The Observer
Vol. XXV No. 78
The Independent Newspaper Serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary's

Tuesday, January 24, 1989

Brokaw to speak at ND's 148th commencement

By PAUL PEARSON
Associate News Editor

NRC Nightly News anchor Tom Brokaw was the principal speaker and the recipient of an honorary degree at Notre Dame's 148th commencement exercises on May 15.

The Emmy Award winner served as host, anchor and managing editor of "NRC Nightly News with Tom Brokaw." He joined "Brokaw Report," a series of periodic prime time specials examining critical issues.

Given all the events of the past year and the presidential election particularly, the University of Notre Dame's president Father Theodore Hesburgh, S.J., and the election will be held on May 15 and at the University of Virginia-Charlottesville May 22.

Brokaw won the Alfred I. duPont Award for conducting the first exclusive one-on-one interview with Mikhail Gorbatchev. He was the only American news anchor on the scene as Gorbatchev flew to Kabul and the first American news anchor to report on human rights abuses in Tibet, including an interview with Tibet's leader the Dalai Lama.

He has anchored "Nightly News" from locations including Cairo, the Great Wall in China, Samawa in South Africa, the rooftops of Beirut and the streets of Kuwait during the Persian Gulf War.

Brokaw and "Nightly News" received an Emmy for outstanding coverage of the Romanian revolution, and he also won an Emmy for the National Football special "China in Crisis." In 1990 he received the National Headliner Award from the National Conference of Christians and Jews for advancing the understanding of religious freedom. Prior to becoming nightly news anchor, Brokaw was the host of NBC's Today Show. He joined NBC News in 1966, reporting from California and anchor of NBC Nightly News in Los Angeles. Previously, he had been the late evening news anchor on WSB-TV, Atlanta. He began his career in 1962 at KSB in Terre Haute.

NBC News White House correspondent during the Watergate crisis, Brokaw has reported on every presidential election since 1964. In 1976 and 1980 he was a floor reporter for NBC's coverage of the national political conventions. Since 1980 he has been the anchor for all of the network's coverage, from primaries to election nights. He has also twice served as moderator for presidential candidates' debates.

The Webster, S.D., native graduated from the University of South Dakota in 1962. He received an honorary degree in political science in 1990. As a member of the board of trustees of his alma mater, he has received an honorary degree there as well as from Syracuse, Hofstra and the Pennsylvania State University.

Brokaw is also a member of the board of trustees of the Norton Simon Museum; a trustee of Columbia University's Freedom Forum; and a consultant to the Asia Society.

Other recent ND commencement speakers include former Secretary of State Colin Powell and baseball legend Tom Seaver.

Professors: Clinton 'violated the law' by executive order

By SIOBHAN MCCARTHY

The newly inaugurated President Bill Clinton 'blatantly violated the law by issuing an executive order not to enforce the statutory prohibitions on abortion counseling,' said a group of five Law School professors headed by Professor Donald Kniec in a conference yesterday.

With what Kniec described as a "shameful" move, Clinton released an executive order that "will lift the ban on gays," he said. Kniec issued a memorandum to his students that "the mission of Health on the Fri day afternoon of January 22 to disregard a statutory law which forever forbids the offense of gay planning," as stated in Title 42 United States Code Section 300a.

As head of the Office of Legal Counsel, the new administration, Kniec played an instrumental role in drafting the order.

The four other participating professors include Patrice Durand, Edith Murphy, Gerard Bradley and Frank Booker. According to the conference re port, "it is, and has been, the responsibility of the (notional) Houses that the laws autho rized under this legislation be used only to support preventive family planning."

"There is a fundamental difference between the prevention of contraception and the de termination of human fertility. . . . If there is any direct re spect for the constitutional principle that only state planning and abortion, it would be that, this properly operated the law. . . . If Congress wishes to prevent the "incidence of abortion as per Congressional Records."

Kniec made reference to the constitutionality of which Clinton swore to uphold during his inaugural day, "to take care that the laws be faithfully executed." "He clearly has taken an oath to obey the law. He should have been impeached or obeyed it," said Kniec.

Kniec added that he felt that law should not support of theayed of the United States. She is also a science and prenatal care, which does see CLINTON / page 4

SMC election season starts this week

By LAURA FERGUSON

News Writer

This week marks the kickoff of the Saint Mary's College Student Body officers election for the 1989-90 academic year.

Tickets for this year's election will go on sale at the front desk of the Union, and the election will be held on Feb. 1 in the dining hall.

"We aim to begin a comprehensive recycling program, 24 hour access to computer lab laser printers, continued development of Dallmay's new equipment, specifically the Schneiderman, in Angola Athletic Facility, easier CDX system for music, audio producer for president and Saint Mary's," said Wilkinson and O'Donnell.

They also hope to "increase student and alumnae connections with lectures and interviews, and coordinate and enrich equal and women's "W" requirements between departments." "The election season begins," said Peters and Peters stated that they want to "increase the role of student government in the lives of students, increase intelectual and social interaction between professors and students, provide more activities for students of all three schools on Saint Mary's campus through movies and speakers and cultural events.

They also plan to improve "relations with Holy Cross and other Notre Dame linkage programs," hold open forums for students to express their views about events on campus, expand the role of the BigLittle Sister program in the department, increase the activities for the women of Saint Mary's College to explore who they are and what their relation to the world around them."

Brokaw told military chiefs they will lift ban on gays

WASHINGTON (AP) — Over riding their objections, President Clinton told military leaders Monday he will revoke the ban on gays in the military.

The military chiefs said they would respect his authority as commander in chief, a spokesman said.

Clinton and the Joint Chiefs of Staff met for nearly two hours at the White House to discuss his campaign promise to lift the "Don't ask, don't tell" commitment, the president said.

The president plans to take steps within days to end the 50-year-old ban, White House communications chief George Stephanopoulos said.

"It's the president's decision," the spokesman said. There is intense opposition both at the Pentagon and in Congress to lifting the ban.

Stephanopoulos characterized Clinton's meeting with the military chiefs as "cordial, honest and respectful." Asked if there was any talk of Gen. Colin Powell, he said he was chairman of the Joint Chiefs, or any other member resigning over the policy, Stephanopoulos said, "No, none at all." Powell, referring to the Pentagon, refused to comment on the discussions.

"He characterized it as a very productive meeting," exclusive interview with Col. William Smullen said. He was asked if he was pleased with the meeting. Smullen said neither Powell nor the individual service chiefs would comment publicly on the meeting Monday, the White House issued a statement, which he was likely in the next day or two.

Military officials have raised concerns about housing, spousal benefits, discipline and requests for same-sex marriages. They also have warned of the potential of violence against gay members of the military.

Clinton's promise to end the ban has inflamed passions, presenting the new commander in chief with the delicate challenge of carrying out a major foreign pledge while preventing a backlash from Congress and the Pentagon.

Defense Secretary Les Aspin spoke earlier of the potential for the "revolt" in the military and that many of his staff members in Congress are overwhelmingly against lifting the ban.

Bray speaking as the keynote on the White House meeting, Stephanopoulos said that Clinton expressed his commitment to ending discrimination against homosexuals in the military administration, and his desire to maintain morale and cohesion in the military.

"The Joint Chiefs expressed their concerns and difficulties with the president's commitment but also expressed their respect for his decision-making power as commander in chief," Clinton said.

Clinton plans to discuss the issue on Tuesday with leaders of Congress, business and Republicans alike.

Senate Armed Services Committee Chairman Sam Nunn, who favors keeping the ban, promised hearings on the issue in March and said the administration was failing to meet its "obligation" to defend the needs of service men and women.

"I think something is fun dermining the military and the men and women in the military have an issue that is vital to their health and the issue that they never have been heard from," Nunn said.

"I am not sure what is keeping the men and women in the military to do this done with as little disruption as possible," White House press secretary Dee Dee...
The Observer
Thursday, January 26, 1993

INSIDE COLUMN

Bubba boy bringing beyond banal? "The highest art is that which awakens our dormant will-force and serves as to face the trials of life naturally." - Aliamas

Michael Lqbal

There comes a day, when a man stops to hear, the fire of cannons across the ocean, the cries of children all too near, awakened, to the sounds, of the houses of the holy, rooted in mother earth, the ground, "my chocolate cake dreams, my ice cream wishes for power, can not, will not, make no sense with this corn meal and flower," and a man can talk his walk, or walk his talk, but the One with the big stick should be running for president, yeah, carrying a day-glo torch, flying the eternal flame, walking a stick so fine, shining a light that could blind catholics, jews, protestants, muslims, buddhists, skeptics, doctors, teachers & saints, a light so boom-booming, all-knowing, truthful, kind, helping, friendly, glorious concept, was the president number one? That's who, got him some little boy bubba look on his face, reminds a man of the fourth of July, eating hot dogs and greasy hamburgers all day down the ancient sun, in the big field, in the suburbs, until the man in the moon would shine, it's like some crazy, baby second hanging out above mama, papa, and me, while the fireworks went off, the biggest, brightest hour ever seen, cracking red, white & freaking blue, green, purple, orange, like stars in the sky, in the suburbs, sky suburban sky papa, after the last boom, boom, boom, went off, pats me on the head, little league cap and all, and when mama wasn't looking, he gives me a sip of his beer, my papa and me, a papa and his son, sharing a beer upon our own little spot in the big field, which is a shopping mall now, you some guy from California bought the land, and last July, he donated some money to the local homeless shelter, in his sleek, business-type suit, posing in front of a camera, grinning a grin, smiling a smile, giving unto the poor, all this while he owned a shopping mall, where i

Guy Loranger

Asst Viewpoint Editor

FRONT PAGE

WEATHER REPORT

Forecast for noon, Tuesday, January 26

Lines separate high temperature zones for the day.

COLD WARM STATIONARY

GOLD LOW 60 50 40 30 20 10 L H 000 000 000 000 000 000

FRONT:

C.O. C. 40000000000000000000000

GOLD 50 40 30 20 10 0 LOW 60 50 40 30 20 10 H 000 000 000 000 000 000

SUNNY PT. CALM CLOUDY

© 1993 Accu Weather, Inc.

OF INTEREST

SMC Wellness and Health Center is sponsoring a Women's Health Issues program at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Carroll Auditorium, Malden. Both Saint Mary's and Notre Dame students are invited to attend.

Codependents Anonymous (CODA), a 12-step program for men and women interested in recovery from alcoholic and otherwise dysfunctional family backgrounds, is open to all wishing to establish healthy, fulfilling relationships. Meetings are held in Sorin Hall Chapel on Tuesdays at 7:30.

Applications for Spring Break Seminars are being accepted at the Center for Social Concerns. An informational meeting for the Appalachian Seminar will take place tonight from 7:30 - 8 p.m. at the C.S.C.

FRONT PAGE

Temperatures

City  H L

Kirtland 14 32

Akron 56 29

Brockton 78 49

Cairo 31 77

Chicago 57 33

Dayton 69 32

Durham 55 51

Egypt 119 71

Florida 51 41

Los Angeles 65 35

Miami 74 61

Minneapolis 14 17

New York 40 6

Paris 40 35

Philadelphia 41 35

Sacramento 62 47

San Francisco 55 42

Tokyo 45 31

Washington, D.C. 42 35

Today's Staff

Alisa Reale

Sports

Rich Kurz

Katie Murphy

Accent

Laura Sessa

Matt Carbone

Susan Marx

Business

John Corrington

Emily Hage

On the Inside Column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

MARKET UPDATE

YESTERDAY'S TRADING January 25

VOLUME IN SHARES 288,009,900

NYSE INDEX +2.06 to 242.47

S&P COMPOSITE +.39 to 440.01

DOW JONES INDUSTRIALS +22.59 to 3,240.20

UNCHANGED 462

GOLD +18 to $528.80 oz

SILVER -6.06 to $3,692 oz

TODAY AT A GLANCE

Roman amphitheater unearthed

PILGRIM, Egypt — Egyptian archaeologists have unearthed an amphitheater and racetrack of Pelusium, a major Roman seaport and early Christian center in Egypt. They expect the discoveries to make Pelusium, 12 miles east of the Suez Canal, a leading tourist attraction in coming years. Not far from the latest finds, archaeologists are trying to stay ahead of the bulldozers carving out a canal system that will transform thousands of acres of Sinai desert into farmland. The canal project, which follows the path of an ancient route linking Africa and Asia, threatens more than 1,000 majorly sites with obliteration. "I'm not surprised there are such discoveries, because so many important sites lie along the path of this canal," Faiza Hekal, Egyptology professor at American University in Cairo, said of Pelusium. "But it's always very exciting when little pieces of history are found all over.

Clinton to plan first 100 days

WASHINGTON — President Clinton and his Cabinet will hold a retreat at Camp David this weekend to chart plans for the first 100 days of the new administration. A spokesman said Monday: "It's an important opportunity for the president and his Cabinet to get started, find out where they are and to make their plans for the first 100 days," said communications director George Stephanopoulos. He said using the Camp David hideaway, in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains, "allows for more concentrated time.

Abducted baby returned unharmed

L.A. A woman who posed as a maternity room nurse and abducted a 2-day-old baby from her mother's arms was arrested early today. The infant was notified authorities after the woman arrived home with the newborn and said she needed medical treatment for an eye infection. Inquiries revealed the abductor as a heavyset woman in her late 20s, with short black hair, wearing glasses, and dressing in some odd backgrounds. She is a native of Washington, D.C., and her 10-year-old Elizabeth Mounts. "She's nice," added Elizabeth Levy, 11. Both girls, fifth-graders, attended the musical theater class with Chelsea Clinton.

Notre Dame knights receive award

NOTRE DAME, Ind. — Notre Dame Council #1477 of the Knights of Columbus received honors for second place in the Outstanding College Council contest: The award was presented to Grand Knight David Certo and Outside Guard Bill Sieger on behalf of the Council at the College Council Conference in New Haven, CT, October 2-4. The award recognizes outstanding service and membership; the award was presented by the 1991 Fraternal Year President, Notre Dame Council led the state of Indiana in new members , inducting 104 for a net gain of 87. They also led all college councils in membership contributions and charitable contributions, giving over $16,000 in donations raised through snack sandwich sales on campus before home football games.

OF INTEREST

SMC Wellness and Health Center is sponsoring a Women's Health Issues program at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Carroll Auditorium, Malden. Both Saint Mary's and Notre Dame students are invited to attend.

Codependents Anonymous (CODA), a 12-step program for men and women interested in recovery from alcoholic and otherwise dysfunctional family backgrounds, is open to all wishing to establish healthy, fulfilling relationships. Meetings are held in Sorin Hall Chapel on Tuesdays at 7:30.

Applications for Spring Break Seminars are being accepted at the Center for Social Concerns. An informational meeting for the Appalachian Seminar will take place tonight from 7:30 - 8 p.m. at the C.S.C.
ND Security against charging Fernandez

By SARAH DORAN
News Writer

Notre Dame Security will recommend to the prosecutor that charges not be filed against Notre Dame junior Alberto Fernandez, the driver of the car that hit junior Alicia McKearn early Saturday morning on Juniper road, according to Rex Rakow, director of Notre Dame security.

The investigation, which was completed Saturday, determined that Fernandez had tried to stop when he saw McKearn in the road but was unable to because of the extremely icy road conditions, said Rakow.

Rakow said that the car was about 40 feet. McKearn said that she saw the car coming and thought that she had time to make it across the street, but misjudged the length of the road and the distance of the car.

Fernandez said that he did not see McKearn until she was in front of the car and then could not stop because of the ice.

The fibula and tibia of McKearn's right leg were broken in the accident and a rod and pins were inserted in her leg. She will most likely be released from St. Joseph's medical center later today and then should be in the infirmary for about one week, she said. She will also undergo physical therapy for about three months.

Although Fernandez had been drinking that evening, it was determined that alcohol was not a factor in the accident, said Rakow.

ND Security against

The Observer/Andreas Fish

Two killed in a shooting outside CIA headquarters

MCLEAN, Va. (AP) — A young man sprayed rifle fire into cars waiting to turn into Central Intelligence Agency headquarters Monday, killing two CIA employees at point-blank range and wounding three others before fleeing the morning rush-hour scene in his own vehicle.

The gunman, described as a white male in his 20s, remained at large late Monday. Two of the wounded remained in critical condition, the third was released after treatment of a superficial chest wound.

Sen. Bob Smith, a New Hampshire Republican, had just dropped his son off at school and was heading in the same direction as the gunman when he came upon the horror as it played out.

"He looked in my direction, and then he turned and walked away. He coolly, methodically, with no expression, with no words, he simply walked up to the cars and fired shots point-blank at people," Smith said. "It was a pretty horrible sight."

The CIA identified the two dead men as Frank Darlington, 25, and Lansing H. Bennett, 66, both of nearby Reston, Va., and employees of the agency. Two of the wounded are on the CIA staff, and the third is an employee of an agency contractor, CIA Public Information Director Gary E. Foster said.

"CIA employees are shocked and saddened at the senseless attack on our friends and colleagues," Foster said.

Police would not speculate on a motive for the shooting, although they cited a "common sense connection" to the CIA headquarters, a sprawling, wooded complex surrounded by wealthy residential neighborhoods a few miles west of Washington.

Fairfax County Police Chief Michael Young, speaking to reporters at the scene several hours after the shooting, said police were working with several names of possible suspects based on information provided by witnesses and survivors of the attack.

Young said that while the CIA satisfied itself in the investigation, the agency was providing information about current or former agency employees.
Military
continued from page 1

Myers said. Asked if the ban in effect had been lifted, she said, "The office of the military chiefs has not announced his new policy."

She said the chiefs "reflected the need to oversee Clinton's plan of action."

Vice President Al Gore and White House press aide Thomas F. McArty joined Clinton and Aspin in meeting with the chiefs.

"I want their input on how we should do it," Clinton said of the military chiefs. "I feel they're entitled to really be listened to on a lot of the practical work."

Stephanopoulos said, "I think we'll see a lot of that."

"Whenever you try to make progress in civil rights, in every phase of life, it's often opposed at the front," he said. "It's always difficult. I think we're trying to address some special difficulties with the military.

Clinton
continued from page 1

not include giving advocacy and counseling "to end the life of an individual," Kmiec described Clinton's action as "lawless" and "unwise.

"This behavior clearly harms individuals...people who are receiving advocacy to take the lives of unborn children," said Kmiec.

In an official statement, the professors added that they intend to "work with appropriate legal organizations...to hold the military chiefs and the president accountable for these matters addressed in a court of law."

Kmiec noted, "There are no specific names, but did say that he was working with various pro-life supporters on a nationwide scale in this effort.

Kmiec maintained that Clinton's action will be met either by "litigation to challenge this action in the courts" or "remedies within the congress itself."

Clinton's continued from page 1

Court OKs execution despite man's claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court said Monday that Texas may execute a man who claims to have new evidence of innocence, ruling that inmates convicted in state courts almost always are barred from contesting guilt in a federal appeal.

"A claim of actual innocence is not a constitutional claim," Chief Justice William H. Rehnquist said in a 6-3 ruling. "Executive clemency is the "final" safe" method to keep the truly innocent from being put to death, he wrote in upholding a Texas man's murder conviction and death sentence.

In a stinging dissent, Justice Harry A. Blackmun said, "The execution of a person who cannot show that he is innocent comes perilously close to simple murder."

If a defendant's rights depend on a governor's decision on clemency, Blackmun said, "we no longer live under a government of laws."

The ruling confined federal judges' roles in sparing innocent people from death. But left undecided was whether the Constitution allows the execution of someone who can prove actual innocence.

In other action Monday, the court:

> "Nev. 5-4 to uphold another Texas killer's death sentence. The court said Gary Graham cannot challenge a now-dis carded state law that limited a jury's consideration of mitigating evidence.

> Reinstated an Arkansas murderer's death sentence. The 7-2 decision said lower courts wrongly let Bobby Ray Fretwell argue that he was denied adequate legal help at his sentencing trial.

> Ruled unanimously in an Illinois case that criminal co-defendants who point the finger of blame at each other are not necessarily entitled to separate trials.

> Texas defendant Leonel Herrera was sentenced to death for the 1981 killing of Los Fresnos police officer Enrique Carrizales, who had stopped him for speeding. Herrera also pleaded guilty to killing state police officer David Bucker the same night.

State and federal courts upheld Herrera's conviction and sentence in the Carrizales killing. In 1990, Herrera fired a new appeal saying his brother, Raul, who was killed in 1984, actually had shot both officers. Raul Herrera's son, Raul Jr., swore that he saw his father kill the two men. Three other men said Raul Herrera confessed to them.

Texas law requires new evidence to be presented within 30 days of a trial, and state courts refused to hear Herrera's new claim of innocence.

A federal judge granted Herrera a new hearing, but the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals reversed.

The Supreme Court agreed with the appeals court. Rehnquist said federal courts can hear such appeals only if a criminal conviction "offends some principle of justice so rooted in the traditions and conscience of our people as to be ranked as fundamental."

Herrera's case did not reach that standard, Rehnquist said. He said Herrera's week clemency from the governor, and noted that all 36 states with death penalty laws also allow such clemency.
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Clinton put his wife, Hillary Rodham Clinton, in charge of his administration's effort to overhaul America's health care system on Monday, the first time any president has ever assigned his wife to such a major role.

Clinton called his wife, until recently a corporate lawyer, "a first lady of many talents" with a unique gift for cutting through complex issues and forging consensus.

Tackling the troubles in the U.S. health care system — which costs more than any in the world but leaves tens of millions of Americans without health insurance — was one of Clinton's bedrock promises in the 1992 campaign.

The president said he was grateful that Mrs. Clinton would "be sharing some of the heat I expect to generate."

"I want it done — now," he said at the close of an hour-long meeting with Mrs. Clinton, a half-dozen Cabinet secretaries, his OMB director and other senior White House aids on the President's Task Force on National Health Care Reform.

He noted that she chaired an Arkansas Education Standards Committee that had a leading role in pushing through school reforms there a decade ago while he was governor, and also had chaired a state panel on rural health problems. The White House also distributed decade-old press clips on her work.

Clinton said the task force would work from a "war room" in the Old Executive Office Building in a crash effort to meet his goal of sending his health reform legislation to Capitol Hill in his first 100 days. Although May 1 is day 100, the White House said the task force was expected to finish its work by the end of May.

"We are going to work constantly day and night until we have a health care plan ready."

Hillary in charge of health-care

MEDFORD, Ore. (AP) — Sen. Bob Packwood said Monday it would be up to the Senate, not his Oregon constituents, to decide whether he should remain in office despite allegations of sexual misconduct.

The Republican senator said he wouldn't resign even if an overwhelming majority of Oregonians wanted him to.

"What's right or not you are effective in the Senate pretty much depends on how you make the arguments. That's the ultimate body that will decide whether I am effective," Packwood said as a news conference.

He pointed out that Oregon's other senator, Republican Mark Hatfield, was reprimanded by the Senate Ethics Committee for failing to disclose $42,000 in gifts.

"Has that lessened his ability to perform for Oregon? I don't think so," Packwood said. A group of opponents, Oregonians for Ethical Representation, has demanded that Packwood resign.

Packwood, who was elected to a fifth six-year term in November, returned to Oregon to Sunday for the first time since he was publicly accused of making unwanted sexual advances toward female staffers and other women. The Washington Post published allegations from 10 women Nov. 22.

Packwood apologized at a news conference the following month and stayed briefly at an alcoholism treatment center. He began his week-long trip to timber country in southern Oregon, where he won wide support, beating Democrat Les AuCoin by 6 percentage points in the Nov. 3 election.

Packwood was confronted by small groups of protesters at each stop.

"He's not really coming home here or doing anything about his problem," said Lou Norton, a member of the National Organization for Women who protested in Medford.

He met with a group of supporters, the Southern Oregon Timber Industries Association, advising them to compromise with environmentalists over the northern spotted owl so they could charge a federal proposal to the Clinton administration for the promised timber summit.

He also visited with timber and agriculture industry representatives at the Columbia Fish-office in Klamath Falls.

Packwood: Senate, not voters, to decide

Bob Packwood

The Observer is now accepting applications for the following position:

Assistant Accent Editor

Please submit a one-page personal statement to Jahnelle Harrigan by 5 p.m. Thursday, January 28. Contact Jahnelle at 631-4540 for more information.

A MURDER has been COMMITTED By an unknown individual...

Student Activities needs volunteers to act in the Mystery January 27, beginning at 6:00pm.

Two students will be drawn at random. Sign up at the Student Activities Office by 5:00pm.

Mystery January 27, beginning at 6:00pm.

Why Over 50% of This Year’s Entering Med School Class Came to KAPLAN.

McA

KAPLAN

Late Registration
Jan. 13 - Feb. 4
Phone: 272-4135

No one prepares you for the MCAT better than Kaplan. Our MCAT prep courses teach you exactly what the test covers and the best techniques to use. In fact, you'll score 10 points higher. We offer four MCAT home study notes, and audio review. Plus, no one else has a more extensive MCAT resource library than Kaplan.

KAPLAN

The answer to the test question.
IRAQ SEEK LIST ON FOREIGN NUCLEAR SUPPLIERS

Baghdad, Iraq (AP) — A U.N. nuclear monitor pressed Monday for a list of foreign suppliers for Iraq's nuclear weapons program and declared experts are studying an 80-name list compiled earlier by inspectors.

Iraqi officials say they have divulged 90 percent of the companies, but gave no indication when the other names will be given.

Deputy Prime Minister Tariq Aziz, meanwhile, called for better relations with Washington and denied his country had targeted allied warplanes. Aziz also blasted as "arrogant and belligerent" a statement by Defense Secretary Les Aspin, who said Sunday he believed Iraq would not comply with U.N. resolutions until Saddam Hussein was ousted.

No clashes were reported Monday, but a flurry of statements and diplomatic activity reflected continuing high tension in the region.

The U.N. Security Council decided later Monday to maintain trade and travel sanctions imposed on Iraq after its August 1990 invasion of Kuwait.

Maurizio Zifferero, deputy chief of the International Atomic Energy Agency, said inspectors are asked to compile a list of companies that apparently supplied material to Iraq's nuclear weapons program. Forty of the names were given by Iraq and the other half were identified during weapons inspections.

In December, Iraq said the 80 names represent about 90 percent of the foreign suppliers.

"As usual, we will press them for more information," Zifferero said.

Iraq has claimed previously that turning over full lists of suppliers would violate its sovereignty over trading relationships, however, the United Nations has substantial intelligence on companies the Iraqis have dealt with, and if Iraq is unwilling to answer questions on them a more or less complete list could be constructed.

Zifferero says there might be 10 to 15 more companies, according to the Iraqis.
The Supreme Court today made it harder to prove monopoly cases, but the court, ruling unanimously in a California case, set aside a $6.2 million damage award to a company that said it was victimized by an oil company that monopolized sales of a shock-absorbing insole for athletic shoes. Businesses may not be held liable for attempting to monopolize a market in a “dangerous probability” that they will succeed, Justice Byron White wrote for the court. "Proof of unfair or predatory conduct alone—more than proof that businesses have tried to monopolize a market, White said.

Russian flag to grace new CIS ruble

— MOSCOW — The increasingly worthless ruble soon will lose something that may have even less value these days: a picture of Vladimir Lenin. A new banknote will be issued without the once-ubiquitous face of the Soviet founder. The change is part of a plan to boost the currency's value and fight counterfeiting. Russian legislative officials approved on Monday a new set of banknotes in denominations of 100, 200, 500, 1,000 and 5,000 rubles. The new design will include the white, blue and red Russian flag. The new banknotes also will be smaller, said Alexander Pochinok, chief of the legislative commission on budget, taxes and prices.

Supreme Court rules in favor of IRS

— WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court today struck down a controversial IRS rule that would have required businesses to keep in oil and gas exploration, a ruling expected to help government revenues by at least $1 billion a year. The justices unanimously ruled Monday that the current $49 parishioners pay to have their car fuel developed to boost the government’s efforts to develop new energies. The owner of oil and gas deposits is entitled to deduct both a reasonable allowance to cover the depletion of the mineral deposit and "increases in the value of improvements" such as machinery, pipes and other equipment.

Screw plant to hire 150 in Frankfort

— FRANKFORT — Tri-Max Fasteners Inc. announced plans Monday to construct a new plant that will employ more than 150 workers within five years. Tri-Max, a subsidiary of Masco, makes industrial fasteners, including the Lake Erie Screw. Ground will be broken in April on 44 acres of farm land. Construction is scheduled to be completed by October on a 40,000-square-foot building. The company plans to hire 23 jobs by the end of 1998 and expand the workforce to more than 150 by the end of 1998, more than $32 million will be invested in the facility, officials predicted.

New energy tax proposal may be coming

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Clinton administration gave federal officials a hint Monday that it may propose tax increases that would hit energy - intensive businesses in a way of fighting the federal deficit. A broad-based tax on energy production was described as "a lot of options," President Clinton said. A day after Treasury Secretary Lloyd Bentsen floated the prospect of such a tax, Clinton and White House officials did their best to keep it aloft — even as they asserted there had been no final decisions.

"Absolutely, yes," responded White House communications director DeeDee Myers when asked specifically whether a consumption tax on energy was on the table as a way for Clinton to put together his economic team.

Stephanopoulos also stressed that cuts in entitlement spending — the mandated benefits of social security and Medicare — are also on the table as the plan takes shape.

Clinton took a step further Tuesday with a plan that outlined in his maiden State of the Union Message. He was joined in signing an executive order creating a Cabinet-level National Energy Policy. The council, headed by former Sen. James Inhofe and Treasury Secretary Robert Rubin, will coordinate economic policy in much the same way that the older National Security Council oversees foreign and defense policies.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress' top budget analyst says federal deficits will more than double in a decade unless the public accepts higher taxes and trims federal programs. Unchecked, the shortfall will rise to $1.7 trillion by fiscal year 2003 — compared to last year's record $290 billion, according to a report released Tuesday by Robert Reischauer, director of the nonpartisan Congressional Budget Office.

In his prepared remarks, for delivery to the Senate Budget Committee, Reischauer projected deficits for the next few years that are roughly similar to the gloomy estimates that have been mentioned include a proposal for the demise of the 97-year-old National Security banker Robert Rubin, will coordinate economic policy in much the same way that the older National Security Council oversees foreign and defense policies.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president's anti-trust industry told Congress on Monday that some companies may back away from federal programs to develop new medicines if the government should become The energy tax would be used to help shoulder the brunt of increase in the price of jet fuel, hitting hard middle-income Americans. The energy tax would be "very good," a panel member said. But after dipping to $291 billion in fiscal 1993, the deficit rose steadily afterward, hitting $310 billion in fiscal 1997, more than $29 billion above projected levels. The fiscal 1999 budget plan will be prepared during his 1996 re-election campaign.

Drug firms might cut research

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pharmaceutical Research Industry told Congress on Monday to its first since 1933. The American Petroleum Institute has also opposed the energy-tax concept.

Bentsen's comments on energy tax" — and the fact that the White House did nothing to undermine them — mark the latest in a series of steps that Clinton and his aides have taken in backing away from his campaign proposal for a tax cut for middle-income families.

During the campaign, Clinton maintained that the deficit could be lowered by raising taxes on the wealthiest Americans and by promoting economic growth, and by better management of government programs.

But Clinton's plan, as indicated in mid-December, after new government data on a worsening deficit picture, that his priorities might have shifted. And before taking office, Clinton told a news conference that, for the "right" reasons, he decided to go with a tax cut. After taking office, however, Clinton called a news conference that, for the "right" reasons, he decided to go with a tax cut. After taking office, however, Clinton decided to go with a tax cut to stimulate the economy. He then said that it was not one of the "big things we were running on."
could not fire tenured Jesuits, Jesus, and in due course for Jesuit priests: the University of tenure, he was terminated. In a separate form of tenure, he was provisioned as a faculty member. The University would readily trade well-endowed new college properties and start an extremely enterprising venture of unprincipled power. Perhaps, as an hypothetical example, such questions would be raised if Chaired Professors of Law at a Catholic University published gratuitously inflammatory homophobic opinion based on cursory, incomplete and inaccurate acquaintance with the functional architecture of human genitalia and digestive tract, and on views of the special creation of the human body long since discarded by papal authority. Academic freedom principles in the expression of sexist, racist, or homophobic opinion, whether or not that opinion has been subjected to standard processes of peer review, just in case it can be found that the expression of such opinion does not raise questions concerning a faculty member's scholarly competence or acceptance by the scholarly societies protected by the principles of academic freedom. Perhaps, as an hypothetical example, such questions would be raised if Chaired Professors of Law at a Catholic University published gratuitously inflammatory homophobic opinion based on cursory, incomplete and inaccurate acquaintance with the functional architecture of human genitalia and digestive tract, and on views of the special creation of the human body long since discarded by papal authority. Academic freedom principles in the expression of sexist, racist, or homophobic opinion, whether or not that opinion has been subjected to standard processes of peer review, just in case it can be found that the expression of such opinion does not raise questions concerning a faculty member's scholarly competence or acceptance by the scholarly societies protected by the principles of academic freedom. Perhaps, as an hypothetical example, such questions would be raised if Chaired Professors of Law at a Catholic University published gratuitously inflammatory homophobic opinion based on cursory, incomplete and inaccurate acquaintance with the functional architecture of human genitalia and digestive tract, and on views of the special creation of the human body long since discarded by papal authority. Academic freedom principles in the expression of sexist, racist, or homophobic opinion, whether or not that opinion has been subjected to standard processes of peer review, just in case it can be found that the expression of such opinion does not raise questions concerning a faculty member's scholarly competence or acceptance by the scholarly societies protected by the principles of academic freedom.

Responsible dialogue builds on tradition

It is time to celebrate the silver anniversary of the first conference on academic freedom and the Catholic University to be held at Notre Dame and the Marquette University. The conference is the time for the Notre Dame Law School to think of convening the second.

Relatively few scholars at this University would readily trade places with their counterparts at Bob Jones University, or join Pat Robertson’s television channel. Perhaps Buchanan if those worthy were to cease their efforts and start an extremely well-endowed new college whose charter thumbed its nose at the American Association of University Professors (AAUP), indicating their corporate purpose to preserve an authoritarian line of traditionalism, including all individuals skeptical of that authority.

In 1974, I chaired an ad hoc investigating committee of the AAUP whose charge was to examine the evidence in the termination of the academic contract of a tenured professor and former chair of a Department of Theology.

Quentin Quinn had, while on extended leave from Marquette University, followed all required procedures for orderly departure from the Society of Jesus, and in due course married.

When Quinn indicated his desire to resume the privileges of tenure, he was terminated (fired, not executed) under the provisions of a “Marquette Plan,” still in place, which defined a separate form of tenure for Jesuit priests the University could not fire tenured Jesuits.

Maris’ splendid record. It means the starred institutions are willing to chill inquiry by use of unprincipled power. In every area of scholarly inquiry, presumably including tort reform, power may be invoked to block the teaching or publication of results, ardently achieved by faculty satisfying all requirements for academic appointment at their rank, including those for tenure.

Such institutions claim the right of censorship of teaching and publication and the right to terminate or refuse to renew the contracts of offending faculty. Tenured, even a chaired, professor of law, could be fired by such an institution for teaching or publication of scholarship, no matter how vigorously tested by peer review, found by religious authority, no matter how lacking in scholarly qualification, to violate traditional teaching.

Romp collections of academic skinheads are, of course, protected by the AAUP’s academic freedom principles in the expression of sexist, racist, or homophobic opinion, whether or not that opinion has been subjected to standard processes of peer review, just in case it can be found that the expression of such opinion does not raise questions concerning a faculty member’s scholarly competence or acceptance by the scholarly societies protected by the principles of academic freedom.

Perhaps, as an hypothetical example, such questions would be raised if Chaired Professors of Law at a Catholic University published gratuitously inflammatory homophobic opinion based on cursory, incomplete and inaccurate acquaintance with the functional architecture of human genitalia and digestive tract, and on views of the special creation of the human body long since discarded by papal authority. Academic freedom does not protect incompetent scholarship.

Nor can religious authority be invoked as the final arbiter of the truth of teaching and research in any institution of higher learning that purports critical inquiry and vigorous dialogue among opposed camps respectful of the institution’s stature and, clearly relevant and unequivocally promulgated, its religious tradition. Traditions are strengthened, not weakened, by responsible dialogue.

It is close to an iron law of modernity that traditions which seek to preserve the past by nothing but the naked invocation of traditional authority are doomed to smother when all their adherents have buried their heads in the sand. Ed Manier is a professor in Notre Dame’s philosophy department.

Misinformation misleads readers

Dear Editor:

We would like to address one specific comment from the Jan. 13 letter concerning the "Declaration... to further equality." While we agree with many of the ideas presented in that Declaration, we find one statement to be misleading. That one statement suggested that Notre Dame "will ask a pregnant student to leave because the pregnancy itself is a violation of Fa la." We agree that some of the policies in place and the manner in which the University handles many situations are inappropriate. However, to state that Notre Dame will ask a pregnant student to leave is false. We were not asked to leave, but instead, the University offered us assistance that enabled us to continue our education here and to graduate in the spring.

The purpose of this letter was to criticize but to point out an unsound piece of information. We encourage anyone who may have questions to approach the University rather than jump to unnecessary conclusions.

Kathleen Y. Mackie
Alhaya County
Jan. 21, 1993

DOONESBURY

GARRY TRUDEAU

QUOTE OF THE DAY

"Ability may get you to the top, but it takes character to keep you there."

John Wooden

QUOTES, P.O. Box Q, N.D., 46356
Pro-human: it might sound corny, but it’s true.

Dear Editor:

Two assumptions were made of me in my recent letter concerning racism (The Observer, Jan. 14). First, some reader concerning racism (The Observer, Jan. 22) gave a great gift, but one from the ‘God of Love’ not political pragmatism but political ideology. If I were to challenge the labels of being pro-black, I would be doing so with massive force. The moment I respond with massive force, my political ideology becomes a death knell for the innocent were dying in the warheads in West Germany. I knew what racism was and that I was asked by Spike Lee’s film “Do the Right Thing” (yes, even black people) except for my idea of a movie. Black is better, not political pragmatism but political ideology. I realized that life in order to educate those of you who feel you were being punched by a white guy.

What could I possibly have to say to women who may choose to have an abortion? I respond to those who are living the popular position that the life issue is not as clear cut as the death issue, not a political one, not a choice of individual people, not a choice of individual groups, but a matter of public policy. Groups that attempt to win a political debate have, I believe, somehow shifted focus from the life issue. The lack of respect and an understanding of the sanctity of human life is evident not only in the abortion counseling, but in the issues of drugs, violence, and abortion counseling. But mostly, to the God who is the Life or death issue. Is it a matter of definition? Is it a matter of choice?

Can we not all be so affected by our society that we can feel that we can recon­ cile issues of individual political ideology with our political ideology? Do the Right Thing” (yes, even white people too) except for my idea of a movie. Black is better, not political pragmatism but political ideology. I realized that life in order to educate those of you who feel you were being punched by a white guy.

What could I possibly have to say to women who may choose to have an abortion? I respond to those who are living the popular position that the life issue is not as clear cut as the death issue, not a political one, not a choice of individual people, not a choice of individual groups, but a matter of public policy. Groups that attempt to win a political debate have, I believe, somehow shifted focus from the life issue. The lack of respect and an understanding of the sanctity of human life is evident not only in the abortion counseling, but in the issues of drugs, violence, and abortion counseling. But mostly, to the God who is the Life or death issue. Is it a matter of definition? Is it a matter of choice?

Can we not all be so affected by our society that we can feel that we can recon­ cile issues of individual political ideology with our political ideology? Do the Right Thing” (yes, even white people too) except for my idea of a movie. Black is better, not political pragmatism but political ideology. I realized that life in order to educate those of you who feel you were being punched by a white guy.

What could I possibly have to say to women who may choose to have an abortion? I respond to those who are living the popular position that the life issue is not as clear cut as the death issue, not a political one, not a choice of individual people, not a choice of individual groups, but a matter of public policy. Groups that attempt to win a political debate have, I believe, somehow shifted focus from the life issue. The lack of respect and an understanding of the sanctity of human life is evident not only in the abortion counseling, but in the issues of drugs, violence, and abortion counseling. But mostly, to the God who is the Life or death issue. Is it a matter of definition? Is it a matter of choice?

Can we not all be so affected by our society that we can feel that we can recon­ cile issues of individual political ideology with our political ideology? Do the Right Thing” (yes, even white people too) except for my idea of a movie. Black is better, not political pragmatism but political ideology. I realized that life in order to educate those of you who feel you were being punched by a white guy.

What could I possibly have to say to women who may choose to have an abortion? I respond to those who are living the popular position that the life issue is not as clear cut as the death issue, not a political one, not a choice of individual people, not a choice of individual groups, but a matter of public policy. Groups that attempt to win a political debate have, I believe, somehow shifted focus from the life issue. The lack of respect and an understanding of the sanctity of human life is evident not only in the abortion counseling, but in the issues of drugs, violence, and abortion counseling. But mostly, to the God who is the Life or death issue. Is it a matter of definition? Is it a matter of choice?

Can we not all be so affected by our society that we can feel that we can recon­ cile issues of individual political ideology with our political ideology? Do the Right Thing” (yes, even white people too) except for my idea of a movie. Black is better, not political pragmatism but political ideology. I realized that life in order to educate those of you who feel you were being punched by a white guy.

What could I possibly have to say to women who may choose to have an abortion? I respond to those who are living the popular position that the life issue is not as clear cut as the death issue, not a political one, not a choice of individual people, not a choice of individual groups, but a matter of public policy. Groups that attempt to win a political debate have, I believe, somehow shifted focus from the life issue. The lack of respect and an understanding of the sanctity of human life is evident not only in the abortion counseling, but in the issues of drugs, violence, and abortion counseling. But mostly, to the God who is the Life or death issue. Is it a matter of definition? Is it a matter of choice?

Can we not all be so affected by our society that we can feel that we can recon­ cile issues of individual political ideology with our political ideology? Do the Right Thing” (yes, even white people too) except for my idea of a movie. Black is better, not political pragmatism but political ideology. I realized that life in order to educate those of you who feel you were being punched by a white guy.

What could I possibly have to say to women who may choose to have an abortion? I respond to those who are living the popular position that the life issue is not as clear cut as the death issue, not a political one, not a choice of individual people, not a choice of individual groups, but a matter of public policy. Groups that attempt to win a political debate have, I believe, somehow shifted focus from the life issue. The lack of respect and an understanding of the sanctity of human life is evident not only in the abortion counseling, but in the issues of drugs, violence, and abortion counseling. But mostly, to the God who is the Life or death issue. Is it a matter of definition? Is it a matter of choice?

Can we not all be so affected by our society that we can feel that we can recon­ cile issues of individual political ideology with our political ideology? Do the Right Thing” (yes, even white people too) except for my idea of a movie. Black is better, not political pragmatism but political ideology. I realized that life in order to educate those of you who feel you were being punched by a white guy.

What could I possibly have to say to women who may choose to have an abortion? I respond to those who are living the popular position that the life issue is not as clear cut as the death issue, not a political one, not a choice of individual people, not a choice of individual groups, but a matter of public policy. Groups that attempt to win a political debate have, I believe, somehow shifted focus from the life issue. The lack of respect and an understanding of the sanctity of human life is evident not only in the abortion counseling, but in the issues of drugs, violence, and abortion counseling. But mostly, to the God who is the Life or death issue. Is it a matter of definition? Is it a matter of choice?
Tastes great, less filling

Mishawaka Brewing Company offers a refreshing and unique alternative for Michiana beer drinkers

By MARY SCHULZTE
Accent Copy Editor

Are you tired of cramming yourself into a room filled with sweaty bodies drinking cans of Bud Light that were once a garage can? Or do you attend weekends at the Lincoln Inn and wonder why you risk becoming claustrophobic just for a plastic cup of beer? The Mishawaka Brewing Company, a combination brew/pubrestaurant which opened last October, provides refreshing alternative to the usual overcrowded student hangouts.

The Mishawaka Brewing Company began as an idea of its co-owners, Tom Schmidt and Fess Parker. As a marketing executive, Schmidt would often travel; on one trip to Portland, OR, he attended a Microbreweries meeting. "The people at the meeting were so excited about microbreweries ever since I wanted to leave the corporate world. I thought opening the first microbrewery in Northern Indiana would be fun," said Schmidt.

The brew/pub functions as both a restaurant and a brewery. Open seven days a week for lunch and dinner, the Mishawaka Brewing Company attempts to offer the atmosphere of an English pub.

Aside from the standard offerings of hamburgers and chicken sandwiches, the brew/pub serves traditional Irish favorites such as fish and chips, shepherd's pie, and Lancashire hot pot. Another appetizer on the menu is Scotch eggs, a deep-fried mixture of hard-boiled eggs topped with sausage. This is not recommended for anyone concerned with their cholesterol level.

The highlight of the menu offerings is, without a doubt, the beer. Free brews cater to the preferences of the discriminating beer drinker. The Founder's IPA and the DryScotch Ale resemble Guinness with its dark color, high alcohol content, and coffee-like flavor. The South Shore Amber Ale is a slightly darker beer but with a sweeter taste.

And for those who refuse to venture away from beers tasting like Budweiser or Miller, there is Mishawaka Gold Lager and Lake Effect Pale. And the specialty beer at this time is Resolution Ale, a dark ale enjoyed by those who prefer bitter beer.

While the food is generally decent and the portions generous (especially the shepherd's pie), service can be slow and at times the food is inconsistent. For instance, the fried items such as fish and onion rings appear to have too much batter. Despite the long waits and culinary inconsistencies, the homemade brews and specialty drinks make the Mishawaka Brewing Company a unique dining experience.

Andrea Auger, Beth Kessler, Dary Mehlhon, Anne Peterson, and Monica Yant contributed to this review.

King Missile amuses; MTV's Denis Leary annoys audiences

By ROLANDO DE AGUIAR
Music Critic

It all started with nursery rhymes.

And ever since Dr. Demento and Moon Unit Zappa showed you that pop music could be goofy and fun while still logically relevant, you have been searching for the ultimate novelty record experience.

The Violent Femmes cut it for a while, but they soon became victims of the corporate monstrosity that is the Dead Milkmen. Even They Might Be Giants, the goofiest and wittiest of popular late '80s pun-punsters, have succumbed to their own success and have decided to be taken seriously.

As They Might Be Giants began to fade—Apollo 18 may have been the turning point—another, similarly hilarious outfit rose into the air. Led by the inimitable John S. Hall, King Missile exploded as a novelty-radio force with its third album, Mystical Shit. Indicated by the inimitable " jaar Cool," Hall's touching confession of his personal relationship with Notre Dame's favorite savior, the album opened everyone's eyes to Hall's bizarre insight, and earned King Missile a major label contract.

Happy Hour, the second effort from that contract, lets everyone know that King Miss­ ile's isn't ready to take them­ selves seriously—yet. Listening to Hall speak the album's first single, "Detachable Penis," is like wearing Blu-Blockers for the first time. You see things like you've never seen them before.

Hall's needlessly detailed account of a daylong search for his unusual penis begins with a description of the advantages offered by a detachable penis, and ends with the resurrection of his member, for only 17 dollars. It's earnest, irreverent and hilariously—something that made Moo Unit so lovable.

"Ed," a composition which reminds us that things aren't always as bad for as absurd as they seem. There's someone out there who is worse off than we are, and his name is Ed.

"Ed was at the end of his rope, an expression he tested." Hall tells us, his voice submerged beneath some swirling guitars. Indeed, on most songs, the instruments which back Hall's musings complement the material. They start to take themselves seriously, though they tend to fall into typical college-rock mode on about every other song.

But even songs like "Anywhere," which sounds something off of the next Toad the Wet Sprocket album, is godlessly due to Hall's insight. However, these tracks are a sort of pop masterpiece—will King Missile become the next Cam­ per Van Beethoven? Will they start to take themselves seri­ ously? Probably. But not yet.

And while King Missile may be starting to fade, another boner has released his debut album. Denis Leary, whose passions include raving, rav­ ing, smoking and Cindy Craw­ ford, tells us everything on No Cure For Cancer. He kicks the album off by telling us a little something about himself.

"I'm an Asshole" sums it up pretty well. But in case we're not convinced, Leary offers another thirty minutes of trash-talking about drugs, smoking and disease.

While Leary, one of MTV's five most annoying personality (count Mike Rachman, Dave Kendall and Kennedy in as well), is usually full of little more than smoke and hot air, he occasionally gives us something to laugh about.

And while his leather-and­cigarettes image wears thin, as does his recorded screaming, he tells us a lot about how ridiculous non-smoking areas must be to the smokers of the world. Of course, Leary insists on telling us about ten times.

And by the time Leary gets to some serious ethnic humor ("Traditional Irish Folk Song"), and sings for the first time since the first track on No Cure For Cancer, we're sick of his act.

The Observer / Sean Ferran

Denis Leary, the chain-smoking star of MTV and commercials, has recently recorded a comedy album entitled, No Cure For Cancer.

[Three sentences discussing the album and its cover art.]

Indeed, "I'm an Asshole" sums it up pretty well. But in case we're not convinced, Leary offers another thirty minutes of trash-talking about drugs, smoking and disease.

While Leary, one of MTV's five most annoying personalities (count Mike Rachman, Dave Kendall and Kennedy in as well), is usually full of little more than smoke and hot air, he occasionally gives us something to laugh about.

And while his leather-and-cigarettes image wears thin, as does his recorded screaming, he tells us a lot about how ridiculous non-smoking areas must be to the smokers of the world. Of course, Leary insists on telling us about ten times.

And by the time Leary gets to some serious ethnic humor ("Traditional Irish Folk Song"), and sings for the first time since the first track on No Cure For Cancer, we're sick of his act.
Campus singing groups band together to record a CD to benefit the homeless

By MATT CARBONE
Accent Copy Editor

Notre Dame has always taken pride in the way its students use their talents for the benefit of others. "One Voice" is the latest chapter in the long history of ND community service.

"One Voice" is the title of a compact disc of songs recorded by various choirs and performing groups from ND and Saint Mary's. Proceeds from the sale of this album will be given to the South Bend Center for the Homeless.

This past Saturday, six different groups performed in and out of the band building to record songs for the CD: the ND Women's Choir, Liturgical Choir, Voices of Faith Choir, Glee Club, Folk Choir, and Shenanigans. (The SMC Women's Choir and the Collegiate Choir will record their songs later this week.)

The CD will include two songs performed by each group, along with the Notre Dame Alma Mater and Fight Song, which were sung by one large group.

"Something like this hasn't been done before—that's why we're excited."

—Chinetta Hart, president of the Voices of Faith Choir, Glee Club, and the ND Women's Choir.

"One Voice" is the baby of Dean Sipe, the president of Shenanigans. Sipe got the idea after a conversation with an alumnus of Shenanigans who graduated from ND in 1991. From there, Sipe did much planning, contacting the various other campus singing groups and holding meetings since the middle of last semester.

The recording on Saturday was the culmination of many hours of hard work by Sipe and many others. With over 400 different singers in all of the groups combined, "it has been really hard to coordinate," said Sipe. Still, Sipe feels that the efforts of everyone involved have created something special. "I think it's going to be a really fun tape to listen to."

Chinetta Hart, president of the Voices of Faith gospel choir, shares Sipe's enthusiasm. "Something like this hasn't been done before—that's why we're excited."

The leaders of each singing group tried to capture this excitement on the CD through the songs they chose to perform. For the past several months, each group's leaders discussed within their group which songs to sing on "One Voice."

Denise Paulin, the pianist for Shenanigans, said that her group chose songs "that we thought were representative of the group; songs that we like; and songs that we thought people would like to hear."

Paulin said that the overall goal of the CD was "to get something representative of each group from ND and Saint Mary's, while simultaneously raising money for the homeless shelter."

Laureen Stewart, director of the Voices of Faith Choir, explained why her group chose the contemporary gospel song, "Jesus is the Light." "We're lifting up the name of Jesus—that's our purpose. Jesus is the light in all of us, which is what we try to portray."

After the songs were chosen and rehearsed, it was time to record them. This is an exact process requiring much patience and time. On average, it took about one half hour to properly practice and record a song; the Alma Mater and Fight Song, sung by three groups and needing the most coordination, took an hour.

"If anyone takes too deep a breath, or if an airplane passes over, the song must be rerecorded," said Paulin. "The Liturgical Choir had to do something over because they pronounced the wrong Latin vowel sound."

Paulin said that the groups took the title "One Voice" from one of the songs recorded by Shenanigans, and because it is "most representative of what we're doing. The nine choirs are offering their music up as one voice" to benefit the homeless shelter.

In order for this project to come to fruition, much help and generosity was needed, for which Sipe is very grateful. The University is letting the groups use the band building for free, and "has been very accommodating," said Sipe. "Dr. Snavely [director of the ND band] has been very helpful — scheduling for the band building is tight. Also, Campus Ministry and the Alumni Association have been the primary sponsors, and extremely helpful. Please give them some credit," said Sipe.

The result of this patience, coordination and generosity will be a diverse CD featuring the talents of the ND/SMC campus singing community. From the Liturgical Choir's "Ave Maria" to the Voices of Faith Choir's contemporary gospel song, "Jesus is the Light," one thing is certain: this CD is definitely lifting up the name of Jesus. The result is definitely something on this album that pleases everyone. "One Voice" will be completed by late April, and will be available in the Bookstore and through local alumni clubs.

Members of the Voices of Faith Choir record the contemporary gospel song, "Jesus is the Light" for the CD that will benefit the South Bend Center for the Homeless.

By SARAH DORAN
Assistant Accent Editor

Someone drugged the punch. 14 are dead. It is up to you to solve the murders using only the clues provided.

So begins a campus-wide version of the murder mystery game Clue, which is coming to Notre Dame on Wednesday, January 27. The travelling murder mystery troupe "Mysteries On Campus" will conduct the game in the ballroom of LaFortune and everyone in the room will be involved in solving the crimes—determining the motive and murder weapon, and unfolding the mystery.

"Mysteries on Campus" is comprised of two comedians, a man and woman, who will stage the murder with the help of two ND students. A first place prize of $100 will be awarded to the "Master Sleuth," while other participants will receive T-shirts and other novelty prizes, according to Lynn Ramsay, the Student Activities staff programmer who is coordinating the event.

"The mystery is set up as encouraging participant interaction through the use of the presentation of clues."

—Lynn Ramsay

The mystery is set up as encouraging participant interaction through the use of the presented clues.

"Mysteries On Campus" has been very popular at other schools. This will be the first time that the game has been presented at Notre Dame. Ramsay was encouraged by the amount of student interest in the game. Promotions for the game in the form of flyers and teasers have been posted around campus and the response seems to warrant that the turnout will be good, said Ramsay.

"If an airplane passes over, the song must be rerecorded, said Paulin. "The Liturgical Choir had to do something over because they pronounced the wrong Latin vowel sound."
Greg Guy of UT Pan Am leads the NCAA in scoring

EDINBURG, Texas (AP) — A basketball court becomes a practice gym for those who someone like Greg Guy is on it.

At 6-foot-1, the University of Texas-Pan American senior is leading the nation in scoring — hardly a towering presence. But put a ball in his hand and he shrinks the court, scoring from anywhere, be it free-throw line, wing, face-up or down low, and doing it often.

“Whenever shot I shoot, I think I can,” said Guy.

He’s been proving that since he showed up everywhere the court was for Pan Am’s Brazilians last month and scored 35 points. Since then he’s averaged 34 points a game, enough to give him a commanding lead among the NCAA’s Division I scoring leaders.

The closest anyone’s come to Guy is Georgia Tech’s John Best, whose 28.3 points per game still leaves him trailing.

At this point, the title is Guy’s to lose, said Broncos coach Mark Adams, who doesn’t believe that will happen.

“He’s not just a shooter, he’s a great scorer,” said Adams. “I don’t think I ever had someone who can score the way he can.”

As coach Tim Floyd of the University of New Orleans put it, “(Guy’s) range is not the 3-point line.

“The 3-point line is like a layup to him,” Floyd said the Times-Picayune before his face the Broncos. “He can score in so many different ways.”

So it is. Guy leads the Sun Belt Conference in 3-pointers per game (3.4), free-throw percentage (91.9 percent) and is shooting 46 percent from the field.

Adams readily acknowledges Guy’s talent, but also admits the Broncos play a weak schedule.

Without a doubt, the biggest challenge for Tulsa State, wasn’t eligible to play yet. But Adams said, “He’s been challenged and he has responded.”

And so have the Broncos.

A team rebuilding after having been hit with stiff penalties for various NCAA infractions, the Broncos have posted a 2-8 record.

What’s your basketball coach? Who’s your basketball hero? Skip West, a transfer from the Kentuckiana Gymnastics Association due to take place in the month of Feb. To put it mildly, the Broncos are in a bad place.

Adams said the situation hasn’t caused any problems but that Guy’s team needs to become bigger fans.

For Guy, however, the situation has been a troubling one, mixing delight with disappointments.

The personal success "is kind of exciting," Guy said. “But my team, we are playing a lot. … It’s been really hard on me."

Still, he wants to stick with the small South Texas school of about 30,000 students.

“What would transferring do?” he said. “I’m making a name for myself here.

True enough. In addition to increasing press coverage, Guy has drawn the attention of at least one major college program, Tennessee.

"I thought he was going to go to Tennessee," said Baxley.

Guy said that while he’d like to professionally, he’s not putting much pressure on that count on a career that may not happen. A self-described "me-first" type, he said that the communications majors plan on a career in broadcasting but doesn’t make it to the press.

"I’m not going to put all my eggs in one basket," he said.

NOTICES

LON N. MARTY, JR. VICE PRESIDENT/CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

Greg Guy of UT Pan Am leads the NCAA in scoring
NHL STANDINGS

WALLER CONFERENCE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>GP</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>T</th>
<th>Goals For</th>
<th>Goals Against</th>
<th>Points</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Pittsburgh</td>
<td>32</td>
<td>14</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>262</td>
<td>164</td>
<td>33</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New Jersey</td>
<td>31</td>
<td>13</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>212</td>
<td>216</td>
<td>33</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New York</td>
<td>31</td>
<td>19</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>9</td>
<td>187</td>
<td>186</td>
<td>37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Montreal</td>
<td>30</td>
<td>17</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>196</td>
<td>195</td>
<td>37</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Adams Division

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>GP</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>T</th>
<th>Goals For</th>
<th>Goals Against</th>
<th>Points</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Detroit</td>
<td>28</td>
<td>17</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>185</td>
<td>193</td>
<td>37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Montreal</td>
<td>27</td>
<td>19</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>205</td>
<td>178</td>
<td>47</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Boston</td>
<td>27</td>
<td>16</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>196</td>
<td>178</td>
<td>41</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Toronto</td>
<td>27</td>
<td>11</td>
<td>9</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>175</td>
<td>168</td>
<td>35</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

CAMPBELL CONFERENCE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>GP</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>T</th>
<th>Goals For</th>
<th>Goals Against</th>
<th>Points</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Montreal</td>
<td>26</td>
<td>19</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>189</td>
<td>185</td>
<td>40</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Buffalo</td>
<td>26</td>
<td>16</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>198</td>
<td>192</td>
<td>35</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ottawa</td>
<td>26</td>
<td>16</td>
<td>9</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>200</td>
<td>189</td>
<td>33</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hartford</td>
<td>24</td>
<td>14</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>173</td>
<td>164</td>
<td>33</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Northeast Division

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>GP</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>T</th>
<th>Goals For</th>
<th>Goals Against</th>
<th>Points</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>New York</td>
<td>24</td>
<td>14</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>182</td>
<td>160</td>
<td>32</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New Jersey</td>
<td>23</td>
<td>17</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>180</td>
<td>168</td>
<td>31</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Washington</td>
<td>21</td>
<td>19</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>189</td>
<td>163</td>
<td>31</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Philadelphia</td>
<td>21</td>
<td>16</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>175</td>
<td>156</td>
<td>31</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Atlantic Division

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>GP</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>T</th>
<th>Goals For</th>
<th>Goals Against</th>
<th>Points</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>New York</td>
<td>23</td>
<td>19</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>206</td>
<td>176</td>
<td>42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New Jersey</td>
<td>23</td>
<td>17</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>189</td>
<td>175</td>
<td>38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Washington</td>
<td>21</td>
<td>17</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>194</td>
<td>171</td>
<td>34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Philadelphia</td>
<td>21</td>
<td>16</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>185</td>
<td>171</td>
<td>32</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Montreal

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>GP</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>T</th>
<th>Goals For</th>
<th>Goals Against</th>
<th>Points</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Montreal</td>
<td>23</td>
<td>17</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>189</td>
<td>175</td>
<td>38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New York</td>
<td>23</td>
<td>19</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>206</td>
<td>176</td>
<td>42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Washington</td>
<td>21</td>
<td>17</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>194</td>
<td>171</td>
<td>34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Philadelphia</td>
<td>21</td>
<td>16</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>185</td>
<td>171</td>
<td>32</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Penalties

- Panteleyev, BOS

REFERENCES

-bruins-canadians, new york
- montreal 1-3

Wednesday's Games

- Hartford at Montreal, 7:30 p.m.
- Washington at Buffalo, 7:40 p.m.
- Winnipeg at New York Rangers, 7:40 p.m.
- Detroit at Edmonton, 9:40 p.m.
- Chicago at Vancouver, 10:40 p.m.

Sunday's Games

- LA Lakers at LA Clippers, 7:30 p.m.
- Detroit at Boston, 8:00 p.m.
- New York at Washington, 8:00 p.m.

Tuesday's Games

- New York at New Jersey, 9:40 p.m.
- Los Angeles at New York, 10:40 p.m.
- Detroit at Chicago, 10:40 p.m.
- Philadelphia at Boston, 10:40 p.m.

Wednesday, January 26, 1993

101 DeBartolo at 7:00 PM on Tuesday, January 26. A reception will follow.
CINCINNATI (AP) — Black and Jewish leaders who met Monday with Marge Schott's lawyer said she resigned in November just as her team approached its peak. Former Denver Broncos quarterback who Majors hired as his passing game coordinator.

"Over the years, I've talked to some of the top offensive college coaches in America. This young man is brilliant," Curry said of Karcher.

"If they run that offense he showed, they'll be in the top 10 in three years. If they get Ron, Powlus, they be in the top 10 in two years," Curry said.

"Pitt is trying to sell Powlus on being a program-maker. In Majors' first tenure at Pitt, he landed Tony Dorsett in his first recruiting class and won a national championship four years later in 1976, when Dorsett won the Heisman Trophy.

"They really haven't done the changes that they run that offense he showed, they'll be in the top 10 in three years. If they get Ron Powlus, they'll be in the top 10 in two years," Curry said.

"Pitt is trying to sell Powlus on being a program-maker. In Majors' first tenure at Pitt, he landed Tony Dorsett in his first recruiting class and won a national championship four years later in 1976, when Dorsett won the Heisman Trophy.

"Toni Dorsett was a pretty good recruit for Pitt," Curry said of Majors' first class.

"This is just a natural place."
Edberg, Seles advance in Australia

The Observer

Tuesday, January 26, 1993

Edberg, Seles advance in Australia

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Stefan Edberg wrapped his aching back, served slower than many women players, and still won easily Monday in the Grand Slam match against Madeleine Boetsch.

Not to default in singles as he was in the National Tennis Center a few hours before it started from the National Tennis Center because of lower back spasms and worried about staying in the singles. He prakticed this morning, Tuesday, and Boetsch said he couldn't even go.

Edberg defaulted his doubles match Sunday because of lower back spasms and worried about staying in the singles. He prakticed this morning, Tuesday, and Boetsch said he couldn't even go.

Edberg, the men's No. 3 seed, beat MallVai Washington 6-3, 6-4, 6-4 to reach the quarterfinals.

Edberg will face fellow Swede Christian Malvea in the quarterfinals. Bergstrom, who beat eighth-seeded Ivan Lendl in the first round, defeated 10th-seeded Wayne Ferreira of South Africa 6-4, 7-5, 2-6, 6-4.

Guy Forget, the men's No. 11 seed, also reached the quarterfinals and stopped the run of American qualifier Kelly Jones 6-3, 7-6 (7-5), 7-6 (8-6). Forget next plays No. 14 Michael Stich. Grants or no grants, Monica Seles still looks invincible. Fever averted, Jennifer Capriati just keeps winning. Seles played in virtual silence Monday against Nathalie Tauziat, who complained about her grunting at Wimbledon last year, and kept Edberg's ball anyway to win 6-2, 6-0 and reach the women's quarterfinals.

Seles, one of the few healthy players in the Open, kept up her average of yielding only two games a match through the first four rounds. The defending champion and top women's seed won the last eight games against the No. 13 Tauziat, including a stretch where she won 31 of 38 points. When she plays like this sometimes you can't do anything," Tauziat said of Seles. Knockout shots in a combination of groundstrokes, "it's winner, winner, winner, like a boxing match, one, two, three."

Seles next plays another Frechwoman, unseeded Julie Graham, who beat Conchita Martinez 6-4, 6-3 to reach a Grand Slam quarterfinal for the first time in 23 attempts.

Capriati, No. 7, beat Katerina Maleeva 6-7 (7-2), 6-3, 6-1 to reach the quarterfinals against Steffi Graf, whom Capriati defeated to win the gold medal in the Barcelona Olympics. That match was on clay, this one on hard courts where Capriati, newly developed net attack should be severely tested by Graf's punishing forehand.

Capriati's fever went up and down and up the first week, and her abdominal pain came down and up the first week, and went from a mysterious virus that bothered her only when she wasn't playing tennis. She got an extra day of rest Sunday when rain washed out play on the outer courts, and she looked strong against Maleeva, whose strained left thigh was heavily wrapped and hurled her almost to the middle of the second set on.

Capriati's fever is "all gone, thank God," she said, adding that the last time she had it was after her match Saturday. She said she would not play Monday.

"I made him hit every damn shot a man can hit on a tennis court during a 40-minute practice this morning," Edberg's coach, Tony Pickard, said. "Now it's up to (ATP Tour director) Bill Norris."

After Norris treated Edberg, Pickard said, "We'll give it a rest."

Even though Edberg got through the match with what Pickard called Edberg's doubles partner Jan Siemerink called a "serious" injury, his progress appeared to be winning three more matches for his third Australian title.

Not that injuries in Australia are new to Edberg. He strained an abdominal muscle here in 1989, defaulting from the quarterfinals against Thomas Muster. Edberg suffered the same injury in 1990 when he quit in mid-match in the final against Ivan Lendl.

Edberg's backache should brighten the hopes of Sampras, who is in the same half of the draw. Except that Sampras has to deal with chronic shin tendinitis which he got before his matches and afterward.

Sampras, the men's No. 3 seed, beat MallVai Washington 6-3, 6-4, 6-4 to reach the quarterfinals.

STANLEY H. KAPLAN
The Kaplan Can Take Your Classmates
1717 E. South Bend Ave., South Bend, IN 46637 (219) 272-6135

Calling All Clubs/Groups
$Earn Serious Money$ Your fraternity, sorority or other campus group can easily earn $400 PLUS BIG BONUSES in one week.

You pay nothing. Call 1-800-735-2077 ext. 180

THE ALUMNI SENIOR CLUB
HEY JUNIORS

STUDENT MANAGER APPLICATIONS & JOB DESCRIPTIONS FOR 1992-93 ARE NOW AVAILABLE

Pick them up at the Office of Student Activities Application Deadline is February 19, 1993

First American made Sumo grand champion

TOKYO (AP) - Despite reluctance by some Japanese to see a foreign wrestler finally reach the pinnacle of their ancient sport, a committee decided Monday that a towering Amer­i­can had earned the rank of grand champion.

A day after Chad Rowan, who is not a resident, blitzed local favorite Takha­nada out of the ring in a few seconds to win his second straight 15-day tournament, he was unanimously given the formal­ity of one more meeting on Wednesday before assuming the title of "yokozuna."

"I'll do my best to train well and fulfill everyone's expecta­tions," the 6-6-foot-4, 45-pound Rowan said.

"I'm glad he made yokozuna, not only because he's my son, but I'm glad because he's opening doors for the future," Rowan's father, said in Hawaii.

Some of the few dozen foreign wrestlers in the roughly 700 sumo professionals have complained of hate mail and bias directed by foreign countries, including China and Middle Eastern nations.

"Asahi," a Japanese newspaper, which quoted Prime Minister Kiichi Miyazawa as charging Akebono's promotion "good news. Sumo will become an international sport, and this would help raise the whole level."

Miyazawa was among Japanese sporting officials when the nation was stung last year by suggestions that racism was keeping foreign wrestlers from the top rank.

Another wrestler from Hawaii, Saeby Atesiao, was quoted as blam­ing" some of his opponents for his promotion to grand champion.

Like Rowan, Atesiao has won three tournaments, but never two in a row, and had a tough year to win for grand champion rank.

In many bouts, he has not looked impressive.

"I'm glad he made yokozuna, not only because he's my son, but I'm glad because he's opening doors for the future," Rowan's father, said in Hawaii.

While some of the few dozen foreign wrestlers in the roughly 700 sumo professionals have complained of hate mail and bias directed by foreign countries, including China and Middle Eastern nations.

"Asahi," a Japanese newspaper, which quoted Prime Minister Kiichi Miyazawa as charging Akebono's promotion "good news. Sumo will become an international sport, and this would help raise the whole level."

Miyazawa was among Japanese sporting officials when the nation was stung last year by suggestions that racism was keeping foreign wrestlers from the top rank.

Another wrestler from Hawaii, Saeby Atesiao, was quoted as blam­ing" some of his opponents for his promotion to grand champion.

Like Rowan, Atesiao has won three tournaments, but never two in a row, and had a tough year to win for grand champion rank.

In many bouts, he has not looked impressive.

"I'm glad he made yokozuna, not only because he's my son, but I'm glad because he's opening doors for the future," Rowan's father, said in Hawaii.

While some of the few dozen foreign wrestlers in the roughly 700 sumo professionals have complained of hate mail and bias directed by foreign countries, including China and Middle Eastern nations.

"Asahi," a Japanese newspaper, which quoted Prime Minister Kiichi Miyazawa as charging Akebono's promotion "good news. Sumo will become an international sport, and this would help raise the whole level."

Miyazawa was among Japanese sporting officials when the nation was stung last year by suggestions that racism was keeping foreign wrestlers from the top rank.

Another wrestler from Hawaii, Saeby Atesiao, was quoted as blam­ing" some of his opponents for his promotion to grand champion.

Like Rowan, Atesiao has won three tournaments, but never two in a row, and had a tough year to win for grand champion rank.

In many bouts, he has not looked impressive.

"I'm glad he made yokozuna, not only because he's my son, but I'm glad because he's opening doors for the future," Rowan's father, said in Hawaii.

While some of the few dozen foreign wrestlers in the roughly 700 sumo professionals have complained of hate mail and bias directed by foreign countries, including China and Middle Eastern nations.

"Asahi," a Japanese newspaper, which quoted Prime Minister Kiichi Miyazawa as charging Akebono's promotion "good news. Sumo will become an international sport, and this would help raise the whole level."

Miyazawa was among Japanese sporting officials when the nation was stung last year by suggestions that racism was keeping foreign wrestlers from the top rank.

Another wrestler from Hawaii, Saeby Atesiao, was quoted as blam­ing" some of his opponents for his promotion to grand champion.

Like Rowan, Atesiao has won three tournaments, but never two in a row, and had a tough year to win for grand champion rank.

In many bouts, he has not looked impressive.
Bills comfortable with role as SuperBowl underdogs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The experts maintain the Dallas Cowboys are a touchdown better than the Buffalo Bills, who say being the underdog isn’t a problem for them.

"All year when we’ve been underdogs, the team seemed to respond," center Kent Hall said Monday. "This football team likes challenges and being an underdog—that’s certainly a challenge. And I’m confident we’re going to rise to the occasion because of that."

Despite Buffalo’s track record of success—for example, the last two Super Bowls—in the last five years, the oddsmakers are putting their faith in the Cowboys.

It doesn’t matter who the AFC representative would have been, Jim Kelly said. The oddsmakers would have made the NFC champion the favorite because of the AFC’s woeful performance in recent Super Bowls.

“I’ve always liked being the underdog,” Kelly said. “If you noticed in the past, they haven’t been the underdog too many times. Going into the Super Bowl, I think that no matter who the AFC team was to get in, we were going to be the underdog."

During that time, the AFC has lost the last eight Super Bowls, including the two most recent losses by Buffalo to the New York Giants and Washington Redskins.

During their run of success, the Bills have done well when not much is expected of them—with one exception.

"Look at last year," Kelly said. "We were underdogs against the Redskins and we didn’t play too well."

"It seems like when we have adversity, we do play a little better. I think it shows the character on the team."

Character through adversity has been a theme the Bills have been building throughout their up-and-down season.

They offer their record comeback win over the Houston Oilers in the wild-card playoff game as proof. Down 25-3 early in the third quarter, the Bills won in overtime 41-28.

"After what’s happened — no one thought we could come back in the Houston game and no one thought we could get back to the Super Bowl — I think this team has taken that underdog atmosphere," wide receiver Don Beebe said. "I think it’s human nature to do that, and we’ve used that to our advantage."

Despite the possibility of being the first team to lose three straight Super Bowls, the Bills say the underdogs against the NFC team was to get in, the team seemed to have the right attitude.

"I think being the underdog and not being expected to do things we have to do takes some pressure off," strong safety Henry Jones said.

Most of the Bills’ dismiss their position on the wrong side of the pointspread.

"I don’t look at it as a lack of respect because I don’t care," running back Shane Conlan said. "That’s for gamblers."

"It’s something that the fans and the people betting on the game look at," wide receiver Andre Reed said. "As far as a player is concerned, it really doesn’t matter."
Giants set to name Reeves

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — Dan Reeves is on the verge of finalizing a deal that will make him the next coach of the New York Giants, a team official said Monday.

"We are continuing to have discussions with him, but we are making progress, pretty good progress," said John Mara, the Giants' executive vice president and general counsel. Mara said he was trying to temper his optimism that a deal could be completed this week with the former Denver coach who led the Broncos to three Super Bowls and five AFC West titles.

"That's what we're hoping for," Mara said. "We'll have to get this thing done first."

Reeves, 49, has been on a golf vacation in Palm Springs, Calif. A telephone message left at his home in Colorado by The Associated Press Monday was not returned.

Robert Frazier, Reeves' attorney, also did not return a telephone message left at his Orlando, Fla. office by The Associated Press.

A source close to Reeves told The Associated Press Monday that the contract talks were in their final stages.

"I talked to Dan today," the source said. "It looks like it will be done. Everything is going well."

The Giants have been searching for a coach since Ray Handley was fired in late December following a 6-10 record. He was 41-15 overall in two seasons Boston College coach Tom Coughlin and Dallas Cowboys defensive coordinator Dave Wannstedt were approached. Coughlin decided to remain in the college ranks and Wannstedt opted to become the head coach of the Chicago Bears last Tuesday, the same day the Giants general manager George Young started talking with Reeves in earnest.

"He's the man if we can get it done," Mara said Monday. "We'd look pretty foolish with everything that's been written if he wasn't." Reeves reportedly will receive a five-year contract worth an estimated $4 million.

Lofus on Wednedays starting this Wednesday January 27 will be an official tryout for the team. All are welcome.

The first official rugby practice will be January 26 at 6:30 p.m. at beautiful Roosevelt High School. There should come at 8:30, Bring mouthpieces and S.A.C.S. For further information, call Mike at 634-1556.

NSMC Equestrian team members interested in showing at the State Fair and Nationals on April 15-18 are reminded. For further information, contact Mike at 634-1556.

Leasing now for August

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>1 And 2 Bedroom Apartments</th>
<th>available for your selection.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>- 9 MONTH LEASES •</td>
<td>- All utilities included</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>- Relaxed, Secure Environment</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

FOR INFORMATION CALL 272-1441

---

"Quality without compromise"

"CAMPUS VIEW APARTMENTS"

LEASING NOW FOR AUGUST

- 1 And 2 Bedroom Apartments
- available for your selection.

- 9 MONTH LEASES
- All utilities included
- Relaxed, Secure Environment

---

Thinking of doing a year of service? How about doing it for a lifetime?

Have you considered THE HOLY CROSS CANDIDATE YEAR?

A one-year program at Moreau Seminary at the University of Notre Dame for college graduates interested in exploring potential of lifetime of service as a Holy Cross priest or brother. Scholarship assistance is available.

Call or write for information: Fr. John Conley, C.S.C. Congregation, Holy Cross Box 541 Notre Dame, Indiana 46556 (219) 239-6385

DENVER (AP) — Wade Phillips, who built an aggressive, ball-hawking defense during four years as the Denver Broncos' defensive coordinator, was named head coach on the team Monday, succeeding Dan Reeves.

Owner Pat Bowlen announced his decision four weeks to the day after he sacked Reeves. His selection of Phillips followed reports that his apparent first choice, the 49ers offensive coordinator Mike Shanahan, had decided to remain with the San Francisco 49ers.

"I want to make sure you understand — there is a lot of speculation that Wade somehow is the second man for the job, and that's not true," Bowlen said. "The guy who should have gotten the job got the job.

Phillips, 45, has been considered prime coaching material for some time, following in the footsteps of his father, Bum Phillips, who coached at Houston and New Orleans. He coordinated the Denver defense the last four seasons, developing a stingy unit that once went 31 games without giving up a touchdown against a two-minute drill.

"Yes!" he shouted when introduced by Bowlen. "I certainly will work to do the best I can. I always have, certainly for this football team and these fans.

'I'm excited about this opportunity," he said. "It was well worth the waiting."

Works of speculation preceded Monday's announcement, most of it centering on Shanahan, 40, who was Denver's offensive coordinator from 1985-87 and again in 1991. But Shanahan apparently decided to extend his 49ers contract after reported negotiations with Bowlen did not yield an agreement.

"A contract was discussed," Bowlen said. "But we never got to the point where a contract was offered." When Bowlen fired Reeves on Dec. 28, he said he wanted the new coach to give him room to be a more assertive owner than he had been during Reeves' 12 years. He said he didn't think such a relationship would be possible with Reeves.

Bowlen said he and Bum Phillips "had great chemistry" and think they have a good working relationship.

"We can work together on all things, certainly having the final say, but I'll let them make the decisions, and that's all I want," he said.

Despite speculation about Bumashy, Phillips and Bum Phillips who got the job in the end.

"This organization has won for awhile and we certainly intend to keep doing it," he said Monday.

Phillips made no secret of his desire to succeed Reeves. The day after Reeves' firing, Phillips held a news conference in which he would lobby Bowlen for the job. At that time, he also revealed a little of what his coaching philosophy would be: "Hire good people and let them do their jobs."

He has said his philosophy as a coach would be to hire offensive and defensive coordinators and oversee the operation.

Phillips said Monday his first priority will be to hire an offensive staff. He said he would like to make defensive coordinator Charlie Waters his defensive coordinator.

During his years coaching Denver's defense, Phillips helped the Broncos get to the Super Bowl in 1986 and 1987 and to the AFC championship game in 1991. In both those seasons, his defense led the AFC in fewest points allowed, and in 1991 the Broncos led the AFC in 12 defensive categories.

He has previous coaching experience, as interim coach for the final four games of the 1985 season in New Orleans after his father, Bum Phillips, was fired. He also was interim coach of the Broncos during the 1990 exhibition season when Reeves underwent surgery.

Phillips was an assistant at Houston, his alma mater, and at Oklahoma State and Kansas before coming to the pros in 1976 with the Houston Oilers. He coached linebackers his first season and then the defensive line for four years.

---

The Observer
Phoenix knocks off Detroit

AUBURN HILLS, Mich. (AP) — Charles Barkley and Kevin Johnson each scored 24 points Monday night as the Phoenix Suns beat Detroit 121-119, handing the Pistons their sixth straight loss.

The Pistons nearly overcame a 16-point Phoenix lead in the final seven minutes, but Terry Mills’ 3-pointer spun out as the final buzzer sounded. Detroit is now 0-10 in games in which Dennis Rodman didn’t play. He missed Monday’s game with a strained calf muscle.

AP

Chiefs

HARWICH, Mass. — Dominique Wilkins scored 38 points and Kevin Willis had 30 points and 17 rebounds as Atlanta rallied in the third period to beat Sacramento 106-98 for its fifth straight win.

Sacramento was led 58-52 at halftime, but Atlanta outscored the Kings 33-18 in the third for an 83-76 lead.

The victory was the 100th for Bob Weiss as coach of the Hawks, and was Atlanta’s seventh in its last 10 games.

Nuggets 102, Timberwolves 97

DENVER — Chris Jackson scored 24 points and Reggie Williams added 22 as Denver ran its winning streak to three games — its longest of the season.

With the score tied at 65, Williams put Denver ahead to stay with a 19-foot jumper with 5:30 remaining in the third period. The Timberwolves got within one at 90-89 with 3:38 to go, but Robert Pack scored five points and Jackson had four as Denver pushed lead to 102-94 with 5.8 seconds left.

Chuck Person had 29 points and Doug West 19 for the Timberwolves.

Alberto Tomba accused of assaulting ski-lift operator

ROME (AP) — Italian ski officials reacted cautiously Monday to reports Alberto Tomba assaulted a lift operator in Switzerland, seeking details of the incident before considering any action against the ski champion.

Tomba, as expected, was chosen Monday for the Italian team that will compete in the World Championships next month in Japan. He will compete in the slalom and giant slalom.

Helmut Schmalzl, technical director of the Italian team, said Tomba was clearly wrong but attributed it to a case of nerves before a race and expressed surprise that the protest was made so late in the day Sunday.

A spokesman for the race organizers, Jean-Pierre Bahler, said Tomba was the only skiier to file a complaint against the lift operator Sunday.

Tomba, who was going up to survey the course before the race, later kicked a desk in the cable car station, shattering an adjacent window, Bahler said.

Race organizers gave Tomba 24 hours to issue a public apology or risk a police complaint by the employee, who was not identified. The deadline passed and the organizers had received “nothing at all” from Tomba, leaving it up to the International Ski Federation (FIS) to impose sanctions and the lift attendant to file a police complaint if they wished, Bahler said.

“I even Tomba must behave properly,” Bahler said. “If he apologizes, we agree to forget the entire thing.”

Tomba apologized for breaking the window and offered to pay for repairs, he said.

Organizers reported the incident to officials of the International Ski Federation (FIS), which could order disciplinary measures against Tomba.

Two years ago, organizers of a super giant slalom at Lake Louise, Canada, barred Tomba after a run-in with a lift attendant, though FIS later backed Tomba in the dispute.

Alumni Awareness Week

SCAVENGER HUNT CLUE:

The prize twinkles in the light which keeps burning through the night.

Don’t forget to pick up your extra clue in the Alumni Association office R.M. 201 Ad. Min.

GOOD LUCK

The Alumni Fact For The Day...

In November, the Alumni Association sent out a letter for names to be remembered during “All Souls Remembrance”. 7,343 Alumni sent in 66,964 names to be remembered at the altar in Sacred Heart Basilica. In addition, 306 students sent in 1,488 names.

ACC, Big 10 are top conferences

The Observer Tuesday, January 26, 1993

V-Ball continued from page 20

Another pleasant surprise has been Matt Strottman, who moved to middle hitter to replace the injured P.J. Stettin, who went down with multiple fractures in his leg against MSU in the pre-season.

“Matt had tough shoes to fill, but he has really stepped up when we needed him,” said Ceponis. “His blocking gets better every game.”

Stettin, injured in December, is expected back in 3-5 weeks.

The Irish hope to better their record when they travel to Purdue on Wednesday, where they expect a fight. “Most of our matches have gone five games...this one should be no exception,” said Maddox. “They’re usually pretty good.”

The next home match for the Irish is Saturday at 8 p.m.
... AND LET ME TELL YOU, FOLKS, I JUST TOOK MY ORALS AND BOY ARE MY LIPS TIRED.

CALVIN AND HOBBES
NOW, COLONEL, GIVE ME THE COOKING!
I'LL MAKE IT, COME ON!
I'VE TAKEN A BITE.

CALVIN AND HOBBES
ONE MORE NOSTALGIC PART OF CHILDHOOD
SAYS TONY.

CALVIN AND HOBBES
THEIR FALLS FOR THE OLD RUBBER-SCALPEL GAG.
Aussie Open hurt by lack of personalities

Quietly, the Australian Open has been going on over the past week without much noise.

There are many reasons for this: it's halfway across the globe, the majority of Americans don't think their tennis number-one is in January, the stories usually come over the Associated Press wire at 3 a.m., too late for a lot of papers including the Observer, but one of the biggest is the lack of big names participating.

Though most of the top women are playing down under, the men's draw for the first Grand Slam title of the year is strikingly thin.

Missing are familiar names like John McEnroe, Jimmy Connors and Andre Agassi. Both Boris Becker and Ivan Lendl suffered early defeats.

They have been replaced by the likes of Peter Korda, Wayne Ferreira and Carlos Costa, who were all seeded in the Australian, but are hardly household names.

With McEnroe now retired and Connors and Lendl getting very close to it, the sport needs another generation of big names and more importantly big personalities.

In the women's game Monica Seles, Steffi Graf and Jennifer Capriati have picked up the slack left by Chris Evert's retirement and Martina Navratilova's fall from the top.

Almost no one has picked up the slack in the men's game.

The only current star that exudes on-court flare and personality is Agassi, and he is sitting out the Australian with an injury.

The top two seeds in the Australian Open are Jim Courier and Stefan Edberg. Both are tremendous tennis talents, but neither has the aura of personalities surrounding him on and off the court that McEnroe and Connors had.

Courier and Edberg are wonderful to watch, if you are a tennis fan. But, to the average sports fan who would not appreciate the finer points of these players' games, they appear boring.

The same can be said for Pete Sampras or Serg Bruguera.

Last year, Wimbledon received as much coverage if not more than it did during the days of the epic McEnroe-Bjorn Borg finals. The reason being the performance of Andre Agassi, someone the average sports fan could appreciate because of his personality. Also, McEnroe's emotional outbursts on and off the court that McEnroe and Connors had.

Courier and Edberg are wonderful to watch, if you are a tennis fan. But, to the average sports fan who would not appreciate the finer points of these players' games, they appear boring.

The same can be said for Pete Sampras or Serg Bruguera.

Last year, Wimbledon received as much coverage if not more than it did during the days of the epic McEnroe-Bjorn Borg finals. The reason being the performance of Andre Agassi, someone the average sports fan could appreciate because of his personality. Also, McEnroe's emotional outbursts on and off the court that McEnroe and Connors had.

Seven-match win streak ends

By KEVIN DOLAN

Sports Writer

Prior to that, the Irish had been riding a streak of success that really came as no surprise to senior Pat Madden.

"We expected to win all the individual matches, but it's still nice to just go out like that," Madden said.

However, fatigue may have begun to set in on Sunday in East Lansing as the Irish met the always-tough Spartans for their fifth match in four days.

Junior Brian Cepnis said, "We didn't really execute very well (against MSU). Up until that point, we'd been playing really well, but we couldn't get it done Sunday.""%

Commenting on the fatigue factor, Madden replied, "We were emotionally flat as well as physically. We were tired, but we didn't have the emotion needed to play well.

"We weren't happy enough with good plays, and too angry with each other when we screwed up," he added.

The Irish are still pleased with the season to this point.

"We still need to gel as a team yet, but it's coming along really well," said Cepnis.

The Irish have gotten a lift from a host of newcomers this season. Freshman Bill Haney, who showed potential in the pre-season, has been joined at the outside hitter position by Tim Regan and Miguel Ascencio.

Another new face is freshman setter Matt Limatoc, who had tried out for the team in pre-season and was asked back when the Irish found themselves in need of his skills to replace defensive specialist Dan Cavanaugh.

"We needed another setter, so we brought Matt in, and he should do really well once he gets into the flow," said Madden. "Bill, Tim and Miguel have all been great so far."

Saint Mary's swimmers victorious

Special to the Observer

They say that variety is the spice of life.

Swimming a different line-up, the Saint Mary's swimmers demonstrated this notion Saturday afternoon by defeating the Knights of Calvin College, 146-88.

"We swam a different line-up and it worked well for us," coach Dennis Cooper stated. "It was supposed to be a close meet and we swam up to the challenge."

The win was especially encouraging for the Belles since, according to Coach Cooper, they have reached the height of training and exhaustion is setting in.

"This win was exciting because although everyone is swimming tired, we were able to rise above it and give solid performances," said junior co-captain Ellen Kramer.

Despite being run down, sophomore Katie Nordrup posted season bests in the 150 freestyle, the 200M and the 500 free, while taking two first- and one second-place respectively.

The Belles hope to improve on their 3-2 record Saturday when they travel to Wabash College to take on the University of Chicago.

Demon's outlast the Irish women, 71-55

By JASON KELLY

Sports Writer

CHICAGO - A player cannot single-handedly win a basketball game, but Notre Dame's Coopre Washington is pretty close.

There were times during Notre Dame's 71-55 loss to DePaul when Washington appeared to be the only Irish player on the court.

"Coopre played with a tremendous amount of heart," said Irish coach Muffet McGraw. "She was the only one playing in the first half."

Washington scored seven of Notre Dame's 21 first-half points, but DePaul's rugged inside game was too much for the Irish to handle.

Cathy Perditz, a 6-5 senior, maneuvered inside for eight first-half points. Defensively, she forced the Irish to alter very virtually every close-range shot they attempted, frustrating Notre Dame's front-line players.

"Their big people hurt us bad in the first half," McGraw said. "I was disappointed with our inside game."

The result of their first-half problems was a seemingly insurmountable 17-point deficit.

But Washington wasn't finished yet. Her gritty performance early in the second half inspired her teammates and provided a 22-5 run that gave the Irish the lead with 10:51 remaining.

A swelling Irish defense gave DePaul a taste of its own medicine. Perditz and teammate Keri Lorenzen rarely touched the ball during Notre Dame's comeback.

Instead, the interior defense was denying the passes that looked so easy in the first half.

"We started playing much better defense in the second half," McGraw commented. "That's what we needed to do for 40 minutes."

Instead, the Irish seemed to tire after about 10 minutes of the second half.

Leititia Bowen, here shooting against Loyola Chicago, scored 15 of Notre Dame's 17 points in the fourth quarter.

The Belles hope to improve on their 3-2 record Saturday when they travel to Wabash College to take on the University of Chicago.

Williams probable

Monty Williams

Observer Staff Report

First it was an ankle, and now it is a rib.

Monty Williams, who suffered a cartilage strain in his rib cage, had improved since the week-end's game.

Williams, who has still not completely recovered from an ankle injury suffered on January 16 at Michigan, attended practice yesterday under Meyer's supervision.

"He'll be out there a little more today," said Meyer before yesterday's practice. "We're not sure how much, but he's day to day."

Notre Dame will travel to Columbia, Mo. to play Missouri tomorrow night.

Williams' status for that game is unresolved at this time.