Irak denies firing on American warplanes

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — Iraq denied its anti-aircraft batteries fired at U.S. warplanes again and missed on Sunday that the cease-fire it declared last week remained in effect.

The claims came a day after U.S. warplanes attacked Iraqi military targets during the third con­secutive day. In Washington, Defense Sec­retary Les Aspin said it was “cruel and thoughtless” that on the same day of the march, President Clinton was rescinding an executive order that prohibited federally funded clinics and physicians from discussing abortion with patients. The Right to Life Group had hoped that Clinton would not follow through with this campaign promise, said Johnson.

Iraqi leader Saddam Hussein ordered the warplanes to leave the league’s northern flank on Friday. President Clinton said he was confident that the United States would not miss the cease-fire.

The Observer/Brian McDonough

Students arrested at protest
By PAUL PEARSON
Associate News Editor

Three Notre Dame students were arrested Saturday when their car was stopped at the entrance to Washington, D.C., abortion clinics.

Breen-Phillips Hall sophomore Kelly Dwight, Farley Hall junior Claire Johnson and Cavanaugh Hall freshman Hamed Yousef Hummadi, called the recent cease-fire a “pragmatic, businesslike discussion” with the United States, and government-run newspapers invited President Clinton to settle disputes through dialogue.

In an interview with CNN, Hummadi said the recent U.S. attacks were “minor ones, and we are committed to the cease-fire.” But if attacks continue, the two sides could be in for a difficult time, he said.

In other developments:

• U.S. experts resumed de­struction of mustard and nerve gas at the Mshahna complex north of Baghdad, said the team’s leader, Paul Brough, an American. The team, which had been kept out of Iraq for several weeks, is acting under a Gulf War cease-fire provision requiring Iraq to dismantle weapons of mass destruction.

“Iraq said it did not provide adequate security to separate the pro-life activists from the protestors,” said Johnson. She also noted that police at the clinic did not provide adequate security to separate the pro-life activists from the protestors at the clinic.

“The car that struck McKearn was listed in Juniper Road about 3:15 am Saturday when she stepped to the road of an oncoming south lane of traffic,” said Johnson. She also noted that police at the clinic did not provide adequate security to separate the pro-life activists from the protestors at the clinic.

“arrested”/page 6

Maryland, according to Toni House, Supreme Court spokesman.

President Clinton, whose own state of Arkansas figured prominently in the desegrega­tion battles of the 1950s, led the praise for Marshall. He was a “giant in the quest for human rights and equal opportunity in the whole history of our coun­try,” the president said in a statement.

“Every American should be grateful for the contributions he made as an advocate and as a justice of the United States Supreme Court.”

Chief Justice William Rehn­quist said Marshall would be re­membered as much for his work before coming to the court as afterwards — “his unifying leadership in the legal battle to outlaw racial discrimination.”

For decades as a young man, Marshall travelled the nation as the recognized champion of the poor and powerless. During his 23 years as legal director of the National Association for the Ad­vancement of Colored People, and his tenure as the federal government’s solicitor general, Marshall argued 32 cases be­fore the Supreme Court.

“He was a powerful voice for the disadvan­taged, and was often heard.”

“In Washington, Defense Sec­retary Les Aspin said it was not nec­essarily broken its own path of an oncoming south lane of traffic,” said Johnson. She also noted that police at the clinic did not provide adequate security to separate the pro-life activists from the protestors at the clinic.

“The car that struck McKearn was listed in Juniper Road about 3:15 am Saturday when she stepped to the road of an oncoming south lane of traffic,” said Johnson. She also noted that police at the clinic did not provide adequate security to separate the pro-life activists from the protestors at the clinic.

“The car that struck McKearn was listed in Juniper Road about 3:15 am Saturday when she stepped to the road of an oncoming south lane of traffic,” said Johnson. She also noted that police at the clinic did not provide adequate security to separate the pro-life activists from the protestors at the clinic.

“The car that struck McKearn was listed in Juniper Road about 3:15 am Saturday when she stepped to the road of an oncoming south lane of traffic,” said Johnson. She also noted that police at the clinic did not provide adequate security to separate the pro-life activists from the protestors at the clinic.

“The car that struck McKearn was listed in Juniper Road about 3:15 am Saturday when she stepped to the road of an oncoming south lane of traffic,” said Johnson. She also noted that police at the clinic did not provide adequate security to separate the pro-life activists from the protestors at the clinic.

“The car that struck McKearn was listed in Juniper Road about 3:15 am Saturday when she stepped to the road of an oncoming south lane of traffic,” said Johnson. She also noted that police at the clinic did not provide adequate security to separate the pro-life activists from the protestors at the clinic.

“The car that struck McKearn was listed in Juniper Road about 3:15 am Saturday when she stepped to the road of an oncoming south lane of traffic,” said Johnson. She also noted that police at the clinic did not provide adequate security to separate the pro-life activists from the protestors at the clinic.

“The car that struck McKearn was listed in Juniper Road about 3:15 am Saturday when she stepped to the road of an oncoming south lane of traffic,” said Johnson. She also noted that police at the clinic did not provide adequate security to separate the pro-life activists from the protestors at the clinic.

“The car that struck McKearn was listed in Juniper Road about 3:15 am Saturday when she stepped to the road of an oncoming south lane of traffic,” said Johnson. She also noted that police at the clinic did not provide adequate security to separate the pro-life activists from the protestors at the clinic.

“The car that struck McKearn was listed in Juniper Road about 3:15 am Saturday when she stepped to the road of an oncoming south lane of traffic,” said Johnson. She also noted that police at the clinic did not provide adequate security to separate the pro-life activists from the protestors at the clinic.

“The car that struck McKearn was listed in Juniper Road about 3:15 am Saturday when she stepped to the road of an oncoming south lane of traffic,” said Johnson. She also noted that police at the clinic did not provide adequate security to separate the pro-life activists from the protestors at the clinic.

“The car that struck McKearn was listed in Juniper Road about 3:15 am Saturday when she stepped to the road of an oncoming south lane of traffic,” said Johnson. She also noted that police at the clinic did not provide adequate security to separate the pro-life activists from the protestors at the clinic.

“The car that struck McKearn was listed in Juniper Road about 3:15 am Saturday when she stepped to the road of an oncoming south lane of traffic,” said Johnson. She also noted that police at the clinic did not provide adequate security to separate the pro-life activists from the protestors at the clinic.
INSIDE COLUMN
You are much more than your form

When reading that title for the first time, one has to wonder if the writer of this column is getting ready to embark on some account of an extraterrestrial/religious/otherworldly experience or some insightful comments on life. Rest assured, it is the latter.

Picture yourself, if you will, as a can of Campbell's soup. There, most of you, each day, try making your label appear a certain way for others to see. Sometimes, you are grabbing whatever you can find that will suffice to cover your can. At other times, you go to great lengths to make sure that your label is clean, smells good, and radiantly appealing. Still other times, you could care less what your label looks or feels like as long as it is there so you can go about your activities that day.

The label that is being referred to is a person's appearance and the can is someone's physiology, together these make-up a person's form. Most important, the contents of the can are the unique qualities that make one person different from another.

As you stop to think about the whole concept, many people will concur that the majority of their time is spent making sure that their label is appropriately presented. They spend 90% of the time devoted to the can's outer form, instead of how they can improve the contents of the can.

Mathematically speaking, 10% of who we are is what we cannot change. If you forget to take apart a human being and lay it all out in separate piles, you would find that large pile of bones here, a large intestine over there, a small intestine over here, a large pile of hair here, a stack of hair over there, fingernails, muscles, teeth, and on the list goes which accumulates gradually for only 0.5% of what we are, our form. Yet, you would not have found that pile that is the person. Yes, you would have found all of the physical parts of the person, but you still do not have the essence of that person.

If so much of who we are is what we cannot touch and cannot see, why do so many people spend so much time trying to change the smallest part of the Campbell's soup package? Everyone is focused on the label of their Campbell's soup can and not the contents of the can.

I am not advocating that everyone stop showering and taking good care of their body, but I do feel that if some people out there are all wrapped up in the wrong web-similar to a cook who, instead of opening the can and preparing the soup, takes the label and tries to cook it. Given the make-up of our being, if 100.0% of whom we are can be improved and we choose the choice as to which block of that total percentage we can work on, why not everyone spend all of their time improving the 99.9% of our being and not the 0.05% of our form? Not everyone, but some people who spend their 90% of the time working on the 0.5% of their form, do you not think that there can be greater reward than spending the time more productively where meaningful change can be evidenced.

The views expressed in the Inside Column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

TODAY AT A GLANCE

WORLD

Prominent Turkish journalist killed

ANKARA, Turkey — A prominent left-wing journalist was killed when a bomb planted under his car exploded Sunday. Turkey's prime minister pledged that the killers would be brought to justice. Uğur Mumcu, 50, a columnist for the Istanbul newspaper Cumhuriyet, had been an outspoken critic of Islamic fundamentalism and Kurdish separatism. Islamic Jihad and two other Islamic groups that had never been heard of previously claimed responsibility for the assassination. Mumcu, a vigorous defender of secularism in Turkey, had reported receiving death threats from extremist Islamic groups. He died instantly when the bomb exploded as he started his car outside his apartment. The Ankara news agency quoted officials as saying the bomb was planted under the car.

NATIONAL

Clinton to pressure return of Aristide

MIAMI — The Rev. Jesse Jackson said Sunday the Clinton administration is prepared to turn up the pressure on Haiti's military-backed regime until it restores the country's elected government. Jackson, who spoke to reporters after wrapping up a weekend visit to Haiti, said the Reagan-Bush administrations had supported Haiti's military dictators. But Clinton and Secretary of State Warren Christopher had no intention of continuing the armory and the nation's elite, Jackson said. "That's why the military is so afraid," he said. "It is now on a boat without a compass."

OF INTEREST

• A Recyclin' Irish mandatory organizational meeting will be held tonight at 7 p.m. in the C.S.C. All dorm environmental commissioners must be present.

• Model United Nations Club is holding their organizational meeting for the semester tonight at 7 p.m. in 124 Hayes-Healy. Meetings will be every Monday night at 7 p.m., for simulations. All interested students are invited to attend. There will be an opportunity to attend one of two conferences this semester.

MARKET UPDATE

YESTERDAY'S TRADING January 22

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>VOLUME IN SHARES</th>
<th>NYSE INDEX</th>
<th>S&amp;P COMPOSITE</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>225,643,740</td>
<td>-0.47 to 0.36</td>
<td>-0.36 to 0.28</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>234,789</td>
<td>507.59</td>
<td>507.59</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-849</td>
<td>3282.07</td>
<td>3282.07</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>586</td>
<td>-48.8</td>
<td>-48.8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>967</td>
<td></td>
<td>967</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

GOLD     | $50.00 to $120.00
SILVER   | $0.015 to $3.725

FORECAST

Mostly sunny and cold today with a high of 39 and a low of 16. Clouds and warmer tomorrow with a high in the mid to upper 30's.

TEMPERATURES

City       | M | L | H       |
-----------|---|---|---------|
Chicago    | 23| 24| 32      |
Cleveland  | 21| 22| 30      |
Dallas     | 30| 31| 40      |
Atlanta    | 34| 35| 44      |
Minneapolis| 10| 11| 21      |
St. Louis  | 26| 27| 34      |
Vermont    | 19| 20| 29      |
Boston     | 28| 29| 38      |
New York   | 30| 31| 40      |
San Francisco | 31| 32| 41      |
Los Angeles| 79| 80| 90      |
San Diego  | 80| 81| 92      |
Phoenix    | 56| 57| 66      |
San Antonio| 64| 65| 74      |
Las Vegas  | 74| 75| 84      |
Minneapolis| 72| 73| 84      |
Rochester  | 52| 53| 62      |
Buffalo    | 48| 49| 59      |
Baltimore  | 48| 49| 59      |
St. Paul   | 46| 47| 57      |
Minneapolis| 44| 45| 55      |
St. Louis  | 48| 49| 59      |
San Francisco | 43| 44| 52      |
Los Angeles| 80| 81| 90      |
San Francisco| 80| 81| 90      |
San Diego  | 74| 75| 84      |
Los Angeles| 79| 80| 90      |

ON THIS DAY IN HISTORY

• In 1533: England's King Henry VIII secretly married his second wife, Anne Boleyn.

• In 1891: The first Emmy awards for outstanding television programming were given.

• In 1959: The first transatlantic jet flight went from Los Angeles to New York.

• In 1980: The U.S. inflation rate reached the highest point over 5 years.

• In 1981: The 52 Americans held hostage by Iran for 444 days arrived in the United States.

• In 1988: Vice President George Bush and Dan Rather clashed on "CBS Evening News" as the anchorman tried to question the Republican presidential candidate about his role in the Iran-Contra affair.
Lewis to speak Tuesday
Special to The Observer

New York Times columnist Anthony Lewis will give a lecture on "The Power of the Press" Tuesday at 7 p.m. in Room 101 of Notre Dame's DeBartolo Hall.

A New York City native, Lewis graduated from Harvard in 1948. For three years following his graduation, he worked in the Sunday department of the New York Times, and in 1952 he became a reporter for the Washington Daily News.

While writing for the Daily News, he won his first Pulitzer Prize for a series of articles on the dismissal of a Navy employee as a security risk. The series resulted in the employee's reinstatement.

He joined the Washington bureau of the New York Times in 1955 to report on the Supreme Court, the Justice Department and other legal subjects. He won a second Pulitzer Prize in 1963 for his Supreme Court coverage.

The lecture is sponsored by Notre Dame's student government, the Thomas White Center for Law and Government, the departments of American studies, government and philosophy and the Society of Professional Journalists.

Club Column
JANUARY 25, 1993

1) All clubs, budgeting and registration packets will be available February 12 and are due March 3. Look for details on the Observer page.

2) Questions will be posted this week.

3) The University of Connecticut Women's Club sponsored a Conference on the "Use of Tobacco in the College Setting" at 12 p.m. Tuesday.

Sanitary, 7 p.m. in North Dining Hall.

4) The Student Alumni Relations Office is now accepting alumni and their families of Alumni Week activities. Alumni Week begins today with a scavenger hunt. A clue are being offered, said Valdes.

5) The annual Alumni Week Awards will appear in the Observer this week. Alumni Week events will be held this week to mark Alumni Week, according to Mauricio Valdes, president of the Student Alumni Relations Group (SARG). The Student Alumni Relations Group (SARG) events will be held this week to mark Alumni Week, according to Mauricio Valdes, president of the Student Alumni Relations Group (SARG).

6) Questions will be posted this week.

7) Last day to access all club funds is April 15. See the Student Treasurer's Office with any questions.

8) Feminist Forum meeting: "Sharing our experiences as women of color to understand each other's position in the feminist movement," Tuesday, Jan. 26 at 7 p.m. in the Dooley Room, LaFortune. Questions, contact Tonya at 634-2878.

9) NDCB internship applications are due Jan. 27 at 8 p.m. Questions call Michelle (284-5207) or Kelly (284-5167).

M suckings this semester are as follows: Internships: Sundays, 1 p.m. in ND Room, LaFortune; Citizen Democracy Corps: Mondays, 7 p.m.
Ryden claims Jesus and Mary speak with her

By JOHN LUCAS
News Writer

Speaking on the diverse topics of church unity, the Holy Spirit and lack of faith in the modern Catholic Church, Vassula Ryden, a world renown writer who claims to have received messages from Jesus and Mary, brought a unique perspective on religion to Stepan Center Sunday afternoon.

According to Michael O'Carroll, Ryden's Theological Director, formerly of Blackrock University in Dublin, Ireland, there is much to be learned from the messages Ryden claims to be receiving.

"I've been impressed by the theological content of Vassula's writings—they have both relevance and a way of making the sublime truths of faith meaningful," O'Carroll explained.

According to Pat and Sue Callahan, publishers of the "True Life In God" newsletter, a publication devoted to Ryden's writing and preaching, Ryden's messages are as important as any from Lourdes, Fatima or Medjugorje.

Notre Dame professor of theology and organizer Father Edward O'Connor agrees with that sentiment.

"On principle, we've got to be open to Vassula and God's messages—prophecy has been a gift since the beginning of the church and we must accept it in a realistic way," O'Connor said.

Ryden began her life of preaching and writing in an interesting way. A native of Egypt and a former fashion model, Ryden claims that in 1985 she first began to hear the voice of an angel who urged her to read the Bible. Later, Ryden began to hear from Jesus who at first appeared to be simple, really not," she explained.

According to Ryden, Jesus began to speak to her in longer and more complex messages urging her to begin traveling and writing to "transmit His message."

"Before it happened I never knew that God could manifest himself in such unusual ways ... I never sought to receive divine messages," she said.

Now a noted theological author, Ryden has published five volumes of writing entitled "True Life In God" detailing God's messages to her. Among those messages have been appeals for the reunion of the Catholic, Orthodox and Protestant churches.

Ryden's lecture at Notre Dame drew an unexpected amount of interest, and a large crowd. According to O'Connor, the lecture, which was first scheduled to be held in the main auditorium in the Delbar tolo Building, was moved to Washington Hall and finally to the Stepan Center after O'Connor began receiving phone calls from as far away as Davenport, Iowa and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan from those interested in attending.

Gordo sees hope for women in advertising

By JILL BEEMSTERBOER
News Writer

Mary Lou Gordo, vice president of Leo Burnett Advertising and a 1972 Saint Mary's graduate, offered an optimistic view for women in the world of advertising in a lecture last Friday.

Gordo said that sexual bias is still a problem in today's workforce, but it is necessary for female employees to show they can do their jobs.

"Go out and make it happen," she said.

To be successful, it is important to find out personal dreams before entering a field, said Gordo.

"Do what you do well," she said.

She also offered suggestions for students interested in starting their own careers in advertising.

"You can redesign an advertisement and present it to a prospective employer," she said. This technique could persuade the employer that the student would benefit the company, she said.

Gordo said her decision to enter the business world was influenced by her experience at Saint Mary's. "It was inspired from the atmosphere at Saint Mary's," she said. "The special attention and caring attitudes of my professors influenced my choices in the business world," Gordo added.

After Saint Mary's, she attended graduate school and obtained her MBA. At Leo Burnett, Gordo progressed from working with domestics to "the world."

She is now involved with world wide advertising, which she said she finds both rewarding and challenging.

Aspin fears Congress will revolt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secretary Les Aspin said Sunday he wants to head off a potential "revolt" in Congress among the Joint Chiefs of Staff over President Clinton's plan to lift the ban on homosexuals in the military.

As Clinton prepared for a meeting Monday with the joint chiefs of the armed services, Aspin said "they and the military ... have to understand that the president is deeply committed to ... end discrimination against homosexuals in the military."

"My argument to the military is sooner or later the courts are going to come at you on this issue," Aspin said to CBS-TV's "Face the Nation."

"You can object and stonewall ... but one of these days we're going to have, like it happened in Canada, where the court suddenly comes in and says, 'You have to — that is unconstitutional,'" Aspin added.
Clinton praises Marshall's record

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Clinton on Sunday lauded the late Thurgood Marshall as "a giant in the quest for human rights and equal opportunity." Clinton's condolences statement, coming shortly after the 84-year-old attorney and Supreme Court justice died of heart failure, was echoed by other prominent figures in American politics and law.

The president declared himself "deeply saddened" by the death of Marshall, who as a civil rights attorney argued and won the landmark Brown vs. Board of Education school segregation case before the Supreme Court and later became the high court's first black justice.

"He was a giant in the quest for human rights and equal opportunity in the whole history of our country," Clinton said.

"Every American should be grateful for the contributions he made as an advocate and as a justice of the United States Supreme Court," Mike McWilliams, president of the American Bar Association, called Marshall "a landmark figure in the history of American jurisprudence and the civil rights movement. The world is a different place because he was here."

Similarly, Sen. Patrick Leahy, D-Vt., a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said Marshall "is one of the all-time giants, a man who followed his conscience and the law rather than whim or political expediency. He set the standard for present and future judges to follow."

A. Leon Higginbotham, chief judge emeritus of the U.S. 3rd Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia and a veteran black jurist, said Marshall "has always been a model and a mentor for me." He said Marshall's death was a national loss "as well as a personal loss for me."

"I believe he was the greatest lawyer in the 20th century," said Harvard University constitutional scholar Laurence Tribe. "He was to the law what Mahatma Gandhi and Martin Luther King were to social issues."

Emma Thompson was acclaimed best dramatic actress for "Howards End" and Clint Eastwood was honored as best director for his western, "Unforgiven."

The 50th presentation of the Hollywood Foreign Press Association's awards on Saturday spread the movie and television triumphs liberally, and no winner dominated the event.

A short time later, President Bush nominated Clarence Thomas, also black, who joined the court after an historic confrontation over allegations of sexual harassment. "I wish him the best," said Marshall.

Marshall was appointed to the court on June 13, 1967, by President Lyndon B. Johnson, climaxing a career as a civil rights lawyer, appeals court judge and U.S. solicitor general.

Among some of the more important decisions written by Marshall for the high court were those saying that shopping center owners' rights to restrict demonstrations were limited; that a teacher cannot be fired for speaking out truthfully on public issues; that possessing obscene material within the privacy of one's own home cannot be made a crime.

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — "Scent of a Woman" won a surprise Golden Globe for best dramatic motion picture of 1992 as well as honors for best acting by Al Pacino and best screenplay. The Golden Globes are viewed closely for indications of what's to come at the Academy Awards in March.

Emma Thompson was acclaimed best dramatic actress for "Howards End" and Clint Eastwood was honored as best director for his western, "Unforgiven." 50th presentation of the Hollywood Foreign Press Association's awards on Saturday spread the movie and television triumphs liberally, and no winner dominated the event.

A short time later, President Bush nominated Clarence Thomas, also black, who joined the court after an historic confrontation over allegations of sexual harassment. "I wish him the best," said Marshall.

Marshall was appointed to the court on June 13, 1967, by President Lyndon B. Johnson, climaxing a career as a civil rights lawyer, appeals court judge and U.S. solicitor general.

Among some of the more important decisions written by Marshall for the high court were those saying that shopping center owners' rights to restrict demonstrations were limited; that a teacher cannot be fired for speaking out truthfully on public issues; that possessing obscene material within the privacy of one's own home cannot be made a crime.

A short time later, President Bush nominated Clarence Thomas, also black, who joined the court after an historic confrontation over allegations of sexual harassment. "I wish him the best," said Marshall.

Marshall was appointed to the court on June 13, 1967, by President Lyndon B. Johnson, climaxing a career as a civil rights lawyer, appeals court judge and U.S. solicitor general.

Among some of the more important decisions written by Marshall for the high court were those saying that shopping center owners' rights to restrict demonstrations were limited; that a teacher cannot be fired for speaking out truthfully on public issues; that possessing obscene material within the privacy of one's own home cannot be made a crime.

A short time later, President Bush nominated Clarence Thomas, also black, who joined the court after an historic confrontation over allegations of sexual harassment. "I wish him the best," said Marshall.

Marshall was appointed to the court on June 13, 1967, by President Lyndon B. Johnson, climaxing a career as a civil rights lawyer, appeals court judge and U.S. solicitor general.

Among some of the more important decisions written by Marshall for the high court were those saying that shopping center owners' rights to restrict demonstrations were limited; that a teacher cannot be fired for speaking out truthfully on public issues; that possessing obscene material within the privacy of one's own home cannot be made a crime.

A short time later, President Bush nominated Clarence Thomas, also black, who joined the court after an historic confrontation over allegations of sexual harassment. "I wish him the best," said Marshall.

Marshall was appointed to the court on June 13, 1967, by President Lyndon B. Johnson, climaxing a career as a civil rights lawyer, appeals court judge and U.S. solicitor general.

Among some of the more important decisions written by Marshall for the high court were those saying that shopping center owners' rights to restrict demonstrations were limited; that a teacher cannot be fired for speaking out truthfully on public issues; that possessing obscene material within the privacy of one's own home cannot be made a crime.
Blood-alcohol test may be inaccurate

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The machines used by Indiana police to determine a driver's blood-alcohol level may be giving inaccurate readings which can result in an unfair conviction, a former state official said.

Michael Evans, former director of the state's Indiana Department of Toxicology, said he believes the machine can be accurate if used properly. But Evans told the Indianapolis Star that some people, particularly defendants with blood-alcohol contents just above the legal limit of intoxication, may receive inaccurate readings from the machines for several reasons.

The breath test results often are key evidence in a drunken driving case. In Indiana, state law presumes that a motorist with a blood-alcohol content above 0.10 percent is a drunken driver.

To determine that level, law enforcement officials usually require suspects to blow into a breath-test machine. The machine measures the amount of alcohol in a person's breath and converts it into the amount of alcohol that would be in that person's blood.

Henry R. Besch, the current director of the toxicology department, said Evans' comments are "shopworn" critiques. He said the breath-test machine results have withstood hundreds of similar challenges. Besch also believes the machines certified by his department already help the defendant by slightly underestimating the actual blood-alcohol content to account for any margin of error.

However, Evans' beliefs and background have led several defense attorneys to hire him for drunken driving cases. He runs his own consulting firm, the American Institute of Toxicology, and will testify both for pay and for free.

He often points to national studies which he said have shown the conversion factors used to make the blood-alcohol estimate from the breath sample aren't reliable enough to prove guilt beyond a reasonable doubt.

New York Post employees accept pay cut

NEW YORK (AP) — In an 11th-hour rescuscitation effort, reporters and editors at the New York Post accepted a 20 percent pay cut Sunday to keep the nation's oldest continuously published daily newspaper alive.

Publisher Peter Kalikow said Post employees represented by all 10 unions at the paper must agree to such concessions or there will be no Monday edition of the 192-year-old paper.

At least half of the unions have now supported the cut, and the others planned to vote Monday if the first half has since been restored.

The Newspaper Guild, which represents about 300 of the Post's 715 employees, approved the reduction by a voice vote Sunday.

"Our greatest hope in accepting this proposal is that it will lead to a new owner for this paper — one who understands the newspaper business and will have the Post's future interest at heart," the Guild said in a statement.

Kalikow, who is trying to sell the Post, says he will also raise its price a dime, to 50 cents, on Monday if there is a Monday paper.

The Post's latest financial crisis came when Bankers Trust cut off its credit line last week. Kalikow said the Post, says he will also raise its price a dime, to 50 cents, on Monday if there is a Monday paper.

The Observer/Brian McDonough

Playing in the band

Grape for Luna, a campus band, is led by lead vocalist and Flanner Hall sophomore Andy Heil during a performance Friday night at the LaFortune Ball Room. The performance was part of the SUB sponsored Winter Fest.

The Observer/Brian McDonough

HAPPY 21ST BIRTHDAY

KATHLEEN

LOVE, MOM,
DAD, D.N., TIM, MIKE, AND RADAR

The Observer is now accepting applications for the following paid position:

Advertising Account Executive

Account Executives work with clients on a daily basis and should possess good communication skills, a friendly personality and a strong work ethic.

To apply, please submit a one-page personal statement of intent or a résumé to Mike Hobbs by 5 p.m. Friday, January 29. Contact Mike Hobbs at 1-8840 for more information.
Mandela says ANC leadership failed

Johannesburg, South Africa (AP) — Winnie Mandela launched a bid for power in the ANC on Sunday, by accusing its leaders, including her estranged husband, Nelson Mandela, of failing to stop the black massacres.

"That leadership can, and will, be changed by the people," Mrs. Mandela wrote in a column that appeared in Sunday newspapers.

Her comments could start a political war between Mrs. Mandela and her husband, who is the president of the African National Congress.

Mrs. Mandela was fiery activ­ist with a strong following in the ANC during Nelson Man­dela’s 27-year imprisonment for anti-apartheid activities. She gave up her leadership posts last year after separating from Mandela and following her conviction in the kidnap and assault of four youths.

But Mrs. Mandela remains an ANC member, and in her remarks she made it clear she had no intention of joining the rival party and hoped instead to create a powerful role for herself in the organization.

"I am not about to abandon the ANC to the mercy of elitist politicians," she wrote.

Israel still refuses deportees’ return

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel’s Cabinet stood firm Sunday on its refusal to allow nearly 400 Palestinian deportees stranded in Lebanon to return to the occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip.

"Any solution will be based on the original decision that those terrorists that were temporarily removed will not be returned," Health Minister Haim Ramon told reporters at the weekly Cabinet meeting.

Israel says the Palestinians are members of militant Muslim groups and it blames for the slay­ings of six Israeli soldiers.

But Lebanon has refused to accept them on its territory, fearing it will become a dump­ing ground for Israeli deporta­tions. The men are living in a tent camp in no man’s land between Israeli and Lebanese army lines.

The U.N. Security Council condemned the Dec. 17 expul­sions as a violation of interna­tional law. The Cabinet decision came despite an Israeli survey last week saying 10 of the 18 Cabinet ministers supported a re­turn of the deportees.

Ramon said the television report of who conducted the survey confused Cabinet sup­port for aid to the deportees as backing for their return. Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin, who proposed the deportations, was reportedly outraged at the re­sponse attributed to his minis­ters.

"We allowed two helicopters from Cyprus to go there," Rabin said, referring to the flight of British military helicopters into the camp to bring medical aid and evacuate four sick men and 13 mistakenly de­ported.

He acknowledged the govern­ment had softened its posi­tion on allowing aid into the camp because of increasing world criticism of the deporta­tions.

But a spokesman for the Palestinians went further, charging that Israel’s agree­ment to evacuate 17 of them was a virtual admission that the mass expulsion was wrong.

"The move was also an ad­mission by Israel of its full re­sponsibility for the security and physical welfare of the deportees," spokesman Shaul-Azir Ramot told re­porters Sunday at the camp.

"Israel is now bound to take us back, in line with U.N. Secu­rity Council Resolution 779," which demands that Israel repatriate the deportees, he said.

U.N. Secretary-General Boutros Boutros-Ghali has hinted he will seek sanctions against Israel if it does not comply.

New official language bill protested by Puerto Ricans

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Tens of thousands of people marched Sunday to protest a bill to make both English and Spanish this U.S. territory’s of­ficial languages.

The bill threatens “Puerto Rico’s national identity,” educator Jose Ferrer Canales told a crowd in front of the Capitol building. Police estimated the crowd at 80,000 to 100,000.

Gov. Pedro Rossello, leader of the pro-statehood New Progress­ive Party, is sponsoring the bill. It is virtually assured of passage since the legislature is dominated by pro-statehood lawmakers.

Language and culture is a sensitive issue for Puerto Ri­cans, many of whom are uneasy about what they see as the Americanization of the island.

But Mrs. Mandela remains an ANC member, and in her remarks she made it clear she had no intention of joining the rival party and hoped instead to create a powerful role for herself in the organization.

"I am not about to abandon the ANC to the mercy of elitist politicians," she wrote.

Interested in Films? Directing? Acting?

Here’s Your Chance!

Get an Early Jump and Start Making Your Movies For March 26th

Morrissey Film Festival

Questions? Call Rian Akey at X3596 or Paul Matthews at X3597

Oil tankers discussed by EC

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Transport and environment ministers will discuss tightening rules on oil tankers after recent spills turned headlines in two EC states into environmental disaster areas.

The ministers plan to meet Monday to consider options ranging from improving the quality of crews on board to banning oil tankers from some areas in the 12-nation trade bloc, European Community officials said.

The meeting comes less than a week after the EC’s Europarl­ament urged tighter safety rules to avoid such disasters as the grounding of the Liberian-­registered tanker Braer off the Shetland Islands on Jan. 5.

The tanker spilled 35 million gallons of light crude into the sea, damaging fishing and bird-nesting grounds.

The tanker Argos Sea ran aground in bad weather on a reef off La Coruña, northwest Spain, in early December, spilling 24 million gallons of light crude, staining 125 miles of coastline and causing a taint in finfishers of at least $43 million.

Faced with such disasters, the EC’s Executive Commis­sion is drafting legislation to increase safety, which is expected to come up for approval by the member states in coming months.

RESERVE OFFICERS’ TRAINING CORPS

SUMMER SCHOOL FOR PEOPLE ON THEIR WAY TO THE TOP.

If you didn’t sign up for ROTC as a fresh­man or sophomore, you can still catch college, you’ll have the credentials of an Army officer. You’ll also have the self-confidence and discipline it takes to succeed in college and beyond.

ARMY ROTC
THE SMARTEST COLLEGE COURSE YOU CAN TAKE.

CONTACT CAPTAIN SELLING AT 631-6265 FOR MORE INFORMATION
Somalis killed in clash with U.S. troops Sunday

MORGADISHU, Somalia (AP) — Three Somalis were killed and at least five were wounded in clashes Sunday with a U.S.-led coalition trying to safeguard efforts to find the country's starving.

Despite the presence of more than 38,000 allied troops, Somalis remain dangerous. In the volatile southern port city of Kismayu, three people were killed on Sunday.

The violence led Col. Marc Jacqmin, the commander of Belgian troops here, to warn development officials from the European Community and Belgium not to visit Kismayu as they had planned.

Belgian Development Minister Eric Derycke, who is due to visit Kismayu on Monday, is visiting to see if it is safe to re-establish an EC presence. EC delegates were evacuated in 1991, along with most foreign diplomats and aid workers, as the country slipped into chaos. In Brussels, the aid group Doctors Without Borders announced it had evacuated seven of its nine volunteers from Kismayo to Nairobi after a demonstration protest the presence of foreign signers became violent. Ships were fired and slaves were hauled at cars of the relief group.

It was not clear if the demonstration was spontaneous or staged by a local warlord opposed to the presence of the allied troops.

In Kismayo on Sunday, Belgian soldiers surrounded and stormed a building after coming under fire from snipers. They killed two Somalis, wounded one and captured four. Belgian and U.S. military spokespersons said here.

In Brussels, Belgian army spokesperson Col. Guy Vrymont also described the incident but did not mention any Somali wounded.

ZAGREB, Croatia (AP) — Croatia said it ended a surprise offensive that shattered a year of calm with rebel Serbs, but fighting raged near the port of Zadar and there were reports of battles farther south Sunday.

Fierce fighting also was reported in eastern Bosnia-Herzegovina, where Muslim forces are trying to clear off an offensive that shattered a year of calm with rebel Serbs from a region along the border with Serbia. Fighting between Muslims and Croats was reported in central Bosnia.

The uprising in fighting and tough words from leaders of all ethnic factions in the former Yugoslav federation threatened to undo international peace talks and heightened fears of a wider war in the Balkans.

In Geneva, where leaders of the factions met to discuss a wider war in the Balkans, the upsurge in fighting and tough words from leaders of all ethnic factions in the former Yugoslav federation threatened to undo international peace talks and heightened fears of a wider war in the Balkans.

KUWAIT CITY (AP) — OPEC superpowers Saudi Arabia and Iran have agreed to reduce oil production if necessary to lift lagging prices, the president of the organization said Sunday. Ali Al-Naimi, who is also Venezuela's energy and mines minister, came to Kuwait on a Middle East tour aimed at persuading some major producers, including Nigeria, Iran and the United Arab Emirates, to ignore their quota limits, prices that this year have tumbled to around $17 per barrel, well below OPEC's $18-per-barrel benchmark.

Last year's average price was around $18.50 a barrel. Kuwait, racing to restore its pre-Gulf War production of around 2 million barrels a day, is virtually producing on a quota-free basis for the time being.

Kuwait's oil production was severely curtailed during the Iraqi occupation from August 1990 to February 1991. During that time, some oil facilities were either destroyed or severely damaged by the occupiers.

Saudia Arabia, Iran agree to oil reduction

Kuwaiti Oil Minister Ali al-Naimi said Sunday that the organization's goal was to lift lagging prices, the president of the organization said Sunday.

Ali Al-Naimi, who is also Venezuela's energy and mines minister, came to Kuwait on a Middle East tour aimed at persuading OPEC members to reconsider their production cuts.

"So far, we have a broad consensus on the measures we might wish to take," Parra told reporters at the airport.

Saudi Arabian Oil Minister Hisham Nazer told Parra in Paris on Saturday that the oil giant was proposing a million-barrel cut in the OPEC production ceiling to remedy the weak oil market.

Kuwaiti Oil Minister Ali al-Naimi said Sunday that the organization's goal was to lift lagging prices, the president of the organization said Sunday.

Ali Al-Naimi, who is also Venezuela's energy and mines minister, came to Kuwait on a Middle East tour aimed at persuading some major producers, including Nigeria, Iran and the United Arab Emirates, to ignore their quota limits, prices that this year have tumbled to around $17 per barrel, well below OPEC's $18-per-barrel benchmark.

Last year's average price was around $18.50 a barrel. Kuwait, racing to restore its pre-Gulf War production of around 2 million barrels a day, is virtually producing on a quota-free basis for the time being.

Kuwaiti oil production was severely curtailed during the Iraqi occupation from August 1990 to February 1991. During that time, some oil facilities were either destroyed or severely damaged by the occupiers.

Alumni Week's not all just Plaid

January 24-30

How would you like a free Nintendo? Or how about a cordless phone? Or maybe, a free dinner for two? Then read The Observer for clues to the Alumni Week Scavenger Hunt. It's easy! Check out the ad in The Observer this week!

What a reward for saying "hi" during Alumni Week, we say to the right people on the right day, they may have a big reward for you. Free trip to Hawaii! Free Porsche! Free Rolex! Well maybe not that big, but... try it and see!

Gotta job? Then come to career night! Meet Notre Dame Alumni from all over the nation and from all walks of life and learn about possible careers in every field imaginable (final interview slots available). Thursday, January 28 from 9 to 10 am in the Blue Room in Swain Dining Hall.

What is the Doctorly Award anyway? Come find out on Thursday, January 28 from 4:30 to 6 pm at the CSC Coffee House. This year's Dr. Thomas A. Dooley Award nominees, Sexton and O'Byrne, will be on hand. By the way, the award is given for Distinction in Overseas Service and Education.

Plaid versus Students in Volleyball

Notre Dame Holiness Trophy winner Angelo Scialli will wear his best black suit as the alumni team takes on teams from Student Government and S.A.R.I. The volleyball begins at 10:00 am at the JACC in conjunction with the Late Night Olympics.

Saudia Arabia, Iran agree to oil reduction

barrels agreed in November, to 24 million barrels a day for the April to June period. Since most major producers, including Nigeria, Iran and the United Arab Emirates, have ignored OPEC's voluntary production limits, prices that this year have tumbled to around $17 per barrel, well below OPEC's $18-per-barrel benchmark.

Last year's average price was around $18.50 a barrel. Kuwait, racing to restore its pre-Gulf War production of around 2 million barrels a day, is virtually producing on a quota-free basis for the time being.

Kuwaiti oil production was severely curtailed during the Iraqi occupation from August 1990 to February 1991. During that time, some oil facilities were either destroyed or severely damaged by the occupiers.

Alumni Week's not all just Plaid

January 24-30

How would you like a free Nintendo? Or how about a cordless phone? Or maybe, a free dinner for two? Then read The Observer for clues to the Alumni Week Scavenger Hunt. It's easy! Check out the ad in The Observer this week!

What a reward for saying "hi" during Alumni Week, we say to the right people on the right day, they may have a big reward for you. Free trip to Hawaii! Free Porsche! Free Rolex! Well maybe not that big, but... try it and see!

Gotta job? Then come to career night! Meet Notre Dame Alumni from all over the nation and from all walks of life and learn about possible careers in every field imaginable (final interview slots available). Thursday, January 28 from 9 to 10 am in the Blue Room in Swain Dining Hall.

What is the Doctorly Award anyway? Come find out on Thursday, January 28 from 4:30 to 6 pm at the CSC Coffee House. This year's Dr. Thomas A. Dooley Award nominees, Sexton and O'Byrne, will be on hand. By the way, the award is given for Distinction in Overseas Service and Education.

Plaid versus Students in Volleyball

Notre Dame Holiness Trophy winner Angelo Scialli will wear his best black suit as the alumni team takes on teams from Student Government and S.A.R.I. The volleyball begins at 10:00 am at the JACC in conjunction with the Late Night Olympics.

Saudia Arabia, Iran agree to oil reduction

barrels agreed in November, to 24 million barrels a day for the April to June period. Since most major producers, including Nigeria, Iran and the United Arab Emirates, have ignored OPEC's voluntary production limits, prices that this year have tumbled to around $17 per barrel, well below OPEC's $18-per-barrel benchmark.

Last year's average price was around $18.50 a barrel. Kuwait, racing to restore its pre-Gulf War production of around 2 million barrels a day, is virtually producing on a quota-free basis for the time being.

Kuwaiti oil production was severely curtailed during the Iraqi occupation from August 1990 to February 1991. During that time, some oil facilities were either destroyed or severely damaged by the occupiers.

Alumni Week's not all just Plaid

January 24-30

How would you like a free Nintendo? Or how about a cordless phone? Or maybe, a free dinner for two? Then read The Observer for clues to the Alumni Week Scavenger Hunt. It's easy! Check out the ad in The Observer this week!

What a reward for saying "hi" during Alumni Week, we say to the right people on the right day, they may have a big reward for you. Free trip to Hawaii! Free Porsche! Free Rolex! Well maybe not that big, but... try it and see!

Gotta job? Then come to career night! Meet Notre Dame Alumni from all over the nation and from all walks of life and learn about possible careers in every field imaginable (final interview slots available). Thursday, January 28 from 9 to 10 am in the Blue Room in Swain Dining Hall.

What is the Doctorly Award anyway? Come find out on Thursday, January 28 from 4:30 to 6 pm at the CSC Coffee House. This year's Dr. Thomas A. Dooley Award nominees, Sexton and O'Byrne, will be on hand. By the way, the award is given for Distinction in Overseas Service and Education.

Plaid versus Students in Volleyball

Notre Dame Holiness Trophy winner Angelo Scialli will wear his best black suit as the alumni team takes on teams from Student Government and S.A.R.I. The volleyball begins at 10:00 am at the JACC in conjunction with the Late Night Olympics.
Alumni Awareness Week activities to begin today

Dear Editor:

All of us know our Alumni Club from the '80s was "end-of-sessions" but do we really appreciate all the Alumni Association does? The Alumni Association forms a strong support network that plays an integral part of our Notre Dame life both while we are students and after graduation. Student Government and the Student Alumni Relations Group (SARG) are co-sponsoring an Alumni Awareness Week to increase awareness of the Alumni Association on campus and encourage student-alumni interaction.

The week kicks off with a scavenger hunt...the winner gets a load of prizes: a cordless phone, dinner for two or Nintendo! Daily clues can be found on the Alumni website or in The Observer. Fager searchers can pick up an extra clue at the Alumni Association office (201 Administration Building) any time throughout the week.

Not so long ago there was a tradition on campus of saying hello to alumni coming into the quad. In an attempt to revive this tradition, Alumni Awareness Week is offering a little incentive. Say hello to the right people and see what happens.

The Alumni Association Board members will be available for career discussions on Jan. 28 from 9 to 10 a.m. in the Blue Room of North Dining Hall. Stop in and openly discuss any questions about a variety of careers.

This year’s Alley Award recipients, Sean and Julie O’Brien, will be on campus to discuss their service involvement. They’ll be available on Thursday, Jan. 28 at 4:30 p.m. at the CSC Coffee House.

SARG and Student Government will take on the Alumni volleyball team during Late Night Olympics. The games begin at 10 p.m. at the JACC.

The most miserable thing about the whole year was the end of holidays and the sight of that silver screen. The silver train would slowly bid us farewell and I’d walk down the ail streets to that natty cell.

I never ever felt that I was "going back." And when everyone started asking me to "Come back!" I had to run and go with that mitt. I had one heck of a time stopping the ball in the sky behind from my massive ball-cap. Not to mention that I couldn’t run very well. But I caught it. And I kept going back.

On the baseball field, it’s much easier to determine when you’re "going back" and when you’re "coming home." I was on a train to Paris when I figured that one out. I asked the guy I was traveling with where we were going. "Where are we going," I asked. "We’re going back to Paris." "To do what?" he asked me. "I’m doing a puzzle sort of way. So we can go home.

Sure enough, in under twelve hours, I was sitting on a lawn chair in my backyard in New Jersey. I was home. I was back home. Ha ha. The grass felt good and long between my toes. MTV was still on channel 10. There were big paper cartoons of milk in the refrigerator. The magazines in the bathroom were the same ones I had read many months ago. My mother was nagging me. Nothing had changed. I was home.

I thought about all the kids I knew who had gone home before us. They went home to Poughkeepsie, Pittsburgh and Pierre. And Copenhagen, Oslo, Birmingham, Vienna, Venice, and Hong Kong. Were they all just as relieved, just as familiar with their homes, as I was with mine? I kind of figured they were. What is it that made home home and not just some place to which I went back?

I had a small room in France. The most miserable thing about the whole year was the end of holidays and the sight of that silver screen. The silver train would slowly bid us farewell and I’d walk down the ail streets to that natty cell.

Dear Editor:

I got the big brown leather mitt for my birthday. It was too big, all the kids said so, but I had already broken it in and no store would take back a too big mitt that was fairly dripping conditioner. It hung from my wrist to my knees. Getting it up to catch a ball was an effort and when everyone started screaming for me to “Go back! Go back!” I had to run and find with that mitt. I had one heck of a time stopping the ball in the sky behind from my massive ball-cap. Not to mention that I couldn’t run very well. But I caught it. And I kept going back.

The Alumni Association is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame de la Lumière and Saint Mary’s College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The views in this paper are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer. Viewpoint space is available to all students of the Notre Dame/Saint Mary’s community and to all readers. The free expression of varying opinions through letters is encouraged.
Dear Editor:

Why do pro-abortion people use the term "pro-choice"? The name "pro-choice" is ambiguous. The choice they are insisting on making is not at all evident from the label they select for themselves. Are they giving taxpayers any choice in military expenditures? No matter how many times pro-military people say or write "America's Freedom to Fight" or "America First," we are aware that we have already given taxpayers any choice in foreign policy. The issue is settled, and we are paying for the foreign policy of pro-aborters and their "pro-choice" ideology.

Pro-choice has been the name of the game for the pro-abortion movement, regardless of whether or not the pro-abortionists were ever sure of the correctness of their views. But with the proliferation of the term "pro-choice," most of us have become accustomed to a set of connotations that attaches to the name. The pro-abortion movement has strived mightily to keep the pro-choice label from the American consciousness. A more reasonable position to take is that pro-choice is nothing more than a non-contradictory moral code.

Pro-choice is for those who believe that the right to life is the most absolute right, and that it is the government's role to protect this right. It is not the government's role to mandate this right to everyone, as pro-choice advocates would have us believe. The government cannot force a person to adopt a pro-life stance, but it can protect the right to life for all citizens.

Therefore, pro-choice is a more reasonable position than the pro-abortion movement's stance. It is time that we reject the pro-abortion movement's "pro-choice" label and adopt our own, more reasonable position.
ND students attend the festivities surrounding Clinton's inauguration

BY EMILY HAGE and SARAH DORAN
Accent Writers

Notre Dame students and Clinton supporters Kathleen Ziegler and Cara Conway witnessed history first hand last Wednesday when both watched President Clinton take the inaugural oath from their seats in the shadow of the Capitol building.

"I didn't anticipate how exciting it would be. When he actually took the oath, the crowd went wild, hugging and crying."

-Cara Conway

It was very intense to be there," said Conway, a Farley Hall sophomore. She said that the atmosphere at the national capital on January 20th was very positive. "People were very friendly and approachable. Everyone was very excited to be there."

Though there were a lot of metal detectors, she said that she "bit close" to the parade as onlookers shouted, "We want Bill!"

As her father's "date," Conway said she had a busy itinerary for the two days she was in Washington, D.C. The head of Illinois Lawyers for Clinton and a friend of President Clinton's from their days at Yale Law School, Cara's father escorted her to some of the hottest spots in town.

On Tuesday night, she attended the Illinois Ball, which she described as "a big zoo," and a more private Illinois party. On Wednesday, Conway spent most of her time with a woman whom she describes as Hillary's "first friend." "It was kind of fun to have a military escort and driver with a walkie-talkie and a uniform," said Conway.

The Wednesday night excitement began with the Massachusetts party at the Ritz Carlton, where Conway saw Senator Ted Kennedy and feminist activist Gloria Steinem, followed by the Arkansas Ball at the Convention Center downtown.

At the Arkansas Ball, she saw the new President and First Lady, and even heard Clinton join jazz saxophonist Ben King in playing "Your Momma Don't Dance."

Other entertainment included Michael McInnerny, Bruce Hornsby, Kenny Loggins, Barbara Streisand, Jody Collins, and Carole King. Kenny G. was also there, but did not perform. Guests at the ball were mostly those people who were seriously involved in the campaign. "There was an interesting mix of people," said Conway.

The festivities continued for Conway at the Ball After the Ball, a celebration for "the younger crowd" at the Post Office Pavilion on Pennsylvania Avenue, where she heard Bono in Effect and Marky Mark. "It was nothing like a concert. We were only 10 to 15 feet away from Marky," said Conway.

Arkansas resident and ND senior Ziegler found inauguration week festivities equally exciting. "There was such a strong sense of patriotism and pride in the city. Everyone from cab drivers to random onlookers spoke of how this inauguration was just so exhilarating," said Conway.

Ziegler's goal of the week was to attend the Arkansas Ball Wednesday night. The ball said to be the most popular of the inauguration festivities, and definitely the most difficult to get tickets to. She achieved this goal when a man gave her a free ticket to the ball. She said was "definitely the highlight of the week."

"Watching Clinton up on stage playing the saxophone with Ben King was just fantastic. It was quite a night. There was so much Arkansas state pride at the ball and just throughout the week, it was great. It felt like the whole state just picked up and left for D.C. and was rumored that 40,000-50,000 residents did actually come to the inauguration," said Ziegler.

New HPC monthly projects to provide ongoing service to South Bend residents

BY JOE MONAHA Accent Writer

While most students spent their weekend resting up for the upcoming week, HPC members spent their working and helping their community by participating in a new service project. At one site students painted and helped renovate the house of an elderly woman while just down the street students helped to clean out the house of an elderly man, while just down the street students helped to clean out the house of an elderly man, while just down the street students helped to clean out the house of an elderly man, while just down the street students helped to clean out the house of an elderly man.

These students participated in a new HPC project started by Stanford Hall president Frank Flynn. Yesterday's project was the first in a series of monthly initiatives in which students from Notre Dame and Saint Mary's can help rebuild the northeast neighborhood of South Bend, better known to students as the region around Lafayette Square.

Sunday's project consisted of approximately 16 HPC members working at two different sites, but future initiatives will be larger, including anywhere from 20-25 members, and will be opened to anyone who is interested.

"It would be nice for Lafayette Square students especially to help out next month, consider they live in the area, but after Sunday it's open to everyone," said Flynn.

The HPC Service Project works closely with the Neighborhood Housing Services, a federal agency located in the South Bend area. The NHS locates possible sites while HPC provides the funding and the people.

HPC Service Project gets its funding from the newly created HPC Service Fund, which was created using surplus money from sales of The Shirt and currently has around $25,000 available for student use.

"The purpose of the fund is to help build an awareness in Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students to be socially responsible. The fund gives students the means to go out and accomplish this," said Flynn.

The money from the fund can be used for one-time student initiatives, providing that they are original and not affiliated with another organization. Students who are interested can contact HPC secretary Patricia Flynn and submit a short proposal, which then must be approved by HPC.

"Now that we've created the fund, the only thing that remains is to get the message out to people and make them aware that the money is available; all they need to do is show the initiative to use it," said Flynn.
Mixer throws two interceptions in Shrine

(AP) — In college football's last showcase of the season for seniors, the Shrine Game ended with the West engineeing two interceptions in the final minute and the East upstaged a pair of big-name quarterbacks.

The game was virtually all over when Kirby ran for two touchdowns and Boston College's Charlick Dukes led all rushers with 62 yards on 13 carries Sunday as the East got the best of the 49th Shrine Game victory in four years, 31-27 over the West.

In the Sheep's Clothing Bowl, the West's starring career rushing leader, scored on runs of 7 and 1 yards in the first half, finishing with 34 yards on five carries, as the East dominated defensively for five game-turnovers.

The West had won the last three contests and five of the last six matchups.

"I wanted to play hard," Kirby said. "But I had to play a little ballhawking. It's like a foreign language, but it was a matter of making the adjustments, which I did." "

Duke's senior was complemented by Duker, named the game's outstanding offensive player. They stole the spotlight from their team's quarterback tandem, Hampton's Tim Tebow of North Carolina and Notre Dame's Ryan Filer.

The session of his interception Sugar Bowl flop, Torretta was steady in front of dozen of pro scouts, completing 19 of 25 passes for 197 yards with two inter­ceptions and the flashiest play of the game, a 60- yard pass to Walter Dunson of Middle Tennessee State.

"I thought I did real well," Tebow said. "I was really out there in front of 500 fans from his nearby hometown of Pinole.

"On a couple of deep throws we weren't on the same page as far as timing was concerned, it was in a couple of series, then out a couple, and I'm not used to the receivers slowing down to throw.

"I was just settling. The West didn't get going in the second half, its first drive killed when Tebow fumbled the ball off his right hand. The defense, which made several big plays in the first half, seemed to run out of gas in the second.

"We just couldn't generate something in the second half," West coach Rich Brooks of Oregon said. "We left the defense on the field too long. They ate up a lot of clock in the second half and they couldn't do anything about it. They ran the ball well and got a little bit more pressure on our quarterback. We had one interception.

Mixer struggled, hitting 17 of 46 for 96 yards with two interceptions, in the Shrine Game victory in four years, 31-27 over the West.

The West was led by Arizona State linebacker Brett Frestall, the game's outstanding defensive player, with 13 tackles and a fumble recovery.

Daron Alcorn of Akron kicked a 31-yard field goal to put the East up 24-17 with 7:23 left in the third quarter. On its next possession, the game away following Mixer's 60-yard strike to Dunson. A 1-yard run by Cincinnati's Cindy Brown kicked of 31-17 with 14:23 remaining.

In the first half, the West overcame four turnovers, including a fumbling goal line blast by Dukes inside the last two minutes of the quarter. That resulted a 70-yard drive of the West occurred after a second-down play by Mixer's outstanding defensive player, with 13 tackles and a fumble recovery.

Daron Alcorn of Akron kicked a 31-yard field goal to put the East up 24-17 with 7:23 left in the third quarter. On its next possession, the game away following Mixer's 60-yard strike to Dunson. A 1-yard run by Cincinnati's Cindy Brown kicked of 31-17 with 14:23 remaining.

In the first half, the West overcame four turnovers, including a fumbling goal line blast by Dukes inside the last two minutes of the quarter. That resulted a 70-yard drive of the West occurred after a second-down play by Mixer's outstanding defensive player, with 13 tackles and a fumble recovery.

Daron Alcorn of Akron kicked a 31-yard field goal to put the East up 24-17 with 7:23 left in the third quarter. On its next possession, the game away following Mixer's 60-yard strike to Dunson. A 1-yard run by Cincinnati's Cindy Brown kicked of 31-17 with 14:23 remaining.

In the first half, the West overcame four turnovers, including a fumbling goal line blast by Dukes inside the last two minutes of the quarter. That resulted a 70-yard drive of the West occurred after a second-down play by Mixer's outstanding defensive player, with 13 tackles and a fumble recovery.

Daron Alcorn of Akron kicked a 31-yard field goal to put the East up 24-17 with 7:23 left in the third quarter. On its next possession, the game away following Mixer's 60-yard strike to Dunson. A 1-yard run by Cincinnati's Cindy Brown kicked of 31-17 with 14:23 remaining.

In the first half, the West overcame four turnovers, including a fumbling goal line blast by Dukes inside the last two minutes of the quarter. That resulted a 70-yard drive of the West occurred after a second-down play by Mixer's outstanding defensive player, with 13 tackles and a fumble recovery.

Daron Alcorn of Akron kicked a 31-yard field goal to put the East up 24-17 with 7:23 left in the third quarter. On its next possession, the game away following Mixer's 60-yard strike to Dunson. A 1-yard run by Cincinnati's Cindy Brown kicked of 31-17 with 14:23 remaining.

In the first half, the West overcame four turnovers, including a fumbling goal line blast by Dukes inside the last two minutes of the quarter. That resulted a 70-yard drive of the West occurred after a second-down play by Mixer's outstanding defensive player, with 13 tackles and a fumble recovery.
Wells’ three-pointer leads FSU past Duke

(AP) – Maybe Duke should just stop playing on Sundays.

The sixth-ranked Blue Devils lost for the third consecutive Sunday when Byron Wells of Florida State drained a long 3-pointer with 2.6 seconds left in overtime to give the Seminoles an 89-88 victory.

Duke lost last Sunday to Virginia, and dropped its first game of the season the previous Sunday to Georgia Tech. The Blue Devils (13-3, 3-3 Atlantic Coast Conference) now have more losses this season than they had all of last year, when they were 34-2 and won the national championship.

Wells, a senior who scored the Seminoles’ final five points, intercepted a pass by Bobby Hurley with 20 seconds left and Duke leading 88-86.

When Florida State’s Sam Cassell was unable to shake loose, Wells put the half deep in the left corner for the gamewinning shot.

“It’s something I’ll be able to tell my grandkids about,” said the 6-10 Wells.

Florida State is 7-1 in road games this season, including an 80-75 win at Uncasville, Conn., over the Huskies on December 21.

Cal gets uncharacteristic win at Pauley

(AP) — While most eyes in Pauley Pavilion were on Jason Kidd on the perimeter, Alfred Grigsby and Brian Hendrick stole the show inside and California beat No. 23 UCLA 104-82 Sunday.

The win was just the second ever for the Bears in Pauley Pavilion, which opened for the 1965-66 season. California (9-4, 3-3 Pac-10) won there for the first time in 1990 and that broke a 30-year winless drought in Los Angeles.

Grigsby almost had his career-high at halftime as the Bears took a 56-40 lead courtesy of a 17-0 run late in the half. The sophomore forward had 17 points in the first half and finished with 23. He had scored 19 points twice in career, the first time last season against UCLA (12-5, 3-3).

Hendrick, a senior center, also finished with 23 points.

In the first half, he and Grigsby combined to make 11 of 13 shots from the field and grabbed seven rebounds as the Bears dominated inside with a 22-12 rebound advantage.

Kidd, the highly regarded freshman guard from Oakland, wasn’t too shabby in his first game at UCLA as he finished with 11 points.

When UCLA made its one run in the second half to get within 75-62 with 11:09 to play, Kidd returned from a brief rest on the bench and made a long bounce pass on the break to Lamond Murray for a layup to start a 10-0 run that carried the Bruins to 86-83 with 9:46 to play.

Murray finished with 18 points, Shon Tarver led UCLA with 21 points and Ed O’Bannon added 17.

California looked like it had taken control at the outset with a 5-2 run that gave the Bears a 26-11 lead with 12:44 left in the first half. UCLA scored the next seven points as part of a 9-2 run that had the Bruins within 28-27 with 9:43 left.

The 17-0 run started with a short jumper by Murray that made it 33-29 with 8:29 left.

Murray was fouled on the play and made a season-low 73 percent from the line, hitting 54.1 percent from the field. O’Bannon was 7 of 11 from the field.

The Bears have more losses this season (14) than any team in the country, and that includes Florida State.

“Without question, this is our biggest win of the year,” said California coach Ben Carlesimo.

“Shon Tarver was able to do what he wanted to do and we’re still able to win the game. That’s something that’s very special.”

The Bears are one of two or three teams in the country. Somebody might be as good, but nobody is better.”

The Tar Heels rattled Seton Hall with their trap defense against Dehee and Pirates’ point guards Danny Hurley and Bryan Carew, who combined for 14 turnovers and 14 points.

North Carolina wins top ten clash with Seton Hall

(AP) — If defenses win championships, then expect to see No. 3 North Carolina and No. 10 Seton Hall in the Final Four in a couple of months.

North Carolina won a defensive duel at Meadowlands Arena on Sunday, emerging with a 70-66 victory as Eric Montross scored 8 of his 13 points in the closing minutes to help the Tar Heels win their eighth straight.

George Lynch added a season-high 25 points for North Carolina, but the defensive numbers put up by both teams were even more impressive.

North Carolina (16-1) forced Seton Hall (15-3) into a season-high 23 turnovers and held Terry Dehere to just 10 points (almost 13 below his average) in ending the Pirates’ 17-game winning streak here.

Seton Hall held North Carolina to season lows in points, field goals made (23), field goals attempted (52), 3-pointers attempted (5), 3-pointers made (1), defensive rebounds (26) and first-half points (30).

The Tar Heels, who had been hitting 54.1 percent from the field, shot a season-low 30 percent (9 of 30) in the first half. But they found the range after intermission, shooting 63.6 percent (14 of 22) from the field.

Carlesimo heads to Seton Hall and can’t help but wonder why.

Reps from the West Coast thought perhaps the Pirates had overrated themselves. But Carlesimo says he’s not sure that’s the case.

“I’m surprised more people don’t realize that they’re one of the best defensive teams in the country, in addition to being one of the best offensive teams,” Seton Hall coach P.J. Carlesimo said.

“They are one of the best two or three teams in the country. Somebody might be as good, but nobody is better.”

The Tar Heels rattled Seton Hall with their trap defense against Dehere and Pirates’ point guards Danny Hurley and Bryan Carew, who combined for 14 turnovers and 14 points.

No one prepares you for the MCAT better than Kaplan. Our MCAT prep course teaches you exactly what the test covers and the test-taking skills you'll need to score your best. We offer live classes, home study, audio tapes, and video. Plus, Kaplan has a more extensive MCAT resource library than Kaplan.

MCAT

Late Registration: Jan. 13- Feb. 4
Phone: 272-4135

No one prepares you for the MCAT better than Kaplan. Our MCAT prep course teaches you exactly what the test covers and the test-taking skills you'll need to score your best. We offer live classes, home study, audio tapes, and video. Plus, Kaplan has a more extensive MCAT resource library than Kaplan.

KAPLAN

The answer is to the last question.
Piper, Brunner keep fencers unbeaten

BY KEVIN JANICKI
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame men's fencing squad continued its early season success by defeating Purdue, Lawrence, Illinois, and Chicago at the University of Illinois on Saturday, improving its record to 10-0 on the season.

The victory over a strong and inspired Illinois team came on after a brilliant comeback. Foilists Jeff Piper and Stan Brunner and epees Per Johnson and Grzegorz Wozniak won the last four bouts to take the match 14-13.

"It was a classic Notre Dame comeback," said head coach Mike DeCicco. "All four men really came through when it counted. I can't say enough about them."

The Irish foil squad provided most of the punch against the Illini, winning 8-1. Along with Piper and Brunner, who went undefeated in the match, Rian Girard added two victories and was one touch short of going undefeated himself.

"Jeff, Stan, and Rian really carried the ball for us against Illinois" said DeCicco.

But the success of the meet as a whole was also due to the strong efforts of the epeists who beat Purdue 9-0 and Chicago 8-1. And though the sabremen struggled against the midwestern powerhouse of Illinois, they beat all three of the other teams 8-1, finishing 26-10 on the weekend.

The Irish men and women head east next weekend to face 1992 NCAA champions Columbia, perennial powers NYU, Princeton, Navy, St. John's, and Rutgers. The continued success in all aspects will be crucial against the nation's top clubs.

Hockey

continued from page 20

penalty-free overtime. The final shot count was even at thirty.

"It was kind of a Jekyll and Hyde performance," said Notre Dame head coach Ric Schafer, commenting on the inconsistent play of his team.

"You saw two evenly matched teams," Schafer said, noting that only one goal separates the two teams through one hundred and ninety minutes of hockey played. "We thought this was going to be our night. We just don't score many goals."

"I think we should have won," said Osiecki, "and I think we played well enough to win."

The Irish were not so fortunate the following evening as they were squashed by Michigan 3-0 lead in the first period, the Irish played fairly well and it seemed that the Irish might avoid a Wolverine blow-out. But the Irish were simply overwhelmed by the Michigan attack in the second period, as the Wolverines scored four more goals.

Freshman Garry Gruber scored the lone Irish goal with 12:19 remaining in the second period, when he deflected the puck past the extended left pad of Michigan goalie Steve Shields. Seniors Sterling Black and Dave Bankoske assisted on the goal.

Notre Dame goalie Greg Louder, who allowed six goals while still saving eighty percent of the shots he faced, was replaced by Brent Lotrhop with two-man advantages as well as four men really came through when it

Spring Break Seminars
March 7-13, 1993 Experiential/Service Learning Center for Social Concerns

APPLACHIA SEMINAR
— Service Learning at one of seven sites in the Appalachian region
— One-credit Theology
— Information meeting: Tues., Jan. 26, 7:30–8:00

CULTURAL DIVERSITY SEMINAR
— Explore the cultural richness of Chicago
— Examine issues of diversity and related concerns
— One-credit Theology or Sociology
— Information meeting: Thurs., Jan. 28, 4:00-4:30

WASHINGTON SEMINAR
Poverty and Democracy in America
— Direct Contact with political, agency, and Church leaders in Washington, D.C.
— One credit Theology
— Information meeting: Mon., Jan. 25, 7:00-7:30 PM

Applications Available Now at the CSC
Applications Due Soon

Strong showing for men's track at Purdue Relays

By SEAN SULLIVAN
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame men's track team began the indoor season this past Friday competing in the Purdue Relays. This preliminary meet was unscorched and served as a warm up for the long season ahead.

None the less the Irish had some exemplary performances.

"We had a lot of good things happen," said head track coach Joe Flane.

Junior captain, Todd Herman high jumped 7'0.25" to win the high jump competition. Tom Mescal high jumped 6'7.75" and long jumped 22'5.75". Irish barrier Derek Marusis ran the 3000 meters in 8:54.6.

Another top performance came from Chris Lilly who ran the 55 meter hurdles in 7.87 seconds.

The top miler from Notre Dame was Andrew Burns who ran the distance in 4:23.9. Finally Notre Dame's distance Medley Relay team placed third with a time of 10:59.1.
Defense silences brash Explorers

By MIKE SCRUDATO
Sports Editor

LaSalle came into the Joyce ACC with an attitude. The Explorers tried to raize Notre Dame with physical play and trash talk throughout the Irish’s 72-63 win on Saturday night.

"They think we’re snoozing just because we play for Notre Dame, and it showed in the way they played," Monty Williams said.

As the game progressed, however, LaSalle lost its composure because of Notre Dame’s defensive pressure. This was most evident in the performances of LaSalle’s leading scorer Kareem Townes and Billy Taylor.

Though Townes scored 23 points, he only made 7 of 28 shots. Taylor was in his face all night and forced Townes into taking a lot of bad shots. "We knew he looks to shoot," Taylor commented. "We wanted to play hard on him and be physical and aggressive.”

Taylor also had a game-high three steals and pulled down six rebounds.

Another position where LaSalle showed its short fuse was at point guard, as Jeff Wooten was held to two points by Notre Dame’s interior defense.

Hoops

continued from page 20

the team’s second leading scorer, who had to sit out over eight minutes of the first half after picking up his third foul early in the game.

"It hurt us that Paul Burke made two dumb fouls in the first half and had to sit out eight minutes," said LaSalle coach Speedy Morris. "We need him in there."

LaSalle came to life early in the second, with Townes hitting two three-pointers accompanied by two more from guard Jeff Neubauer giving the Explorers a 38-36 lead. Notre Dame retook the lead on a Cozen trey, heading a 19-5 run that gave the Irish a 55-43 lead.

Townes, who finished with a team-high 23 points, and Burke tried to keep the Explorers close, but Hoover and Williams combined to hit 5-6 free throws in the game’s final two minutes to ice the win.

Tough defensive play led by Hoover in the first half and Taylor on Townes throughout the game forced LaSalle into 17 turnovers. Explorer forwards Blitz Wooten and Don Shellen were held to a combined three points, a season-low.

"You have to give Notre Dame a lot of credit," said Morris. "They took us out of our game," said Morris. "We couldn’t get anything going on the inside, and they made it tough on our shooters.”

Hoover’s floor leadership keyed much of the scoring, with the most glaring example coming during the second half run where he was credited with three of his team-high six assists. He also grabbed seven rebounds.

"You want the ball and I got the other guys involved tonight," said Hoover. "That’s what I like to do and should do.

"MacLeod stressed the significance of the win considering it came on the heels of back-to-back losses to Michigan and Butler, and gave a good showing in front of the home crowd.

"This is a very important win," commented MacLeod. "We lost at home to USC and Indiana and this was our first Saturday night game at home."

Alumni Awareness Week

SACRAMENTO HUNT CLUE:

This slip of paper is hidden with care in a sacred place of prayer.

Don’t forget to pick up your extra clue in the Alumni Association office RM. 201 Ad. Min.

GOOD LUCK

The Alumni Fact For The Day...

The November Alumni Association Continuing Education Telecast had a potential audience of 21 million, and 928 networks aired the program. The Notre Dame Alumni Association is the only one that uses a satellite network for educational purposes.
Women’s tennis drops season opener to #4 Duke

By JIM VOGL
Assistant Sports Editor

That which does not kill you will make you stronger.

Notre Dame’s women’s tennis coach, Jay Louderback must have faith in this philosophical adage, scheduling three top-10 teams to start out the season. His young Irish narrowly escaped the Eck Pavilion alive Saturday against fourth-ranked Duke, dropping an 8-1 decision. But Louderback remained optimistic, saying, “I think playing big matches early will pay off in the long run.”

In the number-one singles match, Duke senior Julie Exum gave Notre Dame sophomore Laura Schwab an early lesson. Exum, tied for second in the Indoor Tennis Association rankings, calmly and methodically destroyed the flustered Schwab, 6-2, 6-1.

“Laura needed to be more patient,” Louderback noted. “Exum’s a great player who really moves around. She’s fast and she forces you to be patient.”

Schwab recently replaced junior Melissa Harris as the team’s top singles player when Harris withdrew from school for personal reasons.

“I was pretty nervous in the first match, and I had a hard time concentrating,” admitted Schwab, whose frustration mounted after several double-faults. “I knew if I served it the least bit shallow she’d hit a winner. I missed a lot of serves early and that set the pace for the rest of the match.”

The team match was much closer than the score would indicate, according to Blue Devil coach Geoff MacDonald.

“All six matches were wars,” MacDonald said. “Notre Dame fought hard when they were down. Once they get rolling, I think they can be a top-15 team.”

“I thought it could have easily been tied 3-3 going into doubles play,” Louderback said.

Freshman Wendy Crabtree handled Christine Neuman (12th), 6-3, 6-3, for Notre Dame’s only win.

“Wendy’s a good athlete,” Louderback said. “The main thing that impressed me was that she really played under control.”

Louderback also found reason for optimism in Christy Faustmann’s loss in a 7-6, 7-5, nail-biter, along with three, three-set matches.

Probably the best matchup of the day pitched Notre Dame’s Lisa Tholen (22nd) against Susan Sommerville (eighth). Tholen, after being swept in the first set, rebounded with a 7-6 win in the second set, only to drop the deciding set 6-3.

Freshman Holyn Lord battled Duke’s Wendy Lyons in a two and-a-half hour marathon, only to lose, 4-6, 6-1, 7-5.

“A big factor today was experience,” said Louderback, who started three freshmen—Crabtree, Lord and Sherri Vlade. “When it came down to the tight matches, Duke played better.”

“1 think it was a matter of poise and experience,” MacDonald said. “All six matches were close, but we just had what it took to put them away.”

“Although today’s score doesn’t show it, I feel like we can handle the big matches,” Schwab said. “Our team is coming together and showing great depth.”

Notre Dame will continue to play under the pressure-cooker in the early going. They face fifth-ranked UCLA on Friday and seventh-ranked Georgia in Minneapolis on Saturday. The Irish schedule features nine teams in the top-25.

Calling all Cheerleader Wanna-Be’s

Informal Meeting
February 8th
7:30 p.m.
Football Auditorium

FACULTY DINING ROOM

OPEN:
MONDAY - FRIDAY
11:30 A.M. - 1:00 P.M.

MODERATE PRICES
LARGE TABLES
QUIET SURROUNDINGS

Located on the upper level of South Dining Hall

models open
Mon.-Fri. 3-6 p.m.
Saturday 1-6 p.m.

stop by and see the changes we have made!

great rental rates
for more information call:

Matteo Enterprises
232-8256

strap it on, l -
it's your 22nd birthday!

hpe it's a good one!

newly remodeled
Notre Dame Apartments
now renting for august 1993

informal meeting
February 8th
7:30 p.m.
football auditorium

and lucky leprechauns

faculry dining room

newly remodeled
Notre Dame Apartments
Now Renting for August 1993

models open
Mon.-Fri. 3-6 p.m.
Saturday 1-6 p.m.

Stop by and see the changes we have made!

Great Rental Rates
For More Information Call:

Matteo Enterprises
232-8256

Calling all Cheerleader Wanna-Be’s

Informal Meeting
February 8th
7:30 p.m.
Football Auditorium

and Lucky Leprechauns

Not for Faculty
Only

Moderate Prices
Large Tables
Quiet Surroundings

Located on the Upper Level of South Dining Hall

Not for Facul ty
Only

Newly Remodeled
Notre Dame Apartments
Now Renting for August 1993

Models Open
Mon.-Fri. 3-6 p.m.
Saturday 1-6 p.m.

Stop by and see the changes we have made!

Great Rental Rates
For More Information Call:

Matteo Enterprises
232-8256
Spartans end Belles win streak, 67-63

By MAGGIE HELLRUNG
Sports Writer

Who said basketball wasn't a rough sport? Certainly not the Saint Mary's Belles, who's nine game winning streak ended Saturday after losing to the Manchester College Spartans, 67-63.

"There's a saying we live by in basketball," said the Belles' coach Mary Wood. "Play hard, play smart, and play like a champion. Today we played hard but we didn't play too smart."

The teams exchanged leads throughout the game. The Spartans, who hold a 1-0 record so far this season, proved to be tough competition for the Belles. After a rough first half, the scored stood 25-24 with Manchester holding a slim lead.

"We needed to come together as a team," said senior guard Kristen Crowley. "It should have never been so close. We have to jump out, get the lead and keep it.".

Three minutes into the second quarter, the Belles grabbed a two point lead, but only managed to keep it for a few minutes. For the remainder of the half, the lead changed hands repeatedly. The teams remained tied going into the games waning moments, but a foul shot for Manchester ended the tie and proved to be the game winner.

"It wasn't our best game, but we ran into a good opponent," said Wood.

Top scorers for the Belles on Saturday were forward Kim Holmes with 18 points and forward Jessie Taubenheim, also with 18 points.

After a successful season up to this point, Saturday's loss hit the Belles hard.

"This loss woke us up to what we have to focus on for next time," said Crowley.

Added Senior Anne Mulcahy. "We need to overcome this loss, forget it, and concentrate on the rest of the year."

The Belles will play Albion College Wednesday night at 7:00 at Angela Athletic center.

"We'll have to come on strong and play our best," said Wood.

Late Night Olympics V

Event List

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Event Name</th>
<th>Date</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>2. 3 on 3 Basketball-men's</td>
<td>January 29, 1993</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. 3 on 3 Basketball-women's</td>
<td>January 29, 1993</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5. Wii Ball</td>
<td>January 28, 1993</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7. Indoor Soccer-women's</td>
<td>January 28, 1993</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8. Water Volleyball</td>
<td>January 28, 1993</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10. Table Top Pentathlon</td>
<td>January 29, 1993</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11. Dodgeball</td>
<td>January 29, 1993</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

SPECIAL EVENTS
1. Slam Dunk Contest
2. Judo Tournament
3. Dunk Tank

IMPORTANT DATES
January 25, 1993 Deadline for team rosters for each late nite event.
January 27, 1993 Late Nite miss-a-meal for special olympics.
January 28, 1993 Late Nite training tables.
January 29, 1993 Late Nite Olympics!
Wolverines too much for Irish

By BRYAN CONNOLLY
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame hockey team wrapped up six game home swing this weekend by picking up one point from its two matches against the University of Illinois-Chicago and the University of Michigan.

The Irish opened the weekend by tying UIC 2-2 in front of 1,913 fans at the Joyce Fieldhouse.

Captain Matt Osiecki gave Notre Dame an early lead by scoring on a slap shot from just inside half ice with only one minute and eighteen seconds elapsed in the game. Skating across the red line, Osiecki intended only to clear the puck into the UIC zone and give the Irish the opportunity to change lines, but his shot was an unexpected hop and trickled through the pads of Flame's goalie Jon Hillebrandt.

The Irish controlled the play of the game through most of the first period as they out-shot the Flames 9-6. The tides turned in the second period, however, when UIC came out aggressively and adjusted to the Irish attack. They were unable to sustain any major offensive as they went 0-5 against the Chicago pounced Irish goalie Greg Louder with a dozen shots. The Flames reached the scoring charts with one minute and fifty two seconds gone in the second period when freshman Jamie Ling scored a goal to take the lead back. Hillebrandt deflected home a centering pass from deep in the left corner.

The Irish was deadlocked at one until the 3:46 mark of the third period when freshman Jimmy Ling scored his second goal of the game to recapture the lead and show the Irish at the score at two.

Both teams managed three shots in a total of 60 minutes to the满意的of the Mountaineers.

Monty Williams dunks two of his team-high 17 points Saturday night at the Joyce ACC.

Women's hoops faces yet another ranked opponent

By JASON KELLY
Sports Writer

Another day, another ranked opponent. The Notre Dame women's basketball team takes their road show to Chicago tonight to face No. 21 DePaul. It is the team's second straight game against Top 25 opponents and their fifth of the season.

Against Penn State, the Irish jumped to a 9-0 lead and showed flashes of brilliance for 23 minutes before bowing to the Nittany Lions.

"In the first half against Penn State, we were gelling as a team and I think we can develop this further," said Bepp Luchini. "If Penn State is No. 5, then we must be ranked.

That's the kind of confidence the team will need to knock off No. 21 DePaul. The Blue Demons will tower over the Irish inside on 6-5 Cathy Pedrizt, 6-4 Kerri Lorezen and 6-3 Cathy Stone roaming the middle. Kristin Knapp, at 6-3 is the only Irish regular who can counter DePaul's size.

"We have to control the boards and hold down their offensive rebounds," Washington explained. "The most important thing is containing their big people."

Equally important is playing with the confidence that helped the Irish score 20 points in the first half.

"We've improved so much since we had those losses at the beginning of the season," Washington commented. "Things are really starting to click for us."

MCGRAW MOVING UP: Irish coach Muffet McGraw is quickly approaching her 200th career win. She currently stands at 197-98 in 10 years as a head coach. At Notre Dame, her record is 109-57. McGraw needs just seven more wins to pass Mary Steenland as Notre Dame's all-time winningest women's basketball coach.

By GEORGE DOHRMANN
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame men's basketball team survived a three-point barrage by Loyola in the second half Saturday night, raising its record above .500 with a 72-63 win.

The Explorers hit 14 of 33 treys, but the Irish countered with a season-high 16 3-pointers of its own, scoring performances of the season, with Monty Williams leading all scorers with 17. Ryan Hoover scored 16, Carl Gozor and Joe Howes each tallying nine, and Billy Tull scoring eight.

"(The balanced scoring) is a good indication that we are getting some distribution," said Notre Dame coach John MacLeod. "We shot better and got better shots."

Both teams found offensive success early, with the lead changing hands throughout the game's first five minutes. But that changed as a three-pointer by Howes with 12:33 started a 12-2 run that handed the Irish a 20-10 lead with just over nine minutes remaining in the half.

But LaSalle began to turn it back up. The Explorers held the Irish to only eight points in the remainder of the half while scoring 16, cutting the Irish lead to 27. McGraw needs just seven more wins to the stretch, LaSalle guard Kareem Townes hit all of his team's 16 points.

The Irish men's basketball team will face the University of Illinois-Chicago in the first half of a doubleheader.