Women’s Committee given space
By ANALISE TAYLOR
News Writer

The Women’s Resource Committee, a subdivision of Graduate Student Union, was granted the temporary use of the former student government conference center on the second floor of LaFortune Center by the Student Senate at yesterday’s meeting. The proposal, passed by a majority of thirteen votes.

Because space on campus for extracurricular activities and clubs is limited, the office will be used until the center finds more space.

“They’re going to set up what they can in the former student government conference center,” said Lynn Friedewald, chief-of-staff of student government.

Discussion focused on whether the Center’s name would exclude men and if the Center would divide men and women on campus.

“I think this would give the students an outlet,” said Notre Dame club coordinator Frank McGeehan.

Students face burglaries, citations
By SARAH DORAN
News Writer

A sixth townhouse at the Lafayette Square complex was burglarized last night between 8 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. The townhouse’s alarm system was activated at the time and went off during the theft, according to witnesses at the scene at the time of police arrival.

Residents reported the theft of a computer to police.

The assailants apparently entered the locked apartment through a basement window.

Security guards were on duty at the complex from 8 p.m. until 5 a.m. Majestic Security Protection Services, Inc., the company handling security, is in the process of working out a plan to have the complex be open 24 hour surveillance, according representative Brad Snoo.

In a related security story, the Stop Underage Drinking and Sales (S.U.D.S.) task force cited 16 Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s students for underage drinking during raids last Thursday at 3 E. Navarre Street in South Bend at 12:45 a.m. Sunday morning.

At the same time, the South Bend police cited Notre Dame junior Brian Baumer, a resident of the house, for violating the city of South Bend loud and raucous noise ordinance.

The raid was carried out after officers saw several people at the residence who appeared to be under 21 years old. Plainclothes officers made the observation before being permitted to enter the house, according to the South Bend Tribune.

Students cited for underage drinking were:
- Alumni Hall sophomore Michael Hynes.
- Dillon Hall junior Neil Knowlton.
- Grace Hall sophomore Michael Hughes.
- Holy Cross Hall sophomore Kathleen McFadden.
- LeMans Hall sophomores Melky Poley, Sarah Hallock, Maria Myers, and Mary Zervos.
- Pangborm Hall sophomores Jill cubanise, Emily Searls, and Maria Schott.
- Morrissey Hall sophomores Peter Geraghty and Kevin Janicki.
- Sorin Hall sophomore Mark Gosel.
- Off-campus junior Michael McEvilly and senior Matthew Carter.

Students cited for underage drinking were:
- Alumni Hall sophomore Michael Hynes.
- Dillon Hall junior Neil Knowlton.
- Grace Hall sophomore Michael Hughes.
- Holy Cross Hall sophomore Kathleen McFadden.
- LeMans Hall sophomores Melky Poley, Sarah Hallock, Maria Myers, and Mary Zervos.
- Pangborm Hall sophomores Jill cubanise, Emily Searls, and Maria Schott.
- Morrissey Hall sophomores Peter Geraghty and Kevin Janicki.
- Sorin Hall sophomore Mark Gosel.
- Off-campus junior Michael McEvilly and senior Matthew Carter.

The raid was carried out after officers saw several people at the residence who appeared to be under 21 years old. Plainclothes officers made the observation before being permitted to enter the house, according to the South Bend Tribune.

Students cited for underage drinking were:
- Alumni Hall sophomore Michael Hynes.
- Dillon Hall junior Neil Knowlton.
- Grace Hall sophomore Michael Hughes.
- Holy Cross Hall sophomore Kathleen McFadden.
- LeMans Hall sophomores Melky Poley, Sarah Hallock, Maria Myers, and Mary Zervos.
- Pangborm Hall sophomores Jill cubanise, Emily Searls, and Maria Schott.
- Morrissey Hall sophomores Peter Geraghty and Kevin Janicki.
- Sorin Hall sophomore Mark Gosel.
- Off-campus junior Michael McEvilly and senior Matthew Carter.

The suspect apparently entered the basement task window and stole a VCR and a stereo. The suspectuctive was not involved in the time of police arrival.

The suspect fits the same description.

Midwest FLOOD RELIEF

ND offers hands-on aid
By CORRINE DORAN
News Writer

The Notre Dame community has been working to contribute to flood relief efforts. The Alumni Association, Student Government and the Center for Social Concerns are planning to send a group of students and alumni to the affected areas during October break, according to Alumni Community Service Program Assistant Megan Brennan.

Students and alumni will travel to the St. Louis area on Sunday, October 24 to work on clean-up and reconstruction projects throughout the week, said Alumna Lavenieres, co-chair of Flood Relief.

"Most of the work will be physical labor, helping clean homes and businesses clean out soggy paper," said Brennan.

The program plans to take 90 students and 30 alumni in the area, and Lavenieres said numbers might increase with greater student interest.

"So far several dozen people have signed up," said Brennan.

Students face burglaries, citations
By SARAH DORAN
News Writer

A sixth townhouse at the Lafayette Square complex was burglarized last night between 8 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. The townhouse’s alarm system was activated at the time and went off during the theft, according to witnesses at the scene at the time of police arrival.

Residents reported the theft of a computer to police.

The assailants apparently entered the locked apartment through a basement window.

Security guards were on duty at the complex from 8 p.m. until 5 a.m. Majestic Security Protection Services, Inc., the company handling security, is in the process of working out a plan to have the complex be open 24 hour surveillance, according representative Brad Snoo.

In a related security story, the Stop Underage Drinking and Sales (S.U.D.S.) task force cited 16 Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s students for underage drinking during raids last Thursday at 3 E. Navarre Street in South Bend at 12:45 a.m. Sunday morning.

At the same time, the South Bend police cited Notre Dame junior Brian Baumer, a resident of the house, for violating the city of South Bend loud and raucous noise ordinance.

The raid was carried out after officers saw several people at the residence who appeared to be under 21 years old. Plainclothes officers made the observation before being permitted to enter the house, according to the South Bend Tribune.

Students cited for underage drinking were:
- Alumni Hall sophomore Michael Hynes.
- Dillon Hall junior Neil Knowlton.
- Grace Hall sophomore Michael Hughes.
- Holy Cross Hall sophomore Kathleen McFadden.
- LeMans Hall sophomores Melky Poley, Sarah Hallock, Maria Myers, and Mary Zervos.
- Pangborm Hall sophomores Jill cubanise, Emily Searls, and Maria Schott.
- Morrissey Hall sophomores Peter Geraghty and Kevin Janicki.
- Sorin Hall sophomore Mark Gosel.
- Off-campus junior Michael McEvilly and senior Matthew Carter.

The raid was carried out after officers saw several people at the residence who appeared to be under 21 years old. Plainclothes officers made the observation before being permitted to enter the house, according to the South Bend Tribune.

Students cited for underage drinking were:
- Alumni Hall sophomore Michael Hynes.
- Dillon Hall junior Neil Knowlton.
- Grace Hall sophomore Michael Hughes.
- Holy Cross Hall sophomore Kathleen McFadden.
- LeMans Hall sophomores Melky Poley, Sarah Hallock, Maria Myers, and Mary Zervos.
- Pangborm Hall sophomores Jill cubanise, Emily Searls, and Maria Schott.
- Morrissey Hall sophomores Peter Geraghty and Kevin Janicki.
- Sorin Hall sophomore Mark Gosel.
- Off-campus junior Michael McEvilly and senior Matthew Carter.
Inside the Inside Column

For the first time ever, I'm going to give you, the reader, a whirlwind course in the art of the inside column. This is the way it usually happens. Those of us that sign up to do an inside column usually do so well in advance and invariably have put in our best effort by the time it is due. In fact, if it wasn't for the preceding correction of the right-hand column, very few of these columns would probably be written at all. This is the time those of us at the Observer have nothing important to say.

The world of the column is an opinionated lot that resides upon the third floor of LaFortune. It's just that when you finally sit down to write this thing your profound opinion seems to have dwindled to an inconsequential anecdote. After you've typed the first line, even the anecdote and not necessarily those of The Observer.

Today's Staff

Jay Holer Cartoonist

WORLD AT A GLANCE

Exiled Aristide Demands Resignations

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti - Exiled President Jean-Bertrand Aristide demanded on Monday that the police chief and army leaders quit following the assassination of a leading Aristide supporter.

Aristide urged the international community to "help us rid ourselves without delay of the leadership of this state-sponsored terrorism."

His speech, broadcast to Haiti, followed U.N. envoy Dante Caputo's characterization of squads of plainclothes police as "killers."

Clerics and human rights advocates accuse the special police agents of carrying out the killing. Aristide has promised to dispatch a team to the scene in 72 hours to make a wave of death threats during the U.N.-backed transition to democracy.

The hundreds of plainclothes special agents and 1,000 municipal police officers in the capital are commanded by Joseph Michel Francois, an army colonel who was a leader of the 1991 coup that forced Aristide into exile.

"Those in command of military institutions and the chief of police have quite simply given themselves the task of accomplishing the massacre of the population for the benefit of sordid interests," said Aristide.

The wave of violence has threatened the U.N. peace plan, under which Aristide is scheduled to return Oct. 20. Under the accord, Francois and army commander Raoul Cèdres, who signed the agreement with Aristide, must quit. Aristide, however, has asked them to continue their joking relations.

Later Monday, Aristide asked Parliament to consider a law shifting the police from military control, which is also part of the U.N. plan. The separation is stated in the 1987 Haitian Constitution, but it has never been enacted.

A new democratic government led by Aristide's premier, Robert Malval, has been helpless in the face of rising terror by its armed opponents.

Malval's government, in a communiqué Sunday, said legal steps had been taken against the attackers and the army had been ordered to "dismantle these armed bands."

But Antoine Joseph, president of Haiti's lower house of parliament, said that "Malval's authority is null."

Ethnic dolls gain in popularity

The profitability of collecting black dolls is questionable, but there's no doubt about its burgeoning popularity.

More than 300 dolls in Barbara Whitman's Philadelphia Doll Museum compete for space on the shelves, tables, chairs and in the nooks and crannies of her row house.

They are tagged and cataloged, but Whitman isn't concerned about their worth.

"I buy the doll that appeals to me. Whatever appeals to you, you should buy," she said.

Mila Perkins, a Detroit collector with more than 2,500 black dolls and the author of "Black Dolls," an identification guide agrees.

"Dolls do increase in value and it's a lucky person when they do. But don't worry about it," said Perkins. "If you collect, collect with the interest that you really love them."

For the past five years, Whitman and partner, Brenda Hauser, have organized the Black Doll Convention in Philadelphia. More than 1,500 people from California to Rhode Island attended the event in May.

"Now a lot of black women are collecting and making their own dolls to produce for black doll conventions," said Perkins. Before the convention "there had not been a central place for the collectors. We want to expand the program and work with schools."

Whitman wants to establish the first museum dedicated solely to the preservation of black dolls because she believes they give clues about black history and can be used as teaching tools.

"If a child looks in a book and they see a picture of a slave, then right away they feel sort of embarrassed because of the clothing or how they looked," she said.

But using dolls, "I explain the history and the period in which the doll was made and how to relate to it in black people and then I may mention that your mother or grandmother may have done similar work."
Student negligence leads to campus thefts

By NICK RIOS
Star Writer

An alarming number of larcenies and bike thefts have occurred on campus since the beginning of the school year, according to Phil Johnson, assistant director of Notre Dame Security.

Five bikes were reported stolen over the past weekend, making the total 20 since the beginning of the school year, he said. "The thefts have been occurring all around campus, most of them at night," Johnson reported. "And more than half are bikes that have been stolen were left unlocked."

"Three bikes were left unlocked outside of student residence halls and four were stolen from inside the dorms, but unlocked as well," he said. Students leaving rooms unlocked and book bags unattended has led to a large number of robberies over the past two weeks, as well, according to Johnson.

"Over the weekend we received reports of three different larcenies of cash and personal items from dorm rooms," he said. Two of the reported robberies occurred in Sorin Hall and the third was in Grace Hall.

Campus Security strongly recommends that the Notre Dame community lock their doors and find strong locks for their bikes, securing them to things that are not removable, he said. "These larcenies are not happening as a result of someone breaking in, but because the students are not locking their doors and their personal belongings," be added. "Unfortunately the students are going to have to start locking their rooms even if they go away for a few minutes."

Johnson added, "We are also asking the Notre Dame community to look after each other. If someone sees something happening, please call 911 and report it. One caller can make a difference."

St. Edward's Hall
Players present
Neil Simon's "Brighton Beach Memoirs"

Open Auditions will be held on Wednesday and Thursday from 7-9 pm in the St. Ed's Chapel

Run Jane Run
3-on-3 Basketball
Tournament

What: Double elimination 3-on-3 Basketball Tournament with 3 divisions.
Date: Sunday, September 19, 1993
Time: Registration 11 am to 12 pm. Play starts at 1 pm.
Location: Stepan Center outdoor courts, Notre Dame
Entry Fee: $25.00

St. Edward's Hall
Players present

"Brighton Beach Memoirs"
Open Auditions will be held on Wednesday and Thursday from 7-9 pm in the St. Ed's Chapel

By ELIZABETH REGAN
Assistant Saint Mary's Editor

As the temperature and humidity continued to rise in most parts of the country earlier this summer, the rain fell relentlessly in the midwest.

Despite pre-flood efforts to construct flood walls and levees millions of people were washed out by the waters, including many Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students.

"My street got flooded twice this summer," said Saint Mary's freshman Cathy Kelly from St. Louis County. "The water was very messy past the doors and I don't even live near a river."

Students from St. Louis, Missouri, West Des Moines and Bettendorf, Iowa, and Overland Park, Kansas felt the impact of the floods as they tried to carry on in their daily summer activities.

Many felt the financial impact and the inconveniences that one normally would not consider.

"West Des Moines was completely congested because we were the only place around with good water," said Notre Dame sophomore Matt Radura.

"The smell of raw sewage, the bugs, and the traffic were the worst," said Saint Mary's freshman Caroline Blum of St. Louis County. "You almost needed nose plugs near the riverfront."

"My summer school classes at Des Moines Area Community College were cancelled for a week," said junior Andy Kindred from Grace Hall.

Many of the students joined their communities in efforts to aid those less fortunate by offering their homes for showers and shelter, sandbagging local water treatment plants and volunteering their time in local high schools and grocery stores where many victims sought temporary shelter.

"People started sandbagging in order to help out, but then it became a great place to meet people," said Blum.

"We had so much help," said Saint Mary's freshman Susan Smith of St. Louis County. "That was what was so neat."

Saint Mary's sophomore Jennifer Kelley said that her finished basement was knee deep in water at the peak of the disaster.

"The ground was so saturated with water that there was nowhere else for it to go," Kelley said.

"Boxes of memorabilia that can never be replaced were ruined," she added. "I thought it was so bad, but in comparison, my family was lucky."

Many of the students were impressed with the amount of media coverage during the disaster.

Elizabeth Martin was able to work at an ABC affiliate station this summer in Bettendorf.

"It was a really exciting summer," Martin said. "We worked 24 hours a day trying to cover the flood with ten minute flood specials at the end of every newscast."

"All of the press coverage impressed me," said Saint Mary's sophomore Moja Brennan from West Des Moines. "No one had even heard of Des Moines last year when I came to school as a freshman. That is all anyone is talking about now.

Because of the utter devastation, Brennan was surprised by such a quick response.

"At the time it seemed like such a big deal," Brennan said. "But with the help of everyone, things are already back on their feet so fast.

The Observer is now accepting applications for the position of Design Editor.

SUNDERS CLASS TRIP TO LA LA LAND

Don't Miss Out!
Security

continued from page 1

cription as the alleged burglar of the previous four apartments, according to Matteo. The South Bend police have a warrant out on his arrest, said Matteo, but have not been able to locate him.

"It is frustrating because we know who the person is that is doing this, but it is in the hands of the police now," said Matteo.

In response to the recent rash of burglaries, Lafayette Square is upgrading its security systems and adding security personnel, said Matteo.

Also, a Notre Dame student has reported being approached by an impersonator of a Safewalk employee, said Philip Johnson, assistant director of Notre Dame security.

"We are investigating the incident to Safewalk employees last week," said Johnson.

Students are urged to be aware of the blue reflective jackets, radios, and photo identification cards that each Safewalk employee wears, said Johnson.

Flood

continued from page 1

"Depending upon the number of interested students, we would like to send a group into the area over fall break to help distribute more kits," Fearn said.

"A lot of students are behind this," said senior Melissa Whelan. "I think that the enthusiasm is so high because so many students at Saint Mary's are from the Midwest."

Campus Ministry will be accepting registration prior to the walk at 4 p.m. in front of the Clubhouse for all those interested.

Aid

continued from page 1

People have expressed an interest in the program," said Lafreniere.

"The most exciting thing is that it is a joint alumni and student project," Brennan said.

The program will be run either through the Salvation Army or the Archdiocese of St. Louis, said Brennan. An informational meeting will be held Wednesday, September 15 at 9 p.m. at the Center for Social Concerns.

In addition to this hands-on work, other campus organizations have been collecting clothing for victims of the flood. The Office of Student Activities is currently collecting t-shirts for school children in the flooded area of Cedar City, Missouri, said Joe Cassidy, the director of student activities.

"I received a letter from an alumnus who is a pastor at a church in Indiana. He said there was a need for clean clothes for kids to go back to school," said Cassidy.

Jonathan Gossen, Pastor of United Methodist Church in Galveston, Indiana is the alumnus who contacted Cassidy about his sister church in Missouri, said Executive Secretary in the Director of Student Activities Nancy Jacox.

Cavanaugh Hall, Breen-Phillips Hall and Pangborn Hall and the Dome have responded to Cassidy's request for contributions, said Jacox.

Senate

continued from page 1

Supporters for the center are working to resolve the issue of making both genders comfortable, said members of the Women's Resource Committee.

"Women's issues just aren't women's issues, but gender issues," said Jennifer Halbach, District 2 senator from Walsh Hall.

Volunteers for the center have been working since last April but have received no response from the Office of Student Affairs, Friedewald said.

"There were several attempts in the past months by the Women's Resource Committee to set up meetings with Vice President of Student Affairs Patricia O'Hara to discuss the proposal, but none were successful," said a Women's Resource Committee news release.

The Faculty Senate has endorsed the Women's Resource Center along with the Faculty/Student Committee on Student Affairs, Friedewald said.

The Graduate Student Union has said it will allocate funds for the project.

"If we can educate ourselves about race relations, why can't we educate ourselves about gender relations?" said Meredith Dwyer, women's concern representative for Pasquerilla East Hall.

Members of the committee plan to maintain a library including information on rape, gender issues, and eating disorders. The center also plans to present forums, invite guest speakers to campus, and offer a referral service.
Fall Break
Flood Relief Service Project

Informational Meeting

Wednesday, September 15
at 9:00 PM
CSC Auditorium

Applications will be available at the meeting and also in the Student Government Office, 2nd Floor LaFortune
Israelis, PLO sign peace pact at White House

By TERENCE HUNT
Associated Press

WASHINGTON

In a breathtaking moment of hope and history, Yasser Arafat and Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin exchanged a handshake of peace before a cheering White House audience Monday after the signing of a PLO-Israeli treaty that once seemed unimaginable.

"Enough of blood and tears. Enough," the gravely veiled Rabin said with emotion. "We wish to open a new chapter in the sad book of our lives to-gether, a chapter of mutual recognition, of good neighbors, of mutual respect, of understanding."

Arafat, wearing his trademark kaffiyeh draped in the shape of a map of Palestine, said the agreement should mark "the end of a chapter of pain and suffering which has lasted throughout this century."

The two men, mortal enemies for generations, reached from several feet apart as aides signed historic agreements that will bring Palestinian rule to the Israeli-occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip.

Then, drawn toward Rabin by President Clinton's grinning smile, Arafat extended his hand.

After a second's hesitation, the prime minister reached out for a businesslike handshake, Rabin, who as an Arab general captured the West Bank and Gaza, was stony faced.

Cheers of delight roared from the crowd of 3,000 people assembled on the sun-soaked South Lawn.

The audience included former Presidents Carter and Bush, both instrumental in moving peace talks ahead. There were eight former secretaries of state, the Chief Justice, Supreme Court and most members of Congress as well as diplomats and Arab and Jewish leaders in the United States.

Jihan Sadat, the widow of Egyptian President Anwar Sadat, made the historic moment even more moving with peace with Israel, also was present.

Like the fall of the Berlin Wall and the collapse of the Soviet Union, a peace agreement between Israel and the PLO is another historic event that had seemed impossible.

Yet, after months of secret negotiations, Israel and the PLO last week recognized the right of Israel to live in peace and renounced violence; Israel in turn recognized the PLO as the representative of Palestinians.

The fast-moving chain of events is expected to continue Tuesday with announcement by Jordan and Israel at the State Department in a negotiating agency that could lead to a peace treaty and diplomatic relations.

The success of the Israeli-PLO agreement depends on the international community providing billions of dollars to develop the economy of the West Bank and Gaza. Clinton made clear he expects other nations to provide the financing.

The president pledged that the United States would try to nurture Monday's agreement into a broader peace throughout the Middle East.

"We know a difficult road lies ahead," Clinton said. "Every peace has its enemies, those who still prefer the easy habits of hatred to the hard labors of reconciliation."

The agreement faces formidable opposition among Israelis who fear their government has gone too far, and among Palestinians who accuse Arafat of accepting a sellout that falls short of a full Palestinian state.

After the ceremony, the administration underscored its commitment to Israel's security.

Martin Indyk, a Middle East specialist on the National Security Council staff, said the United States was discussing new aircraft sales to Israel.

Israel hasn't indicated what it wants, he said, but "there is no problem there."

Palestinians delirious, Israelis wary or unhappy

By KARIN LAUB
Associated Press

One minute. Thousands strained to catch the moment on the small TV and transistor radio on a stage in Jericho's main square. The next, they beat drums, waved flags and danced arm-in-arm as the sun disappeared behind the palms.

The throngs packing the streets of this once quiet oasis closed Monday clapped, cheered and sang when Israel and the PLO signed their landmark peace agreement.

"I feel so good inside," said Nasser Prince, a 28-year-old money changer. "I hope I and my children will be able to live in a real peace."

"Now we can be friends with the Israelis."

There were scattered demonstrations against the pact — more violence, more casualties. Only a small fraction of the region's hundreds of thousands of refugees took part in anti-peace displays. However, Mostly, joy surged across the occupied lands.

The celebrations were striking not only as a display of sheer delirium by a people fighting for years for a home land, but as a show of support for PLO chief Yasser Arafat.

Israel's military patrols in Jericho had orders to stay away so Palestinians could savour the historic day. Some Palestinians gave the soldiers flowers.

PLO activists, anxious to prevent that peace has been部署ed its own security force to keep the festivities as orderly as possible.

Hours before, a strike called by Arafat's foes of Arafat and the accord closed schools and kept cars from the streets in Gaza.

In Gaza City in the morning, fundamentalists lobbed stones at about 4,000 Palestinians waving flags and chanting support for the deal. But the crowd dwindled by nightfall. Similar large marches were held elsewhere in Gaza.

Israeli soldiers shot and slightly wounded 16 anti-pact demonstrators in clashes in Gaza Monday night. At Sha'i refugee camp, Israeli troops wounded 10 Hamas activists hurling stones at them from the roof of a mosque, Arab reporters and hospital officials said. In Gaza City, six other Palestinians were shot after stoning patrols.

Palestinian refugees living in neighboring Jordan and Syria tore up pictures of Arafat, burned Israeli flags, marched angrily through the streets and promised to wreck the PLO head office. In a northern suburb in Lebanon, security forces fired on protesters, killing seven and wounding 41.

In Iran, Tehran radio said "that "that has sold 98 percent of Palestinian lands to the Zionist regime." The clashes may have been an indication of things to come between rival factions but Monday night was Arafat's night. Posters of the chairman of the Palestinian Liberation Organization and T-shirts bearing his image were everywhere.

The Observer

is now accepting applications for the following paid position:

Purchase Agent

Please submit one to two statement of qualifications to Brian Kennedy by 5:00 p.m., Wednesday. If there are any questions, call 631-5313.

Train Your Brain

LSAT, MCA, GMAT & GRE.

Think your way to a higher score with Kaplan Total Training:

0 Live classes
0 The Training Library full of written and taped practice materials and actual released tests
0 Extra help sessions to raise your score you want
0 1-on-1 tutoring

For more information call 1-800-KAP-TEST
SMC plans for cable in television lounges

By KATIE CAPUTO
Saint Mary's Assistant News Editor

The Saint Mary's Residence Hall Association (RHA) has organized a proposal for cable access on campus and they hope to have the plan on the College's Senior Officers' agenda today, according to Tricia Wallace, RHA president.

The proposal asks the Senior Officers for cable access in all residence hall lounges and in the Haggerty Game Room, Wallace said.

The proposal also asks that the college pay for the initial installation of the cable, according to Patricia Warfield, advisory RHA. The hall councils and student government would then be responsible for the payments of the monthly bills.

Wallfield said that she would like to see students using the hall lounges more as gathering places in the residence halls.

"It would be nice to see students treat the TV lounges like they would their living rooms at home," Warfield said.

The college does not have an underground cable access system, so it will be a very expensive process to install, according to Warfield. Because of these expenses, Warfield is not "overly optimistic" that the Senior Officers will approve of the proposal, she added.

Saint Mary's students seem to support RHA's proposal. "I think it is a great idea because a lot of students are complaining about the lack of variety on their TVs," said McCandless Hall freshman Amy Laws.

She believes many students would be willing to pay the extra money if cable were offered.

A long-term goal for the proposal is to offer students a package in which they have the option to pay for cable in their own rooms, Warfield said.

Wallace said that since it is in the long-term plans for the college anyway, she hopes that they will install it now because of the current high demand.

If the Senior Officers review the proposal at today's meeting, RHA could get feedback from them as early as Friday, Wallace said.

The proposal asks the Senior Officers regarding cable installation in each residence hall is scheduled to be reviewed later today and a decision is expected by Friday, said Warfield. Sand volleyball courts making a debut on campus in the near future remains a possibility as well. The Senior Officers approved the proposal made by RHA last year. The issue will be voted on by RHA members in a matter of weeks, according to Warfield. One court will cost approximately $4,000.

The Saint Mary's Board of Governance (BOG) aids RHA financially and has given the organization $15,000 to work with this year, said Warfield. A portion of this will be given to each residence hall at the average of $4 per resident to provide various individual dorm activities.

In addition, RHA has donated $400 to the Saint Mary's MidWest Flood Relief. They have also sponsored the upcoming flood relief walk.

Since its establishment in 1991, RHA has been successful in updating numerous policies. Changes last year included the implementation of the new visitor policy. This policy required all visitors to be identified at the front desk during visits.

RHA was also responsible for the new dining hall hours, by proposing that it remain open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

DuLac revisions made

By JOHN LUCAS
Assistant News Editor

The recent revisions in DuLac will make the document easier to use and more helpful for students who will be referring to it, according to Assistant Vice-President for Student Affairs, Luke Woods.

We wanted to make duLac a more friendly document," Kirk said. "We tried to make it easier to read and more user friendly.

DuLac has been moved to the back, so that Student Affairs policies would be as easy to find as they would be to understand.

In comparison to many other universities, we've created a clear and concise document that has a fair depiction of the expectations for behavior at the University of Notre Dame," Kirk said.

Among the changes and additions made during the 1993 revision of DuLac were sections detailing support services for victims of rape and sexual assault. In addition to including steps for the prevention of rape and assault, the new sections helped to clarify the rights and options victims may exercise in the event of a rape, Kirk said.

The additions to the policies involving rape support services in DuLac brought Notre Dame into compliance with changes in federal law requiring sections that fully detailed procedures for victims and offenders.

The beige insert in the DuLac book detailing drug and alcohol policies was also a mandatory addition to policies established by the university's policy against hazing and are punishable by suspension or dismissal.

Provisions in DuLac were amended to make it easier for hall officials to organize SYR's, according to Kirk. The time needed to gain administration approval for SYR's was cut from five days to three.

Although students involved with the CLC had hoped to lower the rate of minimum participation in SYR from 70 percent to 50 percent, Kirk said that the policy will remain unchanged.

DuLac is back!

NOTRE DAME RECYCLING TRASH

General Information Meeting
Thursday, September 6
7:00 PM at the C.S.C.

Questions? call 1-9013

Interested in representing Notre Dame at your high school during Fall or Christmas Break?
Join the Undergraduate Schools Committee at one of the following organizational meetings:

Tuesday, September 14
Wednesday, September 15

All meetings begin at 7 pm, and are held in Hayes-Healy Auditorium (room 122)

New members need to attend one session.

Returning members need only to stop by one meeting to receive current information.

Any questions?
Call Jennifer Carrier at 631-7505 or Luke Woods at 634-3333.
Bosnians lose Hague appeal

By ABNER KATZMAN
Associated Press

THE HAGUE

The World Court on Monday refused to help Bosnia get military backing from other nations, but ordered Serb-dominated Yugoslavia to comply with an earlier ruling against genocide.

The U.N. court said its April 8 ruling must be immediately enforced. It is pending on voluntary compliance by Yugoslavia, who now control 70 percent of Bosnian territory, are blamed for the bulk of civilian atrocities and forced deportations as part of their self-declared "ethnic cleansing" policy.

Bosnia had sought a ruling that would have undermined the U.N.-imposed weapons embargo against Greater Yugoslavia, who now control 70 percent of Bosnian territory, are blamed for the bulk of civilian atrocities and forced deportations as part of their self-declared "ethnic cleansing" policy.

Bosnia, which lost its independence in 1992, was declared Great Food being served at the CSC on Sept. 16 from 5-7:30 pm.

Americans wounded in Somali skirmish

By REID G. MILLER
Associated Press

MOGADISHU, Somalia
American soldiers came under what they described as heavy sniper fire Monday and responded by calling in helicopter gunships -- returning far more than they got in an intense, two-hour firefight.

Three Americans were wounded, none seriously. A spokesman for fugitive warlord Mohamed Farrah Aidid said at least 25 Somalis were killed and many more wounded, including civilians.

Maj. David Stockwell, the chief U.N. military spokesman, denied a claim by Aidid's supporters that 12 Americans were killed. "Absolutely not, without a doubt," he said.

About 200 soldiers from the U.S. Quick Reaction Force came under fire after searching two walled compounds in southern Mogadishu and detaining 50 Somalis for questioning, said Stockwell and his assistant, Capt. Tim McDavitt.

"We suspected them to be gathering places for Aidid's militia," McDavitt said of the compounds.

A Blackhawk and a Cobra helicopter covering the operation returned the sniper fire with 60mm machine guns and 20mm cannons and a second Cobra was called in to lend support, Stockwell said.

Turkish armored personnel carriers also provided covering fire as the battle raged for two hours, with the shooting "fairly heavy at times," McDavitt said.

It was the second time in less than a week that the deadly Cobra gunships have been used to respond to attacks on U.N. troops.

Stockwell declined to say whether it represented a new policy. He emphasized that it was within the rules of engagement given U.N. troops in Somalia, who are authorized to shoot first and ask questions later if they consider their lives at risk.

American and Pakistani troops were ambushed as they were clearing roadblocks in Mogadishu last Thursday, and Cobras laid down a withering blanket of fire to help them retreat.

Aidid's supporters said at least 123 Somalis were killed in that battle, including women and children. The United Nations acknowledged that women were known to be among the some 200 militia members attacked by the gunships.

Aidid is wanted by the United Nations for a series of ambushes on June 5 that killed 24 Pakistani peacekeepers. He also has been blamed for scores of other attacks that have killed a total of 48 U.N. troops, including four Americans, and wounded more than 175.

To get one of these cards, students must be prepared to answer this multiple choice question.

A. AT&T Universal MasterCard

Offers the convenience of a MasterCard® credit card that's free of annual fees for life, plus an AT&T Calling Card that currently gives you a 10% discount on already competitive AT&T Calling Card rates.

B. AT&T Calling Card

Lets you make calls to or from almost anywhere at AT&T's low rates.

C. AT&T Custom Calling Card

Lets you call the numbers that you and your parents believe have the bill sent home.

Which is the best calling card for students? There are three schools of thought -- the AT&T Universal MasterCard, the AT&T Calling Card, and the AT&T Custom Calling Card. Each one offers personalized services to meet your needs. It's all part of The I Plan. Which means that no matter which card you choose, you can't fail.

To apply, come by our booth on campus or call 1 800 654-0471, Ext. 4125.

H.A.O. Dinner

Great Food being served at the CSC on Sept. 16 from 5-7:30 pm.
New York

Economically speaking, you might begin to feel rather dismal about your real conditions and dismayed, explained.

The mission and opportunities of the Notre Dame's Entrepreneur Club was the topic of the 1994 school year last night in the Student Union Ballroom.

Following an introduction of the club by students, attendeess heard Ray Siegfried, Notre Dame graduate and entrepreneur. Siegfried spent a bout of entrepreneurship which have major ramifications on success in business, as well as life.

Siegfried addresses students on keys to business success

By PIERRE McGILLIS

The mission and opportunities of the Notre Dame's Entrepreneur Club was the topic of the 1994 school year last night in the Student Union Ballroom.

Following an introduction of the club by students, attendees heard Ray Siegfried, Notre Dame graduate and entrepreneur. Siegfried spent about a bout of entrepreneurship which have major ramifications on success in business, as well as life.

Siegfried addresses students on keys to business success

By PIERRE McGILLIS

The mission and opportunities of the Notre Dame's Entrepreneur Club was the topic of the 1994 school year last night in the Student Union Ballroom.

Following an introduction of the club by students, attendees heard Ray Siegfried, Notre Dame graduate and entrepreneur. Siegfried spent about a bout of entrepreneurship which have major ramifications on success in business, as well as life.

Siegfried addresses students on keys to business success

By PIERRE McGILLIS

The mission and opportunities of the Notre Dame's Entrepreneur Club was the topic of the 1994 school year last night in the Student Union Ballroom.

Following an introduction of the club by students, attendees heard Ray Siegfried, Notre Dame graduate and entrepreneur. Siegfried spent about a bout of entrepreneurship which have major ramifications on success in business, as well as life.

Siegfried addresses students on keys to business success

By PIERRE McGILLIS

The mission and opportunities of the Notre Dame's Entrepreneur Club was the topic of the 1994 school year last night in the Student Union Ballroom.

Following an introduction of the club by students, attendees heard Ray Siegfried, Notre Dame graduate and entrepreneur. Siegfried spent about a bout of entrepreneurship which have major ramifications on success in business, as well as life.

Siegfried addresses students on keys to business success

By PIERRE McGILLIS

The mission and opportunities of the Notre Dame's Entrepreneur Club was the topic of the 1994 school year last night in the Student Union Ballroom.

Following an introduction of the club by students, attendees heard Ray Siegfried, Notre Dame graduate and entrepreneur. Siegfried spent about a bout of entrepreneurship which have major ramifications on success in business, as well as life.

Siegfried addresses students on keys to business success

By PIERRE McGILLIS

The mission and opportunities of the Notre Dame's Entrepreneur Club was the topic of the 1994 school year last night in the Student Union Ballroom.

Following an introduction of the club by students, attendees heard Ray Siegfried, Notre Dame graduate and entrepreneur. Siegfried spent about a bout of entrepreneurship which have major ramifications on success in business, as well as life.
Poor habits fuel decadence

Chastising you for not putting your aluminum cans in the recycling bins around campus would be like chastising a child for sucking her left thumb rather than right. In other words, you should not have to recycle, rather, you should simply not buy.

If Coca-Cola dropped off the face of the planet (along with McDonald's, and every other fast food establishment for that matter) would we really be losing anything? Absolutely not.

Then why do corporations like Coca-Cola and McDonald's exist? Because consumers like yourselves are duped into believing that you somehow need a Coke or a Big Mac.

Notre Dame students, in fact, epitomize American consumerism. You shop at the mall which destroyed your local inner cities, and in national chains like Gap and J. Crew rather than at locally owned businesses that will keep their earnings in the South Bend economy.

You buy your soft drink before class when water would not only save you money but would be an infinitely healthier alternative. You consume alcohol on the weekends, but dogs during football games, and hamburgers in the dining halls when you could easily do without.

You pay $20 to submit your resume at Career and Placement so you can interview for a job that will make you a lot of money when you graduate. You major in business, management and accounting so you can become prosperous in a short amount of time.

Of course, then you will begin to donate money to charities, and more than likely to the least needy charity of all—Notre Dame.

The purpose here is not to derogate all Notre Dame students, but simply to point out the absolutely ridiculous lives you lead. Not only do most of you strive for such a lifestyle, but you fail to realize its sheer unsustainability.

The earth is not necessarily polluted because of the McDonald's and Coca-Colas in the world, but because of people who continue to unnecessarily consume.

So the next time you are about to buy something, whether it be a beer, a hamburger, or a new leather weave belt, think about whether or not you really need it. Think about how it was made. With what labor? Where? With what natural resources?

Consider the implications of your consumption of that product, and realize the power of one dollar to change the world—not because it is a dollar that can be saved, but because it is a dollar that can be saved.

Stephen Zavestoski is an earth dweller from the Pacific coastal bioregion.

DOONESBURY

CLASS OF 1997—MAY I OFFICIALLY WELCOME YOU TO THE FELLOWSHIP OF THIS COLLEGE....

WHEN I USE THE WORD "FELLOWSHIP" OF COURSE, I MEAN AN IDEAL THAT IN RECENT YEARS HAVE MURDERERS COME UNDER...

I SPEAK TO YOU FRIENDS WITH SINCERE HOPE THAT YOUR YOUTHFUL IDEALISM HAS NOT BEEN DAMAGED BY THE INTELLIGENCE AND RESISTANCE COMMON ON CAMPUSS TODAY....

HEY 10, NOT THAT AN INVOLUTINGLY RACIST STATEMENT I MIGHT BE...

Tigger, the tiger

“T" heir tops are made out of rubber, their bottoms are made out of springs...”
Freddy Jones Band performs debut album at Heartland

By ROLANDO DE AGUIAR
Music Critic

They like to say that they are not the Grateful Dead.
But the members of the Freddy Jones Band sure do a good imitation.

Rolling into Michiana on the latest leg of their plan for world domination, the group will play at Heartland Wednesday night, a sort of homecoming to South Bend.

The quintet, who toured this summer with such Dead disciples as Blues Traveler and Col. Bruce Hampton and the Aquarium Rescue Unit, cannot be replicated.
But the Freddy Jones band traces its roots to old country music as well as the Allman Brothers. In June, the group inked a deal with Capricorn records, a Warner Brothers-associated label based near Nashville, Tenn.
Perhaps Heartland is just hick enough.

Despite those unexpected points of reference, the Dead are certainly the band's most significant influence. Keeping with the legendary group's ideal of constant touring, the Freddy Jones Band has been on the road for much of its career.
And, following the path laid by other Dead establishments like Phish and Blues Traveler, the group has lined up Justin Ninbank to produce their major label debut, which will be released in late September or early October.

The Freddy Jones Band's self-titled debut, a self-produced slab of vinyl released last summer, was a mellow affair. Full of folksy guitar strumming and good-time vibes, it sounded like what the band's fans imagine the music sounded like during the summer of love.

But though that album was the soundtrack to a hallucination, the Freddy Jones Band live is turned up a notch or two.
The band live, according to all reports, is a little louder, a little more raucous, and a little more fun.

Just what everyone wishes a Grateful Dead show would be.

---

Tripping Daisy’s music earns national recognition

Combining Chicago's Smashing Pumpkins and the legendary band Pink Floyd would produce a sound similar to that of Tripping Daisy, except that Tripping Daisy has a sound that cannot be replicated.

Signed to Island Records in March of 1993, this new band out of Dallas has won nationwide attention with their 10 track debut "Bill".

The characteristic of this band that catches attention is the fact that they are true musicians. Tim DeLaughter, 27, catches the attention of the listener immediately with a powerful three line solo in the beginning of the first track titled "My Umbrella".

Guitarist Wes Berggren, 21, bassist Mark Pirre, 22, and drummer Bryan Wakeland quickly follow suit to bring the listener to a new level in music.

"My Umbrella" is a raw, hard edged tune that sets the stage for the rest of the CD. It's an upbeat song and lets the world know that they've arrived and are not going to be quiet about it.

Their upbeat attitude heard in "My Umbrella" carries over through the entire CD. They're a very entertaining band that has something new to say with each song. "Change of Mind" presents a change of pace and style for Tripping Daisy in the fourth track. They make a dramatic switch from a very fast paced, hard sound to a dreamy, psychedelic, trance-like sound.

Two tracks later, when the listener thinks the rest of the CD will continue on at the subdued pace represented in "Change of Mind". "On the Ground", and "The Morning", they switch again and wake the listener up as from a dream. They continually keep the listener guessing as to what will come next.

"Lost and Found" are two songs that make the listener want to sit back and take a break from the pressures of college life.

Not only are they songs that keep the attention of the listener, they also present excellent musicianship. These two songs in particular indicate the raw talent that Tripping Daisy has. Many times, bands feel it's up to them to make social commentaries about the decline of morals in America or other related topics, and that's fine if you're in a thinking mood.

This CD holds the social commentaries down to a minimum with two tracks titled "Blown Away" and "Triangle", a look at television evangelists. They have a sound that will soon catch on nationwide, and represent themselves well on "Bill".

---

Medical Minute

By RYAN J. GRABOW
FMT - B/W

Most of us have had one of those hangovers after a night of drunken revelry. In Germany this experience is referred to as katzenjammer (cat crying). But the members of the Freddy Jones Band know that they've avoided this. But the Freddy Jones band will play at Heartland this Wednesday. The band has signed with Capricorn Records, a Warner Brothers-associated label.

The Freddy Jones Band performs debut album at Heartland

Photo courtesy of the Freddy Jones Band

Photo of Freddy Jones Band

---

MUSIC REVIEW

Tripping Daisy’s music earns national recognition

Combining Chicago's Smashing Pumpkins and the legendary band Pink Floyd would produce a sound similar to that of Tripping Daisy, except that Tripping Daisy has a sound that cannot be replicated.

Signed to Island Records in March of 1993, this new band out of Dallas has won nationwide attention with their 10 track debut "Bill".

The characteristic of this band that catches attention is the fact that they are true musicians. Tim DeLaughter, 27, catches the attention of the listener immediately with a powerful three line solo in the beginning of the first track titled "My Umbrella".

Guitarist Wes Berggren, 21, bassist Mark Pirre, 22, and drummer Bryan Wakeland quickly follow suit to bring the listener to a new level in music.

"My Umbrella" is a raw, hard edged tune that sets the stage for the rest of the CD. It's an upbeat song and lets the world know that they've arrived and are not going to be quiet about it.

Their upbeat attitude heard in "My Umbrella" carries over through the entire CD. They're a very entertaining band that has something new to say with each song. "Change of Mind" presents a change of pace and style for Tripping Daisy in the fourth track. They make a dramatic switch from a very fast paced, hard sound to a dreamy, psychedelic, trance-like sound.

Two tracks later, when the listener thinks the rest of the CD will continue on at the subdued pace represented in "Change of Mind". "On the Ground", and "The Morning", they switch again and wake the listener up as from a dream. They continually keep the listener guessing as to what will come next.

"Lost and Found" are two songs that make the listener want to sit back and take a break from the pressures of college life.

Not only are they songs that keep the attention of the listener, they also present excellent musicianship. These two songs in particular indicate the raw talent that Tripping Daisy has. Many times, bands feel it's up to them to make social commentaries about the decline of morals in America or other related topics, and that's fine if you're in a thinking mood.

This CD holds the social commentaries down to a minimum with two tracks titled "Blown Away" and "Triangle", a look at television evangelists. They have a sound that will soon catch on nationwide, and represent themselves well on "Bill".

---

Medical Minute

By RYAN J. GRABOW
FMT - B/W

Most of us have had one of those hangovers after a night of drunken revelry. In Germany this experience is referred to as katzenjammer (cat crying). But the members of the Freddy Jones Band know that they've avoided this.
Rypien might only miss one game with knee injury

By MATT JANCE
Associated Press

ASHBURN, Va. — Mark Rypien hopes a break in the Washington schedule will enable him to miss only one game—this Sunday against the Detroit Lions—because of his knee injury.

"Having only one game in the next three weeks, I’m geared up for that Monday night in Miami," the Washington quarterback said Monday after doctors found a partially torn medial collateral ligament in his right knee and prescribed a three-to-six week layup.

When the Eagles are off for a week before playing the Dolphins on Oct. 4. Even if Rypien recovers in time, he would miss only two other games and the Giants on Oct. 10 and at home on Phoenix Oct. 17.

"I would look toward the short side," said Dr. Charles Jackson, the Redskins’ orthopedic consultant. "We’d treat him for multiple things before his doctor knew, his ankle, his shoulder. He’s exceedingly tough and knows how you knock him out of a game. Jackson said the injury is not as serious as the sprain of his left ankle that kept him out of six games in 1990.

No surgery will be required this time, although Rypien will have a protective brace the rest of the season.

"Under the circumstances it’s about what we could’ve hoped for," said coach Rich Kotite, who in August lost his top offensive lineman, Jim Lachey, then lost a season to a severed anterior cruciate ligament in his left knee.

An MRI exam Monday on Rypien showed no damage to either the anterior or posterior cruciate ligaments, but confirmed the knee injury.

The 30-year-old 1992 Super Bowl MVP suffered the injury in the Redskins’ 10-8 loss to the Cardinals when he was tackled by Eric Swan after scrambling for a few yard downfield in the second quarter.

The Observer accepts classifieds every business day from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Observer office, 1125 W. Lane and Pasadena Ave., Pasadena. Deadline. Don’t add titles or abbreviations to your ads. All classifieds must be prepaid. If change is less than $4, you must pay in cash. To place your classifieds call 271-8868.

My parents are coming out for the Washington quarterback said Monday after doctors found a partially torn medial collateral ligament in his right knee and prescribed a three-to-six week layup.

When the Eagles are off for a week before playing the Dolphins on Oct. 4. Even if Rypien recovers in time, he would miss only two other games and the Giants on Oct. 10 and at home on Phoenix Oct. 17.

"I would look toward the short side," said Dr. Charles Jackson, the Redskins’ orthopedic consultant. "We’d treat him for multiple things before his doctor knew, his ankle, his shoulder. He’s exceedingly tough and knows how you knock him out of a game. Jackson said the injury is not as serious as the sprain of his left ankle that kept him out of six games in 1990.

No surgery will be required this time, although Rypien will have a protective brace the rest of the season.

"Under the circumstances it’s about what we could’ve hoped for," said coach Rich Kotite, who in August lost his top offensive lineman, Jim Lachey, then lost a season to a severed anterior cruciate ligament in his left knee.

An MRI exam Monday on Rypien showed no damage to either the anterior or posterior cruciate ligaments, but confirmed the knee injury.

The 30-year-old 1992 Super Bowl MVP suffered the injury in the Redskins’ 10-8 loss to the Cardinals when he was tackled by Eric Swan after scrambling for a few yard downfield in the second quarter.

The Observer accepts classifieds every business day from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Observer office, 1125 W. Lane and Pasadena Ave., Pasadena. Deadline. Don’t add titles or abbreviations to your ads. All classifieds must be prepaid. If change is less than $4, you must pay in cash. To place your classifieds call 271-8868.
By RON LESKO
Associated Press

SOUTH BEND, Ind. Mike Trgovac's loyalties crashed head-on in the locker room before Notre Dame played Michigan last weekend. The emotional, wet-eyed speech that followed ignited two upsets.

With his passion for the Notre Dame-Michigan series flowing like the tears from his eyes, the Michigan-star-turn-Malcolm-White-against-Notre-Dame-coach whirled the underdog Irish into the frenzy that carried them to Saturday's 27-23 win.

"I was never so emotionally charged hours before a game," said Notre Dame linebacker Peter Berich, the most fiery player on the Irish defense. "I came out pumped up, with tears in my eyes and everything."

Trgovac, 34, Notre Dame's assistant head coach and defensive line coach, wouldn't reveal Monday exactly what he said to the team. He said Lou Holtz gave him about a minute to prepare for the speech, and he recounted his feelings for the 106-year-old rivalry.

"I just had to say the first thing that came to mind," Trgovac said. "I just told them a little bit about the history of the game. It got me fired up."

Trgovac joined the Irish staff last year after stints as an assistant at Michigan, Navy, Ball State and Colorado State.

It was Trgovac's first trip as a coach to Michigan Stadium, where he twice earned All-Big Ten honors as a Wolverine noseguard from 1977-80. He had to resist the urge to run across the field to the home team's bench when he entered the stadium.

"It was difficult to say the least," Trgovac said of his return to Ann Arbor. "It was kind of funny walking out of the tunnel and stopping so fast. It was a lot of weird feelings."

The speech was not a wall-punching, chair-throwing tirade, he said. It was simply the heartfelt emotion of an excitable man who loves the game and has strong feelings on both sides of the Notre Dame-Michigan rivalry.

While the speech helped the Irish upset Michigan, Holtz said Trgovac's speech also set a new standard for locker room inspiration.

Holtz compared the speech to the 1928 address in which Notre Dame coach Knute Rockne used the dying words of former Irish star George Gipp to spark an upset of Army.

"We were at an emotional peak," Holtz said. "Knute Rockne's speech on the Gipper is now No. 2 on the all-time list behind Mike Trgovac's locker room speech up at Ann Arbor."

SPORTS BRIEFS

The Men's Volleyball club team will be holding tryouts on Sunday, September 19 and Monday, September 20 from 7-10 p.m. in the JACC Pit. For further information call Matt Wellmann, 631-4600.

Officials Meeting for Real Sports football is Thursday, September 23 at 7:30 p.m. at the football auditorium by Gate 2 of the JACC. Ultimate Club will be holding a practice at 2 p.m. on Sunday at the Stephon Field. All are welcome.

SportsTalk returns with guests Derrick Mayes and members of the women's volleyball team tonight at 8:00 p.m. on WVFJ 640 AM. Join hosts Greg Eaves and Norah Cooper and call in with questions and comments at 631-6400.

Women's safety and self-defense Classes begin Monday, September 13. Ten sessions on Mondays and Wednesdays from 6:30-7:45 in Rockne room 219. Class size limited and open to all students. Faculty/Staff and requires a $5 fee.

Shorn-RYU Karate. Classes begin Monday, September 13 and run throughout the semester on Mondays and Wednesdays from 4:30-6:00 and requires a BIG fee.

Anyone interested in playing Club Hockey please contact Bob Cast. Leave name, number and year.

Anyone interested in officiating flag football, there will be a mandatory meeting tonight at 6 p.m. in the JACC auditorium.

ND WOMEN SPEAK OUT

Student Government's Women's Concerns Commissions has formed a new organization to address gender issues on campus.

The group is called "ND Women Speak Out". "Speak Out" is designed to promote awareness of women's concerns and to examine issues related to gender. The first meeting will be held on Monday, September 20 at 7:30 pm in 101 DeBartolo, and will feature speakers, poetry reading, and music.

The entire ND community is encouraged to become a part of "ND Women Speak Out", and all are invited to the first meeting. At the end of the meeting an open microphone will be available to anyone who wants to speak out on gender issues. Those interested in helping the group should call Women's Concerns Commissioner Katie Glynn in the Student Government Office. With her help, the women of Notre Dame can make their voices heard.

BOOK FAIR A HUGE SUCCESS

One week after Student Government's first ever Book Fair, students are calling the event a huge success. The event, held at Stepan Center during the first week of school, sold $23,000 worth of books for sale.

The Book Fair was part of the campaign platform of Student Body President Jon Kress and Vice-President Frank Flynn and Nikki Wellmann.

The Fair will be held again next semester. Student Government is currently exploring ways to make the event even more convenient for students.

CARD OFFERS BIG SAVINGS

College students are always looking for a way to save a dollar here or there. This year, Student Government has made it a little easier for bargain hunters with the introduction of the Fighting Irish Savings Card. The card is free. It looks like a gold credit card and works like a re-usable coupon. It offers discounts and deals at businesses frequented by the ND Community.

LOOKING FOR A JOB???

If you are looking for a job, the ND Job Network is here for you. The Network was established last spring by Student Government to help ND students find summer jobs, internships, and even permanent positions.

The service is free and can be accessed from any campus computer cluster. The Network links alumni seeking employees and students seeking work. It also offers a number of alumni willing to talk to students about their careers.
Moeller and Michigan ponder loss of national title hope

By HARRY ATKINS

ANN ARBOR, Mich.

You have just watched your football team kiss away the mythical national championship for what seems like the 15th straight year. What do you do?

A. Bang your head against the wall.
B. Go home and kick the dog.
C. Howl at Gary Moeller the moon.
D. None of the above.

If you are Gary Moeller, you give each of the first three choices serious consideration. Then reality sets in. You look for ways to make your team better.

"You go back," Moeller said Monday, two days after his Michigan team was upset 27-23 by Notre Dame. "You don't feel sorry for yourself. You don't feel sorry for your players."

"You don't want to accept defeat. But I don't want to be a jerk about it, either."

There are many theories about the Wolverines' defeat, which dropped them from third to 10th in this week's AP poll. The air waves were humming all weekend. Callers to radio talk shows blamed everything and everybody. Blocking by the tight ends, sloppy tackling, conservative play-calling. Take your pick. Or pick your own villain.

"You always second-guess yourself," Moeller said. "But I wouldn't change much.

"People will say you were overconfident and this and that. Yes, I guess you could say that. But what I saw was a lot of kids who tried very hard. They just didn't do it very smartly."

The unexpected defeat came in just the second game of the season. So the big question now is whether Moeller can get his players mentally prepared to play hard the rest of the way. Can he convince them that the Big Ten title is a worthwhile goal?

"I don't think that's going to be a problem," Moeller said. "You'd be lying if you said you thought about the national championship but didn't say it. But, maybe we should do it and talk about it later."

"Maybe we were overconfident. But I can't say I saw a lot of guys standing around." And he bristled at the suggestion that a national championship is the only goal a college football team like Michigan should shoot for, that nobody really cares who wins the Big Ten title.

"I'm sure the game is going to be tough," Moeller said.

---

Ex-Irish assistant leads Wisconsin

Associated Press

MADISON, Wis.

Wisconsin Coach Barry Alvarez on Monday praised his defense despite the 374 total yards Southern Methodist amassed in its 24-16 loss to the Badgers in Dallas Saturday night.

"The bottom line is not how many yards they throw for, it's how many points they put on the board," Alvarez said. "I'm pleased with the progress of our secondary."

Alvarez said he was happy for his players and UW alumni that Wisconsin advanced to No. 24 in the Associated Press weekly football poll. It marked the first time since 1984 that the Badgers were rated in the top 25 by the AP.

"They have gained some respect," the coach said of his players. And the rating will give the alumni a chance to "beat on their chests at the office or whatever," he said.

"I was very pleased the way our team reacted Saturday night," the coach said. "They battled the elements. It was 95 degrees. (The performance) was really outstanding," he said.

Alvarez cautioned that the team must concentrate on Saturday's game with Iowa State in Camp Randall Saturday because the rating "is not going to mean anything" against the Cyclones.

Iowa State Coach Jim Warden has said this year's team is the best he has had in his seven years as head coach of the Big Eight school. Two years ago, the Cyclones lost 7-6 to Wisconsin, as the Badgers blocked Ty Stewart's 33-yard field goal attempt with 15 seconds to go.

Running back Brent Moss said the victory in Dallas was proof the Badgers can win away from home even if they have to battle from behind. The victory was only the second on the road for Alvarez, now in his fourth year as Wisconsin coach.

"We really don't need a crowd to get us psyched up," said Moss, who rushed for a career-high 181 yards against the Mustangs.

Moss, recalling the one-point victory over Iowa State two years ago, said there can be no letdown Saturday.

"I'm sure the game is going to be tough," Moss said.
 Packers' Noble out for season

GREEN BAY, Wis.

First they lost a fourth-quarter lead and then a game to the Philadelphia Eagles. On Monday, the Green Bay Packers learned they had lost their leading tackler for the remainder of the season.

Linebacker Brian Noble, a team leader and veteran of nine seasons, ruptured the patellar tendon and also tore ligaments in his right knee Sunday and will need two surgeries.

The first operation to fix the tendon will be performed this week, probably Wednesday, coach Mike Holmgren said.

"It will be a long process," Holmgren said. "He was off to a good start and he was building in the right direction. It's a shame.

Holmgren said he was told by team doctor, Patrick McKenzie that the injury should not end the 31-year-old Noble's career.

"Dr. McKenzie feels he can repair it and it will be OK, but it will take time," Holmgren said.

Cleveland frustrates Young in upset

By CHUCK MELVIN

CLEVELAND

The Cleveland Browns could think of no better test.

And after three painful losing seasons, the Browns proved Monday night they can play with the best again, beating the San Francisco 49ers 23-13 in the biggest victory of Bill Belichick's three years as coach.

The Browns (2-0) did it with defense, intercepting three passes from Steve Young, forcing him to fumble once, and blocking a field goal. San Francisco also muffed a 40-yard field goal attempt when holder Klaus Wilmsmeyer juggled the snap with 4:32 to play.

The 49ers (1-1) did not score in the second half. Cleveland's James Jones, a defensive tackle with a taste for the end zone, turned the game around with a 1-yard TD run in the second quarter, and Bernie Kosar and Michael Jackson teamed on a 30-yard scoring pass that put Cleveland ahead for good just 35 seconds before halftime.

Jackson also dropped a potential touchdown pass on the Browns' very first play, and Kosar overthrew him on another early in the fourth quarter.

Young, still bothered by a fractured thumb sustained during preseason, was intercepted three times for the second straight week, and two of the three led to Cleveland scores.

The loss stopped the 49ers' nine-game regular-season winning streak. It was only the second loss in the last 13 Monday night games for San Francisco. Matt Stover kicked three field goals for Cleveland. Mike Cofer had two for the 49ers, and a third try — a 37-yarder on San Francisco's best chance of the third quarter — was blocked by Rob Burnett.

Marc Logan, filling in for injured Tom Rathman, scored the 49ers' only touchdown on a 4-yard run in the second quarter. San Francisco also played without injured defensive lineman Ken Norton Jr., and it lost receiver Odessa Turner for part of the game. Turner left because of a concussion that resulted from a scary collision with Cleveland's Eric Turner early in the third quarter.

The 49ers outgained the Browns by a 3-to-1 ratio for much of the first half, but interceptions by Clay Matthews and Salmon Jones snuffed a couple of possessions.

Growing more confident as the game progressed, the Cleveland defense kept the Niners out of scoring territory most of the second half. Eric Turner intercepted a pass, and Jerry Ball and Michael Dean Perry — the anchors of the defense — teamed to shake the ball loose from Young and stop the 49ers after they'd penetrated to the 25-yard line midway through the fourth quarter.

Jones capped an 80-yard Cleveland drive with a 1-yard TD run on a play that caught San Francisco off guard.

Jones frequently lines up as a blocking back on short-yardage plays, an alignment popularized by Chicago's William Perry in the 1980s.

Not even your local diet center offers reductions like this.

As you wish imports

Many new hand crafted accessories, clothing and jewelry from:

- Nepal
- Mexico
- Peru
- India
- Guatemala

Almost Wholesale Prices!

LaFortune - Sorin Room
September 13 - 18 (Sat.)
10:30 am — 5 pm

The Observer • PRO FOOTBALL

Tuesday, September 14, 1993

page 15
Absence of Smith just the beginning of Cowboy woes

By DENNIE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press

IRVING, Texas
Dallas Cowboys coach Jimmy Johnson, addressing a problem he can do nothing about, said Monday he has summoned eight kickers for a tryout to find a replacement for Emmitt Smith being with us.

But there's a hole in the dressing room wall courtesy of defensive end Charles Haley. It symbolized the frustrations and near revolt of the Cowboys players who feel they can't defend their Super Bowl championship without Smith.

"We'll never win with a rookie running back," said Haley, who imbedded his helmet in the wall. "We need to either get Emmitt here or they've got to get rid of him.

"There's a huge cloud hanging over this team," safety Bill Bates said. "Troy Aikman was forced to pass 45 times and was intercepted twice in Sunday's 13-10 loss to the Buffalo Bills because rookie Derrick Lassie couldn't

Johnson would not name the kicker coming to Valley Ranch at eight kickers with (kicking) credentials tomorrow. Elliott has resolved but I'm going to look for a replacement.

Now a replacement for the Buffalo Bills.

"We've been in a position to win two football games," said Wannstedt Monday following the 10-7 loss at Minnesota.

Jim McMahon's 16-yard touchdown pass to Cris Carter midway through the fourth quarter turned it around Sunday after the Bears had led 7-3 most of the way. A week earlier, the Bears led 20-19 and lost 26-20 to the New York Giants on a touchdown pass with 1:07 to play.

"We looked at the films and from the effort standpoint, nothing has changed," said Wannstedt. "The guys put it on the line on every play and played as hard as they could. In the first half we did not take advantage of our opportunities and in the second half we had our backs against the wall.

The offense managed just 140 yards.

"Our kicking game and defense kept us in the game," Wannstedt said. "We've been close in every game and we're going to get it turned around.

It will be two weeks before Wannstedt gets another shot at his first victory as a head coach. The Bears have a week off before taking on Tampa Bay on Sept. 26.

Wannstedt welcomes the break.

"A month ago I wouldn't have wanted it but because of all the injuries, it comes at a perfect time, not only to regroup but to get some players back.

"Among the players he would most like to see return are tackle Troy Auzenne (knee) and guard Wojciechowski (ankle) so that quarterback Jim Harbaugh could get better protection.

"Jim couldn't get his feet set before he had someone hanging on his back," said Wannstedt. "A couple of times he could have thrown to different receivers but most of the time he couldn't get set.

Wannstedt was encouraged by the defense, which held the Vikings to 273 total yards. "If you can hold people to 10 points and under 300 yards, you should win a majority of your games," he said.

"We have to try to get the ball downfield," said Wannstedt. "We have to take more chances in our passing game. By that I don't mean risk turnovers. The game still comes down to turnovers.

He was pleased with the effort of tailback Neal Anderson, who made his first start against the Vikings. Anderson, bothered by a groin injury, had 13 carries for 60 yards and caught 3 passes for 11 yards. But he made most of his yardage in the first half.

Wannstedt optimistic despite losses

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press

LAKE FOREST, Ill. - Coach Dave Wannstedt knows his Chicago Bears have not looked good in their first two losses, but he still feels both games could have been won.

"We've been in a position to win two football games," said Wannstedt Monday following the 10-7 loss at Minnesota.

Jim McMahon's 16-yard touchdown pass to Cris Carter midway through the fourth quarter turned it around Sunday after the Bears had led 7-3 most of the way. A week earlier, the Bears led 20-19 and lost 26-20 to the New York Giants on a touchdown pass with 1:07 to play.

"We looked at the films and from the effort standpoint, nothing has changed," said Wannstedt. "The guys put it on the line on every play and played as hard as they could. In the first half we did not take advantage of our opportunities and in the second half we had our backs against the wall.

The offense managed just 140 yards.

"Our kicking game and defense kept us in the game," Wannstedt said. "We've been close in every game and we're going to get it turned around.

It will be two weeks before Wannstedt gets another shot at his first victory as a head coach. The Bears have a week off before taking on Tampa Bay on Sept. 26.

Wannstedt welcomes the break.

"A month ago I wouldn't have wanted it but because of all the injuries, it comes at a perfect time, not only to regroup but to get some players back.

"Among the players he would most like to see return are tackle Troy Auzenne (knee) and guard Wojciechowski (ankle) so that quarterback Jim Harbaugh could get better protection.

"Jim couldn't get his feet set before he had someone hanging on his back," said Wannstedt. "A couple of times he could have thrown to different receivers but most of the time he couldn't get set.

Wannstedt was encouraged by the defense, which held the Vikings to 273 total yards. "If you can hold people to 10 points and under 300 yards, you should win a majority of your games," he said.

"We have to try to get the ball downfield," said Wannstedt. "We have to take more chances in our passing game. By that I don't mean risk turnovers. The game still comes down to turnovers.

He was pleased with the effort of tailback Neal Anderson, who made his first start against the Vikings. Anderson, bothered by a groin injury, had 13 carries for 60 yards and caught 3 passes for 11 yards. But he made most of his yardage in the first half.

FINANCE CLUB

FIRST MEETING

Tuesday, Sept. 14
7:00 pm
24 Hayes-Healy

All club members and interested students are welcome to come.

Important information about Career Night and upcoming Club activities.

Please bring $5 dues.
Amazing Braves take over first place

By BERNIE WILSON
Associated Press

SAN DIEGO
On July 23, the Atlanta Braves trailed San Francisco by 10 games. Just 7 1/2 weeks later, they've taken a one-game lead over the Giants and play 13 of their final 18 games at home.

"We feel really good about ourselves right now, and no matter where we play, we feel like we can win," said left fielder Ron Gant, who went 7-for-17 with two homers and nine RBIs in a weekend series at San Diego. "If we can keep that attitude and do what we've done on this trip, we'll be all right."

Atlanta, 49-26 on the road this season, went 5-2 on its Southern California swing, taking two of three in Los Angeles and three of four in San Diego. They Braves, who have won 26 of their last 32 games, return to their tomahawk-chopping fans on this trip, we'll be all right."

They Braves, who have won 26 of their last 32 games, return to Los Angeles, 49-26 on the road this season, went 5-2 on its Southern California swing, taking two of three in Los Angeles and three of four in San Diego. They Braves, who have won 26 of their last 32 games, return to the St. Louis Cardinals. The Braves moved into sole possession of first when San Francisco lost Saturday, then tied the one-game lead with a 13-1 rout of the Padres that night. A 5-4 loss to San Diego on Sunday kept the Braves from going 6-0 over the Giants and play 13 of their final 18 games at home.

"We feel really good about ourselves right now, and no matter where we play, we feel like we can win," said left fielder Ron Gant, who went 7-for-17 with two homers and nine RBIs in a weekend series at San Diego. "If we can keep that attitude and do what we've done on this trip, we'll be all right."

Atlanta, 49-26 on the road this season, went 5-2 on its Southern California swing, taking two of three in Los Angeles and three of four in San Diego. They Braves, who have won 26 of their last 32 games, return to the St. Louis Cardinals. The Braves moved into sole possession of first when San Francisco lost Saturday, then tied the one-game lead with a 13-1 rout of the Padres that night. A 5-4 loss to San Diego on Sunday kept the Braves from going two games consecutively for us to do it.

Atlanta follows the Reds' series with three games against the lowly New York Mets. The Braves, one of only three major league teams to have won more than a .500 record since the All-Star break, will face the Mets, who have won just 21 of their last 68 games. The Mets are 3-12 in their last 15 games and have lost 10 of their last 11.

"It's just that we like playing on the road," David Justice said. "I think we're a more relaxed and comfortable team on the road. So, basically, we can't wait to get right back on the road.

Justice, who went 4-for-5 with an RBI on Sunday, is already looking toward next week, when the Braves play three games at Montreal and three at NL East-leading Philadelphia.

"Both teams play us pretty well," Justice said. "That will be very important as well as the games at home. I think those will be the telling series. But we do need to play well at home to win the West.

The Braves are getting mixed reviews from other players in the NL.

Phil Plantier, who hit a two-run double off Steve Avery in a five-run fourth inning Sunday, felt lucky the Padres finally broke through against the Braves' vaunted pitching.

"These guys, with their pitching staff, I can't see anybody giving them a run," Plantier said. "The pitchers just keep coming at you. Once you get by one, it just doesn't stop."

Before beating Avery, the Padres lost to John Smoltz, Greg Maddux and were held to one hit against Kent Mercker, Mark Wohlers and Greg McMichael in the series opener. St. Louis' Ozzie Smith acknowledged that pitching kept the Braves close until they got slugger Fred McGriff in a trade with the Padres July 18.

"The thing now is for the Giants to not lose total control," Smith said. "They can't lose their composure."

Dave Justice has been a happy man lately, as his Braves have overtaken the Giants for first place in the NL west.

Appalachia Seminar

- Service learning at one of eleven sites in the Appalachian region
- Student-directed service/reflection
- One-credit Theology

New Women, New Church

- Explore the changing role of women in the Church, and related issues of service
- Experiential learning in Chicago at various sites, with women in social ministry
- One-credit Theology or Gender Studies

Washington Seminar

National Service: Institutional Questions and Future Potentials?

- Direct contact with political, agency, and church leaders in Washington, D.C.
- Includes service and political awareness opportunities
- One credit Theology

Applications Available Now at the CSC

Applications Due: Tuesday, Sept. 21, 1993

Rijo a possible Cy Young candidate despite Reds losses

Associated Press

CINCINNATI
Jose Rijo has almost all the numbers necessary to win the Cy Young Award. The only one he's missing is the only one he can't do anything about—wins. Blame his Cincinnati Reds teammates for that.

Rijo is one of the National League's most dominant pitchers, leading in strikeouts (197) and earned run average (2.45). He has allowed just 11 earned runs in his 12 starts (87 innings) since the All-Star break for a 1.14 ERA.

Those numbers add up to Cy Young Award. The only one he's missing is the only one he can't do anything about—wins. Blame his Cincinnati Reds teammates for that.

Rijo is one of the National League's most dominant pitchers, leading in strikeouts (197) and earned run average (2.45). He has allowed just 11 earned runs in his 12 starts (87 innings) since the All-Star break for a 1.14 ERA.

Those numbers add up to Cy Young Award. The only one he's missing is the only one he can't do anything about—wins. Blame his Cincinnati Reds teammates for that.

Rijo is one of the National League's most dominant pitchers, leading in strikeouts (197) and earned run average (2.45). He has allowed just 11 earned runs in his 12 starts (87 innings) since the All-Star break for a 1.14 ERA.

Those numbers add up to Cy Young Award. The only one he's missing is the only one he can't do anything about—wins. Blame his Cincinnati Reds teammates for that.

Rijo is one of the National League's most dominant pitchers, leading in strikeouts (197) and earned run average (2.45). He has allowed just 11 earned runs in his 12 starts (87 innings) since the All-Star break for a 1.14 ERA.

Those numbers add up to Cy Young Award. The only one he's missing is the only one he can't do anything about—wins. Blame his Cincinnati Reds teammates for that.

Rijo is one of the National League's most dominant pitchers, leading in strikeouts (197) and earned run average (2.45). He has allowed just 11 earned runs in his 12 starts (87 innings) since the All-Star break for a 1.14 ERA.

Those numbers add up to Cy Young Award. The only one he's missing is the only one he can't do anything about—wins. Blame his Cincinnati Reds teammates for that.

Rijo is one of the National League's most dominant pitchers, leading in strikeouts (197) and earned run average (2.45). He has allowed just 11 earned runs in his 12 starts (87 innings) since the All-Star break for a 1.14 ERA.

Those numbers add up to Cy Young Award. The only one he's missing is the only one he can't do anything about—wins. Blame his Cincinnati Reds teammates for that.

Rijo is one of the National League's most dominant pitchers, leading in strikeouts (197) and earned run average (2.45). He has allowed just 11 earned runs in his 12 starts (87 innings) since the All-Star break for a 1.14 ERA.

Those numbers add up to Cy Young Award. The only one he's missing is the only one he can't do anything about—wins. Blame his Cincinnati Reds teammates for that.
Revived Buckeye team looks toward beleaguered Pitt squad

By RUSTY MILLER
Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Ohio

The coaches at both Ohio State and Pittsburgh are expecting improvement Saturday night when their teams meet at Pitt Stadium.

The difference is, 11th-ranked Ohio State is coming off one of its most impressive victories in recent memory while Pitt is still woozy from a Washington 21-12 beating over ranked Ohio State-Behrend 15-4, 15-9. They went on to beat Oberlin 15-6, 15-2, followed by Ohio 15-6, 15-6 and Bethany 15-2, 12-15, 15-6.

Tri-captain Sara Stanczek feels that the team's improvement from last weekend's tournament was due in part to the experience gained from an additional week of practice.

"We got to know each other better and were able to play more as a team," she said. "We were more ready to play and executed much better.

Coach Julie Schroeder-Biek agreed.

"Last week we saw potential, this week we played it up to," she said.

After sweeping their pool, the Belles continued their winning ways by once again defeating Penn State-Behrend 15-5, 15-12. Their streak, however, came to a halt at the hands of Wittenberg, who defeated the Belles 7-15, 17-9, 17-3-15.

Schroeder-Biek was pleased with her team's performance, noting that the second game against Wittenberg to showed the character of the team. After going down 4-12, the Belles refused to give in and handed Wittenberg a 19-17 loss.

ND/SMC PRE-LAW SOCIETY MEETING FOR SENIORS

PROFESSOR SOENS WILL SPEAK ON THE PERSONAL STATEMENT

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 15
7:30 PM IN CUSHING AUDITORIUM

It doesn't matter what time you call . . .
DOMINO'S PIZZA is always the BEST VALUE ON CAMPUS!!!

TERRIFIC UESDAY SPECIAL

CHEESE DOMINATOR $6.95

EXTRA TOPPINGS...$1.90 EACH

DOMINATOR DELIVERED TO STUDENTS ONLY

CALL:
NOTRE DAME 271-0300
SAINT MARY'S 289-0033
TODAY

Tuesday, September 14, 1993 page 19

SPELUNKER

TODAY FOR SIGN AND TELL
I HAVE AN UTTERLY AMAZING WHISTLE I'LL DEMONSTRATE.

CALVIN AND HOBBES

IT'S BLOWN.

TODAY, FOR SIGN AND TELL
I HAVE AN UTTERLY AMAZING WHISTLE I'LL DEMONSTRATE.

CROSSWORD

ACROSS
28 Cloud: Comb. -
29 Mother --
30 Reverse --- in the wood
34 Side dish
36 Bagel
37 -- "Harold's predecesor"
38 Pigment
40 Whole step
41 Sheepskin
42 Quaker's birthplace
44 Fogg
45 Made still
47 Roundup men
48 Iranian money
49 Parenten's "Help!"
51 Neighbor of People
54 First rate
55 Actress Turner
56 Of birth
61 Mind
62 The Bard's river
63 Flower support
64 Suffix with cell
65 Pool-fall fixture
67 Dried up

DOWN
1 Pitcher
2 C.E.O.'s vehicle
3 Craving eagerly
4 Invalid
5 Stronghold
6 Reliever, partly
7 Sound from Leo
8 Forecarcy
dweller

9 Having legal force
10 "Man is --- over an abyss": Nietzsche
11 Developer's interest
12 Mob or gang follower
13 Title for Gawain
14 Simians
15 Small salamanders
16 Very wealthy person
17 Century plant, for one
18 Purposeful
19 jacket feature
20 Having legal force
21 Town's prin. thoroughfare
22 Oxidation item
23 Biblical giant
24 "You have a dream" -- "And they are all ---": Nixon
25 Small salamanders
26 Very wealthy person
27 Century plant, for one
28 Purposeful
29 Having legal force
30 "Man is --- over an abyss": Nietzsche
31 Title for Gawain
32 British noble family
33 Small salamanders
34 Very wealthy person
35 Jacket feature
36 Jewish male's skullcap
37 Having legal force
38 "Man is --- over an abyss": Nietzsche
39 Small salamanders
40 Very wealthy person
41 Century plant, for one
42 Purposeful

Get answers to any three clues by touch-tone phone: 1-900-420-5656 (75¢ each minute).

OUTING HALL

Fraternity Home

Notre Dame
Buster Fried Perch
Manicotti
Shepherd's Pie
Grilled Sole

BONOSTIPE

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 15

THE WASHINGTON FALL BREAK SEMINAR INFORMATION MEETING will be held tonight in the CSC from 7 to 7:30 p.m. Applications are available in the center.

THE APPACHIAN SEMINAR INFORMATION MEETING will be held for all those interested on Tuesday, September 14, from 7:30 to 8 p.m. at the C.S.C.

THE COUNCIL ON INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT will hold its first meeting tonight at 7 p.m. in room 223 of Hayes-Healy. New and returning members should attend to see what is going on this year. Questions should be directed to Amy at 634-4011.

THE HUGS, MEMORIAL HOSPITAL INTRODUCTORY MEETING will be held Tuesday, September 14 at 8:30 p.m. in the CSC Auditorium. New and old members must attend. If you cannot attend or you have any questions please call Kathy Dee at 634-2999, Colleen Cabell at 634-4173, or Jennifer Hager at 634-4381.

AUDITIONS FOR THE FOREIGNER, a comedy by Larry Shulit presented by the St. Mary's Department of Communication, Dance, and Theatre will be held on the 14th and 15th of September in Regina Hall. From 5:15 to 7 p.m., no preparation is necessary. Auditions are open to everyone. Scripts are available at Morsel #110, 2344-4640.

FRESHMAN REGISTER DISTRIBUTION will take place at the information desk of LaFayette beginning September 14 and ending September 17.

THE EARLY CHILDHOOD DEVELOPMENT CENTER PRESENTATION will be held on Wednesday September 15 at 7 p.m. in the Montgomey Theatre of LaFayette. Graduate students are invited to review and ask questions of the new child care facility to be available at Notre Dame for the fall of 1994. Invited guests include Sister Kathleen Cannon and Ms. Torry Kous.

OF INTEREST

WHERE THE STREETS HAVE NO NAME PRO
Title of the New Album by Mysterious Ways With You Even Without You Ever Ever 7:30 "Living the Passion: Losing The One You Love" 8:15 "Dive Off the Board"

JAY HOSLER

HOSLER HOSLER THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

"Sorry, ma'am, but your neighbors have reported not seeing your husband in weeks. We just have a few questions, and then you can get back to your canning."
SPORTS

Women's soccer earns No. 7 ranking

By BRYAN CONNOLLY
Sports Writer

The Irish football team was not the only athletic squad on campus to make a giant leap in the national rankings due to a strong performance last weekend.

It was a narrow win matched by the seventh-ranked Notre Dame women's soccer team, which leapfrogs five spots in the standings this week after Friday night's 3-1 triumph over 16th-ranked Wisconsin.

This poll marks the first time in the Notre Dame women's soccer program's history that the Irish have been ranked in the top 10.

"It's really exciting because that's the first time we've been ranked that high," said sophomore Bill Lanza, who tied the game at 2-2.

Junior Jodi Hartwig was named the MCC Player of the Week after leading the Irish to a 3-0 shutout victory over Denison University.

By MIKE NORBUT
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame men's soccer team will be looking to rebound from a disappointing loss last weekend as they travel to play the University of Detroit Mercy this afternoon.

Following today's game, the Irish will return home for a six-game homestand, including games against Michigan State University and Evansville later this week. But these contests take a back seat to this matchup in the mind of Irish coach Mike Berticelli.

Berticelli watched in agony Friday evening as his heavily favored team fell to a fired-up Butler club to drop Notre Dame's season record to 1-2.

"You can't look past any of these teams," said Berticelli. "To be honest, I haven't even thought about Michigan State or Evansville. We have to concentrate on Detroit.

Concentration and consistency will be the keys for the Irish, as they lacked both in Friday's 4-2 loss. The Bulldogs executed to perfection, jumping out to an early 2-0 lead and taking advantage of Irish errors to put the game out of reach in the first half.

Notre Dame was able to stage a comeback late in the first half as goals by junior Tim Oates and sophomore Bill Lanza tied the game at 2-2. However, Butler stopped their momentum with a Paul Barton goal 43 seconds into the second half.

A breakaway goal by Steve Weiger later in the half secured the victory for the Bulldogs.

Detroit Mercy will take a 3-1 record into today's contest, as they defeated Oakland University, ranked fourth in the nation among Division II teams, and Siena Heights last week.

The Titans were led by sophomore Harrie Rauker and freshmen Vincent Lacozza and Tim Kuehne, who each turned in a pair of goals. This past weekend, the Titans posted a 3-0 overtime win over LaSalle before falling to St. Joseph's 5-1 Sunday afternoon.

Their first loss came after three straight shutouts by freshman goalie Kale Kaliszcak, who is now only two shutouts short of tying the school record in that category.

Notre Dame posts an 8-1 career record against Detroit Mercy, including a 2-1 victory last year at Alumni Field. The Titans are currently tied for first in the Midwestern Collegiate Conference with a 10-0 record, while the Irish hold the bottom spot due to their loss to Butler.

"There's not an easy team in the conference anymore," continued Berticelli. "Detroit is always a feisty team. I expect a tough game.

The Irish are hoping goalie Bert Bader will bounce back from Friday's game in which the junior failed to notch save. Offensively, Lanza, Oates, captains Mike Palmer, and Antonio Capuano will have the task of stifling the player that gave Notre Dame a victory over No. 20 Rutgers ten days ago.