New campus lighting is installed for protection

by Kathy Mills
Senior Staff Reporter

Notre Dame's campus will be more brightly lit in the future in the interest of safety, according to Fr. Jerome Wengert, S.J., director of business affairs, and Sr. John Miriam Jones, assistant to the president.

"We are putting more lights next to Stanford," explained Wengert. "This will make the path from Lewis to the North Dining Hall better lighted."

Byrne noted that the University is also investigating installing lights on the road which runs along the ACC, and the tennis courts.

"The lights will be put past the tennis courts," Byrne stated, "because a lot of students who live in Campus View Apartments use this path at night."

He added Fr. Wilson has promised the University "will do what it can."

Wilson observed some other areas on campus could use more lights. However, he noted more light poles are needed and must be ordered.

"New Lights Installed" points out that during the summer, new lights were installed near Bloomfield and Farley, between the administration building and Sacred Heart Church, south of O'Dowd. The lights are near Lourdes Hall and Lewis Hall.

In addition, new bulbs were installed in the lights which run along the tennis courts, and on the lights for the ROTC building, the log house, and the gym.

Wengert is also conscious of the need for light there, she added.

Other places students have mentioned as being too dark include the area directly in front of O'Shaughnessy, and the D-1 parking lot.

One student pointed out the area around Galvin Center and the Computer Center are very dark.

Consider Student Suggestions

Several students have said the areas behind O'Shaughnessy and around Badin Hall need more lights. Wilson said they will "most certainly consider the student suggestions regarding dark spots which need lights." He added he hopes to experiment with different lights in these areas.

Wilson said there is a new type of light outside Sacred Heart Church.

"We do hope to do the whole campus like this," he stated, "but an awful lot of electrical work is needed to do it."

Wilson noted, "We have received compliments from the neighbors of the light poles in the past, especially when new lights were installed near Columbia Hall." He said "we can't light the whole campus like a parking lot," he remarked.

He advised students to "figure out the dark spots, and avoid them. There are ways to go that are brighter than others."

Wilson also warned that foolishness to walk alone at night."

Women's Safety Project

University Referenda, advisory of the Notre Dame Legal Aid and Defender Association, is starting a project for women's safety, according to Pat Morgan, divisional director of the association and member of University Life in this year.

We have a proposal to augment the lights all over campus," Bergman stated. "Nothing is too expensive if you are protecting people."

"Lighting discourages rape at the start," she stated.

Bergman also noted she has had "horrible experiences" with security guards this year. Bergman also commented that she has had "bad experiences" with security guards this year.

"The guard at the main gate would let me on campus pick up girl at 1 a.m. after he let me on campus at 10 p.m.,” she explained. "He said, 'I'll be back to walk.'"

"I have had and heard of many cases where the guards were extremely rude. They won't offer the escort service, and you have to ask them, and then you must wait.”

S.U. debt listed at $34,000

by Mary Wolfer
Senior Staff Reporter

Poor control in Student Union commissions caused a $34,000 debt last year, according to Student Government Treasurer John Harrgrave. He said the Student Union Commission accounted for the major part of the loss.

"It is true that all the main concerts in the ACC netted profits except for Alice Cooper. In fact we were $4,000 ahead until that. But Alice Cooper was a poor concert and lost $3,000," Harrgrave stated.

Harrgrave also cited two minor concerts not held in the ACC which lost money. The first, Boras Hanack, incurred a loss of $2,000 on the second, John Sebastian, drew $5,000.

Remainder of Loss

The remaining $14,000 of the loss was spread out over other Student Union commissions, the treasurer said.

"For example, we expected Campus Press to make a profit of $130. But they bought a new machine we had not anticipated in the budget. Although I do not know the exact price of the machine, I know that instead of making profit, they lost $7,000 on that," he stated.

He cited the Cultural Arts Commission as another factor in the loss. The commission spent $5,000, or $10,000 over its budget.

"There were charges to be paid over the summer, too. Roughly $3,000 was spent to rent typewriters, phones, to pay for freshman orientation and the dog book," he said.

Student Fee Paid Debt

The debt was paid in full at the start of the school year by the increase in student fees, he noted.

"Last May Vice-President for Student Affairs Bro. Jack Pacle, S.B.P. Ed Byrne, former Treasurer Mike Schaeus and myself decided to raise student fees from $14 to $17 to cover the debt," Harrgrave stated.

There was no other way to raise $34,000, explained Harrgrave, since Student Government has no moneyraising activities. Student Union could possibly raise $800 through Services Commission and possibly $2,000 through Campus Press, but this would not cover the $34,000 debt, he said.

"If we had not paid off the debt, we would have had $30,000 less to work with this year and I did not think it would be fair to the students. I wanted to be able to provide the same amount of services in last year," Harrgrave said.

ND student government budget spending for year down $4,100

by Pat Cole
Staff Reporter

The Student Government reduced the 1975-76 school year budget from last year by $4,100. Last year, the Student Government expenses totaled $31,000. This year the budget is estimated to be $28,000.

"After spending $9,100," corrected Ed Byrne, Notre Dame student body president, "we discovered we went over the budget by $1,100. Some of the clubs didn't use all of the money. This is why we cut back."

Byrne said that the Student Government budget went over due to Student Union expenses such as concerts. Consequently, some campus organizations will not receive aid this year as the budget stands. Among these organizations are TALOS, the Business Activities Council, the Notre Dame Chapter of the National Society of Black Engineers, and the Right to Life League.

Club President comments

"Some clubs did not feel they would get aid," continued Byrne. "Since they weren't aided in past years, fewer clubs applied for aid. Actually in the Student Government budget, we cut back funds by $5,000."

Members of organizations not planning to receive aid expressed their feelings. Joe Corpina, president of the Right to Life League, said, "I don't know what happened, but it angers me to see that we are not receiving any aid."

"Cutbacks effects Clubs"

Dexter Gourdin, a member of the Notre Dame Chapter of the National Society of Black Engineers, remarked on the effects of no money to this organization.

"We started the club this year. We intended to set up a test file for freshmen and sophomores studying engineering on the club. Also, we needed money to bring guest speakers for the club and for newsletters and pamphlets."

This year, student government has allotted $6,051 for distribution to 14 organizations.
Slogan contest field narrows down to ten

by Liz Merrill

A preliminary meeting to select the winner of the St. Mary's Mascot Contest was held yesterday at the office of Dr. William Hickey, vice-president of Academic Affairs for SMC.

Serving as judges for the contest were Dr. Hickey, Stevie Wernig, assistant to the vice-president for Student Affairs; Mike Reynolds, of the Public Information Office; Diane Davis, from the Alumni office; Joan McDavid, student body president, and Denise Petron, student representative.

The judges discussed exactly what type of mascot they were looking for to represent the school. Although the winner was not selected, the field was narrowed down to approximately ten finalists.

Cathy Coyne, student development commissioner, who served as coordinator for the event, said that she received 46 entries and a number of prank slogans by the Sept. 28 deadline.

Coyne said, "A great deal of enthusiasm was displayed about the idea by the students as well as the faculty." She was quite pleased with the response.

The judges plan on meeting again to make the final decision sometime next week.

ERRATUM

Yesterday's Observer incorrectly stated that buses for the Army dance would pick up off-campus students at the Library Lounge and Campus View apartment.

The buses will pick up passengers west at the Notre Dame main circle and Holy Cross Hall at St. Mary's.

Off-campus students will be dropped off at the Library Lounge and Campus View at the end of the evening, but they must board the bus at the Notre Dame and St. Mary's locations.

Davis served on the Notre Dame faculty from 1932 to 1960, had an M.S. degree, and was in demand by close friends.

Contributions to the American Cancer Society are being made in his behalf. Memorial services will be held tomorrow in California.

Navy doesn't 'go-go' for submarine's deck dancer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A submarine skipper who permitted a topless go-go dancer to perform on his ship's deck was severely admonished Thursday by the Navy's top admiral.

Adm. James L. Holloway III ruled against Connolly Stevenson but softened the penalties recommended by subordinates. He found Stevenson guilty of failing to exercise judgment and violating regulations.

The incident occurred July 10 when dancer Cat Pitch performed her topless routine while the submarine Finback sailed from Guang, China.

Holloway ordered that "a punitive letter of admonition" be given the 41-year-old Stevenson.

However, the admiral directed that the record of his reprimand from command of the Finback be changed to drop the term "for cause" in light of Stevenson's over-all record.

Relief for cause is considered one of the strongest administrative measures that can be used against officers, the Navy noted.

At the same time, Holloway canceled a recommendation by Stevenson's superiors that he be required to forfeit a half-month's pay.

The announcement said that Holloway's actions "do not preclude consideration of Stevenson for future assignment to command.

The letter of admonition is a black mark which is expected to make it difficult for Stevenson to win promotion to higher rank.

Francis resigns from SLC post

by Phil Cackley
Staff Reporter

Prof.-Michael J. Francis resigned from the Student Life Council (SLC) earlier this week effective immediately. Francis, one of five faculty members on the SLC, cited reasons of lack of time and disenchantment with the effectiveness of the SLC as the reasons for his resignation.

"I had been made director of graduate studies in government this summer. This is a very time-consuming position. And at a certain stage in his appointment came in mid-summer, I was already carrying a regular teaching load," Francis said.

The combination of the two would severely limit the time he had to devote to the SLC, he estimated.

"As soon as we're contacted, we'd like to be able to schedule meetings," Francis said. "This is a very busy period of the year, and it's hard to find time to meet with everyone." Francis also feels that the SLC would be better served with a stronger faculty member on the council.

Pre-Labor Day start planned for next year's academic calendar

by Jim Cunyn
Staff Reporter

Student Trustee, Ed Byrne predicts a pre-Labor Day start for the academic calendar next year. He said that the SLC needs to determine the date of the holiday, Sept. 6.

"The only way to resolve the issue is for each side to give a little," Byrne said.

"The administration pushes very hard for a certain number of days," he continued. "The students think that number is arbitrary.

Holiday time is usually considered to be the number of days in secondary to most students and Byrne thought.

"Bill Scheible and Pete Morelli, who proposed the present academic calendar, have not been contacted by Byrne or Francis for this project," Byrne said.

"We hope that the incident will not affect the safety of our students," said Byrne.

The Aministration pushed something on the student council, according to Paul Sexton, associate prof. of History. Sexton is concerned about the future of the SLC.

Conrad condemns isolated government

by Jill Trotz
Staff Reporter

"The government doesn't need to sit isolated; the government needs to get out to find out what the difficulties and problems are of the people," said Larry Conrad, Indiana senator of state, Wednesday afternoon in the Law School lounge.

More than 11,000 individuals and organizations were carried on roles of the Special Services Staff of the Internal Revenue Service, said Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho.

Established in 1969, the Special Services Staff was intended as a "special compliance group to enforce the law," according to Church. IRS Commissioner Donald C. Alexander, who earlier approved the program abolished in August, said.

WASHINGTON (AP) - A controversial tax enforcement program officially aimed at political extremists was expanded to include such figures as college president Joseph Alsup, former New York City Mayor John V. Lindsay, Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., and Sen. Harry F. Byrd, Jr., of Virginia.

The new program, created by the Internal Revenue Service, was intended to focus on "Lawyers and Public Policy," according to an IRS memo.

Judge Danery...possibly on SLC

The SLC was closed, informal meeting Wednesday night with Fr. Theodore Hesburgh, university president.

Danery said he was told of the resignation today. He assumed he will take over immediately as representative.

Danery stated that he served on the SLC two years ago, as ex-officio member, because he was vice-chairman of the Faculty Senate at the time. "It's nothing new to me," he commented.

Ed Byrne, SLC acting chairman, also commented on Francis' resignation. He said he would have liked to see him stay, but he understands his feelings. He had wanted to resign last year, Byrne said.

Danery added, "He has had lukewarm feelings toward the SLC. Now that he is director of graduate studies in government, he's really strapped for time. It was a trade-off between the SLC and the graduate studies."

"I'm sorry to see him go. I would have liked to work with him," Byrne added.

Correction service criticized;
self-defense to be taught

Escort service guards waited until some girls were assembled at the gate before he would walk them across campus.

"The escort service is totally inefficient," Bergeson remarked. She added she has met with James Roemer, chief of staff, about women's safety. As a result, Roemer "talking to be guards about the treatment of women," Bergeson said.

Jones pointed out there was a safety meeting with the freshman women during Orientation. At that meeting, Arthur Pears, security chief, "gave a sincere promise of the escort service," Jones said.

People must be patient because of the limited number of patrons, she stated.

Kathy Mayer, executive director of the Legal Aid and Defender Association, noted an escort service sponsored by a community group is often very beneficial.

According to Mayer, Lawyer's Defense, Security has had a film about self-defense in order since the beginning of September. This film will be shown in the dorms.

"We must set it up with the rectors and hall commissioners after the film arrives," Pears said.

He mentioned the film is "very controversial" and "quite educational." Pears and Security Personnel will be on hand after the showings of the film for discussion.

On Conditioning

Conditioning and hair care cannot be overemphasized. Good conditioning takes place inside the hair shaft, (called the cortex), in terms of texture, appearance, and general health of the hair. The state of the cortex is reflected in the strength and structure of the hair. Too many "called" conditioners merely coat the hair, making it feel smooth. However, they do not treat the internal structure for long lasting results.

In SUMERIAN, we have that knowledge and training. We are experts in conditioning hair correct the problem in the internal structure, and correct the cortex. This is done by conditioning and the conditioner used, takes advantage and finds out the corresponding knowledge and bringing.

SUMERIAN, we have that knowledge and training, and now make...REDOYL and COR-TOP. EX: all high fitted products in our profession.

Additional security measures could alter American politics

by Barbara Reinsteins

A dramatic change in American politics as security measures on politicians are increased could be the result of last week's resignation of Premier Carlos Arias Navarro of Spain. The Spanish police calling for politicians to resort to television threat of assassination could force campaign style could be consumer; they are not," Professor Arnold concluded. "That resulted in reduced contact with politics push politicians into the Arnold also suggested that although a controlled, internal crowd situation might involve limiting the citizen's right of privacy, this strategy which the administration has adopted now, seems to be the best possible solution to the problem.

"It could have a major effect on the right of privacy in a limited way," Arnold stated, in that using metal detectors on the crowd during Ford's visit to Chicago Thursday could be just a step to ward solutions. "If they were willing to submit that easily," he continued, "the danger is there.

"It makes more sense for the President not to unnecessarily go to crowds," offered Sterling, "than to handle intelligence over every possible look.

The motivation behind the attempts is more to attract public attention than to personally attack the President, in the professor's views. "It just became the thing to do," Sterling said. "We've got a real tolerance for violence now," Arnold explained. "It means if Patty Hearst can become a poster girl, you think, 'I will, too.'

This threat does not seem to bother presidential candidates, however. "The power and prestige of the office is so great," Sterling said, "that I don't think we'll ever become a lack of aspirants.

I suggested that as a solution, Congress should pass a resolution to authorize the Secret Service to place more restraints on the President, such that "the Secret Service could do whatever is necessary to protect the President," as he is fulfilling his constitutional duties.

"The Secret Service would give more restraints to the President if backed by an authoritative body," Sterling concluded, that body should place restrictions on the President, not on the people.

Because Ford cannot stop from the pressing of the flesh," security will be "hard," Arnold concluded, but, to "Keep a guy like Ford away from the crowds would take a significant part away from his campaign.

In Northern Ireland

Ten killed in renewed fighting

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) - Ten persons were killed Thursday in Northern Ireland's bloodiest spasm of sectarian violence in months, police reported.

Five were killed, two of them shot dead, by a bomb fire and one shot through the eye as officers shouted: "You wanted to open Spain up clemency and justice yes, punishing work, but it must be crimes must be used. It is hard and punishing work, but it must be done.

After the mass, scores of armed police and civil guards struggled with official mail bearers demanding to carry the three coffins on their own shoulders to a military cemetery 12 miles away.

Whipped up by nationally televised coverage of weeping women and screaming relatives at the funeral, scores of Spaniards marched the coffins as they were carried through Madrid.

The violence began before dawn when a bar was bashed near the staunchly Protestant town of Ballymena, 10 miles north of Belfast.

Armed men raised the known death toll from more than six years of sectarian warfare in protest to at least 1,329-180 of them this year.

Most of the victims in Belfast were Roman Catholics, police said. Security authorities blamed most of the attacks on Protestant extremists who had been expected to retaliate against last week's devastating 24-hour blitz by the mainly Catholic Irish Republican Army.

New procedure for dialing for ND and SMC

The dialing procedure for phone calls between the Notre Dame and St. Mary's campuses, will be changed effective October 6, 1975.

Fred Freeman of the Notre Dame Personnel Department explained that the "growth in the telephone system necessitated the change.

After Oct. 6, persons calling from Notre Dame to St. Mary's will have to dial "9" plus the 4-digit number. Persons calling from St. Mary's to Notre Dame will have to dial "2," plus the 4-digit number.

Open Letter to ND-SMC

Dear Editor:

What does it feel like to discriminate one self in front of sixty thousand people? What does the stripper think of himself the following day? Whatever possessed him to do such a thing? These are just a few of the many questions that I have asked myself in the past week. I know that I have not found the answers to all of them.

To set things straight this letter is not written for the purpose of glorifying myself, the act I performed at last Saturday's football game. This letter is being written solely for the purpose of telling all the Notre Dame Community that being the stripper is not of no great significance and in fact, is very degrading.

First of all, this act was not done in a state of sobriety, it makes you stop and say, "Oh, you look better with your clothes off," it makes you say, "What did I do?" Then it dawned on me how hard it is to live with myself and to think: is this the way I want to be thinking all the time, "What did I do?" Then it dawned on me how hard it is to live with myself and to think of myself the following day? Whatever possessed him to do such a thing? I know that I have not found the answers to all of them.

As long as the lights are out they'll keep gnawing away.

N. D. Leprechauns?

Dear Editor:

I sometimes wonder how long the Notre Dame Admissions committee spends screening their applicants every year. I didn't think it humanly possible but they've really done it. They have chosen the "elite" few in the U.S. and reassembled the Notre Dame Leprechauns.

The Greek translation for Leprechaun comes from two words, ‘La' meaning small and ‘corpi' meaning body. That's about the way it sizes up on us.

Random House says that a Leprechaun is a Pagan, a goblin or a sprite. For those that aren't sure about what a sprite is— it's a small fairy... but that is a whole other story in itself.

As for Webster: he believes it is a small mischievous elf, who, upon capture, will reveal the hidden treasure.

Finally the American Heritage feels they are small cobblers. A cobbler being a clumsy worker or factory reject.

Afar looking around the dorm I found that most people feel that famous Leprechaun is a small unintelligent being who runs around the campus forest protecting his lucky charms as these charms are never in danger.

The attack— Funny how every definition refers to small. None of them say whether they mean small of mind or small of body. Nevertheless the N.D. guy fits both. The average height is somewhere around 5'6". Remarkable how such a large ego can be stacked so low.

As for mischievous actions— remember, we are only here to have a good time, we aren't here to jeopadize our chances of having other armory dances later in the year. We aren't here to cause the destruction of the university and university regulations and finally, you'll wake up feeling you spent the night inside of a cement mixer.

Dear Editor:

Whatever my motive was in holding females from SMC (and though merely implied, whenever they may exist) up to ridicule, it wasn't for called and only shows your immature, backward attitude towards women.

To you and to any of your sympathizers, I implore you to get back to reality and restrain fantasies— we don't need your kind hanging around anymore.

Dear Editor:

What does it feel like to discriminate one self in front of sixty thousand people? What does the stripper think of himself the following day? Whatever possessed him to do such a thing? These are just a few of the many questions that I have asked myself in the past week. I know that I have not found the answers to all of them.

To set things straight this letter is not written for the purpose of glorifying myself, the act I performed at last Saturday's football game. This letter is being written solely for the purpose of telling all the Notre Dame Community that being the stripper is not of no great significance and in fact, is very degrading.

First of all, this act was not done in a state of sobriety, it makes you stop and say, "Oh, you look better with your clothes off," it makes you say, "What did I do?" Then it dawned on me how hard it is to live with myself and to think: is this the way I want to be thinking all the time, "What did I do?" Then it dawned on me how hard it is to live with myself and to think of myself the following day? Whatever possessed him to do such a thing? I know that I have not found the answers to all of them.
One day recently, my mother, who, in the later years of her life, has become a communal figure, asked me a question that was bothering her. "Robert," she said, "why is the Notre Dame Church on the South Side of Chicago falling on rather shabby days?"

"Not shabby days, Mother," I said, "only very shabby days. You think of the church as being shabbily Shabbinesque, for me, is a wine passed out on a sidewalk in New York City; physically shabbily, morally shabbily, for one does not have to be involved with, at all like the church that you need to be involved with if you want to get involved with, with all at the church, you hope you are going to be involved with, you hope you are going to be saved, so they say. Anti-busing boycott continues in Louisville schools Thursday

By TERRY ANDERSON
Associated Press Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — School attendance was still down sharply Thursday, but business was up in the community's anti-busing boycott.

School officials said attendance was down sharply Thursday, but it was still down "substantially." School officials said attendance was up from yesterday's 38 percent to 71 percent at most schools, while a few reported nearly normal attendance.

One official said attendance was still at 40 percent in the combined Jefferson County school district.

The Ford Motor Co. auto assembly plant and the Coca-Cola and PepsiCo plants were back in operation Thursday, after closing Wednesday because not enough workers showed up.

Most other business in the southern part of the county, which had either been voluntarily or been forced to close Wednesday by a group of about 500 workers, were open Thursday.

The Jefferson County School Board's low attendance could be blamed on the 151 bus drivers who failed to show up for work. There are about 350 to 375 drivers in the district.

Thursday, officials said, nearly all bus drivers showed up.

Meanwhile, the leader of one of the anti-busing groups, the Rev. Lowell Hughes of Parents for Freedom, said Thursday it was time for a meeting between local and federal officials and anti-busing leaders.

"We are at a point where we can shut down the city completely if we have to," he said. "We don't want to do that. That hurts everyone.

He demanded that Mayor Harvey J. Shiane, County Judge Todd Hollowell and U.S. District Judge James F. Gordon meet with him and Bill Kellerman, head of Citizens Against Busing, to negotiate an end to the court-ordered busing for school desegregation.

Nine persons were arrested at several small demonstrations at shopping centers and near schools Wednesday night. About 30 riot-equipped police broke up a demonstration of about 200 persons at one center after officers said eggs and rocks were thrown at them. Another gathering was dispersed after a fire was lit in a parking lot, and a third when a main road was blocked briefly.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Authorities in northern New York were watching Wednesday for three persons, at least two of them women, who may be driving from Montreal with the intention of assassinating President Ford and visiting Japanese Emperor Hirohito.

A Secret Service spokesman in Syracuse indicated the alert was prompted by a telephone call. But he said the supposed threat had not been substantiated any further.

In Washington, a Justice Department spokesman said the FBI alerted its Albany office when it learned of the calls and agents there in turn alerted the New York State Police to watch for the blue station wagon.

The caller was attempting to locate the car and establish these identities. He did not say whether it was a valid threat," the department spokesman said.

A U.S. Border Patrol spokesman in Champlain, near the New York-Canada border, said there was no evidence that the three persons had crossed the international boundary.

He said the state-wide law enforcement alert advised officers to watch for the automobile, bearing California license plates. It said two persons in the car were women. The sex of the third person apparently was not known.

The alert said the three were considered armed and dangerous.

Amtrak train derail in Tenn.

PULASKI, Tenn. (AP) — Eight cars and one diesel locomotive of Amtrak's "Floridian" passenger train derailed late Wednesday in the northern Alabama-Tennessee border Wednesday. First reports said as many as 65 passengers may have been injured.

The 18-passenger car was en route from Chicago to Florida when it derailed in a densely wooded area, causing four cars to overturn, officials said.

Details of the wreck were sketchy because of the rugged terrain. An ambulance helicopter from Ft. Campbell, Ky., were sent to aid in the evacuation of the injured.

A rock-and brick-throwing incident at Ballard Junior and Senior high schools followed a walkout Wednesday by 100 students.

That incident prompted a visit by the leader of the group that organized the boycott Thursday by the leader of the group that organized the boycott.

Busing to negotiate an end to high school be fired because he said the black students out to face a racist attack and bricks and bottles in the school yard.

Southern High School reported 300 students present Thursday, but there was no evidence that the students "were being attacked.

Fairdale had about 460 students out of 2,124 enrolled. Only 175 had attended Wednesday.

Valley High had about 43 percent of its 1,980 registered students in class, up from Wednesday's 30 percent.

At Troop, attendance was put at 46 percent, 238 out of 1,790. Some 3,250 students had stayed away Wednesday.

Durrell High had about 400 more students than Wednesday — 321 out of 3,041 registered. And Stewart High reported 724 students in class, about 100 more than Wednesday.

Hearst lawyer: Patty not guilty of murder

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A lawyer for Patricia Hearst said Thursday that the 22-year-old runaway once-fugitive heiress had nothing to do with any murder, although he said he won’t be surprised if she is charged with murder in the future.

Miss Hearst reportedly has been identified as the young woman who rented a house on a season lease for a getaway car used in a suburban Sacramento bank holdup in which a woman customer was shot. It is believed to be in a death.

Federal prosecutors say it’s possible Miss Hearst and her revolutionary companions may be charged with murder.

"They’re undoubtedly trying to pile up more charges against her," attorney Terence Hallinan said in an interview.

"I’m confident she was never involved in a murder and if they throw any murder charge at her, they’ll never make it stick," he said.

In Los Angeles, a county grand jury indicted Miss Hearst and Symbionese Liberation Army members William and Emily Harris in connection with a May 1974 crime spree in Los Angeles County.

The indictments, charging three counts of armed robbery, six of assault with a deadly weapon and two of kidnapping, were expected to replace state felony charges previously filed against the three.

The Harrises have been held in Los Angeles since last week. Prosecution of the state charges against Miss Hearst would depend on developments in the federal prosecution on a bank robbery charge here.

The ties between the SLA and crimes in Sacramento became stronger Thursday as the FBI confirmed that federal law enforcement sources are positive Miss Hearst rented the garage used to house a stolen car employed in the Crocker robbery.

The newspaper quoted its sources as saying that was Miss Hearst’s only known role in the holdup.

But a number of other links have been reported between the SLA and the bank holdup. In addition to the fatal wounding of 52-year-old Myrna Upsahl, four other persons were stumped as they lay face down.

Sources say the fingerprints of James Kilgore, an SLA sympathizer, were found on one of the two getaway cars, and a green scarf similar to one worn by a female robber was found in the apartment.

An instant communiqué from the New World Liberation Front claiming responsibility for the holdup reportedly was found in the San Francisco apartment used by the Harrises. And reports have circulated that marked currency found in the Carmichael bank was discovered in the Hearst-Yoshimura apartment, although authorities have not confirmed that.

Good grief! It’s Snoopy’s twenty-fifth b-day today!

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) — Charlie Brown, the half-pint papa and painfully shy de­monstrator of the fact that one of America’s beloved comic strip characters is 25 years old today.

"Good grief!" might be the perennial loser’s only comment. His creator, Charles M. Schulz, adds, "The year had been subjected to a lot."

Good ole Charlie Brown and his patch-sailed pals — including his philosophical dog, Snoopy — first appeared in a comic strip drawn Oct. 2, 1950, by Schulz. The cartoonist, now a 52-year-old multimillionaire, still doddles over his drawing board daily to chart the adventures of the “Peanuts” gang.

"I think the strip has changed considerably," Schulz said in an interview. "The big turning point was when Snoopy began to think and started to live on top of the doghouse. The first time he got up on the doghouse, he fell off and said, ‘Life is a rude awakening.’ It just seemed funny to keep him on top of the doghouse."

Snoopy’s sly observations and such sayings by Peanuts’ characters as “Life is a warm puppy,” “Curse you, Red Baron” and “How can we lose when we’re so sincere” have been emblazoned on shirts, greeting cards and other lucrative spinoffs.

As Schulz’ style loosened up, he added to the strip such characters as a tallow-ball school building, a tiny bird named Woodstock, and Spike, Snoopy’s moustached brother who lived with the cayotes.

“I have a common sense approach that keeps the strip within the realm of plausibility. It’s never overly intellectual or sophisticated,” Schulz said.

He said purposely lets his characters call each other names such as "blockhead" and "fussbudget."

"I think they demonstrate that life is quite a struggle out there on the playground. Adults have a tendency to forget how risky it is out there," said Schulz, who has five children.

A strong St. Mary’s team captured their second place at the State Tennis Tournament in Indianapolis, September 26 and 27. Number four singles-Lyn Griffin ’77, and number two singles-Louise Pursell ’78 both moved to the semi-finals before suffering losses to Indiana University. Number three singles-Susan Tyrrell ’77 also moved into the semi-finals, but was stopped by a loss to Purdue.

In doubles play, the team of Jean Barton ’79, and Kelee Brogger ’79, moved to the quarter finals, while Sheila Pinnerman ’76 and Amy Houser ’76 won in finals of consolation play.

Led by Coach Mark Peterson, the girls improved their fourth place record of the 1974 State Tournament. St. Mary’s Tennis Team took third place behind Indiana University, the second place team. Purdue won the Championship.

for one point, Miami would be undefeated this season, so give them the edge, even at Lafayette. Backups by 6.

West Virginia at SMU: The Mountaineers are a surprise team, but the game is in Dallas, and they may not like the Southern hospitality. We’ll find out this week if they are a good team for an Eastern school, or a good team. Mountaineers by 3.

Missouri at Michigan: This would be a nice way for the Wolverines to rebound, and with some of the pressure gone, they may have an easier time doing it. Oddly enough, only Alabama has had a tough time scoring against the Tigers, which is encouraging for Michigan’s manager offense. If the Wolverines’ defense can hold a potent Tiger attack, they can regain some prestige tomorrow. Michigan by 6.

WE REMEMBER ROCKNE The Story Of College Football’s Greatest Coach As told By The Men Who Played For Him by John D. McCallum and Paul Castner

WE REMEMBER ROCKNE is far more than a book only for sports fans. It is for everyone who believes in perfection and the struggle to reach that goal. Knute Rockne was many men; a fascinating mix of vigorous activity and talents. He was a no-nonsense man with the highest of standards; making every minute of every hour count.

Rockne has been dead for nearly 45 years, and there have been many books in the past . . . so why another book? To share his spirit, ideals, determination and unforgettable personality with younger generations not lucky enough to personally witness this legend. And to rekindle the neglected feelings of pride and accomplishment enjoyed from a job well done.

No other book has been able to capture the intimacy of his spirit quite like WE REMEMBER ROCKNE. And none will ever again be able to relate the behind-the-scenes stories and emotion as have the “Men of Rockne.”

This is THE book about the man, his philosophy, principles and the game he loved. And it’s told by the men who knew him best. Get to know him well! And make sure your children and grandchildren get to know him; men like Rockne are hard to find! 296 pages, clothbound . . . $7.95

Devine is faced with the pleasant problem of who to start at quarterback. Last week when senior quarterback Rick Slagger was injured, sophomore Joe Montana stepped in and did a real good job. It's not really that important.

Right tackle Pat Pohnen is a doubtful starter for tomorrow's contest. Harry Woodkenberg will replace Pohnen, who is suffering from injuries to his ankles. Ted Burgmeier (bruised leg), Jim Stanfill and Tom Eastman (bruised shoulder) and Handy Harrison (ankle injury) are all listed as ready to play in the starting lineup.

HEALTH ITEMS: The Irish lead the nation with a 20-10 mark. The tie was the celebrated 10-10 game in 1968. Devine is 11-1-1 against all Big Ten competitors. Notre Dame has won the last six games of the series. Over the last four years, the Irish have scored only seven touchdowns against the Spartan defense, winning 16-2 in 1971, 16-0 in '72, 14-10 in '73 and 19-14 last year. The game will be televised locally over Channel 16. Next week, Michigan travels to East Lansing to face the Spartans in a nationally televised contest.

Ed Kelly, head track and cross country coach at Niles Mich. High School, has been named assistant track coach at the University of Notre Dame, said of Kelly, "I think he'll really add to our program. He'll do a fine job with the sprinters and hurdlers. He's an intense guy and he's got a fine record at the high school in Niles."
Irish face MSU in crucial contest

by Ernie Terriero

In what has long been one of the most inspired defensive football rivalries in the annals of the collegiate game, the Irish of Notre Dame and the Spartans of Michigan State will get together tomorrow, for the 4th time to review an assignment that dates back to 1897. Kickoff is slated for 1:30 p.m. EST tomorrow in Notre Dame's Stadium.

"My scouts and holder/coach teams are very impressed with Michigan State," Notre Dame coach Dan Devine explained. "They are a very physical ball club and that's what concerns me most.

We have been able to win against State in the last few years primarily because of great defensive performances.

Football picks

Last weekend's college football contests proved to be the clincher for several pre-season favorites, in what was an otherwise uninspiring slate of games.

Both Michigan and Auburn, ranked in the top ten at the beginning of the season, fell out of the top ten in the way of Marquette's hard-hitting defense. The Wolverines, again foregoing their home field advantage, could only manage a tie with Ray Cozzone. Coach John Schricker is still trying to right the right offensive combination. Auburn, on the other hand, proved that their winless record was no fluke, by keeping it winless. The Tigers had no easy task, facing Tennessee in Knoxville, but it looks like departing coach Shug Jordan's early season optimism has faded.

Oklahoma learned that there is another team in the game with them, by finding Miami of Florida only three points behind at the end of their contest last Friday night. USC needed two good punt returns to stave off a battling Purdue team, 19-6.

Several lightweight gains more respect by retaining undefeated records. Syracuse upset Tulane in New Orleans, and West Virginia easily handled Boston College.

Here are the Irish Eye's picks for this week:

Michigan St. at Notre Dame: The Spartans started off shaky, but have gotten on track, and Denny Stoltz says he will open up even more this week. The Irish may have trouble against MSU, but seem to somehow emerge victorious. Tomorrow should be different. Irish by 10.

Air Force at Navy (Annapolis): A traditional service academy rivalry that has more tradition than import. Air Force looked good in gaiming St. Mary's last week, to give them the edge. By 14.

Mississippi at Alabama (Birmingham): The Tide have crept back into the top ten, after their opening loss and is ready to handle the Rebels, who are ready to be handled. Alabama by 15.

Colorado at Oklahoma: Someone other than the NCAA finally gave the Sooners a wake-up last week, and an uninterested Colorado team shouldn't prove any easier. Colorado won't be the only Buffaloes on the field Saturday, but they might get stomped. Sooner by 15.

Maryland at Syracuse: Maryland is up and down and in between (they tied 10-10 with Kentucky last week). The Orange are playing the Cornhuskers in basketball last year, and are on their way in football. They're 3-4 and have thrown in the towel above their heads, but they've got Penn St. B.C. Pitt and West Virginia coming up to bring them back down, so they better hit the heights against the Terrapins. Syracuse by 10.

Miami at LSU: The Hurricanes used their upset chances last week against the Sooners, and Nebraska wins big all the time. Last week they ended Texas Christian's national championship hopes and they should handle Miami. Cornhuskers by 14.

Very at Stanford: This is the brother of the Catholics tough schedule so it looks like KP duty for the cadets. Stanford by 17.

Florida at Duke: The Blue Devils' offense gives them license, but playing in Baton Rouge is always a plus for the Tigers. It should be a close one, with Florida on top by 7.

Duke at Pittsburgh: The Panthers crushed William and Mary last Saturday, but it didn't knockketch them in the polls. The Blue Devils won't make it easy for them to be close. Pitt by 4.

Texas A&M at Kansas St.: The Aggies have been more than the toll, but in the world of a Floyd-coached, powerful team. KSU is good, but Texas A&M is too tough. Aggies by 14.

Indiana at North Carolina St.: The Hoosiers inflated their ego last week by tugging UNC (who?), but their job gets even tougher tomorrow. Despite the Wolfpack's poor showing in East Lansing Saturday, they should be tough enough for N.C. State to lose.

Miami (Ohio) at Purdue: The Boilermakers begin winning to win, but then so do George Wallace. They're not able to capitalize on it together; they lost one who had won against USC last week. But Jackson has netted 266 yards in 65 carries while semana opponent by 4.

Meanwhile Raggetti is the spark plug of the MSU offensive corps. The 6'1" 210 pound artilfogador paces the club to a total offense with 130 yards rushing in 39 carries and 141 passing on 10 completions in 18 attempts.

Archangel the Spartans defense has been senior right tackle, Greg Schauf, a team captain, lead the squad in tackles with one-for-losses, and two-for-losses. At the other tackle slot, Larry Better has looked more dominant this season than five which went for losses. Linebacker Paul Bartzinski, middle guard Tom Standal and linebackers Ken Rowekamp are some other standouts on the Spartan defense.

Although this is the first time Devine has faced Michigan State, he is no stranger to East Lansing. In 1940 Devine was named freshman coach at MSU, serving under the late Clarence 'Biggie' Mann. Later he served as backfield coach under Duffy Daugherty, where he remained until taking the head job at Arizona State in 1965.

I know the dedication of Michigan players and the strength of the Spartans, but this is the game of the season for the Spartans.

The defense, meanwhile, will have its hands full with a powerful Michigan State offense.
