Fr. Brown to serve as acting Provost

Fr. Ferdinand L. Brown, Notre Dame associate provost since 1970, has been appointed acting provost by University President Fr. Theodore M. Hesburgh.

Brown will assume the duties relinquished by Fr. James T. Burtchaell, who announced his resignation as provost August 21 to return to full-time teaching in the Department of Theology.

Sister John Miriam Jones, assistant provost, and Fr. William M. Burke, assistant to the provost, will continue in their positions.

An advisory committee now is considering nominations for a permanent replacement for Father Burtchaell, consisting of five members from the elected faculty representatives in the Academic Council and three from its student members, is expected to be formed and begin work early this fall. The provost is elected by the Board of Trustees upon recommendation of the President.

Brown received his undergraduate degree from Notre Dame in 1938 and went on to graduate study here, receiving his master's in mathematics here in 1951-52, at Notre Dame from 1946 to 1963 and was religious superior of Holy Cross priests at the institution from 1960 to 1968. Before his appointment as associate provost, he was acting vice president for academic affairs.

A native of Portsmouth, Ohio, Brown holds Holy Cross Seminary from Notre Dame at 1938 and was ordained in 1942.

The remainder of students to be hired by the Notre Dame dining halls this year will not have to meet financial requirements. This change in policy was made because of a shortage of eligible students, was decided in a meeting between dining hall and financial aid representatives this past week.

In keeping with University policy, the dining halls have thus far this year hired only financially needy students. However, only half of these openings could be filled by eligible students.

According to Margaret Almeida, supervisor of student employment, University officials made a policy last spring requiring that all students employed by the University have financial need. Thus, the office of student employment has referred to the dining halls for employment only those students who have been determined financially needy by the College Scholarship Service.

"The financial aid office has been doing a great job," said Price, director of food services.

"They bend over backwards to help us," said Price. However, Price said that the dining halls have been short on workers, especially for lunches and weeknights, these first few weeks, creating a "hardship both for regular dining hall employees and the students who eat in the dining halls."

In an effort to alleviate the problem, student coordinators for the dining halls over the weekend contacted a number of students who were determined eligible for jobs by the financial aid office.

"We still needed more people than those hired from that list," Price commented. "In we've been given permission to go ahead and hire students without financial need."

Almeida pointed out that the change in policy will apply only to this year. "We'll just have to take each year one at a time and see how things work out," she said. Adam Schempinski, student coordinator for the South Dining Hall, said that the dining hall is presently reviewing former employees who lost their jobs last spring when the financial need policy was put into effect. "Essentially what we had to do was to exhaust the list of financial aid people before we could hire other kids," Schempinski remarked. He added that the process is already well on its way to solution.

Dining hall worker shortage alleviated

by Ann Gales
Staff Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP) - The leader of a Senate committee investigating Bert Lance's financial affairs told President Carter yesterday he has uncovered new allegations of "such a serious nature" that the budget director should resign.

Sen. Abraham Ribicoff (D-Conn.) and Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.), both said they felt it was in the former Georgia banker's own interest that he resign. They did not disclose the allegations.

There was no immediate response from Lance, who has been under investigation for his activities as head of two Georgia banks and for large overdrafts on his family's checking accounts.

Carter gave no indication that he planned to press for the resignation of his embattled budget director. President's House issued a statement after the 40-minute meeting that the President was pleased Ribicoff's Senate Governmental Affairs Committee would resume its hearings without delay tomorrow.

Ribicoff said the full panel would be briefed on the allegations today. He also said the committee would decide then whether Lance would testify this week as scheduled.

Percy, the committee's ranking minority member, said the investigation may have to be expanded.

"My personal feeling is that a special prosecutor should be appointed," said Percy.

Ribicoff said it "would be wiser for Bert Lance to resign. I don't think Bert Lance can be an effectiveOMB director pending the hearings and pending the investigation of all the allegations."

The White House issued a short statement saying that Carter had met with the senators to be briefed on their plans to resume the hearings.

The President 'expressed his appreciation to the senators that the hearings would be commenced without delay," the White House statement said.

Carter said that they "would be continued in an expeditious manner that would allow all parties the opportunity to present the facts to the American people."

The statement said.

Percy said he felt Lance should "resign in his own interest or step aside so he can properly defend himself against the allegations that have been made in the media and certain information that we have now acquired ourselves."

But Percy said, "Mr. Lance told me he has no intention of resigning. He has publicly said he wants the hearings to be held."

The Senate panel is reconvening hearings on Lance's financial affairs tomorrow.

Ribicoff said his full committee would meet today to hear the latest evidence uncovered by investigators.

A house banking subcommittee already planned an executive session today on how thoroughly bank examiners probed Lance's affairs when he was nominated to be budget director late last year.

But Percy said, "Mr. Lance told me he has no intention of resigning. He has publicly said he wants the hearings to be held."

The Senate panel is reconvening hearings on Lance's financial affairs tomorrow.

Ribicoff said his full committee would meet today to hear the latest evidence uncovered by investigators.

A house banking subcommittee already planned an executive session today on how thoroughly bank examiners probed Lance's affairs when he was nominated to be budget director late last year.

But Percy said, "Mr. Lance told me he has no intention of resigning. He has publicly said he wants the hearings to be held."

The Senate panel is reconvening hearings on Lance's financial affairs tomorrow.

Ribicoff said his full committee would meet today to hear the latest evidence uncovered by investigators.

A house banking subcommittee already planned an executive session today on how thoroughly bank examiners probed Lance's affairs when he was nominated to be budget director late last year.

But Percy said, "Mr. Lance told me he has no intention of resigning. He has publicly said he wants the hearings to be held."

The Senate panel is reconvening hearings on Lance's financial affairs tomorrow.

Ribicoff said his full committee would meet today to hear the latest evidence uncovered by investigators.

A house banking subcommittee already planned an executive session today on how thoroughly bank examiners probed Lance's affairs when he was nominated to be budget director late last year.

But Percy said, "Mr. Lance told me he has no intention of resigning. He has publicly said he wants the hearings to be held."

The Senate panel is reconvening hearings on Lance's financial affairs tomorrow.
Voyager 1 blasts off
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. - Voyager 1 blasted off toward the outer planets yesterday in a near-flawless launch, joining its twin space probe Voyager 2 in a 675-million-mile journey to Jupiter and beyond.

It was the second launch in a $500-million program designed to provide valuable new information about the creation of the universe, the origins of the solar system and the formation of planet Earth.

---

New Parish Education Series offered at SMC

A lecture-discussion series, "Story and Theology," will begin tonight at Saint Mary's College. Designed to expand and enliven religious education programs, the series will examine the Catholic tradition through biblical stories and classic autobiographies. The topics are as follows:

September 6 Thomas Merton: The Seven Story Mountain
September 9 Jean Vanier: In the Presence of the Other
September 13 Saint Francis: Assisi and the FSJ
September 16 St. Ignatius: The Spiritual Exercises
September 19 Augustine: Confessions
September 23 Augustine: Confessions
September 26 Saint Mary's: A Community of Religions
September 29 Pope John Paul II: "The Church in the Modern World"

---

Community events

The Social Commission is presently involved in plans for Oktoberfest. This year several special events including a magician and a raffle will be added to the usual program. Kathy Flynn is in charge of the event scheduled for September 29-October 1.

In addition, the commission announces the grand opening of the SMC Coffeehouse, located below the SMC Dining Hall on September 22nd featuring student talent. Anyone interested in performing is requested to contact Karen Rickett at 284-4055.

A recent idea adopted by the commission is a "Party Line" to begin operation next week. Maria Mignanelli director of the line explained that it will provide information on all major social and cultural events, as well as information concerning on and off campus parties for those students who desire to have parties publicized. Students may obtain information simply by dialing the SMC Social Commission's office at 284-4520.

Bagiano added that the commission is working in conjunction with Notre Dame to reestablish Quickie Services to Michigan bars. Other long range plans include a Thanksgiving Basket Drive, and a Christmas Bazaar, as well as the possible return of popular events such as Second City previously sponsored by the commission.

---

Man shoots diners, himself

CHARLOTTE, N.C. [AP] - A man wearing a swastika armband opened fire on a mostly black crowd at a church picnic yesterday, killing one man and injuring at least three others before turning the gun on himself, police said.

Mecklenburg County Police said witnesses told them the man drove up to a picnic sponsored by the Janesse African Methodist Episcopal Church.

As a crowd of about 200 people watched a baseball game, the witnesses said, the man started shooting. After several rounds he shot himself, and one report said he was dead.

The gunman was wearing khaki pants and a military-style camouflage shirt with the swastika armband, police said. He was not immediately identified.

The dead man was identified as Roosevelt Davis. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Presbyterian Hospital with gunshot wounds in the back and chest.

Joanne Terry, 28, was reported in critical condition and in surgery for wounds in the abdomen.

Larry Smith, 15, was treated and released at the same hospital for a gunshot wound in the leg. A fourth injured person, Joseph Walker, 29, was treated and released at Charlotte Memorial Hospital for a gunshot wound in his right foot.

U-Board meeting tomorrow

A meeting for hall judicial board chairpersons will be held 9 p.m. tomorrow in the Notre Dame student government office. If any chairperson is unable to attend, a hall representative should attend the meeting.
Women's Volleyball team denied time in Rock

by Laurie Reling
Women's Sports Editor

A group of 38 women, representing the women's volleyball team, were denied practice time last night on the basketball courts of the Rockne Memorial. The group found an empty court and began to set up their equipment when the building's supervisor, acting on the orders of Thomas Fallon, director of the Rockne Memorial, told the girls they would have to leave. Practice time of one hour per evening, four evenings a week, had been petitioned for by Astrid Hotvedt, co-ordinator of women's athletics and assistant coach of the volleyball team. The petition, which carried the names of the 38 team members, was presented to Fallon last week at which time he stated that a decision would be reached only after he had met with his staff.

"Considering that those facilities to play basketball can make use of the many outdoor facilities in addition to the courts at the ACC, ours is not unreasonable request," Hotvedt stated.

According to Hotvedt, the basketball courts of the "Rock" are the only adequate areas for practices. Previously the girls had tried Stipes Center courts which resulted in numerous injuries. The ACC is also not suitable, Hotvedt said, because of its tartan surface which does not promote sliding and could result in serious injuries.

When questioned on the policy of the Rockne Memorial regarding reservation of court time for such activities as the Rockne Vigil, Hotvedt declared that "the policy of the "Rock" is to play both for men and women." He did say that he and his committee will be meeting soon and a decision would be reached within the next three days.

In clarifying what he believes to be the real issue, Hotvedt remarked, "Our aim is not to cause trouble but merely to have the building policy reviewed. Though this is what we hope to achieve a designated space and time for some competitive women's practice.

Red Chinese government denounces theories

SAN FRANCISCO [AP] - The police chief on Monday blamed a "subculture of fear" created by Chinatown gang warfare for a lack of clues in what officials call the city's worst mass murder ever - a shooting in Chinatown that left 5 dead and 11 injured.

Chief Charles Gain bitterly as­serted that "an absolute abdication of responsibility" spoiled the Chinese-American community's "subculture of fear" created by the shootings, reacted swiftly to Gain's criticisms. From the Rockne Memorial.

A group of 38 women, represent­ ing the women's volleyball team, were denied practice time last night on the women's volleyball team, the Rockne Memorial. The delegation was led by Wang Yan­ ting, chairman of the China Council for the Promotion of International Trade.

Publicisation of the article and the trade delegations' mission comes amidst moves by the new Chinese leadership to improve the economy and turning China into a modern power by the end of the century.

Mao, Nieh believed, that "without investigation there is no right to speak.

Nieh's comments, made in an article in the party journal Red Flag, were reported as a 15 member Chinese trade mission left Peking for a visit to the United States. The delegation was led by Wang Yan­ ting, chairman of the China Council for the Promotion of International Trade.

On behalf of everyone here at United Beverage Company - Welcome Back and Good Luck during the coming school term, scholastically, professionally, and socially.

To assist you in your party planning, large or small, you may call our office 287-1067 or better yet, meet with your new "Beer Man on Campus" - BILL GAUDRAU. Bill's phone is 283-7454.

We have a selection of the finest draft beers available for your enjoyment (provided you are 21 of course).

BUDWEISER - The king of beers.
BUSCH - Sponsor of both Irish football and basketball.
A-B NATURAL LIGHT - Won't fill you up so it won't slow you down.
MICHELOB - Truly the finest at any price.
HEINEMEN - With that European flavor.
STROHS - Still family brewed after 200 years - available in regular or dark.

We also can supply beer cups, ice, taps, and other items (posters, etc., etc.).

Don't forget these important numbers:
Bill Gaudreau - 283-7454
United Beverage Company - 287-1067.

I personally look forward to meeting many of you, possibly over one of our golden nectars. I am,
Sincerely,

Matthew R. Dee
President

P.S. Best Pitt!!

Budweiser. MICHELOB. BUSCH.

Tuesday, September 6, 1977

The Observer

United Beverage Co., Inc.
840 S. Prairie Ave. - South Bend, Indiana 46621

September, 1977

In clarifying what she believes to to be the real issue, Hotvedt remarked, "Our aim is not to cause trouble but merely to have the building policy reviewed. Though this is what we hope to achieve a designated space and time for some competitive women's practice.

Red Chinese government denounces theories

SAN FRANCISCO [AP] - The police chief on Monday blamed a "subculture of fear" created by Chinatown gang warfare for a lack of clues in what officials call the city's worst mass murder ever - a shooting in Chinatown that left 5 dead and 11 injured.

Chief Charles Gain bitterly as­serted that "an absolute abdication of responsibility" spoiled the Chinese-American community's "subculture of fear" created by the shootings, reacted swiftly to Gain's criticisms. From the Rockne Memorial.

A group of 38 women, represent­ ing the women's volleyball team, were denied practice time last night on the women's volleyball team, the Rockne Memorial. The delegation was led by Wang Yan­ ting, chairman of the China Council for the Promotion of International Trade.

Publicisation of the article and the trade delegations' mission comes amidst moves by the new Chinese leadership to improve the economy and turning China into a modern power by the end of the century.

Mao, Nieh believed, that "without investigation there is no right to speak.

Nieh's comments, made in an article in the party journal Red Flag, were reported as a 15 member Chinese trade mission left Peking for a visit to the United States. The delegation was led by Wang Yan­ ting, chairman of the China Council for the Promotion of International Trade.

On behalf of everyone here at United Beverage Company - Welcome Back and Good Luck during the coming school term, scholastically, professionally, and socially.

To assist you in your party planning, large or small, you may call our office 287-1067 or better yet, meet with your new "Beer Man on Campus" - BILL GAUDRAU. Bill's phone is 283-7454.

We have a selection of the finest draft beers available for your enjoyment (provided you are 21 of course).

BUDWEISER - The king of beers.
BUSCH - Sponsor of both Irish football and basketball.
A-B NATURAL LIGHT - Won't fill you up so it won't slow you down.
MICHELOB - Truly the finest at any price.
HEINEMEN - With that European flavor.
STROHS - Still family brewed after 200 years - available in regular or dark.

We also can supply beer cups, ice, taps, and other items (posters, etc., etc.).

Don't forget these important numbers:
Bill Gaudreau - 283-7454
United Beverage Company - 287-1067.

I personally look forward to meeting many of you, possibly over one of our golden nectars. I am,
Sincerely,

Matthew R. Dee
President

P.S. Best Pitt!!

Budweiser. MICHELOB. BUSCH.

Tuesday, September 6, 1977

The Observer

United Beverage Co., Inc.
840 S. Prairie Ave. - South Bend, Indiana 46621

September, 1977

On behalf of everyone here at United Beverage Company - Welcome Back and Good Luck during the coming school term, scholastically, athletically, and socially.

To assist you in your party planning, large or small, you may call our office 287-1067 or better yet, meet with your new "Beer Man on Campus" - BILL GAUDRAU. Bill's phone is 283-7454.

We have a selection of the finest draft beers available for your enjoyment (provided you are 21 of course).

BUDWEISER - The king of beers.
BUSCH - Sponsor of both Irish football and basketball.
A-B NATURAL LIGHT - Won't fill you up so it won't slow you down.
MICHELOB - Truly the finest at any price.
HEINEMEN - With that European flavor.
STROHS - Still family brewed after 200 years - available in regular or dark.

We also can supply beer cups, ice, taps, and other items (posters, etc., etc.).

Don't forget these important numbers:
Bill Gaudreau - 283-7454
United Beverage Company - 287-1067.

I personally look forward to meeting many of you, possibly over one of our golden nectars. I am,
Sincerely,

Matthew R. Dee
President

P.S. Best Pitt!!

Budweiser. MICHELOB. BUSCH.
WASHINGTON [AP] - As Congress goes into the final phase of its 1977 session this week, it will be up to the Senate to decide whether President Carter's first year will see his top priority proposal enacted - a comprehensive energy bill.

The Senate Democratic leadership is prepared to sidetrack most other legislation to work out the inevitable disputes aroused by the complex legislation.

Before the two chambers left for a month long summer recess that ends tomorrow, the House passed its version. It achieved a major compromise on the hardest fought issue, pricing of natural gas.

Proponents of an immediate end to government price control lost when the House approved a gradual increase in price. The fight will be renewed in the Senate.

Democratic leaders of both House and Senate are pledged to seeing the energy bill through. But House Democratic Whip John Brademas of Indiana would not predict that the bill will be passed and the differences between Senate and House versions reconciled in the remaining six to eight weeks of this year's session.

Powerful senators with strong views are at loggerheads. Brademas said in an interview, "It all depends on the extent to which senators can work out an agreement among themselves."

Some pending legislation cannot be set aside. A $6.7 billion appropriation for the educational, health, and welfare programs of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has been held up by Senate-House disagreement on federal funding of abortions for women on Medicaid. The House version would permit funding only in cases where the woman's life was threatened. The Senate provision is identical. Conferees must try again.

Another appropriation difference expected to be settled more easily: The House included in a $110 billion measure for defense funding $11 billion for a start on B1 bomber production. Carter later recommended this be dropped and the Senate went along. The House is expected to agree.

The House, with the main energy debate behind it, is likely to pass major legislation, even if Senate action will have to await 1978.

Among the bills with fair to good chances of House passage are an increase in the minimum wage from $2.30 to $2.65 an hour and a measure to curb medicare and medicaid abuses.

Committees in both Houses begin work promptly on legislation to bolster the financing of Social Security, now threatened with exhaustion of its reserves by 1983.

The Senate is expected to deal promptly with some major appropriations bills. The House will delay until next year or later a measure to curtail spending on programs for the disabled.

A Senate vote on the proposed treaty that would eventually turn the Panama Canal Zone over to Panama may not come until next year. The administration and opponents both have mounted strong campaigns and so many senators have declared themselves undecided that the needed two thirds vote is not now in sight.
`Mad Women of the Plaza' strike back

ARRIVING AT THE CITY'S MAIN SQUARE, THE WOMEN are banding together to do something about it. Here is a report on "The Mad Women of the Plaza" and their campaign.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina [AP] - It is early afternoon. Slowly, almost timidly, the women begin arriving at the city's main square, Plaza de Mayo. Soon there are scores of them, forming a tight group in the middle of the plaza directly across from Casa Rosada, the pink colored government house from which the nation is run.

Pedestrians ignore them, and the din of traffic drowns out their conversations, except to those close by. The gathering might pass for an after church chit-chat session. But this is different - the start of a weekly meeting of "Las Locas de Mayo," literally meaning The Mad Women of Plaza de Mayo.

The women are relatives of victims of countless kidnapings by armed squads. The abductions have become a national issue in Argentina and provide the basis for widespread charges of human rights violations, which have strained relations between Washington and Buenos Aires.

According to human rights organizations here, at least 2,000 persons have been kidnapped and disappeared so far this year. Security officials claim the abductions are the work of right-wing squads retaliating against left-wing terrorist operations. But human rights leaders, moderates, leftists, and liberals and the women say security agents themselves are involved.

The meetings of the women at the Plaza de Mayo which get its name from the date of Argentina's independence, May 25, 1810, have been taking place since the beginning of the year, every Thursday at 4 p.m.

But their activities went unnoticed until Teresita Todman, the U.S. assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, met with the military president, Gen. Jorge Videla, in mid-August. It was a Monday, but the women were at the plaza to try to talk to Todman and tell him of their grievances. Todman did not meet them, but the women attracted a large number of foreign news correspondents.

Police tried to arrest a woman reporter as she was interviewing the women. The women turned on the police and rescued the reporter.

Since then, the police have harassed the women, not allowing them to congregate in large groups at the plaza.

The government has admitted that some security groups, acting on their own, may have carried out the abductions in their zeal to wipe out left-wing urban guerrillas. But the government denies any complicity on its own, may have carried out the abductions.

Most of the victims are described as political liberals or moderates. Among them are more than 30 journalists, about 100 labor leaders and hundreds of students.

The women say one of their representatives once met with President Videla who reportedly told her he could not do anything.

"This is the one and only reason why we decided to meet at the plaza," said another woman. "To make our problem known to passers-by and journalists, so that someone does something, we will continue to meet here until we know what happened to our relatives."

They meet, rain or shine, defying the police.

The office workers in the government buildings around the plaza call the women "Las Locas de Plaza de Mayo," not because the women are crazy, but because the women are crazy, but because in Argentina anyone who does something out of the ordinary is called loco, crazy.

The women come prepared with descriptions of their cases. They hand them out to anyone who asks what they are doing.

Their visit in Argentina surfaced a little more than a decade after the once-crazed, now-seriously crippled or crushed. Political violence in Argentina surfaced a little more than a decade after the once-crazed, now-seriously crippled or crushed. Most of the victims are described as political liberals or moderates.

The government has admitted that some security groups, acting on their own, may have carried out the abductions.

Most of the victims are described as political liberals or moderates. Among them are more than 30 journalists, about 100 labor leaders and hundreds of students.

The women say one of their representatives once met with President Videla who reportedly told her he could not do anything.

"This is the one and only reason why we decided to meet at the plaza," said another woman. "To make our problem known to passers-by and journalists, so that someone does something, we will continue to meet here until we know what happened to our relatives."

They meet, rain or shine, defying the police.

The office workers in the government buildings around the plaza call the women "Las Locas de Plaza de Mayo," not because the women are crazy, but because the women are crazy, but because in Argentina anyone who does something out of the ordinary is called loco, crazy.

The women come prepared with descriptions of their cases. They hand them out to anyone who asks what they are doing.

Their visit in Argentina surfaced a little more than a decade after the once-crazed, now-seriously crippled or crushed. Political violence in Argentina surfaced a little more than a decade after the once-crazed, now-seriously crippled or crushed.
Free University courses to begin September 12

Free University, the Student Union’s always successful attempt to offer semi-academic, special interest courses, will begin September 12.

All those who pre-registered for the program last spring are asked to pick up their computer cards at the program last spring, McCormack comment, “The reaction to Free University has been very acceptable. I believe that everyone involved has enjoyed the opportunity to expand their personal interests beyond the realm of normal academic offerings.”

Free University was established to offer Notre Dame students programs of the non-conventional nature in which teachers and students can teach and take courses without the pressures and red-tape of the normal university programs.

McCormack, a certified commercial pilot, who built his own plane, will instruct a course this semester entitled, “Flying as a Hobby.”

In addition to McCormack’s course a wide variety of unique courses are scheduled. Joe Dino- cenzo and Brother Simon will offer a course in auto mechanics for the beginner. Robin Lavendar will bring the art of cooking to campus in her course designed for helpful male chefs. Mark Wagner will offer a magic course, and Ted Maloney will inform students of their rights. Dave Miller will help Notre Dame students build up muscles with his weightlifting course, while Father Dave Burrell, head of Notre Dame’s theology department, will instruct a course in Yoga to relax tight muscles. In addition to these, a wide variety of crafts, from macrame to needle-point, are planned.

This is the semester to get your programmed.

The TI-57. Its self-teaching system gets you programming fast.

TI Programmable 57. The powerful self-teaching system gets you programming fast.

Texas Instruments
CORPORATED

Free University, said that there would be no further registration this semester, but that a wide variety of courses are already being planned for next semester. In response to the influx of applications last spring, McCormack comment, “The reaction to Free University has been very acceptable. I believe that everyone involved has enjoyed the opportunity to expand their personal interests beyond the realm of normal academic offerings.”

Free University was established to offer Notre Dame students programs of the non-conventional nature in which teachers and students can teach and take courses without the pressures and red-tape of the normal university programs.

McCormack, a certified commercial pilot, who built his own plane, will instruct a course this semester entitled, “Flying as a Hobby.”

In addition to McCormack’s course a wide variety of unique courses are scheduled. Joe Dino- cenzo and Brother Simon will offer a course in auto mechanics for the beginner. Robin Lavendar will bring the art of cooking to campus in her course designed for helpful male chefs. Mark Wagner will offer a magic course, and Ted Maloney will inform students of their rights. Dave Miller will help Notre Dame students build up muscles with his weightlifting course, while Father Dave Burrell, head of Notre Dame’s theology department, will instruct a course in Yoga to relax tight muscles. In addition to these, a wide variety of crafts, from macrame to needle-point, are planned.

This is the semester to get your

programmed.

The TI-57. Its self-teaching system gets you programming fast.

TI Programmable 57. The powerful self-teaching system gets you programming fast.

Texas Instruments
CORPORATED

Free University, said that there would be no further registration this semester, but that a wide variety of courses are already being planned for next semester. In response to the influx of applications last spring, McCormack comment, “The reaction to Free University has been very acceptable. I believe that everyone involved has enjoyed the opportunity to expand their personal interests beyond the realm of normal academic offerings.”

Free University was established to offer Notre Dame students programs of the non-conventional nature in which teachers and students can teach and take courses without the pressures and red-tape of the normal university programs.

McCormack, a certified commercial pilot, who built his own plane, will instruct a course this semester entitled, “Flying as a Hobby.”

In addition to McCormack’s course a wide variety of unique courses are scheduled. Joe Dino- cenzo and Brother Simon will offer a course in auto mechanics for the beginner. Robin Lavendar will bring the art of cooking to campus in her course designed for helpful male chefs. Mark Wagner will offer a magic course, and Ted Maloney will inform students of their rights. Dave Miller will help Notre Dame students build up muscles with his weightlifting course, while Father Dave Burrell, head of Notre Dame’s theology department, will instruct a course in Yoga to relax tight muscles. In addition to these, a wide variety of crafts, from macrame to needle-point, are planned.
Now the exciting "Venture" section appears every Wednesday in the Chicago Tribune

We've pioneered something new in newspaper publishing: Venture. It's our way of helping you turn from tired to tried. It's a section geared for livelier leisure activities, with information on what's new in part-time sports, games and hobbies, advice on equipment and helpful books, plus guides to the fun places near and far. Enjoy "Venture" every Wednesday. And enjoy the many attractions of the Midwest's most complete newspaper every day.

Inmates cause uprising at pen

DORCHESTER, New Brunswick [AP]—About 230 rebellious inmates returned to their cells in Dorchester prison early yesterday, ending an overnight uprising that began when guards opened cells to quell a disturbance and wounded 13 inmates, prison officials said.

Officials of the maximum security penitentiary said none of the inmates was seriously hurt. The inmates had refused to return to their cells while negotiations were under way between prison officials and an inmate committee. The inmates, angered by the shooting incident, were believed to have been demanding some kind of guarantees from prison officials.

Tom Epp, assistant director of the penitentiary, said a settlement was reached after several hours of talks, but he declined to provide details.

Epp refused to confirm or deny a report by another prison official that guards turned their shotguns on the prisoners in the exercise yard Sunday night in an attempt to break up a fight between two inmates.

REMEMBER!
Pick Up Your
Free University Course Schedule
Tue. & Wed.
Sept. 6, 7
4-7 p.m.
LaFortune Hallroom
YOU SIGNED UP
LAST SPRING!

PERSONALS

Henry & Duffy,
You guys owe me a million visits and a gra"titude for "Personal Best with M g. G.

Lowest rates on campus: Time, Newsweek, Newsday.

Happy Birthday Mary McKenzie. Your friend in Chemistry.

Hello to John Angi!! I guess you are a licensed pilot? The Irish T. went to Detroit to fly. For information call, 648-5737.

To the young man who came to my residence during the bad storm last Thursday p.m., I am so very grateful. Lillian B.

Inquila SK.
Yes, I'm in it again.

Looking for female student to share apartment at Castle Point. 645 per month. Call 372-1044.

Inmates cause uprising at pen

DORCHESTER, New Brunswick [AP]—About 230 rebellious inmates returned to their cells in Dorchester prison early yesterday, ending an overnight uprising that began when guards opened cells to quell a disturbance and wounded 13 inmates, prison officials said.

Officials of the maximum security penitentiary said none of the inmates was seriously hurt. The inmates had refused to return to their cells while negotiations were under way between prison officials and an inmate committee. The inmates, angered by the shooting incident, were believed to have been demanding some kind of guarantees from prison officials.

Tom Epp, assistant director of the penitentiary, said a settlement was reached after several hours of talks, but he declined to provide details.

Epp refused to confirm or deny a report by another prison official that guards turned their shotguns on the prisoners in the exercise yard Sunday night in an attempt to break up a fight between two inmates.

REMEMBER!
Pick Up Your
Free University Course Schedule
Tue. & Wed.
Sept. 6, 7
4-7 p.m.
LaFortune Ballroom
YOU SIGNED UP
LAST SPRING!

PERSONALS

Henry & Duffy,
You guys owe me a million visits and a gra"titude for "Personal Best with M g. G.

Lowest rates on campus: Time, Newsweek, Newsday.

Happy Birthday Mary McKenzie. Your friend in Chemistry.

Hello to John Angi!! I guess you are a licensed pilot? The Irish T. went to Detroit to fly. For information call, 648-5737.

To the young man who came to my residence during the bad storm last Thursday p.m., I am so very grateful. Lillian B.

Inquila SK.
Yes, I'm in it again.

Looking for female student to share apartment at Castle Point. 645 per month. Call 372-1044.

Inmates cause uprising at pen

DORCHESTER, New Brunswick [AP]—About 230 rebellious inmates returned to their cells in Dorchester prison early yesterday, ending an overnight uprising that began when guards opened cells to quell a disturbance and wounded 13 inmates, prison officials said.

Officials of the maximum security penitentiary said none of the inmates was seriously hurt. The inmates had refused to return to their cells while negotiations were under way between prison officials and an inmate committee. The inmates, angered by the shooting incident, were believed to have been demanding some kind of guarantees from prison officials.

Tom Epp, assistant director of the penitentiary, said a settlement was reached after several hours of talks, but he declined to provide details.

Epp refused to confirm or deny a report by another prison official that guards turned their shotguns on the prisoners in the exercise yard Sunday night in an attempt to break up a fight between two inmates.

REMEMBER!
Pick Up Your
Free University Course Schedule
Tue. & Wed.
Sept. 6, 7
4-7 p.m.
LaFortune Ballroom
YOU SIGNED UP
LAST SPRING!

PERSONALS

Henry & Duffy,
You guys owe me a million visits and a gra"titude for "Personal Best with M g. G.

Lowest rates on campus: Time, Newsweek, Newsday.

Happy Birthday Mary McKenzie. Your friend in Chemistry.

Hello to John Angi!! I guess you are a licensed pilot? The Irish T. went to Detroit to fly. For information call, 648-5737.

To the young man who came to my residence during the bad storm last Thursday p.m., I am so very grateful. Lillian B.

Inquila SK.
Yes, I'm in it again.

Looking for female student to share apartment at Castle Point. 645 per month. Call 372-1044.
Harriers prepare for season opener

by Frank LaGrotta

Sports Writer

To be a successful coach you must have two things: good athletes and the ability to focus their efforts in the proper direction. Notre Dame's cross-country and track coach has been blessed with both. It's no secret the Joe Piane has built what once was a mediocre program into a fine, respected organization. He credit his success to positive coaching philosophies.

"Most college runners have a pretty good idea as to what's expected of them as far as training and performance," Piane relates. "My job as a coach is to act as a guide of sorts. It is my responsibility to make sure that each runner makes the best use of his training time so that he gets the greatest benefit out of it."

"This is a function," Piane continues, "we're working toward placing a team in the NCAA tournament in November. I have to make sure that we're at a place so that they are in top form for the NCAA district qualifier meet on November 12th."

To compete in a cross-country meet, you have to train and run well. Consequently, practice sessions for Piane and his team consist of running, and a lot of it. Please allow me to outline a week's practice for his team.

"Sunday, we take a 15-mile run. Piane explains. "This run is done through Friday in the morning everyone goes four to five miles. Monday afternoon we go relaxed, easy eight miles on the roads."

Basketball machine.

Our Notre Dame's cross-country team, under the leadership of Coach Joe Piane, will open their season this Saturday. (Photo by Herb Hendley.)

Ted Robinson

Oh, Boe!

One Man's View

Roy Boe looks like he got his job out of the New York Times. You never see him with his private jet in front of Notre Dame's Basketball arena, Boe is your friendly neighborhood pro franchise owner, using the New Jersey Nets and the New York Islanders as personal playthings. If anyone is ever interested in writing a book on the workings of sports management, Roy Boe could be the subject of the "How Not to" section. Consider the following... Three years ago, the Nets won the ABA championship with a starting lineup of Julius Erving, Larry Kenon, Billy Paultz, Brian Taylor and John Williamson. It was one of the best starting fives put together in recent pro basketball history.

Let's look where they are now. The Joe does his magic in Philadelphia, Kenon and Paultz are two-thirds of the starting front line in San Antonio, Taylor will be the backcourt ace for Denver this year, and Williamson... averages 20 points a game for Indiana. In exchange, the Nets now have Kim Hughes, Chuck Terry, Darnell Hillman, George Johnson and a first-round pick. What it basically results in is a losing battle. Boe gave up money to fulfill his purpose, admission into the NBA. But he got three million miles west in New Jersey — at the cost of over four million dollars to the Nets.

Notre Dame hockey team today at 3:30 p.m. in the Athletic and Convocation Center Auditorium.

ND hockey team to hold meeting

There will be an organizational meeting for returning hockey players and anyone else interested in participating in try-outs for the Notre Dame hockey team today at 3:30 p.m. in the Athletic and Convocation Center Auditorium. Piane expresses high hopes for his runners.

"We met Purdue on September 10, and I believe that we are strong enough to beat them whenever Piane reveals. "They've defeated us two years in a row and they look to be tough again this year. However, the team is working hard and they look really good. I am anxious for the season to get underway."

With a mature coaching philosophy and a fine group of athletes, success appears imminent for Joe, Coach Piane and his 1977 Irish cross-country squad.

The Notre Dame rowing team begins its twelfth season as a club sport with overwhelming optimism. A new men's coach, Al Carcavola, and a new women's coach, Judy Gornley, look forward to working with a large group of well-conditioned, experienced rowers. This crew will compete in three distance races this fall, performing against schools from all over the country.

The crew's first race will be on October 9. The team will meet the University of Michigan, Michigan State University, Purdue University, and Grand Valley State College for a three mile race at home. The team will travel to the Head of the Connecticut for another three mile race in distance races this fall, performing against schools from all over the country.

Oct. 21

ND crew team ready to meet foe

The Notre Dame rowing team begins its twelfth season as a club sport with overwhelming optimism. A new men's coach, Al Carcavola, and a new women's coach, Judy Gornley, look forward to working with a large group of well-conditioned, experienced rowers. This crew will compete in three distance races this fall, performing against schools from all over the country.

The crew's first race will be on October 9. The team will meet the University of Michigan, Michigan State University, Purdue University, and Grand Valley State College for a three mile race at home. The team will travel to the Head of the Connecticut for another three mile race in distance races this fall, performing against schools from all over the country.

The crew's first race will be on October 9. The team will meet the University of Michigan, Michigan State University, Purdue University, and Grand Valley State College for a three mile race at home. The team will travel to the Head of the Connecticut for another three mile race in distance races this fall, performing against schools from all over the country.

Anyone interested in finding out more information on the rowing club can attend a meeting in the Engineering Auditorium at 7 p.m. Tuesday, September 6 for brief talks and a color movie about crew. Details about an informal mixer for all present members and recruits will be announced at the meeting on Tuesday night.

The Notre Dame Crew team prepares for another fall of tough competition. (Photo by John "Chuck" West.)

The crew's first race will be on October 9. The team will meet the University of Michigan, Michigan State University, Purdue University, and Grand Valley State College for a three mile race at home. The team will travel to the Head of the Connecticut for another three mile race in distance races this fall, performing against schools from all over the country.

The crew's first race will be on October 9. The team will meet the University of Michigan, Michigan State University, Purdue University, and Grand Valley State College for a three mile race at home. The team will travel to the Head of the Connecticut for another three mile race in distance races this fall, performing against schools from all over the country.

The crew's first race will be on October 9. The team will meet the University of Michigan, Michigan State University, Purdue University, and Grand Valley State College for a three mile race at home. The team will travel to the Head of the Connecticut for another three mile race in distance races this fall, performing against schools from all over the country.