On the inside...

O'Melia sees hope • • • • • • • • • • see p. 4

The pressure on Gatewood • • • • • • see p. 12

Faces in the crowd • • • • • • • • See p. 5

Main quad rally, peace walk • • • • • • • • See p. 8

Vigil opens moratorium • • • • • • • • See p. 9

Darst, Cullen address rally • • • • • • • • See p. 9

Hundreds attend resistance mass • • • • • • See p. 2 Christian peace, love at Resistance Mass

by Mark Walbran

The members of the Resistance are: Chuck Darst, Junior in Communication Arts; James Douglass, Assistant Professor of Non-Violence, Tom Henesky, Senior in the General Program; Tim MacCarry, Senior in Psychology and Anthropology; Peter Smith, Assistant Professor of Mathematics at Saint Mary's College; and Karen Welker, Student in Philosophy at Saint Mary's. Acting as a spokesman for the group, James Douglass said at the Mass:

"We believe that conscience in obedience to God and to the dignity of man must resist a law which enforces murder. We can no longer cooperate with a system which makes objects of men and which deepens the exploitation of the poor and the blacks in America by sending them first to fight a war against the Vietnamese poor."

"We therefore refuse all cooperation with the institution of killing, and in this Mass of Peace we signify our non-cooperation with evil by tearing up our draft cards, the woman completing this act of civil disobedience. By our actions here today, in forming the Notre Dame Resistance, and by our continuing to spread the truth of resistance and civil disobedience to a law of death, we hope that we can help return America to the path of Christian peace, love at the Epistle side of the altar.

They were smiling. Orange banners with the peace symbol and blue banners with the outline of a dove waved in the large crowd which filled in the mall. Mr. Husbridge, President of the university, stood somberly in the crowd to the left, behind the altar. Five musicians from Moreau Seminary played during the Mass from the back of an old gray truck. Their songs included "Turn, Turn, Turn," and "Let's Get Together."

Archbishop Roberts led the Little violence marks Moratorium

The largest crowd in Boston's history—between 75,000 and 100,000 persons by police estimate—gathered on the historic Common and heard Sen. George F. McGovern, D., S.D., say Nixon must listen to the people.

A hurried crowd estimated by U.S. park police at 50,000 huddled on the Washington Monument grounds in Washington and heard a plea by Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr. that the President "bring the boys home."

Several thousand protesters—marching 15 abreast and chanting "peace now"—marched in the candlelight parade in New York from Bryant Park to the United Nations and on to Rockefeller Center.

As estimated 30,000 persons demonstrated at New Haven, Conn., 15,000 persons gathered at Rutgers University in New Brunswick, N.J., 12,000 jammed Kennedy Square in Detroit, 12,000 rallied in Pittsburgh.
by Glen Corso

Upwards of 75,000 people participated in Viet Nam War Moratorium activities in the Big 10 schools yesterday. With the exception of Indiana University and Purdue, all the demonstrations included more than 3,000 people, those two had more than 1,000. In many cases the protest was the largest in the history of the school. All of the campuses had successful teach-ins and speeches.

At the University of Illinois, there was an official class break for one-half hour. During that time a rally was held at the union building with the speakers including William Clark, former Illinois attorney general, and singer Eartha Kitt.

Miss Kitt said, "If President Nixon doesn't hear today, I think we are going to have to do it over and over again until he does."

Clark also scored Nixon's statement that he would not be affected by the moratorium saying, "The time has come for us to criticize our government. I cannot believe that our President will not listen to the people here today and all over the nation." 5,000 people attended the rally which included folk singing. Later in the day a march was held from the campus into downtown Champagne through a business district and into the park for a rally. A crowd estimated between 9 and 10,000 people were strung out for blocks, carrying signs and banners. Most of the marchers wore armbands which said "44,798 dead."

Meg Gunkel, a staff reporter for the Daily Illini, said of the march, "I was fantastic, the greatest thing we ever had."
The key speakers at the rally were Linda Quitt, one of the "Chicago 8" who burned draft records last May and who is now on trial facing possibly 24 years in jail, and Mike Presser a former records last May and who is now in jail, and Mike Presser a former representative in Indiana. He said, "I feel that I have a mandate to talk to you from those that have died, it's wrong to say that these people will have died in vain, they have already died in vain."

After the rally a student was arrested by the police for disorderly conduct. Approximately 2,500 people marched down to the Federal Building to secure his release. Several representatives talked to the police and they agreed to let him go. Lee Werner, one of the "Chicago 8" spoke last night. He denounced the war and urged the audience to work against it.

Jerry Rubin, one of the "Chicago 8" speaking to an audience of 1,000 people at Indiana University in Bloomington, said "We are on trial because we are young. It's an old man's war and they are sending us out to fight it. The best we can do to end the war is to close the schools. They can't operate smoothly as long as America has a Vietnamese concentration camp."

Almost 10,000 University of Minnesota students marched to the Federal building in downtown Minneapolis led by several Vietnam veterans carrying a casket. As the marchers converged on the Federal building, the police, led by Mayor Charles Stieveig, stopped the war, saying "If they don't get out of here I want them arrested."
The University of Wisconsin had 15,000 of its students participating in over 70 Vietnam War

We seem to be the only banker town that thinks $7,000 of your money is worth investing.

That's why all you need is good to open the Equity Management Account. Read all the advantages you can find in the current issue of The Observer, Box 11, Notre Dame Ind. 46556. If you'd like to know more about the opportunities at Marine Midland, please add your name to our schedule in our placement office. We'd like to see you on November 10, 1969.

It wasn't too long ago that Bill Leith's future was still a big question mark.

Today he's a man with the answers.

Bill Leith started as one of our management trainees shortly after graduating from Loyola. Two years later he was an administrative assistant, helping to create our Equity Management service. Just last June he became our youngest Assistant Investment Officer. His job is a big one.

Our customers are likely to ask many searching questions before entrusting their money to us. Bill has the answers.

Responsibility? A small fortune's worth. But then we have lots of responsibility to hand out. If you'd like to know more about the opportunities at Marine Midland, please add your name to our schedule in the placement office. We'd like to see you on NOVEMBER 10, 1969.
The Moratorium

Words cannot describe what happened here yesterday at Notre Dame. If you were there you felt it. If not, it wouldn't do you any good to read about it here - for it was feeling, pure feeling.

The whole day made one wonder about not only Vietnam, but about the whole concept of war, non-violence, fraternity and love.

Much of the feeling of yesterday paralleled some of the old phrases that used to appear in the Baltimore Catechism. Nearly everyone talked about peaceful means to end war and what many Americans thought would happen yesterday.

Putting feeling aside, we must caution against the idea of simplistic answers to all of the world's problems. Problems are solved by the dedicated commitment of many minds to a solution and by the persistent efforts of many to see them resolved.

We feel that a University should be a place where men dedicate their minds and their lives to finding answers to not only the world's problems, but to what life will mean for them. It must be a place where legitimate protest and expression of conscience must be not only every man's right - but every man's duty.

Leaders in this community of scholars must encourage men, when they have reached the point where they can make an honest decision, to stand on their conscience and those principles.

We feel that is what happened yesterday. We know that many members of the University community may disagree with many of the sentiments that were expressed. We call now upon those members of the community to come forth and engage in honest dialogue - not only about the war, but about the many other moral issues raised.

The strength of this University will lie in the magnitude of that discussion. Quite possibly our dialogue will be fruitful and will bring us closer to finding answers to man's problems. If not, we hope that discussion will lead us to a better understanding of ourselves and of each other.

The majority of mankind's sufferings have their root in misunderstanding. A great University should be a place that breeds understanding and not suffering.

Hershey's dismissal

We applaud President Nixon's decision to remove General Hershey from his post as director of the Selective Service.

Hershey's post is not a popular one since any directive that comes out of his office is bound to draw criticism from the segment of Americans that it directly affects. But it was Hershey's attitude toward those who attacked the Selective Service System or sought to change it that made him all the more unpopular.

His advice to draft boards in 1967 suggesting that persons who "illegally" obstructed the Selective Service System or harmed the national interest should be reclassified for induction served to point out his lack of understanding about the feelings of many American youths. Up until May, he stood vehemently opposed to any reform of the draft system which had to do with the idea of a lottery or the concept of an all-volunteer army.

All this is not to demean the character of an individual who has served the country earnestly and well. Since his appointment to the post in 1941 Hershey has seen the call up of over 14.5 million Americans with or without their lives to finding answers to not only the world's problems, but to what many Americans thought would happen yesterday.

He is a product of the Selective Service System. One must go through the Selective Service System to understand it. And one must understand it to criticize it. Hershey understood it well enough to know its faults and to know what was being asked of men who were asked to fight wars.

The system itself was bent toward inequity however, and Hershey's efforts to work within the system and to improve it were regrettable.

But it was Hershey's attitude toward those who attacked it and his post as director of the Selective Service that made him all the more unpopular.

Leaders in this community of scholars must encourage men, when they have reached the point where they can make an honest decision, to stand on their conscience and those principles.

The system itself was bent toward inequity however, and Hershey's efforts to work within the system and to improve it were regrettable.

But it was Hershey's attitude toward those who attacked it and his post as director of the Selective Service that made him all the more unpopular.
Two ND students:
"Regardless of what happens afterwards, we should get out of Viet Nam now. The whole thing was a mistake; no person or particular policy can be blamed. It was caused by an attitude which has been being built up in American people for hundreds of years that this country can do no wrong."

"I believe that the moratorium protesters are more idealistic than selfish or irresponsible. There is really no room for an idealist in the world today. Politicians will use the prevailing temperament to their own advantage, of course. The student movement is growing up, and pretty soon they will begin to court our vote. The movement will be channelled into a political victory and then it will be interesting to see what happens."

Moratoriuming it at Notre Dame

Observer photos by Laura Haferd

SMC student from Venezuela:
The moratorium as a pressure movement is useless, absolutely nothing.

SMC freshman:
"I have never seen anything like this here. It is beautiful to see people turning out to express their opinions. More people are thinking today. Even the Saint Mary's girls seem awakened, maybe because the issue was thrown right into their faces. Today is a testimony to the awareness which we probably all have, but which we never see in others, or very seldom."

"First of all, I believe that war is immoral."

"The effect of demonstration so far has been to frighten the administration, Nixon's statement to the contrary. How can he ignore hundreds of thousands of people reacting to a devastating and degrading war? As a group, we are reinforcing our commitment inwardly, which may be just as important now as expressing it to the policy makers."

"We should immediately get out of Viet Nam. This is not in the realm of politics. It is simply a personal moral issue. The face is, we played a part in causing the war and we are continuing to support totalitarian governments."

Prof. Syburg, University faculty member:
"It is good to participate in this moratorium as witnesses to our feelings on the war. We need positive immediate action. However, I have reservations about the escalation of this form of protest by holding a longer one next month. This would be more an attack on the University than on the policy makers. Studying and dramatising the issue is important, but the university must be kept open and free. See me again in November."

Steven Wasinger, former faculty member at SMC who was released last year after one year of teaching, presently teaching out west.
"America may be indicted by history for its role in Viet Nam, but the important thing is the indictment which will come from the world today."

"As for that rumor that I fled the country to avoid the draft, did I really fail to teach you girls to avoid jumping to conclusions?"

"I can't talk now. (I'm too busy demonstrating.)" John Kissel

"Experience teaches that silence terrifies the most."

— Bob Dylan

Beth Malmshelmer

Mike Murphy

Jim Hunt

Phil Bocca
Speakers address student rally on main quad by Bro. Patrick Carney and Jim Graif

Peace reigned on the main quad this afternoon. Not only was it the topic of the speakers at the rally, but also prevailed among the people in the crowd estimated by WNDU at 2000 and in the settling of disputes.

The first confrontation occurred at 1:20 when a group of first year law students raised the flag which had been lowered by organizers of the rally. These men, who asked that they not be identified other than as Navy veterans, felt that only established authority had the right to lower the flag to half mast.

Moratorium supporters maintained that it was an act of respect for the war dead. The law students agreed that they were sympathetic to mourning the dead among whom they saw other than as Navy veterans, who asked that they not be questioned the act of taking the veterans, felt that only establish­

Community.

The first confrontation occurred at 1:20 when a group of first year law students raised the flag which had been lowered by Bro. Patrick Carney and in the settling of disputes.

red at 1:20 when a group of first year law students raised the flag which had been lowered by Bro. Patrick Carney and in the settling of disputes.

The main scene of action switched to the stage as folk singers entertained the assembly with anti-war songs while mar­shals took up a collection. Funds were earmarked for pay­ing for expenses of the "peace in Paris" like although it was later announced that the PA was donated by Captain Electric. Any excess money will be used to prepare for the November Moratorium which will be more involved with the Student Body Community.

Just before the speakers began their addresses, Student Body President Phil McKeenan introduced the High School Students who had marched to the campus. They were standing ovation.

Brother David Dart, F.C.S. of the Cotonville 9 who himself had taken off from De La Salle High School in Kansas City where he is teaching began the talk.

"Custom Leather Goods Made to Your Order"

sandals suede skirts
vests belts watchbands antiques
jewelry

"Just About" everything in this picture is for sale at:

Leather Ltd.

18 South Main Street
Candlelight march expands vigil
by Bill Carter

The “march for peace” foltowed the speeches. Students were much in evidence, most of assorted clerics; heavy coats were about 100 people scattered spread irregularly around the procession was moderate for the processes of the march. The girls in were spotted with collars and habits were flattened by the few voices of some special importance to where the walk remained silent for in Viet Nam. Mr. Connelly said of some special importance to immediate set the tone for the whole evening’s entertainments. It immedi-the dorms they sung the songs of the tone for the whole evening’s

ThURSDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1969
THE OBSERVER
by Bill Carter

Candlelight march expands vigil

Candlelight March expands vigil
by Bill Carter

The vigil began slowly and to St. Mary’s Professor Peter to continue the procession on

THE OBSERVER
by Bill Carter

Candlelight March expands vigil

Candlelight March expands vigil
by Bill Carter

The vigil began slowly and subsequently several who had been

of some special importance to immediate set the tone for the whole
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set
the tone for the whole evening’s
entertainments. It immediately set the tone for the whole even Rallies, memorials, harassments comprise Indiana moratorium

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1969

(UPI) - Thousands of Indiana college and university students, joined by a few small groups of high school youths and pacifistic adults, demonstrated peacefully yesterday in the nation wide Vietnam War moratorium.

At Gary, a march to the city hall by about 225 black and white high school students and 25 clergymen of various faiths was interrupted by tin cans of urine tossed from a motel under construction.

At Indianapolis' famous Monument Circle during the noon hour, a group of black and white youths traded shouts with a man who said he was a veteran of World War II and Korea. "Are you scared to fight for your country?" the man asked.

The youths shouted back, including one who suggested the veteran go fight in Vietnam if he favored U.S. participation. Candlelight Marches

Many of the observances began Tuesday midnight with all-night vigils including candlelight marches, reading of lists of American war dead, meditation, and speeches.

Anderson College students held a convocation as a memorial to war dead and planted a "tree of life" on campus surrounded by a field of crosses.

At Ball State in Muncie, small groups were observed listening to the reading of war dead names during the morning hours.

Rally at South Bend

About 500 persons in front of the St. Joseph County Court-house in downtown South Bend attended a noon hour moratorium service which included singing, praying, and reading of a list of Hoosier dead in the war. A few businessmen were seen in the group. Non-participants stood across the street watching.

About 100 youths without signs marched around the Statehouse at Indianapolis briefly, shouting "Peace, peace."

Few businesses around the state were reported closed by sympathetic owners.

An exception was a public golf course at Bristol owned by John Raber, who said "I feel strongly that this undeclared war has gotten too far out of hand."

---

Take Gene before he goes from fraternity to paternity.

It's as easy as saying Sigma Alpha Mu. All you do is drop a film cartridge into a Kodak Instamatic camera and you have Gene before he's being had by his kids. In beautiful color snapshots or color slides. Indoors, pop on a flashcube. That's all there is to it.

Kodak Instamatic color cameras. From less than $10.
WASHINGTON (UPI) Scores of congressmen and thou-ousands of government employees took part yesterday in rallies, marches, vigils and other orderly protests designed to build pressure on President Nixon to stop the war in Vietnam.

As the nation's capital, Washingen was a focal point for the countryside "moratorium on business as usual" organized by antwar groups.

On the floors of the House and Senate, on the Capitol steps, outside government buildings, on college campuses in churches and in public parks, there were speeches appealing for calm and complete U.S. disengagement from the war that has cost nearly 40,000 Americans lives.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, (D.
Mass.), said the moratorium was intended to convey a respectful plea to Nixon.

Kennedy said the message to the President asked that he cut loose from "the errors of past policy" and develop a policy of his own--"not one based on conditions beyond our control, not one whose success is subject to veto by Hanoi or Saigon.

In a prepared Senate speech, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield called the moratorium a formal protest against U.S. involvement in Southeast Asia. It had the prestigious support of the President and Congress.

"It is time to make clear that this country is, indeed, united. It is united behind the President--not in order to prolong the war for face or fancy or at the behest of others, but to end the war without prolonged delay." The orderliness of the demonstration was in contrast to a bloody encounter which took place almost exactly two years ago on Oct. 21, 1967 when
NEW YORK (UPI) A day
long reading of the names of Vietnam War dead yesterday began the participation of the Wall Street business and financial community in the Vietnam mor-orium.

At 8:30 a.m., lawyer William vanden Heuvel read the first name, that of Elmer Lee Abbe Jr., from a lectern in the front of Trinity Church at Wall Street
and Broadway.

Before beginning the reading of the names at the rate of about 20 to 30 a minute, Vanden Heuvel said that the reading was part of a "day of comme-More filling

This not-too-small car is big enough for you and your friends. And your luggage.

Yet, this same not-too-large car is small enough for a budget. Even a frugal one.

You have three standard engine choices. Four,
Six, Or V8. Depend on how thrifty you want to be.

Nova comes one of two ways: Coupe or Sedan.
From there, your Chevrolet dealer can help you put together any kind of Nova you want.

But plan on more friends.
And fewer fuel stops.
arning you first, keeps us first.

'70 Nova

Less filling

Unfilling

Jim Hunt

10,000 turn out for Illinois rally

continued from p. 3
moratorium program yesterday.
Some of the programs included the showing of anti-war movies, street counseling, and the signing of 800 to 900 letters to Congressmen demanding an end to the draft. The campus SDS pretended a vigil in observance of the moratorium day rallies across the country.

Seven of the eight defendants,
appearing at a news conference,
left open the question of whether they would appear in court as usual Wednesday or defy U.S. District Court Judge Julius J. Hoffman.

Defense attorney Leonard I.
Weinglass later told the judge some of the defendants might find it "impossible" to be in court Wednesday and asked him
for a clarification of the rules governing their appearance.

"I will require the attendance of each and every defendant, each and every day of the trial," Hoffman said.

Scores of congressmen and thou-ousands of government employees took part yesterday in rallies, marches, vigils and other orderly demonstrations designed to build pressure on President Nixon to stop the war in Vietnam.

As the nation's capital, Wash-
ingen was a focal point for the countryside "moratorium on business as usual" organized by antwar groups.

On the floors of the House and Senate, on the Capitol steps, outside government buildings, on college campuses in churches and in public parks, there were speeches appealing for calm and complete U.S. disengagement from the war that has cost nearly 40,000 Americans lives.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, (D.
Mass.), said the moratorium was intended to convey a respectful
plea to Nixon.

Kennedy said the message to the President asked that he cut loose from "the errors of past
policy" and develop a policy of
his own--"not one based on conditions beyond our control, not
one whose success is subject to
veto by Hanoi or Saigon.

In a prepared Senate speech, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield called the moratorium a dramatic demonstration of public impatience with a war that drags on with no end in sight.

Indirectly replying to Nixon’s plan for national unity behind administration policy, Mansfield said:

"It is time to make clear that
this country is, indeed, united. It is united behind the President—not in order to prolong the
war for face or fancy or at the behest of others, but to end the war without prolonged delay."

Immediately following Van-den Heuvel as volunteer readers were New York Yankees President Michael Burke and Clarence Jones and John Westergaard, Wall Street investment bankers.
By 6 p.m. about 75 others, including some of Wall Street’s most prominent names, had taken their turn before the microphones and a battery of television cameras in the historic church at the head of Wall Street, only 100 yards from the New York Stock Exchange.

CHICAGO (UPI) A federal judge yesterday refused to recusseveral congressmen designed to storm the doors of the Pentagon, nerve center of the U.S. defense establishment.

and Senate, on the Capitol steps, outside government buildings, on college campuses in churches and in public parks, there were speeches appealing for calm and complete U.S. disengagement from the war that has cost nearly 40,000 Americans lives.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, (D.
Mass.), said the moratorium was intended to convey a respectful
plea to Nixon.

Kennedy said the message to the President asked that he cut loose from "the errors of past
policy" and develop a policy of
his own--"not one based on conditions beyond our control, not
one whose success is subject to
veto by Hanoi or Saigon.

In a prepared Senate speech, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield called the moratorium a formal protest against U.S. involvement in Southeast Asia. It had the prestigious support of the President and Congress.

"It is time to make clear that
this country is, indeed, united. It is united behind the President--not in order to prolong the
war for face or fancy or at the behest of others, but to end the
war without prolonged delay." The orderliness of the demonstration was in contrast to a bloody encounter which took place almost exactly two years ago on Oct. 21, 1967 when
NEW YORK (UPI) A day
long reading of the names of Vietnam War dead yesterday began the participation of the Wall Street business and financial community in the Vietnam mor-orium.

At 8:30 a.m., lawyer William vanden Heuvel read the first
name, that of Elmer Lee Abbe Jr., from a lectern in the front of
Trinity Church at Wall Street
and Broadway.

Before beginning the reading of the names at the rate of about 20 to 30 a minute, Vanden Heuvel said that the reading
was part of a "day of comme-
More filling

This not-too-small car is big enough for you and your friends. And your luggage.

Yet, this same not-too-large car is small enough for a budget. Even a frugal one.

You have three standard engine choices. Four,
Six, Or V8. Depend on how thrifty you want to be.

Nova comes one of two ways: Coupe or Sedan.
From there, your Chevrolet dealer can help you put together any kind of Nova you want.

But plan on more friends.
And fewer fuel stops.
arning you first, keeps us first.

'70 Nova

Less filling

Unfilling

Jim Hunt

10,000 turn out for Illinois rally

continued from p. 3
moratorium program yesterday.
Some of the programs included
the showing of anti-war movies,
street counseling, and the signing of 800 to 900 letters to Congressmen demanding an end to the draft. The campus SDS pretended a vigil in observance of the moratorium day rallies across the country.

Seven of the eight defendants,
appearing at a news conference,
left open the question of
whether they would appear in court as usual Wednesday or
defy U.S. District Court Judge
Julius J. Hoffman.

Defense attorney Leonard I.
Weinglass later told the judge
some of the defendants might
find it "impossible" to be in
court Wednesday and asked him
for a clarification of the rules
governing their appearance.

"I will require the attendance
of each and every defendant,
each and every day of the trial," Hoffman said.

Scores of congressmen and thou-ousands of government employees took part yesterday in rallies, marches, vigils and other orderly demonstrations designed to build pressure on President Nixon to stop the war in Vietnam.

As the nation's capital, Wash-
gen Gatewood: pressure and a hot pace

by Terry Sullivan
Quotture writer

In 1964 Jack Snow caught 60 passes for 1149 yards and 9 touchdowns. In a career spanning the years 1964-68 Jim Snow had 138 pass receptions, gained 2313 yards and recorded six-pointers. After four games Tom Gatewood has grabbed 24 six-pointers. After four games Tom Gatewood has grabbed 24 six-pointers.

The former two men are Notre Dame single season and career record holders. Now for all of you "arts and letters" types who are very proficient at math, this means that if Mr. Gatewood continues to haul in the tosses of Joe Theismann at this same rate (6.0 per game), he will overtake both of the leaders.

So what do all of these record setting possibilities mean to the bright new star of the Fighting Irish? "I don't like it when they're just catching on the run and you're not even in the plays. They're just taking my stuff. To be honest with you, I just catch as many as the coach calls for. I don't think I'll be stopping 'em. If you've got a guy that's going to go up and catch 'em you'll get benched and people are going to know about you in no time."

Gatewood keeps pulling in the bombs, the pressure concerns records won't bother him. "They can worry about that. "

The other places he seriously considered were Penn State and Rich, but he decided on ND. "I picked this school mainly for its academic reasons, but also because the alumni could be very influential in my future. Of course this is also the toughest football in the country."

Gatewood doesn't really attribute the three in particular for his current success. He prefers to run his pass in from his split position rather than as he did in high school (Baltimore City College High). He does not have a preference, however, concerning how in which position he runs. "It depends on the situation," he puts it. He has decent size and speed. "I'm smart, too." As for his current results he is quite often referred to as "First wood" by some of the student body.

Gatewood bobbled at third and fourth hitter against the right handed reliever Dick Hall. But Manager Gil Hodges let both batters up at first base and Hall walked both. Seaver was the next hitter and Hodges only wanted a hit to move the runners along. But Hodges had decided that Seaver was losing his stuff and was coming out of the game regardless of whether he hit- and he sent Martin, a left-handed specialist catcher to the plate.

Coach George Barringer then went out and talked to Hall a half inning before calling in a left-handed pitcher, Richy. But Richy was not a specialist, he was working on four pitches. Martin was not a specialist either, but he was coming out of the game. But there were no hits on the specialist. Hall batted in the last of the 10th.

So what do all of these record setting possibilities mean to the bright new star of the Fighting Irish? "I don't like it when they're just catching on the run and you're not even in the plays. They're just taking my stuff. To be honest with you, I just catch as many as the coach calls for. I don't think I'll be stopping 'em. If you've got a guy that's going to go up and catch 'em you'll get benched and people are going to know about you in no time."

Gatewood keeps pulling in the bombs, the pressure concerns records won't bother him. "They can worry about that. "

The other places he seriously considered were Penn State and Rich, but he decided on ND. "I picked this school mainly for its academic reasons, but also because the alumni could be very influential in my future. Of course this is also the toughest football in the country."

Gatewood doesn't really attribute the three in particular for his current success. He prefers to run his pass in from his split position rather than as he did in high school (Baltimore City College High). He does not have a preference, however, concerning how in which position he runs. "It depends on the situation," he puts it. He has decent size and speed. "I'm smart, too." As for his current results he is quite often referred to as "First wood" by some of the student body.

Gatewood bobbled at third and fourth hitter against the right handed reliever Dick Hall. But Manager Gil Hodges let both batters up at first base and Hall walked both. Seaver was the next hitter and Hodges only wanted a hit to move the runners along. But Hodges had decided that Seaver was losing his stuff and was coming out of the game regardless of whether he hit- and he sent Martin, a left-handed specialist catcher to the plate.

Coach George Barringer then went out and talked to Hall a half inning before calling in a left-handed pitcher, Richy. But Richy was not a specialist, he was working on four pitches. Martin was not a specialist either, but he was coming out of the game. But there were no hits on the specialist. Hall batted in the last of the 10th.

NEW YORK (UPI) - A wild throw by relief pitcher Pete Richert ended the Brooklyn Dodgers' World Series at home Thursday when Frank Robinson easily scored a run in the Mets' 2-1 victory Wednesday evening.

Both teams then had excellent chances as pinch hitter Art Shamsky grounded out with two on and two out in the last of the ninth and Don Buford flied out and Paul Blair struck out with two on in the top of the 10th. At the 10th of the 10th, Groate led off with a fly to short left field, then lined out to Swoboda to end theinning.

Since this is also the toughest football in the country."

Gatewood doesn't really attribute the three in particular for his current success. He prefers to run his pass in from his split position rather than as he did in high school (Baltimore City College High). He does not have a preference, however, concerning how in which position he runs. "It depends on the situation," he puts it. He has decent size and speed. "I'm smart, too." As for his current results he is quite often referred to as "First wood" by some of the student body.

Gatewood bobbled at third and fourth hitter against the right handed reliever Dick Hall. But Manager Gil Hodges let both batters up at first base and Hall walked both. Seaver was the next hitter and Hodges only wanted a hit to move the runners along. But Hodges had decided that Seaver was losing his stuff and was coming out of the game regardless of whether he hit- and he sent Martin, a left-handed specialist catcher to the plate.

Coach George Barringer then went out and talked to Hall a half inning before calling in a left-handed pitcher, Richy. But Richy was not a specialist, he was working on four pitches. Martin was not a specialist either, but he was coming out of the game. But there were no hits on the specialist. Hall batted in the last of the 10th.

NEW YORK (UPI) - A wild throw by relief pitcher Pete Richert ended the Brooklyn Dodgers' World Series at home Thursday when Frank Robinson easily scored a run in the Mets' 2-1 victory Wednesday evening.

Both teams then had excellent chances as pinch hitter Art Shamsky grounded out with two on and two out in the last of the ninth and Don Buford flied out and Paul Blair struck out with two on in the top of the 10th. At the 10th of the 10th, Groate led off with a fly to short left field, then lined out to Swoboda to end theinning.

Since this is also the toughest football in the country."

Gatewood doesn't really attribute the three in particular for his current success. He prefers to run his pass in from his split position rather than as he did in high school (Baltimore City College High). He does not have a preference, however, concerning how in which position he runs. "It depends on the situation," he puts it. He has decent size and speed. "I'm smart, too." As for his current results he is quite often referred to as "First wood" by some of the student body.

Gatewood bobbled at third and fourth hitter against the right handed reliever Dick Hall. But Manager Gil Hodges let both batters up at first base and Hall walked both. Seaver was the next hitter and Hodges only wanted a hit to move the runners along. But Hodges had decided that Seaver was losing his stuff and was coming out of the game regardless of whether he hit- and he sent Martin, a left-handed specialist catcher to the plate.

Coach George Barringer then went out and talked to Hall a half inning before calling in a left-handed pitcher, Richy. But Richy was not a specialist, he was working on four pitches. Martin was not a specialist either, but he was coming out of the game. But there were no hits on the specialist. Hall batted in the last of the 10th.

NEW YORK (UPI) - A wild throw by relief pitcher Pete Richert ended the Brooklyn Dodgers' World Series at home Thursday when Frank Robinson easily scored a run in the Mets' 2-1 victory Wednesday evening.

Both teams then had excellent chances as pinch hitter Art Shamsky grounded out with two on and two out in the last of the ninth and Don Buford flied out and Paul Blair struck out with two on in the top of the 10th. At the 10th of the 10th, Groate led off with a fly to short left field, then lined out to Swoboda to end theinning.

Since this is also the toughest football in the country."

Gatewood doesn't really attribute the three in particular for his current success. He prefers to run his pass in from his split position rather than as he did in high school (Baltimore City College High). He does not have a preference, however, concerning how in which position he runs. "It depends on the situation," he puts it. He has decent size and speed. "I'm smart, too." As for his current results he is quite often referred to as "First wood" by some of the student body.

Gatewood bobbled at third and fourth hitter against the right handed reliever Dick Hall. But Manager Gil Hodges let both batters up at first base and Hall walked both. Seaver was the next hitter and Hodges only wanted a hit to move the runners along. But Hodges had decided that Seaver was losing his stuff and was coming out of the game regardless of whether he hit- and he sent Martin, a left-handed specialist catcher to the plate.