St. Mary's announces change in judicial policy

Halls to deal with first offenders

by Maria Gallagher
St. Mary's Editor

A change in Saint Mary's judicial policy was announced jointly last night by Ann Smith, Hall Life Commissioner, and Laurie Bracken, Student Relations Board Chairman. Effective immediately, each hall will individually deal with a number of hall-related problems that formerly would have been handled by the Student Relations Board.

Until now, all campus infractions received a hearing before the Student Relations Board, and decisions of that body were appealed to the Appellate Board. Now first offenses such as violations of hall quiet, signout, curfew, smoking, cooking, and candle regulations will be dealt with by the hall in which they occurred.

The policy change was recommended by the Planning Process Committee on Judicial Review. The Student Relations Board at the same time had been studying a similar plan and the two groups came to the same conclusions. Final approval came at last night's meeting of the Student Relations Board, the Hall Life Commission, and Dean of Students Kathleen Mulaney.

halls responsible

The move "puts the responsibility where it belongs— in the halls," according to Mulaney. In this way cases can be handled more effectively.

Bracken noted that while the Judicial Board had virtually become a body for simply hearings and decisions, the new system will allow for more feedback.

aims at prevention

"The object is to prevent a second offense. The more personalized system will permit counselling and dialogue, and promote better relations than the former system," she said.

The division also takes a load off the Judicial Board, which becomes a higher appeal board. The Appellate Board is now, in effect, the 'Supreme Court' of appeals.

serious violations

More serious offenses will go directly to the Judicial Board. These include violations of dorm security, male visitation, and possession and consumption of alcohol in the dormitories.

"How well the new system works will depend entirely on each hall," Bracken said.

The house councils will be subject to the Hall Life Commission and the Student Relations Board.

Father Theodore Hesburgh, president of Notre Dame, flanked by Father David Sprauer (to the left) and Howard Glickstein, were among the hundreds of participants and observers who packed LaFortune Student Center last night for Activities Night. Organizers of the Student Government-sponsored event expressed their pleasure with the turn-out at the night and estimated that the crowd was equivalent to last year's outing. They praised better organization and arrangement of the activities as the keys to easing the crowded conditions of last year's event.

HPC meets to talk over finances

Members of the Hall President's Council met Sunday night with Student Body President Dennis Etienne to discuss financial arrangements for the coming year. Both parties were reluctant to discuss anything definite after the meeting. "Anything decided still has to be passed by the Budget Committee and the Board of Commissioners," said Fred Baranowski, head of the BPC.

The Hall President's Council receives all of its funds from Student Government, using them primarily for the Hall Life Fund and the yearly An Tostal festival. The cost of An Tostal is expected to rise this year as extra events are planned.

The Hall Life Fund is primarily based on improvement of life in the halls, excluding maintenance. The procedure for allocation of funds, according to H-Man, "will remain pretty much the same as last year."

The HPC ran into difficulties last year with the Board of Commissioners as to what exactly constitutes hall life improvement. The Board tended to lean towards more stable investments, such as televisions or ping-pong tables, whereas some of the halls preferred to use money for hall dinners and other hall activities. It is not known just how the present Board will feel. "We met once last spring and we have yet to meet this fall," said Etienne.

Allocation of funds were a large problem with the two organizations last year, so this eyar an agreement on the money issue is in the first priority. "We felt that once we got financial considerations out of the way, 'said Baranowski, 'things will run much smoother for both organizations."

The HPC will have its first meeting tonight at 6:30 in the chapel of St. Ed's hall.
New York - Fighting to the last for a postponement, John Mitchell and Maurice Stans, the first ex-officio members to face criminal charges in 59 years, were scheduled to go on trial Tuesday on a 16 count federal indictment.

An unprecedented 5000 potential jurors were summoned to Manhattan federal district court for jury selection which may last a week.

Washington - Democratic leaders in Congress Monday accepted President Nixon's peace overtures and took under consideration a package of 50 bills he wants passed, many of them before the end of the year.

But there was some Capitol Hill skepticism; that Nixon's effort to smooth relations with Congress by his offer to compromise on legislation would work.

London - Bomb explosions at two crowded London railroad stations injured 12 persons Monday - one of them gravely - and sent panic-stricken commuters fleeing in the bloodiest of Britain's current wave of terror bombings, police and hospital officials said.

Police, as in previous incidents, blamed the bombings as Irish extremists and said the injured included a baby in a pram and a Chinese couple standing close to one of the explosions.

Detroit - In an unusual action apparently intended as a conciliatory gesture to United Auto Workers - General Motors and Ford Monday agreed to extend the UAW contracts even as the union prepared for a possible strike against Chrysler Corp. Friday night.

Refusal to extend the contracts past 5:30 p.m. Friday would have put added pressure on the union to settle with Chrysler - the firm singled out by the UAW to set a pattern in this year's auto contract talks.

in Indiana

Governor Bowen was questioned on the economy, pollution and speed control.

Another issue dealt with the percentage of phosphate in Indiana. Governor Bowen explained that no action has been taken by the legislature to attempt to increase the percentage which is now zero. He did, however, insist certain dairy and meat industries which have been authorized to use a higher percentage of phosphate for sanitation purposes. Bowen said this would be no threat to Indiana residents.

Governor Bowen briefly touched upon the question of whether to lower the highway speed limit. It has been argued that a lowering of the present speed limit would conserve gas and lower the fatality rate. Governor Bowen said, "It isn't within my authority to limit speed. Legislation has that authority although I do have authority to lower the limit in certain areas." He revealed that the legislature has voted 2-1 against lowering the speed limit after considering travelling salesman and truck drivers. The Governor feels the state has been successful in reducing the overall death rate through safety precautions. He went so far as to say "twenty Hosters would not be alive today if it had not been for the safety patrol and the National Guard over the three long weekends."

When asked why the Michigan shoreline area in Indiana was not declared a disaster area after flooding, Governor Bowen replied, "There has to be at least 3 million dollars worth of damage done in order to declare a disaster area. This requirement was not met by the Indiana flood area." The Highway Department did aid in rebuilding streets and roads.

Governor Bowen's final comments dealt with the Indianapolis Star's campaign to impeach Judge Dillon, who is pushing for segregated racing.

But the mentor remarked, "I am glad I can live in a country that allows this type of thing. I follow it with interest."

on campus today

4:30 p.m. - Afro lecture, library aud. and lounge
4:30 p.m. - Seminar opportunities for genetical research in Africa, dr. revener, botany dept., university of Nkuru, Kenya, galvin life science aud.
8:15 p.m. - Concert, Indianapolis brass quintet, sponsored by music dept., mission st., sacred heart church

Farrow named head of Social Science Lab

The appointment of Dr. B.J. Farrow, associate professor of psychology, as director of Notre Dame's Social Science Training and Research Laboratory has been announced by Rev. James T. Burthardt, present.

Founded in 1965, the training center located in Memorial Library provided for the first time a middle-ground where researchers of a number of disciplines would have easy access to work done by people in other disciplines.

Efforts of the historian, anthropologist, economist, and sociologist were brought together and assembled on computer tape to provide more complete answers to a variety of sociological problems.

Projects undertaken by the Laboratory included a community hunting study, park and recreation research, and research on the needs of the aged. Results of these studies have been published in "Research Reports in the Social Sciences," a mimeographed publication of the laboratory.

Farrow, who has served as acting director of the laboratory in Liu's absence from the campus for research and teaching programs, joined the Notre Dame faculty in 1960. He received his undergraduate degree at Washburn University, a master's degree at University of Kansas, and a doctorate in psychology at University of Texas. At Notre Dame, he has been engaged in research measuring the responsive levels of retarded children.

The Observer is published daily during the college semester. Readers in Indiana may be purchased for $8 per semester or $16 per year from The Observer Box G, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556. Second class postage paid, Notre Dame, Ind. 46556.
Great frisbee fly-in scheduled Sunday at mall

by Kill Barton
Staff Reporter

Thousands of frisbees are now within "Fling's reach" to all students and faculty members so that they can prepare for the GREAT FRISBEE FLY-IN which will be held at 1PM Sunday, September 30 at the 9-acre site located by Ayr-Way, Town & Country. Those free frisbees are available today at the Ayr-Way, Town & Country and Scottsdale shopping centers and will accompany any sandwiches and coke purchase at the Roselad Burger King starting Friday.

The following competitions will highlight the FLY-IN:

1. Individual Event: Guts Frisbee & Ultimate Frisbee
2. Team Event: Guts Frisbee & Ultimate Frisbee
3. Distance and Longest Time Alight: the M.T.A. (Most time aloft), the Frisbee with the longest time aloft of the best 200 frisbees.

The events will be held with the option of using any artificial aids they desire (hats, helmets, gloves, etc.) provided these do not endanger the opponents. Cleated shoes are permitted, but those with sharp spikes are not.

The Frisbee Handbook contains the following rules:

1. Two teams line up behind foul lines which are 15 yards apart.
2. Before each throw, the members of the receiving team position themselves so that their finger tips touch.
3. The Frisbee must be caught cleanly in one hand. Trap catches against the body are counted as a miss. However, the Frisbees may bounce or ricochet, from player to player as long as no number of times prior to a final catch. A catch is also considered fair if caught by two players, provided each uses only one hand.
4. A throw is considered legal as long as the receiver can catch the Frisbee without crossing the foul line, without jumping in the air, or in the case of an outside receiver, without moving beyond the stance he assumes prior to the throw.
5. One point is awarded to the throwing team for any legally delivered throw that is not properly caught.
6. One point is awarded to the catching team if the throw is not caught as described above in rule number 4.
7. Guts Frisbee is a gentleman's game, and it is up to the receiving team to rule on whether or not a catch is cleanly made. If a dispute arises, the throw is repeated.
8. Each game of Guts Frisbee is won by the first team to score twenty-one points. The margin over the opponent is at least two points. A Guts Frisbee match is won by the first team to win two games.

Friday night rockout, and two trips to the Danes planned for mid-October.

Frisbee offered tour of Scottsdale

Thursday and Friday and Saturday buses will leave from Scottsdale Center to take Notre Dame fans on a tour of the South Bend area, according to Emil T. Hoffman, Dean of Freshmen Year Office of Student Affairs.

The buses will depart at 3 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 9 a.m. Saturday. All will return around 3 p.m. Saturday.

The Hoffman's encouraged all freshmen interested to pick up tickets at the Freshman Year Office as soon as possible.

He explained the tours are designed to take students to the headquarters of the city of South Bend and the outskirts of the city.

The tour is a chance for the freshmen to see South Bend and

Registration scheduled for American scene

Registration and orientation for The American Scene, A cultural series will be held Wednesday, September 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the Carroll Hall, Saint Mary's. The series of lectures, musical, and dramatic events and other cultural presentations is being offered as part of credit-hour, paid on course.

The American Scene is co-sponsored by the performing arts council, the department of speech, the academic commission, and the departments of English, and Saint Mary's.

All sessions are open to the general public. For additional information contact the humanities department, 284-3146, or the education department, 284-4195.

Flanner plans to clean up image

by Deny McLean
Staff Reporter

Flanner Hall, one of the more infamous "party halls" on campus, is apparently going to get a cleaner image according to Frank Flanagan, president of Flannear. His "Mouse" Flanagan announced a crackdown at a recent hall meeting.

The rules will be markedly different this year. New rules include that the party hall shall be more aware of all regulations that went unenforced last year.

When questioned about student reaction, Flanagan replied that he students do not know what to expect and are not aware about the whole situation of the student body. He felt that a lot of students resented this intrusio on their own responsibility.

Flanagan did not know whether the new crackdown is a result of administrative pressure. He did note that Father Mulchay did not seem as strict last years as rector of Alumni Hall.

Flanner's notorious image as a party hall may soon disappear.

The Observer 3

Tuesday, September 11, 1973

Page 3
The Unsung

Two discouraging letters appeared in the Observer office in the past week, both with one thing in common, their authors choose to shroud themselves in the secrecy of anonymity. (The Observer cannot and will not run letters that are unsigned.)

The first letter was a "Poem." It was from an ex-Farley resident who wept from an ex-Farley resident who wept over his departure from the hall. His emotions are understood and explainable, except for the closing portion of the poem. "Farley, may you rot in hell. May your walls fall, and may I live to tell how women entered Notre Dame and things just never seemed the same." It is a shame that such trite has to be written, but it is likewise a mark of abject cowardice on the part of the author to hide in the anonymous signature of a "refugee."]

It does not appear that many Dumers share the authors' sympathies. There are the hard feelings in many of the Farley and B-P exiles that were in the hearts of the ex-residents of Badin and Walsh last year when they saw women moving into "their halls." But as the last year passed, so too did the hard feelings.

But vehement nonsense of this order is something that will not wear away because it is the sign of a cowardly, immature sickness, a sickness that could destroy much of Notre Dame if the people here ever allowed it to grow.

The second letter, likewise anonymous, attacked the "Developmental Discipline" philosophy presented by Dean of Students John Macheca in a recent Observer story. "I was signed, "'To avoid discipline, anon.'" The signature reveals a lot about what the author said earlier in the piece. He claimed that the discipline theory is much like a child being whipped by his father and the signature shows the fear factor ever so present at Notre Dame. In fact, he is afraid of him. The fear of this sort, that is found all over Notre Dame, is utterly absurd. A new administration of sorts is in office under the leadership of Phillip Paccenda, and it must be given a chance to show what it is all about before allowing the fear factor to force the students to conclusions.

In the future, The Observer will stick to a set policy for the printing of letters. They all must be signed, but signatures will be withheld upon request. The letters should be typed. With these regulations, no more will writers, forced by the fear factor or attempting to hide themselves within a secret while flailing out at those around them, be allowed to spout off words that are not worthy of a human being. If you want to say something, say it and admit you said it.

Jerry Lutkus

The Unsung

Last night, LaForte Student Center was packed with people almost all of whom were attracted to the scene by Activities Night. To say it was a vast success would be a terrible understatement.

Last year, Student Government moved the night to the student center out of cavernous St. Peter's Center. That move was the key to the recent success of the night and also one of the keys in the rejuvenation of the student body. Last year's Activities Night committee came the committee that worked hard all last year to produce plans for the renovation of the center.

The organization of the night was better this time around and stately LaForte even agreed to keep the lights on all night—not like last year when the lights managed to extinguish themselves.

Congratulations to Student Government and particularly to the members of the Orientation Committee. You've done one helluva job.

Jerry Lutkus

Dear Maria,

So this is what I worried and raged about for the better part of two years? Still too early to give an overall picture of law school life because not all classes are in full swing, the hot weather discourages academic thought and, frankly, I don't know what the hell I'm doing.

One class: A homemaker is the roommates' situation. Very bad. Both are Vietnam (Army) veterans with small (I mean really small) town backgrounds. Worse, they keep the radios on all the time (except for the ten o'clock newscast on WLIT, the channel I watch). They are in their late twenties, they jog and play tennis, and have no redeeming vices. It's like living with two refugees from The Twilight Zone.

Ann Arbor is a freaky town—lots of street people, pinball arcades, pizza joints, sub shops (a South Bend rarity), and a bagel joint (where can you buy a bagel in South Bend?) within a mile of the law school. All kinds of burned-out individuals hang around the Union and along S. University Ave. (both of which are visible from my window). Prices here are exorbitant and tenants are the worst victims of price gouging.

No cheap, dirtball bars to the best of my knowledge—five, I think, are within a secret while flailing out at those around them, be allowed to spout off words that are not worthy of a human being. If you want to say something, say it and admit you said it.

Jerry Lutkus
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Summery of President Nixon’s new State of the Union message Monday:

Accused Congress of threatening to add $16 billion to his $327 billion budget and failing to make more than $1 billion in spending cuts he requested.

"I will continue to be adamantly opposed to attempts at balancing the over-all budget by slashing the defense budget," he said. "I will veto any bill that includes cuts which would imperil our national security."

He asked for more flexible authority to raise and lower tariffs and to control exports and scarce commodities.

Reaffirmed opposition to a tax increase, but urged simplification of the tax system and a tax credit to help the low-income elderly pay their taxes.

Pledged "decisive action" to fight inflation.

Called for approval of the trans-Alaska oil pipeline, construction of deepwater ports for big oil tankers, and an end to federal control of offshore oil and gas wells.

Nixon threatened to veto any bill that includes attempts at budget cuts which would imperil our national security.

Legislation setting policy on land use, safeguards against toxic substances, incentives for states to guarantee safe drinking water.

Shift of most federal school aid from direct federal grants to revenue sharing, use of revenue for job training programs, and issuance of large federal standards which would preempt private pension plans.

Federal pilot project funds for Health Maintenance Organizations, which provide prepaid group care stressing preventive medicine.

Legal services for the poor, greater "self-determination" for Indians, an office of Consumer Affairs and extension of ACTION, the volunteer service agency.

Extension of the FHA mortgage program, $125 million in federal aid to help bankrupt railroads reorganize, disaster relief reform with more local decision-making.

Tough new penalties for heroin traffickers. Restoration of the death penalty for treason, assassination, certain acts of sabotage and espionage, and violation of selected federal laws in which death results.

Prices increase only moderately as freeze on beef prices is lifted

By United Press International

The beef price freeze ended Monday but prices rose only marginally as supplies increased. Retailers predicted it would take at least a week for the prices to become stabilized.

And there was no stampede to the supermarkets by the nation's housewives.

As supplies started moving to the market daily, the first time in a month, beef prices in most areas remained the same as they had been in past weeks.

In Detroit, the Wrigley supermarket chain said it would not raise prices for a week although Farmer Jack supermarkets said it would hike the prices of some select cuts.

In New Orleans, the Pee Dee supermarket said its prices would remain the same for awhile— although it did sell ice cream and T-Bone, $2.99 a pound. "It will be much easier to get meat now. We'll be able to get anything we want from now on," said a customer.

In New York, wholesale prices of beef rose only 6 cent with the end of the freeze, less than was expected. In Houston, the tripled price was down by about one and a half cents.

Retail prices at the Tom Thumb supermarket in Dallas actually decreased to pre-freeze and pre-shortage levels.

One of the complaints often heard during the price freeze was that customers were afraid of buying meat and later being short-changed in the hold-up.

"It's just a question of mutual good faith," said a Tom Thumb spokesman. "We're willing to meet the President halfway and in some cases, more than half way."

Many of the bills on the list, outlined in Nixon's State of the Union message Monday, are in the hearing stage, passed by either the Senate or House, or already in conference. Some others, like housing and national affairs, have not been submitted by the administration.

One of the major confrontations may come from Nixon's threats in his message that he would veto any cuts in his budget.

"Well, that's too bad," said the President's economic adviser. "We have no sacred cows."

The Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, who met with Nixon last week and finished off Nixon met with House leaders over the weekend. "He feels his willingness to compromise is genuine."

"But what we might call a compromise might go far for some and not go far for others," said Mansfield.

"Our President feels he is trying to compromise his way," said Mansfield.

"But after all, Nixon met with House leaders over the weekend. "He feels his willingness to compromise is genuine."

"But what we might call a compromise might go far for some and not go far for others," said Mansfield.

"Our President feels he is trying to compromise his way," said Mansfield.

"But after all, Nixon met with House leaders over the weekend. "He feels his willingness to compromise is genuine."

"But what we might call a compromise might go far for some and not go far for others," said Mansfield.
Changes to occur in Student Health Services

by Jim Melia
Staff Reporter

The Student Health Service Department and Student Infirmery have planned a substantial number of changes for the coming year, according to Brother Just, C.S.C., newly appointed head of Student Health Services.

The most significant of these changes, said Brother Just, will involve the implementation of more efficient procedures for the rapid diagnosis and treatment of various ailments. At present, any student diagnosed and referred to St. Joseph Hospital is then responsible for the scheduling of any necessary tests and procedures, while underclassmen must secure permission from their dean of the student. The M.I. list at the beginning of the year is reserved for those students in cars, underclassmen will be notified immediately.

A registration card may be obtained from the campus office. This is to be filled out and presented by each student who will receive a parking sticker upon presentation to the security of the receipt from the card's office.

The bicycle registration is also being handled by security all semester for a fee of 72 cents, the student's bicycle will be tagged with the social security number for identification and to aid in recovery in the event of theft. The theft of bicycles this year is up 4 percent, and the numbers have reached such high levels because underclassmen must secure permission from their dean of the student. The M.I. list at the beginning of the year is reserved for those students in cars, underclassmen will be notified immediately.

A registration card may be obtained from the campus office. This is to be filled out and presented by each student who will receive a parking sticker upon presentation to the security of the receipt from the card's office.

The bicycle registration is also being handled by security all semester for a fee of 72 cents, the student's bicycle will be tagged with the social security number for identification and to aid in recovery in the event of theft. The theft of bicycles this year is up 4 percent, and the numbers have reached such high levels because underclassmen must secure permission from their dean of the student. The M.I. list at the beginning of the year is reserved for those students in cars, underclassmen will be notified immediately.

Changes to occur in Student Health Services

The Student Health Service Department and Student Infirmery have planned a substantial number of changes for the coming year, according to Brother Just, C.S.C., newly appointed head of Student Health Services.

The most significant of these changes, said Brother Just, will involve the implementation of more efficient procedures for the rapid diagnosis and treatment of various ailments. At present, any student diagnosed and referred to St. Joseph Hospital is then responsible for the scheduling of any necessary tests and procedures, while underclassmen must secure permission from their dean of the student. The M.I. list at the beginning of the year is reserved for those students in cars, underclassmen will be notified immediately.

A registration card may be obtained from the campus office. This is to be filled out and presented by each student who will receive a parking sticker upon presentation to the security of the receipt from the card's office.

The bicycle registration is also being handled by security all semester for a fee of 72 cents, the student's bicycle will be tagged with the social security number for identification and to aid in recovery in the event of theft. The theft of bicycles this year is up 4 percent, and the numbers have reached such high levels because underclassmen must secure permission from their dean of the student. The M.I. list at the beginning of the year is reserved for those students in cars, underclassmen will be notified immediately.

A registration card may be obtained from the campus office. This is to be filled out and presented by each student who will receive a parking sticker upon presentation to the security of the receipt from the card's office.

The bicycle registration is also being handled by security all semester for a fee of 72 cents, the student's bicycle will be tagged with the social security number for identification and to aid in recovery in the event of theft. The theft of bicycles this year is up 4 percent, and the numbers have reached such high levels because underclassmen must secure permission from their dean of the student. The M.I. list at the beginning of the year is reserved for those students in cars, underclassmen will be notified immediately.

A registration card may be obtained from the campus office. This is to be filled out and presented by each student who will receive a parking sticker upon presentation to the security of the receipt from the card's office.

The bicycle registration is also being handled by security all semester for a fee of 72 cents, the student's bicycle will be tagged with the social security number for identification and to aid in recovery in the event of theft. The theft of bicycles this year is up 4 percent, and the numbers have reached such high levels because underclassmen must secure permission from their dean of the student. The M.I. list at the beginning of the year is reserved for those students in cars, underclassmen will be notified immediately.

A registration card may be obtained from the campus office. This is to be filled out and presented by each student who will receive a parking sticker upon presentation to the security of the receipt from the card's office.

The bicycle registration is also being handled by security all semester for a fee of 72 cents, the student's bicycle will be tagged with the social security number for identification and to aid in recovery in the event of theft. The theft of bicycles this year is up 4 percent, and the numbers have reached such high levels because underclassmen must secure permission from their dean of the student. The M.I. list at the beginning of the year is reserved for those students in cars, underclassmen will be notified immediately.

A registration card may be obtained from the campus office. This is to be filled out and presented by each student who will receive a parking sticker upon presentation to the security of the receipt from the card's office.

The bicycle registration is also being handled by security all semester for a fee of 72 cents, the student's bicycle will be tagged with the social security number for identification and to aid in recovery in the event of theft. The theft of bicycles this year is up 4 percent, and the numbers have reached such high levels because underclassmen must secure permission from their dean of the student. The M.I. list at the beginning of the year is reserved for those students in cars, underclassmen will be notified immediately.

A registration card may be obtained from the campus office. This is to be filled out and presented by each student who will receive a parking sticker upon presentation to the security of the receipt from the card's office.

The bicycle registration is also being handled by security all semester for a fee of 72 cents, the student's bicycle will be tagged with the social security number for identification and to aid in recovery in the event of theft. The theft of bicycles this year is up 4 percent, and the numbers have reached such high levels because underclassmen must secure permission from their dean of the student. The M.I. list at the beginning of the year is reserved for those students in cars, underclassmen will be notified immediately.

A registration card may be obtained from the campus office. This is to be filled out and presented by each student who will receive a parking sticker upon presentation to the security of the receipt from the card's office.

The bicycle registration is also being handled by security all semester for a fee of 72 cents, the student's bicycle will be tagged with the social security number for identification and to aid in recovery in the event of theft. The theft of bicycles this year is up 4 percent, and the numbers have reached such high levels because underclassmen must secure permission from their dean of the student. The M.I. list at the beginning of the year is reserved for those students in cars, underclassmen will be notified immediately.

A registration card may be obtained from the campus office. This is to be filled out and presented by each student who will receive a parking sticker upon presentation to the security of the receipt from the card's office.

The bicycle registration is also being handled by security all semester for a fee of 72 cents, the student's bicycle will be tagged with the social security number for identification and to aid in recovery in the event of theft. The theft of bicycles this year is up 4 percent, and the numbers have reached such high levels because underclassmen must secure permission from their dean of the student. The M.I. list at the beginning of the year is reserved for those students in cars, underclassmen will be notified immediately.
Shakespearean films to be shown

An outstanding program of eight classic Shakespearean films will be offered by the College of Arts and Letters this fall, beginning with A Midsummer Night's Dream on September 24.

Dr. Paul Rathburn, organizer of the project, firmly believes that Shakespearean plays were written to be performed and seen and listened to rather than contemplated in silent study.

"Therefore no admission will be charged for the series, which will be shown at 7 and 8 p.m. in the Engineering Auditorium. King Lear, on November 5, is scheduled for Washington Hall."

"Whether judged in terms of individual performances, acting companies, or great directors, this must be considered a superb film series," commented Rathburn. The directors are Peter Brook, Franco Zeffirelli, Lawrence Olivier (with Olympia box marked with "Mon tenegro" at storage contents, no questions asked), Vivian Beaumont, and Joseph Mankiewicz. Rathburn says, "If so, Notre Dame will be the first college in the country to acquire such a release."

The films should provide entertainment as well as serve as excellent supplements to English literature courses.

Sept. 24 - A Midsummer Night's Dream Directed by Peter Brook (Starring Diana Rigg, Judi Dench)

Oct. 1 - The Tragedy of the Shrew Directed by Franco Zeffirelli (Starring Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor) Directed by Joseph Zazalski, the famous "Tymaning of the Shrew."

Oct. 29 - Henry V Directed by Lawrence Olivier. (Lawrence Olivier, Robbery Newton)

Nov. 5 - King Lear - Washington Hall Directed by Peter Brook (Paul Scofield, Cyril Cusack, Trevor Worth)

Nov. 19 - Hamlet Directed by Tony Richardson. (Nicol Williamson, Marianne Faithful)

Nov. 26 - Othello Directed by Lawrence Olivier (Oliveira and Maggie Smith)

Dec. 16 - Macbeth Directed by Roman Polanski

Rathburn judges the collection "a superb film series."

---

Humanities Studies sponsors lecture series

The Humanities Studies Program, now in its eighteenth year at Northwestern University, "Shame and ShAMELESSNESS in the Age of Pornography"

*November 7, 1973-Veria Dunham, Wayne State University "Alexander Saphirstein."

April 3, 1974-Stanley Idrada, provost of Loyola University with Benedict, "Reflections on Our Permanent Revolution."

According to Dr. Bruno Schlesinger, chairman of the program, the purpose of the lecture series is "to demonstrate the vitality of the Western tradition and to illustrate its significance for man in the past and present."
Notre Dame backs promise

by Gregg Ranges

Perhaps the swiftest, most versatile offensive backfield in the nation's history will open the season against Northwestern tomorrow. With only three lettermen being lost to graduation, the Irish will have a lot of weapons at their disposal. Tom Pagna feels pretty good. "Besides having a valuable year of experience, Tom also handles the kickoff duties with aplomb," said Coach Frank Brown. Cliff had an exceptional season, improving his accuracy from previous years.

U.S. September 22.

The offensive backfield returns mostly intact.kicker for Notre Dame since 1964.

Both have been direct in a battle for the third QB slot.

The Irish will be primarily responsible for opening the season against North. The offensive backfield returns mostly intact.

When he made the switch from second team briefly during spring competition last year, this one.

He had such a good year as a senior that he needs new challenges to keep him going. It's getting to me, when I see the offense not doing well and the defense making up the difference. With experience under his belt, Tom Clements is more than a placekicker. He's both an excellent runner and receiver. Clements is a good spring and gives partial credit to quarterback Andy Huff and John Ciezkowski, who supplied Clemens with his first play from scrimmage. He is both an excellent runner and receiver. Clemens has been the first man in a battle for the third QB slot.

Notre Dame is the smallest man in the middle portion of October-to-Rice, or even Michigan State—a battle for the third QB slot.

So he felt that "offense is getting to tough to play these days. Defense is mostly reasoning, isn't that hard to do, as long as you can hit him. But it was a little more than that.

"It's tough for me to feel that I'm helping out now," admitted Pagnia. "I've never been able to help a guy out. I've been able to help a guy out. I think I could do a lot better."

It is time for all this rubbish about Aaron and Ruth to halt. When Aaron has reached the 714 home run mark, it will be time to acknowledge his importance now, when it has him.

So how can you compare the likes of Babe Ruth and Henry Aaron? You can. Each player has meant a lot to baseball over his career—three- or four-game winning streaks.

The sweeter swing in baseball belongs to Hank Aaron, and perhaps before this season becomes history, the greatest of all records, that of career home runs, will be his too.

Some will argue that the greatest record is the one which has no chance of being broken. They point to Joe DiMaggio's 56-game hitting streak as that kind of mark. I agree, that record will never be broken, not during this era of baseball or ever to follow. Yet, I don't think that this record is the greatest.

Still, there is a lot of room in baseball for a player like Aaron. He has never played for a New York team.

Athletes are quick to agree that New York is worth a lot of publicity, saying nothing about the money that a player can derive for playing for the Yankees or the Mets. Look what it meant for Mickey Mantle, Joe DiMaggio and Willie Mays.

When the game was first growing and gave it the impetus to become the national pastime.

Henry Aaron has existed in a different era of baseball, an era when the game has lost its popularity in football. Yet, Aaron still means a lot to the baseball world. He is the king of the four- or five-game winning streaks.

In the twilight of his career, Henry Aaron has emerged as the Babe they played. The Babe, like Henry, did see a lot of spitballs, but in his day, they were legal. Listing these advantages is not meant to diminish the greatness of Ruth. Think of it, if there was no Babe Ruth, baseball would not have gained the popularity it did during his era. The Babe was the face of the game, not just the excellence of the offense as a whole.

Pagnia finds these injuries particularly bothersome, because he knows that "offense is getting too tough to play these days. Defense is mostly reasoning, isn't that hard."

It is time for all this rubbish about Aaron and Ruth to halt. When Aaron has reached the 714 home run mark, it will be time to acknowledge his importance now, when it has him.

Notre Dame's September 1 scrimmage, and it will likely keep the senior guard, and he's already well on the way to subduing the entire offensive unit.

Henry Aaron has never played for a New York team.

Athletes are quick to agree that New York is worth a lot of publicity, saying nothing about the money that a player can derive for playing for the Yankees or the Mets. Look what it meant for Mickey Mantle, Joe DiMaggio and Willie Mays.

So how can you compare the likes of Babe Ruth and Henry Aaron?

You can. Each player has meant a lot to baseball over his career—three- or four-game winning streaks.

The sweeter swing in baseball belongs to Hank Aaron, and perhaps before this season becomes history, the greatest of all records, that of career home runs, will be his too. Some will argue that the greatest record is the one which has no chance of being broken. They point to Joe DiMaggio's 56-game hitting streak as that kind of mark. I agree, that record will never be broken, not during this era of baseball or ever to follow. Yet, I don't think that this record is the greatest.

Still, there is a lot of room in baseball for a player like Aaron. He has never played for a New York team.

Athletes are quick to agree that New York is worth a lot of publicity, saying nothing about the money that a player can derive for playing for the Yankees or the Mets. Look what it meant for Mickey Mantle, Joe DiMaggio and Willie Mays.

So how can you compare the likes of Babe Ruth and Henry Aaron? You can. Each player has meant a lot to baseball over his career—three- or four-game winning streaks.

The sweeter swing in baseball belongs to Hank Aaron, and perhaps before this season becomes history, the greatest of all records, that of career home runs, will be his too. Some will argue that the greatest record is the one which has no chance of being broken. They point to Joe DiMaggio's 56-game hitting streak as that kind of mark. I agree, that record will never be broken, not during this era of baseball or ever to follow. Yet, I don't think that this record is the greatest.