes for continued improvement Saturday when the Irish host Cornell (5-2) at 2 p.m. in Moose Krause Stadium.

The Irish are coming off their best performance of the year, a 15-6 victory over Division III Denison College. The Big Red, on the other hand, have bounced back with a 14-12 victory over Dartmouth after losing their last two outings. After winning the first 12 games, Cornell has lost two straight. But there are no major problems for the Big Red — only a difficult schedule that has presented Ivy League powers Yale and Penn in their last two games.

Women's track competes in first Dogwood Relays

By JENNIFER MARTEN
Sports Writer

The women's track team is venturing into new territory again this weekend. This time, they make their first trip to the annual Dogwood Relays in Knoxville, Tennessee.

The two-day meet will showcase the talents of some of the top teams from the South.

For the Irish, the runners to watch will be the freshmen. LaRice Waters, a Knox­ville native, will represent the Irish in the 100 yard dash. Other freshmen to watch will be Ashley Price running the 200 meter dash and Kristin Stovall running the 400.

In the distance events, senior Jenny Ledwick, junior Diane Bradley, and sophomore Lisa Gays will all be looking to turn in strong performances. Ledwick placed third in the 3000 meter event last weekend, Bradley and Gays finished fifth and sixth respectively in the mile.

Sophomore Karen Harris will represent the Irish in the shot put, the javelin, and the discus events after a very strong showing at the meet last weekend.

Bucks 111, Celtics 92

MILWAUKEE — Fred Roberts scored 26 points and Frank Brickowski added 22 as Milwaukee beat Boston 111-92 to move into the Eastern Conference’s No. 3 playoff spot.

The Celtics played without Larry Bird, who was out with back spasms. Kevin McHale scored 16 points and Brian Shaw 15.

Milwaukee's Adrian Dantley moved past Elgin Baylor into ninth place on the NBA career scoring list. Dantley scored seven points, giving him 23,152 for his 14-year career.

Boston got within seven points in the third quarter before Milwaukee's Jay Humphries scored nine of his 17 points in the fourth quarter to give the Bucks an 11-point lead. They led by as many as 18 early in the final period.

Lakers 110, Jazz 95

INGLEWOOD, Calif. — Magic Johnson scored 31 points, 12 rebounds and 15 assists as Los Angeles won its sixth straight game.

Usha used a 15-2 surge late in the third quarter to cut a 15-point deficit to two. But Johnson made five straight free throws at the start of the final period, giving Los Angeles a 7-8-9-9 lead with 10-45 remaining. The Jazz got no closer than six points the rest of the way.

The force behind their consistent game plan is Cornell coach Richie Moran, who sports a 228-68 record in his 23rd season with the Big Red. Cornell owns three national championships under Moran, no Cornell team has produced a non-winning season.

Junior Matt Sullivan tied his own Irish record of 11 for his week with nine points against Denison. Sullivan leads the Irish offensively with 19 goals and 17 assists. Sophomore midfielder Brian Mayglothling, who carried a .348 shooting percentage into tomorrow's game, has 16 goals, followed by junior attackman Brian Schlief with 15. Senior midfielder John Capano has scrambled his way to 58 ground balls on the season, tops for Notre Dame. Senior defensemen Pete Gillin follows with 39.

For the second time in as many games, sophomore Pat Finn will start in goal for the Irish, replacing Chris Parent, who started the first seven games.

"I have confidence that they both can do the job," said Corrigan.

Cornell, which scored eight goals in the fourth quarter last year to beat the Irish 14-0, has a balanced offensive attack, similar to those of past years.

The Irish are aware that Cornell has many scoring threats and will take advantage of their mistakes.

"Offensively they do a good job of sharing the ball," said Corrigan. "They run a motion offense where they pick and cut and that makes them hard to defend."

Although the Irish are playing a nationally-ranked opponent, don't expect them to be hesitant in implementing their game plan.

The Kings had 11 blocked shots in the first half.

Lionel Simmons had 19 points and 12 rebounds for the Kings as Sacramento improved to 22-16 at home and 23-53 overall, matching last season's victory total despite a record-tying 34 straight losses. Scott Skiles had 21 points for the Magic.

Warriors 111, Rockets 99

OAKLAND, Calif. — Golden State made all 33 of its free throws Saturday night to continue besting in NBA history, and broke open a close game in the fourth quarter by intentionally fouling Houston's Larry Smith, who missed six straight foul shots.

The Kings made all 33 of their point shots in the first half.

Lionel Simmons had 19 points and 12 rebounds for the Kings as Sacramento improved to 22-16 at home and 23-53 overall, matching last season's victory total despite a record-tying 34 straight losses. Scott Skiles had 21 points for the Magic.
Women's tennis looks to rebound

By RICH SZABO
Sports Writer

The top competition in the country is what the Notre Dame women's tennis team has faced all year, and as the team closes out the 1991 spring season, their final weekend will be no different.

Having already played 10 teams ranked or receiving votes in the current top-25 poll, the Irish (15-8) close out the year traveling east to Knoxville to challenge 13th-ranked Tennessee and Wake Forest.

Last weekend, the Irish dropped two heartbreakers, both by 5-4 scores, to BYU and Utah, who are ranked ahead of ND. Earlier this week, the Irish rebounded back from the losses to defeat Western Michigan by a 5-1 count, in preparation for their final two contests of the season.

"We really could have won both the BYU and Utah matches," said Irish coach Jay Louderback. "All the matches were very close, and we have to win some of the tight ones. We played well at Western Michigan, but the match was tougher than the score indicated as three of the matches went three sets."

The Irish have compiled an admirable 15-8 record against some of the best teams in the country. All of the losses came against teams in the top-25 or now ranked in the Top 12. The newest rankings, out this week, have the Irish at 24th, dropping down one spot. Individually, first-singles player Tracy Barton fell from 25th to 39th, and Melissa Harris dropped from 42nd to 47th. The first two doubles tandem of Barton and Christy Faustmann dropped from 15th to 19th.

Even with the recent losses and drops in the rankings, the Irish will have a chance to prove themselves one last time this weekend. Tennessee is a strong contender to make the NCAA tournament, and Wake Forest, like Notre Dame, is a team on the bubble. Strong showings this week could help both the team and Barton and Harris as individuals.

Said Barton, "We were so close in Utah that we have to keep a positive attitude. It would be great if we could win these two matches. This year has been hard. We've had a much tougher schedule, and it is easy to get overwhelmed. Every match turns out to be tough."

"The injuries have hurt," continued Barton. "I've had a sore elbow that (Clark) is out with back problems, and Christy (Faustmann) had mono. We have never really had everyone at full strength at the same time. Being in the top 25, it is interesting to see how the season will play out."

The Irish play Tennessee on Friday and then take on Wake Forest on Saturday. Both matches are at the University of Tennessee.

Once the season is over, the Irish can look back at their accomplishments and wait until late April to see if they will make the NCAA tournament field.

Louderback said, "We played extremely well against BYU and Utah. If we can play like we did then, we'll have a shot at winning both matches. It would be nice to finish this season on a strong note."

Detroit doubleheader next challenge for softball team

By JIM VOGL
Sports Writer

Women's Notre Dame softball coach Brian Boulac anticipates very competitive action in his team's double header this Saturday in Detroit.

The Lady Titans enter the contest with a 16-10 record and are among the top contenders to win the Midwestern Collegiate Conference.

"To me, Detroit is the team to beat in the conference," said Boulac.

The Irish hope to extend their lead in the series with Detroit, which stands at 3-2 after a pair of pivotal 3-0 victories last season.

Last season, Notre Dame broke the Lady Titans' streak of three MCC crowns, as Detroit placed third behind the Irish this season. The Irish are 6-0 in MCC action, while Detroit has yet to play a conference game.

The Lady Titans return seven letter-winners from last year's 33-18 squad, led by two of last year's All-MCC players—Junior third baseman Stefanie Hayes and senior outfielder Jaiqi Fits. Fits leads the MCC with 18 stolen bases in 24 games. Junior first baseman Debbie Halukowicz tops the MCC in both batting average (.408) and RBI (18).

The pitching staff is led by junior Teresa Emary, who boasts a 2.95 record and a 2.03 ERA in 10 starts. Keiran Boulic with last year's performance.

Emary has been the mainstay the Irish pitching staff, having pitched both two years and is an excellent control pitcher, Boulac.

The Irish and Lady Titans match up well as a team. Detroit is fifth overall in the conference and ranks 10th among teams participating and I expect the field to be no different. We have never really had everyone at full strength at the same time. Being in the top 25, it is interesting to see how the season will play out."

The Irish play Tennessee on Friday and then take on Wake Forest on Saturday. Both matches are at the University of Tennessee.

Once the season is over, the Irish can look back at their accomplishments and wait until late April to see if they will make the NCAA tournament field.

Louderback said, "We played extremely well against BYU and Utah. If we can play like we did then, we'll have a shot at winning both matches. It would be nice to finish this season on a strong note."

Irish men's track heads south for Tennessee's Dogwoods

By LYNNE BRAGG
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame men's track and field team travels to Knoxville, Tennessee this weekend to compete in the annual Dogwood Relays. The Irish team did not compete in the meet last year, but Coach Joe Piane is now looking forward to his team competing this year.

"I think this is an excellent meet for our kids to experience," Piane says. "It gives them some opportunities to meet some top athletes before they race in the Central Collegiates (May 4) and the ICAAAs (May 18-19). The meet has been traditionally strong with SEC teams participating and I expect the field to be no different this year."

Notre Dame has already qualified several members to compete in the ICAAAs competition. Among these are junior Raghib Ismail (100 meters), sophomore Mike O'Connor (800 meters), and senior Scott Vandenberg (400 meters). Ismail is a pro- nessional NCAA qualifier, which means he may participate in the NCAA meet at the close of this season.

The men's track team enters Knoxville off boasting their first outdoor meet this season this past weekend. The Irish topped the men's competition with scores of 81 to St.John's, Drake, and Western Michigan. The Irish had a strong showing with great performances from, Ismail, Vandenberg, Pat Kearns, and Todd Herman, along with John Smerek.

The Irish have never really had everyone at full strength at the same time. Being in the top 25, it is interesting to see how the season will play out."

"Dick did a good job," Piane said. "He ran intelligently throughout the whole race and got the job done." Greg Mateo (pole vault), Todd Herman (high jump), and John Smerek (discus) all were eligible for the ICAAAs this past weekend. The men's track team is 2-0 this season this past weekend and hopes for several leaders this weekend.

"We're hoping to get good performances from O'Connor and Smerek in the meet this weekend, Ismail in the 100, and a handful of guys who will be competing in the high jump, discus and hammer events."

FREE TANNING

ATTENTION CAMPUS BANDS (not performing at NAZ)

THE STUDENT UNION BOARD MUSIC COMMISSION IS LOOKING FOR AN OPENING BAND FOR THE GUESS WHO SCHEDULED TO PLAY ON SATURDAY, APRIL 27.

DROP TAPES OF ORIGINALS TO BE JUDGED IN THE MUSIC COMMISSION MAILBOX IN THE SUB OFFICE ON THE SECOND FLOOR LAFORTUNE.

THE DEADLINE FOR ENTRIES IS FRIDAY, APRIL 12 AT 5PM.
Henderson falls short in bid for steal mark; Reds brawl

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Rickey Henderson was caught stealing and sliding up late in his main steal one steal shy of tying Lou Brock's all-time career stolen base record, and the Oakland Athletics defeated Minnesota 6-4.

Angels 5, Mariners 0

SEATTLE — Mark Langston, trying to rebound from the most disappointing season of his career, pitched six strong innings and the California Angels beat Seattle for a three-game sweep and their best start in 21 years.

Indians 6, Red Sox 4

BOSTON — Brook Jacoby drove in three runs and the Cleveland Indians spoiled the debut of Danny Darwin with a 6-4 win over the Red Sox.

Tigers 11, Yankees 5

DETROIT — Cecil Fielder drove in three runs and scored four times as the Detroit Tigers beat the New York Yankees.

Blue Jays 7, Brewers 3

TORONTO — Offseason acquisitions Devon White and Paul Carter continued the spark the Toronto offense and David Wells pitched eight strong innings.

National League Giants 11, Padres 9

SAN DIEGO — Will Clark and Kevin Mitchell hit RBI singles in the 10th inning as San Francisco recovered after blowing a six-run lead to beat San Diego 11-9.

Dodgers 4, Braves 2

ATLANTA — Ramon Martinez started his season with eight strong innings and Brett Butler had three hits as Los Angeles swept the two-game series.

Cardinals 5, Cubs 4

CHICAGO — Lee Smith retired Shawn Dunston on a fly ball with the bases loaded to end Chicago's two-run rally in the ninth.

Astros 4, Reds 1

CINCINNATI — Cincinnati fell out of first place for the first time in more than a year and tournament, meaning that each position has its own championship. For instance, the champion at fifth singles does not compete with anyone playing number-one singles, and there is a separate pool for the different positions.

After the Irish return from Tampa, they will face Michigan at home on Wednesday, their final home game of the season.

Henderson is looking for students interested in the paid position of Purchasing Agent.

Freshman and sophomore business majors interested in gaining valuable business and managerial experience which could possibly lead to promotion within the business department should contact Gil Gomez at 239-7471 for more information.

ROCKNE

continued from page 24

Four Notre Dame students stopped on the way to Tempe, Ariz., for the 1989 Fiesta bowl, at which the Fighting Irish won the national championship.

"While they were here," Sedy said in front of the monument, "one of them said, 'Fellas, don't you think we ought to say a prayer?' That really gets to you, four college guys saying a prayer in the middle of the parsley."

Prayers were said again at the monument on March 23, when the first memorial tribute to the crash victims took place. Sedy, the local historical society and the Chase County Leaders-hip-organized it.

They attracted 271 people, including Rockne's daughter (Mrs. Jean Kochendorfer of Tulsa), her son and grandchildren, and the children and grandchildren of John Happer, a sporting goods salesman on the flight.

Easter Heathman and Al Baker, the young man on horseback who went for the ambulance, told their stories, as did other witnesses. Mrs. Kochendorfer remarked on how nice it was that so many people came to pay tribute to the victims.

"She didn't say, '...to her father,'" Heathman said. "She said...for the people that perished.' I admired her for that.

Leah Brock, Rockne's daughter, was there, and so was her brother, the Rockne Memorial held vigil, dwarfed by the Flin Hills, but no less permanent.
Nicklaus masterful in first round of prestigious tournament

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus sent a message to Nick Faldo.

It was a 4-under-par 68 that said, clear as could be, "Not yet Nick. I’m not yet quite ready to relinquish the mantle, the Masters."

Faldo, 51, a six-time winner and four-time runner-up in golf’s annual rite of spring, led a list of old folks who rose up to challenge Faldo’s march to Masters history on Thursday.

Nicklaus was joined by Tom Watson, Lanny Wadkins, Japan’s Jumbo Ozaki and U.S. Open champion Hale Irwin as potential roadblocks on Faldo’s path to an unprecedented third consecutive Masters title.

Wadkins, 41, Mark McCumber and Jim Gallagher were tied for the first-round lead with 5-under 67s.

Watson, 41, and Ozaki, 44, were with Nicklaus, Fred Couples and Jose Maria Olazabal at 68 after one trip around an unusually forgiving Augusta National Golf Club course that, according to Nicklaus, presented ‘awfully good scoring conditions.’

Generally considered the best player in golf today, Faldo is attempting to become the first man to win three consecutive Masters titles.

"I played good and didn’t make the most of it," Faldo tossed over his shoulder as he hurried through and out of the clubhouse.

He went to two under with a 12-15 foot eagle putt on the par-5 13th, but flopped a chip back to par after he missed the 18th green.

Phil Mickelson, the 20-year-old amateur sensation who won the Tucson Open earlier this season, was in a large group at 69 and became the first left-hander to ever break 70 in the Masters.

Mickelson, a two-time NCAA champion from Arizona State, is the current U.S. Amateur champion, played in a twosome with Faldo.

"I did pretty well just setting himself up," Mickelson said. "He’s not thinking of the whole tournament. That’s why he’s outclasses opponents."

Nicklaus said he told his wife "I have a feeling that if I don’t win this tournament Greg will. I’m really surprised he didn’t play better."

Faldo also was a little surprised by his own play.

"I didn’t hit a lot of good shots early on, but the ball just kept going in the hole," he said.

After pulling his drive into an adjacent fairway off the first tee, he lobbed an iron over the pine trees to within 5 feet and made the birdie putt. He scored from shorter range on the next, then chipped in from about 80 feet on the fourth.

"Some of it is a carry-over from last week," he said.

Nicklaus, now more a golden oldie than a Golden Bear, came into his 33rd Masters fresh from a victory on the Senior Tour last week.

And there’s no question he’s entertaining visions of becoming the only man to win on both tours in the same season.

"You can look at it as it might be your last chance to win a Masters," he said.

Wadkins, the first man off the tee, one-putted 11 times, romped around the course in 3 hours, 25 minutes and compiled the best score he’s ever had in this tournament.

It’s one stroke better than the closing 68 he had here a year ago, and prompted the jaunty Wadkins to comment: "If I can keep on improving a shot a day, I won’t have any trouble."

While that is something more than unlikely, Wadkins noted he was "putting better than I have since I’ve been on the tour."

Watson, who has two Masters championships to go with his five British Open titles, used a zebra putter for only the third or fourth time in his career in an attempt to cure the putting miseries that have plagued his try for a comeback from a four-season non-winning string.

And the comeback, he said, is nearly complete.

Just Chillin’ puts Team 179 on ice with 21-4 win; Paradise Jam wins

By RENE FERRA N

Associate Sports Editor

Just Chillin’, one of the top seeds in this year’s Bookstore Basketball tournament, cruised into the second round yesterday afternoon with a 21-4 victory over Team 179.

Even without 1990 second-team All-Bookstore member Ray Griggs, who was at football practice, Just Chillin’ took less than 20 minutes to dispose of its upset-minded opponent.

Senior Rich McGillicuddy scored eight points to lead a balanced attack for the victors.

"I think we looked good, but we haven’t played that much together yet," said junior Joe Fulton. "We have to develop some chemistry, because there are other teams that have better talent, and we need to compensate.

Their opponent in the next round is Armed and Dangerous, which behind the nine-point effort of Bill Lane, rolled to a 21-5 win over Box and One.

"We beat them, but they were a good scrimmage team, and they had a good system," said teammate Kevin Bugos.

The long run was not too long for Dead in the Long Run, first-round casualties to another of Team 664.

Senior Nicklaus masterful in first round of prestigious tournament

By RENE FERRA N

MONEY NOW!

PAY LATER!

MOVING - AUTO - SPENDING MONEY SECURITY DEPOSIT - WARDROBE

Seniors, when you graduate, you’ll have expenses and we would like to help! We have great rates on our loans and you repay the loan(s) only after you start work- money now, pay later! Bring your letter of employment when you apply to save time.

NEW AUTO-

9.75% APR, 60 months to repay, fixed rate.

YOU MAY QUALIFY FOR ANY OF THE FOLLOWING LOANS BASED ON YOUR SIGNATURE.

MCCARD - 16.92% APR, NO ANNUAL FEE for our first year as part of this special offer.

QUICK CASH-

13.25% APR, variable rate. To use this loan, you simply write a check! 9.1% APR, fixed rate, 12 months to repay. You must also have our Mastercard and line-of-credit.

Students with good credit or no credit at all qualify. No cosigner needed.

NOTRE DAME FEDERAL CREDIT UNION

Separate from the University

SUMMER STORAGE FOR STUDENTS

High St. Storage — 1212 High St. — 286-3957

A deposit will hold your storage unit

Hurry Now - Spaces are going fast!
Bruins defeat Hartford after fluke Bourque score

(AP) -- It's the simplest play in hockey. The defenseman crosses the red line, shoots the puck into the opposition's zone and his forwards chase after it. Sometimes they get it, sometimes the defenders clear the zone.

And once in a while, something strange happens — like it did for the Boston Bruins on Thursday night in Game 5 of their Adams Division semifinal series against Hartford.

Boston defenseman Ray Bourque went to shoot the puck into the zone early in the third period. Instead, his shot hit his own defender and triggered a six-goal outburst as the Bruins rolled to a 6-1 win and a 3-2 lead in the series.

"That's the first time I've ever scored a goal like that. I've scored a goal like that usually the defenders clear the puck across the red line. It slid toward the right wing, played most of the game as if he had a sore leg. But he turned on the speed in the overtime when he took Guy Savard's pass and beat Clint Malarchuk on a breakaway at 2:56."

"That was probably the biggest goal ever," said Curtiinall, who scored his second career Stanley Cup overtime goal with 7:01 left in regulation broke a 2-2 tie.

"I don't feel like we're out of momentum," said Bourque. Bourque scored his second career Stanley Cup overtime goal and his fifth in the five games against Buffalo. "It was exciting. I felt bad because I didn't get the puck out of our zone and we took a penalty and they tied it up. I felt that was my fault and Larry Murphy scored early in the third period to tie the score. Pittsburgh outshot New Jersey 41-24, including 20-10 in the third period, but Chris Terreri made 39 saves.

Capitals 5, Rangers 4, OT

Dino Ciccarelli, coming off the worst season of his career, scored at 3:44 of overtime on the winning goal in New York as the Capitals moved within one victory of eliminating the Rangers for the second straight year.

Ciccarelli, who just had 21 goals in 54 games and none after Feb. 24, picked up a loose puck, circled out from behind the net and banked the puck off goaltender Mike Richter's stick.

"I just tried to get it on net," Ciccarelli said after scoring his 481st career playoff goal and third in overtime. "You never know what can happen. Richter is a great goalie and he was in the wrong place and I was fortunate."

SPORTS SHORTS

Wall Street traders big losers in NCAA pool

NEW YORK — What probably began as a friendly office pool on the NCAA basketball tournament ended up costing three Wall Street traders their jobs and left another worker $300,000 in debt.

Elaborate, high-stakes betting pools were set up at many Wall Street firms, where individual teams are assigned a share price based on their expected performance, then traded like stocks.

The gambling apparently got out of hand at Smith Barney, where three low-level bond trading employees were fired last week for "conduct inconsistent with the standards of the firm," spokesman BobConnor said.

A clerical assistant at PaineWebber resigned about the time the firm began an investigation into the NCAA pool, spokeswoman BeverlySpano said.

That employee reportedly sold Duke stock short, that is, sold stock that he did not own with the hope that the price would go down and he could make money.

The employee is not expected to be able to repay his $300,000 debt.

Basinger enlightens Dawgs

WATERTON, Ga. — Actress Kim Basinger returned to her hometown to dedicate a new lighting system at the tennis courts where her father and her brothers once played.

She told about 2,500 at a rally in the Waterton stadium Wednesday that she had only one thing to say before she dedicated the lights which she helped donate.

"I'm supposed to say, 'Turn on the lights.' But there's a phrase that goes with Georgia football, basketball, baseball and tennis that I want to say first — 'Go Dawgs.' Now, turn on the lights."
Friday, April 12, 1991

CAMPUS

Friday
9:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m. Workshop: "When Women Speak the Word of God," Kathleen Cannon, associate provost, Knott Hall. Sponsored by the Year of Women.
2 p.m. Piano recital: Adrian Daly, Annenberg Auditorium, Snite Museum.
7:30 and 9:45 p.m. Film: "Reversal of Fortune," Annenberg Auditorium, Snite Museum. Sponsored by the Notre Dame communication and theater department.

7:45-9 p.m. Keynote address: "Democratization in Global Perspective," Ronald Inglehart, department of political science, University of Michigan, Room C-103 Hesburg Center. Sponsored by the Kellogg Institute for International Studies.
8 and 10:30 p.m. Film: "Pump Up the Volume," Cushing Auditorium. Sponsored by the Student Union Board.

The Observer

CROSSWORD

ACROSS
1. "— of hurt minds": Shak
3. Stuff
5. Capital of White Russia
10. Jason's ship
14. Sector
15. Fragrance
16. Cordelia's father
17. Expensive
18. Syncope
19. Gentle soul
20. RAMES
23. Gulf of Yemen
24. Wood for ski and boats
25. Org. for A. J. Foyt
26. Three-year-old salmon
30. Stuff
33. Brilliant fish
34. Mr. —
35. What to give it
36. POOR PAL
37. Zadig
41. Banish
42. For — us a child...
43. " — rulers fount the —": Shak
45. Peter Rabbit's creator
51. A Norwegian king
53. Church calendar
54. Sisters
55. Casquette
56. Epic about the Trojan War

57. Stupefy
58. "Banners flout the —": Shak
59. "Vissi d'- —": Puccini aria
60. A Hawkins
61. A Best
62. He threw to Chance
63. He threw to Chance
64. Sea in Antarctica

DOWN
1. German bath
2. Olympic hawk
3. Sculpture by Michelangelo
4. Strolling Mexican musician
5. Stumble
6. Hands-up time
7. Kind of court to Islam's deity
8. Build
9. Earth is one
10. Bar at the bar
11. Government watchdog or g.
12. Legs, slangily
13. " — — in Darien": Keats
14. Sugar source
15. Bugaboo
16. Didn't exist
17. Marble
18. Day
19. Drive out evil spirits
20. Drive out evil spirits
21. Early but unsuccessful practical jokes
22. " — — in Damen": Keats
23. Bar at the bar
24. " — — in Damen": Keats
25. Bar at the bar
26. Bar at the bar
27. " — — in Damen": Keats
28. " — — in Damen": Keats
29. Bar at the bar
30. " — — in Damen": Keats
31. Bar at the bar
32. Bar at the bar
33. Bar at the bar
34. Bar at the bar
35. Bar at the bar
36. Bar at the bar
37. Bar at the bar
38. Bar at the bar
39. Bar at the bar
40. Bar at the bar
41. Bar at the bar
42. Bar at the bar
43. Bar at the bar
44. Bar at the bar
45. Bar at the bar
46. Bar at the bar
47. Bar at the bar
48. Bar at the bar
49. Bar at the bar
50. Bar at the bar
51. Bar at the bar
52. Bar at the bar
53. Bar at the bar
54. Bar at the bar
55. Bar at the bar
56. Bar at the bar
57. Bar at the bar
58. Bar at the bar
59. Bar at the bar
60. Bar at the bar
61. Bar at the bar
62. Bar at the bar
63. Bar at the bar
64. Bar at the bar
65. Bar at the bar
66. Bar at the bar
67. Bar at the bar
68. Bar at the bar
69. Bar at the bar
70. Bar at the bar
71. Bar at the bar
72. Bar at the bar
73. Bar at the bar
74. Bar at the bar
75. Bar at the bar
76. Bar at the bar
77. Bar at the bar
78. Bar at the bar
79. Bar at the bar
80. Bar at the bar
81. Bar at the bar
82. Bar at the bar
83. Bar at the bar
84. Bar at the bar
85. Bar at the bar
86. Bar at the bar
87. Bar at the bar
88. Bar at the bar
89. Bar at the bar
90. Bar at the bar
91. Bar at the bar
92. Bar at the bar
93. Bar at the bar
94. Bar at the bar
95. Bar at the bar
96. Bar at the bar
97. Bar at the bar
98. Bar at the bar
99. Bar at the bar
100. Bar at the bar

In other words, this puzzle is still too hard...

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

DAMAN

MENU

Notre Dame
Corn Dusted Rolls
Fried Fish Boats
Broiled Haddock a la Mode
French Bread
Cheese Pizza

Saint Mary's
Herb Fried Chicken
Baked Fish
Jumbo Burger
Deli Bar

CALVIN AND HOBBES BILL WATTERSON

THE FAR SIDE GARY LARSON

SPELUNKER JAY HOSLER

April 12: Pump up the volume
April 13: Cartoon Night
8 p.m. and 10:30 p.m.
$2 admission
$1 popcorn

Sign-ups for Antostal Events
Last Day
4-6 p.m.
Sub Office, 2nd Floor LaFortune

STUDENT UNION BOARD
ND softball outlasts DePaul with two consecutive wins

By COQUESE WASHINGTON

Sports Editor

The afternoon air was a bit chilly, but that didn't prevent the Irish softball team from bouncing back from two defeats in a row to win two consecutive games at the Notre Dame Softball Field. The Irish, with a tough performance on their pitching and defense, swept DePaul to move to 5-2 this season and hold on to their schedule record up to 15-16.

Coach Brian Boulac was quite pleased with the afternoon's results.

"This is definitely a big win for us," he said. "It shows that we can compete with the good teams in our schedule, and hopefully this win will set the tone for the rest of our season." The Irish leader in wins and holder of a host of Irish pitching records, won the opener for the Irish, throwing nine strikeouts.

In the first inning of the opener, big plays came from two Irish freshman. A Blue Demon error allowed Carrie Miller to go to first. A sacrifice took her to second, and a single by Christy Conner placed runners on second and third. A double steal by the duo brought home two runs, giving the Irish the only run of the game, while Conner was thrown out at the second.

Irish upperclassmen took over the remainder.

Missy Linn, the all-time Notre Dame leader in wins and holder of a host of Irish pitching records, won the opener for the Irish.

"This win will set the tone for the rest of our season," said Boulac. "I'm pleased with the afternoon's performance on our pitching and defense." Missy and Staci both pitched out of the game, allowing only one DePaul player while striking out four.

Our pitching was outstanding today," praised Coach Boulac. "Missy and Staci both pitched the afternoon air was a bit chilly, but that didn't prevent the Irish softball team from bouncing back from two defeats in a row to win two consecutive games at the Notre Dame Softball Field. The Irish, with a tough performance on their pitching and defense, swept DePaul to move to 5-2 this season and hold on to their schedule record up to 15-16.

Coach Brian Boulac was quite pleased with the afternoon's results.

"This is definitely a big win for us," he said. "It shows that we can compete with the good teams in our schedule, and hopefully this win will set the tone for the rest of our season." The Irish leader in wins and holder of a host of Irish pitching records, won the opener for the Irish, throwing nine strikeouts.

In the first inning of the opener, big plays came from two Irish freshman. A Blue Demon error allowed Carrie Miller to go to first. A sacrifice took her to second, and a single by Christy Conner placed runners on second and third. A double steal by the duo brought home two runs, giving the Irish the only run of the game, while Conner was thrown out at the second.

Irish upperclassmen took over the remainder.

Missy Linn, the all-time Notre Dame leader in wins and holder of a host of Irish pitching records, won the opener for the Irish.

"This win will set the tone for the rest of our season," said Boulac. "I'm pleased with the afternoon's performance on our pitching and defense." Missy and Staci both pitched out of the game, allowing only one DePaul player while striking out four.

Our pitching was outstanding today," praised Coach Boulac. "Missy and Staci both pitched

Men's tennis team optimistic about MCC tournament

By RICH KURZ

Associate Sports Editor

The 19th-ranked Notre Dame men's tennis team gets a reprieve from its grueling schedule of top-25 opponents this weekend when it travels to St. Louis to compete in the Midwestern Collegiate Conference championships.

"We're in the CC. We should go out there and win the conference because we're the best team," said junior Mark Heathman.

In the past two years, the Irish have captured the MCC championships. Both of those years the Irish have won six singles titles and all three doubles crowns, while Baylis has garnered coach of the year honors in those two years.

All the same, Notre Dame is taking the most too seriously, since the upcoming dual meets with Ball State, Michigan and Wisconsin will be more crucial for Irish hopes of an NCAA tournament berth.

"(The meet) important, we want to do well," said Baylis. "If we win the MCC, we're champs, but it doesn't do anything for us. There's no automatic bid."

"So in that spirit, Baylis has elected to rest some of his top players who could use the time off," Heathman said. "Third ranked in the nation is singles, will stay home for this weekend. Andy Zurcher, who injured his hand against Duke, will give that hurt additional time to heal, while senior Ryan Wensel is sitting out the MCC's to take the dental school entrance exams.

David's (Bilucia) back is 100%, but this is the kind of thing you don't want to risk, said Baylis.

"Zurcher's hand isn't quite ready," continued Baylis. "He fell on it at Duke, and it swelled up. It's definitely warmer for gas and movie tickets."

The man, Heathman said, stared at Rockne. "He kept saying 'That guy looks familiar to me. I ought to know him.'" Heathman said.

Rockne wore a rubber bandage around his right leg to help combat the phlebitis that had endangered his life. Heathman remembered a body being carried to an ambulance by stretcher. A rubber bandage trailed the stretcher through the mud. Heathman picked up his wife did not know what he had done with it."

Later that week, Mrs. Christen, searching for some of her husband's papers, discovered the money in a lock box.

In the days following the crash, local residents placed a large flint rock at the entrance to the site for several days to stop souvenir hunters. The sheriff posted deputies at the site for several days to de-arrange for some of his husband's papers, discovered the money in a lock box.

In the days following the crash, local residents placed a large flint rock at the entrance to the site for several days to stop souvenir hunters. The sheriff posted deputies at the site for several days to de-arrange for some of his husband's papers, discovered the money in a lock box.

In the days following the crash, local residents placed a large flint rock at the entrance to the site for several days to stop souvenir hunters. The sheriff posted deputies at the site for several days to de-
Notre Dame Baseball Celebrates A Century
IRISH BASEBALL

Irish baseball celebrates first 100 years

Grueling road schedule tiring; quest for respect rolls onward

By JENNIFER MARTEN
Sports Writer

They were 46-12 last year, they had the third best record in the nation, but they were not invited to the NCAA's. The Irish's baseball team had not been.

Now, they are back with a vengeance. Their motto for the Arizona. Starting out the season with probably the most grueling schedule in college baseball—27 straight road games against college baseball powerhouse such as Texas, Louisiana State, and Stanford—just to prove that they could play with the big names.

The Irish began their season in February at the Oakland A's tournament in Phoenix, Arizona. Starting out the season on the right track, the team defeated Dartmouth and Nebraska.

The Nebraska win was a big victory for the Irish. It marked the first time in Notre Dame baseball history that they had beaten a Big Eight team. The Irish lost a heartbreaker, 12-11, against eleventh-ranked Ohio State.

The Irish began to take its toll on the Irish 7-3. Minnesota also won 6-5.

In front of the home crowd, Washington came up short against the streaking Irish. The Irish lost their game sweep and ended the extremely successful break on a high note.

The wear and tear of the never-ending road games began to take its toll on the team. After a fifteen hour bus trip to Virginia, the Irish lost two out of three to the Cavaliers. The Irish lost the game 6-1, won the second 12-0 and lost the final game 2-5.

It was not the best way to head into one of the college baseball's best tournaments, the College Classic in Minneapolis, where Notre Dame faced Minnesota, UCLA and the College World champion Stanford.

Stanford entered the eighth inning trailing Notre Dame, but came back from behind to defeat the Irish 7-3. Minnesota also mounted a comeback effort in the late innings to beat the Notre Dame squad. UCLA perpetuated the Irish losing streak with a 6-3 victory.

"At that point in the season, we thought it was all that bad," said Murphy. "We have not been beaten in a game yet. We've been pumped to play Notre Dame. We've been pumped to play any team, and we have not won any games.

"Because we play such a big schedule beforehand and because we are Notre Dame, everyone is gunning for us," said the Irish coach. "They are pumped to play Notre Dame. Everywhere we go, we are the marked team.

Nonetheless, the baseball team is enjoying continued success in the conference and in the opening weeks of the season. Defense, baserunning and pitching are all improving with every game.

Each individual player has made contributions to the team and its success. In different games, different players have risen up to lead the team to victory whether it be offensively, defensively, or on the mound. The Notre Dame baseball squad is a team first and individual players second.

Their strategy is simple. "We work hard to get better every day so that we'll be prepared and be able to attain our goals," said junior pitcher Joe Binkiewicz.

Baseball is a game of wins and losses, executions and errors, good breaks and bad breaks. The Irish baseball team has had its share of both the good and the bad on their season-opening road trip.

Murphy continued from page 4

Chief among those schools was Claremont-Mudd Scripps, where his teams compiled a 45-44-1 record over two seasons.

At the end of that second season at Claremont, Murphy finally got his chance. One of the brothers of a Claremont student was a baseball player at Notre Dame, and when Irish coach Larry Gallo resigned at the end of the 1987 season, that player gave Murphy a call.

"First thing the next morning, Murphy was on the phone with then-athletic director Gee Corrigan. His aggressiveness on the telephone earned him an interview, and after the interview with Murphy, Corrigan ended the search for a new baseball coach at Notre Dame.

Ten years and four rejection letters (from the admissions office) later, Pat Murphy had achieved his goal. He was offered the job at Notre Dame and accepted. He was the baseball coach of the team that plays in the shadow of the Golden Dome.

Since that time, Murphy hasn't exactly rested on his laurels. In his first three seasons, Murphy's Irish teams have gone

Cover photo by Kenneth Osgood
Production by Lisa Bourbon
Design by Lisa Eaton

Irish pitching ace David Sinnes is one gear in Pat Murphy's finely tuned starting rotation.

Conference play opened a week later at Evansville. The Axes, who won the Midwestern Collegiate Conference tournament last year, managed to steal two of four games from the Irish.

Conference play is a no-win situation for the Notre Dame, said Murphy. First, the MCC does not have an automatic bid to the NCAA's. Second, the other teams in the conference get to play one of the fastest rising programs in the country, the Irish.

"We can't play such a big schedule beforehand and be so good," said Murphy. "We have not been beaten in a game yet. We've been pumped to play Notre Dame. Everywhere we go, we are the marked team.

Nonetheless, the baseball team is enjoying continued success in the conference and in the opening weeks of the season. Defense, baserunning and pitching are all improving with every game.

Each individual player has made contributions to the team and its success. In different games, different players have risen up to lead the team to victory whether it be offensively, defensively, or on the mound. The Notre Dame baseball squad is a team first and individual players second.

Their strategy is simple. "We work hard to get better every day so that we'll be prepared and be able to attain our goals," said junior pitcher Joe Binkiewicz.

Baseball is a game of wins and losses, executions and errors, good breaks and bad breaks. The Irish baseball team has had its share of both the good and the bad on their season-opening road trip.

Murphy says he has had "numerous college offers," because, they say, "they know I'm young and stupid. I'd run through a brick wall for someone.

As for now, though, he says "I really have no plans. I have too much to accomplish. I've only had three years of recruiting. We're just starting to realize our potential."

Besides, there's still that mission thing. One gets the feeling that if the Notre Dame baseball team can approach their jobs with the same tenacity their coach showed in getting to Notre Dame, the Irish baseball program will have plenty of rewards to reap in the coming years.
Talent-laden Irish look ahead to Xavier, NCAA’s

By RICH SZABO
Sports Writer

While the football and baseball programs seem to steal the spotlight at Notre Dame, another Irish sports team has quietly established itself as a national powerhouse.

Since Pat Murphy took over the head-coaching duties in 1988, the Notre Dame baseball team has seen tremendous success.

After going 27-22 in Murphy’s first year, the Irish followed with a 48-19-1 season, an NCAA tournament birth and a 46-12 season last year. That was the fourth-highest winning percentage in Division 1 (.793), yet the Irish were snubbed by the selection committee. Every year, the team has played better competition and maintained their strong record.

This weekend will mark the first home games for the Irish after 27 road contests to start off the season. Notre Dame (15-12) hosts doubleheaders against Xavier on Saturday and Sunday. Both doubleheaders will start at noon and all the games will be played at Jake Kline Field.

“We played a murderous 27-game schedule,” said Murphy, “against the nation’s best, all on the road. It has been very strenuous on the players. Now it is time for us to come home and get in a rhythm.”

MCC conference play begins with the Xavier series this weekend. Notre Dame dominated the East Division last year and ended up with a sparkling 27-5 record in the conference.

Murphy said, “All the conference opponents come in here gunning for us. They have everything to gain and nothing to lose. If we are not up, we are asking for anybody this year.”

This Irish team is loaded with talent, returning eight starters from last year. Sophomore Eric Danapilis (.330BA, 20RBI, 3HR this season) and senior Frank Jacobs (2.69BA, 1981, 8RBI, 8HR) anchor the Irish offense. Pat Leahy and David Sinnes, All-Americans as freshmen last year, along with freshman sensation Tom Price, lead the pitching staff.

With such a brutal schedule, the Irish have managed a 15-12 record. After being ranked 15th in the preseason, the team has fallen out of the top 25, but Murphy is not concerned.

“It’s difficult at times,” said Murphy, “because when we lose a few, it plays on the mind. You have to make a mental adjustment and not worry about your record. Rankings don’t mean a whole lot in college baseball until the end. I look for this team to get into the regionals and do great things.”

Danapilis added, “It’s been a little frustrating, but the schedule has bettered us. The travel has been rough, both physically and academically, but we don’t make excuses. We want to play the best teams to see how good we are. To be the best, you have to play the best.”

The coach had these Murphyisms to offer about Notre Dame baseball:

• On Danapilis - “Eric is a mainstay on our offense and has also come out of the bullpen for saves. He is a future All-American and a great asset to our team.”

• On Layson - “Greg has decided that he wants to be a great ballplayer. He’s a real exciting player to watch and has been unbelievable in the field.”

• On Frank Jacobs - “Frank is definitely the best power in college baseball. He’ll be the all-time Notre Dame leader in home runs in only three years. He’s a fun one to watch and can change the course of a game with just one play.”

• On Cowleski Stadium - “It is one of the nicest facilities in the country, but it is not ours. If we had a facility on campus that could satisfy the students, then I think there would be more awareness. People don’t realize we have one of the best teams in the country.”

The second half of the season begins against the Xavier Musketeers this weekend, who are coming off an 18-30 season in 1991. In addition to all their Midwest Collegiate Conference foes, the Irish will be hosting non-conference games against Iowa State, Michigan and Michigan State in the midwest.

“We took on a purposefully murderous schedule,” said Murphy, “just so we could prove to the NCAA committee that they made a mistake by not taking us last year. We’ve developed from an average team in the midwest to one of the top teams in the country. Baseball used to be just an afterthought around here for many years and now these kids have got people turning their heads.

“Exciting.”

The Irish may have a young second baseman in Greg Layson, but he is also a good one.

Layson, a freshman from San Diego, has made quite an impact already. He is third on the team in batting average, at .297. Layson has scored 15 runs and batted in 14.

Greg primarily has been a leadoff hitter, batting first in 12 games. He is valuable in the leadoff spot because of his abilities as a switch-hitter, although he is a natural right-handed batter.

“I’ve changed styles hitting left-handed,” explains Layson. “Coach Murphy has been working with me. I’ve been trying to make more contact, going with the pitch and not trying to pull it. The change is really making me a smaller strike zone.”

Greg feels his left-handed hitting is one of the major points he is trying to improve on. Along with better hitting, he is trying to improve his speed out of the batters box. A combination of better hitting and improved speed should help Layson to an even better on-base percentage.

As far as Greg’s strengths go, he thinks that defense is his most important part of the game.

“I try to focus on my defense,” said Layson. “It’s my best asset.”

This season already has been an exciting one for the freshman. With a big win at LSU and being named top the All-Tourney team at the College Baseball Classic in Seattle, Layson has already had a great season.

“You’re just real glad to be a part of the team,” said Layson. “This is what you dream of in high school, playing with the big teams. It was just great to play against LSU. Wishing was icing on the cake. And playing at the Kingdome was a kid’s dream. It was really exciting to play in a major league park, in a major league atmosphere.”

Greg also is happy to be here at Notre Dame. Being from San Diego, he was not sure whether he would like it here or not.

“I was apprehensive at first,” explained Layson. “But I love it here now. I love putting on the uniform and playing for coach Murphy.”

It was not just baseball that brought Greg Layson to Notre Dame, however.

“It was an academic choice,” stated Layson. “I wanted the education. If I wanted to just play baseball, I could have entered the draft and played in the minors. I enjoy the challenge of the academics here.”

For Layson, the best is yet to come. He believes that the team is not playing their best ball, but are progressing.

“Everyday we’re improving,” said Layson. “That’s what games and practice should do. At the end of the season we’ll be at our best. I’m just trying to do my part.”
Maisano keeps hitting Slump doesn't stop slugger

By DAVE McMAHON
Associate Sports Editor

His physical features don't evoke thoughts of a sleek-footed base stealer. But base stealing isn't his forte. For sophomore designated hitter Adam Maisano, the only duty he carries involving crushing baseballs in a way that simply has to be believed.

"It's unbelievable that a kid that heavy and with such short arms can have the kind of bat that he has," said Irish baseball coach Pat Murphy. All 5'8", 240, the sophomore from Atlanta, Ga., has overcome a heavy burden that has been a part of him since his high school days.

"My physical features don't exactly epitomize those of an average baseball player," said Maisano, who cracked out a .333 batting average as a pinch hitter and designated hitter during his high school days.

"Adam sometimes gets down on himself," said Murphy. "He's got as much courage as anyone on this campus. Currently in the midst of a slump that has seen his batting average linger around .200 mark, Maisano hopes a changed stance will combat his batting problems. Despite his offensive troubles of late, Maisano is tied for second on the squad with 19 RBI.

"Adam's been struggling a little bit lately, but when he's going good, he's as good as anybody around," said Murphy.

"He's going through a transition period right now where he's having to adjust to different pitching," said Murphy. "He's seeing so many breaking pitches, just like (Frank) Jacobs, that he starts getting away from his bread and butter pitch, the fastball. Now he's almost looking breaking ball and the fastball is beating him a little bit lately.

But with Murphy's guidance, when a problem arises a solution is close behind. In the past few days, Maisano has worked on closing his stance to try to keep from stepping up to the ball as much as he had been.

"Hopefully changing my stance will take care of some of the problems," said Maisano. "Just like any change, it'll take a while to get used to, but my ultimate goal is to contribute and hit well for the Irish for as long as I can."

"I'm not a vocal person during the game, so I try to get my enthusiasm through performance," said Murphy. "But base stealing and designated hitter during his high school days.

"When it was over, he would sneak into a dorm and sleep on the floor. Sometimes, I'd let the crowd interfere with his batting.

"A lot of times I'll hit better when I know people are saying stuff," said Maisano, a non­ scholarship player who played nose-to-nose with top pitching at heavyweight for Riverwood High School in Atlanta. "But even back to high school, I've heard just about everything. I just have to make sure I don't dwell on it and let it dictate my performance."

After facing unknown pitching staffs throughout his freshman year, word has gotten out that Maisano is a threat to be reckoned with.

"He's going through a transition period right now where he's having to adjust to different pitching," said Murphy. "He's seeing so many breaking pitches, just like (Frank) Jacobs, that he starts getting away from his bread and butter pitch, the fastball. Now he's almost looking breaking ball and the fastball is beating him a little bit lately.

But with Murphy's guidance, when a problem arises a solution is close behind. In the past few days, Maisano has worked on closing his stance to try to keep from stepping up to the ball as much as he had been.

"Hopefully changing my stance will take care of some of the problems," said Maisano. "Just like any change, it'll take a while to get used to, but my ultimate goal is to contribute and hit well for the Irish for as long as I can."

"I'm not a vocal person during the game, so I try to get my enthusiasm through performance," said Murphy. "But base stealing and designated hitter during his high school days.

"When it was over, he would sneak into a dorm and sleep on the floor. Sometimes, I'd let the crowd interfere with his batting.

"A lot of times I'll hit better when I know people are saying stuff," said Maisano, a non­ scholarship player who played nose-to-nose with top pitching at heavyweight for Riverwood High School in Atlanta. "But even back to high school, I've heard just about everything. I just have to make sure I don't dwell on it and let it dictate my performance."

Ultimately, baseball became the one sport left for Murphy. Shoulder surgery ruled out football, and "my boxing career ended because I got smart, and my basketball career ended because I couldn't run or jump." So baseball was the only sport left for him to pursue.

When it was time to apply to college, the first choice was obvious. There was only one problem. The University of Notre Dame didn't want Patrick Murphy as a student at the University.

Instead, Murphy eventually wound up at Florida Atlantic University as a pitcher, and then later bounced around the minor league systems of the Giants and Mariners, playing in the farm systems of the Giants and Padres, as well as with two independent teams.

He left minor-league ball to concentrate on coaching, keeping his mission in sight—to get to the University of Notre Dame.

Most of the positions he took in college baseball were designed to keep him in contention for the job as the Irish skipper.

"I worked at good academic schools, because I knew that's what Notre Dame would be looking for," says Murphy.

Man with a mission, Murphy manufacturing miracles at ND

By RICH KURZ
Associate Sports Editor

Pat Murphy is a man with a mission.

And right now, that mission is to get the Notre Dame baseball team to the top of the heap in college baseball. He doesn't have all that much farther to go.

After assuming his position as head baseball coach almost four years ago, Murphy took a team that wound up at .293 record, and turned it around to go 39-22 the very next year.

Since that time, Murphy has assembled a pitching staff composed of several potential All-Americans and a lineup consisting of hitters like Eric Danapailis and Frank Jacobs, and has Notre Dame baseball on the rebound.

"We're not far from the tip of the iceberg," says Murphy. "There's no question it's the best team by far since I've been here. It's just a matter of our record."

People see last year's 46-12 record and then attempt to judge this year's team against that standard, a move Murphy doesn't think is fair.

"When you play 12 teams in the top 25, and the first 27 games on the road, you're not going to have that type of record."

Coupled with the tough schedule, according to Murphy, the Irish are going through "a little bit of growing pains, and we're facing that 'Notre Dame thing.' Everybody's gunning for us since we're Notre Dame."

The fact is, for many years, Pat Murphy was one of those people gunning for Notre Dame. In a story that has been well-documented in such publications as Baseball America, among others, Murphy was an Irish fanatic since early in his youth.

"It was always my dream to be a student-athlete at Notre Dame," says Murphy.

"I used to hitchhike out to games, and tell my mom I was staying overnight at a friend's house," he said. Once he got out to South Bend, he would sneak into a dorm and sleep on a couch in the basement, or under the bleachers in the ACC. Then, once it was gametime, he would find some way to get into the game. When it was over, he would thumb a ride back to his home in upstate New York.

Interestingly enough, baseball wasn't even Murphy's favorite sport growing up. "My first loves were football, basketball, and boxing," he says. "Baseball was just something I did. Maybe because I was relaxed, I got better."

Eventually, baseball became the one sport left for Murphy. Shoulder surgery ruled out football, and "my boxing career ended because I got smart, and my basketball career ended because I couldn't run or jump." So baseball was the only sport left for him to pursue.