Recommend continuation of the Placement Office

by Cliff Wintrode

The Joint Committee on the Placement Bureau reported its final report to the Faculty Senate and the Student Life council stating that the abolition of the Placement bureau at this time would be "unjustifiable and precipitous."

The report of the joint committee, constituted by the Faculty Senate and the Student Life council last October, is the first item on the agenda of today's Student Life council meeting.

The committee could find no discrepancy between the bureau's stated purpose of providing a service to students seeking employment and its actual operation and agreed with the bureau's "Complete openness policy of allowing any "honside" employer to recruit.

Father Thornton, Director of the Placement Bureau, described a "honside" employer as one that has "interviewed on other campuses, has job opportunity brochures, and for which there is at least a slim chance that some students will sign to interview."

Father Hesburgh, at Friday's University Forum meeting, whether he would allow the Black Panthers to recruit on campus and what criterion he would use to decide who could and could not recruit here. He replied that he would allow the Panthers to recruit and stated that he would allow any "legal" organization to recruit on campus.

The inability of the forum to function was also mentioned by Duffy and in a small group of continued on page 3

Communication gap marks forum meeting

by Bro. Patrick Consors

Lack of dialogue was widely discussed in Friday's initial meeting of the University Forum that was held for the first time after the open session following the formal meeting.

Professor Donald Snopeski of the English Department who had previously been elected spokesman for the group opened the floor and there were no questions from the audience, Student Body President Phil McKenna, an official representative to the organization, made a statement. "Talking in terms of mumbles and the like put the focus in the wrong place according to the Student Body Presi dent. The focus is on the way we do things and why we do them."

There is focus on knowledge but no focus on trust of individuals and brotherhood, he said.

He cited this as a cause for the "fear and hatred that I find very prevalent around here" and said that only logically concludes that you have a problem in front of a crisis because that is the way you get things done around here.

He contends that if this is a Christian university, it should not be "toward a state where there are no rules. In this way he feels that people would not be inhibited by sit-ins and the like. Presently precaution and example are not emphasized and the result is an atmosphere of force and no trust."

The first question from the audience dealt more specifically with the announced topic of the discussion - the Dow-CIA occurrences. Mr. Philip Facenda, special assistant to the presi dent, denied why the injunction was sought and whether it will be permanent as well as what he meant by other possible methods which could be used to accom plish the same ends in an "aspect of the general political issue."" This side feels that the University is "incapable of remaining neutral on major social and political questions because it is not simply a "Christian campus of scholars" but an institution with "significant" social and economic "effects (e.g., from its investment policy)."

"Instead of exercising a critical and prophetic function over, against its society, the University actively panders to and seeks support from the government and business and is quite willing to do favors in return," states the report.

This side concludes that the University should be abolished because of the political stance of the University that they feel "approves the specific programs that has saturated itself in the Vietnam War and the conditions of poverty and racism at home."

A religious dimension into the discussion was also mentioned by Duffy and in a small group of continued on page 2

Members of the University Forum discussed the "communication gap" and other problems.
Sniegowski elected chairman of Forum in organization meeting

by Bill Carter

At the closed meeting of the University Forum last Friday, Prof. Donald Sniegowski of the English Department was elected Forum Chairman. The meeting was held just prior to the open Forum meeting Friday evening for the purpose of deciding on organizational plans for the Forum's two proposed meetings during the next semester. Prof. Sniegowski talked about the Forum's organizational details and his role as chairman in an interview with the Observer Sunday evening.

Sniegowski pointed out what he believed was the basic importance of the Forum. "I think the Forum provides an excellent opportunity for all portions of the University to just get together and meet each other. The most important function of the Forum will be listening, listening to all the ideas that are presented at each meeting," Sniegowski said.

In outlining the Forum's organizational set-up as devised at Friday's meeting, Sniegowski said the Forum had created an appointment committee composed of representatives from the six groups that make up the Forum body. The agenda committee will decide on the agenda for each meeting by consulting with other members of the Forum and anyone else in the University who would like to see some item covered in the Forum. Each meeting will also have a coordinator, one of the representatives from the Forum, who will be responsible for getting the next meeting together and handling any paperwork that becomes necessary such as the distribution of position papers. Sniegowski emphasized the importance of communication before each meeting as a means of eliminating any lack of clarity in the opinions that will be expressed. The agenda for each meeting will be completely open, following the suggestions of Fr. Herbergh when he proposed the formation of the Forum. The Forum will discuss whatever needs discussion.

Gap marks meeting continued on page 1

As the discussion continued, a number of students brought up this point of asking various members of the administration why the university found it necessary to seek an injuction to keep protestors at bay. At least three members of the forum explained that the injunction in no way barred protests (which, it was pointed out, would be a violation of the constitution) but rather was aimed at forbidding a disruption or an interference with the rights of others.

Graduate Student President James King complained that it was easy to get tied up in particulars in this matter. He called for a recognition of the need of freedom in an educational institution but added that it should be tempered with a realization that in a structure there are functions and necessary rules to facilitate operations. He said that he did not believe that a university should have one group imposing its moral views on another and still be what a university in the true sense of that word.

Phil Werle took the floor and in an attack which many in attendance took to befacetious, criticized both sides as being "Communist-inspired." Some of the delegates and spectators held that both his attack and what they considered convoluted laughter on the part of some in attendance hampered any serious attempt at dialogue.

As the discussion moved to the Placement Bureau, students questioned not only the role of the office, but who was responsible for the injunction. Mr. Facenda pointed out the legal process of an injunction and held the position that it might not have taken place had the people involved in opposition to the interviews approached the appropriate university officials before the fact.

According to the President's assistant, an injunction is only dropped when the subject is resolved because the parties got tired of the controversy. He said that he did not believe that a university should have one group imposing its moral views on another and still be what a university in the true sense of that word.

Sniegowski pointed out what he believed was the basic importance of the Forum. "I think the Forum provides an excellent opportunity for all portions of the University to just get together and meet each other. The most important function of the Forum will be listening, listening to all the ideas that are presented at each meeting," Sniegowski said.

In outlining the Forum's organizational set-up as devised at Friday's meeting, Sniegowski said the Forum had created an appointment committee composed of representatives from the six groups that make up the Forum body. The agenda committee will decide on the agenda for each meeting by consulting with other members of the Forum and anyone else in the University who would like to see some item covered in the Forum. Each meeting will also have a coordinator, one of the representatives from the Forum, who will be responsible for getting the next meeting together and handling any paperwork that becomes necessary such as the distribution of position papers. Sniegowski emphasized the importance of communication before each meeting as a means of eliminating any lack of clarity in the opinions that will be expressed. The agenda for each meeting will be completely open, following the suggestions of Fr. Herbergh when he proposed the formation of the Forum. The Forum will discuss whatever needs discussion.

Gap marks meeting continued from page 1

"All the members of the Forum thought we should go on with the topics we have been discussing, the nature of a university, the nature of dissent and how it fits into the structure of a university. I would have to be sure that future discussions continue to center on questions like these," Sniegowski said.

Propose continuance of the Placement Office continued from page 1

This person felt that some of the corporations which interview here are engaged in "non-Christian" activities, and "if a University is to call itself Christian, it cannot allow those engaged in non-Christian endeavors to use its facilities to further those ends.

The Joint Committee on the Placement Bureau also recommended that the university begin a significant program of assistance in helping students land summer jobs is presently being conducted by the Bureau concluded the committee, and it suggested that a consolidation of summer employment opportunities of social service organizations would "align the Bureau much more closely with activities of growing concern to students and faculty.

At a time when the University is exploring the idea of coordination, the committee thought it "particularly appropriate" to recommend a reciprocal open policy of the placement offices of Notre Dame and St. Mary's. The idea of a consolidation of the two offices into one was also proposed as a question worth further exploration.

Finally, the committee recommended that the Placement Bureau prepare a printed brochure summarizing its services, procedures, and opportunities for distribution to all members of the university including alumni.

LOOKING FOR A UNIQUE WAY TO SAY YOU KNOW WHO YOU KNOW WHO? WHAT BETTER WAY THAN TO SAY IT WITH AN OBSERVER VALENTINE? For only a dollar you can express your deepest sentiments to your dear one.

Just Right For:
1. Announcing a Valentine's Day Engagement
2. Telling the girl of your dreams that you never had the courage to tell her
3. That special someone to whom you would like to thank for everything
4. The special guy in your life who you would like to thank for everything

Fill in your message here (12 words for one dollar)

It will appear in Friday's OBSERVER in our special Valentines Day Edition (in hearts and flowers, of course)

Yours Lovingly, THE OBSERVER

Mail to Box 11 or stop by the OBSERVER office by Thursday noon.

P.S. For an extra quarter we will mail Friday's OBSERVER to your hometown (for homies)
WASHINGTON (UPI)-The Democratic Party replied Sunday to President Nixon's State of the Union address. The tele-visioned film intended to show "a view of the majoryes" blan-
cing the administration for inflation, unemployment, urban decay, pollution and poverty.

But the professionally produced one hour film, beamed across the UPI-AP news feed by the three major television nets, also had an obvious departure from past presentations in which purely politicians followed one another to the microphone with long winded speeches.

This year the party turned to its best looking young legislators, found a supporting cast of angry shoppers and unemployed workers and put them in a variety of settings including a super market, an abandoned housing development, a songs covered valley, and an outdoor coffee shop.

Initially the Republican reaction came from Rep. Bob Wilson, chairman of the GOP Congressional Committee, who said: "The Democrats pontificated maxims at the same time the country on their show TVresidual problems left over from eight years of Democratic administrations - and they sounded just like a group of disgruntled heirs trying to recover their meager inheritance."

The best known Democratic figures, with the exception of Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, were relegated to minor roles. The stars were attractive newcomers like Sen. Kennedy, of Hawaii, and William Clay, D-Mo., or candidates lacking truccenades, like Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., and Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex. A typical scene went like this:

"Well," the woman answered, "I think we're going to do better. We haven't really been forced upon the community questions which will help to raise some very vital issues."

"It's not that I don't meet and attract a greater involvement other's views."

Ideas for improving the body. There appears to be little one anothers views.

Wladimir, the Democratic Party communications, and the coor-ratings on campus last fall which resulted in the suspension of ten students.

The local observer, who oversaw the operation of the high-rector of the AAUP, Professor William D'Antonio, who was the Department of Sociology and Anthropology, responded that his organization is working on an investigation of the incident. The AAUP has set up a committee for this purpose. After the investigation is completed, he promised a report, compli-
, further deliberations, would be forthcoming.

Specifically, he referred to "the questions of dissent, intercrights and due process." He said that he was "elevated of Father Theodore" changes from the Nutting for Presider a let-
ners and several campus displays, not to mention the "Fund for the" of the crowd, not totally unanticipated, the heat in the Library Auditorium, and the overall dialogue and discussion in the student government. For the present time, we felt that a change of location was necessitated.

On Sunday, February 8, at 2 p.m., the first gathering of the Nutting students gathered to discuss the question: "What is the best way to get the issue of the "Chancellor-President" restructuring in front of the N.D. community."

Spokesmen for the Nutting for President Headquarters emphasized that Utah. D. Nutting had been contacted on Sunday to apprise him of the "pre-assumption of the campaign. Mr. Nutting's response was that the group's activities were felt to be the "highest compliment ever paid to me by the Notre Dame students." Nutting added that he took his candidacy with utmost seriousness, for "I feel it will help to raise some very vital questions about the Notre Dame community questions which haven't really been forced upon us as yet."

It was also emphasized that Dr. Nutting's candidacy was a substantial commodity to the campaign. Mr. Nutting was not swayed by the movement until he was asked about it by Professor Edward Cronin, also of the General Program of Liberal Studies, who received (along with all faculty members) a letter from the Nutting for President Headquarters. The letter, which was reprinted in the Feb-
4th Observer, urged this "elevation of Father Theodore Hebronlor" and the appointment of William D. Nutting as the new President.

During Sunday's discussions the student supporters of Dr. Nutting recognized that the campaign had entered the "petition phase", that the petition collpact with the other members of the committee. The issue of restructuring and to gain support for Chancellor Hefcor and President Nutting was the best way to get the issue of the "Chancellor-President" restructuring in front of the N.D. community."

Some Dome pictures did not turn out. The following groups can be treated Tuesday afternoon at St. John's Center.

DETROIT CLUB

Sign-up's & details for Univ. of Detroit basketball game tonight from 7 to 7:30pm in Student Insurance Office. LaFortune

Price $12.00 ALL WELCOME

Protest Investigated

by Jon Hayes

Notre Dame's chapter of the American Association of University Professors has, for the first time, launched an investigation of the Dow-CIA demonstration on campus last fall which resulted in the suspension of ten students.

The local observer, who oversaw the operation of the high-
rector of the AAUP, Professor William D'Antonio, who was the Department of Sociology and Anthropology, responded that his organization is working on an investigation of the incident. The AAUP has set up a committee for this purpose. After the investigation is completed, he promised a report, compli-
, further deliberations, would be forthcoming.

Specifically, he referred to "the questions of dissent, intercrights and due process." He said that he was "elevated of Father Theodore" changes from the Nutting for Presider a let-
ners and several campus displays, not to mention the "Fund for the" of the crowd, not totally unanticipated, the heat in the Library Auditorium, and the overall dialogue and discussion in the student government. For the present time, we felt that a change of location was necessitated.

On Sunday, February 8, at 2 p.m., the first gathering of the Nutting students gathered to discuss the question: "What is the best way to get the issue of the "Chancellor-President" restructuring in front of the N.D. community."

Spokesmen for the Nutting for President Headquarters emphasized that Utah. D. Nutting had been contacted on Sunday to apprise him of the "pre-assumption of the campaign. Mr. Nutting's response was that the group's activities were felt to be the "highest compliment ever paid to me by the Notre Dame students." Nutting added that he took his candidacy with utmost seriousness, for "I feel it will help to raise some very vital questions about the Notre Dame community questions which haven't really been forced upon us as yet."

It was also emphasized that Dr. Nutting's candidacy was a substantial commodity to the campaign. Mr. Nutting was not swayed by the movement until he was asked about it by Professor Edward Cronin, also of the General Program of Liberal Studies, who received (along with all faculty members) a letter from the Nutting for President Headquarters. The letter, which was reprinted in the Feb-
4th Observer, urged this "elevation of Father Theodore Hebron-
lor" and the appointment of William D. Nutting as the new President.

During Sunday's discussions the student supporters of Dr. Nutting recognized that the campaign had entered the "petition phase", that the petition coll-
 pact with the other members of the committee. The issue of restructuring and to gain support for Chancellor Hefcor and President Nutting was the best way to get the issue of the "Chancellor-President" restructuring in front of the N.D. community."

Some Dome pictures did not turn out. The following groups can be treated Tuesday afternoon at St. John's Center.

Change of location of lecture required

The following is a statement by Student Union Academic Commi-
and the issue of restructuring and to gain support for Chancellor Hefcor and President Nutting was the best way to get the issue of the "Chancellor-President" restructuring in front of the N.D. community."

Some Dome pictures did not turn out. The following groups can be treated Tuesday afternoon at St. John's Center.

Attention OBSERVER Staff:

Some Dome pictures did not turn out. The following groups can be treated Tuesday afternoon at St. John's Center.
The initial meeting of the University Forum displayed the fact that Notre Dame is quite a ways away from being a totally integrated community. From the tone of the discussions it is obvious that true community will come only if all sides are willing to exert much more effort toward bringing it about. The Forum got off to a bad start immediately when it was discovered that many of the elected members of the Forum had come to the meeting thinking that it was to be purely organizational. This forced an early close after only 50 minutes of open discussion. The group, however, did elect Professor Donald Kringenowski, of English Department to the Chairmanship. From his initial remarks it appears that he will make every effort to insure that in the future the Forum will remain in session as long as need be to handle any questions that may arise.

It took awhile in the initial sessions for all sides to get use to addressing each other. The traditional “communications gap” made itself apparent as members from some of the groups turned to making accusations about the sincerity of the efforts of the others instead of talking about the issue. In one case, a student (not a member of the Forum) embarked on a senseless harangue mocking what he conceived the positions of many of the Alumni, Trustees, and Administrators at Notre Dame.

Such outbreaks are regrettable since they only serve to further widen the crevice between students and others. This is illustrated in the unique manner in which such events can destroy public understanding with members of the university. Such outbreaks are regrettable since they only serve to further widen the crevice between students and others.

The potential for the Forum can be exemplified in a number of exchanges between participants which served to clear up some misconceptions of different positions. Many opponents of the Placement Bureau have suggested that the university shows favoritism in selecting who will be allowed to recruit. As an example, one student stated, the University certainly wouldn’t allow the Black Panthers to recruit on campus.

Father Hesburgh’s answer to the question was unequivocal. As far as he was concerned the Black Panthers could recruit on campus. His criteria for letting a firm recruit — the firm must be normal and legitimate. The firm must be engaged in normal activity and must not break the laws of the United States. The exchange cleared up the air and there is at least now a basis to discuss the policy.

Although much work lies ahead for the Forum we believe that it has a great potential. If nothing else, for the first time the leaders from all segments of the community are sitting down at the same time and place and exchanging ideas. There remains a lot that they all have to learn — from each other as well as from other individuals who are not members of the board.

We hope that members of the Forum take their positions seriously. They have the responsibility, we believe, to help bridge the communications gap not only at their meetings but also by helping to mediate situations that arise where there is disagreement between various segments of the community. The upcoming return of Dow Chemical to the Placement Office is such a case. We hope that members of the Forum will work to see that the events of the day are not a repeat of those that occurred in November.
As they passed through this dense, perverted steam,
Wished those who've reached the second training stage.

Good Grooming's hair lay matted on his head,
Good Taste alike was flound'ring in the mire,
And puffed behind green clouds 'neath royal clothes.
Their parents' rules, they claim they cease to fear.
The Tower's lifts were crammed beyond compare
The students' senses I'll anesthetize.

Great waves of laughter from the king did gush.
Sweet Etiquette, her rules for forks and spoons,
"My friends, indeed a shame for you to fight,
Whose clothing now trim m ed, or clean, or halfway neat,
The throng now stormed the cherished Southern Quad
For once and all, I'm sure you'll realize,
An empty mind but voices loud,
Who, now away, from parents, on their own,
So this is it! Remember what we've heard!

As members of the court and royalty.

As you all have done well, achievements each has great,
Though in the end their canvasses are fired,
Though Atmosphere was quite greatly brevied.

To prove himself most worthy, yet the worst.
To take what the king would soon bestow
On him who did the most in grossness grow.

As they stepped down, another took their place,
Where who's perverted none will ever know.
A Notre Dame Dunciad... Concerning a threatening peril
They give it to the size of a drafthound.
In figures bright, embarrassing boldly
The words always in my mind hold.
They talk of Trojans, not the loyal band
Who've come from Southern California's sand,
But a golden braid formed from his golden curls;
A golden braid formed from his golden curls;
And his last show brought many thousand tears
When he turned about and bowed to all his fans,
And his last show brought many thousand tears
When their friends need they come to intercede.
Some people thought of the crown, the bee,
Do not believe in giving some bright clue,
Instead they place where all can surely see
Some pointed piece of metal that turns.
Though in the end their canvasses are fired,
Though in the end their canvasses are fired,

A golden braid formed from his golden curls;
A golden braid formed from his golden curls;

The king did laud the efforts of this group
And held the depths of the downpour slow.
To bring his kingdom such artistic skill
At the same time creating artist well.

A golden braid formed from his golden curls;
A golden braid formed from his golden curls;

The king did laud the efforts of this group
And held the depths of the downpour slow.
To bring his kingdom such artistic skill
At the same time creating artist well.

A golden braid formed from his golden curls;
A golden braid formed from his golden curls;

The king did laud the efforts of this group
And held the depths of the downpour slow.
To bring his kingdom such artistic skill
At the same time creating artist well.

A golden braid formed from his golden curls;
A golden braid formed from his golden curls;

The king did laud the efforts of this group
And held the depths of the downpour slow.
To bring his kingdom such artistic skill
At the same time creating artist well.

A golden braid formed from his golden curls;
A golden braid formed from his golden curls;

The king did laud the efforts of this group
And held the depths of the downpour slow.
To bring his kingdom such artistic skill
At the same time creating artist well.

A golden braid formed from his golden curls;
A golden braid formed from his golden curls;

The king did laud the efforts of this group
And held the depths of the downpour slow.
To bring his kingdom such artistic skill
At the same time creating artist well.

A golden braid formed from his golden curls;
A golden braid formed from his golden curls;

The king did laud the efforts of this group
And held the depths of the downpour slow.
To bring his kingdom such artistic skill
At the same time creating artist well.

A golden braid formed from his golden curls;
A golden braid formed from his golden curls;

The king did laud the efforts of this group
And held the depths of the downpour slow.
To bring his kingdom such artistic skill
At the same time creating artist well.
SEDE BOKER, Israel (UPI) -- President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt must go if there is to be peace in the Middle East, David Ben-Gurion said yesterday.

"Not only will he have to go, he may not be able to stay," said Israel's first prime minister. "His position is becoming more and more critical."

The conditions for ending the Arab-Israeli conflict formed one part of a UPI interview with Ben-Gurion in his hqbnog in this Negev Desert kibbutz.

The 83-year-old leader said American supplies of jet aircraft are decisive in Israeli defense, that a Soviet drive for domination of the Mediterranean Sea is the kernel of Middle East trouble and that Israel should never surrender the Golan Heights it took from Syria nor East Jerusalem it took from Jordan in the 1967 Six Day War.

Ben-Gurion, asked if he thought Moscow would send troops to aid its Arab allies, said, "I don't believe they would send them...now because they would be afraid of America."

"But they will send it more and more arms and better arms and they will send in more of their officers to train the Arabs," he said. "This may be very dangerous."

Then what of President Nixon's current month-long consideration of sending Israel additional F-4 Phantom jets to keep Arab and Israeli arms in balance?

"Jets are the decisive factor," Ben-Gurion said. "The Six Day War was won in the first half of the first day. At noon I knew the war was won. That (Arab) aircraft were destroyed."

Ben-Gurion, who retired from office in 1963, sat on an un-cushioned wooden chair in the low-ceiled living room of the green bungalow. The decorations on the walls were as simple as the lifestyle of the Polish Jew who came to America at age three, was drafted into the army, and then found his way to Palestine 63 years ago in hopes of helping establish Israel. These are snapshots of his children and grand-children, a painting of his late wife and a copy of Abraham Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation.

The other foreign politi- cian represented on the wall is Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chi- cago. "The day of the peace resolution, signed by Daley and Ben-Gurion," said Ben-Gurion, "hags on a nail. Ben-Gurion wore an Israeli army private's uniform the day I met him. I have seen three wars and the uniform is comfortable."

Communication gap in Forum continued from page 2

At this point in the proceed- ings, the forum was asked for a show of hands on the question of ham many members read the defense of the students in- volved in its entirety. All but two had read it at least once.

Returning to the Placement Bureau, Fr. Theodore Hesburgh, University President, said that it was a traditional means of helping students get the jobs they wanted and that he would stop it that night if he thought that they did not want to have it. He sug- gested various bodies that should discuss the matter and pointed out that if conditions on it were too restrictive, it would be simpler not to have it.

Edmund Stephan, Chairman of the Board of trustees, added that he was under the impression that the students wanted the Placement Bureau. After men- tioning what he had read the defense twice, he stated that he saw difficulties with certain philosophical underpinnings he has.
Clark hits Carswell nomination

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Former Attorney General Ramsey Clark said yesterday that President Nixon's nomination of Federal Judge G. Harrold Carswell to the Supreme Court "is a sad one for the country.

Clark, asserting that black Americans still look to the high court more than to any other institution for help in their fight against racial discrimination, accused the President of "tinkering with the confidence of a major part of our people" by naming Carswell.

"These are difficult times for our country and the problem of race is a major part of the underlying difficulties," Clark said in the UPI Washington interview.

The Program consists of ten weeks of formal training by large-scale communications and time sharing systems — followed by an assignment at one of the RCA Spectra 70 family of computers which are highlighted in the RCA college program at Cherry Hill, New Jersey that will provide you with a broad knowledge of the field of your choice — Sales or Systems — followed by an assignment at one of our field sales offices located throughout the United States. You will be working directly with the complete Spectra 70 family of computers which are highlighted by large-scale communications and time-sharing applications.

See your placement officer to arrange an interview.

Or write to RCA College Relations, Dept. CSS, Building 205-1, Camden, N. J. 08101. We are an equal opportunity employer.

On Campus Interviews for Computer Sales and Systems February 25 & 26

BS, BA and MBA candidates: interview RCA, on campus, for our Computer Sales and Systems Program. The Program consists of ten weeks of formal training at Cherry Hill, New Jersey that will provide you with a broad knowledge of the field of your choice — Sales or Systems — followed by an assignment at one of our field sales offices located throughout the United States. You will be working directly with the complete Spectra 70 family of computers which are highlighted by large-scale communications and time-sharing applications.
Irish win... every man does his job

by Jack Schaefer

Observer Sports Writer

If Saturday's 96-95 double overtime win by Notre Dame over Marquette proves anything it is that both teams deserve a berth in the NCAA tournament. Marquette is a strong, exceptionally well-coached basketball team. The Irish played their hearts out, never gave up and came away with a deserved victory.

The mark of a great team is that everyone does his job and does it well. Notre Dame certainly showed that it has the capability of being a great team. Sid Catlett, amid cheers of "Sid, Sid", turned in what had to be one of the finest games of his career. He rebounded and blocked shots in an intimidating fashion. Sid also hit on six of eleven of his shots from the field. Sophomore Doug Gemmell, although seeing limited action in the second half, exhibited extraordinary poise while pouring in eleven first half points.

Collins Jones turned in another of his stellar performances. Jones had seventeen points, fifteen rebounds and came up with his usual number of clutch plays underneath. Jones is one of the real fine ball players Notre Dame has had a few point lead and some important previous performances.

Substitute guard Mike O'Connell turned in a near perfect game exactly the way he had to do and his timing in the 2nd overtime enabled him to outdo the Marquette defense, attracted a crowd and flipped to a teammate for the easy basket. Mike also fell two baskets in the overtime as well as being instrumental in the steal which enabled the Irish to take the game into a second overtime, Marquette had the ball and a two point lead. O'Connell's steal resulted in a basket and set up a roar that brought people back from the parking lot.

If you think I've left someone out, don't worry about it, there's just so much you can say about Sid. Sure, he has almost 30 points, shot 14 of 25 from the field and hit on some very crucial one's and two's, but "anyone" can do that. Austin's greatness is in his attitude, it's a cliché I know, but Tom's attitude was a difference maker in the game. Mike O'Connell as usual was the team's most valuable player. His contributions were not only on defense, but Mike was instrumental in the steal which enabled the Irish to take the game into a second overtime.

In addition to Hansen, two other Irish grapplers scored pins, Captain Keith Giron (126) nailed his Drake opponent to the mat while freshman Bob Habig (150) notched a pin against John Carroll. Tom Cucceo, Notre Dame's 118-pounder, also met with some success, winning a fourth decision match against John Carroll and returning a decision victory over Cincinnati.

The Notre Dame wrestlers, now 2-5 in dual meets, will travel to Western Michigan for their next match, this Wednesday.

Wittliff finished the season with a 4-2-1 record, and is confident the team can win the ACC title.

ND's 2-0, St. Mary's 1-0

The warm confines of the ACC ice rink was no haven for the histrionics of St. Mary's Friday night as the Irish rolled up a 10-0 rout of the Minutemen, their second straight third period barage.

Following the opening face-off, the Irish carried the play right to the St. Mary's zone with most of the game finding the Redmen defense scrambling to thwart the rushes of the Blue and Gold. The statistics told the story, as the Irish unleashed a three period barrage (30 shots to 10 shots (59 on goal) to a mere 30 by the outclassed Redmen. Of these, St. Mary's heavyweights, were both (6-2) in epee. Their offensive play, however, seemed nonexistent for the entire game.

On Saturday night, the Irish fell behind early as slip-shot from Cape Cod and John Noble gave the St. Mary's team a 2-0 lead. But the Irish fought back, only to have defense collapse as the St. Mary's team scored three times in the final period to win by a 5-2 margin.

Irish captain Phil Wittliff really got his scoring shot in gear over the weekend, as he netted seven goals of the ND total of 18.

Irish captain Phil Wittliff really got his scoring shot in gear over the weekend, as he netted seven goals of the ND total of 18.

Drake cops ND invitationals

The Drake University wrestlers, winning all three of their matches, repeated as champions of the Notre Dame Invitational Triple Dual Tournament held Saturday at the ACC. John Carroll College posted a 2-1 mark to gain the runner-up spot while Cincinnati finished in third with a 1-2 slate.

Notre Dame's six men were in three matches, and finished 3rd, although several Irish grapplers turned in fine individual performances. The four teams present wrestled one another as in a dual meet and the Irish margins of defeat were 20-17 to John Carroll, 25-11 at Cincinnati and 22-19 against Cincinnati.

Jim Hanse was Notre Dame's top individual performer in the tournament, registering three victories, two of them by virtue of pins. Hansen, wrestling in the 138 pound class, won a 9-7 decision on ride time against Drake and pinned his opponents from Cincinnati and John Carroll.

Phil Gustafson, the Irish heavyweight, was also unbeaten in the day's action, but had to settle for a pair of ties, versus Cincinnati and John Carroll, which produced a 2-1 decision win against Drake.

In addition to Hansen, two other Irish grapplers scored pins, Captain Keith Giron (126) nailed his Drake opponent to the mat while freshman Bob Habig (150) notched a pin against John Carroll. Tom Cucceo, Notre Dame's 118-pounder, also met with some success, winning a fourth decision match against John Carroll and returning a decision victory over Cincinnati.

The Notre Dame wrestlers, now 2-5 in dual meets, will travel to Western Michigan for their next match, this Wednesday.

Wittliff finished the season with a 4-2-1 record, and is confident the team can win the ACC title.

Taking an opening faceoff out of Drake, Joe Bonham, freshman Gary Little netted the third Irish goal with only seven seconds elapsed in the third period. The fans were barely settled back down when the same line clicked for a second goal at 1:27 as hot as he was the previous two. The Milkman Hinga pulled off the bench to score eight big points and garner four rebounds. The Milkman Hinga pulled off one of the game's big plays as he healed a ball and whipped it down court to Carr for two points as the halftime buzzer sounded. This was the beginning of a four point lead and some important momentum.

Sustitute guard Mike O'Connell turned in a near perfect game exactly the way he had to do and his timing in the 2nd overtime enabled him to outdo the Marquette defense, attracted a crowd and flipped to a teammate for the easy basket. Mike also fell two baskets in the overtime as well as being instrumental in the steal which enabled the Irish to take the game into a second overtime, Marquette had the ball and a two point lead. O'Connell's steal resulted in a basket and set up a roar that brought people back from the parking lot.

If you think I've left someone out, don't worry about it, there's just so much you can say about Sid. Sure, he has almost 30 points, shot 14 of 25 from the field and hit on some very crucial one's and two's, but "anyone" can do that. Austin's greatness is in his attitude, it's a cliché I know, but Tom's attitude was a difference maker in the game. Mike O'Connell as usual was the team's most valuable player. His contributions were not only on defense, but Mike was instrumental in the steal which enabled the Irish to take the game into a second overtime.

In addition to Hansen, two other Irish grapplers scored pins, Captain Keith Giron (126) nailed his Drake opponent to the mat while freshman Bob Habig (150) notched a pin against John Carroll. Tom Cucceo, Notre Dame's 118-pounder, also met with some success, winning a fourth decision match against John Carroll and returning a decision victory over Cincinnati.

The Notre Dame wrestlers, now 2-5 in dual meets, will travel to Western Michigan for their next match, this Wednesday.