Vance disclosed he had paid a "farewell call" on North Vietnamese leaders. He flew there by airplane in his capacity as Secretary of State for a meeting with President Ho Chi Minh. Vance told reporters before flying to Hanoi that "the decision to not have a better call to reunification and peace is made by the appropriate college committee, faculty, or administrator who bears this responsibility under the statutes of Saint Mary's College. When such decisions are negative, it is the policy of the government of the West German President to make the decision a matter of public information."

The recommendation of the Rank and Tenure Committee was in a meeting of the faculty and administrators of Saint Mary's College during the past few months have been procedurally and publicly above reproach. There has been no evidence, either oral or written, presented by the student group re-examination of the decision which has been made.

The recommendation of the faculty committee to the students body was notified of the following decision on faculty committee.

McGrath rejects proposal to re-examine faculty cases

by OBSERVER associate editor, BETTY DOERR

Saint Mary's President Mary, John J. McGrath said yesterday that he has received no evidence from students or faculty for re-examination of a decision not to promote, grant tenure or renew the contracts of several faculty members. He said that his decision not to re-examine the contested case of eight faculty members was made after meetings with student representatives, letters received from the student body, and the recommendation of the four permanent members of the rank and tenure committee which met Tuesday at the request of the students body. "No reason to convene" the students had asked that they be notified of the committee's decision on re-examination. McGrath's announcement of the committee's decision is printed above. In an exclusive interview with WSN, McGrath stated that the Rank and Tenure Committee "...will not have a better call to reunification and peace is made by the appropriate college committee, faculty, or administrator who bears this responsibility under the statutes of Saint Mary's College. When such decisions are negative, it is the policy of the government of the West German President to make the decision a matter of public information."

The recommendation of the Rank and Tenure Committee was in a meeting of the faculty and administrators of Saint Mary's College during the past few months have been procedurally and publicly above reproach. There has been no evidence, either oral or written, presented by the student group re-examination of the decision which has been made.

The recommendation of the faculty committee to the students body was notified of the following decision on faculty committee.

Nixon pledges to continue poverty war

WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Nixon pledged yesterday to continue to war on poverty, but told Congress he intends to try to streamline the program for youthful dropouts, would go to the "concentrate on..." McGinley in the race for the top spot. In a campaign for the top spot. In a

East German warns of provocation

BERLIN (UPI) - East Germany warned yesterday that the dispatch of forces to West Berlin today of Vietnam overflies the "provocation." The East Germans also harassed traffic going in and out of the city for the second consecutive day. An East German Foreign Ministry spokesman said Luebke's flight would be a "mistake of the air routes of the East German Democratic Republic." He said the visit would be a "provocation" because West Berlin is part of the Western German state of Brandenburg.

Luebke is flying here for a two day routine visit in a U.S. Air Force plane because West German aircraft may not use the three 20-mile wide air corridors and the East Germans have threatened to halt German officials' road trips to the city.

Marines light off North Viet attack

SAIGON (UPI) - U.S. Marines fought hordes of North Vietnamese to reconquest the top spot. In a campaign for the top spot. In a

Vance confident talks to bring peace

PARIS (UPI) - Outgoing U.S. deputy negotiator Cyrus R. Vance left Paris yesterday with a confident prediction that peace would emerge from the Vietnam conference in Paris. But he warned it would be a long process.

Vance disclosed he had paid a "farewell call" on North Vietnamese negotiators. He declined to say what was discussed during the meeting, which presumably included his host, opposite, Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap.

"I do believe eventually a settlement of the Vietnam problem will come out of the Paris meetings," Vance told reporters before flying off to Morocco for a two-week vacation before returning to New York.

It's official now! Oh Boy, Mroz, Kendall, and McKenna.

THE OBSERVER

Serving the Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College Community

VOL. III, NO. 84

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1969

McGrath rejects proposal to re-examine faculty cases
Harris sees ‘new trinity of concerns’ in 70’s

PAGE 2

THE OBSERVER

Thursday, February 20, 1970

THE OBSERVER

Harris sees ‘new trinity of concerns’ in 70’s

sponsored by the College of Business Administration.

Harris, in a lecture in the Library Auditorium yesterday, examined American life on the eve of the 1970’s and came up with a “new trinity of concerns” which will be the focal point of American activity in the coming decade. The lecture was the third in the Cardinal O’Hara Series sponsored by the College of Business Administration.

Harris said, “I was most proud of my polls for finding the strength of Wallace.” Near the beginning of October his polls showed that only 40% of the people felt that Wallace was a racist, 43% thought he was an extremist and that he could eventually receive 30% of the popular vote. When these results were released, he said, the media began to do more thorough coverage of Wallace. With the added scrutiny Wallace’s strength declined. Eventually 60% though Wallace was a racist and 71% believed he was an extremist.

“Best of Everything” Party

Bud - Brand X - Stag Prices

Saturday, Feb. 22, 8:30-7:00

Hillside Barn

Bus Leave Circle 8:00, 8:20, 8:45, 9:00

WOULD YOU LIKE TO BE A SWINGER, AND HAVE YOUR OWN POLAROID?

WHEN YOU PURCHASE YOUR OWN SCRIBTO PEN AT THE BOOKSTORE, THE CASHIER WILL GIVE YOU A LUCKY NUMBER WHICH COULD BE THE ONE DRAWN ON MARCH 10. BE SURE TO PURCHASE YOUR SCRIBTO PEN AND ALSO ENTER THE:

SCRIBTO MYSTERY TOUR

You have nothing to lose. And everything to gain. Just send in your Mystery Tour entry blank. 10 Lucky Gala and 10 Lucky Gala will win for Europe, and the 10 Lucky Gala will win for Europe - the trip’s never been toured before. Four passes to every city and a trip to Europe’s grandest cities. Start in London, the shoe is a mystery. Only the bus driver knows the way. Bistro by night, beaches by day. So don’t let this be you and do you... all for the price of a juicy Scrabito pen.

Available at the

Notre Dame Hammes Bookstore

Mrs. Morris dies at 83

Mroz; Kendall join SBP race

continued from Page 1

more options. Educating people to control their options intelligently is the way to end the alienation.”

The most important objective of these two groups will no longer be the pursuit of economic advancement. 45% of all households will have a member with a college degree and the majority of these will be professional people rather than the “old line business types.”

“People have begun to take the economic function for granted,” Harris said. Instead they would have to concentrate on his “new trinity of concerns.” This trinity is race relations, the role of U.S. power in the world and the ability of the country to cope with non-conformity. “The way to break up these problems is from the top down. The new leadership must not rest until the identity of every man is secure,” Harris added.

In the question period after the lecture, the main concern was with the recent presidential elections and the role the polls played. “I Love You” — we’ll call you 3 times

Available at the

Notre Dame Hammes Bookstore

Attorneys discuss: Corporate, Labor, Poverty and Civil Liberties

CAREER IN LAWS SYMPOSIUM

Libowitz stated that he “definitely is opposed to John Mroz” and told his listeners over WSD to look up Judges 5,23 which says, “Cursed be ye, Mroz.” “It was the closest thing to a Jewish Student Body President that Notre Dame will ever see,” Libowitz said.

PRE-LAW?

CAREER IN LAWS SYMPOSIUM

Thursday, February 20, 8:00

Library Auditorium

Refreshments—No Charge

The Observer is published daily during the college semester except vacations by the students of the University of Notre Dame and St. Mary’s College. Subscriptions may be purchased for $10 from The Observer, Notre Dame Ind., 46550. Second class postage paid, Notre Dame Ind. 46550.
Dear Mr. DeYoung:

"Is Business Bluffing Ethical?" is a recent article which appears in the Harvard Business Review (January-February 1968). In that article the author, Albert Z. Carr, raises some difficult questions about the nature of cooperation among business organizations and about the relationship of a person's ethical and moral standards to the conduct of daily business. Several examples of conflicts between ethics and "business sense" were set forth. Let's consider a concrete example.

Tom was a sales executive with a Southern firm. He told of an instance where he had landed a contract with one of his most important customers, a Mr. Colby. At the time of their meeting, the state was having a very heated campaign against which Tom and Colby were of different persuasions. Colby mentioned that he was treasurer of the citizen's committee supporting the candidate Tom opposed. Before the two men got down to business, Colby asked if he could count on Tom for a $100 contribution to the Lang campaign fund. Tom's reaction was the following: "Well, there I was. I was opposed to Lang, but I knew Colby. If he withdrew his campaign contribution, it wouldn't be a bad spot. So I just smiled and wrote the check then and there."

Upon discussing the matter with his wife, Tom found that she was bitterly disillusioned with the business world because it could put such pressures on a person to go against his own values. Tom's perception of the incident was that "It's a case of the business world today with the ground rules of a poker game. "That most businessmen are not indifferent to ethics in their private lives, everyone will agree. My point is that in their office lives they cease to be private citizens; they become game players who must be guided by a somewhat different set of ethical standards."

Mr. Carr suggests that such situations are part of the "game" which governs the business world. He goes on to compare ethical standards of business organizations today with the ground rules of a poker game. "That most businessmen are not indifferent to ethics in their private lives, everyone will agree. My point is that in their office lives they cease to be private citizens; they become game players who must be guided by a somewhat different set of ethical standards."

Finally, Carr cites a Midwestern executive as saying "So long as a businessman complies with the laws of the land and avoids telling malicious lies, he's ethical. There is no obligation on him to stop and consider whether he is going to be hurt. If the law says he can do it, that's all the justification he needs. There is nothing unethical about that. It's just plain business sense."

Mr. DeYoung, the student whom business wants for its management ranks is not interested in such a "game." A business man, therefore, who maintains his own inherent traits of character. It is these factors that show up in a man's business situation decision, not the other way around. The man, therefore, who makes his own convictions and sense of moral values will be a better businessman, and will find that there really is little chance of developing a business career without fear of compromise.

In university administration, already have claimed Mr. Clark's attention and urge well a career in international affairs.

In the course of the entire Dialogue Program, Mark Bookspan, a Chemistry major at Ohio State, also will exchange viewpoints with Mr. DeYoung, as will David M. Butler, in Electrical Engineering at Michigan State, and Stan Chess, Journalism, Cornell, with Mr. Doan; and similarly, Arthur M. Klebanoff, in Liberal Arts at Yale, and Arnold Shelby, Latin American Studies at Yale. All of these Dialogues will appear in this publication, and other campus newspapers across the country, throughout this academic year. Campus comments and suggestions should be forwarded to Mr. DeYoung, Goodyear, Akron, Ohio, Mr. Doan, Dow Chemical, Midland, Michigan, or Mr. Galvin, Motorola, Franklin Park, Illinois, as appropriate.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature]
David G. Clark
Graduate Studies, Stanford
Fourth in a five part series

"I think athletics and academics are comparable," Athletic Director Edward "Moose" Krause said. "As Father Hesburgh has said, everything can't be learned in the classroom. When a boy comes here for an education that includes three things: intellectual, spiritual and physical.

The former all-American went on to describe how transparent the procedures calculated to preserve good order on the Board of Trustees, he possesses a derailing his authority from the officer of the University, doubt but that as chief executive purported to do? (Power); (2) is authority to do what he has heretofore.

"If you want to play in the leagues, let's play in the big leagues" is the answer Krause said. "As Father Hesburgh said, 'Is big league football for football? Why not let the average student play? Is big league football necessary or even desirable?'

"The only criticism would be that of the other coaches here." Krause said, "He gets plenty of cooperation, team work, things that make an athlete feel that he must do that himself, both mentally and physically.

"Our student-athlete works harder than the normal student. He has to, to participate in athletics and still get an education," Krause concluded.

It is my personal conviction that everyone benefits from athletics. But why are 35 or 40 grant-in-aid given each year for football? Why not let the average student play? Is big league football necessary or even desirable?

"I think athletics and academics are comparable," Athletic Director Edward "Moose" Krause said. "As Father Hesburgh has said, everything can't be learned in the classroom. When a boy comes here for an education that includes three things: intellectual, spiritual and physical.

The former all-American went on to describe how transparent the procedures calculated to preserve good order on the Board of Trustees, he possesses a derailing his authority from the officer of the University, doubt but that as chief executive purported to do? (Power); (2) is authority to do what he has heretofore.

"If you want to play in the leagues, let's play in the big leagues" is the answer Krause said. "As Father Hesburgh said, 'Is big league football for football? Why not let the average student play? Is big league football necessary or even desirable?'

"The only criticism would be that of the other coaches here." Krause said, "He gets plenty of cooperation, team work, things that make an athlete feel that he must do that himself, both mentally and physically.

"Our student-athlete works harder than the normal student. He has to, to participate in athletics and still get an education," Krause concluded.

It is my personal conviction that everyone benefits from athletics. But why are 35 or 40 grant-in-aid given each year for football? Why not let the average student play? Is big league football necessary or even desirable?

"I think athletics and academics are comparable," Athletic Director Edward "Moose" Krause said. "As Father Hesburgh has said, everything can't be learned in the classroom. When a boy comes here for an education that includes three things: intellectual, spiritual and physical.

The former all-American went on to describe how transparent the procedures calculated to preserve good order on the Board of Trustees, he possesses a derailing his authority from the officer of the University, doubt but that as chief executive purported to do? (Power); (2) is authority to do what he has heretofore.

"If you want to play in the leagues, let's play in the big leagues" is the answer Krause said. "As Father Hesburgh said, 'Is big league football for football? Why not let the average student play? Is big league football necessary or even desirable?'

"The only criticism would be that of the other coaches here." Krause said, "He gets plenty of cooperation, team work, things that make an athlete feel that he must do that himself, both mentally and physically.

"Our student-athlete works harder than the normal student. He has to, to participate in athletics and still get an education," Krause concluded.

It is my personal conviction that everyone benefits from athletics. But why are 35 or 40 grant-in-aid given each year for football? Why not let the average student play? Is big league football necessary or even desirable?

"I think athletics and academics are comparable," Athletic Director Edward "Moose" Krause said. "As Father Hesburgh has said, everything can't be learned in the classroom. When a boy comes here for an education that includes three things: intellectual, spiritual and physical.

The former all-American went on to describe how transparent the procedures calculated to preserve good order on the Board of Trustees, he possesses a derailing his authority from the officer of the University, doubt but that as chief executive purported to do? (Power); (2) is authority to do what he has heretofore.

"If you want to play in the leagues, let's play in the big leagues" is the answer Krause said. "As Father Hesburgh said, 'Is big league football for football? Why not let the average student play? Is big league football necessary or even desirable?'

"The only criticism would be that of the other coaches here." Krause said, "He gets plenty of cooperation, team work, things that make an athlete feel that he must do that himself, both mentally and physically.

"Our student-athlete works harder than the normal student. He has to, to participate in athletics and still get an education," Krause concluded.

It is my personal conviction that everyone benefits from athletics. But why are 35 or 40 grant-in-aid given each year for football? Why not let the average student play? Is big league football necessary or even desirable?

"I think athletics and academics are comparable," Athletic Director Edward "Moose" Krause said. "As Father Hesburgh has said, everything can't be learned in the classroom. When a boy comes here for an education that includes three things: intellectual, spiritual and physical.

The former all-American went on to describe how transparent the procedures calculated to preserve good order on the Board of Trustees, he possesses a derailing his authority from the officer of the University, doubt but that as chief executive purported to do? (Power); (2) is authority to do what he has heretofore.

"If you want to play in the leagues, let's play in the big leagues" is the answer Krause said. "As Father Hesburgh said, 'Is big league football for football? Why not let the average student play? Is big league football necessary or even desirable?'

"The only criticism would be that of the other coaches here." Krause said, "He gets plenty of cooperation, team work, things that make an athlete feel that he must do that himself, both mentally and physically.

"Our student-athlete works harder than the normal student. He has to, to participate in athletics and still get an education," Krause concluded.

It is my personal conviction that everyone benefits from athletics. But why are 35 or 40 grant-in-aid given each year for football? Why not let the average student play? Is big league football necessary or even desirable?