Hall Judicial Boards

Important in theory, but...

by Art Ferretti

Yesterday, the OBSERVER examined the Judicial Code at a University wide level. Today, to complete the "legalistic" series, this article will concern the hall level and its judicial boards.

Most of the violations on campus occur within the jurisdiction of the hall judicial boards. If proper techniques are implemented, then, that the hall judicial boards are used a great deal as the main method for maintaining the "good order of the hall community." In most of the cases, the students involved either resolve it out of court or with the help of the hall's judicial board chairman.

OBSERVER INSIGHT

The student, as on the university level, has the choice of either going to the hall board or to the rector. If he chooses the rector and dislikes the decision, he may appeal to the Dean of Students. If the board is picked, the student may appeal to the rector.

The members of the board are picked by the hall council with "one senior university person." The number of members varies from hall to hall. As on the university level, if records are maintained at all, they are kept confidential. The members serve a term that may vary from hall to hall. Dave Tushar, the Judicial Commissioner, envisions himself and his commission a "catalyst" towards making the boards more functional. He offers "aid and assistance" to the accused in a hall trial as on the university trial. But he also concedes that many of the hall boards are non-functional.

Fr. James Riehle, C.S.C., Dean of Students, went on to say that many hall boards are not only non-functional, but failed. He claimed that the faults of the boards on the hall level was a lack of responsibility on the part of the students. If and when the boards exist, they "exist nominally," said Fr. Riehle. He cited vandalism, damage to halls, and the lack of proper proof to the halls' inability to apply sanctions properly. "Fr. Riehle, as the Dean of Students, (according to sec. 3, article a of the Judicial Code) is responsible for the observances of the judicial code procedures.

Paul Dziezic, a United Student Life Council and Fr. Riehle, said that interpretation of the clause "was an administrative task." He added that, as a former member of the SLC, he was certain of this interpretation.

Francoeur: "Test-tube babies"

by Jim Rebandt

Children with three mothers and three fathers and senior citizen polyamory were among the possibilities for the future of reproductive medicine last night by Dr. Robert Francoeur, a former priest and embryologist. The author of Hamas Sexuality and Test Tube Babies and Utopias Motherhood spoke on the nature and implications of test tube babies, artificial insemination, and the new world it creates.

"Science and technology create its own little culture," he noted and the world is now faced with a new form of society. We must respond and create a new language in order to cope with this new psychological, and emotional problems created by artificial reproduction.

He reported that today in the U.S. 1 in 200 babies are born as a result of artificial insemination and that 2 to 3 million babies have been born bypassing the normal marital intercourse.

He raised the controversy of a child having multiple parents. Would the parent be the donor of the sperm, the carrier of the zygote in the case of a substitute mother, or the social mother who "ordered the child" and "ultimately raises it." He noted that the process of cloning, the scientific reproduction of a person, ideologically, is now only 10 to 15 years away. Calling if the "ultimate perversion," Francoeur said the process could be accomplished beginning with a single skin graft of one's arm.

The next step would be to isolate those cells with various key enzymes in a special cultural medium. The cells would then be placed into an artificial womb when, after a prescribed period, a xenofusion of one would be used.

A major concern of Francoeur was the possible creation of new "ethics in family life. Various changes in the nature of married life, such as flexible monogamy and group marriages, are distinct possibilities." He concluded that we must face this new era with "the faith of Abraham." As he left his secure and comfortable home, he also must forge ahead to a better land. "If God made man in His own image and likeness, he shall share with him the burden of the propagation of the human race," Francoeur declared.

Latin-American events set

by Robert Francoeur

Dr. Richard Bohan of the St. Mary's political science department lectured Tuesday night on "The U.S. Intervention in Latin America," in a scattered audience in Carroll Hall. The lecture kicked off the activities of Spanish American Week, which will run through April 23.

Today, there will be a cultural display of Spanish American objects such as clothing, paintings, and documents. The display will be in Room 145, Regina Hall at Saint Mary's from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. and 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Friday is Hispanic-American Night, with an evening of classical music, dancing and acting beginning at 8 p.m. at the St. Mary's Little Theater.

Last night Chairman Fritz Hoefer unveiled the plans for the upcoming An Tostal Weekend, sponsored by the Hall Presidents' Council.

The weekend of April 29, 30, and May 1 will mark the fourth annual celebration of welcoming Spring to Notre Dame. An Tostal, meaning "the festival" in Gaelic, had its birthing back in the spring of 1968 and has grown steadily ever since. This legitimate son of the former Badminton Olympics was adopted and reared by the loving Hall Presidents' Council and in its four year life has developed a distinct personality of its own. Hoefer explained the weekend's composition, putting special emphasis on the necessity of signing up, which this year will take place on Saturday May 1, and will be located on the rolling lawns of Holy Cross Hall.

He added, "There is no cost to anyone who signs up. A student simply has to present his meal card in the dining hall and he will be given a ticket for the picnic. The only catch is that if you sign up for the picnic, we ask you to please eat that day at the picnic and not at the dining hall. The staff at the dining hall has been kind enough to provide food at both places, and we ask everyone's cooperation to show up in their assigned places."

An Tostal will begin on April 29 which has been dubbed "Gentle Thursday." Why it has been named "gentle" is anybody's guess, for it includes such unfriendly events as the new Moonball Contest, individuals being designated as jailbirds, a pie toss booth, the ever popular dunking booth, a floor blowing contest, as well as such placid happenings as a Irish Lunch in the dining halls, the annual ND-SMC Trivia Bowl, a Goalie Comedy, can stacking, and a local band performing on the North Quad.

Campus notables have promised to be in evidence for the Jocks vs. SMC Basketball game, in which the jocks have to wear boxing gloves while playing against the girls. The chairman said he hoped Sid Catlett and his SMC teammates might repeat last year's thrilling performance, and remarked that varsity basketball captain "Doug Gemmel has definitely agreed to field a team for the competition."

Friday of the Irish Weekend has been expanded greatly and been knighted with the title "Frivolous Friday." The frivolous events will include the second annual Kissing Marathon. "The same rules apply as last year," said Hoefer, "namely only the lips may touch and they have to touch continuously." J.T. Lyons, last year's winner with a kiss of 6 hours and 35 minutes, will be back to defend his title, except this year with a different girl.

Hoefer also explained that there will be 2 new events on Friday. The first is the Impersonation Contest in which anyone can compete for the trophy by imitating an animal or famous person. Hoefer refused comment on the rumors that many Domers are already regularly accused of acting like animals.

The other two new Friday events will be a Jeff Toss-2 people tossing jello cubes from one hand to the other's mouth at proceedingly farther distances--and the Old Tire Race, which is another two person event with everyone in the truck tire, and the other rolling it. Hoefer's committee will supply the tires. Friday is capped off always with the Irish Wake. Chairman Hoefer explained, "It is the cheapest party of the year. This year we have the South Bend Armory, and one dollar buys your bus transportation, your admission at the door, and one free beer per couple."

For those who manage to recover from the Wake, there is the usual full compliment of Saturday events coupled with the addition of a car rally in the morning, a Ben Hur type Chariot Race with halls and clubs building chariots to be pulled by four human steeds, and a Kite Flying Contest.

All of the old faithful events such as the water brigade, pie eating piano smashing, touch football, tug-o-war, cow milking, and the always popular pig chasing will definitely return. The former has been dubbed as will the free picnic by Holy Cross Hall.

To complete this staggeringly full Weekend, the An Tostal Committee and the Contemporary Arts Festival will present an outdoor concert behind Stepan Center. It will feature Segal-Schwab, an excellent Chicago blues band which already has four albums on the market.

ALL clubs and organizations have to be chartered for the 1971-1972 academic year this spring.

Please register all clubs in the 4th floor of Lafortune - the Service Commission by April 30. 4-5 PM Weekdays
Student Union Commission's roles defined

This is the second and final part of an OBSERVER INSIGHT dealing with the functions of the Student Union. Today's Insight will deal with the Social Commission's roles defined which halfs and clubs are allowed to put up concession stands during football games and one for movie dates. The commission also handles professional concessions. Specifically advertising agencies such as College Marketing commission the organization in various campaigns. The Services Commission also handles a refrigeration rental franchise on campus.

The largest part of the Commission is the Campus Press. Extensive facilities including ditto, offset, and mimeograph are located in the basement of LaFortune. Facilities are open to students at a nominal fee.

One of the newest innovations in the Commission has come in the form of the Student Union Calendar, the run on-campus mail service, and arranges student trips.

Walk-a-thon scheduled

The St. Joseph County March of Dimes will stage in its annual 26 mile "Walk a Mile for the Life of a Child" Walk-a-Thon, Saturday, April 24, in South Bend and Mishawaka.

Registration will begin at Notre Dame Stadium's Red Field West at 8:00 am and the Walk will start at 9:00 am. The walkers will start at Starkey Stadium's Red Field West through South Bend and Mishawaka and return.

The walks should get matching friends to sponsor them for a certain amount of money per mile completed. The money collected will then be used for birth defect research, patient aid, prenatal care and education in this area.

Chairman, Mrs. Marty Lentsch said, "This project is planned to involve the whole community in a fun event for a good cause to help birth defective children in our country. The Civil Defense will continue to maintain a safety report and facilities for the walkers to use. Police have promised traffic control, and donations of food, soft drinks, teen bands and prizes will be given out.

Any individual or group interested in information, walking, or sponsoring walkers should call 287-5464 or 282-1611.

From the land of British Racing Green.

Only 24 of the top racing drivers in the world are eligible to compete in all International Grand Prix. More than half of them are British.

While for many nations, racers have become a national pastime, in England it has grown into a national passion. For the English, cars are a very no-nonsense, unflinching business. In a car, they regard beauty as a function of how beautifully it functions, and nothing reflects the English character more in this regard than the classically British TR 6.

It is English to the core. In fact, it's just about all core—a big, beautifully engineered cylinder motor, powering a sturdy transmission that slides softly from one gear into another. A heavy-duty independent suspension that can take anything that any road can dish out. All tightly put together in a body with rugged, clean lines and topped off with a couple of curtains that cunningly seeks to sit in with (The only concession to excessive luxury in the car).

The classically British TR 6 is an utter contradiction—a square-jawed kind of car. The kind they don't make anymore, anywhere but England.

Refugee Aid Program (R.A.P.) has collected more than $506 to help the patients in the hospital at Quang Ngai, South Vietnam, according to an announcement made yesterday by program spokesman Don Aerni. He also revealed plans for a free rock concert Friday and a Saturday afternoon picnic.

"Easy" will play at a free concert tomorrow night from 8 o'clock to 11 o'clock on the North Quad between Zahn and Cavanaugh Halls. There will be free kool-aid, Saturday, from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. there will be a picnic in the big field in front of Madaleva Hall at Saint Mary's. Aerni invited participants in the program and everyone else interested to come and bring their own "frisbees, footballs, food, and whatever." Representatives of the R.A.P. will continue to be in the dining halls every evening, Monday thru Friday, to accept the donations from those who have saved money. Aerni said. In addition, he said that Peggy Thompson has organized a table in LeMans lobby where information about the R.A.P. may be picked up and donations may be given. Someone will be at the table from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. daily. According to Aerni, the Morrissey Hall Council has voted to sacrifice a party for the sections leaders and donate fifty dollars to the R.A.P.

A room called Teshouse Etc., has been set up by the R.A.P. in the old fieldhouse. It is in the corner nearest O'Shaughnessy Hall and the Library. It will be open nightly from eight until midnight. Aerni said that the room's purpose is to allow people to come together, talk, and "drink coffee free while giving the dime to people who really need it." Lists of alumni, along with a sample letter and several suggestions, have been distributed to representatives in all halls but Stanford Keenan and Zahm. Aerni said that everyone who requested a list should receive it by Friday. He also asked that anyone else interested in writing to alumni in their home town about the R.A.P. should call him or Frank Mihalacite at 3588. A letter explaining the program to the faculty is being written.

Sr. Marita and Rick Smith
Where the Action Is

Last Tuesday Jim Rocop, Jim Hunt and I went to Sr. Marita's Primary Day School in the Episcopal Day Center on Thomas Street. It was the first time I had ever been there and it was quite a trip. The school is on the second floor of the building and as we went up the stairs we could hear the noisy chatter of the kids, and feel, yes we could feel the life and vibration of what was happening there. Mr. Rocop told us to expect anything, since we were strangers there. And he was right. Hunt, with his camera, was the immediate center of attraction, and I, as I usually do, retreated back into a corner and watched, amazed. You can really get used to the hassle and drag of the life here and to be suddenly placed into the stormy whirlwind of all motivations. With these crazy kids, all this pure and innocent life, well, maybe not that innocent—anyway, it was really incredible.

After the tykes had been lined up and released, so to speak, Sr. Marita and I sat down and discussed both the theoretical and the practical aspects of what she is doing. I don't know who was more full of life, the forty kids or this little old man. As is evidenced in the following, the conversation wandered somewhat. But all in all, I think this was something near a peak experience.

Sister Marita has been working with children and their reading problems for eight years—five years at Marquette University and for the past three in South Bend. In Milwaukee, where she worked with children from suburban areas, she was funded by the Kettering Foundation to the tune of $100,000. She has been unable to get any grant during her stay in South Bend.

"You cannot get into the inner city public schools. This is a big problem. And this is why I started my own school. Basically, the public school system does not want the problems exposed. And the main problem is a lack of teachers, a lack of qualified teachers. The emphasis is placed on equipment, buildings and on everything else except real teaching. The children in the inner city areas are still achieving at a rate two years behind the average white children. And this is what I am trying to say does not have to exist, if we would get with it. Our best teachers are usually placed on the schools on the hill, the middle class schools.

"I have developed my own approach to teaching reading, the conceptual approach, where you build on what the child is capable of, on the theory that what the child is able to think about or to conceptualize he is able to speak about because of language and thought and they really are one. You cannot speak about something you cannot think about. We move from thinking to speaking to reading to writing. It is an integration of all four comprehension skills. We base it on not just what the child is able to think about but we build the background. I may spend two hours building concepts and talking, this is why we spend a lot of time reading to children and showing films, to build background, so that when they are talking about gulls they know what a gull is. They can go from this to reading material.

"I developed this theory over a period of about thirty five years. I have found so many children, with reading difficulties. Since we cannot attack these problems purely from a phonetic standpoint since our language is unphonetic there must be another different way. I have found that ‘See Dick, See Dick Run’ material is not a challenge to a child. It is really almost an insult to his intelligence. Many of the programs now operating to counteract the ‘See Dick Run’ approach are the look and say approach, the visual memory approach. Many of the programs now on the market are purely phonetic, but that is not the answer either. I wanted something that is tied more closely to the thinking process since many people tend to define reading as decoding or as getting meaning from the printed page, but I like to think of reading as being just defined as thinking.

"I like to think of the children as being on a stage and I am the stage manager behind the curtain. At all times I am trying to develop a sense of responsibility, a sense of self-evaluation in them, to develop their self-concept so that they really feel that they are somebody worthwhile. We do this, in the beginning, through giving them a sense of achievement, so that a child in this program does not fail. He may be very slow as far as his progress is concerned; but he will never get this sense of failure. I don't care what level he is reading. If he is continually faced with failure, he is not going to build that concept. I would say that children come from the ghetto area particularly need this type of training, because their self-concept is so low as it is. They are almost considered as nobody.

"Most of my children are seven, eight, nine years old. After they get out of here they go on to the public schools. What I am trying to show is that these children are as bright as any other child. The biggest problem I have with them is not so much discipline once they get this sense of security and achieving, but the biggest problem in the beginning is motivating them. To really get them to want to learn. They see no need for this. There are no books in the home. They have no contact with things of an educational nature. They have had very little need for knowing how to read and write. This is one of the biggest problems.

"You have to start from scratch. It is a long process, a most difficult thing. You start where you would start with a child who is two or three years old. Getting them interested in books, this is what I try to do. You have to spend a long time reading to them. They just eat it up. They have never been read to. This conceptual approach for this type of child is ideal in really motivating them. You cannot begin with any external motivation, until you have something ready to put it for them. They are not trying to rival with anyone until you can build within them a sense of wanting to learn. It is just continuous, small tasks that they do that they are achieving, having successful experiences. They begin with a self-concept faster than just having a successful experience. They begin to get this sense of wanting to learn to read. They see the need for learning to spell, they start to spell. They see the need to learn to read when they can't do this or that unless they actually know how.

"Once they achieve at a certain level they see that they can do it. I was always interested in fighting the challenge above what they can actually reach, challenging them as individuals. So many times, we would talk down to them rather than talking up to them.

"You know, no one has given me any trouble except the public school system. I would say that the biggest reason is that these children are learning, and that seems to be a threat. I don't know if you want to publicize that or not. But that's what it is.

"I'd have more kids. I could house ninety children, but I don't have enough. This is a plug for money. We live from day to day. We had $600 the first year and $6,500 last year. We've gotten more from Notre Dame than from anyone. As far as yearly expenses go, I'd like to figure on $250 per child. There have been times when I haven't had $20, when I first started. I don't make a movie picture. I pay all the time from the public library, but I don't have the projector, that's an important item as far as developing concepts goes. It is things of this type that I need. Though there is much you can get from books, you don't get much on the library. This is a very important thing. The integral part of this thing is to get a child to want to read unless he is going to have an opportunity to read. He has to be surrounded by good books.

There is here a much freer atmosphere. The children are able make their own choices, freely, to make decisions themselves. The purpose here is to help the child to mature. It is much more difficult than if you were able to spend five rows of desks. If they want to go into the library to read, they can do it. Or if they want to always have another choice, they are not forced into anything. It is more the interest of the needs of the individual child. There is no grade level. Which eliminates that threat to the child. You could do this with the public schools. We have a teacher aide for every 20 children. I'd rather have a teacher aide for every 20 children. It would cut down more than a half on the cost.

The only thing that any Notre Dame students who want to work here need is the willingness to work. Many Notre Dame students when they come like to become involved. It is no longer an experience just working with these kids. But you can't get personally involved, otherwise you just wreck the program. We need the students just to stand there and be just behind the scene.

Our whole goal up here is to exist on the verge of being chaotic. We want it as free as possible without losing chaos. Sometimes we get lost and we do have chaos. In normal circumstances, no child is allowed to budge. This is why these kids are ex-celbarn to read and he's reading everything he can to get his hands on. And Antonio the same thing. He's moved away now. This is what you hate to see.

"Well, I don't know if there is anything else. I think we have pretty well covered it. Thank you."
Blackmail at Flanner

by Bill English

The lost mailbox of Grace and Flanner halls has been found, according to Brother Damon, Postmaster of the Notre Dame Post Office. It was discovered sitting on the sidewalk between the high rise, where it is supposed to be.

Fr. Amen, rector of Flanner hall cleared up the hazy situation surrounding the post box. He said that the mailbox has disguised itself innumerable times. As a result, students have used it for their favorite spot for leap frog, a storage container for beer and beer cans, and something to take their frustrations out on. The latter is accomplished by uprooting the box from the sidewalk, which has been done on three occasions.

This past Friday night, it was made into an ink well, and a quantity of black ink was poured down the slot. The supposed ink well was investigated early Saturday morning by a postman. A number of ink-covered letters was found, and the identity of the mailbox uncovered.

Brother Meduri, the assistant postmaster, said that the only ones hurt by the mailbox's pranks were the students. When the receptacle was knocked over mailing letters was an inconvenience to the residents in that area. Due to the ink covering the letters on Saturday they had to be held at the post office to dry before being sent out. A dozen letters were returned to the senders, both of whom were totally illegible.

Brother Meduri also noted that if the mailbox continued to disguise itself, causing it to be mutilated further, it might become necessary to replace it. Those in Grace and Flanner would then have to walk farther to mail any correspondence.

Fr. Amen concluded by saying, "As Director of the Non-Violence Program, I feel that violence to the mailbox should be stopped. After all, it has feelings too."

Irish hand Valpo 4-2 setback
Horan and Schmitz lead ND to 2nd straight win

by Jim Donaldson
Observer Sports Editor

The Notre Dame baseball team was outgunned Tuesday at Valparaiso, but it came out a 4-2 winner.
The Irish, who lost a num-ber of their top hitters to the draft, will have "won" statistically, when they finished out the 4-2 victory. The win boosted the Irish won-loss mark to 7-10-0.
Ron Schmitz, the right-handed workhorse of the Irish mound crew, went the distance to chalk up his second win of the season against three defeats. Schmitz was tagged for 11 hits by the Crusaders, five coming in the middle three innings, but the senior chucker was able to hang on for the win. The Crusaders looped out on five of their hits in the first inning after the Irish scored three runs. Ron Lewis, and scored three runs in the opening frame. Notre Dame added another run until the ninth inning when they reached their score. Briege for the last two safeties and final run.
Bill Schoen opened the game by singling. Joe LaRocca, who one walk to Phil Krill and Bob Mark Böse reached the bases on a bunt. The Irish, understandable, had the Crusaders in the deep, third, third-bas-ager for the season, to give the Irish Schmitz a 3-6 lead, all he was to need.
Lewis, a freshman righty, with little speed and thrust, was out on bases and zero runs. Schmitz immediately put the Irish batters with ease, pitching hitless ball for five innings. He retired 14 men in succession during the entire game in the second inning. The Crusaders, who had given up an insurance run to the Irish.
A walk to Horan, Joe LaRocca's single and an RBI single by Schmitz brought home the last N.D. tally.
Valpo did their scoring in the fourth and fifth frames, picking up a single run in each frame. Schmitz, who handled the bases fourth, Garry Purtz doubled and scored on a single by Jeff Conner.
In the fifth, the three singles loaded the bases with nobody out but the Crusaders were able to score only one in the inning, thanks to a big play at home plate by the Irish.
Valpo second baseman Don Rice came to the plate with the sacks filled and none out and tried a suicide squeeze bunt. Rice missed contact, however, and the Irish had Jurran hung up between third and home.
Schmitz, backing up catcher Roemer at the plate, took a throw from this baseman Tim O'Connor to tag Jurran at the plate.
Mark Robbe singled in Valpo's second run of the game later in the inning but Schmitz worked out of further trouble.
Valpo threatened again in the ninth. With one out in the inning, Mark Böse reached first on an infield error and, when Steve Huber drilled his third hit of the game, Böse tried to go from first to third.
"The throw from the outfield gut by O'Connor at the hot corner but Schmitz, alertly backing up the play, was able to retrieve the ball in time to throw out Böse at third base.
That was the second out of the ninth, and Schmitz got Rice on a ground ball to end it.
The Irish time, which has spfed more time away from Notre Dame than Fr. Hesburgh, playing 16 of its first 17 games on the road, will return to Carier Field this weekend for a pair of games against powerful Ohio U. Sophomore Mickey Reddeij may get the starting nod for Friday's 3 p.m. contest while Schmitz may burst Saturday's 2 p.m. game. Ohio U. is currently sporting a 14-3 record.

Thineclads in Drake Relays

by Vic Dorr
Observer Sports Writer

Whenever the Irish football team runs through its Spring scrimmage, two things compel the attention of the fans who happen to be present. The practice game itself always holds first place, but often the spectators seem to be just as interested in who's wearing which ND coaching staff as they are watching the ND players.
And when this happens, it's usually a very good bet that Coach George Kel-ly is the man responsible. A stokey six-footer, Kelly is the Irish linebacking coach and has held that position for the past several years. This in itself is not too remarkable, but Kelly's on-the-field manner is. During the course of any scrimmage game, it's not at all unusual to see--or rather hear--Bill Schoen as he forcefully corrects one of his charges. In last Saturday's practice, for instance, one of the linebackers was unusually slow in dropping back to cover a flank area, and Kelly immediately saw the error.
"Look," he shouted, "if you've only got one ball ... and when they throw it, you'd better go after it. They're not going to throw another one." Needless to say, Kelly delivered his message, but so did everyone in the stadium.
But this is not Kelly's true nature. Off the field he is a pleasant man who obviously has only got one ball...and when he throws it, you'd better go after it. Kelly is the Irish linebacking coach and has held that position for the past several years.

"We operate around a defense philosophy, and the four-man linebacking group plays a major part in our thinking. We feel strongly about our 4-4 system, and believe that the extra linebacker (most other college teams use four) gives us added coverage against both the pass and the run.
This philosophy is worthless, though, unless there are players who are adept enough to put the ideas into practice. This season Kelly is an abundance of such players.
"We've got Patton and Thomann to start with," he said, "and their experiences are invaluable to us. Jim Miusaraca's had some experience as well, so we've got a good chance that he'll be starting for us this year. The middle linebacker position is the question mark.
We have several good contenders there--Mike Wobb, Gary Poempra, and Jim O'Malley--but it's really too early to say who'll be playing in the middle for us when the season opens.
"We are certainly deeper than we have been in the past two years, but we are sorely lacking in experience. And, like I said before, it's still a matter of judgement. We want to get our best people at each position, and they work it from there.
"When Kelly says "work it from there," he's referring to the improvements which he hopes to make in the linebackers' corps before the '71 campaign opens.
"I'm hoping that we'll have a little more speed, and that our pass coverage by linebackers will be somewhat more effective this season. We have improved our pass protection. It's a difficult thing for a linebacker to do," he admitted. "You're damned if you don't run the stop, and you're damned if you don't stop the 12-yard pass.
Although his prime concern is for the progress of the linebackers, Kelly is also in a position to observe the workings of the entire defense.
"Right now it looks like we're going to be much quicker than we were last season. The linebackers and the deep backs especially, and this is really going to help our overall performance. During our practices so far, the entire defense has looked good. The front four has been extremely good so far, and the linebackers and secondary men have also shown great improvement. What we're stressing this year is team defense, and it looks like that's just what we're going to have.
We've been fortunate in avoiding injuries this spring, except Mike to Kadosh, of course, and I don't think I can have my way that I think we'll be pretty good shape for

Executive Cabinet approved

by Missy Underman
St. Mary's Student Assembly
last night approved the nominations to six Executive Cabinet positions in the student government including that of McCandles Hall President Jane Sheehy as head of the Student Activities Commission.

Jane Sheehy

In other business, the assembly approved a proposal by Debbie Carranza to change hall election procedures. Formerly, the hall vice-president was an appointed position. The new procedure will be for the hall presidential candidate to run with a vice-presidential candidate.

The Assembly also approved the appointment of Nancy Christopher, as student government secretary; Mary Davey as student government treasurer, and Molly Kowalczyk as student assembly secretary.

"imminent danger"

Ombudsman's statement

Any student found to be an imminent danger to the University or its students will be suspended immediately, though provisionally. This suspension will result when a serious charge is made against a person by a credible source. Anyone suspended under this clause will be brought before the University Appeals Board, as soon as he wishes. Full suspension will follow in the case of a conviction of a serious violation of the University rules.

A student is a clear and present danger when he flagrantly abuses or takes advantage of another person. Chronic theft, psychopathic behavior and other dangerous misconduct are considered under this clause. The selling of drugs is likewise grounds for suspension because it involves a profit by the pusher at the psychological and physical expense of the user. A user is not considered a danger to the University in the same way the pusher is and will thus not likely be suspended.

Interpretations of this clause other than that stated above are not in keeping with the spirit of the imminent danger clause of the University Judicial Code.

Assistant Cultural Arts Commissioner

Recently, the Cultural Arts Commission was reorganized. This was done so that the arts on campus would survive and continue to grow in the years to come. The key to this new organization is people. Next year the Cultural Arts Commission will present eight programs. We need people to put these programs together imaginatively, creatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imaginatively, imag
