On The Inside
China charges the United States with prolonging the Vietnam war . . . page 3

Scholastic names new editor . . . page 3

Soledad Brothers await trial end.
. . . .page 4
Visiting student evangelists promote Explo ’72

By Maria Gallagher

St. Mary’s Editor

Two representatives from Campus College, San Diego, recently visited the St. Mary’s campus Friday to promote Explo ’72, the International Student Congress of Evangelists.

Campus Crusade for Christ International, which stresses the importance of the discipleship concept, sent Edward Coll, who is 32 and too young to be a candidate, to work closely with all eligible students to seriously examine Jackson’s stand on the issues.

These included Students for Linda B. Connally, who picked the five, decided not to protect Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, a declared nonetheless.

New York–Life Magazine said a nine-month investigation had found that certain “important friends” of the Nixon administration in San Diego had been protected from criminal prosecutions over the last two years. The magazine said the administration squelched investigations or delayed prosecutions in at least three cases.

Washington–A government technical committee, in a report prepared for the office of science and technology, called for a reconsideration of the endangered species act and safety rules due to take effect by 1976. The committee said the rules would add $773 to the retail price of the average car and would not be brought to many urban areas across to national air-quality standards.

Washington–The treasury department disclosed that five democratic candidates would be given secret service protection as of Monday. Senators Edmund S. Muskie, Hubert H. Humphrey, George McGovern and Henry M. Jackson and Gov. George C. Wallace, any of the Democratic candidates—he received 82 percent of the last national election—never lost an election.

In order to build up the campus on Jackson’s positions, we will distribute, between now and convention time, all the necessary material elucidating the Senator’s stand on the issues.

Any questions that students might have, between now and convention time, can be answered by calling any of the co-chairmen at 811 or 314.

Christ to the eyes of the world; and to help create a vision in each delegate of how they can reach their world with the message of Christ.

Training sessions; optional courses in topics such as black involvement, mass media, music, political, humanities, and politics; and other activities, will allow the activity of the conference.

More than 200 nationally and internationally known Christian leaders have agreed to participate, including honorary chairman Billy Graham. In addition, 400 Christian organizations have been invited to set up displays.

The Crusade anticipates 100,000 delelegates, 3,000 of these from the state of Indiana. As of the beginning of March, all paid registrations had already been received.

Anyone is eligible to be a delegate. Estimated costs for the entire conference range from $30 to $75, depending on the type of delegate high school, college, military, layman, or cleric.

Registration will be open un
Friday, April 29. Further information can be obtained from (SNC campus representative Travis Hurtt at 494).

CAC Performing Arts Series presents

Joe Lemonade

CAZ WESTERN
Wednesday April 5

Admission $1.00
PAS Patrons FREE

CAC Performing Arts Series

NOMINATIONS!
1. BEST ACTOR
2. BEST SONG
3. BEST EDITING
4. BEST SCORE!

WALTER MATTHAU
“KOTCH”

ON SALE
AT 5:15-lecture, 8:15 dinner, 9:30-10:45 discussion of the “Kotch” feature film and the contemporary social situation in which the film was made.

The observer is published daily
in the city of Notre Dame, Indiana 46556, by
The Observer, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

The material in this publication is copyrighted and may not be reproduced in whole or in part without permission of the editors.

The newspaper is editorially and financially
independent of the University of Notre Dame.

The University of Notre Dame and the
Observer are equal opportunity employers.

The Observer is published daily by
The Observer, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556, by
The Observer, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

The Observer is published daily
in the city of Notre Dame, Indiana 46556, by
The Observer, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

The material in this publication is copyrighted and may not be reproduced in whole or in part without permission of the editors.

The newspaper is editorially and financially
independent of the University of Notre Dame.

The University of Notre Dame and the
Observer are equal opportunity employers.

The Observer is published daily by
The Observer, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556, by
The Observer, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.
Peking, March 19 - (Agence France-Presse) - Premier Chou En Lai accused the United States of continuing the war of aggression in Southeast Asia and of trying to occupy Indochina.

It was Chou's first public speech since President Nixon's visit here. Chou said that as long as the war continued China would not cease to support the three Indochinese peoples "no matter what form the war of aggression will take."

The Premier, who spoke at a banquet celebrating the second anniversary of the arrival in Peking of Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia, denounced "certain big powers who are in the process of setting up what was claimed to be a 'third Khmer force.'"

Chou said any attempts directed towards a compromise would be rejected by Sihanouk and his supporters.

We resolutely oppose all international plots aimed at dividing the Cambodian people and at sabotaging their war of resistance to American aggression," Chou said.

Sihanouk, the guest of honor at the banquet, also rejected any compromise with "the clique of Pinkertons.""

The Prince said that The United National Front of Cambodia (the party ever which he presides) and the Royal Government of National Union of Cambodia refused "the so-called political solution put forward by certain powers aimed at frustrating a total military victory in Cambodia which would not fail to be achieved."

The Front and the Royal Government refused to deal with a so-called 'third Cambodian force,' the creation of certain foreign powers hostile to the resolution of the Cambodian people's power in Phnom Penh," Sihanouk said.

The Prince also rejected "any new Geneva-type conference which would make Cambodia a country divided into two states, where U.S. imperialism would perpetuate its neo-colonialism on a part of the national territory."

THE OBSERVER

by Mike Baum

Stidham dubbed Scholastic head

by R.W. Apple Jr.

Florida primary sparks Kennedy speculation

by Mike Baum

THE OBSERVER

by R.W. Apple Jr.

Florida primary sparks Kennedy speculation

by Mike Baum

Stidham dubbed Scholastic head

by R.W. Apple Jr.

Florida primary sparks Kennedy speculation

by Mike Baum

Stidham dubbed Scholastic head

by R.W. Apple Jr.

Florida primary sparks Kennedy speculation

by Mike Baum

Stidham dubbed Scholastic head

by R.W. Apple Jr.

Florida primary sparks Kennedy speculation

by Mike Baum

Stidham dubbed Scholastic head

by R.W. Apple Jr.
Robertson: war exists in U.S.

by Bob Cordesino

"The war does exist in our country worse than we know, as much as helpless victims of it as are those left America," said Roberta Robertson of Stanford Hall.

With unemployment of returning war veterans at its highest in many years, the National Committee of the American Legion, Department of Nevada, proposed an increase of war veteran benefits during a meeting in Reno, Nevada, February 26. The committee favored an increase in school year benefits, which would give $400 to $600 per month plus tuition and incidental costs of education.

The present educational training benefits by law are either not utilized or not utilized to their maximum for many thousands of dollars in costs of living expenses," the committee stated. Furthermore, the increase in benefits could permit veterans to go to school when they return, thus eliminating them from competing from the overcrowded job market.

One of the advantages of the proposed increase of benefits is aimed toward ROTC students, raising the maximum amount to $500 according to Robertson. "This provision of the bill would more rapidly bring about the highly desired college attendance by veterans," she said.

The resolution would also have a great effect on all college students, whose tuition would be lower, she continued, when they return to school later if they are drafted.

"Veteran organizations have been working on this for years," said Robertson. "Students should be aware of efforts made in their behalf. This resolution demonstrates the interest held by those organizations for the youth."

Soledad trial to end soon

(c) 1972 New York Times

San Francisco, March 19 - The three-month trial of the celebrated Soledad Brothers is in its final stages with closing arguments to be presented this week in the ar- mazy court house. The trial of the black convicts is being tried on charges of killing a white prison guard.

The all-white jury of nine women and three men is expected to deliberate at midnight.

The defendants, John Cluchette, 38 years old, and Freda Drumgo, 37, are joined in the trial by John V. Mills, 26, a correctional officer at Soledad State Prison, and John V. Mills, Jr., 28 years old, and Fleetwood Drumgo.

The State's case is heard by the court Wednesday, Jan. 16, 1970, and the defense on Thursday, Jan. 17.

The State contends that the two inmates, along with George Jackson, 22, beat Mills mercilessly and then threw him to his death from a third-floor cell tier.

Mills had been killed in retribution for shooting death of a guard three days before the Mills incident.

Jackson, assuredly the central figure in the killing is now dead. He was shot last August in a bloody breakout at San Quentin prison in what prison authorities say was an escape attempt. Two other prisoners and two San Quentin guards also died in that violence.

The Soledad Brothers trial was conducted under stringent security precautions. It has been marked by tense, often repeated clashes between the defense and the judge.

As early as 1970, before the judge was fair to the court.

The state's case is principally based on testimony by Mills' fellow guards and the accounts of two white, two black prison in-mates who said they saw Cluchette, Drumgo and Jackson assaulting Mills.

Two defense attorneys, Floyd Sullivan and Richard Silver, have questioned the prosecution's case, saying there is a slanted inexperienced which convictions were offered early parole and other favors to forgoing.

Both defendants denied in the witness stand that they were at the scene of the killing.

It was the case of the Soledad Brothers that involved Angola Prison for which Jackson is now being tried in nearby San Jose. According to the state, Miss Davis supplied 17-year-old year-old with a gun for an attempt to free the Soledad Brothers from San Quentin by taking a judge hostage in San Rafael, Calif, in August, 1979, as an attempt that resulted in the death of young Jackson, the judge and two other convicts.

The case was moved from Monterey County, where Soledad Brothers are stationed, to San Francisco at the request of the defense.

With the death penalty now possible, the judge and two other convict were found guilty of murder in California, the Soledad Brothers, who have long criminal records, could get a maximum sentence of life imprisonment.

"Veteran organizations have been working on this for years," said Robertson. "Students should be aware of efforts made in their behalf. This resolution demonstrates the interest held by those organizations for the youth."

On the road to Florida this Easter, take a break. From our Marathon station along 175 from Richmond, Ky., to Tampa, Fla. Drink all the uncorrupted Orange-Flavored Cottage® round quencher you want. Free. You don't have to buy a thing — you don't even have to be driving. Just ask for a glass (or eight) of Cottage® orange quencher. It's the house.

If you're not yourself, if you are driving, you're going to need gas. So fill your car, or your van, or your bike with Marathon. It's a good gasoline. We even guarantee it.

In fact, all Marathon petroleum products and automotive service come with a written guar- antee. Satisfaction or your money back.

You can leave your money in your wallet too. Marathon accepts: BankAmerican Master Charge, American Express, Carte Blanche, Diner's Club. And, of course, we have our 4:1:4— Look for the new, im- portant advance of the speech.

Reply to last week's faculty statement making the provost's office for its un-democratic decision-making policies. Mr. Burcharfield has refused comment on the provost's action. However, dinner invitations were sent in the mail a week before the faculty statement was released.

To announce Notre Dame has found a pot of gold in the form of a large grant to finance the project. Financial spokesman, when opined, shot this possibility down.

Dark Horse: To announce Rev. John Rice's retirement from the office of Dean of Students. While many insiders agree that the retirement is forthcoming, they felt Wednesday night was neither the time nor place.

On-target—Again Against—Merger—From Notre Dame

Magazine, February, 1972, p.5. The SMC trustees added that if negotiations fall once again, Saint Mary's will immediately begin seeking a new president. Sister Alma has said the college will not take the job and would prefer not to serve past this summer. In addition, the college will begin to redefine itself as an independent college or an independent college for women. "we will add innovative new programs designed for women, such as health related studies.

1:1:1 — Look for the new, im- proving Saint Mary's College to adopt the 4:1:4 academic calendar. College president, Rev. Edward Henry, has worked suc- cessfully in prime mover at ST. Mary's College. The program, which allows students a study-work-exam period during Christmas vacation with faculty members.

(Continued on page 11)
Pictures talk.
Some little boys don't.

Some inner-city ghettos have special schools. For little boys who don't talk. Not mute little boys. But children so withdrawn, so afraid of failure, they cannot make the slightest attempt to do anything at which they might fail.

Some don't talk. Some don't listen. Most don't behave. And all of them don't learn.

One day someone asked us to help.

Through Kodak, cameras and film were distributed to teachers. The teachers gave the cameras to the kids and told them to take pictures.

And then the miracle. Little boys who had never said anything, looked at the pictures and began to talk. They said "This is my house." "This is my dog." "This is where I like to hide." They began to explain, to describe, to communicate. And once the channels of communication had been opened, they began to learn.

We're helping the children of the inner-city. And we're also helping the adults. We're involved in inner-city job programs. To train unskilled people in useful jobs.

What does Kodak stand to gain from this? Well, we're showing how our products can help a teacher—and maybe creating a whole new market. And we're also cultivating young customers who will someday buy their own cameras and film. But more than that, we're cultivating alert, educated citizens. Who will someday be responsible for our society.

After all, our business depends on our society. So we care what happens to it.

Kodak: More than a business.
Spring officially arrives today, and that is an unofficial warning for security to beef up their traffic controls and for students to take a few extra precautions to protect their personal property, such as shackling their doors and windows, when out of their room.

With the advent of balmy weather, we can expect an increase in bicycle and pedestrian traffic about campus. This has already started thanks to the mild weather, which is something unusual for the first two weeks of March.

Not only do Notre Dame students make use of this sprawling campus to ride tandem with their friends from across the road, but this is also a healthy activity for one of America's fastest growing pastimes.

As the temperatures get higher and higher, the favorite time for a bike ride or walk becomes the evening hours, and for some after dark. Both of these times are considered the worst hours for driving because of the heat hazes created by the reduced lighting conditions.

Last fallthesecurity office issued orders not to let anyone on campus after 6 pm without written or advance permission from the director. There is also a 20 mile per hour speed limit, which has not been enforced.

The after six rule is satisfactorily enforced during the weekdays, but much is left to be desired on weekends when foot traffic along the campus road is at its peak. With spring weather this traffic will increase as will the number of students out for a hair whipping plunge down the hills behind the laundry.

It is not so much the traffic, but the fact that few drivers adhere to the speed limit. Unfortunately security does not have the equipment or manpower to patrol the road at all times.

And inspite of the curves and hills which make fast driving all the more dangerous, many drivers pay no heed to racing along at double the speed limit, or faster.

Tragedy is in the making with warm weather if something is not done to protect not only the cyclists and pedestrians, but also the drivers.

One solution, which may be most economical, is to place concrete bums at strategic points in the road. Northwestern has such a system, and drivers should be cautious. If they are not, they risk a broken axle or serious damage to the bottom of their car, not to mention the possibility of losing their license.

The bums should be the width of the car and about three or four inches high. There should be no need for the structures, but security has not done its duty as far as protecting the cyclists and pedestrians who should be able to enjoy this campus in the spring and fall without the fear of speeding cars.

Don Ruane
The mother's voice on the long distance line was full of air and anxiety. She spoke slowly and carefully, her words the way people do if they are afraid of losing control of themselves and becoming hysterical. She told me of her daughter, long ago a student of mine, who had left school - perhaps, said the mother, under the influence of drugs or the delusion of witchcraft - to live with a student who declined to marry her. He will never marry her, she said, but she feels as though he theory that boys won't marry the girls they sleep with, because they don't really love them.

"My daughter says it's okay to live with a boy," said the man, "so why do I say it's not okay?"

There was something deeper to the words than the simple explanations to a priest of a school girl's ethos. The implicit meaning became explicit in the woman's question. "Father, do you think it is right for a daughter to be living in sin with this boy, and only half of the money that is going out are doing just because they love each other?"

It was obvious from the context that the mother suspected me of teaching some system of morality in which love is the universal solvent of integrity and responsibility; and self-discipline can be dismissed as irrelevant, because people have anything - anything at all, no matter how self-destructive - as long as their mother is loving her.

I do believe love is in the highest motive of human behavior. I do not believe that the daughter feels for this boy is not love, "because I don't know if it is true; perhaps she loves the boy very much. The hope is that he is worth being cared for, and that he, in his turn, cares for her. But where love is mother and capable people do not risk hurting each other. I think that a boy living with a twenty year old girl is not ready to marry risks hurting her very badly. I think also the girl risks hurting herself.

Even mothers, in their God-given wisdom, cannot make moral choices for their children. This girl has made what I consider to be a bad decision. But love, concern, and involvement with people should be required if someone is to make a mature decision. The mother needs to be told that her involvement is not accepted by the girl, that she is too young to help her see the risk of being a heavy inner; she can't afford the loss of her own mother's compassion and the therapy of her love. Maybe the girl's love affair will survive. At least it isn't subject to the disciplines of the mind; otherwise it is like a fire that can leave one whole, but destroy the world.

But how, without appearing to be morally judgmental, can I help her? I can only say that I will pray for her. I do not know if this is a great sin, because sin is a level of integrity and responsibility that we do not understand, but because she fears she does not know what the consequences of her actions are."

It is needed here is a not a system of legal categories that analyze human behavior on the basis of sin. Jodenng from a preemption of guilt, I wish my own innocence was as that of the girl who only fascinated by the fact that I can enjoy everything. It shouldn't take long because I work a lot and the pay is good. Then, I will still have a good time! Look out! And maybe later I'll get married or something. A lot of my friends are a tragedy already. But, no! I really love to drive this bus. I have found a good job and we get to know each other a little. The kind of job I have.

We had arrived at the library and I waited until last to get on. "Thank you, Mr. Night."

My good mood was left on the bus.

I got on a bus after having watched two films. "Good morning," said the driver smiling companionably at my wind burned cheeks and clipped lips. "Hi," I answered, smiling and then feeling the sting of my lip which had split in the midst of all my friendliness. "How are you?"

This additional courtesy was automatic and I expected absolutely no other reply from him. "Fine."

"Oh-b-b-b. I have to tell you what happened to me this morning."

"What happened?"

"I went until three o'clock this morning and then he had to back up at seven because one of the others wasn't there. She takes the Notre Dame, St. Mary's route was sick. She caught the bus with her and we're going until tomorrow."

I asked if I had behaved correctly when he said that he worked long distances to three and he had gone again at seven.

"Yeah...I stay at the bus station and take a nap there. I don't get too tired and I catch up on my day off. But the money is pretty good."

My head snapped back as he held the bus across the road to the gate. He continued after opening it.

"My wife will be home in six this morning and said that they were going to tow our car away and the police were at the house. The car was parked in front of the house and it had license plates that were due to be replaced. I told them that if that car should be parked on the street, but we haven't been there in a hurry to see what was going on. The cops were really mad when I got there and they told them that they better damn well get off their property since they didn't have no license plates." "M-m-m. Yeah."

"I couldn't think of a reason."

"Anyways, they took me downtown and I had my car placed in my car park because my car away because of the plates 'cause they didn't run out until tomorrow, and so was that sargeant. They took it away and I'll have to go downtown tomorrow when I get off work and pay to get the car back. I'm not paying any more and I told them I'll ask them to tow it away.'"

I got off at the grotto, smiled, and said, "Let me know he it turns out. Good luck."
Geraldine Pearlton

Grades rising despite low test scores

by Edward R. Finkie
(c) 1972 New York Times

Los Angeles—Janet Barber lives in a small Victorian house in which she believes in the Church and has run her business, and does her best to be a good community citizen.

Her house is the local polling place, and last year she helped out in the "mothers" search to combat birth defects. Such civic activities would ordinarily come as no surprise to her neighbors on North Westmoore Avenue. One minor detail—she is a Roman Catholic woman.

Well, sort of. Miss Barber is a member of the immaculate Heart Community, a group of Catholic Sisters who

by Albert Peterson
(c) New York Times

College grades are rising steadily and perhaps at an accelerating rate on campuses across the nation as increasing numbers of students are seeking scholarships, hoping to get into graduate school, or looking for a good job after graduating.

Part of the reason lies in the liberalized grading systems of the last two years, and in the increased numbers of educators with differing notions about the grade rate. In addition, the number of incoming students who have never been in school before is increasing.

Teachers and administrators over the universe, particularly among young teachers, have led to more generous grading.

"No questions about it," a senior at the University of Illinois said recently. "I swear I go to school any more, and still get wonderful grades. There's a lot easier to get good grades."

Even in the numerical grade scale, where 4 is an A and zero grades averages at the student's academic progress. The modern "community teachers and administrators over the usefulness and real meaning of the As, B's, C's, D's and F's that have traditionally spelled the difference between success and failure for students seeking scholarships, hoping to get into graduate school, or looking for a good job after graduating.

Part of the reason lies in the liberalized grading systems of the last two years, and in the increased numbers of educators with differing notions about the grade rate. In addition, the number of incoming students who have never been in school before is increasing.

Teachers and administrators over the usefulness and real meaning of the As, B's, C's, D's and F's that have traditionally spelled the difference between success and failure for students seeking scholarships, hoping to get into graduate school, or looking for a good job after graduating.

Part of the reason lies in the liberalized grading systems of the last two years, and in the increased numbers of educators with differing notions about the grade rate. In addition, the number of incoming students who have never been in school before is increasing.

Teachers and administrators over the usefulness and real meaning of the As, B's, C's, D's and F's that have traditionally spelled the difference between success and failure for students seeking scholarships, hoping to get into graduate school, or looking for a good job after graduating.

Part of the reason lies in the liberalized grading systems of the last two years, and in the increased numbers of educators with differing notions about the grade rate. In addition, the number of incoming students who have never been in school before is increasing.

Teachers and administrators over the usefulness and real meaning of the As, B's, C's, D's and F's that have traditionally spelled the difference between success and failure for students seeking scholarships, hoping to get into graduate school, or looking for a good job after graduating.

Part of the reason lies in the liberalized grading systems of the last two years, and in the increased numbers of educators with differing notions about the grade rate. In addition, the number of incoming students who have never been in school before is increasing.

Teachers and administrators over the usefulness and real meaning of the As, B's, C's, D's and F's that have traditionally spelled the difference between success and failure for students seeking scholarships, hoping to get into graduate school, or looking for a good job after graduating.

Part of the reason lies in the liberalized grading systems of the last two years, and in the increased numbers of educators with differing notions about the grade rate. In addition, the number of incoming students who have never been in school before is increasing.

Teachers and administrators over the usefulness and real meaning of the As, B's, C's, D's and F's that have traditionally spelled the difference between success and failure for students seeking scholarships, hoping to get into graduate school, or looking for a good job after graduating.

Part of the reason lies in the liberalized grading systems of the last two years, and in the increased numbers of educators with differing notions about the grade rate. In addition, the number of incoming students who have never been in school before is increasing.

Teachers and administrators over the usefulness and real meaning of the As, B's, C's, D's and F's that have traditionally spelled the difference between success and failure for students seeking scholarships, hoping to get into graduate school, or looking for a good job after graduating.
NO MORE PENCILS, NO MORE BOOKS, NO MORE TEACHERS' DIRTY LOOKS.

TWA INTRODUCES THE 1972 GETAWAY* PROGRAM.

This ad wasn't written to amuse you. It was written to get you to think. To think of how few school vacations you may have left.

Before you know it, the 9 to 5 hassle will be starting. So this summer may be your last real chances to travel. To help you plan your getaway, let us send you our free Getaway* Kit.

With the Kit you can get:

TWA's Stutelpass.*
A coupon booklet that gives you a room and continental breakfast in either a guesthouse or student hotel in Europe for only $4.80 a night.

No advance reservations are needed.

Also included are free coupons that can be used for bullfights, use of a bicycle, theater tickets, sightseeing and more.

TWA's Bed and Breakfast Adventures.
2- to 7-day guesthouse packages to any of 50 European cities. Among them Amsterdam, where you can spend 3 days for only $22. And Athens, where 3 nights cost only $16.

TWA's Getaway* Card Application.
With TWA's Getaway Card, you can charge airfare, hotels, meals, car rentals, Getaway packages and more. And then take up to two years to pay.

It's the most widely distributed, widely accepted airline card in the world. And it's free.

TWA's Youth Passport* Card.
If you're 12 thru 21, you can get 1/3 off normal domestic coach flights, on a standby basis.

Plus discounts on over 20 other airlines in the United States, Canada, and Europe.

The card also gets you discounts at over 700 shops and hotels around the world.

TWA's Getaway* Guidebook.
A 224-page guidebook highlighting 19 of the most popular cities in the world.

PLEASE SEND ME
TWA'S STUDENT/YOUTH GETAWAY KIT.
TWA, P.O. Box 876
Farmingdale, N.Y. 11735

Name
Address
City
State
Zip

My travel agent is

*Service marks owned exclusively by TWA.
Kline seeks 500th career win in 39th year

by Vic Durr

In all of college sports, it would be hard to find a personality to match Notre Dame’s Jake Kline.

The veteran Irish baseball coach will be opening his 39th season when his squad begins its annual Spring road trip later this week, and the strain of more than a quarter-century of continuous service has done nothing to lessen his enthusiasm for the game.

“I like the damn game,” said Kline. “Or I wouldn’t have stayed in this long. Now, I want to try to predict what we’re going to do this year, because we would make a bad look if we didn’t come up to the prediction. But we’ve got a fine bunch of boys this year, and I do think we’re going to have a good season.”

Kline has good reason to be excited about Notre Dame’s 1972 diamond campaign. The Irish play a 36-game schedule this season (including the trip), and 12 ND victories will nudge Kline’s mark for career wins over the 500 level. During his multi-season span as head coach, Irish baseball teams have won 682 games and lost 630.

Last year, with a team made up largely of underclassmen, the Irish finished with an 11-21 record, and were raised by a mid-season slump that saw them lose 14 of 16 games.

“Timely hitting would have won a lot of those games for us last year,” Kline said. “And that’s what we’re going to do this season. We will have the capability to increase our RBI total, and to cut down on strikeouts at the right time. The offensive hitting is always a problem, and you never know when things are going to develop.”

The Irish attack, which lost reliable Phil Arkin and long-ball threat Tim Ahern, will be paced this season by sophomores Pete Schmidt, Schmidt, and the team in terms of best (120), hits (1,876), RBIs (447) last season, and the Irish will be relying on him against NC State.

Joining Schmidt as key figures in the Irish offense are Bob Reschan (347), Dan Phiepe (1.260), and captain Joe LaRocca (350).

But while the Irish attack lost two regulars, the Irish defense, the ND monstesti out last one. That one was senior Ron Schmitt. Kline is expecting his available personnel to fill that gap in the infield.

“Our season this year is going to depend on defense, and it could be better than last year’s,” Kline said.

Kid Schreack (.317 record, 2.2 ERA), who was the only pitcher to finish last season with a record above .500, figures to be one of ND’s top hurlers again this year. He will be joined in Kline’s starting rotation by Jim Nee (1.201), Mike Riddell (3.44), Rich Eich (3-3, 3.50) and probably Bill Lucas.

Relievers Art Combs (9-1, 1.47) and Mark O’Connell, a sophomore, will make up the Irish bull pen during the early part of the season.

Defensively, the Notre Dame squad has lost very little from last year. Two-year veteran Bob Lawtoner will be the number one catcher, with Dan Phiepe as the top reserve.

Kline’s infield will consist of Joe LaRocca at first, Tony Zapata at second, Pete Schmidt (who played in only five last year’s last at shortstop, and Bob Knechta at third. Two returns are Tim O’Connor and Jim Penaert and a true of freshmen (Larry Lancer, Tom Mille and Ken Hump) will provide strength in the infield.

The Irish outfield has undergone the greatest overhaul since the ’71 season. Sophomore Dic Nemeth, a part-time regular last year, will open the season in centerfield. Kenny Schuster, another soph, will start left, and Howard Wood, a J.C. transfer from California, will hold down the right-field spot.

The main back-up strength in the infield will come from utility man Tim Hansen, who can play either infield or outfield, and who is capable of breaking into the lineup at either place.

Notre Dame begins its season-opening Spring Trip this Friday with a game at Murray State, Kentucky. The Irish will stay on the road until April 4th, and will play 13 games during this period. Their opposition will come from the likes of North Dakota, Minnesota, State, Arkansas State and Christian Brother’s College.

The Irish will be starting their season at something of a disadvantage, though, for the Indiana weather has limited them to very little outside practice time, and they have been forced to rely on indoor practice in the Convocation Center fieldhouse.

“It’s a disadvantage, all right,” admitted Kline, “but the others shouldn’t be too far ahead of us. Our real handicaps have come on the weekends when the weather is bad and some ‘extra-curricular’ activity keeps us from practicing inside. That’s the kind of thing we’ve been up against.”

Kline’s team will kick off its regular season the week after Spring Break with an April 11th home game against the Northwestern Wildcats.

Fencers post tainted win over Wayne St.

by Joe Wilkowski

Senior sabremen Ron Solitto and Matt Fruszynski sparked the Irish fencing team to a 14-13 victory over the Irish this season.

The Irish then cropped three more victories over Wayne State, a victory tarnished by the Tarpons the first and deciding bout.

The forfeiture resulted when the Tarpons’ Charles Schneider scored what seemed to be the final touch in a 5-4 bout against Chuck Harknass. Harknass, however, contended that he too had hit his opponent, which would have resulted in no touch. When his epee was checked for malfunction, the director of the bout concluded that the weapon was indeed faulty, at which point the Wayne State coach, who saw things differently, left the gym with his team and forfeited the final bout and the meet.

Notre Dame built up a commanding 13-4 lead in the meet, paced by three victories from both Solitto and Fruszynski. Both sabremen thus broke Doug Dabers’ record for victories in a single season. Solitto finishing with a 4-5 record and Fruszynski at 4.4. The pair paced the sabre team to a convincing 6-2 win.

The momentum changed after the final sabre match as ND record (3-1) is expected to be one of the mainstays of the Notre Dame pitching staff this season.

Novak named cage MVP

Sophomore Gary “Goose” Novak, the leading scorer and rebounder on the Notre Dame basketball team this season, was named the club’s Most Valuable Player at the annual Notre Dame basketball dinner last week in the ACC.

Novak, from LaSalle, Ill., averaged 16.8 points and 10.3 rebounds per game while emerging as a standard performer for the Irish, who suffered through a 6-10 campaign under first coach Richard “Tugger” Phillips.

Other awards were presented to John Egart, Tom O’Mara and Bill Township. Egart, a senior guard, was named the team’s Most Courageous player. O’Mara won the Fr. Tom Brennan award for Free Throw Shooting Proficiency. And Townsend was voted the club’s Most Inspirational Player.

SIMER’S DELICIOUS Italian sandiwches, spaghetti and seafood soups 64 oz. Pitcher Beer $1.25 Daily POOL TABLES FREE USE OF DINING ROOM FOR CLUB MEETINGS, ETC. PLENTY OF PARKING Call Jim 233-2267, 404 No. Hill.
Bengal battles spice St. Pat's Day

by Jim Dohmoun
Sports Editor

St. Patrick's Day at Notre Dame was never complete without a few braves and, for those not crazy enough to fight their own battles, there was plenty of fighting to be seen Friday night at the ACC.

Fightin' Irishmen named McGrath, Kerry and many a Dubliner's heart, and victories.

Another championship trophy with McGrath, Caner and Ed Carey retained the night's activity off to a good start.

Clark and Mike Webb were Loughrey groggy in the final staged a roiling third round.

its 1972 spring schedule off the vicious left. Although Cavaghan boxed Cavaghan in the first two rounds, using his speed and quickness to ground Saturday with a pair of outstanding points, cam e when Buster for the Irish, as they took 17 of the more of a breeze for coach Fallon's only match that went three sets.

M INU TE S until the end of the fight. King was quicker, but Clark was stronger, and, once King was slowed by Clark's powerful blows, the Grace Hall junior was able to hit King often enough to pick up the win by unanimous decision.

Ban St. House was an award a win by unanimous decision.

Carrico all took singles victories as the Irish opened their 1972 campaign with easy wins over DePaul and Purdue Saturday.

The 26-game schedule, including 13 in the Athletic and Convocation Center, was announced last week by Athletic Director Jim Fallon (Moose) Krusie. And it should be held in a 3-3 series edge including a 28-21 in 1950.

Other new opponents include Pittsburgh, Xavier, Butler, and Atlantic Coast Conference powerhouse Duke. The Irish have played all four teams in previous seasons with long-time for Butler returning after an absence of just two years.

In addition to Ohio State, the Irish also play tournament-bound UCLA, Indiana and South Carolina at home along with Big Eight lacrosse teams.

ND announces 1972-73 basketball schedule

Five new opponents, including Big Ten power Ohio State, plus games with the premier teams in college basketball headed by top ranked UCLA, highlight the 1972-73 Notre Dame basketball schedule.

The 26-game schedule, including 13 in the athletic and Convocation Center, was announced last week by Athletic Director Jim Fallon (Moose) Krusie. And it should be held in a 3-3 series edge including a 28-21 in 1950.

Other new opponents include Pittsburgh, Xavier, Butler, and Atlantic Coast Conference powerhouse Duke. The Irish have played all four teams in previous seasons with long-time for Butler returning after an absence of just two years.

In addition to Ohio State, the Irish also play tournament-bound UCLA, Indiana and South Carolina at home along with Big Eight lacrosse teams.

ND announces 1972-73 basketball schedule

Five new opponents, including Big Ten power Ohio State, plus games with the premier teams in college basketball headed by top ranked UCLA, highlight the 1972-73 Notre Dame basketball schedule.

The 26-game schedule, including 13 in the athletic and Convocation Center, was announced last week by Athletic Director Jim Fallon (Moose) Krusie. And it should be held in a 3-3 series edge including a 28-21 in 1950.

Other new opponents include Pittsburgh, Xavier, Butler, and Atlantic Coast Conference powerhouse Duke. The Irish have played all four teams in previous seasons with long-time for Butler returning after an absence of just two years.

In addition to Ohio State, the Irish also play tournament-bound UCLA, Indiana and South Carolina at home along with Big Eight lacrosse teams.

ND announces 1972-73 basketball schedule

Five new opponents, including Big Ten power Ohio State, plus games with the premier teams in college basketball headed by top ranked UCLA, highlight the 1972-73 Notre Dame basketball schedule.

The 26-game schedule, including 13 in the athletic and Convocation Center, was announced last week by Athletic Director Jim Fallon (Moose) Krusie. And it should be held in a 3-3 series edge including a 28-21 in 1950.

Other new opponents include Pittsburgh, Xavier, Butler, and Atlantic Coast Conference powerhouse Duke. The Irish have played all four teams in previous seasons with long-time for Butler returning after an absence of just two years.

In addition to Ohio State, the Irish also play tournament-bound UCLA, Indiana and South Carolina at home along with Big Eight lacrosse teams.

ND announces 1972-73 basketball schedule

Five new opponents, including Big Ten power Ohio State, plus games with the premier teams in college basketball headed by top ranked UCLA, highlight the 1972-73 Notre Dame basketball schedule.

The 26-game schedule, including 13 in the athletic and Convocation Center, was announced last week by Athletic Director Jim Fallon (Moose) Krusie. And it should be held in a 3-3 series edge including a 28-21 in 1950.

Other new opponents include Pittsburgh, Xavier, Butler, and Atlantic Coast Conference powerhouse Duke. The Irish have played all four teams in previous seasons with long-time for Butler returning after an absence of just two years.

In addition to Ohio State, the Irish also play tournament-bound UCLA, Indiana and South Carolina at home along with Big Eight lacrosse teams.

ND announces 1972-73 basketball schedule

Five new opponents, including Big Ten power Ohio State, plus games with the premier teams in college basketball headed by top ranked UCLA, highlight the 1972-73 Notre Dame basketball schedule.

The 26-game schedule, including 13 in the athletic and Convocation Center, was announced last week by Athletic Director Jim Fallon (Moose) Krusie. And it should be held in a 3-3 series edge including a 28-21 in 1950.

Other new opponents include Pittsburgh, Xavier, Butler, and Atlantic Coast Conference powerhouse Duke. The Irish have played all four teams in previous seasons with long-time for Butler returning after an absence of just two years.

In addition to Ohio State, the Irish also play tournament-bound UCLA, Indiana and South Carolina at home along with Big Eight lacrosse teams.

ND announces 1972-73 basketball schedule

Five new opponents, including Big Ten power Ohio State, plus games with the premier teams in college basketball headed by top ranked UCLA, highlight the 1972-73 Notre Dame basketball schedule.

The 26-game schedule, including 13 in the athletic and Convocation Center, was announced last week by Athletic Director Jim Fallon (Moose) Krusie. And it should be held in a 3-3 series edge including a 28-21 in 1950.

Other new opponents include Pittsburgh, Xavier, Butler, and Atlantic Coast Conference powerhouse Duke. The Irish have played all four teams in previous seasons with long-time for Butler returning after an absence of just two years.

In addition to Ohio State, the Irish also play tournament-bound UCLA, Indiana and South Carolina at home along with Big Eight lacrosse teams.

ND announces 1972-73 basketball schedule

Five new opponents, including Big Ten power Ohio State, plus games with the premier teams in college basketball headed by top ranked UCLA, highlight the 1972-73 Notre Dame basketball schedule.

The 26-game schedule, including 13 in the athletic and Convocation Center, was announced last week by Athletic Director Jim Fallon (Moose) Krusie. And it should be held in a 3-3 series edge including a 28-21 in 1950.

Other new opponents include Pittsburgh, Xavier, Butler, and Atlantic Coast Conference powerhouse Duke. The Irish have played all four teams in previous seasons with long-time for Butler returning after an absence of just two years.

In addition to Ohio State, the Irish also play tournament-bound UCLA, Indiana and South Carolina at home along with Big Eight lacrosse teams.

ND announces 1972-73 basketball schedule

Five new opponents, including Big Ten power Ohio State, plus games with the premier teams in college basketball headed by top ranked UCLA, highlight the 1972-73 Notre Dame basketball schedule.

The 26-game schedule, including 13 in the athletic and Convocation Center, was announced last week by Athletic Director Jim Fallon (Moose) Krusie. And it should be held in a 3-3 series edge including a 28-21 in 1950.

Other new opponents include Pittsburgh, Xavier, Butler, and Atlantic Coast Conference powerhouse Duke. The Irish have played all four teams in previous seasons with long-time for Butler returning after an absence of just two years.

In addition to Ohio State, the Irish also play tournament-bound UCLA, Indiana and South Carolina at home along with Big Eight lacrosse teams.

ND announces 1972-73 basketball schedule

Five new opponents, including Big Ten power Ohio State, plus games with the premier teams in college basketball headed by top ranked UCLA, highlight the 1972-73 Notre Dame basketball schedule.

The 26-game schedule, including 13 in the athletic and Convocation Center, was announced last week by Athletic Director Jim Fallon (Moose) Krusie. And it should be held in a 3-3 series edge including a 28-21 in 1950.

Other new opponents include Pittsburgh, Xavier, Butler, and Atlantic Coast Conference powerhouse Duke. The Irish have played all four teams in previous seasons with long-time for Butler returning after an absence of just two years.

In addition to Ohio State, the Irish also play tournament-bound UCLA, Indiana and South Carolina at home along with Big Eight lacrosse teams.

ND announces 1972-73 basketball schedule

Five new opponents, including Big Ten power Ohio State, plus games with the premier teams in college basketball headed by top ranked UCLA, highlight the 1972-73 Notre Dame basketball schedule.

The 26-game schedule, including 13 in the athletic and Convocation Center, was announced last week by Athletic Director Jim Fallon (Moose) Krusie. And it should be held in a 3-3 series edge including a 28-21 in 1950.

Other new opponents include Pittsburgh, Xavier, Butler, and Atlantic Coast Conference powerhouse Duke. The Irish have played all four teams in previous seasons with long-time for Butler returning after an absence of just two years.

In addition to Ohio State, the Irish also play tournament-bound UCLA, Indiana and South Carolina at home along with Big Eight lacrosse teams.

ND announces 1972-73 basketball schedule

Five new opponents, including Big Ten power Ohio State, plus games with the premier teams in college basketball headed by top ranked UCLA, highlight the 1972-73 Notre Dame basketball schedule.

The 26-game schedule, including 13 in the athletic and Convocation Center, was announced last week by Athletic Director Jim Fallon (Moose) Krusie. And it should be held in a 3-3 series edge including a 28-21 in 1950.

Other new opponents include Pittsburgh, Xavier, Butler, and Atlantic Coast Conference powerhouse Duke. The Irish have played all four teams in previous seasons with long-time for Butler returning after an absence of just two years.

In addition to Ohio State, the Irish also play tournament-bound UCLA, Indiana and South Carolina at home along with Big Eight lacrosse teams.

ND announces 1972-73 basketball schedule

Five new opponents, including Big Ten power Ohio State, plus games with the premier teams in college basketball headed by top ranked UCLA, highlight the 1972-73 Notre Dame basketball schedule.

The 26-game schedule, including 13 in the athletic and Convocation Center, was announced last week by Athletic Director Jim Fallon (Moose) Krusie. And it should be held in a 3-3 series edge including a 28-21 in 1950.

Other new opponents include Pittsburgh, Xavier, Butler, and Atlantic Coast Conference powerhouse Duke. The Irish have played all four teams in previous seasons with long-time for Butler returning after an absence of just two years.

In addition to Ohio State, the Irish also play tournament-bound UCLA, Indiana and South Carolina at home along with Big Eight lacrosse teams.
Workers organize against lettuce growers

by Frank Zvelebil

Another, and perhaps the most crucial, of the many efforts by United Farm Workers Organizing Committee (UFWOC) and California lettuce growers has been the decision to organize in a Grocers Association.

According to the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) file a petition in Pecos on March 9 asking for a nationwide injunction that would bar the UFWOC from conducting boycotts of products of any growers, such an injunction would remove UFWOC's most effective tool in its struggle against growers.

It was a 5-year grape boycott that finally brought about resolutions that resulted in the farm workers receiving a wage of $2.10 an hour and 10 minute breaks every four hours. It was a lettece campaign that resulted in the Balunis Valley lettuce growers giving the farm workers a $1 per day raise in March, the result of a jurisdictional controversy with the Teamsters.

The problem being to determine whether the injunction will be issued is scheduled for April 4. The NLRB also plans to begin further investigation today dealing with the issue of permanently haling boycotts, but no date has been set on that action.

Speakers will be at the main meeting on the lettuce issue at the Danko Stage today at noon to explain the court action.

The UFWOC action is a result of a groove controversy in the result of the October 1, 1971, NLRB general counsel had written to UFWOC stating the organization was not a "labor union" under the National Labor Relations Act (NLRA).

This is critical as secondary boycotts — boycotts on products other than just a strike — are not protected under the NLRA. Since UFWOC was not considered protected by the act, which specifically excludes agricultural workers from its protections and benefits such as minimum wages, its boycotts were not unlawful.

Peter Nash, appointed recently by President Nixon as general counsel to the NLRB, has asked the agency to determine the nature of the organization.

The other local organizer of the program is Joyez Miller, who said that he could be reached by the end of March in his efforts to wish to drive or lose interest in the program at 214-8849.

The primary organizer of the program, and that, he, Moore, felt that one of the aims was to bring workers down to South Carolina, not merely on a temporary basis to work just during Easter vacation, but with the hope that "they will like it enough to return for perhaps another year, perhaps even to come back to live as doctors and lawyers."

The other local organizer of the program is Joyez Miller, who said that he could be reached by the end of March in his efforts to wish to drive or lose interest in the program at 214-8849.

The primary organizer of the program, and that, he, Moore, felt that one of the aims was to bring workers down to South Carolina, not merely on a temporary basis to work just during Easter vacation, but with the hope that "they will like it enough to return for perhaps another year, perhaps even to come back to live as doctors and lawyers."

The other local organizer of the program is Joyez Miller, who said that he could be reached by the end of March in his efforts to wish to drive or lose interest in the program at 214-8849.

The primary organizer of the program, and that, he, Moore, felt that one of the aims was to bring workers down to South Carolina, not merely on a temporary basis to work just during Easter vacation, but with the hope that "they will like it enough to return for perhaps another year, perhaps even to come back to live as doctors and lawyers."

The other local organizer of the program is Joyez Miller, who said that he could be reached by the end of March in his efforts to wish to drive or lose interest in the program at 214-8849.

The primary organizer of the program, and that, he, Moore, felt that one of the aims was to bring workers down to South Carolina, not merely on a temporary basis to work just during Easter vacation, but with the hope that "they will like it enough to return for perhaps another year, perhaps even to come back to live as doctors and lawyers."

The other local organizer of the program is Joyez Miller, who said that he could be reached by the end of March in his efforts to wish to drive or lose interest in the program at 214-8849.

The primary organizer of the program, and that, he, Moore, felt that one of the aims was to bring workers down to South Carolina, not merely on a temporary basis to work just during Easter vacation, but with the hope that "they will like it enough to return for perhaps another year, perhaps even to come back to live as doctors and lawyers."

The other local organizer of the program is Joyez Miller, who said that he could be reached by the end of March in his efforts to wish to drive or lose interest in the program at 214-8849.

The primary organizer of the program, and that, he, Moore, felt that one of the aims was to bring workers down to South Carolina, not merely on a temporary basis to work just during Easter vacation, but with the hope that "they will like it enough to return for perhaps another year, perhaps even to come back to live as doctors and lawyers."

The other local organizer of the program is Joyez Miller, who said that he could be reached by the end of March in his efforts to wish to drive or lose interest in the program at 214-8849.

The primary organizer of the program, and that, he, Moore, felt that one of the aims was to bring workers down to South Carolina, not merely on a temporary basis to work just during Easter vacation, but with the hope that "they will like it enough to return for perhaps another year, perhaps even to come back to live as doctors and lawyers."

The other local organizer of the program is Joyez Miller, who said that he could be reached by the end of March in his efforts to wish to drive or lose interest in the program at 214-8849.

The primary organizer of the program, and that, he, Moore, felt that one of the aims was to bring workers down to South Carolina, not merely on a temporary basis to work just during Easter vacation, but with the hope that "they will like it enough to return for perhaps another year, perhaps even to come back to live as doctors and lawyers."

The other local organizer of the program is Joyez Miller, who said that he could be reached by the end of March in his efforts to wish to drive or lose interest in the program at 214-8849.