In wake of violations, election process starts

By EMILY HAGE
News Writer

In the wake of minor violations by a pair of prospective candidates for Student Body President and Vice-President, the campaigning process began last night at a meeting for prospective candidates.

Their violation was campaign before the official date, February 1, according to Peter Butrus, Judicial Council President. Castelli said that they "sent a flyer showing their intent to run to a very selected group of people. They were acting out of ignorance. They didn't intentionally do anything wrong. It was quickly rectified, with very few repercussions."

According to the orders of the Ethics Committee of the Judicial Council, the students have written a formal letter of apology to recipients of the flyer. In addition, the cost of producing and distributing the flyers, about four or five dollars, according to Castelli, has been deducted from the $150 limit on campaigning expenses.

Candidate perspectives must submit a petition by Jan. 27 with a list of 150 student signatures, recognizing the prospective candidates a legitimate candidates. On Feb. 1, campaigning officially begins. The campaign shall be conducted in a mass media acceptable, and posters and campaign material must be approved by both the Judicial Council and Student Activities. By Andrea Sullivan, an Election Commissioner along with Andrew Allen.

Debates will be held around Feb. 3 and they are "a good time to see what the different ELECTION/ page 4

Committee explores changes for bookstore

By SARAH DORAN
News Writer

A committee of six representatives from the administration, faculty and students has been formed to look into the possibility of a new campus bookstore.

The committee's current goal is to gather information from these three main sources on campus in order to try and get a picture of what changes should be made, if any, on the current bookstore.

The committee, which is chaired by the Associate Vice President for Business Affairs James Lybourn, was formed at the request of university president Edward Castelli, vice president Roger Schmitz, associate president and university planning specialist.

The committee, which was formed only recently, spent last semester trying to determine the feasibility of coming to a decision representative of the campus majority opinion and possibly expressing the idea of returning to the University bookstore, according to James Lybourn, the committee's chairman.

These meetings will be conducted throughout the upcoming months.

An early proposition is the future separation of the merchandising and clothing from the books and specific academic material, according to Schmitz.

Last semester, the committee visited other university bookstores, such as that of Northwestern University, in an attempt to see how other bookstores are set up, according to Schmitz.

Butrus also added that the committee has contacted the bookstore chains Barnes and Noble and the University of Notre Dame's Bookstore to learn the role of their involvement and operation of various university bookstores.

Exact changes, costs and possibilities of new construction are still under discussion. New building have not been determined, as the committee is only in the beginning steps of gathering information and determining what campus needs are.

Senator approves funding for Antostal concert cost

By KENYA JOHNSON
News Writer

Student senate approved the funding of $20,000-$25,000 for the cost of the Antostal Music Concert at last night's meeting. Student Union Board (SUB) is hoping one of the following bands will make the appearance, according to Pat McCarthy, SUB's board manager.

ased Development, Living Colour, Jesse Jones, Blues Traveler, 10,000 Maniacs, or Indigo Girls.

The price range is dependent upon the popularity of the band and the number of colleges competing for a performance by a band during the weekend of April 25th said McCarthy. Funding for any of these artists will be provided by both the AnTostal and music committees. Tickets are estimated to be $5 per person.

Other proposals presented by McCarthy which were approved are the appearances of comedians Al Franken and Rev. Jesse Jackson.

"Al Franken is a good choice," said McCarthy. "We could have tried for Dana Carvey but he would have cost twice as much and his time would have been very limited. With Al Franken we still have a good comedian from Saturday Night Live but we save money, he explained.

Jesse Jackson will be at Notre Dame on Feb. 3 as part of the National Association of Catholic Universities (NASSCU) convention. Although most funds will be covered by NASSCU, SUB will provide the cost of Stetson Center for Jackson's speech.

In other business, Sophomore Paul Kimes was nominated and approved to replace Bill Dallies, who is in London this semester, as Parliamentarian for Student Senate. This Sunday marks one year after the deaths of Megan Reeshler and Colleen Hipp. There will be a memorial mass at Sacred Heart Church at 11:45 a.m.

The date for campaigning for body president and vice-president elections is approved for Jan. 31. The actual election date is Feb. 8.

BOG discusses smoking policy

By COLLEEN HAGEN
News Writer

The Saint Mary's Board of Governance convened Monday evening to discuss the current smoking policy in residence halls, administration offices and classrooms.

Based on a survey taken the week before finals in the dining hall, 47% of the student body responded that there was a need to propose a smoking floor in one of the residence halls to accommodate smokers.

Concern was shown over the recent study indicating the dangers of second hand smoke and its effects on students, faculty and administration.

A formal proposal will be made later in the year and any decisions made may take effect during the 1993-1994 school year, said Student Body President Tim Carrara.

"We're going to look over the old smoking policy, see if we want to change or amend that and compare it to the new survey and see if there is a significant change," said Carrara.

A decision was postponed regarding the smoking policy in the library. BOG received a letter from Sister Bernie Holshorst expressing a concern for smoking students' needs and asking that a survey of the administration be taken. She also mentioned that she will check with maintenance regarding the ventilation in the library and the feasibility of a change in policy.

On Feb. 8, an open forum will be conducted in Carrel Auditorium at 6 p.m. to possibly discuss the smoking policy and other campus issues. It will be open to all students, faculty and administration.

BOG expressed enthusiasm over the enrollment for the upcoming "Mission Possible" Leadership conference for Saint Mary's students this weekend. Funding was discussed for the 90 people who signed up.

It was also unanimously decided that the Executive Board, excluding the Treasurer, would have first pick of rooms in residence halls next year due to the enormous amount of time spent working on the board.

It was decided that on April 1, an all-campus dance will be held with the theme "Destination Unknown." Raffle tickets will be sold, and the prize will be a trip for two Saint Mary's students over the weekend to a destination that is only known by two of the executive Board members. T-shirts are being sold by Cashlee Eber at 284-3699 to support the dance.

ND graduate works as horse-racing jockey

By MARA DIVIS
News Writer

Horse-racing, not the most common career choice, is one of the careers of Notre Dame English major graduates, has led to a career for Maura Carberry, '85, who makes living a professional racing jockey.

Carberry has always had a love and admiration for horses, according to her father, Professor James Carberry of the ND chemical engineering department. She has a talent with animals, and is thrilled by the challenge involved in racing, he said.

"It's very dangerous work and you don't meet the nicest types of people," he said. "It's a challenge and she's always loved the horses as beasts.

Mr. Carberry said that his daughter developed her interest in horses when she was in grade school in Delaware. She loved riding horses and aspired to be a pony, he said.

Carberry said that she rode competitively in high school after being inspired as a child. When Carberry arrived at Notre Dame, a local family friend who owned a farmed allowed Maura to ride and groom his horses.

Carberry received a bachelor's degree in English in 1985, and moved to Lexington, Ky., where she wrote for Thoroughbred Times, a horse racing magazine. However, she said that the work made her feel restricted.

She then returned to work as an exercise rider for trainers at her home track of Delaware Park each morning, seven days a week. It was at the racetrack where she instantly felt at home, she said.

"The moment I was on the track, I thought, 'This is where I belong,'" she said.

Carberry said she became self-employed as a full-fledged jockey, and that in the off-season she can work for up to 15 trainers, riding horses in simulated races and running them through special workouts.

Carberry is currently working at Gulf Stream Park, an elite racing track outside Miami.

Survivors and rescuers describe the train crash

GARY, Ind. (AP) — Christopher Rogers says the first clue there was a problem on his commuter train was when the motorman rushed into his car.

"I saw the driver coming back and, like, diving in a real hurried manner and I thought maybe something was wrong. And then it started to unfold in front of me," said Rogers, who was aboard one of two trains that collided Monday, leaving seven people dead and more than 60 injured.

"I just, I couldn't believe it was happening. It was just unfolding really slowly and then I saw everything flying, you know — metal and steel flying — everywhere, so I went down."

Passenger Jane Mitchell recalled: "We hung on and there were people flying around."

One train had ripped through the other "like a gigantic razor blade," said Ben Perry, Gary's Pioneer ND woman professor dies

The following year she joined the faculty of Notre Dame's General Program in the Fire Chief.

"There was glass flying and metal contorting," said Frank Zuiker, who suffered cuts and bruises in the crash. Luckily for him, he was sitting on the side of the Chicago-bound train that wasn't sliced open.

King honors her father yesterday

ATLANTA (AP) — Martin Luther King Jr.'s daughter urged people marking his holiday Monday to honor him by keeping public officials true to their word — and she suggested that President-elect Clinton hasn't been.

"A true follower of the prophet must point out when people say one thing during the campaign and do another, whether it's budget cuts, tax cuts or Haitian immigration," the Rev. Bernice Albertine King told 1,100 people who filled Ebenezer Baptist Church, where her father used to preach.

"All we say, President-elect Clinton, is say what you mean and mean what you say. Let your yea be a yea and your nay a nay."

The day honoring the slain civil rights leader was a state holiday for the first time in Arizona and New Hampshire. In Arizona, where voters approved the holiday in November, thousands marched to the state Capitol in Phoenix. "This is a victory and commemoration," said organizer Gene Blue.

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — Iraq claimed 21 people died Monday in allied air attacks in northern and southern Iraq, and a top official said the raids made it less likely that Saddam Hussein’s government would cooperate with U.N. weapons inspectors.

The Pentagon said one of its planes may have shot down an Iraqi MiG-25 while returning from the mission. An Iraqi jet fighter was shot down Sunday, shortly before a U.S. cruise missile attack on Baghdad.

The Iraqi capital was relatively calm during the day, but streams of glowing anti-aircraft shells arced over the city periodically after sundown. There was no sign of a new attack on Baghdad, where Iraqi officials said three people were killed Sunday.

In an apparent bid to bolster his public support, Saddam ordered an increase in food rations beginning in February. Food supplies have been tight because of a U.N. trade embargo imposed after Iraq invaded Kuwait in 1990.

Deputy Prime Minister Tariq Aziz issued a statement Monday night blaming the crusis on the United States.

Arabs back away from allied alliance

By JASON WILLIAMS

Progress in German reunification is in danger of sliding despite recent extremist backlash by German youth against foreign refugees and a state of economic chaos in the east, according to a German corporate businessman.

Recent German youth protests are not Nazi revivalist groups, according to Manfred Fiedler, vice president of Human Resources for International Home and Building Control of Honeywell Inc. Rather, the demonstrations are a new wave of political activity developing after the fall of communism in Eastern Europe.

"With communism gone, hyper-patriotic nationalism seems to be an attractive alternative," Fiedler said. "The recent violence shows the frustration the east either." Environmen tal woes plague the east.

"There was a risk of funds under the communist govern ment not being accurately monitored," Fiedler said. "Consequently the air, water and everything is very badly polluted."

Despite these problems, Fiedler said the immediate costs and problems with reunification are quickly being eliminated by an upswing in the German economic forecast. The potential to be the economic giant in Europe coupled with an emotionally charged citizenry after reunification has many Germans feeling confident.

"There is a strong demand for everything by the east," Fiedler said. "There is a real rage in consumer spending. There is huge investment going on, but compared to the problems they have it is not enough." It was urged the United Nations "not to use double standards" in implementing its resolution to avoid a "loss of confidence" and negative reactions in the Arab world.

"It is necessary to adopt a policy of self-restraint and use the language of dialogue," a statement by the 21-nation league said.

King Fahd of Saudi Arabia, who put his country's bases at disposal of the allied jets carrying out the raids, said U.N. Security Council resolutions "be respected and implemented ... whether they pertain to the situation in the Gulf or the Palestinian case and that of the deportees, or that of the nation of Bosnia-Herzegovina."

He referred to resolutions demanding Israel take back the land of the allied jets and that of the deportees, or that of the nation of Bosnia-Herzegovina.

ENOUGH SAID!
Clinton vows to learn lessons from MLK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of ordinary citizens surged through this capital Monday for music, parties and celebrations as Bill Clinton paid a nostalgic visit to his former campus. He vowed to learn from Martin Luther King Jr. in ascending "the mountain top of American democracy."

The president-elect made his pre-inaugural rounds with high spirits, despite new U.S. bombings in Iraq.

"We have much work to do against stiff odds without a day to waste," he said in a speech on the slain civil rights leader's birthday.

Just two days from being sworn in, Clinton touched a variety of bases, both old and new — students, diplomats, ordinary Americans he'd met on the campaign trail — as he moved about his new neighborhood.

But the events took on a life beyond Clinton's own frenetic pace of visits around the city:

*Some 5,000 onlookers chanted "Hillary, Hillary," as Clinton's wife stopped by a string of tents along the Mall from the Capitol to the Washington Monument. The saltair rock group Les Lobos played as she examined crafts produced by special education students from Chicago. She and a holiday crowd strolled through music performances, craft exhibits and food stalls.

*Some 17,000 paid for seats at a suburban sports arena to see a preview of the entertainment Clinton will view at a black-tie gala Tuesday night.

*Along the Pennsylvania Avenue route of Wednesday's inaugural parade, the manhole covers have been welded shut and bulletproof glass panels put in place.

*Some 17,000 paid for seats at a suburban sports arena to see a preview of the entertainment Clinton will view at a black-tie gala Tuesday night.

*Clinton took office. Americans are hopeful that he will make some positive changes in the nation.

"The new team ready to step in. enormous pressure in the new presidency. asking people how President Clinton may touch their lives.

They found Americans a little hopeful and even giddy, a little wary and, occasionally, dismissive. But take 250 million people aching for optimism and you've got a country brimming with expectations that skate on the edge of disappointment."

This is normal.

"We know no president is going to be a miracle man, but we also hope for miracles," said Professor Stephen Wayne, who writes college texts on the presidency.

Count Arthur Skibbe Jr. among the realists.

"He's gonna need a lot of prayers," said Skibbe, 58, a machine operator and Korean War veteran nursing a beer at the VFW Post 98 in Indianapolis. "He's got a hard task ahead of him. I'd hate to be him."

With retirement two years away, Skibbe didn't feel his life would be changed one way or the other by the 42nd president. Still, he offered the man a modest endorsement.

"A young president is what this country needs," Skibbe said.
Clinton: No automatic budget cuts
Dear Editor:

During his first infomercial领导班子 prior to the November 3, 1992, one of the most serious yet unknown problems in our governmental political system is the phenomenon of foreign lobbyists. Such a phenomenon is a direct result of the large number of former government officials who, after leaving office, have gone to work on behalf of foreign corporations and governments. These individuals have been able to draw upon their expertise, experience, and political payoffs in order to fill the vacancies of officers.

Naturally, another drawn-out issue of lobbying occurs when it comes to enacting legislation as happened with the Super 301 Clause of the 1974 Trade Act and the 1988 Omnibus Trade Bill. It is no wonder that our trade deficit is $130 billion. Many foreign companies locate factories in the United States so that they can exert additional pressure on our government, often shielding unethical or questionable trading practices of their own or their nations. In this manner, foreign investment is mainly a Trojan Horse since it is done primarily to circumvent trade restrictions and to create public relations illusions.

Foreign Political Action Committees (PACs) have begun contributing heavily to our political elections and the candidates they back usually win. What's all this mean? That too many of our crucial national decisions are being made overseas and we continually view the detrimental effects of such a loss of control.

BillClinton promised us change, but his Cabinet appointments do not reflect such a commitment. He has filled the two top posts that deal with foreign trade with ex-foreign lobbyists who have almost no experience in trade matters. These are Ron Brown for Commerce Secretary and Mickey Kantor as Trade Representative. The President, was not chosen as trade representative because numerous foreign corporations and governments thought that he would be too tough on them. Yet their position managed to convince the Clinton team that a色彩 was not suitable for the position. Such is the power of foreign lobbyists.

Foreign lobbyists, for example, helped Clinton into the White House. They have been able to obtain pressure from foreign companies and governments to influence legislation. This is done in order to protect their positions.

Throughout this campaign, Perot stressed that his was the only campaign not tainted by foreign PAC money and he characterized the officials of the current administration as being abroad on leave. "This is because in a large transfer rate between the government and lobbying professions and nearly all of those in government would need to improve their lobbying skills and effectiveness."

Notre Dame–Australia is the newest foreign study program at Notre Dame

By HEIDI WEBER AND SEAN FARNAN

Accent Writers

The Notre Dame–Australia (NDA) program is one of the newest offerings through Notre Dame Foreign Studies.

Both the academic and cultural challenges, students have choices such as to make every day

The inaugural class of Notre Dame Australia (NDA) students stand outside the university in Fremantle, Western Australia. Last semester NDA catered to junior year business students interested in international business and this semester it serves primarily junior year Arts and Letters students.

Faced with an unfriendly welcome from the weather upon arrival in Fremantle in late August, the Notre Dame students endured cold, rain, and even a hail storm during the first week. Since then, record lows for the coldest September in history as well as the coldest October day were set.

But the pleasant surprised weather was up to merit trips to the beautiful coastal beaches within commuting distance. By the end of November, the mercury in the thermometer reached 105.

The Notre Dame students reside in the Port Lodge, the only present Notre Dame dormitory, and are kept company by a handful of "shrimp" make pasta, prawns (the Australian term for shrimp) or some other meal in the large common room.

The University, located just down the street from the Port Lodge, consists of several old Fremantle warehouse buildings which have been recently renovated. Besides the Port Lodge, the University consists of one classroom building with a library, a computer lab, a "bookstore," and an administration building, which served as the headquarters for a British syndicate in the 1987 America's Cup Challenge.

NDA is the first private Catholic university in Australia. Through the current Diploma of Education program for Australian high school teachers, the American foreign study program, and plans for a permanent business and law school, the university hopes its student body will grow from its first year's enrollment of approximately 100 students.

"The Diploma of Education students really made us feel at home—they even had a pancake breakfast for us during finals week," said Tara Spadoni.

The Notre Dame foreign study business program consisted of six classes, ranging from Managerial Economics, taught by Notre Dame's own Professor Howard Laison, to Australian History and Literature, taught by a local expert in the field, Professor George Russo. Much of the content of the classes stresses Australian culture.

Although Fremantle itself is a city of only 20,000 inhabitants, Perth's metropolitan population is a healthy 1.2 million and is less than a 30-minute train ride to the central district. Both cities are abundant with ethnic restaurants, pubs, shopping centers, museums and parks.

The native Australians were more than hospitable, according to junior Chris Barry. "The people were extremely friendly and helpful—we got a lot of support from local parishes and Catholic schools," he said.

With the help of Director of Student Activities, Mark Hales, and former NDA Vice Chancellor and current Dean of the Notre Dame Law School, David Link, the students last semester had managed to take a number of trips through Western Australia and even spent a week touring several cities on the east coast.

They spent a day at a fair in honor of the Queen's birthday, took in an Aussie-rules football game and an international cricket competition, fed koalas and kangaroos at a wildlife refuge and visited the Margaret River wine producing region.

Some other activities included visiting the Burswood Casino, SCUBA diving at the Great Barrier Reef, and experiencing the nightlife at the numerous local pubs and nightclubs. Junior Anne Pierson described her time there as "the best time under the sun."

"The experiences were amazing—where else could you go SCUBA diving on the Great Barrier Reef, bungee jumping in a rain forest and white-water rafting all in two days?" said Notre Dame junior Dave Sullivan.

An information meeting is being held this afternoon at 4:30 p.m. in room 112 of Hayes-Healey. Applications for the program are due by January 25.

'Hoffa' entertains yet masks the person behind the persona

By EDWARD R. PRESSMAN

Directed By Danny DeVito

Starring Jack Nicholson, Danny DeVito and Armand Assante

' Hoffa

Jack Nicholson stars as the powerful Teamster boss Jimmy Hoffa, whose turbulent career is followed over the sweep of four decades—from his passionate struggle against the underworld overlords (i.e., Armand Assante) and graphic displays of fierce conviction, augmented by the use of slow motion (which always tends to add a sense of importance to a particular sequence) and captivating cinematography, produce a work which is enjoyable.

However, where the film fails is with its treatment (or lack thereof) of the person behind the persona. One never gets a sense of the relationship between Hoffa and his family, nor is there any hint of what caused this man to mature into such an instrument of power. The film and a failure to portray Hoffa with the full weight of what he represents leads one to wonder if the audience why, "Hoffa" attempts to tell forty years

Ross bright spot in Irish loss

By SEAN SULLIVAN
Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS—For Notre Dame, the bright spot of last night's loss to Butler was the performance of Jon Ross. He scored a career-high 21 points and grabbed five rebounds.

After the game, Ross was humble about his play, giving most of the credit to Monty Williams.

"It was really nothing special," the Wabash, Ind. native said. "It was a matter of Monty's good play having me open."

Williams, however, gave Ross the credit he deserved.

"Jon Ross had a great game," the senior co-captain stated. "We isolated him a few times in the box and this game was a credit to Jon Ross and how hard he has worked."

Irish head coach John MacLeod also reserved great praise for Ross.

"We've been very pleased with Jon," MacLeod commented. "He's been stepping up in practice and tonight he was looking for his shot and was active on the boards. He played very aggressive."

Despite Ross' superb performance the Irish were dealt their second straight loss. A key factor in the game was the officiating.

The Observer/John Rock
Junior forward/center Jon Ross scored a career-high 21 points against Butler last night. However, it was not enough to help the Irish come out on top, as the Bulldogs prevailed, 70-56, in Indianapolis.

Even MacLeod admitted disappointment toward the early fouls called against the Irish.

"After that we didn't have the same zip, but we have to play through it. We can't put it in our head."

In response to his spectacular play against the Michigan Wolverines, the Butler defense focussed on stopping Notre Dame freshman point guard Ryan Hoover.

"We looked to take Hoover out of the ball game," admitted Butler coach Barry Collier. Butler succeeded in doing just that, as they limited Hoover to only two points on the night, 21 less than last Saturday's performance in Ann Arbor.

Fencing teams begin seasons
By KEVIN JANICKI
Sports Writer

Both Notre Dame fencing squads kicked off the 1993 season successfully at a two-day meet at Northwestern University this weekend. The men, fencing without senior leader James Taliaferro who took the weekend off for academic reasons, went undefeated, beating UC-San Diego, Wayne State, Michigan State, Tri State, CSU-Long Beach, and MT.

The women also fenced well, beating UC-San Diego, Wayne State, Michigan State, Tri State, and MT, and losing only to 1992 NCAA champion Temple.

"It was a nice way to begin our season," said Irish men's coach Mike Dougherty. "I was really pleased with Jeff Piper who led our team on and off the strip."

Piper went 14-0 on the weekend. Rian Girard was also undefeated, compiling a 14-1 record for the fallsters. Girard had hoped to pose but returned to fall week to add depth.

In the absence of James Taliaferro, it was Bernard Berg (10-2 on the weekend) and Chris Hankoff (11-2) who led the Irish sabreurs. Hankoff placed surprisingly well considering that he switched from the foil event to the sabre event just two weeks ago.

For the épéeists, it was Greg Wozniak who led the way, compiling a 15-1 record on the weekend. His only loss was a 5-4 defeat at the hands of 1992 NCAA Champion Herald Baudier of Wayne State.

Per Johnsson's 12-0 effort solidified the épéeists' undefeated weekend.

With their impressive performance this weekend, the Notre Dame Irish women's squad proved that they will be a powerful force this season. Their biggest win came on Saturday, when the Irish upset then-No. 11 Temple, 5-3.

"Every one of the women contributed to the win against Temple," said coach Yves Auril. "I was so pleased with Claudette de Bruin, Corraine Dougherty, and Mimi Kaloger..."

Leading the Irish women on the weekend were Kim Arnold who went 11-0, de Bruin (12-3), and Dougherty (11-3). But it was the solid contribution from the entire women's team that led to their extremely successful weekend.

Next weekend the 6-0 men travel to Illinois, Chicago, and Lawrence on Saturday.

Men's tennis expects successful season despite loss of Zurcher
By JONATHAN JENSEN
Sports Writer

There they go again.

The six-ranked Irish men's tennis team has continued their winning ways this winter, destroying Ohio State 6-1 to open their dual meet season.

After finishing second in last year's NCAA tournament and graduating only one senior, All-American David DiLucia, the Irish have been expected to continue their dominance of Midwest tennis and once again feed for the national title.

Only this year, they will have to do it without one of their top singles and doubles performers, senior Andy Zurcher. Last season Zurcher teamed with Will Forsyth to make up a powerful No. 2 doubles team, and was ranked in the top 50 singles players in the country.

With the absence of DiLucia this season, Zurcher has stepped up and become a team leader. But that all changed this Christmas break. While playing in a tournament in Phoenix, Zurcher suffered a severe tear in the tendons of his wrist. After four or five weeks in a full arm cast and some rehabilitation, he hopes to be back within eight weeks, possibly in time for the spring tournament between the top ranked teams in the country, and Saturday's contest with the Buckeyes.

In Palm Springs, current No. 3 singles player Mark Schmidt reached the semifinals, Forsyth and Zurcher's replacement.

Women face 5th-ranked Penn State

BY GEORGE DOHRMANN
Sports Writer

The streaking Notre Dame women's basketball team, coming off two commanding wins against Midwestern Collegiate Conference foes, travels to College Station, Texas, to face fifth-ranked Penn State.

The Nittany Lions finished 24-7 a year ago. Coach Rene Portland lost all five starters from last year, but has done an amazing job of putting together a tough young team for a return to the top ten. Penn State was undefeated at 13-0 before dropping a game over the weekend to Indiana 71-65.

They are in the Top 10, but I think we can beat them," said Notre Dame coach Muffet McGraw. "We just have to believe in ourselves."

The idea of facing Penn State has become a little more bearable in the wake of McGraw after her team's performance in the Big Ten. A 23-point drubbing of Detroit Mercy last Thursday was followed by a 76-50 win Saturday at Loyola-Chicago.

"We've struggled scoring this season, so being that these margins have to help our confidence," said the Irish coach. "We need that heading into the Big Ten."

Aiding the confidence will be the play of guard Coquese Washington. The sophomore captain scored 21, including four three-pointers during the first part of the game.

Washington's outside shooting has opened up the middle for forwards Kristen Knapp and Letitia Bowen, who have picked up their play during the last two games.

Belles' basketball run winning streak to eight games

BY NICOLE MCGRAITH

After dropping their first two games of the season, the Saint Mary's basketball team has built an eight-game winning streak. The eighth win, a 71-66 decision, came over the Saint Francis Cougars.

"We have a winning attitude. One of our goals is staying undefeated at home," said co-captain, Kristin Knapp.

According to Crowery, the team's confidence was high.

"Our bench isn't as deep this year but those who come off it do the job," said Crowley.

The Belles' bench was more than "doing the job." The bench, packing up 20 of their 36 points in the second half. According to Crowley, the Belles were "really, really, really" going for the victory during the first half despite entering halftime with a 41-24 lead. In the second half, the Belles exploded.

"It's our fast break. We're patient to push it upcourt," said Crowley.

"I'm pleased. Good team efforts have bought the key for Coach Mary Wood," said Crowley.

According to Wood, adjustments were made for when opponents shut off the inside game. More baskets off the break and outside shots were needed and the Belles came through.

The Belles were perfect in five free throws and Jenzie Taubenhauser draining her six.
