U.S. troops move north to scout sites for refugee camps

ISIKVEREN, Turkey (AP) — U.S. special forces helicoptered into northern Iraq on Wednes­day to begin scouting sites for Western-supervised camps. But hunger, disease and cold took an ever-mounting toll of lives at the sprawling camps along the Turkish border.

About 80,000 of Iraq's 4 million Kurds have fled Turkey and its border and nearly 1.5 million others have sought safety in Iran and along its frontier, according to the latest estimates.

The Iraqi News Agency quoted Iraq's foreign minister, Ahmed Hussein Khudayyar al­-Sammaraei, as saying it was "unnecessary" for allied troops to protect the refugees because Iraq had agreed to cooperate with U.N. relief efforts for the Kurds.

But U.S. officials said they didn't expect Iraq to interfere with the foreign troops. If Baghdad wants U.N. permission to sell nearly $1 billion in oil to buy emergency food and other supplies, it will have to cooperate with the Kurdish re­gime, the officials said.

By BRADLEY GALKO

Intelligence played major role in the Gulf War, says CIA director Webster

The Observer Thursday, April 18, 1991

THE INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER SERVING NOTRE DAME AND SAINT MARY'S

The Observer Staff Report

A group of 60 students staged a day-long sit-in Wednesday in the Registrar's office demanding open negotiation with University President Father Edward Malloy regarding the demands raised by members of Students United for Respect (SUFIR).

The sit-in, held on the first floor of the Administration Building, began at 8 a.m. and ended just after 7 p.m.

Throughout the day, the sit-in attracted upwards of 150 black, white, and Hispanic demonstrators outside and inside the office, complete with blankets, pillows, radios, and often chanting, "What do we want? Respect. When do we want it? Now."

Demonstrators bore signs that read, "God is not color blind," and "No quememos, more humanitarias," which is Spanish for "We don't want to suffer/SUFIR anymore."

After almost 12 hours of discussion and negotiation, the students agreed to leave the office. A smaller group of students, under the auspices of Student Government, were scheduled to meet with Malloy in his room at 12:30 a.m. today.

SUFIR said they planned to return to the office at 7:30 a.m. today in the 24-hour lounge of LaForte Student Center. After dis­cussing the meeting with Malloy, the group would decide whether to stage another sit-in today.

Students want Malloy's

Attention

"We want immediate negotia­tions with core members of SUFR and the administration," said Manuel Espino, junior. "We chose to stage the sit-in in the Registrar's office because it is more visible. monk's (Malloy's) office on the third floor would not be as visible."

SUFIR timeline / page 6

SUFIR conference / page 6

Prof's reaction / page 7

The sit-in was planned as a peaceful event to impress upon Malloy the group's desire to meet with him. "We are in no way trying to incite any vio­lence," said Michele Cage, ju­nior. "We don't think that ask­ing for a meeting with Malloy during regular office hours is too much to ask."

Espino said that he believes the University has made progress in cultural diversity, but that the progress has come "very slowly." "They have to make cultural diversity a priority," added Azikwe Chandler, sophomore.

Kenneth Burgans, director of Minority Student Affairs, de­clined to comment on the sit-in.

According to Joe Wilson, stu­dent senator and SUFR mem­ber, the students are dissatis­fied with the commitment made by the University to address their original demands, issued Jan. 21.

SUNNING or studying?

Warm sun brought hopes of a tan to this Student's student.

Mary's student.

"No color, no creed," said Maureen Ebben studies in front of Haggar Center. The warm sun brought hopes of a tan to this Student's student.

Students United for Respect...
GRIPES AND COMPLAINTS ABOUT ANYTHING

Like any Notre Dame student, I have my occasional gripes and complaints about this place. Unlike most Notre Dame students, however, I’m not content with laying them on my roommates and friends. Furthermore, I have the resources to let the entire campus know about them.

• Why can’t someone get species food on this campus after 1:00 a.m.? It only makes sense for the Oak Room or the Huddle to be open past one. Most college students, myself included, stay up past one o’clock. And some of us happen to get hungry after those venerable institutions have closed and have to resort to stealing our roommate’s car (which he doesn’t let any of us drive) while he’s sound asleep and going to Azar’s. Hey, University Food Services, get on the ball and keep a place to get food open a little later.

• While on the issue of food on this campus, why do the dining halls find it so difficult to keep certain items, like yogurt, for example, cold? Personally, I don’t particularly enjoy warm yogurt, and an informal survey of others up here at The Observer found that about one in every ten likes yogurt warm. And really, how difficult can it be to keep yogurt cold?

• Being a Philadelphia native maybe I’m a little biased, but these balls of grease the Whiz Kids just make my stomach turn. If only I could make these brothers in Pat’s Steaks on South Philadelphia, maybe I could convert them to my way of thinking. Until then, I’m doomed to turn my head in disgust whenever they serve those damn cheesesteaks.

• When is the administration going to do something about the state of WVFI? I’m a DJ on the station and I can’t pull in the signal. The station is investigating a switch to FM, a move that is desperately needed.

• Bookstore: Hey folks, this whole tournamnent for fun. There is nothing wrong with some healthy competition, but when teams start throwing cheap shots and whining about needing to win, it is just an usual the attitudes of the players.

• No one in this topic almost deserves a whole article, but I wouldn’t waste the space on it. There is no single correct way to think on a topic. To insist that there is smacks of autocarcy. Basically, being politically correct is not intellectually, morally, or ethically correct.

• I know I should expect this, being so close to Chicago, but boy am I getting tired of Chicago sports teams, with the exception of the White Sox. The Sox are probably the only team in town that true sports fans in the city enjoy. It seems most of the rest of the teams (CUBS) get fans because it’s the trendy thing to do. And now, if the Sox keep doing well, they are going to attract a bandwagon. I fear for Chicago.

There, all better. Now before some of you blow a gasket, I’m just a crass reply (CUBS), RELAX! I don’t need any more worries; I just got all of them off my chest.

WEATHER REPORT

FORECAST: Warmer today highs in 60s. A chance of rain tonight. Lows in 40s. A 60 percent chance of rain Friday. Highs in 60s.

TEMPERATURES:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>City</th>
<th>M</th>
<th>L</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Dublin</td>
<td>48</td>
<td>35</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Beijing</td>
<td>50</td>
<td>30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>London</td>
<td>52</td>
<td>37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sydney</td>
<td>63</td>
<td>46</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tokyo</td>
<td>72</td>
<td>51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New Delhi</td>
<td>83</td>
<td>63</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New York</td>
<td>51</td>
<td>34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Paris</td>
<td>52</td>
<td>37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Buenos Aires</td>
<td>55</td>
<td>40</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>St Louis</td>
<td>77</td>
<td>50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>San Francisco</td>
<td>78</td>
<td>51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Taipei</td>
<td>75</td>
<td>63</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

WASHINGTON—Congress voted Wednesday night to cut a quick end to nationwide strike by 233,000 rail workers that threatened an already weak economy. A bill establishing a new emergency board to resolve the remaining disputes and impose a settlement in 65 days, was approved under special parliamentary procedures without dissent by the Senate after the House 400-5. Transportation Secretary Samuel Skinner, hoping strikers would be ordered to return to their jobs before Thursday’s working day. President Bush had left instructions to be awakened whenever the bill reaches the White House so that he could sign it. The administration and the nation’s major freight railroads asked Congress to impose the board’s recommendations intact, but Democrats bailed after union leaders said it would lead to job 20,000 losses.

Bush leads ‘Read-Aloud’ campaign

WASHINGTON—President Bush launched the “Great American Read-Aloud Day” a day early on Tuesday when he spent about 25 minutes reading to 1st first and second graders from Zachary Taylor elementary school in Arlington, Va., a Washington suburb. The reading included poems from Robert Louis Stevenson’s “Child’s Garden of Verses.” The reading initiative was organized by READAmerica, a non-profit organization in Shepshedtown, Va., that is developing a national coalition of family reading advocacy groups, and the American Library Association.

OF INTEREST

WHERE ARE YOU IN YOUR JOB SEARCH?” will be the title of a presentation given this evening by Career Placement Services. The topics will focus on various job search strategies. It will take place in the Sorin Room, La Fortune at 6:30 p.m.

Poetry and performance will be featured at the Grace Coffeehouse tonight at 7 p.m. Stephen Fredman’s English 497 class will present performance art with aspects of poetry, film, dance, and performance. An enthusiastic, open-minded, and participatory audience would be appreciated.

A commemorative concert of all-Mozart piano sonatas will be performed tonight at 8 p.m. by pianist William Cerny, Professor of Music at Notre Dame. It will be presented in the Annenberg Auditorium of the Notre Dame Museum. This recital is a tribute to Mozart during the bicentennial year of his death.

ISO Spring Picnic will be held April 19 starting at 4 p.m. at Holy Cross Field (in front of the Grotto). There will be lots of burgers and hot dogs, so stop by.

ON THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1775: Paul Revere began his famous ride from Charleston to Lexington, Mass., warning American colonists that the British were coming.

1934: The first jumbo, called a wasshater, opened in Fort Worth, Texas.

1949: The Irish republic was proclaimed.

1978: The U.S. Coast Guard to turn the Panama Canal over to Panamanian control on Dec. 31. 1999.

One year ago: The U.S. reported a trade deficit of $6.49 billion, the lowest imbalance in more than six years.
Holy Cross Sisters to be honored in May

Special to The Observer

The Congregation of the Sisters of the Holy Cross will be honored for its 150-year commitment to the field of education in a special presentation during commencement exercises at Saint Mary’s May 15.

Sister M. Thomas More, president of the congregation, will accept the honor, titled the Moreau Award, named after Father Basil Anthony Moreau, the founder of the Holy Cross congregation.

The award, which will be presented for the first time and only at the commencement, has been created in commemoration of the sesquicentennial of the congregation, which will be celebrated this summer.

“As the Sisters of the Holy Cross celebrate 150 years as a congregation, it is fitting and appropriate that Saint Mary’s, as the direct beneficiary of the sisters’ educational mission, acknowledge and praise the sisters’ endeavors during the last century-and-a-half,” said Saint Mary’s President William Hickey.

“This college has been inspired and perpetually enriched by the commitment of the sisters to the education of women, and we, as a college community, extend our deepest gratitude and heartiest congratulations to the sisters for a job well done,” Hickey said.

Father Moreau originally sent four Holy Cross sisters to northern Indiana in the middle of the 19th century-to take care of domestic, nursing and sacristy needs of the mission that Father Edward Moreau had established at what is now Notre Dame.

Sewing a need to educate the area’s children at a time when public schools were limited and often excluded females, the sisters opened their first school in Berrien, Mich., a few miles north of the present-day Saint Mary’s campus.

In 1855 the school, which by then was known as Saint Mary’s Academy, moved to Indiana, to the land along a plateau overlooking the St. Joseph River.

That same year, the sisters received a charter from the state of Indiana for the establishment of a school for the education of ladies in the arts and sciences. The academy officially became known as Saint Mary’s College in 1903.

At one time, the congregation operated several high schools and colleges for young women. The trend toward coeducation has reduced the number to one high school, The Academy of the Holy Cross in Kensington, Md., and one college, Saint Mary’s.

Bush pledges to push U.S. allies for help to Nicaragua

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush on Wednesday promised to press U.S. allies to help Nicaragua clear its $365 million in overdue debt payments while welcoming President Violeta Chamorro to the White House as a “leader of reconciliation.”

On the first state visit of a Nicaraguan president to the United States in 52 years, Bush told Chamorro he would urge other countries, including Japan, to give Nicaragua money so it can clear its overdue payments to the World Bank and the International Development Bank, a foreign debt totaling $9.5 billion, said Assistant Secretary of State Bernard Aronson.

The United States is contributing $50 million to the effort, part of the $541 million the United States has earmarked for Nicaragua since Chamorro’s inauguration a year ago, said Aronson.

He said Chamorro, in her Oval Office visit with Bush, presented as her most pressing issue the need to wipe out the back payments that are making it difficult for her hard-pressed nation to get capital to fund national recovery efforts.

Aronson quoted Bush as telling Chamorro, “One way or another we will do it.”

“The president pledged strong and firm United States assistance to Nicaragua and made it clear that the United States, along with the World Bank, will lend an international effort ... to help,” Aronson told reporters after the meeting.

Bush warmly welcomed the president of the Central American nation that before her election was wracked by a civil war that cost 20,000 lives.

Bush recalled her inauguration last year following democratic elections that ended more than a decade of Marxist rule and the war in which the United States backed anti-government Contra rebels.

“This is a significant step in Nicaragua’s progress toward democracy in Latin America,” said Aronson.

On that inauguration day, we saw Dora Violeta, candidate of compassion, become President Chamorro, leader of reconciliation,” Bush said in welcoming remarks on the White House south lawn.

“You’ve begun to bring life and dreams back to your people,” Bush said.

“The tasks facing the Nicaraguan people are difficult,” he said. “Your economic stabilization plan requires hard choices. Economic reform after years of mismanagement is never easy and presents challenges to leadership.”

But mostly focused on Chamorro’s efforts to restore democratic systems in Nicaragua, Bush said, the economic ravages and lingering mistrust that still divide the Nicaraguan people.

Festering resentments flared anew with the assassination in February of Enrique Bermudez, the former commander in chief of the Contra rebels.

Aronson said the United States, in response to a request from Nicaragua, would provide “technical assistance” to help with the investigation of that assassination.

A day after telling Congress that she wants a sustained U.S. commitment to her country’s reconstruction, Chamorro said at the White House on Wednesday that U.S. aid “was a decisive factor during my first year in office.”

SECURITY BEAT

Monday, April 15

4:11 p.m. An off-campus student reported the loss of her checkbook sometime between April 5 and April 12.

4:19 p.m. A Flanner student reported the theft of his unlocked bicycle from outside Gate 5 of the Joyce Athletic and Convocation Center.

5:03 p.m. Security stopped three persons distributing flyers in the D-2 student parking lot, advising them the University prohibits such solicitation.

8:30 p.m. An Alumni resident was attacked by a person wearing a suspicious person in his dormitory room. Security responded and apprehended the suspect. The suspect was arrested and charged with trespassing and two counts of assault. The Alumni resident required no medical attention.

9:24 p.m. A Dominic’s Pizza delivery vehicle struck a biker on Bulla Road near the D-2 student parking lot. The victim reported no significant injuries sustained playing basketball.

Tuesday, April 16

12:52 p.m. A Sacristan of Sacred Heart Church reported the theft of cash from the locked postboxes in Sacred Heart Church entry way.

11:04 p.m. Security assisted a Mishawaka resident to St. Joseph’s Medical Center for severe leg cramps due to high blood pressure.

Wednesday, April 17

1:40 p.m. Security assisted a Lewis resident to St. Joseph’s Medical Center for injuries sustained playing basketball.
continued from page 1

"We tracked every one of them," he said. "They never had to do it again." He added that "although we were destroying his (Saddam's) economy, the military might would only be affected marginally." "It is the uniform assessment of the entire intelligence community," he said, "that sanctions alone would not cause Saddam Hussein to leave Kuwait." Webster said much of this was "vague" and "incomplete," and that detailed reports on "the whole intelligence community," he said, "is not available to us. We were only smart in our assumptions." The CIA's "encyclopedia knowledge of the hot spots of the world" has accumulated over many years.

"SMART weapons made the difference in this war," he said, "but they were only smart in their specific definition of intelligence." As to whether the CIA knew of Iraq's invasion before-hand, Webster said: "we had indicators that said he's ready to go." during 12 to 24 hours, just prior to the invasion.

"As we emerge from the Gulf War," he said, "the United States is in a stronger position to foster greater international cooperation in confronting the global issues, particularly weapon proliferation." Webster warned of the spread of so-called "weapons mass destruction" saying: "the effects are to be felt worldwide. In time, this proliferation are taken." On other issues, Webster discussed recent developments within the Soviet Union. The Soviet Union's instability "could have a significant impact on our national security," he said. "It has been a major lesson that the world that has never had to do it again." He added that "while our re-military might would only be affected marginally." "It is the uniform assessment of the entire intelligence community," he said, "that sanctions alone would not cause Saddam Hussein to leave Kuwait." Webster said much of this was "vague" and "incomplete," and that detailed reports on "the whole intelligence community," he said, "is not available to us. We were only smart in our assumptions." The CIA's "encyclopedia knowledge of the hot spots of the world" has accumulated over many years.

"SMART weapons made the difference in this war," he said, "but they were only smart in their specific definition of intelligence." As to whether the CIA knew of Iraq's invasion before-hand, Webster said: "we had indicators that said he's ready to go." during 12 to 24 hours, just prior to the invasion.

"As we emerge from the Gulf War," he said, "the United States is in a stronger position to foster greater international cooperation in confronting the global issues, particularly weapon proliferation." Webster warned of the spread of so-called "weapons mass destruction" saying: "the effects are to be felt worldwide. In time, this proliferation are taken." On other issues, Webster discussed recent developments within the Soviet Union. The Soviet Union's instability "could have a significant impact on our national security," he said. "It has been a major lesson that the world"
LaPorte man convicted of murder of store clerk

VALPARAISO, Ind. (AP) — A paralyzed rapist was convicted Wednesday of rape and murder in the slaying of a convenience store clerk.

"I'm glad that justice will be done," said Robert Helmchen, 30, of LaPorte. He faces a possible death penalty or a maximum 120-year prison sentence.

A jury deliberated one hour before convicting Perry Miller, 43, of LaPorte. He faces a possible death penalty or a maximum 120-year prison sentence.

Miller listened impassively to the verdicts. Defense Attorney Ronald August left the courthouse without comment.

Miller also was convicted of robbery, criminal confinement, criminal deviant conduct and conspiracy to commit murder. He listened impassively to the verdicts. Defense Attorney Ronald August left the courthouse without comment.

Also charged in Ms. Helmchen's death was Williams Harmsen, William Harmon, 20, and a friend of Harmon, Rodney Wood, 16, both of LaPorte.

Wood testified against Miller in a plea bargain in which his co-defendants pleaded guilty to murder and accomplice to murder.

"I want people to notice the article, but as we all know, too many people reacted for the good of myself and the good of this case," said Timothy Maguire, a third-year law student. "One reason for this turmoil was my terribly ill-chosen words and terribly unfair exaggeration," he said. "I am very sorry about using terms like "Admissions Apartheid." I wrote it in the weekly law school newspaper that the academic credentials of white and black students accepted at Georgetown were "dramatically unequal."

The commentary, which appeared under the headline "Admissions Apartheid," cited a "random sample" of test scores and grade-point averages, which Maguire said he obtained while working as an admissions clerk.

Maguire said he found that "75 out of 97 black applicants had Law School Admissions Test scores of below 35 (out of 501), as opposed to less than one-sixth of white applicants."
SUFR holds press conference

By PAUL PEARSON
Associate News Editor

In a press conference Wednesday, members of Students United for Respect (SUFR) announced that they would be joining four other student groups in the Notre Dame Registrar's office.

Reading from a prepared statement by SUFR, Beatriz Cruz, SUFR vice president, said they would remain in the Administration building until negotiations with University President Father Edward Malloy are completed. Cruz said that the demonstration would be "immediate necessity," and that they could hold "immediate necessity" negotiations with University President Father Edward Malloy on the Notre Dame Registrar's office until they could hold "immediate necessity" negotiations with University President Father Edward Malloy.

As an example, Cruz cited the April Fool's Day edition of the Observer, which showed a photograph of a white police officer holding a black man.

The photograph, Cruz said, "shows the black community per­ varies the University," and is an example of how the University is dealing with the issues.

SUFR概念股

continued from page 4

The bottom line is that we've got to take the line "We've got to take the line..." Wilson said. "We've got to take the line..." Wilson said. "We've got to take the line..."

The bottom line is that we've got to take the line "We've got to take the line..." Wilson said. "We've got to take the line..." Wilson said. "We've got to take the line..."

The bottom line is that we've got to take the line "We've got to take the line..." Wilson said. "We've got to take the line..." Wilson said. "We've got to take the line..."

The bottom line is that we've got to take the line "We've got to take the line..." Wilson said. "We've got to take the line..." Wilson said. "We've got to take the line..."

The bottom line is that we've got to take the line "We've got to take the line..." Wilson said. "We've got to take the line..." Wilson said. "We've got to take the line..."
The following is the text of the DISCRIMINATORY HARASSMENT POLICY which was passed by the Academic Council on Tuesday, April 16.

1. POLICY:
The University of Notre Dame believes in the intrinsic value of all human beings. It is, moreover, committed to the full peaceable participation of all its members in the educational endeavor it fosters. This is the reason that the University prohibits discriminatory harassment as defined below. The University is also committed to the free expression and advocacy of ideas; it wishes to maintain the integrity of this commitment as well. For this reason, cases of verbal harassment defined here with great caution. Harassment in general is prohibited elsewhere in the University's regulations.

2. DEFINITION:
For purposes of this policy:

a. Harassment. Harassment is any physical conduct intentionally inflicting injury on the person or property of another, or any intentional threat of such conduct, or any hostile, intentional, and persistent badgering, addressed directly at another, or small group of others, which is intended to intimidate its victim(s) from any university activity, or any verbalization intended to provoke the victim to immediate physical retaliation.

b. Discriminatory Harassment. Conduct as described in a., above, constitutes discriminatory harassment, if, in addition, it is accompanied by intentionally demeaning expressions concerning the race, sex, religion, sexual orientation, or national origin of the victim(s).

3. PROHIBITION:
All discriminatory harassment is prohibited.

4. ADMINISTRATION:
It is appropriate to report any incident of discriminatory harassment to the University. The ways available for doing this are as follows:

Students: A case of harassment by a student toward another student which occurs outside a residence hall is to be reported to the Office of Residence Life and shall be handled in the same manner as other violations of University rules and regulations. (see du Lac: Student Life Policies and Procedures; University Standards of Behavior)

Likewise, any incident of discriminatory harassment by a student toward a faculty member or staff member is to be reported to the Office of Residence Life. Any incident of discriminatory harassment by a student toward any other student which occurs in a residence hall is to be reported first to the rector and, in consultation with the Office of Residence Life, a determination shall be made as to whether the incident should be handled at the hall level or whether the matter should be referred to the Office of Residence Life.

Faculty: An incident of discriminatory harassment by a faculty member is to be reported to the chair of the academic department, or, in cases involving the chair, to the dean of the college. If the matter cannot be resolved at the department or college level, it is to be referred to the Provost's office.

Staff: An incident of discriminatory harassment by a staff member is to be reported to the the Director of Human Resources, and shall be handled by the Human Resources Office in the same manner as any other violation of University Rules and Regulations as outlined in the University Human Resources Manual.

Administration: An incident of discriminatory harassment by an administrator is to be reported to the appropriate superior officer of the person involved.

Ombudsperson: Notwithstanding the above, a person alleging discriminatory harassment may choose to report the incident to the University Ombudsperson. This is to be a member of the university community, selected by the president for that task. The ombudsperson, after taking information on the incident, is to help the complainant handle the matter, either by informal conciliation, or by helping the complainant proceed with the reporting procedure described above.

5. EXISTING UNIVERSITY RULES AND REGULATIONS: This policy is intended to be an addition to existing University rules and regulations and does not alter or modify any existing University rule or regulation.
WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation’s 235,000 rail workers struck major freight carriers today in their first strike in nearly a decade, shutting down cargo traffic and upsetting passengers traveling around the country.

Congress and the Bush administration sought a quick end to the strike, with their talks centering on a cooling off period that would allow a new emergency board to make recommendations for a settlement.

At issue was how long a cooling off period should last, with proposals ranging from 30-120 days. Bush administration officials said they opposed reopening major contract issues over an extended period.

Freight carriers and unions scheduled no new talks after last-ditch bargaining talks failed to produce a settlement that would allow a new cooling off period that would allow a new emergency board to make recommendations for a settlement.

A last-ditch bargaining talk on work lines, service on many Amtrak trains and some commuter lines such as those in Maryland and the San Francisco area was disrupted because the passenger train share tracks with freight carriers.

Amtrak’s busiest region, the Northeast corridor from Washington to Boston, was not affected because Amtran owns that track. But passengers aboard Amtrak trains in other regions had their trips halted well short of their destinations.

"It’s a bloody bummer," said Angus McGridden, a tourist from England who was on a trip from the West Coast to St. Louis when his Amtrak train was halted in Kansas City.

Congress was preparing for the shutdown, and legislators held both public and private meetings on the strike this morning. Skinner told a House subcommittee he hoped lawmakers would have legislation to end the strike by Bush by tonight or before Thursday morning’s rush hour.

A national railroad strike clearly impairs our national defense and has grave public consequences for the economy," he told the transportation subcommittee of the House Energy and Commerce Committee.

Under one plan for a 90-day cooling off period, unions and freight carriers would have 10 days to raise disputed issues. The new board created by Congress would then have 90 days to consider and propose recommendations, according to a copy of the proposal obtained by The Associated Press.

"Nothing’s operating that we know of," said George Whaley, a spokesman for the Association of American Railroads, which represents all the nation’s major freight carriers.

“We’ve seen some pretty pictures" of picketing around the country, said Ed Wytkind, a spokesman for the Railway Labor Executives Association.

Though the striking unions work on freight lines, service on many Amtrak trains and some commuter lines such as those in Maryland and the San Francisco area was disrupted because the passenger train share tracks with freight carriers.

Amtrak’s business region, the Northeast corridor from Washington to Boston, was not affected because Amtrak owns that track. But passengers aboard Amtrak trains in other regions had their trips halted well short of their destinations.

“Kermit the Frog Presents: Muppet Vision 3-D,” a theatrical production was guaranteed to endure when combined with Disney’s marketing magic.

The 90-page lawsuit accuses Disney of “outright theft of Jim Henson’s legacy,” thus terminating any apparent affection between Disney and the company Henson founded.

Miss Piggy’s owner takes Disney to court for performing, advertising, merchandising and acting in any way that suggests Disney owns or has any rights to the Muppets.

The lawsuit accuses Disney of illegally showing Muppet characters in television commercials, fostering the unmistakable impression that the Muppets are part of Disney’s more tender courtships.

"The legal action stems from a dispute over whether Disney has the right to show the Muppets after protracted merger talks with Henson Associates broke down in late December.

It also marks a low in a relationship that once was hailed as an aptly touching epilogue for the singer’s acting and performing, advertising, merchandising and acting in any way that suggests Disney owns or has any rights to the Muppets.

The lawsuit, filed by Henson Associates Inc. in federal court in Manhattan, charges that The Walt Disney Co. used images of Muppets without a license in television commercials, movies, books, brochures, T-shirts and other merchandise, and in Disney’s 1990 annual report. The legal action stems from a dispute over whether Disney has the right to show the Muppets after protracted merger talks with Henson Associates broke down in late December.

It also marks a low in a relationship that once was hailed as an aptly touching epilogue for the singer’s acting and performing, advertising, merchandising and acting in any way that suggests Disney owns or has any rights to the Muppets.

The lawsuit, filed by Henson Associates Inc. in federal court in Manhattan, charges that The Walt Disney Co. used images of Muppets without a license in television commercials, movies, books, brochures, T-shirts and other merchandise, and in Disney’s 1990 annual report. The legal action stems from a dispute over whether Disney has the right to show the Muppets after protracted merger talks with Henson Associates broke down in late December.

It also marks a low in a relationship that once was hailed as an aptly touching epilogue for the singer’s acting and performing, advertising, merchandising and acting in any way that suggests Disney owns or has any rights to the Muppets.

The lawsuit, filed by Henson Associates Inc. in federal court in Manhattan, charges that The Walt Disney Co. used images of Muppets without a license in television commercials, movies, books, brochures, T-shirts and other merchandise, and in Disney’s 1990 annual report. The legal action stems from a dispute over whether Disney has the right to show the Muppets after protracted merger talks with Henson Associates broke down in late December.

It also marks a low in a relationship that once was hailed as an aptly touching epilogue for the singer’s acting and performing, advertising, merchandising and acting in any way that suggests Disney owns or has any rights to the Muppets.

The lawsuit, filed by Henson Associates Inc. in federal court in Manhattan, charges that The Walt Disney Co. used images of Muppets without a license in television commercials, movies, books, brochures, T-shirts and other merchandise, and in Disney’s 1990 annual report. The legal action stems from a dispute over whether Disney has the right to show the Muppets after protracted merger talks with Henson Associates broke down in late December.

It also marks a low in a relationship that once was hailed as an aptly touching epilogue for the singer’s acting and performing, advertising, merchandising and acting in any way that suggests Disney owns or has any rights to the Muppets.

The lawsuit, filed by Henson Associates Inc. in federal court in Manhattan, charges that The Walt Disney Co. used images of Muppets without a license in television commercials, movies, books, brochures, T-shirts and other merchandise, and in Disney’s 1990 annual report. The legal action stems from a dispute over whether Disney has the right to show the Muppets after protracted merger talks with Henson Associates broke down in late December.

It also marks a low in a relationship that once was hailed as an aptly touching epilogue for the singer’s acting and performing, advertising, merchandising and acting in any way that suggests Disney owns or has any rights to the Muppets.
Dear Editor:

Thursday night, I was disturbed by a conflict which surprised me and my friends. I was returning to Saint Mary's and was riding the shuttle at Main Circle at about midnight. Another girl was also waiting for the shuttle, and was happy because the story she wrote for The Observer went well. The shuttle arrived and we got on. After we had boarded the shuttle, the driver who appeared to be new, looked into the coin holder and asked the girl why she had only put a nickel in. The girl wasn't concerned, because as our parents were told during Orientation our freshman year, and as we have always believed, if you don't have enough money for the shuttle, it's no big deal.

The driver made it one. He told her she could either pay or get off. She told him that all she had was a nickel, and he rudely told her, "Then get off." She started to, and I bounced forward and put in the money needed. He then said I hadn't put enough in, and I put him off telling him I had added two dimes to her nickel. Enough said. We reached the grocery, where someone else got on the shuttle. Again, he scrutinized the money holder to make sure she had put enough in.

It is sad to see this happening. After all isn't one of the shuttle's purposes to make transportation between Saint Mary's and Notre Dame at night safe? I could not believe that he told the girl to get off because she did not have enough money with her. I have never seen this happen in the two years I have attended Saint Mary's, nor did I ever expect to. Granted, it was not too cold to walk home, but after last spring's attacks, as well as one this past fall, I was astounded at the lack of humanity on this driver's part.

When I got off at Saint Mary's the driver thanked my friend and I for "pitching in." I bit my tongue, just thinking that what else were we supposed to do, let her walk home alone along rape ridden roads and risk a possible attack? I think not.

Jill Weber
McCandless Hall
April 12, 1991

Lack of response to surveys about sexual harassment is disturbing

Dear Editor:

I am writing in regard to the sexual harassment surveys sent out by the Student/Faculty Committee on Women. The Committee on Women is in the process of sending a policy on sexual harassment for the university. In order to better suit the policy to whom it will apply, the committee sent surveys to students and faculty members. To avoid bias the surveys were sent to the entire faculty and to proportionate numbers of male and female graduate and undergraduate students. To preserve anonymity and to increase response rate the committee enclosed response cards with the surveys.

The surveys were to be sent to the Social Science Training Lab in the library to be tabulated and statistically analyzed and the response cards were to be sent separately to 102-B O'Shaughnessy, to be recorded.

The idea was to keep track of specifically who returned the surveys, but not how specific people answered. After being mailed separately there was no way to match a survey with a response card. The results would be anonymous and response rate could be increased by reminding those who didn't return response cards to send in their surveys.

It seems to me that this was not only a good idea on the part of the Committee, but also something students would welcome. One of the recurring themes of student complaints is how little the administration listens to student input in areas of policy making. The purpose of the sexual harassment survey was to do exactly that, consider the opinions of students before making policy. In order to be sensitive to student needs the administration has to hear from students, whether or not they think sexual harassment is a problem on this campus. Response to this survey has been dismally low. The lack of response by the students has been matched only by the lack of serious thought given by the students to the survey and the issue at hand. This is an opportunity to put the Administration know what students want. Granted it is in an area that may not affect the majority of campus, but it is a start, and the process has to begin somewhere. If the survey is too long or "dumb" then let the Committee know, this is the first time they have ever tried something like this. If sexual harassment is not a problem then let them know that too. But if you don't respond to this survey, then stop complaining about the Administration not listening to student input, because you're not saying anything.

Daniel Sullivan
Flanner Hall
April 15, 1991

Student outraged by shuttle driver’s actions

During the weekend there will be several events, a couple of which will, unfortunately, inconvenience your usual schedule. In particular, on Saturday evening we will hold our final event, a dinner, in the Notre Dame Dining Hall. As a result, those who normally eat in the Notre Dame Dining Hall are asked to use the South Dining Hall for Saturday dinner.

On behalf of the Sorin Society, please accept our sincere gratitude for your great cooperation. In no way do we want to cause any inconvenience but due to some unavoidable scheduling conflicts there is no alternative. Special thanks to all the students participating in the weekend—the event simply would not occur without you.

Daniel G. Reagan '76
Executive Director
Sorin Society
April 15, 1991

DOODSBURY

MALONE, I'M NOT EXACTLY "IN LOVE" WITH THE IDEA. I'M NOT SO BAD. I'M JUST A HONKING ON IT.

BUT I HAVE BEEN FINDING THAT A LOT OF PEOPLE THINK THAT I'M NOT QUITE THE SAME GIRL I LEFT BEHIND.

SHE'S RINGING MY MOTORCYCLE! IT GETS MORE. 970-7-285 TURNING IT!!

QUOTE OF THE DAY

'M you want a free Africa? I'll stare at ya - "cause we ain't got it too good in Amerikkka.'

Ice Cube
Rapper

QUOTES. P.O. Box Q, ND, IN 46556
Dear Editor:

This letter is in response to the petition being circulated by Students for Environmental Action (SEA) asking for the cancellation of all oil exploration and drilling in the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge (ANWR). As a resident of the state of Alaska, employee of an oil corporation and visitor to ANWR, I can provide first hand knowledge of the oil industry and its impact on the environment in question. Hopefully this letter will help conscientious students come to a greater, more open-minded conclusions about arctic development and the future of the American oil industry.

The national Energy Strategy, the basic premise upon which the SEA petition does not target the entire 19 million acres of ANWR wilderness for oil exploration. The area which is being considered for exploration, full-blown development as of yet, is only a small portion of the entire refuge covers a relatively desolate piece of coastal tundra, leaving untouched a vast and gigantic national park. This proposed portion of ANWR is one-fourth of ANWR's coastal region, leaving undeveloped a much larger part of the arctic coast, and one of America's last untouched ecosystems.

SEA believes that the effects of the exploration and development (for oil area for oil development) would be tragic. The petition cites land decimation and endangering of Alaska's fishing industries and impacting effects of oil drilling in ANWR. Both fears are essentially un-founded: Bristol bay is noted as a priceless fishery endangered by arctic development, when the fishery lies 700 miles to the south west. Eskimo whalers are highly concerned about the health and vigor of the ANWR coast, and no possible adversity is foreseeable for these people. Bristol Bay, a small, desolate piece of coastal region, having been in production for over twenty years, the environmental damage of its development in that region have been minimal, and oil-industry, and independently funded research. The "Eskimo Valdez spill comes to show americans minds when environmental safety is suggested--pictures of petroleum soaked ducks, otters, etc.

However, the Valdez spill happened in Valdez port, a vital link to the oil transportation process, but removed more than 600 miles to the south of the state of Alaska, employee of an oil corporation and visitor to ANWR, I can provide first hand knowledge of the oil industry and its impact on the environment in question. Hopefully this letter will help conscientious students come to a greater, more open-minded conclusions about arctic development and the future of the American oil industry.

Regrettably, the petition is supported by some incorrect facts, which I would like to correct.

Pro-choice presentation treated poorly by professor

Dear Editor:

With all the press lately in The Observer about the actions of the Pro-life activists, and they should be commended for their efforts to draw attention to an issue in a well articulated and cogent fashion. Today I presented a paper on the moral issues surrounding abortion. The instructor was told to "do whatever I wanted" by the instructor.

After giving a brief history of the Catholic Church's warring stance on the issue, and considering those factors outlined in the physical health of the woman to be mother should bear with both the Pro-Life and Pro-Choice groups, I concluded that the mental health of an individual can be as important as the physical health of a physically healthy people commit suicide. However, without getting into too much detail, I concluded in my presentation that I fell into the Pro-Choice group.

Commenting on my presentation, the professor, who happens to be a priest, called me to be a "pro-life" and the craziest thing (he'd ever heard) in front of the entire class.

Regarding my opinion that America would rather spend astronomical sums procuring oil fields in Kuwait than educate its teens on birth control, the same instructor made a negatively stereotypical remark associating America's protection of the Jewish community Israel and the proliferation of abortion clinics in America.

The embarrassment and humiliation I felt has not equalled in my life. As a grad student a part of the Notre Dame for 33 years and two generations, I was shocked and dismayed at the lack of respect shown for my opinion, my academic freedom and the rights of minorities. An apology at this point would be useless since the damage has been done. Laws are based on morality and I don't think the Supreme Court of the United States would call my opinion "crazy." Regardless of a person's stand on the issue of abortion, they should not be condemned in an academic setting that is intended to promote free speech, as grown, as promised in my acceptance letter four years ago. This is not a CCD class, it is supposed to be a medical ethics class. As an authority on ethics at this University, this instructor revealed himself to be truly academically unethical. He has just struck you as ironic! Michael J.Gerard Off-Campus April 12, 1991
By MELISSA COMER

Accent Writer

Come sail away...
The fifth annual Fisher Hall Regatta sets sail Saturday, April 20 at noon on Saint Mary's Lake. The regatta features competition between Notre Dame residence halls in assorted watercraft that residents have built.

Begun in 1987 by Fisher Hall resident Jay Farren, the regatta offers something for everyone. The initial challenge begins with the construction of a "boat." Regatta regulations require that no conventional boats, including rowboats, sailboats or surfboards, are allowed to compete in the event.

In addition, all vessels must be man-powered, other than these and a few other preliminary rules, the only requirement is that the watercraft float.

Traditionally a race to the finish line, the regatta includes a "most original entry" category for those halls with all of the creativity but little of the engineering it takes to win. In fact for many dorms, the race itself is actually no more than an attempt to reach the finish line—first or last. But that is not to say that the regatta is without some fierce competition. Victors in last year's race, Fisher and Lewis Halls will participate once again. St. Edward's and Cavanaugh are expected to return to give them a run for their money.

As co-chairperson for the regatta, Tim Stumpf explains, "We expect a big contest between racing rivals Fisher and Cavanaugh. Howard and St. Ed's will also display their ongoing rivalry for the most original watercraft."

The enthusiasm for the event is present on campus everywhere a T-shirt is found proclaiming "Ya Gotta Regatta."

In a race where no experience but the ability to swim (in case the boat should spring a leak) is necessary, the regatta will undoubtedly include all sorts of talents. And indeed, some of those with the least experience will probably provide the greatest entertainment.

Holy Cross field will be open for the event, with a campus picnic sponsored by University Food Services from 11:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. Radio station WATO will be broadcasting live.

The preliminary heats are set to begin at noon. The semi-final and final heats will most likely take place around 2:00 p.m. Local and campus figures will be judging the races. Lt. Sam Walsh of CrimeStoppers and Sgt. Tim McCarthy are among those scheduled to attend.

The winners of both the men's and women's heats will carry home the Fisher Hall Regatta Cup, a trophy to reside in the winning hall for the summer. The most original entry dorm will take home the Fisher Hall Regatta T-shirt is found prominently displayed on campus.

All donations made by participating dorms will benefit the Andre Houses of Hospitality, shelters that offer daily meals to the needy. Operated by the Holy Cross Brothers, the shelters are located in Phoenix, Arizona and Oakland, California.

According to Ed Keener, co-chairperson for the event, basically the Fisher Hall Regatta is "something unique for the dorm that the whole campus can enjoy."

‘Blossom’s’ characters fail to bloom

Marc Johnson

To Be Continued

into going with the nerd who did his homework. "They showed me the Ferrari and sold me the Pinto."

The plot line for this episode is so obvious that the reader probably has it figured out with the little information presented in this article.

Perhaps this fact was not so evident to younger viewers, but this review is for college students, and I hope that their moral character can handle the simple questions this series presents.

While Blossom is an interesting character, she cannot carry the series on the merit of her character alone. I really do not care if her father worries "whether your brother is sober, your other brother is driving, and you are dating," and the other characters of this series are equally unappealing.

All even made an appearance on this program, he should be confined to syndication where he is easily avoided.

Mayim Biakal is worthy of "Blossom," but the rest of the series may not be worthy of her. The amount of praise in this statement is open to debate, but "Blossom" is definitely not a program for university students. Recommend it to your eighth grade sister, but for anyone older, it is a waste of time.
Curtain call

‘Nuts’ proves court isn’t comic

By DENNIS MCNICHOLAS
Accent Writer

Yes, the play being performed tonight through Saturday night at 8:10 p.m. in the Hesburgh Memorial Library auditorium is called “Nuts.” And yes, the three-act play does take place one hundred percent within a courtroom. Even so, don’t come expecting anything on the order of “Night Court” or Dan Fielding.

As player Lorenzo Martinez put it, “This isn’t Perry Mason. This isn’t Agatha Christie. This is down and dirty.” How down and how dirty, you ask? How about a little drama that runs the theatrical gamut from abortion to prostitution to child molestation?

Last anyone become frightened off this early in the game let me also lay on the table the fact that “Nuts” is a well acted and well staged play. That means it is well worth your time.

The play, upon which the Richard Dreyfuss/Barbara Streisand movie of the same name was based, depicts the legal battle to declare the protagonist, Claudia Faith Draper, in need of psychiatric treatment before going to trial by the comparatively amateur, protagonist, Claudia Faith Levinsky.

But a far more problemmatic drawback to using the library auditorium is the rule against charging admission for events held there. “Nuts” is being performed by the Planner/Siegfried players as a benefit for Dismas House, and while the performance will be free, donations will be taken at the door and greatly appreciated. The Dismas House cause helps recently-released prison inmates readjust to society.

On a campus where comedies every year and that’s drama is much more challenging.

A major selling point for Delevan was the play’s vivid dialogue. Indeed, many on the set seem to think the dialogue will be thought of as too vivid. The entire cast agrees it is a “shocking” project they have undertaken, and Delevan suggests that theater-goers “check their preconceived notions at the door” when coming to see the show.

SMC’s ‘Independence’ gives humor to struggles

By CHRIS BACON
Accent Writer

Sexual promiscuity, discovering one’s own identity, and the pursuit of independence are some of the issues dealt with in Lee Blessing’s “Independence,” presented by Saint Mary’s College Department of Communication, Dance and Theatre which opened last night in O’Laughlin Auditorium.

“Independence” is an insightfully funny play examining the conflict between becoming independent while maintaining the parent-child relationship. The viewer is brought into the home of young Briggs, an eccentric woman abandoned by her husband, who is struggling to control the lives of her daughters.

The audience watches what should be a happy reunion of Briggs’ daughters, but instead is witness to the hostilities among the four women. Despite Evelyn’s manipulation, the girls discover that their needs for independent identities are not compatible with their mother’s needs.

Much of the humor in the show is derived from the constant bickering, sarcastic exchanges, and the sexual candor of the women. The youngest daughter, Sherry (played by Jeanne Goodnow), is particularly funny, boldly displaying her radical sense of style as well as bluntly delivering her own opinions. Keri Latherow, M.K. Larsen, and Katherine Graham turn in equally fine performances as Jo, Kess, and Evelyn, respectively.

Director Roberta Rude, assistant professor of communications, dance, and theater, says she chose this play because “the message is important, the characters and the struggles are ones the students can identify with and it’s a funny play and a moving play.”

“Independence” continues tonight at 8:00 p.m. through Saturday with a Sunday matinee at 2:30 p.m. in the O’Laughlin Auditorium at Saint Mary’s. Tickets for the spring production are $6 for general admission, $5 for students and senior citizens, and $4 for Saint Mary’s students.
Xavier players pleased that Gillen intends to stay

CINCINNATI (AP) — Xavier University basketball players and Iraqi refugee Chris McCarthy, who met Pete Gillen intends to stay at the school, said they made a pitch to the Notre Dame job which was offered to the school's athletic director, John Phelan's resignation prompted speculation that Gillen, a former assistant coach at Villanova University, and Villanova, might be in line for the job. It was an upbeat session, and in fact, informed the players. Many of them were engaged in watching basketball games at the LaSalle High School on Tuesday night.

"I just wanted to do it because it was a good move," said one Xavier assistant coach. "The assistant coaches threw their hats into the ring, and I thought that was a great move." All the coaches at Xavier were happy. "The Irish are really happy, mainly because of the way we came out of the gate in both games. The coach was a big boost for us, especially in the second game. The coach was very excited about the four lefties (seven steals in five tries). We played hard.

The Irish will take that seven-game winning streak to Battle Creek, Michigan today to face the Michigan Wolverines (20-14-11). Michigan beat the Irish earlier in the season. Like the Irish, the Wolverines were ranked early in the season but dropped out of the top-25 in recent weeks.

David Sinnes, an All-American last year, will be the probable starter. If Sinnes is 2-1 on the season, otherwise the players said, "He really didn't make it big. We've all known each other since coach Gillen liked him and we knew he was going to stay."

Maurice Brantley said he trusts and respects Gillen's fine coaching. "If Gillen had decided to stay, we were going to do well, and we didn't come home or see what it's all about," Brantley said. "Even if Gillen had decided to stay, we were going to do well, and we didn't come home or see what it's all about," Brantley said. "Even if Gillen had decided to stay, we were going to do well, and we didn't come home or see what it's all about," Brantley said. "Even if Gillen had decided to stay, we were going to do well, and we didn't come home or see what it's all about," Brantley said. "Even if Gillen had decided to stay, we were going to do well, and we didn't come home or see what it's all about," Brantley said.
SCOREBOARD

Thursday, April 18, 1991

---

BASEBALL STANDINGS

AMERICAN LEAGUE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>Pct.</th>
<th>GB</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Toronto</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>1</td>
<td>-</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cleveland</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>2</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Boston</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>3</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Detroit</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>4</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Minnesota</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>5</td>
<td>4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chicago</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>6</td>
<td>5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kansas City</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>7</td>
<td>6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New York</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>8</td>
<td>7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baltimore</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>9</td>
<td>8</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

EASTERN CONFERENCE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Division</th>
<th>Team</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>Pct.</th>
<th>GB</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Central</td>
<td>Chicago</td>
<td>21</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>75.9</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Minnesota</td>
<td>22</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>81.6</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Milwaukee</td>
<td>22</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>81.6</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Detroit</td>
<td>21</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>75.9</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

WESTERN CONFERENCE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Division</th>
<th>Team</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>Pct.</th>
<th>GB</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Pacific</td>
<td>Los Angeles</td>
<td>32</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>76.2</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Houston</td>
<td>29</td>
<td>13</td>
<td>68.3</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>LA Clippers</td>
<td>28</td>
<td>14</td>
<td>65.3</td>
<td>4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Seattle</td>
<td>19</td>
<td>25</td>
<td>42.6</td>
<td>13</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Portland</td>
<td>19</td>
<td>25</td>
<td>42.6</td>
<td>13</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

BASKETBALL

NBA Standings

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>Pct.</th>
<th>GB</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Boston</td>
<td>41</td>
<td>32</td>
<td>.564</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New York</td>
<td>41</td>
<td>32</td>
<td>.564</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chicago</td>
<td>40</td>
<td>33</td>
<td>.530</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Milwaukee</td>
<td>39</td>
<td>34</td>
<td>.530</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

TRANSACTIONS

- Wednesday, April 17:。
  - Milwaukee Brewers: Signed Oral Charles, infield, from the June 13 draft.
  - Kansas City Royals: Traded Mark Gubicza, pitcher, to the Boston Red Sox.
  - New York Yankees: Signed Lou Piniella, catcher, as a free agent.

---

BASEBALL

BASEBALL STANDINGS

NATIONAL LEAGUE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>East Division</th>
<th>Team</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>Pct.</th>
<th>GB</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Chicago</td>
<td>46</td>
<td>37</td>
<td>.564</td>
<td>1</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>San Francisco</td>
<td>42</td>
<td>40</td>
<td>.523</td>
<td>4</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Los Angeles</td>
<td>41</td>
<td>39</td>
<td>.517</td>
<td>8</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New York</td>
<td>40</td>
<td>40</td>
<td>.500</td>
<td>12</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Montreal</td>
<td>38</td>
<td>42</td>
<td>.474</td>
<td>16</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

West Division

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>West Division</th>
<th>Team</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>Pct.</th>
<th>GB</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>New York</td>
<td>47</td>
<td>33</td>
<td>.597</td>
<td>1</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Philadelphia</td>
<td>45</td>
<td>35</td>
<td>.566</td>
<td>1</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Montreal</td>
<td>35</td>
<td>27</td>
<td>.571</td>
<td>10</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>LA Dodgers</td>
<td>31</td>
<td>41</td>
<td>.444</td>
<td>12</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>San Diego</td>
<td>13</td>
<td>29</td>
<td>.327</td>
<td>18</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

FOOTBALL

- Thursday, April 18: Columbus Crew vs. Toronto Blizzard, 2:00 p.m.
- Friday, April 19: Minnesota Vikings vs. Chicago Bears, 7:30 p.m.

---

BOOKSTORE RESULTS

- Stepen Court 1: Five Giants Down, by Dave Scherman, 21-10
- Stepen Court 2: We Could Be Theirs, by Joe M. Carter, 21-10
- Stepen Court 3: The Year of the Big Screen, by Ken Johnson, 21-10

---

NOTRE DAME COMMUNICATION AND THEATRE PRESENTS

A PLAY BY BERTOLT BREHTE

ENGLISH VERSION BY ERIC BENTLEY

Verdi, Ars, 24 Sat., Ars, 27 8:30 p.m.

San, Ars, 28 11:00 p.m.

---

WASHINGTON HALL 1990-91 MAINSEASON

NATIONAL ARMS DAY, FEBRUARY 16

---

CULTURAL CALENDAR 1990-91

SAINT MARY’S COLLEGE

---

INDEPENDENCE

Seminars in the top two pm in Reception bigger than all outdoors

Ocean Pacific clothes for men
Lax
continued from page 20
minute apart. One by Maycoshing, and the second by sophomore middle Ed Lamb, who had four goals and an assis- tant. Wooster fought back to tie the score seven with 1:14 left in the period. However, Notre Dame junior attacker, Brandt Schirf responded just eight seconds later with the first of six unanswered Irish goals.

Though Sullivan, Maycoshing, and Lamb all turned in outstanding individual performances, the victory was an all-around effort. "Our second midfield did an excellent job for two doubles and pressure on their defense. Though they didn’t score, they helped wear them down for our first team," Corrigan commented.

The Irish defense also played well, especially in the fourth quarter, when it held Wooster scoreless. "Most of our experience is on defense, and it has started to pay off for us in our last four games. Some of the younger guys are starting to get us three to five consistent minutes, and it’s keeping our starters fresh and making them more effective," Corrigan added.

Notre Dame has four games remaining in the regular season. These contests are pivotal to their bid for a berth in the NCAA Tournament. "We set out to be the best team in the Midwest, and if we win the last four, there will be no doubt about that," Corrigan said confidently.

Irish
continued from page 17
and that made for an exciting couple of innings." The prime beneficiary of Notre Dame’s offensive explosion was Staci Alford, who pitched a one-hitter through six innings before giving up three straight hits and two runs in the seventh on Jennifer Potter’s seven or eight years because of the same color and graphics tactics, something buoys people, some­thing makes you feel better for coming back to the point that you write about sports is a man to pay attention to. I want to be a quick writer in the point that you write about sports is a man to pay attention to.

SPORTS SHORTS

Rose to help Boka Raton

BOCA RATON, Fla.—The mayor is anxiously awaiting Pete Rose’s arrival (The former Cincinnati Reds star and manager is moving to Boka Raton in July, and he wants to get involved in the com- munity, according to Mayor Emil Dancu). Rose’s first project with the club is to help fund drug abuse prevention. Dancu said Thursday. "He’ll help out with fund raising and any other place where we can use him," Dancu said. Rose told Dancu he is also interested in adding the Halitosis Center for the Handicapped. Baseball’s all-time hits leader could not be reached for comment Wednesday. His business agent, Cal Levy of Hamilton Projects in Cincinnati, said Wednesday he wasn’t aware of Boka plans.

Team Canada needs Flames

TORONTO, Canada—Team Canada officials were letting the Calgary Flames get over their disappointment at being eliminated from the NHL playoffs. But on Thursday, they’ll pop the question: Anyone want to play at the world hockey championship in Finland? Flames goalie Mike Vernon, forwards Theoren Fleury, Joe Nieuwendyk and Doug Gilmour and defencemen Al MacInnis and Jamie Macoun have been invited to join the national team, Club Canada spokesman Don Beschamp confirmed Wednesday. "But we’ll let them cool down a little before asking something like 24 hours," Fleury said. Nieuwendyk said he needed time to consider whether to join the national team again. He suffered a serious knee injury at last year’s tournament in Bern, Switzerland. "I don’t know what I’ll do," he said. "It’s just too much of a good taste at least year."

Such decisions also affect the U.S. national team, which has asked for Joel Otto, Paul Raisen, Gary Suter and Paul Penton.

Paternity suit filed against Dominic

ATLANTA, Ga.—A law student has filed a paternity suit against Atlantic Hawks forward Dominique Wilson.

Elisabeth Webster, who is studying at Georgia State University, claims Wilson fathered the baby she will deliver in June in Atlanta. Linwood R. Skylton Jr., said they filed the suit because she can’t afford adequate prenatal care. Wilson has said he never heard of Webster, adding, "I don’t know nobody at Georgia State."

The lawsuit, filed in Fulton County Superior Court, seeks payment of $20,000 by Wilson’s medical bills, health insurance for the child and a life insurance policy payable to the infant. The suit also seeks child support "commensurate with (Wilson’s) income, which is in excess of $5 million per year."
Irish softball takes two games from St. Joseph's

By RENÉ FERRAN
Associate Sports Editor

As the weather improves, Notre Dame softball coach Brian Boular hopes his team's bats heat up as well.

The Irish came into yesterday's doubleheader with St. Joseph's (7-13) hitting a paltry .264 on the season, but their swing of the Purple Bats, 2-0, 6-2 could be just the cure Boular has been looking for.

"Hopefully, these two games will be the catalyst for us to get on a roll," he said. "St. Joseph's might not be as strong a competition as we've faced, but they're a good, solid club."

In the opener, Notre Dame (21-19) scored both its runs in the bottom of the second inning. Singles by Christy Conoyer and Amy Folsom put runners at the corners with one out. After Conoyer scored on a wild pitch, and Kathy Vernetti's two-out single to left off losing pitcher Laura Heyne (6-2) brought home Folsom.

And behind the pitching of Carrie Miller (4-5) and Missy Linn (first career save), that would be all the scoring the Irish would need. The two combined on the season no-hit of the season for Notre Dame, striking out seven and not walking a St. Joseph's batter.

Two Irish errors cost them a perfect game.

"Carrie had a rough outing yesterday, so it was good to see her get her five good innings in," Boular said. "Missy has been throwing well lately, and I brought her in because I wanted to secure the win and keep Carrie's confidence at a high level."

In the nightcap, Boular gave some of the regulars a game off, opting to start some of his youngsters off the bench. Sophomores Lisa Miller, Casey McMurray and Sheri Quinn, and freshmen Stephanie Pinter and Melissa Cook took advantage of their rare opportunity, scoring seven runs in the first three innings off Kristin Ruds (1-11) to break open the game early.

"From the fall, I knew that (Boular) wasn't a strong pitcher, so we could use some of our younger players. They came out swinging the bat well, making some contact, and they kept us out in front," Boular said. "We also ran the bases a lot better."

McCarthy considers Stanford

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Bill McCaffrey, the second-leading scorer Duke's NCAA champion basketball team, may decide this week whether to transfer to another school, his father said.

McCaffrey was third on the team in minutes played (24.8), but his father said playing time is a factor in the decision.

"Billy is concerned, but he's always been concerned — all year," Ed McCaffrey Sr. said. "Playing time is part of that. So is the opportunity to handle the ball more, to play more point, just to be a greater factor. He's been asked to fill the catalyst's role, and he has done that."

"It's tough. What do you like to do? Are you happy in the role you need to play to fit into a program? Or do you want to go for it?"

The Herald-Sun of Durham reported in Wednesday's editions that Stanford has been suggested as a possible destination. Ed McCaffrey Jr., a Stanford senior, recently completed an All-American football career as a wide receiver.

McCaffrey, a 6-foot-3Sophomore guard from Allentown, Pa., averaged 11.6 points for the Blue Devils this season. He started 21 games this season, led Duke in free throw percentage (.832) and scored 16 points against Kansas in the NCAA regional.

"Billy is assessing other opportunities," McCaffrey Sr. said. "He hasn't decided on where he's going, but he is talking with his coaches. He's trying to be honest and up front with the Duke coaches. Things should shake out in a day or so, maybe by Thursday."

Neither McCaffrey nor Duke coach Mike Krzyzewski — in South Bend, Ind., for a speaking engagement — could be reached immediately for comment.

But Mike Craigie, sports in-

PRIME TIME VIDEO PRODUCTIONS • 288 - 0322 •

Capture
The Beauty
Of Your Wedding Day

Shelley R. Way

Student Union Board Presents a Lecture
Towards Building a Family Rights Movement

by Philip F. Lawler
Director of public affairs for the Catholic League for Religious and Civil Rights

Mr. Lawler is the author of four books, including The Ultimate Weapon (a study of the American Capital "Buyout" Catholic pastoral letter on Nazism), and two others (a critique of American Capitalism:The Catholic Challenge.

Thursday, April 18
8:00 pm
Galvin Life Science Bldg. Auditorium
(between Comp/Math & Stadium)
Bill Polian of Bills not worried to draft 26th

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Polian of the Buffalo Bills is happy to be picking 26th in Sunday's NFL draft for at least one good reason.

This year's NFL draft is full of excellent 26th choices: very few No. 1 picks; in fact, even acknowledged No. 1 pick, Raghib "Rocket" Ismail of Notre Dame, has questions about him. It looks like a year where the coaches are more focused on the weak than the strong.

"We don't have any glaring weaknesses and this is a draft for teams that don't have glaring weaknesses," Polian says. "If you're looking for someone to come in and turn you around right away, that's another story.

That story starts at the top with Ismail, then continues with a group of talented players who have at least one question mark about them.

One of the top defensive line prospects, for example, is Eric Swan, who has played only seven games at Notre Dame and the State Titans. He probably will be picking seventh overall without college experience taken in the draft since Emii "Six Yard" Smith. Swan might fit in there if someone is willing to take a chance.

The draft is deepest in receivers, led by Ismail but also including Miami's Randall Hill, Virginia's Herman Moore and Tennessee's Alvin Harper.

New Orleans Saints' Brenchi is considered the best bottom-line prospect, followed by Miami's Ismail, Louisville's Browning Nagle and perhaps (perhaps?) Miriavich, who has played only two college seasons and is undergoing rehabilitation after being arrested after the season on drug charges.

But it's probably, as Polian says, "It's only in the names," says George. "You're going to have to retire sooner or later," Holtz said. "We're going to make a change, you'd do it before signing day... I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

All you have to do is take a look at the field the Rams are subjected.

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..." Polian said nothing should be read into the fact that Holtz chose Notre Dame. "If you (the school) were going to make a change, you'd do it before signing day... I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."

"I'm perfectly convinced that it was a good decision..."
CROSSWORD

ACROSS
1 Battle mementos
2 Robin's quest
3 At the stern
4 G. Gray's Casa
5 "Dove song"
6 Light beer
7 Finished parasailing
8 Definitely not a la carte
9 Defensive wall
10 Hopped-up drink
11 Command to exam
12 Jade
13 "--- Mis." 1954 song
14 Some Oklahomaans
15 Bergman's "Cries and 16 Colette's attention
17 Pith, e.g.
18 Appeal
19 Bolognese artist
20 1757-1642
21 Like a chicken
22 Surrounded by "--- In Calico"
23 1946 song
24 "Bat mitzvah", e.g.
25 "Omni or Spectrum"
26 Forest Park event
27 "---. Miss"
28 "The Whalers'
29 "Anton's"
30 "The Father"
31 "Int'l Day of 32 "The Independence"
33 "The Grand
34 "The Nutcracker"
35 "Another Girl"
36 "Dove song"
37 "The Comany"
38 "Joy"
39 "The Pope"
40 "Dove song"
41 "Hansel & Gretel"
42 "Dove song"
43 "Dove song"
44 "Dove song"
45 "Dove song"
46 "Dove song"
47 "Dove song"
48 "Dove song"
49 "Dove song"
50 "Dove song"
51 "Dove song"
52 "Dove song"
53 "Dove song"
54 "Dove song"
55 "Dove song"
56 "Dove song"
57 "Dove song"
58 "Dove song"
59 "Dove song"
60 "Dove song"
61 "Dove song"
62 "Dove song"
63 "Dove song"
64 "Dove song"

DOWN
1 "Dove song"
2 "Dove song"
3 "Dove song"
4 "Dove song"
5 "Dove song"
6 "Dove song"
7 "Dove song"
8 "Dove song"
9 "Dove song"
10 "Dove song"
11 "Dove song"
12 "Dove song"
13 "Dove song"
14 "Dove song"
15 "Dove song"
16 "Dove song"
17 "Dove song"
18 "Dove song"
19 "Dove song"
20 "Dove song"
21 "Dove song"
22 "Dove song"
23 "Dove song"
24 "Dove song"
25 "Dove song"
26 "Dove song"
27 "Dove song"
28 "Dove song"
29 "Dove song"
30 "Dove song"
31 "Dove song"
32 "Dove song"
33 "Dove song"
34 "Dove song"
35 "Dove song"
36 "Dove song"
37 "Dove song"
38 "Dove song"
39 "Dove song"
40 "Dove song"
41 "Dove song"
42 "Dove song"
43 "Dove song"
44 "Dove song"
45 "Dove song"
46 "Dove song"
47 "Dove song"
48 "Dove song"
49 "Dove song"
50 "Dove song"
51 "Dove song"
52 "Dove song"
53 "Dove song"
54 "Dove song"
55 "Dove song"
56 "Dove song"
57 "Dove song"
58 "Dove song"
59 "Dove song"
60 "Dove song"
61 "Dove song"
62 "Dove song"
63 "Dove song"
64 "Dove song"

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

BURENCRAT RURAL RUSSIAN STYLE 1879 THE END 26 PAPA IN "THE WALTONS" 24 RAVAEL'S CHECKERS 23 ACTRESS THOMPSON 22 KUWAIT NATIVE 21 BUTTERCUP OF SORTS

The Observer page 19

CAMPUS
12 p.m. Earth Day, gentle Thursday, an afternoon of life-affirming activities. Haggie Terrace, St. Mary's.
2:30 p.m. Chan Sam Lee, Journalist "North Korean Society: A Journalist's View" Notre Dame Room, LaFortune.
8 p.m. St. Mary's Theatre, "Independence" O'Loughlin Auditorium.
8 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. Film, "Heathers", Cushing Auditorium.

LECTURES
4 p.m. Earth Day, "The Gulf War: Health and Environmental Consequences," Joseph Miller, associate professor, Room 303, Haggie, St. Mary's College.
4 p.m. "Human Rights," Barbara Frey, Minnesota Lawyers International Human Rights Committee. CSC.
7:30 p.m. The Seventh Annual Madeleva Lecture in Spirituality, "Women and Creativity: Strange New Miracles." Dolores Huerta, Executive Director of the Secretariat for Laity and Family Life, NCCB. Moreau Hall, Little Theatre, St. Mary's College.

MENU
Notre Dame
Rollled Bacon and Cheese Omelet
BBQ Chicken
California Eldorado Casserole

Saint Mary's
Pizza Deluxe
Monterrey Lemon Chicken
Calico Skillet
Deli Bar

CALVIN AND HOBBS

WANT TO SEE A GREAT IDEA IN ACTION?

LET IT SLOW FOR A MINUTE, THEN SHANK IT ALL UP INTO THE SKIES, AND CUBE IT DOWN YOUR STOMACH, THEN WEAK THE PADDLES, AND IT SHOULD YOUR TEETH, UNIQUE HUNGER, AND TEAR

SpELLeRnE الكر

BILBATTERSON

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

JAY HOSGEL

MOUVES:
THURS 18-HEATHERS 8 AND 10:30 P.M.
FRIDAY 19 & SAT 20-DANCES WITH WOLVES
7:30 AND 11 P.M.
CUSHING AUDITORIUM $2
POPCORN $1

SATURDAY NIGHT LIVE:
A BACKSTAGE HISTORY
THURS APRIL 18 - 8 PM
CCE AUDITORIUM $3 LAF. INFO DESK

Just 2 Days until "The Best College Spring Festival!!"
By JENNIFER MARTEN
Sports Writer

One step down and two to go.
The Notre Dame men's tennis team moved one step closer to the NCAA tournament on Wednesday with a sweep of Michigan. The 6-0 victory left only Wisconsin and Ball State remaining as the only obstacles to an NCAA invitation.

Yesterday's competition was the last home match of the season and Notre Dame coach Bob Bayliss praised the seniors on the squad. Paul Odland, Ryan Benger, and Tim Kalbacs, before playing their final home game, "has been a fun four years. Each of the seniors contributed tremendously to our team and we'll remember them always," remarked Bayliss.

Once the match began however, the other classes stole the show. At number-one singles, Notre Dame junior David DiLucia defeated Michigan's David Kass in a tough three-setter.

DiLucia jumped out to an early lead winning the first set 6-1. In the second set, Kass turned his tennis up a notch and evened up the score with a 6-3 win. DiLucia took control again in the third set and skillfully turned away Kass 6-2.

"It played solid in the first and third sets and took advantage of opportunities," said DiLucia of his victory.

Trouble erupted at number-two singles over a questionable call in the second set. Sophomore Chuck Coleman won the first set against Michigan freshman Dan Brakus 6-2 and was on the verge of winning the second set when Brakus called a foot fault. Coleman was angry with the call and he answered it.

At number-three singles, Will Sullivan beat out Wolverine sophomore Scott Cuppel in straight sets, 6-3, 6-2. Sophomore Mark Schmidt fared as well as number-four singles beating John Karden 6-3, 6-0.

Another questionable call caused problems at number-five singles when the judge ruled in the second set that one of Notre Dame's singles was winning. The teams were tied 1-1 at that point. Schutts said, "We have not won two games in a row yet, we are at .500. Offensively, we have been up and down all season. Right now we are looking for some consistency."

True to fashion, after scoring only three goals Saturday, the Notre Dame offense responded with a 13-goal outburst against the Fighting Scots. Nine of the goals came in the second half, when the Irish pressure ride finally paid off.

"We played very aggressively, and it cost us two goals early," Corrigan added.

Wooster jumped out to an early 2-0 lead but, it did not last long. The Irish tied the contest at 11:22 of the second period when junior attacker, Mike Voight, went in and out of the cage to make it 1-1. In singles action, all top three players were defeated despite impressive efforts. Sarah Schultz took a one goal short of tying the Notre Dame record for most goals in an NCAA tournament game.

The remainder of the first half relied mostly on defense. The teams went into the intermission tied at four thanks to a goal by Irish sophomore midfielder Brian McDonald at 19 seconds left.

Mayglothing had a sensational game, scoring three goals and tallying three assists. The Fighting Scots took a brief one-goal lead early in the second half, but it was wiped out with two Irish goals less than a minute later.

"If we can get past these two games, we will qualify for the NCAA tournament," said DiLucia of his team's remaining prospects.

The emergence of USA Today has revamped the focus of sports journalism, according to sports columnist Dave Kindred, who presented the 1991 Red Smith Lecture on Thursday night at the Center for Continuing Education.

An associate editor of the daily sports newspaper The National, Kindred considered it an honor to be associated with "a great writer as Smith, who graduated from Notre Dame in 1927 and became one of America's most influential sports journalists."

"He was the most important person for me to be anywhere where Red's name mentioned was involved. Kindred said, "He was my hero; journalism is my life, and any combination of those things thrills me."

Kindred first met Smith at Augusta (Ga.) National in 1967. While most writers would consider it a privilege to cover The Masters, Kindred had a specific movement in mind.

The Observer/Marguerite Schropp
Sarah Mayer follows through on a backhand in yesterday's tennis match against the University of Toledo.

Belles tennis defeated by Toledo
By LYNNE BRAGG
Sports Writer

The frustration showed on their faces, as the Saint Mary's College tennis team fell to a powerful University of Toledo yesterday afternoon. According to the Saint Mary's coach Shelley Schultz, the team was expecting intense competition from Toledo.

In Division I, the Saint Mary's Toledo team is in Division I where we are in Division III," coach Schultz said.

"It will give us a great chance to compete against a top team. I think we can get a little bit of a good competition."

Coming off an impressive win against the University of Illinois at Chicago (6-1) Tuesday afternoon, the team was ready to play yesterday. However the Belles were out played over powering the Wolverines for whose record fell to 4-7.

In singles action, all top three players were defeated despite incredible efforts. Sarah Schultz lost in first singles 6-3, 6-2, while sister Ellen bowed to her opponent in straight sets, 6-3, 6-2. In a hard fought two sets, Marie Koscielski lost in third singles, 6-3, 6-2.

The only two Saint Mary's victories of the afternoon came in the sixth and seventh singles. Thayma Darby decisively beat her opponent, 6-2, 6-0. Teammate Gignac, followed with a sixth singles win, 6-7, 6-1, 6-0.

The doubles action was intense, with two of the matches going to three sets. In first doubles, the Belles fell to a very good but lost, 6-2, 3-6, 1-6. The team of Maria Kindred and Mary Mee was hit by a double and Matt Haas walked. Mike Coss reached on a throwing error to load the bases, and Cory Mee was hit by a pitch, bringing in Cinkwitz. Moore was yanked and Gerald Davis, in relief, gave up a final run in the inning. Davis silenced the Irish bats after the inning, giving up one only one hit of the rest of the way and retiring the final 13 batters.

Pat Leach went in the distance for the Irish, giving up one run on three hits and striking out eight, in raising his record to 4-1.

"My control was pretty good tonight," said Leach. "I didn't try to strike out or get too fine out there. I just wanted to keep them when they play. They tough because they want to beat me really badly."

Leach, however, was more than a match for the Cougars hitters, and Jacobs' homerun proved to be all that the Irish needed.

"You've got to give credit to Davis (CSU)," said Irish coach Pat Murphy, "he looked for a good job in relief. We hit the ball squarely, but were a little bit out of sync with that."

In the nightcap, the Irish fell to a another stellar pitching performance. Texas A&M lost to freshman Tom Price, 4-2,

The Irish scored in the second inning. Edifon Hartwell doubled and scored on a throwing error on Dan Bausch's