Humphrey: Nixon a Liar

WILKES BARRE, Pa. (UPJ) - Hubert H. Humphrey, bumbling through vote-rich Pennsylvania, called Richard M. Nixon a liar Saturday and warned the nation it can trust neither the GOP candidate nor George C. Wallace.

In stops in Erie, Wilkes Barre and Scranton, Humphrey flayed Nixon and Wallace—attacking his opponents with equal enthusiasm and vigor—only to draw repeated ovations from large and generally friendly crowds.

In bright sunlight at an outdoor rally in Erie, an estimated 1,000 persons turned out to hear Humphrey and a crowd of about 7,000 jammed the city square in the cloudy dusk at Wilkes Barre.

Supreme Court Fights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court cleared the way yesterday for the constitutional review of the presidential race two years ago when the court opened a new series of attacks. "The enemy's long term goal is to discredit in the allocation of jobs and housing.

Police broke up a Catholic parade intended to protest alleged discrimination in the allocation of jobs and housing.

The 1968 presidential election, said yesterday it was still possible for Hubert H. Humphrey to "pull a Harry S. Truman" if he could get the liberal and discontented Democrats.

Addressing the annual United Press International Editors and Publishers Conference, Gallup said the 1968 campaign bears a striking resemblance to the presidential race two years ago when Truman, far behind in the polls as the Democratic presidential nominee, forged ahead to beat Republican Dewey.

Reservists' Appeal Fails

WASHINGTON (UPJ) - The Supreme Court cleared the way for the transfer of Army reservists to Vietnam after a preliminary action in a one sentence order.

The reservists may still pursue their appeals of lower court decisions to the Supreme Court, but they now are subject to immediate transfer to Vietnam.

U.S. Troops Hunt VC

WASHINGTON (UPI) - U.S. and South Vietnamese troops who invaded last year said today that they were tracking a Viet Cong group through jungle valleys and hills near Danang Monday in their first systematic attempt to combat the Viet Cong who have been working in the area since early this year.

Responding to a request from Premier Pham Van Dong of the Viet Cong government, Prime Minister Harold Wilson said the British government would send a team of experts to examine the situation.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson announced Premier Terence O'Neill to London and ordered an investigation of the crisis.

The question of recall of the elected SLC members drew a good deal of debate over the decision of whether or not to include freshmen in the procedures. Stay Senator Mike Kendall and Stanford Senator Tom Thresher spoke in favor of allowing the freshmen full participation in any elective or recall process. Mike Shaughnessy, Senator from Dillon and also Chairman of the Student Action Committee, led the objections to including the freshmen. He said, "The Rosie recall motion shows how easily the freshman can be misled."

Unable to get a Senator to present its petition to the Senate, the organizers of "Rosie Recall" drove themselves presented their forms at a Senate meeting last night. On suggestion of Breen-Phillips Senator Richard Hunter, the Senate immediately set up an eight-man committee to consider validity of the petitions. The Senate then passed a resolution formally endorsing the actions of Student Body President Richard Rosie.

Dake Ruckwuz spoke for the petitioners as he faced the Senate in front of Rosie and said, "On behalf of 1000 students I present a petition for the recall of the Student Body President." Stay Senator Mike Kendall, on his feet immediately, read a challenge on behalf of himself and Tom Payne to debate the petitioners, stating in part, "It is, in our judgement, incumbent upon you to defeat your charges in public debate. This is an obligation to the students of Notre Dame... Thus we challenge you to defend in public debate at time and place of your convenience, the statements you have made." Ruckwuz left without commenting on the challenge as members of the Senate applauded Kendall for more than 20 seconds. The petitioners' representative, later issued a statement saying, "as soon as the petition was presented the committee dissolved and we're all equal. They should have asked to debate one of us separately instead of posting signs challenging us to debate." The challenges were originally posted mentioning names in the petition movement Friday in Lyons Hall and repeated at Monday's Senate meeting.

With Kendall’s statement complete, Breen-Phillips Hunter immediately proposed the committee to consider validity. Under the terms of Hunter’s committee, which immediately passed the Senate by consensus, the group will meet and report to the Senate on validity within one week. Student Body President Rosie said the committee would first consider validity but, if the petitions are found invalid, consider election procedures. The committee will be chaired by a non-voting non-member of the Senate, Young Republicans President Mike Kelly.

SLC Election Method

Student Body President Richard Rosie declared he would convene the Student Senate every night this week until they had determined a suitable election method for the student members of the Student Life Council. He achieved his goal last night after four hours of discussion and debate by the Senate.

The stipulations on nominating petitions are complicated, but were deemed necessary in order that each candidate represent a large portion of the university, rather than a small power force from one hall. Each candidate for the SLC must attain 250 signatures on his nominating petition. Of these signatures, not more than fifty may be from his own hall and the remainder must be spread over five different halls, with at least 15 signatures from each of these halls. Off-campus candidates may not have over 100 signatures from O.C. students; the rest being obtained from on-campus.

Candidates must have been in residency at the university for at least two semesters, thus, eliminating freshmen. Candidates must run as individuals and not on multi-candidate slates.

It was also decided, despite debate from Holy Cross Senator Mike Mead, that Senators, cabinet officials, Student Union Officials, Hall Presidents, and Class Officers would have to relinquish their positions if they were elected to the SLC.

The question of recall of the elected SLC members drew a good deal of debate over the decision of whether or not to include freshmen in the procedures. Stay Senator Mike Kendall and Stanford Senator Tom Thresher spoke in favor of allowing the freshmen full participation in any elective or recall process. Mike Shaughnessy, Senator from Dillon and also Chairman of the Student Action Committee, led the objections to including the freshmen. He said, "The Rosie recall motion shows how easily the freshman can be misled."

Shaughnessy's motion carried and as it stands at present, freshmen will be allowed to vote in the SLC elections this fall and also vote in any re-election resulting from a recall petition. They will not, however, be allowed to sign a recall petition until they have reached second semester status.

Nominations may be picked up at the Amphitheatre of the Student Center on Wednesday night at 7:30.

Elections of the SLC members will be on Thursday, October 17.

Gallup Holds Hope for HHH

Counseling Moves

The student Counseling Center has recently been re-located in room 315 of the Administration Building. Heading the service again this year are Associate Professor Sheridan McCabe and Prof. Joseph Simon CSC.

Two new members have also been added to the staff this year: Prof. Daniel Boland CSC and Assistant Professor Thomas Whitman of the psychology dept. Both Boland and Whitman have accredited Ph.D's in psychology.

The center will be open for counseling from 8:00 - 5:00 M-F.

Two kinds of men make good CPAs.

1. Guys who like to have a boss.
2. Guys who like to be the boss.

If he wants to, a CPA can join almost any kind of business. Or a large accounting firm. Then he'll have a boss.

Or he can start his own practice and work for himself. Then he'll be the boss.

Or he can form a partnership with other CPAs. That way he'll be one of the bosses.

You can select courses that will help you earn your CPA certification soon after college graduation. Or you can do graduate work. Ask your faculty advisor about it.

You may wonder if you have the right temperament. Being able to work with all kinds of people helps. So does an ability to analyze and solve diverse problems. (A CPA's work these days is seldom routine.) And you should be the kind of person in whom people can put their trust and confidence.

Free U. Doubles

There will be 35 courses offered in this fall's Free University, nearly doubling the total available last fall.

Some of the courses are Student Power with Richard Remie as instructor, Black Culture taught by Don Wycliff, Yoga with Dr. Digoavanni, and Feminine Sexuality taught by Mrs. Dorothy Ravagian.

Other courses in the Free U. include Wine Tasting, Black Satire, Prayer, North Indian Music, Introduction to Opera and many others.

Students may register at 4 pm today in the Library Lobby. For further information call Rick Libowitz at 283-2023 or Maryanne Wolf at 284-4053.

Not Enough Girls and No Place To Go

It's undoubtedly true that at least one of Notre Dame's major problems is its social atmosphere. That problem has several sides and the blame can be spread around nicely. The students who always gripe but never get out of their seats and make some effort to get girls deserve some. The Administration, with its lackadaisical attitude to the problem, also comes in for some.

Whoever is responsible, and to whatever degree, the astounding thing is the lack of any practical plans presented by anyone to get at the basic reasons for the problem: 1. not enough girls and 2. few good places to spend time with them.

The cluster college concept and co-op classes are both good ideas that will alleviate the first problem significantly in the long run. But what about now? Why hasn't anybody come up with short-term solutions to "tide us over" for the time before the basic problem is solved?

In considering I got some good ideas from a variety of sources. Maybe they've been raised before, but I haven't heard them, and I doubt that many others have either. The first one is the formalizing of a lot more "weekends." They'd be less important than homecoming, but a girl in a Chicago school could come down to ND for more than a party at the Laurel Club. There could be a theme of some sort--like the Grand Prix of the Social Commission, but somewhat smaller. In some wayshay they could resemble the Art Totall weekend sponsored by the Hall Presidents' Council.

Having something definite for girls would be a start. Then they must be provided with cheap or free transportation and rooms. What about giving the old Faculty Lounge to the Social Commission for use as a hotel for incoming girls? It's big enough to hold a good number, and is far enough away from men's dorms to be relatively "safe.

If something like this is worked out, girls would start coming more often because they would know that something was happening and that arrangements were easily available.

As far as the problem of providing nice places to spend time, there are several answers. Professor Hoose's idea for a "downtown" in the Fieldhouse area is an example. As previously mentioned the old Faculty Lounge could be made available for something. The Student Center right now is not at all a student center. It's no more than a very spacious morgue. Why not use parts of it to provide something-lesser-than-mammoth mixers? Why not redecorate it and provide smaller areas for entertaining girls? For that matter, why not let girls decorate it--they know what they want.

None of these ideas is really that new or great, but if you complain and then don't offer anything yourselves, you're just a typical griper: all talk and no brains. How many people have done any thinking at all on diversified, concrete proposals for changing the place? The only idea heard with any consistency is the demand for more party space, which the Administration can't very well OK in the face of state law.

Students can get burned up on all sorts of issues and principles, they can recall, they can just sit and complain. But if they really want to participate, let them remember that they can already--but the Social Commission and the offices aren't exactly chock full of your ideas for improving ND's social atmosphere.

How about some imaginative, practical proposals?
Study on Student Relations

The Notre Dame Student Government Academic Commission, under the leadership of John Hickey, has established a curriculum study to evaluate the place of the University in society and the role of the student in relation to that University.

The study, suggested by Father Hesburgh last April, will concern itself solely with the student viewpoint of the University's function, Hickey said. "We have been operating under the same curriculum for the past 16 years. It is certainly time for a re-evaluation—not only of the courses that we take, but of the departments and the colleges that these courses come under."

Hickey said that the study has been organized and run entirely by students from the Academic Commission. These students form the nucleus of a 400-man organization, coordinated by Larry Landry, which will work in conjunction with the Social Science Training laboratory in formulating the questionnaires to be distributed to the student body. The budget for the proposed study is estimated at somewhere close to $12,000. This money, which included an initial publishing cost of $4,000, will come from Student Government.

The Curriculum study group is under the jurisdiction of the Academic Commission, which also sponsors the Free University and The Student Course and Teacher Evaluation. It is composed of an Academic Council which oversees the work of the Student College Councils and the departmental committees. Students at the head of each of these committees are responsible for the evaluation of courses and teachers to be included in a proposal to be submitted at the end of December.

The questionnaire, Hickey said, will be based on the concept of motivation in basic statistical data. Hickey was unable to give any information on the specific questions included; but he did say that they would all be related to each other. He said that they would deal primarily with the value of the present departmental structure of the University, grades, labs, and would pay special attention to the value of philosophy and theology in the curriculum.

"Hickey said that the immediate goal of the committee is to educate the student body to the process of the study. To accomplish this, teams of speakers, consisting of a cabinet member and a member of the academic commission will be dispatched to all the dorms on campus. There they will explain the functions and goals of the study and solicit student reaction to the proposal. "Our biggest problem at this time is a lack of communication with the student body. We have to establish a dialogue with the students and the faculty in order for this to be a success."

With a December deadline this kind of communication is imperative.

The Commission hopes that results of the study will be used in the formulation of new academic policies on the campus. "After this study has been submitted to the University, we would hope that our voice would be listened to" Hickey said. "At least we will find out exactly where we stand in relation to the University."

Banks Gets Close

DETROIT (UPI) — The ball player having the most fun at this World Series isn’t even in it.

He’s wearing an amazed look about the whole thing because this is as close as he’s ever been to a World Series during his 15 major league seasons; wearing press credentials on his left lapel because he’s doing daily telephone interviews for a Chicago radio station, and a perpetual smile on his face because at 37 years old Ernie Banks loves the whole world and doesn’t care who knows it.

“I never had so much fun in my life,” he said Thursday waiting in the dressing room of Busch Memorial Stadium along with more than 80 others from the various news media for the game between the Tigers and Cardinals to finish so he could go do his work.

“What do you think of that Mickey Stanley at shortstop? someone asked the Cubs’ ex-shortstop about Detroit’s converted center fielder.

“Magnificent,” said Ernie Banks. “That double play he made on Shannon was tremendous. It was a big play, too. If he doesn’t make it, that could’ve been trouble for Detroit. Big trouble.”

Willie Horton, pitcher Mickey Lolich and Norm Cash all hit home runs for the Cubs in Thursday’s game at St. Louis but Ernie Banks didn’t get overly excited about the blows.

“Why have you asked about that first position is the one you always associate yourself with. That’s why I’m so interested in Mickey Stanley. Isn’t he something?”

He, that could’ve been trouble for Detroit. Big trouble.

TIGERS’ HOPES ALIVE

DETROIT (UPI) — Classy Al Kaline, after 16 years waiting to play in his first World Series, kept the Detroit Tigers alive Monday when he stepped two-run, bases-loaded single in the seventh inning to beat the St. Louis Cardinals 5-3 and send the series back to St. Louis.

It was an almoststorybook setting when Kaline stepped to the plate with one out and the Tigers trailing 3-2 with the crowd of 53,634 at Tiger Stadium excluding in noise after reliever Joe Hoerner walked Mickey Stanley on a 3-2 pitch to load the bases.

Kaline didn’t disappoint the Tiger fans who’ve waited 23 years for a World Series as he poke d Hoerner’s second pitch to center field for a two-run single that started a three-run rally and narrowed the Cardinals’ lead to 3-2 in this Series.

The teams will now have Tuesday off and the Series will return to St. Louis for the sixth game Wednesday in Busch Stadium with Ray Washburn pitching against either Earl Wilson or Joe Sparma of the Tigers. The seventh game, if necessary, will be played Thursday.

Kaline’s hit gave the triumph to Mickey Lolich, who blanked the Cards over the final eight innings for his second Series victory after being bombed for three runs in the first inning.

Brock probably could have scored if he tried to slide but came in standing up and failed to touch the plate when he bounced off Freeman, who took Horton’s one-bouncer throw from center field.

Brock provided a dramatic finale to this game when Kaline’s hit gave the triumph to Mickey Lolich, who blanked the Cards over the final eight innings for his second Series victory after being bombed for three runs in the first inning.

Sports Briefs

EVANSTON, Ill. (UPI) — The Northwestern Wildcats got both good and bad news in Monday’s medical report.

Place kicker Dick Emmerich was released from the hospital where he had undergone observation for a head injury he suffered in Saturday’s game against top ranked Purdue. Also returning will be defensive end Ed Tacquetto to play in Saturday’s game against Notre Dame.

But first string halfback Ken Laxton will remain sidelined with a bruised kidney.

One of Saturday’s biggest individual battles will occur in the line where ND sophomore left guard Larry Disandro (6-1, 243) must contend with a Northwestern All America candidate, right defensive tackle Jack Rudney (6-3, 240).
