WASHINGTON—Spiro T. Agnew resigned as vice-president of the United States "in the best interests of the country" Wednesday, and pleaded not guilty to a charge of income tax evasion in federal court in Baltimore to a single count of income tax evasion in 1967. Agnew was the second vice-president in history to resign the office after being charged with tax evasion.

President Nixon, expressing "a great sense of personal loss," said he would begin prompt consultations with national leaders of both political parties on nominating a new vice president, who must be confirmed by a majority vote of the House and Senate. U.S. District Judge Walter E. Hoffman, accepting the result of two days of secret plea bargaining between Agnew and Attorney General Elliot L. Richardson, fined Agnew $10,000 and placed him on three years probation.

At Richardson's urging, Hoffman said he was forgoing the possible practice of sentencing lawyer-tax accountants or business executives to prison terms of two to five months in income tax cases.

In his letter to Nixon, Agnew said, "I have concluded that, painful as it is to me and my family, it is in the best interests of the nation that I discontinue the vice presidency."

Richardson appealed to Hoffman to keep Agnew out of federal prison for the man's reputation, out of respect for the office he has held and out of appreciation of his "devotion to the rule of law in the administration of justice."

The two-month ordeal that began for Agnew when he learned in early August he was under federal investigation for possible violation of the income tax law because of hisagnigation and sentence in the 1967 case, will now be over. Agnew will now return to his home in Annapolis for a period of rest and relaxation. Agnew received as late as December, 1972, while he was governor of Maryland—payments which he said were "illegal and improper payoffs" to Agnew while he was governor of Maryland—payments which he said were "illegal and improper payoffs" to Agnew while he was governor of Maryland.

Agnew's resignation became effective legally at 2:05 p.m. EDT when a 14-word resignation letter was delivered to Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger.

He had been under federal investigation since August for violation of the income tax law because of his participation in a pattern of substantial cash payments to Agnew while he was governor of Maryland—payments which he said were "illegal and improper payoffs" to Agnew while he was governor of Maryland.

"I hereby resign the office of Vice President of the United States, effective immediately," the resignation letter said. "Sincerely, Spiro T. Agnew."

One minute later, a copy of that letter, along with a three-paragraph covering letter, was given to Alexander M. Haig, the White House chief of staff, and forwarded immediately to the President. Agnew's letter to Nixon said, "the accusations against me cannot be resolved without a long, divisive and debilitating struggle in the Congress and the courts."

"I have concluded that it is in the best interests of the country that I discontinue the vice presidency."

Agnew said his decision would be the best course of action. He had been under federal investigation since August for violation of the income tax law because of his participation in a pattern of substantial cash payments to Agnew while he was governor of Maryland—payments which he said were "illegal and improper payoffs" to Agnew while he was governor of Maryland.

Dr. Robert Bobek, president of the University of Notre Dame, announced Wednesday that the University Board to hear cases of students charged with violations of the Student Life Manual had been suspended rather than waited for the current session of Court to adjourn. The student representatives meet with the hall staffs in their respective districts to explain the new guidelines and answer any questions they may have. The Council agreed unanimously, and the guidelines will be in effect this weekend.

The concern was voiced that the department might not yet understand all the new provisions, and consequently parties this weekend might not be in accordance with them. The new rules read, in part: "The use of alcohol must always be secondary to their personal interaction."

Dr. Robert Bobek noted that this concept requires students to be creative ways of socializing. When people come together, the use of alcohol must always be secondary to their personal interaction.

The Chair announced with a smile that, the new Manual now complete, the SLC could resume normal procedure. Since early September, the Council has been meeting twice weekly under suspended procedural rules. Technically, the meeting which ended yesterday was the same one which began several weeks ago and has continued with two sessions per week to facilitate the revision of the Student Manual. The Council agreed that this would be the best course of action. Final revisions to the Student Manual were then adopted unanimously as the meeting in the basement of Flanner Hall drew to a close. The revisions dealt with disciplinary procedures described on pages 32, 33 and 34 of the current Manual. Among the other changes was creation of a University Board to hear cases of rule violations. The revisions now go to Fr. Hesburgh for his approval.

The Chair announced with a smile that, the new Manual now complete, the SLC could resume normal procedure. Since early September, the Council has been meeting twice weekly under suspended procedural rules. Technically, the meeting which ended yesterday was the same one which began several weeks ago and has continued with two sessions per week to facilitate the revision of the Student Manual. The Council agreed that this would be the best course of action. Final revisions to the Student Manual were then adopted unanimously as the meeting in the basement of Flanner Hall drew to a close. The revisions dealt with disciplinary procedures described on pages 32, 33 and 34 of the current Manual. Among the other changes was creation of a University Board to hear cases of rule violations. The revisions now go to Fr. Hesburgh for his approval.

The Chair announced with a smile that, the new Manual now complete, the SLC could resume normal procedure. Since early September, the Council has been meeting twice weekly under suspended procedural rules. Technically, the meeting which ended yesterday was the same one which began several weeks ago and has continued with two sessions per week to facilitate the revision of the Student Manual. The Council agreed that this would be the best course of action. Final revisions to the Student Manual were then adopted unanimously as the meeting in the basement of Flanner Hall drew to a close. The revisions dealt with disciplinary procedures described on pages 32, 33 and 34 of the current Manual. Among the other changes was creation of a University Board to hear cases of rule violations. The revisions now go to Fr. Hesburgh for his approval.

The Chair announced with a smile that, the new Manual now complete, the SLC could resume normal procedure. Since early September, the Council has been meeting twice weekly under suspended procedural rules. Technically, the meeting which ended yesterday was the same one which began several weeks ago and has continued with two sessions per week to facilitate the revision of the Student Manual. The Council agreed that this would be the best course of action. Final revisions to the Student Manual were then adopted unanimously as the meeting in the basement of Flanner Hall drew to a close. The revisions dealt with disciplinary procedures described on pages 32, 33 and 34 of the current Manual. Among the other changes was creation of a University Board to hear cases of rule violations. The revisions now go to Fr. Hesburgh for his approval.
Fine arts displayed in Juggler

By John De Coursey

The Juggler is in an embryonic state. It is really a student publication in the true, broad sense. No art work, no essays, no photography. The Juggler has continued to be the Notre Dame community's best way to do the things it does. It is the best way to do the things it does. Its reputation as one of the best student publications in the country is well-earned.

The Juggler is in an embryonic state. It is really a student publication in the true, broad sense. No art work, no essays, no photography. The Juggler has continued to be the Notre Dame community's best way to do the things it does. It is the best way to do the things it does. Its reputation as one of the best student publications in the country is well-earned.

By John De Coursey

The Juggler is in an embryonic state. It is really a student publication in the true, broad sense. No art work, no essays, no photography. The Juggler has continued to be the Notre Dame community's best way to do the things it does. It is the best way to do the things it does. Its reputation as one of the best student publications in the country is well-earned.

By John De Coursey

The Juggler is in an embryonic state. It is really a student publication in the true, broad sense. No art work, no essays, no photography. The Juggler has continued to be the Notre Dame community's best way to do the things it does. It is the best way to do the things it does. Its reputation as one of the best student publications in the country is well-earned.

By John De Coursey

The Juggler is in an embryonic state. It is really a student publication in the true, broad sense. No art work, no essays, no photography. The Juggler has continued to be the Notre Dame community's best way to do the things it does. It is the best way to do the things it does. Its reputation as one of the best student publications in the country is well-earned.

By John De Coursey

The Juggler is in an embryonic state. It is really a student publication in the true, broad sense. No art work, no essays, no photography. The Juggler has continued to be the Notre Dame community's best way to do the things it does. It is the best way to do the things it does. Its reputation as one of the best student publications in the country is well-earned.

By John De Coursey

The Juggler is in an embryonic state. It is really a student publication in the true, broad sense. No art work, no essays, no photography. The Juggler has continued to be the Notre Dame community's best way to do the things it does. It is the best way to do the things it does. Its reputation as one of the best student publications in the country is well-earned.
Resignation accepted by Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Text of a letter by President Nixon to Spiro T. Agnew accepting his resignation as vice president.

"Dear Ted:"

"The most difficult decisions are often those that are the most personal, and I know your decision to resign this vice presidency has been as difficult as any facing a man in public life could be."

"Your departure from the administration leaves me with a great sense of personal loss. You have been a valued associate through these nearly five years that we have served together."

"However, I respect your decision and I also respect the concern for the national interest that led you to conclude that a resolution of the matter in this way, rather than through an extended battle in the courts and Congress, was advisable in order to prevent a protracted period of national division and uncertainty."

"As vice president, you have addressed the great issues of our times with courage and candor. Your strong patriotism, and your profound dedication to the welfare of the nation, have been an inspiration to all who have served with you as well as to millions of others throughout the country."

"I have been deeply saddened by this whole course of events, and I hope that you and your family will be sustained in the days ahead by a well-justified pride in all that you have contributed to the nation by your years of service as Vice President."

"Sincerely, Richard Nixon."

---

Work-study alternatives set

by Howard Wood
Staff Reporter

Cassell A. Lawson, director of off-campus student activities and minority affairs, has announced an educational alternative for seven undergraduate work-study students. This Program, Paraprofessional Student Development Training, trains these undergraduates as paraprofessionals working with the Counseling Center. The program endeavors to combine both content and experiential learning, which will focus on the development of personal and interpersonal competencies within the paraprofessionals and their peers, stated Lawson.

The paraprofessionals are five undergraduate students and two graduate level students participating in this training. They are learning the basic skills and training to develop interpersonal confidence and to function better in the environment.

Three students, Richard Dickenson, Billy Banner, and Al Mendez are assigned to the Minority Counseling Center located in the basement of LaFortune Student Center. Craig Crawford and Lionel Phillips are assigned to the Black Cultural Art Center on the third floor of LaFortune. These paraprofessionals work twelve hours a week and get no accreditation.

Craig Adams and Sharon Browner, the two graduate students, will function as liaison personnel from the university's counseling center and also, as master guidance to provide professional therapy of needed.

The goal of the program is to facilitate student transition to the college experience through student paraprofessional counselors. Lawson hopes that the program will increase student self-awareness and self direction, thus enhancing the possibility that they will through their own initiative, seek out alternatives and achieve a more rapid adjustment to the University environment.

This program's responsibility is to all students and particularly freshmen who might confront emotional or social problems. Lawson pointed out that the program serves as an example to the University that undergraduates can take an active and meaningful part in academic affairs.

The Paraprofessional Student Development Training is in its first year of activity and is an extension of the Counseling Center. The two will coordinate and work together.

---

Amazin' Mets win pennant

The New York Mets won their second National League pennant in five years Wednesday by defeating the Cincinnati Reds 7-2 to capture the best-of-five playoff 3 games to 2.

The American League series between the defending world champion Oakland A's and the Baltimore Orioles was tied at two games apiece when the Orioles rallied from a four-run deficit to win Wednesday's game 5-4. The deciding game will be played Thursday at Oakland.

---

Settle down to the natural one. Busch®

Especially after the game (or before)
Resignation of Trust

For only the second time in the history of the United States, and for the first time in well over 100 years, the Vice President administration has been involved with people of this country to serve our best interests.

For the better part of 1973, the Nixon administration has been involved with charges stemming from the break-in at the Democratic National Headquarters and subsequent cover-up of the Watergate affair. Allegations of high level involvement in the scandal has led to the resignations of some of the President's closest associates.

With each succeeding accusation, both factual and merely hearsay, a cloud of distrust has grown more dense over the White House and its occupants.

And yesterday, the second highest elected official in the United States resigned following his plea of "no contedere" to charges of income tax evasion.

Despite reactions to Mr. Agnew's resignation that ranged from those whose long-time impressions were finally confirmed to those who saw the man as a scapegoat for the President, the fact remains that the Nixon Administration continues to be ravaged by criminal investigations and actual convictions.

The doubts are indeed starting to be confirmed.

The sobering question resulting from the past year of Grand Jury investigations and Senate Hearings is how long this government, which is of the people, can operate without the trust of the people. The present Administration has done very little to develop that trust.

And with every passing indictment and conviction, the Administration's task becomes that much more difficult. But outcome of the remaining Nixon years in the White House depends integrally upon some restoration of confidence on the part of Americans for the men in their government.

Mr. Agnew leaves his post in Washington and returns to Maryland a disgraced and sad figure. For his claims of innocence ring much emptier now. As his figure becomes less familiar in the daily news, he will simply fade into the increasing number of Nixon officials who have contributed to this crisis.

As Senator Ervin pointed out at the start of the Senate Watergate investigations, the bright spot about the past year of criminal allegations is that the American government at least offers us the chance to clean up our own government. It is indeed unfortunate that we have had to utilize that unique facet of our democracy to such a great extent in such a short amount of time.

This entire scandal is clear in its implications about the future of American government. Though it must remain a government of the people, a government whose officials are elected from among the people, those elected officials must somehow rise above the shortcomings of the populace they serve.

Leaders have to do that. Unless they prefer the complete lack of respect now being experienced by the Nixon Administration, they must do that.

They must rise above...

...and again, Regina

Who needs another election? Apparently Regina Hall does if it is to have a vice president, and it looks like the elections committee will have its will as a fourth ballot is today forced on a reluctant electorate.

Regina Hall has, to my knowledge, continued to function rather well this year despite its lack of vice presidential guidance, and there are no indications that it will not continue to do so if today's vote still fails to yield a winner. Ms. Kennett'sORNMENTATION AND HEARD- MENTIONATION THAT STUDENTS SHOULD TAKE THE the people, can operate without the trust of the people. The present Administration has done very little to develop that trust.

And with every passing indictment and conviction, the Administration's task becomes that much more difficult. But outcome of the remaining Nixon years in the White House depends integrally upon some restoration of confidence on the part of Americans for the men in their government.

Mr. Agnew leaves his post in Washington and returns to Maryland a disgraced and sad figure. For his claims of innocence ring much emptier now. As his figure becomes less familiar in the daily news, he will simply fade into the increasing number of Nixon officials who have contributed to this crisis.

As Senator Ervin pointed out at the start of the Senate Watergate investigations, the bright spot about the past year of criminal allegations is that the American government at least offers us the chance to clean up our own government. It is indeed unfortunate that we have had to utilize that unique facet of our democracy to such a great extent in such a short amount of time.

This entire scandal is clear in its implications about the future of American government. Though it must remain a government of the people, a government whose officials are elected from among the people, those elected officials must somehow rise above the shortcomings of the populace they serve.

Leaders have to do that. Unless they prefer the complete lack of respect now being experienced by the Nixon Administration, they must do that.

They must rise above...

...and again, Regina

Who needs another election? Apparently Regina Hall does if it is to have a vice president, and it looks like the elections committee will have its will as a fourth ballot is today forced on a reluctant electorate.

Regina Hall has, to my knowledge, continued to function rather well this year despite its lack of vice presidential guidance, and there are no indications that it will not continue to do so if today's vote still fails to yield a winner. Ms. Kennett's...
oktoberfest...

...100 center style

Trink, trink, Bruderlein trink, lasst doch die Sorgen zu Haus!
Trink, trink, Bruderlein trink,
zieh deine Stirn nicht kraus.

Strains of German music along with Bavarian bier provide two of the main ingredients for any Oktoberfest celebration. Germans boast in their song: In Munchen steht ein Hofbrauhaus. ("In Munich there is a Beer Hall.")

Now Michiana too can boast of a "beer hall" atmosphere complete with Lowenbrau bier and German music (by Lloyd's German Band of Elkhart, Indiana.) The scene of the Oktoberfest celebration: where else, but upon the site of old Kamm and Schellinger Brewing Company, now the 100 Center Complex on Lincolnway Avenue in Mishawaka, Indiana.

The origin of Oktoberfest extends back to 1810 in the land of Bavaria. Crown Prince Ludwig was to marry Princess Theresa of Saxonia, and a special celebration was planned for the people. After the wedding ceremony, horse races and festivities took place at a large meadow, with music, food and drink provided for all.

The meadow was renamed Theresienwiese and made the site of an annual harvest festival in memory of the wedding day. It later became a custom for peasants for merchants to bring fruit, produce and handiwork to sell, with music and amusements also provided. The festivities grew into what is called the Munchen Oktoberfest, a seventeen day celebration from the end of September through part of October, and one of the largest fairs in Europe.

bier and bratwurst

Bill Strong, the general manager of 100 Center Complex, explained the plans for Oktoberfest, to be held Friday and Saturday, October 12 and 13. "Beer and food are the key to the whole event." Strong added that all shops are participating in some way by decorating or wearing costume. The Oktoberfest activities run from 4 p.m. till midnight Friday and 11 a.m. till midnight Saturday. Most of the shops agreed, according to Strong, to stay open until ten or eleven o'clock in the evening, depending on the traffic in the complex.

As part of the Oktoberfest, the 100 Center Complex has contacted Wiesel's Sausage Company of Wisconsin to provide the food services in a nearly authentic German manner. Food will be served from a concession which is built like a Bavarian chalet, with the menu featuring Nuernberger bier and bratwurst, wiener, Polish sausage and smoked sausage (free sauerkraut provided on sandwiches.) The "Bavarian chalet" concessions stand will be located in the main courtyard of the complex, along with the music of Lloyd's German Band.

Beer concessions will be located in the lower level of the Stable building, closest thing to a Hofbrauhaus, with accommodating tables and chairs. Strong cheerfully divulged that "50 kegs of Lowenbrau beer will be on hand.

The festival concept at the 100 Center Complex is not a new one, since the Brewery has already witnessed two Arts and Crafts Festivals, the last one in July drawing approximately 15,000 people. In choosing to stage an Oktoberfest, Strong explained, "The management of 100 Center and some of the merchants suggested an Oktoberfest, since we are situated in the old Brewery. The concept (Oktoberfest) seemed to tie in well with the nature of the project (100 Center)."

Strong envisions the Oktoberfest and the Brewery as a "fun place" and a leisurely type of center, where people could "literally spend a whole day." A free parking and free admission policy for the Oktoberfest, according to Strong, is another way of indicating to the people of Michiana, 100 Center's invitation to just come to the Oktoberfest and "participate in anything."

beer barrels and iceboxes

Commenting on the nature of the 100 Center Complex, which was "situated within the original buildings of the old Kamm's Brewery," Strong also added that though the Center was just starting to pull together, it was being recognized by the community as a valuable project. Strong admitted he was "extremely satisfied with the community support."

In pointing out the unique atmosphere of the Brewery complex, Strong explains the sources of some of the building materials. Approimately 50,000 paving bricks, originally from South Bend streets, were evident in the main courtyard, along with railroad ties and 15 streetlights, formerly from Miami Avenue in South Bend. Old beer barrels, which were made by cooper's at the Kamm and Schellinger Brewery, pop up as fixtures and plant holders.

Even the new Ice House restaurant exhibits the use of beer barrel light fixtures, old iceboxes used as waiters stations, and other artifacts from the old brewery.

Remember the words of the German drinking song on the way to the Oktoberfest celebration:

Drink, drink, little brother, drink.
Leave all your cares at home.
Drink, drink, little brother, drink,
Don't frown.
Marijuana laws tested

by David E. Anderson

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Advocates of marijuana law reform seeking to test in court the constitutionality of the nation's pot smoking laws.

Ramsey Clark, former U.S. attorney general representing the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws, said prohibitions against marijuana "constitute an unwarranted intrusion into the private lives of millions of Americans." A suit by the group was being filed in U.S. District Court today.

"The continued criminal prohibition of the private use of marijuana serves no useful purpose while causing irreversible harm to the lives and causing of the approximately 250,000 young people who get caught each year in this country," Clark said.

He said the nation should "discourage the use of marijuana as we should the use of all recreational drugs, including alcohol and tobacco. But arresting smokers is no solution. It merely exacerbates the situation." The suit asks the court to declare that laws prohibiting the private possession and use of marijuana violates an individual's right of privacy and other guarantees of the Constitution.

It relies on recent Supreme Court decisions concerning abortion, birth control and the private possession of pornographic materials, all of which reaffirm the individual's basic right of privacy, said R. Keith Stroup, director of the organization.

"While no drug, including aspirin and over-the-counter preparations, is totally harmless," Stroup said, "marijuana is a mild, relatively harmless drug as used by the overwhelming majority of persons."

SMC discusses parient rules

by Melissa Byrne
Staff Reporter

Male Visit Policy will be discussed at the SMC Board of Regents meeting on Saturday October 13, 1973 in LeMans Hall. Mary Ellen Stumpf, student representative to the Board with full voting powers, will discuss the Male Visit Policy.

The Board of Regents tabled discussion of the same proposal last May. Although the proposal for Saturday's meeting any regent can move the proposal be brought up for discussion.

SMC Student Government determined Wednesday evening to present the Male Visit Policy proposal at Saturday's Board Meeting. The decision was reached after student representatives polled the SMC student body.

The students want the policy presented now because it deserves a decision with a rational overview, said Barb McKiernan, chairman of SMC Board of Governance. "We can't lose anything by discussing the Male Visit Policy now because regardless of the answer, we will get feedback we can use for further action."

The Male Visit Policy proposes: (1) That the present Male Visit policy be put into effect immediately," said Stumpf. If the Male Visit Policy is approved, the Board will decide at that time when the policy will take effect. "If passed, I would hope the Male Visit Policy would be put into effect immediately," said McKiernan.

Shakespeare Film Series

by the overwhelm ing majority of people who are arrested each year during which hours male visitors would be allowed in dormitory rooms." "The proposed document is the strongest asset the students have at this time," said McKiernan.

The Male Visit Policy is a 33-page document worked on for nine months. It merits an intellectual procession.

Last year the SMC Planning Process studied various areas of the college. The Student Life Task Force concentrated on a Male Visit Policy. They sent questionnaires to parents, alumnus, faculty, administration and students. After nine months a Male Visit Policy report was developed based on the questionnaire results and other areas of study.

The proposal was passed in the SMC Student Assembly, the SMC Student Affairs Committee and the SMC Student Affairs Council. The Male Visit proposal was then presented to the SMC Board of Regents in May 1973.

The Board of Regents tabled discussion of the same proposal last May. They said a rational decision was impossible at that time because of a letter issued outside the Planning Process by a committee of concerned parents, faculty and alumnus.

The SMC Board of Regents now has eight new members, including Mary Heilmuth, Elizabeth Nolan, Dr. G. Olsen, Dr. J. Pelikan, Lee Schuman, Sr. M. Theodora Abreu, Sr. M. Roseleen Danlay and Sr. M. Elizabeth Loughran. There are also four new replacements, including Mary Ellen Stumpf, Sr. Kathleen Anne Nelligan, Sr. M. Bertrand Sullivan and Sr. M. Campion Kuhn.

"This is going to be quite a progressive meeting as far as new members and the scheduled agenda," said Stumpf. If the Male Visit Policy proposal is approved, the Board will decide at that time when the policy will take effect. "If passed, I would hope the Male Visit Policy would be put into effect immediately," said McKiernan.

Shakespeare Film Series presents

William Shakespeare's

Julius Caesar

Starring M. Brando
J. Gielgud (35 mm)

Monday, Oct. 15
Washington Hall
7 pm & 10 pm

FREE
SMC to have voice recital

St. Mary's music department will present Joan Zimmerman, soprano, in a voice recital Thursday, October 11, at 8:15 p.m. in the College's Little Theatre.

Zimmerman will be accompanied by Patty Jo Cabalan at the piano, and Roger Brown on the A clarinet. Songs of classic, romantic, and contemporary styles in German, Latin, French, Spanish, and English will be included in the program.

A senior at Saint Mary's, Zimmerman appeared in the lead roles in the Notre Dame-Saint Mary's Theatre productions of "Showboat" and "The Fantastics." She is a voice student of Susan Stevens, member of the music department faculty.

The public is invited to attend the recital. Admission is free.

WOODY HERMAN and his ORCHESTRA

A NEW ORCHESTRA IN CONCERT TUES.

Tickets Available at Student Union or Call 287-1178 or Call 232-3677

Welcome SMC Men & Women Memberships Available to South Bend's New Downtown Private Club THE RED DOOR CLUB 110's N. Main

Get your class act together ... in Levi's Panatela Slacks

ND ratio rapidly improving

by Mike Welby
Staff Reporter

Someone told me last year that the ratio of men to women at Notre Dame was 16:1. The estimate seems outrageous now, but at the time it sounded reasonable. It was believable enough that I never bothered to check it for myself. In fact, living on the north quad, the estimate seemed low.

It was not until I saw last year's yearbook that I began to question the 16:1 ratio. If one is to judge by the yearbook, girls must have outnumbered guys last year. I saw more girls in the first twenty-five pages of the yearbook, than I had seen on the North Quad all year.

They must have been hiding in the yearbook office all along. While some things are sacred about the office of the yearbook, to women to women is not. As a matter of fact, things are improving rapidly. When you consider the sophomore ratio of 8:9.1, the freshman ratio of 2:9.1 looks very good. It will never be a rose garden but things are getting better.

If one takes St. Mary's into account, the ratio drops even further. Taking the enrollment of both schools, the overall undergraduate ratio is only around 2:6:1. For the freshman the figure is only 1:9.1. That must mean that for every freshman male that gets a date, 0.56 males stay back at the party. A clarinet. Songs of classic, contemporary and historical styles in German, Latin, French, Spanish, and English will be included in the program.

Regardless, a quick glance at the chart should clear up the misconceptions concerning the actual proportions of men and women here at Notre Dame. The real statistics are as encouraging as they are surprising.

Although there will never be dates for everyone, at least there are enough wallflowers around that nobody has to sit in the dorm alone.

Observer Insight

and the freshman probably find themselves at the short end of the stick anyway. At least in principle the freshmen are more fortunate. Then again, it may be the guy that gets the date that loses in the long run.

When your parents are in town, have them stay in South Bend's NEWEST Hotel

Royal Inn
316 S. St. Joseph
Reservations: (219) 283-5511

WEEKEND SPECIALS AVAILABLE
For dining, visit our JOLLY KING RESTAURANT and afterwards hit the "in spot" in town.
THE PURPLE JESTER DISCOTHEQUE LOUNGE.
Dancing under psychedelic lights
Open 11 a.m.-2 a.m. Mon.-Sat.
Traditional cross country powers Bowling Green, Ball State, Eastern Michigan and Cincinnati return to the Burke Memorial Golf Course Friday for the 18th Annual Notre Dame Invitational Meet. Head coach Don Faley has received entries from 32 Midwest squads for this 2:00 meet on the fast five-mile Irish course.

New entries will include Toledo and Wisconsin. The Big Ten Badgers may be considered for team honors with exceptional depth. Individual 1972 winner Mike Slack of North Dakota has graduated along with runner-up Steve Wynder of Ball State. Third place finisher Steve Foster of Ashland will return in hopes of capturing individual honors.

Other top contenders are NCAA three- and six-mile champ Gordon Minty of Eastern Michigan, Craig Macdonald of Bowling Green and Jim Stanley of Cincinnati. Outstanding freshmen will be running including Greg Meyer of Michigan, winner of all Wolverine dual meets this season, and high school prep winner, Jim Reinhart of Notre Dame. The South Dakota High School Athlete of the Year will be joined by teammates Mike Housley, Mike Gaahagan, and Jim Hurst as the Irish hope.

Coach Faley has initiated a new meet this year. With the rapid growth of the Invitational, now the Hockey road trips arranged for '73-'74 season

The ND Student Hockey Club is adding the following away games to our "home" schedule: a) Michigan State (East Lansing) on November 10th b) Michigan (Ann Arbor) on December 8th and c) Wisconsin (Madison) on March 2nd.

The trips will leave the university on Saturday and return after the game.

It is estimated the cost of trips will be $10-$12 and will include transportation on chartered bus and one ticket to the game. The buses will be filled on a first come first serve basis only.

All students are invited to join the club and or helping in various packages are the following: Coach Alby, Bob Farley, or Harry Bihgs at 681 or 3829.

The 18th Annual Notre Dame Invitational Cross-Country Meet will get under way this Friday afternoon on the Burke Memorial Golf Course.

Irish bootsies get first win by Hal Mungar

Notre Dame's improving soccer club downed a tough Cincinnati varsity under the lights in Cincy Friday night 5-2. The victory came from strong defense and unselfish team offensive play. Cincinnati, a town now hot with pentagon fever, has in recent years been the scene of a generous following for the town's pro soccer team. The pro following has set high standards for the University's soccer program. So it was a moral victory for the Irish who have suffered from inconsistency earlier this season.

It was ND who scored first, early in the contest. Jafar Moghadam assisted on that play. Cincinnati put it, "We came together on offense and defense. It was a team victory."

An away match with the Bradley varsity is next.

B-ball tryouts

Varsity basketball tryouts for all students, including freshmen, will be held on Monday, October 15 at 4:30 p.m. in the main arena of the ACC. Tryouts will be on this day only and all candidates must bring their own equipment.

TICKETS: $5.00, $4.00, $3.00

TICKET SALE MONDAY AT STUDENT UNION
TICKET OFFICE AND ACC TICKET OFFICE
(GATE 10)

Out of respect for the artist no one will be seated once the performance has begun.