Beatty, Kowalski win SMC freshmen election

By CAROLINE BLUM
Saint Mary's Editor

It could be the start of a new era. Fifty-four percent of the freshmen class hit the polls to vote for their future class leaders Tuesday, rendering a decision that for the first time strayed from Saint Mary's College history of abstentions, violations, and run-offs.

Freshmen Beth Beatty and Joan Kowalski will assume the positions of president and vice president respectively, after receiving 58.8 percent of the votes.

"We are really happy," Beatty commented with excitement. "We worked hard campaigning door to door. We couldn't have done it without our friends."

Beatty and Kowalski, whose campaigns include improving relations with Notre Dame and increasing class unity, will meet with the freshmen advisor this week to determine their first steps.

"We want to get the word out that we're ready to work for the class," Beatty said.

The Kim Martin (president) and Nancy Midden (vice-president) ticket placed second with 38.2 percent of the vote.

Following the tradition of freshmen elections, the Kim Martin and Midden ticket invited Martin and Midden to join their freshmen class board as a consolation prize.

"I am excited about working with [Beatty and Kowalski] as board members," Martin explained. "And there are always three more years."

As for the election itself, Martin admitted she was disappointed, although she was glad that the Beatty ticket won.

Martin and Midden will accompany seven other freshmen on the board, who won their own races Tuesday, competing for the 13 open board spots.

Molly O'Leary received the largest vote with 79 percent; Beth Mayer and Vera Nackovic both won 78 percent, while Janet Horvath earned 76 percent. Marie Bats andBellemare Gonzalez-Esteezy tied with 75 percent each and Nicole Staab emerged with 72 percent of the vote.

"I'm looking forward to this opportunity and the challenges I'll face," O'Leary said. "I'm looking forward to the friendships I'll make with the people on the board and with the rest of the freshmen class."

Election Commissioner Emily Miller was impressed with the class' 54.1 percent voter turnout. "I am pleased with the turnout," Miller said, "especially since there will not be a run-off."

"I am pleased with the turnout," Miller said. "I am pleased with the turnout."
Respecting what has been lost

Margie Husemann
Associate Viewpoint Editor

Last week, the memories of POWs and MIAs were commemorated. They led me to ponder the role of the military in the USA. Growing up as a military brat, my views have often questioned the system of military forces on a Catholic campus. However, all universities, especially ones such as Notre Dame, have a responsibility to help mold the officers of the armed forces. Receiving the education and training are a bit skewed.

Nevertheless, the topic is one we must consider. Those people who have blindly sought peace and want to prevent war are a bit naive. The military does it for the altruistic reason of serving the nation, but the mere fact that they may not see much of a difference after becoming a soldier is demanding, not only in training, but also in what war they fought in, they deserve the respect of those in power.

Failing to appreciate the people who have dedicated their lives to an ideal. By participating in a war, they have supported a cause. To feel weak, wussy, wobbly, fatigued and much heavier than her 150 pounds when she encounters Earth's gravity for the first time in six months. She can also figure on being anemic and having a depressed immune system. Doctors have no idea what else to expect. How long will it take her to recuperate — when the shuttle Atlantis brings home America's space-endurance champi­on on Thursday. Space travelers generally overcome most of the side effects within weeks or months. But only one other woman, a Russian, has come close to spending this much time in orbit. All the other long-term space fliers have been men.

Will the 53-year-old Lucid have a higher risk of developing osteoporosis because of all the bone lost during her 184 days of weightlessness? What about cancer from space radiation? Could her life be shortened?

"That's the sort of thing that 10, 20 years from now, we'll have an answer to," said Dr. Roger Billica, chief of medical operations at Johnson Space Center. "In the meantime, it is a concern, not because we think that they're putting them in increased risk but because we want to make sure that we're not.

Lucid began the final leg of her long-awaited journey home when Atlantis undocked from the Russian space station Mir on Monday. She had been living on the orbiting complex since March.

"Do evidencys," Lucid called out to the three men left behind on Mir — good-bye in Russian — as Atlantis slipped into the blackness of space.

Vatican vows: no Polish Pope spy

The Vatican said Sunday that a Polish war hero who served in Pope Paul VI during the late 1960s and 1970s, if in fact identified with the discredited anti-Nazi movement "Military Intelligence," may have been a Soviet spy.

The Vatican challenged an account of a July 13, 1970 meeting in East Berlin between a Pope Paul VI aide and an unidentified man whom the Vatican says was a representative of "Military Intelligence." The statement called the account, found in the files of the East German secret service and attributed to the spy, a "taked recreation of the talk."

The statement, signed by Vatican spokesman Joaquín Navarro-Valls, said the report did not coincide with an account of the meeting in the Vatican archives. Navarro-Valls said the alleged spy report contained already publicized information on the meeting but left out discussions relevant to the Vatican's participation in the meeting.

Kiddie kiss leads to sexual scandal

LEXINGTON, N.C.

These days, a kiss isn't just a kiss — not even in the first grade. A 6-year-old boy who kissed a girl on the cheek was suspended from school for "inappropriate behavior." Jackie Prevette said the school overreacted to an innocent peck on the cheek by banishing her son, Johnathan, to a room apart from his classmates. Johnathan said that the girl asked him to kiss her and that he was expressing friendship, according to his mother.

"Can't you just imagine children skipping down the hall holding hands? Isn't that Norman Rockwell America?" Prevette said. District spokeswoman Jane Martin said the policy is clear: "A 6-year-old kissing another 6-year-old is inappropriate behavior. Unwelcome is unwelcome at any age."
Freeman Scholarship opens door for staff

New scholarship fund established to further education

By LAURA PETELLE
News Writer

Sandra Krimanich, a Notre Dame employee with two children in college, can now avoid having to send herself to college thanks to the Fred E. Freeman Scholarship. Newly offered to University staff members wishing to obtain their college degree or receive certification in a trade program.

Freeman began working for the University in 1940 in the student health center, and served in several positions before retiring in 1987. At the time of his retirement, Freeman worked in human resources.

Before his death in 1994, he left the University a bequest for the establishment of a scholarship fund to provide tuition reimbursement to Notre Dame staff members. The scholarship is the first to be offered exclusively to staff members wishing to obtain a degree or certification.

This is the first year the scholarship has been awarded, and the field of hopefuls was fairly competitive. Candidates must be staff members, and must have worked full-time for the University for a minimum of three years. Members of the faculty and the administration are not eligible. Each applicant is evaluated on the basis of his or her current post-secondary work, and an essay.

The recipients represent a range of ages and educational goals. Sanda Krimanich, an administrative assistant at the Joan B. Kroc Institute for International Peace Studies, received one of the awards this year. She earned her associate's degree two years ago, and is now working for her degree of General Studies at IUSB, taking one course at a time. She has two children in college and doubts that completing her degree would be financially feasible without this award. "I didn't know Freeman, but I am deeply grateful for this opportunity."

There were four recipients this year: Krimanich, Thang (Victor) Huang, Annette Roberson, and Arlene Spitz. The recipients represent a range of ages and educational goals.

Sarah Misener, manager of planning and development at the Department of Human Resources, said: "I think [this scholarship] is great. I know it's not the be-all-end-all (sic) for everyone, but it's a nice start."

New scholarship fund established to further education

NUMBER PATELL, COMPANY, INC.

Maybe you majored in advertising and did not even know it.

So you majored in English, or Psychology, or PLS. Or even Art History. No matter. Facts. You may very well have prepared yourself for a career in advertising. At Leo Burnett, we're not interested in majors - we're interested in people who like to think. So come and learn about a career in Client Service. After all, you have the prerequisites. Seniors of all majors are welcome. Casual dress.

Wednesday, September 25th, 7:00 pm • Alumni - Senior Club

HALL PRESIDENTS COUNCIL

HPC promotes campus unity

Council makes pitch for students to wear The Shirt

With the countdown to Saturday's football game against Ohio State dwindling, the Hall Presidents Council's co-chairs made a pitch for all students to wear The Shirt at the game.

Deborah Hellmuth, one of the council's co-chairs, said the idea to wear The Shirt was suggested to her by an unnamed Morrissey Hall resident.

"The Shirt representation didn't go off that well (at the first home game against Purdue)," Hellmuth told the council members at their meeting last night. "It can be a really big thing. A lot of upper-classmen have seen the impact of The Shirt."

Adding to the anticipation of the weekend, student government is hosting a pep rally Thursday evening at Fieldhouse Mall.

Slated to begin at 7 p.m., the rally will include performances by several campus bands and appearances by Sara Walsh, an Olympic Gold Medalist; Notre Dame student; Thomas Krug, former Notre Dame quarterback and current student coach; Chris Petruccelli, coach of the women's soccer team; Troop ND; the Band of the Fighting Irish; the cheerleading squads; and Lou Holtz.

Student Union Board will host a rave in the LaFortune Ballroom at 9:30 p.m., immediately after the pep rally.

The rave will last until 1:30 a.m.

The council also repeated an announcement of Hall Spirit Day, which takes place today at Alumni-Senior Bar. The activities include a competition to determine which dorm can get the most residents to visit Senior Bar while wearing dorm clothing. Other activities at Senior Bar this week include a 1980s lounge sponsored by Student Union Board on Thursday and an appearance by Smokey Bob on Friday.

The council also reminded those who plan to enjoy the weekend's festivities, reminding them of the death of Marc Fox that occurred during the weekend of the Florida game in 1993.

"We want to remind everyone to be careful," said Hellmuth, a Pasquerilla East senior. "We'd hate to see a repeat performance of what happened our freshman year."

Lunar eclipse to occur Thursday

LUNO BURNETT COMPANY, INC.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TONY!

Love, Mom, Dad, & the rest of the Pohlen Family

Tutors

The office of Academic Services for Student-Athletes is hiring tutors for the following subjects. If you are interested in tutoring and have demonstrated proficiency in the following subjects, please stop by 309 Main Building or call Jean, 1-5585 for information.

Accounting (All Levels)
BA 230 (Stats)
Finance (All Levels)
BA 240 (Computers)
Marketing (All Levels)
Spanish
Writing
Engineering

[Image 0x0 to 824x1230]
Continued from page 1

written more than thirty books dealing with the subjects of prayer, suffering, and life and death. His last book to be published during his life, entitled "Can You Drink the Cup?" was released only a few weeks ago. Nouwen's life story is that of a journey undertaken in order to discern the will of God. "He was always searching for a home, always searching for a community. In his writings, you can see that," said McNeill. "Two of his books were written in a Trappist monastery. But he was seeing whether that was the place God wanted him to spend the rest of his life." Nouwen went on to spend several years in South America, in the belief that perhaps he was being called to spend his life there serving the poor. But after twenty years of searching, Nouwen chose to dedicate himself to the care of the mentally disabled.

Robert Jonas, a friend of Nouwen, spoke on National Public Radio's "All Things Considered" about his friend's decision to dedicate his life to service in the L'Arche community for the handicapped, which is located in Canada. "Henri was a brilliant theologian, but he was always restless in academia," Jonas said. "He was always more at home living out of the heart of God rather than merely talking about it. So I and many of my friends were not surprised when he joined a worldwide network of communities for handicapped people, called L'Arche." During the last ten years of his life, Nouwen drew from his experience with the mentally disabled in his writings. One of his later books, entitled "Adam," tells the story of a mentally disabled boy whom he cared for during his service in L'Arche. Adam could not speak, nor could he eat or walk without help. "Henri spent months waking him up, bathing him," said McNeill. "And in the eyes of the world it was time wasted, but in Henri's eyes it was God's brilliance and beauty coming out." Jonas summarized Nouwen's life of compassion and love, saying, "Henri Nouwen wanted everyone to know that each person, no matter how broken, handicapped, or unimportant in the world's eyes, is the beloved of God."
Abroad
continued from page 1

Grendahl felt the student-teacher relationships went well because both sides were intent on compromise. "The teachers there were very cooperative," she said. If a problem did arise, Dr. Cyriac Pullapilly, director of the Semester Around the World Program, acted as a mediator.

The group lived in a hotel and ate most of their meals together. These meals took place on the roof-top of the hotel overlooking the Arabian Sea. They consisted primarily of rice, naan (bread), and dal (lentils). The custom in India is to eat with your hands, but Grendahl and the group took advantage of the opportunity to use utensils.

Grendahl felt she was immersed in the culture, but only to a certain extent. "Living completely like them would have been very challenging and admirable, but I can't even imagine it," she confessed.

Grendahl spent one weekend with her "home-stay sister." In this event, the participants were paired with another student from Sacred Heart with whom they spent the weekend. During this experience, she ate with her hands and showered with a bucket. In spite of the poverty-stricken conditions, the Indian hosts were very hospitable. "If I could think of one word to describe India, it would be love," said Grendahl.

After coming home for Christmas, Grendahl left for her second semester in Washington, D.C. During her stay, she took two seminar classes, participated in an independent research project, and had an internship at the White House Press Office, where she was responsible for answering journalists questions and releasing executive orders.

Because of her duties and the location of her office (50 feet from the oval office), she ran into President Clinton on several occasions, and met him during a meeting with other interns.

Seeing President Clinton at work, first-hand, gave Grendahl a new appreciation for his position. "He always needs to be concerned with public opinion, and he's always working," she said.

Despite her positive experiences in the nation's capital, Grendahl has decided not to make Washington, D.C. her home. "One thing I learned in Washington," Grendahl said, "is that I don't want to go back and work there. I thought later in life maybe I would want a public office. I realized it's not for me. It's too die-hard and cutthroat."

Returning from Washington D.C., Grendahl and her family planned a trip to Bosnia.

Most of her time in Bosnia was spent praying. Grendahl and her family attended Mass, confession, and prayed the rosary twice a day. She referred to the time spent there as "really hard-core."

Grendahl cherishes her week there because of the time she was able to spend with her family and the reflection time she was able to spend with herself.

When remembering the time she spent in Bosnia, she said, "It's what you do with it that counts."

"The Thomas J. White Center on Law & Government presents:

Patrick Salvi
A Litigator's Perspective on Tort Reform and on Trial Strategy

Thursday, September 26 at Noon in the Law School Courtroom

THE OBSERVER • CAMPUS NEWS page 5

Have something to say? Use Observer classifieds.

Trinity College
University College Dublin
Academic Year, 1997-98
Spring 1997
Information Meeting
With
Professor Patrick Murphy
Thursday, September 26, 1996
4:30 - 5:30 P.M.
119 DeBartolo
Sophomores and Juniors are Welcome

Insiders discuss schools and the admissions process.

Law School Symposium
FREE Tuesday, October 8th, 6:00pm
Notre Dame Law School
Courtroom, 220 Law School, Notre Dame

Scheduled Guest Speakers from DePaul University College of Law • Northwestern University
School of Law • Notre Dame Law School • University of Illinois College of Law • Kaplan Educational Centers

Call to reserve your seat
1-800-KAP-TEST

All meetings are private and confidential.
THE OBSERVER
Wednesday, September 25, 1996

THE DAY OF MY DISCONTENT

Mourning the loss of the ideologue candidate

This is, without a doubt, the dullest presidential election in recent memory. As the national media so eagerly and often reminds us, Bill Clinton holds a two to three touchdowns lead over Bob Dole in most polls with just six weeks until the votes are cast. But the mere fact that the presidential contest is far from competitive is not what makes it so utterly boring; it is the candidates themselves who are putting even political junkies like me to sleep.

An election need not be close to be interesting. Senator Barry Goldwater proves that definitely in 1964, Goldwater was blown out of the water by LBJ but in doing so he helpfully outlined political sensibilities and outlined a true ideological vision that helped give birth to the modern conservative movement. There have been other interesting big losers in presidential politics too. George McGovern, like Goldwater, was an ideologue who never got anywhere near the White House but whose campaign at least provided voters with a sharp contrast with the status quo. Despite being losers in the conventional sense, candidates such as these at least added some spice and energy to the electoral process and enriched the level political discourse. Both Goldwater and McGovern have left political legacies that far transcend those of more conventional vanquished candidates like Hubert Humphrey or Michael Dukakis. So in other words; if you’re going to get crushed on election day at least go down with both guns blazing, making a stand in the belief that you are right and the other guy is wrong. Of course, Bob Dole, that master of Senatorial protocol and political com­promise, would never accept this perspective and seems determined to insure that he is remembered in political history as “The Republican Walter Mondale.” Barring any indi­rect involvement of the First Family out of Special Prosecution Kenneth Starr’s office or a Big Mac induced heart attack, Dole must internally rec­ognize that this election is lost. Hell, it was probably over before it started. How could anyone seri­ously expect a plain talking, charismatic presidential candidate to hold no principle so sacred as the no 12 percent “sensible” 100 percent tax cut just “feels pain” and “believes in a place called Hope” but even Democratic loyal­ist realize that this is a man who seems to hold no principle so sacred as the results of the latest Gallup pole. The problem is that the Democrats are so eager to retain control of the White House that they’re happy to overlook Clinton’s naked political opportunism, lack of convictions and willingness to save the Democrats in Congress down the river whenever his own political gain requires it.

The conventional wisdom regarding Clinton amongst his many marginal “things aren’t so bad and I don’t like the other guy” supporters is even more revealing. “Sure,” many lukewarm Clinton supporters admit, “he’s a loch­erous hillbilly with an underdeveloped sense of ethics, few core beliefs, artifi­cial charm coming out of every pore and a bitchy wife—but the economy’s okay, we’re not at war and he genuinely seems to care about people like me and our problems.” Such is the mandate of the leader of the Free World. The prospect of choosing between these two candidates has rather limited appeal to me. Barring some sort of polit­ical deal or machina saving the day for Dole, the results are almost a foregone conclusion anyway. So figure if I’m going to “waste” my vote I might as well waste it on someone whose got some­thing to say. And no, I’m not referring to everyone’s favorite vertically chal­lenged Texan billionaire when I say that. Me? I’m voting Libertarian this fall.

Christopher Kratovil is a senior Arts and Letters major.

Doggone

Good morning everyone,

Good morning, Mr. President.

--President Clinton

Listen people, don’t talk to the dog, talk to the man.

--Al Gore

And that you’re looking like a lama, Inc.,

--Squeaky Fromme

All ready are you sitting in my chair?

--Bill Clinton

This is your day, sorry sir, hearing aids.

--Hubert Humphrey

Quote of the Day

“Compassion is not weakness, and concern for the unfortunate is not socialism.”

--Hubert Humphrey
Bridging the gap between 'us' and 'them'

Don't hate us, cause you ain't us.

This motto on a T-shirt puzzled me, frankly. It just didn't make sense in a way that I could understand.

Sure, it sort of means, "Get to know us before you condemn us." But the phrase smirked the reader in the face, as if to force that person to think about it. And the more I think about it, the more it makes me uncomfortable.

It strikes me as a bit "separatist" in some ways. The motto rightfully asks "don't hate us," but I don't get it. I just think about us. It doesn't make sense in a way that I could grasp it.

Before you condemn us, think about it, the more it makes me uncomfortable.

Beware fellow imbibers—there are groups of students whose favorite football game offense is a unique setting where freshmen and I'm not talking about bowling and what have you.

The thing worth missing class for, and then leave the parking lot within three hours after the game, has so kindly constructed for us. Simply gating is perhaps the most ominous moment of silence for our late friend带到生活 into a universal

An upperclassman's story will help explain the very concept of the University puts every student in a fra-

A study printed in the Observer on September 19 is just a taste of things to come. Entitled "Alcohol and the American College," it states that binge drinking is not some obscure fad. I was interested to find that Notre Dame students are truly national leaders as our level of drunk­ enance made the average college in the country seem like an elementary school.

The study closed with a final saying, "Can we accomplish our mission and fulfill our students' goals if we tolerate such excessive drinking?" It is that question leads to a commitment to act vigorously...against campus alcohol abuse, multiple approaches tailored to conditions on each campus will certainly be needed." If that is what a "raid" or "joyride" is, I wonder if he just

We fight for our beliefs. When we both profess faith in the love of Christ? When we both profess faith in the love of Christ?

"ain't us," and we won't let you

You won't let us, or the United States Government, have the right to decide the outcome of this procedure, I anticipated that I would support the bill.

The only explanation for his position on this issue is that he has been captured by the wealthy political interests of the pro-abortion movement. And I wonder if he just thought the issue would go away. It was called, appropriately, "The Smith-Bolton Amendment." And rape-and-ccest was never an issue. Women who are raped do not wait until they are five months pregnant to abort.

Apple wrote that "the Republican-led Congress knew ahead of time that Clinton would go against them. It was a lose at risk for devotements less performs a partial birth abortion—$3,000 per partial birth abortion, to protects.

Notre Dame Right To Life is proud to join the ranks of liberal Democrats like Patrick Moynihan and Bob Corker who supported the ban, and we believe that our efforts in support of the legislation are not in vain. In fact, we believe they have paid off as the House has already voted to override the veto. The Senate will vote Thursday.

MAUREEN KRAMLICH
President, Notre Dame Right to Life
ACCENT

Lock Wha

ACCENT ASKS...

If you had your own talk show, what would the topic of your first show be?

“The pros and cons of a women’s college.”
Angela Ginex
Junior, McCandless

“Meet your fake I.D.”
Megan Taylor
Senior, Off-Campus

“Transvestites that leave their wives for Indonesian llamas.”
Sean Campbell
Sophomore, Flanner

“Sexy political figures.”
Patti Meagher
Freshman, Holy Cross

“Honey, I went away to school, but I’m still with you!”
Chirsa Intriolo
Freshman, Regina

“Transvestite ex-con makeovers.”
Julia Gillespie and Erica Bernhardt
Freshmen, Knott

ACCENT BY NORA MEANY
Senior, Mary’s Accent Editor

They are a part of American culture. They are a reflection of human nature and the values that accompany such. They are a platform for the emotionally unstable. They are an information source for the masses. They are entertainment. They are talk shows.

It is an educated assumption that nearly everyone in the Notre Dame community has seen a talk show. (Those who argue against this hypothesis are obviously lying to make themselves look better.) No doubt, many in the public sector watch them regularly. However, this is no small feat since the world of talk shows is virtually impossible to escape. They litter the morning and afternoon programming of the networks with their syndicated satirical cloudbursts. But in the opinion of Michael C. Thelen, a Sophomore from Morrissey, this is a great thing.

“Talk shows are like life,” he argues pensively. “There are those that talk, those that listen and the freaks up on the stage.” Not unlike the spontaneity of day to day living, talk shows are an ever-changing establishment. To some, they serve as a metaphor for the trials and tribulations of life’s experiences. Ricki Lake and her predecessors are the Gurus of conversation to many, and serve to be forerunners in such a new medium of communication. As a service to the unsuspecting TV watcher, here is an easy-to-follow map of the South Bend syndication.

9 am on Fox: “Live with Regis & Kathie Lee”
Premise: showers of popular television stars, B movie actors and musicians that could not get booked on MTV. Audience Control? None, well, almost. The audience numbers which are given an audience questions. Fun Fact: These shows are fun, but have talk shows gone too far? For example, on a recent “Maury Povich Show”, the guest, a young mother, talked about how she left her sons in care of a convicted child molester (her father) because he had only mothered girls and she thought the boys would be safe. As if that topic wasn’t entertaining enough, Maury Povich also hosted the Friends, get their own show. What a wacky idea.

“Talk radio is such a cool name.”
By ALYSSON COOK
Assistant Accent Editor

Carol and Marilyn, Rosie, Ricki, Montel, and Maury: these are just a few of the hottest daytime celebrities who join students and other really bored people with a lot of time on their hands in an “educational” look at what the “real world” is like. With the exception of the “Donahue Winfrey Show”, most talk shows sensationalize tragedies and reverse those of the human race lacking in class and/or morals. It seems that nearly all talk shows have taken over television and some of these shows are fun, but have talk shows gone too far?

Premise: Maury Povich alternates between conducting down interviews with his guests and allowing audience questions. A few defunct stand-up comedians, who are less likely to beطرممنة with controversy, are more likely to be talking about getting a pedicure, but maybe they were just excited about an Early Bird Dinner they were getting after. Usually pretty tame. Fun Fact: For a twentieth reminder, Regis went to Notre Dame.

“Transvestites that leave their wives for Indonesian llamas.”
Sean Campbell
Sophomore, Flanner

“Sexy political figures.”
Patti Meagher
Freshman, Holy Cross

“Honey, I went away to school, but I’m still with you!”
Chirsa Intriolo
Freshman, Regina

“Transvestite ex-con makeovers.”
Julia Gillespie and Erica Bernhardt
Freshmen, Knott

The Observer/Michalski and Dave Murphy

10 am on ABC: “Caryl & Marilyn: Real Friends”
Premise: Two defunct stand-up comedians, who are friends, get their own show. What a wacky idea.

Average Topic: Eclectic topics, such as child stars (Miss Teen U.S.A. and television memorabilia is another one!)

Plus, plenty of bantering between the real friends. Audience Control? Was there an audience?

Fun Facts: The title does not lie. They are real friends (allegedly) real friends.

10 am on NBC: “Leeza”
Premise: Leeza walks around with a mike serves as an “liaison” between the audience and guests.

Average Topic: Actors and specialty topics.

Audience Control? Surprisingly, yes.

Fun Fact: Everybody knows that Leeza used to be an entertainment Tonight! I liked her poise and controlled ten when dealing with controversial topics, stated it best when she said, “Maury is such a dirty hate everything he does.” Sadly, he doesn’t even listen.

11 am on NBC: “Maury Povich”
Premise: Maury Povich alternates between conducting down interviews with his guests and allowing audience questions.

“Talk radio is such a cool name.”
By ALYSSON COOK
Assistant Accent Editor

Carol and Marilyn, Rosie, Ricki, Montel, and Maury: these are just a few of the hottest daytime celebrities who join students and other really bored people with a lot of time on their hands in an “educational” look at what the “real world” is like. With the exception of the “Donahue Winfrey Show”, most talk shows sensationalize tragedies and reverse those of the human race lacking in class and/or morals. It seems that nearly all talk shows have taken over television and some of these shows are fun, but have talk shows gone too far? For example, on a recent “Maury Povich Show”, the guest, a young mother, talked about how she left her sons in care of a convicted child molester (her father) because he had only mothered girls and she thought the boys would be safe. As if that topic wasn’t entertaining enough, Maury Povich also hosted the Friends, get their own show. What a wacky idea.

“Talk radio is such a cool name.”
By ALYSSON COOK
Assistant Accent Editor

Carol and Marilyn, Rosie, Ricki, Montel, and Maury: these are just a few of the hottest daytime celebrities who join students and other really bored people with a lot of time on their hands in an “educational” look at what the “real world” is like. With the exception of the “Donahue Winfrey Show”, most talk shows sensationalize tragedies and reverse those of the human race lacking in class and/or morals. It seems that nearly all talk shows have taken over television and some of these shows are fun, but have talk shows gone too far? For example, on a recent “Maury Povich Show”, the guest, a young mother, talked about how she left her sons in care of a convicted child molester (her father) because he had only mothered girls and she thought the boys would be safe. As if that topic wasn’t entertaining enough, Maury Povich also hosted the Friends, get their own show. What a wacky idea.

“Talk radio is such a cool name.”
By ALYSSON COOK
Assistant Accent Editor

Carol and Marilyn, Rosie, Ricki, Montel, and Maury: these are just a few of the hottest daytime celebrities who join students and other really bored people with a lot of time on their hands in an “educational” look at what the “real world” is like. With the exception of the “Donahue Winfrey Show”, most talk shows sensationalize tragedies and reverse those of the human race lacking in class and/or morals. It seems that nearly all talk shows have taken over television and some of these shows are fun, but have talk shows gone too far? For example, on a recent “Maury Povich Show”, the guest, a young mother, talked about how she left her sons in care of a convicted child molester (her father) because he had only mothered girls and she thought the boys would be safe. As if that topic wasn’t entertaining enough, Maury Povich also hosted the Friends, get their own show. What a wacky idea.

“Talk radio is such a cool name.”
By ALYSSON COOK
Assistant Accent Editor

Carol and Marilyn, Rosie, Ricki, Montel, and Maury: these are just a few of the hottest daytime celebrities who join students and other really bored people with a lot of time on their hands in an “educational” look at what the “real world” is like. With the exception of the “Donahue Winfrey Show”, most talk shows sensationalize tragedies and reverse those of the human race lacking in class and/or morals. It seems that nearly all talk shows have taken over television and some of these shows are fun, but have talk shows gone too far? For example, on a recent “Maury Povich Show”, the guest, a young mother, talked about how she left her sons in care of a convicted child molester (her father) because he had only mothered girls and she thought the boys would be safe. As if that topic wasn’t entertaining enough, Maury Povich also hosted the Friends, get their own show. What a wacky idea.
3 p.m. on ABC: “Jerry Springer”

Premiere: The only place to see the dirtiest people from trailer parks all over the US and features them on a show.

Average Topic: Two classics are “My Wife Weighs Over 900 Pounds” and “I Still Live In My Car.” The beauty of this is that it is not a joke. No one can make up stuff like this.

Audience Control: Everyone in the audience is probably ashamed enough to stay quiet on an average day. But get a rowdy day, and watch the sweats (and chubbies) begin.

Fun Fact: Jerry Springer held relatively high political aspirations for a period of time. This just goes to prove that he holds a bond of common sense with most of his other guests.

Premise: They are abrasive and the guests are crass, but Jerry Springer’s eloquent "Final Thoughts" makes watching enjoyable. Trash, but in a good way.

3 p.m. on CBS: “The Rosie O’Donnell Show”

Premiere: Like a Late Show, but during the day.

Average Topic: Interviews with both stars and average people.

Audience Control: Yes! She appeases them with her own, too.

Fun Fact: She was on Gimmie A Break with Nell Carter and Joey "Wooz" Lawrence at the beginning of her career.

Comments: A nice, entertaining daytime treat. She’s fun and we all love to watch her and not shut the 900 pounder out on her own. Not your average talk show, but a refreshing change.

3 p.m. on NBC: “Ricki Lake”

Premiere: Ricki recently changed her format to give the allusion of being more humane. Now she has a new set, and she invites the guests to show "emotional support" in tense times. But, considering that her guests are of the lowest common social denominator, this really doesn’t help much.

Average Topic: Ricki tackles such embarrassing topics such as broken engagements, estranged families, and drug problems with little to no tact. For example, Monday’s topic was “Cover Your Ears, You Don’t Want to Hear This.” Today’s: "I’ll Tell You Why You Dumped Yourself!" (in different colors, just for emphasis.) A future topic, which will interest most Notre Dame fans, is "Why Did You Take My Number If You Knew You Would Never Call Me?" No Comment.

Audience Control: No! The audience yells, cheers, boo-s and talks out of turn. Ricki has no control over them, as well as over her guests. After many censure days for swearing, Ricki has been known to explain, "We’re on television. What would your mother think of that?"

Fun Fact: She is married and pregnant.

Premise: Exploitative, Base. Common. Ricki’s fun facts are a real hit, and hopefully she can find another way to be successful. This show is spaceless, and also thankless for their mental stability. However, tune in just to see the most ridiculous commercial, we’ll meet the man who told his girlfriend that he was only going on a short vacation but actually moved away!

4 p.m. on CBS: "Oprah Winfrey"

Premiere: Oprah interviews guests and tackles tough topics with poise, grace and a little help from the audience.

Fun Fact: Oprah is a great show. She has done it all! They don’t even breathe without her permission.

Premise: Her Topic: She has done trashy. She has done hip. She has done Hollywood. She has done it all!

Fun Facts:
- A talk show that invites guests to participate in the show, a concept that has made her unique among other talk shows.
- Oprah is known for her ability to engage in meaningful conversations on a wide range of topics, often drawing on her own personal experiences.
- Her show is often praised for its ability to connect with viewers on an emotional level, creating a sense of community and shared understanding.
- Oprah is also known for her philanthropic efforts, using her platform to raise awareness and funds for various causes.

Final thoughts taken from Jerry Springer:

With this extensive overview of some of the great syndication that South Bend has to offer, even the most television-impaired student can view with conviction. So, look for publicity and view with care.

ACCENT SPEAKS

By RACHEL TORRES

Talk shows. We all watch them. We all love them...but why? What is it that keeps us locked to the set throughout the day and between classes? We watch them because we are curious. It seems that every day, we catch a glimpse of the early (gasp!) early morning lighthearted banter of Leno and Kusche Lee to the serious yet amusing Oprah in the late afternoon, we just can’t get enough. Why? What is it about these shows that makes us watch?

My guess would be that it is a form of escapism. Is it just me, or does it seem as though once we turn on the tube and a talk or entertainment TV show lands, we truly are on another planet? Like Bizarro world, perhaps? You know - that place where the evil Superman and Lois Lane hang out? Random reference? Maybe, but just hear me out.

Most of the guests on these shows are weird. There’s really no getting around it, folks...they’re just plain weird! They amuse us, they amaze us, and they drive us crazy!

Some hosts, like Oprah and Montel. I try to stick to topics in which you need at least part of a brain to keep up. Heroin addiction is a serious thing, and the discussion with JFK Jr., who wasn’t even an addict, was completely riveting. Believe me, riveting. But, sometimes these shows are not as fun as watch to the shows where the guests and audiences talk smack to each other, where chairs fly, tempers flare, and whole chunks of the audio or video fail. It’s the gracious act of obscenities. Do they pre- prepare guests before they go on? Uh, no, I don’t think so. But that’s OK because this is this kind of unimitated. I would very much recommend that presentation that makes TV talk watchable.

Sometimes, it’s hard to believe this is not real. And sometimes, I’ve decided that even the best writers couldn’t make it up.

Where else can we hear so much about the pathetic lives of others, but for talk shows? A HAI! That’s what we watch. I’ve stumbled onto something here. We are fascinated watching Ricki’s barely-literate young son talk about Dennis’s cheating ways on his girlfriend, Michelle with Michelle’s older brother, Tyrone, who moonlights as a cross-dressing stripper. How can we possibly feel bad for Michelle, when she has done Hollywood, She has done it all! She is the most observant person I have ever seen.

These days, it’s hard to believe this is not real. Sometimes, the only time we see a human who isn’t pathetically bad. So, why can we not feel bad for Michelle, when she has done it all! She is the most observant person I have ever seen.

Final thoughts taken from Jerry Springer:

With this extensive overview of some of the great syndication that South Bend has to offer, even the most television-impaired student can view with conviction. So, look for publicity and view with care.

Rachel Torres is a Junior English and Communications major at Saint Mary’s College.
NOTICES
SYDNEY's Experience the Ultimate of all sports Training students for over 30 years 1250 North of South Bend Call for class times SYDNEY, 1-800-301-6716

Martin Club Meeting Club Meeting at 6:00 P.M. Leo's Lounge of Union Questions: 1-930-330

DOG FOR ADOPTION: see pets
Entertainment Athletics, Co. 38th & State Park Drive
(225) - 2177

LOST & FOUND
Lost Purdue West light blue rotary w/shiny cross. 205 reward

WANTED
SYNCHRONIC SWIMMING
Anyone interested in synchronizing the swimming team please contact Beth at x2725. Must have enthusiasm, planning, and willingness to volunteer time and effort.

NATIONAL PARKS HIRING Positions are now available at all National Park Service Preserves. Excellent benefit + career opportunities.

ALASKA SUMMER EMPLOYMENT Students now enrolling. Salary $4.00 per hour. For work in Alaska, Prudhoe, Barrow, or Knik. No leaven requirement. European languages required. Inquire soon. For info, call (215) 383-2188 or ext. 507935.

I HATE TO SEE PAINFUL SPECIMEN ON THE MUSEUM TABLE... I HATE TO SEE IT ANYTIME. Leave message 800-582-3212

HUNDRED OF STUDENTS ARE EARNING FREE SPRING BREAK TRIPS A MONTLY $5 to 6 Free trips 6 to Free Bahamas Crab Feed. Call Rich at x1393 or Joanne x739. Panama City Beach/1191

FREE TRIPS TO CAI$H $etails on request 415-586-3566

FREE TRIPS TO CANADA 415-586-3566

LARGE REAL ESTATE CO. NAR-CAMPUS SEEKING QUALIFIED PERSON FOR PART-TIME RECEPTIONIST POSITION Hourly A $25.00 M-F 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM SAT. PHONE EXP A MUST 718/434-1655

Are you interested in an internship in public relations and fundraising? Send cover letter and resume to Mrs. Thompson at the American Diabetes Assoc. at 115 Lafayette St Suite 100 South Bend, IN 46601. This position is 15-20 hours per week and has the choice of being paid or earning credits some send resumes by Oct. 15. 1996.

Looking for a place to TAILORMORE for FAL
e. CALL 219-602-7001

PART-TIME TELLER POSITIONS Valley Bank is accepting applications for part-time teller positions. Successfully completed courses will possess excellent manual and eye-hand coordination skills. Presenting a pleasant and professional interpersonal and communication skills. We offer a variety of hours and locations including prime time positions, to be completed full time positions starting that begins Oct. 7, 1996 and lasts three weeks. Hours for Monday through Friday 9:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.

We are currently accepting applications Tuesday through Thursday. 10:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. Please apply in person.

VALELEY AMERICAN BANK Human Resources 101 N. Main St. South Bend, IN

TICKLER'S COMEDY CLUB

WANTED
FLEXIBLE

, I ALSO AVAILABLE. Call 3509 THAT PRETTY PLACE, Bed and Breakfast. 1 hour North of Chicago. MEALS INCLUDED. Call at 631-951-5008. Needs to be a Corona fankeychain/bottle cross. ($$$$$$$)

WANTED
Huge ND football season ticket for Friday, Oct. 13. Call (703) 420-1208 or (212) 250-$.$$$$$$$$

WANTED
OSU TIX for Saturday, Oct. 13. Call Rich 474-475-6511 is willing to buy or trade.

WANTED
OSU GA tickets. Willing to buy or trade. Call Matt 271-3635 or Bill 271-8709.

WANTED
2 nd or 3 GA's for WASHINGTON Call 224-9058.

WANTED
OSU GA's for Football Carlie x3244.

WANTED
OSU GA For Air Force Call Matt 271-3635.

WANTED
OSU GA's for WA. or GA and need 2 Washington tickets. Call Doug@243-9224.

WANTED
OSU GA's for sale. Please call Jonny @ 667-9425. $200

WANTED
OSU GA's For Sale, x272-7735.

WANTED
OSU GA's For Parents Call Rich x1393.

WANTED
2 GA S For WA or CH game Call x2359.

WANTED
OSU GA's For WA. or CH game Call x2359.

WANTED
OSU GA's For WA. or CH game Call x2359.

WANTED
For Sale: 2 GA's for OSU. Call Bob (212)352-0542.

WANTED
2 GA's For WA's or VA game. Call Donna at 287-3736.

WANTED
OSU GA's for sale. Accepting offers or 273-2578.

Student ticket for sale. Please call 241-4931 and leave your name, phone, and price phone.

WANTED
Needed: Chas. GA. Call Chas. @ 624-9024.

WANTED
I have OSA 2 GA's. Selling for $200 or trade for $50.

WANTED
I need 7 GA's for OSU. Call x77730.

FOR SALE
OSU GA's For Sale. Call Nick x924.

FOR SALE
OSU GA's. I have 3 for sale. Phone # 415-586-3566.
Professional Development Seminar Series

“Market Research”

Wednesday, September 25
7:00 p.m.
131 DeBartolo

• Speaker: Steve Hayes, Business Center Librarian
• This is the second in a series of four seminars which will take place throughout the semester as a means of helping Notre Dame students polish professional skills and at the same time become familiar with basic business principles
• All majors encouraged to attend!
• Other Seminar topics to be covered this semester:
  • Business Communication & Etiquette
  • Business Principles for Nonbusiness Majors
  • Public Speaking

This event is brought to you by the Notre Dame Council on International Business Development
Purdue escapes unscathed

By STEVE HERMAN
Associated Press Writer

INDIANAPOLIS

The NCAA, unable to come to any specific investigation, hinted strongly on Tuesday that anonymous allegations against the Purdue men's basketball program never went beyond an initial inquiry.

An NCAA spokesman supported the university's assertion that it did not have any information from any source that would cause the school to be the target of a full investigation.

"I've seen some articles where Purdue indicated it had not received that letter, which is how we start an investigation, and I can confirm that's correct," said David Berst, the NCAA director of enforcement.

"All that means is there is no NCAA investigation. We don't call those (preliminary inquiries) investigations. We simply call them to try to collect information."

He would not say whether the NCAA had looked into the allegations short of a full investigation.

"I can confirm the institution has not received our letter," he said. "The reason I'm hedging is I can't provide new information under procedures. I can only confirm what has already come out, and what Purdue said is accurate."

Over the weekend, CBS Sports reported that the Purdue men's basketball program was being investigated for unspecified reasons, but the university denied the report.

Earlier, allegations were leveled in an anonymous letter sent to the NCAA and to news media. And last spring, after she was fired, former Purdue women's basketball coach Lin Dunn filed a grievance with the university, alleging violations of NCAA rules in the men's program.

"I receive anonymous and other allegations every day. We probably receive anywhere from 10-20 pieces of information regarding someone's concern of violations," Berst said.

"We evaluate the information to determine if it appears to be reliable and specific, and if there is some easy way to test the credibility of the information," he said of anonymous tips.

He said the NCAA may contact the school or individuals involved, but if a full investigation is warranted, the NCAA will send a "letter of preliminary inquiry" notifying them of the allegations.

The Fort Wayne Journal Gazette reported Sunday that Dunn said her grievance included an assertion that the women's program "was held to a higher standard of conduct in regard to reporting of and adhering to NCAA rules."

Dunn's team was sanctioned by the NCAA in 1995 for minor violations.

She has denied sending the anonymous letter to the NCAA.

Purdue spokesman Jim Vruggink said he was not aware of the allegations contained in Dunn's grievance.

Dunn said she had spoken with someone with Purdue about her "knowledge of allegations and concerns," but that no one from the athletic department had contacted her.

Vruggink said the school hired a law firm to investigate the allegations and found them to be untrue. He described the letter as a hoax.

An NCAA investigation that began in 1994 led to 11 secondary recruiting infractions and reprimands for Dunn and assistant coach MacHeille Joseph, who also was fired in March.

"It has been determined that the long-term future of our women's basketball program will be best served under new leadership," athletic director Morgan Burke said at that time.

In April, Purdue replaced Dunn with Neil Fortner, an assistant at LSU. Fortner, in his first year, has a mark of 10-17.

A source familiar with the investigation said that no one from the athletic department had contacted Fortner or the university.

"It seems that [new] administration's investigation into the [women's] program reached the NCAA a few weeks ago," the source said.

Dunn, who previously coached at USF and South Florida, has not received that letter, which is how we start an investigation, and I can confirm that's correct," said David Berst, the NCAA director of enforcement.

Have something to say? Use Observer Classifieds.

Blimpie®

Is Now Open
in Wilshire Plaza

(Between Sam's Club & Waccamaw)

Now you can shop along Grape Road and eat at BLIMPIE. Once you have tasted one of our delicious subs, there's no turning back! Our subs are made with choice meats, real dairy cheese, and crisp vegetables. We make hot subs, cold subs and fresh garden salads, so come by and savor the BLIMPIE difference. Your world will never be the same!

10% Discount on Catering

Please present this coupon before ordering. Not valid if altered or duplicated. One order per coupon. One coupon per customer per visit. Customer must pay any sales tax due. Not good in combination with any other offer. Cash value 1/100 of 1¢. Offer expires 11/30/96.

Offer good at: 5626 Grape Road 243-1733, fax 243-1734

It's a beautiful thing.

THE OBSERVER • SPORTS

Wednesday, September 25, 1996

SPORTS BRIEFS

Bowling Club - All interested in the Bowling Club, a general information meeting will be held on Monday, September 30 at 6 p.m. in the Montgomery Theater in Lafayette. If interested and unable to attend, call Jason at 4-1883 with questions.

Ski Club/Team - Anyone interested in either, there will be an informational and organizational meeting on Monday, September 30 at 7:30 p.m. in 123 Neuland. Bring your check book if you are definitely interested.
Rough ride for Cowboys' Smith

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Writer

IRVING, Texas Emmitt Smith has bruised ribs, a sore knee, a sore neck, and a sore ankle.

He's averaging only 3.3 yards per carry, gained just 25 yards in his last game and is already 140 yards behind Washington's Terry Allen for the NFL rushing title.

The NFL's four-time leading rusher and the once-fourteen Dallas Cowboys running game have hit the wall one-fourth of the way into the season.

Coach Barry Switzer has decided Smith needs to be rested during games until he gets back to full strength.

"Emmitt is not well and there is no question in my mind that he is not 100 percent," Switzer said on Tuesday. "It would probably help him to play Sherman Williams some.

This change in the running game will start Monday night at Philadelphia, when the 3-1 Cowboys try to refloat their sinking ship.

Smith admits he is plagued by nagging pains.

"I still have things bothering me," Smith said. "I'm not used to being hanged up this early in the season."

Smith said another problem with the Dallas running game is "we're seeing a lot of gamefronts, because teams feel our passing game is not as strong as it once was."

Switzer added, "We have to run the football, and if we don't, we don't have a chance. Some teams pass the ball to set us up. We run to set up the pass."

The passing game suffered another blow on Monday when starting wide receiver Kevin Williams was diagnosed with a broken foot. Already out have been Michael Irvin, suspended for the first five games of the season and tight end Jay Novacek (back).

Without his most reliable people, Troy Aikman has struggled and the Cowboys have scored only 64 points in four games, with 27 coming in the victory over the Giants. Another 24 were in a Week 2 one-point loss to Indianapolis in which Dallas blew an 18-point lead.

The Cowboys will be playing a Philadelphia team still steaming from a 30-11 loss in the 1995 playoffs as Dallas began its march to the Super Bowl.

Eagles coach Ray Rhodes took exception to a Switzer's postgame remark that the Cowboys kicked the Eagles' behind. Rhodes promised retribution somewhere down the line.

Switzer was reminded of that promise on Tuesday.

"That's just his demeanor, that's how he motivates his team," Switzer said. "I've been hearing payback since I was in junior high school."

Switzer said the game against the Eagles is "very important. It's a division game. We would have liked to go through our first five games at least 3-2, but now we'd like to be 2-3 before we take our break."

Switzer said he doubted the Cowboys will try to sign another receiver before Monday night because of the bye week next and the return of Irvin for the sixth game of the season.

"I doubt if there is a receiver out there who could help us," Switzer said. "Besides, we get Mike back next week."

...and don't forget the 1996 Notre Dame Computer Store.

Notre Dame Computer Store
Room 112, 532-6471
Monday - Friday 9am - 5pm

"If you could, you would—

Macintosh.
More affordable than ever.

With low student prices on Macintosh computers, you can start doing whatever it is you want to do. And to make it even easier for you to purchase a Mac, apply to the Apple Credit Loan. So you can take home a Mac, and you won't have to make a payment for 90 days. How do you get started? Just visit your campus computer store today and pick up a Mac.

If you could, you would—

Leaves your mark.

"I've got 12 kids. This is the first time of any true success that we've ever had. The community has supported our mission," said Carole Averett, the school's executive director.

"The response from our students and the community has been impressive. And we're still learning as we go," she said.

"I believe this is going to be a very, very opportune time."

The status of Grant, Corey and reserve linebacker Sammie Burrroughs was uncertain Monday. Meanwhile, he said he was optimistic that Marshall Faulk and Ellis Johnson would be able to play against the Bills. Faulk, the team's top offensive weapon the past two years, has missed the last two games with a dislocated toe. Johnson, who had two interceptions during the preseason, was cleared to resume practice on Monday.

Injury has the number of injuries that have struck his team since training camp opened in mid-July is unprecedented in his 28-year coaching career.

"I've had teams where key guys have gone down from time to time, but I've never been around a place where we've had so many injuries, and they just seem to keep coming during practice," Gruden said. "I'll be the first to tell you that would be something that would keep a team from winning, but here when guys go down, guys will step in and keep going," Infante said.

Despite the injuries, the Colts head into the bye off their top performance of the season. Indianapolis held Miami, with a 43-3 average, but the Dolphins lead all teams in rushing with 171 yards on 32 carries.

A lot of teams could have fed into the bye off their top performance of the season. Miami, with a 3.3 average, but the Dolphins lead all teams in rushing with 171 yards on 32 carries.

A lot of teams could have fed into the bye off their top performance of the season. Miami, with a 3.3 average, but the Dolphins lead all teams in rushing with 171 yards on 32 carries.

A lot of teams could have fed into the bye off their top performance of the season. Miami, with a 3.3 average, but the Dolphins lead all teams in rushing with 171 yards on 32 carries.

Colts undefeated, but in poor health

By HANK LOWNENKRON
Associated Press Writer

INDIANAPOLIS

Battered, bruised and undefeated, the Indianapolis Colts jubilant Tuesday over their upcoming bye week.

"The team needs it big time," coach Lindy Infante said Tuesday of the bye.

Infante is giving his players three days off this week and plans only light work the rest of the week before his injury-plagued team begins serious preparations for its next game on Oct. 6 at Buffalo.

"We're not even going to run today," he said before meeting briefly with the players and telling them to report back Friday morning for another meeting.

The Colts (4-0) have defeated Super Bowl champion Dallas and Miami in successive games despite having five or more starters sidelined with injuries in each game.

The injury list grew longer during Monday's 10-6 victory over Miami when middle linebackers Stephen Grady and Quintin Coryatt both were lost on the same play in the first quarter.

Defensive linemen Tony McCoy, who has battled injuries during the off week will not hurt us.

The type of leadership that we have on this team, I think the off week will not hurt us. We need to get people healed and we need to get the bye week comes to us at a good time for us to step back, re-examine with what we've done over the last four weeks, and check out the miscellaneous things.

Infante agreed.

"We definitely need to be able to sit down and lick our wounds, and get well. If we had to start playing another game this Sunday, we would..."
Class
continued from page 10

1 OSU GA $ SALE
CALL ME: 2B4-6723 W// LEAVE OFFER ON MACH.
I NEED OHO ST. WASH. & AF GALA372-6306

PERSONAL
COLOR COPIES ON CAMPUS!
COLOR COPIES ON CAMPUS!
COLOR COPIES ON CAMPUS!
The highest quality full color copies are now available at THE COPY SHOP
LaFortune Student Center
Phone #631-COPY

SYNCHRONIZED SWIMMING-Anyone interested please come September 25th for a meeting at the Rock at 8 p.m. If you are interested please come September 25th for a meeting at the Rock at 8 p.m. interested please come September 25th for a meeting at the Rock at 8 p.m.

NEED DISCOVER SYNCHRONIZED SWIMMING-Anyone interested please come September 25th for a meeting at the Rock at 8 p.m. interested please come September 25th for a meeting at the Rock at 8 p.m.

I hate living with my senior comprehensive. I need to interview 10 people who grew up in double wide trailers, private baths, full kitchens & 4 doors on exterior servicelsi.

(615) 985-7413.
I need a senior bar parking pass for OSU. I will trade AGC passes for money. Please call Allison at 243-9308.

EARN MONEY!!!
Anybody interested in helping a fellow student with his/her homework, please call Caroline at 243-9244.

MARKETING CLUB MTG
TONIGHT!!!
6:00 pm - lower lobby of COSSA
Sign up for committees!
$10 dues
7p - 9p 1993.

Hey Gorgeous,
Post any cheap real estate? Know what? It's really tight.
SOMEDAY PLEASE HIT ME IN THE HEAD WITH A MALLET NOW!

Love me

humanistic studies majors, unlike Check out MUST E-mail.

"Sorry, guys. it's my anniversary. But I am going to pitch Saturday. If the game is meaningless, then I have to sit back and listen to what I've been advised." Clemens said before Tuesday night's game against Baltimore. "I want to play four more years, and I need to think about that."

Clemens, who has spent his entire 13-year career with the Red Sox, is eligible to become a free agent at the end of the season. He has said he would like to stay in Boston, but the team has a policy against giving more than two guaranteed years to pitchers.

"It's got nothing to do with my age. I can pitch till I'm 45 with my work habits if I want to. I've got four reasons why I don't. "I'm single, a reference to his kids. "I know what I can do. There's no reason to even discuss that."

Clemens, who made $5.5 million this season, has said the only other place he would play is Houston, his hometown. He might also consider pitching for the Texas Rangers, where his idol Nolan Ryan finished his career.

"I would never do that. I've never had to worry about the uncertainty of not having a contract," he said.

The Observer • SPORTS
MLB

Clemens honored
By JIMMY GOLEN

BOSTON

On the day when the Red Sox honored Roger Clemens for his second 20-strikeout performance, the three-time Cy Young Award winner said he may have pitched his last game for Boston.

"I'm going to go about my work as if I'm going to pitch Saturday. If the game is meaningless, then I have to sit back and listen to what I've been advised," Clemens said before Tuesday night's game against Baltimore. "I want to play four more years, and I need to think about that."

Clemens, who has spent his entire 13-year career with the Red Sox, is eligible to become a free agent at the end of the season. He has said he would like to stay in Boston, but the team has a policy against giving more than two guaranteed years to pitchers.

"It's got nothing to do with my age. I can pitch till I'm 45 with my work habits if I want to. I've got four reasons why I don't. "I'm single, a reference to his kids. "I know what I can do. There's no reason to even discuss that."

Clemens, who made $5.5 million this season, has said the only other place he would play is Houston, his hometown. He might also consider pitching for the Texas Rangers, where his idol Nolan Ryan finished his career.

"I would never do that. I've never had to worry about the uncertainty of not having a contract," he said.

The latest casualty is Jamie Spencer, who has yet to practice this week with an ankle strain. If he can see any action tomorrow, he will most likely be available on Saturday. In his absence, Robert Farmer and Joey Goodspeed took snaps at fullback.

Jim Sanson, fresh off his performance in Austin, has per-fomed this week in practice. His holder, Hunter Smith, has noticed the difference.

"Sanson's come into his own this week. He's really killing the ball." Deke Cooper, according to Ted Holz, is being given a solid look to play quality minutes at strong safety. As off now, the starter is still Benny Guillbeaux.

The jury is still out on who will start against OSU at left guard, Jeremy Akers or Jerry Wiese. Both are taking snaps with the first unit, and the coaching staff expects both lineman to play on Saturday.

The Observer • SPORTS

Football
continued from page 16

Irish Notes:
The punt coverage unit is being bolstered in preparation for a tough OSU return gang. The starting linebacking corps of Berry, Tatum, Cobbins, and Minor will aid the special teams unit, as well as fullback Marc Edwards, now at 100 percent after playing through an injury against Texas. The Buckeyes returned a punt for a touch-

ONце сOMЕS WITH THE BAll:) D-1г FoотР Орооргге СОМЕS WITH THE BAll)

Touting round out the Irish scoring were Doug Diemer, who carded a 234, and Brad Hardin, who shot a 235. Hardin shot a 73 in the second round, the top individual round score for the Irish. Hardin's 73 was bested by just eight other golfers in the tournament.

Celebrate a friend's birthday with a special Observer ad.

StePan Center
7:00 - 9:00 p.m.

Meet with representatives from over 60 organizations - ACE, Channel, Holy Cross Assoc., Inner-City Teaching, Capuchin Ministries, Christian Appalachian Project, and many, many more - U.S. and International Opportunities.

The latest casualty is Jamie Spencer, who has yet to practice this week with an ankle strain. If he can see any action tomorrow, he will most likely be available on Saturday. In his absence, Robert Farmer and Joey Goodspeed took snaps at fullback.

Jim Sanson, fresh off his performance in Austin, has per-fomed this week in practice. His holder, Hunter Smith, has noticed the difference.

"Sanson's come into his own this week. He's really killing the ball." Deke Cooper, according to Ted Holz, is being given a solid look to play quality minutes at strong safety. As off now, the starter is still Benny Guillbeaux.

The jury is still out on who will start against OSU at left guard, Jeremy Akers or Jerry Wiese. Both are taking snaps with the first unit, and the coaching staff expects both lineman to play on Saturday.

StePan Center
7:00 - 9:00 p.m.

Meet with representatives from over 60 organizations - ACE, Channel, Holy Cross Assoc., Inner-City Teaching, Capuchin Ministries, Christian Appalachian Project, and many, many more - U.S. and International Opportunities.

StePan Center
7:00 - 9:00 p.m.

Meet with representatives from over 60 organizations - ACE, Channel, Holy Cross Assoc., Inner-City Teaching, Capuchin Ministries, Christian Appalachian Project, and many, many more - U.S. and International Opportunities.
HAPPY BIRTHDAY! In the New Year of Your Life! Making another change or going on to another project will bring you unexpected opportunities. Fly the skies. Motto: "Having a good time is the goal of all of our activities!"

CELEBRITIES BORN TODAY: TV interviewers Barbara Walters, "Martha Place" star Hunter Landau, and Chicago Bulls star Scottie Pippen.

AW ARES (March 25-April 19): Your lack of logic could be your enemy in your thoughts now. Leave it up to consciously unsatisfying relationships. In business, you can succeed without others having failed.

TURKS (April 20-May 20): If upsets occur, do something about it. Starting a health and exercise program will introduce you to a whole new circle of friends. Be careful not to go groveling about dieting.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Enjoy your turn in the spotlight, but do not let the spotlight go to your head. Open your heart to your friend and do everything you can to take a child who feels-different. (July 23-Aug. 22): Be willing to work overtime in order to get your accomplishments. Travel and education are in the agenda. You will enjoy meeting new people at a social function. (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Take advantage of opportunities to pursue romantic or educational interests. Help those in need, national or local, so that your family or work situation will not be damaged.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Give your home a fresh look. Apply, a new sense of order will settle your bathroom or kitchen. Once you get the mess cleaned up, invite the neighbors to show off the results.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): A good time to get better organized at work. Remember your schedule to postpone meaningful meetings. Chat open who want to manipulate you; your time should be disowned.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Women will print influence today. Seek the cooperation and support. Participation or activities away from home could change your life for the better.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Try to be once deranged. When making financial choices, practicality is a must. Your partner may be reluctant to open up. Ask questions. Taking a small risk in business could bring many advantages.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Others are disposed of your requests. Joining a professional or political organization will work for your benefit. Your personal plans can be affected by change.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): What is the meaning of events? Mental telepathy gives you special insight and imagination. Be careful not to overuse your thoughts.

OF INTEREST

The St. Thomas More Society is sponsoring a lecture by Rev. James T. Stackowski, MS, "The Story of LaSalette," today at 12:15 p.m. in the Law School auditorium.

An African film by Dani Koyate. "Keita," will be shown today at 7 p.m. in 102 Dedek. Admission is $1 donation. It is sponsored by the African Students' Association.

A post-graduate service and volunteer fair will be held today from 7 to 9 p.m. in Stepan Center. The fair will host 63 service groups from all over the country. Call Maureen Skurski at the CSC with questions.

Menu

Notre Dame

North

Beef Stew with Biscuits
Creole Soup
Chicken Teriyaki Sandwich
Chicken Fajita Pizzas

Saint Mary's

Beef Tacos
Baked Chicken
Cheese Manicotti
Spanish Rice

Wanted: Reporters, photographers and editors.
Join The Observer staff.

WHY NOT TRY A NATURAL HIGH??

-LAUGHING - EATING A HOT FUDGE SUNDAE - HUGGING-
-WATCHING THE SUNSET - ATTEND MASS - FEEDING THE DUCKS-
-SHOPPING - DANCING - WINDBURSTING - FLYING A KITE - SINGING-
-BUILD A SNOWMAN - LIGHT A CANDLE AT THE GROTTO - SMILE-
-DO SOMETHING FOR OTHERS - ATTEND AN ATHLETIC EVENT-
-WALK AROUND THE LAKE - TALK WITH A FRIEND-

Sponsored By The Office Of Alcohol And Drug Education
Orlando is no Mickey Mouse

By DAVE TREACY
Associate Sports Editor

At the start of the 1996 season, many people wondered if it would be possible to stop Nebraska, winner of two straight National Championships. Arizona State provided an answer. The Irish faced a similar question against Ohio State this Saturday.

Can anyone stop Orlando Pace?

The Buckeye offensive lineman, weighing in at a measly 330 pounds, is considered by most football people, including coach Lou Holtz, as "one of the best linemen in football. Not college football. Football period."

The junior has started at left tackle since day one at Ohio State, garnering All-America honors as a sophomore. The big man won the Lombardi Award last year, was second in the voting for the Outland Trophy, and took home the Big Ten's Offensive Lineman of the Year in 1995.

So far this year, Pace is performing up to par. In fact, he is in the early season running as a favorite for the Heisman Trophy. The last offensive lineman to win the Heisman trophy was way back in 1949. Man by the name of Leon Hart. Played for a small Catholic school in the middle of nowhere.

Ohio State keeps statistics on the behemoth for "pancake blocks," or blocks where the defensive lineman ends up on his back, flattened by Pace. Through four games, the tackle has recorded 15 pancakes on the year.

Sort of makes you happy that you don't have to line up against him, eh?

Well, the same can't be said for the player Notre Dame hopes can be the answer to the Orlando Pace quandary.

Irish defensive tackle Melvin Dansby is looking forward to the test.

"He's like the best tackle in football," Dansby admitted. "It's a great task to undertake. But I think I'll be a great match-up, and I'm up for the challenge."

"He mixes power with flin- nesse. He's a passive blocker who tries to get position on you and then slam you. He's got great fundamentals and great speed."

A quick statistic: Dansby has never been pancaked; he also has no intention of letting that happen against Pace.

The right defensive tackle has spoken with fellow Irish lineman Reinaldo Wynn, the player who faced Pace in last season's loss in Columbus.

The Irish junior was just telling me how good he was after the ball is snapped. He's not one of those guys who tries to knock you off the football or anything. He's just looking to give the other player a couple of jabs, and then slam you. He's got very good fundamentals and great speed."

Interestingly enough, one player who did have some success against Pace last season was indeed Reinaldo Wynn. Wynn knocked him back consistently in last year's contest, although the Buckeyes eventually did hit their proverbial stride midway through the third quarter. But if Dansby is going to ask for advice, he's gone to the right man.

On the season, Dansby has also managed to impress. He has put plenty of pressure on Ohio State due to a neck injury last year, this contest means a chance for Dansby to contribute, unable to do so last year.

"I thought I could've helped last year," he remembered. "But this is my chance." Orlando is rolling to Notre Dame Stadium. It's Melvin Dansby's job to make sure that it isn't a joyride.

Not having played against Ohio State due to a neck injury last year, this contest means a chance for Dansby to contribute, unable to do so last year.

"I thought I could've helped last year," he remembered. "But this is my chance."

Orlando is rolling to Notre Dame Stadium. It's Melvin Dansby's job to make sure that it isn't a joyride.

Donohoe said, "If the scores have been in the mid-70s or low 70s, we would have been much better off."

With the absence of Joel Hepler, the other co-captain, and Bryan Weeks, the team's No. 3 player, due to academic commitments, the Irish were looking to give the other players some experience as the team heads into the Big East Championships this weekend.

Hepler and Weeks were completing academic obligations so that they would be able to leave campus Thursday to travel to the championships, to be held at the TPC Avenel course in Bethesda, Md.

"That held us back from a higher finish," Donohoe said. "We need to play better in the future."

Donohoe said he, too, planned to step his performance up when he heads to Bethesda. The senior brought up the rear of the Irish pack with a 238.

"It was more of a wake-up call, both for the team and for Notre Dame defensive tackle Melvin "The Beast" Dansby will battle in the trenches with Ohio State Tackle Orlando Pace."

In the TPC Avenel course in Bethesda, Md.

Butler Invitational Golf Results

1 Marquette 909
2 Cincinnati 919
3 Dayton 919
4 Wiso-Green Bay 919
5 Notre Dame 929
6 Northern Illinois 935
7 Moorhead State 939
8 Butler 945
9 Northern Iowa 948
10 Creighton 948

see FOOTBALL / page 14