Halls to plan Anti-Racism programs

by Jim Graff
Jim Rocap, speaking for the Students Against Racism, Thursday night asked the Hall President's Council for assistance in setting up weekend anti-racism programs in each hall. He said that the program would center around discussions among students concerning their feelings on racial issues. The proposed idea would call for an encounter session on Thursday night in which blacks and whites would air their complaints and feelings. This encounter, Rocap thought, could become very emotional. On Friday and Saturday of the weekend programs there would be several 20 to 30 minute rap sessions among small groups of people on various topics. He hoped that on Sundays a few students would then take the ideas of the program back to the section members.

In reply to a question, Rocap said that each hall would handle its own situation and set up its own individual program. The main purpose of the program is to change the attitudes of students about racism, Rocap emphasized.

He felt that a lot of people who are not vocally anti-black are wondering about black separatist and black culture. He thought that these people would particularly benefit from the program.

HPC chairman Tom Suddes explained the procedure concerning the selection of Fellows. Each hall is to submit a list of faculty members that the hall would like to have as Fellows. Then Fellows would be appointed to various halls according to the lists. He pointed out that the purpose of the program is to increase contact between students and faculty members, and to increase the awareness of programs, both to the section members.

Social Commissioner Dave Vecchi asked the Council members to express their feelings toward the running of Grand Prix. The program confronting most of the halls was that of finances. Several halls had not paid for their carts and must have no way of raising money to pay for Vecchi explained that the halls had signed contracts for the carts and must pay the Social Commission $1100 for their cart. After that the halls would be free to keep or sell the cart. He hoped that the halls would not sell the carts since the Social Commission wishes to expand the event this year. He pointed out that a chairman for the event had not yet been appointed and that once the chairperson is selected the event will be more polite and concrete planning steps will be taken.

The Social Commission mentioned that usually only a small group within the hall benefits from the event. Vecchi said that the committee would try to open the event up wider and mentioned that some halls had engaged sponsors to pay for part of the cost.

Each Hall President was asked to write a report on his hall's feelings toward hall authority. These reports will be presented to the SLC.

Kennedy Institute develops Student Government
by Bill Carter
In its first official function at Notre Dame, the Kennedy Institute will hold a "social action night" at LaFortune Student Center. The purpose of the meeting as outlined by Institute Chairman John Mroz is to get all the social action groups interested in the Student Government and St. Mary's, and South Bend together for one night so that anyone interested in getting involved with the social action movements in the area can examine all the programs at once.

John Mroz and decide which he would like to join.

"But we really hope it is that the guys who are not involved in one of these activities already will come down and talk to people and see what is going on. We've had hundreds of calls from people who wanted to find out about the Institute's program for this year but who didn't know how to get involved. We're not getting any information," Mroz said he thought there would be about 15 or 20 organizations represented at the meeting. The Kennedy Institute and the

Husburgh tells problems and plans
by Jim Holsinger
The Rev. Theodore M. Husburgh, C.S.C., president of the University of Notre Dame, spoke of the problems facing the University and the programs and policies for its future at the 18th annual faculty meeting held yesterday in Washington Hall.

Husburgh's address to the faculty, which lasted eighty-five to ninety minutes, began by analyzing the university's present financial situation.

"I know of no other period when the university is expected to do so much, and is given less in resources to do it," Husburgh said. Raising operating costs and a twenty year period of expansive growth were blamed for the present financial problems.

Husburgh revealed that Notre Dame has grown from 9132 to 12624 each year. World War II. The University has remained that fast over this period only because of an increased income from tuition, endowments, and the generosity of the contributing alumni. Now, with the tuition charge raising only 5% per year, the university is faced with a budget deficit of $800,000 this year. Husburgh told of the difficulties of balancing the budget, and called for understanding and cooperation in deciding priorities.

He emphasized that education was the university's top priority, and said that the university must look carefully for its rapidly evolving society, Husburgh reiterated his ideas concerning the selection of Hall Fellows. Each hall is to submit a list of the purposes o f their organizations and what their programs for the coming year will be.

"The levels of competence, he explained were the faculty, the administration, the alumni, the Board of Trustees and the students. The levels each have a particular purpose in the community, but Husburgh said that the students were the reason behind the university.

Thieves have good weekend

by Tom Bornholdt

A stolen car battery and malicious destruction of light bulbs were among several interesting crimes committed last weekend; it was reported yesterday by Director of Security Arthur Pears.

During the weekend, Ken Decoursey reported his car stolen. It was found parked in the woods near the southeastern corner of the C3 lot. The cable had been cut and the battery was missing. Nothing else was stolen.

On Sunday, student John Reale discovered his car broken into by his sister Patricia who had been broken into. The only things he could find missing were the rear light bulbs in the vicinity of Bufin and Howard with a siren shot. This annoyed a group of students who caught and restrained until campus security arrived.

Pears felt that the increase of crime that had occurred at the beginning of the year, appears to be tapering off.

Lack of quorum postpones budget

Farther of the Finance Committee to meet yesterday afternoon may prevent the Student Government from introducing their version of the 1969-70 budget to the Senate tonight.

The Senate, however, will probably get to the budget at their meeting tomorrow.

According to student body Treasurer John Coughlin, the Finance Committee is lacking a quorum today when Fr. Charles Coughlin was unable to attend due to prior commitments.

Coughlin says he has "little doubt" that the budget, which is slightly in excess of fifty-nine thousand dollars, will be accepted in the final Finance Committee report.

="No organization got as much as it asked for," said Coughlin, explaining the budget, "and some of the organizations had their budget cut entirely."

Coughlin declined to name the names of the organizations whose budgets were cut, stating that he would not wait until he could notify all the organizations and explain the decisions of the committee.

Defense Dept. shuts down bases

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Defense Department will close or reduce operations at 307 bases in the United States and overseas, it was announced yesterday. The economy measure will eliminate 64,800 jobs and save $609 million a year.

Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird said in announcing the action that the U.S. and Puerto Rican bases involved would be announced tomorrow but that "decisions involving overseas installations will not be announced until necessary consultations with host countries have been completed."

Jerry W. Friedham, a Pentagon spokesman, said the cutback was part of Laird's $3 billion economy program announced Aug. 21. He said the personnel reductions announced yesterday did not add to the 220,000 man reduction military strength and the 68,000 man cut in civilian employment already scheduled by the Defense Department to be achieved by July 1.

Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott said President Nixon will cut one million men from the nation's armed services before 1972. He also predicted in a broadcast interview Sunday that Nixon would "bring back about 300,000 of our troops in Vietnam over a period," but he did not say how long a period he had in mind.

Scott said he favored the closing of "unnecessary bases" including a few in Spain and Morocco, although he said he would be "flatly against reducing our commitments to West Berlin."

Cornell on D.C. march

Mr. Thomas Cornell, present chairman of the Catholic Peace Fellowship, will speak Wednesday on "Non-violence and Mass Movements." The speech is sponsored by the Program for the Study and Practice of Non-violent Resolution of Human Conflict and will be at 8 p.m. in the Engineering Auditorium. The speech will consider the tactics and purposes of the proposed march on Washington on the 14th of November.

Mr. Cornell has written and lectured extensively on non-violence. He is a former editor of The Catholic Worker, has worked with Catholic Worker houses of hospitality, and is now the editor of The Penny A Copy.

It wasn't too long ago that Bill Leith's future was still a big question mark.

Today he's a man with the answers.

Bill Leith started as one of our management trainees shortly after graduating from Lake Forest. Two years later he was an administrative assistant, handling new business for our Equity Management service. Just last June he became our youngest Assistant Investment Officer. His job is a big one. Our customers are likely to ask many searching questions before entrusting their money to us. Bill has the answers. Responsibility? A small fortune's worth. But then we have lots of responsibility to hand out. If you'd like to know more about the opportunities at Marine Midland, please add your name to our schedule in the placement office. We'd like to see you on November 19, 1969.
Off - Campus first - game winner

Panhellenic 28 - Morrissey 0

Panhellenic dominated this game with a wide-open passing attack. John Tate threw 35 yards for a touchdown on the first TD. Joe DiBartolomeo carried the ball for the second TD and a 14-0 halftime lead. Corky Castegnaro whipped a 16-yard halfback pass to Tom Lefler for Panhellenic's third score. Tom Chomin followed with a pass to Richard Cusson for the point after. The final score came on a 1-yard pass from Tate to Castegnaro. Play was fast and a fine game as he threw for one touchdown. A few passes later Grieving plunged over for the score. Once again Gargiulo's kick was perfect as Keenan looked good with a 14-yarder.

Off Campus 18 - Alumni 6

Powerful Off Campus scored first on a 9-yard run by Dan Valentine. The TD was set up when Alumni fumbled on its own 25 and Off Campus recovered. The second TD of the half came when Bill Rashbrook skirted right end out of sight and kicked Off Campus a 12-yard halftime lead. In the second half Alumni fought back behind some great blocking by QB Jack Wurff. Wretitch fired 28 yards to end Bob Singleton who carried the ball to the Off Campus 3. From there Bill Niesler slanted over for the score. With the momentum having suddenly shifted to Alumni, Off Campus exhibited real poise as they marched down field and scored on a 6-yard swing pass, Hasbrook to Valentine, to clinch the game.

Dillon 0 - Sorin 0

Sorin looked tough in the first half but Dillon hung on to prevent any scoring. In the second half both teams went to the airways, but once again there was no scoring.

Grace-St. Ed's 23 - Stanford 6

Early in the game Chris O'Leary forced his way over from the one to give Grace-St. Ed's a 6-0 lead. Jim Griffin passed to O'Leary for the two point conversion. Stanford narrowed the gap to 8-2 as Jim McGaughy snapped around left end on his way to a 40-yard TD run. The second half was all Griffin as Grace-St. Ed's broke the game open. Griffin roled left and carried the ball 66 yards for a TD. Griffin came right back and intercepted a Stanford pass to set up O'Leary's second TD from the one. Tom Cullen kicked the conversion. Griffin had yet another interception late in the game. A few of the Stanford players conducted themselves pithfully through the official's eame ended.

Ruggers dump South's best

Led by John Laino's points the Notre Dame Rugby Club registered a 17-12 victory over an experienced Tulane University squad on the Burke Memorial Course. The Notre Dame boys had been beaten by the New Orleans-based Tulane, the Irish ruggers third such meeting this fall. Earlier, Notre Dame was ranked at the South's number one club on the basis of several convincing wins over local teams but were unable to handle the hard-nosed Irishmen.

Laino booted three penalty kicks and a conversion through the uprights posting the highest

ND placekicker Scott Hempel finally missed an extra point after 30 straight, establishing a school record. Apparently unimpended by regulation of umpires, the Associated Press left the Irish in 12th place in their weekly poll grid.
