Apathy noted by Rodriguez

Five declare intentions for SLC presidency

With only five announced candidates for the six available positions on the Student Life Council, a lack of interest on the part of students has become increasingly evident.

The five students who have revealed their bids are: Buzz Imhoff, Badin Hall President, and Rich Urda, of Murray Hall, who are running on a joint ticket; Floyd Keolez, of Grace Tower; Gary Carpio of Lyons Hall; and T.C. Treanor of his own residence. Student members of the candidates have released statements concerning their reasons for running and goals if elected. However, it is indicated that both Buzz Imhoff and Rich Urda are candidates from the South quad "because we have such a large district to cover." He also explained that they wished "to indicate or symbolize the cooperation that we want to bring to the Student Life Council. Also, this will allow us to reach as many students as possible."

This article is part of a continuing Observer series on the Judicial code. Today Observer Executive Editor T. C. Treanor interviewed Gary McHenry, former Notre Dame Judicial Coordinator, who had a hand in the formation of the code — ed.

The controversy "imminent danger" clause of the current judicial code has "always been a part of our judicial code," according to former Notre Dame Judicial coordinator Gary McHenry.

Gary McHenry, now a law student at Notre Dame, revealed that the current code had been entirely written by University Provost Rev. T. Burtchie II using the Judicial committee. According to McHenry and Derick, Burtchell's input would do "what it can away with some of the formularies that makes the Judicial Code long and complicated."

"We are not surprised or concerned to see the outcome," Derick wrote. "From the article in the Observer, the atmosphere was informal. The administration alone decided what "imminent danger" was, the Administration used evidence of a "danger" during the Judicial Code and the Administration decided what type of council was allowed.

According to McHenry, however, the University Administration had always decided who would be on the council. He cited the case of the "Black Hand" gang suspended three years ago for an on-campus conflict.

"The University has always had the dean of students interpret the clause," McHenry explained. "The University has to do that so that they can rid the campus of psychopaths or any number of their personal connections."
Regional Pinto Project won by ND

The University of Notre Dame has won the regional award of $1,000 for the best entry in the Pinto Project for the Academic Communities sponsored by Ford Motor Company, Dr. David L. Appel, who directed the project, announced today.

The official presentation of the $1,000, made to Professor Appel, accompanied by Bob McCarthy, representing his students, on Friday, April 16 in Dearborn, Michigan by executives of Ford Motor Company.

The grant will be made to the Marketing Department of the University of Notre Dame for use in an ongoing study of additional academic activities, cooperation, and the Pinto Project for the Academic Community was sponsored by Ford with the cooperation of College Marketing Corporation.

The grant is the result of a competitive marketing plan in relation to the Notre Dame market.

The Notre Dame's entry identified the potential Pinto purchaser in the Notre Dame-St. Mary's community, analyzed his and her needs, and their demands and Ford with a complete marketing report.

To complete the project, questionnaires, concerned with discovering the students' car-buying habits, test drive reactions, media viewing and listening habits, highlighted Notre Dame's report.

Thus the students developed their own project, using their own cross-checks, happening at ND

Requirement

Dean Waldman of the College of Science today denied that the College was raising Philosophy and Theology requirements to twenty-one credit hours.

In an effort to clarify any misunderstandings concerning the Philosophy and Theology requirements for the College of Science, Dean Waldman referred to the decision of the Academic Council in 1968.

According to this decision, students entering the University in the fall of 1970 are required to take only six credit hours of Philosophy and Theology. Those students who are currently juniors and seniors are bound by the previous requirements to take twenty-one credit hours in Philosophy and Theology.

Management

The Management Club has elected its new officers for the 1971-1972 school year. Filling the post of president will be Tim Lawson, a junior from Louisville, Kentucky. Lawson presently holds the position of vice president. The new vice president will be John Phillips, a senior from Mission, Kansas. He will be succeeded by John Rodnik, a junior from Windsor, Ontario.

Crosslakes

End of page 1

St. Mary's Junior Class President Susie Way announced last night that petitions for a joint ND-SMC senior class government will be available today in the St. Mary's government office at Notre Dame. The petitions will be returned to the office on Monday.

Bishop's art

The Art Department will present Elmer Bischoff, a foremost artist of the "West Coast" school of art, as guest artist in residence for one week.

March 28, April 4, April 18, April 25

St. Mary's Junior Class President Susie Way announced last night that petitions for a joint ND-SMC senior class government will be available today in the St. Mary's government office at Notre Dame. The petitions will be returned to the office on Monday.

Bishop's art

The Art Department will present Elmer Bischoff, a foremost artist of the "West Coast" school of art, as guest artist in residence for one week.

March 28, April 4, April 18, April 25

St. Mary's Junior Class President Susie Way announced last night that petitions for a joint ND-SMC senior class government will be available today in the St. Mary's government office at Notre Dame. The petitions will be returned to the office on Monday.

Froines

Froines is the freezing of all political prisoners.

The People's Lobby is sponsoring a Froines rally April 30, which will focus on subsequent days on Churches, Congress, Selective Service, the Internal Revenue Service, HEW, and the Vietnam War.

May 1 marks the People's assembly and encampment in Washington, D.C., sponsored by the Youth Coalition.

May 2 is the date for "a mass soul rally to implement the Peace Pledge and meet the demands of the Coalition.

May 4 and 5 are earmarked for mass marches, movement non-violent direct action at the Pentagon and Justice Department.

May 3 is the date for a nationwide moratorium commemorating the killings of students at Jackson and Kent State.

ND-SMC Theatre presents

The Musical Comedy "Thoroughly Modern Millie"

Ballet

LIONEL BART

Information: 284-4176.

Advance notice MARRIAGE MARRIAGE MARRIAGE (PRE-CAN) March 26, April 2, April 16, April 25

Library Auditorium
An Tostal means "The Festival" in Gaelic and what better chance to make fest than the weekend of April 29, 30, and May 1. The Scholastic (Nay 10, 1968) considered it a "dazzling ode to sun and surf."

This year we hope that you too will agree with these learned sources after joining in the fun. The cost this year (completely unaffected by inflation) will remain the same—$0.00.

This year An Tostal will again be expanded probably due to inflation to include an Impersonation Contest, Jean-Hue Charriot Race, Old Tire Race, Moon Ball, and Kite Flying. A forthcoming booklet by Jim E. Brogan will carry a full description of An Tostal weekend. Use it for any easy reference during the weekend.

Jim E. Brogan

Kiss record on line

What follows is a poignant interview by noted campus authority Jim E. Brogan. In this interview he matches wits with the winner of last year’s An Tostal Kissing Marathon, senior J. T. Lyons III. Mr. Lyons will attempt to break his record-winning kiss of 6 hours and 35 minutes on next Friday, April 30.

Q. Is it generally taken 2 people to kiss. Who was your partner last year?

A. I can say is that her name was Peggy.

Q. Is this because you are the love them and leave them type?

A. No, actually I would rather not release her name to the public. She is rather shy, and I think I would like the public to do something that comes so naturally to her. However, I am free to say that she is a sophomore at St. Mary’s.

Q. Is it true that this mysterious blond haired, blue eyed Peggy has retired from competition and will not return to defend her title?

A. That’s right, Jim E., but she has volunteered to be a judge for the content, due to her record breaking status. And of course she is dying to participate in the rest of the An Tostal events.

Q. Does this mean that you will not be in the contest this year?

A. No, I am importing a hometown beauty especially for the Irish weekend. Her nickname is the "Fat Rabbit" and she is arriving here next Friday to help defend my title.

Q. It has been led to believe that this so called Fat Rabbit is actually your fiancée.

A. Yes we have been dating for over 5 years. Then you might refer to her as your high school coach.

Q. Yes, she has been my trainer and coach since high school. As a matter of fact we had a few training sessions during the last vacation. At Christmas we exercised under the mistletoe, and at Easter... well let’s just say that passion week speaks for itself.

Q. What is your family background like? Is your whole family as affectionate as you are?

A. Yes, we are a very close knit family. Why my father and mother stand in the kitchen kissing for half an hour every night after my father gets home from work. But my father has given all genetic credit to my mother for my kissing endurance. Her side of the family has always been affectionate.

Q. Are they “only lips my touch” kissers, as is required in the marathon rules.

A. They generally don’t follow the marathon rules, in fact sometimes there is even quite a bit of hugging. But their boys always follow the rules.

Q. How did it feel last year to be kissed for so long?

A. It was only 6 hours and 35 minutes.

Q. Did you get hungry at all?

A. No, the thought of winning was foremost in my mind. Hunger was not even present. As a golfer and a varsity leener, victory is always paramount in my mind. Kissing is no different. In fact I could have gone another 6 hours.

Q. It was reported to me that SW Texas State, as well as Eastern Washington State College and UCLA have topped your osculating record.

A. As far as I know I am the official record holder for the USA in “lips only continuous kiss” contest. At other schools as far as I know, the couples were either allowed to take breaks, or were allowed to shamelessly embrace.

Q. Then this is the Original Kissing Marathon?

A. Yes, last year it started right here at Notre Dame. After many years of being relegated to club status it was finally elevated to a varsity sport. Now many other schools have tried to follow suit. Notre Dame was definitely the trend setter.

Q. Have you been preparing for all this for your year’s competition?

A. Yes, I have been jogging down to Deeper Park late at night, as well as sealing all my letters, even my draft board, with a kiss.

Q. What is your biggest problem when in actual competition?

A. Muscle strain. The human body is not used to maintaining the same position continuously for long periods of time, and must eventually move around, even when asleep. So having to kiss in awkward positions for hours leaves one sore and completely drained of strength.

Q. What was the kissing like?

A. Actually not too bad, although our lips were quite swollen a long time afterwards. We were able to communicate in mumblies to inspire each other, and this was a great help.

Q. While kissing were you at all worried about becoming passion’s plaything?

A. No, realizing that we had to last for 6 hours, there was no room for passion. This was serious competition, and we weren’t about to allow any human weaknesses to interfere with winning. It was a challenge and we met the challenge.

Q. How does this year competition look?

A. Interest is running high. I understand that one junior who is planning on entering spent all last year studying abroad in France, so I’m sure he and many others will be ready for the marathon. Myself, I am ready to break my last year’s record.
LOSE 20 POUNDS IN TWO WEEKS!

Famous U.S. Women Ski Team Diet

During the non-winter off-season the U.S. Women's Alpine Ski Team members go on the "Skii Team" diet to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. That's right—20 pounds in 14 days! The basic diet is chemical food![...]

by Steve Kane

Student Representation on the Business College Council will begin next fall for the first time since the council was formed in 1967. Previously, only tenured faculty and administrators were eligible to sit on the body.

Beginning next fall the Business College Council will have student representation. Since the fall of 1967 when the college council came into being, only tenured faculty and administrators were eligible members. Now students can participate, and unlike the Arts and Letters College Council which already has student representatives, the B.C.C. intends to give the student members full voting privileges.

Presently the B.C.C. has seven administrators, eligible because of their office, and seven faculty members, elected by the faculty staff. According to the faculty manual, the council, "reviews the policies, practices, and procedures of the College."

No regular meetings are held, but they are called at the discretion of the dean or at the request of a council member. Topics of discussion range from deciding curriculum to class size. The council has a very small advisory capacity to the dean, who must approve all decisions.

Draft extended 2 yrs.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Armed Services Committee voted Thursday to extend draft two years and to require raising military pay to levels the Nixon administration hopes to produce a volunteer army by 1972.

The committee voted 13 to 2 to extend the Selective Service Act for two more years instead of June 30.

A proposal to limit the draft to 1970 was defeated 13 to 3 and a four year extension was defeated 10 to 6.

The Senate version also included a bonus of $3,000 to men who enlist for Army combat service—a provision that has been rejected by the House.

At least one more committee action will be necessary to vote on unfinished business—including the administration's plan to extend the draft for two years. The House bill will then go to conference. A four year extension will face a determined effort by opposition groups to defeat the President entirely or reduce the extension to the minimum time necessary.

Sr. Alma seeks top spot; sees exciting SMC future

The following is an article which was given to the Observer by Sr. Alma Peter, Acting President of St. Mary's College. It was handed to an Observer reporter by Sr. Alma in her office in A-M-S on Monday. The article, as Sr. Alma requested, is herewith reprinted in full. The use of her name is in Sister's own words.

This is a second article in regard to the search for a President for SMC. The first article last Friday contained an error. It stated that one of the first acts of Sister Alma after she was acting president last summer was the creation of a Presidential Search Committee. Sister has informed us that this committee was appointed by the Board of Trustees. She was named chairman of the committee at that time and remained chairman over the summer and into September.

When the duties of the office came to an end, she was not reappointed to the committee. She was then asked to serve as consultant to the board in future opportunities that will be given to students and to faculty.

In an interview with Sister, she expressed great disappointment over the Friday Observer article. Sister has not been contacted by the Search Committee, she said and has not been present to any meeting. Sister revealed that the Search Committee had come to her during the unification procedures and she was not interested in the search because she is "too busy and too many things happen."

The person in the position must show positive and active concern for all in the college community. Negotiations in regard to the faculty must be handled with firmness and justice for all and with professional ethics being scrupulously observed.

Sister has arranged, at the request of the Faculty Council, for a committee of faculty members from the Academic Affairs Council with the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees to come to the college.

During this search she will meet with a representative from the national office of the AUAAP in Washington to discuss faculty welfare during the unification procedure.

As for the students, Sister is meeting weekly with Kathy Barlow, Student Body President and Maureen Elliott, Student Government Commission to encourage and counsel them to merge student committees and activities and to be sure that communications and procedures between the two groups are kept clear and open.

One of the first acts of the Florida meeting was concern for unification of the Offices of Black Student Affairs and the offices of Student Affairs.

Dr. Tom Scott has been contacted at the University of Notre Dame. Father Toole has also been asked to begin closer arrangements between the Catholic Student's Union and the University.

When Sister was asked about her interest in foreign study, she replied that ever since 1958 when she had the opportunity to spend time abroad visiting institutions where the SMG girls studied, she has been interested.

She was long before Angers, or Inusband, or Tokyo, or Rome were established on the campus.

She would love to see the students be totally involved in the foreign programs. It would be a very satisfying program without too much expense because it is the students to whom the controversy involved. However, if the trustees were to ask her to remain, she would give it serious consideration. She noted that the few years are not going to be easy ones for the person guiding the unification. Sacrifices are going to have to be made by individuals and by both institutions. This was clearly in the news release which mentioned "two proud institutions uniting." Both institutions had a right to be proud of this statement. "It is pride in past accomplishments; pride in present endeavors; and pride in future opportunities that will be given to students and to faculty which could not be given by either institution alone.

Drunk drivers bring families together.

In hospital rooms and at funerals.

Because that's where the drunk driver's victims wind up.

Drunk drivers are involved in at least 25,000 deaths and 800,000 crashes every year.

And what can you do?

Remember, the drunk driver, the abusive drinker, the problem drinker needs your help.

The first thing you can do is get him off the road. For his sake and yours.

Scream Bloody Murder.
In an effort to mediate the stalemate between St. Mary's administration and the black students on that campus, the South Bend Chamber of Commerce has offered its services.

Yesterday afternoon, Dr. John J. McGivney, a representative for the civic organization, confirmed that one attempt at communication was made last Tuesday afternoon.

McGivney explained that the Chamber of Commerce called a meeting "to try and alleviate the amount of misinformation that was occurring regarding the program and problems of the black students at St. Mary's. We wanted to hear both sides.

He indicated that the only information that the Chamber of Commerce could obtain was from the South Bend Tribune.

At the meeting, both the administration and Miss Susan Jackson, president of the Associated Women Students, presented their demands. According to those in attendance, the administration cited several problems of increasing minority recruitment. These included a lack of black students compatible with St. Mary's academic requirements, financial problems, and the situation.

To investigate the increased number of minority students. So far, the only action that has been taken by St. Mary's is the hiring of a black teacher from South America, according to Miss Jackson. With the departure of Lemuil Joyner, the college's only black faculty member, the number of black faculty members at the college will remain at one.

Miss Jackson reiterated the seven demands which the ABCW presented to the administration last March. The demands which include the establishment of a black student affairs office, the hiring of two additional black faculty members and the increased black recruitment have yet to be acted on.

Miss Jackson related to the group the ABCW also presented the list to the Board of Trustees which met prior to the Florida meeting at the Black Student Union.

The board members discussed several possibilities to avert the Coed forum to discuss ND-SMC future Coed Coeducation (Censored), a forum to be held at 2:00 p.m. Sunday in front of the library, has been organized to inform the student body of what is planned for the coed future of SMC.

The program will also feature musical selections by Susie Kellow, Carol Lacey, Bita Walls and Curt Blais, Bob Muntz and Tom Rocha.

A college graduate just doesn't get the warm welcome he used to.

There's a lot of competition in the job market today. And a college degree alone just doesn't carry as much weight with some employers.

That's why Honeywell developed their Postgraduate Studies Program. A program designed exclusively for college graduates. No matter what your college major is. If you go to the library, you can qualify you'll be ready to learn computer skills from some of the world's top computer manufacturers and leading educators. Honeywell.

You'll be ready to start right off in the fastest growing industry around. An industry that doubles in size and opportunity every five years.

There still won't be any brass bands around to greet you, but you will get a warm handshake. All you have to do is mail this coupon. Or call (312) 368-0688.

ROGERS OPTICAL Complete Spectacle Service Glassing Glassing Your Doctor's RX filled

Largest selection of wires

2941 S. Michigan (next to State Theatre) 285-7889

Michael's

H I S STYLING FOR M E N:
1251 E. 61st St., Chicago, I L. 60637

APPOINTMENTS FOR TIMES

VA T E D CUTS-HAIR RESTyles

AUGER C T S-HAIR STRAIGHTENING

BIL MASQUE

Penn Central Station
April 24 9 PM

Tickets available at Art Center
102 N. Lafayette
7.00 per couple Free Parking
Informal costumes not required
Imminent Danger?

or

How to polish up the Dome after a drug raid

It is easy to understand why the Provost refused to endorse the definition of the "imminent danger" clause recently drawn up by the Student Government Ombudsman.

Such a move would have cramped Fr. Burtchaell's style and forced him to conform to some kind of standard before handing down dictums ordering students suspended.

It was good of the Provost to commend Paul Dziedzic for a good job yet at the same time refuse to do anything that would have given it validity.

The most ludicrous aspect of this entire charade is that the "imminent danger" clause, through the way it was used, benefited no one, not the students nor their professors, but the administration and certainly not the accused.

If a student, through his actions, is judged an imminent danger to the community by our august and noble administrators the Dean of Students suspends him. Yet what does the suspension entail?

In the case of the three of the four students involved in the drug case it meant a sort of life sentence.

In this way the rights of the students, especially the innocent ones, would be ample protected and they would not be forced to suffer through a period of unutterable suffering.

What purposes did their suspensions serve? All three were judged by the Provost and Dean of Students to be imminent dangers to the university community.

They of course had the option of immediate appeal. Apparently they chose the logical course of waiting until their cases were disposed of in civil court before appealing. Even after two were acquitted and the charges against the other were dropped, each was forced to appeal, though it was clearly within the Dean of Students power to lift the suspensions.

What purposes did their suspensions serve? All three were judged by the Provost and Dean of Students to be imminent dangers to the university community. Yet all three were free at the same time to perpetrate whatever harm the administration felt that the Ombudsman's definition of the imminent danger clause and re-work it to its liking.

T.C. Treanor, Executive Editor
Bruce Rieck, Business Manager

NOTRE DAME, INDIANA

NOTRE DAME, INDIANA

FOUNDED NOVEMBER 3, 1966

How to polish up the Dome after a drug raid

THE OBSERVER
Vietnam is sworn with the beleaguered bones of saints and sinners who have died under the curse of punishment. Religion is more apt to begin with an emotion of fear rather than love, and in the end, God had to punish Himself in the form of His suffering, servant Son to be crucified as a Son of man and beast...As for you, the blood will be a sign on the houses in which you abide. When I see the blood, I will pass over you; the mortal blow will not touch you, when I strike the land of Egypt.

There is a level of violence in the Biblical narrative—lamb slaughtered, children done in, and later, Christ’s blood spilt in the sacrifice of the new Passover—that makes the original video adventures of Frank Nitti seem, by contrast, as comforting as the tales of Mrs. Wiggs in her Cabbage Patch. I hadn’t realized how conducive to night-speaks in the nursery the Passion story is until Holy Thursday and Good Friday when I stood among the munchkins, with Biblical insight, explaining the Passover ritual to children whose religious nature has largely depended on the image of gentle Jesus, meek and mild.

Even for munchkins, the Passover is an event relevant to an understanding of the Last Supper. When the Lord celebrated the feast day with his friends; moreover, the sacrificial images of the Passover are frequently mentioned in the New Testament as metaphors explaining the crucifixion of Christ. The difficulty is, as the boy seems to know, that the children don’t know that the triumph of Israel involved great sorrow in the family life of Egypt. If we must mention death in the Passover, we don’t want them fearing God as a murdering bully who strikes down children and eats them in their bulrush criadles.

So, in telling the story of the Passover, I covered up for God. I speak of death not as His punishment, but as His enemy from whom He shielded the Hebrew families, saying that that bright little guy would wonder if He couldn’t have loved the Egyptian first-borns enough to save them too. As part of the visual setting of the Liturgy, we used the pathway from Genesis.

In a single file, they seem to come these days: the young men seeking a chaplain’s testimony as to their confirmation in the gentle ways of peace. Daily, letters go out to draft boards, filled with insights offered by chaps who have tried to catch glimpses of themselves in publicities and pieties of non-committed violence, and who understand the ground their commitment to pacifism on the ethic of insights offered by chaps who have tried to catch the Galilean teacher whose anger is imagined in the pas-sage of Man and beast...As for you, the blood will be a sign on the houses in which you abide. When I see the blood, I will pass over you; the mortal blow will not touch you, when I strike the land of Egypt.

Rev. Robert Griffin

THE OBSERVER

Bible and humanitarian thing

Mr. Marty Teitel spoke on the Notre Dame campus last week about the American Friends Service Committee (Quakers) and the use of medical facilities in South Vietnam. Having recently returned from Vietnam, Mr. Teitel said that one of the new Quaker rehabilitation centers in Nigeria and South Vietnam is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, Mr. Teitel spoke about the efforts to coordinate aid and gentleness on the metaphorical corner-stone of the divine Emotions. In all the stories of our religious traditions, God rarely seems to have dealt with man without inflicting cruelty, and Job as well as Jesus, is a man of sorrow. The pathway from Genesis.

Mr. Teitel is responsible for the Quakers rehabilitation centers in Nigeria and South Viet­nam. He is a member of the Medical Committee and the Friends Association for Rehabilitation in South Vietnam and is presently working in Philadelphia for the Quakers.

Q. At Quang Ngai, what is the cause of the legs and arms that require amputation.

A. The basic strategy of the US is to force the peasants into the city, where they can be controlled. In the basic strategy of guerrilla warfare, you can and you could go to Mao Tse Tung to find this, to control the peasants by controlling the countryside. The way that the Americans get the peasants to come to the cities is to forcibly evacuate them. This business of the peasants of reconquest, or what are called refugees, by forcibly taking them to the cities, or by making living impossible by declaring an area a "free fire zone" by bombing or random shelling isn’t really directed against the enemy. The actual "corridors of the VC" are behind the lines, while those in the perception of the war in Vietnam has dwindled. I think, is part and parcel of the cost of the media at­tention on these new areas. The judgement of very knowledgeable people in Vietnam is that the war in Vietnam is not as bad as it is particularly in the Northern part of Vietnam. In that area the war is continuing at the same rate as last year. Civilian casualties are continuing at a massive rate, and the winning of hearts of minds is not succeeding like people think. The problem is that nation that are concerned about the war need to maintain their vigilance about the war in Indochina, because we’re finding ourselves lulled a bit. What Nixon is doing is widening down the war. Our own program—the medical center at Quang Ngai—is suffering because those feelings of impotence and frustration into a positive and humanitarian thing. I don’t think it is a valid distinction to be made between political and humanitarian work, because political and humanitarian work complement each other. There should be an humanitarian dimension to all political work, and there will inevitably be a political dimension to humanitarian work, so that one is able to do both simultaneously.

Q. What are the financial needs of the medical aid center.

A. Well, because of the decreased American concern, and because of the economic depression, we now have a very strange situation, where we see an opportunity to bring a humanitarian program, an opportunity to help the poor and destitute of Vietnam, as a way to counter the war in Vietnam.”

Seniors

you can still donate your cap & gown money at the campus press business office next to the lafortune poolroom
Letters to the editor

Editor:
The Refugee Aid Program warrants consideration by the students, faculty and administration at this university. The humanitarian effort started by the student group has already served to highlight the hopes and suffering that takes place daily in Vietnam. It is time we all feel it is vitally important we all stop and think about the suffering around us in the world—indeed, in our own country today. I join the 600 who have signed to support the Refugee Aid Program and urge everyone to consider doing the same.

In peace and friendship,
Jane Smith

Student

Editor:
Not that it will make any difference, but I thought the "community" would be interested to know that, on the weekend before this last, a highly placed well-known faculty member was picked up by the hometown police. This person has been charged with (1) Public drunkenness, (2) Assaulting an officer, and (3) Obscene and abusive language. He was released on his own recognizance. As he has not yet been conviceted, I hesitate to use his name.

One might wonder, given the recent events of the past year, the administration against Mr. Badger, why it has done nothing against this person. Certainly, he is a clear and present danger to the present administration and to the reputation of the university, and to the reputation of scholars as a whole. In addition, he is guilty of providing a bad example to the students. It is too bad, it is too large, and of that great bugaboo of "academic freedom." One might also note that, insomuch as alcohol is a drug, he is guilty of "drug abuse.

The University could take action under a phrase in the Faculty Manual similar in vagueness and breadth to that in the Judicial Code, but will it? I submit it will not. As is well known in the Army, booze is in the opinion of the "lifers" a disease in the boney of the others. To take any action against a common drunk would be, in the last analysis, to admit the reality of some of the scenes at the "University" (actually "lifer" faculty) Club. Jesus once challenged those without sin to cast the first stone, the administrators are obeying this command. They may often have been drunk, they never have been stoned.

Sincerely,
A graduate student

Letter:
I feel obligated to correct some erroneous errors and misstatements in your article concerning the Schedule's plans for next year (14 April), and in the editorial which followed.

The article's author was not named, so it is impossible to fix any blame; however, I never "revealed" any information that I did not already report to your staff. To quote me as such is incorrect.

The magazine's budget will be less next year than it was this past year. The change is based on the existence of surplus in this year's funds, and is in no way related to the new editors' decision to go bi-weekly. The latter reflects a change in editorial and staff policy, nothing more. Further, the magazine will not "begin using cheaper paper," although it will go self-cover.

Again, these changes are born of experiments done this past year, not of any forced monetary cuts.

More disturbing is the editorial that followed. Although it was initially hastily conceived (a fact later corroborated in private by your staff), certain inaccurate and misleading statements cannot be excused: (1) the connection between editorial schedule changes and budgetary cuts would adequately provide the same number of issues as this year; (2) the budget would have more than it was this past year; (3) the term used to describe our initial reaction last fall (i.e., "dis/*") was simple melodrama; we have never cut ourselves off from the possibility of financial merger. (4) no mention was made of The Observer's verbal agreement to publish jointly this spring's Course Evaluation Book— an agreement that was broken hastily by your editor, an agreement which might have provided an initial opportunity for cooperation. Finally, the charivari character your offer was coached in may be of legitimate concern if one came from an increased student publications fee which would pay off the loan your publication took out this year to buy new equipment.

Unfortunately, these are only symbolic for two years. The Observer has been characterized by factual inaccuracies, misquotations, corrections columns that threaten to become a daily feature of the leadership apparently more committed to financial than journalistic success. The Observer's "independence" without news is too much more than financial: it has consistently failed to offer any perceptive and substantive criticisms of this University's fundamental problems, and has often served as nothing more than a bulletin board for the campus. The lack of a strong daily voice on this campus is an unfortunate situation.

Respectfully,
Steven Brion

Editor:
In your recent editorial entitled "The Worst," you saw fit to make reference to my absence from the Senate floor Sunday night. This would befit me to reply.

Let me first say that I completely agree with you in your evaluation of the action taken by the Student Senate in rejecting the bill financial appropriation and would have voted for said appropriation had I been there. This brings me to the crux of the matter. The Senate meeting in question was originally scheduled for Thursday night, April 15th. However, due to an administrative mix up a quorum was not achieved, although I did attend. At this aborted gathering I was informed that the Senate's business for Monday would consist of nominating two members to sit on the Faculty Senate, the presentation of legislation by Senator Novak of NU's jurisdiction, and the election of members to the Constitutional Review Committee. I was not informed that action was to be taken on the hall appropriation legislation which had previously lain dormant for three months since it had been proposed. When I mentioned it to several senators that I would not be on campus Sunday night I heard no objection and concluded that my presence at this meeting was not crucial. It should be pointed out that this was the first meeting that I have missed all year.

I do not know who wrote the editorial but I would imagine that the author was Mr. Stay Senator, a co-sponsor of the bill in question. If he did not write this piece I would say that he contributed heavily to its composition.

My apologies to Mr. Treanor, but I would advise him in the future that if he intends to bring a piece of major legislation which he has proposed to the floor, he could at least inform the membership of his intent. This could have been done when I saw him on the 15th. It would seem to me that his handling of this situation was not consummate with the proper way of efficiently passing legislation in light of the fact that myself, a Stay Senator, was left in the dark.

Had I known, I would have been there, even though I would have meant my sacrificing a lecture on the meaning of life at Northwestern University, given by Muhammad Ali. I am sure, that most students however, given the choice between the harrangues of Treanor and the wisdom of Ali, would surely opt for the latter.

Sincerely yours,
Robert K. Sauer
Stay Senator, 1971-72

JOIN AN EXPEDITION
The American Explorers Association is currently recruiting participants for expeditions to tropical rain forests in South America, Africa and the Far East. Positions are available for both experienced and inexperienced male and female students in the following areas: Students with interest in and/or orientation in language, engineering, archeology, art, photography, teaching and all natural sciences are of special interest.

To apply complete one page type page with at least the following information: name, address, age, phone, relevant work or recreational experience education and/or areas of special interest, dates available, names of other students with whom you wish to work, and any other pertinent information.

In May your completed resume will be included in our Directory which will be sent to over 100 affiliated organizations and institutions actively planning overseas expeditions.

A $5.00 processing fee to: American Explorers Association Box 13190 Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19101

Kindly complete and mail your resume no later than May 15, 1971.

GINGISS
Formal Wear Inc.

10 per cent off for ND & SME students

1622 Milwaukee Ave.

Chicago, Illinois 60614

Phone 287-9828

CAG'S FOLK FESTIVAL - FREE
with Chuck & Mary Perrin, Authentically Merryweather, Pat Clinton & 25 campus stars

Saturday, April 24, 7:30-5:00
outside Washington Hall

(Student ID required)

THE DRIVER'S CAR
FLAT for 71

850 Spider $2284 DOE

Standard Equip. includes:
- Dual Power Tires
- Front Disc Brakes
- Adjustable Rear Seat
- Power Windows
- Traction Control

Call Bob Sullivan For Free Demonstration Ride and Info

Bill Elsey Olds Cadillac - Elkhart, Ind.
WASHINGTON (UPI) - House Democratic leader Hale Boggs, citing a long list of alleged FBI abuses of freedom, renewed his demands for the ouster of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover yesterday and called for a top level inquiry into the agency's actions.

The Louisiana lawmaker said the '76 year old Hoover had built the FBI into a secret police force "which threatens and places in jeopardy those rights and those liberties essential to the future of our system."

FBI defenders promptly protested that Boggs, in an hour long speech to the House, had failed to substantiate his earlier charge that the FBI had tapped either his phone or those of any other House or Senate members.

"I am shocked, disgusted and nauseated by the stench of red herring in this chamber," said Rep. Lawrence J. Hogan, R. Md., who served 10 years as an FBI agent.

Insufficient Evidence

He said Boggs had failed to supply any evidence to back up the charge he first made on April 5. "I can't prove by the FBI had tapped congressional phones and other wire taps into my surveillance against members of Congress.

"I talk in a whole series of innuendos," said Hogan.

"Don't Mr. Hoover and the FBI have the right to do it? Can any member of this body come along and say, "I want to see your records?"

Another former FBI agent, Rep. Samuel L. Devine, R. Ohio, also criticized Boggs' speech, saying he dealt in "semantics, intimation and playing with words" in attempting to substantiate his own charges.

Boggs cited a long list of actions dating back many years, in which, lawmakers had, as he said, "had reason to believe that their communications were being bugged or tapped by the FBI.

He charged the FBI with harassment, intimidation, black-mail and "closer and closer surveillance of not only the deeds, but the words and thoughts" of the American people.

He said Congress had allowed the FBI to "run free of control of its presupposed masters in the Justice Department.

Now, he said, it was time for a presidential commission "to go to the core of this cancer and remove it before the poison spreads further."

Phone Tapped

His own home telephone was tapped, Boggs - implying without specifically saying that the tap was applied by the FBI.

The apparent aim of Hoover's surveillance campaign, said Boggs, was not so much to seek out evidence of FBI violations but to intimidate lawmakers into silence about their fears of growing FBI power.

He blamed Congress itself for creating this "secret police" which he said now threatens the fundamental liberties of the American people.

"We have permitted to come into being a power and a force within the government for which no one is accountable and of which no one is knowledgeable," said Boggs.

"This is a power which threaens and places in jeopardy those rights and those liberties essential to the survival of our system."

After Boggs made his first charges on the House floor April 5, they were denied by the White House, Attorney General, John N. Mitchell and the FBI itself. Moreover, many of Boggs' colleagues expressed skepticism.

Boggs told the House that it was shortly after he expressed concern over the "wire tap" against the office of speaker John W. McCormack that he learned that he himself had been under surveillance.

First, said Boggs, FBI agents came to the Capitol demanding records of his long distance calls for four years. When he refused, they said the tapes they sought from the telephone company.

Over a period of two months, at the start of the 1976 election year, Boggs said agents went down the list of those showed to have been called in his congressional district, asking if in fact on the dates specified they had received calls from the board.

Seeds of Suspicion

"As members can well imagine, the result was to sow seeds of suspicion and to create a climate of fear in my home district," he said.

"The effect on me, I readily admit, was as intended. I said nothing before this House or any other forum. The bureau had accomplished its aim of silence simply by letting me know I was under surveillance.

"Months later I learned of the tap which had been on my residence telephone. Again the result was intimidation that assured my silence."

Boggs recalled that former Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D. Tex., after criticizing the FBI, "found an electronic surveillance device" in his office intercom.

"Today, there are members of this body so imprisoned by the climate of fear that they will not use their telephones for the conduct of normal business with constituents or fellow members."

Boggs lists alleged FBI abuses

Senior Bob Mastro today announced that Notre Dame will hold its first "human chess game" on Friday and Saturday, May 7 and 8, on the field between the towers and the library. The chess game was originally conceived as a means of raising funds for the American Cancer Society.

Mastro hoped that as many clubs and organizations and self-organized teams from halls and sections as possible would participate in the tournament. As a motivation for participation there will be both prizes and the opportunity for members of the first place team to receive a polaroid color camera or its cash equivalent and each second place team member a case of beer or its cash equivalent.

The tournament, as presently planned, will be a regular elimination tournament. Each team consists of eighteen men each person representing a piece on the board with representatives designated as the movers. Identification will be provided by the tournament coordinates, Bob Mastro, Jim Potosnack, Maureen O'Grady, Beth Weiner.

The two sets of team movers will be provided with stands on adjacent sides of the field on which to keep track of moves. Rules will be given to teams upon registration as time to limits for moves and specific game rules.

There will be tournament fee of 20 cents per person in the event that a club team (s) registers, any amount over the specified entry fee will be accepted as a private donation to the American Cancer Society with suitable receipt in their name. The 30 cents player fee will go toward covering expenses of running the game. Three bands will entertain intermittently.

First and second place prizes will be presented Saturday at 5:30 p.m. under the shelter of tents in front of the Library. For information call Bob Mastro, 1981, Jim Potosnack, 1655, or Maureen O'Grady, 4285.
To be a Christian

Notice how the voice of the young had its vital importance in the recognition of Jesus as Messiah, as Christ, Master and Saviour of the world.

And it is for this reason that young people are invited to participate in the liturgical ceremony which recalls this gospel event? Yes, but not for purely ceremonial and commemorative reasons, but for a very special reason precisely for you, the young generation of today. And it is that you might make, as did those of the gospel scene, your choice. What choice? That of Christ. Listen carefully. Christ has already chosen you. You are already Christian. But what type of Christian?

To be a Christian is no small thing; it is an already past and part of the history of salvation; it is to have already a conception of the world, and of our existence, of past history and of future destinies; it is to already have a binding programme of life, that is to believe, to work, to hope, to love. And so indeed, I expect, what of Christian choice? The point is not, how do many other Christians behave, but rather each must look to himself, to his own behaviour. See, there are many different forms of behaviour among Christians, more or less compatible with respect to Christian living. Let us make a summary classification.

There is the pro-Christian, the Christian who, in his own words, “wants to do the best he can for Christ,” the Christian who is sincere, but who hardly without thinking about it, choose the zero level.

“Zero” is what we call that behaviour which gives no weight, no importance, to the Christian character. It is a behaviour in which the Christian character remains a nullity, and we can say that he is not a Christian. It is a behaviour in which the Christian character remains neutral.

What does this mean? This does not happen in the mission countries: there is a Christian in a Christian, and he has to live in a certain manner with a certain style which distinguishes him. Among us, however, it often happens that to be a Christian means nothing, zero. And so often a Christian lives in a living contrary, because he contradicts by his very own way of thinking and of living, that great 希望 of his to be a son of God, to be a brother of Christ, to be a shining light in whom burn the Holy Spirit, to be a member of the Church, a man who knows how he should live, who should go. A Christian is a logical, coherent, responsible, free, social, thinking, acting man, not for zero, indifferent, insignificant, unconscious, with his head in a sack. Are we agreed?

To be a Christian is no small thing; it is an already past and part of the history of salvation; it is to have already a conception of the world, and of our existence, of past history and of future destinies; it is to already have a binding programme of life, that is to believe, to work, to hope, to love. And so indeed, I expect, what of Christian choice? The point is not, how do many other Christians behave, but rather each must look to himself, to his own behaviour. See, there are many different forms of behaviour among Christians, more or less compatible with respect to Christian living. Let us make a summary classification.

There is the pro-Christian, the Christian who, in his own words, “wants to do the best he can for Christ,” the Christian who is sincere, but who hardly without thinking about it, choose the zero level.

“Zero” is what we call that behaviour which gives no weight, no importance, to the Christian character. It is a behaviour in which the Christian character remains a nullity, and we can say that he is not a Christian. It is a behaviour in which the Christian character remains neutral.

What does this mean? This does not happen in the mission countries: there is a Christian in a Christian, and he has to live in a certain manner with a certain style which distinguishes him. Among us, however, it often happens that to be a Christian means nothing, zero. And so often a Christian lives in a living contrary, because he contradicts by his very own way of thinking and of living, that great 希望 of his to be a son of God, to be a brother of Christ, to be a shining light in whom burn the Holy Spirit, to be a member of the Church, a man who knows how he should live, who should go. A Christian is a logical, coherent, responsible, free, social, thinking, acting man, not for zero, indifferent, insignificant, unconscious, with his head in a sack. Are we agreed?

There is also the second, which this gospel calls men of “reeds,” of the reeds which are blown by the wind. Men without their own personality, without that Christian sense of direction of which we have spoken. Men too ready to fall in with the ideas of others, ready to bow to the sway of any public opinion, falling into the interests of men, fears, men of human respects, sheep-men. Too much, indeed, is this phenomenon diffused among men. And it can be explained. They want to appear strong and independent towards the milieu which they know, the family, the society, seeing its defects and feeling respected, to be one of the chosen, of the elect. And the result is that you are not a Christian. And so I expect, what of Christian choice? The point is not, how do many other Christians behave, but rather each must look to himself, to his own behaviour. See, there are many different forms of behaviour among Christians, more or less compatible with respect to Christian living. Let us make a summary classification.

There is the pro-Christian, the Christian who, in his own words, “wants to do the best he can for Christ,” the Christian who is sincere, but who hardly without thinking about it, choose the zero level.

“Zero” is what we call that behaviour which gives no weight, no importance, to the Christian character. It is a behaviour in which the Christian character remains a nullity, and we can say that he is not a Christian. It is a behaviour in which the Christian character remains neutral.

What does this mean? This does not happen in the mission countries: there is a Christian in a Christian, and he has to live in a certain manner with a certain style which distinguishes him. Among us, however, it often happens that to be a Christian means nothing, zero. And so often a Christian lives in a living contrary, because he contradicts by his very own way of thinking and of living, that great 希望 of his to be a son of God, to be a brother of Christ, to be a shining light in whom burn the Holy Spirit, to be a member of the Church, a man who knows how he should live, who should go. A Christian is a logical, coherent, responsible, free, social, thinking, acting man, not for zero, indifferent, insignificant, unconscious, with his head in a sack. Are we agreed?

To be a Christian is no small thing; it is an already past and part of the history of salvation; it is to have already a conception of the world, and of our existence, of past history and of future destinies; it is to already have a binding programme of life, that is to believe, to work, to hope, to love. And so indeed, I expect, what of Christian choice? The point is not, how do many other Christians behave, but rather each must look to himself, to his own behaviour. See, there are many different forms of behaviour among Christians, more or less compatible with respect to Christian living. Let us make a summary classification.

There is the pro-Christian, the Christian who, in his own words, “wants to do the best he can for Christ,” the Christian who is sincere, but who hardly without thinking about it, choose the zero level.

“Zero” is what we call that behaviour which gives no weight, no importance, to the Christian character. It is a behaviour in which the Christian character remains a nullity, and we can say that he is not a Christian. It is a behaviour in which the Christian character remains neutral.

What does this mean? This does not happen in the mission countries: there is a Christian in a Christian, and he has to live in a certain manner with a certain style which distinguishes him. Among us, however, it often happens that to be a Christian means nothing, zero. And so often a Christian lives in a living contrary, because he contradicts by his very own way of thinking and of living, that great 希望 of his to be a son of God, to be a brother of Christ, to be a shining light in whom burn the Holy Spirit, to be a member of the Church, a man who knows how he should live, who should go. A Christian is a logical, coherent, responsible, free, social, thinking, acting man, not for zero, indifferent, insignificant, unconscious, with his head in a sack. Are we agreed?
DiNardo, Kos must be replaced

DiNardo, Kos must be replaced in football practices at Carter Field field. That quartet had gained into the Fall of 1924, their country. Known as the "Seven Of-The-Inaction-In-The-World-Series, and interesting as far it goes. Olympic sport. It is largely a catch-all chronicle of How—poetry in the parlor.

The dialogue will go something like this: "Well, Marty, I realize things are not as fraudulent as when announcer Marty hums. A new man has to learn his job," Moore continued. "We do the best we can to give the background needed but experience is the best teacher."

Coach Moore has been experimenting with sophomore John Rockne Slattery, quarterback at tackle last season, at the right guard spot in an attempt to find Dan Novakov, a sophomore whose experiences at the top in the center, will probably be

Notre Dame, Ind.—Notre Dame's football team, attempting to pep up a season that has produced six one-run defeats, will entertain the nation's top-ranked defense and try to notch nine, Ohio University, this afternoon.

Single games are scheduled for both Friday (3 p.m.) and Saturday (2 p.m.) and the Irish will attempt to climb near the top of the polls.

Notre Dame dropped two of three decisions at Toledo last weekend, increasing its losing streak to six, before freshman right-hander Jim Rosato (2-0) registered a 5-2 victory. The Irish were held to one hit over Valpo, on Tuesday. The Irish have a 7-10 record to date.

"We're not producing the necessary situations with situations with men on base," said Coach John Kline, who indicated that he was pleased with the pitching efforts in the past two games.

The Irish have just one regular starter, sophomore basemen Bill Scholl, hitting over .300, but veterans Phil Krill, Chuck Horan, and Bob Roemer have given indications of breaking out of hitting slumps two at a time. Kline will probably start senior right-hander Bill Schmitt and Sophomore Mike Riddell against the Bobcats. Schmitt and Hieddell have a combined 2-7 record but have shown promise in the past. The schedule is an ingredients for a great battle. The Palmer ruggers handled their team's only setback of the Fall campaign and the Irish might have nothing better than to avenge that loss.

The "B" game will begin at 1:30 and the "A" game will follow immediately thereafter.

Weekend sports action

Tennis

The Irish tennis team, which has racked up an impressive 7-1 record since returning from a Spring trip to California, faces a busy weekend.

Coach Tom Fallon's nettles will host Northern Illinois Friday at 3 p.m., then play two matches on both Saturday and Sunday.

Big Ten power Iowa will invade the country. The Irish and the Notre Dame men will wrap up their hectic weekend with a 2 p.m. match against Marquette.

SMC hoop playoffs

Led by the high scoring Bo Barrrett, the "Irish" will play the end of the SMC's Angola Hall to earn their credentials as an A-Tostal basketball game.

Playing under standard basketball rules, the girls won three games in as many days to capture their third annual A-Tostal basketball game. The winning team, comprised of Sue McGib, Bo Barrrett, Jackie Leskovisky, Claudia Gardner, and Linda Stamm, will be decided, will take on Sid Catlett, Doug VanGeldore, and John Jeffers, both teams will be decided, will take on Sid Catlett, Doug VanGeldore, and John Jeffers, the bookstore.

The SMU winning team was Beth Culligan, Tracey Bleyke, Lydia Duggar, Melinda Malcom, Dwayne Cawkwell, Mary Judah, Mantick, Marilyn Mohrman and Sheila Culligan.

THE OBSERVER

Page 11

Rugby

The Irish rugby club plays its only home match of the Spring this weekend, taking on the English and the French in a 2 p.m. contest Saturday behind Stepan Center.

Rugby

The Irish rugby club plays its only home match of the Spring this weekend, taking on the English and the French in a 2 p.m. contest Saturday behind Stepan Center.

SMC hoop playoffs

Led by the high scoring Bo Barrrett the "Irish" defeated the "Irish" in the last night of the SMC's Angola Hall to earn their credentials as an A-Tostal basketball game.

Playing under standard basketball rules, the girls won three games in as many days to capture their third annual A-Tostal basketball game. The winning team, comprised of Sue McGib, Bo Barrrett, Jackie Leskovisky, Claudia Gardner, and Linda Stamm, will be decided, will take on Sid Catlett, Doug VanGeldore, and John Jeffers, the bookstore.

The SMU winning team was Beth Culligan, Tracey Bleyke, Lydia Duggar, Melinda Malcom, Dwayne Cawkwell, Mary Judah, Mantick, Marilyn Mohrman and Sheila Culligan.
SLC hopesful open campaigns; stress cooperation and reform

Continued from page 1

prompted him to run for re-election. “If I am elected I hope to bring about some continuity to the SLC,” he explained. Keneke said that in previous years the workings of the SLC have been too “fragmented” by the influx of new members.

“With my experience I can help the students’ point of view,” Keneke explained, and added that some of his plans include taking action on judicial reform and drug policy.

Keneke is currently chairman of the steering committee which is now considering the task of reforming the SLC. He does not feel that the number of members sitting on the Council is too large; instead, he said the problem lies in the fact that “not enough homework is being done.”

Keneke summed up his position by saying that “The main reason I am running is experience. I have seen the problems of inefficiency in the Council, and the problems with the University, and I think that with my experience I could be more effective in finding solutions for both.

All of the candidates will officially begin their campaigns at a meeting this Saturday, with the deadline set at 2:00 A.M. following Wednesday. Voting will take place on Wednesday in the residence halls and office areas during the lunch and dinner hours. The election committee is asking for the aid and cooperation of the hall presidents in this matter.

At the same time on Wednesday, students will be able to vote for their class officers for the coming year. At this time, a poor turnout of candidates for class offices has been announced. Orlando Rodriguez revealed that “only about seven or eight” petitions have been picked up for class offices. The petition deadline is the same as for SLC elections.

Rodriguez stated that any questions concerning the petition should be referred to the student government secretary or a member of the election committee. The committee includes Jim Clark and Bob Sauer, as well as Rodrigue.

Three faculty members have been invited to the SLC during the past month. The ballots, which were distributed a month ago, were tabulated on April 13. The elected members are: Dr. Edward J. Cronin, General Program; Ronald R. Weeden, Chairman of the Department of Communication Arts; and Dr. John G. Borkowski, Psychology.

Housing

House full of furniture, utensils, etc. Prefer lump sum 230-260.

Need for 2 people to rent house during Spring 3 rooms, 2 full baths, 1750 S. Garfield Ave., $66. See, 289-5095.

Need roommates to share apartment with 2 grad students in Madison. Services beginning for Fall 71. Call John 332-5479.

Apartment for rent during summer months. Furnished, carpeted, fridge, painted, air conditioned, 3 bedrooms, living room, bathroom with shower, small hall, and two closets. Call 282-2280.

For rental. Summer, June, July, Aug. Newly Furnished, 1 bedroom, 1 bath, furnished, 1500 S. 7th Ave., $140 per month. Call 254-1774 after 1:30 p.m.

For rent. June 1 - Sep 1. 1 bedroom, 1 bath, furnished, 1500 S. 7th Ave., preferred location & conditions. $135 month. Call 809-8129 or 8129 after 8:00 p.m.

Hot water rent available now & at lease. 5 bedrooms, 5 full baths, completely carpeted, furnished. Owner only interested. 2 living rooms, 5 bedrooms. Call 286-5143.

For Students: Summer 125 S. Camp Ave. 4 Bedroom house all furnished, living room carpeted, utilities furnished plus washer & dryer, town car service to/from college, Close to Notre Dame. Phone 272-7198. 284-3289. Chapel for rent.

For Summer students: 309 Kady St. 6 Bedroom house all furnished, living room carpeted, utilities furnished plus washer & dryer, town car service to/from college. Close to Notre Dame, Phone 272-7198. 284-3289. Chapel for rent.

Town house for summer rental furnished, carpeted, washer & dryer, town car service. $1000 a month. Call 254-8353.

For rental. Apartment for summer only, any location convenient, between June 1st and end of August. College, hospital only. Please send in formation to Daniel Sanders, 2206 S. St. Hosein, Iowa, 50311.

HELP WANTED

Newly formed waterbed company looking for experienced technicians with a good work hour each week. be fitted easily. Job desirable.

Valleymade Design, Inc.

Lawn peak water beds division

3277 N. US 30

Philadelphia, Pa. 19104

Phone: (215) 349 8930

Earn an easy $10 an hour. Call 259 9965 after 6 p.m.

College students with car needed to demonstrate technichian photo and have equipment guaranteed $10 a week for six weeks. Call 338 working evenings S. Call technician saturate after 8:00 for appointment. Anyone interested in trying out for the Irish Guard should report to the Band Hall on 2-10 Tuesday, April 27th. Must be at least 6'2" in height. For information contact Jerry, Hogan 3131.

AUTOGRAPHIC

For sale: All Mosquito, 6 cyl. auto, trans, good condition, great "tuners" call 283-1409.

WITH 15 3 Excellent condition no-

batteries, generator, regulator, tires, air pump. Price: $495 or OBO. Call 282-2568.

AUTOGRAPHIC

For sale: 1965 Mustang, 6 cyl. auto, trans, good condition, great "tuners" call 283-1409.

1978 3 Excellent condition no-

batteries, generator, regulator, tires, air pump. Price: $495 or OBO. Call 282-2568.