Supreme Court vacancy

Nixon won't give court seat to a woman

By Fred P. Graham

Washingto, Sept 29- Nixon has decided not to send the Senate twonew nominees that had been recommended to him by agroup of five Democratic senators. Nixon said at the conclusion of the meeting that although there had been “some steady progress” at the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks, he hoped for more movement when the talks resumed in November.

UNITED NATIONS: --Canada and Iceland made it clear that they would resist proposals made by the U.S. and the United Nations. Canadian External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp told the General Assembly in strong terms that he should not be responsible for the Republic of Iceland and that made his government would oppose the move to retain a seat for national unity.

WASHINGTON: --President Nixon and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko were concerned for two hours at the White House on Monday. Nixon said at the conclusion of the meeting that although there had been “some steady progress” at the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks, he hoped for more movement when the talks resumed in November.

World Briefs

1971 New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON: --President Nixon and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko were concerned for two hours at the White House on Monday. Nixon said at the conclusion of the meeting that although there had been “some steady progress” at the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks, he hoped for more movement when the talks resumed in November.

UNITED NATIONS: --Canada and Iceland made it clear that they would resist proposals made by the U.S. and the United Nations. Canadian External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp told the General Assembly in strong terms that he should not be responsible for the Republic of Iceland and that made his government would oppose the move to retain a seat for national unity.

WASHINGTON: --President Nixon and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko were concerned for two hours at the White House on Monday. Nixon said at the conclusion of the meeting that although there had been “some steady progress” at the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks, he hoped for more movement when the talks resumed in November.

World Briefs

1971 New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON: --President Nixon and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko were concerned for two hours at the White House on Monday. Nixon said at the conclusion of the meeting that although there had been “some steady progress” at the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks, he hoped for more movement when the talks resumed in November.

UNITED NATIONS: --Canada and Iceland made it clear that they would resist proposals made by the U.S. and the United Nations. Canadian External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp told the General Assembly in strong terms that he should not be responsible for the Republic of Iceland and that made his government would oppose the move to retain a seat for national unity.

WASHINGTON: --President Nixon and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko were concerned for two hours at the White House on Monday. Nixon said at the conclusion of the meeting that although there had been “some steady progress” at the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks, he hoped for more movement when the talks resumed in November.

World Briefs

1971 New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON: --President Nixon and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko were concerned for two hours at the White House on Monday. Nixon said at the conclusion of the meeting that although there had been “some steady progress” at the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks, he hoped for more movement when the talks resumed in November.

UNITED NATIONS: --Canada and Iceland made it clear that they would resist proposals made by the U.S. and the United Nations. Canadian External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp told the General Assembly in strong terms that he should not be responsible for the Republic of Iceland and that made his government would oppose the move to retain a seat for national unity.

WASHINGTON: --President Nixon and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko were concerned for two hours at the White House on Monday. Nixon said at the conclusion of the meeting that although there had been “some steady progress” at the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks, he hoped for more movement when the talks resumed in November.

World Briefs

1971 New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON: --President Nixon and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko were concerned for two hours at the White House on Monday. Nixon said at the conclusion of the meeting that although there had been “some steady progress” at the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks, he hoped for more movement when the talks resumed in November.

UNITED NATIONS: --Canada and Iceland made it clear that they would resist proposals made by the U.S. and the United Nations. Canadian External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp told the General Assembly in strong terms that he should not be responsible for the Republic of Iceland and that made his government would oppose the move to retain a seat for national unity.

WASHINGTON: --President Nixon and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko were concerned for two hours at the White House on Monday. Nixon said at the conclusion of the meeting that although there had been “some steady progress” at the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks, he hoped for more movement when the talks resumed in November.
Township Plan criticized by stay senator Bob Sauer

The proposed township style of reorganization of student government presented Tuesday night's Senate meeting came under fire Wednesday from stay Senate Bob Sauer.

The Senate constitutional revision committee chairman criticized the plan, which would establish a seven member board of commissioners with each member representing a district, on five points:

1. According to Sauer, an elite group of policy makers rather than a representative group is fostered by the use of seven commissioners, six of which would control six policy making commissions (academic life, coeducation, human affairs, community relations and judicial.)

2. The six commissioners may not be satisfied with their commission and as a result fail to do the best possible job.

3. The board chairman, elected from and by the seven commissioners, would be equivalent to the student body president, but not representative of the student body.

4. The chairman's election would be unfair in that he could win by being known by more board members than another candidate.

5. There is no guarantee the seven could work well together.

Under the plan, presented by SMC Senator Fred Giaffreda, the chairman would be the board's official spokesperson. He will apoint all cabinet members, with the advice and consent of the entire board, and vote to resolve tie among the commissioners.

In addition to heading their committees, the other members of the board, according to the legislation, serve as student representatives to the Student Life Council, arrange elections and handle constitutional problems. Giaffreda, Senate academic commissioner and two year veteran of student government, described the township plan as an attempt to unite the Student Senate and the office of the Student Body President.

At present, according to the stay senator, the Senate only functions when it is opposed to the SBP. By uniting executive and legislative officers, Giaffreda feels there will be "effective representation" from the legislative body.

After the executive and legislative branch are merged under proposal, the result should be united with the SLC to form a new power structure in which the checks and balances system is reconized into a more centralized system of representation, Giaffreda added.

Students on SAC plan meeting

Student members of the Trustees Student Affairs Committee will meet Monday, Oct. 4 to discuss drug problems on campus and the parietal hours situation.

The body will meet at 10 a.m. to consider off-campus problems and hear a report on minority students and a preliminary report of the drug program.

Reaction to the letter of Board of Trustees Chairman Edmund Stephans letter to Student Life Council will be discussed at an afternoon session beginning at 1:30 a.m.

The SAC will meet with the hall presidents at this time. Both meetings will be in the Center for Continuing Education.

The student members are: SBP John Barkett, James O'Hara, Student Government Executive Coordinator Bob Weaver, SMC Student Affairs Commissioner Jean Seymour, and former SMC Student Government Vice President Jean Gorman.

Burthchaell on TV; talks of sanctions

(continued from Page 1)

"lounge," he said, "but I am concerned with the fact that we also have the guy who feels responsible for the way the life in the hall goes without having a group backing him up." Very few people feel responsible for the common good, the President said, but that student body should make very large claims that they do.

Fr. Burthchaell cited examples of candidates running for judicial board in a certain hall, whose campaign posters implied that they would protect the students and make sure they didn't get punished if they were elected. "Part of the responsibility of a guy in a public position is that he will protect the people from illegal actions, not allow them," Fr. Burthchaell commented.

Fr. Burthchaell said he, "had no quarrel" with the thesis that people should not be expected to enforce rules that they had no hand in making. "If people are unwilling to take on the responsibility for enforcing a rule they haven't made then the hall staff and hall personnel shall have to do it," the Provost stated. Fr. Burthchaell said he agreed with the Trustees' stand on parietals, terms the concept of having each hall set their own parietal hours "ridiculous."

The administrator claimed that it would be a real mess if Dillon shut down at oneoclock, while Alumini didn't do so. Burthchaell appeared on the six and ten o'clock new on WNDU-TV and was interviewed after his 11 p.m. Mass in Dillon.

On television he said that he believed that sanctions were necessary to maintain student behavior on campus. He termed the sanctions that were devised by the adhoc committee as "sometimes ludicrous."

Administrators and hall personnel felt some of the penalties were too light, the Provost claimed. He later admitted that he was "assuming this was the case."

Burthchaell said though, that any sanctions that are devised, "must be serious if we consider the rules serious."

For All Those Interested in Working at Sister Marita's School;

First meeting of the year

Thursday
Room 114 O'Shag 7 p.m.
Canada voices support of Peking

By Edwin L. Dale Jr.

1971 New York Times

Washington Sept. 29—President Nixon that is expected today to be "encouraged" by progress being made at the annual meeting of the International Monetary Fund toward eventual adoption of a new set of exchange rates and reform of the system.

There was a rising chorus of anguish from the less developed countries who objected not only to the sharp rise in the current currency exchange rates, but also that they were not allowed any significant role in decision-making. A group of well-known Americans, including former Secretary of the Treasury Henry F. Fowler and William McChesney Martin, former Chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, issued a statement saying that the "first requirement in resolving the present monetary difficulties is to assure that any new set of exchange rates that may be established be realistic."

The statement, issued by the United States Branch of the Atlantic Council, said "token measures will not do." But the group said that as part of the process of negotiation the U.S. "should remove the 19 per cent import surcharge as soon as possible."

Nixon is encouraged by monetary progress

The crisis has been eased by the announced admission of Peking to the General Assembly that it should last year.

By E dw in i  L. D ale J r.

THE OBSERVER

Page 3

Friday Oct. 1 is final date.

Albanian Resolution providing for the admission of Peking and the expulsion of Taiwan.

Last year’s important Question Resolution applied to the issue of China’s representation as a whole. This year, at the request of the United Nations, the Important-Question clause, and therefore the requirement of a two-thirds majority, was dropped. Last year’s admission of Iceland and East Germany, that both countries state their government as the sole Chinese representative.

The China issue remained uppermost in delegates’ minds today as the Assembly went through the third day of its three-week-long general debate during which time the 130 member countries state their government’s basic policies. Members of both camps are monitoring each address carefully for clues to the outcome of the vote.

The crisis is widely accepted that the U.S. is fighting a tough uphill battle in its effort to save Taiwan’s seat while getting Peking admitted to the Security Council.

At least eight countries which supported the American-sponsored Important-Question Resolution last year have declared during the last 10 days that they want to see Peking admitted immediately with full rights. They are: Britain, Canada, Ecuador, Indonesia, Italy, Rwanda and Turkey.

If their statements mean, as is widely assumed, that they will vote against the new American-sponsored Important-Question Resolution, this resolution seems doomed. Last year’s Important-Question Resolution was adopted by 66 to 52. An eight-vote switch would mean its defeat, 60 to 56. One of the factors that makes it impossible to predict the outcome is that the U.S. and the Taipeii and Peking governments are waging an important part of their campaigns in capitals around the world, it often takes time for the results of those efforts to be reflected here.

Broestl outlines program in Mexico City and Tokyo

by Jodi Campbell

The criteria for acceptance into the foreign studies programs in Mexico City and Tokyo are the same as those for the European programs, Fr. L. Broestl reported in a telephone interview today.

These students must maintain an average grade of B- or better in their specific language. Qualified candidates will be selected in January by a committee consisting of language teachers and freshmen advisors.

"While the number of students in these two programs is small, there are no less enthusiastic," he stated.

At the present time there are fourteen students in Tokyo and seven in Mexico City as compared to approximately 6 in both the Angers France and Innsbruck, Austria programs. There are nine applicants for next year’s Japanese program and twenty-five for the Mexican program.

Classes are conducted in the students’ dormitories, and in the native language except in Japan where only the language classes are in Japanese.

Like the European study programs most of the participants are from the College of Arts and Letters.

Cultural Arts Commission Re Sophomore Literary Festival

There will be a meeting for all St. Mary’s and Notre Dame students who are interested in working for the Sophomore Literary Festival on Sunday Oct. 3rd, 7:30 p.m. in the C.A.C. office on the 4th floor (Room 4-c).

Those wishing to attend are urged to contact Roy Unk (phone 737) before the meeting on Sunday.
Back to Daddy

"Education is not the process of teaching men what they do not know. Rather, it is the process of teaching men to behave in a way they would not ... What help is our education, if arithmetic is turned to rogurey, literature to lust..."

Supplement to the University of Notre Dame Academic Guide, for the School Year 1962-3.

Pretty potent stuff, for only nine years ago. But similar fluids course through the veins of other handbooks, too. The 1962-64 student guide says "The true Notre Dame student observes the ordinary rules of good taste while visiting in The Morris Inn or any other hotel or restaurant in the city," with all the ensuing implications of what would happen to a Notre Dame Student who did not observe these "ordinary" rules. Likewise it said that "The Notre Dame Student clearly sees that it is not fitting to entertain young ladies in a men's residence hall. Neither does the visitor nor the hall residents would be at perfect ease. Student government was conceived as an "educational medium for educating students to govern themselves." The hall autonomy section said "Each rector will promulgate regulations proper to his hall and binding on the residents of that hall."

"Water indeed if he contends that he, or the Dean of Students, or any single administration member is more qualified to pass judgement on students than a student himself. And the highest student-membered board is the SLC, which has only recently been able to handle enough responsibility to accurately try them. The Board of Trustees is itself studentless, and the rest of his ideas seem to be badly burdened by his first assumption, Father Burtchaell's."

"But the real problem seems to be an inability on the part of Fr. Burtchaell to comport his ideas with the real word "responsibility". To be "responsible" does not mean to behave in a manner preordained by the Board of Trustees. It means to be free men, fully aware of the consequences of their every action and fully willing to take on those consequences."

The cast:
L. Emmet Ballantine: (his name was O'Paul, he called himself Saul, and the colonel's) military career man office in building 5 of a middle sized midwestern university.
Chorus: (Name classified) military career man office in building 5 of a middle sized midwestern university.

Scene: Mary, 1971 - exam week at the colonel's school

Chorus: Well, Larry, how's the rotcy course you took to show them they couldn't stop you.

Chorus: (Name classified) military career man office in building 5 of a middle sized midwestern university.

Chorus: (Name classified) military career man office in building 5 of a middle sized midwestern university.

Chorus: Too bad, Larry. Its only castles burning.

Chorus: But, dammit, Chorus, castles are important.

Act II

Scene: Sept. 1971 LEB is far away but the smoke of putrid mortar and drawbridges burning can be smelt faintly in the breeze from building 5. Chorus: We would have liked to help Larry. We even tried to sign up for AS11 to prove they couldn't do it to us but they are pretty clever. For the first time in history there was a little checkmark after the course title just like the one they had before. How's but it colonel: what's happening?

Chorus: Colonel: I'm sure that could be arranged. We had a couple of girls...

Chorus: Colonel: Of course, we encourage civilians to enroll. Why, you want to join?

Chorus: Colonel: I'm sure that could be arranged. We had a couple of girls...

Chorus: Colonel: Oh, is that still in there? I thought they corrected that mistake before they printed the book.

Chorus: You mean we could have taken a rotcy course after all?

Chorus: Colonel: Of course, we encourage civilians to enroll. Why, you want to join?

Chorus: No, but we wanted to take a course.

Chorus: Colonel: I'm sure that could be arranged. We had a couple of girls signed up for it but they bopped out- I mean chopped out- on us. We had to settle for two freshmen civies.

Chorus: You mean all the others are in rotcy?

Chorus: Colonel: I'm sure that could be arranged. We had a couple of girls signed up for it but they bopped out- I mean chopped out- on us. We had to settle for two freshmen civies.

Chorus: You mean all the others are in rotcy?

Chorus: Colonel: I'm sure that could be arranged. We had a couple of girls signed up for it but they bopped out- I mean chopped out- on us. We had to settle for two freshmen civies.
Somehow the “quiet” of Notre Dame’s campus except for the “politics of Paul Newman” was improved by this past weekend’s “Strawberry Statement” and “Cool Hand Luke.” The latter is the far better film, there seemed to be a minute Commencement Address delivered during the one scene which makes the viewing of “Strawberry Statement” worthwhile.

At Notre Dame some of the audiences’ reactions were reminiscent of the disbelief in “Strawberry Statement’s” portent of an学院 that would resort to violence and brutality when they attempted to end the non-violent takeover of the student’s union. The aura of that violence and brutality in “Strawberry Statement” and “Cool Hand Luke” on the other hand was one of silence, an ambiguous silence. The ambiguity is enhanced by the use of Neil Young’s interpretation. Perhaps with the tragedy of Attica and the films seen in the viewers minds, “Cool Hand Luke” took on a significance beyond Paul Newman.

Violence can gain immediate results as Hannah Arendt in her book, On Violence points out. The campus unrest and the Rolfe demonstrator murder event has blemished the reputation of Notre Dame in the eyes of the public and of the students who have been engaged in the student strikes over the past month.

The film violence can be solved by some American deep that problems can be solved only through the use of violence - or are we reducing the power of the human spirit in collective protest? And in cases where we express doubt, are we increasing the myth by persuading ourselves of the “necessity” of violence? Violence is the maintenance of order and in cases where we express doubt, are we perceiving the myth by standing in the midst of the battle and in the midst of the conflict for the benefit of the doubt to the existing powers - are we reducing the myth by standing by the poor and oppressed who attempt to achieve some solution to our problems.

Basically there were two Atticas: first, the prisoners non violent take-over of the law forces in prison reform. The target prison closest to the college campus that is under trial will include Jane Kennedy and Egbal Ahmed. Some Notre Dame students, for example, a group of them who had been called “prisoners of conscience” and students who have been tried for rioting are facing prison terms. If anyone needs a ride or can provide transportation, please let me know. My number is 0116-859-235/ 0116-859-23/13.

The campus is still the heart of the movement and is the place where most of our friends are now in prison. Our friends in prison do not go to prison in order to reform them, but went to prison as an act of resistance against the war. If our friends refuse to have their wills broken in prison, the fate of Cool Hand Luke is a real possibility for them. If their wills can be broken, the existing authorities have once again succeeded in crushing the human spirit. May we free our friends from the prison cell and not be deterred in our present dormant peace movement.

For immediate action, there are national-wide campaigns to change the prison reform. The target prison closest to the college campus that is under trial will include Jane Kennedy and Egbal Ahmed. Some Notre Dame students, for example, a group of them who had been called “prisoners of conscience” and students who have been tried for rioting are facing prison terms. If anyone needs a ride or can provide transportation, please let me know. My number is 0116-859-235/0116-859-23/13.

The campus is still the heart of the movement and is the place where most of our friends are now in prison. Our friends in prison do not go to prison in order to reform them, but went to prison as an act of resistance against the war. If our friends refuse to have their wills broken in prison, the fate of Cool Hand Luke is a real possibility for them. If their wills can be broken, the existing authorities have once again succeeded in crushing the human spirit. May we free our friends from the prison cell and not be deterred in our present dormant peace movement.

For immediate action, there are national-wide campaigns to change the prison reform. The target prison closest to the college campus that is under trial will include Jane Kennedy and Egbal Ahmed. Some Notre Dame students, for example, a group of them who had been called “prisoners of conscience” and students who have been tried for rioting are facing prison terms.
Co-Ed Commission includes capable students

by Maria Gallagher and Mike O'Hare

Since its creation last spring, the Coeducation Committee has been striving to insure that the merger of Notre Dame and St Mary's is responsive to the needs of the student body.

Appointed by University President Theodore M. Hesburgh, Bill Wilka and Jane Sheehy constitute what is officially termed the Student Affairs Institute team. Their purpose as seen by Wilka is "to help formulate and recommit structures that will affect student life after the merger."

NOTRE DAME-SAINT MARY'S SHUTTLE BUS SCHEDULE (Revised)

local service

Academic hours: Monday through Friday (8:05 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.)

Locals will depart simultaneously from each campus at the following times (except where indicated).

MWF TT

A.M. 8:05 8:25
8:30 8:50
8:45 9:05
9:30 9:50
10:00
10:15
10:30
10:45
11:00
11:15
11:30
11:45
12:00
12:15
12:30
12:45
1:00
1:15
1:30
1:45
2:00
2:15
2:30
2:45
3:00
3:15
3:30
3:45
4:00
4:15
4:30
4:45
5:00
5:15
5:30

P.M. 12:00

12:20
12:40
1:00
1:20
1:40
2:00
2:20
2:40
3:00
3:20
3:40
4:00
4:20
4:40
5:00
5:20
5:40
6:00

Shuttle Service During Non-Academic Hours

Beginning at 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and all day Saturday and Sunday a 10 cent fee will be charged. The operation of these "free" buses will be as follows:

Monday through Friday - 6:00 p.m. to 3:30 a.m.
Saturday - 12:00 noon to 3:30 a.m.
Sunday - 12:00 noon to 12:30 a.m.

EXACT FARES ONLY WILL BE ACCEPTED

Express service provides a reliable transportation to opposite campus in the 15 minutes between classes.

These buses will depart from each campus every 3 minutes after the end of class hour. The following are the times for the non-stop hours.

Monday through Friday:

MWF TT

7:45 a.m. 7:45 a.m.
8:00 8:45 a.m.
8:30 9:30 a.m.
8:30 9:30 a.m.
9:00 9:45 a.m.
9:30 10:30 a.m.
10:00 10:45 a.m.
10:30 11:30 a.m.
11:00 11:45 a.m.
11:30 12:30 noon
12:00 12:45 noon
12:30 1:30 p.m.
1:00 1:45 p.m.
1:30 2:30 p.m.
2:00 2:45 p.m.
2:30 3:30 p.m.
3:00 3:45 p.m.
3:30 4:30 p.m.
4:00 4:45 p.m.
4:30 5:30 p.m.
5:00 6:00 p.m.
5:30 6:30 p.m.

Saturday and Sunday:

7:45 a.m. 7:45 a.m.
8:00 8:45 a.m.
8:30 9:30 a.m.
9:00 9:45 a.m.
9:30 10:30 a.m.
10:00 10:45 a.m.
10:30 11:30 a.m.
11:00 11:45 a.m.
11:30 12:30 noon
12:00 12:45 noon
12:30 1:30 p.m.
1:00 1:45 p.m.
1:30 2:30 p.m.
2:00 2:45 p.m.
2:30 3:30 p.m.
3:00 3:45 p.m.
3:30 4:30 p.m.
4:00 4:45 p.m.
4:30 5:30 p.m.
5:00 6:00 p.m.
5:30 6:30 p.m.

The guaranteed annual income is a major job security item for the union, particularly for its Manhattan locals, which have lost a sizable amount of work from containerized installations in Staten Island and New Jersey.

The guaranteed annual income is supposed to protect dockworkers from the job attrition implicit in the spread of the new technology. But management contends that abuses—outright fraud in some cases—dockworkers turning down jobs for which they are qualified in other cases—have made the contract prohibitive.

Dickman said today that the employers were willing to continue the guaranteed annual income through the end of the contract on its present basis, but only if the union agreed to a series of enforcement changes that would require longshoremen to report for work whenever a job was offered to them.

"There are shortages of longshoremen in some parts of the port," Dickman said. "We don't have enough people, yet we have to pay some of these people for not working."

LONGSHOREMAN STRIKE SET FOR THIS FRIDAY

New York—The International Longshoremen's Association and Stevedore interests here appear to be headed on a collision course that could result in an unprecedented shut down of every deep water port in the nation when the union's contract with the New York Shipping Association expires at midnight Thursday.

Thomas W. Gleason, head of the I.L.A., emerged from a meeting with the union's executive committee today to declare that dockworkers would continue moving cargo through the end of the contract and the presidential wage freeze only if the terms of the agreement "remain unchanged."

Every I.L.A. contract runs since the end of World War II has resulted in a strike. Gleason carefully left the door open for further talks with management tomorrow, but James J. Dickman, president of the New York Shipping Association— which represents direct employers of dockside labor here—did not hold out much hope. "You can pray for an eleventh hour miracle," he said, "but don't hold your breath."

Past I.L.A. strikes have affected a sizable portion of America's foreign trade. Its jurisdiction covers ports from Maine to Texas.

Administration economists are doubly concerned about the possibility of an I.L.A. strike this week, however, because it would tie in with a labor dispute including the unrelated International Longshoremen's Warehousemen's Union that has kept west coast ports closed down for the last 96 days.

President Nixon said last Sunday that he would "automatically invoke" the 80-day cooling off period of the Taft-Hartley Act if the I.L.A. goes out while the West Coast longshoremen are still on strike—"because then the damage is going to be very great."

Though Gleason has not explicitly said of labor experts here believe the application of the Taft-Hartley Act is part of his strategy.

"The prime issue in the current impasse—one that developed in the very first bargaining session between the union and employers last month—is whether the guaranteed annual income will carry over in its present form through expiration of the current contract and the end of the wage freeze on Nov. 13.

Under the guaranteed annual income, eligible longshoremen are entitled to 2,680 hours pay a year (40 hours a week, 52 weeks a year) whether there is work available for them or not.

The guaranteed annual income is a major job security item for the union, particularly for its Manhattan locals, which have lost a sizable amount of work from containerized installations in Staten Island and New Jersey.

The guaranteed annual income is supposed to protect dockworkers from the job attrition implicit in the spread of the new technology. But management contends that abuses—outright fraud in some cases—dockworkers turning down jobs for which they are qualified in other cases—have made the contract prohibitive.

Dickman said today that the employers were willing to continue the guaranteed annual income through the end of the contract on its present basis, but only if the union agreed to a series of enforcement changes that would require longshoremen to report for work whenever a job was offered to them.

"There are shortages of longshoremen in some parts of the port," Dickman said. "We don't have enough people, yet we have to pay some of these people for not working."

Football Ticket Sale

Sunday, Oct. 3 7-9
Monday, Oct. 4 7-9
Fiesta Lounge of LaFortune
Tickets: $8.00 each
limit of 2 tickets per ID
limit of one ID per person
payable only by check
made out to
Student Government Fund

Homecoming

Oct. 16

First comes, first serves

Tickets: $8.00 each
limit of 2 tickets per ID
limit of one ID per person
payable only by check
made out to
Student Government Fund
by "Lefty" Ruschmann

Lurking outside the office window of Alex Wilson, track coach for all seasons, is the stark brick work of Notre Dame part of a family. There is no peering through the windows, no sisters here. Even so, it is hard to gain recognition during the season when the Irish have a family get-togethers on Saturdays.

Recognition or not, the Notre Dame programs have taken the midpoint of preparation for the season's important meets, and most of the track talent is taken place in dual meets and small multi-team events which allow the coach to evaluate and develop his talent. In two weekend meets, the Irish have displayed a large array of talent! In a quite normal season, a dual meet was up second to Miami of Ohio, developing Illinois State and Northwestern, and last week, and Mike Pavlin's charges defeated a visiting Indiana State squad, 36-3, in the season's first dual meet. Coach Wilson's verdict was, "This was a much improved team over last year. We weren't hurt too badly through graduation, and we have some fine freshmen with us."

Another barrier standouts include team captain, senior Patrick Ryan, and Dave Bell, whose 34-51 time paced the Irish charge, and seniors Gene Mariner, juniors Dan Dunne and Jeff Eichner, and sophomore Marty Hill and George Christopher.

After Notre Dame had bagged three of the top four positions in dual meets, Coach Wilson remarked, "That meet showed him the depth of our talent. We have five men who have run between 20 and 25 seconds to 100. Testing the Irish squad in the weeks ahead will be dual meets against highly-regarded Indiana and Michigan State, a bag of students and ex-students from the Chicago Track Club. This is the kind of challenge, explaining that "I know this is the only way to become better ourselves. These dual meets tend to be the ones that will make the Irish State Championship.

Our next meet will be the fourth place in a field of 29 teams, but Coach Wilson anticipates a much stronger showing this time around. "Had we run this year's times (against Indiana State) in our regional, we would have taken second place." A win is not as out of the question for the Irish this year.

Wilson tagged his men with this description: "a young team, but nevertheless, both strong and experienced." Experience? Didn't the Irish coach think it was better to measure track success in "weeks" nowadays? You can't quite stack up his coach in the classroom, of course, but the Irish have been around for forty years, 22 of them here at Notre Dame, guiding the fortunes of track teams.

Kevin Hardy is living proof of the adage that the football player takes fun from playing. He has not had a lot of fun around the National Football League like a goal-line fumble in the mud. The San Diego Chargers fell on him last. Four other teams had mememorized possession of him. He has been in the football team's room tonight, has spent three years in the league without, so to speak, getting his letter. He has injured himself in every conceivable way, including falling off of a hospital bed. The medical staff have put him back together again, but offer to move the practices to his room to get him into helmet and pads.

He was so green that the first time the staff saw the football field, they wondered what he had done with Laurel. But by his sophomore season last fall, he was using to be used mainly to carry Ara Parseghian off his shoulders after a game, but he improved enough to make the NEA third team American in his sophomore year.

A disc operation short-circuited his junior year, but not before he had played against Purdue, and in the NCAA awards his sophomore year of eligibility on the basis of paucity of play in 1965. Kevin ultimately played against Purdue four straight years. "They thought I was on the faculty," he said.

In his senior year, a crack block tore his ankle, and he also suffered a back injury. At the same time, the NFL has been trying to be used mainly to carry Ara Parseghian off his shoulders after a game, but he improved enough to make the NEA third team American in his sophomore year.

A disc operation short-circuited his junior year, but not before he had played against Purdue, and in the NCAA awards his sophomore year of eligibility on the basis of paucity of play in 1965. Kevin ultimately played against Purdue four straight years. "They thought I was on the faculty," he said.

In his senior year, a crack block tore his ankle, and he also suffered a back injury. At the same time, the NFL has been trying to be used mainly to carry Ara Parseghian off his shoulders after a game, but he improved enough to make the NEA third team American in his sophomore year.

A disc operation short-circuited his junior year, but not before he had played against Purdue, and in the NCAA awards his sophomore year of eligibility on the basis of paucity of play in 1965. Kevin ultimately played against Purdue four straight years. "They thought I was on the faculty," he said.

In his senior year, a crack block tore his ankle, and he also suffered a back injury. At the same time, the NFL has been trying to be used mainly to carry Ara Parseghian off his shoulders after a game, but he improved enough to make the NEA third team American in his sophomore year.

A disc operation short-circuited his junior year, but not before he had played against Purdue, and in the NCAA awards his sophomore year of eligibility on the basis of paucity of play in 1965. Kevin ultimately played against Purdue four straight years. "They thought I was on the faculty," he said.

In his senior year, a crack block tore his ankle, and he also suffered a back injury. At the same time, the NFL has been trying to be used mainly to carry Ara Parseghian off his shoulders after a game, but he improved enough to make the NEA third team American in his sophomore year.

A disc operation short-circuited his junior year, but not before he had played against Purdue, and in the NCAA awards his sophomore year of eligibility on the basis of paucity of play in 1965. Kevin ultimately played against Purdue four straight years. "They thought I was on the faculty," he said.

In his senior year, a crack block tore his ankle, and he also suffered a back injury. At the same time, the NFL has been trying to be used mainly to carry Ara Parseghian off his shoulders after a game, but he improved enough to make the NEA third team American in his sophomore year.
LETTERS

a challenge

Editor:

We, the undersigned issue a challenge to the Dean of Students, The University of Notre Dame, and the campus security patrol.

On Monday September 20, the Observer published an article claiming that the preceding weekend had seen no major violations of the Trustees new discipline for those who stick parking areas. This is the great Notre Dame tradition.

The reason? Notre Dame tradition. The non-students were Alumni and "friends of Notre Dame", and a few parents who were likely enough to be granted football tickets. Despite University regulations concerning public drinking, the University makes no attempt to change this standard Notre Dame tradition.

By the end of the day beer cans are strewn all over campus, and overly exuberant Fighting Irish are strewn over various parking areas. This is the great Notre Dame tradition.

Steve Flavin

Saturday had seen no major violations of the Trustees new discipline for those who stick parking areas. This is the great Notre Dame tradition.

The violations of the Trustees new discipline for those who stick parking areas. This is the great Notre Dame tradition.

HIDAWAY LOUNGE
122 W First Street
Downtown Mishawaka, Ind.

For Your Dancing & Entertainment
We Present The Fabulous

LITTLE EVERETT & THE ESPIONAGE

Mon., Tues., & Thurs. No charge
Wed.-Ladies night - Ladies free, guys $1.00
2 drawings every set for free champagne
Thurs. - Beer night - all beer 60'
Friday & Saturday $1.00 covercharge

OPEN DAILY 8 pm till 3 am

YOUR HOSTS: JIM RUSSELL & MAYNARD JOHNSON

SATURDAY, OCT 2
8:30 P.M. in the ACC
Tickets $4, $3, $2
The Student Union Ticket Office and Dining Halls starting Monday

Presented by Student Union Social Commission and ACC

1971, all rights reserved