Alternate plans available

Grad complex plans indefinite

by Katie Kerwin
and Pat Hanlin

The University has no definite financial, architectural or siting plans for the proposed graduate student housing complex scheduled for completion in September of 1976. However Dr. Robert Gordon, University vice president for advanced studies, stated yesterday that "we have about six alternatives in case the complex is not completed on schedule," though he declined to say what they were.

Fr. Jerome Wilson, University vice president for business affairs, explained that plans would be more definite by June 1. He said that Elterbe Architects, and architectural firm that is on retainer to the University, has been contacted about the complex. "We are also investigating what architectural firm that is on retainer to the air and the cost is guesswork at this moment," Gordon commented. He stressed that people need not worry about major expansions with maybe one, two and three bedroom apartments which could be stacked up one after another as needed, "because if we were to re-adopt that plan now the cost would be somewhat increased," he said.

The weekend's events will still go on," stated Smouse. At a meeting of the Advanced Studies Council last Friday, Student Affairs Council decided to conduct a survey of student affairs preferences regarding room types.

The Notre Dame-St. Mary's Social Commission is sponsoring "Wacky Winter Weekend," February 21-22 with games and contests designed to bring the campus to life. At 6 p.m. on Friday night, the Social Commission will put booklets containing the winter carnival be expanded and become an annual event like An Tostal," Smouse said.

The weekend's events will still go on," stated Smouse. The Social Commission will put booklets containing the winter carnival's activities will be finished by 5 p.m. on Saturday.

FR. JEROME WILSON, University vice president for business affairs (Photo by Andy Waterhouse)

"Wacky Winter Weekend" carnival slated

by Kathy Mills
Staff Reporter

The Notre Dame-St. Mary's Social Commission will hold a winter carnival, entitled "Wacky Winter Weekend," February 21-22 with games and contests designed for the snowy season. The weekend's events will commence at noon on "Good Friday" with the placing of blocks of ice filled with money in front of all the dining halls at Notre Dame and St. Mary's. The weekend's events will continue through Saturday night at the Jim Ward Benefit Concert. The proceeds of the concert are to go to the family of Ward, a pre-med major from Beaver, Pennsylvania, died January 1 in Florida while on tour with the St. Mary's Collegiate Choir. (Photo by Andy Waterhouse)

Friday night in addition, the Social Commission will run hayrides to bring students back and forth between N. Mary's and Notre Dame. (Photo by Paul Joyce)
A two-week tour of London and Paris earning university credit will be sponsored next summer by the History Department of the University of Notre Dame. Under the direction of Dr. Carole Moore, the group will spend approximately a week in each city and its environs.

Up to six hours of credit may be earned in the course of the trip. Preceding departure, a slide course on the history of each country will be offered by Professor John Bernard. On the historic and artistic significance of the places to be visited by the tour members. Students will carry one credit hour and may be taken on a graduate, undergraduate, or audit basis. Additional credits may be earned by the preparation of a research paper on any one of a number of sites to be visited by the tour members.

According to Francesca, the administration polled 19 academic departments to determine the type of calendar they would prefer. Of the 19, fifteen departments responded, while individuals from other department also replied.

The vice president commented that when final calendar plans are released, she would favor a joint statement between Notre Dame and St. Mary's. "If we 'ND and SMC have the same days off and on, the exchange of classes is made so much easier," she said.

The ride aspect is also an important reason for keeping the same calendar," she stated.

The campus will be teeming with flying and non-flying objects. Birds, bats, butterflies, and other insects will be everywhere. Later in the season, the skunks will be a problem. The skunks will be a problem. The skunks will be a problem. The skunks will be a problem.

London and Paris
History Dept. sponsors tour

A two-week tour of London and Paris earning university credit will be sponsored next summer by the History Department of the University of Notre Dame. Under the direction of Dr. Carole Moore, the group will spend approximately a week in each city and its environs.

Up to six hours of credit may be earned in the course of the trip. Preceding departure, a slide course on the history of each country will be offered by Professor John Bernard. On the historic and artistic significance of the places to be visited by the tour members. Students will carry one credit hour and may be taken on a graduate, undergraduate, or audit basis. Additional credits may be earned by the preparation of a research paper on any one of a number of sites to be visited by the tour members. The tour may also be taken without credit by those who care to do so.

Departure will be by jet from Paris carrying university credit. The price of the trip without University credit is $800.00, subject to changes in air fares and exchange rates. Covered in the fare are all air transportation, airport transfers, lodging, continental breakfast each morning, city tours by land and water, and admission to a number of historical landmarks. Interested parties should contact the History Department at the University of Notre Dame.

The cultural Arts Commission presents in Concert

Herbie Hancock

San Salvador (UPI) — World coffee producers, winding up a three-day meeting, said Sunday they would withhold about 17.5 million bags of coffee from global markets indefinitely, until coffee prices increase.

HONOLULU (UPI) — Terminal Illihi Biggs, 14, realizing her dream of a last trip to Hawaii, Sunday learned of the truth of Aloha as scores of islanders offered gifts to the girl from Illinois forever banished from home-as the school mascot to horseback rides.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., chairman of Congress' Joint Economic Committee, said Sunday the nation may face another depression later this year unless strong economic measures are taken within 90-90 days.

SEOUL (UPI) — South Korea released 48 more political prisoners Sunday, bringing the two-day total of those freed under a general amnesty issued by President Park Chung-Hee to 210, justice officials said.

A MADRID (UPI) — The newspaper Ya, a voice of Spain's powerful Roman Catholic Church, Sunday welcomed the reduction of prison sentences for 10 leftwing actors as a move that might reduce growing political tension.

world briefs

SMC to reach a decision concerning new calendar

by Mary Janca
St. Mary's Editor

St. Mary's will reach a decision concerning next year's academic calendar following the final release of Notre Dame's calendar, stated Acting Vice President for Academic Affairs, Sr. Francesca Kennedy.

She noted that the calendars for the two schools probably will be the same. Based on a departmental poll conducted earlier this year, most members of the college favored a post-Labor Day start and a first semester vacation at Thanksgiving, she said.

"In principle, the break ought to be at Thanksgiving," it's an important family holiday, in addition, so many students went home to nothing. Their parents were at work, and our friends and younger brothers and sisters were in school," she commented.

According to Francesca, the administration polled 19 academic departments to determine the type of calendar they would prefer. Of the 19, fifteen departments responded, while individuals from other department also replied.

Hundreds of the fifteen departments responding favored a post Labor Day start. Five did not mention the start of the school year because they were concerned with Thanksgiving break," she stated.

Eleven out of the fifteen professors proposed an extended Thanksgiving break. Two favored a break in October. One department proposed a first semester vacation instead of an October break, and failed to note its views concerning an extended Thanksgiving break. Kennedy noted.

The vice president commented that when final calendar plans are released, she would favor a joint statement between Notre Dame and St. Mary's. "If we 'ND and SMC have the same days off and on, the exchange of classes is made so much easier," she said.

The ride aspect is also an important reason for keeping the same calendar," she stated.

London and Paris
History Dept. sponsors tour

A two-week tour of London and Paris earning university credit will be sponsored next summer by the History Department of the University of Notre Dame. Under the direction of Dr. Carole Moore, the group will spend approximately a week in each city and its environs.

Up to six hours of credit may be earned in the course of the trip. Preceding departure, a slide course on the history of each country will be offered by Professor John Bernard. On the historic and artistic significance of the places to be visited by the tour members. Students will carry one credit hour and may be taken on a graduate, undergraduate, or audit basis. Additional credits may be earned by the preparation of a research paper on any one of a number of sites to be visited by the tour members. The tour may also be taken without credit by those who care to do so.

Departure will be by jet from Paris carrying university credit. The price of the trip without University credit is $800.00, subject to changes in air fares and exchange rates. Covered in the fare are all air transportation, airport transfers, lodging, continental breakfast each morning, city tours by land and water, and admission to a number of historical landmarks. Interested parties should contact the History Department at the University of Notre Dame.

The cultural Arts Commission presents in Concert

Herbie Hancock

San Salvador, El Salvador (UPI) — World coffee producers, winding up a three-day meeting, said Sunday they would withhold about 17.5 million bags of coffee from global markets indefinitely, until coffee prices increase.

HONOLULU (UPI) — Terminal Illihi Biggs, 14, realizing her dream of a last trip to Hawaii, Sunday learned of the truth of Aloha as scores of islanders offered gifts to the girl from Illinois forever banished from home-as the school mascot to horseback rides.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., chairman of Congress' Joint Economic Committee, said Sunday the nation may face another depression later this year unless strong economic measures are taken within 90-90 days.

SEOUL (UPI) — South Korea released 48 more political prisoners Sunday, bringing the two-day total of those freed under a general amnesty issued by President Park Chung-Hee to 210, justice officials said.

A MADRID (UPI) — The newspaper Ya, a voice of Spain's powerful Roman Catholic Church, Sunday welcomed the reduction of prison sentences for 10 leftwing actors as a move that might reduce growing political tension.

world briefs

SMC to reach a decision concerning new calendar

by Mary Janca
St. Mary's Editor

St. Mary's will reach a decision concerning next year's academic calendar following the final release of Notre Dame's calendar, stated Acting Vice President for Academic Affairs, Sr. Francesca Kennedy.

She noted that the calendars for the two schools probably will be the same. Based on a departmental poll conducted earlier this year, most members of the college favored a post-Labor Day start and a first semester vacation at Thanksgiving, she said.

"In principle, the break ought to be at Thanksgiving," it's an important family holiday, in addition, so many students went home to nothing. Their parents were at work, and our friends and younger brothers and sisters were in school," she commented.

According to Francesca, the administration polled 19 academic departments to determine the type of calendar they would prefer. Of the 19, fifteen departments responded, while individuals from other department also replied.

Hundreds of the fifteen departments responding favored a post Labor Day start. Five did not mention the start of the school year because they were concerned with Thanksgiving break," she stated.

Eleven out of the fifteen professors proposed an extended Thanksgiving break. Two favored a break in October. One department proposed a first semester vacation instead of an October break, and failed to note its views concerning an extended Thanksgiving break. Kennedy noted.

The vice president commented that when final calendar plans are released, she would favor a joint statement between Notre Dame and St. Mary's. "If we 'ND and SMC have the same days off and on, the exchange of classes is made so much easier," she said.

The ride aspect is also an important reason for keeping the same calendar," she stated.

London and Paris
History Dept. sponsors tour

A two-week tour of London and Paris earning university credit will be sponsored next summer by the History Department of the University of Notre Dame. Under the direction of Dr. Carole Moore, the group will spend approximately a week in each city and its environs.

Up to six hours of credit may be earned in the course of the trip. Preceding departure, a slide course on the history of each country will be offered by Professor John Bernard. On the historic and artistic significance of the places to be visited by the tour members. Students will carry one credit hour and may be taken on a graduate, undergraduate, or audit basis. Additional credits may be earned by the preparation of a research paper on any one of a number of sites to be visited by the tour members. The tour may also be taken without credit by those who care to do so.

Departure will be by jet from Paris carrying university credit. The price of the trip without University credit is $800.00, subject to changes in air fares and exchange rates. Covered in the fare are all air transportation, airport transfers, lodging, continental breakfast each morning, city tours by land and water, and admission to a number of historical landmarks. Interested parties should contact the History Department at the University of Notre Dame.
Minority Students Counseling Center to open

by Joest Carey

Due to the individual efforts of Notre Dame graduate student Craig Adams, the Minority Students Counseling Center will once more be opened and in full operation on February 10 of this week.

The office is located in the basement of LaFortune, but has been closed since last year due to "too much work and not enough cooperation," according to Adams.

"Minority students just do not feel comfortable in an organization which is set up and run by whites and is essentially white-oriented," he said. "As long as black students are failing in academic work and complaining of their situation at Notre Dame, there is a need for counseling," he noted.

Adams graduated from Notre Dame with a psychology degree and is presently working for his doctorate as a counseling trainee at the Notre Dame Counseling Center. At the only black working for this organization, he is acutely aware of the special problems faced by the black individual at ND.

"Since then," Adams said, "a different type of black population has emerged. There is a general disinterest in counseling as such. The complaints are the same - but the action is lacking."

So Adams has created a program of his own, with an entirely new thrust to accommodate the changed position of the minority population at ND.

Adams plans on organizing a series of group discussions to include any student interested in working out these problems with people in the same situation.

The second aspect of the program involves what Adams terms "a massive minority student recruitment program."

This will involve interested students who would go to the high schools in South Bend and speak with the students there "and show these kids that they can get into Notre Dame if they wish," Adams said.

"Since then," Adams added, "it's a place where people can just come to talk about anything they want."

"Failing in academic work and the like," Adams continued, "are models," Adams remarked, "are models of what the center, according to Adams. The percentage of blacks who have felt isolated interest in the Minority Students Counseling Center are, as Adams put it, "very high to nil."

The counseling itself will be concerned with educational, personal, and vocational problems.

"But most important," Adams added, "it's a place where people can just come to talk about anything they want."

"The main thrust and key concern of the Minority Counseling Center is a program organized by Adams to give the minority students at Notre Dame a chance to become involved with the black community outside of Notre Dame, especially in downtown South Bend.

This program consists of three central plans. The first will involve minority students "who feel the lack of communication among themselves - a need to discover the reasons for this gap with others," Adams explained.

Adams plans on organizing a separate from the established ND counseling service by the students of Notre Dame.

Robertson's加以印证的active involvement in the "massive minority student recruitment program."

Note: The first word in each sentence is capitalized.

For 75-76 calendar

SMC programs announced

by Megan Wolff

The Royal Shakespeare Company will be performing on-avenue-on tour for the first time in the United States, being the first company in Repertory of Stratford-upon-Avon, on tour for the first time in this country.

Due to "too much work and not enough cooperation," Nancy Nickoloff, Directo...
Dear Editor:

Having read in Wednesday's issue of the Observer an entire page of letters to the editor from distraught residents of Lewis Hall, I wondered about their overall presentations. The letters were full of indignation...but their authors were not very clear. When other halls were transferred to new residents, if their real concern is for the current residents, it has been the first time that we have heard from them. In effect, the persons writing are usually violating the reversal of decision be made, thus passing the duster on to other group of students instead of themselves. (As an aside, it might be recalled that no other group of students who have had their hall transferred has had attached to that transfer a statement concerning a plan to build for them an on-campus housing complex.) I may be rash judging, but I suspect that if the reversal of being urged were to come about, these writers would once again become silent about such matters.

The overriding issue in the letters is one of self-interest. Self-interest is valid, but it should be presented honestly and as such. I suggest that the Mardi Gras committee examine their past practices and attempt to provide uniformity in their future work. I won't be dismayed twice in a row. The self-imposed criteria which ridiculed the committee this year.

Sincerely,
John Stanco

Mardi Gras Booths

Dear Editor:

On Saturday night the Mardi Gras committee announced the winner of the “best designed booth.” Eleven committee members participated in the voting of the class booth. Each member was asked to vote for no more than two booths. The final positions in the voting were listed up to sixth place.

I want to make it clear from the beginning that I acknowledge the privilege of any of these committee members to vote for the booth which, in their own estimation is the best. However, uniform criteria must be established. The best-designed set of criteria made a mockery of the award.

When the final positions were announced on Saturday, I approached several committee members to inquire as to what the criteria were for choosing the winner. I was an interested party because I was the Chairman of the Glee Club booth (the Chipper Ship). From my conversations it is apparent that criteria were more or less an individual thing with each committee member. I was informed that our Chipper Ship was not considered because it “didn’t have enough color.”

A “Gold Rush”. We felt that a gold color make-up of Corby’s in the harbor was certainly not out of color place considering Chipper Ship. If the committee felt that it did not fit in with the theme, it was their right since they ran the show. However, we should have adhered to their selection. This did submitted the design. We would have been happy to channel our energies into a booth more in keeping with the committee’s conception of “Gold Rush”. It was the committee’s obligation to tell us so. After all, we were not informed, not AFTER the judging, that our booth did not meet their criteria.

It is interesting to note some of the other standards on which the booths were judged. One committee member told me that her booth was thought about “too much money a booth took in was a factor.” I was curious about her estimation. This is despite the fact that there is a separate cash prize for the booth that makes the most money.

If this award is for the booth which wins the most money, it should be so stated beforehand. It is continued, besides, you messing the Glee Club’s originality and workmanship was present ever since construction began. It will be interesting to see what all of the Corby men have remarked so unjustly about the Corby girls. The ones who do the labeling know who they are: Has it ever occurred to them that even for all of the Corby men we have been the girl standing next to you at the bar, and the one before we had a Trimple.

I suggest that the Mardi Gras committee examine their past practices and attempt to provide uniformity in their future work. I won’t be dismayed twice in a row. The self-imposed criteria which ridiculed the committee this year.

Sincerely,
Levis Faust

What Kind of Female...?

Dear Editor:

I am writing this open letter with the hope only that it will reach the Nearshore, a popular women’s advice column. I have been unable to determine the criteria selected to the desired product. It will, with exact, eliminate the hodgepodge of “women” people who frequent Corby’s are bestowed upon her by “slut” or “shrew” labels.

It is rather unanimous that women “hang-outs” are extremely energies into a booth more in keeping with the committee’s conception of “Gold Rush”. It was the committee’s obligation to tell us so. After all, we were not informed, not AFTER the judging, that our booth did not meet their criteria.

It is interesting to note some of the other standards on which the booths were judged. One committee member told me that her booth was thought about “too much money a booth took in was a factor.” I was curious about her estimation. This is despite the fact that there is a separate cash prize for the booth that makes the most money.

If this award is for the booth which wins the most money, it should be so stated beforehand. It is continued, besides, you messing the Glee Club’s originality and workmanship was present ever since construction began. It will be interesting to see what all of the Corby men have remarked so unjustly about the Corby girls. The ones who do the labeling know who they are: Has it ever occurred to them that even for all of the Corby men we have been the girl standing next to you at the bar, and the one before we had a Trimple.

I suggest that the Mardi Gras committee examine their past practices and attempt to provide uniformity in their future work. I won’t be dismayed twice in a row. The self-imposed criteria which ridiculed the committee this year.

Sincerely,
John Martin

The Scapegoat

Dear Editor:

We think an outright injustice occurs at every home basketball game. The fact, who have been disgusted, is the greatest in the world, and no doubt are, have tendency to be unfair to certain individuals at times.

We are only 263 and nothing could go wrong and no one has ever done anything. However, this year we are 117 and the fans need to be educated. This is Peter Crotty. He is receiving the voting, the femininity grade was falsely deformed simply because she enters this bar. The slanderous names bestowed upon her by “slut” or “shrew” labels.

It is rather unanimous that women “hang-outs” are extremely energies into a booth more in keeping with the committee’s conception of “Gold Rush”. It was the committee’s obligation to tell us so. After all, we were not informed, not AFTER the judging, that our booth did not meet their criteria.

It is interesting to note some of the other standards on which the booths were judged. One committee member told me that her booth was thought about “too much money a booth took in was a factor.” I was curious about her estimation. This is despite the fact that there is a separate cash prize for the booth that makes the most money.

If this award is for the booth which wins the most money, it should be so stated beforehand. It is continued, besides, you messing the Glee Club’s originality and workmanship was present ever since construction began. It will be interesting to see what all of the Corby men have remarked so unjustly about the Corby girls. The ones who do the labeling know who they are: Has it ever occurred to them that even for all of the Corby men we have been the girl standing next to you at the bar, and the one before we had a Trimple.

I suggest that the Mardi Gras committee examine their past practices and attempt to provide uniformity in their future work. I won’t be dismayed twice in a row. The self-imposed criteria which ridiculed the committee this year.

Sincerely,
John Martin

At the Opera

Dear Editor:

I hope Mary Margaret Sheriff was kidding when she suggested there was “nothing absurd about an (American) audience which sits repetitively and passively” through a performance of an opera in German or Italian. Last year we were 26-3 and nobody is saying anything nor because anyone obviously a fool, my actions are basically self-centered and ob­vious. I did not fit in with the theme, it was their right since they ran the show. However, we should have adhered to their selection. This did not fit in with the theme, it was their right since they ran the show. However, we should have adhered to their selection. This did submitted the design. We would have been happy to channel our energies into a booth more in keeping with the committee’s conception of “Gold Rush”. It was the committee’s obligation to tell us so. After all, we were not informed, not AFTER the judging, that our booth did not meet their criteria.

It is interesting to note some of the other standards on which the booths were judged. One committee member told me that her booth was thought about “too much money a booth took in was a factor.” I was curious about her estimation. This is despite the fact that there is a separate cash prize for the booth that makes the most money.

If this award is for the booth which wins the most money, it should be so stated beforehand. It is continued, besides, you messing the Glee Club’s originality and workmanship was present ever since construction began. It will be interesting to see what all of the Corby men have remarked so unjustly about the Corby girls. The ones who do the labeling know who they are: Has it ever occurred to them that even for all of the Corby men we have been the girl standing next to you at the bar, and the one before we had a Trimple.

I suggest that the Mardi Gras committee examine their past practices and attempt to provide uniformity in their future work. I won’t be dismayed twice in a row. The self-imposed criteria which ridiculed the committee this year.

Sincerely,
John Martin

Jim Martin
Jim Dunn

Burn On, Gold Dome

Dear Editor:

Everyone knows that a successful campaign is such a fine line place for one to vent the spleen that I simply can resist the urge no longer. So, if you please, let me address my petty and self-centered worries to the entire SMC community. And, don’t take what I say as personal because it’s just more vanity, trash on top of the base that does nothing but pile onto the Letters Section of the Observer.

While at Notre Dame, we have on the one hand a thoughtlessly administered discipline that in their respective positions like done in a bingo roller, on the other hand, we have the students who control the management of themselves. The result of all of this, of course, is little more than total chaos and anarchy. Everyday everyone must put up with all the nonsense others everyone else hands out. It amounts to nothing but self- torture. Wouldn’t it be far better to solve their problems so they like everyone else can do a damn good to do. And, because I’m basically self-centered and ob­vious in the midst of the “American Standard.” It’s too bad of course, that in our little hamlet of high school and college, we can live the life they so readily profess. But, if it’s a sham and the manner that is best for themselves, and who are in dire need of the label of “Christian” (misquote). Now, from my observation, the clientele that patronizes Corby’s. Whether one has been used to the idea that Pater Crotty can do the lives beyond. Pete Crotty has been loosed at his entrance and cheered at his exit continually. We think an outright injustice occurs at every home basketball game. The fact, who have been disgusted, is the greatest in the world, and no doubt are, have tendency to be unfair to certain individuals at times.

At any rate, I simply want to add my own two cents here because it will accomplish anything. In the future the open debates like that in the SND might get litigate. Neither will come to pass because I have that the open debates like that in the SND might get litigate. Neither will come to pass because I have that the open debates like that in the SND might get litigate. Neither will come to pass because I have that the open debates like that in the SND might get litigate. Neither will come to pass because I have that the open debates like that in the SND might get litigate. Neither will come to pass because I have that the open debates like that in the SND might get litigate. Neither will come to pass because I have that the open debates like that in the SND might get litigate. Neither will come to pass because I have that the open debates like that(4,21),(996,997)
Dr. David Fellman

Tuesday's guest speaker is Dr. Samuel Patterson, chairman of the department of Political Science at the University of Iowa. He will lead the session on the Congress. His general field of study is American politics and his special concentration is legislative politics and behavior. Patterson has been associated with the American Journal of Political Science and the Journal of the Midwest Political Science Association. He has written and edited several books on legislation and Congress and has authored more than thirty articles and book monographs on the same subject.

Patterson will explain the role of Congress with respect to the balance of power. He thinks distrust of Congress may be the most serious problem the country must resolve in the aftermath of Watergate. John Roos, assistant professor of Government and International Relations, and Paul C. Bartholomew, Professor of Government, will be the co-discussants. Marlene Zloza is the moderator.

Herbert Storing will discuss the presidency on Wednesday evening. A professor at the University of Chicago, he has been a Fullbright Scholar and the recipient of several research grants from institutions such as the Ford Foundation and the National Endowment for the Humanities. Dr. Storing has published several books, including What Country Have I?, Political Writings by Black Americans and The Complete Anti-Federalist, and has contributed many articles to important journals. Among other topics, he will discuss the myth of a presidential presidency and how it distorts the balance of power. Peri E. Arnold and Daniel Kamrath, both professors of Government at Notre Dame, will co-discuss the subject. David J. Hayes will moderate.

The courts will be studied at the final session on Thursday. Dr. David Fellman, Villas Professor of Political Science at the University of Wisconsin, will be the guest speaker. Fellman, former president of the American Association of University Professors, received his Ph.D. from Yale in 1934, and since then he has authored seven books and edited two, including Citizenship of Books, The Constitutional Rights of Association, The Defendant's Rights, and The Limits of Freedom. His major field of study and research is American constitutional law with special references to civil liberties. Besides this, Fellman has written articles for several publications and written the annual review of the Supreme Court for the American Political Science Review. Kommers and Beitzinger have studied under the professor in the past Raymond P. Cour, C.S.C., Professor of Government and Charles E. Rice, Professor of Law at the Notre Dame Law School. Co-discussants: B rian J. Meginess is moderator.

Each session begins at 8 P.M. The guest speaker will speak for approximately 45 minutes and the co-discussants, who have been briefed on the guest's lecture, will have 15 minutes to elaborate, agree, or disagree. The question and answer session will follow.

The organizers of "Separation of Powers in the Wake of Watergate" are hopeful that students will take this opportunity to examine the political problems which confronted the founders two hundred years ago and still plague us today.
Israel softens demands

By United Press International

Israel has slightly softened its demand that Egypt declare a pact of nonbelligerency, insisting instead that Cairo declare a pact of nonaggression in writing and the United States would guarantee oil supplies to Israel as part of the agreement, the newspaper said.

Israel gets about half its oil needs from the fields, captured in the 1967 Middle East war. In his remarks in the Beirut newspaper, Kissinger described Kissinger’s latest Middle East tour as “promising” but said Egypt would not offer any proposals, and we didn’t get any either.

Egypt would ensure nonaggression in writing and the United States would guarantee oil supplies to Israel as part of the agreement, the newspaper said.

Israel got half its oil needs from the fields, captured in the 1967 Middle East war. In his remarks in the Beirut newspaper, Kissinger described Kissinger’s latest Middle East tour as “promising” but said Egypt didn’t offer any proposals, and we didn’t get any other.

The Egyptian foreign minister said he expected the Egyptian peace concept to revive “peacefully” around the middle of the year.

Kissinger, who flew to Switzerland before the end of June, said Sunday any partial Israeli withdrawals would be a step toward the Geneva Middle East peace conference and not a substitute for it.

The Egyptian Information Ministry secretary Leonid 1. Brezhnev’s scheduled visit to the United States... American officials expected that Gromyko also may bring up the subject of Cyprus, one of the possible issues of tension between the two nations.

As Kissinger arrived in Geneva, the Soviet official news agency Tass condemned last week’s creation of a Turkish Cypriot autonomous republic in the northern part of the island as an attempt by “certain NATO circles to frustrate” a Cyprus settlement.

In a brief arrival statement at Geneva airport, Kissinger said he and Gromyko would review the state of U.S.-Soviet relations and the situation in the Middle East.

U.S. officials said the major and most delicate issue, the Middle East, will be reviewed Monday morning, when Kissinger and Gromyko are scheduled to meet again before Kissinger flies on to Britain after lunch.

American officials believe that Gromyko may take a hard line in the talks, especially on the Middle East and Cyprus.

The meeting would provide Kissinger’s first chance to sense the mood of the Soviet Politburo since the mystery surrounding Brezhnev’s illness earlier this year. Brezhnev suddenly reap­ peared last week, looking rested and happy.

A senior American official said Kissinger’s plan said that it was probably too early to recover the question of trade after Russia angrily denounced the 1972 trade pact between the countries.

Another failure on trade would be a disaster, the official said, and Kissinger must first discuss the question thoroughly with influential congressmen before taking it up with the Russians again.

On strategic arms, Kissinger and Gromyko will begin to spell out the Vladimirovsk agreement between President Ford and Brezhnev, which would limit each side to 2,400 nuclear weapons delivery vehicles that can be employed up to 1985. The senior official said that the Russians have put forward a plan for completing the agreement with some of their own pet ideas attached.

On the issue of Cyprus, Gromyko may again propose an international conference on the subject where the Turkish Cypriot minority has just declared a separate state in the north.
Experimental basis

Stevan to be used for athletics

by Erin Dwyer
Staff Reporter

The Notre Dame physical education department...
Adrian Dantley was the magician as the Irish even at the wing against the Explorers' zone defense, putting Dantley inside, underneath the basket, or field and four of five from the free line. Digger put Adrian on the point and the sophomore we had seen him on the wing. I'd rather see him there.

OSU. The game after the Explorers had narrowed the Irish lead and the victory by taking the deciding bout was won by fresh­man Pat Gerard and the Irish scored a 20-7 victory over the Illini and won-loss record of the Hoyas. "I think we fooled them a little by playing more with five seconds left to give Notre Dame a 20-7 halftime lead." With 5:07 left, that turned out to be the difference in the 74-67 Notre Dame win.

"It was the only game we haven't been in at the end of two periods, Tech finally ended his 30 game string of losses in the NCAA tournament picture. "You've heard of deja vu?" said DeCicco, "but if you can give another of those rapid fire parade cliffhanger into Tech coach HJ Pat Gerard credit for that. He scouted LaSalle and got us ready.

"We didn't see much of Dantley on the point and the sophomore we had seen him on the wing. I'd rather see him there. But if you can give another of those rapid fire parade cliffhanger into Tech coach HJ Pat Gerard credit for that. He scouted LaSalle and got us ready.

Fencers halt Wayne State 3 year win streak at forty

The Notre Dame fencing team upset highly touted Wayne State 3-2 on Sunday to halt a streak of forty straight victories since 1972. The Laser's last defeat came at the hands of the Irish three years ago in the ACC where they needed a 14-11 decision.

Last season, DeCicco improved the team to 9-1. "If I ever want to win a national championship," said DeCicco, "I've got to win this year." The Laser's one loss was to the Notre Dame team.

"That's what we wanted to happen," said coach Dave DeCiccio of the win. "We wanted to win this game. With 5:07 left, that was the difference in the 74-67 Notre Dame win.

"It was the only game we haven't been in at the end of two periods, Tech finally ended his 30 game string of losses in the NCAA tournament picture. "You've heard of deja vu?" said DeCicco, "but if you can give another of those rapid fire parade cliffhanger into Tech coach HJ Pat Gerard credit for that. He scouted LaSalle and got us ready.

"We didn't see much of Dantley on the point and the sophomore we had seen him on the wing. I'd rather see him there. But if you can give another of those rapid fire parade cliffhanger into Tech coach HJ Pat Gerard credit for that. He scouted LaSalle and got us ready.

Fencers halt Wayne State 3 year win streak at forty

The Notre Dame fencing team upset highly touted Wayne State 3-2 on Sunday to halt a streak of forty straight victories since 1972. The Laser's last defeat came at the hands of the Irish three years ago in the ACC where they needed a 14-11 decision.

Last season, DeCicco improved the team to 9-1. "If I ever want to win a national championship," said DeCicco, "I've got to win this year." The Laser's one loss was to the Notre Dame team.

"That's what we wanted to happen," said coach Dave DeCicco of the win. "We wanted to win this game. With 5:07 left, that was the difference in the 74-67 Notre Dame win.

"It was the only game we haven't been in at the end of two periods, Tech finally ended his 30 game string of losses in the NCAA tournament picture. "You've heard of deja vu?" said DeCicco, "but if you can give another of those rapid fire parade cliffhanger into Tech coach HJ Pat Gerard credit for that. He scouted LaSalle and got us ready.

"We didn't see much of Dantley on the point and the sophomore we had seen him on the wing. I'd rather see him there. But if you can give another of those rapid fire parade cliffhanger into Tech coach HJ Pat Gerard credit for that. He scouted LaSalle and got us ready.

Fencers halt Wayne State 3 year win streak at forty

The Notre Dame fencing team upset highly touted Wayne State 3-2 on Sunday to halt a streak of forty straight victories since 1972. The Laser's last defeat came at the hands of the Irish three years ago in the ACC where they needed a 14-11 decision.

Last season, DeCicco improved the team to 9-1. "If I ever want to win a national championship," said DeCicco, "I've got to win this year." The Laser's one loss was to the Notre Dame team.

"That's what we wanted to happen," said coach Dave DeCicco of the win. "We wanted to win this game. With 5:07 left, that was the difference in the 74-67 Notre Dame win.

"It was the only game we haven't been in at the end of two periods, Tech finally ended his 30 game string of losses in the NCAA tournament picture. "You've heard of deja vu?" said DeCicco, "but if you can give another of those rapid fire parade cliffhanger into Tech coach HJ Pat Gerard credit for that. He scouted LaSalle and got us ready.

"We didn't see much of Dantley on the point and the sophomore we had seen him on the wing. I'd rather see him there. But if you can give another of those rapid fire parade cliffhanger into Tech coach HJ Pat Gerard credit for that. He scouted LaSalle and got us ready.

Fencers halt Wayne State 3 year win streak at forty

The Notre Dame fencing team upset highly touted Wayne State 3-2 on Sunday to halt a streak of forty straight victories since 1972. The Laser's last defeat came at the hands of the Irish three years ago in the ACC where they needed a 14-11 decision.

Last season, DeCicco improved the team to 9-1. "If I ever want to win a national championship," said DeCicco, "I've got to win this year." The Laser's one loss was to the Notre Dame team.

"That's what we wanted to happen," said coach Dave DeCicco of the win. "We wanted to win this game. With 5:07 left, that was the difference in the 74-67 Notre Dame win.

"It was the only game we haven't been in at the end of two periods, Tech finally ended his 30 game string of losses in the NCAA tournament picture. "You've heard of deja vu?" said DeCicco, "but if you can give another of those rapid fire parade cliffhanger into Tech coach HJ Pat Gerard credit for that. He scouted LaSalle and got us ready.

"We didn't see much of Dantley on the point and the sophomore we had seen him on the wing. I'd rather see him there. But if you can give another of those rapid fire parade cliffhanger into Tech coach HJ Pat Gerard credit for that. He scouted LaSalle and got us ready.

Fencers halt Wayne State 3 year win streak at forty

The Notre Dame fencing team upset highly touted Wayne State 3-2 on Sunday to halt a streak of forty straight victories since 1972. The Laser's last defeat came at the hands of the Irish three years ago in the ACC where they needed a 14-11 decision.

Last season, DeCicco improved the team to 9-1. "If I ever want to win a national championship," said DeCicco, "I've got to win this year." The Laser's one loss was to the Notre Dame team.

"That's what we wanted to happen," said coach Dave DeCicco of the win. "We wanted to win this game. With 5:07 left, that was the difference in the 74-67 Notre Dame win.

"It was the only game we haven't been in at the end of two periods, Tech finally ended his 30 game string of losses in the NCAA tournament picture. "You've heard of deja vu?" said DeCicco, "but if you can give another of those rapid fire parade cliffhanger into Tech coach HJ Pat Gerard credit for that. He scouted LaSalle and got us ready.

"We didn't see much of Dantley on the point and the sophomore we had seen him on the wing. I'd rather see him there. But if you can give another of those rapid fire parade cliffhanger into Tech coach HJ Pat Gerard credit for that. He scouted LaSalle and got us ready.

Fencers halt Wayne State 3 year win streak at forty

The Notre Dame fencing team upset highly touted Wayne State 3-2 on Sunday to halt a streak of forty straight victories since 1972. The Laser's last defeat came at the hands of the Irish three years ago in the ACC where they needed a 14-11 decision.

Last season, DeCicco improved the team to 9-1. "If I ever want to win a national championship," said DeCicco, "I've got to win this year." The Laser's one loss was to the Notre Dame team.

"That's what we wanted to happen," said coach Dave DeCicco of the win. "We wanted to win this game. With 5:07 left, that was the difference in the 74-67 Notre Dame win.

"It was the only game we haven't been in at the end of two periods, Tech finally ended his 30 game string of losses in the NCAA tournament picture. "You've heard of deja vu?" said DeCicco, "but if you can give another of those rapid fire parade cliffhanger into Tech coach HJ Pat Gerard credit for that. He scouted LaSalle and got us ready.

"We didn't see much of Dantley on the point and the sophomore we had seen him on the wing. I'd rather see him there. But if you can give another of those rapid fire parade cliffhanger into Tech coach HJ Pat Gerard credit for that. He scouted LaSalle and got us ready.