Observer apologizes

By JOHN LUCAS

A mixture of muted anger and concern for the future marked last night's closed meeting between residents of Cavanaugh Hall and representatives of the Office of Student Affairs. Residents of the hall were informed on Wednesday evening that Cavanaugh would be converted to a female residence effective in the fall of 1994.

Patricia O'Hara, vice-president of Student Affairs and William Kirk, assistant vice-president for Student Affairs, came to Cavanaugh hoping to answer questions about both the reasons for conversion as well as plans for an efficient relocation.

During the emotional two hour meeting, O'Hara and Kirk answered a wide variety of student concerns ranging from the motives of the University to the retirement of the Cavanaugh name. Although many different factors were taken into account, the final decision to cover Cavanaugh came down to beds, O'Hara said. The dorm was chosen to be converted because it has the 242 beds that will be needed for females next fall.

Freshman John Bishop questioned the choice of Cavanaugh over Zahn, wondering if the hall was chosen because residents would make "less of a fuss" over conversion.

"How could you not choose Zahn?" he asked O'Hara. "I know how you're going to answer, but try to be honest," Bishop said. "I've been called a lot of things here at Notre Dame, but I've never been called scared. I wasn't scared to take Zahn."

While Cavanaugh and Zahn are of virtually equal size, O'Hara cited staff considerations as one of the deciding factors. The University can easily relocate Cavanaugh rector Father Merwyn Thomas, while it would be a larger displacement for Zahn rector Father Thomas King.

Although the decision to convert the dorm is final, both stressed that the cooperation of residents is crucial to making relocation efficient.

"We will try our best to get you where you want to be," Kirk said. "We were very successful two years ago, and we would like to be able to do it again."

In order to begin the relocation process, Kirk explained that students will soon be asked for their preference for a new dorm. Cavanaugh residents will be placed in new dorms with groups of their friends as space allows, he said.

Several students expressed concern that by being put onto room pick lists by class, it would be difficult to end up in the same sections and on the same floors as their friends.

"We understand that it is in the best interest of the University for everyone to sacrifice a little bit," one resident said. "But by going onto room pick lists like everyone else, what kind of sacrifice are they (other students) making?"

Other than a promise that the Office of Student Affairs would try its hardest to accommodate all students, O'Hara said that special room pick concessions would not be made.

"A year or two from now downtown, we hope that you will end up living with a circle of your friends from Cavanaugh, see CAVAUGHN / page 6 Family, Tradition: Cavanaugh

To the men of Cavanaugh:

Two and a half years of living in the Naught, I feel that I can say with confidence that these three words of this headline belong together. To me "the Notre Dame family" begins in the dorm and the traditions and legacy of the men who have lived in Cavanaugh Hall typify all that Notre Dame stands for. As I looked around at our meeting tonight, I saw the faces of men I was proud to say I lived with.

I saw freshmen who were upset that they had to start over again. Most of them had made the adjustment to college life, but now they are once again uncertain about their lives at Notre Dame. Sophomores who have a solid base of friends in the dorm and are now forced to decide which are the five to ten guys they most want to live with in their new dorms. There were juniors who wanted to be R.A.'s and seniors who won't be able to come back and wander the halls to see people they remember. These are the unfortunate realities when the administration converts a dorm. The factors which don't make it any easier for us and the traditions which they look at are dollars and cents but don't make it any easier for us and the tradition which they forget is the human experience that we all must deal with the end of a tradition.

The building will remain but the people will never be the same.

The continuity of experiences and traditions served to bond Cavanaugh alumni to the present. It was this continuous transfer from one group of guys to the next that kept the spirit of the dorm alive.

Now, that tradition will come to an end. The faces changed but the traditions continued.

I remember arriving freshman year and immediately realizing why I was at Notre Dame. Time progressed and I began to take part in the many traditions which I had heard about during freshman orientation. I'll never forget the first time I played section football or yelled at "The Pride" at the Naught. I feel that I can say with confidence that these three words of this headline belong together.

The Observer

Friday, November 19, 1993

John Bingham
Assistant Photo Editor

Interactivity: Hype or television for the 90's?

NEW YORK

Three nights a week at 7 p.m., Manhattan cable channel 37 cuts from the chat show "Reality Views" to a spining green orb with a message: "Fly the Electronic Neighborhood." For the next 30 minutes, viewers use their telephone keypads to navigate a 3-D world studded with graphic icons -- a bicycle, a tree, a paint brush, a Zen temple -- that contain multimedia fare. They tour a Russian palace, peruse a cable TV guide, hear full-motion sound bites of New York Gov. Mario Cuomo nominating Bill Clinton for president. They draw multicolored lines, watch a guy describe his bike route in Queens, read pro-feminist, anti-homeless, happy birthday and get-well messages, view an animated film about civil rights. It may not seem like much, but participants in this New York University experiment are pioneerers in interactive television, a field larded with hype but also the potential to change America's couch culture in the 21st century.

Donahue implicated in lawsuit

AUSTIN, Texas

The Texas Supreme Court rejected a woman's claim that she suffered emotional damage when her mother revealed on the "Donahue" show that the woman was raped by her stepfather as a child. After the show was broadcast on Jan. 5, 1989, Nancy Anonsen filed a lawsuit against that showed the broadcast. Without comment, the state Supreme Court, in the associated Press, Chicago area

INDIANA Weather

Friday, Nov. 19

The Accu-Weather* forecast for today. Friday, Nov. 19.

The views expressed in the Inside Column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.
Budgetary restraints, changing needs thwart campaign promises

By LYNN BAUWENS
Assistant Saints Mary's Editor

Problems with budgetary restraints and the changing needs of students have made it difficult for Student Body President MaryBeth Wilkinson and Vice-President for Academic Affairs Lynn O'Donnell to fulfill all of their campaign promises.

Wilkinson and O'Donnell captured 75.5% of the vote in last January's Board of Governance (BOG) election and began implementing their goals in March when they officially took office.

"We aim to begin a comprehensive recycling program, 24-hour access to the computer lab laser printers, continued development of Dallaway's new equipment, specifically Stairmasters in Angela Athletic Facility, and easier CO-EX systems for meals between Notre Dame and Saint Mary's," they told The Observer during last year's campaign.

The equipment was purchased for Angela after BOG submitted a proposal for the Stairmasters to the administration and coordinated efforts with last year's Athletic Director, Jo-ann Nester.

"We got four of them," said Wilkinson. The Stairmasters were installed over the summer and were ready for student use at the beginning of the semester.

"One of our primary goals was recycling," said Wilkinson. However, she added, the comprehensive plan has been dropped in light of a cost-benefit analysis. "It would be more expensive (for the college) to recycle," she said.

Creating a student space in Dallaway's Coffeehouse was also a high priority for BOG. While money has been given to the renovated clubhouse to continue evening hours, the new hours in the dining hall prevent the need to keep Dallaway's open during the day.

Although disappointed that the clubhouse has not become more of a space for students and faculty, Wilkinson said that she thinks it is a success.

To increase student and alumnai connections, Vice-President for Academic Affairs Lynn O'Donnell has initiated an "Eye on Alumnai" series. It sponsored three Saint Mary's graduates as speakers this semester and plans to add to the program next semester.

O'Donnell is also drafting a proposal concerning the senior comprehensive, working towards equalizing requirements between departments. "It is an ongoing project," said Wilkinson.

After research, Wilkinson discovered that 24-hour access to laser printers in campus computer labs is not possible at this time. One of the obstacles is that student workers would have to work through the night to maintain access. However, the regular hours have been extended and there are plans for additional extensions the week before finals.

Problems with CO-EX, the cooperative system between Saint Mary's and Notre Dame's dining halls, was also discussed. One of the major problems was limitations on the availability of the exchange tickets.

"The problem with the CO-EX system was not being able to get lunch," said Wilkinson.

After conferring with students, Wilkinson said that this did not seem like a high priority, and plans to improve the current system have been dropped.

The increased activity fee for this year enabled BOG and the Student Activities Board to sponsor more events on campus.

According to Wilkinson, BOG has not spent more money than any other semester. "The money has been sunk into student activities for students," she said.

This year was the first year that BOG appointed the coordinator of SAB from a pool of applicants. In the past, the coordinator was an elected position but the appointment ensured a qualified and experienced leader, according to Wilkinson.

Regarding the benefits of the increased activity fee, Jill Hotek, coordinator of the SAB said, "My goals were to include more events so there were events for everyone," she added. "We've been able to not only have more programs, but to increase the quality. We've come pretty far."

Since classes began in August, there have been 16 SAB-sponsored programs. In the same three-month period last year, there were only seven, according to Marlene Johnson, Assistant Director of Student Activities.

These events included the free outdoor concert by Oliver Syndrome in September that drew a crowd of 250. However, the average attendance for all the events including the movie series was only 124 students out of a student body of 1500, said Johnson.

Not all of the students on campus have seen the benefits of the increased activity fee.

"I don't really see the funds as helping," said Saint Mary's junior Kathleen Petit, regarding the allocation of the increased activity fee.

"A lot of the effort that goes into student government never shows. That's part of the job," said Wilkinson regarding this year's accomplishments. "It's been a challenge."

Looking towards BOG's plan for next year, Wilkinson said that she is not making any predictions.

"The system depends upon itself. This is the first time that a younger student hasn't been groomed for the position. So it will be interesting to see who is elected."

Meanwhile, BOG will be addressing issues surrounding the upcoming Keenan Revue and continuing work on coordinating equal comprehensive requirements between departments.

---

This Year
Give the Gift of Tradition:
A Notre Dame Memory

Limited Edition Handcolored Prints
by Ken David
On Sale
O'Hara Room-LaForte
November 19 & 20

Tim Hooney
You finally made it!!
Happy 21st Birthday!!

Love,
Mom, Dad, and Kathy '92

MARA FOX

WE WILL REMEMBER
NOVEMBER 12, 1993.

BE SENSIBLE: CALL A CAB, A FRIEND, YOUR RECTOR, YOUR RA.
USE WEEKEND WHEELS

DON'T DRINK AND DRIVE

THE WOMEN OF LYONS HALL.
Morris: J. F. Kennedy shooting part of joint conspiracy to insure Vietnam War

By W. HUDSON GILES

News Writer

John F. Kennedy was the victim of a conspiracy initiated by Lyndon Johnson, J. Edgar Hoover and a mercenary division of the CIA to insure the enactment of the Vietnam war, according to Bob Morris in his lecture last night, “Who Shot J.F.K.?”

The actual events that transpired on November 22, 1963 in Dealey Plaza may never be recovered, but Morris supported that it was part of a conspiracy.

Morris examined different angles of the conspiracy against Kennedy, ranging from right and left extremist groups to a private detachment ordered by Khrushchev in collaboration with the KGB.

He said that the many theories that have circulated are to some degree justifiable.

The suggestion that Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone is as absurd today as Fidel Castro’s life is reasonable and left extremist groups to a degree justifiable.

Morris suggested the possibility of a militant Cuban group acting in retaliation to the attempts made on Khrushchev in collaboration with the KGB.

Unfortunately, said Morris, there are flaps with every one of these assumptions. He added that like Oswald, Ruby was a crazed lunatic acting on his own principles.

Morris expanded on specific names in order to prove his point. The Warren Commission, composed by Johnson, is said to have been nothing but a group of disinterested politicians who Johnson knew would take no action towards an in-depth investigation.

Their purpose, he said, was only to appease a confused America who turned towards their new president for answers.

He said that contradictions to the lone gunman theory make the fourth bullet and grassy knoll possibilities all the more conceivable.

While no one can point the finger at a specific individual or group, Morris indicated there is much more to be learned about the conspiracy that could agree to.

More simplistic than the experts could agree to.

He added that the Mafia, who had financed JFK’s campaign almost entirely, might have taken the drastic measures in order to spite Bobby Kennedy, who was focused on dismantling America’s organized crime. Even that theory is widely disputed, he said.

“Kennedy was no dove either, one wanted covert operations,” Morris said.

Most hard evidence blames ENSAM 273, the document that would deliver all troops in Southeast Asia home by Christmas of 1965, for Kennedy’s murder, according to Morris.

There was discontent on the part of the CIA because JFK had plans to reorganize the CIA’s structure, he said.

“He intended to take away the CIA’s active ability and give it to the Joint Chiefs of Staff,” according to Morris.

Unfortunately, said Morris, there are flaps with every one of these assumptions. He added that, “It is also hard to accept that like Oswald, Ruby was a crazed lunatic acting on his own principles.”

Morris expanded on the possibility of secret meetings in the basement of the White House with the National Security Council and radical fascist organizations as the hosts of the evening agenda.

He noted that the National Archives, in conjunction with the CIA, FBI, and Pentagon released some 800,000 pages of classified documents recently due to a direct order from Congress. He noted, however, that many of the documents have been heavily blacked out or replaced by pink slips stamped “Restricted.”

Bob Morris delivers his interpretation of “Who Shot JFK?” in a comedy/political commentary last night.

A historical perspective of the Assassination of JFK

All new multimedia lecture by John H. Gordon, EdD

- Consultant, 20/20 (ABC)
- Consultant, Kennedy (NBC)
- Consultant, NOVA (PBS)
- Author, California State Archives

Monday, November 22
7:30 p.m.
O’Laughlin Auditorium
Admission: $1 Donation
Proceeds will go to the HIPSCCO South Bend Home Fund

BRUNO’S PIZZA

BRUNO’S DELIVERS!!

Weekend Special:
18in-2items $14.00
14 in-2items $10.00
For Carry Out/Delivery call 273-3890

GO IRISH BEAT B.C.!!
2610 Prairie Ave
288-3320

Szechuan Garden
Chinese Restaurant

Open 7 Days A Week
Sun - Thurs- 11:30 a.m.-9:30 p.m.
Fri & Sat- 11:30 a.m.-10:30 p.m.
Mon-Sat Lunch Special- 11:30 a.m.-3 p.m.
Sunday Buffet- 11:30 a.m.-3 p.m.
• Carry Out Service
• Largest Dine-In Chinese Restaurant In Town
• 2 Separate Banquet Rooms

255-6868 313 W. McKinley Ave.
Mishawaka

The Observer ScottMenendez

Learn why thirty years ago to the day, the world changed forever...

Finding out how to help the homeless comes to an information session

2-4pm
Sorin Room LaFortune

The HOMELESS

TODAY

Find Out How To Help

Come to an information session

BRUNO’S LA COURSE團
Van Bergen addresses ND gender bias

By KATIE O'CONNOR
News Writer

Though the Notre Dame community accepts women as students, faculty and for administrative positions, many of these women are victims of discrimination, according to Marilyn Van Bergen, who spoke on "Overcoming the Stigma of Being Difficult: Networking at Notre Dame" yesterday.

The university culture may be open to women but closed to our values-the value of openness, the value of difference and the value of community," she said.

The lecture, sponsored by the Gender Studies Forum, focused on the gender bias, prejudice and discrimination of women at Notre Dame.

Van Bergen, the Project Coordinator for the Office of the Assistant Provost, addressed the question of how women learn and develop leadership.

She also discussed how organizational culture and values change over time in relation to women's development.

She defined "networking deals with developing strategies and sharing to inform to work towards promoting positive change."

Positive changes may be possible at this University, if the talent here acts as a powerful force, she said. The outside world will continue to change, which will influence the treatment of women at Notre Dame eventually, but Van Bergen said that change is needed now.

Discrimination on this campus has been described as "subtle and not so subtle," according to Van Bergen. Legal action is not addressed in each case, but the end result of discrimination "usually involves the victim leaving the community."

"The feelings of several members of the audience involved the frustration experienced by women who attempt to demonstrate a leadership position. These women become victims of stereotypic attitudes, such as, 'not a team player', 'having a chip on her shoulder', and anger expressed in any form indicated a short temperament."

Van Bergen quoted Maya Angelou, "so cross a chasm you have to take a leap."

If you see news happening, call The Observer at 631-7471 and let us know.

Leatherman seeks solution to global ethnic conflicts

By SUNNY BYERS
News Writer

A hopeful solution is needed to resolve ethnic conflicts in rising independent countries, according to Janie Leatherman at yesterday's lecture, "Preventing Conflict in the Post Cold War World."

"Minorities suffer from discrimination where special needs aren't met," said Leatherman, visiting assistant professor of government from the Kroc Institute.

Maintaining ethnic identity is important in order for groups to draw on certain markers to distinguish who they are and what they stand for, according to Leatherman, and there is a lot of stress on these groups, especially in the form of political manipulation.

"In order to have a resolution, there must be a transformatino between two conflicting parties, and it starts by trying to identify with one another," she said. "It is not often possible to come up with a solution."

"Certain ethnic parties are denied access to the government which makes it hard for the party to come forward with a legitimate voice. Often parties use violence, which is effective, but brings no solution, she added."

"The OSCE [Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe] has four multi-level responses for the ethnic conflict," said Leatherman. These four points are: early warning and early action, political management of crises, search for solutions, and peace keeping.

The main problem with these responses is that the parties are reluctant to cooperate, she said, and they are underfunded and understaffed to help effectively.

Leatherman gave the example of ethnic conflict in Russia recently.

The Chechenya and Ingushetia have separated and seek greater autonomy, and the Ingushetia are fighting with Northern Ossetia over territory. By the end of 1992, some 60,000 Ingush had fled the Prigorodny district, leading to Ingush accusations of deliberate "ethnic cleansing" in favor of the Ossetians.

"The future of resolving challenges for the international governance, lies in what can be accomplished through successful effectiveness," said Leatherman. The countries will still strive for controlling challenges of minority rights protection and self-determination."
SMC student pursues college dream with 'Realizing the Dream' Lily grant

By BERNADETTE PAMPUCH
News Writer

Amanda Weppler always knew she would go to college. The Saint Mary's sophomore had the support she needed from her friends and family, but being the first member of her family to attend college could have been enough to make her think twice before continuing her education.

"A lot of people asked me how and why I decided to go, but it had always been my decision to come to college," said Weppler. She was recently recognized for her decision to come to Saint Mary's by Indiana's "Realizing the Dream" program. Funded by a Lily Endowment grant to the Independent Colleges and Universities of Indiana, "Realizing the Dream" honors both first-generation college students and the teachers who inspired them.

Weppler named Marilyn Malone of Marian Heights Academy in Ferdinand, IN, as the teacher most influential in helping her make her educational plans.

"(Malone) was a teacher at my boarding school and she was very concerned with her students. She went the extra mile to make sure students were adapting well," Weppler explained.

Weppler had transferred to the private boarding school in her junior year in high school because she "really wasn't happy with the education" she was receiving at a public school, and admitted that she "didn't feel that it was challenging enough" there.

Nominated by Saint Mary's for her academic record and leadership qualities, Weppler only found out about being honored by the program a week before the Oct. 30 awards banquet in Indianapolis.

In the name of Weppler and the "Realizing the Dream" program a $500 contribution was made to Marian Heights for the general scholarship fund, and to Malone for use in the classroom.

"I'm not here to say that this is not a big deal—there's not true here," Kirk said. "We have a challenge—a situation to cope with and deal with and go on with our lives," said Thomas.

Cavanaugh continued from page 1

as well as new friends in your new dorm," O'Hara said. "But starting off with preferential treatment runs counter to that idea."

The closing of a resident hall was necessary to accommodate a decision made by the officers of the University, O'Hara said. During their Nov. 1 meeting, the Board of Trustees decided to stay with a 45/55 percent ratio of men to women. The Cavanaugh decision was required to keep that ratio, she said.

Among the other alternatives that Student Affairs considered was the reconfiguration of study lounges in female dorms and the possibility of what O'Hara termed a "flip-flop," which involved a larger male dorm trading with a smaller female dorm.

Although all alternatives were considered, the conversion of a male dorm was the most painful, but also the most practical, according to Kirk and O'Hara.

"We have a challenge—a situation to cope with and deal with and go on with our lives," said Thomas.

Chinese - American Restaurant & Cocktail Lounge
Authentic Szechuan, Mongolian & Hana Cuisine

Great Wall
Bar & Restaurant open 7 days a week
Lunches starting at...$4.25
Dinners starting at...$5.95
Banquet rooms available for up to 200
130 Dixie Way N. South Bend
Open from Monday - Thursday 10 a.m. - 9 p.m.
Friday - Saturday 10 a.m. - 10 p.m.
Sunday Noon - 9 p.m.

Windows, Macintosh EC, 486, 68000
Apple Color Plus IV Display, Apple Keyboard II or mouse.

Introducing the Great Apple Campus Deal. Now, when you buy any select Macintosh or PowerBook computer, you'll also receive seven software programs. It's all included in one low price. And the software package alone has a combined SRP value of $96! It was designed to give you the kinds of programs you need most. Programs to organize your time and money. And some programs just for fun. So, why buy an Apple computer? It does more. It costs less. It's that simple.

Introducing the Great Apple Campus Deal

Visit your Apple Campus Reseller for more information.

Notre Dame Computer Store
Room 112 CCMB • 631-7477

"Based on the combined suggested retail prices (SRP's) of the products in the Campus Software Kit (for Macintosh as of October 1, 1993). Supplies are not included in the original product packaging as shown in this ad. Not all stores will receive these software programs in an unopened package from Apple. (SRP's) - Apple Computer Inc. Apple, the Apple logo, Macintosh, Macintosh Plus and Macintosh IIE are registered trademarks of Apple Computer Inc. The word and symbol Apple, the Macintosh, Macintosh Plus and PowerBook Duo are registered trademarks of Apple Computer Inc. A trademark of Apple Computer Inc.

SMC student pursues college dream with 'Realizing the Dream' Lily grant

By BERNADETTE PAMPUCH
News Writer

Amanda Weppler always knew she would go to college. The Saint Mary's sophomore had the support she needed from her friends and family, but being the first member of her family to attend college could have been enough to make her think twice before continuing her education.

"A lot of people asked me how and why I decided to go, but it had always been my decision to come to college," said Weppler. She was recently recognized for her decision to come to Saint Mary's by Indiana's "Realizing the Dream" program. Funded by a Lily Endowment grant to the Independent Colleges and Universities of Indiana, "Realizing the Dream" honors both first-generation college students and the teachers who inspired them.

Weppler named Marilyn Malone of Marian Heights Academy in Ferdinand, IN, as the teacher most influential in helping her make her educational plans.

"(Malone) was a teacher at my boarding school and she was very concerned with her students. She went the extra mile to make sure students were adapting well," Weppler explained.

Weppler had transferred to the private boarding school in her junior year in high school because she "really wasn't happy with the education" she was receiving at a public school, and admitted that she "didn't feel that it was challenging enough" there.

Nominated by Saint Mary's for her academic record and leadership qualities, Weppler only found out about being honored by the program a week before the Oct. 30 awards banquet in Indianapolis.

In the name of Weppler and the "Realizing the Dream" program a $500 contribution was made to Marian Heights for the general scholarship fund, and to Malone for use in the classroom.

"I'm not here to say that this is not a big deal—there's not true here," Kirk said. "We have a challenge—a situation to cope with and deal with and go on with our lives," said Thomas.

Chinese - American Restaurant & Cocktail Lounge
Authentic Szechuan, Mongolian & Hana Cuisine

Great Wall
Bar & Restaurant open 7 days a week
Lunches starting at...$4.25
Dinners starting at...$5.95
Banquet rooms available for up to 200
130 Dixie Way N. South Bend
Open from Monday - Thursday 10 a.m. - 9 p.m.
Friday - Saturday 10 a.m. - 10 p.m.
Sunday Noon - 9 p.m.

Introducing the Great Apple Campus Deal. Now, when you buy any select Macintosh or PowerBook computer, you'll also receive seven software programs. It's all included in one low price. And the software package alone has a combined SRP value of $96! It was designed to give you the kinds of programs you need most. Programs to organize your time and money. And some programs just for fun. So, why buy an Apple computer? It does more. It costs less. It's that simple.

Introducing the Great Apple Campus Deal

Visit your Apple Campus Reseller for more information.

Notre Dame Computer Store
Room 112 CCMB • 631-7477

"Based on the combined suggested retail prices (SRP's) of the products in the Campus Software Kit (for Macintosh as of October 1, 1993). Supplies are not included in the original product packaging as shown in this ad. Not all stores will receive these software programs in an unopened package from Apple. (SRP's) - Apple Computer Inc. Apple, the Apple logo, Macintosh, Macintosh Plus and Macintosh IIE are registered trademarks of Apple Computer Inc. The word and symbol Apple, the Macintosh, Macintosh Plus and PowerBook Duo are registered trademarks of Apple Computer Inc. A trademark of Apple Computer Inc.
Changes may be rough in Mexico

By JOHN RICE
Associated Press

MEXICO CITY
Everybody here agrees that a free trade treaty with the United States is a historic change for Mexico, the country's monuments to mummies of U.S. invasion testify to that.
But most don't believe major changes will come quickly. And increased U.S. interest may be uncomfortable for a country that has made independence from the United States a watchword for generations.
The North American Free Trade Agreement, which passed its major hurdle after an election in more than 120 years.

As You Wish IMPORTS
Christmas Sale!!
Get unique handmade Christmas Gifts at just above WHOLESALE or CLEARANCE prices!
Imported Jewelry, Clothing, and accessories from:
Guatemala Peru Mexico Greece
Afghanistan Nepal India
(Also 3 lines of Jewelry by American artists.)
LaFortune Room 108 (near TV).
Nov. 22 - Nov. 24 and
Nov. 29 - Dec. 4 (Sat.)
11:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m.

Bustamante: NAFTA good for business
By SARAH DORAN
Assistant News Editor

By serving as a catalyst for economic integration, the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) approved by the House of Representatives Wednesday will sustain and improve the productivity of U.S. businesses, according to Jorge Bustamante, a noted Mexico economist.

"A lot of people are going to look at it next week saying, 'Where are all these things starting to happen?' They're not going to see those kind of changes happening," said Roderic Camp, a noted Mexico specialist from Tulane University in New Orleans. "It's going to be a slow, gradual change."

Most experts say NAFTA also probably won't do much to cut illegal immigration anytime soon. It will take many years to create the jobs here that Mexicans need for a rapidly growing population.

And few expect it to have much impact on the 1994 election, when Salinas is expected to hand over power to a ruling party candidate he selects.

But American politicians ranging from Vice President Al Gore to former President Jimmy Carter argue that NAFTA would give the United States influence to prod Mexico toward democracy.

NAFTA "is going to permit a kind of supervision, for example in the environment but also in politics, a greater U.S. presence," said political journalist Miguel Angel Granados Chapa.

"The main objective is to make the economies of the three countries more competitive as a region, particularly as a vis Japan and Europe," he said.

As a member of the advisory committee for NAFTA Mexican negotiators, Bustamante, who is a citizen of Mexico, is in a unique position to analyze the ramifications of the trade agreement. The advisory commitee was appointed by President Carlos Salinas to advice Mexican negotiators on the agreement's legislation.

Bustamante was appointed to the committee due to his position as president of The Institute of the Northern Border, a group that researches economics, the environment, and urban affairs in the Mexican-American border.

SECURITY BEAT

MON., NOV. 15
8:00 a.m. — Security reported a two car minor accident at the Support Services Docks. There were no injuries reported.

10:30 a.m. — A Zeller Hall resident reported receiving a harassing telephone call.

TUES., NOV. 16
10:46 a.m. — An off-campus student reported his bicycle was stolen while his bike was parked at the LOD south parking lot.

11:45 a.m. — A Pangborn Hall resident reported receiving a harassing telephone call.

7:30 p.m. — A Lewis Hall resident reported receiving a harassing telephone call.

WED., NOV. 17
4:30 p.m. — A Stanford Hall resident reported receiving harassing telephone mail.

FRIDAY & SATURDAY
7:30 & 9:45

HARRY'S
Restaurant & Bar
(Formerly-Fisherman's Wharf)
On Eagle Lake Road just north of U.S. 12
Edwardsburg, MI.
(616) 699-5113

Michiana's newest Restaurant
Steaks - Prime Rib - Chops -
B-Q Ribs - Seafood - Pasta -
Salads - Lighter Fare - Daily Specials

Reservations Suggested
Open Tues-Sun at 5:00 pm
Thousands demand peace in Northern Ireland

By SHAWN POCHATCZEK
Associated Press

Belfast, Northern Ireland

Tens of thousands of people stood across the cities and towns of Northern Ireland on Thursday, praying for the peace of their land, known in a generation.

The crowd was the largest one-day turnout for peace ever in Northern Ireland—showed a commitment of nearly a quarter century of political and sectarian violence over British rule of the province.

More than 50,000 people in 16 cities and towns braved icy winds to rally at midday, according to the Irish Congress of Trade Unions. The group organized rallies in response to the past month's killings of 27 people.

In London, Prime Minister John Major repeated his commitment not to sign the Sinn Fein, the Irish Republican Army's political arm, which draws support from the province's minority Catholic community. The group organized rallies in response to the past month's killings of 27 people.

A phone-in "vote for peace" project set up by Belfast's two morning newspapers attracted more than 120,000 calls in Northern Ireland by late Thursday, British Telekom said. Students in hundreds of Roman Catholic and Protestant schools also stood for a minute's silence in prayer for the 3,100 people slain in the conflict since 1969 by all sides.

The violence comes from the IRA, which draws support from the province's minority Catholic community, and pro-British paramilitaries based in Protestant areas. Police and soldiers also have killed about 300 people.

"People like me, we've never known anything but the troubles," said Connor McKee, a Catholic high school student who joined the rally in Omagh, 65 miles west of Belfast. He said the demonstrators showed the politicians and gunmen "that the people of Northern Ireland are sick of violence."

By far, the largest rally was outside Belfast's ornate city hall. More than 20,000 people filled the square and surrounding streets.

"This is the first time that industry, both unions and employers, local government, the churches and people themselves have spoken with one voice," said Tom Gillen, secretary of the Irish Congress of Trade Unions.

"I hope our politicians have been listening to this," Gillen said, "and will get into a room and get a solution for all of us." Thursday's scenes contrasted sharply with the hatred Wednesday night in Belfast's Windsor Park stadium, where about 10,000 Protestants watched their Northern Ireland soccer team tie 1-1 with the Republic of Ireland.

A few hundred Irish fans were protected by flak-jacketed police, but locals screamed insults at them throughout the match. Some chanted "trick or treat"—a reference to the words Protestant gunman used before riddling a crowded pub with bullets on the night before Halloween, killing seven.

"It bordered on savagery the way they directed their taunts at us," said one of the Irish fans. Dublin businessman Don Dawson. "When Ireland scored we were hesitant to stand up and cheer, the intimidation was that severe. Those people just hated us for being Irish Catholics."

Aidid emerges from hiding as hero

By NEJLA SAMMAKIA
Associated Press

Mogadishu, Somalia

Fresh from forcing a U.N. retreat on an order for his former mentor to surrender, Aidid emerged from hiding Thursday for a jubilant greeting from 4,000 shouting, dancing and drumming supporters.

Militiamen with rocket-propelled grenades and automatic rifles guarded him when his van drove into a marketplace for his faction's weekly "peace" rally. Crowds pressed around the van, women danced to the sound of drums and people beat the sand with their hands.

The celebration came two days after the U.N. Security Council lifted an arrest warrant for Aidid that had put a $25,000 reward on his head. It was issued in June after militiamen of his clan faction were blamed for attacks that killed 24 Pakistani soldiers.

The search for Aidid in his southern Mogadishu stronghold had effectively stopped after a fierce battle in early October--killed 18 American soldiers and more than 300 Somalis.

In ordering a new inquiry into attacks on U.N. peacekeepers, the Security Council also suggested Tuesday that 35 of Aidid's men would be released soon. The vote recognized that a political solution required the participation of Aidid and his Somali National Alliance along with other factions.

"He obviously has a lot of power in Mogadishu," U.S. special envoy Robert Oakley told reporters after meeting with Aidid before the rally. "The United States realized we made a mistake getting involved.... I'm glad to see the U.N. Security Council changed course."

Aidid, who leads one of the country's 15 major factions, is a powerful force mainly in southern Mogadishu and parts of central Somalia.

At the rally, three men played electric drums and guitars as Aidid addressed the crowd in his first public appearance in more than five months. "All Somalis must understand war is over. Without outside interference, all Somalis factions can solve their problems among themselves," he said.

A pop singer, Halima Khalif, led chants of "Aidid, Aidid!" and "Gul, gul!" (victory, victory). In a sign of growing U.S. popularity, Oakley's convoy was cheered when Aidid militiamen escorted it through the crowd a few minutes before the clan leader arrived.

University of Notre Dame International Study Program in

TOLEDO, SPAIN

1994 - 95 Academic Year

"THE TOLEDO PROGRAM AND YOUR NOTRE DAME CURRICULUM"

With Professor Carlos Jerez-Farran
Keith Eppich, Senior Retailer of Program

MARDY, NOVEMBER 22, 1993

THE NOTRE DAME CLUB OF MINNESOTA INTRODUCES

AN EXCLUSIVE PENCIL DRAWING TO BENEFIT ITS SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Limited Edition Print

The Notre Dame Club of Minnesota Scholarship Fund to the address shown below.

The Notre Dame Club of Minnesota
908 Jefferson Lane
Eagan, MN 55123-1998

Please allow 3-4 weeks for delivery. Shipping via UPS in continental U.S. only.

This brochure and all artwork illustrations are copyrighted by the artist.

TO ORDER: Send the completed Order Form along with a check payable to:

The Notre Dame Club of Minnesota Scholarship Fund to the address shown below.

Quantity of Prints

11x14 Pencil Drawing $50
15x19 Limited Edition $100
15x23 Limited Edition $150

Shipping: $10 per order

Shipping: $10 per order

Shipping: $10 per order

Shipping: $10 per order

For information on "The Toledo Program and your Notre Dame Curriculum" call 612-8128.

This event WILL sell out
Panel discusses implications of NAFTA, pros and cons

By MICHAEL MARTIN

Thursday, November 19, 1993

While many doubts and concerns were voiced as to its possible adverse social and ecological effects, the economic success of the North American Free Trade Agreement was hailed as a step into the future of world trade by Jeffrey Bergstrand, associate professor of economics at last night's panel discussion on NAFTA.

Bergstrand described NAFTA as "a short-term substitute for continued trade liberalization." As tariff barriers drop, the movement of capital and labor across borders will allow for efficient production and improved living standards for all, he said. He pointed out that a number of nations, such as Chile and Pacific Basin nations, were "wasting our doorsteps" for entry into NAFTA as the accord.

"For the most part, the Washington establishment is of the most dire predictions of increased joblessness represent only fractions of per centage points in terms of total United States unemployment, said Bergstrand.

"Adjustment to a free trade system may not be as abrupt as many think," said Kwan Kim, professor of economics. Mexico, Kim pointed out, has been moving towards liberalizing their trade relations for approximately 15 years now. By cutting tariffs and establishing free enterprise zones close to the border, the Mexican trade balance has gone from a $5 billion surplus in 1986 to a $5 billion deficit in 1992, he said.

"While the pact would simply move further along a path that we are already taking, said Kim, because Mexico's economic, as measured by GDP, is very small compared to that of the United States the adverse impact of the new agreement would be mitigated," he said.

However, reviews were mixed as to the specific effects of the plan. Kim observed that there was a certain amount of "fast-tracking" the debate through Congress, ignoring more particular concerns not associated with larger measures of economic well-being.

Charles Craypo, professor of economics, placed emphasis on the impact on the laborers in each nation. Citing past efforts to liberalize trade, Craypo pointed out that theoretically expected increases in standards of living resulting from proceeding growth in production do not always translate in practice into a more complex, comprehensive strategy for a high-wage, high-growth economy, said Craypo.

"Asking the real question was not the number of jobs gained and lost but exactly who loses the jobs, Kim, arguing for further into the worker dilemma. In Mexico, small businesses and the poor will be overflowed by the large scale American enterprises driving many into an already fiercely competitive domestic job market, he said.

In the United States, many unskilled laborers will lose their jobs to the low-wage competition across the border, said Kim, talking of the both the political and social ramifications of the lack of an "effective social safety net."

"Concerns more environmental in nature were voiced by Roger Volker, a representative from the Citizens Action Committee. The flip side to increased efficiency in terms of specialization is the possible depletion of natural resources and a decrease in the quality of goods produced, he said.

The agreement stipulates that no nation can place barriers on trade, which precludes the United States' imposing its own quality standards on imports, said Volker. Most important to Volker is the environmental dispute resolution process. Commissions of appointed members, enclosures in a box of secrecy that would only be removed with the agreement of all three nations from each of the signatories would be allowed to adjudicate differences that arise, he said.

Volker cautioned that these groups could fall under the influence of large business coalitions and "take the power away from the community."

American Airlines strikes delays flights, cancels many others

By SUSAN HIGHTOWER

Associated Press

Thousands of American Airlines passengers were shuffled to other carriers or later flights Thursday when flight attendants began the biggest air strike in nearly five years. Many were bitter about delayed vacations and missed appointments.

American wouldn't say how many flights it was able to operate, but sources at another major carrier familiar with American's operation estimated 30 to 50 percent of American flights were disrupted. The strike, which struck 7 a.m., was over wages and other contract issues, claimed the union.

Meanwhile, the more powerful Teamster Union was voting whether to join the flight attendants, a move that would likely ground the airline.

The flight attendants strike was the largest against an airline since Machinists struck the now-defunct Eastern Airlines in 1989.

Thousands of passengers at American's main hubs in Chicago and Dallas-Fort Worth were shuffled to other airlines, particularly United and Delta, or put on later American flights.

The company said it had started replacing workers who strike who strike likely would not have jobs to return to.

Jets at some airports left with no passengers but with their luggage aboard. The airline flew many planes empty in hopes of matching the jets with available flight attendants.

Some delays and empty flights were reported at Denver, Boston, Oklahoma City, Phoenix, Fargo, N.D., and New Orleans. Many passengers generally remained calm.

Proposed national tobacco tax could lead to job loss

By JIM LUTHER

Associated Press

WASHINGTON President Clinton's proposed quadrupling of the cigarette tax to pay for health care would destroy 80,000 jobs, union officials representing tobacco workers said today.

"Asking one group of workers, one industry and one region of the country — the South — to foot the bill for national program is simply not fair," Robert Curtis, president of the Kentucky AFL-CIO, told a news conference in the Capitol.

Clinton has asked Congress to raise the 24-cent-a-pack federal tax on cigarettes to 99 cents to provide a share of the new money needed to finance an overhaul of the health-care system. Taxes on cigars, snuff and other tobacco products would be raised similarly.

The annual Beaujolais Nouveau party has slowed the pace of sales and scoffs from connoisseurs. After booming along with the world economy at the end of the 1980s, volume sales and prices have plummeted the last couple of years, part of an industry-wide trend rooted in the global recession.
DOONESBURY

GARRY TRUDEAU

QUOTE OF THE DAY

"A nyone who does anything for pleasure to indulge his selfish soul will surely burn in Hell."

Lenny Bruce
Comedian
Someone has to 'El Kabong' this Geary's temerity ploy

JOSH OZERSKY I, FARRINGTON
Friday, November 19, 1993

Someone has to 'El Kabong' this Geary's temerity ploy

Asleep fully clothed on an unmade bed.

This open-mouthed snore hothers no one, and the ever-present temptation to operate heavy machinery is nowhere at hand. Let us have a nation of solitary drinkers lumining moodily home from Martin's with a sack of frozen veal patties and a case of Hamm's. There, unlike Geary, we are unlikely to offend friends; or, unlike so many burlly rockers, are we likely to attempt date-rape on a vulnerable co-ed, since none are present to influence our appetites.

This is responsible drinking at its best. It could teach these Keenan rockers a thing or two about inner resources also, and so could be considered a spiritual aid, of sorts. With no one to boast to or high-five, the rocker can harp on nothing but the American man's essential Roy Orbison/John Wayne nature. There he would learn humility, and the deep rever­ence for the liquor, the only prolonged exposure from them can achieve. Is a slight meta­phor perhaps. A terri­ble price to pay for this? We wish we had more like them. It would be better, if we adopted the theater of the absurd.

I think even Sean Geary would raise a toast.

Censoring Revue would be in bad taste

Dear Editor:

I am writing concerning the topics of the content and the location of the Notre Dame Revue, which were discussed at the BOC meeting this past Monday evening. Although I was unable to attend the meeting because of the amount of studying I had to do, I hope my opinion will be considered as part of the open forum.

I think all of this contempt towards the Revue is petty and, if censored or moved off of the Saint Mary's campus, will do more harm than good. One of the reasons for showing it at Saint Mary's is to create more unification between the two campuses and attract those Notre Dame students who otherwise might never cross the street.

The Revue has been held on campus in recent years, to signify one of the only upheld traditions incorporating both campuses.

After all of this time, kicking the Revue out of O'Hallion would only alienate us the more and create a rift between the Saint Mary's students and the residents of Keenan Hall.

And over the years, people have found it to be a great dose of humor among the ability to laugh at themselves, within the rigid Catholic walls of both schools. It is not meant to be taken seriously; that's the whole point of its taking place.

Maybe each Keenan resident needs to take a vote on whether they feel they're being negatively affected and, if so, to petition the administration to either attend the show. And the kids don't just poke fun at the stereotypes placed on the women on both campuses, but the ones placed on men's dorms, and the administration and the residents of Keenan themselves.

What's left?

If everybody took part in judging, I think we shouldn't be in the Keenan Revue, it wouldn't be Keenan anymore; there would be no humor about the campus es whatsoever to lift the burden off the day to day drama we all feel after awhile, and the production will have completely lost sight of its purpose.

The content hasn't gotten more offensive over the years, only the audacity of some of the people who have chosen to be members of the audience.

People love it and they look forward to it every year. Keenan students are performing it at Saint Mary's every year. Saint Mary's should not be just a women's college concerned about presenting the view of others rather than presenting the humor of women.

The stereotypes are just as ridiculous as us for they are the women of Badin, Breen, Phillips and all the other dorms of Notre Dame, and yet Mary Beth Wilkinson, Melissa Whelan and Heidi Deckelmann seem to be the only ones lacking the ability to laugh at themselves and the inane stereotypes that circulate throughout the campuses.

The Board of Governance is only one group of women on the stand and, if it is ever going to change, before they vote on something so detrimental to the community, they need to take into the opinions of all the students first. I think that a vote should be taken worldwide on performances on campus like the ones for the campus taking policy or cable TV in hall lounges.

I feel that it is BOG's respon­sibility to be fair in this decision by including a formal vote rather than just a second voice before they vote on something so detrimental to the community.

Always a minority, the residents of Har­mony usually have little power with the administration.

MARY CLARE BOURJAILY Sophomore Regna Hall
Let's Roc

Who says it's boring in South Bend? Besides all of the things that this city has to offer, just a car-ride away Chicago offers innumerable opportunities for entertainment. So instead of complaining that there is nothing to do, check out these options.

Friday

Events

"The Last Days of Chez Nous," Snite Auditorium, 7:30 & 9:45 p.m., $2.
"Snow White," Cushing Auditorium, 8 & 10:30 p.m., $2.
"Alive," Carroll Auditorium, SMC, 7 & 9:30 p.m., $2.
Flanner/ Siegfried Play, "California Suite," 8 p.m., LaFortune Ballroom, $3.
Men's & Women's Swimming vs. Ball State, Men's at 4 p.m., and Women's at 7 p.m., Rolfs Aquatic Center. Fighting Irish Pep Rally, 7 p.m., J.A.C.C.

Music

Notre Dame Glee Club Alumni Reunion Concert, 8:30 p.m., Stepan Center, $2.

Saturday

Events

Fighting Irish Marching Band, 11 a.m., Administration Building.
Notre Dame vs. Boston College, kick-off 1:05 p.m.
"The Last Days of Chez Nous," Snite Auditorium, 7:30 & 9:45 p.m., $2.
"Snow White," Cushing Auditorium, 8 & 10:30 p.m., $2.
"Alive," Carroll Auditorium, SMC, 7 & 9:30 p.m., $2.
Flanner/ Siegfried Play, "California Suite," 8 p.m., LaFortune Ballroom, $3.

Music

Gauge, live from Chicago and Notre Dame's Seight of Hand, Dalloway's Coffee House (SMC), 8:30 p.m.

Sunday

Events

Misa en Espanol, 11:30 a.m., Breen-Phillips Hall Chapel, Padre Richard Warner. All are welcome.
Interhall football Play-offs in the Notre Dame Stadium, Women's: Badin vs. Pasquerilla West, 11 a.m. and Men's: Stanford vs. Morrissey, 12 p.m.
Women's Basketball vs. Czechs, 2 p.m., J.A.C.C. Arena, free admission.

Movies

University Park East
The Remains of the Day 7, 9:55
Gotti'sburg 7
Carlinos's Way 7, 9:50
Fearless 7, 10, 9:45
Look Who's Talking Now 7:30, 9:35

University Park West
Nightmare Before Christmas 7:30, 9:30
Robocop III 7:20, 9:40
The Three Musketeers 7:45, 10

BY ELISABETH HEARD
Assistant Accent Editor

This year, one of the top all male choruses in the country will lift their voices in "Seventy-eight Years of Harmony."

The Notre Dame Glee Club, consisting of around 60 members, will give their first performance of the year on Friday in Stepan Center. "Every 2 years, the Glee Club has a concert involving Glee Club alumni," said John Sebastian, senior and member of the Glee Club for 4 years. "This year we will have 200 former members."

The concert is divided into several parts, the last section consisting of songs performed by current members and alumni. The event starts off with foreign pieces from a number of varying styles. The audience can look forward to hearing "Cantate Domino" by Hans Leo Hassler, and "Demon of the Gibbet" by Paul Hindemith. The theme then changes as the Glee Club performs negro spirituals like "Ain' - A That Good News!" and "Swing Low Sweet Chariot." The concert then concludes with a culmination of Glee Club favorites and traditional Notre Dame songs. For this part the alumni will join the current members for a total of almost 300 people on stage.

"There's a quite varied selection of music," said Sebastian. "There's something for everybody."

In preparation for this event, practice has been held everyday from 4:45 p.m. - 6:00 p.m. "It's pretty intense and serious," said Sebastian. "There's a real commitment to keeping up our reputation."

Tryouts for the Glee Club are strenuous, consisting of both a vocal selection and an interview. The interview section is vital to the audition because according to Sebastian, "It's important to not only be a good, talented individual, but he must also be compatible with the personality of the Glee Club."

Besides the concert, the Notre Dame Glee Club will be releasing a new Christmas CD titled, "On Christmas Night." It was recorded last year in the Basilica of the Sacred Heart Parish and contains modern and traditional style Christmas favorites. The CD will be available at the Bookstore and the concert.

"Seventy-eight Years of Harmony" will be held at Stepan Center, Friday, November 19 at 8:30. Tickets, $3 for general admission and $2 for students, are available at the LaFortune information desk.
It doesn’t so much bother him anymore. In the beginning, the doubters would wear on him constantly.

They lined up to take shots at the heir to the prestigious title of the starting tailback at Notre Dame.

“He’s too slow to be a Notre Dame tailback,” they said.

“He’ll never start there,” they scoffed.

Lee Becton now has no reason to think about the many doubts that once circulated through the air around him, hanging on like a would-be tackler.

“At first it did bother me, but not once I started getting into the games,” says Becton. “Once I got out there on the field and I saw that my speed wasn’t diminishing my playing, I just forgot out about it.

“I feel like I may not be as fast as a lot of other people, but I get the job done. I think that’s more important than speed.”

Most Irish fans will remember what one of his doubters joked when he was held out of a game last year with a hamstring injury.

“I didn’t think he could run fast enough to...
Passing attack could give Irish trouble

By MIKE NORBUT

SPECIAL WRITER

If history repeats itself, then No. 17 Boston College's offense could be in deep trouble.

The Eagles have never beaten Notre Dame in 11 previous meetings and have never scored more than 10 points in a game. The Irish have outscored BC 308-103 over those 11 years. The Eagles' offense, which scored 251 points last year, will not get much help Saturday against a Notre Dame defense that allowed 161.7 yards per game and ranked 25th in the nation.

While the Notre Dame defense gives up yards, coach Lou Holtz said it is a good defensive unit. "I think we have a good offensive line," said Irish head coach Lou Holtz.

The big Irish defense has been dominating opponents on the ground for most of the season. They allowed 106 yards rushing per game.

The Eagles have been relying on quarterback Dave O'Brien for most of the year. O'Brien has completed 55.1 percent of his passes for 1,714 yards and 12 touchdowns against four interceptions. He has been the only real way for the Eagles to move the ball.
Foley's explosion keys Eagles' attack

By ED McLAUGHLIN
The Heights Staff

On September 4, he stood alone after the 23-7 loss to Miami and pointed the finger of blame at himself. When asked what the problem was with the Eagles' offense, he replied, "Today it was the quarterback position. Period."

He did not blame an inconsistent offensive line or the paltry running attack.

Quarterback Glenn Foley blamed himself for the loss, wanting more than anything to make up the loss to his teammates.

Foley has made up for the loss in the past five games, averaging 42 points per contest in high scoring victories. Over that span, Foley has thrown for 327 yards and three touchdowns, equaling Doug Flutie's all-time BC record for touchdown passes with 67.

Foley's five-game explosion becomes more impressive with the distribution of the ball. Clarence Cannon leads the team with four TD catches, while Pete Mitchell and Keith Miller each recording three.

Foley played only a half against Tulane and made the Green Wave see red. Foley threw for 327 yards and two touchdowns while having four balls dropped. Coughlin commended Foley after the game for his short afternoon of work.

"Execution was the key," Coughlin said. "Glenn did a good job of recognizing coverage. He made some big plays and had a very solid game. Glenn moved the ball around the field today."

"We have some real good skill people," Foley said. "They catch the balls and they made some great runs today. When you have guys doing that, the games get a lot easier."

The question remains whether or not Foley can continue to light up opposing defensive backs as the season takes a turn down a difficult road. However, Foley knows that the team will need to avoid a dive like the team suffered last season.

"We have to keep rolling when we're playing well," he said. "We still need to iron out things but know we have so many weapons on offense that teams will have to worry about."

The most lethal weapon on the field wears number 13 and plays the quarterback position.
The History of the Series

The Last Time:
Notre Dame 54, Boston College 7

Last year Boston College came into Notre Dame Stadium undefeated and the Irish scored touchdowns on the first five times they had the ball, roaring to a 37-0 halftime lead.

Riegg-Brooks ran for 174 yards and two TD's while Mickler completed 13 of 18 passes for 180 yards and a career-high third TD of the '93 campaign. Total yards against an Eagle defense that had been permitting only 11.9 points and 264.8 yards a game.

The Irish defense sacked Glenn Foley four times, forcing him to throw an interception and fumble once.

The Records:
Notre Dame leads 4-0
Last ND Win: 1992
Last BC Win: 1986
BC-None
Active Notre Dame Stadium:
Notre Dame leads 2-0
1993 Statistics

Field Goals
19-18, 40-40, 60-60, Long
Pendegrass 10-13 5.4 0.0 47

Punting
No Name Avg Long
Leland 18 18.9 45 5 0

Interceptions
No Name TD Long
B. Taylor 4 150 1 0
B. Herring 3 27 0 0
W. Crews 3 7 0 0

Defensive Depth Chart
C. Johnson Miller 4 16.3 0 3

Notre Dame 2019 Roster

1993 Notre Dame Schedule and Results
Sept 4 NORTHWESTERN 27-12
Sept 11 Lsu 27-23
Sept 18 Wisconsin STATE 28-14
Oct 2 At Stanford 38-16
Oct 9 At California 31-17
Oct 16 At Oregon State 13-21
Nov 20 At Boston CLEVELAND 17-3

Scoreboard

Irish Defense

Notre Dame Stadium
Built in 1930
Capacity: 95,075
Largest Crowd: 61,296 (1948)
Surfside Bayside ND's Record There: 239-67-5

One of the most feared teams with the best marks in football history, Notre Dame Stadium has been home to more national championships than any other stadium in college football.
continued from page 1

Lou Holtz.

Becton will agree he may not have the breakaway speed of a Reggie Brooks or Ricky Watters, but his long strides, shifty style, and tremendous heart have convinced all the doubters who said he didn’t have what it takes to be Notre Dame’s starting tailback.

“Things like that tend to make you want to work harder and establish yourself as a starter, which I took this spring to do that,” says Becton of the challenge that awaited him before the season. “I went out and I practiced hard everyday to establish myself.

“I really don’t think about them. People can say what ever they want to say. I’m gonna just go out and play and not let what they say affect my play.”

However, not only has Lee Becton silenced the critics with his emergence this season, he has gone beyond nearly all of the goals set by even his most fervent supporters. Becton is now starting to carve a place for himself in the hallowed Notre Dame record books.

Becton has put together a string of five consecutive games with at least 100 yards rushing—a string equaled only by former Irish All-American Allen Pinkett.

Not Jerome Heavens, not Vagas Ferguson, not even Brooks was able to accomplish such a feat.

Furthermore, Becton’s 922 yards heading into this weekend’s matchup against Boston College gives him an excellent chance at becoming just the fifth Notre Dame running back to rush for 1,000 yards in one season. Only Brooks, Ferguson, Pinkett, and Al Hunter can claim that distinction.

“It really feels good to have my name up there with Allen Pinkett, who was a great running back here,” says the unassuming Eroul, N.C. native. “I feel that it’s a great honor to just have my name mentioned at the same time as him.”

Becton’s name is being mentioned a lot lately. It has been said that statistics don’t lie, and what Becton has done this season has been just short of amazing.

Another hamstring injury sidelined Becton for the Irish’s week-four victory over Purdue, and he could manage 25 yards on just six carries while still hampered by the injury the next week at Stanford.

Since those two games Becton has rattled of the improbable string, which includes a 16-carry, 142-yard game against Pittsburgh, a 20-carry, 177-yard performance against USC, and last week’s 122-yard effort against then-top-ranked Florida State.

Becton’s 122-yard performance is even more amazing considering that Florida State was leading the nation in rushing defense before the showdown.

The dominating Seminole defense was starting to make a habit of shutting down the opposing team’s top running backs. That was until Becton came along.

Becton says he approached that game just like any other, and that allowed him to perform the way he did.

“I always want to do well, but I pretty much think that I can always improve on the things that I do,” says Becton. “I’m always striving to do better.”

Becton says he formed that attitude through his mother, who has always told him to never be satisfied with being average.

“My mother had a great influence on me,” remarks Becton. “She always told me that I am doing good, but that I can’t be satisfied, and to always do better.”

“I always told him to always do the best he could and to go the whole 100 percent,” says Mrs. Becton. “And that’s what he’s believed in. I told him not to go in half-stepping—he knows what he’s capable of so he just has to do all he can.

“But I didn’t even think he’d do this much,” she adds. “I thought he might carry the ball every so often or maybe move to another position—he can play just about any position you know. He just always strives to do his best.”

That philosophy has not only carried Becton to greater heights as a runner, but has helped him to improve in all facets of the game.

“I think there’s more to being a running back than just running the ball. There are other things, as far as receiving, blocking,” notes Becton.

“I’ve always thought throughout the years I’ve worked on those things to where I feel like not that I can’t get better, but I think I’m on the right track to be a complete running back.

“It’s just nice to know that your team can count on you. And not just running but catching or making a block.”

To say that Becton has been counted on this season is a major understatement. His running has been a major factor in the Irish achieving their first No. 1 ranking since 1990. If Notre Dame is ultimately successful in its quest for yet another national championship, Becton will undoubtedly be tagged as one of the heroes.

His success on the ground this year seems to be parallelizing the Irish’s surprising success on the gridiron, and he’s loving every minute of it.

“I’ve never really thought about it happening,” says Becton of achieving the No. 1 ranking. “I always felt that it would be to great to happen, but I never actually thought that it could or that it would.

“It’s a great feeling, especially getting close to a thousand yards and the team’s success being as it is, I mean we’re number-one. It really feels good.”

The Hammes
NOTRE DAME BOOKSTORE
"on the campus"

Join us for a special book signing with author Stephen Singular Saturday, Nov. 20th from 8:30 a.m. - 9:30 a.m.

NOTRE DAME’S GREATEST COACHES

Rockne, Leahy, Parseghian, Holtz

Ed Moose Krause and Stephen Singular

Special Football Weekend Hours Friday 9 a.m. - 7 p.m. Saturday 8 a.m. - 7 p.m.

No single football team in America has so dominated college sports as Notre Dame has. And no other team has commanded a more loyal following or drawn such consistently large audiences for its nationally broadcast games. Now, for the millions of Fighting Irish fans from coast to coast, here is a unique opportunity to share the excitement through a celebration of its four great coaches: Knute Rockne, Frank Leahy, Ara Parseghian and Lou Holtz.

This is a story only Ed “Moose” Krause could tell. Associated with Notre Dame for over sixty years as a player, a coach, and the school’s Athletic Director through three decades, he knew and admired each of these four men; he knew first-hand their values, their techniques, their ability to inspire. And Krause’s memories—rich, colorful, anecdotal—come to life in the pages of this extraordinary book. Here is the fiery rhetoric, and the inspired leadership; here are the intensity, commitment and pride that have driven the coaches and have turned their teams into perennial contenders for the national championship and ten-time winners. This is a memoir written in the enduring spirit of Notre Dame itself.

MOOSE KRAUSE is Notre Dame’s only dual Hall of Famer, in football and basketball. STEPHEN SINGULAR is a New York Times bestselling author whose previous books include Talked to Death, which was the basis of Oliver Stone’s Talk Radio.
Lee Becton’s name is seldom mentioned in the same breath as Notre Dame’s great running backs of the past. This may change Saturday. He could become Notre Dame’s all-time leader in consecutive 100-yard games with six if he passes the century mark against Boston College. Becton is currently tied with Allen Pinkett with five straight games of 100 yards or more. He needs just 78 yards to join Pinkett, Reggie Brooks, Vagas Ferguson and Al Hunter as the only Irish backs to gain 1,000 yards or more in a single season.

Lee Becton? Believe it or not, Becton will likely join some prestigious company in the Notre Dame record book this week. Has he broken into a position for himself among the greatest backs in Notre Dame history? You be the judge.

ALLEN PINKETT

In the “Pinkett-Pinkett” era of the mid-80s, records were broken like the bowler’s balls. Pinkett owns virtually every Notre Dame rushing record, due in large part to an offense that revolved almost entirely around him. In four years as the starting tailback, Pinkett carried the ball 889 times for 4,131 yards, both career records. Pinkett’s five straight 100-yard rushing games came in the middle of the 1983 season against Colorado, South Carolina, Army, USC and Navy. He finished for 100 yards a record 21 times in his career.

PHIL CARTER

Carter bridged the gap between the Ferguson and Pinkett eras. He rushed for 117.4 yards per game in 1980. Carter remains fourth on the all-time rushing list with 2,409 yards in just three seasons of extended action.

JEROME HEAVENS

Heavens set the career rushing mark in 1978, a record the legendary George Gipp owned for more than 50 years. He finished his career with 2,682 and remains third on the all-time list.

REGGIE BROOKS

Lost in the shadow of his older brother Tony, Reggie Brooks broke out of it in a big way in 1992. It began in the second game of the season against Michigan with his breath-taking touchdown run.

It continued throughout the season as he became the first back in the Holtz era to rush for more than 1,000 yards in a season.

He finished with an 8.04 yards per carry average, less than one tenth behind Gipp on the all-time list. Brooks was a punishing runner, breaking more tackles than he avoided.

Twice he ran for more than 200 yards in a game, against Purdue and USC. Virtually unknown before the season began, Brooks’ success helped him finish fifth in the Heisman Trophy balloting.

JEROME BETTIS

Betts generally his defensive players harder than they hit him. Fourth and two. Give it to Jerome, no problem.

He played only two full seasons, leaving after his junior year and leaving quite an impression.

Bettis had Notre Dame’s 19th and 20th all-time rushing records, collecting 179 yards against Stanford in 1991 and 176 against USC the same year. He is 13th on the career rushing chart with 1,912 yards.

But he stayed for his senior season, he probably would have moved up to at least No. 3 on the all-time list.

LEE BECTON?

It is unclear where Becton fits into this group.

His numbers will never compare to Pinkett’s or Ferguson’s because the Irish have too much depth at his position.

He is not fast or flashy. And he isn’t as dominating a runner as Brooks or Bettis. But he has been as consistent as an Irish tailback in recent years. He gains, going on six, 100 yard games and potentially only the second one 1,000 rusher in the Holtz era.

Does Becton belong among Notre Dame’s great running backs?

You be the judge.

A Forgotten Star

Vagas Ferguson was the great back few people remember

Few running backs in Notre Dame history have made as big an impact as Vagas Ferguson. He was a member of the 1977 national championship team. He is the No. 2 all-time leading rusher in school history, behind only Allen Pinkett. He holds Notre Dame records for yards in a game (255 against Georgia Tech in 1978) and yards in a season (1,437 in 1979).

Yet few people seem to think of Ferguson when they think of Notre Dame’s past greats.

Everyone knows the legendary figures like George Gipp and the Four Horsemen. And more recent greats like Allen Pinkett, Reggie Brooks and Jerome Bettis are fresh in everyone’s mind.

Ferguson seems to get lost in the shuffle, but he doesn’t mind the lack of attention.

What he remembers most about his career at Notre Dame isn’t the big games or the records. It’s the friends he made along the way.

“The accomplishments are nice and it’s great that you’re name still gets mentioned after all these years,” he said. “But your best memories are of the friends and the comraderie on the team.”

Ferguson is currently the athletic director at his alma mater, Richmond (Ind.) High School. He played for Dan Devine at Notre Dame from 1976-79, collecting a total of 3,472 yards.

Irish running back Lee Becton probably will never approach Ferguson’s rushing totals, but he is on a quest for a record of his own today—six consecutive 100-yard games.

No other Irish running back has ever accomplished that feat. In fact, Pinkett is the only back ever to have five consecutive 100-yard games.

“It’s a great accomplishment and I wish him good luck,” Ferguson said of Becton’s quest for the record, but he is reluctant to compare himself to the running backs of today.

This is a different era and each person is different. Lee has been playing very well and I hope he continues to play and help the team win the national title.”

Lee Becton

233 1357 5.8 8

BY THE NUMBERS

TC YDS AVG TD

Allen Pinkett 889 4131 4.6 49

Vagas Ferguson 673 3472 5.2 32

Jerome Heavens 590 2082 4.5 15

Phil Carter 557 2409 4.3 4

Reggie Brooks 198 1508 7.6 15

Jerome Bettis 337 1912 5.7 27

Lee Becton 673 3472 5.2 32

Photo Courtesy of Notre Dame Sports Information

Few people remember Vagas Ferguson as one of Notre Dame's great running backs.
Miami, Ohio State, Alabama face road tests

Games of Interest

With the way the Tide has played as of late, it would not be surprising to see them get beaten by an inspired Auburn Tiger/War Eagle squad.

Ohio State at Michigan

Wouldn’t it be nice to see the Wolverines end up 6-7? This could happen if they lose to the 9-0 Buckeyes in Ann Arbor. If Michigan does pull off the upset, the Buckeyes may see their Rose Bowl hopes go down the drain. They will have to sit back and watch Wisconsin and Michigan State tangle in Tokyo in December. If the Buckeyes win, they will go to their first Rose Bowl since the ’60s. Imagine, the Big Ten title being one on the other side of the globe. It could happen.

UCLA at USC

The Rose Bowl will be decided the old fashioned way: in the Coliseum between the traditional Pac-Ten powers. However, this year something is different. The Trojans are an uninspiring 7-4, and are looking like a champion at the crown after beating No. 25 Washington 22-17 last week. Arizona has crested USC 38-7 earlier in the year, but the Wildcats were eliminated from the race with last week’s 24-20 loss to Cal. On the other side of town, UCLA is in need of a wake up call.

For Immediate Release

The Observer Staff welcomes a few members of the student information staff, whipped into shape by fearless ringleader Rose Pietrzak—a ray of sunshine on an otherwise cloudy day.

Observer Sports Staff

Last week: 25-19

VS Sports Info Assistants

Last week’s guests: 27-17

SPORTS EXTRA STAFF

EDITOR: George Dohrmann
GRAPHICS: Brendan Regan
CONTRIBUTING WRITERS: Jason Kelly, Bryan Connolly, Jonathan Jensen, Mike Norbut, Timothy Seymour

Notre Dame is special for Eagle fans

Ten powers. However, this is almost like they had a pep rally and claimed an entire section of the Ohio State Irish football team and band.

They very vociferously chanted their Eagle cheers throughout the proceedings, disrespectfully interpreting players, coaches, and guest speakers alike. The narrator, last year’s leprechaun, silenced the Eagle contingency at the rally’s closing when he noted that Boston College and Notre Dame have a lot in common—they’re both excellent academic institutions with outstanding athletic programs and Catholic traditions. However, if there’s one thing that distinguishes Notre Dame from Boston College, he said, “it’s that Notre Dame has class.”

It wasn’t that they hated Notre Dame or felt that disrupting the rally would prove to be a strategic advantage. The simply acted true to their nature—overemphasized on tradition.

The B.C. weekend usually proves to be a unique experience for Notre Dame students and visitors arriving in their Winnebagos on Wednesday and Thursday and taking both the campus and South Bend by storm.

They charge to the local pubs and watering holes in order to adequately experience “the Irish tradition.” They march proudly around the quads. Their band is the largest in the nation and is led by the incomparable Stephen’s Marching Band.

There’s just something intangible about Notre Dame that captivates fans.

You see, Boston College does not have the tradition of success of Notre Dame.

Notre Dame was the team most Bostonians followed when the Eagles were struggling. The Irish stood up to the same ideals and held many of the same traditions as Boston College.

It also didn’t hurt that Boston has one of the largest Irish communities in the country. You would find more people in Boston wearing Notre Dame’s clothing than that of any other college.

For many Notre Dame fans, the trek to South Bend is more than just a road trip, it’s a pilgrimage.

So when the Eagles came out to South Bend last year as an undefeated team, they really didn’t know how to act. It was almost like they had a conflict of interest.

If it’s time to me to clear, For 51 weeks a year I am a Boston College fan. I warp facts and disregard reason with the sole objective of convincing myself that this is the year for the BC. This is, in fact, my favorite weekend of the year.

And in all objectivity, Irish fans should be much more concerned about this game than they currently are. Since falling in its first two games of the season to No. 4 Miami and to an upstart Northwestern squad which also gave the Irish a challenge, Boston College has won seven consecutive games.

Anybody expecting a repeat of last year’s 54-7 shelling of the Eagles is in need of a wake up call.

Odd’s are that you’ll be caught off guard at some point this weekend in something said or done by an Eagle fan. “Notah Dame has a good team, and they ah numbah one for a reason,” your typical Boston College fan will say. “Well, if we play hard we may just surprise ‘em!”

Don’t let comments like this disturb you as all Catholics deserve to dream the impossible.

Bryan Connolly

EXTRA Friday, November 19, 1993

Miami, Ohio State, Alabama face road tests

Games of Interest

With the way the Tide has played as of late, it would not be surprising to see them get beaten by an inspired Auburn Tiger/War Eagle squad.

Ohio State at Michigan

Wouldn’t it be nice to see the Wolverines end up 6-7? This could happen if they lose to the 9-0 Buckeyes in Ann Arbor. If Michigan does pull off the upset, the Buckeyes may see their Rose Bowl hopes go down the drain. They will have to sit back and watch Wisconsin and Michigan State tangle in Tokyo in December. If the Buckeyes win, they will go to their first Rose Bowl since the ’60s. Imagine, the Big Ten title being one on the other side of the globe. It could happen.

UCLA at USC

The Rose Bowl will be decided the old fashioned way: in the Coliseum between the traditional Pac-Ten powers. However, this year something is different. The Trojans are an uninspiring 7-4, and are looking like a champion at the crown after beating No. 25 Washington 22-17 last week. Arizona has crested USC 38-7 earlier in the year, but the Wildcats were eliminated from the race with last week’s 24-20 loss to Cal. On the other side of town, UCLA is in need of a wake up call.

For Immediate Release

The Observer Staff welcomes a few members of the student information staff, whipped into shape by fearless ringleader Rose Pietrzak—a ray of sunshine on an otherwise cloudy day.

Observer Sports Staff

Last week: 25-19

VS Sports Info Assistants

Last week’s guests: 27-17

SPORTS EXTRA STAFF

EDITOR: George Dohrmann
GRAPHICS: Brendan Regan
CONTRIBUTING WRITERS: Jason Kelly, Bryan Connolly, Jonathan Jensen, Mike Norbut, Timothy Seymour

Notre Dame is special for Eagle fans

Ten powers. However, this is almost like they had a pep rally and claimed an entire section of the Ohio State Irish football team and band.

They very vociferously chanted their Eagle cheers throughout the proceedings, disrespectfully interpreting players, coaches, and guest speakers alike. The narrator, last year’s leprechaun, silenced the Eagle contingency at the rally’s closing when he noted that Boston College and Notre Dame have a lot in common—they’re both excellent academic institutions with outstanding athletic programs and Catholic traditions. However, if there’s one thing that distinguishes Notre Dame from Boston College, he said, “it’s that Notre Dame has class.”

It wasn’t that they hated Notre Dame or felt that disrupting the rally would prove to be a strategic advantage. The simply acted true to their nature—overemphasized on tradition.

The B.C. weekend usually proves to be a unique experience for Notre Dame students and visitors arriving in their Winnebagos on Wednesday and Thursday and taking both the campus and South Bend by storm.

They charge to the local pubs and watering holes in order to adequately experience “the Irish tradition.” They march proudly around the quads. Their band is the largest in the nation and is led by the incomparable Stephen’s Marching Band.

There’s just something intangible about Notre Dame that captivates fans.

You see, Boston College does not have the tradition of success of Notre Dame.

Notre Dame was the team most Bostonians followed when the Eagles were struggling. The Irish stood up to the same ideals and held many of the same traditions as Boston College.

It also didn’t hurt that Boston has one of the largest Irish communities in the country. You would find more people in Boston wearing Notre Dame’s clothing than that of any other college.

For many Notre Dame fans, the trek to South Bend is more than just a road trip, it’s a pilgrimage.

So when the Eagles came out to South Bend last year as an undefeated team, they really didn’t know how to act. It was almost like they had a conflict of interest.

If it’s time to me to clear, For 51 weeks a year I am a Boston College fan. I warp facts and disregard reason with the sole objective of convincing myself that this is the year for the BC. This is, in fact, my favorite weekend of the year.

And in all objectivity, Irish fans should be much more concerned about this game than they currently are. Since falling in its first two games of the season to No. 4 Miami and to an upstart Northwestern squad which also gave the Irish a challenge, Boston College has won seven consecutive games.

Anybody expecting a repeat of last year’s 54-7 shelling of the Eagles is in need of a wake up call.

Odd’s are that you’ll be caught off guard at some point this weekend in something said or done by an Eagle fan. “Notah Dame has a good team, and they ah numbah one for a reason,” your typical Boston College fan will say. “Well, if we play hard we may just surprise ‘em!”

Don’t let comments like this disturb you as all Catholics deserve to dream the impossible.
This Weekend!

After hours in Chicago and South Bend

Morris Civic Auditorium - Calendar of Events

Robert Cray (guitar performer), Saturday, November 20 at 8 p.m., $21.50.

It's a Wonderful Life (musical), Saturday, December 11 at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. Prices: evening shows - main floor/1st balcony $28.50, 2nd balcony $23.50, 3rd balcony $14.50. Saturday matinee - orchestra/mezzanine $29.50, main floor/1st balcony $25.50, 2nd balcony $21.50, 3rd balcony $13.50.

Shirly Valentine featuring Loretta Swift, Friday, February 25 at 8 p.m., Saturday matinee - orchestra/mezzanine $31.50, main floor/1st balcony $27.50, 2nd balcony $23.50, 3rd balcony $14.50.

Oklahoma!, Friday, March 11 at 8 p.m., and Saturday, March 12 at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. Runs through December 25th. Prices range from $29.50- $58. For more information call (312) 443-3800.

Robert Cray brings his distinctive R&B guitar style to the Morris Civic Auditorium on Saturday.

South Bend Symphony Orchestra

"Mostly Beethoven - One" January 15

Daniel Gaisford, Cello

Beethoven - Leonore Overture No. 3

Elgar - Cello Concerto in e minor, Op. 85

Beethoven - Symphony No. 6 in F minor, Op. 68, "Pastoral"

"Mostly Beethoven - Two" February 19

Janina Fialkowska, Piano

Beethoven - Coriolan Overture, Op. 62

Mozart - Piano Concerto No. 20 in d minor, K. 466

Beethoven - Piano Concerto No. 4 in g major, Op. 58

Richard Strauss's opera "Salome" will be performed Tuesdays through Thursdays at 7:30 p.m., Fridays at 8 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays 2:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. Runs through December 25th. Prices range from $26 - $32. For more information call (312) 443-3800.

Chicago

A Christmas Carol, The Goodman Theatre located at 200 S. Columbus Dr. Opened November 11, and will be performed Tuesdays through Thursdays at 7:30 p.m., Fridays at 8 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays 2:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. Runs through December 25th. Prices range from $29.50 - $58. For more information call (312) 443-3800.

Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat, Chicago Theatre located at 175 N. State. Tuesdays/Thursdays at 7:30 p.m. Wednesdays at 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m., Friday at 8 p.m., Saturday at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m., Sunday at 3 p.m. Prices range from $29.50 - $58. For more information call (312) 902-1500.

Star Plaza Theatre in Chicago, Illinois

Calendar of Events:

Def Comedy Jam, Nov. 19 at 7:30 p.m., $22

Chicago, Nov. 20 at 8 p.m., $27

Diamond Rio and Aaron Tippin with special guest Tracy Byrd, Nov. 21 at 7 p.m., $23

The Beach Boys, Nov. 24, 7 p.m., $27

The Temptations and The Spinners with special guest George Wallace, Nov. 26 and 27 at 8 p.m., $26

Wayne Newton, Nov. 28 at 4 p.m., $24

The Nutcracker On Ice starring Tai Babilonia, Randy Gardner, and Linda Fratianne, Dec. 3 at 8 p.m.; Dec. 4, show times at 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. and Dec. 5 at 4 p.m., $25*

The Colors of Christmas starring Peabo Bryson, Roberta Flack, Jeffrey Osborne, and Patti Austin, Dec. 11 at 8 p.m., $28

Mel Torme's Christmas Show, Dec. 17 at 8 p.m., $22

Bernie Mac, Dec. 18 at 8 p.m., $21

The Johnny Cash Christmas Show starring June Carter Cash and The Carter Family with John Carter Cash, Dec. 19 show time at 4 p.m., $23

David Copperfield, Dec. 21-23, show times at 5 p.m. and 8 p.m., $26

Oak Ridge Boys with special guest Patty Loveless, Dec. 31, at 7 p.m. and 10:30 p.m., $32. Jan. 1 show time at 8 p.m., $22

*Children age 12 and under admission $23

Prices include $10 in food and beverage coupons

CORRECTION

In yesterday's Observer the Flanner/Siegfried play was misidentified as the Stanford/Siegfried play. The Observer regrets this error.
In 1969, when I started going on extended bus trips as the Glebe Club chaplain, I was twice the age physically, and half the man spiritually, that I am today. But the club had been there for as long as I could remember, and it was a part of my life. I never traveled further than the landmarks featured on the maps of the world showing the fruited plains, many times in the past quarter-century.

And maybe before I die with my boots on as chaplain of the Club, I’ll get to Alaska and Hawaii. As a boy growing up in Maine, I never traveled further away from home than New Hampshire or Vermont until the U.S. Navy made me an outsider. I never stood on risers and never went to those cotton fields down South. But my feet went to the Arlington National Cemetery. I’m grateful for the way the lack of language and the lessons of everything I’ve seen, as well as my eyes, as well as my own Shadowland and shadow-world, the launch sites at St. Mark’s in Venice, at Notre Dame, the nail with which the architect sings. I get a lion’s share of the world showing up with the Greyhound with the Glee Clubbers, though the English never delivered the miracle of the meat and potatoes of a Glebe Club meal.

Everything else is a fringe benefit. As the chaplain, I’m there for death’s door and the thunder from the skies, and maybe drew blood with a chain saw. My life was awed by the sound from the heaven’s above the thunder. I’d turn out a performance that didn’t rise above the sound of the meat and potatoes of a Glebe Club meal.

I remember the deaths, including Bean’s, and the depositions which took place when ever body drank with worstness and the ordeals of travel, switched from their bus tickets, and shirts that looked gray from lack of laundering.

And going on stage, they turned out a performance that showed the thunder from the skies, and maybe drew blood with the chainsaw. My life was awed by the sound from the heaven’s above the thunder.

The only thing that rises above the sound of the meat and potatoes of a Glebe Club meal.

I remember the deaths, including Bean’s, and the depositions which took place when ever body drank with worstness and the ordeals of travel, switched from their bus tickets, and shirts that looked gray from lack of laundering.

And going on stage, they turned out a performance that showed the thunder from the skies, and maybe drew blood with the chainsaw. My life was awed by the sound from the heaven’s above the thunder.

The only thing that rises above the sound of the meat and potatoes of a Glebe Club meal.

I remember the deaths, including Bean’s, and the depositions which took place when ever body drank with worstness and the ordeals of travel, switched from their bus tickets, and shirts that looked gray from lack of laundering.

And going on stage, they turned out a performance that showed the thunder from the skies, and maybe drew blood with the chainsaw. My life was awed by the sound from the heaven’s above the thunder.

The only thing that rises above the sound of the meat and potatoes of a Glebe Club meal.

I remember the deaths, including Bean’s, and the depositions which took place when ever body drank with worstness and the ordeals of travel, switched from their bus tickets, and shirts that looked gray from lack of laundering.

And going on stage, they turned out a performance that showed the thunder from the skies, and maybe drew blood with the chainsaw. My life was awed by the sound from the heaven’s above the thunder.

The only thing that rises above the sound of the meat and potatoes of a Glebe Club meal.

I remember the deaths, including Bean’s, and the depositions which took place when ever body drank with worstness and the ordeals of travel, switched from their bus tickets, and shirts that looked gray from lack of laundering.

And going on stage, they turned out a performance that showed the thunder from the skies, and maybe drew blood with the chainsaw. My life was awed by the sound from the heaven’s above the thunder.

The only thing that rises above the sound of the meat and potatoes of a Glebe Club meal.

I remember the deaths, including Bean’s, and the depositions which took place when ever body drank with worstness and the ordeals of travel, switched from their bus tickets, and shirts that looked gray from lack of laundering.

And going on stage, they turned out a performance that showed the thunder from the skies, and maybe drew blood with the chainsaw. My life was awed by the sound from the heaven’s above the thunder.

The only thing that rises above the sound of the meat and potatoes of a Glebe Club meal.
"There are nearly 10,000 homeless shelters and facilities in the country, but this is among the best."

-Fred Karnas, executive director
National Coalition for the Homeless

Lou Holtz,
head football coach at the University of Notre Dame, requests your presence at the third annual Center for the Homeless Christmas Luncheon

Wednesday, December 1, 1993
11:30 a.m. – 1:00 p.m.
South Bend Century Center

For reservations and information, please call (219)282-8700
or write
Center for the Homeless, Inc.
813 South Michigan Street
South Bend, Indiana 46601

* Yes, I plan to join Coach Holtz December 1 in support of Michiana’s homeless. Please reserve: __________ tables of eight at $240 per table __________ seats at $30 per reservation
* I am unable to attend the December 1 luncheon, but please accept my holiday gift of $__________ to the Center for the Homeless

Please make checks payable to: The Center for the Homeless, Inc. (RSVP by Nov. 24, 1993)

Contributions to the Center for the Homeless are fully tax deductible. ($20 of each $30 reservation is deductible.)
REGGIE MILLER’S CONSECUTIVE GAMES STARTED  THEY CAME TO AN END

INDIANAPOLIS
Otis Thorpe scored 16 of his season-high 24 points in the third quarter and grabbed 11 rebounds to power the unbeaten Houston Rockets to their eighth win, a 99-83 victory over the Indiana Pacers Thursday night.

Houston’s 8-0 start matches its franchise record, set in the 1984-85 season. The NBA’s leading defensive team, the Rockets have yet to allow 100 points in a game.

Akeem Olajuwon added 19 points, 10 rebounds and five blocked shots, and he moved into third place in blocks with 2,476 on the all-time list.

Pacers guard Reggie Miller did not dress because of a sprained left ankle. Although his streak of 345 straight starts, the NBA’s best record, looked like they would blow the Pacers off the floor. They raced to a 44-45 lead in the opening 4:45, while the Pacers were missing their first 11 shots from the field.

Indiana didn’t get its first score until the 6:57 mark, when Dala Davis, who had 16 points and 10 rebounds, scored on a short jumper.

But the Pacers got back into the game by hitting six straight shots and running off 10 points in a row and trailed by just nine at the quarter, 27-17.

They cut further into the lead in the second period as the Rockets bench came up empty on offense. The Rockets’ reserves managed just one point in the second quarter, and that came on a free throw by Scott Brooks when Indiana was whistled for illegal defense and a technical foul.

The Pacers held the Rockets to 17 points in the quarter, their best defensive quarter of the season.

The Pacers actually regained the lead on three occasions in the third quarter, leading for the last time at 60-59 with 3:30 left when Fosho Richardson, their top scorer with 18, hit a jumper.

But Thorpe put Houston in front with a three-point play and later broke a 64-64 tie with a transition score at the 3:30 mark, igniting an 8-0 run. The Pacers never led again as the Rockets pulled away.

Cedric Maxwell added 18 points for Houston, including four of seven on 3-pointers.

The Pacers shot just 39 percent from the floor and 40.9 percent — 9 of 22 — from the free throw line, and scored only 14 points in the final quarter, a season low. Houston shot 50 percent from the field.

Trails Blazers 120 Bulls 98
Rod Strickland had nine points and six assists during a second-quarter offensive explosion, and the Portland Trail Blazers went on to rout Chicago 120-98 Thursday night, their most one-sided victory ever over the Bulls.

The Blazers shot 68 percent from the field and outscored the Bulls 35-15 in the second quarter to take a 64-36 halftime lead. Portland led by as many as 37 points in the third quarter and 46 in the fourth.

Clifford Robinson, starting in place of Harvey Grant, who was ill, led the Blazers with 21 points in less than three quarters before sitting down for the rest of the night. Clyde Drexler added 19 points and Strickland 14 points and nine assists for Portland, which outrebounded Chicago 59-38.

Steve Kerr scored 16 points and Horace Grant 14 for the Bulls, whose previous biggest loss to Portland was by 16 points on Feb. 8, 1983. Chicago committed 10 turnovers in the second period and 14 in the first half, when Portland outscored the Bulls on fastbreak points 28-2. The Blazers scored 16 points off Chicago turnovers in the first two quarters, compared with two for the Bulls.

Portland used a 23-3 run to take a 54-29 lead on Robinson’s inside basket with 4:08 left in the half.

Four Portland players were in double figures by halftime, led by Robinson’s 15 points. Strickland added 12 on 5-for-6 shooting, mostly from long range, while Drexler and Porter had 10 apiece.

The Bulls, who made 21 percent of their shots in their disastrous second quarter, were playing the second of seven games on the road in 10 days. The defending NBA champions are not only without the retired Michael Jordan. Scottie Pippen, John Paxson and Scott Williams also are sidelined with injuries.

Photo courtesy of the Indiana Pacers
Buffalo hopes to rebound from Monday night massacre

Associated Press

ORCHARD PARK, N.Y. - Waking up is the commonly used term. Buffalo Bills center Kent Hull has a less gentle description.

"It's a head-slapper," said Hull, referring to Buffalo's 23-0 mauling at the hands of the Pittsburgh Steelers last Monday night.

The Bills (7-2) have to hope the cobwebs have cleared - literally and figuratively - from the Pittsburgh beating as they play host to the Indianapolis Colts on Sunday night.

The Steelers punished Buf­falo, giving Jim Kelly and Don Beebe concussions and breaking a bone in Andre Heed's wrist. All three are expected to play against the Colts.

The knockout-shutout got the Bills' attention, Hull said.

"It's not that you get overcon­fident," he said. "It's just that sometimes I think you get lazy mentally about what it took to get where you are. Every once in a while, you get one of those slapped on you and you realize what you have to do to get better.

The first priority Bills coach Marv Levy has to deal with is Buffalo's abysmal third-down record on offense and defense. Offensively, Buffalo went 2-11 on third down against the Steelers. "Third downs killed us," Kelly said. "We were pitiful and we have to get better in that phase of the game."

The news is worse on de­fense. The Bills did a good job checking the Steelers — until third down. Pittsburgh converted 16 of 18 attempts, an impressive 56 percent. For the season, Buffalo's defense is allow­ing third-down conversions at a league-leading 48.2 percent.

The Bills still lead the league with 29 takeaways, but their last two opponents — the Steelers and the Patriots, have averaged 200 rushing yards against Buf­falo.

That means rookie Running Backer Potts, beginning to emerge as Indianapolis' go-to runner, should get the ball a lot.

"I would venture to say that the Indianapolis Colts will run Potts left, run Potts right and run Potts until we can prove we can stop him," Buffalo defensive end Phil Hansen said.

"That's what I'd do." Indianapolis hasn't had much success running. In fact, the Colts haven't had much sustained success doing anything this season, according to tackle Mike Wolk.

"It's been a major disap­pointment," said Wolkoff, a fix­ture on Buffalo's offensive line before the Colts lured him away with a rich free agent contract.

"I was really thinking we'd be 6-3 at this point instead of 3-6," he said. "It's frustrating and there's not a lot of happy peo­ple around here."

BEARS VS. CHIEFS

KANSAS CITY, Mo. Earlier in the season, Kansas City's offense had a magical quality. Then it disappeared.

It has reappeared enough for the Chiefs (7-3) to enjoy a two-game lead in the AFC West and feel much better about Dave Krieg's ability to keep every­thing afloat while Joe Mon­tana's irksome hamstring heels.

Last week in Los Angeles, the Raiders took a 17-7 halftime lead before Krieg's three touch­down passes led a 24-3 second-half blitz giving the Chiefs a season sweep of their AFC West rivals.

It was a similar second-half surge that carried the Chiefs to a 23-16 victory over Green Bay last week before Krieg's three touch­downs led a 24-3 second-half blitz giving the Chiefs a season sweep of their AFC West rivals.

But with the Chicago Bears' powerful defense coming to town Sunday, ditching the later­arriving offense would be wise.

"We've been coming out and missing third downs by a mat­ter of a foot," said coach Marty Schottenheimer. "You have to convert those."

Schottenheimer and offensive coordinator Paul Hackert obvi­ously have been doing lots of game plan rearranging during hurried halftime talks.

"It's to determine what ex­actly has taken place in the first half and then communicating those ideas to the players," Schottenheimer said. "It really boils down in the final analysis to players wanting to go out and do the job, executing and relying on fundamentals. I have always felt it is very im­portant to coach throughout the ballgame. Anybody can sit down on Monday and look at the video."

Struggling the first two quar­ters to find their offensive rhythm could happen because the Chiefs still are learning their new 49ers-style offense.

Finding that rhythm in the sec­ond half is a good sign the lessons are being learned.

Wide receiver Willie Davis be­lieves Krieg is especially getting more comfortable.

"The important person is get­ting a feel for it," said Davis, who batted in Krieg's 66-yard scoring pass at Los Angeles.

"That's base. I know how hard it is for the quarterback to get into this offense, because this offense is very difficult for a quar­terback.

"You have four or five re­ceivers going out, you have to know where each one is going," he said.

"It was tough for a while. Now it's finally coming to him where everybody's going to be. The public's going to see that he's going to be great now."

"I'm encouraged the offense is starting to come together," Schottenheimer said.

SPORTS BRIEFS

Ultimate Frisbee is seeking anyone who would like to play competitively this spring. If interested, come to the Notre Dame Ultimate Club's information meeting Sunday Nov. 21 at 10:00 in the N.D. room, sec­ond floor of LaFortune. No experience necessary.

Introducing Irish Lacrosse Team: an organization for non-varsity athletes. Informational meeting Mon. Nov. 22 at 7:30 p.m. in Grace Hall first floor pub.

Mike of Doubles Tennis Mixer will be held November 22, 9 p.m at the Eck pavillion. Anyone interested should sign up by Monday at noon in the Rec. Sports office. Sign up individually and you will be paired up. There is a $1 court fee. Call Rec. Sports office with questions at 631-6100.

Dr. Dominic Vachon

How To Cope

With Anxiety And Stress

Concerned about taking first semester finals

Stressed about finding summer employment

Worried about completing last minute projects and papers

Dr. Vachon will discuss the skills necessary to cope with anxiety and stress as well as address your specific issues and questions.

DATE: SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 21
TIME: 7:30 p.m. - 8:30 p.m.
LOCATION: Fischer, O'Hara-Grace Community

Additional Presentations Next Semester. Sponsored by:
- The University Counseling Center
- Fischer, O'Hara-Grace Community
- University Village
- Graduate Student Union

Refreshments will be provided!

Visit the "SATELLITE SHOP" at the JACC

Open before, during & after the game
Hockey
continued from page 24
ity. Senior captain Matt Osiecki, who scored a point in every Irish goal this past weekend, and fellow blue-liners must keep LSSU's offense in check to give Notre Dame a legitimate chance of stealing some points on the road this weekend.

Even with a reliable defense, the offense must start to produce against the Lakers. Someone must step up to take some of the burden from sophomore center Jamie Ling, the team's leading scorer. Last weekend, Osiecki did the job, now it's someone else's turn. Schafer is confident someone will emerge.

"We need to play really well this weekend," said Schafer. "We'll concentrate on playing well, then we'll look at the scoreboard. We're planning to take a game or two."

Hoops
continued from page 24
Macleod received a technical foul for his efforts, but said that he felt the officials called a better game after his outburst.

"We saw (Samara throw elbows) on film and we warned our players about it," MacLeod said. "Somebody had to step up and protect our players."

Williams strapped the Irish on his back early in the second half, converting a three-point play with 12 minutes remaining to give the Irish their first lead of the half.

He scored just four more points in the game, turning the reins over to his supporting cast that iced the win with solid play down the stretch. Dmitry Donovsk scored 15 of his 17 points in the second half to keep Samara close, including some clutch free throws in the final minutes.

Igor Grachev led Samara with 19 points.

"We've got a game under our belt and that's good," MacLeod said. "There were some bright spots."
Islanders’ scoring spree continues against Canadiens

Associated Press

HAMILTON, Ontario—Pierre Turgeon led the New York Islanders on a scoring spree for the second straight day, getting two goals and setting up another Thursday night in a 5-1 win over the Montreal Canadiens.

Turgeon had three goals and an assist in Wednesday’s 8-1 rout in Ottawa. Playing in Hamilton, Turgeon and the Islanders again broke loose.

Keith Acton, Steve Thomas and Benoit Hogue also scored for the Islanders. Gary Leeman was the only Montreal player to put the puck past Ron Hextall.

Turgeon scored the only goal of the first period, connecting at 1:49. Leeman tied it at 1 at 6:24 of the second period. It was only the second goal of the season for the former 50-goal scorer who has been relegated to fringe duty.

Turgeon made it 2-1 at 17:33 of the second period with his 10th goal of the season. He scored on a power play after Montreal was caught with too many men on the ice.

New York moved ahead 3-1 on Acton’s first goal of the season 4:29 into the third period. Power-play goals by Thomas at 9:15 and Hogue at 10:41 capped the scoring. Thomas got his by taking a tap-in of a superb cross-crease pass from Turgeon and Hogue cut around the net defensemen Peter Popovic.

Turgeon, a former Islanders star, became the only seven-gamer. Pat Falloon and Alexander Semak each had four assists for the Islanders.

Blackhawks, Panthers battle for top spot

MIAMI—Michel Goulet scored his second goal of the game 9:41 into the third period and the Chicago Blackhawks beat Florida for their sixth straight victory.

Chicago, which started an eight-game road trip, hasn’t lost since Oct. 31, when Philadelphia beat the Blackhawks 9-6. The game, again involving replacement referees, had two fights, one that led to the ejection of two players.

Flyers, Whalers go down to Florida

PHILADELPHIA—Mark Recchi scored two goals and assisted on another in a game prolonged by 35 penalties.

Philadelphia, the NHL’s top-scoring team, stopped a three-game losing streak with just its second victory in seven games (2-5). Hartford has lost six straight on the road.

Recchi collected his own rebound and knocked the puck on goaltender Mario Gosselin at 2:07 of the third period to put Philadelphia ahead 5-3. He scored his second goal at 2:22 of the third, taking a pass across the slot from Josef Beranek that put backup Mike Lemarduzzi out of position.

Maple Leafs, Kings play tight game

INGLEWOOD, Calif.—Wendel Clark scored his league-leading 19th goal as the Toronto Maple Leafs rallied to beat the Los Angeles Kings 5-2 on Wednesday night to regain the overall lead in the NHL with 32 points.

Mike Krushelnyski scored his third goal of the season on a power-play at 2:42 of the third period to tie the game 2-2 and set up John Cullen’s game-winner with 10:24 left with a soft centering pass.

John Druce scored on Los Angeles’ first shot on goal at 2:07 of the first period and Jari Kurri tied it 2-2 at 3:56 of the second with a 50-foot slap shot.

Wayne Gretzky was credited with an assist on Kurri’s goal.

Jeremy Roenick helped the Chicago Blackhawks to defeat the expansion Florida Panthers Thursday.
Welcome Parents! Come Join Us At Nick's Patio

• Breakfast served all day
• Lunch
• Dinner
• Or a snack ANYTIME

Just Minutes from Campus

OPEN
24 HOURS
1710 N. Ironwood 277-7400

Nick's
Patio

Thank you to everyone who has sent back a survey.
IIf you haven't sent yours back yet, please do.

ERASMUS BOOKS
- Used books bought and sold
- 25 Categories of Books
- 25,000 Items
- 2500 Local Tit;es
- Out of Print, Rare, and Collectible items
- Search Service
- $5.00
- Local pick-up

Open noon to six Tuesday through Sunday
1027 E. Wayne
South Bend, IN 46617
(219) 232-8444

a key to Belles' swimming hopes
By ELIZABETH REGAN
Saint Mary's News Editor

The Saint Mary's swim team will splash into action this weekend in Indianapolis at the Indiana University/Purdue University of Indiana Invitational. The Belles will compete against several small colleges including DePauw, Ashland, Transylvania, Wabash and Wittenberg.

"I'm excited that we are finally going to get in the water," said coach Greg Janson. "Six weeks is a long time to practice without a meet."

Although set back by October break, the Belles are prepared for the invitational, Janson said. "A lot of people didn't have access to a pool and didn't work as hard as they should have over break," said co-captain Jennifer Gustafson. "But everyone has been giving it their best."

"This competition is good for our level," Gustafson said. "There is nobody that we blow out of the water, but nobody blows us out either."

"We're all excited to see how we'll perform," said co-captain Ellen Kramer. "The team has really come together both mentally and physically in the last couple of weeks," said Janson.

Volleyball continued from page 22

tion from an ankle injury. Stark, who has been the team's emotional catalyst for much of the season, leads the MCC in individual block average with 1.27 per game and is third in hitting percentage at .278. She is expected to be 100% for the tournament.

Stark's recovery comes as a mixed blessing for the Irish, as her return is coupled with the loss of another senior middle blocker, co-captain Julie Harris. Harris who leads the MCC in hitting percentage at .317 and is second to Stark in block average with 1.17 per game, broke a finger in last weekend's matches and will miss the MCC competition. She is expected back later in the season.

Notre Dame has numerous players up for conference awards this weekend. Junior outside hitter Christy Peters is almost a lock for MCC player of the year, ranking second in average digs and third in kill average while thoroughly dominating conference play. Stark, Harris, and senior setter and co-captain Janelle Karlan look to join Peters for conference, regional, and potentially all-American honors. Freshman Jenny Birkin has the inside track for newcomer of the year, while classmate Kristina Ervin is hoping to join her on the all-newcomer team.

With so many awards and seedings at stake, the Irish must not overlook the opponents this weekend. Butler took the Irish to four games in last weekend's MCC Tournament. Senior Christy Peters leads the Irish volleyball team into this week-end's MCC Tournament.

X-Country
continued from page 24

regarding a more aggressive start," said men's coach Joe Piane. "I felt that this strategy worked out well for us, and we certainly don't need to head out any stronger at the National Championships."

"The key to success at the NCAA tournament is for us to stay relaxed," said women's coach Tim Connolly.

"Our team is capable of placing high - a top 10 finish for our team is not an unrealistic goal. A lot of great teams out there will fold under pressure, so if we can stay relaxed and run our best we should meet with success."

The Observer • SPORTS
SMC hoops opens at Kalamazoo Invite

By ANNE HERRMAN
Sports Writer

The Saint Mary’s basketball team tips off their season this weekend at the Kalamazoo College Invitational. The Belles face Indiana Wesleyan for the first time ever in game one of the tournament.

Indiana Wesleyan is a “nice size team both in size and experience,” said Belles’ coach Marvin Wood.

With a clean record, the Belles don’t know what to expect.

“We will find out a little about the areas we need to work on,” said Wood, “like our strengths and our key players.”

In this weekend’s tournament Wood hopes to see the team come together and demonstrate quickness and an effective defense.

“Every practice we are learning to flow with our offense,” stated senior Mollie Wheeler. “It’s difficult to take individuals of multiple back-grounds and get them to play as one team in just two weeks time.”

Volleyball favored in MCCs

By TIMOTHY SEYMOUR
Associate Sports Editor

Although the tournament is two weeks away, the road to the MCCs starts this weekend for the No. 18 Notre Dame volleyball team, when it looks to secure an automatic bid by winning the Midwestern Collegiate Conference tournament in Evansville.

The Irish enter the tournament as the number one seed and are heavy favorites to sweep for the third consecutive year. Under head coach Debbie Brown, the Irish have never lost to an MCC foe.

Notre Dame takes to the road on a six match winning streak during which the Irish have dropped only one game. However, the Irish will be without Brown for the trip, as she and her husband Dennis are expecting their first child in two weeks.

Assistant coach Steve Schlick, who has coached with Brown for five years and recently led the Irish to victories over LaSalle and Pittsburgh, will take over the helm.

Having earned a first round bye, Notre Dame will play its first match Saturday night at 8 pm against the winner of the Xavier-Evansville quarterfinal. The finals will be held on Sunday at 2 pm, with the Irish likely to face Butler, should they advance.

The Irish romped through the regular season with a 5-0 conference record and were never seriously challenged. However, Schlick warned that his squad could not afford to be over-confident.

“Kavier, Loyola, and Butler are all fairly evenly matched, and all three are capable of giving us a competitive match,” he explained. “Still, we don’t look on (the tournament) as pressure but as an opportunity to qualify for the NCAAs.”

The Irish have more at stake than just qualifying, however. The MCC tournament will be the last time the Irish face regional rivals, and will therefore be the last chance they have to relinquish their No. 1 regional ranking. This ranking could have important implications when the NCAA announces first round byes and site locations.

“If we were to lose a match, it would hurt our ranking,” commented Schlick. “However, if we win I would expect to maintain the seeding.”

The Irish will get a lift towards the goal of hosting a home match in the NCAAs as senior middle blocker Molly Stark continues her rehabilita-

This Weekend in Notre Dame Sports

Let’s Go Irish!

Friday 11/19
Men’s and Women’s Swimming vs. Ball State
Men - 4:00 pm
Women - 7:00 pm
Rolf’s Aquatic Center

Sunday 11/21
Women’s Basketball vs. Czechs
2:00 pm JACC Arena
FREE ADMISSION

The Works
Still The Place for Pasta

50¢ OFF
Shot of Espresso!

This offer expires 11/26/93. Limit one coupon per customer.
Not valid with any other promotion or coupon.

Voted Best Bed & Breakfast in Michiana!

Need the Perfect Gift? Idea or Getaway? May we suggest,

The Beiger Mansion Inn & Fables Gallery
Get away or get a gift certificate. Stay in one of our luxury rooms, lunch in our tearoom, enjoy a fabulous Saturday night dinner in our State dining room, or select a work of art from Fables Gallery. Gift certificates available in any dollar amount. Plan now for a birthday, an anniversary, honeymoon, or just to say I love you.

LUNCHEON
Tuesday thru Saturday
11:00 A.M. - 2:00 P.M.

DINNER
Saturday evenings only
6:00 P.M. - 9:00 P.M.

(219) 256-0365 • 317 Lincoln Way East • Mishawaka, Indiana 46544

PLAY LIKE A CHAMPION TODAY

The Notre That Motivates -
It is now available on over 30 items, each one a collectable.
All have been carefully designed to inspire a feeling of pride each time its worn or displayed.

To Get Your Free Color Brochure
Dial
1-800-597-2461
Michiana residents
Call 233-9487

Look for the AP Image logo on the tag, it’s your guarantee of quality.
Why settle for second best?
Play like a Champion Today.  pending

The Observer • SPORTS
Friday, November 19, 1993

"Need the Perfect Gift? Idea or Getaway? May we suggest,…"
SPELUNKER

FOUR FOOD GROUPS OF THE APOCALYPSE

ACROSS
1 Sepulcher
5 Actress Moore
9 Ford's far
14 To the sheltered
15 Astronaut
16 Mountaintop
17 Close by 18 Rodents
19 Actor Novarro
20 Stenzler
23 Quaker's "you"
24 "Twilight Zone" writer
25 Ballet step
28 Inject
30 Ancient
31 Curved moldings
32 First Hebrew letter
33 Actress from Greece
34 Image
35 Parson's A.M.
36 Look like
37 Aver
38 A locale
39 Refrains phrase
40 Answer to previous puzzle
41 Type of seal
42 Big rig, for short
43 Clear, for short
44 Aid
45 Ad
46 Aid
47 Type of church donation
48 Plutonic cosmos
49 Shrubbery
50 Cornet.
51 Stow cargo
52 Forest in "As You Like It"
53 Tailored
54 Physiologist
55 Stow cargo
56 Italian corn
57 Lutheran
58 Italian coin
59 Tailored
60 Venetian
61 Advertising sign

DOWN
1 Sharp flavor
2 Bread spread
3 Inter
4 French cap
5 Conn. town
6 Owners greatly
7 School subject
8 A good way to type
9 Type of seal
10 Ancient
11 Big rig, for short
12 English school
13 Afford temporarily
14 What one?
15 Golf-course features
16 Actress from Greece
17 "...of robins
18 Avon
19 Chinese weights
20 Poet's AM.
21 Curved moldings
22 First Hebrew letter
23 Actress Davis
24 Image
25 Rhetorical phrase
26 Look like
27 Aver
28 A locale
29 Refrains phrase
30 Look like
31 Type of church donation
32 First Hebrew letter
33 Actress Davis
34 Image
35 Parson's A.M.
36 Look like
37 Aver
38 A locale
39 Refrains phrase
40 Look like
41 Type of church donation
42 Big rig, for short
43 Clear, for short
44 Aid
45 Ad
46 Aid
47 Type of church donation
48 Plutonic cosmos
49 Shrubbery
50 Cornet.
51 Stow cargo
52 Forest in "As You Like It"
53 Tailored
54 Physiologist
55 Stow cargo
56 Italian corn
57 Lutheran
58 Italian coin
59 Tailored
60 Venetian
61 Advertising sign

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

AACE ASPER SACCO
CANDLES TOY RUBB
HIVEL JUG ACO
HUBSS JUICE PEG
SOCIAL REGISTERS
ACTUK EK NEAKL
ASOFT TUFF SREH
STICKS TO THRE EAG
MATH TO KNEE ACH
ASOR TO CEB

JAY HOSLER

I'TLL TEAR U Y EVERYTHING I'M G--T.
NO NAME. SHE IS PRICELESS.

BILLY WATTSON

I FEEL DIABETES ALREADY.

CALVIN AND HOBBES

THE THINKING CAP IS ALL SET. LET'S TURN IT ON!

DIKE

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

New Age construction workers

OF INTEREST

Conscience is in the cross-fire is a three-credit alternative learning course offered spring semester. It is not a professor-run student seminar course. Learn from your peers while discussing issues pertaining to violence and non-violence. Anyone who is interested should call More at 6-4949 or Julie at 6-4776.

The Snite Museum's Gift Shop will be holding a Christmas Open House, Christmas greeting cards, fine art books, calendars, handcrafted ornaments, woodcarvings, boxes, vases all scarves, neckties, etc. will be on sale. The two day sale begins tomorrow.

Students for Environmental Action will have a meeting this Sun., Nov. 21 at 7 p.m. in the Center for Social Concerns. The meeting will be brief, but important club activities will be discussed. Current members and newcomers are encouraged to attend.

ISO's International Banquet will have its annual International Banquet at the Stepian Center on Sun., Nov. 21 at 8 p.m. ND's one and only Latino Band, Sabor Latino will be playing.

Euchre Teams are wanted for a Gorth Games Tournament on Monday, Nov. 22 at 8 p.m. in the LaFortune Ballroom. The first place team will receive two 1 weighted mountain bikes. The two-person teams can sign up in the Gorth Games Room in the basement of LaFortune. The entry fee is five dollars per team and the sign-up deadline is 4 p.m. on Nov. 21. Call 1-3776 for more information.

DINING HALL

Notre Dame
NE Clam Chowder
Baked Pollock
Quiche Lorraine

St. Mary's
Swedish Meatballs
European Vegetable
Sourdough

Snow White

and the Seven Dwarfs

Nov. 19 & 20
8pm & 10:30pm
Cushing, $2

SUB: crazy stuff and more
Notre Dame overcomes sloppy first half for exhibition victory

By JASON KELLY
Associated Sports Editor

Welcome to the second season of the Monty Williams Show.

There are a few more guests this time, but it is questionable if it can be more successful than the first.

Tuesday's 85-78 exhibition win over Samara Russia in front of 9,515 fans at the Joyce Center provided few answers.

It wasn't until decided until Byun Flower bit four consecutive free throws in the final 30 seconds to secure a shaky Irish win.

It was a typical first game.

Notre Dame coach John MacLeod said: "We threw it away and banged into each other too much, but we got contributions from a lot of different people at key times."

Williams made the biggest contribution in the second half to help the Irish overtake a 35-28 halftime deficit.

He fumed at the officials who were like a truck going over a two of his game-high points.

"It was a strange feeling playing my first game at the college level," White said. "I have to work on slowing down and running the offense, but if I keep listening to Coach MacLeod I'll be alright."

The officials seemed to listen to MacLeod, who stormed on to the court after what he thought was a flagrant elbow thrown at senior Brooks Boyer.

He fumed at the officials who called a foul on Boyer.

Irish senior Monty Williams lays the ball over a Samara defender for two of his game-high 30 points.

Irish hockey looks to ice Lakers

By TIM SHERMAN
Sport Writer

This is what the CHA is all about.

This weekend, the improving Notre Dame hockey team travels to northern Michigan to play two games against generational powerhouse Lake Superior State. These games should serve to give the Irish an opportunity to see just how much progress they have made this season.

Coach Ric Schafier's Irish have been playing solid hockey lately, maintaining their respectable fifth place standing in the highly-competitive CHA. They own a 3-3-1 overall mark, 2-3-1 in confere­ncing games.

A major reason for Notre Dame's successes has been the outstanding play of senior goalie Greg Louder. In his first four starts, Louder has allowed only five goals. His save percentage in that span is an impressive .946. In addition, Louder has tallied two assists thus far to help the offense.

Louder and his teammates will have to face their best this weekend against LSSU. The Lakers, national runners-up last season and national champions in 1991-92, are in sole possession of first place in the CHA.

"No doubt, they're a powerhouse team," said Schafier. "They're very, very good."

In addition to being talented, the Lakers are deep. Last weekend, the Lakers played two games without their top two scorers. This posed no problem.

Freshmen centers Marcus
Hughes and Matt Gotch were a presence in the middle that was missing last season.

Hughes collected 14 points and six rebounds and Gotch added four points and four rebounds before fouling out after playing just nine minutes.

"I thought Hughes played an outstanding game," MacLeod said. "Gotch also came in and did some good things. We got a lot of people involved and that's very encouraging."

Notre Dame jumped out to a 6-2 lead after a crowd-pleasing alley-oop pass from freshman point guard Admore White to Williams.

Then the first-game jitters took over. Samara scored 13 straight points to take the lead, which it held for much of the first half.

Turnovers and quick shots kept the Irish from generating much offense in the first 20 minutes.

White finished his first college game with two assists and four turnovers, numbers indicative of the entire Irish team.

"We were like a truck going downhill out of control (in the first half)," MacLeod said. "We had eight assists and 15 turnovers. Those columns have to be reversed before we can make strides toward being a good team."

While struggled at times offensively, but his tenacious de­ defensive pressure kept the much bigger Samara offense out of synch.
That pressure helped force Samara into 26 turnovers and forced White to leave the game with eight minutes remain­ing after collecting his fifth foul.

"It was a strange feeling playing my first game at the college
level," White said. "I have to work on slowing down and running the offense, but if I keep listening to Coach MacLeod I'll
be alright."

The officials seemed to listen
to MacLeod, who stormed on to the court after what he thought
was a flagrant elbow thrown at senior Brooks Boyer.

He fumed at the officials who called a foul on Boyer.

see HOOPS / page 19

Cross Country prepares for NCAA Championships

By DYLAN BARMER
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame men's and women's cross country teams will leave today for the NCAA Cross Country Championships, which will be held Monday, November 22,
at Lehigh University in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

Both teams are coming off impressive performances at the District IV Meet last Saturday, and are looking to turn in strong performances at the NCAAs.

The men's team, which is now ranked fifth nationally, will be looking to improve on last year's sixth place finish.

The Irish men have not won the NCAA title since 1957, and they last finished in the top three in 1990, when they finished third.

This year's team is extremely talented, and will be led by three time All-American Mike McWilliams, who finished third overall at Saturday's meet, and 24th overall at the NCAAs last season.

The women's team, currently ranked 14th in the nation, will become the first Irish women's team to compete at the NCAAs.

The team's second place finish
Saturday marked the highest an Irish women's team has ever placed in the District IV Meet.

The women will be led by junior Sarah Riley, who finished fourth overall at Saturday's meet.

Coaches of both teams look forward to the NCAAs with optimism.

"We had talked with our athletes
see X-COUNTRY / page 21

Inside SPORTS

SMC

Belles basketball and swimming open their seasons this weekend.

see pages 21-22

VOLLEYBALL

Irish look for automatic bid to NCAAs in this weekend's MCC Tournament.

see page 22