Israel planes attack Damascus

Notre Dame students residing off-campus will soon be asked to evaluate their housing conditions, according to Fr. L. Shilts, Director of Off-Campus Residence. In a letter to all off-campus residents, Fr. Shilts said, "I received a questionnaire from an "accurate profile of what the housing quality is for off-campus students.""

Dear Off-Campus Notre Dame Student:

Let me begin by introducing myself. I am the newly appointed Director of Off-Campus Residence. This is about as long a letter as I had to ask you to fill it out. The idea is simply meant that I'm supposed to look at the housing and personal needs of off-campus students and try to deliver to you some of my findings. The questionnaire is designed to give you a direct hit on the experience you are having at Notre Dame. Your answers will help me and all of our campus leaders make plans for your housing. It will also help me and all of the other students who are taking advantage of the off-campus housing here to better understand the needs of the students who live in housing in the homes of the students.

1. Student Season tickets for concerts and other events are expected to reach students by Friday. Completed questionnaires should be returned to the Off-Campus Office in the LaFortune Center.

2. There are no plans for purchasing of food and other commodities. Campus Commission of Student Affairs has an office in the south basement of the LaFortune Center where notices are posted and copies of the Observer can be picked up.

3. Student Season tickets for concerts and other events are expected to reach students by Friday. Completed questionnaires should be returned to the Off-Campus Office in the LaFortune Center.

4. Together with Campus Ministry, I am considering a possible social or religious gatherings for off-campus students and gatherings that suggest we could also come too. If you could provide some information and small gatherings places located around South Bend and Mishawaka may be an answer. For now, though, I want to inform you of several important things.

5. Cases of discrimination or severe violence of the Building Code should be reported to the Office of Campus Student Affairs. You can phone me day (283-8411) or night (283-7424). I would appreciate your hearing your suggestions.

"Making it" off-campus may be a program in many ways but it is a great learning experience in responsibility and personal adjustment. My prayer is that you will find it enjoyable and that you are having a good year.

Sincerely,

(Rev.) James L. Shilts, C.S.C.

U.S. pushes for Mid-East peace

WASHINGTON UPI - President Nixon expressed hope Tuesday that diplomatic efforts to end the Arab-Israeli war would produce a "new structure of peace in the Middle East." But officials saw little chance of an early end to the fighting.

The President said the U.S. goal was "not simply to end the fighting which is going on now," but to create a permanent system "for avoiding war breaking out as it has been and over again for the past 25 years."

The White House declined to comment officially on what if any progress had been made in the diplomatic initiative Nixon began over the weekend to end the war and restore boundaries existing before fighting broke out Saturday.

At the State Department said the United States had no concrete proposals to put before the U.S. Security Council which convened late Monday over the crisis. Some administration officials indicated the United States was satisfied with the Soviet Union's posture in the conflict and believed it was using restraint on its Arab allies.

However, senior State Department officials said privately they detested the Soviet Union's use of force in support of the rebels. Publicly, department spokesman Robert J. McCloskey said it appeared the Russians did not want to see the conflict widen, but "I would be hard put to say it is a vindication that assures us that would continue to be the case." Noting the exchanged person messages with Soviet Leader Leonid I. Brezhnev about the conflict on Monday. McCloskey said any indications were that the fighting was escalating, and had expanded to include air, ground, naval, artillery and infantry forces. Other officials said neither the Israelis nor the Arabs seemed to have gained the upper hand. Nixon.

WASHINGTON—White House energy adviser John A. Love said Tuesday the United States would be hard-pressed to import all the home heating oil it needs this winter if the Arab-Israeli war prompts Saudi Arabia to cut off its exports.

WASHINGTON—The Senate Watergate Committee may subpoena billionaire Howard Hughes and presidential consultant Charles C. "Bebe" Robson for questioning about reports of a $100,000 cash gift from Hughes to President Nixon, members said Tuesday.

The committee also voted to question Frank Mankiewicz, a top official of George S. McGovern's campaign, and Beri L. Bernhard, manager of Sen. Edmund S. Muskie's campaign, about possible Democratic "dirty tricks" in the 1972 presidential election.

BALTIMORE—With the Justice Department as a legal ally reporters subpoenaed by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew prepared Tuesday to seek to quash the subpoenas for disclosure of their confidential news sources in the Agnew investigation.

WASHINGTON—The Supreme Court agreed Tuesday to rule on the constitutionality of a two-centuries-old provision of military law used to convict two servicemen in connection with the Vietnam War protests.

The Court also issued a flurry of orders on cases involving racial matters, obscenity, President Nixon's impoundment of appropriated funds, sex discrimination and a variety of other subjects.

Dean search continues

A search committee is still considering the selection of a new dean of the College of Business Administration.

University president Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., stated that the committee is composed of a combination of five full and associate professors in the College and one student. They are to nominate a successor to Professor Thomas T. Murphy. Murphy is the fourth dean of the College and one student. They are full and associate professors in the Administration.

Alcoholism lecture at Standford Hall

by Paul Young
Staff Reporter

Are you an alcoholic? What drives people to become alcoholics? How does an alcoholic cope with his problem? These 3 questions highlighted a presentation on alcoholism given by 2 former alcoholics in Standford Chapel last night.

Father Terry Solly, rector of Standford Hall, introduced the 2 speakers. Nick and Molly, who spoke of their experiences with Alcoholics Anonymous.

Nick related how as a youth he used alcohol as an escape from the anxiety he experienced in trying to relate to other people. Nick pointed out, "I had to please you and be what you were." "Booze opened the door to social living for me."

As time went on I live outside of people and began to hate," Nick continued. "Booze became my god and did whatever it wanted with me."

Nick accumulated 3 assault and battery charges in a short time and at 26 was sentenced to life imprisonment for second degree murder. He attempted suicide three times, reasoning that "if you are going around in circles and know that you're not going anywhere, you try and stop the clock."

Nick was introduced to A.A. in 1944 by a fellow inmate who had written for help after reading about A.A. in the newspaper. Nick emphasized three important points in rehabilitation: admission that one's life had become unmanageable because of alcohol, a belief that a power greater than ourselves could restore us to sanity, a decision to turn our will and our lives over to the care of God.

Nick was released from prison in 1952, and married, and is the father of 7 children. He has remained an "arrested alcoholic" since his release.

Nolly claimed her drinking "glued everything together." Friends advised her to cut down, but Nolly didn't believe "The most frightening things about alcoholism is that it is more in­visible to the alcoholic than those around him."

Nolly said that her friends "could never understand that I drank to live, to get excitement and to get away from fears!" Alcoholism brought shame and Molly reacted "I cut myself off from those who meant something to me."

Four years ago Nolly "hit bottom." "I felt that anything would be better than the way life was then." Hitting bottom for an alcoholic is a time when you are ready to try anything. For me this was trying Alcoholics Anonymous.

After the presentation, Fr. Terry Lally pointed out that "only very, very infrequently is consoling sought for a drinking problem."

If you want to find out more on the subject of alcoholism, Nick suggests that you call the Alcohol Information Center in South Bend.

Watergate Committee investigates Hughes

by Clay Richards

Washington (UPI)--Senate Watergate committee investigators are trying to find out what happened to $100,000 in cash Watergate commit­tee staff, last week.

A source said Rebozo acknowledged in the interview receiving the money from Richard Danner, a Hughes aide, in two $50,000 cash packages. Rebozo reportedly told Lenzer he put the money in a safe deposit box at the Key Biscayne Bank and Trust Co.

The committee has subpoenaed the bank's records.

SMC court space limited

The lack of available tennis court space is being felt on both the ND and SMC campuses. Due to the limited number of courts at Saint Mary's, Notre Dame students may use the courts only when they are in use or in demand by SMC students.

Social Trends

Editor: The recent disciplinary dictums handed down from the administration have already been, and will further be, of great benefit to the student body here at Notre Dame. Beyond all questions of partying, in loco parentis, sex on campus, or the consumption of alcoholic beverages is the less selfish many students are beginning to feel for the ambiguous matter of "social trend."

Ten years ago we entered the era of "do gooderism" for the general benefit of all constituents of the hated human race. The need to administer such community and benevolence lead to the practical necessity of subservience to an understanding central administration. To be dubbed exploitive was a most wicked curse in adm inister such com m unity and the rest of the year. The recent disciplinary dictums were orderly, a fact readily acknowledged by the rector, Father Zang. There was no damage to the hall, nor was there an in­stance of boorish behavior.

2) The punishment rendered was not simply prohibition from attending certain events but also disciplinary probation. This means that if we step out of line once more, a severe punishment such as suspension or expulsion will ensue.

3) We do not receive a copy of the letter of complaint until after we meet with Mr. Macheca. We, in fact, do not know what the charges against us were until the meeting, clearly violating students' rights as explained in our meeting with Mr. Macheca.

4) Mr. Ferranti and Mr. Macheca seem to have the mistaken impression that the charges against us were mutual, and we mutually agreed upon, "mutually in­erring the dean, Father Zang, and the students involved. We in no way agree with this severe and completely reconstructive punishment."

5) Certain statements and actions attributed in the article to John Di Piero, R.A. were either not heard, taken out of context, or the result of in­formation given by other parties. We hereby announce that the charges against us do not occur, but we also hope that in the future The Observer will check its facts more carefully. We also hope that The Observer will feel free to check with the students involved prior to printing facts in the future.

Farley Hall to host Notre Dame guests

by Tom Krucek
Staff Reporter

The weekend of October 12 will mark the official opening of the Farley Hall Guest Rooms for female visitors to Notre Dame. The hall has furnished accommodations for 36 women in the basement, which was remodeled last year to handle the overcrowding situation.

Sister John Miriam Jones, S.C., assistant to the provost at Notre Dame stated that the university, "is conscious of the lack of overnight accommodations for guest to Notre Dame students and this is an attempt to fill the need."

The beds, which are located in the eastern section of Farley Hall are in four separate rooms as well as an alcove, which will be the last section of guest rooms to be filled.

Sister John stated that although the guest rooms have been open and in use for the past two weekends, the official announcement was delayed until yesterday, pending the naming of the R.A. A first year graduate student, Patricia McNamara, will assume these duties. McNamara will be the coordinator of the guest room service and can be reached for reservations by telephone at 7160. The best times that she can be reached to make an advance room reservation is between 10-12 p.m.

The one stipulation concerning reservations is that if the guest does not check in the room by 11 p.m., it will be considered an open room and will be given to another visitor.

In addition, Sister John said, 20 cots have been purchased by the university for use by guests. These will be located in halls other than Farley, and will be made available for guests after the rooms in Farley have been filled. Reservations for these are made through the hall rectors. Price for use of the cots or guest rooms is $1 per night, and there will be a cost of linen and maid service to the rooms.

LaFortune plans secret; renewal to start soon

by David Lee
Staff Reporter

The committee to renovate LaFortune is steadily working its way towards renewal of the student center. The need for secrecy seems imperative to the student planners. According to Dr. Ackerman, director of staff development, Student Affairs, the problem lies in the funding of the project.

While the actual approval of the renovation has already been given by the Board of Trustees, the finances still remain a question. Donations are expected to be a minor source of revenue and Dr. Ackerman sees the quoting of estimates of renovation as a possible deterrent to potential donors.

While nothing definite has been agreed upon so far, there seems to be a general consensus on the part of the committee members to give LaFortune an atmosphere of openness, de-emphasizing the present claustrophobic environment of the student center. The committee has been consulted by the organizations presently situated in LaFortune as to what improvements they might want in their offices. The committee also is concentrating on improvement of the public areas, possibly adding new furniture.

The deadline for final agreement is unknown, but the committee is planning for the renovation of the Rathskeller to begin as soon as possible. They are projecting to work to begin at least by Christmas. The rest of the plans for LaFortune should be drawn up by mid November and renovation hopefully will start sometime in May.

THE OBSERVER

St. Mary’s security house is more than the ordinary security house. Since last March the building has been the home of Earl, an old English sheepdog.

“We kind of adopted Earl as the campus mascot,” said Director of Security Anthony Kovatch. Last year Mrs. Ann Duncan left Earl with Kovatch when she visited her twin daughters in Rome on the Sophomore Year Abroad Program. Somehow, Earl extended his stay and Kovatch thinks Earl is going to be with us forever.”

Kovatch and the other security guards enjoy having Earl around. “Earl is really good and causes no problems,” said one guard. “He is a character but very intelligent, always keeping the rabbits and squirrels on their toes.” Kovatch said Earl the guards spotted Earl by sneaking him good weather and he and the students always take him for walks,” Kovatch said.

Just three years old, Earl makes a good watchdog. “He barks at boys, not girls, and he can make a lot of noise,” Kovatch said. Earl is a part of the night patrol and “loves it,” he said. He goes into each building with the guard and helps close things up.

“The dog’s registered name is Earl of York,” explained Beth, one of the Duncan twins, “because we live on York Drive in Hudson, Ohio. Earl is a real shepherd’s dog and it is in his blood that he does not eat lambs.”

Duncan observed that Earl has calmed down a lot since he has been at St. Mary’s. “He loves to girl-watch and he gets more attention here than at home. I know he is really enjoying himself and is glad to be a part of St. Mary’s,” Duncan said.

Earl’s roommate added, “I think Earl is the most popular guy on campus.”

Earl star guard at St. Mary’s

The car, bearing a C3 parking sticker, almost struck an ND security officer who tried to “get in their way.” He then radioed ND’s motorized unit that the car was cutting across the Library lawn. When finally apprehended the car was found to contain a loaf of bread, a box of chocolate mix bake mix, and a box of cheese spread. Also found were three bottles of beer, according to witnesses.

Notre Dame Security Director Arthur Pearls was not available for comment.

It was learned last night that the four youths were arraigned in the county court yesterday.

Thieves break into Huddle

Security thwart burglary

Four youths from New Jersey visiting friends at Notre Dame last weekend were chased, apprehended and booked in the South Bend City Jail early Sunday morning by the combined forces of South Bend and Roseland police, the Sheriff Department, and Notre Dame security, after the students tried to steal food from the Huddle.

The pursuit was instigated at approximately 1:30 m. Sunday morning, when Huddle employee Dan Plaut surprised the men in the Huddle back storage room, in the act of taking the food, and he and Huddle manager, Tom Ronbeck, chased the group to their car parked behind the Huddle. A patrolling security officer failing to stop the youths alerted a security employee who took up the chase when the “small, blue” car emerged at the Library Circle.

The car was apprehended by Redbird gas station in Roseland, after a wild chase, which resulted in the four charges of reckless driving, running stop signs and lights, and resisting arrest, and resulted in three of the youths being held in lieu of $100 bond, and the fourth for more, in the South Bend city jail, according to police spokesman.

realized and would consider the argument that the halls requesting large banquet funds did so because they have either no specific need for physical improvements (as in the case of Stanford) or else no capacity to accommodate new or expanded study facilities (as in the case of St. Edward's).

The Notre Dame Rugby team extended its undefeated streak to 9 games with a Saturday win over Michigan. The final score was 33-3.

Tom Hasting scored the third try of the first half from his own goal line with Ed O’Connell added the conversion.

Tom Hasting scored a conversion, and Ed O’Connell added the extra point. Michigan then provided some of its own excitement with a hastily put together drive to score on the extra point.

The game opened as an even contest with both teams tying to keep their unbeaten streaks intact. The Owls club unable to move against the speedier Notre Dame team.

Michigan attempted to kick the ball out of its own territory but Joe Hadner blocked the kick and raced across the sideline for his third try, and Ed O’Connell kicked the extra point.

O’Connell scored the next three points on a 30 yard penalty kick into the wind.

The Notre Dame Sailing team finished third out of eight teams in the team racing competition this past weekend on Lake Mendota in Wisconsin.

The Irish got off to a slow start by losing to Ohio State, but then came on strong to beat Iowa, Northwestern, and Wisconsin’s second team.

In the light winds of Sunday morning’s competition, Notre Dame had a chance to win if they could beat Wisconsin’s first team to force a tie and a special sail-off with Ohio State. But in that race with Wisconsin misfortune struck the Irish squad. With Junior Murphy heading to Wisconsin to hold a comfortable lead in the race, a Wisconsin sailor deliberately went off a collision with Senior Al Constance.

Constance tried to avoid the collision as the Wisconsin boat had the right of way, but the light winds prevented a collision. With Constance out of the race Sophomore Bob Gav had to place second behind Makielak to take the match, but the 2 to 3 disadvantage and the light winds took their toll and the Irish lost.

Mike Townsend—master

Mike Townsend has started since the beginning of his junior year, he has intercepted 12 passes for an average of 16.6 yards per game. Tom MacDonald’s Notre Dame career record of 15 interceptions does not seem likely to be broken.

He is not concerned with the record books, however. The proving the defense is learning to work at Rice at the moment. The Owls possess a wide open offense, are a definite candidate for All-America honors. His coach believes. "Guys, we’ve made mistakes but they’ve been just mental mistakes. We’re improving, the defense is learning to play together. Some of the young guys get scared but with the older guys there, feel the pressures less. So far".

Mike is an unselfish man. He consistently speaks of the defense as a unit not elaborating on his own efforts. Each of the first teamers were hurt the subs wild fill in so adequately that "you wouldn’t be able to tell the difference.

Sophomore Bob Zanot and freshman Fy are two examples Mike Townsend says. "He really knows his stuff. He gets the best of each player. Coach Sollini is able to ‘find’ great backs. We’ve been scored upon and the defense doesn’t like that. Personally, I’m psyched."

Mike Townsend, Notre Dame Crews swept both of their opponents in the College of Charleston in almost perfect weather conditions on the St. Joseph river on Saturday, October 6.

The varsity lightweight eight had the fastest time of the 1500 meter race. The Notre Dame heavyweight varsity took second with Wisconsin State in third six minutes later.

The Freshmen nipped the Michigan State Frosh by two seconds with a 2:26 in the 1000 spore.

Saturday, Oct. 13 both the Freshmen and Varsity will race Purdue, Rice at the moment. The Owls have had 14 days to prepare. The Owls have not played since Sept. 29.

With that in mind, consider the fact that this Friday coach Ara Parseghian emphasized "concrete with which to work." Townsend won't intercept three of them." Townsend was quick to add, "There’s nothing the Southwest Conference would do anything, noted Parseghian. "They do everything you can imagine.

Mike Townsend, Notre Dame Sailing team placed third of eight teams in the team racing competition this past weekend on Lake Mendota in Wisconsin.

The Irish got off to a slow start by losing to Ohio State, but then came on strong to beat Iowa, Northwestern, and Wisconsin’s second team.

In the light winds of Sunday morning’s competition, Notre Dame had a chance to win if they could beat Wisconsin’s first team to force a tie and a special sail-off with Ohio State. But in that race with Wisconsin misfortune struck the Irish squad. With Junior Murphy heading to Wisconsin to hold a comfortable lead in the race, a Wisconsin sailor deliberately went off a collision with Senior Al Constance.

Constance tried to avoid the collision as the Wisconsin boat had the right of way, but the light winds prevented a collision. With Constance out of the race Sophomore Bob Gav had to place second behind Makielak to take the match, but the 2 to 3 disadvantage and the light winds took their toll and the Irish lost.
