Nine-man board may run ND, St. Mary's

THE OBSERVER
Serving the Notre Dame - St. Mary's Community
Monday, October 18, 1971

If new plan passes

Nine-man board may run ND, St. Mary's
Student Government

The Constitutional Revision Committee will recommend the creation of a nine-man board to run the combined ND-SMC student governments, Chairman Ed Ellis revealed last night. Under the plan, the new body would replace both ND's student senate and SMC's assembly.

The plan, drawn up by Ellis, Hall Life Commissioner Bob Higgins, and Academic Commissioner Fred Giuffrida, would divide the merged campus into six districts. The board would be composed of a representative or "commissioner" from each district, the Chairman of the Hall Presidents' Council, and the Student Body President, and Vice-President, both of whom would be elected as they currently are.

Under the plan, the Board would be the sole student legislative body. Minus the SBVP, it would serve on the SLC as student representatives. Each district commission would determine the policy of one cabinet position in student government.

The Constitutional Revision Committee is currently split into six subcommittees, each one concerned with drawing up a different section of the plan. The new constitution will contain changes in the composition and roles of the Judicial Council, Student Union, and Hall Life Commission. The system Ellis Hopes will go into effect on April 1.

Ellis feels that this system will be far superior to the current one. According to Ellis, "the new system will take the 30 man Senate, the 6 SLC members and the 10 cabinet members and compress them into a more efficient group. It will also place the HPC chairman on the Board of Commissioners and the SLC. This will allow the various views of hall life to have a direct voice in all decisions."

The new constitution must be ratified by the upcoming April 1 meeting of the Board of Trustees on October 18.

Blantz attacks hall autonomy

SLC members analyze new hall life rules

By Daniel P. Rock

Four members of the Student Life Council endorsed the resolutions passed last Thursday night but a fifth, Rev. Thomas Blantz, an Administrative representative, attacked the concept of hall autonomy and expressed grave reservations about the bill as a whole.

"I voted against the Resolution by the Hall Life Committee because ... I was opposed to the substance of them," said Blantz, Student Affairs Vice President.

The other four members last night, "the method in which they were submitted and passed."

Hall Life Committee Chairman Buzz Imhoff, Hall Life Committee members Prof. Peter Thorton and Rev. Thomas Chambers, and Student Body President John Barkett agreed that the SLC is moving in the "right direction."

"The SLC is a workable force," Imhoff. "This is by far the most functional made by the SLC regarding parietals and since it has been so thought out it shows where the student body stands."

Proposals from the HLC

1. Accepted by the SLC - established University sanctions against tardiness, assault, and sale and distribution of drugs. Recommended sanctions against minor alcohol sales and parietals be established by the Board of Trustees in response to the SLC.

2. Rejected by the SLC - established the hall judicial boards as the courts which would initiate the trials of the violators of University rules.

3. Accepted by the SLC - would have halls establish their own rules pertaining to the "good order of the hall," including parietal rules.

The four assenting members agreed that hall life has changed in recent years and for the better.

"The systems of the Hall Councils, Resident Assistants and Section Leaders have brought the students closer together," said Chambers. "The students have the greatest respect for the resident assistants and the resident assistants have been very effective in maintaining good discipline.

Blantz, however, expressed deep concern over the resolutions.

"These two resolutions entail a very fundamental change in the University's Disciplinary Code. This Code was the result of long weeks of study and discussion and yet Thursday night the SLC voted a major revision of the Code after discussion of a little over an hour."

The second proposal of the Hall Life Committee was not accepted by the SLC. Those interviewed concurred that they are not sure what changes will be made by the rules and regulations Committee of the SLC but it will not be brought about before the Board of Trustees on October 22.

(Continued on page 3)
Brown met with militants prior to shooting, cops say

New York, Oct. 17 - The St. Louis police said Sunday that H. Rap Brown and three men seized with him early Saturday morning after a robbery at a West Side bar here were killed in an assassination.

According to an informant for the St. Louis police, the fugitive black militant leader had been meeting with the other men, members of the black liberators, an activist group in that city that had lost its influence in an activist group in that city.

Jerry Lutkus was named to fill the post of News Editor, announced yesterday several new appointments to the editorial staff of the Observer.

Glen Corso announced yesterday several new appointments to the editorial staff of the Observer.

Labors would identify him at a meeting Monday with the other men, whom they had lost track of the other two.

The men were being held here in $150,000 bail each after Corso announced appointments.

Editor-in-Chief Glen Corso announced yesterday several new appointments to the editorial staff of the Observer.

Named as Assistant Editors were T. C. Trojan, former Executive Editor and John M. Abowd, former News Editor.

Jerry Lutkus was named to fill the post of News Editor, while Don Ruane, former Managing Editor, was named Campus Editor.

Corso said the appointments were effective Monday October 18th.

Save up to $3.00!

Major label LP’s! Top artists!

Many, many selections in this special purchase. Classics included!

Hundreds of records! Come early for best selection!

Sale starts today!

The Hammes Notre Dame Bookstore
Blantz calls Parientals 'Christian'.

(Continued from page 1)

Hall Life Committee's second proposal, dealing with judicial policy, Imhoff said, "I really wasn't disappointed. We might have been a little out of our field. We just don't have experts and it was the least important of the three resolutions."

Professor Thornton responded that although he is not acquainted with the composition of the judicial boards, "All violations will still go before the Dean of Students. The actions voted on wouldn't affect a change of machinery, but we did feel it was a worthwhile recommendation.

It was the third proposal which achieved the most controversy. Chambers said that he is very much in favor of "the responsibilities of hall autonomy."

Imhoff said that he was especially pleased "that our third resolution passed."

Student Body President John Barkett contended, "I think it is a good report. Like I said earlier, if implemented, I'm sure many fears will be disproven.

Blantz on the other hand, opposed and voted against the third proposal. "Hall autonomy first of all needs a clear definition; We speak of complete autonomy or limited autonomy, but perhaps this isn't correct. Perhaps autonomy is like pregnancy: you cannot be slightly pregnant or partially pregnant; you are either pregnant or you are not. Could a hall decide that it no longer wanted the University's maid service or fire insurance or electricity, for example? It is my opinion that Hall autonomy needs a lot more thought and study."

Fr. Blank's final objection was that he feared the resolution would invite open visitation in the halls.

"I am not arguing that the hours have to be eleven o'clock or two o'clock, but that we should have some hours. There is a question of the moral environment. If public hotels show some concern over unmarried men and women spending the night together, the I think a Catholic university professing publicly to be following the teachings and example of Christ should be much more concerned with the creation of an environment here of high Christian standards and ideals. Furthermore, given the academic nature of a university and the importance of personal study, I think it is good that there can be a time when such socializing ceases and an atmosphere of study and quiet can prevail."

Whether or not the resolutions will be accepted by the Board of Trustees is another story. Buz Imhoff said, "I don't know, but it should be interesting."

27 student nurses help MANASA

MANASA opened its membership to the students of Memorial Nursing School, according to President Bruce Hooper.

Twenty-seven student nurses out of a total student enrollment of one hundred and eighty signed up at the meeting held there. Memorial Nursing School SBP Debbie Powell and SVP Janet Stults will act as the coordinating officers.

MANASA, the ND-SMC chapter of the Mental Health Association, has about one hundred and twenty volunteers from Notre Dame and St. Mary's.

---

Cat Stevens will appear in concert at the ACC, Nov. 5 at 8:00 p.m., according to Social Commissioner Don Mooney. Tickets will be made available on Wednesday evening. The two hour concert will include a performance by singers Mimi Farina and Burt Jans.

Limited seating is available since Stevens' contract will permit an audience of no more than 4,000. Because no bleacher seating will be sold, Mooney suggested that students should purchase tickets as soon as possible before they go on sale to the general public. According to Mooney, tickets will be sold at $4.50 and $3.50 per person. Further information explaining when tickets will be sold will appear in the Observer later this week.

---

ACKAI 250D TAPE DECK

Reg. $399.95
Save $100.00
Introductory Sale Price $299.95

The Audio Specialists
Sales and Service
310 N. Michigan 232-1611

---

Friday, November 5
8:30 pm in the ACC
Tickets $4.50 & $3.50 on sale at The Student Union ticket office and the dining halls Wednesday, Thursday & Friday

LIMITED TICKET SUPPLY
presented by social commission and the ACC
Hunt finds no help in councilman bid

by Anthony Abowd

You're making a big mistake if you count too heavily on citizen participation in your campaign for office. Or at least that's what Douglas Hunt, a Notre Dame graduate, has learned in his current contest for the South Bend Common Council.

"The single most important mistake I've made" said Hunt "was overestimating people's receptivity to getting involved in politics." He is running as the Democratic candidate for Third District City Councilman.

With the election barely two weeks away Hunt is appealing to local college students to help in his campaign. "It's not as prestigious as campaigning for a presidential candidate but it has a much greater chance of success," he said.

This summer Hunt walked through his entire 5,000 household district and broke it down into neighborhood sections. Each section was supposed to have a campaign manager from the neighborhood. "I had high ambitions for the campaign and had eliminated much of the drudgery of campaign work but I'm not getting cooperation from the residents."

"Getting people to work in politics is like putting your head against a grinding wheel," Hunt says. This is true he claims because his platform stresses citizen involvement in local government.

Hunt believes that students could work for the common council for college credit. "They could be invaluable for insight and reports," he said.

The third district has never elected a Democratic councilman, and this is an advantage for Hunt's opponent, according to the candidate. But Hunt points out that a recent reapportionment and new housing have changed the political climate of his district.

INTERVIEWS SCHEDULED FOR WEEK OF OCTOBER 25 - 29

Oct. 25 INTERVIEWS FOR GRADUATE BUSINESS AND LAW SCHOOLS

Oct. 28 GRADUATE SCHOOLS OF BUSINESS

Oct. 29 Thunderbird Graduate School of International Management

New York University

SCHOOLS OF LAW

Boston College

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND LETTERS JOB INTERVIEWS

Oct. 25 Sears, Roebuck and Co. - Data Processing.

All Liberal Arts graduates interested in Data Processing Management Training Program.

Liberal Arts graduates for Financial Management Programs, only.

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION JOB INTERVIEWS

BBA and MBA in Accountancy.

Sears, Roebuck and Co. - Data Processing.

Oct. 26 Bethlehem Steel Corp.

BBA in Accountancy.

Oct. 27 Amoco International Oil Co.

BBA in Accountancy.

Oct. 27 Arthur Young & Co.

BBA in Accountancy. MBA. L.L.B with undergraduate emphasis in accounting.

General Electric Co.

BBA in Accountancy.

Oct. 28 29 Memora

BBA in Accountancy.

Oct. 29 Detroit Bank and Trust Co.

BBA and MBA.

E. I. du Pont de Ne (graduates only.)

Monsanto

BBA in Accountancy.

Black Light

It's dazzling ... it's shimmery ... it's eerie

Turn on a new kind of excitement. Flick on the black light ... behold, the beautiful specially designed posters glow with scintillating color. Posters, in sets of 3, in many designs. Choose from 6 sets.

$13.99

Black light, good-looking in wood-grained finish with chrome trim.

Sears

new from Sears

WASHINGTON-MARYLAND-VIRGINIA CLUB

There are still a few seats available for 737 UNITED JET for Thanksgiving

Ticket Prices: $30.00 - one way $52.00 - round trip

Transportation from Campus to Airport included

From the Golden Dome to the Capitol Dome

For reservations call 6934 - Wayne Hall or 1765 - Bill Fettan after 5:00 on Monday. On Tuesday call Wayne Hall at 6934 after 5:00.
The history of farm labor in the U.S. is a battle for humanity, dignity, economic justice, discrimination against the farm workers, and the passage of laws to protect their rights. Farm workers have faced multiple challenges, including low wages, harsh working conditions, and discrimination. The story of the United Farm Workers of America (UFWOC) is a testament to the power of organizing and the struggle for justice.

Poco delivered a superb concert last Saturday, but their music served up a full impact during the magnificent encore set. Richie Furay's twelve string lead, backed by Paul Cotton, and an impromptu drum solo by George Grantham drove most of the concert audience to a new understanding of Poco's country-based rock style. "A Man Like Me" showed their remarkable spontaneity in a strong bass line layered with improvisations by Furay and Cotton who. Clapton would have been proud to call his own.

"Oh, Forgiver," featuring the steel guitar of Rusty Young seemed a blend of country sounds with the Latin rhythm of Carlos Santana. Country funk, foot-stomping, hand-clapping, and an enthusiastic audience coupled with a twangy steel guitar heard above all turned the concert into a live affair.

Poco's star, Livingston Taylor, with a voice so close to James Taylor, was melodic and easy. He was a "little country, but not too much." With his back up group consisting of only Walter Robinson on bass, he was completely at ease. His music ranged from a feliciana-like quality of string and voice to a rendering of "Somewhere Over the Rainbow." With a light piano, with no complications to cloud the honesty of his voice and an audience's happy reaction to Poco remained high at all times. The start of a new song didn't raise the "Al ways" reaction of a top-40 group like 3-Dog Night, or even the Beach Boys, but rather an upbeat waiting for several more. A grour that had decided that he wasn't anything to be desired in their fourway harmonies.

Any of the wild dancing crowd will testify to the enthusiasm of the Poco stirred up in the Notre Dame concert crowd often noted for Lethargic behavior at concerts. Poco did just what they promised, they "kicked up their heels, and never slowed down."

Livingston Taylor, with a voice so close to James Taylor, was melodic and easy. He was a "little country, but not too much." With his back up group consisting of only Walter Robinson on bass, he was completely at ease. His music ranged from a feliciana-like quality of string and voice to a rendering of "Somewhere Over the Rainbow." With a light piano, with no complications to cloud the honesty of his voice and the audience's happy clapping.

His guitar style never varied from his clear simple rhythms. Live plays a lyrical melody, either on guitar or piano, with no complications to cloud the honesty of his contained voice. Calling McCartney a "talented guy, mostly," he did his most soulful song of the night, his version of "A Little Help from My Friends," probably the most original '70s Grutter's song complete with the audience's happy clapping.

His guitar style never varied from his clear simple rhythms. Live plays a lyrical melody, either on guitar or piano, with no complications to cloud the honesty of his contained voice. Calling McCartney a "talented guy, mostly," he did his most soulful song of the night, his version of "A Little Help from My Friends," probably the most original '70s Grutter's song complete with the audience's happy clapping.

The situation in Indianapolis has been one mainly of conflict with this country's third largest food chains - A&P, National (Standard), and Kroger. The situation has been that of a new crop of farm workers...
Letters to the Editor

Beerslayer defended

Editor:

Amidst flashbacks of previous years tarnished with authoritarianism and repression at the hands of secondary school principal, seniors, and the like, we are, needless to say, stunned by the orthodox voices crying out in the Letters to the Editor on Wednesday concerning the refreshing spontaneity of Notre Dame's Michigan St. halftime. It is indeed unfortunate that the band was shifted to considering their hours of practice and efforts (to what turned out to be our usual fine performance) and we certainly do not condone any repetitions of this. But are we to believe the commuters' reprovals, like so many slaps on the wrists, will be tolerated by Notre Dame's collective free souls? To all you image-conscious seniors who would prefer the suppression of those '30-30 percent!' unashamed Summerhill children, we say, "Hot Chili is Groovy," and "Go Irish!"

Mike McQuenent
Steve Podgorski
Kurt Bottjer
Mike McQuestion

Editor:

On Friday, October 1, there was a pep rally where the same "grossness, nudity, immaturity, and drunkenness" occurred as tending such Friday night rallies at the Michigan State game. At a pep rally where the same "grossness, nudity, immaturity, and drunkenness" occurred as tending such Friday night rallies at the Michigan State game.

Our question: Why weren't the actions of the players on the field considered gross and crude also? I didn't find their actions to be particularly refined and gen­erally. Anyway, in all probability there were fewer student injuries in their ac­tivities than those of the football players.

But don't get me wrong. I enjoyed these refereed grossностей truly, the game was on a higher level than the halftime display. After all, football has rules, precision, organization and structure. See you next Saturday.

Ed Walders
Flanner

Editor:

I find the comments of Notre Dame supporters, i.e., Alumni, to be somewhat astounding, in particular refer to the issue of the field display. The "experts" and their obvious connections were broadcasted by ABC? From the tune of previous letters we conclude the writers were outraged because of this same sport, lest raising, immaturity, exhibition, or whatever one may call it, was publicized to millions. They were outraged because the so-called ND image was tarnished, but it's hypothetical to condone actions private to the ND community and then condemn those same actions when publicized.

We agree that the band deserves an apology for the rash and ill-timed actions of those of the band. But we do not propose to judge the maturity, class, or emotional stability of those students. By this one incident, our alumni propose to pass this judgment. What nuances and implied references are simply astounding, in particular, the letter opening with comments on "fringe groups" and their obvious connections with those shameful institutions like Harvard, Princeton, etc., really made me uneasy. I would presume that this University actively pursues the "right" image for its students, sons, samples, catalogs, gift sheets and envelopes $2.95. Other correspondence received: by special delivery. Great to sit or lie on. Fix your own car. Tonight. We have parts. Open evenings and weekends. Open evenings and weekends.

My question - Why weren't the actions of the players on the field considered gross and crude also? I didn't find their actions to be particularly refined and gen­erally. Anyway, in all probability there were fewer student injuries in their ac­tivities than those of the football players.

But don't get me wrong. I enjoyed these refereed grossностей truly, the game was on a higher level than the halftime display. After all, football has rules, precision, organization and structure.

We agree that the band deserves an apology for the rash and ill-timed actions of those of the band. But we do not propose to judge the maturity, class, or emotional stability of those students. By this one incident, our alumni propose to pass this judgment. What nuances and implied references are simply astounding, in particular, the letter opening with comments on "fringe groups" and their obvious connections with those shameful institutions like Harvard, Princeton, etc., really made me uneasy. I would presume that this University actively pursues the "right" image for its students, sons, samples, catalogs, gift sheets and envelopes $2.95. Other correspondence received: by special delivery. Great to sit or lie on. Fix your own car. Tonight. We have parts. Open evenings and weekends. Open evenings and weekends.

My question - Why weren't the actions of the players on the field considered gross and crude also? I didn't find their actions to be particularly refined and gen­erally. Anyway, in all probability there were fewer student injuries in their ac­tivities than those of the football players.

But don't get me wrong. I enjoyed these refereed grossностей truly, the game was on a higher level than the halftime display. After all, football has rules, precision, organization and structure.

We agree that the band deserves an apology for the rash and ill-timed actions of those of the band. But we do not propose to judge the maturity, class, or emotional stability of those students. By this one incident, our alumni propose to pass this judgment. What nuances and implied references are simply astounding, in particular, the letter opening with comments on "fringe groups" and their obvious connections with those shameful institutions like Harvard, Princeton, etc., really made me uneasy. I would presume that this University actively pursues the "right" image for its students, sons, samples, catalogs, gift sheets and envelopes $2.95. Other correspondence received: by special delivery. Great to sit or lie on. Fix your own car. Tonight. We have parts. Open evenings and weekends. Open evenings and weekends.

My question - Why weren't the actions of the players on the field considered gross and crude also? I didn't find their actions to be particularly refined and gen­erally. Anyway, in all probability there were fewer student injuries in their ac­tivities than those of the football players.

But don't get me wrong. I enjoyed these refereed grossностей truly, the game was on a higher level than the halftime display. After all, football has rules, precision, organization and structure.

We agree that the band deserves an apology for the rash and ill-timed actions of those of the band. But we do not propose to judge the maturity, class, or emotional stability of those students. By this one incident, our alumni propose to pass this judgment. What nuances and implied references are simply astounding, in particular, the letter opening with comments on "fringe groups" and their obvious connections with those shameful institutions like Harvard, Princeton, etc., really made me uneasy. I would presume that this University actively pursues the "right" image for its students, sons, samples, catalogs, gift sheets and envelopes $2.95. Other correspondence received: by special delivery. Great to sit or lie on. Fix your own car. Tonight. We have parts. Open evenings and weekends. Open evenings and weekends.

My question - Why weren't the actions of the players on the field considered gross and crude also? I didn't find their actions to be particularly refined and gen­erally. Anyway, in all probability there were fewer student injuries in their ac­tivities than those of the football players.

But don't get me wrong. I enjoyed these refereed grossностей truly, the game was on a higher level than the halftime display. After all, football has rules, precision, organization and structure.
The Irish forward wall rises up to block Ken Craven's field goal attempt in the third quarter of Saturday's game. This play enabled the Notre Dame defense to record their second straight shutout and boost their string of scoreless quarters to 14 and touched off . . .

This play enabled the Notre Dame defense to record their second straight shutout and a couple of occasions.

For the remainder of the game, the Irish left the field at intermission leading 5-0.

The next time the Irish got the football they were not to be denied. Starting on the Carolina 41, Notre Dame drove for the game's only touchdown in 11 plays, Brown tossing four yards to the two before being stopped by Stepaniak on first down. The Tar Heels went to Hite again on the next play but he was dropped by Stepaniak again at the line of scrimmage. On third down, Miller was dropped for a loss of two yards by big Walt Patulski on the Tar Heels elected to attempt a field goal.

Not satisfied with protecting their goal, the Irish put on a big rush in an attempt to block the field goal and preserve their shutout. The pressure was effective and Mike Kadish got a hand on the ball, foiling Ken Craven's three-point try and setting off a celebration in the stands and among the Irish defenders.

The Tar Heels were kept in check the remainder of the way but the Irish still had a few offensive thrills in store.

On the next play, on third down at the Carolina 18 and, on a third-and-16 play, Miller hit Bethea for a first down at the Irish 35.

A pass interference call gave the Tar Heels a first down at the Irish 18 and, on a third-and-16 play, Miller hit Bethea for a first down at the Irish 35.

The second half opened mildly enough, with the Irish and Carolina exchanging punts, but the temps picked up early in the third quarter when the Tar Heels recovered a Notre Dame fumble on the Irish 35.

A pass interference call gave the Tar Heels a first down at the Irish 18 and, on a third-and-16 play, Miller hit Bethea for a first down at the Irish 35.

The next time the Irish got the football they were not to be denied. Starting on the Carolina 41, Notre Dame drove for the game's only touchdown in 11 plays, Brown tossing four yards to the two before being stopped by Stepaniak on first down. The Tar Heels went to Hite again on the next play but he was dropped by Stepaniak again at the line of scrimmage. On third down, Miller was dropped for a loss of two yards by big Walt Patulski on the Tar Heels elected to attempt a field goal.

Not satisfied with protecting their goal, the Irish put on a big rush in an attempt to block the field goal and preserve their shutout. The pressure was effective and Mike Kadish got a hand on the ball, foiling Ken Craven's three-point try, and setting off a celebration in the stands and among the Irish defenders.

The Tar Heels were kept in check the remainder of the way but the Irish still had a few offensive thrills in store.

A 48-yard punt return by Croty early in the fourth quarter gave Notre Dame a first down at the Tar Heel seven, but that opportunity lapsed quickly when Brown, after picking up five yards on a keeper, fumbled the ball away to the Tar Heels at the Carolina two.

The Irish forward wall rises up to block Ken Craven's field goal attempt in the third quarter of Saturday's game. This play enabled the Notre Dame defense to record their second straight shutout and boost their string of scoreless quarters to 14 and touched off . . .

Bob Thomas echoed his name in the Irish record book by booting three field goals against the Tar Heels.

Irish headed toward paydirt, only to be thwarted a few yards short.

It took Brown six plays to move the Irish to the Carolina seven. Dewan ran for three yards on first down but lost three on the next play. On third down, Brown, under heavy pressure, threw incomplete and Thomas kicked another three-pointer, from 24 yards out.

Neither club came close to scoring for the remainder of the half, and the Irish left the field at intermission leading 5-0.

The second half opened mildly enough, with the Irish and Carolina exchanging punts, but the temps picked up early in the third quarter when the Tar Heels recovered a Notre Dame fumble on the Irish 35.

A pass interference call gave the Tar Heels a first down at the Irish 18 and, on a third-and-16 play, Miller hit Bethea for a first down at the Irish 35.

The next time the Irish got the football they were not to be denied. Starting on the Carolina 41, Notre Dame drove for the game's only touchdown in 11 plays, Brown tossing four yards to Gatewayd for the score on a fourth and three situation.

The victory gave the Irish a 5-0 mark at the midpoint of the season while the Tar Heels, absorbing their second straight loss, dropped to 4-2.
Pirates win the Series

by Joe Darsa

The Pittsburgh Pirates completed one of the most dramatic reversals in baseball history Sunday when they defeated the favored Baltimore Orioles, 2-1, and won the 8th World Series in the seventh and final game.

The National League champions did it in the face of long odds, against the team that had taken three straight American League pennants and had swept the Pirates before Clemente in the fourth. Pagan verified the choice by driving the pitch deep to left-center field.

The Pirates’ other run was driven home in the eight inning when the Orioles finally rallied in the bottom of the eighth, when Willie Stargell grounded a single to the shortstop, and Baltimore had its best chance. The third baseman had spent most of the summer on the bench with a broken wrist and had batted in only 15 runs all season. In fact, he was made eligible for the series in a late choice by manager Danny Murtaugh. Pagan proved the choice by driving the pitch deep to left-center field, Pagan. It proved to be the deciding run, when the Orioles finally rallied in the bottom of the eighth, 2-1.

The Pirates, counted out lo Hernandez on the grass. In the ninth, the Pirates almost broke it open, but the Orioles had the tying run on second and third, with Belanger’s glove. Then, on a 1-and-2 pitch, Stargell was out by Jack Hernandez to end the game.

THE OBSERVER

News Editor: Jerry Lutkus
SMC News Editor: Ann Conway
Features Editor: Rick Smith
Sports Editor: Jim Donaldson
Night Editor: Marty Miller
Headlines: Gene Lasson
In and John Ashard

staff

SMORGASBORD
Every Monday 5-9 pm
$1.25 All you can eat
Every Wednesday evening
$1.00 PITCHER NIGHT
Every Friday night
LIVE ENTERTAINMENT
Every Saturday night
POLKA BAND DANCING

TO MAKE NEW FRIENDS....

$10.00 CERTIFICATE

This certificate will be good for $10.00 reduction on any suit or sportcoat/slip suit outfit from our regular stocks. You can choose from a fine selection of university styled apparel including the great new double-knit suits. We make this offer to win new friends and keep old ones. Stop in soon. Use your Campus Shop account.

Offer expires Saturday, December 18

GALS! VISIT OUR NEW FASHION CORNER
JUST FOR YOU!

ON THE CAMPUS... NOTRE DAME