Professors analyze Clinton's address

By BECKY BARNES Assistant News Editor

Democratic presidential candidate Gov. Bill Clinton used his speech at Notre Dame Friday to initiate a new campaign to focus on issues facing Catholic voters, according to two Notre Dame professors.

Clinton "clearly wanted to reframe the discussion of values, offer his perspective on the social questions facing Catholics and universities," said the speech the kick-off of Clinton's "Catholic campaign" in comparison to his "Reagan evangelical campaign."

"This was a speech for Catholics across the country using Notre Dame as a platform for it," said David Lege, government professor.

In previous speeches, Clinton has focused largely on economic issues. This speech was an attempt to offer an economic program in a context compatible with his Catholic moral philosophy," Lege said.

Many blue collar voters are ethnic Catholics, and it seems to see Clinton appealing to these voters in the future with visits to obviously Catholic settings such as social service agencies and universities. He called the speech the kick-off of Clinton's "Catholic campaign" similar to his "Reagan evangelical campaign."

"This speech also made an appeal to "Reagan Democrats,"" added Robert Schmuhl, chairman of the American studies department.

"This was a speech for Catholics across the country using Notre Dame as a platform for it," said David Lege, government professor.

In previous speeches, Clinton has focused largely on economic issues. This speech was an attempt to offer an economic program in a context compatible with his Catholic moral philosophy," Lege said.

Many blue collar voters are ethnic Catholics, and it seems to see Clinton appealing to these voters in the future with visits to obviously Catholic settings such as social service agencies and universities. He called the speech the kick-off of Clinton's "Catholic campaign" similar to his "Reagan evangelical campaign."

"This speech also made an appeal to "Reagan Democrats,"" added Robert Schmuhl, chairman of the American studies department.

"This was a speech for Catholics across the country using Notre Dame as a platform for it," said David Lege, government professor.

In previous speeches, Clinton has focused largely on economic issues. This speech was an attempt to offer an economic program in a context compatible with his Catholic moral philosophy," Lege said.

Many blue collar voters are ethnic Catholics, and it seems to see Clinton appealing to these voters in the future with visits to obviously Catholic settings such as social service agencies and universities. He called the speech the kick-off of Clinton's "Catholic campaign" similar to his "Reagan evangelical campaign."

"This speech also made an appeal to "Reagan Democrats,"" added Robert Schmuhl, chairman of the American studies department.

"This was a speech for Catholics across the country using Notre Dame as a platform for it," said David Lege, government professor.

In previous speeches, Clinton has focused largely on economic issues. This speech was an attempt to offer an economic program in a context compatible with his Catholic moral philosophy," Lege said.

Many blue collar voters are ethnic Catholics, and it seems to see Clinton appealing to these voters in the future with visits to obviously Catholic settings such as social service agencies and universities. He called the speech the kick-off of Clinton's "Catholic campaign" similar to his "Reagan evangelical campaign."

"This speech also made an appeal to "Reagan Democrats,"" added Robert Schmuhl, chairman of the American studies department.

"This was a speech for Catholics across the country using Notre Dame as a platform for it," said David Lege, government professor.

In previous speeches, Clinton has focused largely on economic issues. This speech was an attempt to offer an economic program in a context compatible with his Catholic moral philosophy," Lege said.

Many blue collar voters are ethnic Catholics, and it seems to see Clinton appealing to these voters in the future with visits to obviously Catholic settings such as social service agencies and universities. He called the speech the kick-off of Clinton's "Catholic campaign" similar to his "Reagan evangelical campaign."

"This speech also made an appeal to "Reagan Democrats,"" added Robert Schmuhl, chairman of the American studies department.

"This was a speech for Catholics across the country using Notre Dame as a platform for it," said David Lege, government professor.

In previous speeches, Clinton has focused largely on economic issues. This speech was an attempt to offer an economic program in a context compatible with his Catholic moral philosophy," Lege said.

Many blue collar voters are ethnic Catholics, and it seems to see Clinton appealing to these voters in the future with visits to obviously Catholic settings such as social service agencies and universities. He called the speech the kick-off of Clinton's "Catholic campaign" similar to his "Reagan evangelical campaign."

"This speech also made an appeal to "Reagan Democrats,"" added Robert Schmuhl, chairman of the American studies department.

"This was a speech for Catholics across the country using Notre Dame as a platform for it," said David Lege, government professor.

In previous speeches, Clinton has focused largely on economic issues. This speech was an attempt to offer an economic program in a context compatible with his Catholic moral philosophy," Lege said.

Many blue collar voters are ethnic Catholics, and it seems to see Clinton appealing to these voters in the future with visits to obviously Catholic settings such as social service agencies and universities. He called the speech the kick-off of Clinton's "Catholic campaign" similar to his "Reagan evangelical campaign."

"This speech also made an appeal to "Reagan Democrats,"" added Robert Schmuhl, chairman of the American studies department.

"This was a speech for Catholics across the country using Notre Dame as a platform for it," said David Lege, government professor.

In previous speeches, Clinton has focused largely on economic issues. This speech was an attempt to offer an economic program in a context compatible with his Catholic moral philosophy," Lege said.

Many blue collar voters are ethnic Catholics, and it seems to see Clinton appealing to these voters in the future with visits to obviously Catholic settings such as social service agencies and universities. He called the speech the kick-off of Clinton's "Catholic campaign" similar to his "Reagan evangelical campaign."

"This speech also made an appeal to "Reagan Democrats,"" added Robert Schmuhl, chairman of the American studies department.

"This was a speech for Catholics across the country using Notre Dame as a platform for it," said David Lege, government professor.

In previous speeches, Clinton has focused largely on economic issues. This speech was an attempt to offer an economic program in a context compatible with his Catholic moral philosophy," Lege said.

Many blue collar voters are ethnic Catholics, and it seems to see Clinton appealing to these voters in the future with visits to obviously Catholic settings such as social service agencies and universities. He called the speech the kick-off of Clinton's "Catholic campaign" similar to his "Reagan evangelical campaign."

"This speech also made an appeal to "Reagan Democrats,"" added Robert Schmuhl, chairman of the American studies department.

"This was a speech for Catholics across the country using Notre Dame as a platform for it," said David Lege, government professor.

In previous speeches, Clinton has focused largely on economic issues. This speech was an attempt to offer an economic program in a context compatible with his Catholic moral philosophy," Lege said.

Many blue collar voters are ethnic Catholics, and it seems to see Clinton appealing to these voters in the future with visits to obviously Catholic settings such as social service agencies and universities. He called the speech the kick-off of Clinton's "Catholic campaign" similar to his "Reagan evangelical campaign."

"This speech also made an appeal to "Reagan Democrats,"" added Robert Schmuhl, chairman of the American studies department.

"This was a speech for Catholics across the country using Notre Dame as a platform for it," said David Lege, government professor.

In previous speeches, Clinton has focused largely on economic issues. This speech was an attempt to offer an economic program in a context compatible with his Catholic moral philosophy," Lege said.

Many blue collar voters are ethnic Catholics, and it seems to see Clinton appealing to these voters in the future with visits to obviously Catholic settings such as social service agencies and universities. He called the speech the kick-off of Clinton's "Catholic campaign" similar to his "Reagan evangelical campaign."

"This speech also made an appeal to "Reagan Democrats,"" added Robert Schmuhl, chairman of the American studies department.

"This was a speech for Catholics across the country using Notre Dame as a platform for it," said David Lege, government professor.

In previous speeches, Clinton has focused largely on economic issues. This speech was an attempt to offer an economic program in a context compatible with his Catholic moral philosophy," Lege said.

Many blue collar voters are ethnic Catholics, and it seems to see Clinton appealing to these voters in the future with visits to obviously Catholic settings such as social service agencies and universities. He called the speech the kick-off of Clinton's "Catholic campaign" similar to his "Reagan evangelical campaign."

"This speech also made an appeal to "Reagan Democrats,"" added Robert Schmuhl, chairman of the American studies department.

"This was a speech for Catholics across the country using Notre Dame as a platform for it," said David Lege, government professor.

In previous speeches, Clinton has focused largely on economic issues. This speech was an attempt to offer an economic program in a context compatible with his Catholic moral philosophy," Lege said.

Many blue collar voters are ethnic Catholics, and it seems to see Clinton appealing to these voters in the future with visits to obviously Catholic settings such as social service agencies and universities. He called the speech the kick-off of Clinton's "Catholic campaign" similar to his "Reagan evangelical campaign."

"This speech also made an appeal to "Reagan Democrats,"" added Robert Schmuhl, chairman of the American studies department.

"This was a speech for Catholics across the country using Notre Dame as a platform for it," said David Lege, government professor.

In previous speeches, Clinton has focused largely on economic issues. This speech was an attempt to offer an economic program in a context compatible with his Catholic moral philosophy," Lege said.

Many blue collar voters are ethnic Catholics, and it seems to see Clinton appealing to these voters in the future with visits to obviously Catholic settings such as social service agencies and universities. He called the speech the kick-off of Clinton's "Catholic campaign" similar to his "Reagan evangelical campaign."

"This speech also made an appeal to "Reagan Democrats,"" added Robert Schmuhl, chairman of the American studies department.

"This was a speech for Catholics across the country using Notre Dame as a platform for it," said David Lege, government professor.

In previous speeches, Clinton has focused largely on economic issues. This speech was an attempt to offer an economic program in a context compatible with his Catholic moral philosophy," Lege said.

Many blue collar voters are ethnic Catholics, and it seems to see Clinton appealing to these voters in the future with visits to obviously Catholic settings such as social service agencies and universities. He called the speech the kick-off of Clinton's "Catholic campaign" similar to his "Reagan evangelical campaign."

"This speech also made an appeal to "Reagan Democrats,"" added Robert Schmuhl, chairman of the American studies department.

"This was a speech for Catholics across the country using Notre Dame as a platform for it," said David Lege, government professor.

In previous speeches, Clinton has focused largely on economic issues. This speech was an attempt to offer an economic program in a context compatible with his Catholic moral philosophy," Lege said.

Many blue collar voters are ethnic Catholics, and it seems to see Clinton appealing to these voters in the future with visits to obviously Catholic settings such as social service agencies and universities. He called the speech the kick-off of Clinton's "Catholic campaign" similar to his "Reagan evangelical campaign."

"This speech also made an appeal to "Reagan Democrats,"" added Robert Schmuhl, chairma...
Booing should be directed at poor sport fans

Several media accounts have stated that booing was heard after the conclusion of Saturday's game against Michigan. While I was there and did not hear the alleged booing, I really hope that they did not resonate from the student section.

Notre Dame, as an institution always seems concerned about its image. Booing definitely isn't a very good way to end a "Notre Dame Saturday." Such an action would portray our student body as, literally, poor losers. The fact of the matter is that our team is undefeated, not a bunch of losers.

Collegiate football is the great sport that it is because of the emotion and inner incentive with which it is played and watched, yet it is not all there is to it.

Only those who have played the game understand it. Football, as are most athletic events, is a microcosm of the real world.

Football necessitates teamwork, yet depends on individual performance. An offensive line is only as strong as the least skilled lineman. Four linemen can execute perfectly, but if one doesn't, the play is bust.

The game teaches you that if you get knocked you get back up and try again. If a play doesn't work or the ball is dropped, you have got to come back and just not repeat your mistake.

Not every call is designed to be a game-breaking play. The outcome of almost every football game is determined by the execution of the three components of the game, special teams, offense and defense.

In Saturday's game, no one was offensively or defensively and special teams play was a toss up, but Michigan did manage a blocked kick.

I am not trying to be strung up and then thrown to the wolves, nor am I trying to paint an inaccurate picture of the game. I have even heard some say that "they" rather would have lost than tied. "They" were not the ones that played however.

As a member of a prep team that went 5-13 in football, I have even heard some say that the game is determined by the execution of both teams, offense and defense.

Man parachutes off Gateway Arch

ST. LOUIS — A parachutist jumped from the top of the 630-foot-high Gateway Arch early Monday, then gathered up the chute and fed, an official said "He walked out past the aircraft warning light and just jumped. The chute opened and he floated down and landed safely," said Paul Ford of Computraffic, who was observing traffic with binoculars from a building near the Arch.

National Park Service officials said the parachutist escaped. They said they were questioning two other people who were taking pictures from the ground. Ford said he didn't see how the parachutist, who he believes was a man, ascended. "We've had some callers who said the guy walked up the Arch using suction cups, but we didn't see that," he said.

Man kills himself at Disney World

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. — The former girlfriend of a Walt Disney World employee fired a shotgun at guards and briefly took two hostages before she killed herself.

The guard who fled unharmed. Two other guards were taken hostage for about 10 minutes in a bathroom, Snite Museum of Art has established a new Freshman Essay Prize to be offered to freshmen writers by the museum and to be jointly administered by the museum and the Freshman Writing Program, according to Museum Director Dean Porter. The awards of $125, $75 and $50 will be given to freshmen who use a work of art in the Snite Museum as the subject of their essay. Entries for the contest should be submitted to Freshman Writing or Seminar teachers by the end of the fall semester. The prizes will be given at the annual First Year of Studies Convocation in February.

Today's Staff

News

Bevin Kovalk
Kathy Fong
Becky Barnes

Production

Jordan Maggio
John Rock

Sports

Jim Vogl

Systems

Harry Zembillas

Scoreboard

Accident

Jonathan Jensen Mara Divis
Maree Dame
Sarah Doran Trey Edwards

The Observer (USPS 999 2-400) is published Monday through Friday except during spring and vacation periods. The Observer is a daily publication of the Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.

Weather Report

FORECAST

Partly cloudy and warmer today with highs in the mid 80s. Partly sunny Wednesday and high in the low 80s.

TODAY'S TEMPERATURES

City
Chicago
Dallas
Detroit

High
70
80
75

Low
50
60
50

Scoresboard

Michigan State
Wisconsin

Monday

TODAY'S WEATHER

WEATHER REPORT

Forecast for noon, Tuesday, September 15

INSIDE COLUMN

Lines separate high temperature zones for the day.
Three killed in Serbian fire

SARAJEVO, Bosnia-Herzegovina (AP) — Serbian rebels slammed into downtown streets Monday during U.N. supervision of the heavy Serb weaponry ringing Sarajevo. At least three people were killed and 32 wounded.

Meanwhile, the leader of Serb rebels in Bosnia joined the beleaguered republic's president in threatening to boycott peace talks this week in Geneva.

Radovan Karadzic, leader of Bosnia's Serb rebels who have seized some two-thirds of Bosnian territory, warned that he would boycott the Geneva talks if the international community imposed a total flight ban on Serbian military flights in Bosnian airspace.

Karadzic's warning came after Alija Izetbegovic, Bosnia's Muslim president, also threatened to stay away from Geneva because of continuing Serb attacks by artillery, tanks and warplanes.

Bosnian government defense officials blamed Serb pinners in the hills for shelling Sarajevo, where residents had ventured onto the streets after a three­day lull in fighting.

The officials claimed some of the rounds came from 120mm mortars, which Serb forces were to have placed under U.N. supervision as of Saturday.

At least three people died en route to the military hospital, doctors said. Health officials said 32 wounded people arrived at three main Sarajevo hospitals in a 90-minute span.

More than 10,000 people have been killed since Bosnia's majority Muslims and Croats voted on Feb. 29 for independence from Yugoslavia, sparking rebellion by the republic's Serbs.

European Community foreign ministers agreed Saturday to support a U.S. proposal to impose a "no-fly" zone over Bosnia, following the suspected downing of an Italian relief plane by the Serbs on Sept. 2, which killed all four crew members.

A statement by the leadership of the self-proclaimed Bosnian Serb Republic said that warplanes could be grounded, Karadzic would completely withdraw from the talks, because that "would disrupt the strategic balance in Bosnia-Herzegovina."

Karadzic, in a fax over the weekend to the British news agency Press Association, said he supported a flight ban that would protect humanitarian planes. Those flights had been "a threat to the peace negotiations." Izetbegovic charged that warplanes were backing additional tanks brought into Bosnia by the Yugoslav army to step up attacks on Bosnian towns.

"The towns of Sarajevo, Jajce, Tuzla, Zenica, Travnik, Bosanski Brod, Mostar, Bijeljina and many others in Bosnia-Herzegovina are under constant attack with enormous damage and casualties among the civilian population," Radio Bosnia-Herzegovina quoted Izetbegovic as saying Sunday.

"Under such circumstances negotiations in Geneva or any other location would be of no use," he said.

The U.N.-sponsored talks were scheduled to begin Friday. All other attempts for a peace pact among the warring factions have failed.

The Serbian rebel air force is estimated to have about 50 fixed-wing aircraft and helicopter planes. The Serbs were said to have moved into northwestern Bosnia. The planes were left behind by the departing Yugoslav military in June, and have repeatedly been grounded.

Government troops and their allies have no air force and their air defenses are considered rudimentary.

Keeling to speak at Saint Mary's on AIDS prevention

BY NICOLE MCGRAH
News Writer

Dr. Richard Keeling, current chair of the American College Health Association's task force on HIV infection and AIDS, will speak on "Sex, Alcohol and Self-Esteem: Finding Safety" Wednesday at Saint Mary's College.

Keeling will speak twice, first at 3 p.m. in Carroll Auditorium, Madeleva Hall and again at 7 p.m. in O'Laughlin Auditorium.

According to Saint Mary's Health Director Gloria Chelmintnik, Keeling's talk will focus on students' relationships with each other.

"We want to spread our message, not through fear, but through an understanding that women and men should feel free to ask questions concerning any aspect of their relationships, the counseling and health services department," Chelmintnik said.

"The real work of preventing the HIV disease starts in connecting ourselves together in a caring community," said Keeling in the Sept. 2 issue of "The Chronicle of Higher Education."

"When AIDS awareness was first brought to students, educators tried a technical way of explaining the disease, but students were slow to respond," Chelmintnik said.

Now a new aspect of "social change" is being advocated by Keeling and many other professionals.

"If we change some behaviors, we can slow the disease by reaching out to everyone," Chelmintnik said. "However, changing those attitudes will be a long process."

Keeling spoke at Notre Dame three years ago, but few students attended the speech. More recently, as celebrities like Magic Johnson have been diagnosed HIV positive, young people are beginning to take a second look, said Chelmintnik.

The use of condoms, although forbidden by Catholicism, has been offered as a means of preventing AIDS. "I am an advocate of discussing your relationships and will answer questions about contraceptives, but I will not promote their use," she said. Chelmintnik."Contraceptives are not the answer to HIV prevention."

Chelmintnik hopes that Keeling's talks will trigger discussions.

"I want young people to open up to each other and develop their relationships," she said.

The programs are sponsored by the Saint Mary's and Notre Dame health services department. Local hospitals, high schools and middle schools have been invited to the discussions as well as students and faculty.

---

STEVE TANN

Legally speaking...

Trust you had a great 21st on the 13th!

Love--

Mom, Dad, Brian, & Guinness too.

---

Fall Break Seminars

October 18-23, 1992 Experiential/Service Learning Center for Social Concerns

APPLACHIA SEMINAR

Service learning at one of seven sites in the Appalachian region

Student-directed service/reflection

One-credit Theology

NEW WOMEN, NEW CHURCH

Explores the changing role of women in the Church, and related issues of service

Experiential learning in Chicago at various sites, with women in local ministry

One-credit Theology or Gender Studies

WASHINGTON SEMINAR

Poverty and Democracy in America: What Election?

Direct Contact with political, agency, and Church leaders in Washington, D.C.

Includes service and political awareness opportunities

One credit Theology

Applications Available Now at the CSC

Applications Due: Tuesday, Sept. 15, 1992
ND professors receive grants
Special to The Observer

Notre Dame received $1,037,590 in grants during July for the support of research and various programs.

Research funds totaled $853,639, including:

- $181,354 from the National Institute of Health for research on protein binding sites on ribonucleic acid by Paul Huber, assistant professor of chemistry and biochemistry.
- $104,592 from the National Science Foundation for a calendar of the correspondence of Sir John Herschel by Michael Crowe, professor in the program of liberal studies, and Brother James Kevin, visiting faculty fellow in the program of liberal studies.
- $88,000 from the National Science Foundation for electron transfer research by Xavier Creany, professor of chemistry and biochemistry.
- $80,973 from the U.S. Energy Department for research in atomic physics by A. Eugene Silver, associate professor of physics.
- $67,460 from the National Science Foundation for studies on parallel numerical methods for initial value problems by Andrew Lumsdaine, assistant professor of computer science and engineering.
- $63,321 from the National Science Foundation for food webs and nutrients research by David Lodge, associate professor of biological sciences.
- $55,000 from Purdue University for fiber-tracking physics research by Randall Ruchti and Nipprenda Biswas, professors of physics, and others.
- $40,000 from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) Ames Research Center for static and dynamic characteristics research by Robert Nelson, professor of aerospace and mechanical engineering.

Awards for facilities and equipment totaled $38,380 from the National Science Foundation for an electrical engineering laboratory to be used by Robert Minniti, associate professional specialist of electrical engineering, and Bhawijat Das, assistant professor of electrical engineering.

Synergistic programs totalled $96,832, including:

- $81,182 from the National Institutes of Health for training in rehabilitation research taught by John Borkowski, McKenna family professor of psychology, and Thomas Whisman, professor of psychology.
- $10,000 from the National Association for Foreign Student Programs (NAFSA)/Association of International Students fellowshipships administered by Scott Mainwaring, senior fellow in the Helen Kellogg Institute and associate professor of government and international studies.
- $5,000 from the McGee Foundation for Nathan Hatch, vice president for graduate studies and professor of history, for the McGee fellowship program in economics.

Awards for service programs totalled $38,739 from anonymous donors for various programs of the Institute for Pastoral and Social Ministry.

"to point out the similarity of the political stances Catholics and southern Baptists have faced in the past ... and appeal to that side of Catholicism that has learned to be more tolerant," Lege said.

Many members of campus and local pro-life groups attended Clinton's speech, but Clinton did not directly address the issue of abortion. Both Schaus and Lege pointed to the statements he did make about his concern with the quality of "life after birth."

These statements and the other references to Catholic teaching were already making the "breath of Catholic moral philosophy and that it should not be diminished by focusing on one single issue," Lege said. Public reaction to Clinton's speech has incorporated "both sides of the story," according to Dennis Moore, director of University Public Relations.

Because Clinton is pro-choice, Moore said he has received some telephone calls saying the University "had no business allowing him to speak here," but the reaction has not been as severe as when pro-choice Senator Daniel Patrick Moynihan received last year's Laxalt Medal.

Saint Mary's BOG plans fall events for students
By KATIE O'CONNOR

Fall events of the Saint Mary's Board of Governors (BOG) were planned at last night's initiation prayer ceremony.

The first event, the annual "Party with the Plead," will be held on the Purdy weekend. Saint Mary's students will receive invitations during the next week to tailgate with alumni before the games.

BOG will also sponsor another tailgater the following weekend when the Irish play Stanford. Concession stands will be set up along the walk to the game, encouraging students to meet their fellow classmates.

Other new business includes the announcement of the fall semester fundraiser, the Phon-A-Thon, to be held the first two weeks in November. Founders' Day has also been tentatively set for October 13.

Future goals for BOG include the formation of an elections revision task force. This group will consider a change in the election process, possibly moving elections to the fall semester.

Junior Class President Beth Petrovic concluded, "This year holds the potential for many great ideas from a diverse group of women and I hope our contribution will prove positive to the Saint Mary's community."

Iniki continued from page 1

ator of State Civil Defense. Lihue Airport remained closed to commercial flights, but hundreds of tourists lined up on interisland jets that came in loaded with supplies and left loaded with people. Only one got by ship. "We needed a vacation, but not this," Nathan Salmon of Santa Barbara, Calif., said as he waited Sunday. The American Red Cross housed between 7,000 to 8,000 people in 13 shelters. At Kalaunu Elementary School, several hundred people, many of them tourists, tried to con­ servate what little water was available Sunday by standing over buckets as they used gar­ den hoses to take showers.

Some, fed up with broken toi­ lets and unable to find the school's principal and his keys, broke into a locked bathroom and recruited shelter volunteers to open the others. "It's like being back in the States. We've lost our homes, here," said Anne King of San Pedro, Calif.

The Salvation Army was providing meals for 1,500 people a day, said Capt. Art Storlie. The island has plenty of cloth­ ing but needed non-perishable foods, powdered milk and dis­ pers, he said.

Despite efforts to get tourists out, many lost their patience. "I'm disappointed they weren't prepared," said Don Klein of Van Nys, Calif.

"We were the first to ride without training wheels."

"We were the trooper that sold the most cookies."

"We were the state math champs."

"We were leaders in student government."

"Now we're with Hewitt Associates... it's just natural."

Persistence. Determination. The relentless pursuit to be the best has made Hewitt Associates an international leader in employee benefits and compensation consulting services.

Why does 75% of the Fortune 500 turn to Hewitt Associates? It's because they want to work with the firm they can trust to bring the power of dedicated professionals working on the design, finance, administration and communication of their employee benefit and compensation programs. You're invited to explore consulting opportunities with Hewitt Associates.

Intelligence. Ambition. A commitment to succeed. That's what's taken us this far. If you're ready to take the next step toward your professional success, come meet us.

Our next event is scheduled for the first week of October. If you're ready to..."
Physicians approve health care system

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's second-largest physicians' group urged the government Monday to cap their fees and establish a health care system much like the one proposed by Democratic presidential candidate Bill Clinton.

The White House replied "not a chance" when asked if the president could endorse the proposal.

The American College of Physicians, representing some 77,000 doctors of internal medicine, said the government should limit the amount of money spent overall in this country on health care, and said the states should negotiate fee limits with doctors and hospitals.

Dr. John Ball, executive vice president of the organization, said it is not endorsing one political candidate over another, but he did admit the doctors were calling for something quite similar to a proposal by the Democratic presidential nominee.

"There are a number of elements of our plan that are very close to the Clinton plan," Ball said.

In addition to calling for government regulation of their fees, the group urged the extension of medical coverage to everybody in the country, either through private or public insurance. It also called for consolidation of the Medicare and Medicaid systems, which provide health care for the elderly and poor, respectively.

Like the Clinton plan, the doctors were not specific about how much public money would be needed to finance it, at least initially. They said they hoped the money would come from what is being spent on health care already, so the net effect on the economy would be neutral in the beginning. The savings would come later, when costs would rise less rapidly than they are now, the doctors said.

The doctors' proposal was endorsed by Rep. Henry Waxman, D-Calif., and Sens. John Rockefeller IV, D-W.Va., Robert Kerrey, D-Neb., and James Jeffords, R-Vt., as well as representatives from Chrysler Corp. and the American Association for Retired Persons.

The White House was unimpressed.

"It is very destructive of innovation and change," said Gail Wilensky, an adviser to President Bush on health care issues, adding, "It is absolutely contrary to what we are doing."

The cost-containment part of the plan was dead on arrival on the White House doorstep, said Ball. The White House would not endorse such an idea, she added. "Not a chance," she replied.

The Bush administration has opposed such plans for their similarity to the Canadian health care system. The Republicans have equated the proposal with rationing of health care services.

Since 1987, the Bush administration has been raising its rates because of inflationary fears. The Lombard rate is the rate the Bundesbank charges for overnight loans, the discount rate is what the central banks charges other banks for longer-term loans.

Lowering German interest rates could also affect the outcome of next Sunday's French referendum on the Maastricht treaties on European political and economic union.

German interest rates cut

BONN, Germany (AP) — In a move with possible ramifications for the U.S. economy and Europe's future, Germany's central bank today cut its interest rates for the first time in nearly five years.

The central bank, called the Bundesbank, reduced the Lombard rate from 9.75 percent to 9.50 percent, and the discount rate from 8.75 percent to 8.25 percent.

The Bundesbank's move marks a victory for the United States and for Bonn's European Community partners, which view Germany's high rates as a hindrance to their own economic recovery.

The German central bank made the decision after a special meeting in Frankfurt.

Security Beat

THURSDAY, SEPT. 10
3:30 p.m. A Lewis Hall resident reported the theft of her locked bicycle from outside of Old Dorms.

4:30 p.m. A Notre Dame student reported the theft of her backpack from the lobby of South Dining Hall.

9:45 p.m. A Porthall Hall resident reported that her vehicle had been vandalized while it was parked in the D-6 parking lot.

19:30 p.m. Notre Dame security received a report of a suspect selling narcotics in Siegel Hall. The suspect was found and issued a trespass notice and escorted off campus.

FRIDAY, SEPT. 11
11:00 a.m. A Walsh Hall resident reported the theft of her bicycle from outside of her dorm.

3:25 p.m. A visitor to the University reported that several items were stolen from the trunk of his vehicle while the vehicle was parked in front of the JACC.

10:45 p.m. A Siegel Hall resident reported having someone entering his room.

10:48 p.m. A University employee reported that his bike had been stolen through a window at Stanford Hall.

SUNDAY, SEPT. 13
10:30 a.m. A Walsh Hall resident reported that his bicycle had been stolen from the bike rack outside of his dorm.

A feast of flavors

Students at South Dining Hall enjoy the numerous toppings available for their yogurt.

MACRI'S PIZZA & ITALIAN RESTAURANT

Pizza & Pasta—Sandwiches—Appetizers

Free Delivery to Campus

SEPTEMBER SPECIALS: (expires 9/30/92)

DINE IN ONLY

10% off pizza

with this ad

Student (D)

Pizza ToGoings

$1 off any 12" or 14" Pizza

Or 3" off any 12" Pizza

Only with this ad

5203 Emmons Rd.

Georgetown Shopping Center

(next to Club Shenanigan's)

N.D. PreLaw Society

Personal Statement Meeting

with Prof. Soens

Tonight

7:30 p.m.

Cushing Auditorium

Start your weekend off right!

Lunch

12 - 2

this Friday

must be 21

MACRI'S PIZZA & ITALIAN RESTAURANT

Pizza & Pasta—Sandwiches—Appetizers

Free Delivery to Campus

SEPTEMBER SPECIALS: (expires 9/30/92)

DINE IN ONLY

10% off pizza

with this ad

Student (D)

Pizza ToGoings

$1 off any 12" or 14" Pizza

Or 3" off any 12" Pizza

Only with this ad

5203 Emmons Rd.

Georgetown Shopping Center

(next to Club Shenanigan's)
Iraqi Kurdish villagers caught in Turks' conflict

IRAQI (AP) - Tens of thousands of Iraqi Kurdish villages have been caught in the fight between Turkey and the Turkish Kurdish rebels who have sought sanctuary in northern Iraq.

Turkish forces have shelled Kurdish villages suspected of harboring rebels of the Turkish Kurdish Labor Party, or PKK. Since August 1984, the PKK has been waging a separatist war in southeastern Turkey, which is home to half of the country's 12 million Kurds.

Turkish officials believe two-thirds of the estimated 10,000 Turkish guerrilla bases are deployed outside the country's borders, mostly in Iraq. They are suspected of receiving arms from Baghdad.

The rebels' forays into Turkey prompt punitive air raids and shelling by Turkey.

The raids are supposedly against Turkish rebel bases in Iraq.

But there have also poured the homes Iraqi Kurds are trying to rebuild in villages destroyed by Saddam Hussein's army.

Kurdish officials have estimated the death toll at more than 60 in about 40 raids since last week.

In Orah, a Kurdish village on the Turkish border, 50 miles east of Zakho, an elderly Iraqi Kurd sought shelter from the sun under a canopy of dried branches.

For nearly two months, he said, Turkish shells have rained down on the valley at dusk from the Turkish border, Iraq and Iran meet. Kemal Fouad, a a Kurdish official, said PKK guerrilla had hold 40 to 50 villages in the area and had lured Iraqi Kurds from returning.

Earlier this month, Massoud Barzani, a local Iraqi Kurdish leader, announced his forces would oust the Turkish Kurdish rebels from northern Iraq - by force if necessary.

"Everything has its limits and we are not able any more to endure what the PKK is doing. Either we must leave the area for the PKK, or they must leave for us," Barzani said.

Barzani, who earlier had not with Turkish officials in Ankara, apparently made the pledge in return for a Turkish promise to refrain from further military action in the region.

But the attacks have already caused much suffering.

Correction

An article in Monday's Observer mis quoted a portion of Democratic Party Chairman Bill Clinton's Friday speech at Notre Dame. The quotation should have read, "We know in this room, at least, our supporters can win the cheering contest. I would hope that in this great university, we could also prevail in the civility contest." The Observer regrets the error.

India's population growing fast

NEW DELHI, India (AP) - Population experts today criticized India's birth-control policy for its focus on sterilization and said the country's mushrooming population may become the world's largest in the 21st century.

India was one of the first Third World countries to understand the need to check its growth, and has had a family planning program since 1951. But stifling government bureaucracy and central planning has hampered implementation, said a study released today by the Washington-based Population Crisis Committee.

India's estimated population of 883 million is growing about 2 percent annually, compared with the U.S. growth rate of 0.8 percent and 1.5 percent in China, which has about 1.2 billion people.

At those rates, the report said, India's population will surpass China's in the early decades of the next century. Although the average number of births for Indian women has fallen from six to four, the committee said India's goal of reaching two births per woman by the end of the century was unrealistic.

The average today is 2.5 in China and 2 in the United States.

India has stressed female sterilization because it is easier to monitor than temporary contraception methods. Also, many rural Indian women are illiterate and do not understand how to use birth control devices.

Beginning 17 years ago, the government broadened its sterilization program, offering compensation to women who underwent the operation and bonuses to state officials for meeting targets.

Widespread resentment eventually led to demonstrations and riots against family planning.

It was one reason for Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's fall from power in 1977. Many politicians responded by playing down the importance of contraception.

In recent years, the policy shifted toward other contraception methods, said the 60-page report.

But sterilization targets remain, and the field staff responsible for carrying out the policy believe "that their careers depend on meeting these targets," it says.

"In some states, local-level administrators receive substantial rewards for achieving specific numbers of sterilizations," the report continues.

Those that don't meet their quotas "are threatened with stoppage of salaries and financial penalties."

Younger women who don't want to be sterilized often are unaware of other options. As a result, only 45 percent of Indian couples use contraception, far below the 72 percent of China's and 74 percent in the United States, said the committee.

Correction

An article in Monday's Observer mis quoted a portion of Democratic Party Chairman Bill Clinton's Friday speech at Notre Dame. The quotation should have read, "We know in this room, at least, our supporters can win the cheering contest. I would hope that in this great university, we could also prevail in the civility contest." The Observer regrets the error.
Bush defends his environmental plans: "rational and reasonable"

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) -- President Bush said today his environmental policies are "rational and reasonable" and accused Democrat Bill Clinton of promoting "the old command and control mentality" toward protecting natural resources.

Speaking to 200 land developers and land owners at the Penasquitos Canyon Ranch, he promised that his environmental approach would strike a balance between protecting resources and preserving jobs.

"A strong economy and a clean environment not only can but must go hand in hand," he said. He added, "Extremism on either side is no virtue."

The president said Clinton has had a poor record on environmental protection in Arkansas and suggested he would pursue extremist policies if he got to the White House.

Clinton and the Democrats favor a "philosophy that will not only cost jobs but impede ... environmental progress," Bush said.

"I will certainly match my environmental record against my opponent's," the president said.

Responding, Clinton spokeswoman Ann Lawlis cited a 1.33 million drop in manufacturing jobs nationwide over the last four years. At the same time, she said, the administration's Council on Competitiveness, headed by Vice President Quayle, has fought a number of environmental regulations.

"This environmental president has given nothing but lip service to the environment and nothing but lip service to job creation," she said.

The San Diego developers are concerned lest the federal government add the gnatcatcher to the list of species threatened by land development and requiring special efforts to prevent its extinction.

The gnatcatcher was proposed for the list of endangered species in 1991. Developers contend that listing of birds as endangered would harm the Southern California economy.

The Interior Department intends to make a formal announcement on the gnatcatcher this week, department spokesman Steven Goldstein said Sunday, although he suggested the department might call for further study, thus putting off a final decision on whether it should be added to the endangered list.

Campaign aides concede that Bush's environmental stance is unpopular in many regions of the country, but the president is pressing the issue as a way of illustrating a broader theme closer to Americans' hearts: protecting jobs.

Bush contends his approach strikes a proper balance between protecting natural resources and putting jobs at risk by limiting commercial development.

WASHINGTON (AP) More than a dozen states have voter registration systems that keep people out of the election process, the League of Women Voters said Monday.

The worst states have confusing, cumbersome and inconvenient voter registration requirements which actually block citizens from participating in our electoral system," said league President Becky Cain.

The league supports the National Voter Registration Act, which would streamline and reform voting procedures. President Bush vetoed the legislation on the grounds that it would invite fraud; Congress is expected to try to override the veto this week.

The league said the states with the worst registration systems are: Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Missouri, New Hampshire, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Virginia and Wyoming.

It said the best states are Maine, Minnesota, Oregon, Texas, Wisconsin and the District of Columbia.

Few states have adopted all the measures the league recommends: registration by "motor-voter" programs that let registration to drivers' license applications and renewal, registration at school and unemployment offices, and registration at government agencies and agencies serving the disabled.

Mail-in registration is force-in 28 states and the District of Columbia. Some states use "motor-voter" registration in the District and 34 states.

Some of the barriers cited by the league include restrictive hours, inconvenient and hard-to-locate registration sites, restrictive deputization requirements, and inadequate ways of notifying those who are purged from the rolls.

Even where practices seem fair, Cain said, actual registration procedures can be flawed.

Democrats' women reject stereotypes

WASHINGTON (AP) -- Hillary Clinton and Tipper Gore asked women on Monday to reject what they charged was a Repub­lican campaign based on diversionary personal attacks and sexual stereotypes.

"These next weeks we're going to need your help," Mrs. Clinton told about 2,500 people mostly working women at a luncheon fund-raiser.

"Fear and insecurity and anxiety and fear will be in the air," she said. "It will not in any way make a difference ... to the homeless children in the shelters, to the families we met on the bus trip. But it'll fill the airwaves and fill the newspaper columns."

Mrs. Gore, in introducing Mrs. Clinton, called her "a woman who has withstood a lot of unfair diversionary criticism because (Republicans) don't want to talk about their economic record and what they haven't done for the families."

"So they do what happens to women in this country," said the wife of Bill Clinton's running mate, Sen. Al Gore. "We know it well. They stereotype us. They put us in a box. But it's not going to work this time."
Art controversy stirs faculty at both campuses
Sculptures did not get a fair hearing

Dear Editor:

It would be irresponsible as an academic department to allow the comments made by Anna Marie Tabor about Marcia Kaplan’s exhibition in Monday’s issue of The Observer to stand without correction. They do a great disservice to the issues at hand.

In Ms. Tabor’s “Inside Column,” an obvious lack of information is distressing. Dr. Bruno Schlesinger, while a fine and learned colleague is not a Saint Mary’s professor nor a faculty member of the Art Department. In her column Ms. Tabor suggests that more thoughtful placement for Marcia Kaplan’s artwork might have alleviated the negative reception.

These comments overlook a primary intent of the work. As the artist mentioned in her recent lecture on campus, these works were created to be exhibited in an outdoor context. This was in fact agreed to in contractual arrangements with the college prior to the exhibition.

This exterior setting played a critical role in the definition and exposition of Ms. Kaplan’s aesthetic and expressive intent. With insensitivity to the artist’s mode and the manner of expression A.M. Tabor suggests that Ms. Kaplan should have been invited to discuss her work prior to the exhibition, ostensibly to alleviate the adverse reaction. Her statement reveals a fundamental lack of understanding of the creative process and experience.

To discuss, describe and define these works prior to their installation or even shortly thereafter defeats the point and would be an injustice to the artist, the work and the audience.

By their nature these works pose fundamental questions of meaning to their audience, questions of interpretation which the artists seeks to have the viewer individually and without a predefined interpretation.

Ms. Tabor wrongly suggests that the answer precede the question - a particularly inappropriate solution in an environment which should, in its ideal, seek these answers through reasoned discourse.

In the conclusion of her commentary, Ms. Tabor states that poor judgment and planning were the cause of lost opportunities in this exhibition. Nothing could be further from the truth.

The simple fact is that reactionary intolerance is to blame here. In an institution where “Reasoned, if occasionally passionate, discourse” should be the rule.

Ms. Kaplan’s work hardly got a fair hearing.

Kevin Firm
Adj. Prof. Emeriti

William Brogden
V. Asst. Professors

Robert Coleman
Jean Dibble

Kathleen Pyne
Leah Rutchick

Asst. Professors

Austin Collins, CSC
Paul Down

Asst. Prof. Spec.

James Flanagan, CSC
Richard Gray

Douglas Kinsey
Dean Porter

Charles Rosenberg
Richard Stevens

Donald Vogt
Assoc. Professors

Johnsen

Asst. Prof. Spec.

Cheryl Phelan
Art Dept. Staff

Anthony Lauck, CSC

Emeritus

William Kremer

Professor

Sept. 10, 1992

The Observer
P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556 (219) 239-5303
1992-93 General Board

Managing Editor
Alice Rush

Editor-in-Chief
Monica Yanti

Business Manager
Richard Ray

Advertising Manager
Mike Hobbs

Art Design Manager
Kevin Hartman

Production Manager
Robert Socrates

Systems Manager
Patrick Barth

Grafics Director
C.P. Dvorak

Controller
David Beliveau

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary’s College. It is not necessarily the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and objectively as possible. Unsigned editorials represent the opinion of the majority of the Editor-in-Chief, Managing Editor, News Editor, Viewpoint Editor, Accent Editor, Photo Editor, Sports Editor, and Saint Mary’s Editor. Comments and letters are encouraged.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Art department responds to vandals’ ‘intolerant’ display

Dear Editor:

By this letter we would like to show our support for our colleagues in the Art Department at Saint Mary’s College and those individuals who serve on the Moreau Gallery Board.

By bringing quality exhibitions of the work of contemporary artists to the campus, they have enhanced the cultural life of the entire community.

We are saddened and disturbed by the recent vandalism to the sculpture of Marcia Kaplan, because such behavior indicates a closed-minded and intolerant attitude that is totally unacceptable in an academic environment.

It is our hope that this incident will not curtail future exhibitions of outdoor sculpture offered under the “Sculpture on the Grounds” program.

Jeffrey Adams

Sculpture Technician

Frederick Beckman

Prof. Emeritus

Douglas Bradley

Douglas E. Tyler

Professor/Chair

Fr. Richard Conyers

Lecturer Art

Sr. Cecilia Ann Kelly

Professor

Sr. Rose Ellen Morrissey

H. James Paradis

Professor Emeriti

Marcia Richard

Julie W. Tourtilotte

Assistant Professors

William W. Tourtilotte

Sept. 10, 1992

ODONESBURY

THE SCULPTURE at Grady’s hospital bed.

GARRY TRUDEAU

Dear Editor:

By letter we would like to show our support for our colleagues in the Art Department at Saint Mary’s College and those individuals who serve on the Moreau Gallery Board.

By bringing quality exhibitions of the work of contemporary artists to the campus, they have enhanced the cultural life of the entire community.

We are saddened and disturbed by the recent vandalism to the sculpture of Marcia Kaplan, because such behavior indicates a closed-minded and intolerant attitude that is totally unacceptable in an academic environment.

It is our hope that this incident will not curtail future exhibitions of outdoor sculpture offered under the “Sculpture on the Grounds” program.

Jeffrey Adams

Sculpture Technician

Frederick Beckman

Prof. Emeritus

Douglas Bradley

Douglas E. Tyler

Professor/Chair

Fr. Richard Conyers

Lecturer Art

Sr. Cecilia Ann Kelly

Professor

Sr. Rose Ellen Morrissey

H. James Paradis

Professor Emeriti

Marcia Richard

Julie W. Tourtilotte

Assistant Professors

William W. Tourtilotte

Sept. 10, 1992

ODONESBURY

THE SCULPTURE at Grady’s hospital bed.

GARRY TRUDEAU

Dear Editor:

By letter we would like to show our support for our colleagues in the Art Department at Saint Mary’s College and those individuals who serve on the Moreau Gallery Board.

By bringing quality exhibitions of the work of contemporary artists to the campus, they have enhanced the cultural life of the entire community.

We are saddened and disturbed by the recent vandalism to the sculpture of Marcia Kaplan, because such behavior indicates a closed-minded and intolerant attitude that is totally unacceptable in an academic environment.

It is our hope that this incident will not curtail future exhibitions of outdoor sculpture offered under the “Sculpture on the Grounds” program.

Jeffrey Adams

Sculpture Technician

Frederick Beckman

Prof. Emeritus

Douglas Bradley

Douglas E. Tyler

Professor/Chair

Fr. Richard Conyers

Lecturer Art

Sr. Cecilia Ann Kelly

Professor

Sr. Rose Ellen Morrissey

H. James Paradis

Professor Emeriti

Marcia Richard

Julie W. Tourtilotte

Assistant Professors

William W. Tourtilotte

Sept. 10, 1992

ART DEPARTMENT responds to vandals’ ‘intolerant’ display

Dear Editor:

By letter we would like to show our support for our colleagues in the Art Department at Saint Mary’s College and those individuals who serve on the Moreau Gallery Board.

By bringing quality exhibitions of the work of contemporary artists to the campus, they have enhanced the cultural life of the entire community.

We are saddened and disturbed by the recent vandalism to the sculpture of Marcia Kaplan, because such behavior indicates a closed-minded and intolerant attitude that is totally unacceptable in an academic environment.

It is our hope that this incident will not curtail future exhibitions of outdoor sculpture offered under the “Sculpture on the Grounds” program.

Jeffrey Adams

Sculpture Technician

Frederick Beckman

Prof. Emeritus

Douglas Bradley

Douglas E. Tyler

Professor/Chair

Fr. Richard Conyers

Lecturer Art

Sr. Cecilia Ann Kelly

Professor

Sr. Rose Ellen Morrissey

H. James Paradis

Professor Emeriti

Marcia Richard

Julie W. Tourtilotte

Assistant Professors

William W. Tourtilotte

Sept. 10, 1992

ODONESBURY

THE SCULPTURE at Grady’s hospital bed.

GARRY TRUDEAU

Dear Editor:

By letter we would like to show our support for our colleagues in the Art Department at Saint Mary’s College and those individuals who serve on the Moreau Gallery Board.

By bringing quality exhibitions of the work of contemporary artists to the campus, they have enhanced the cultural life of the entire community.

We are saddened and disturbed by the recent vandalism to the sculpture of Marcia Kaplan, because such behavior indicates a closed-minded and intolerant attitude that is totally unacceptable in an academic environment.

It is our hope that this incident will not curtail future exhibitions of outdoor sculpture offered under the “Sculpture on the Grounds” program.

Jeffrey Adams

Sculpture Technician

Frederick Beckman

Prof. Emeritus

Douglas Bradley

Douglas E. Tyler

Professor/Chair

Fr. Richard Conyers

Lecturer Art

Sr. Cecilia Ann Kelly

Professor

Sr. Rose Ellen Morrissey

H. James Paradis

Professor Emeriti

Marcia Richard

Julie W. Tourtilotte

Assistant Professors

William W. Tourtilotte

Sept. 10, 1992

ODONESBURY

THE SCULPTURE at Grady’s hospital bed.

GARRY TRUDEAU

Dear Editor:

By letter we would like to show our support for our colleagues in the Art Department at Saint Mary’s College and those individuals who serve on the Moreau Gallery Board.

By bringing quality exhibitions of the work of contemporary artists to the campus, they have enhanced the cultural life of the entire community.

We are saddened and disturbed by the recent vandalism to the sculpture of Marcia Kaplan, because such behavior indicates a closed-minded and intolerant attitude that is totally unacceptable in an academic environment.

It is our hope that this incident will not curtail future exhibitions of outdoor sculpture offered under the “Sculpture on the Grounds” program.

Jeffrey Adams

Sculpture Technician

Frederick Beckman

Prof. Emeritus

Douglas Bradley

Douglas E. Tyler

Professor/Chair

Fr. Richard Conyers

Lecturer Art

Sr. Cecilia Ann Kelly

Professor

Sr. Rose Ellen Morrissey

H. James Paradis

Professor Emeriti

Marcia Richard

Julie W. Tourtilotte

Assistant Professors

William W. Tourtilotte

Sept. 10, 1992

GARRY TRUDEAU

QUOTE OF THE DAY

“We live in far too permissive a society. Never before has pornography been this rampant. And those films are lit so badly!“

Woody Allen

If your mind is not for rent, submit QUOTES, P.O. Box Q, ND, IN 46556.
Artistic traditions

Sesquicentennial exhibit at the Snite displays donated classic works

By ANALISE TAYLOR

The University’s Sesquicentennial Celebration has brought much to the limelight within the past year, and the new Sesquicentennial exhibit at the Snite Museum of Art promises to continue the University’s rediscovery of tradition, according to Dr. Dean Porter, the museum’s director.

When Porter began working on the anniversary exhibit of the Snite five years ago, he was unaware of the magnitude of his project.

From the outset, he wanted it to be unlike any other anniversary celebration. He said that when the university celebrated its 125th anniversary in 1967 the exhibit was more of a historical celebration where old paintings and photos were prominently on display.

For the sesquicentennial exhibit Porter asked alumni to donate artwork to be permanently displayed within in the past pieces were on display until the close of the exhibit.

Included in the masterpieces is an rare collection of drawings by old masters given by John Kelly ’63. In the last year sixty-six drawings by old masters have been given to the university museum.

Daniel Morper ’67, gave the Snite a 96 X 96 foot painting of the Grand Canyon. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Feldtensen gave seventy-two etchings by Rembrandt and Mary Lou and Judd Leighton gave two “highly significant” Pre-Columbian collections comprised of eighty pieces. Artists such as George Rickey gave kinetic sculpture.

Porter said this project was made possible through the Humana Foundation Endowment for American Art. The interest produced by the endowment allowed Porter to obtain over 500 pieces of art for the museum and also to acquire the endowment to be more advantageous for the student.

“We want it to be something for the future,” he said.

Porter said he wanted to look toward the future. Originally, there had been 75 works and many pieces had already been installed. The additional works have enhanced the rest of the museum, according to Porter.

“The whole museum is used and has profited,” he said. Virtually every aspect of the museum has been significantly enhanced, he said. Everything from Pre-Columbian art to Medieval works to Native American art is on display to help commemorate the 150th anniversary of the University.

“I think it (the exhibit) demonstrates the extraordinary generosity of friends and alumni have exercised over the period of 1947-1992,” Porter said. “The last five years have been unbelievable.”

“Wind’s” subject matter leaves viewer in the dust

By PETER BEVACQUA

Film Critic

In more than 140 years of competition, the United States has lost the America’s Cup only once. “Wind” is the dramatic, fictional account of an upstart group of American challengers whose drive to win the back sailing’s top prize plunges them into a world where money, power, love and ambition are inextricably intertwined.

Carroll Ballard’s (“Black Stallion”) latest endeavor traces the insatiable desire of Will Parker (Matthew Modine) to regain the treasured Cup which was lost due to his blunder two years earlier.

The loss has destroyed him both mentally and physically—his only hope for self justification is to avenge his loss and to restore sailing’s most prestigious honor to the American people. Parker and his band of maritime bad boys are the rabble-rousers of sailing’s elite society of pomp and circumstance.

The film’s first shortcoming is its choice of subject matter. A cinematic work depicting the “zany” world of America’s Cup racing is not going to cause as much of an emotional stir as the Bobby Fischer/Boris Spasky chess match over in Yugoslavia—each will have its audience, but no one really cares.

However, I figured that perhaps the film would have an interesting portrayal of the developing relationship between Will Parker and his girlfriend/racing-mate Kate Bass (Jennifer Grey). I was wrong; in fact, the opposite proved to be true.

The cinematography of the actual racing sequences was breathtaking; one must wonder how the director was able to capture such a true sense of the danger and uncertainty which accompanies the spectacle of the America’s Cup.

The scenes were exhilarating, and will make the film a viewing pleasure to anyone who has ever had the chance to embark upon the open seas.

While it reaches success on the sea, where the film fails miserably, to state it simply, is on land. Matthew Modine is a very popular actor, but even an actor the likes of Marlon Brando could not have brought life into the character of Will Parker.

And how about Jennifer Grey—well, she can dance, but she can’t act. Perhaps the most ludicrous scene within the film is when Modine undergoes a pseudo mystical Indian conversion reminiscent of Oliver Stone’s acid-induced metamorphic transformation of Jim Morrison into the quinquecentennial rock-deity, Mojo Risin.

The latter was quite interesting, the former is absurd.

If one has an interest in sailing the film will prove to be rewarding due to its knowledge of the nautical world, and its use of incredible racing footage.

“Wind” will not appeal to most, and those to whom it appeals are the same people who watch the actual America’s Cup races on ESPN during the most God-awful hours.
Cadet rings Sox’s Bell

NEW YORK (AP) — Leave it to George Bell to stir up a sleepy September game.

The Chicago White Sox beat the New York Yankees 6-5 Monday night in a game interrupted by a bench-clearing incident in the eighth inning.

Bell, Chicago’s designated hitter, thought he hit a three-run home run in a seven-run Sox third, but the player was held off by teammates and order was restored by the umpires.

"Nobody respects George Bell more than me," Howard said. "In reality I should have kept my mouth shut. As a coach you’re here to help stop those things.

"I didn’t think there was going to be a fight," said White Sox manager Gene Lamont. "The pitch looked like it was behind him, but I don’t think George was trying to intimidate the guy.

After Bell got back into the batter’s box, someone in the stands threw a ball that barely missed him.

In the sixth inning, Bell owning at a 5-0 pitch while intentionally walking intentionally walked and drew some boos from the crowd.

"I have no comment," Bell said.

Wilson Alvarez (5-3) gave up five hits and five runs in six innings to get the victory. Roberto Hernandez, the fourth Chicago pitcher, got the last four outs for his ninth save.

Lance Johnson, Frank Thomas and Dale Sveum drove in two runs each for the White Sox. Sveum homered in the sixth to give the White Sox a 7-4 lead.

With the scored tied 4-4 in the fifth, Johnson hit a two-run triple with two out off rookie Bob Wickman (3-1). Johnson was an emergency starter for the Yankees in place of Scott Sanderson, who was scratched just before the game started because of a pulled muscle in his upper right back.

Wickman failed in his attempt to become the first Yankees pitcher to win his first four major league decisions since Whitey Ford did it in 1950. Ford started his career 9-0.

For more information and assistance in obtaining the investigation of financial business opportunities, the OBSERVER suggests you contact the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan Chicago, Suite 9, South Bend, IN 46605; phone (219) 277-4910 or (312) 326-5313.

WORK PROCEEDS 263-6865.

TYPING 27-4062.

GROUPS/GROUPS/GROUPS.

Groups are now starting at the University Counseling Center for students interested in enhancing self-esteem, dealing with related issues including eating disorders, coping with other drugs or alcohol abuse, and graduate students in need of support and more. Call UCC 239-7336 for details. CALL NOW!

LOST & FOUND

LOST: Laura Marsters’ songbook. To the girl who borrowed it at Choral auditions & the girl returned it don’t know who you are. So please call me at one of 208 Stanford. 2635.

Lost: Gold claddagh bracelet. Please call ZNN or Loftus. Huge furry animals.

FOUND: 2 keys on a ring outdoors of Haggard on T-7. Call 262-2508 to claim.

Lost: Men’s black Sakso dress watch. On lap of a 5th hour. Please call John X4478.

Classifieds

For more information and assistance in obtaining the investigation of financial business opportunities, the OBSERVER suggests you contact the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan Chicago, Suite 9, South Bend, IN 46605; phone (219) 277-4910 or (312) 326-5313.

WORK PROCEEDS 263-6865.

TYPING 27-4062.

GROUPS/GROUPS/GROUPS.

Groups are now starting at the University Counseling Center for students interested in enhancing self-esteem, dealing with related issues including eating disorders, coping with other drugs or alcohol abuse, and graduate students in need of support and more. Call UCC 239-7336 for details. CALL NOW!

LOST & FOUND

LOST: Laura Marsters’ songbook. To the girl who borrowed it at Choral auditions & the girl returned it don’t know who you are. So please call me at one of 208 Stanford. 2635.

Lost: Gold claddagh bracelet. Please call ZNN or Loftus. Huge furry animals.

FOUND: 2 keys on a ring outdoors of Haggard on T-7. Call 262-2508 to claim.

Lost: Men’s black Sakso dress watch. On lap of a 5th hour. Please call John X4478.

Classifieds

For more information and assistance in obtaining the investigation of financial business opportunities, the OBSERVER suggests you contact the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan Chicago, Suite 9, South Bend, IN 46605; phone (219) 277-4910 or (312) 326-5313.

WORK PROCEEDS 263-6865.

TYPING 27-4062.

GROUPS/GROUPS/GROUPS.

Groups are now starting at the University Counseling Center for students interested in enhancing self-esteem, dealing with related issues including eating disorders, coping with other drugs or alcohol abuse, and graduate students in need of support and more. Call UCC 239-7336 for details. CALL NOW!

LOST & FOUND

LOST: Laura Marsters’ songbook. To the girl who borrowed it at Choral auditions & the girl returned it don’t know who you are. So please call me at one of 208 Stanford. 2635.

Lost: Gold claddagh bracelet. Please call ZNN or Loftus. Huge furry animals.

FOUND: 2 keys on a ring outdoors of Haggard on T-7. Call 262-2508 to claim.

Lost: Men’s black Sakso dress watch. On lap of a 5th hour. Please call John X4478.

Classifieds

For more information and assistance in obtaining the investigation of financial business opportunities, the OBSERVER suggests you contact the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan Chicago, Suite 9, South Bend, IN 46605; phone (219) 277-4910 or (312) 326-5313.

WORK PROCEEDS 263-6865.

TYPING 27-4062.

GROUPS/GROUPS/GROUPS.

Groups are now starting at the University Counseling Center for students interested in enhancing self-esteem, dealing with related issues including eating disorders, coping with other drugs or alcohol abuse, and graduate students in need of support and more. Call UCC 239-7336 for details. CALL NOW!

LOST & FOUND

LOST: Laura Marsters’ songbook. To the girl who borrowed it at Choral auditions & the girl returned it don’t know who you are. So please call me at one of 208 Stanford. 2635.

Lost: Gold claddagh bracelet. Please call ZNN or Loftus. Huge furry animals.

FOUND: 2 keys on a ring outdoors of Haggard on T-7. Call 262-2508 to claim.

Lost: Men’s black Sakso dress watch. On lap of a 5th hour. Please call John X4478.
A GRADUATE STUDENT

BIBLE STUDY GROUP will meet
Thursday, 17 September 1992
and each Thursday during semesters
8:00 - 9:00 p.m.
in the Quiet Place
15-1B Fischer Graduate Residences

The group is open to any graduate student who is interested in reading the Bible with others. Its mode will be shared reflection rather than formal instruction. The group will deliberate about what texts to focus on. Please feel free to drop in this week or later so if you care to participate.

Inquiries can be made of: Fr. John Gerber, C.S.C., Chaplain to Graduate Students at 239-8606.
Sherrill axes bull

Mississippi State coach makes demonstration to motivate team

STARKVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi State coach Jackie Sherrill says he allowed a bull to be castrated in front of his football team prior to a Sept. 5 victory over the Texas Longhorns as an educational and motivational experience.

"The whole story came when I asked our players what a steer was and none of them knew what a steer was," Sherrill said Sunday. "People say (the Texas mascot) is a longhorn steer. Is that a bull, or is he a steer?"

Sherrill said the castration was performed in front of the team for two reasons, with education "probably the biggest reason." Sherrill said motivation was another reason in the week leading up to the Texas game. Asked how the demonstration would motivate the team, the coach said, "That's everybody's biggest reason."

John Harkness, associate dean of Mississippi State's veterinary medicine school, questioned the propriety of the castration on the practice field.

"It's my personal opinion that to do that procedure in that context causes me concern," Harkness said. "As a veterinarian concerned with the treatment of animals at Mississippi State, I think it was out of place."

The incident came to light after a complaint was filed last week with the Animal Rescue League.

The coach's owner performed the castration and Sherrill said there was nothing inhumane about it because, "they were going to perform the castration anyway. A guy from the vet school, his assumptions and his comments are not valid. We didn't do anything inhumane to an animal.

"The calf is standing in living color today going about its business. Let me put it this way: I don't think that calf was embarrassed.

"I don't think that anybody can make a comment about what went on if you were not present. The people that have made the comments are not the people who were there. It's like me giving an opinion about what's going on in a laboratory. I'm not there."

Harkness said he had not called the procedure inhumane, but felt it was performed in an inappropriate context.

"I was out of place."

The coach said he had not asked the veterinarian concerned with the practice in question to be present.

People say (the Texas mascot) is a longhorn steer. Is that a bull, or is he a steer?"

Sherrill said the incident came to light after a complaint was filed last week with the Animal Rescue League.

The coach's owner performed the castration and Sherrill said there was nothing inhumane about it because, "they were going to perform the castration anyway. A guy from the vet school, his assumptions and his comments are not valid. We didn't do anything inhumane to an animal.

"The calf is standing in living color today going about its business. Let me put it this way: I don't think that calf was embarrassed.

"I don't think that anybody can make a comment about what went on if you were not present. The people that have made the comments are not the people who were there. It's like me giving an opinion about what's going on in a laboratory. I'm not there."

Harkness said he had not called the procedure inhumane, but felt it was performed in an inappropriate context.

"I was out of place."

The coach said he had not asked the veterinarian concerned with the practice in question to be present.

ND/SMC SENIORS

Now Accepting Applications for Senior Month Committee

Applications available outside Senior Class Office, 2nd floor LaFortune and Haggar Front Desk, SMC

Deadline: September 23, 1992

Questions? Call Chris 283-3486 or Sean 283-1654

Make the Grade

Cliffs StudyWare course reviews are a dynamic new way to study for midterms and finals.

- Interactive computer software — work at your own pace
- Hundreds of on-screen questions
- Answer explanations
- Glossary, hints, graphs, and figures
- Immediate feedback

BYNUTS • CALCULUS • CHEMISTRY • ECONOMICS • PHYSICS • STATISTICS

Cliffs StudyWare

Notre Dame Bookstore
The Hammes
Cliffs Notes Representative on Campus

Pizza Hut

Large 15" Pepperoni Pizza

FRESH! FAST! HOT! $6.99

Call Now!
Oakland pulls away in West

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — For now, the Oakland Athletics simply have winning on their mind.

The A's have marched to the top, not with one spectacular run, but with a series of steady winning streaks. The A's have won five straight games at least six different times this season. Currently, they're on a six-game winning streak.

"You think about it: 'Minnesota's coming in; Minnesota's coming in,'" relieved ace Dennis Eckersley said. "But what you're really thinking about is, 'We've got a chance to win it. Right now.'"

The pressure is on the Twins. "We win all three games, I would say that's a nine-game lead, and that would be real good," Mark McGwire said. He was in the starting lineup Sunday for the first time in 23 days after going on the disabled list with a rib cage injury.

McGwire said the his return for the Twins was just a coincidence.

"When I first injured it, and we looked at the schedule, the Minnesota series was the one I'd be back, anyway," McGwire said. "So it's no surprise. The injury I had was a three-week injury."

Next on the list are the Minnesota Twins, whose season hangs in the balance as they prepared for a three-game series, which began Monday night, against the A's. It's the final matchup between the AL West's top teams, with the A's holding a six-game lead.

A sweep by the A's would drop their magic number for winning over the weekend with Minnesota Twins, whose season hangs in the balance.

"You don't have to think about anybody else. All you have to do is keep winning."

The A's had a chance to keep winning over the weekend with a four-game series against the Seattle Mariners. They swept all four games, providing the Twins with a unique dilemma: a four-game series against the A's manager Tony La Russa said. They swept all four games, providing the Twins with a unique dilemma: a four-game series against the A's manager Tony La Russa said. "You don't have to think about anybody else. All you have to do is keep winning."

"This club's not looking ahead," La Russa said. "We're concentrating on the games we're playing, and that's a really good sign."

Finance Club

CAREER NIGHT

7-9 p.m. Monogram Room
Joyce A.C.C.
TONIGHT
Firms Attending
(as of Sept. 9):

- Aetna Life & Casualty
- American National Bank & Trust Co.
- Andersen Consulting
- Baxter Health Care
- Comerica Bank
- Continental Bank
- Dean Witter Reynolds Inc.
- Ford Motor Company
- Goldman, Sachs & Co.
- General Mills
- Great American Insurance
- Hewitt Associates
- LaSalle National Corp.
- National City Corp.
- National Futures Assoc.
- The Northern Trust Co.
- Northwestern Mutual Life/Beckley Agency
- Old Kent Bank & Trust
- PNC Financial Corp.
- Peterson Consulting
- Radio Shack
- The Travelers

Seniors: Bring Resumes!
Underclass: All Welcome To Talk To Firms.

BUSINESS ATTIRE

Bosio shuts out Boston

BOSTON (AP) — Chris Bosio tied a Brewers' record by winning his eighth consecutive decision, pitching four-hit ball for eight innings Monday night to lead Milwaukee over the Boston Red Sox 6-0.

Milwaukee's first four batters all singled off Danny Darwin (8-8), giving the Brewers a 2-0 lead. Greg Vaughn added a sacrifice fly in the first and a two-run homer in the sixth.

Bosio (14-5) is unbeaten in 12 starts since July 9. He struck out three, walked none, didn't give up an extra-base hit and didn't allow a runner past first. He threw just 71 pitches — 52 for strikes — as he matched the club record for consecutive victories shared by Mike Caldwell, Pete Vuckovich and Moose Haas.

Dwayne Henry finished with a perfect ninth. Robin Yount had three hits, raising his career total to 3,004. Milwaukee, which began the day trailing AL East leader Toronto by six games, won its third straight. Last-place Boston lost for the fifth time in six games.

Darwin gave up all six runs and 10 hits in seven innings, striking out four and walked one.

Pat Listach started the first with a single and stole his 50th base. He moved to third on a single by Darryl Hamilton and scored on Paul Molitor's single.

Yount's single sent Hamilton home and Molitor to third. Yount then stole second. Increasing Milwaukee's major-league leading steal total to 220, and Vaughn hit a sacrifice fly.

Milwaukee made it 5-0 in the sixth on Vaughn's 20th home run, following a single by Yount. Hamilton hit an RBI groundout in the seventh after singles by Scott Fletcher and Listach.

Indians 2, Blue Jays 1

TORONTO (AP) — Jose Mesa pitched four-hit ball for 8 2-3 innings Monday night as the Cleveland Indians beat Toronto 2-1, cutting the Blue Jays' lead in the AL East to four games over second-place Baltimore.

Glenallen Hill homered for the Indians, who beat David Cone (2-2) and matched their season high with their fifth consecutive consecutive victory.

Mesa (7-10) struck out four and walked one before Derek Lilliquist came in following a single by John Olerud. After Candy Maldonado hit an all single that left runners on first and third, Steve Olin relieved and walked pinch-hitter Roberto Alomar, loading the bases. Olin then got pinch-hitter Rance Mulliniks — batting for just the second time this season — on a groundout for his 26th save.

The Indians, who also won five straight from Aug. 18-22, have won eight of 11 and 32-23 since the All-Star break.

Finance Club

CAREER NIGHT

7-9 p.m. Monogram Room
Joyce A.C.C.
TONIGHT
Firms Attending
(as of Sept. 9):

- Aetna Life & Casualty
- American National Bank & Trust Co.
- Andersen Consulting
- Baxter Health Care
- Comerica Bank
- Continental Bank
- Dean Witter Reynolds Inc.
- Ford Motor Company
- Goldman, Sachs & Co.
- General Mills
- Great American Insurance
- Hewitt Associates
- LaSalle National Corp.
- National City Corp.
- National Futures Assoc.
- The Northern Trust Co.
- Northwestern Mutual Life/Beckley Agency
- Old Kent Bank & Trust
- PNC Financial Corp.
- Peterson Consulting
- Radio Shack
- The Travelers

Seniors: Bring Resumes!
Underclass: All Welcome To Talk To Firms.

BUSINESS ATTIRE
I I I I I I
[Image 0x0 to 824x1227]

Joseph's outstanding goalie

Saint Joseph's was able to tie the tact, but that is a difference

very intense and physical," re­ soccer team is ready to take on on Friday, the said.

Saint

Special

Saint

Tuesday, September 15, 1992

twice, but both times Saint Joseph's was able to tie the score. Tawn Ray is Saint Joseph's outstanding goalie who has the attention of all the Belles.

"Saint Joseph's is a very competitive team. They are very intense and physical," recalls Saint Mary's soccer coach Tom VanMeter.

"They play with a lot of contact, but that is a difference between Division II and Division III. Since they are a Division II team, they also have players on scholarship," he said.

The Belles are recovering from losing four graduating starters. They lost strong players up the middle. The Saint Mary's goalie has been used to each other, although in the game of soccer that can sometimes take most of the season.

"This will be a good test of our abilities, since they are Division II," claimed sophomore Jennifererry.

"It is important to play a division higher. There is a definite advantage in the ratings," stated VanMeter.

Due to tendinitis in both ankles, starter Patty Hand is not playing in today's game.

SPORTS BRIEFS

SportsTalk welcomes Jerome Betts and volleyball standouts

Chris Peters and Jessica Fishelkorn on WVFI 640 AM. Call in with questions at 239-6400 on Tuesday at 6 p.m.

SUN/SMC women's lacrosse is still looking for members. Questions? Call Heather at 234-5105 or Cathy at 234-6998.

The campus 2-person golf scramble will take place on September 27. The tournament is open to all students, faculty and staff. Sign up as an individual or in pairs. Entries and entry fees due by September 23.

The SMC track team will be holding an informational meeting for all who are interested on September 14 at 8 p.m. In Angela Athletic Center.

Anyone interested in off-campus women's football should call Theresa Forst or Marianne Hagey at 233-2398.

ND Tae Kwon Do Club will hold practice Monday and Wednesday in the Pacing Gym at Gate 4 at the JACC. Questions? Call Tim Kalamaros at 237-6797 or Matt at 233-7777.

I I I I I I

Thursday, September 15, 1992

The Observer

is now accepting applications for the following paid positions:

Advertising

Account Executive

The position involves daily interaction with clients and consumers incorporating all aspects of advertising and marketing.

Please submit a one-page personal statement or resume to Mike Hobbs by Tuesday, Sept 15. Contact Hobbs at 239-6900 for more information.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Jack Trudeau remained hospitalized Monday with a severely bruised back, leaving coach Ted Marchibroda with one healthy quarterback and probably two days to decide what to do next.

With starter Jeff George still out with a thumb injury, the Colts waived Mark Herrmann last week to make room for Trudeau, a preseason holdout. But Trudeau lasted only one quarter on Sunday, and third-stringer Tom Tupa finished up in the Colts' 20-10 loss to Houston.

"It is important to play a division higher. There is a definite advantage in the ratings," stated VanMeter.

Due to tendinitis in both ankles, starter Patty Hand is not playing in today's game.

"They play with a lot of contact, but that is a difference between Division II and Division III. Since they are a Division II team, they also have players on scholarship," he said.

The Belles are recovering from losing four graduating starters. They lost strong players up the middle. The Saint Mary's goalie has been used to each other, although in the game of soccer that can sometimes take most of the season.

"This will be a good test of our abilities, since they are Division II," claimed sophomore Jennifererry.

"It is important to play a division higher. There is a definite advantage in the ratings," stated VanMeter.

Due to tendinitis in both ankles, starter Patty Hand is not playing in today's game.

SPORTS BRIEFS

SportsTalk welcomes Jerome Betts and volleyball standouts

Chris Peters and Jessica Fishelkorn on WVFI 640 AM. Call in with questions at 239-6400 on Tuesday at 6 p.m.

SUN/SMC women's lacrosse is still looking for members. Questions? Call Heather at 234-5105 or Cathy at 234-6998.

The campus 2-person golf scramble will take place on September 27. The tournament is open to all students, faculty and staff. Sign up as an individual or in pairs. Entries and entry fees due by September 23.

The SMC track team will be holding an informational meeting for all who are interested on September 14 at 8 p.m. In Angela Athletic Center.

Anyone interested in off-campus women's football should call Theresa Forst or Marianne Hagey at 233-2398.

ND Tae Kwon Do Club will hold practice Monday and Wednesday in the Pacing Gym at Gate 4 at the JACC. Questions? Call Tim Kalamaros at 237-6797 or Matt at 233-7777.

The Observer

is now accepting applications for the following paid positions:

Advertising

Account Executive

The position involves daily interaction with clients and consumers incorporating all aspects of advertising and marketing.

Please submit a one-page personal statement or resume to Mike Hobbs by Tuesday, Sept 15. Contact Hobbs at 239-6900 for more information.
CALVIN AND HOBBES

OUR THREE EYES WERE LIKE THREE BULBS, THE
SECOND BRIGHTER, THE
THIRD DIMMER.

WHEN FAMILIES
DON'T GO OUT
TOGETHER, THEY DON'T STAY TOGETHER.

THAT'S WHY THEY DON'T BUILD MANSIONS.

IF YOU HURT MY FRIEND, I'LL FIND YOU.

I'LL SIT HOLDING THIS BIG BOOK, LOOKING CONTEMPLATIVE.

WHY DO YOU
WANT A PICTURE LIKE THAT?

ON THE OFF-CHANCE
I ODE TO DO
SOMETHING RESPONSIBLE
WITH MY LIFE, I'LL
NEED TO ELECTE
A FICTITIOUS
CELEBRITY.

Boomer and Doug's relationship was never fully accepted by the other bears, who regarded all grubs in a much more traditional way.

Today

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

Please take the time to register to vote. This week you can register at the North and South Dining Halls during lunch and dinner.

- The Observer
Men, women golfers tee off

By DAVE STUMM
Sports Writer

Both the men's and women's golf teams gave the school something to believe in.

The men's golf team started off the fall season on the right foot. They scored a total of 545,
finishing second out of 15 teams.
Senior co-captain
Mike L. O'Malley led his team to victory, scoring
nine under par.

The women's golf team
also had a successful season, sneaking a look at each other and preparing for the upcoming season.
Senior co-captain
Kathy Phares led her team to victory, scoring
ten under par.

The Irish were able to outperform their opponents, winning the title with a total score of 222.

This was a great achievement for both teams, and they are looking forward to building on their success in the upcoming season.

ND plan: Win #23 vs. Valpo

By JASON KELLY
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame men's soccer team has a chance to make history this season.
And if they stick to that plan, they will likely chalk up their 22nd consecutive win over Valparaiso tonight at Alumni Field.

The Crusaders have never beaten the Irish in the 12-year old series, although they gave them quite a scare last season.
Brendan Howlin rescued Notre Dame with a goal late in the game to give them a 1-0 win.

"They played us tough last year," Notre Dame coach Mike Berticelli said. "We can't take any team lightly.
We're going to give our best effort in every game."