generally calm yesterday as 600 police guarded the campus to coitus in this country is increasing, especially among females and three fourths of all women and three fourths of all males have full sexual experience at time of the wedding,"  he said.

The rampage began after Sicilian police shot to death two demonstrators yesterday, smashing windows and attacking police in a violent prelude to a massive strike today.

Report Shows Experienced Population

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) – A Purdue University professor told the American Medical Association at its first convention yesterday that about one half of all women and three fourths of all men in the United States have full sexual experiences prior to marriage.

Dr. Harold T. Christensen, professor of Sociology at Purdue, said that he did not know if this new committee will merely the first in a series of chain reactions which would cause more students to be mere a liaison between the faculty Senate to "get out and work on" bringing more black teachers to the University.

He said that he told the Faculty Senate "to get out and work on" bringing more black teachers to the University.

Hesburgh also said that he has contracted Musial for the purpose of setting up a seminar on the black man and change in America.

"I'm as interested in these problems as they are. I've done everything I possibly could, I think," Hesburgh said.

Curriculum Reform Coming to ND

Antiquated curriculum requirements have long been the universal bane of college students. Northwestern, Duke and other universities have currently made sweeping changes in their curricular structures, and it appears that Notre Dame may soon follow suit. Rev. John Walsh, Walsh-vice-president of Academic Affairs, has revealed that the university is in the process of establishing a University-wide Committee on Curriculum Revision.

The Committee is to be composed of the deans from the five colleges, the four undergraduate college presidents and five elected faculty representatives. John Hickey, Academic Affairs Commissioner, has been asked by Father Walsh to serve on the Committee as the fifth college representative. The students will have full voting rights on the Committee.

According to Hickey, the Committee will be represented by Dean Frederick Crossan and John Moore, the College of Science by Dean Bernard Waldman and John Berry, the College of Engineering by Dean Joseph Hogan and Dick Niccolini, the College of Business Administration by Dean Thomas Murphy and Frank Stumpf.

Deans William Burke of the College of Arts and Letters will be represented by Dean Frederick Crossan. The women's representatives, a fifth faculty representative, have not been elected yet.

"At the present time the committee is merely ad hoc, but hopefully it will become permanent," says Hickey. "It's function of re-evaluating the curriculum is one which will continually be needed.

We hope to call the first meeting of the committee no later than February 1, 1969," says Father Walsh. "By that time the materials which are being compiled by our students and the recommendations of the departmental committees and the college councils should be at hand.

Hippies Disrupt Speeches at NYU

NEW YORK (UPI) — About 50 young people in hippie garb broke into a New York University auditorium yesterday and broke up two speeches, one by New York Times Executive Editor James Reston and the other by a South Vietnamese United Nations observer.

The youths, who said they were members of the Students for a Democratic Society, first walked into a meeting on the main floor of the Washington Square College auditorium where Nguyen H. Chi was speaking to about 500 of the Young Republicans. "He Chi was hustled away by campus security guards and the crowd moved upstairs to where Reston was beginning to deliver the college's annual Home A. Watts lecture.

They beat on the auditorium's metal doors, chanting "Ho, Ho, Ho Chi Minh" and making it impossible for the crowd of 500 to hear Reston.

As he left the stage the hippies broke into the auditorium and ran onto the stage waving Viet Cong flags and shouting obscenities.

The audience tried to shout them down and one of the mob told a front row spectator: "Keep your mouth shut or you'll lose your front teeth."

Reston had been going to speak on "problems facing the new administration."

By the time a squad car with two policemen arrived, the demonstrators had already left.

There were no arrests.

Later Dr. Allan M. Carter, chancellor and executive vice-president of the New York University, and any NYU students involved would be immediately suspended.

Casasanta Dies; ND Immortal

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — Notre Dame was saddened Sunday by the death of Joseph J. Casasanta, 67.

Casasanta earned his place alongside landmarks such as George Gipp and Knute Rockne in recognition of his contributions to Notre Dame's winning tradition.

Unlike the Gipper, however, Casasanta's contributions were off the football field when the former director of the Notre Dame band and glee club composed the music for the university alma mater and three other school fight songs.

Casasanta collaborated with a former Notre Dame president, the Rev. Charles O'Donnell, in writing the alma mater.

The International Students' Organization will hold its annual Christmas hamper in the North Dining Hall on Sunday, December eighteenth, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. There will be an inter-national menu, followed by entertainment and dancing. Tickets can be purchased for $2.50 ($2.00 for members) from 500 representatives throughout the dining halls. Those who can are requested to help prepare the food at 2:00 Sunday in the Dining Hall.

UNICEF Cards

Unicef Christmas Cards are presently on sale in the Notre Dame Post Office. They will be sold from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. through next Fri. Dec 13.

SMC Opens Counseling Office; Galasso to Head

Starting this year, a new office, Career Planning and Placement, will serve SMC juniors and seniors. The newly appointed director, Miss Cherylann Galasso, says that the basic function of her office will be to centralize information and counseling in the areas of employment, graduate study, and teaching.

Miss Galasso, a 1966 graduate of SMC who now returns after two years as assistant to the Director of Placement at MIT, says that she hopes that all students will make use of the career planning services when they are juniors.

"We plan to have juniors meet here with representatives of companies and government agencies in the spring. However, even before that we hope to counsel the students on job opportunities so that they can plan their curriculum to accommodate whatever unusual combinations of majors that may be required for interesting jobs. By this time the students return for their senior year, they should be ready to look into our placement services."

Graduate school counseling will be aided by the new library located next to Miss Galasso's office. It contains copies of virtually all the grad school bulletins which are available for personal by students. This is a definite convenience because it assured the student of a complete view of each university's programs, thereby eliminating guesswork involved in searching through many limited sources of information.

This office is also presenting a series of seminars on job interviewing procedures, how to write a resume, and starting salary statistics. These seminars will be open to both juniors and seniors. There are a number of other items to be handled by this new office. Around Christmas time, a published list of area Career Opportunity Conferences will be located in LeMans Hall, in back of the Regisbeaux Lounge.

Abolish Compulsory Courses

A group of students, headed by Sophomore Greg Fazakerley, is circulating a petition calling upon the Student Life Council to consider abolishing the requirement.

Representatives in each hall will circulate the petition for signatures. Fazakerley said that he hopes to be able to present the petition to the SLC before the Christmas break.

The petition reads as follows. We, the undersigned students, faculty, and administration members of the University of Notre Dame, consider the only academic responsibility of the Catholic institution is to provide and make available courses of study in the fields of Theology and Philosophy, but at the same time we do not consider it a duty or responsibility of the University of Notre Dame to make these respective courses of study mandatory. Therefore, we hereby submit this petition to the Student Life Council to abolish the mandatory 24 credit Theology and Philosophy requirement.

Fazakerley said that the wording is deliberately strong in order to allow room for compromise. "Ideally," he said, "the requirement would be abolished completely.

To-ski-or-not-to-ski-weekends.

You don't have to know a schuss from a slalom to love a ski weekend. There are plenty of other fun things to do like tramping around the mountains...racing toboggans...riding the lifts...and ganging up for snowball fights.

And whether you've been knocking 'em dead on the slopes all day or not, there's always parties...and people who like the things you do.

If you're a TWA U.S. We also arrange places like Aspen and Vail. Only TWA can take you to the best skiing in both the U.S. and Europe. Call your travel agent, your TWA Campus Rep, or TWA.

'The Greek' Picks UCLA

Las Vegas' most famous sports figure, Jimmy 'The Greek' Snyder last night announced his early on the Notre Dame-UCLA basketball game. He made the Bruins an eight-point favorite. Snyder told The Observer by phone yesterday that the Irish have many factors working in their favor, including a home court advantage and UCLA's tight defense schedule which has them in Columbus, Ohio, for a game with Ohio State tomorrow.

"The Greek" was on the nose with his last prediction of a Notre Dame sporting event. He called the 21-21 football tie with Southern California last Saturday.
