Zagoria speaks about foreign policy

by Tim Treanor

Five noted campus political figures presented divergent views on the proposed Selective Service Act/Resurrection amendment to the present draft law.

Political columnist Chris Wolfe, Tom Murphy, head of the Student Life Conference, and Bernie Ryan articulated a radically different opinion in an interview yesterday afternoon. Wolfe said a "yes" vote would "bankrupt" the amendment and completely eliminating the draft, while Murphy predicted the amendment would not be looked upon as an end in itself. If we look at the amendment as an end in itself, we are merely limiting the existence of the draft, but if we are doing so to avoid justice for the draft, the amendment must fail, because it means towards completely eliminating the draft. This is the primary issue. I don't believe an outright demand to eliminate the draft would succeed. This is a practical measure to eliminate the draft, because it will allow those not issued conscientious objector status and therefore would submit to the draft a wide range of alternatives.

If it is not looked upon as an end in itself, if we look at the amendment as an end in itself, we are merely limiting the existence of the draft, but if we are doing so to avoid justice for the draft, the amendment must fail, because it means towards completely eliminating the draft. This is the primary issue. I don't believe an outright demand to eliminate the draft would succeed. This is a practical measure to eliminate the draft, because it will allow those not issued conscientious objector status and therefore would submit to the draft a wide range of alternatives.

Ryan said that the amendment was a very political measure and its success would depend on the disposition of the three political circumstances - the progress of the war, the progress of the anti-war movement, and the decisions of the supreme court on a Circuit Court case. O'Brien expressed hope that other legislation would proceed the amendment ever gets to the floor. That would be the best thing for the country," he said. Afro-American President, Arthur McFarland, also expressed agreement with the proposed amendment.

"From what I read in The Observer about the amendment, I'm basically in agreement with the proposal as it is written. But I would like to see a bit more about it. I wouldn't want it too right-think the way it is worded," Murphy refused to predict how recent action by the House of Representatives would effect the draft. "I don't believe an outright demand to eliminate the draft would succeed. This is a practical measure to eliminate the draft, because it will allow those not issued conscientious objector status and therefore would submit to the draft a wide range of alternatives.

Tom Murphy, head of the Student Life Conference, emphasized that the proposal did not include the Marching Band or the Varsity Band.

The Notre Dame Vice President announced yesterday that all Notre Dame students would be permitted to attend the University Concert Band this year. The idea was submitted to the council by Tim Treanor, who is now a second-year student at the University. He said that the three members of the concert Band and any interested students. The discussions were going to cover a wide spectrum of topics.

In order to test the interest of the student body in this conference and the student government, the three members of the concert Band were asked to ask all students at the beginning of the year. The letter asked for students to mail any suggestions in any of them.

Donald Zagoria
A certain fear on the part of the Communist Chinese that bettering of U.S. and Russian relations from Russia only could come only at China's expense.

Eventually announcing Taiwan, renewing their threatening American power in Asia, and nuclear parity with the U.S.S.R., which he holds to be three of China's main goals, would make it very difficult to explain why they would have waited so long to take their present stand. Zagoria also pointed out that China has supported numerous governments which were the targets of "pure Marxism" when it suited their purpose.

As for the real cause, he cited China would need Russian access to the Trans-Siberian rail network and the non-proliferation treaty would certainly impede the flow of Soviet arms.

While the Soviet Union can accept the decimation of the cold war resulting in fewer confrontations, political gains such as reunification of East Germany, and the weakening of NATO's military strength, even the status quo unacceptable.

According to the professor, President Mao was determined to convince the American people and the Nationalist Government in Taiwan that he was a bumbling, anti-Soviet speaking of increasing production no matter what the ideological consequences.

Tom Borshold

Due to a "poor student response," the Student Life Conference is being reconsidered. This pessimistic verdict was offered by Student Body President Phil McKenna yesterday.

The Student Life Council assigned to McKenna, Fr. Shilts and Houck, last year organized a Student Life Conference. The plan was to have a weekend long series of discussions between all the members of the Student Life Council and any interested students. The emphasis in these meetings was to cover a wide spectrum of topics. In order to test the interest of the student body in this conference and the student government, the three members of the concert Band were asked to ask all students at the beginning of the year. The letter asked for students to mail any suggestions in any of them.
by Joe Laughrey

"Can't wait to go back," was all that Pat Laffin could say when he returned September 3rd from his AIESEC traineeship in Munich, Germany.

Upon returning from Ireland Greg Strohm remarked, "As far from his AIESEC traineeship in Munich, Germany, has the chance should take full could never hope to find in the offered a form of relaxation I Wellman said, "I experienced a ill that Pat Laflin could say throughout the world and the o f th e m ajor reasons why AIESEC is growing not only by Joe Laughrey

AIESEC offers travel and work opportunity

United States but even more so here at Notre Dame. AIESEC: NOTRE DAME is n o w i n the process of interviewing approximately 100 Notre Dame and St. Mary's students who have applied for membership in the group this year. Though traditionally the AIESEC committee is composed of a large number of business and economics majors, Notre Dame and St. Mary's students who are willing to work for AIESEC can qualify for membership. This year a record number of non-business and economics majors have applied for membership in the group. This year the committee of AIESEC is offered the opportunity to work in the foreign land of his choice during one of his summer vacations. This is made possible through the reciprocal exchange program that AIESEC administrators. The members of AIESEC become involved in such things as interviewing prospective Presidents. The corporation Presidents in order to provide as many jobs as possible for the foreign students, which AIESEC: NOTRE DAME program brings over to this country. They plan and organize a reception program for these foreign students which involves trips to Detroit, Indianapolis, Houston, Washington D.C., Milwaukee, and Chicago. They raise funds through projects and drive to operate the whole program on. They also become involved in such things as company servicing, faculty relations, public relations, research, and educational programs. This year the committee is particularly interested in finding people who are willing to work to help close the communication gap between student and business men.

In return for their work the AIESEC members get to meet business men of local, national, and international business; with students, professors, and administrators from all over the country, with our own alumni associates, and of course, the foreign students that are brought to this country. Each member is also offered the opportunity to attend any of the local, national, or international Conferences that are held from the coast to coast nearly five times a year.

After over 50 years at 116 West Colfax Avenue

MCDONALD STUDIO

is moving across the street to new, modern facilities at 201 NORTH MICHIGAN STREET

NW corner of Michigan and Colfax

Custom Leather Goods Made to Your Order

sandals

suede skirts

beaks

belts

watchbands

antiques

jewelry

"Just About" everything in this picture is for sale at: Leather Ltd.

118 South Main Street

South Bend

1426 Portage Ave. 288-9323
There will be a concert survey in the dining halls tonight to determine the reaction of students to a list of 25 rock groups. The Student Union Social Commissioner, explaining the purpose of the survey, and compared it to the one held in the spring of last year.

"At the time we ran last year's survey several of the concert groups were still only tentatively determined. It did serve to substantiate several of the concert decisions that were made. They were seventh on a list of eleven that we were trying to get in the spring. The group asked is, "If ( ) came to Notre Dame for a concert would you (1) Definitely attend (2) Probably attend (3) Probably not attend (4) Definitely not attend."

Corkery described the mechanics of the survey. Computer punch cards will be handed out, along with the special pencils to mark them. Students will be asked to indicate one of four choices for each group. The question asked is, "Is ( ) coming to Notre Dame this spring?"

The survey is zoot to carry quite a bit of weight. For Maridi Grass we already know which group they want to go for, and put all our effort into making sure they will come. We feel there is a general consensus that we can do very well with the new methodology."

The SMC plans a new library

The SMC Board of Trustees has approved the recommendation of the standing committee on education that the college should build a new library. Preliminary plans for the building were presented to the committee by Sister Rita Clare who spent her summer considering the possibilities of "a library of the future." She emphasized that these plans are already obsolete, due to the financial changes that we made. The only new technological advances in regard to library services. They should have known that only raw self-interests, the prospect of gratification, brings them out in large numbers-pasty ruddy, popular group. The Moratorium Day (Victor E. O. The career plans, and the Moratorium is very much the thing that do nowadays.)

WINNING BETTERS: (1) right wing propagandists and the "respectable" media men who contend that students like democracy for their own sake of for power over the bureaucracy. They might have been shown wrong had a mass demonstration which workers would have understood, taken place. (2) ND administrative and financial managers, and a student. The library staff, particularly 167,000-spiking GE men. They would have appreciated an action that said students cared about them, and were just on the field of action but also among those who had a stake in the game.

WINNING POINTS: to the go the Placement Bureau, the FRU, the students who signed up for interviews, as well as the interviewers himself. Workers at GE and elsewhere might label themselves also among those who had a stake in the game:

Through the Placement Bureau; also GE administrators whose jobs which workers would have understood, taken place. (2) ND

They might have been shown wrong had a mass demonstration which workers would have understood, taken place. (2) ND might be also a channel through which persons concerned may express interest in regard to what services should be in the new building. Sister declined to elaborate, but the mentioned, "We cannot move too quickly in the initial planning."

To All Students of N.D. & S.M.C.

Do you feel that the U.S. should carry on the war in Vietnam? If so, why? - Whether withdrawal of troops as the South Vietnam name are ready to carry on the fighting

STEAK HOUSE

1516 N. Ironwood Dr., southeast Convocation Center between South Bend Ave. and Edison Rd.

The only book of its kind! The New Guide to Study Abroad

by JOHNNY GARRATY, WALTER ADAMS and CYRIL L. TAYLOR

Complete, practical, up-to-date. Covers 500 study programs (summer and full-year) open to U.S. students and teachers in Europe, Latin America, the Near and Far East. Authoritative information on expenses, language requirements, academic credits, draft exemptions, housing, etc.

"Excellent investment... Covers an enormous number of points..." - Harper & Row

New York, N.Y. 10016

Social Commission holds survey

students to vote for favorites will include a faculty member and a student. The library staff, particularly 167,000-spiking GE men. They would have appreciated an action that said students cared about them, and were just on the field of action but also among those who had a stake in the game.

The SMC Board of Trustees has approved the recommendation of the standing committee on education that the college should build a new library. Preliminary plans for the building were presented to the committee by Sister Rita Clare who spent her summer considering the possibilities of "a library of the future." She emphasized that these plans are already obsolete, due to the financial changes that we made. The only new technological advances in regard to library services. They should have known that only raw self-interests, the prospect of gratification, brings them out in large numbers-pasty ruddy, popular group. The Moratorium Day (Victor E. O. The career plans, and the Moratorium is very much the thing that do nowadays.)

WINNING BETTERS: (1) right wing propagandists and the "respectable" media men who contend that students like democracy for their own sake of for power over the bureaucracy. They might have been shown wrong had a mass demonstration which workers would have understood, taken place. (2) ND administrative and financial managers, and a student. The library staff, particularly 167,000-spiking GE men. They would have appreciated an action that said students cared about them, and were just on the field of action but also among those who had a stake in the game.

WINNING POINTS: to the go the Placement Bureau, the FRU, the students who signed up for interviews, as well as the interviewers himself. Workers at GE and elsewhere might label themselves also among those who had a stake in the game:

Through the Placement Bureau; also GE administrators whose jobs which workers would have understood, taken place. (2) ND might be also a channel through which persons concerned may express interest in regard to what services should be in the new building. Sister declined to elaborate, but the mentioned, "We cannot move too quickly in the initial planning."

To All Students of N.D. & S.M.C.

Do you feel that the U.S. should carry on the war in Vietnam? If so, why? - Whether withdrawal of troops as the South Vietnam name are ready to carry on the fighting

STEAK HOUSE

1516 N. Ironwood Dr., southeast Convocation Center between South Bend Ave. and Edison Rd.

The only book of its kind! The New Guide to Study Abroad

by JOHNNY GARRATY, WALTER ADAMS and CYRIL L. TAYLOR

Complete, practical, up-to-date. Covers 500 study programs (summer and full-year) open to U.S. students and teachers in Europe, Latin America, the Near and Far East. Authoritative information on expenses, language requirements, academic credits, draft exemptions, housing, etc.

"Excellent investment... Covers an enormous number of points..." - Harper & Row

New York, N.Y. 10016
Moratorium

What happens in Washington for the next three days could dictate whether or not American society polarizes further and eventually splits right down the middle.

The picture that people have painted of the Moratorium activities is not quite right. The Pentagon has prepared the machinery of the armed services in case violence arises. The arguments against issuing a parade permit for a walk down Pennsylvania Avenue centered around alleged threats of an assault upon the White House. Moratorium leaders have spoken of impending violence and Notre Dame and St. Mary's students were briefed at a meeting last week about the items to bring which would aid them if they were physically assaulted by police.

This country is beginning to develop a protest mania - an insane mentality that dictates that people must take sides in every protest, that the protestors are up against the police, that it is "us" against "them" at every step.

The "silent majority" is primed now, primed to organize in active support of the president. Full page adds have been taken out in city newspaper after city newspaper. Money has started flowing into the coffers of American Legion Posts and "Love America" groups around the nation. If violence erupts in Washington you can be sure that there will be a reaction. One louder than Spiro Agnew's tirade after October 15. It wouldn't be a good idea because if you look at those people - the active, silent majority - you can tell what they are going to demand. They will ask for the government and police to make sure that future protests don't get off the ground. It is another organized group, you can be sure that they will probably be ready to take an active part in seeing that it doesn't take place. When that happens it will be the beginning of the end.

Both the silent majority and the vocal minority have made errors which have helped to polarize this country. Both sides have spokesmen who have made rash statements that have promoted division instead of unity. We hope that America may not suffer as a result.

We hope that violence does not take place in Washington. We hope further that members of the Notre Dame and St. Mary's Community will not allow themselves to be drawn into the mood of irrationality that is prevailing the country. It is tragic enough that many Americans have decided that it is a prudent thing to fight among themselves without all of us helping to push America to the point where it splits apart. G.D.S.

SMC representatives

The authors of Monday night's Student Affairs statement requested a reaction and they received one, one which has shocked and disappointed them we feel, rightfully.

The St. Mary's students have told them that they are totally ineffective representatives. The students reason to this conclusion by asserting that their opinion, even their interest, has at no time this year been actively sought by these members. This manner of reasoning is illogical and invalid, for we are of the opinion that the students' premise is incorrect.

The student-representative-constituent relationship the former is the active factor, the latter, the passive. In actuality, the reverse is true. A representative mirrors the thoughts of his constituent; his function is merely to implement the ideas they give him. He is simply their voice and his efforts are to be devoted to the clear and effective voicing of their wants. Nothing more.

In this relationship, then, it is the task of the constituent to actively supply his represen- tatives with ideas and to actively see that they are carried out.

In any relationship, particularly one involving student representation, responsibility lies with both parties. While some criticism can be justly directed at the leaders, the main burden lies with students who sit dormant in apathy and pass the buck to others.

We urge the students to accept their responsibility now by speaking with their representatives and, as they asked Monday night, to tell them the direction that the students want Student Affairs to take. We urge them, to continue not to speak out on issues, because, whether or not they like it, they are responsible for everything they get.
Pseudo - marchers don't influence GSMAF

by Larry Overlan

The upcoming Moratorium and many of the protests of the past have one thing in common. Many of the people who have not protested could explain their reasons for objecting to the war. For many of the demonstrators the crusade "end the war" is the only way they can express themselves. Factual information and deductive reasoning are usually not involved in the reasoning of the "Social minority."

The condemning of policy by many students because the President's name is Nixon or because "Capitalism needs a good war every so often" is more reminiscent of adolescent ignorance than the War itself. All criticism should be constructive and offer different solutions with factual information to back it. Policies are not rejected too quickly and without reason sound reason that is. Each of these tidbits of protest and claim that they too are for or against "the Cause." The think to do now to be "in" is to join the Crusade to Washington and show the Administration the feelings of the "impudent snobs." The point I wish to make is that I do support the Moratorium but I don't support all marching in these rallies. Many if most of these "sane and concerned" people cannot defend their viewpoint against a member of the opposite cause. Safety in numbers works in these matches since only the diligent among us can understand them. The most recent example of this automatic condemnation of the "Establishment" was in President Johnson's words. Very few people know who are against the War could actually point the finger of a guilty nation when it comes to the speech "his face tells me he isn't telling the truth."

But when a down is being used: that's a down of a different sort. The face of a down is one that is hard to read. All have problems and need your sympathy and advice, you're out of money, you need deep thoughts, you don't want to do anything. Anyone in college has learned to handle it.

And for your patience with confusion, to justify the time you spent reading it. We hope we feel that way when we come on the scene. Thanks.

Marilyn Becker

Pre - D. reflections

We were reflecting, yesterday, on the current state of downess prevalent this week. We had even briefly decided to what extent this downess, this state of downess to we could recognize the upness when it came.

I don't think anyone openly goes out to jump on us, last night, or rather in the small situations we get down in, I'm thinking about us being jolted down in Washington landed in our lap. And now we've got a down of a different sort. But apparently upness got the Biff and Shirley Galbraith will be back at Notre Dame for those country music fans. Pat Clinton, the campus Muskicatcher, will be there with harp and guitar. Rick Homom, who has been seen of late dancing over the Nashville skyline while wearing boots of Spanish leather, will be doing a set and the magic fingers of Paul Gunnary will again be seated on the unsuspecting public while Jim Moran attempts to re-create his "Big Mama" Thornton impersonation on stage.

An evening of folk

by Mike Kelly

This Friday night, November 14th, at 8:30 p.m. there will be a free folk concert sponsored by the LaPorte Student Center. Although the Social Commission has agreed to pay for publicity, the concert is a result of the fact that two ND folk entertainers, Tom Consolato of the Authentically Maerrywhere and John Fomescia of the Foreston, the Garrison Boulevard, felt like having another concert like the one they had thrown for President Johnson. They contacted as many of the other musicians as they could get aboard and of the Contemporary Arts Festival offered their assistance and once again we were demonstrated that good times are to be had, not bought.

The first free folk festival had an emphasis on individual performances and a number of bands have been performing over two years. The festival Friday will emphasize some of the groups that have played at Notre Dame. The Maerrywhere and the Contemporary Arts Festival offered their assistance and once again we were demonstrated that good times are to be had, not bought.

Nor will the individuals be neglected.

The National Guard is out; well, okay, we expect no one to be doing anything. The mood surrounding in support of the non-violent Moratorium yesterday on the news. People baying buildings for peace.

The National Guard is out; well, okay, we expect no one to be doing anything. The mood surrounding in support of the non-violent Moratorium yesterday on the news. People baying buildings for peace.

There are rumors of violence springing up all over. We heard a report on Jim Linn's talk in support of the non-violent Moratorium yesterday on the news. People baying buildings for peace.

The National Guard is out; well, okay, we expect no one to be doing anything. The mood surrounding in support of the non-violent Moratorium yesterday on the news. People baying buildings for peace.

The National Guard is out; well, okay, we expect no one to be doing anything. The mood surrounding in support of the non-violent Moratorium yesterday on the news. People baying buildings for peace.
Letters to the Editor

Handpicked

Editor: I would like to raise a couple of questions on an issue that was passed over very quickly, that of selection of the student representatives on the Student Affairs Subcommittee of the Board of Trustees. This was briefly mentioned at Tuesday's senate meeting, Phil McKenna mentioned it in a way, but exactly the representatives would be, but the senate certainly had no voice in the matter. To the best of my knowledge, Mr. McKenna decided on the four people and presented them to the Student Affairs Subcommittee. It would seem to me that since we are choosing people to represent the entire undergraduate student body, the senate, these representatives should have some voice. They did not.

Secondly, earlier in the year, Mr. McKenna said that he thought since he could represent all members of the undergraduate community except blacks, Mr. MacFarland should be one of the members. It may very well be true that Mr. McKenna cannot represent the black minority, but I have serious doubts whether Mr. McKenna could represent the International Students. In fact, I think he did pick them (if he had been himself he himself would have picked the representatives on his own, and secondly since he did pick them) if he had been truly interested in representing all segments of the undergraduate students, he would have used the four seats to represent all, and not just selected segments.

Fred Giuffrida
Senator - Lyons Hall
108 Lyons Hall

Trustee reputation

Editor: Lately, there has been much talk regarding the Board of Trustees' objections to the alteration of parietal hours. The editor's column in the November 7 issue of the Observer, said that a certain Trustee mentioned it would be worth it to him to hire Pinkerton guards with his own money in order to see that parietals were enforced. His reason for this action would be to uphold the "good reputation" of Notre Dame. I have come to the conclusion that this view is shared by the majority of the alumni, too. I feel that it is time for Members of the Board to resign regarding this attitude.

The first point I would like to make concerns the term "good reputation." The word "good" is purely subjective. If one considers segregation of the male and female good, then Notre Dame has a good reputation. On the other hand, if one considers good the most normal situation of males and females being and growing together, then Notre Dame has a poor reputation. I think that the first thing that the Trustee, who is so concerned, and the others who agree with him, should realize is that Notre Dame will never have the "good reputation" it had yesterday or twenty years ago. Nothing, not even their glorious past, can be used to justify their hostility to just what it is that they live in a world changing. Today Notre Dame has a great desire for growth through freedom. A hackneyed phrase used by Mr. McKenna and the younger generation is, "They don't know what they want."

This is absolutely right. But, one thing they do know is that they do not want to be told what to want. They do not want to have others' values inflicted on them. If Notre Dame is to really desire the freedom to choose for themselves what is good, I believe that education was meant to develop the mind. Cardinal Newman writes in his The Idea of a University, that the function of universities is to "educate the intellect to reason in itself and to push outward toward truth, and to grasp it."

If Notre Dame is as great a university as some of us imagine it, then it should be able to accomplish the objectives stated above. If the University of Notre Dame can do so, then each student who attends Notre Dame should decide for himself his own way of living without absurd restrictions imposed by someone else's pet convictions and suspicions.

William Davison
283 Dillon

Peace paradox

Editor:

A peace paradox strikes me as a very paradoxical situation, in a university where seemingly everyone is an avid proponent of peace and love living in harmony with one's neighbor, hardly a weekend passes without some act of violence. In the past two weeks there have been at least four incidents of confrontations, each resulting in at least one person being injured. I am aware of at least three cases since the beginning of school of girls being sexually molested. And the amount of purposeless destruction which occurs every weekend astounds me.

I would think that an outsider looking at the University from a whole would find it very puzzling situation. One where whites cannot live with blacks—or blacks with whites; where a g pil is not safe to walk alone, even with others; where drunken students push cigarette machines down stairs, throw rocks through dormitory windows, and steal tops. And yet it was this same University that, just two weeks ago, voiced so loud an outcry against those who refuse to live in peace, to love their fellow men. If Notre Dame can do so much, then it can reconcile the action and the philosophy, both of which seem to reflect the same principles. And this, again, I am only a freshman.

Sincerely,

Greg Stidham
139 Dillon

Miss representation

Editor:

It seems that we should reply to Jeanne Sweeney's column which appeared in The Observer on Wednesday, November 12, in self-defense but perhaps to explain that Miss Sweeney sought to establish a very valid point. We are not representative of the St. Mary's student body, as Miss Sweeney pointed out, neither are the other "representatives" who this year have functioned in the Student Affairs channel. We are not representative in the sense that because we do not position of the conception of a posture of some computer which efficiently tallies statistics—never, we can find no way to add, have most student officials in the past. This is not a direct description of what we are and that we merely take up campus votes on any issue they in the voting majority should establish the outcome, and we do, with respect to student feeling on the general direction the Student Affairs channel should take. Herein lies the problem.

The Student Affairs channel was established as an orderly process for the evaluation and possible change of regulations (Student government has been established with the same premise). The difficulty is that this system is no longer essential. The rules on campus are no longer static and restrictive. Therefore, we see a new direction and we turn to the student body and the reaction we are confronted with is that we have not changed anything this year. We interpret this as a reference to the fact that we haven't changed anything—why, we grant. However, we also interpret this as an indication that we haven't achieved anything. No, we only struggled for two more weeks to that manysemester college policy would be one of "no hours" which a parent may modify (i.e. the parent can tell his child that rather than police being one of hours which the parent may liberalize. We only established a procedure for the implementation and enforcement of hours and sign-out so that the usual chaos would not ensue from a transition to a different system. We have only been rebuffed on efforts to disenfranchise the 5.10 shuttle-bus fare "St. Mary's College isn't in any financial position to pay for this" and to establish a policy allowing off-campus housing (off-campus housing would be available in September, 1971—but the Board of Trustees is adamantly opposed to off-campus housing). We are fighting for salary increases for the maids on campus who are only paid between $1.45 and $1.68 an hour. If we gained, we should think, would improve the quality of life on campus. And yet it was this same University, unfortunately, do not pertain to the Student Affairs area. We seek direction, as we have said, and we relate the plea to the situation of the student body. It is a shame, unfortunately, do not pertain to the Student Affairs area. We seek direction, as we have said, and we relate the plea to the situation of the student body. It is a shame, Mr. McKenna and Mrs. Roeschow, that we did not hear Mr. McKenna and Mrs. Roeschow address this.

Sue Turner
Treasurer, Student Body
B. Driscoll
Student Body President
B. Driscoll
Student Body Vice-President

Question of direction

Editor:

In reaction to Jeanne Sweeney's column which appeared in The Observer on Wednesday, November 12, it seems that Miss Sweeney, and others, missed the more important questions of the Student Affairs channel. Scholarships for diversification of the student body are rare. Unfortunately, do not pertain to the Student Affairs area. We seek direction, as we have said, and we relate the plea to the situation of the student body. It is a shame, unfortunately, do not pertain to the Student Affairs area. We seek direction, as we have said, and we relate the plea to the situation of the student body. It is a shame, Mr. McKenna and Mrs. Roeschow, that we did not hear Mr. McKenna and Mrs. Roeschow address this.

Susan Turner
Treasurer, Student Body
B. Driscoll
Student Body President
B. Driscoll
Student Body Vice-President

Petition to the Editor

Editor:

Recently, a question of petition to the Observer has been brought to my attention. These are some of the questions we are asking the students to answer. The statement was made by the Student Affairs Committee that it would decide where its role lies or if one should eliminate the large number of students on the present Student Affairs Committee (students, and members of the faculty and administration make it up). Perhaps we should eliminate Student Representation and continue with the present Student Affairs Committee.

There are some of the questions we are asking the students to answer. The statement was made by the Student Affairs Committee that it would decide where its role lies or if one should eliminate the large number of students on the present Student Affairs Committee (students, and members of the faculty and administration make it up). Perhaps we should eliminate Student Representation and continue with the present Student Affairs Committee.

Editor:

Little girls have pretty curls but I like orioles ... 1

By MORTON DAUERMAN presented by
WES TIDE PLAYERS

FRIDAY - NOV. 14
9:00 p.m.
Washington Hall

Mental Health Association Meeting
7:45 PM 123 Nieoland
Thursday, Nov. 13, 1969

11 little girls have pretty curls but I like orioles ... 1

Ralph Gagneshtein

This "ridiculous" announcement brought to you by the Ombudsmen Service

Phone 7638

1:20-2:30 Mon.-Fri.
6:30-7:30 Mon.-Thurs.
WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Nixon administration defended draft deferments for college students Monday despite Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's charge that they let wealthier youths "avoid the shooting for four years" while hoping the Vietnam War would end.

"I think it's very appropriate for that boy to finish his education, then go into the service and contribute a little something extra," John G. Venneman, Undersecretary of the Health, Education and Welfare, told a Senate subcommittee hearing.

But Kennedy, (D., Mass.), impatiently puffing a thin cigar, said neither money nor brains - in fact, a recent draft board for college deferment would favor him over another in a government policy which sometimes means life or death. About 30 per cent of U.S. service men in Vietnam have been draftees.

Kennedy, conducting hearings on supposed draft inequities before his Senate subcommittee on administrative practice and procedure, said Nixon will abolish student deferments by executive order. He said students frequently purloin a student deferment into an occupational deferment and dodg military service altogether.

About 1.6 million college youths now have student deferments, and another 350,000 are deferred on grounds their civilian jobs are essential.

"The basic requirements of Gov't advises

The Government of Jamaica has set up a Personnel Development Unit in the Ministry of Finance and Planning with offices at the Training Division of the Ministry, 3 Lockett Avenue, Kingston 4.

The Unit's principal aim will be to establish and maintain contact with qualified Jamaicans overseas, not only students, but also graduates at work abroad, and to advise them of job opportunities here in Jamaica and seek to persuade them to return home to take up employment either in the public or private sector.

The Unit hopes to keep comprehensive records of students at Universities and Institutions of higher education overseas, their programmes of study and expected date of graduation. Co-operation will be maintained with industry and commerce to ascertain vacancies and determine adequate job descriptions and employment opportunities in the private sector, in order that the Unit will be a focal point of all relevant information.

The Unit is interested in making contact with all students receiving training in middle and top-level skills particularly in areas where training and manpower is in short supply in Jamaica.

A representative of the Unit, Miss. Pamela Hall, will pay periodic visits at least once during the course of each academic year to the main cities where Jamaicans are studying for degrees and interviews will be held with students and other qualified Jamaicans.

WTHURSDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1969

THE OBSERVER

SMC Academic Affairs Commission happy with committee cooperation

by Mary Kay Davy

Regarding the recent suspension of the Student Affairs Commission at SMC, Pam Cariy, the Academic Affairs Commissioner, has stated that this is in no way reflects the Academic Affairs Commission, but rather the other channel of student government.

Pam stated, "All of the girls were very happy with the cooperation they are receiving on the various committees headed by the Academic Affairs Commission."

The expressed great faith in the student body and their concerns for SMC. She feels that any lack of involvement exhibited by the student body can be attributed to the students' inability to locate their interests within the structure of student government or to find the channels for their concerns rather than a general attitude of apathy.

The Academic Affairs Commission consists of the student representatives on the Academic Affairs Council, an advisory council to the president, and those participating in the five academic committees. The committees are: Teacher Education, Curriculum, Library, Academic Standing, and Admissions and Scholarship.

According to Pam, the entire Commission is much more optimistic as to student involvement and its potential improvement. Pam acknowledged the fact that the Academic Affairs Commission is not making radical changes but stated, "I feel we are making progress."

In light of these facts, the Academic Affairs Commission stands not wishing to be identified with the recent actions taken by the Student Affairs branch of SMC student government.

Gov't advises

The Government of Jamaica has set up a Personnel Development Unit in the Ministry of Finance and Planning with offices at the Training Division of the Ministry, 3 Lockett Avenue, Kingston 4.

The Unit's principal aim will be to establish and maintain contact with qualified Jamaicans overseas, not only students, but also graduates at work abroad, and to advise them of job opportunities here in Jamaica and seek to persuade them to return home to take up employment either in the public or private sector.

The Unit hopes to keep comprehensive records of students at Universities and Institutions of higher education overseas, their programmes of study and expected date of graduation. Co-operation will be maintained with industry and commerce to ascertain vacancies and determine adequate job descriptions and employment opportunities in the private sector, in order that the Unit will be a focal point of all relevant information.

The Unit is interested in making contact with all students receiving training in middle and top-level skills particularly in areas where training and manpower is in short supply in Jamaica.

A representative of the Unit, Miss. Pamela Hall, will pay periodic visits at least once during the course of each academic year to the main cities where Jamaicans are studying for degrees and interviews will be held with students and other qualified Jamaicans.

A fresh look at

The technology of moving things

That's right! Grumman's real business is the technology of moving things... men and machines in purposeful patterns within a great diversity of origins, destinations and tactical situations. Speed is often, but not always, the answer. Performance reliability—in spite of many interfaces—is the thing.

In close-in combat "dog fights"—an aircraft with speed, maneuverability and armament... the F-14 Air Superiority Fighter.

In lunar exploration—The Lunar Module which successfully landed the astronauts on the moon.

In areas of enemy activity—an aircraft that can extend the eyes and ears of a Navy task force at sea through radar and computers that alert interceptor aircraft to impending enemy attacks... the E2K Hawkeye, and advanced versions.

Far above the earth, a satellite that can discover more about the evolution of the universe... the Orbiting Astronomical Observatory.

Add Deep Submersibles, Hydrofoil seacraft, High-speed Ground Transportation systems, Corporate aircraft and Lunar Surface vehicles, and you get some idea of how Grumman is extending the perimeters of business is.

The technology of moving things.
Bill Etter .. scrambling to a record

by Jim Donladson
Observer Sports Writer

One of the most exciting runners for Notre Dame this year is senior fullback Bill Etter, who has put forth his best season ever. The reason for his scrambling ability is due to many reasons, but mainly because Bill Donladson takes a look at the story of this Observer Sports Writer.

It's not only that a second string quarterback is the third leading rusher on the major college football team and it's even less frequent that a player in this position has a shot at earning a record for highest average per rush in one season (minimum of 25 rushes) of 10.3 yards set in 1921 by Gus Deech. Etter has scavenged for runs of 25 yards or better than his last four appearances and, though the Irish are usually

Gatewood?

Due to a variety of highly technical and complex reasons, namely that the Sports Editor made a stupid mistake on a major college football team and it's even less frequent that a player in this position has a shot at earning a record for highest average per rush in one season (minimum of 25 rushes) of 10.3 yards set in 1921 by Gus Deech. Etter has scavenged for runs of 25 yards or better than his last four appearances and, though the Irish are usually

Nurse Dame's Sorin Rifle Team

Richard S. Yoder is not as much his best in its history. The team defeated Western Maryland and Rose Poly Institution last Saturday with the picture which appeared left-center on Tuesday's sports page was correctly identified as Tom Gatewood. We apologize and give our sincere thanks to police detective Tom from catching many more passes this season.

Gatewood

Notre Dame's Sorin Rifle Team has been a surprise this year. The team defeated Western Maryland and Rose Poly Institution last Saturday with the picture which appeared left-center on Tuesday's sports page was correctly identified as Tom Gatewood. We apologize and give our sincere thanks to police detective Tom from catching many more passes this season.

Rifleman victorious twice

The Gatewood story is a bit in its own history. The team defeated Western Maryland and Rose Poly Institution last Saturday with the picture which appeared left-center on Tuesday's sports page was correctly identified as Tom Gatewood. We apologize and give our sincere thanks to police detective Tom from catching many more passes this season.

Gatewood?

Due to a variety of highly technical and complex reasons, namely that the Sports Editor made a stupid mistake on a major college football team and it's even less frequent that a player in this position has a shot at earning a record for highest average per rush in one season (minimum of 25 rushes) of 10.3 yards set in 1921 by Gus Deech. Etter has scavenged for runs of 25 yards or better than his last four appearances and, though the Irish are usually

Gatewood?

Due to a variety of highly technical and complex reasons, namely that the Sports Editor made a stupid mistake on a major college football team and it's even less frequent that a player in this position has a shot at earning a record for highest average per rush in one season (minimum of 25 rushes) of 10.3 yards set in 1921 by Gus Deech. Etter has scavenged for runs of 25 yards or better than his last four appearances and, though the Irish are usually

Gatewood?

Due to a variety of highly technical and complex reasons, namely that the Sports Editor made a stupid mistake on a major college football team and it's even less frequent that a player in this position has a shot at earning a record for highest average per rush in one season (minimum of 25 rushes) of 10.3 yards set in 1921 by Gus Deech. Etter has scavenged for runs of 25 yards or better than his last four appearances and, though the Irish are usually

Gatewood?

Due to a variety of highly technical and complex reasons, namely that the Sports Editor made a stupid mistake on a major college football team and it's even less frequent that a player in this position has a shot at earning a record for highest average per rush in one season (minimum of 25 rushes) of 10.3 yards set in 1921 by Gus Deech. Etter has scavenged for runs of 25 yards or better than his last four appearances and, though the Irish are usually

Gatewood?

Due to a variety of highly technical and complex reasons, namely that the Sports Editor made a stupid mistake on a major college football team and it's even less frequent that a player in this position has a shot at earning a record for highest average per rush in one season (minimum of 25 rushes) of 10.3 yards set in 1921 by Gus Deech. Etter has scavenged for runs of 25 yards or better than his last four appearances and, though the Irish are usually