McNamara, Kahn convicted

By Jim Riley
Saturday morning, the Campus Judicial Board convicted David Kahn and Marty McNamara. The defendants each received a three charge fine from the Board. Kahn and McNamara are both considered guilty of unauthorized use of campus facilities and bonds, as a result of their actions in the Fraternity of the Censorship and Pornography Committee.

Kahn and McNamara were both found guilty for unauthorized use of campus facilities, Kahn, of bonds, and McNamara with contributing to a public disturbance.

On the first count, the Judicial Board recommended that the defendants receive an approval from the University and before the University. On the other count of assault andbattery, the Board did not levy any penalty due to the possibility of unlawful seizure.

The rationale for the Board's decision, which was released by Chairman of the Board, “The rule has generally been unenforced in the past.

Furthermore, since no one was denied the use of that room at that time, we see no harm done.”

Despite protests from the human society, 1969's An Tostal concludes with a pig chase. Dillon hall nailed four pigs in record time to win the event with SMC coming in a close second. The girls were persuaded to participate in the game by being thrown into the pen.

"And when they were in there you couldn't tell who was chasing whom," remarked one ND student. freshman Carole McRedmond, dressed entirely in white, produced the best tack of the day. She missed the pig but hit the mud.

Cavanaugh won the beat race but Badin had the most unusual bed—a man's cot with a five foot board, two chairs and two pillows. The bed gained so much speed that it was surging on its near wheels. The girl riding the cot almost got killed.

C.S.C. came back from last year's loss to win the top of war, pulling ten ND men into the mud. The girls also made themselves the new water brigade champions and got soaked on the process. But as badin president Dave Ryan put it, "They're all wet anyway.

Pat Dowd, who worked on a cow two minutes for nil milk, was galloped at the boy from a Maryland farm, who corrected in their adjudication which had indicated that students were not to be blamed for the philic disorder which occurred in conjunction with the suppressed conference.

The speculation disbeliefed the fact that it could go down the winter's throat so fast.

Notre Dame had a tough time overcoming the St. Mary's squad in a well-matched touch football game. The ND team was hit often with a 15 yard penalty for illegal use of the hand. SMC received only one penalty—backfield in motion.

Grande named admissions head

Dr. Peter P. Grande, director of the office of institutional studies at the University of Notre Dame, has been named director of admissions at the University. The appointment is effective July 1.

Grande succeeds Brother Raphael Wilson, C.S.C., who has headed Notre Dame's admissions program since September 9.

Brother Raphael, an associate professor of microbiology, will take a year's sabbatical leave at the University of Ulm, West Germany, before returning to the teaching and research staff of Notre Dame's Laboratory. He will be a visiting professor at the University of Ulm and director of its clinical bacteriology research program.

Professor Michelson resigns

Professor Peter Michelson has resigned his position in the English Department, effective at the end of the year, in order to edit a literary magazine at the University of Wyoming. Michelson said, "I am leaving Notre Dame, first, because I feel that I can more freely explore the interaction of art and society in the position I have been offered at the University of Wyoming." In his letter of resignation, sent to Father Walsh, Michelson said, "I'm the course of the past year administrative responses to campus dissent have defined a repressive and authoritarian educational environment at Notre Dame. Such policy as is prescribed in Father Hesburgh's letters must create-has in fact already created-an atmosphere of suspicion, hostility, and harassment; of whatever falls outside its arbitrary, and often whimsical, bounds. Thus, the possibility of free humanistic inquiry at Notre Dame has been seriously compromised. For there can be no real freedom of mind where dissent is suppressed; and that is the consequence of Father Hesburgh's machinations to effect a conformity of will in the Notre Dame community.

HPC discusses idea o f hall fellow

HPC Chairman Rich Heidecker asked each hall president last night to submit to him the name of a faculty member his hall might want for a hall fellow next year. The hall president, academic commission, or council will make the final decision on its fellow, but the HPC is co-ordinating the program.

Both Morrisey and Farley had fellows last year but the program will be expanded in the fall to include every hall on campus. Heidecker said that the purpose of the hall fellow will be to "bridge the student-faculty gap" by becoming acquainted with all life. "The move would give the halls a more civilized touch," he said.

Greg Murray, a promoter of a leadership conference to be held on campus a week before classes resume in the fall, asked that the hall presidents make an attempt to attend the conference. He said that a five dollar fee would cover the cost of a textbook and other miscellaneous items. Any other expenses will be underwritten by either ND or SMC. Next week the HPC will vote on a constitutional amendment proposed by Jim Smith of St. Ed's giving the council the power to express an official opinion on issues pertaining to hall life.

Irish hurlers spin twin shut-out victories

by Terry Shields
Observer sports writer

Nick Furlong continued his fine shutout pitching as he led the Irish to a 3-0 victory over Ohio University last Friday at Carter Field. In so doing he extended his scoreless inning string to 23 innings and evened his record at 2-2. This fine performance also lifted the Irish over 500 for the first time this season with a 10-9 mark. Furlong gave up seven hits in his nine inning stint.

The Irish scored in the initial stanza when Bob Voetter drew a walk and went to second on Tom Lux’s single. Rich Lucke then walked and Bill Orga drove in the run with a sacrifice fly. The contest remained tight until the seventh inning when Bill McCarthy tripled and Joe Keenan walked. Furlong helped his own cause with an RBI single scoring McCarthy and then Lux’s second safety brought home Keenan.

Furlong kept the Bobcats in check as they never had a runner past second.

The Saturday game with Ohio was rained out.

Then on Sunday the Irish upset their record to 11-9 with an impressive victory over Xavier University by a 9-0 count. Ron Schmitz hurled a 4 hit shutout for his fourth victory against one loss. He recorded 8 strikeouts in the process.

The ND offense showed a lot of punch in this game. Orga continued his torrid hitting attack since entering the starting lineup as he had a 3 for 5 day with 2 RBIs. He is currently 7 for 15 on the season. Another bright spot was Dick Lucini who hit a 3-run pinch-hit homer in the 5-run Irish seventh. This was only the second appearance for Lucini since coming off the injury he sustained in the Texas trip. The Irish hammered out 11 hits on two Xavier pitchers. Dale Mutryn suffered his first defeat in the run with a sacrifice fly.

The Irish looked solid in the field despite two errors. They performed their twentieth double play of the year.

It seems that the men of Kline have put things together at long last but it may be just a little late. There are only six scheduled games remaining. The next outing is tomorrow against Valparaiso at Valpo and the next home game is Thursday versus the Detroit Titans.

Rain dampens Blue-Gold scrimmage

by Mike Pavlin
Observer Sports editor.

For awhile I thought this job was a thankless one. You spend all night in the office trying to figure out why your headlines don’t fit and people call you up asking why the last issue didn’t contain the results of the Zahm Hall third floor Wall Ball Tournament.

I changed my mind radically last Saturday, though, because in Sports Ed I was entitled to a free seat in the Press Box for the second annual Blue-Gold football scrimmage. There I sat, eating free hot dogs and drinking free Ul神圣 while outside the rain drenched and the wind chilled a multitude of 3,737 who were exploring the length and depth of meaning of the expression “die-hard.” The game itself replaced the nostalgic Old Timers’ Game last year. Ara Parseghian had wisely decided that since scores in the contest were ballooning and since Pro teams were becoming worried about injuries their property could suffer, it would be better to hold an instructional, intrasquad scrimmage.

Last year’s opener was exceptionally bad, because it unveiled the wizardry of Joe Theismann, who ran and passed the varsity daze, Saturday, however, Theismann was on the varsity and he had the Chicago Police Force diggins as a back behind him, thus the Blue smothered the Gold 41-3.

If the crowd was unhappy over the weather and the lopsided side, Ara Parseghian was not. Ara explained that he thought the squad had reached a plateau last week, but that they had become a unit. He pointed out what was visible on the field, that the Irish will be a possession-offensive team next year, with three backs operating most of the time.

Parseghian had a chance to check out some trouble spots, one of the most noticeable being back-up quarterback. Freshman Andy Huf lived up to his billing, but Parseghian also had good words for backup Jeff Zimmerman, Huff and Jeff each scored a touchdown, while Ed Zagler added three scores. The other Blue TD was produced by Dick Zielon, an improved halfback this spring, who tacked up 24 yards in five carries.

Besides these, there is Denny Allen, who was bumped out of his starting spot by Huff. Allen played for both sides during the afternoon and managed 12 yards in 8 carries. A pleasant surprise at halfback was former QB Jim Yoder. Moved to halfback just last week ("had two of the longest runs this spring"—Parseghian), Yoder carried for 34 yards and caught two passes. Incidentally, he wore Coley O’Brien’s old number, three.

The main reason for the meager Gold total-offense production was the Blue defense. Mike McCoy joined with three fresh-Greg Marx, Walt Patulski, and Fred Swedem—to form a solid front line. Mike Zikas, Pat Mudron, and Bob Jackisch will back them up next year. Any inexperience they have is "countered"—as Ara put it—by a veteran linebacker crew—Defensive captain Bob Olson ("offensive captain won’t be named until next fall" was out with an injury suffered during a light workout the other day. He, Larry Schumacher, Tim Kelly, and Bob Neidert have plenty of savvy, and they have Jim Wright (baseball) to help.

The secondaries gathered in five interceptions Saturday, three of the Gold. Chuck "Stick" Zich is solid at one corner, but the other two places are still up for grabs. Fresh safety Charles Ellis used his great leaping ability to tip and catch one pass, while John Gasser picked off another. One spectacular spring performer, Ed Ed Goyas, was injured.

A good sign is the shape of ND’s kicking game. Scott Hempel didn’t miss in four extra-point attempts. Yoder palmed for a 40-yard average, while Mark Brandt got off several fine boots under pressure. John Damper, a freshman from Kemn, Texas, put the only Gold digits on the board with a 25-yard third quarter field goal.
