SBP and Commissioners to be elected today

by Terry Keeney
Staff Reporter

Notre Dame students vote today to elect the next Student Body President and a new board of Commissioners. They are to choose among the three SBP tickets and among the ten candidates for six vacant seats on the Board of Commissioners.

The three SBP tickets of Rick Gering-Kevin O'Brien, Dennis Etienne-Mike Geisinger, and Brian McGinty-Bill McLean did little or no formal campaigning last night.

Candidates Rick Gering and Kevin O'Brien showed free movies of Charlie Chaplin and W.C. Fields in LaFortune Ballroom last night in an effort to demonstrate one of the major goals of their campaign. "I'd like to see something going on every night," said Gering. "There are so many nights around here with nothing to do, no place to go to meet people. The thing is to make everything we can free." Gering wants Student Government to assume a larger role in providing the students with more low-key social activities such as free movies, coffeehouses, and concerts.

Gering proposed the appointment of a lawyer as Student Body "Public Defender" who would assist and advise students of University regulations and judicial proceedings. Gering also called for a "Procedural Protection clause in the University Judicial Code. He believes that such a clause been in effect this year, "the Lewis Hall Incident" would have been avoided.

According to Gering student complaints about the Administration and Student Government must be channeled through Student Government. He plans to reevaluate the office of Ombudsman to include these new functions.

The ticket of Dennis Etienne-Mike Geisinger did not campaigning last night. Etienne, this year's Student Body President, explained, "Because of the short campaign and the fact that I had a jump all year on all the candidates, I'm not doing any campaigning."

When Dennis was running last year, his predecessor made his campaign for Ombudsman service. "If Gering thinks we're not helping and assisting students of University regulations and judicial proceedings," said Brian McGinty, "they just sat on the housing problem," said Brian McGinty. "Yet he didn't mention that McGinty, "Being on the Ombudsman staff we have run the gamut of Student Government functions. We deal with the students every day, Etienne does not."

Ombudsman McLean bailed out the proposal of rival SBP candidate Rick Gering to "reinvigorate" the Ombudsman service. "If Gering thinks we're not handling the problems of the University through the Ombudsman's office, I'd like to know what he expects," commented McLean.

McLean, in calling for a Student Government to serve the day-to-day needs of the student as well as make long-range plans, cited that "We need new experience as well as new blood."

In the Board of Commissioners races four of the six districts have candidates. The only district which consists of the two Towers, Mike Hess and Dore conducting a write-in campaign to win the right to represent Faculty, W.B. Ed., and Cavanaugh Halls.

District 2 sees Karen Moty running alone with Pat Dugan. Dugan, commenting on future AAUP thrusts, said that there were certain things the University "that beg a response" and that the AAUP would take the "appropriate" posture towards those issues.

Dugan went on to comment that many of these issues "center around the governance and operation of the university." He added that "the AAUP is concerned with academic freedom and that posture will be held."

Citing the action of the AAUP's " Committee W " in recommending alternatives to university policy in the area of child bearing, Dugan saw this as taking a "worthwhile role," one which he felt "should be pursued."

Professor Rathburn, commenting on Dugan's election, was encouraged by the large turnout of AAUP members voting in the election. 65 percent out of nearly 300 AAUP members voted, and Rathburn said that he felt it was "indicative that the AAUP was responsive to university issues."

The Holy Cross Missions recently acknowledged receipt of a $700 contribution from the proceeds of this year's Bengal Bouts. The contribution, largest ever from the Bouts, will go toward the "massive relief and rehabilitation program" of the missionaries, according to Rev. Arnold A. Fell, C.S.B., Director. Pictured from left are Bengal Bouts director Dominic Naplitano, Boxing Club President Mike Sodder, Rev. William T. Bradic, C.S.C., and Athletic Director Moore Krause.

New AAUP head sees more active faculty

by Jim Ferry
Staff Reporter

The American Association of University Professors chapter at Notre Dame will take a more active role in the University this year according to the newly-elected AAUP president, Professor Dennis Dugan.

Dugan, who is also the chairman of the economics department, succeeds former president, AND English professor Paul A. Rathburn. Rathburn's term as chapter president has just ended and he did not resign from the post, contrary to the story in yesterday's observer.

"Rumors of my resignation are nonsense," said Rathburn. "I didn't resign, a regular election was held."

Dugan, commenting on future AAUP thrusts, said that there were certain things the University "that beg a response" and that the AAUP would take the "appropriate" posture towards those issues.

Dugan went on to comment that many of these issues "center around the governance and operation of the university." He added that "the AAUP is concerned with academic freedom and that posture will be held."

Citing the action of the AAUP's " Committee W " in recommending alternatives to university policy in the area of child bearing, Dugan saw this as taking a "worthwhile role," one which he felt "should be pursued."

Professor Rathburn, commenting on Dugan's election, was encouraged by the large turnout of AAUP members voting in the election. 65 percent out of nearly 300 AAUP members voted, and Rathburn said that he felt it was "indicative that the AAUP was responsive to university issues."

The cast of You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown, Debbie Tirsway, Aubrey Payne, Bill McGlinn, Grace Hartigan, Andrew Schilling, and Chad Fetters. Opening night is tonight at Moreau Little Theatre.
Washington - The White House announced Wednesday that Henry A. Kissinger would return to Paris next month for new talks with Le Duc Tho. The aim of achieving "strict implementation" of the cease-fire agreement. Aides to Kissinger and Hanoi's chief negotiator will begin preliminary discussions today (Thursday) to set the stage for the revived Paris talks scheduled for mid-May.

Washington - The census Bureau disclosed that it had missed an estimated 5.5 million Americans in the 1970 head count, a 2.5 per cent oversight it called significantly smaller than errors in recent censuses. However, the Bureau conceded accurate figures have become more important since they are now used to calculate the distribution of federal funds.

Washington - Vice President Agnew reaffirmed his faith in President Nixon, but conceded for the first time that some speculation on the Watergate scandal might eventually be substantiated. "If it is," Agnew told a hastily arranged news conference, "it must be confronted forthrightly." It was the Vice President's first public comment on Watergate since the campaign, and he refused to answer questions after reading his terse statement, which did little to reveal what Agnew thinks about the scandal.

Washington - Watergate disclosures have apparently cost H.H. Haldeman much of the power he once wielded with such efficiency at the White House Chief of Staff. Amid reports that a staff shakeup was in prospect, the White House Press Secretary disclosed that Haldeman had stopped attending his regular morning meetings with top aids some three weeks ago, about the same time, other sources emphasized, when important disclosures were made in the Watergate case began to break.

St. Louis - The swollen Mississippi River system continued to flood more farm and suburban areas as options for drawing off the overflowing waters into unobstructed floodways were diminishing. Flood control officials warned that the system, fed by the wettest spring on record, would remain a major threat to areas from Rock Island, Ill., to below New Orleans for at least another six weeks.

Currently there are ten students on the committee, which aims at improving student representation in the Preprofessional Office. During its first year, the committee has worked at evaluating a faculty report, and has worked with Chairman Fr. Joseph Walter to institute several departmental reforms. Through conferences with Dr. Emil Hoffman and the Freshman Year Office, the committee has incorporated programs designed to provide needed information to students interested in the Preprofessional program. The committee's goal is to help ease the "trauma" many students experience during their Freshman year.

Students are needed to fill six places on the committee, or to help coordinate communications between individual students or groups next year. Those interested should contact Frank Banfield at 388-0893 or Tim Hayes at 694-4894 for further information.

The Observer is published daily during the college semester except vacations by the students of the University of Notre Dame and St. Mary's College. Subscriptions may be purchased for $1 per semester ($1.50 per year) from The Observer Box Q, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556. Second class postage paid, Notre Dame, Indiana, a subsidiary of the Notre Dame Office of Public Relations.
Frivolous Friday will offer AnTostal even

by Bob Quakenbush  Staff Reporter

"Nobody throws a frolic like the Irish," claims Gregory T. Monito, author and editor of the An Tostal coordinators of tomorrow's third of the Irish," claims Gregory T. Monito, author and editor of the An Tostal booklet, as well as one of the coordinators of tomorrow's third of the Notre Dame spring festival, Frivolous Friday. "This year's version of the frivolous sixth day of the week is indeed fantastic."

Another coordinator of the second day of An Tostal '73, Mike Lyon, said yesterday, "Frivolous Friday is most memorable for me. Two years ago on Frivolous Friday I spent the entire day in An Tostal's final kissing marathon. It was worth it--it set a world kissing record for ten hours and twenty minutes.

Lynn, a senior and R.A. from Holy Cross Hall, explains that the kissing marathon is no longer part of An Tostal, saying "Its decency and all of its excitement are still alive.

Monito reported Friday's events begin at 2 p.m. on the South Quad with an overview competition, to be conducted simultaneously.

"We'd really like to see a lot of classes compete in the impersonation contest at 2:30 p.m.," said Monito, a senior from Lynn Hall. His partner, Mike Lyons, added, "Last year's champion, Kevin O'Neill, is working on some new, secret impersonations, and we'd like to have them go uncontested.

They reported that "An Tostal Hall of Fame," Jim E. Bruggan, is returning to Notre Dame to emcee the Impersonation Contest and the evening's amateur hour.

The scramble for first place in the egg toss competition and the old tire race are scheduled for 3:30 p.m. on the South Quad.

Frivolous Friday's number one basketball attraction, the Bookstore Basketball Tournament Finals, is expected to draw an overflow crowd to the bookstore courts at 4:30 p.m. The game features the finest two teams from a field of 102, and will be broadcast live on WIND.

"Any team that gets as far as the finals is well worth watching," says Tom Smith, who along with his roommate, John Marie, Finn McDavid, and Pat Dwyer, along with the Observer's "third floor" junk heaps, is primarily responsible for the entire tournament. The Brinc-Phipps junior continued, "A lot volunteers referred, kept score, and worked out schedules for the tourney, and I'm sure the best reward they could all have is a capacity crowd Friday afternoon at the courthouse.

The evening's entertainment begins at 7 p.m. in Stesan Center. A brief "surprise event" precedes the '70 Original An Tostal Amateur Hour, slated for 7:15 p.m.

Appealing to all ND-SMC students, Monito asked, "If you have any talent whatever, won't you please perform?"

School to create 'philosophers'

by Bill Sabie  Staff Reporter

Children have always seemed to have hated going to school; including most of us who are now seriously harassed in our own education. And it has probably always been true that a lot more could have been gained from that time had one wanted to learn, rather than having been forced to go. Magdalen School in South Bend is the kind of school you always wish you could have attended.

Magdalen is a private, nonsectarian combination junior and senior high school, presently located in the First Christian Church, at the corner of Edly and Jefferson. In its first year of existence, it has only sixty-two students; but it has a very high student-faculty ratio, about two to one, which it promises to keep. It was founded last summer by Bruce M. Fingerhut, the present head master, who is also a doctoral student in Political Theory at Notre Dame. His educational philosophy involves a presentation of classical studies in a free and informal atmosphere.

Perhaps the most distinctive feature about the school is that the students are self-motivated in their individual learning processes. Students are not required to attend classes and their parents are asked not to subject them to any pressure to do homework or "to get good grades." They are to learn because they want to learn, not because they have to. The expectation of results from education is, Damned.

This all sounds well and good, but the obvious question is: does it work? Many feel that children are not capable of academic selfdiscipline and that in such an atmosphere, where there are no demands, they would just play all day. But this is not the case at Magdalen; most of the students do apply themselves and enjoy doing it. They have a high interest in their education, and they would probably all agree with Robin Lemei, a ninth-grade student, who said: "After going to Magdalen, I would not want to go back to public school."

The Student Union and the An Tostal Committee co-sponsored the free concert at 9:30 p.m. featured band is Elf. As always, all other An Tostal events, all in Stesan and faculty members of Notre Dame and St. Mary's are welcome to attend the concert.

"All in all, after being dunked, jailed, and having pies thrown at you on Gentle Thursday, Frivolous Friday should be welcome relaxation," concluded Lyons.

ALUMNI CLUB
THURSDAY'S SPECIAL:
Tequila!  Tequila and Mix--50c
ALSO....
"Sombrero's"--35c (coffee brandy & milk)

BEER SPECIAL
7 to 11
7-8:10 BEERS, 12 oz.
11-12:10 BEERS, 12 oz.

With TWA it's just being going.

With TWA it's just being going.

Aimed with just a pack on your back and a TWA Youth Passport in your hand, you can see a lot more of the U.S. for a lot less with TWA.

Find some ways we help.

Overnite Pass,*
TWA's terrific new money saver. It gets you guaranteed student dormitory accommodations (at the least) without advance reservations in 40 cities in the U.S.A., Canada and Mexico.

For only $5.25 per night!

U.S.A. Bonus Coupon Books.
Take your TWA Youth Passport and boarding pass to any TWA Ticket Office in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, Denver, Los Angeles or San Francisco. You get a book of bonus coupons good for 50% off things and absolutely free things like a free dinner at the Spaghetti Emporium in Boston, free tour of Denver by Grey Line, free pizza at Anna Maria's Restaurant in Washington, free admission to a flea market in Philadelphia and lots more. Like we said, with TWA it pays to be young. For all the details write: TWA - IT PAYS TO BE YOUNG, Box 25, Grand Central Station, New York, N.Y. 10017.

Thursday April 26, 1973 the observer

Final News, Staff Meeting

TWO DATES TO CHOOSE FROM: TONIGHT 7:00 LAFORTUNE 2-D

MONDAY NIGHT 7:00 LAFORTUNE 2-D

IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR ALL OBSERVER REPORTERS(PAST, PRESENT, AND FUTURE)

★ Newswriting course (AMST 446); reservations will be taken

★ Observer year-end party tickets will be distributed

★ Applications for vacancies in Editorial positions will be taken.

★ Preparations for next year

For more information: call Dan Sheehan 3610
TWA Campus Representative

"South Passport and Overnite Pass are service marks owned exclusively by TWA.

* South Passport and Overnite Pass are service marks owned exclusively by TWA.
Peripheral Division

More Rats

Lc. treanor

It is a foohardly man indeed who attempts to match wits with a man as respected as Ed Ellis—particularly when the subject is losers. I, however, am due for the angels soon, so I risk less than most—I have paid all my bills, and have no good reputation to lose.

The hon. Ellis begins to lay out his credentials—good-by-the way!—by revealing his association with other losing campaigns of the past—Bob Higgins, for example, and (though he didn’t mention it) Tom ‘Trash rat.” However, he is too modest. He did not include his one election-winning campaign—the student government election of 1974—where he placed badly, finishing nineteen votes behind the winner.

But these losers are marching again and they have recruited a slate of candidates for the SLC districts. What’s more, the ageless political loser Matt Kubik has called forth to make opposition with boy wonder Rick Gering.

There must be some malady.

But let us consider the three groups on today’s ballot. Quite simply, I contend that they display the freshness, attractiveness, and appeal of a plate full of rasty, moldy, six-day old dining hall lasagna. A more serious reflection will reveal all three platforms to be alternatively exaggerated, boring, and downright false, and the three tickets are in no way competitive with each other. None of us ever met a friend Denny O’Leary calls “the Ballantine Beer three-ring sign,” because he was one of those few who knew what another rat looked like, and then another, and add “em all up, you still get a possum.

In any case, those in politics and the media must out of a sense of duty propose a better course, and so when my friends from around campus contacted me yesterday (as they do before every election) I told them, “Mega-Rat!”

“Mega-Rat” is a big, fat possum that lives behind Lyons Hall. Several weeks ago, one of my voted colleagues wandered into a room full of people and announced to the ceiling, “You won’t believe it but I just saw a Mega-Rat!”

“It was this big, man,” he continued, spreading his arms about two or three feet. The room, of course, emptied in the direction of the bushes behind Lyons, where all saw “Mega-Rat,” who looked like a big ol’ rat but was in reality a big ol’ possum.

Since that first night, I have spoken with M. Rat on several occasions. From these sessions with the critic, I have ascertained the following: first, he is male, second, he knows more about student government than all the other candidates combined; third, he doesn’t need the Schoolmate because he considers it beneath his dignity; and finally, M. Rat will serve as student body president only if he can be the Cat-in-the-Hat as his running-mate.

Now some cynics might think I’m kidding about this whole thing. They might think that “Mega-Rat” is really a rogue, a charlatan, or La Dee Thud disguise. However, I crossed trails with “Mega-Rat” a few nights ago at Saint Mary’s, and after passing the time of day, he told me that he would not seek to change the student government constitution unless he were offered at least twelve to one odds with Cutty Sark.

In short, “Mega-Rat” sounds like my kind of possum, and I urge all who are not voting with M. Rat out of the bush behind Lyons and into the seat of power in LaFortune. Write-in: M. Rat and the Cat-in-the-Hat.

Of the three men running for the position of Student Body President, Dennis Etienne is by far the best candidate.

Etienne and his running mate Mike Geisinger have made no promises to the students other than pledging an election of this year’s student government and accomplishments in line with the same.

A New Outlook

This year’s edition attempted a new outlook on student government. Their campaign was based on some structure within which students outside of the “poobah” games could get constructive things accomplished. Note the work on the new grotto bus shelter, a student lobby, a committee to aid pre-registration woes, etc., etc. They are all good ideas, constructive ideas, and all are good moves in the area of student services.

There lies the strength of the Etienne-Geisinger ticket. In their incumbency, they will be working with the advantage of the lines of communication and structures of government that they have already set up. Particularly in the last few months, Etienne has shown great improvement in the area of student services. If the improvement continues, then Notre Dame students can expect services in the service areas of government.

Managerial Excellence

Throughout the tenure of his office, Etienne has proven his excellence as a manager and in a position of an incumbent SSB, Etienne’s managerial qualities might be severely tested.

There exists a dichotomy in the attainment of a position of incumbency.

The incumbency brings with it established lines of communication, established working relationships, and good working relationships with people in

---

Peripheral Division

More Rats

Lc. treanor

It is a foolhardly man indeed who attempts to match wits with a man as respected as Ed Ellis—particularly when the subject is losers. I, however, am due for the angels soon, so I risk less than most—I have paid all my bills, and have no good reputation to lose.

The hon. Ellis begins to lay out his credentials—good-by-the way!—by revealing his association with other losing campaigns of the past—Bob Higgins, for example, and (though he didn’t mention it) Tom ‘Trash rat.” However, he is too modest. He did not include his one election-winning campaign—the student government election of 1974—where he placed badly, finishing nineteen votes behind the winner.

But these losers are marching again and they have recruited a slate of candidates for the SLC districts. What’s more, the ageless political loser Matt Kubik has called forth to make opposition with boy wonder Rick Gering.

There must be some malady.

But let us consider the three groups on today’s ballot. Quite simply, I contend that they display the freshness, attractiveness, and appeal of a plate full of rasty, moldy, six-day old dining hall lasagna. A more serious reflection will reveal all three platforms to be alternatively exaggerated, boring, and downright false, and the three tickets are in no way competitive with each other. None of us ever met a friend Denny O’Leary calls “the Ballantine Beer three-ring sign,” because he was one of those few who knew what another rat looked like, and then another, and add “em all up, you still get a possum.

In any case, those in politics and the media must out of a sense of duty propose a better course, and so when my friends from around campus contacted me yesterday (as they do before every election) I told them, “Mega-Rat!”

“Mega-Rat” is a big, fat possum that lives behind Lyons Hall. Several weeks ago, one of my voted colleagues wandered into a room full of people and announced to the ceiling, “You won’t believe it but I just saw a Mega-Rat!”

“It was this big, man,” he continued, spreading his arms about two or three feet. The room, of course, emptied in the direction of the bushes behind Lyons, where all saw “Mega-Rat,” who looked like a big ol’ rat but was in reality a big ol’ possum.

Since that first night, I have spoken with M. Rat on several occasions. From these sessions with the critic, I have ascertained the following: first, he is male, second, he knows more about student government than all the other candidates combined; third, he doesn’t need the Schoolmate because he considers it beneath his dignity; and finally, M. Rat will serve as student body president only if he can be the Cat-in-the-Hat as his running-mate.

Now some cynics might think I’m kidding about this whole thing. They might think that “Mega-Rat” is really a rogue, a charlatan, or La Dee Thud disguise. However, I crossed trails with “Mega-Rat” a few nights ago at Saint Mary’s, and after passing the time of day, he told me that he would not seek to change the student government constitution unless he were offered at least twelve to one odds with Cutty Sark.

In short, “Mega-Rat” sounds like my kind of possum, and I urge all who are not voting with M. Rat out of the bush behind Lyons and into the seat of power in LaFortune. Write-in: M. Rat and the Cat-in-the-Hat.

Of the three men running for the position of Student Body President, Dennis Etienne is by far the best candidate.

Etienne and his running mate Mike Geisinger have made no promises to the students other than pledging an election of this year’s student government and accomplishments in line with the same.

A New Outlook

This year’s edition attempted a new outlook on student government. Their campaign was based on some structure within which students outside of the “poobah” games could get constructive things accomplished. Note the work on the new grotto bus shelter, a student lobby, a committee to aid pre-registration woes, etc., etc. They are all good ideas, constructive ideas, and all are good moves in the area of student services.

There lies the strength of the Etienne-Geisinger ticket. In their incumbency, they will be working with the advantage of the lines of communication and structures of government that they have already set up. Particularly in the last few months, Etienne has shown great improvement in the area of student services. If the improvement continues, then Notre Dame students can expect services in the service areas of government.

Managerial Excellence

Throughout the tenure of his office, Etienne has proven his excellence as a manager and in a position of an incumbent SSB, Etienne’s managerial qualities might be severely tested.

There exists a dichotomy in the attainment of a position of incumbency.

The incumbency brings with it established lines of communication, established working relationships, and good working relationships with people in power. But likewise it brings a tendency to stagnate. When an incumbent is re-elected, often he will allow things to operate as in the past and hence fail to remedy the dichotomy.

In his last term, Etienne has been in a secondary positon. Though he maintained the government office and completed the managerial-style whirl, Kersten retained the leadership position associated with the SBP. In other words, Etienne was never really given the opportunity to lead the students. In the future, the opportunity and the necessity will be presented, and looking upon his previous record, odds are that he can come through.

The SLC

In the six districts of the SLC, there are only two contested elections. In district 4, Matt Kubik is opposing Ed Rahill. Kubik is the recommended choice. He is probably best prepared to handle the problems, frustrations and inter-personal relationships found in the SLC. Rahill in his enthusiasm, desire, and concern has shown that he is a satisfactory choice, but Kubik nevertheless should be elected.

In District 1, the off-campus district, only Bob Kincid appeared before the Editorial Board and despite the fact that he has complete knowledge of the functions of an elected SLC member, there is no basis for comparison with the other candidate, Christopher McMannus.

In the uncontested districts, Karen Moty is running in District 2, Mike Hess and Bob Connolly in District 6.

The Editorial Board

Real Coed Talk

Editor:

So now you're either at St. Mary's or Notre Dame. That means that you have your home here. What was once home is now a place to visit, a summer vacation spot. All decisions you make are yours and yours alone. Any changes made will come only through your efforts. The sooner you realise this, the further you'll go.

Within your repertoire of "decisions to make" is that one concerning your relations with the opposite sex. The only way to make a fair decision is to wave over assumptions and deal only with what is. Assumptions only lead to misconceptions. Misunderstandings lead to hurt.

Now should you, the guy at Notre Dame, assume that a girl you've dated the last two Saturdays is yours and wait anxiously for your call? Sorry. The guy next door likes to "get out", too.

How about you, SCC? Do you assume that for every concert that comes along, that same "boyfriend" will ask you to it? Did you ever stop to think he may be on the same budget you are—he needs soap and toothpaste just as much as you do.

Do either of you really think that the once a week, massacre tie, plant dancing at the Library, and never having experiences with girls. (and vice-versa girls.) Is this elementary school? Are you discriminating between a male and female? If you like a person, should it matter what biological make-up that person has, that determines going out of your way to say hello? That hello could very well make their day.

And guys—can you righteousness assume that because a girl has decided to drop by, that she's giving you a special key to her heart for you—or is downright bold? Are your experiences broad enough to make that assumption? If you've answered both questions yes—you're downright naive. The greater percentage of guys at Notre Dame know little more about Saint Mary's than where the cafeteria is.

There's another side to the story, too. She may ask, "Why doesn't he ever come to see me?" It could be he's just plain shy. It could be he was never invited. He may ask himself, "Why is she so cold?"

It could be she went to a girl's school and never had experiences with men. (and vice-versa girls.) There is an element of misunderstanding needed between two people for them to communicate. Why not take the time to get to know a person before you start making assumptions. Why assume anything and risk misunderstanding? Ask questions, be honest. No one is here to pave a clear cut way for you like you had at home. You make the decision. You make the assumptions.

(name withheld upon request)

Pseudo Boycott

Editor:

As a life-long resident of California's Salinas Valley and as one inexorably opposed to the UFW boycott of non-union lettuce, I was personally dismayed to read the results of Monday's vote regarding the singular purchase of Chaves-UFW lettuce by the University. Such a vote in light of this brand of so-called "liberal" conscience of the student body at this so-called "humanistic" University. It is a convenient band-aid "liberalism" aimed not at overcoming the inherent hypocrisy and concession of this University's administration or at matters of great national and human concern (such as a woman's right to socio-economic equality). -rather, it is a "liberalism" aimed at a struggle in the Salinas Valley of California, a far from new struggle which few students either planned date affair blossoms into a real friendship (in one way or another)? Well, look at the rate of divorces among the marriages of people for them to communicate. There is an element of misunderstanding needed between two people for them to communicate. Why not take the time to get to know a person before you start making assumptions. Why assume anything and risk misunderstanding? Ask questions, be honest. No one is here to pave a clear cut way for you like you had at home. You make the decision. You make the assumptions.

(name withheld upon request)

Thanks, Mark!

Dear Editor:

The news media often come under critical attack, both nationally and locally at Notre Dame. However, I'd like to offer another slant on the job being done around the Notre Dame campus. A few nights ago one of our reporters, Dave Kaminski, called to ask me some questions concerning the impending GRU election of officers. In reading his article in yesterday's Observer, (4-11-73), I was pleasantly surprised to find the information stated the way I had relayed it to Dave. It is a small incident, but a very heartening one.

At any rate, know that some people at Notre Dame do appreciate the quality effort of the Observer staff.

Sincerely,

Bro. Mark J. Ratkus, FSC

The Observer

Hockey

Refereeing the match-up will be Edmund Price, Director of Notre Dame Food Services; J. James Ricehe, Dean of Students; and Arthur Pears, Chief of Notre Dame Security. Rumor has it that they will keep the ice "secure" but will "policing" the rink.

It will cost interested observers only 50 cents and could very well prove to be an interesting climax to the An Tos tal weekend. Show up and help raise some money for Muscular Dystrophy.

Butch Ward

Deanesbury

OF COURSE YOU NEED AN ATTORNEY FOR THE DEFENSE CASE...
BUT IT'S HARD TO WRITE IN MY APPOINTMENT BOOK AS I AM THE SECRETARY, AS MURDERS TRIAL!

Garry Trudeau

The Observer

Manning Editor: Joe Abel
News Editor: Anthony Abudial
Assistant News Editors: John Happe, John Dzialowski
Features Editor: Annette Kersey
Art Director: Tom Drape
Wire Editor: Tom Drape
Production Manager: Joe Hoven
Associate Editor: Rod Brady

Editorials printed in The Observer reflect the opinion of the writer. Columns reflect the opinion of the individual writer. They are not to be taken as editorial comment.

The Observer
Magdalen: new concept on classic foundation

(continued from p. 3)

It takes a while, though, for students to become self-motivated. Since most of the students at Magdalen came from the public school system, at first they were not ready to handle their newfound freedom—as Fingerhut bluntly states: "they went wild." But he feels they eventually started to adjust when they became able to distinguish between the concepts of freedom and license. He says that the students soon come to realize that "there are logical consequences to any action, and the logical sequence of license is slavery—slavery to passion. The logical consequence of not going to classes is to flunk. It's not to be desired, cajoled or bribed; it's to flunk." Nonetheless, he sometimes happens, particularly on a nice day, that no students will show up for a class. This would irk many teachers (as we all know), but those at Magdalen not only tolerate it, they expect it. An MacGilll, a French teacher, feels that to harass her students in any way for their attendance would be detrimental to what she believes Magdalen is accomplishing. If I have a great respect for the students, even when they are self-esteem, and I feel that this should be the driving factor in education— it should not come from me.

This reliance on the child's self-motivation is one of the major respects to the main idea that A.S. Neil employed in his "radical school" concept. In his well-known Summerhill School in England, which he made the school child-rather than making the child fit the school—instead of making the school fit the child.

However, there is a fundamental difference between Magdalen and Summerhill. In Neil's book, Summerhill, he says that the standard school subjects "don't matter a jot" compared to the question of Man's inner happiness; therefore, Summerhill's academic structure in relatively lax. Magdalen also does not strictly adhere to contemporary, standard subject matter, but it goes in the other direction: it embodies the classical approach to education. The subjects are classical in the sense that they are the same subjects that were taught for eight centuries in Europe to everybody. They are "non-trendy" subjects, says Fingerhut, because "what was true for man two thousand years ago is still true today."

The approach divides the seven liberal arts into the Quadrivium and the Trivium. The former deals with the subjects astronomy, geometry, arithmetic and music. The Trivium was divided into grammar, dialectic and rhetoric. Grammar is basically the study of Latin, which leads into studies of other languages. Dialectic is the study of logic (a subject found only in college today); and rhetoric is the study of styles of writing.

The intent of classical studies is, once again, to create "lovers of knowledge" and to make the students aware that, as Fingerhut feels, "all learning is inter-related and ongoing." He says, "Classical studies are aimed at teaching men how to think and how to live in the world." They are "cultivations" in the sense that they are not specifically designed to lead one to a career, which he considers the natural effect of a standard curriculum.

There were no "special students" in the classical approach; it was for everybody. According to Fingerhut, there is no particular breed of students at Magdalen as there is no admission test. It is apparent, then, that the Magdalen student faces a rigorous academic challenge. A seventh-grade Latin, French, English, Math, Science, Logic and Music. Athletics are also stressed, but the program is informal and held after school and on weekends. By the time a student graduates, he will have taken Latin, French, German and Greek; he will be well-versed in English, composition and literature, and, he will have at a solid introductory background in philosophy and theology. The purpose of it all is to overcome the "wastefulness of secondary schools" for which Fingerhut finds colleges must compensate by offering remedial courses in philosophy, English and mathematics during the freshman and sophomore years.

Some would say that this staggering amount of work is just too much and too complex for the pre-college student. And, though one student complained that "Logic is the most boring thing," MacGill says that the workload is nonetheless accepted as a challenge. "Most students are very proud to have this put on them."

Yet with all this work, the classroom routine at Magdalen is anything but the usual pedantic "classroom routine." Sometimes, all classes are suddenly cancelled and the whole school piles into the teachers' cars and heads off for a concert or a movie. It is a sad thing that an institution such as Magdalen, that stands on such idealistic goals, should be faced with extinction from such a materialistic concern as money. It is a sad thing that parents are reluctant to send their children there. Fingerhut would like to get children from faculty members at Notre Dame, but he remarks that, "We get sympathy from them, but no students."

So, in Fingerhut's words the future of Magdalen is "problematic." Although he will remain committed to his educational ideals, he has resigned himself to the fact that: "If we don't get enough students, we'll pack up and leave." Such an end to Magdalen would be a loss to all of the educational community in South Bend.

Tucson slides planned

by Mary Jaeca

Staff Reporter

Slides of the Tucson area will be presented at 12:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. in Stapleton Lounge for any interested students in the Saint Mary's Tucson Program.

Recently approved by the Board of Regents, the program will begin in September and will involve 20 different students each semester. According to Mr. John Hof, assistant to the president and coordinator of the Tucson Program, any student interested in participating in either semester should contact himself or Mr. Alma Peter, director of Overseas Programs, as soon as possible for complete fact sheet, curriculum materials, color brochures, and an application.

Although no professors have signed contracts yet, Hof stated that they will be selected from the Tucson area and approved by the participating departments of SMC. St. Mary's President Dr. Edward Henry announced the appointment of Sr. M. Gertrude Anne Otis as director of the program. Sister Otis served as the college's registrar from 1953-55 and as admissions director from 1966- 68. She was Dean of St. Mary's College Graduate School of Theology from 1969-70.

THURSDAY — APRIL 26

AFTERNOON: SOUTH QUAD

EVENING: NORTH QUAD

11:30 1:00 IRISH LUNCH IN DINING HALLS
1:00 KITE FLYING SPECTACLE
2:30 TRIVIA BOWL (in Library Aud. If it rains)
4:00 JOCKS v. FEMA'S—B-BALL
7:00 BAND STARTS PLAYING
7:00-9:30 CAN STACKING CONTEST
8:00 KUNING BOOTH
8:00 PIE THROWING
8:10 JAIL BIRD
8:30 BURLAP SACK RACE
9:00 FIND YOUR MATE
9:30 HUMAN PYRAMID BUILDING
10:00 FLOUR BLOWING CONTEST

FRIDAY — APRIL 27

SOUTH QUAD

11:30 1:00 JELLO Toss Contest
1:00 QUARTER PITCHING
2:00 IMPERSONATION CONTEST (in Library Aud. If it rains)
3:00 OLD FIRE RACE
3:30 EGG THROW
4:00 BOOKSTORE B-BALL TOURNAMENT FINALS
7:00 SURPRISE EVENT
7:15 THE FIFTH ORIGINAL AN TOTTAL AMATEUR HOUR
9:00 FREE CONCERT (follows Amateur Hour—in stapleton Center)

Note: All faculty, administration and off-campus students are cordially invited to the free picnic, Saturday, 11:30 am 1 00 beside Holy Cross Hall.

Irish Wake tickets sold on North and South quads and at stapleton Center during activities.
by Terry Kenee

The $25 fee may be pledged to a charitable cause of the donor's choosing. The Jewish Dance Marathon is continuing to strive for peace. "We have been compelled to do so by the realities of the situation in the Middle East."

When asked to comment on the recent censure of Israel by the UN Security Council, Ambassador Tekoah emphasized that the Middle East peace can result only through negotiations between Israel and the Arab states, not through resolutions of the Security Council. "Our difficulties demand a negotiation-seeking agreement. They cannot be dealt with ef-fectively by debate in the UN," Tekoah said. "All international conflicts resolved in the last two years have been attained through efforts (negotiation) (outside) the United Nations."

Tekoah praised American at-tempts to mediate in the Middle East conflict and urged further American involvement. "Any assistance on the part of the United States to bring Israel and the Arab states into a serious dialogue is welcome. The question is how and when can Israel and the United States start the dialogue that has taken place in the world. If the U.S. can be helpful in en-gaging the Arab states to negotiate, that of course would be welcome," Tekoah said.

Ambassador Tekoah appeared at Notre Dame at the invitation of the University and the Jewish Community Council of St. Joseph County.

THE NOTRE DAME-SAINT MARY'S THEATRE

You're a Good Man Charles Brown

Clark Gable's musical entertainment based on the comic strip Peanuts by Charles M. Schulz

April 26, 27, 28, 29 at 7:30 pm
May 3, 4, 5 at 8:30 pm
April 28 and May 5 at 7:30 pm
Subscriptions: 294-4176

MAY GRADUATES!

ASSOCIATES PERSONNEL SERVICES was recently for-med as a subsidiary company of ASSOCIATES COR-PORATION OF NORTH AMERICA to better service the ever-increasing need of professional personnel seeking College Graduates to enter super management training programs. Currently we are representing several large companies seeking professionals in the following fields: ACCOUNTING, DATA PROCESSING, SALES, AD-MINISTRATION, AND TECHNICAL AREAS.

Now is the time to start giving serious thought regarding your future. We ask that you let our Professional Staff of College Alumni Assistants help you in this very im-portant period. If you are currently seeking a de-sirable career move, please call or come in to confer to:

ASSOCIATES PERSONNEL SERVICE
1303 E. Jefferson Blvd. South Bend Ind. 46604
219-233-2132

A licenced employment agency

MAY GRADUATES!

ASSOCIATES PERSONNEL SERVICES was recently for-med as a subsidiary company of ASSOCIATES COR-PORATION OF NORTH AMERICA to better service the ever-increasing need of professional personnel seeking College Graduates to enter super management training programs. Currently we are representing several large companies seeking professionals in the following fields: ACCOUNTING, DATA PROCESSING, SALES, AD-MINISTRATION, AND TECHNICAL AREAS.

Now is the time to start giving serious thought regarding your future. We ask that you let our Professional Staff of College Alumni Assistants help you in this very im-portant period. If you are currently seeking a de-sirable career move, please call or come in to confer to:

ASSOCIATES PERSONNEL SERVICE
1303 E. Jefferson Blvd. South Bend Ind. 46604
219-233-2132

A licenced employment agency

MAY GRADUATES!

ASSOCIATES PERSONNEL SERVICES was recently for-med as a subsidiary company of ASSOCIATES COR-PORATION OF NORTH AMERICA to better service the ever-increasing need of professional personnel seeking College Graduates to enter super management training programs. Currently we are representing several large companies seeking professionals in the following fields: ACCOUNTING, DATA PROCESSING, SALES, AD-MINISTRATION, AND TECHNICAL AREAS.

Now is the time to start giving serious thought regarding your future. We ask that you let our Professional Staff of College Alumni Assistants help you in this very im-portant period. If you are currently seeking a de-sirable career move, please call or come in to confer to:

ASSOCIATES PERSONNEL SERVICE
1303 E. Jefferson Blvd. South Bend Ind. 46604
219-233-2132

A licenced employment agency
During his nine-plus years as Notre Dame's head football coach, Ara Parseghian has become something of a legend among athletic administrators and fans of the University of Notre Dame. And yesterday, in the first stadium scrimmage of the spring season, Parseghian watched as his team struggled to shake off the effects of their recent off-season.
The Irish gridders, playing in a stiflingly hot climate, were in the middle of what some estimate as a week since their six-day Easter break. The weather was perfect football weather, and great conditions might have been at hand.

The first "D" didn't succumb easily, but Brown, facing fourth and goal from the two, hit Greg Hill with a short scoring toss and then hit end Ronit Weber for the two-pointer.
The final two scores of the scrimmage both belonged to Clements and the first offense, and both resulted from turnovers. Hill's fumble gave his own first one, and Clements and Penick capitalized on it when they kicked on an option pitch-play that went 16 yards for a TD.

Tom Clements (left) and Eric Penick each scored a pair of touchdowns in yesterday's grid scrimmage.

Consistency eludes ND gridders

By Vic Dorr

Two dozen teams, including Notre Dame, met last weekend in Columbus, Ohio, for the Ohio State Relays. Despite the scratches, which are not at all rare, coach Tom McManus still felt he should get a high huddle title while learning how his best men felt about the schedule.

The schedule for Thursday's games (all held at the Bookstore)

12:45 Wounded Knees vs. BADIN EXILES (Bracket 1 final); 11:30 Rock Jocks vs. OSU (Bracket 2 final).

Note: favored teams in each game noted in CAPS.

26.15 Bracket 1 winner vs. Bracket 3 winner; Bracket 2 winner vs. Bracket 4 winner.

Brown pass set up the final score. The soft defensive back carried his thief from the 45 to the eight, and Clements scored from the one on two plays later.

The scrimmage began the last week of a half-spring practice, and it also saw a limited return to action by defensive tackle Steve Niehaus, who had been sidelined with a knee injury since Missouri weekend of last week.

"Niehaus played during the first half," said Parseghian, "and he did okay for the first time. But the six-day layoff was evident in all of them, and we're just lucky that the weather was what it was today. It was perfect football weather, and if it had been much warmer, they might have been waiting out it. I fully expected what took place today," he concluded, "particularly from the standpoint of execution.

Bookstore slate set

The Observatory Thursday, April 26, 1973

Irish split doubleheader with W

by Stan Unkar

Notre Dame and Western Michigan battled at Carter Field for five innings, and it ended in an 11-11 tie. The game was marred by a 4-4 tie, second period, when deep back Bob Zahn collided with Al Schmugge, funneled out of the air and scooted untouched for a 46-yard touchdown.

The 147-count held until the second, when Clements and Brown stuffed position one. Clements immediately took advantage of his first-string role, and led the number one's 74 yards to a touchdown during his first possession of the final half. The drive stalled once-at-fourth and goal from the nine-but a defensive holding penalty gave the offensive team a first down on the one, and Penick squirmed across on the next play. "Penick's TD was the only score of the third period, but a second defensive touchdown triggered an avalanche of fourth period points. Tackle Kevin Nussbaum blocked Tom Lopienski's 37-yard TD run, Blue 15-yard line and end George Hayduk, snacked up Tom Lopienski's 41-yard TD run, and carried it to the field three yards into the end zone. That score made in 277, but Brown earned another score for the second offense moments later.

Clements and Penick capitalized on it when they kicked on an option pitch-play that went 16 yards for a TD.

Michigan

Tom Clements and Cliff Brown alternated at halfback, while the schedule for Thursday's games (all held at the Bookstore)

12:45 Wounded Knees vs. BADIN EXILES (Bracket 1 final); 11:30 Rock Jocks vs. OSU (Bracket 2 final).

Note: favored teams in each game noted in CAPS.

26.15 Bracket 1 winner vs. Bracket 3 winner; Bracket 2 winner vs. Bracket 4 winner.

Brown pass set up the final score. The soft defensive back carried his thief from the 45 to the eight, and Clements scored from the one on two plays later.

The scrimmage began the last week of a half-spring practice, and it also saw a limited return to action by defensive tackle Steve Niehaus, who had been sidelined with a knee injury since Missouri weekend of last week.

"Niehaus played during the first half," said Parseghian, "and he did okay for the first time. But the six-day layoff was evident in all of them, and we're just lucky that the weather was what it was today. It was perfect football weather, and if it had been much warmer, they might have been waiting out it. I fully expected what took place today," he concluded, "particularly from the standpoint of execution.

Bookstore slate set

The schedule for Thursday's games (all held at the Bookstore)

12:45 Wounded Knees vs. BADIN EXILES (Bracket 1 final); 11:30 Rock Jocks vs. OSU (Bracket 2 final).

Note: favored teams in each game noted in CAPS.

26.15 Bracket 1 winner vs. Bracket 3 winner; Bracket 2 winner vs. Bracket 4 winner.

Brown pass set up the final score. The soft defensive back carried his thief from the 45 to the eight, and Clements scored from the one on two plays later.

The scrimmage began the last week of a half-spring practice, and it also saw a limited return to action by defensive tackle Steve Niehaus, who had been sidelined with a knee injury since Missouri weekend of last week.

"Niehaus played during the first half," said Parseghian, "and he did okay for the first time. But the six-day layoff was evident in all of them, and we're just lucky that the weather was what it was today. It was perfect football weather, and if it had been much warmer, they might have been waiting out it. I fully expected what took place today," he concluded, "particularly from the standpoint of execution.

Bookstore slate set

The schedule for Thursday's games (all held at the Bookstore)

12:45 Wounded Knees vs. BADIN EXILES (Bracket 1 final); 11:30 Rock Jocks vs. OSU (Bracket 2 final).

Note: favored teams in each game noted in CAPS.

26.15 Bracket 1 winner vs. Bracket 3 winner; Bracket 2 winner vs. Bracket 4 winner.

Brown pass set up the final score. The soft defensive back carried his thief from the 45 to the eight, and Clements scored from the one on two plays later.

The scrimmage began the last week of a half-spring practice, and it also saw a limited return to action by defensive tackle Steve Niehaus, who had been sidelined with a knee injury since Missouri weekend of last week.

"Niehaus played during the first half," said Parseghian, "and he did okay for the first time. But the six-day layoff was evident in all of them, and we're just lucky that the weather was what it was today. It was perfect football weather, and if it had been much warmer, they might have been waiting out it. I fully expected what took place today," he concluded, "particularly from the standpoint of execution.

Bookstore slate set

The schedule for Thursday's games (all held at the Bookstore)

12:45 Wounded Knees vs. BADIN EXILES (Bracket 1 final); 11:30 Rock Jocks vs. OSU (Bracket 2 final).

Note: favored teams in each game noted in CAPS.

26.15 Bracket 1 winner vs. Bracket 3 winner; Bracket 2 winner vs. Bracket 4 winner.

Brown pass set up the final score. The soft defensive back carried his thief from the 45 to the eight, and Clements scored from the one on two plays later.

The scrimmage began the last week of a half-spring practice, and it also saw a limited return to action by defensive tackle Steve Niehaus, who had been sidelined with a knee injury since Missouri weekend of last week.

"Niehaus played during the first half," said Parseghian, "and he did okay for the first time. But the six-day layoff was evident in all of them, and we're just lucky that the weather was what it was today. It was perfect football weather, and if it had been much warmer, they might have been waiting out it. I fully expected what took place today," he concluded, "particularly from the standpoint of execution.

Bookstore slate set

The schedule for Thursday's games (all held at the Bookstore)

12:45 Wounded Knees vs. BADIN EXILES (Bracket 1 final); 11:30 Rock Jocks vs. OSU (Bracket 2 final).

Note: favored teams in each game noted in CAPS.