Elizondo publishes 12th theology book

By DUSTIN VON HONDORF
New Writer

"It's a conversation between Scriptures, the tradition of the Church and personal experiences," he said. The book deals with fellowship, sacrifice, the Virgin Mary and life, among other topics.

Elizondo

ND students plan Nigerian trip

By LAURA VILIM
News Writer

Several students from Notre Dame will travel to Nigeria this year as part of the "Call to Solidarity with Africa" conference approved by the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops in November 2001.

The trip to Nigeria by Notre Dame students, a program unique to this university, is a major step toward Theology professor Father Paul Kollman's goal of keeping the continent of Africa and its successes and failures in constant view.

"One goal for the conference is that we would grow in our awareness of Africa and learn ways that the educational mission of Notre Dame might include Africa more directly, and that African peoples and issues might serve our mission, too," said Kollman.

In order to be eligible to participate in the Nigerian conference, applicants were required to write an essay detailing what they believe is most important aspect of solidarity with Africa as well as what they will contribute individually to the conference. In addition, each student must have two recommendations.

Shawlina Ferguson, a junior who is pursing a major in American Studies and a minor in African-American studies, is one of the Notre Dame students who has been chosen to participate. She is thrilled about the prospect of traveling to Africa after having studied the continent and its people in depth for the past two years.

see NIGERIA/page 4

Reckers says business not hurt by Legends

Two on-campus eateries complement rather than compete with each other, according to Food Services

By MATTHEW SMEDBERG
New Writer

When the University opened Legends this year, some feared that the new establishment might cut into the business of Reckers. After a month of Legends' operation, however, the 24-hour restaurant has seen no decrease in business.

"Reckers and Legends really serve different functions on campus," said Mike Davy, Reckers' operations manager. "If one wished to go to a club or dance or drink, Reckers was never the place to do that; we are much more geared toward informal socializing and studying — and, of course, our food."

Nevertheless, Reckers has begun to implement initiatives to increase its presence on the campus scene, including booking local bands.

see RECKERS/page 4

Former Irish Prime Minister lectures on Anglo-Irish bond

By SHEILA FLYNN
News Writer

Former Irish Prime Minister Garrett Fitzgerald spoke Tuesday afternoon at the Hesburgh Center for International Studies, addressing the normalization of Anglo-Irish relations and the role of economics in the process.

Fitzgerald, who served two terms as prime minister, or Taoiseach, during the 1980s, said many people do not realize that the troubled relations between Ireland and the United Kingdom are not solely rooted in political, religious or cultural differences.

Instead, he said a "fundamental economic imbalance" always hindered the development of a normal relationship. Until Ireland became self-sufficient economically, he said, the United Kingdom could not establish an equal relationship with its neighbor.

He outlined the history of economic connections between the two islands, which were historically skewed in the United Kingdom's favor — and followed the economic development after the formation of the European Union and other European economic ties.

"Ireland was better equipped to play a positive role," he said.

see FITZGERALD/page 4
INSIDE COLUMN

Fun in the Bend

I'm sure that you all have noticed that it is Wednesday. Wednesday is the middle of the week — and we, as students, are overwhelmed with the daily drudgery of home-work and tests. However, Wednesdays do have one major plus — there are only two days until Friday, and we all know what that means. We look forward to the weekends as times to relax, catch up on lost sleep and, most importantly, have fun.

On Wednesdays, we start thinking about what we are going to do this weekend. It is not a football weekend, so most believe the choices are fairly limited. I'm sure that by now even the freshmen have noticed how the game dictates life on the Notre Dame campus, as well as the surrounding town. On Fridays, the parties are rockin', the beer is free and Domers are pumped about tomorrow's game. On Saturday, depending on how the team does, bars and dorm rooms are either full of celebrating people or full of people wishing to drown their sorrows in beer (either way, you get a lot of really drunk people). And on Monday, you can always figure out the spirit of the game by reading articles in The Observer.

But what do you do on weekends that are not football weekends? Contrary to public belief, there are several options available for entertainment in the local vicinity. For starters, the Morris Performing Arts Center provides concerts and plays just about every weekend. This weekend, the band B.B. King is performing and student tickets are still available.

If your interests are in art history, may I suggest stepping back to 1840 during this historical reenactment complete with two log homes, archery demonstrations, skull throws, crafts, and do not forget the exciting candle dips. Admission is free and it is located at Hester's Farm on State Road 23 in Walkerton. Yet another option is a visit to the Niles Haunted Farm on State Road 23 in Walkerton. They provide five different scary attractions in one location and they are perhaps one of the hauntier houses that provides different routes through the house so that, no matter how many times you go through, you will not be scared by the same things twice. They also have a haunted hayride, a magician and a Granny & Scary Tales, along with others.

It's worth the trip. The Niles Haunted Farm is located in Mayflower Road just east of U.S. 31. If you want to be scared at all five attractions, plan spending roughly $20 per person.

The views expressed in the Inside Column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer. Contact Cheryl Barker at bark0916@saintmarys.edu.

CORRECTIONS

The Observer regards itself as a professional publication and strives for the highest standards of journalism at all times. We do, however, recognize that we will make mistakes. If you see a mistake, please contact us at 631-4541 so we can correct our error.

QUESTION OF THE DAY: IF YOU COULD PARK ANYWHERE ON CAMPUS, WHERE WOULD IT BE?

Tommy Clarkson
Freshman
Keough

“In the rector's spot.”

Ryan McMahon
Junior
Morrissey

“In the bat cave... it's under Morrissey.”

Kate Maich
Senior
Off-campus

“Right next to O'Shaughnessy Hall, the best building on campus by far.”

Michael Lozano
Freshman
Keough

“In the assistant rector's spot.”

Judah Wilson
Junior
Keough

“Sideways, so I take up Father Pete's spot. Lou Terry's and Tony Wagner's, and I would park my bike in Father Poorman’s spot.”

Justin Sternsky
Junior
Morrissey

“Under the Lyons arch, so the Carroll guys can't get to South Dining Hall.”

OFFBEAT

Phony deputy nabbed after seeking backup

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — A 22-year-old man was charged with impersonating a sheriff's deputy after he pulled over a pickup truck and then called for assistance when the occupants fled.

It appeared that Jeremy Lepianka of Syracuse had been posing as a Onondaga County Sheriff's deputy for about two years and had stopped motorists — and lectured them — on either occasions, police said.

“He told investigators he had been working as a volunteer deputy for about two years. He said traffic violations were his main thing. Hopefully, it didn't go beyond that.” Lt. Joe Cecil, a Syracuse police spokesman, said Monday.

Man saves friend's life, then is jailed

SPANISH FORT, Ala. — A man saved his friend from drowning Monday, then was thrown in jail for public intoxication.

Kenneth Hood, 47, said he and his friends were sitting on the western bank of the Blakely River when one of them accidentally backed a sport-utility vehicle into the water. Hood waded into the water and pulled friend Obie Jordan from the vehicle, taking him to the river bank and calling police.

Authorities arrested Hood and two others at the scene — Kathleen Margaret Smithart, 36, and 44-year-old Ronald Eugene Briggs — for public intoxication.

IN BRIEF

Jessica Weiner, author, speaker, and performer, will host a seminar titled “Do I look fat in this?” The all-day event will focus on ending disorders and self-esteem. The all day seminar takes place today in the LaFortune Ballroom.

The Center for Spirituality will host a luncheon today at Noble Family Dining Hall. The event begins at 11 a.m.

Students interested in post-graduate service are invited to an information session on Holy Cross Associates at the Center for Social Concerns at 6:30 p.m.

“Defining Life,” a discussion panel featuring prominent University professors, will take place tonight at 7 p.m. at the Coleman-Morse student lounge. The panel is aimed at gaining a better understanding of the pro-life position.

Paul Meena, vice-president and general manager of Universal Studios, will deliver a lecture titled “The Reality of the Film Industry.” The lecture will take place at 7 p.m. in the Carey Auditorium of the Hesburgh Library. It is sponsored by the Department of Film, Television and Theatre.

Enjoy socializing, refreshments, and a short presentation on "Relationships at Notre Dame" during this week's Theology on Tap. The event takes place tonight at 10 p.m. at Legends.

To submit information to be included in this section of The Observer, e-mail detailed information about an event to obnews喉@nd.edu.

CORRECTIONS

The Observer regards itself as a professional publication and strives for the highest standards of journalism at all times. We do, however, recognize that we will make mistakes. If you see a mistake, please contact us at 631-4541 so we can correct our error.

THE LEADERBOARD

IN BRIEF

OFFBEAT

SAINT MARY'S JUNIOR MACKENZIE ULM ENTERTAINS VIEWERS DURING HER RADIO SHOW TITLED "SEXY GRAFFITI." THE PROGRAM AIRS ON WWFI ON WEDNESDAYS.

IN BRIEF

THE LEADERBOARD

OFFBEAT

SAINT MARY'S JUNIOR MACKENZIE ULM ENTERTAINS VIEWERS DURING HER RADIO SHOW TITLED "SEXY GRAFFITI." THE PROGRAM AIRS ON WWFI ON WEDNESDAYS.
Sinwert associate most of the needs of manager Union adjustments and problems through this transition — at the time we have minimized the errors that have occurred." Stiewert said her staff experienced some difficulties in cashing payroll checks from students who are non-members of the Credit Union. Some employees of The Observer were told that, to cash future checks, they would need to open an account with the Credit Union, Cashier Services had performed the check cashing without the need to open any account. However, a memo sent Monday by Guinan clarified the issue, and both Stiewert and Guinan said Observer employees could cash checks without the need to open an account.

Guinan attributed the confusion to tellers who may have been unaware of the relationship between Notre Dame and The Observer. He said, although credit unions are not legally allowed in cash checks for non-members, all University checks may be cashed at the Credit Union because the University is a member.

"I notified the Credit Union that all Observer paychecks are essentially guaranteed by the University because the University funds the Observer payroll," he said. "As I am aware, The Observer pay-check incident was isolated. I think that can be attributed to the fact that most of the operational planning was done after the students had left in May ... this one was an oversight and should have been corrected (Monday)." Stiewert said she did not anticipate the need for students to cash payroll checks from their hometown upon arrival at the University. Many of those affected students decided to open an account with the Credit Union, she said.

She also said that a University policy change prevented faculty members from cashing personal checks — a service that was provided by the Cashier Services Office — without an account. Faculty who are members of the Credit Union may continue to have their personal checks cashed.

"When we absorbed the Cashier Services policies — they [the University] did want us to make that specific change," she said. Guinan said the decision was made in part because of risks associated with personal check cashing, in addition to the prevalence of ATM's on campus and the inconvenience of faculty personal check cashing. Guinan said that consultation with other universities also contributed to the decision to eliminate this service for non-member faculty.

"Guinan said also based on benchmarking we did with other universities, the vast majority which did not offer such services," he said.

Guinan said faculty complaints regarding this change have been infrequent — to his knowledge, he has received only three complaints.

Although the Credit Union is separate from the University, Guinan said that the Credit Union has performed whatever policies related to the former Cashier Services Office the University requests. Stiewert said that frequent communication between Notre Dame and the Credit Union has helped her determine what specific duties the Credit Union may provide.

"The communication between the University and the Credit Union has been very strong," Stiewert said. "We both have the desire of having a commitment of excellence (in serving members)."

The Credit Union, due to its absorption of functions that used to be provided by Cashier Services, has allowed non-member students to cash personal and third-party checks from parents, grandparents or siblings up to $200 per day. Students may also cash checks issued by the University of Notre Dame without opening an account. The Cashier Services Office, formerly located on the first floor of the Main Building, ceased operations July 1, 2003.

Contact Joe Trombello at jrtrombel0@nd.edu.
Elizondo continued from page 1
underpaid Mexican-American workers. Part of his work involved the establishment of the Southwest American Cultural Center, located at the Assumption Seminary.
In 1997, the Laetare Medal, the University's highest honor, was bestowed on him for his work.
Elizondo speaks many languages, including Spanish and French, and has traveled to several countries, including nations in Latin America, the Far East and Manila in the Philippines.
He has written 11 other books, including "The Future is Mestizo," "Galilean Journey" and "The Human Quest," and he co-wrote "San Fernando Cathedral: Soul of the City.
Elizondo said he would like to thank the many students and faculty members who contributed to the book.
Contact Dustin Von Handorf at dvonhand@nd.edu

Fitzgerald continued from page 1
and successful role (in the modern European economic alliances)," Fitzgerald said. Further changing its relationship with the United Kingdom, Ireland's elevation economic status, he said, enabled a mutual understanding, respect and trust. He said the improved relations currently in place would never have appeared if Ireland had remained a poor country. During his time in office, Fitzgerald played an active role in negotiating the Anglo-Irish Agreement of 1985, which gave the Irish government more power regarding the national-ist community in Northern Ireland. He is chancellor of the National University of Ireland, writes a column in the Irish Times and has written several books.

"Ireland was better equipped to play a positive role in the modern European economic alliances."
Garrett Fitzgerald, former Irish prime minister

Contact Sheila Flynn at sflynn2@nd.edu

Reckers continued from page 1
fired pizza and burgers to a more urban sandwich selection, with smoothies and Starbucks coffee on the side.

Nigeria continued from page 1
years. "The more I learn, the more I want to know about Africa, the world, and more specifically my heritage," Ferguson said. "I am certain that this conference is going to be simply fascinating." Once the students arrive in Nigeria, they will participate in a conference that will introduce them to the African nation's people, culture, and government. Some of the students from Notre Dame will be selected to give a presentation to those at the conference as well. While this structured portion of the conference will certainly be educational for Nigerians and Americans alike, Odoroz said he believes the students will gain the most by simply meeting Africans and being met by Africans.

"The program is devoted to United States and Nigerian young people," Odoroz said. As a result, students from both sides of the Atlantic will have the unique chance to interact with each other as well as listen to speeches given by adults. It is this ability to interact with Nigerians that excites Ferguson.

"I am most looking forward to embracing the Nigerian culture, meeting other students and learning about different perspectives on issues of solidarity with Africa," Ferguson said.

The country of Nigeria was chosen out of the 54 African countries to host the conference in part because one out of every five Africans is a Nigerian. Thus, while there are significant reasons to choose from one country to country, Nigeria represents more of the African population than any other country.

Nigeria's central location within the continent also makes it a prime candidate, since little of the United States' attention has been focused on that region. Odoroz and Kollman, however, said that they know that forming ties with Nigeria is only one step in the process of understanding the people and governments of Africa.

"By bringing a large group of Notre Dame staff, students, and faculty to Nigeria for a church-related conference, we hope to deepen our understanding and commitment to Africa in gener-
INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Chechen premier leaves hospital
MONDOVI — Chechnya's prime minister checked out of the hospital Tuesday despite doctor's advice, three days after first complications of an infection that a government security source said was caused by deliberate poisoning, news agencies reported.

Ahmad Popov was expected to be back at work in Chechnya on Wednesday, his administration in the Chechen capital was quoted as telling the Interfax news agency.

Meanwhile, Interfax quoted an unidentified security aide to Popov as saying that "there is no doubt that he was poisoned."

Popov was hospitalized in Chechnya on Saturday following completion of his body following a ceremony celebrating the official opening of a new gas pipeline.

18 convicted in Belgian terror trial
BRUSSELS, Belgium — A court Tuesday convicted 18 Muslims — including one planning to blow up a base believed to hold U.S. nuclear weapons — for involvement in a European terror ring recruiting for al-Qaida and the Taliban.

The defendants were sentenced to up to 10 years in prison. They included a Tunisian who aided the Sept. 11, 2001, assassination of Ahmed Shaw Massoud, the Afghan military commander who led opposition to the Taliban and directed his country at the time.

The verdict was the latest in a slew of cases resulting from a sweep of suspected Islamic militants across Europe after the attacks.

European nations have been giving more powers to police, prosecutors and judges to root out suspects.

NATIONAL NEWS

Officials discuss academy case
WASHINGTON — The Air Force's top two leaders said Monday they knew about sexual misconduct problems at the Colorado school under investigation, and one of the cadets said she tried to shield the service's leaders from criticism.

The Air Force's top two leaders said they knew about the sexual misconduct problems at the Colorado school under investigation, and one of the cadets said she tried to shield the service's leaders from criticism.

Before building the Justice Department alerted the White House to the leak of a sensitive, top-secret document that could be used to undermine the administration in the country's third year of devastating conflict here.

The investigation is being done by FBI agents in the counterintelligence division, based at the FBI Washington field office, and overseen by 11 career prosecutors in the counterintelligence section of the Justice Department's criminal division.

In a follow-up staff memo late Tuesday, White House counsel Alberto Gonzales ordered the preservation of any documents such as phone logs, memos, notes and calendar entries from Feb. 1, 2002, and later that relate to Wilson, his fact-finding trip to Africa in February 2002 and his wife's purported relationship with the CIA and any contacts with the anyone in the news media about those subjects.

Republicans said Democrats were playing politics. "Surprise, surprise, they are calling for a special counsel," House Majority Leader Tom DeLay said.

Malvo witness in sniper hearing
MONROVIA, Liberia — Liberians were leaving Tuesday, as a witness Wednesday in a pretrial hearing for his fellow sniper deaths, over doubts on the White House to convene the liaison team.

The mission of Joint Task Force Monrovian was "has been accomplished," a U.S. military spokesman said, speaking on condition of anonymity.

The presence of the U.S. troops helped drive President Charles Taylor into exile, clearing the way for a power-sharing deal between his government and rebels after 14 years of devastating conflict here.

More than 100 heavily armed U.S. military officers arrived in Liberia on Aug. 14, prodded by international appeals to intervene as Liberia's 3-year civil war pressed upon the capital of Monrovian, where rebel sieges in June and July killed more than a year can return to Liberia on a final tour of duty.

Reprisal granted in Gary killings
INDIANAPOLIS — Gov. Joe Kernan extended a three-week reprieve until Dec. 1 until the tests could be completed. His attorneys contend the results might cast doubt on Williams' role in the 1986 murders of a Gary couple.
BELGIUM

NATO struggles to find troops for Afghanistan

Associated Press

BRUSSELS — Plans to expand the NATO-led peacekeeping force in Afghanistan could further strain thinly stretched allied forces, officials cautioned Tuesday.

NATO’s military experts have presented a range of military options for extending the force of 5,500, which operates under a U.N. mandate and currently is restricted to operations in and around Kabul.

Although the plans remained confidential, officials at NATO headquarters said they could involve sending an additional 2,000-10,000 peacekeepers into major provincial cities.

Although diplomats said there was broad political support for the dispersal, officials wondered how allied nations would find additional troops given existing commitments in Iraq, Afghanistan and the Balkans.

Germany’s ambassador to the U.N., Gunter Pleuger, said Monday the expanded force could operate in eight key regional cities to help stabilize Afghanistan ahead of elections next year.

NATO officials said more cities could be included later.

The 19 NATO nations have 4.4 million troops, but only a fraction of them are effectively equipped and trained for such far-flung missions.

Alliance officials acknowledged difficulties in expanding the current ISAF force, which NATO took responsibility for in August. They fear another recruitment drive for the force could reveal more weaknesses.

Germany and Canada contribute almost 2,000 soldiers each to ISAF and France about 900 soldiers. France also has taken a lead role in training the fledgling Afghan armed forces.

The United Nations and the Afghan government have long sought an expansion of the International Security Assistance Force, or ISAF, into provinces now under the sway of local warlords.

Ambassadors from the 19 NATO nations were set to debate the military plans Wednesday, and officials said a decision to expand ISAF could come soon.

However, the U.S. ambassador to NATO, Nicholas Burns, said he did not expect a decision in the coming days. Both the United Nations and NATO have to approve the force’s wider mandate.

NATO Secretary General Lord Robertson has asked governments ahead of an October meeting of defense ministers in Colorado to examine the states of their deployable forces.

Germany is pushing to extend the mandate for an extra 230-450 soldiers to support reconstruction efforts in the northern city of Kunduz.
SEC officials answer to Senate

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Securities and Exchange Commission Chairman William Donaldson answers questions from the press before meeting with Interim NYSE Chairman John Reed.

Security and Exchange Commission Chairman William Donaldson answers questions from the press before meeting with Interim NYSE Chairman John Reed. Donaldson was asked about one of the biggest recent accounting cases, involving government-sponsored mortgage company Freddie Mac, which has thrown out two chief executives since June. The SEC and the Justice Department are investigating if evidence of fraud emerges.

In Brief

Farm co-op sales increases to Cuba

HAVANA — A leading U.S. farm cooperative said Tuesday it will sell another $8 million in corn and soy to Cuba, while Iowa officials said they will try to increase sales of their state's agriculture goods to the communist island.

On Tuesday, Chris Aberle, director of domestic sales for the Iowa-based cooperative FC Stone, said his company signed a contract for $8 million of corn and soy to the Caribbean island. The deal, which will be sold at the value of food products the cooperative has sold Cuba since late 2001.

New AOL service geared to Latinos

WASHINGTON — America Online is launching a service today under its contract with Cuban food company to sell $8 million of corn and soy to Cuba, said Iowa state Sen. Matt McCoy, a Democrat.

In court Tuesday, Chris Aberle, director of domestic sales for the Iowa-based cooperative FC Stone, said his company signed a contract for $8 million of corn and soy to the Caribbean island.

IBM lawsuit heads to trial

SAN JOSE, Calif. — Two former IBM employees who believe their semiconductor factory jobs were exposed to cancer-causing chemicals and cancer-causing chemicals can pursue a lawsuit against the firm, a judge ruled Tuesday.

Superior Court Judge Robert Baines said the cases of Alicia Ortiz, a 20-year-old with breast cancer, and James Moore, who worked in IBM's South San Jose, Calif., microchip assembly plant for much of the 1980s, could proceed to a jury hearing by the Senate Banking Committee.

Donaldson said he had discussed the exchange's regulatory function on Monday with John S. Reed, the new temporary leader of the exchange stock is going to have to come up with a governance structure that guarantees the independent aspect of what they're doing," he said.

In the aftermath of the corporate scandals, and with the NYSE turmoil and the new complaints against mutual funds, members of the panel grilled Donaldson, who had enjoyed mostly friendly treatment from lawmakers since taking over the SEC after a political crisis at the agency.

"We've got to get this thing up and going," declared Sen. Paul Sarbanes of Maryland, the panel's senior Democrat and co-author of last year's sweeping legislation to combat corporate fraud.

Sarbanes described the SEC as "this perhaps semi august body, having been fed a very good meal" when Congress nearly doubled its budget earlier this year.

Donaldson, acknowledging that investor confidence is at a low point, promised: "We're on the job."

Senators of both parties warned that failure to rebuild confidence in the markets and corporate America would undermine the economic recovery.

Donaldson was asked about one of the biggest recent accounting cases, involving government-sponsored mortgage company Freddie Mac, which has thrown out two chief executives since June. The SEC and the Justice Department are investigating if evidence of fraud emerges.

"We would have a role here," Donaldson said. "We're looking at that right now. ... We're in touch with any evidence of fraud there might be, there might not be."

Regarding the NYSE self-regulatory and enforcement functions should be split from its exchange business has been a key element in the debate over reforming the 200-year-old exchange.

About half the NYSE board's seats are assigned to executives of large investment banks, floor trading firms and brokerage houses, the very businesses the NYSE is charged with regulating.

Stocks drop after bad reports

Associated Press

NEW YORK — Disappointing reports on consumer confidence and business activity in the Midwest sent stocks back into a downward slide Tuesday, leaving Wall Street with a loss for the month of September. But the Dow Jones industrial average ended a solid third quarter, with the Nasdaq composite index rising 10 percent for its fourth straight quarterly gain.

The Dow Jones industrials and Standard & Poor's 500 index each scored a second consecutive quarterly advance.

Still, Tuesday was the fourth down day for the market out of the last five.

"Any negative news, corporate or economic, is just another excuse to take profits ... We have had a dramatic move up in almost every sector of the market," said Brian Bush, director of equity research at Stephens Inc. in Little Rock, Ark.

Investors have been increasingly uneasy about stock prices, fearing they've climbed too high too fast, given the still fragile economic recovery.

Wall Street interpreted Tuesday's reports as confirming its fears about the economy.

"I wouldn't say there's skepticism, but concern about [stock] prices today ... I think investors at the margin are saying, 'Maybe I should take some of those profits,'" said Jack Caffrey, equities strategist at J.P. Morgan Private Bank.

The Dow closed Tuesday down 105.18, or 1.1 percent, at 9,275.66. The loss more than erased Monday's gain of 67.16.

The market's other gauges were also sharply lower. The Nasdaq dropped 37.62, or 2.1 percent, to 1,766.94. The S&P fell 60.15, or 1.1 percent, to 5,495.97.

Analysts said the market's declines were owed in part to the end of the quarter.

While institutional investors, including mutual fund managers, often buy stocks at the end of the quarter to dress up their portfolios, they also sell to lock in gains.

Market Recap

In Brief

SEC officials answer to Senate

WASHINGTON — Securities and Exchange Commission Chairman William Donaldson answers questions from the press before meeting with Interim NYSE Chairman John Reed. Donaldson was asked about one of the biggest recent accounting cases, involving government-sponsored mortgage company Freddie Mac, which has thrown out two chief executives since June. The SEC and the Justice Department are investigating if evidence of fraud emerges.

"We would have a role here," Donaldson said. "We're looking at that right now. ... We're in touch with any evidence of fraud there might be, there might not be."

Regarding the NYSE self-regulatory and enforcement functions should be split from its exchange business has been a key element in the debate over reforming the 200-year-old exchange.

About half the NYSE board's seats are assigned to executives of large investment banks, floor trading firms and brokerage houses, the very businesses the NYSE is charged with regulating.
Charismatic Jack Black takes his music to the movies

Associated Press

LOS ANGELES — Jack Black is the kind of rock star who trashes a hotel room with a pillow fight.

The stubby loudmouth is so uncool, he comes around full-circle back to coolness — imagine McDonald's newly purple Grimace with AC/DC attitude.

That's the heart of Black's latest comedy, "The School of Rock." He stars as a loser guitarist who masquerades as a teacher at a snooty private school, giving uptight pupils lessons in the three Rs: Rock, Rebellion and Rowdiness.

Through music — loud, ear-splitting music — the teacher and his somewhat nerdy fifth-graders find a goofy way to show off their talents and express their frustrations. Their goal, as Black explains it, is to "stick it to the Man," who in this case is a group of unwaveringly strict parents.

But Black, who in his spare time is a singer-guitarist with the nudonic folk-terror band Tenacious D, says he's not really on a mission to preach the gospel of metal, punk and grunge to America's youth.

"I just do what I love — and I love to rock," Black professes, his signature eyebrows arched after slumping on a couch in his hotel suite. He grins with mock evil. "If I so happen to influence some children along the way, all the better."

There wasn't much Black needed to teach his Liliputian co-stars — they'd already played their own instruments through most of the film, and he rocked out live with the youngsters on "The Tonight Show with Jay Leno" last week.

But, in a rare moment of straightforwardness, Black acknowledged that "The School of Rock" does have a moral.

"It's really a message for the parents more than the kids," he said. "The parents should ease up and let their kids follow their path. If they want to experiment with art, don't sit on it like those weirdos who have their kids' lives planned out all the way. You're just doing damage."

Then the facade begins to crack. Black's omnipresent silly side inevitably emerges to thwart his sincerity. "In fact, I'm going to go on the record as saying you're doing Van Damme-ages," he closes his eyes, snickering about the cornball Belgian action star. "You're doing Jean Claude Van Damme-ages."

Black is earning his best reviews for "School of Rock," since his breakthrough as an ultra-snobish record store clerk in 2000's "High Fidelity" — another uncool guy who earned his bragging rights by strutting fearlessly onstage to sing his heart out.

Other comedies "Shallow Hal" and "Saving Silverman" captured Black's sarcasm, but not his vulnerability, while "School of Rock" was composed by screenwriter and co-star Mike White to fuse both of those qualities with the star's passion for song.

Music also is the focus of Black's next project: a movie about Tenacious D, which he hopes to start in early 2004.

In describing the film, Black wanders back and forth between fantasy and reality, flippancy and sincerity.

"The D?" Black shrugs when asked about the band. He composes his thoughts, then unleashes them.

"We have now officially completed the Tenacious D screenplay. It's called "Tenacious D in ..." he spreads his hands, as if revealing magic. "The Pick of Destiny."

"Five years in the making, countless corpses in our wake, we have in our grasp the best song in the world."

In the Tenacious D film, Black said, his character runs away from home "because I want to go to Hollywood and stake my fortune in the name of rock. When I meet Kyle, we form Tenacious D, and then we go on our first quest. Our first LEGENDARY quest."

"In the real world, Black met Gass — a pokey guitarist who resembles a young, sinister Burl Ives — in the early 1990s when both worked at the Actors' Gang playhouse, which was run by Tim Robbins. Robbins helped launch their film careers, giving Black a part in "Bob Roberts" and both Gass and Black roles as amateur ventriloquists in "Cradle Will Rock."

While Black has "School of Rock" in theaters, he has finished two other movies: "Envy," with Ben Stiller, and the animated "Shark Tale," in which he voices a shark named Lenny.

He also has a DVD of his band's music, videos and HBO specials coming out Nov. 4, titled — pompously enough — "Tenacious D: The Complete Masterworks."
Huffington drops out of CA recall

Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO — A week before the election, independent candidate Arianna Huffington dropped out of the California recall race Tuesday, saying it was her "vote" that was preventing Arnold Schwarzenegger from becoming governor.

"I'm pulling out and I'm going to concentrate all my time and energy in the next week working to defeat the recall because I realize that's the only way to defeat Arnold Schwarzenegger," Huffington said as she made the announcement on CNN's "Larry King Live.

Huffington's exit removes a similar voice to Lt. Gov. Cruz Bustamante from the race, and leaves Bustamante as the Democrats' best hope of a viable alternative. But Huffington declined to specifically endorse Bustamante, merely urging her supporters to "vote strategically" in an effort to stop a Republican takeover of California.

Bustamante said he was "very appreciative" of Huffington's decision and "sad to see her drop out of the race." But he also said his campaign would be "all the time! There's no an­

"I make online payments and view my credit card balance all the time! There's no an­

---

Congress to ban partial birth abortion

House and Senate oppose procedure; President Bush expected to sign bill

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — House and Senate negotiators reached quick agreement Tuesday on what would be the first federal act in three decades to ban an abortion procedure.

Supporters of a ban on what they call "partial birth abortion" said it would end an inhumane practice and give momentum to their drive to overturn the 1973 Roe v. Wade decision that declared women have the right to an abortion.

Opponents said the ban is unconstitutional and promised to challenge it in court as soon as President Bush signs it into law.

"We are just days away from prohibiting the gruesome and inhumane procedure known as partial birth abortion."

James Sensenbrenner, House Judiciary Committee chairman, said the bill was "the cul­

But Gloria Feldt, presi­

"We are just days away from prohibiting the gruesome and inhumane procedure known as partial birth abortion," House Judiciary Committee Chairman James Sensenbrenner, R-Wis., said at the House-Senate meeting. The measure, sponsored by Rep. Steve Chabot, R-Ohio and Sen. Rick Santorum, R-Pa., was approved on a straight party-line vote.

Bush has urged Congress to pass a partial birth bill, unlike President Clinton who twice vetoed different forms of the measure because they did not contain exceptions when the health of the mother was endan­

The House and Senate, both by two-to-one margins, passed near­

Any doctor who knowingly

---

No Annual Fee Credit Cards! (online convenience for your busy schedule)

NOTRE DAME TICKETS

BUY * SELL * TRADE

ALL GAMES * ALL LOCATIONS

PREFERRED TICKETS

234-5650

---

VON DUTCH * SEVEN JEANS * BLUE

Inspire Me

---

NOTRE DAME FEDERAL CREDIT UNION

You can bank on us to be better

574/631-8222 * www.ndfcu.org

---

528 E. Coffey Ave., Suite #2

South Bend, IN 46617

574/232-1822

312 W. Cleveland Rd.

Granger, IN 46530

574/277-6693
formation & renewal

The Norre Dame Center for Ethics and Culture (Youth Annual Conference)

All sessions are open to the public. Conference events will be held in McKenna Hall 101. Further information is available from Sarah Moore (216) 397-1595.

A call for assistance in a cultural market by a date of joining and direction.

Thursday, October 2
7:30-9:00 p.m. The Legacy of Pope John Paul II (Auditorium)

Friday, October 3
9:00-10:15 a.m. Colloquium Sessions

Panel Discussion: The Role of Faith Based Organizations in Improving Health Outcomes and Practical Approaches to Community Renewal (Room 210-212)

Friday, October 3 (cont.)
3:45-4:45 p.m. Colloquium Sessions

Panel Discussion: Craft, Art and the Humanities: A Call to Practice Leisure in our Colleges and Universities (Auditorium)

Kathleen Glennor Roberts
Jane Harden Fintz
John Prellwitz
Annette Holba

Peter Nagle
Kathleen Glenister-Roberts
Kathleen Markelin
Kathleen Grabowsky
Annette Holba

Friday, October 3 (cont.)
3:15-4:45 p.m. Colloquium Sessions

Panel Discussion: The Role of Faith Based Organizations in Improving Health Outcomes and Practical Approaches to Community Renewal (Room 210-212)

Rev. Mary C. Brawley, OP
Fr. Luiz D. Maranhao

Transformation and the Law (Room 110-114)

"Judicial Despotism and the Judicial Review Amendments to the U.S. Constitution" - Ronald Dworkin
"The History of a Good Catholic Is Going Home: The Role of Lay Teachers at Elie Wiesel Law Firm" - Amy Momand
"Keep Friendship Uplifting, Not foliage" - Bruce Hackett

Renewal and Human Dignity (Room 210-214)

"The Pro-Life Movement: Renewal, Reform, or Regression?" - Fr. Tim Powers
"Community and Transformation of Our Country: Who are we?" - Stuart Sarbach
"Reflections on the Applications of the Work of Michel Foucault" - David S. LeRoy

Cultures in Conflict (Room 305)

"Muslim Anti-Semitism and Zionism: The Mechanism of a Vicious Cycle" - Prof. Saifan
"Social Engineering and the Destruction of Catholic Communities 1947-1975: From the Congo Poor to the Destruction of the West End in Boston" - E. Michael Smith
"The Culture Wars and Moral Renewal" - Terry Perl

Diverse Models of Christian Renewal (Room 202)

"Vocations and Conditions of Spirituality. A Traditional Christian Perspective on Formation & Renewal," Dr. Donald Kainzinger
"Formation and Renewal in the Ukrainian Greek Catholic Church," Fr. John Rumpf

Ethical Theory (Room 208)

"Laws, Ontology, and Double Effect," Alexander Hayman
"Virtue and the Modes of Responsibility," Roberto Unger
"Ethical Subjectivism, The Question of the Good, and the Culture of Death" - Martin Caputo

Philosophy and Theology of the Body (Room 111)

"On Human Disability. The Uganda AIDS Epidemic and John Paul II. The Theology of the Body" - Laura Garcia
"Human Suffering and John Paul II's "Theology of the Body" - Jack Lyons
"Renaissance As We Know It: The Role of Political Philosophy in Spiritual Renewal," Emily Foster

Renewal in Education (Room 128)

"A Modern Pedagogy for the Anthropology of Higher Education," Dr. John O'Neill
"The Neccesity of Religion for Applied Ethics Education," Dr. Margie Sams
"A People Without History. Moral Imaginaton and the Tumult of the Present" - Peter Garvey

Philosophical Roots of Christian Renewal (Room 206)

"Aquila and the Resistance of Complementary Aquinas to the Reformation" - Dr. F. J. M. Hagan
"Renewing Western: Looking Back to Augustine, Nostrums of Rome", Ira Nettles

7:30-9:00 p.m. "Edward Said: The Finnish Connection and the American Identity," Andreas Pecht
Marvin Doss

Saturday, October 4
9:00-10:15 a.m. Colloquium Sessions

Panel Discussion: Practice as a Pathway Towards Peace (Room 210-212)

Donald P. Smith, Rev. Donald Kainzinger, M.D., J.D., L.M.S.T., Rev. James Paul, Rev. James Poole, Rev. James Poole

Looking for Virtue in Unlikely Places (Room 212)

"Killing Spiders and the Exercise of Dominance: A Call for Gentleness," Katy Smith
"Healing the Machines of the World. Restraining a Litigant," Barry Schwartz
"Can Nietzsche's Obscenely Possess the Vietnamese?" - Michael T. Lee

War and Peace (Auditorium)

"How the Military Can Contribute to a Culture of Life," Catherine D'Emilio
"Empowering the Moral Formation of Catholic Youth Parish with Catechists About Death, Dignity, Guardianship and Peace," John Paul II

"For Those Dedicated to a Major Role in a World Where Religious Matters," Dan Sloan

Renewing Natural Law (Room 112-114)

"New Dimensions, Medieval Truths, and Natural Law: A Comparison Between Aquinas and Aquinas: Moral, Kenneth Lomax
"Renewing the Theology of the Declaration of Independence," William Packer
"Returning to Moral First Things: The Natural Law Tradition and Its Contemporary Application," J. Brian Stott

Looking to the Social Sciences (Room 108)

"Recovering from the Past, Reconstructing History: The Role of History and Historians in Postmodern and Renewal," Robert Moore

6:30-8:00 p.m. "From the Past, Reconstructing History: The Role of History and Historians in Postmodern and Renewal," Robert Moore

1:30-2:45 p.m. Invited Papers

"They Road Not Taken" (Auditorium)

Robert McNally

"The Infinite Hostile of Vocation" (Room 112-114)

Gibert Miederer

"Gustavo Gutierrez and Liberation Theology" (Room 210-212)

Paul Pigram

Formation and Renewal through Small Christian Communitues (Room 215)

"Christian Church as Ethical Center of Rural Community," Boe Skoene
"Parish or Ethnic: The Role of Catholic Communities in the Culture of Life," Reed Turner

Saturday, October 4 (cont.)
10:15 a.m. Invited Papers

"Jewish Interfaith, OP and Catholic: Distributors," Joseph Pontecorvo

Past Voices on Formation and Renewal, Part I (Room 210-212)

8:45 a.m.-2:00 p.m. Invited Papers

"John Courtney Murray: Two Views on the Fate of His Project" (Auditorium)

Joseph Bowers
Thomas Hobbs

Formation and Renewal through Secondary Education (Room 210-212)

Karen Bollh
Ruth Cast
Kerry Koeller

Formation for Life (Room 112-114)

"Reforming the Education Process" - Laura Garcia

"The Catholic Worker: A Model for Church and World," Mark Zwick

2:45-5:45 p.m. Colloquium Sessions

Session I: Past Voices on Formation and Renewal (Room 210-212)

Barbara White: Soil preserving Four and Norman, "J. Don Daily
"Turning the Tables" - Norma Nothelfer

"Fighting the Powers That Be: Awakening Deniers for Reform," Christopher Lacey

Roles and Relationships (Room 112-114)

"On the List of Catholic Media/" (of Neighbors)" - Dr. Donald Kainzinger

"Reclaiming Voice through Friendship in Liberal Democracy," Jack Lyons

"Roles and Relationships: A Perspective of Rational Gender for a Culture of Life," Sarah Thomas

11:45 a.m.-1:00 p.m. Invited Papers

"Renewal in Medicine and Bioethics" (Room 210-212)

"Formation and Renewal in Medical and Bioethics," Mark Cherry

"A Thematic Process for Reform within Medicine," Dr. David Saville

"The Definitional Context of Medicine: The Search for a New Identity," Fabrice Jouvenceau

Roads to Religious Renewal (Room 108)

"Attesting the Contemplative Outlook," Laure Mihaljic

"Renewal and Wittgensteinian Philosophy of Religion," Marvin Doss

Vocation (Room 208)

"Education Towards Vocation," Catherine D'Emilio

"Forming the Vocation Through the Vocation," John Paul II

"Formation and Renewal: The Spirituality of the Role of Religion for the Human Spirit," Dr. Donald Kainzinger

Community and Formation (Room 208)

"Starting with Subordinacy, Intermediacy, Associations and Communities of Virtue," Gregory Biskup

Panel Discussion: The Church and the Tribe: Mormon Formation and Renewal

Ben Huh
Melissa Prayer
James Foulsear
To be eligible for this offer, you must be enrolled in Kaplan’s full classroom, tutoring, or online courses. In addition, you must present a copy of your official score report and your course materials within 90 days.
When Moses brought down the Ten Commandments, he carried them in his hands. When Alabama Chief Justice Roy Moore put displays in the rotunda, he needed a 5,280-pound monument. He installed it, and when Moore lost his legal basis for defiance when, after the removal order, the other justices of the Alabama Supreme Court denied the stay but will consider the appeal this fall, Moore chose not to ask for a stay pending his appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court. The Court denied the stay but will consider the appeal this fall.

In 1980, the Supreme Court ruled that a display of the Commandments in a public school classroom violates the First Amendment's Establishment Clause, which says: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion." The Court has ruled that the Fourteenth Amendment guarantee of "liberty" makes that Clause binding on state and local governments. Since 1980, lower courts have decided both ways on the Commandments. It depends on context. The display must be placed for a secular purpose and its primary effect must not be to advance religion. It may recognize the Commandments as historical fact, but may not endorse religion or the Commandments.

Moore erected the monument to depict "the moral foundation of our law" and "to acknowledge God's law and God's sovereignty". He had a right to bring a test case to the Supreme Court to challenge the premises of the Court's decisions. Hence brought a test case, Moore should have played by the rules and obeyed the court order, especially since he did not seek a stay when he could have done so.

Possibly, Moore was not bringing a test case but simply practicing civil disobedience to protest the application of the Establishment Clause against the state. This, too, has a traditional foundation, as with Martin Luther King, war protesters, and others. The Establishment Clause was a demarcation of federal law respecting an establishment of religion against the states. For protection against state governments, the people relied on state constitutions and state courts. The Fourth Amendment to the Constitution incorporated the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution, so it would have been founded "under God." This suspension of judgment on the existence of God establishes in practice an agnostic secularism as the national religion. The Moore case reminds us that, in this and other respects, the Supreme Court has usurped the role of a continuing constitutional convention. Neither James Madison nor the framers of the Fourteenth Amendment would have walked out of the stadium when the high school football teams gathered on the 50 yard-line for prayer.

"People demand freedom of speech as a compensation for the freedom of thought which they seldom use.

Soren Kierkegaard
Danish philosopher
A call to go abroad

Joe Licandro
The Licandro Non-Factor

In his Sept. 29 letter, Dan Martin claims that Seyyed Hossein Nasr “recycles the inane argument about this argument and what they were doing the work of God by burning people at the stake in the 1920s. Would it be ‘inane’ to argue that these men were not true Methodists or should we associate all Southern Methodists with lynching innocent people? Such an argument is far from inane: the violence of religious extremists should not be attributed to all people of that religion.

By calling Nasr’s idea “inane,” Martin implies that Americans should consider the Sept. 11 terrorists against the United States to be true Muslims, that is, true representatives of Islam. Just as Southern Methodists of the Klu Klux Klan were not representatives of the Methodist religion, the terrorists are not true representative of Islam. The religion is too diverse, and many believe that they were doing the work of God by burning people at the stake in the 1920s. Would it be “inane” to argue that these men were not true Methodists or should we associate all Southern Methodists with lynching innocent people? Such an argument is far from inane: the violence of religious extremists should not be attributed to all people of that religion.

Martin implies that Americans should consider the Sept. 11 terrorists against the United States to be true Muslims, that is, true representatives of Islam. Just as Southern Methodists of the Klu Klux Klan were not representatives of the Methodist religion, the terrorists are not true representative of Islam. The religion is too diverse, and many believe that they were doing the work of God by burning people at the stake in the 1920s. Would it be “inane” to argue that these men were not true Methodists or should we associate all Southern Methodists with lynching innocent people? Such an argument is far from inane: the violence of religious extremists should not be attributed to all people of that religion.

Martin implies that Americans should consider the Sept. 11 terrorists against the United States to be true Muslims, that is, true representatives of Islam. Just as Southern Methodists of the Klu Klux Klan were not representatives of the Methodist religion, the terrorists are not true representative of Islam. The religion is too diverse, and many believe that they were doing the work of God by burning people at the stake in the 1920s. Would it be “inane” to argue that these men were not true Methodists or should we associate all Southern Methodists with lynching innocent people? Such an argument is far from inane: the violence of religious extremists should not be attributed to all people of that religion.

Martin implies that Americans should consider the Sept. 11 terrorists against the United States to be true Muslims, that is, true representatives of Islam. Just as Southern Methodists of the Klu Klux Klan were not representatives of the Methodist religion, the terrorists are not true representative of Islam. The religion is too diverse, and many believe that they were doing the work of God by burning people at the stake in the 1920s. Would it be “inane” to argue that these men were not true Methodists or should we associate all Southern Methodists with lynching innocent people? Such an argument is far from inane: the violence of religious extremists should not be attributed to all people of that religion.

Martin implies that Americans should consider the Sept. 11 terrorists against the United States to be true Muslims, that is, true representatives of Islam. Just as Southern Methodists of the Klu Klux Klan were not representatives of the Methodist religion, the terrorists are not true representative of Islam. The religion is too diverse, and many believe that they were doing the work of God by burning people at the stake in the 1920s. Would it be “inane” to argue that these men were not true Methodists or should we associate all Southern Methodists with lynching innocent people? Such an argument is far from inane: the violence of religious extremists should not be attributed to all people of that religion.
ALBUM REVIEW

Fathers of punk rock prove their paternity

By REBECCA SAUNDERS

Any and every punk rock fan has, at the very least, heard of MXPX, if they haven't grown up on them and their music. Credited by many as the creators of modern punk rock, the Christian band has been around for over 10 years. Although the Christian influence is less obvious in their eleventh album, Before Everything & After, it remains very strong on a metaphorical and, at times, literal level. The album is also a bit heavier rock than much of their previous work, but is better for it.

MXPX is a three-piece band originally based in Washington state. The band is composed of Mike Herrera on vocals and bass guitar, Tom Winkiewicz on vocals and guitar, and Yuri Ruley on drums. Correctly successful bands such as Good Charlotte credit their original interest in punk rock to MXPX, one of their musical heroes. MXPX does not disappoint in their new and probably best album as of yet, Before Everything & After. The album consists mainly of songs about girls, God and rock-n-roll, in essence "everything," all set to heavy guitars with catchy beats and strong drum rhythms.

The progression of the album follows the titles, Before Everything & After. The first track, "Before," leads off with a few excerpts of songs on the album, followed by two songs with "everything" in their titles, as well as songs that cover everything in subject. The sixteenth and final track, "After," finishes the album in a similar way to which it began. All of this is more than a marketing play or artistic decision; it also symbolically shows the progression of the band MXPX itself. After being together for 10 years and releasing 11 albums with multiple hits, the band still remains true to its punk rock origins.

Many of the songs on the album cover the history of the band, revealing the lessons the members have learned over the last 10 years. "Play it Loud," one of the most upbeat tracks on the record, exposes the philosophy of MXPX as they sing, "We don't need bright lights to spell our name / all we ever wanted was to play." MXPX has been on the verge of Christian and secular rock for most of their career and have been the inspiration for bands whose success has doubled that of their own, but they make it clear that they don't need the success; they are in it for the music. As the song continues, they warn of the music world and the larger metaphor of the world at large: "Hold fast to your friends / Be true to yourself / and stop trying to be just like somebody else / Be yourself, play it loud." "Play it Loud" is one of the many heavier rock songs on the album, grouped with "It's Alright," "First Day of the Rest of Your Life," "More Everything" and "You Make Me, Me."

Many of the songs are slightly more on the punk side with softer rock beats. One of the best on the album is "Broken Hearted," an immensely upbeat song that listeners can't help but move with. The quick and strong rhythm of the drums and the light and distinct guitar along with catchy lyrics makes for an incredible song.

Overall, the album is terrific and is one that deserves a much more extensive review. The sound of the overall album is mature punk rock that is musically and lyrically developed to a level that other punk bands have not yet reached. As the "Fathers of punk rock" MXPX does not disappoint in Before Everything & After.

Contact Rebecca Saunders at saunders@nd.edu

---

ALBUM REVIEW

It Still Moves, but slowly

By DAVID BRACKSTONE

Making the change from an indie label to something more mainstream can strain the creativity of any group. Fortunately for My Morning Jacket, their move to ATO (Dave Matthews's label) for the release of It Still Moves seems to have granted My Morning Jacket cannot be defined by any of these sound alone and cannot be contained even by the synergy of all of them together.

"Malaise" brings with it a hint of pop, "Easy Morning Rebel" a hint of country, "Masterplan" is a wailing slow burn, while "I Will Sing You Songs" is a slow-burning ballad. "Matrix," like, being immersed in It Still Moves is like entering another dimension with 50 years of musical history swirling around, creating an ever-changing landscape. No single facet can be clearly seen, and no single feature can be pieced down and followed, as the whole experience is awash with reverber.

It Still Moves is not a musical venture one can dip into — one must dive in and fully embrace it. This album cannot be listened to in a well-lit room; as the music begins to play, there is an urge to turn out the lights. Even as the songs move from melancholy to ecstatic, it seems unnatural that one could be listening anywhere other than a seedy bar. Like getting lost in a drink, listening makes you feel like somebody else.

In "Rollin' Back," James himself characterizes the experience best: "Just in the nick of time you got me / while I was sittin' here / I don't think I wanted it, it just seems to disappear / Sippin' the wine you got me."

Contact David Brackstone at dbrackst@nd.edu
Tuesday, October 1, 2003

ALBUM REVIEW

Fountains of Wayne, kings of power pop

By RYAN RAFFERTY
Staff Music Critic

We all have our guilty pleasures. Some claim chocolate as theirs, others admit that they often wake up in the middle of the night craving those little marshmallow Peeps, but people's greatest secretive delights are those catchy power pop songs. Few can resist their tasty hooks or honey-dripping harmonics. Bands of this genre of music are notorious for having a short shelf life (see Weezer or The Replacements), but one band that has seemed to survive are the pop music geniuses from Fountains of Wayne. With three albums in date and a huge cult following, songwriters Adam Schlesinger and Chris Collingwood have seemingly perfected the art of writing catchy pop tunes, and their new release, Welcome Interstate Managers, does not disappoint.

Four years after their last release, (Electric Parkway), Fountains of Wayne return to the music scene with one of the brightest albums of the year. Band members Schlesinger and Collingwood are renowned for their pop sensibilities, contributing to several soundtrack albums to that four-year hiatus, including the title track from the movie That Thing You Do. In their latest release, they push their pop sensibilities to the limits. Welcome Interstate Managers delivers some of the most clever lyrics and infectious songs to date.

The album kicks off with the energetic "Mexican Wine," which contains witty lyrics such as, "He was killed by a cellular phone explosion / they scattered his ashes across the ocean / the water was used to make baby lotion." With a gentle welt verse, then piece together one of the best opening series of songs on any pop album. Next up is the satirical "Bright Future in Sales," featuring包括一个吉他手, riffs very reminiscent of the Cars but with much smarter lyrics. "Stacy's Mom," which has been receiving heavy rotation on MTV, also follows the Car's studio stations. The harmonies and synthesizer riff in the chorus of "Stacy's Mom" carry this wry song about a man's obsession with his girlfriend's mom.

One of the best tracks on the album, "Hackensack," continues the trend of catchy pop tunes, but in a different band to be heard, but once the song commences the listener most likely will remember the solos of Hobert Randolph's steel pedal guitar. The first single, "I Need More Love," is a funky jam that begins with an up tempo bass riff and drums. The interplay between Randolph's guitar and Collingwood's vocals is very reminiscent of the early work of Stevie Wonder and the is the reason this foot-tapping track is catchy. The album's final track, "Run For Your Life," is one of four instrumental songs found on UNCLASSIFIED. This is where the talent and potential of Robert Randolph & The Family Band is most apparent. Every member of the band has their time to shine with their instrument coming to the forefront of the wave of sound. The timing and structure of "Run For Your Life" is well beyond that of most freshman effort.

Randolph's music remains Unclassified

By BRIAN FOY
Staff Music Critic

Robert Randolph & The Family Band hit the music scene nearly three years ago and it has been nonstop ever since. Randolph began his musical career as a teenager playing the steel pedal guitar in his House of God church in Orange, New Jersey. After honing his craft, he was asked to record an all-instrumental album with the famed blues band the North Mississippi All-Stars. Shortly thereafter, Randolph turned his focus to his own music and recruited his cousins Danyel Morgan and Marcus Randolph, completing the band with John Ginty. A deluge of gigs followed into 2003, Hobert Handolph would be selected to try to bring the label studio debut. The Family Band is now known to the masses, and he and the rest of the band will be around for a long time to come.

Fountains of Wayne create catchy pop songs with catchy hooks and harmonies.

The Family Band to the Welcome Interstate Managers

Fountains of Wayne create catchy pop songs with catchy hooks and harmonies.

By RYAN RAFFERTY
Staff Music Critic

We all have our guilty pleasures. Some claim chocolate as theirs, others admit that they often wake up in the middle of the night craving those little marshmallow Peeps, but people's greatest secretive delights are those catchy power pop songs. Few can resist their tasty hooks or honey-dripping harmonics. Bands of this genre of music are notorious for having a short shelf life (see Weezer or The Replacements), but one band that has seemed to survive are the pop music geniuses from Fountains of Wayne. With three albums in date and a huge cult following, songwriters Adam Schlesinger and Chris Collingwood have seemingly perfected the art of writing catchy pop tunes, and their new release, Welcome Interstate Managers, does not disappoint.

Four years after their last release, (Electric Parkway), Fountains of Wayne return to the music scene with one of the brightest albums of the year. Band members Schlesinger and Collingwood are renowned for their pop sensibilities, contributing to several soundtrack albums to that four-year hiatus, including the title track from the movie That Thing You Do. In their latest release, they push their pop sensibilities to the limits. Welcome Interstate Managers delivers some of the most clever lyrics and infectious songs to date.

The album kicks off with the energetic "Mexican Wine," which contains witty lyrics such as, "He was killed by a cellular phone explosion / they scattered his ashes across the ocean / the water was used to make baby lotion." With a gentle welt verse, then piece together one of the best opening series of songs on any pop album. Next up is the satirical "Bright Future in Sales," featuring a guitar riff very reminiscent of the Cars but with much smarter lyrics. "Stacy's Mom," which has been receiving heavy rotation on MTV, also follows the Cars' studio stations. The harmonies and synthesizer riff in the chorus of "Stacy's Mom" carry this wry song about a man's obsession with his girlfriend's mom.

One of the best tracks on the album, "Hackensack," continues the trend of catchy pop tunes, but in a different band to be heard, but once the song commences the listener most likely will remember the solos of Hobert Randolph's steel pedal guitar. The first single, "I Need More Love," is a funky jam that begins with an up tempo bass riff and drums. The interplay between Randolph's guitar and Collingwood's vocals is very reminiscent of the early work of Stevie Wonder and the is the reason this foot-tapping track is catchy. The album's final track, "Run For Your Life," is one of four instrumental songs found on UNCLASSIFIED. This is where the talent and potential of Robert Randolph & The Family Band is most apparent. Every member of the band has their time to shine with their instrument coming to the forefront of the wave of sound. The timing and structure of "Run For Your Life" is well beyond that of most freshman effort.

Randolph's music remains Unclassified

By BRIAN FOY
Staff Music Critic

Robert Randolph & The Family Band hit the music scene nearly three years ago and it has been nonstop ever since. Randolph began his musical career as a teenager playing the steel pedal guitar in his House of God church in Orange, New Jersey. After honing his craft, he was asked to record an all-instrumental album with the famed blues band the North Mississippi All-Stars. Shortly thereafter, Randolph turned his focus to his own music and recruited his cousins Danyel Morgan and Marcus Randolph, completing the band with John Ginty. A deluge of gigs followed into 2003, Hobert Handolph would be selected to try to bring the label studio debut. The Family Band is now known to the masses, and he and the rest of the band will be around for a long time to come.

Fountains of Wayne create catchy pop songs with catchy hooks and harmonies.

By RYAN RAFFERTY
Staff Music Critic

We all have our guilty pleasures. Some claim chocolate as theirs, others admit that they often wake up in the middle of the night craving those little marshmallow Peeps, but people's greatest secretive delights are those catchy power pop songs. Few can resist their tasty hooks or honey-dripping harmonics. Bands of this genre of music are notorious for having a short shelf life (see Weezer or The Replacements), but one band that has seemed to survive are the pop music geniuses from Fountains of Wayne. With three albums in date and a huge cult following, songwriters Adam Schlesinger and Chris Collingwood have seemingly perfected the art of writing catchy pop tunes, and their new release, Welcome Interstate Managers, does not disappoint.

Four years after their last release, (Electric Parkway), Fountains of Wayne return to the music scene with one of the brightest albums of the year. Band members Schlesinger and Collingwood are renowned for their pop sensibilities, contributing to several soundtrack albums to that four-year hiatus, including the title track from the movie That Thing You Do. In their latest release, they push their pop sensibilities to the limits. Welcome Interstate Managers delivers some of the most clever lyrics and infectious songs to date.

The album kicks off with the energetic "Mexican Wine," which contains witty lyrics such as, "He was killed by a cellular phone explosion / they scattered his ashes across the ocean / the water was used to make baby lotion." With a gentle welt verse, then piece together one of the best opening series of songs on any pop album. Next up is the satirical "Bright Future in Sales," featuring including a guitar riff very reminiscent of the Cars but with much smarter lyrics. "Stacy's Mom," which has been receiving heavy rotation on MTV, also follows the Cars' studio stations. The harmonies and synthesizer riff in the chorus of "Stacy's Mom" carry this wry song about a man's obsession with his girlfriend's mom.

One of the best tracks on the album, "Hackensack," continues the trend of catchy pop tunes, but in a different band to be heard, but once the song commences the listener most likely will remember the solos of Hobert Randolph's steel pedal guitar. The first single, "I Need More Love," is a funky jam that begins with an up tempo bass riff and drums. The interplay between Randolph's guitar and Collingwood's vocals is very reminiscent of the early work of Stevie Wonder and the is the reason this foot-tapping track is catchy. The album's final track, "Run For Your Life," is one of four instrumental songs found on UNCLASSIFIED. This is where the talent and potential of Robert Randolph & The Family Band is most apparent. Every member of the band has their time to shine with their instrument coming to the forefront of the wave of sound. The timing and structure of "Run For Your Life" is well beyond that of most freshman effort.

Randolph's music remains Unclassified

By BRIAN FOY
Staff Music Critic

Robert Randolph & The Family Band hit the music scene nearly three years ago and it has been nonstop ever since. Randolph began his musical career as a teenager playing the steel pedal guitar in his House of God church in Orange, New Jersey. After honing his craft, he was asked to record an all-instrumental album with the famed blues band the North Mississippi All-Stars. Shortly thereafter, Randolph turned his focus to his own music and recruited his cousins Danyel Morgan and Marcus Randolph, completing the band with John Ginty. A deluge of gigs followed into 2003, Hobert Handolph would be selected to try to bring the label studio debut. The Family Band is now known to the masses, and he and the rest of the band will be around for a long time to come.

Fountains of Wayne create catchy pop songs with catchy hooks and harmonies.
Cubs win first postseason road game since 1945

Kerry Wood delivers a pitch for the Cubs. Wood earned the win and hit a two-run double to lead the Cubs over the Braves.

The Observer accepts classifieds every business day from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Notre Dame office, 704 South Dinwiddie. Deadline for your classified is 3 p.m. All classifieds must be prepaid. The Observer reserves the right to edit all classifieds for content without incurring fees.

Kerry Wood delivers a pitch for the Cubs. Wood earned the win and hit a two-run double to lead the Cubs over the Braves. His victory was a return to the mound, a return to the glory days of his youth. He had lost his last two starts, and his team was struggling to stay in contention. But Wood showed up, and he dominated. He pitched seven innings, allowing just two hits and striking out nine. He led the Cubs to their victory, a win that will be remembered for years to come.

The Observer is a weekly newspaper that provides local news and information. Its classifieds section is a valuable resource for people looking for housing, jobs, and other opportunities. The Observer is committed to providing accurate and up-to-date information to its readers.

The Observer accepts classifieds every business day from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Notre Dame office, 704 South Dinwiddie. Deadline for your classified is 3 p.m. All classifieds must be prepaid. The Observer reserves the right to edit all classifieds for content without incurring fees.
Twins get best of Yankees for first time this year

Associated Press

NEW YORK — Instead of getting tight when Johan Santana cramped up, the Minnesota Twins stayed loose.

Playing a postseason game in Yankee Stadium for the first time, the Twins were guarding a one-run lead in the fifth inning when their pitcher suddenly couldn't go to the mound for the bottom half.

"One thing you don't do is show panic in the dugout," Minnesota manager Ron Gardenhire said. "So I just said, 'Well, let's have some fun. We are going to piece it together.' And that's what we did."

Those pesky Twins put the big, bad Yankees in another postseason funk.

Torii Hunter circled the bases when his line drive resulted in a wall, let's have one-run lead in the 14th inning when their pitcher suddenly became erratic. The Yankees have already dropped four straight postseason games for the first time since the 1981 World Series against the Dodgers, not exactly what owner George Steinbrenner was expecting when he set payroll records last winter in an effort to get his team its first Series title since 2000.

After Santana's injury, Rick Reed, J.C. Romero, LaTroy Hawkins and Eddie Guardado combined to allow five hits and one run.

Meanwhile, Bernie Williams failed to cut off Hunter's liner to center and Alfonso Soriano made an error that gave Hunter what's often called a Little League home run. Williams also bobbled the ball on his belly rounding first base in the day's comic highlight, and New York's batters went 1-for-10 with runners in scoring position, getting an RBI infield single from Soriano in the ninth.

"When the game gets sloppy and the ball gets thrown around, that makes it tough," said Mike Mussina, who had been 20-2 against the Twins. "That's what the postseason is, minimizing mistakes. If you make a mistake in the postseason, they tend to be big ones."

Despite their troubles, the Yankees threatened to pull off yet another memorable ninth-inning comeback. But a spectacular leaping catch by Shannon Stewart against the left-field wall on a drive by Hideki Matsui helped Guardado limit New York to one run.

Stewart was fighting not only the sun — it was first early afternoon postseason game at Yankee Stadium since 1981 — but aggressive fans who leaned over the mound, slid into third on Jed the majors in winning percentage, allowed four hits but didn't let any runners get past second. He had thrown 59 pitches when his right leg tightened. His relievers weren't ready. "He totally caught the bullpen off guard," Hawkins said. "We were totally just like, 'Wow, what happened?!'"

It was somewhat similar to the night of June 11, when Roy Oswalt got hurt and Houston's bullpen beat the Yankees in the first six-pitcher no-hitter in major league history. "We certainly didn't have a lot of opportunities," Yankees manager Joe Torre said. "And when we did, we didn't get the base hit up, until the ninth inning." Hawkins struck out four over two innings for the win, and Guardado hung on for the save when Nick Johnson hit a game-ending grounder.

Minnesota's Christian Guzman slides into third base safely as New York's Aaron Boone applies the tag. Guzman later scored, as the Twins beat the Yankees for the first time in two years.
Minnesota ace leaves Game 1 with leg cramp

Associated Press

NEW YORK — Johan Santana should be ready to pitch again by Sunday. Minnesota manager Ron Gardenhire plans to make sure of it.

"I'll be nursing him myself. I'll be rubbing his leg. The training room is my office now for Santana," Gardenhire said. "We should have him back. Last time it was the same thing, he was ready to go for his next start in five days."

Santana left Game 1 of the AL playoffs against the Yankees after four strong innings Tuesday because of a cramp in his right leg.

"Unfortunately, it happened when he was throwing the ball well. We had to piece it together and our bullpen did a good job," Gardenhire said.

With a 1-0 lead in the best-of-five division series, the only way the Twins won't need Santana in Game 4 at home Sunday is if they pull off a sweep.

The 24-year-old left-hander was impressive Tuesday, allowing only three hits in four shutout innings.

He struck out three, including Jason Giambi with two on base.

They told me I was out of the game. It was bad," Rick Reed quickly warmed up and got two outs in the fifth.

"The whole thing sort of caught us by surprise," Reed said. "At first, we weren't sure what was happening."

J.C. Romero followed with 1-3 scoreless innings, leaving a 3-0 lead in the sure hands of setup man extraordinaire LaTroy Hawkins and All-Star closer Eddie Guardado.

Mariners' GM Gillick resigns after four years

Associated Press

SEATTLE — After four seasons without bringing the World Series to Seattle, Pat Gillick felt it was time to leave his job as general manager of the Mariners. It was as simple as that.

"I had four kicks at it and didn't get the job done," Gillick said Tuesday. "Let's give somebody else a shot. Maybe they can bring a new angle or perspective and get it over the hump."

The 66-year-old Gillick, who was GM in Toronto when the Blue Jays won the World Series in 1992 and '93, will remain on the job until a successor is found. He then will become a Mariners consultant.

Team president Chuck Armstrong hopes to have a new general manager in place by Nov. 1. Under the rules of major league baseball, no team can make major announcements during the postseason.

"That fits in fine with us," Armstrong said.

He identified two "excellent" internal candidates in Lee Pelekoudas, assistant general manager, and Benny Looper, vice president for player development, but said the search will involve as many qualified outside candidates as possible.

"Within a week to 10 days, I'll be calling everyone I know in baseball and assembling names," Armstrong said. "The next week or so, we'll be vetting those names and narrowing them down to finalists."

Unlike last year's search to hire field manager Bob Melvin, the Mariners plan to keep their list of candidates private.

"We don't know, as we assemble names, who wants their name out there," Armstrong said. "We'll be doing this quietly, we hope."

During Gillick's four years as general manager, the Mariners won 393 games — more than any other team in the majors. Seattle twice reached the AL championship series and in 2001 lost an AL record with 116 wins.

"I was proud of the guys," Gillick said.

This season ended on a sour note, however, because the Mariners led the AL West for much of the summer but finished 93-69. Seattle was three games behind Oakland and missed the playoffs.

Gillick said that outcome didn't figure into his decision, was health a consideration. He doesn't consider his move a retirement, and wouldn't rule out a return later.

Gillick started his front-office career in 1963 with Houston.

Orioles to interview Murray

Associated Press

CLEVELAND — Indians general manager Mark Shapiro gave the Baltimore Orioles permission to interview Hall of Famer Eddie Murray, Cleveland's hitting coach, for their managerial opening.

Murray, a first baseman for Baltimore from 1977-88, just completed his second season as a coach with the Indians. Murray is not yet under contract with Cleveland for a third season, but Shapiro said Murray has been asked to rejoin Eric Wedge's staff.

"Eddie did a great job," Shapiro said.

The Orioles fired Mike Hargrove on Monday following their fourth straight losing season.
Rockets trade forward Rice

Associated Press

HOUSTON — The Houston Rockets signed free agent swingman Jim Jackson on Tuesday and traded forward Glen Rice to Utah for center John Amaechi.

Rockets general manager Carroll Dawson said the trade was made to keep the team from having to pay an expected luxury tax.

It also allowed the Jazz to unload Amaechi, who had been openly unhappy with the team last season.

"It's just so much easier to live under the cap," Dawson said. "If you can't do that, you're going to try to live under the luxury tax (because of) the restrictions. This enabled us to get under the luxury tax and enabled us to get Jim Jackson.

Jackson, 33, played for the Sacramento Kings last season. He has averaged 15.5 points, 4.7 rebounds and 3.4 assists in his career.

Amaechi averaged 2.0 points in 50 games last season. He was still under contract this season.

Knight, Outlaw swapped in deal

Associated Press

PHOENIX — The Phoenix Suns on Tuesday acquired three players, including guard Brevin Knight, from the Memphis Grizzlies for forward Bo Outlaw and center Jake Tsakalidis.

The Suns also got forward Robert Archibald and center Cezary Trybanski in the deal that Suns president Bryan Colangelo said will allow the team greater flexibility.

Knight is a seven-year NBA veteran who averaged 3.9 points, 4.2 assists and 1.3 steals for Memphis last season.

Archibald was selected by the Grizzlies in the second round of the 2002 draft and averaged 1.6 points and 1.4 rebounds in 12 games as a rookie.

Trybanski, also a rookie last season, averaged 0.9 points and 0.9 rebounds in 15 games.

Outlaw averaged 4.7 points and 4.6 rebounds in 80 games last season.

Tsakalidis averaged 4.9 points and 3.7 rebounds in 33 games.
Heatley charged with reckless driving in crash

Associated Press

DULUTH, Ga. — Atlanta Thrashers star Danny Heatley was charged Tuesday with reckless driving after his sports car swerved off a road and careened into a wall at about 80 mph, breaking his jaw and critically injuring a teammate.

Dan Snyder, a backup center, underwent a two-hour surgery for a skull fracture. Heatley, the MVP of the 2003 All-Star game, was hospitalized in stable condition.

At a news conference at Grady Memorial Hospital, the neurosurgeon who operated on Snyder said he was still unconscious but that there wasn't any bleeding into the brain.

"It'll be a few days before we know we can even toll a prognosis," Dr. Sanjag Gupta said. "The underlying brain actually looked pretty good." Heatley also has a minor concussion, a contusion on his lung and a bruised kidney, according to the team's physician, Dr. Scott Gilligley. None of the injuries appeared to be career threatening, Gilligley said.

The four-lane interstate was closed for a two-hour surgery on his skull at Grady Memorial Hospital. Heatley's 22-year-old sports car, a Ferrari 360 Modena on a curve on a two-lane road Monday night in Atlanta, police said. The vehicle crossed into the other lane, left the road and struck a wrought iron and brick wall in front of an apartment complex.

The car was ripped in half and the players were thrown onto the road.

Heatley also was charged with serious injury by vehicle, a felony — and three misdemeanor counts of criminal damage to property.

Heatley bought alcohol for the players, police said. Officers estimated the car was traveling about 80 mph. Heatley took a blood-alcohol test, but results will not be available for weeks, police said.

Heatley, 22, and Snyder, 25, had been at an event for season ticket holders at Phillips Arena.

The Thrashers canceled practice Tuesday and were considering canceling Sunday night's exhibition against Florida. Their season opens a week from Thursday.

"Nobody's really thinking about hockey," team captain Shawn McEachern said. "We're thinking about the guys."

Heatley, 22, and Snyder, 25, had been at an event for season ticket holders at Phillips Arena.

The Thrashers canceled practice Tuesday and were considering canceling Sunday night's exhibition against Florida. Their season opens a week from Thursday.

"Nobody's really thinking about hockey," team captain Shawn McEachern said. "We're thinking about the guys."

The usually energetic Thrashers coach Bob Hartley was sullen as he answered questions at the team's training headquarters in Duluth, in suburban Atlanta.

He said he was "trying to do my best for the guys." Heatley was "a big family." When you face adversity or tragedy like we are now, you get even closer.

"Heatley, the NHL rookie of the year in 2001-02, led Atlanta in scoring last season with a team-record 41 goals and 48 assists, and he is the Thrashers' career scoring leader with 155 points.

The former University of Wisconsin player scored four goals in the All-Star game.

Before the start of training camp, Heatley traded in his long curls for closely cropped hair, and he seemed to embrace his role as a team leader. A skilled scorer, Heatley — 6-foot-3, 215 pounds with a big smile and a quick wit — is also known for his toughness.

Hartley and team president Stan Kasten would not discuss how Heatley's injuries or charges against him might affect his role.

"Our focus is on our two guys," Hartley said. "We're praying about their health, to overcome this tragedy.

Snyder, a center who scored 10 goals and added four assists in 36 games for Atlanta last season, had surgery on his ankle in September before training camp. He was expected to start the season on the injured list.

Snyder signed with the Thrashers as a free agent in 1999 after playing four seasons of junior hockey for Owen Sound in the Ontario Hockey League. He spent most of his first three professional seasons in the minor leagues, helping Orlando win the American Hockey League championship team in 2001-02. He also played 35 games for Chicago last season, scoring 11 goals and adding 12 assists.

Thrashers star Danny Heatley holds the All-Star MVP trophy. He was charged with reckless driving after an accident Monday.
Purdue wide receiver John Standeford has been slowed down by injury, but still has a team-high 20 catches.

Dame to become the Boilermakers’ all-time leader in receptions (209) and needs only 69 yards to break Brian Afford’s career record. He’s needs six more touchdowns to own that school mark, too.

Because of that, Tiller believes he has no choice. He needs Standeford on the field, even if he’s not 100 percent. “We’re a little concerned about it,” he said of the injury. “You know we’re resting him on Sundays because we can’t afford to rest him on Saturdays.”

Theology on tap comes to Legends. This week, we’ll talk about relationships, share the faith, food, fun, and beverage: 10pm-11:30pm.

The Billy Nick’s Trio performs their jazz act at 9:00pm. Kick back and relax or dance like a lunatic.

Hip-Hop takes over! Don’t miss Ordinary Peoples from Ohio. With a style often compared to Tribe, J-5, and G Love, OP always rocks the house...

Doors at 8:30pm.

WWFI presents Erin McKeown. This critically acclaimed singer/songwriter will blow you away.

Doors at 8:30pm.
Women's College Volleyball Big East Conference

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Big East</th>
<th>Overall</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>NOTRE DAME</td>
<td>2-0</td>
<td>2-0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miami</td>
<td>2-0</td>
<td>2-0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Syracuse</td>
<td>2-0</td>
<td>3-0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Virginia Tech</td>
<td>2-0</td>
<td>3-0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pittsburgh</td>
<td>1-1</td>
<td>1-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Boston College</td>
<td>1-1</td>
<td>1-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>St. John's</td>
<td>1-1</td>
<td>1-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Connecticut</td>
<td>0-1</td>
<td>0-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>West Virginia</td>
<td>0-2</td>
<td>3-11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rutgers</td>
<td>0-2</td>
<td>3-11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Villanova</td>
<td>0-2</td>
<td>3-11</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Men's College Soccer Big East Conference

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Big East</th>
<th>Overall</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>St. John's</td>
<td>4-1</td>
<td>5-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rutgers</td>
<td>3-1</td>
<td>5-2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Temple</td>
<td>3-0</td>
<td>4-2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Virginia Tech</td>
<td>3-1</td>
<td>7-2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NOTRE DAME</td>
<td>2-1</td>
<td>5-2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Providence</td>
<td>2-1</td>
<td>4-4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Boston College</td>
<td>2-0</td>
<td>4-6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Connecticut</td>
<td>1-2</td>
<td>3-11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>West Virginia</td>
<td>1-3</td>
<td>4-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Villanova</td>
<td>1-4</td>
<td>4-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Georgia Tech</td>
<td>1-3</td>
<td>4-2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pittsburgh</td>
<td>1-3</td>
<td>4-2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Syracuse</td>
<td>2-3</td>
<td>5-2</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Women's College Soccer Big East Conference

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Big East</th>
<th>Overall</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Villanova</td>
<td>1-0</td>
<td>3-6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Syracuse</td>
<td>2-0</td>
<td>3-6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pittsburgh</td>
<td>1-0</td>
<td>4-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miami</td>
<td>1-0</td>
<td>4-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Notre Dame</td>
<td>1-0</td>
<td>4-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Penn State</td>
<td>1-0</td>
<td>4-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Virginia Tech</td>
<td>1-0</td>
<td>4-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rutgers</td>
<td>0-0</td>
<td>0-0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Georgetown</td>
<td>0-0</td>
<td>0-0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Providence</td>
<td>0-0</td>
<td>0-0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

NBA

Cavaliers head coach Paul Silas looks on as LeBron James shoots from 3-point range during a team practice at Gund Arena in Cleveland. The Cavs open the preseason against Detroit on Oct. 7.

Cavaliers dealing with LeBronmania

Associated Press

CLEVELAND — On his first official day as an NBA player, LeBron James did all he could to blend in with the Cleveland Cavaliers' other rookies.

Impossible.

Cleveland opened training camp Tuesday at Gund Arena, and as expected, all eyes were on James, the 18-year-old local kid who has already made the Cavaliers one of the league's hottest tickets.

The throng of reporters following the morning practice session, Cavs coach Paul Silas said Tuesday before the team took the practice field Tuesday in preparation for Saturday's game at 25th-ranked Michigan State (4-1, 1-0).

"In high school I was up here," he said, holding his hand just above his head. "But now I'm down here."

"It's a long summer. It's time, and we're glad to be back at work.""

So was James, whose childhood dream of playing in the NBA is finally becoming a reality.

"This is another beginning for me," he said. "Being a rookie has rekindled memories of being a wet-behind-the-ears high school freshman, before he became a consensus national player of the year and A-list celebrity.

James knows he has much to learn.

"I'm just glad it has started and he's on the floor," general manager Jim Paxson said. "It's been much, especially when the problems are so similar on both sides of the foot-

"We're a little giddy before practice," said second-year forward Carlos Boozer. "We're excited because we know we're better.

Indeed, times have changed in Cleveland, which has had all summer to prepare for LeBronmania. Now, it's here.

"But now I'm down here."

"Impossible.""
Belles win in unexpected fashion over Manchester

By JUSTIN SCHUVER
Associate Sports Writer

The Saint Mary's volleyball team got their second straight win Tuesday night, but the Belles did not defeat Manchester the way their coach expected.

"Our last two opponents haven't been that good, and we've really been playing down to their level," coach Julie Schroeder-Biek said.

Saint Mary's took care of non-conference opponent Manchester in four sets at home by a score of 30-21, 30-25, 19-30, 30-22.

Outside hitters Kristen Playko and Ann Carpenter continued their impressive freshman seasons with 16 and 15 kills, respectively. Playko also led the team in digs with 30 and in service aces with three.

Defensive specialist Alison Shevik was not far behind with 29 digs, and libero Ann Cusack and defensive specialist Michelle Gary pitched in 17 digs.

Middle hitter Elise Bupricht led the team with five blocks.

The Belles got off to a quick start in the first game, going up 10-2 initially, but a timeout by Manchester helped to cut that lead to only two points.

"We started out just how we needed to be — really dominant," Schroeder-Biek said. "We didn't continue with the fight though, and it was a real frustrating match."

Manchester came into the match with a 5-12 record and for the third straight year — with a new coach. For this reason, Schroeder-Biek thought her team should have swept their opponent in three sets like they did last year.

"It's a real transition for that team, to have their third different coach in three years," she said. "To their credit, they kept the ball alive and really kept us on our toes."

"We looked tired mentally," she said.

Saint Mary's remains at home Thursday to face non-conference opponent Bethel.

"Bethel is going to be a strong match," Schroeder-Biek said. "We're really going to have to rise to our opponent."

Contact Justin Schuver at jschuver@nd.edu

---

---

Kristen Playko, left, and Shelly Bender combine for a block against Manchester on Tuesday. The Belles were victorious in four games, and Playko was named MIAA Player of the Week.

---

---

Playko named MIAA Player of the Week

Special to the Observer

Freshman Kristen Playko had three double-double in kills and digs performances in all three conference matches last week to help her earn the MIAA Player of the Week honors.

For the week, she averaged 5.45 kills, 3.91 digs and 0.73 aces per game, which translate to 6.5 total points per game. The Belles fell to Alma Sept. 22 and Hope Tuesday before getting back on the winning track at home on Saturday against Olivet.

Noteworthy in the four-game loss against Hope was a game two victory by the Belles, the first game they have taken from the Flying Dutch since 1998.

This is the second time a Belle has earned Player of the Week honors. Senior co-captain Alison Shevik earned the Specialty Player of the Week two weeks ago.

Saint Mary's College next home contest is Thursday, October 2 against local rival Beloit College. Game time is at 7 p.m. following the annual Oktoberfest Run/Walk benefit for Breast Cancer Awareness, hosted by the Athletic and Nursing Departments.

---

---

TURTLE CREEK APARTMENTS

We are now taking applications for the 2004-2005 school year! Apply early to get the best prices locked in and the best locations.

Why live at Turtle Creek Apartments?

★ So close to campus, it is just like being on campus!
★ You can request to live next to friends; you can even request an ENTIRE BUILDING!
★ We have a pool that we open before Memorial Day and KEEP open after Labor Day
★ 24 hour lock out services...trust me, it'll come in handy!
★ Everyone that moved into Turtle Creek this year got a FREE pizza!
★ On-site...all the time...management staff.

I could go on but I'm sure you have your own reasons for wanting to live here with us. Stop by and see us we'll answer any of your questions, or you can visit us on the web at:

WWW.TURTLECREEKND.COM

Apply before October 31st to lock in 03-04 rents. After November 1st rents for 04-05 will be established.
Soccer
continued from page 28

The Irish got on the board 10 minutes into the contest. Senior forward Amy Warner started the sequence by beating her defender before passing to Guertin, who shot the ball into the left side of the net. The Irish dominated possession for the rest of the first half but could not get back on the board until 3:37 remained. Junior Mary Boland was tackled in the box, giving the Irish a penalty kick. Boland took the kick and placed the ball in the lower right side of the net to give the Irish a 2-0 lead at halftime.

Boland also played a big part in the final Irish goal early in the second half, passing the ball from the left side into the box, where senior Kim Carpenter headed it in for her second goal of the season and the final 3-0 score. The Irish return to action Friday as they continue their eight game homestand against West Virginia in the first Big East Divisional Game of the season for the Irish. Notre Dame will be looking to avenge last season’s 3-0 loss to the Mountaineers.

Notes
• Roland’s goal was her team-leading ninth of the season. She leads the team with 22 points, while Warner’s team-leading eighth assist was her 20th point.
• The Irish have outscored its opposition this season 40-5. Notre Dame is ranked No. 2 in all of the major polls, with North Carolina ranked No. 1.

Break
continued from page 28

but will mainly focus on improving the unit as a whole.

“I think we want to go back and work on a few things and, really, across the board, improve ourselves at every position,” Diedrick said. “It’s a similar format that you would have during a normal week. But the things you stress are a little more individual then group.”

While the Irish offense’s ability may be questioned, the Panthers are not. Led by quarterback Red Rutherford and wide receiver Larry Fitzgerald, Rutherford has completed 61.7 percent of his passes for 1,171 yards and 16 touchdowns while only throwing three interceptions. His favorite target is Fitzgerald who has nine touchdowns and 32 receptions for 583 yards this season.

“If (Fitzgerald) is a great scrambler and he has a good arm, but he also has a lot of weapons,” Baer said. “He’s playing with a lot of confidence right now.”

Baer also said containing Fitzgerald will be a challenge. “If (Fitzgerald) isn’t the best wide receiver we’ll face, he’s darn close.”

Pittsburgh opened its year with a 43-3 beating of Kent State before doubly up Ball State 42-21. Toledo then upset the Panthers 35-31. Last week, Pittsburgh had its most impressive game with a 37-26 victory over Texas A&M.

Contact Joe Hetler at jhetler@nd.edu

Got spring semester housing blues?
Turtle Creek is offering leases from January 1, 2004
Through May 31, 2004
Call for details
272-8124
www.turtlecreekrkd.com

University of Notre Dame
International Study Program in DUBLIN, IRELAND
INFORMATION MEETING
Wednesday, Oct. 1, 2003
6:30-8:00 pm
101 DeBartolo
With Claudia Kselman, Associate Director
International Study Programs
Student Returnees

Please note the date and the time change!

Application Deadline: December 1
For Fall 2004 – Spring 2005
AY 2004-2005
Win

continued from page 28

didn't score, and our defense just wasn't going to let them score," said Phoenix captain Katie Murray.

When Walsh took over on their 24-yard line with less than two minutes remaining, both teams had combined to cross midfield once. In an effort to generate some offense, Campbell dropped back on a third down play and looked to complete a pass in the right flat. The ball was deflected and intercepted by Pangborn, giving the Phoxes tremendous field position at the Walsh 26-yard line. The Phoxes did not waste time in taking advantage of the opportunity. On second down from the 26-yard line, Trish Conneely lined up to the right of quarterback Christina Dunn. Dunn handed the ball to Conneely on a reverse. Conneely ran left as the rest of the play flowed right. The misdirection worked to perfection as Conneely outran the fooled Walsh defense to the left sideline and into the end zone for the 26-yard score. Conneely scored the one-point conversion on a direct snap to make the score 7-0 Pangborn at halftime.

The defensive struggle concluded for much of the second half, as neither team was able to cross midfield until Walsh took over on their 37-yard line with four minutes remaining in the game. From this point, Campbell almost single-handedly led the Wild Women on a march to the Pangborn 1-yard line with six scrambles, including a 12-yard scamper on fourth-and-5 at the Pangborn 30-yard line. Finally, the Wild Women faced a fourth-and-goal from the 5-

yard line followed a clutch

sack by Pangborn on third down. With the Phoxes' defense expecting Campbell to run, the quarterback dropped back and hit a wide open receiver in the end zone to bring Walsh to within one point at 7-6. The conversation try, Campbell found another receiver open in the end zone to tie the game. The play was negated, however, by a controversial offensive pass interference. The penalty resulted in a loss of down and a win for Pangborn.

Campbell voiced the frustrations of the Wild Women over the questionable call. "Obviously, we disagree with the call," she said. "It's unfortunate, but it's out of our hands. We had a good second half. We really took control. For the rest of the season, we'll just play hard and have fun. This is a great group of girls."

Carrie Campbell

Walsh quarterback

Wednesday, October 1, 2003

The Observer ◆ SPORTS

page 25

JOIN AN INVESTOR LIST

THAT READS LIKE A WHO'S WHO.

EVEN IF YOU'RE JUST A WHO.

For over 60 years we've helped some of the world's most accomplished minds manage their money. With our wide breadth of savings and investment options, we can help do the same for you. So contact us today and find yourself among good company.

TIAA-CREF.org or call 800.842.2776

WINNING MINDSET, INCOME, INVESTMENTS

A2 SALON

271.8804

2039 South Bend Ave. Inside the Martin's Shopping Plaza next door to Sprint - Corner of Ironwood DR. and Ironwood

thehaicolorXperts.com

Now offering the following promotions

Certain restrictions apply - Must present ad.

WOMEN

Haircut & Style

$24.00

WOMEN

Haircut & Highlights

$69.00

WOMEN

Color & Cut

$59.00

MEN

Haircut

$15.00

CONTACT KESY O'NEILL AT KOELLJ4@ND.EDU

A2Salon

271.8804

2039 South Bend Ave. Inside the Martin's Shopping Plaza next door to Sprint - Corner of Ironwood DR. and Ironwood

JOIN AN INVESTOR LIST

THAT READS LIKE A WHO'S WHO.

EVEN IF YOU'RE JUST A WHO.

For over 60 years we've helped some of the world's most accomplished minds manage their money. With our wide breadth of savings and investment options, we can help do the same for you. So contact us today and find yourself among good company.

TIAA-CREF.org or call 800.842.2776

WINNING MINDSET, INCOME, INVESTMENTS

A2 SALON

271.8804

2039 South Bend Ave. Inside the Martin's Shopping Plaza next door to Sprint - Corner of Ironwood DR. and Ironwood

thehaicolorXperts.com

Now offering the following promotions

Certain restrictions apply - Must present ad.

WOMEN

Haircut & Style

$24.00

WOMEN

Haircut & Highlights

$69.00

WOMEN

Color & Cut

$59.00

MEN

Haircut

$15.00

CONTACT KESY O'NEILL AT KOELLJ4@ND.EDU

A2Salon

271.8804

2039 South Bend Ave. Inside the Martin's Shopping Plaza next door to Sprint - Corner of Ironwood DR. and Ironwood

JOIN AN INVESTOR LIST

THAT READS LIKE A WHO'S WHO.

EVEN IF YOU'RE JUST A WHO.

For over 60 years we've helped some of the world's most accomplished minds manage their money. With our wide breadth of savings and investment options, we can help do the same for you. So contact us today and find yourself among good company.

TIAA-CREF.org or call 800.842.2776

WINNING MINDSET, INCOME, INVESTMENTS

A2 SALON

271.8804

2039 South Bend Ave. Inside the Martin's Shopping Plaza next door to Sprint - Corner of Ironwood DR. and Ironwood

thehaicolorXperts.com

Now offering the following promotions

Certain restrictions apply - Must present ad.

WOMEN

Haircut & Style

$24.00

WOMEN

Haircut & Highlights

$69.00

WOMEN

Color & Cut

$59.00

MEN

Haircut

$15.00

CONTACT KESY O'NEILL AT KOELLJ4@ND.EDU

A2Salon

271.8804

2039 South Bend Ave. Inside the Martin's Shopping Plaza next door to Sprint - Corner of Ironwood DR. and Ironwood

JOIN AN INVESTOR LIST

THAT READS LIKE A WHO'S WHO.

EVEN IF YOU'RE JUST A WHO.

For over 60 years we've helped some of the world's most accomplished minds manage their money. With our wide breadth of savings and investment options, we can help do the same for you. So contact us today and find yourself among good company.

TIAA-CREF.org or call 800.842.2776

WINNING MINDSET, INCOME, INVESTMENTS

A2 SALON

271.8804

2039 South Bend Ave. Inside the Martin's Shopping Plaza next door to Sprint - Corner of Ironwood DR. and Ironwood

thehaicolorXperts.com

Now offering the following promotions

Certain restrictions apply - Must present ad.

WOMEN

Haircut & Style

$24.00

WOMEN

Haircut & Highlights

$69.00

WOMEN

Color & Cut

$59.00

MEN

Haircut

$15.00

CONTACT KESY O'NEILL AT KOELLJ4@ND.EDU

A2Salon

271.8804

2039 South Bend Ave. Inside the Martin's Shopping Plaza next door to Sprint - Corner of Ironwood DR. and Ironwood

JOIN AN INVESTOR LIST

THAT READS LIKE A WHO'S WHO.

EVEN IF YOU'RE JUST A WHO.

For over 60 years we've helped some of the world's most accomplished minds manage their money. With our wide breadth of savings and investment options, we can help do the same for you. So contact us today and find yourself among good company.

TIAA-CREF.org or call 800.842.2776

WINNING MINDSET, INCOME, INVESTMENTS
UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME
Summer Engineering Program
Foreign Study in London, England

INFORMATION MEETING:
Wednesday, October 1, 2003
Room 356 Fitzpatrick Hall
7:00 p.m.

ALL ENGINEERING STUDENTS WELCOME!
FIVES

BRETT CAMPBELL & DAN ZYCINSKI

SCHOOL FIVES CROSSWORD

ACROSS
36 Reproductive body
37 Some caterpillars outside the U.S.?
40 Work with the hands
41 Actress
42 Service for eight, e.g.
43 Charon crosses it
44 Neighbor of Lab.
45 Grasping
47 Microwave
48 One with her own dressing room, surely
49 "Rubber Soul" album
50 Vaquero's rope
51 British royal
52 Lay up
53 Taper off
54 Auction tape
56 Swing around

DOWN
1 Pose fun at
2 Jill
3 Sing on the Beatles' "Rubber Soul"
4 One in a group (computer info source)
5 Amazingly ecstatic
6 "Cut it out!"
7 flakes
8 The Observer
9 One's campus
10 Look (at)
11 Flippant
12 Alums-to-be:
13 On October 7, 1993
14 The Observer
15 Space
16 Fasten, as a ship's rope
17 Oust
18 Observer
19 vendor's
20 One
21 Audrey Hepburn's
22 Tote-tote
23 Egg Prefix
24 Home-wcgged
25 Horoscope
26 Horoscope
27 Horoscope
28 Olympic category
29 Ful of IRS
30 Dissuade
31 Minor U.S.N. administrator
32 Taken for a ride
33 Equipped with a heater?
34 A_________
35 Formed beads
36 At attention
37 Berkshire
38 Purchase price short
39 Formed beads, 48 Radioactivity
41 Actress
42 Group
43 Charon crosses it
44 Neighbor of Lab.
45 Grasping
46 One with her own dressing room, surely
47 Microwave
48 Vaporous rope
49 British royal
50 Lay up
51 Taper off
52 Auction tape
53 Broadway's
54 Jay Leno
55 Look at
56 Look at
57 Handled badly
58 Alumni-in-loc
59 Loading areas
60 At attention
61 Berkshire school
62 Group
63 Amazingly ecstatic
64 "Cut it out!"
65 flakes
66 The Observer
67 Mary's
68 The Observer
69 You're
70 The Observer
71 Under
72 A_________
73 Horoscope
74 Horoscope
75 Horoscope
76 Olympic category
77 Ful of IRS
78 Dissuade
79 Minor U.S.N. administrator
80 Taken for a ride
81 Equipped with a heater?

JUMBLE

BY CLARE O'BRIEN

THAT SCRAMBLED WORD GAME BY HENRI ARNOLD & MIKE ARGIRION

UPYPP

TIJNO

MOABEA

UP Y P P

T I J N O

M O A B E A

JUMBLE

JUMBLE

WHY THE PORK FRUIT PEDICULUS

MOABEA

Answer: h Container

UNCLAY

 Yesterday's Jumble: COACH MOUND VARIED PEOPLE important to do when you marry twice — DIVORCE ONCE

HOROSCOPE

BY EUGENIA LAST

Sharing this birthday: Randy Quaid, Kelly Willis, Jay Underwood, Kevin Griffin, Luanne Scobey

Happy Birthday! You'll be a crazier this year. Use your creative ability to put a different spin on whatever you do. This is a year for self-improvement. Anyone with vagas will see what you are trying to accomplish and will lend you a hand. Your numbers are 3, 9, 18, 31, 36, 45

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Get involved in talks that can lead to positive change. Your strength and courage will put you in the spotlight at any event you attend. Listen to someone with experience. *****/

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Don't make a rash decision about money. Taking a risk will lead to a mistake. Getting involved in someone else's venture is not going to pay off. ***

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Dealing with a business or personal partner will be very smooth today. Talk less, listen more and leave any resolutions until later in the week. **

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Hard work will pay off if you incorporate some of your ideas into whatever project you are pursuing. Talk to people in the know. Don't let yourself get run down. ****

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Socialize and you will meet someone who will make a difference to you in the future. Your affability nature will help in the relationship department. Talk about the way you feel. *****/

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Protect yourself from unscrupulous people and situations. You will have some big ideas, but you need to be sure you aren't taking on something that is too easy to impossible. Don't depend on a partner or family member. **

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Sort out your experiences you are observing with close friends, relatives or neighbors today. Your ability to see both sides of an issue will help you. *****/

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): You may have an interesting idea that you can offer to someone in someone asking for a loan. *****/

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Take a rest before you overcommit. Back off and observe rather than get involved in any disputes. You need to find a balance to your nature. ***

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 20): Success will be revealed. Don't share your opinions. Your goals and ambitions will be confirmed, you must put your trust that you are doing the right thing.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Take charge of what you have and those others who want to make smaller changes. The people you meet are strong enough to make great changes and will be looking for leadership. *****/

PIECES (Feb. 19-March 20): Don't expect anything and you won't be disappointed. Your position in society may be changing. Prepare to do some damage control. Avoid meddling in other people's affairs. **

Birthday Baby: You are bright, bold and beautiful, exciting and out. You are imaginative and determined to get your way. You are far too big to be held and eager to play.

Visit The Observer on the Web at www.ndsmobserver.com

THE OBSERVER

Published Monday through Friday, The Observer is a vital source of information on people and events in the Notre Dame and Saint Mary's Community.

Join the more than 13,000 readers who have found The Observer an indispensable link to the two campuses. Please complete the accompanying form and mail it to today to receive The Observer in your home.

Make checks payable to: THE OBSERVER and mail to: P.O. Box Q
Notre Dame, IN 46556

Enclosed is $100 for one academic year

Enclosed is $55 for one semester

Name

Address

City State Zip
FOOTBALL

No rest for the weary
Irish try to fix problem during bye week

By JOE HETTLER
Sports Editor

Kent Baer doesn't consider the bye week a week off. The Irish defensive coordinator said the team works just as hard this week as weeks when there is a game.

"We work pretty hard during a bye week," Baer said. "Today was a long practice and a hard practice and a physical practice."

The Irish have two weeks to prepare for a road contest against No. 18 Pittsburgh Oct. 11. Notre Dame is coming off a 23-10 loss to Purdue, and are just 1-3 after losing three straight games.

Despite the poor start, coach Tyrone Willingham was pleased with the team's performance in practice Tuesday.

"It was a good practice," said Willingham. "Our young men practiced very well and brought a certain level of energy and focus and that was good."

Willingham said he looks at this week and the rest of the season in a positive light, rather than dwell on the losses. If the team begins to think negatively, the rest of the season will be a negative, according to Willingham.

"I don't think the past has anything to do with the future unless you let it," Willingham said. "My focus has always been we play them one game at a time. If we win this next game then that gives us the best chance to win the next one."

If the Irish are to improve, the offense must make strides this week and next in practice. The unit has struggled to run the football and have been inconsistent in scoring.

Offensive coordinator Bill Diedrick said his offense may experiment some this week.

ND WOMEN'S SOCCER
Irish dominate once again with defense

By ANDY TROEGER
Sports Writer

Heading into the game against Indiana State, women's soccer coach Randy Waldrum was concerned his team was looking ahead to upcoming top 10 foe West Virginia. Despite a dominating win, some of his concerns were warranted in his team's 3-0 win.

In contrast to their normal efficiency, the Irish scored three goals on 32 shots against the Sycamores, while Indiana State managed only one shot.

"We just weren't quite as sharp," said Waldrum. "I think you could look at the tape and see that we were pretty dominant and they didn't cause us many problems. At times it looked good when we were knocking it around. It was pretty but not very effective and we have to cash in on some of our chances."

For the seventh game in a row, the Irish defense held the opposition to less than two shots - the only shot Indiana State registered was a weak one from long range.

"I think Melissa Tancredi is the best back in the country right now," said Waldrum. "And Christie Shaner has really settled in and done well. Between Vanessa Pruzinsky and Lizzie Reed and Kimmy Lorenzen, they've all done a great job and are finally coming together. A lot of the things we're doing to keep them from getting opportunities is coming from the defending of our midfielders and even our forw-..."